Five Injured, Two Killed In Wreck

A Silvertown woman was injured Friday night in a two-car collision near Henrietta that claimed two lives and injured five persons and is reported to be in serious condition at Nichols Hospital in Plainview. Mrs. Clyde R. (Manemma) Hutless, 70, was transferred by air ambulance from Henrietta to Plainview Saturday.

Mrs. Hutless was enroute to Silvertown from Sherman with her niece, Jane Lusk, 30; her husband, Sam Lusk, 38; and their daughter, Christi Lynn, when the accident happened. Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, former Silvertown residents, are reported to be in critical condition in Wichita General Hospital in Wichita Falls. Their daughter reportedly suffered only minor injuries.

Mrs. Lusk is the daughter of Jim Brooks and Mrs. Tone Brooks, both of Silvertown.

The sole survivor of the other car, David Lynn Jackson, 20, of Henrietta, was reported to be in critical condition at Clay County Hospital at Henrietta. The other two occupants of the car, Bobby Herman Rice, 18, and Roger L. Bachman, 21, both of Henrietta, were killed.

Officers said the Henrietta men had passed another vehicle on U. S. 82 just east of Henrietta when the auto turned broadside on the highway and collided with the westbound Lusk vehicle. Mrs. Lusk was driving.

Services Held Here For Tony Burson

Funeral services were conducted at 3:00 p.m. Monday for Tony Burson, 70, a native and life-long resident of Briscoe County, in the First Baptist Church here. Officiating were Earl Cantwell, minister of the Rock Creek Church of Christ, and the Rev. R. C. Guest of Silvertown, a retired Baptist minister.

Burial was in the Silvertown Cemetery, with arrangements under the direction of the Silvertown Funeral Home. Pallbearers were nephews.

Mr. Burson died at 8:00 a.m. Sunday in an Amarillo hospital where he had been a patient the past two months.

Born in Briscoe County November 23, 1902, he and the former Daisy Montgomery were married November 23, 1935 in Happy.

Mr. Burson served as the Briscoe County GOP chairman for a number of years, and took an active part in area politics.

Mr. Burson was a rancher and owner of Burson Lakes, a fishing, swimming and hunting resort he opened on a portion of the early-day Shoe-Bar Ranch, later known as the Owens Ranch. When Mr. Burson first owned the ranch, he would get to his cattle to feed them only by means of a saddled horse or a wagon and team after he entered the pasture at Flint Hill.

Bluff Creek was difficult to cross on horseback because of its deep banks, and Mr. Burson for several years visualized building a dam and a road across the creek. He finally built the dam in 1950 with rains threatening his work. Burson Lake is 60 feet deep, one-half mile long and varies in width. The dam is 350 to 400 feet long and approximately 75 feet high.

Surviving Mr. Burson are his widow, three brothers, Troy and True Burson, both of Silvertown, and Bland Burson of Channing; two sisters, Mrs. Leslie Turner of Orlando, Florida and Mrs. Anna Swann of Dallas.

ASCS To Assist In Fuel Allocation

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and the Texas Railroad Commission have joined hands in an effort to increase efficiency in the handling of the mandatory allocation of middle distillate fuels. An agreement between the state and federal agencies should speed up the program.

Beginning immediately, ASCS County Office personnel will verify fuel needs for hardship cases on Form OOG-PAP-20 for all applications prior to their submission to the State Allocation Office (Texas Railroad Commission).

Previously, it was planned that needed verification would be obtained after the form was submitted to the Austin office. Form OOG-PAP-20 is to be used by wholesale purchasers to request emergency allocations for immediate use. The form has been supplied to ASCS County Offices throughout the State and was made available to County Clerks' offices.

Also available is Form OOG-PAP-17 which is for the use of purchasers of middle distillate fuels in bulk supply to adjust their monthly allocation for the year or for obtaining a new allocation.

Further information may be obtained from the County ASCS Offices.

Ambulance Service To Elect New Officers

There will be a meeting of the Silvertown Volunteer Ambulance Service at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, November 27. New officers and directors will be elected.

All members are urged to attend.

The Clarendon Bronchos won the coin flip Saturday morning and will represent District 2-A in the playoffs against Stinett at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Panhandle. The Bronchos finished the regular season in a tie with the Claude Mustangs and Memphis Cyclones for the championship, and by winning the toss the Bronchos, who advanced to the state football finals last season, have another shot at proving they are the best in Texas in Class A.

Each of the three champions of District 2-A finished the season with 6-1 conference records. Stinett, in the playoffs for the first time since 1960, is 10-0 for the season, having won the District 1-A title outright.

Two other teams which defeated the Silvertown Owls this year have also gained playoff berths. They are the Littlefield Wildcats, who will meet Floydada at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Lowrey Field in Lubbock, and the Groom Tigers, who will go against the undefeated Matador Matadors at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Memphis.

Out of ten games played this season, Silvertown played five of them against district champions.

Christmas Bazaar Will Be December 8

The annual Century of Progress Study Club Christmas Bazaar will be held at Grabbe-Simpson Chevrolet beginning at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, December 8.

You are urged to make your selections from the array of baked goods that will be offered early because traditionally the goodies don't last long.

Hostess for the event was Mrs. Jimmy Rhoderick, III, Silvertown, Tullia and Plainview were represented among the members attending.

During a short business meeting, revision of the Terra Cotta by-laws was discussed and plans were made for a membership drive January 15 when a coffee will be held at the Woman's Clubhouse.

A report was made on the first annual fall convention of Texas CowBelles which was held in Abilene in October. Members were reminded that new officers for 1974 who were elected at the convention will take office January 1.

Most of the new state officers are from the Plainview area. They are Mrs. Tom Henry, Happy, president; Mrs. Robert Allen, Tullia, first vice president; Mrs. Melton McGeehee, Wayside, second vice president; Mrs. Jewel Avent, Tullia, third vice president; Mrs. Byron Jones, Friona, recording secretary; Mrs. J. W. Edwards, Christoval, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. George Burnett, Abilene, treasurer.

Mrs. Avent, a member of Terra Cotta CowBelles, was recognized as winner of the "Texas CowBelle of the Year" award. She was selected from entrants of local CowBelle groups across the state for her service to the organization.

CowBelles Have Coffee Meeting

Terra Cotta CowBelles met for a coffee Thursday morning in the El Centro Room of the City National Bank in Plainview with Mrs. Doug Forbes of Silvertown presiding.

Tim Marshall, who spent last week in a Lubbock hospital being treated for injuries he received in an automobile accident here on Thursday night of the previous week, attended the pep rally at SHS and the football game at Memphis after being discharged by the hospital last Friday. He has served as student trainer for the Owl football team, and had supper with the team following the game.

Tim is trying to go to school on a half-day basis.

If sold for the value of its chemical elements, the human body would be worth about 98 cents.

The Owls lost their last outing of the season 61-12 at Memphis last Friday night, and opened basketball workouts Saturday with morning and afternoon sessions.

The Cyclone effectively throttled the Owls and capitalized on every opportunity to put points on the board. Their first score came on a 7-yard run by Senior Fullback Jim Dixon with 9:39 remaining in the first quarter. Big Ben Smith, also a senior, kicked the extra point. Memphis scored just moments later on a 20-yard pass from Senior Quarterback Wayne Davis to Senior Back Ronnie Browning. Smith kicked, and the Cyclone held a 14-0 lead.

On the second play following Memphis' kickoff, Craig Culwell ran 75 yards for a score for the Owls, but the conversion attempt failed, and the score stood at 14-6.

The Cyclone flexed its muscles, and scored on its first play from scrimmage on a 65-yard run by Junior Halfback Don Davis. Smith kicked, and the Cyclone had extended its lead to 21-6 with 6:30 still remaining in the first quarter.

The Owls came back with a sustained drive to the Memphis 4 before fumbling and losing the opportunity to score.

In the second quarter, the Cyclone made scoring plays of 47, 4 and 15 yards on a pass from Davis to Bobby Hall, a Davis keeper, and a run by Dixon. Smith made the conversion kicks, and the half-time score stood at 42-6.

Dixon scored on a 15-yard run, Smith kicked the extra point, and Sophomore Halfback Charles Bryley carried another score from five yards out. The running conversion failed, and going into the fourth quarter the Cyclone held a 55-6 lead.

Culwell scored again for the Owls on a 4 yard run with 9:29 remaining to be played in the fourth period. Ken Wood failed on the PAT try, and the score stood at 55-12.

Bryley made a 50-yard touchdown run before the game ended. Each team lost the ball on a fumble once. Memphis made 27 first downs, as compared with 16 for the Owls. Silvertown was penalized 10 yards, while Memphis had 50 yards stepped off against them on four infractions.

PEP SQUAD BEAU
 In the pep rally in the school auditorium Friday afternoon, Barry Bullock was presented as the Pep Squad Beau for 1973. He was introduced by Pep Squad President Sharon Storie, and was given the traditional kiss and megaphone autographed by the Pep Squad members by Susie Parker, head cheerleader, and Virginia McCoy, who is the Owl mascot.

Other candidates for Pep Squad Beau were Todd McJimsey, Brett Gill and Brent Bean.

Written requests for stickers and instructions may be made at the IRS office listed above. Retailers should specify the number of stickers they will need.

"The new stickers should be posted on each pump in a prominent position to be easily seen by the customer. The old sticker should then be removed," Perry said. If more than one grade of gas is sold from a pump, a separate sticker must be posted for each grade. Stickers must contain the new ceiling price and the minimum octane of the gasoline. An-

Gas Pump sticker to be posted by November 21, 1973. Box no. 1 for November ceiling price. Numbers 2, 3 and 4 for December, January and February ceiling price.

Fuel Retailers Must Attach Price Stickers To Their Pumps

"Because of recent changes in the Phase IV petroleum regulations, all gasoline and diesel fuel retailers must obtain new ceiling price stickers for each pump or grade of petroleum sold," Walter I. Perry, Administrative Officer of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) office in Plainview, said today. New pump stickers and instruction-computation forms are now available and may be picked up at the IRS office at 1403 West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas 79072.

Under revised CLC Rules gasoline and diesel fuel retailers are permitted to increase their May 15, 1973 selling price to reflect, on a dollar for dollar pass-through basis, their increased petroleum costs. This can be done no more than once a month. Whenever an adjustment is made to the maximum permissible price, each retailer must adjust his posted price.

"On the reverse side of the posting instructions is a form which dealers must use to compute their ceiling prices," Mr. Perry said. This sheet must be retained at the service station for IRS inspection to determine compliance with the new regulations.

MRS. DON FRANKLIN GLENN

Sutton - Glenn Vows Exchanged In Formal Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Cynthia Sutton, 2413 9th Street, Lubbock, and Don Franklin Glenn, Route 3, Plainview, exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony at 6:00 p.m. Saturday, November 17, 1973, at the Kress Church of Christ. Bob Crass of Hurst, uncle of the bride, directed the marriage service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sutton of Silverton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Glenn of Kress.

The nuptial area was centered with a large arrangement of orchid and purple mums, yellow gladiolas, baby's breath and greenery. Flanking the altar were brass candelabra holding tall white cathedral tapers and large baskets of purple mums, orchid pom poms and yellow gladiolas. Aisles were marked with large bows of purple and orchid satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of silk organza over peau. The high ring neckline, sleeves, yoke and waist were designed with applied Alencon pearled lace flowerlets. The slim skirt was bordered with Alencon lace. Her detachable fan-shaped train was adorned with scattered lace flowerlets, crested with seed pearls and swept to the back forming a chapel-length train.

Her three-tiered veil of silk illusion was edged with wide scalloped Alencon lace, and fell to elbow length from a Venice lace caplet adorned with lace petals crested with seed pearls. She placed pennies in her shoes minted in the year of birth of the groom and herself.

She wore a pair of pearl earrings belonging to her mother for something old. She borrowed a white linen handkerchief from her sister, Rhonda. Her something new was a gold bracelet given her by the groom. Her touch of blue was a garter given her by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Edwin Crass of Plainview.

She carried a cascade of yellow roses surrounding two cattleya orchids.

As she entered to be married, the bride presented her mother a kiss and a long stemmed yellow rose. As she departed, she presented a kiss and a long stemmed yellow rose to the groom's mother.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Rhonda Sutton, the bride's sister. Mrs. Perry Brunson was matron of honor. Their dresses were designed of purple velvet and peau with empire waist, puffed sleeves and stand-up collars.

They carried purple velvet muffs with orchid pom poms tied with yellow streamers. Their headpieces were purple bows of peap de soie with tulle attached.

The bridesmaid's were Miss Roxie Vineyard of Lubbock, Miss Cindy Dunn of Abernathy and Miss Melinda Sutton of Silverton, sister of the bride. Their dresses, flowers and headpieces were identical to those of the maid and matron of honor.

Kayla Crass of Hurst, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in a gown like those worn by the other bridal attendants and carried a white wicker basket of orchid pom mums.

David and Elizabeth Rhea of Dallas, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles. Miss Rhea's dress was the same as the other feminine attendants.

Kent Crass of Hurst, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Best man was Jimmie Glenn of Lubbock, brother of the groom.

Groomsmen were Larry Fields, Panhandle; Daryl McClendon, Calera, Oklahoma; Richard Frances, Amarillo; and Danny Glenn of Kress, cousin of the groom. Guests were seated by Steve Frazee, Lubbock; David Glenn, Sunray, and Mike Glenn, Kress, cousins of the groom; and John Murray, Kress.

Miss Cathy Cargill and a chorus from Lubbock Christian High School provided the wedding music.

The bride's mother chose a pale yellow knit floor-length gown and added a light cream cymbidium orchid for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Glenn wore a light orchid knit floor-length gown and a cream cymbidium orchid.

The couple's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Crass, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Sutton, Goodnight; Mr. and Mrs. Curt Glenn, Plainview; Mrs. E. E. Miller, Duke, Oklahoma. All grandmothers wore pastel-colored carpet length gowns and corsages of orchid pom mums.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length cloth of white bridal silk. The focal point was a silver candelabra holding a crystal compote filled with orchid pom mums, yellow roses, naturally purple carnations and baby's breath. Silver and crystal appointments were used. The wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and white sugar bells. It was made in three tiers and was decorated

Proof of Legal Deer Required of Hunters

Once the deer is down and field dressed, what must the hunter do to get his venison ready for the market, legally?

First, he must attach the proper tag from his hunting license to the deer.

If the hunter has bagged an antlerless deer then he is also required to attach an antlerless deer permit or special tag that he receives from the landowner to the forehead of the deer.

When it can be transported directly to the hunter's home or to a commercial plant.

If the venison is to be shared, a note signed by the person who killed the deer must be attached to each portion given to other persons. The note must also include the address of the one who killed the deer, date of kill, hunting license number and name of the county where killed.

This signed document must remain with the carcass or any portion of it until the deer is finally processed and delivered to its ultimate destination, in the home or commercial processing facility. Do not remove the head of any deer until the carcass has been processed and delivered to its final destination. But you may skin the deer if you wish and remain within the law.

"Hunter orange" clothing will be required of everyone who hunts deer this season on the Parks and Wildlife Department's Pat Mayse Wildlife Management Area in Lamar County.

The final destination is defined as a person's home or a commercial processing facility where the deer is finally processed.

It is lawful for a hunter to process a deer in camp as long as he keeps the proper tag from his hunting license, the proper antlerless permit or antlerless tag with the processed meat until such meat is delivered to a commercial locker plant or the residence of the person killing the deer.

Purpose of these regulations, according to the Parks and Wildlife Department, is to insure that all legally taken deer can be identified by game wardens and still permit a person to properly care for the meat thereby insuring some fine steaks, roasts, chili and sausage during the coming season.

WINDBREAKS PROVIDE MANY BENEFITS FOR FARMSTEADS

A large number of windbreaks now exist across Hall County. These tree and shrub windbreaks provide many benefits for farmsteads and for livestock and wildlife shelter. Shelter for livestock is just one of the many benefits of windbreaks. Improved wildlife habitat is another very important value, as well as beautification of the landscape. Reduced air pollution and erosion, increased soil moisture, and greater crop yields are other benefits.

Some kinds of windbreaks have more appeal than others. Those planted around farmsteads are the most popular today. They protect homes and other facilities from winter winds, drifting snow and dusty air. They reduce noise, create beauty and make homes more comfortable.

Windbreaks are also used around fields and feedlots as well as farmsteads. Feedlot windbreaks can reduce blowing dust. They can reduce the wind-chill factor and reduce livestock suffering during Wildlife Department's Pat Mayse Wildlife Management Area in Lamar County.

At their November 8 meeting, Parks and Wildlife Commissioners instructed executive director Clayton Garrison to establish rules concerning the use of "protective coloration clothing" on the area.

According to Garrison, the department will require each hunter on the Mayse Area to have at least 144-square inches of clothing in either orange, red or yellow.

"Such clothing," said Garrison, "may consist of either a hat or an outer garment worn above the waistline in any of the three required colors."

Bucks-only deer hunting on the Mayse Area is November 17-30, 1973, with a $3 fee charged of each hunter for a single day's hunting.

The bag limit is one buck, and 75 hunters will be allowed on the area with no repeat hunting after the first day unless the daily quota is unfilled.

A Woman's Observations Of MP Training

"We crawled on the ground, ate sawdust and got cuts and bruises, same as the men, but we showed we weren't afraid and the men learned to respect us."

The words are from a 24-year-old Texas miss, Sheila Payne, of Quitaque, who has just completed eight grueling weeks of specialized military police training at the Army's school in Fort Gordon, Georgia.

She is not only one of the first lady MPs from Texas, she topped 142 men and two other WAC's out of her class of 147 police trainees.

"The other two men were tied for first place in class standing," she related.

And what is a young lady doing in a job, sometimes known for its hazardous duty and most frequently thought of as a man's domain?

"I have always been interested in law enforcement," she explained, "but when I checked around with cold weather.

To maintain an established windbreak, the immediate area should be protected from livestock grazing and fire. Replace trees as needed to insure an effective barrier. For field windbreaks, root growth into field area should be controlled every three to four years by chiseling with a single chisel along the outer edge of the windbreak.

It takes time to grow good windbreaks, about eight years to realize multiple benefits. Shouldn't there be concern about the generation of people who will live here in the future. Today's infants cannot maintain these windbreaks nor plant the trees which could improve their living conditions in the future—today's adults must do it.

For additional information on windbreak plantings and management, contact the Soil Conservation Service.

the civilian agencies—such as the sheriff's department or police force, they only wanted to offer me jobs like typist or 'meter maid,'" she said.

"Everybody needs to find his own place in life, and I would not be happy as a secretary. The Army offered me a real job in law enforcement as an MP and I love it," she exclaimed.

"Basic training was rough. It was hard, but we needed it. I can look back on it now and laugh at it, but it wasn't so funny then," she said.

Currently a private first class, Miss Payne entered the Army last July 16, and was sent to Fort McClellan, Alabama for basic training. After graduation, she was sent to Fort Gordon for advance training and MP school—the job for which she enlisted.

"I really loved it at Fort Gordon—fell in love with it almost immediately," she said. "It was such a change from basic where everything you did was controlled. After basic, we had privacy and could think for ourselves."

"The men had respect for us—we took the same training they did. We were up by 5 o'clock and in classes or training at 7:30, with evenings and weekends usually free."

"I think the women put more work into the training—took it more seriously," she said.

"For instance, in the judo pit—sometimes the men would hold back. But not us. We showed them we weren't afraid to mix it up. But we hurt too, and sometimes we would want to cry—but we weren't afraid."

"There is a place at Fort Gordon called 'MP City' where we receive some of our training—in such things as handling riots and bar room brawls. It's a realistic, slam-bang thing, and we (WAC's) were usually the first to wade in. By the end of our training, just about all the men said they would be willing to pull patrol duty with us."

Sheila is not a "women's libber." "I don't believe in it," she said. "But I do believe women should be given a chance at any job they are qualified for, same as the men."

"I have to think along two lines—I have to remember that I am a woman and a lady—but when I am on patrol, I don't expect my partner to come around and open the door for me."

Asked if she has found any limitations as an MP because she is a woman, Sheila replied, "Well, physically, women are generally weaker than men. We have to use our brain and work twice as hard to use a man's own strength against him. We don't conduct physical searches of men if a male MP or policeman is available. And, there are still some people who are narrow-minded about WAC MP's. I suppose we are also limited in our own minds by the way we were raised," she explained. "All through life we have been taught about the role of the man as the breadwinner and that we are taken care of by the man. As MP's, we would be treated as any other

Labeled for PROTECTION

Some medicines may be taken internally; others are for external use only; therefore labels caution us as to their proper use. These precautions are for our own protection and good.

All things in life are not so clearly marked as to their proper use. The Bible is our source and guide, our label.

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

Psalm 119, 105

ATTEND CHURCH, STUDY GOD'S WORD

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Your future is ELECTRIC!

What will be the life style of the future? One thing we can be sure of . . . it will revolve around electricity. Without electric energy there is no hope of getting the pollution eliminators that only electricity can operate.

We'll need our factories, our refineries, our water treatment plants . . . all the things necessary for survival in a modern civilization.

But, without electricity none of these can function.

That's why our industry and we, as a Company, continuously plan for the future . . . contribute toward research and development of better, more efficient ways to get electricity to you.

We know we'll be needed in the future even as we are now . . . and we'll be there when the time comes . . . even as we are now . . . making sure that every kilowatt you buy is 100% usable.

Harvest Time Good Time To Evaluate Weed Control Practices

Harvest season is a good time to evaluate the success of weed control practices used during the year, says County Extension Agent Janmy Vanstory. Weeds that escaped control by herbicides and cultivation are obvious during harvesting operations.
A little time spent in making some notes on the location and identity of weeds present and the herbicides used in a particular field will be well worth the effort next Spring. Vanstory suggests making a map of each field showing where problem weeds appeared. This will be an asset next planting season when crop rotations are planned and herbicides are selected.
If a particular weed was not controlled by a given herbicide, it may be advisable to rotate to another crop so that other herbicides may be used. Certain weeds which are resistant to a given herbicide tend to build up when that herbicide is applied year after year. Johnsongrass control in grain sorghum is usually a losing battle, but by rotating to cotton, a pre-plant incorporated herbicide coupled with directed postemergence sprays can keep Johnsongrass under control.
If weeds are building up which are resistant to presently used pre-emergence herbicides and rotation to another crop is impractical, the answer may be to use post-emergence directed sprays which kill the weeds after they emerge.
Vanstory points out that a record of herbicides used in various fields is also of value in determining possible causes of damage to later crops. If an accurate record of herbicides and rates applied is kept on each field, it is easy to trace possible carryover or residue problems that may occur in fall-planted crops or those planted the next Spring.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Plan before you plow. That's the plea State Conservationist Edward E. Thomas made today to Texas farmers putting new land into cultivation in 1974. "Most land in Texas should not be farmed in clean tilled crops without terraces, contour farming, minimum tillage, or other proven conservation measures," Thomas stressed. "Besides, these practices help increase production in the long run.
"But some land should not be farmed under any circumstances," Thomas said. "We are already getting reports of sandy, highly erodible soils in Texas being plowed up for crop production. Let a drought, coupled with high winds, hit this land and massive dust storms will be the result."
He said some steep soils will probably also be put into cultivation next year. Serious erosion and sedimentation damages can result unless sound conservation measures are installed.
Thomas, head of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Texas, said his agency supports full agricultural production as a principal means of checking food price increases.
"But we also need full protection of the land along with full production," he emphasized.
He urged farmers to contact local SCS offices before putting land into cultivation.
"Our soil surveys show which soils can be farmed safely," Thomas pointed out. "They also can be used to determine which soils are most productive. Careful planning can hold erosion hazards to a minimum; but carelessness can quickly return us to the disastrous erosion conditions that existed in the 1930's and 1950's," he warned.
Such conditions in the Great Plains, where wind erosion is a constant problem, led Congress in 1957 to establish a conservation program to return high risk cropland to grass.
"Under this program in Texas, we have helped farmers convert more than a million acres of cropland to grassland," Thomas said. "This land should remain in grass. For it or other land like it to be put back into cultivation will be a disastrous step backwards.
"As chief guardians of our state's soil resources, farmers and ranchers have a responsibility to themselves and to future generations to use their land wisely," Thomas continued. "They have made great strides in conservation work in the last 35 years. With proper planning, we can meet the demand for food without increasing dust storms, sediment pollution, and other problems caused by accelerated soil erosion.
"Farmers are expected to bring thousands of acres of former "set-aside" land back into full crop production in 1974 to meet the increased demand for farm commodities. Many farmers will also farm their land more intensively as they try to increase yields per acre.
