MOVEMENT OF TROOPS MUST STOP AT ONCE

Warns Mexican Government That Moving of Soldiers Toward Northern Border Must Stop if the War Is to Close

DIAZ MUST STOP MOVEMENT OF TROOPS

Firing Still Going on at Juarez Between Sentries of Op- posing Armies

By Associated Press.

Juarez, Mexico, April 22.—(Special to the Signal)—The insurrectos before Juarez declare that before any armistice can be entered into that the Diaz government must stop the movement of troops to the seat of war. It is believed however that a truce can be arranged if immediate action is taken by the Mexican government.

IN MADERO'S CAMP NEAR JUAREZ

By Associated Press.

General Madero today declared to an associated press correspondent that he had never declared that Diaz should immediately resign as necessary for peace consideration and that he does not now insist upon his resignation as necessary to the preliminary arrangements.

Several shots were fired during the night by the Sentries from both armies which lie entrenched in and around the city. The men composing the insurrecto army are dirty, unkempt and half clad but despite this condition and their small numbers they are cheerful and in good spirits.

There are more Americans washing clothes in the Rio Grande than Mexicans.

Americans toss cigarettes, oranges, apples and other articles across the river to the Mexicans who are eager to receive them, more especially the cigarettes.

The United States troops are keeping a close lookout to prevent the smuggling across the border of guns or ammunition.

MEXICANS KILLED AT CHIHUAHUA

Americans Reported to Have Crossed Rio Grande With Supplies for Madero

By Associated Press.

Chihuahua, April 22.—(Special to the Signal)—A delayed report just received here state six rebels were killed in a skirmish near this city.

Twenty-eight Americans are said to have crossed the Rio Grande at El Paso, escaping the vigilance of the American troops, and some of Madero's army with forty thousand rounds of ammunition after a nine days march across the hot dry desert during which time they came near dying from hunger and thirst.

REVOLUTIONISTS BEGIN NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE

Peace Armistice Accepted by Rebel Chief—Conference Now On Between Belligerents

By Associated Press.

Washington, April 22.—(Special to the Signal)—Affairs in Mexico took a new turn today and the prospects for peace have suddenly become brighter.

The first step was taken today in the peace negotiations when Francisco Madero who commands the insurrecto forces in North Mexico, sent a telegram to General Goinez, the confidential agent of the insurrectos in the United States, authorizing him to begin negotiations with the Mexican government for an immediate armistice. Madero says the situation is such that he accepts the proposed armistice covering the territory between the beleaguered cities of Juarez and Chihuahua. The telegram from Madero was at once sent to the City of Mexico. Action by Diaz Government is expected at once.

This sudden change in the situation is supposed to be the result of the visit of the older Madero to the rebel chieftain's camp.

MEXICAN WOUNDED CARRIED TO HOSPITALS

Twenty-five Wounded Mexicans Carried to Hospitals in Douglas

Washington, April 22.—(Special to the Signal)—Secretary of War, Dickinson today gave permission for twenty-five Mexicans wounded in the battle of Agua Prieta to be carried to the Canadian hospital in a special car from Douglas.

By Associated Press.

San Antonio, Texas, April 22.—(Special to the Signal)—Prince Henry of Prussia and Angus Ender fell from a Wright Aeroplane here today in the midst of a company of drilling soldiers. The mishap was caused from the broken cylinder in the engine of the airship compelling the aviators to alight among the soldiers to save their lives. No one was hurt.

Y. M. B. L. HOLD AN IMPORTANT MEETING

Important Proceedings—Will In- stitute Campaign for Ex- termination of Boll Worm

The executive committee of the Young Men's Business League met yesterday afternoon and matters of importance to the town and county were passed upon as follows:

Officers of the League contracted with the Dixie Lyceum Bureau for a Lyceum course extending over the winter months of 1911-1912 including therein six numbers of the very best talent that can be procured as follows: Captain Richard Pearson Hobson, hero of the Merrimac, to deliver a lecture in the latter part of October, a treat which is only second in prominence to William Jennings Bryan or Theodore Roosevelt.

Rounds Ladies Orchestra of twelve pieces which is pronounced the best ladies orchestra on the continent.

Alton Packard, lightning caricaturist and sketch artist, who is undoubtedly the premier of his kind in North America.

Sage Concert Company, including Mlle. Sage with an international fame as a pianist and three other performers.

Devault Entertainment Company consisting of a violinist, cellist, flutist, pianist and reader and which comes with the reputation of many seasons of success behind it.

Col. Geo. W. Bain. Perhaps of all men in the south to day who stand for the upbuilding of the moral and civic welfare of mankind, Col. Bain stands preeminent. A man whose philanthropy has spread the entire Southland and who no doubt will prove not only an entertainer but a benefactor to our town and county.

On motion it was decided that the members of the League working in conjunction with Mr. F. L. Townsend of the Farmers' Union would institute a vigorous campaign for the eradication of the boll-worm. During the year of 1908 especially and also in other years the cotton crop of our county when seemingly an assured fact has grown and fruited with every prospect of a big yield up to about the first of August at which time the appearance and ravage of the boll worm has worked devastation to what would have otherwise meant plenty.

In the year 1908 alone 20,000 bales of cotton were destroyed with a total loss of $1,000,000 to this county alone. The aid of every merchant and farmer in our county will be asked in this cause as the process for destroying this pest is very simple and effective and can be applied with practically no cost and very little labor. This is a movement in which the effort of every citizen of our county should be glad to assist in and if our crop is not a complete failure will bring larger returns than any other effort initiated.

Monday night, May 1st, under the auspices of the League, the Snyder Concert Band will give a band concert in the court house toward which the League members are now giving their efforts to make it a big success as the Snyder Band is one of the few organizations which has lasted through the years with practically no support from our citizens. Everybody come and give them a boost.

TEXAS HONORS HER MOST ILLUSTRIOUS SON

Monument Dedicated to the Memory of Gen. Sam Hous- ton by the State is Unveiled at Huntsville

DEDICATION OF THE HOUSTON MONUMENT

Story of the Unveiling of the White Marble Shaft to Mem- ory of Texas' Dead

(By Usher Vincent.)

Huntsville, Texas, April 21.—

Thousands of Texans are gathered here to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, to witness the unveiling of the monument to Sam Houston and to listen to patriotic addresses by William Jennings Bryan and other gifted orators. A special train brought over one thousand people from Houston alone, many of them descendants of men who fought with Houston and were his contemporaries in the councils of the Republic of Texas.

San Jacinto day is closer to the hearts of South Texas people than to those of other parts of Texas. Here the early struggle of the nation took place; here was written that history which today is a priceless heritage to the sons and daughters of the Republic, here Houston and Travis and Austin and De Zavalla and Deaf Smith lived and in these cemeteries rest their ashes.

Here are the battlefields of the early struggles with Mexicans and Indians and here still live a small number of those who can point to the landmarks of Texas Independence and say "There we fought."

Many a private home holds cannon balls or "Bowie" knives or pistols that were used by the first head of that family in Texas in his fight for freedom; and many of these homes today are located upon the same land granted their forebearers by Mexico or the Republic of Texas.

No wonder then that San Jacinto has a place in the hearts of South Texas people and no wonder that they have gathered here today to honor the memory of the victor in that fight.

Huntsville History

No town in Texas is more closely connected with the history of the state than Huntsville and no town has held a greater number of the men who have made Texas history. Almost every old home has housed at some time in its history, a man prominent in the public affairs of the Republic of Texas or the state, and in the cemetery Sam Houston body rests beside those of such men as Rev. Daniel Baker (the Pioneer Texas Presbyterian for whom Daniel Baker College at Brownwood received its name), Henderson Yoakum, (Texas' most truthful early historian) William Barrett, G. W. Farris, Robert Smith, (all Mexican war veterans) and other preachers and teachers and warriors.

Most of these men are represented in the city today by descendants who have inherited the strength of body and mind of their forebearers and occupy relatively as prominent places in the world of affairs.

Houston's Home

Here in Huntsville is still standing the plain little house which was Houston's home the latter years of his life. This has been moved about two blocks from where it stood and fitted up as a boarding house. The little office where he transacted his private business has fallen into decay. Within the last few years some efforts have been made to preserve these landmarks from further decay. The Alumni Association of Sam Houston Normal Institute has planned a Sam Houston Park and Museum and has purchased a few acres of land which contains the spring which furnished water for the Houston family and on which were situated the Houston home and the little office. The Alumni Association will continue to care for this park.

The ladies of the Outlook Club have charge of the spring and will restore it to its former beauty. Particular interest attaches to this spring because around it camped many Indian chiefs, who came with their followers to get Houston's advice in their tribal affairs, and around it were made many treaties which secured to the white people the friendship of their red neighbors.

The student body of 1910-11 has purchased the residence which will be moved back to its former site and be restored to exactly its former appearance.

The little office has become the special care of the Ladies' Reading Club and by them is being preserved from further decay.

Houston's Grave

"I wish to be buried in the old Huntsville grave yard among my old friends and neighbors," was Houston's request and here in Oakwood cemetery he was placed July 27, 1863. A plain marble slab marked the spot with the simple inscription, "General Sam Houston, born March 2, 1793; died July 26, 1863—after a life of vicissitudes such as seldom falls to man's lot."

Houston's death was not overlooked for and only one member of his family was away from the bedside. This was Lieutenant Sam Houston, who was wounded and a prisoner in a Yankee prison. The end came to the patriot-soldier peacefully. His last words were "Texas, Texas," followed in a few moments by "Margaret," his wife's name.

The Monument

Today Mrs. Nettie Houston Bringhurst will unveil the monument which will show in a meadow teachers and warriors.

—The Listener.

The crop situation in Seurry County is better than it has been for many years.

Hon. W. J. Bryan visited Stamford the other day and in a fifteen minute address took occasion to say that he was not and would not be under any circumstances a candidate for the presidency. Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Bryan failed to reach the goal of his ambitions, he has never become soured nor lost faith in humanity and today stands without a peer in the democratic party, and what he says will have great weight in the coming presidential campaign, though he will not be the standard bearer.

The following enlightening article was sent out from the anti headquarters at Houston. We reproduce it here only to show to what extent the antis are misstating facts:

"Many prominent members of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association are outspoken against statewide prohibition. Although from territory where local option now prevails. The prediction is made by some of the best informed that the vast territory west from Fort Worth to El Paso, which is now dry under the local option law, will give a majority against the statewide prohibition in the July election. These men believe in the proposition of letting every section manage its affairs in its own way.

Off comes our Chapeau to Bro. Barnes, of the Signal, and here's wishing the new daily a long life of prosperity and progress. It is neatly printed and well edited and is another one of Snyder's good things. The business men of Snyder should be proud of it and should be liberal in patronizing such a worthy enterprise.—Baptist Bulletin.

Monday, April 17, 1911, The Snyder Daily Signal made its appearance upon the journalistic sea. It is a 4-page, 6-column paper, and gives its readers the daily Associated Press reports as well as a good line of ads. We wish for it a long, useful and prosperous life. The paper is a credit to the town and its publishers. We predict that it will be a strong factor in the development of higher ideals in the community.—Hermleigh Herald.

FORMER TEXAS RANGER FOUND NOT GUILTY

Last Chapter Celebrated Houston Murder Trial Comes to an End Today

By Associated Press.

Houston, Texas, April 22.—(Special to the Signal)—Houston's former ranger Henry L. Ransom was found not guilty today of the murder of Judge J. B. Brockman after the jury had been out for a short time.

The parties implicated were among the most prominent in the state and the trial has attracted state wide attention.

Aims or Justice

It has been impossible to visit Cleveland of recent years without being impressed by the virulence of the opposition there to Tom L. Johnson. The Mayor whose deeds as well as his words proved the sincerity of his desire to see social justice done was widely regarded as a desperate villain, determined to wreck society to enrich himself.

If Tom Johnson had been content to go on making money in the accepted ways he might have given as much to the poor as he liked, and all good citizens would have lauded his philanthropy. But when he interfered with somebody else's game in the interest of the square deal he was denounced at once. It is a lot easier to give alms than to do justice—and frequently much more popular.—Kansas City Star.

He's A Messenger Notary

Gov. Deneen will soon receive the application for a renewal of license of notary public from Thomas E. Canty, the only messenger boy in Chicago who can sign his name with the great seal of the state of Illinois. Canty, who for nine years has been messenger No. 88 with the Western Union Telegraph Company, was appointed a notary four years ago.

Canty is 25 years old. He soon will take up the study of law, and in addition to "running messages," will be "Johnny on the spot," he says, to marry people after he becomes a judge of the municipal court. He is well known in the loop district, especially at the hotels and newspaper offices. Among those who signed his petition were James Stokes, clerk at the Grand Pacific, and Patrick Hunt, clerk at the Brevoort.

"Since I've been in the notary business," Canty said, "I've taken about 200 affidavits. The regular fee is two bits, but as most of my work is at the hotels late at night, when every other notary is hitting up the feathers, I get all the way from 25 cents to $1 just for signing my name. That ain't so rotten, is it, for a messenger boy?"—Chicago Tribune.

J. S. Loving of Brownwood is in the city today on business.

Taylor's Company

Albert Taylor and his excellent Company presented "The Gilded Fool" to an appreciative audience at the Opera House last night.

To say that the audience was pleased but slightly expresses it. Taylor can please any kind of an audience. A matinee this evening and tonight an adaption from Victor Hugo will be presented. The more difficult the character just that far extends the ability of the actors to interpret the several roles.

Osteopathy

The superiority of osteopathy over other systems of treatment are first.

In its diagnosis, it not only names the trouble but goes back and shows the cause producing it.

2nd. Its treatment is rational it builds strength and vitality out of nature's elements, fresh air, sunshine, pure water, simple and properly selected foods, gives attention to all environment and keeps the subject as free from poison both external and internal as is possible.

3rd. Its results are satisfactory.

4th. It is the most economical of all treatments.

5th. It is free from danger. No alcohol habit, drug habit, tobacco habit or any demoralizing or weakening condition is produced.

Many of our leading public men have no other physician.

Certainly no physician is capable of doing the good that osteopathy can do. It is simple, plain common horse sense, true gold applied to the healing art.

After twenty years spent in the study of the tank problems there has been perfected our highest idea of the sheet metal kind.

The name is Toncan metal.

There is nothing else like it. Nothing for tanks which begins to compare with it. The problem was this: Ordinary sheet iron is too brittle for tanks, eaa easily rusted. So we had to get a metal that is tougher and more nearly rust proof. We did this when we purchased the Toncan metal. No other flat sheet has been made that so completely meets the requirements. There are other metals that claim to be rust proof for it is the aim of all to get something that the minerals in the water will not eat out, and there is nothing that comes as near filling the bill as Toncan metal. There is no frequent replacing as there is with other tanks, water does not turn them white and soon rust them out. Just think of what it means to have a durable tank like that. Ah, it will rid you of all your tank worries. There is nothing that lasts like Toncan metal. Nothing that resists the action of the minerals found in some of this water. We shall prove this to you so you never can doubt it when you let us build you a tank.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S SERMON AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Great Questions and Their Answers by Rev. S. A. Ribble

In the sacred record of human development many great questions have been answered. The human family had hardly got beyond the gates of Paradise before one of these great questions was asked by a sinner and answered by the Divine Father. This question was from the lips of Cain, whose hands were even then stained with his brother's blood. "Am I my brother's keeper?" This question tacitly denies the responsibility of one in another's welfare. The father in answering this human question has given us such instruction that there is no denying our share of society's burden. Out of a recognition of this grows our interest in good schools, good homes, good town government, good state government, and last, but not least, good churches. This recognition moves the true teacher, missionary reformer, and preacher of the gospel.

The man of patience asked another great question of universal human interest. "If a man die shall he live again?" Job 14: 14.) This anxious cry grew out of suffering. It has been asked sometimes in life by every normal minded man. Who can answer this except the great Maker of mankind? His answer is to be found in the teaching of Jesus and Paul concerning the resurrection.

cient prophet, Daniel cries after seeing the awful vision of the triumph of error over the truth: "What shall the end of these things be?" Many a godly man has grown sick at heart when beholding the apparent defeat of the army of truth by the cohorts of wrong. Out of such a heart comes the earnest cry of Daniel. The great answer is to us when we are able to learn from John's matchless vision of the last times that truth, right, good and the Church of God will finally be triumphant over all all enemies.

No greater question could be asked than the one asked by the jailer of the Roman city of Philippi. "What must I do to be saved?" To answer anxious inquirers like this man the apostles preached under any and all circumstances. Luke, the beloved physician, traveled with these devout laborers to write for sinners the great symposium of answers that we find the book of Acts to be. No human mind was equal to the task of answering such a query, so the Father and Son and Holy Spirit combined their powers with the love and power of redeemed men to give us the complete answer of Acts.

The great apostle who once denied his Master, seeing the denial of Christ in men's refusing to obey the gospel of Christ, exclaims sorrowfully, "What shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel?" O sinful, rebellious man, you can answer this soul-searching question without saying with Paul, those that obey not the gospel shall be punished with everlasting punishment. Read 2 Thes. 1:6-8. R. V. Can we afford to pass by this great inspired foretelling of the destiny of the disobedient? Stop, think, believe, obey.

ure the appreciation of the people a granddaughter of Sam Houston and a resident of the city named for him.

The monument was designed by Pompeo Coppin, a Texas arple of Texas. Mrs. Bringhurst is tist and shows General Houston mounted with his hat in hand waiving his men on to victory. Back of the horse and just visible is one of the "Twin Sisters," the cannon which had much to do with the battle of San Jacinto. The last legislature appropriated $10,000 to pay for the memorial and it constitutes a tardy recognition of the debt owed by Texas to this great man.

Say, if you want a large draft horse I have a half Percheron that is sixteen and a half hands tall. Will weigh between thirteen and fourteen hundred. I will make a stand with this horse on my place seven miles west of Snyder. D. D. Daniels.

Champ Clark hasn't driven that pair of Missouri mules down Pennsylvania Avenue yet. Champ has missed a great opportunity for advertising himself and the Missouri mules.

If you patronize the City Meat Market, you get meat that has been handled in a sanitary manner.

Osteopathy

The almost daily scene of our best citizens taking the train for the wells or some sanitarium to be operated on or rested up is a somewhat dubious tribute to the efficiency of our local medical fraternity, yet it is but the natural sequence to which their treatment points. The greatest factor causing constipation is drugs (Cathartics and purgatives). Constipation causes at least seven-eighths of all appendicitis and operation for appendicitis has caused many thousand more deaths than it has ever cured and operation for most female troubles is still less beneficial and far more destructive. Osteopathy (natural treatment) offers a simple, plain, sure way of treatment that is towards recovery. It is not dangerous, its patrons do not have to go off to get well.

I teach from the start what caused the trouble and constantly drill it into your mind that health is from within and that no external agency can in any way give the exuberance of youth to an abused and an unstable bundle of nerves. I straighten you up, show you the error, point out the straight and narrow way, place the responsibility on the individual who is sick and urge that right living is health and I charge for my teaching. As to money, when results are considered it is the cheapest of all forms of treatment.
