Claunch, Kennedy claim grand champions

■ Claunch's Exotic Cross tops field in steer show

Jacen Claunch emerged from a field jam-packed with quality to win the 1997 Bailey County Junior Market Steer Show Jan. 18 at the Civic Center.

It was the second time in three years the son of Jim Pat and Susie Claunch had exhibited the Grand Champion. The 1,275-pound champion Exotic Cross caught the eye of judge Chris Skaggs, a professor at Texas A&M. Claunch had also exhibited the 1995 Grand Champion.

There were 43 steers exhibited during the show, with the quality evident in each and every class and breed.

The Reserve Grand Champion was exhibited by Ky Kennedy, the son of Steve Kennedy of Muleshoe and Sheri Kennedy of Lubbock. His steer was also the reserve champion Exotic Cross; a 1,250 pounder that won the weight class just under the Grand Champion. It was the second-straight year Kennedy had exhibited the Reserve Grand.

Skaggs, who has judged a number of major shows in recent years, including the San Antonio Livestock Exposition and the New Mexico State Fair, offered hope for those exhibitors from Bailey County. He continually complimented the exhibitors, saying he felt Bailey County would be "extremely competitive" down the road at the majors.

Also in the grand drive were steers exhibited by Jeffery Wheeler, who had the champion American Breed and Katie Black, who had the champion British Breed. Wheeler had exhibited the Grand Champion in 1996 and the Reserve Grand in 1995.

Reserve champions included Lindsey Altman, who had the reserve British Breed; and Lysie Black, who had the reserve American Breed.

In the Beef Heifer Show, Myndi Heathington took top honors, while Robin Tooley had the reserve grand champion.

James Hancock was the top choice in the Dairy Heifer Show, while Erin Hancock had the reserve grand champion.

In the showmanship contest, Wheeler was judged the senior and overall winner. However, because he had already won the Jimmy Dale Black Showmanship Award, Wheeler was not eligible to compete. That moved Keila Kennedy, the reserve senior, into the top spot. She went on to win the Black Showmanship Award, which features a competition from the top showmen from the lamb show, the swine show and the steer show. The contestants

Kennedys earn 2nd hog title

Todd Knight knew what he was looking for when he showed up to judge the Bailey County Junior Market Swine Show — and he found it.

Throughout the day, the Yoakum County agent sorted through the 178 entries for long, lean, heavily-muscled hogs with good structure and the ability to travel. The Plains native admitted he found what has was looking for and more.

For the second year in a row, the top hog came from the Kennedy family of Muleshoe. Keila Kennedy's 243-pound Cross was the pick of the litter, earning the Grand Champion's banner. She is the daughter of Steve Kennedy of Muleshoe and Sheri Kennedy of Lubbock.

Knight was duly impressed, noting while the barrow was the easy winner of the show, there were others

Former MHS standout returns

■ Copley brings Dalhart to town for 1-3A contest

Andy Copley is excited about coming back home.

But the former Muleshoe High School basketball standout has a little business to tend to first.

Copley now coaches the Dalhart boys basketball and the Golden Wolves will have revenge on their minds when they visit Muleshoe Friday for a District 1-3A game (7:30 p.m.) at WJHS gym.

Muleshoe edged Dalhart 66-64 in overtime in Dec. 20 in the district opener for teams.

"The best part about playing in Muleshoe is that all of my family will be able to see us play and I'll be able to visit with them," said Copley, who averaged 20 points and was selected all-district as a senior in 1986.

The Golden Wolves (13-10) picked up their first district win last week, beating Friona 73-61, after an 0-5 start.

Expectations run high at Dalhart, Copley said. The Golden Wolves have qualified for the state playoffs the last three years and four times in the 90s.

"Up to this point, the season has been real disappointing," said Copley, 35-23 in his two years as head coach at Dalhart. "This year, we have struggled shooting the basketball. At times, we've struggled to score points."

Dalhart is led by Josh Reynolds, who quarterbacked the Golden Wolves to a 41-0 win over Muleshoe this fall. Reynolds, a two-time all-district hoopster, is averaging 15 points, six rebounds and four assists a game. Trevor Scott adds 10 points a game.

Copley, a 1991 graduate of Texas Tech, was the head coach at Three Way from 1991-93.

He is married to the former Jamie Rich of Olton. They have a 19-month-old boy named Connor. Copley is the son of Don and Diane Copley of Muleshoe and the grandson of J.R. and Ella Copley and June and Tip McNeil, both of Muleshoe.

Board discusses help for at risk-students

By SAMUEL VILLARREAL
Journal Staff Writer

Muleshoe High School students at-risk of not graduating will soon get a helping hand.

MHS Principal Al Bishop Monday discussed plans for academic acceleration of identified students during the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District.

Bishop told board members students who fail or are considered at risk of failing one or more sections of the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills Test (TAAS) will receive extra tutoring.

"We've contacted parents with letters, in English and Spanish, as well as teacher/parents conferences," Bishop said. "These will be mandatory tutorials. We won't take any excuses for not coming. We'll contact employers and family to work out scheduling problems."

Several MHS teachers, as well as instructors from other MISD campuses, have volunteered their time to tutor the students. Teachers have offered to work with students before and after school, as well as conference periods during the school day, Bishop said.

Students must pass all portions of the exit TAAS

San Antonio man offered city position

City officials have offered a San Antonio man the job as Muleshoe's economic development director.

Jeff Rogers, associate director of the Center of Economics at the University of Texas at

CITY COUNCIL

San Antonio, was chosen by Muleshoe city officials to fill the newly developed position, City Manager James Fisher told the City Council during a regular meeting Tuesday.

Rogers has yet to act on the offer.

According to City Manager James Fisher, Rogers has 30 days to respond or the city will rescind the offer.

Rogers, one of five applicants, was the only person interviewed for the position.

"(Rogers) had the qualifications and experience we were looking for," Fisher said.

If hired, Rogers will earn a yearly salary of $35,000, plus benefits. His salary will come from an economic development tax local hotels have been paying for the past three years.

The city has a balance of nearly $400,000 in the fund earmarked for attracting new businesses and expanded present ones.

The council approved also hired a Levelland organization to secure housing grants for the residents of Muleshoe.

The Council Tuesday awarded South Plains Community (SPCA) Action Association the task of securing HOME grants from the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs.

The purpose of HOME grants are to assist qualifying low income households by providing assistance for the maintenance of their homes. The grants allow such families to bring their housing into compliance with federal housing quality standards, as established by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Families whose income is 50 percent or below the median income for the area can qualify for grants of up to $20,000. Families with incomes between 51 and 80 percent of the area median income can qualify for deferred loans of up to $20,000.

Joe Embry, a representative of SPCA, told council members that SPCA has successfully obtained similar grants for the cities of Levelland and Denver City.

The council had originally hired consultant Bruce Spitzengel to help obtain the grants. Fisher said he didn't feel comfortable with the Council's original choice.

South Plains Community Actions Association will re-

Laney unanimously re-elected Texas Speaker of House

AUSTIN — Representative James E. "Pete" Laney, D-Hale Center, was unanimously re-elected as Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives Jan. 14 by the members of the House.

Laney, 53, has served as Speaker of the House since 1993. He represents Texas House District 85, which includes Bailey and Parmer Counties.

In his address to the House, Speaker Laney said Texas lawmakers and state leaders have proven that they can work together without gridlock. "We must now prove that we can steer our state toward a promising and prosperous future for all of our citizens."

Horse Salve Eases Arthritis Pain

LOUISVILLE, KY — An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorses' legs, has now been approved by government researchers for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx. ARTH-Rx comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Guff Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446. © 1996 PGD test before they can graduate from any public high school in the state of Texas.

School officials define at-risk students as those receiving low TAAS scores in junior high. Students who fail one or more sections of the exit TAAS test their sophomore year receive tutoring to improve their chances of passing when they retake the test.

Bishop also discussed a night class set up for MHS seniors who failed their first semester of English.

Students must complete four credits of English to graduate. Normally, students who fail their first semester of English must make a high enough grade their second semester so that the average of the two semesters is above passing. Otherwise, the student will lose credit for the entire school year.

"In the past, students have either chosen to take correspondence courses or credit-by-exam," Bishop said. "We gave the students the option of taking night classes and they all chose it."

The night classes will allow senior students to gain a passing grade for the first semester. The night classes will cover new materials and research projects, according to Bishop.

"We really wish we didn't have to do this, but we don't want to risk seven seniors not graduating," Bishop said.

In other business, Bailey County Extension Agents Curtis Preston and Gail Gladden were appointed as adjunct faculty members of the Muleshoe Independent School District.

With the appointment of Preston and Gladden, MISD 4-H students who miss school for livestock shows will be given excused absences, a privilege already enjoyed by students who are members of the Future Farmers of America.

"This will level the playing field for all the students involved," Bishop said.

Preston and Gladden will work directly with the principals at each campus, according to MISD Superintendent Bill Moore.

LUBBOCK —High Plains regional business sales are expected to drop by $500 million a year if impending boll weevil populations are left unchecked, a Jan. 17 report estimates.

The drop will come from a 30 percent loss of cotton production and this translates into a decline of more than $190 million a year in gross farm income and 9,000 fewer jobs in the region. This also suggests the loss of up to a third of the cotton gins in the region.

"Evidence indicates that the boll weevil has firmly established on the Texas High Plains and can survive harsh winters with existing habitat," said Dr. Ron Lacewell, agricultural economist and assistant vice chancellor of agriculture at Texas A&M.

This comes from a study completed this week by the 18-member Texas A&M/Texas Tech Boll Weevil Assessment Task Force.

Though the cotton boll weevil has plagued growers across the southern U.S. growing region for more than 100 years, the Texas High Plains has been relatively free of the pest due mainly to the dry climate, harsh winters and an effective diapause program since 1964 which kept the insect from overwintering there.

But in recent years, researchers, county extension agents and crop consultants have reported seeing boll weevils in alarming numbers.

"Compelling data and experiences have accumulated that indicate the boll weevil has adapted to the High Plains," said Lacewell.

The analysis used information from agricultural economists, entomologists and consultants to determine the potential weevil infestations up to 10 years in the future. These projections were used to estimate the most likely changes from and adjustments to boll weevil infestations.

Task force members didn't address the question of a region-wide control program. Their results simply indicate that the boll weevil left unchecked on the High plains leaves the area at an increasingly competitive disadvantage for cotton production, Lacewell said. The 30 High Plains counties annually produce about three million bales of cotton, some 20 percent of the U.S. crop.

"Serious economic damages are expected as far north as Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Briscoe and Bailey counties," Lacewell said.

Dr. James Leser, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said trap catches by the end of 1996 had increased almost 40 percent over those captured in traps by the end of 1995.

John R. Hunter, Texas Tech professor, consultant and task force member, noted that he began using boll weevil traps as part of his field scouting technique about three years ago near Lubbock. Since then, he has seen a steady increase in the weevil population.

"It is obvious that the boll weevil cost at least $100 per acre to some of my clients in 1996," he said.

Though the project strongly suggests serious economic impacts in the absence of a regional weevil control program, the task force acknowl-

Mules return to running

■ Cleavinger's 20-20 effort paces Mules

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

The gears were grinding a bit as Muleshoe shifted into full-time overdrive.

Pushing the pace from the outset, and powered Dustin Cleavinger's Herculean effort, Muleshoe raced to 76-60 District 1-3A win over stubborn Sanford-Fritch Friday at WJHS.

Cleavinger dominated the paint, scoring 26 points, grabbing 20 rebounds (10 offensive). The sophomore post added six blocked shots.

"Dustin worked harder and longer than any time I can remember," Muleshoe coach Ralph Mason said. "I hope it's a sign of things to come."

The win keeps Muleshoe (15-9, 4-2) on the heels of district co-leaders Tulia and Dimmitt. Both moved to 6-0 Friday with easy wins.

After bogging down offensively in the second half of losses to Tulia and Dimmitt, Mason felt the Mules needed to a full-time return to the uptempo style that proved so effective earlier in the year.

Mason hoped the Mules could adapt to playing at different tempos, but realized he was keeping his young team for doing what they do best — run.

Sanford-Fritch (10-14) left a good impression on Mason despite its 1-5 district record.

"Every time they got an open look they seemed to knock it down," Mason said. "They were disciplined and well coached. It was a pretty hard-earned 16-point win."

LAZBUDDIE — Farwell gained early Parmer County bragging rights, edging Lazbuddie 75-74 Friday in a District 3-1A game at LHS gym.

Lazbuddie and Farwell are now tied for second at 2-1, one game behind top-ranked Nazareth (3-0).

The Longhorns (15-5) played at Nazareth (20-4) Tuesday.

"It's a monster win for (Farwell) and puts us behind the eight ball," Lazbuddie coach Gary Grahn said. "Now we have to go over there (Feb. 4) and win."

"I'm not sure why we have to score 80 points to beat them," Grahn added. "They just shot the ball well and played well."

Lazbuddie made just 15 of 36 free throws and had three starters foul out down the stretch.

Jason Thomas led four Longhorns in double figures with 19 points. Israel Lopez added 14 points, Justin St. Clair added 13 and Josh Morris finished 11.

David Everett led the Steers (18-4) with 18 points and Logan Nichols added 16.

LEVELLAND — The Muleshoe freshman boys finished second at the Levelland Tournament Jan. 16-18.

Host Levellandedged Muleshoe 48-41 in Saturday's championship game.

Clint Black led Muleshoe with nine points. Jesse Reyes and Jeff Bruns added seven points each for Muleshoe (12-3).

Muleshoe trailed 28-19 at halftime but pulled within four by the start of the fourth quarter.

Muleshoe beat Frenship 55-40 Friday in the semifinals. Reyes led a balanced attack with nine points as eight players finished with four or more points.

Reyes scored 25 points and Black added 21 as the Mules routed Slaton 104-53 in Thursday's first round. Mitch Mason was also in double figures with 12 points.

District 3-1A tough on Lady Longhorns

LAZBUDDIE — Farwell and Lazbuddie are headed in opposite directions.

Farwell remained unbeaten in District 3-1A play with a 62-29 win over Lazbuddie Friday, while the Lady Longhorns fell to 0-3.

Farwell (20-3, 3-0 in district) hosted Happy (21-5, 3-0) in a first-place showdown Tuesday.

"We couldn't throw the ball in the ocean," Lazbuddie coach Carey Sudduth said. "But some of that had to do with Farwell. They're so quick and when you shoot, there are arms everywhere."

"The way they played Friday definitely raised their stock with me," Sudduth added.

Mandy Magby led Lazbuddie (13-9) with eight points and Roxann Warren added seven. The Lady Longhorns made just 9 of 26 free throws.

Candace Travis led Farwell with 22 points and Ashley Crawford added 12 points.

Sanford-Fritch even after jumping out to a 12-0 lead.

Justin Price had a pair of 3-pointers and the Eagles made 7 of 9 free throws in the second quarter, keeping Sanford-Fritch within striking distance.

Cleavinger had 14 points in the first half, which ended with Muleshoe up 38-33.

Sanford-Fritch tied the game at 40 on Haven Reed's 3-pointer before Muleshoe ripped off a 18-5 run over the last six minutes of the third quarter. Carlton Lewis and Cyrus Norman had 3-pointers during the run.

Muleshoe led by at least eight points the rest of the way, including a stretch when the Eagles hit 10-straight free throws.

With the rededication to the uptempo, pressing game returned the balance scoring that Muleshoe was getting early in the season. Nine Mules scored at least four points.

Plus, the Mules forced 26 Sanford-Fritch turnovers.

Douglass Field scored 11 points for Muleshoe, Alfonso Mendoza added seven points and eight rebounds and Lewis had seven points, two rebounds and two assists.

Price led Sanford-Fritch with 14 points and Brian Moor-ing added 11.

Muleshoe played at Friona Tuesday.

edged that the study has some limitations.

"The movement and adaptation of the boll weevil is a biological phenomenon and no one can accurately predict how quickly this insect will move across the High Plains," Leser said.

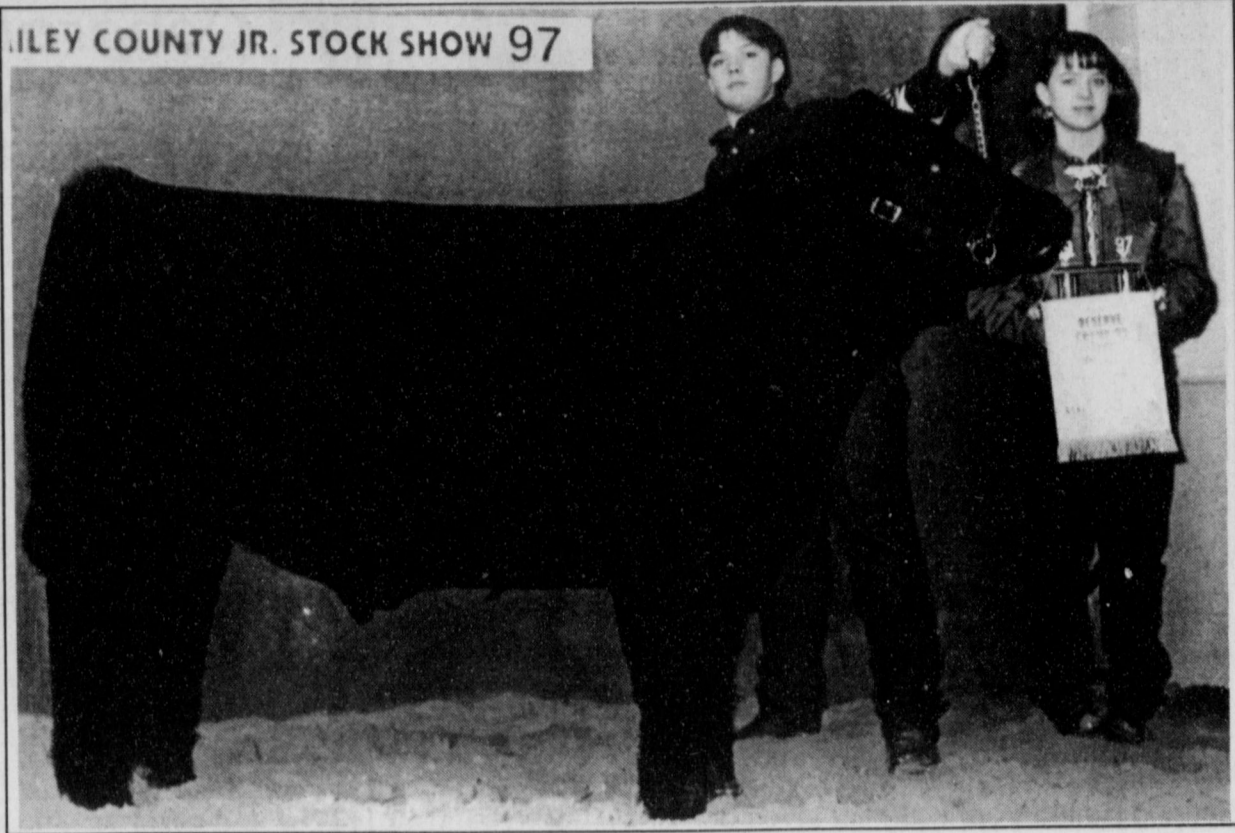

Dr. Don Rummel, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entomologist, noted that the study also considered only current technology since it is not known at this time what future developments might include, and the analysis used weather patterns for the past 10 years as an indication of what weather will be like in the future.

Due to uncertainty on the rate of future movements and levels of infestation of the boll weevil, a worst case and best case situation also was evaluated, according to Dr. Don Ethridge and Dr. Eduardo Segarra, agricultural economists with Texas Tech University.

The best case situation showed a reduction in regional business activity of $57 million compared to an $820 million loss for the worst case.

On a more optimistic note, the developments from biotechnology, cotton genetics and integrated pest management (IPM) practices can help reduce the potential cotton losses on the Texas High plains by the boll weevil, Lacewell noted.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor

Your talent for colorful writing and turning a phrase was clearly illustrated in your front page article "Basketball can be a headache".

But somewhere in your creative walk down memory lane, I think you must have forgotten what it's like to be a young athlete with the world looking on. A world that often sees every mistake you make, but misses the one great shot that counted.

I would like to kindly make a suggestion that the next time you attend a small game, in a small town that you take a different perspective along with you.

Instead of noting unsure steps and awkward shots from kids with anonymous careers, you could report on the outsize team that was down by twenty that never gave up. You could use descriptive words like "Hustle and Desire." The one moment when the missed free shot lost the game, a teammate came from behind and patted the shooter on the back. Words like "support and leadership" would cover that. You might even catch an act of "sportsmanship" when a player gave a hand up to a fallen opponent.

And, while you're standing there in that "old rustic gym" why don't you turn and look up into those stands full of rowdy, noisy fans and see a wealth of community "Pride and Spirit" for it's school and young people?

It's just a thought, but the next time you notice light dancing off of those beautifully polished floors, why don't you tell of a school that wears its colors proudly?

I promise your headache would disappear in no time.

Respectfully,
Deborah Nickels

ceive an $8,000 administration fee for their help in obtaining the grants. Embry told council members his organization is a not-for-profit organization, and all administration fees would go directly to salaries.

In other business, the Council voted to install stop signs at several points in town.

The intersection of 16th and avenue J as well as the intersection of 18th and Avenue I will change from two-way stop to four-way stops. Also, the intersection of 7th and Avenue K, and uncontrolled intersection, will become a three-way stop.

In one last item of business, the council set a general election to be held May 3 for the purpose of electing a mayor.

Ballot applications will be taken from Feb. 17 - Mar. 19 for candidates interested in running for the office of mayor.

Current City Mayor Robert Montgomery, who has served as mayor since September of 1992, confirmed Tuesday he will seek re-election.

The mayor's office is an unpaid position.

NURSING HOME NEWS

By Joy Stancell

Thursday morning Pastor David McIntire, J.C. Shanks and Clara Lou Jones came for our weekly devotional/reflection time.

Nathan Crawford, minister of the Lazbuddie Church of Christ visited us Friday morning. Mr. Crawford led us in singing several hymns and gave us a message on New Years Resolutions.

Friday following supper the residents greeted the Menno-nite Church of Farwell in the Day Room. The youth group sang several of our favorite hymns and some new one (to us).

Melvin and Wanda Griffin played Bingo with the residents

Saturday afternoon. Melvin and Wanda presented the residents with their photo taken with the white bearded man, Santa.

Sunday afternoon the Muleshoe singers came Sunday afternoon for gospel music and song.

The followers Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church gave a donation to the Healthcare Center.

Jerry Nell spent the day visiting with her father F.R. White, Wednesday.

Tuesday afternoon, Claudine Embry, Wanda Kittrell, Pat Watson, Mary Jo Burge, Chickie and Joy shampooed and set the ladies hair.

Wednesday morning Buster and Wanda Kittrell and Jane hosted coffee/donut time. After coffee and donuts Loyce Killingsworth and Buster lead us in a Gospel sing-a-long and devotional time.

The families of Vic Benedict and Robert Martin brought us flowers that we have enjoyed tremendously.

Glenda Jennings came Wednesday afternoon for a sing-a-long and puppet show. Holly Millsap visited us and joined in the singing.

Boyd Gibbs of Lubbock visited his mother Zaoda Gibbs Wednesday.

Joyce Turnbow brought us a large box of tortilla chips Wednesday.

OBITUARIES

Martha H. Young

Funeral services for Martha H. Young, 66, of Muleshoe were held Jan. 21 at the First Baptist Church with Rev. Stacy Conner, pastor, officiating.

Burial followed in the Muleshoe Memorial Park Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home, Muleshoe.

Mrs. Young died Jan. 19 at Methodist Hospital-Lubbock after an illness. She was born July 8, 1930 in Blanket, Texas.

Young lived in Muleshoe since 1956, moving from Calvert, Texas. She worked for the U.S. Department of Agriculture as a clerk for twenty-one years before retiring.

Survivors include two daughters, Pam Atwood of Muleshoe, and Prisca Gilbert of Brazoria, Texas; one brother Tommy G. Hall of Utica, N.Y.; one sister, Frances "Toots" Hill of San Antonio, Texas; 4 grandchildren.

The family suggest memorials to the American Lung Association or First Baptist Church.

Lady Mules

Harrison led Muleshoe with 21 points. Sophomore post Erin Wilhite added 16 points and freshman guard Lindsey Field added 12.

Wilhite was perfect 6 for 6 from the free throw line as Muleshoe connected on 27 of 37 free throws (73 percent).

"We're scoring as many points as we ever have, but at the cost of defense," Gruhlkey said. And that bugs me."

After scoring to reach for the 40-point mark for much of the season, Muleshoe has averaged 56 points a game the last five games. They allowed 58 during the same stretch.

Muleshoe remains first games out of first place and three games out of a playoff spot after No. 6 River Road sidestepped an upset at Tulia (5-3-52) Friday. The Lady Wildcats remain perfect in district at 8-0. Dimmitt is second at 7-1. Muleshoe is tied for third with Perryton and Friona at 4-4.

Muleshoe looked like it finally shook free of the Lady Eagles at the start of the fourth quarter.

Harrison started a 6-0 run with a conventional three-point play off a steal then drained her third 3-pointer of the game from the top of the key, giving the Mules a 49-36 lead 30 seconds into the fourth quarter.

Sanford-Fritch got within eight, 52-44, before Muleshoe salted away the win at the free throw line. Ten of the Mules last 14 points came from the free throw line.

Muleshoe plays at Friona Tuesday then hosts Dalhart Friday.

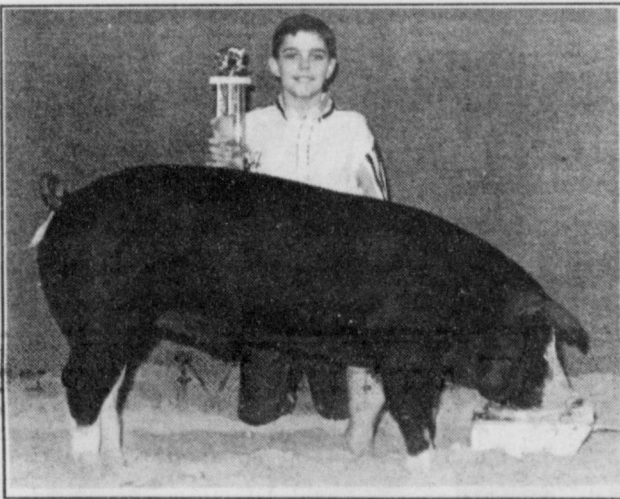

Dalhart beat Muleshoe 49-44 just Christmas. It was the Lady Mules first district loss and Gruhlkey said the most costly.
