

Brucellosis Program Explained Here

Stock producers in Briscoe will have a definite interest in the 1974 Texas Brucellosis Eradication Program, which officially began January 15, believes Vanstory, County Agent for Texas Agricultural Extension became "modified-certified" in August 1973, which meant that less than five percent of the herds and less than one percent of the cattle were infected. The new plan will make Texas a brucellosis-free state.

Brucellosis, commonly called "red fever," is a costly, contagious disease of livestock that may also affect human beings, points out Vanstory. The disease in humans is known as undulant fever. Although it may attack most farm animals, it is more common in cattle, swine and goats. Herds with brucellosis may produce as much as 20 percent less milk and 40 percent fewer calves. Thus millions of dollars are lost across the state each year.

The new program is designed to locate the infection, contain it and prevent the owner of infected animals to eliminate the disease, explains the Agent. Three different methods are used to locate infections: Brucellosis Ring Test for dairy herds, Market Cattle Test for all breeding cattle slaughtered, and Blood Test of all breeding cattle exchanging ownership.

All infected and exposed cattle are quarantined and their movement is limited to slaughter only. Blood testing procedures are used to test owners of infected herds to protect their cattle of the disease. Vanstory outlines the new Brucellosis Eradication Program.

All cattle, except steers, spayed heifers and vaccinated animals under two years old, must be tested within 30 days of any change of ownership.

A relatively simple "card" test has been developed that gives quick results — an improvement over the old system of sending blood samples to a laboratory. The cost of this initial test by a practicing veterinarian or other authorized person must be paid by the owner.

A brucellosis reactor is found at a sale yard or slaughterhouse, and state personnel trace the animal back to its herd of origin. Traceback tools include registration tags or ear tags that sale facilities are routinely using on consigned animals. Ear tags are required for interstate movement of most cattle.

When animals in consignment at the reactor was found can be handled in any of three ways — immediately for slaughter, moved to a quarantined feedlot, or returned to the ranch for quarantine.

Members of the herd of origin are considered exposed to the disease and must be tested at 30 days after the first reactor is found.

Government agencies conduct additional tests and pay the costs. All reactor animals are branded with a "B" on the hind and sold immediately for slaughter. Meat from these animals is condemned, notes Vanstory.

Clearance on a state basis is granted when no more than one percent of the herds in any county and not more than two percent of the cattle in that county are confirmed reactors during a 3 month testing period.

Charges Filed Here Against Kress Man

A Kress man has been charged with involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Elmer Lacy, who was killed in a car-pickup collision about 9:40 a.m. Monday, January 21, four miles west of Turkey in Briscoe County.

Charges were filed Monday against Jerry Yates, 34, who drove the pickup involved in the crash. District Attorney George Miller of Floydada filed the complaint in the court of Justice of the Peace Barbara Pigg in Silverton.

Because of inadequate jail facilities in Briscoe County, officers transferred Yates to Floydada where he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace H. E. Porter. Bond was set at $7,500 and Yates remained in Floyd County Jail late Tuesday.

The headon crash occurred on Texas Highway 86 in Briscoe County. Mrs. Lacy's husband received a broken pelvis, broken ribs, lacerations and contusions, and was listed in satisfactory condition at Lubbock's Methodist Hospital. Yates was treated at the clinic in Silverton and released.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lacy were conducted at 3:00 p.m. last Thursday in the Turkey Church of Christ with Clark Johnson, Lubbock Church of Christ minister, officiating. Assisting were Odell Purdy of Plainview and Herbert Gipson of Amarillo.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery at Turkey.

The challenged band will be representing Silverton and is called "Revue." Its members are Terry Scott, bass; Russell Hickerson, lead guitar; Ronnie Hester, rhythm guitar and lead vocals; Scott Hutsell, organ, piano and vocals, and Tony Hardin, drums and vocals.

Mr. and Mrs. Micki Jasper visited Miss Dawn Jasper Sunday afternoon.

Steve Jarnagin Is Campaign Treasurer

Steve Jarnagin has been named Campaign Treasurer for the Silverton 1974 March Against Dystrophy.

On January 28, 1974, 42 volunteer marchers will conduct a house-to-house appeal for funds to fight Muscular Dystrophy and related neuro-muscular diseases. Mr. Jarnagin said, "The drive here in Silverton is part of the annual nationwide effort to fight Muscular Dystrophy. In the interest of public service and for the convenience of the volunteer marchers and donors, the First State Bank of Silverton will act as depository for the campaign."

Muscular Dystrophy is the devastating crippler of young adults. The thousands of Texas residents afflicted by MD need your help as the majority will not grow to maturity unless a cure is found.

Club To Conduct Heart Fund Drive

Century of Progress Study Club will be conducting the annual Briscoe County Heart Fund Drive on Sunday, February 17. These volunteer workers will begin a door-to-door canvass at approximately 2:00 p.m.

If anyone living in this county would like to make a donation to the Heart Fund by mail before this date, you may send it to Mrs. John Gill, Route One, Silverton, Texas. It would be a great help to the workers, because of the gasoline shortage, if people who live in the rural areas would consider sending their contributions in before February 17.

Briscoe County has never failed to go over its designated goal, and the Heart Fund Chairman expects 1974 to be the biggest year ever.

Mrs. Jennie Fisher was admitted to Lockney General Hospital Friday morning. Among those who visited her at the hospital Friday and Saturday were Earl Cantwell, Rev. James Futch, Mrs. Ben Whitfill and Mr. and Mrs. George Seaney.

Wide Ranging Community Loans Are Available

Small rural communities will soon have increased federal support to update or develop needed facilities, according to an announcement today by J. Lynn Futch, Director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration programs in Texas. State Director Futch said FHA can make credit available to small rural towns for a wide range of community facilities such as industrial parks, streets, fire fighting equipment, ambulance service, community centers and even for community recreation.

The new program authorized under provisions of the 1972 Rural Development Act, supplements the Farmers Home Administration's water and waste disposal loan program.

"We are constantly striving to improve the quality of life in our state's small towns and outlying communities," Mr. Futch said. "Our water and sewer loan program has financed over 763 systems with more than $134 million and benefitted 532,000 rural people since the start of the program. Now we are in position to assist with more diverse projects."

Most of the loans are expected to be made to public bodies such

Means County Office Ready To Receive Loan Applications

Applications for business and agricultural loans in Swisher and Means counties may be filed with the Farmers Home Administration office in Tulia.

This announcement was made by Means County Supervisor George H. James, Jr., who said provisions of the Small Business Administration Act of 1972 are operative in the Swisher and Briscoe County area. James explained that a letter of preapplication is the first step in seeking assistance under the new federal program of financing local business development. The letter should briefly explain the type of industry or business, the proposed market for goods or services, and provide an estimate of the type and number of employment opportunities to be generated. Additional information may be secured by contacting the FHA county office, 219 NW Second Street, Tulia, Phone 995-3236.

Veterans Should Inquire As To Entitlement

Many veterans become ill and use their life savings to pay for needed hospital care before they inquire as to their entitlement to be admitted to a Veterans Administration hospital.

Medical and hospital care are very expensive today, and most people who are regularly employed are covered by some type of health and hospitalization insurance.

ance. Many veterans fail to realize that they may be eligible for care in Veterans Administration hospitals even though they are covered by insurance.

Eligible for admission to any Veterans Administration hospital is a veteran who was discharged or released under other than dishonorable conditions from either a peacetime or a wartime period of service in the Armed Forces of the United States. Medical emergencies always have first priority for admission, followed by veterans who require hospitalization because of a disability which was incurred during service.

Some veterans must show evidence of inability to pay for the needed care before they can be admitted. This is not necessary if the veteran is seeking treatment for a service-incurred disability, if he is receiving VA disability compensation or pension, if he was released from service because of a service-connected condition, or if he is 65 years of age or older.

A private doctor may expedite admission by contacting the VA hospital by telephone. Ambulance travel will be authorized if it is required and is justified by the doctor. Application for admission may be made by mail if accompanied by a medical statement from a private physician, or the veteran may present himself at the hospital for examination to determine need for care.

CONSERVATION FARMING TO SAVE TRACTOR FUEL

A new conservation farming technique saved an estimated 1.8 million gallons of tractor fuel in Texas this year, reports an official of the U. S. Conservation Service.

Edward E. Thomas, state conservationist for SCS in Temple, said minimum tillage farming systems eliminated an average of five tractor trips per acre during 1973 on about 354,000 acres of cropland.

"A tractor burns about a gallon of fuel per acre for the average farming operation," Thomas said. "Eliminating five tractor trips per acre reduces fuel consumption by five gallons of gasoline or diesel per acre."

To haul 1.8 million gallons of fuel in railroad tank cars would require a train nearly two miles long.

Thomas predicted even greater fuel savings in the future as more farmers turn to the new system.

"The practice is still a long way from being perfected," Thomas admitted. "But we've come a long way in the last three years. If similar gains can be made in the next few years, conservation farmers will be able to make a major contribution in helping ease the energy crunch."

With minimum tillage, crops are planted directly into the stalks and leaves left over from the previous crop without prior land preparation. Herbicides are used to control weeds, cutting out several tractor trips over a field. Some farmers report minimum tillage saves as many as 10 to 12 tractor trips per crop. A statewide average is about half that amount.

The surface cover of dead leaves and stems greatly reduces wind erosion, dust storms, and air pollution. The practice is equally effective in preventing water erosion and sedimentation from cropland.

Thomas said one of the big problems with minimum tillage is that surface-applied herbicides used to control weeds don't always work properly on all soils in Texas. He said better, more dependable herbicides adapted to mulch farming are needed.

Thomas credited the state's conservation farmers with helping develop minimum tillage farming systems.

"This practice has evolved by

Eligible applicants—individuals, partnerships, cooperatives, and corporations—should work with their bank or other private lender. Those whose applications are approved will receive loans from the private lender with up to 90 percent guaranteed by FHA. Funds may be used to start or expand business enterprises in rural areas and cities up to 50,000 population. Loan funds may be used to purchase machinery and equipment, to buy land, buildings and permanent fixtures, and for working capital.

Public bodies are also eligible for grants to finance industrial sites that will result in development of private business enterprises.

Additional information needed by applicants or lenders is available at the FHA county office.

A veteran employee of Southwestern Public Service Company has been added to the staff of the electric company's area development department.

The appointment of Kenneth E. Owen as area development consultant was announced today by Larry Milner, SPS manager of area development.

Owen's responsibilities will be to step up the economic development activities in the non-metropolitan areas and to promote industrial development in the larger cities in the area served by Southwestern Public Service Company.

Owen is a graduate of Texas Tech University where he earned a degree in management. He has been employed by SPS for 16 years, starting in the Lubbock office as division lighting specialist. He was transferred to Amarillo in 1965 as lighting sales manager for the entire company.

Owen is the immediate past president of the Panhandle Chapter of the Illuminating Engineering Society and has been active in the Boy Scouts of America, United Way and Christian Businessmen's Committee. He is a member of Sigma Iota Epsilon, honorary management fraternity.

Owen and his wife, Jeanne, live at 6705 Jameson Road in Amarillo and have two children, Linda and Brent.

A SYMBOL OF SAFETY

When the ship is in danger, we can depend on the life-boats to take us over the seas to safety. It is comforting to glance at the life-boat when the seas are rough.

Our Armed Services are a symbol of safety when our country is in trouble, when war threatens to raise its ugly head. In the past, when war has come, our servicemen have not hesitated to give their lives to protect and defend us.

There is a special Day each year when we remember and honor our servicemen who have died in the defense of our blessed country. Let us not forget, as individuals, to honor these dead and give thanks to God for those who protect us even now. Remember them as you attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
