PROTECT OWNERS OF WAR SAVING STAMPS

Those suave individuals who rob banks are scorning the lowly green-back and the buffalo nickle and earnestly devoting themselves to the filching of Liberty Bonds and War Saving Stamps these days, making real competition for the oily tongued tricksters who prey upon their fellowmen by persuading them to sell War Saving Stamps at less than they will bring at the postoffice. The Bankers' Association at a convention held recently called upon Congress to enact legislation to protect bondholders against these raiders. This protection is suggested by making it a penitentiary offense to buy or sell Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps without the original buyers endorsement.

The bankers pointed out that the modern burglar is the War Savings Stamp scalper who victimizes his fellow citizens who are not so well informed of the true value of these Government securities.

The Savings Division of the Treasury Department already has provided protection by means of registration. A new ruling, now effective, permits registrated War Savings Stamps to be redeemed at any post office. A plan for thorough identification has also been devised as a means of recovering stolen War Savings Stamps.

The Rhode Island legislature at its last session passed a law providing a fine of $1,000 or six months in jail for any person purchasing War Savings Stamps at a price less than that fixed by the Government. Other legislatures are expected to take similar action shortly.

Brother W. L. Forrester Gone.
Brother Forrester has fallen to sleep! "He is not dead, but sleeth." He has only gone on before to be with him whom he so greatly loved and so loyally served. His attack was sudden and he was hurried away to the sanitarium where he underwent an operation, but from the very first his case looked hopeless. Everything possible was done, however, that could be done for his recovery, and he so much longed for a few years more of service; not that he feared to go, but that he wanted to serve more. His was the life of unselfish service.

For nearly a score of years he has lived in Snyder, and during this time has been connected with the Grayum Drug Store. And for all these years he has been a member of the First Baptist Church of Snyder. His life was too well known to the people of this community for there to be any need for a word of appreciation to be said about him, but such words are upon every lip. There was scarcely any one in the county but knew him and loved him. Of him it could be said, in large way, "He went about doing good." No man was too poor, nor any child too small, for him to give them the same attention in his line of work that he gave to all others. His business life, as well as his church life, was above reproach. No man could say that W. L. Forrester ever wronged him, and no Christian could say that his life was, in any way, beneath the standard of Christian living.

Though he stood for so much and lived in his every day life, still there was the beautiful and child-like simplicity about it that ought to characterize every one of the people of God. He was ever quiet and unassuming. Never have we known but one boast that he made and that was a good one. Just a few weeks before he went home, while speaking to a new citizen of Snyder, he said, "I make it a rule of my life not to let my pastor go to the church more than I go." Oh, if we all could say that! In his church life he was never careless and indifferent, but was always in his place. He was the general secretary of our Sunday school and was as loyal to his task as man could do. And as a singer we shall miss him greatly. His voice was a deep bass, and he was ever in his place to sing the gospel of Christ. He dearly loved to sing, and in the home and during his work he sang a great deal. One of his favorite songs was "Jesus Lover of My Soul." He loved to sing it to the tune of "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Masonic School in Snyder.
A school of instruction in Masonry is being held in Masonic temple here this week conducted by Mr. John M. Weekley of Ennis, Texas. Besides the great number of local Masons, there are quite a good many visiting Masons attending. That order has a large, enthusiastic membership all over west Texas.

Many times he sung it "Let me to they bosom fly," and at the last it became his prayer, and the prayer was answered.

The funeral service was held at the Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon, July 16th, and his body laid to rest in the Snyder cemetery. Every business house was closed for the occasion and his many friends came to show their love for him and sympathy for the loved ones. Not in many a day has there been such a throng to attend a funeral in Snyder and possibly has there been such a floral offering as was given to him. Every department of our Sunday school was represented, the church as such, the Grayum Drug Company, and a great host of friends as individuals as well. His grave was covered with flowers in its entirety.

At the service the pastor spoke from the text, "Father, I will that they also whom thou hast given me be with me where I am, that they may behold my glory. For thou lovest me before the foundation of the world." When we wonder why it is that our loved ones are taken away, we may find the answer in these words.

All Snyder will join in saying to the loved ones left behind that we loved him and appreciated him more than we can say, and that our sympathy is with them in great way, and that our prayers are that the blessings of God—even his sweetest and best benedictions, shall rest upon them. He shall be missed because his seat shall be empty. In his going we sustain a great loss, but we shall try to emulate the good example set by him, and with expectancy await the time when we too shall lay down the burdens of life, and enter into that rest that waits the people of God.

We shall see him again, but not now. We shall be united with him again in a better world, and then we will part no more.

Thou shalt sleep, but not forever. In that cold and silent grave; Blessed be the Lord that taketh. Blessed be the Lord that gave.
W. H. Sims, his pastor.

Burk Burnett Post Office.
Wichita Daily Times.
One year ago about fifteen hundred people got their mail through the Burk Burnett post office. Today twenty-five thousand people are served by the office.

Wichita Falls has shown a percentage of gain of around 100 per cent which is considered remarkable and a record that has been made by few other Texas cities, but this gain pales into insignificance compared with Burk Burnett's gain of 1,666 2-3 per cent.
All of this great volume of business, mail for the biggest oil field in the state of Texas, and the southwest, is handled by a young woman, Miss Eulalia Smith, who has resided at Burk Burnett with her family for years before the oil strike. There are fifteen clerks working under Miss Smith, all but two of them girls or young women, and even this force which is as large as can be secured because of living conditions are working all the time to keep the postal service as nearly uninterrupted as is possible.

On July 1, the office becomes a second class post office, its receipts putting it in this class, and the management went under the civil service. Miss Smith, who had been acting post master took her examination and is now postmaster.
Miss Smith formerly resided in Snyder and has many friends here who are glad of her promotion.

Joe Golden and Andy Trevy were here Wednesday talking about crops. They refused to discuss oil. In fact Andy says he has about concluded that the oil talk about Knapp was a windy anyhow.

THE REVIVAL MEETING.

The Baptist revival meeting commenced at the City Tabernacle last Sunday. Owing to the rain of Saturday night the opening service was not so largely attended, and because of no lights Sunday night the service was called off. Pastor Sims preached Sunday and Mr. J. M. Denson lined up his choir and has been on the job all the week. Mr. Denson is a good song leader and the people are doing fine service in the singing line. On Monday morning the work of organizing the forces was out lined. Rev. M. A. Jenkins of South Carolina arrived Monday and has been preaching twice a day with good effect. He is a deeply consecrated preacher, has a broad vision of the spiritual life and delivers his sermons in simple language in a way to interest and impress his audience. The people are attentive and seem disposed to give all the help they can toward success of the meeting.

Preachers and people of the other churches are regular in attendance and a spirit of Christian fellowship is manifest everywhere.

The main theme of the preaching is the importance of personal work by the church in order to lead the unsaved ones to enter upon the higher and better lines of Christian living. Services are held daily at 10 and 8:15. Interest is growing and large crowds attend every night and the day services are well attended. Stores are closed each day for morning service. Dr. Jenkins was called away Thursday to Abilene to conduct a funeral and Bro. Sims preached at the morning hour.

In Social Circles.
Mrs. E. E. Matthews entertained a number of her friends Thursday of last week from 5 to 7 p. m. As the guests arrived they were met by Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. E. J. Anderson and conducted over the grass covered lawn to the punch bowl, which was presided over by Miss Dorcas Porter.

They then grouped themselves under the trees for social chat till the cards were passed for "42".

After several games the hostess served delicious ice cream and cake.
Schools Open Sept. 8th.
Supt. S. L. Rives states that the city schools will open Sept. 8th. Teachers' meeting at the Central building at 10 o'clock Sept. 6th. Entrance examinations Sept. 8th.

The teaching forces have not yet been all assigned, but it is understood that Mrs. Howell will be principal at the Colonial Hill school and Miss Gladys Clark will have the primary department there. Miss Clanton will be principal at the North Ward School.

First Baptist Church.
Teachers' meeting at 9:00. Sunday school at 10:00. These services at the church building. Preaching services at the City Tabernacle at 11:00 and 8:15. Afternoon meetings at usual place and hour.
The meeting is still in progress and running well. Help us make Sunday a great day. W. H. Sims.

We learn that Mrs. Jas. H. Tate submitted to another operation in Dallas, last Tuesday. She is getting along reasonably well.

The two months old babe of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patterson died Tuesday at their home in east Snyder.

NEGRO OUTRAGE IN WASHINGTON

Washington, July 22.—The proclamation of martial law may be necessary to end the race rioting here which resulted last night in the killing of five persons and injuries to fifty.

Two hundred rioters are under arrest. The dead are detectives Harry Wilson and four negroes.

Despite the aid of military provost guards the police were unable to cope with the rioters. It is believed several negroes are fatally hurt.

Police reserves and provost guards rushed through the streets all night answering riot calls. Forty-five calls were turned in at one precinct alone between 7 and 1 o'clock.

The negroes were prepared, having purchased hundreds of revolvers yesterday. Early in the evening they formed crowds in the negro section and attacked white men whenever found. Late in the night the negroes dispersed as mobs but in groups took possession of high powered automobiles and raced through the streets, firing at all whites in range.

It is believed numerous casualties resulting from this indiscriminate firing have not been reported to the police.

The police reported today that another white woman was attacked in Capitol Heights last night by a negro. The woman was practically disrobed in the struggle with her assailant, who escaped after she screamed and had bitten him severely.

The negro had loitered about the woman's house all yesterday but finally was scared away. Then hiding behind a hedge he seized the woman as she passed last night. This was the seventh negro attack on white women here within two weeks.

Under Four Flags.
Mr. A. S. Bruton of Lampasas paid the Signal a social visit a few days ago and talked interestingly of old times in Texas. He is 84 years old and still full of vigor. He was born in the Republic of Texas and has lived under four flags. He was true to all of them, but never has his respect for the stars and stripes failed him. He is a loyal citizen. Has given of his time and energies to maintain law and order in Texas and to aid in the up building and the material and moral progress of his native state. He was never sued in his life for debt or prosecuted for infraction of the law. He has 42 grand children and 22 great grand children. He is rounding out an active useful and honorable life.

In Oil Realms.
Mr. J. R. Burditt says the Bishop Bros. have their rig ready to drill the shallow test on his farm and are now out in the oil fields to secure the necessary casing and will be ready to begin as soon as the casing comes.

Mr. G. B. Clark stated that the Snyder Oil Association has purchased a Standard rig and just as soon as it can get here they will spud in at the Walker location. The forfeit is up for the delivery and acceptance of the rig. The well will start with a 16 inch hole and will be drilled to 3500 feet if necessary to get oil.

Garage Man Loses Eye.
The Signal learns that V. T. Gibson, who formerly worked at a garage in Snyder, and went with the J. W. Couch garage to Eastland, got a piece of steel in one of his eyes some time ago and is suffering serious trouble. Both eyes have been affected and one of them had to be taken out. That operation was performed last Tuesday.

Mr. W. H. Clements and family returned this week from an enjoyable summer outing of a month. They went as far as Cameron county and took a good look at Southwest Texas. Mr. Clements says he saw some of the finest corn he ever looked at and that corn and maize is good all along the way. The cotton outlook, however, is anything but good. Great fine stalks with almost no cotton. The boll weevil has destroyed it. He says he was offered cotton of big fine growth for a dollar an acre, and the rent on the land.

PLANNING FOR ENLARGED LINES OF OPERATION

There was a meeting of stockholders of the Farmers Co-operative Association held at the Court house Wednesday. This association was organized and has been operated to save money for the membership in buying feed and seed and it has saved the farmers hundreds of dollars.

For some while there has been talk of the plan for permanent organization as a business institution, to buy and sell the products of the farm and at the meeting here this week, the following resolution was adopted.

Resolved that the stock holders of the Farmers Co-operative Association are hereby called to meet in the County Court Room in the court house in Snyder, on Saturday, August 9th, at 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of considering the question of whether or not the Association shall be re-organized and converted into a marketing Association and incorporated under the markets and ware house department of the State of Texas.

D. F. Wilson, President.

REAL ESTATE DEALS.

Fesmire and Harless have recently engineered some nice real estate deals showing there is life in the business district yet.

They sold the Lee Byrd home to B. B. Gardner some time ago. Other deals, J. J. Robbins house and lot on Scarborough street to E. J. Neeley, $1,400.

P. Freytag to Mr. Isbell of Alabama, 160 acres seven miles east of Snyder $30 an acre.

A trade deal is also reported in which J. H. Henderson sells to J. H. Rollins a brick business house on the east side of the square, and a section of land near crowder for 1129 acres of farm land north of Snyder.

Charged With Assault

Austin, Texas, July 19.—Fred Stewart, 16, negro, captured by a posse early today, has been placed in jail charged with an attempt to assault a 12-year old white girl in South Austin. The girl's cries brought aid and she was uninjured.

Building Collapses.

Anson, Texas, July 21.—During the terrific rainstorm Saturday night the roof of Anderson's garage fell in demolishing two autos. Men sleeping in front of the building escaped unhurt. The rain measured over four inches.

The special session of the legislature adjourned sine die Tuesday night. The report of the House Committee to investigate the Confederate home was adopted. The report condemns the sanitary condition of the Home and asks for the resignation of Superintendent J. C. Loggins. One speaker thought a younger man should be in charge. The House refused to hear Dr. Loggins on the question.

A garage building at Anson collapsed Saturday night during the rain storm and two automobiles were demolished.

Earl Brown and son have returned from Rockport and Corpus Christi.

GOOD RAINS CROP PROSPECTS FINE

People had come to a point here last week when they wanted rain. Cotton was not suffering, but maize and other feeds had reached a stage where rain was needed to insure a heavy yield. The first rain came on Friday evening and night, eight tenths of an inch. That rain was local and didn't go to all the county but was fine as far as it went. Again Saturday there were partial rains in sight of Snyder and on Saturday evening and night the big down pour came. There was much thunder and lightning. Rain began about 9 o'clock and continued all night. It is estimated that nearly three inches of rain fell at Snyder. It was all over the county and now a bumper feed crop is practically assured.

Many farmers are saying they have the best feed crop they ever had and cotton is doing just as well as could be desired.

There is some complaint of weedy fields and grass hoppers are reported at a few places.

There was considerable hail fell Saturday night over a small territory north of Dunn. It is expected that maize cutting will begin in about two weeks.

Pensions and Bonuses

The Signal has been requested to reproduce this clipping from the Dallas News, and in view of the fact that an increase in the pension fund for ex-Confederate Veterans is to be voted on and the matter of the bonus for the veterans of the world war is under discussion the subject is of interest.

The article in the News written by an ex-Confederate pensioner says: "Confederate pensions (in Texas) are $100 a year, at about the end of three years this will be increased to $200. There are about 1,700 of these pensioners. If there should be no decrease in number at the end of three years there would be $5,100,000 paid out at the end of 7 years there would be $23,800,000. In this case recipients are between 30 & 90 years old, or near around that. Their number will decrease so that in ten years it will be insignificant. Now, in the case of our soldiers who were in the war just concluded there were about 150,000 from Texas. At $300 each for a bonus, the total amount needed would be $45,000,000 cash and the subsequent interest. In this case the ages involved are mostly from 20 to 30 years." That is as our Confederate submits it, and from which he wishes conclusions drawn. So, conclusion number 1: Nobody doubts or denies that the old Confederates are worthy of and entitled to their pensions. Nobody begrudges them. Conclusion Number 2: The young men just back from the war are better able to make their own way in the world than before they went into the army, unless they suffer wounds or injuries. In this case the Federal government is providing liberally for them; after giving all discharged men a $60 bonus. Conclusion Number 3: Only a small percentage of these uninjured men want a gift of $300 from the taxpayers of Texas. They went to war to preserve their own and their parents' and their friends' liberty and self-respect, as good men as ever stood in shoe leather, and nearly all of whom are opposed to the plan for making them, through political action, a burden upon the taxpaying public. They don't want their recompense in the form of a cash donation. They want it in the form of public approval, self-pride and consciousness of duty done. Twenty-five or thirty years from now, as in the case of Confederate pensions, doubtless those who have become old and needy and deserving will be provided for in some manner. But they need no such provision now, and are certainly not asking for it.

Congressman Blanton is after the negro janitors watchmen, porters, messengers and charwomen employed by the government in Washington, according to a telegram received by the Reporter Monday afternoon. He is making a determined and partially singlehanded fight against the Nolan bill, which would grant these employees a salary of $110 per month, with one month's vacation with pay and a month's sick leave each year he may not get very far in his fight against the bill, but those present are going to have to listen while he expresses himself on the proposed measure.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 20.

Proposing an amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by changing said Section 9 so as to provide for the levy of taxes by counties, cities and towns, not to exceed thirty cents for roads and bridges, and a tax not to exceed fifty cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars' valuation in any one year, for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works, improvements of cemeteries and other permanent improvements, providing for the levy of a maintenance tax by counties or political subdivisions thereof, not to exceed sixty cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars' valuation, upon a majority vote of the qualified property tax payers voting at an election held for that purpose, and making an appropriation therefor.

Foch Expects More War
London, July 19.—"The next time England will be in the same position as last. She won't be ready and we will have to wait for her."
Marshall Foch is thus quoted in an interview with the London Daily Mail.

The French marshal, however, paid the highest tribute to the British army but insists that Great Britain maintain larger reserves of military material.

The next war will be one more than ever with machinery. Foch said.

"You should have laboratories with inventors always working to keep abreast with the mechanical side of the war," he added.

Chicago Firemen are out on strike and transportation workers there have voted to strike unless wages are increased. Chicago can be depended upon to bring on a full measure of disturbance.

It is a good idea to increase the tax on the dog and take it off of the hog. A butchered hog is pork and a slaughtered canine is just a dead dog.

The advertising that Henry Ford is getting will be worth more to his business than the damage judgement he is asking or against the Chicago Tribune.

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

To our many friends and acquaintances who were so tender and helpful during our late sorrow we take this method to express our most grateful thanks. West Texas Sells 500,000 Pounds of Wool

San Angelo, July 21.—Four hundred thousand pounds of wool were sold Friday in San Angelo and 100,000 pounds changed hands at Mertzon. The Wool Growers' Central Storage Company here disposed of its last clips, aggregating 400,000 pounds to C. D. Stokes of Lampasas, representing Winslow & Co. of Boston. Stokes bought two cars of long wool—about 50,000 pounds—from the West Texas Wool and Mohair Association at Mertzon. H. Welge of this city secured a similar amount of twelve and six months' stuff. Some of the long wool brought more than 60c a pound, while the average was around 55 cents.

We are finding out lately that a man can wear patcher britches until he is able to move in society. Waxahachie Light.

However, we are apt to stand facing the folks and back away when we go to leave.

No man can do a mean thing and get by with it. He may sail the high seas pleasantly for a while, but in the end he will go on the sand in spite of his best laid plans.—Merkel Mail.

Of course, one knows he must answer for it in the Judgement Day, but the satisfaction of his victims want to see him ordered to suffer and make restitution on this side of the line.

That broad term religion covers not only the beliefs of the Christian people with whom we come in daily contact. Under its sheltering folds hide the barbarities and atrocities committed by the Turks in the name of Mohammed. Wherefore, praise of a man is not given by saying that he has a deep religious conviction but that he was an honest man.—Taylor County Times.

Religion is defined as any system of faith or worship; love and obedience toward God; piety, monastic state or vow. Thus any sort of worship whether of the true God or idols; whether charity and sympathy toward humanity, or a desire to hurt and destroy, whether to exercise tenderness toward all men or cruelty toward those of other faiths may be termed religion. Volumes of history have been written of cruelties, barbarities, murders and tortures committed in the name of religion. The world has been a long time in reaching that stage of enlightenment to the doing away with the effects of religious tenets of heathenism. The heathen is practically more devout than other people in observing the forms and demands of his religion. The Christian world has accepted the term religion as meaning faith in Jesus Christ, but even among christian people there are moralists who say their religion is to be honest in dealing and to pay their just debts. The real term that that should be used to designate the followers of the Son of God is Christianity which is defined—The precepts and doctrines taught by Jesus Christ.

INDIVIDUAL WANTS.

Each man has his own individual ideas concerning his individual success irrespective of what the world may regard as success for him. One man may have his heart set on a little home surrounded by flowers, a garden, etc. No difference what he accomplishes, life will be a failure to him unless he gets the "little home."

Another may desire a seat in the assembly of his state. No degree of wealth or fame will take the place of his one desire.

The unfortunate part of our lives is that so many of us are side tracked from the thing we want most for what the world wants us to have. And probably that is as it should be. One life, while important, is not to be considered when the betterment of life in general is to be concerned.

We are usually forced to do the thing we can best do whether we want to or not. To get the most out of life we must live for others as well as self.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN.

Make this beautiful lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

CAN THE STRING BEANS CANNERY! SCHEME A FAKE!

There was much excitement in the city of Sawbert today owing to the remarkable expose of Kendall Reeves the galoot that has been trying to swindle our respected citizens and our revered mayor, Lott Morris, with a scheme to can the string beans in this community.

If the title applied to some of the human vegetables that fail to pay their subscriptions, we would have nothing to say other than "can 'em and do it quick. They've been stringing us long enough." But we all know, in our sober senses that this string bean idea was the bunk as they say in Peoria.

We always had our suspicion of Reeves and now, through the bravery of Toby Watkins, our representative who will call on you tomorrow with our new coffee grinder subscription offer for the Clarion, he is exposed. He was caught last night trying to rob our trusting mayor of his money. We sent Mr. Watkins as our proxy to a mass meeting but he lost his nerve, as they say in Keokuck and found it again in time to wrest the spoils of thievery from a villain who is now disclosed as a much-wanted jail bird from the city. We take Mr. Watkins back into our good graces and we repudiate the string bean as a canned comestible.

This is the plot of Charles Ray's newest Paramount picture which will be shown at the Cozy theatre Tomorrow and learn all about the string bean cannery that didn't get started. It's a humdinger of a picture and you'll never forget it.

"Break the News to Mother."

Select pictures' latest Special Attraction has for its theme a subject which is as popular today as it was hundreds of years ago—a story of which one never tires. It tells of the most beautiful love in the world—that of a mother for her child.

In a small country town, Dave Bray lives with his widowed mother. To her that boy means everything in the world; she loves him with a love that is beyond comprehension. Dave worships his little gray-haired mother. Her wishes are his commands—her happiness his happiness.

So, when in a fit of temper—justifiable temper, too—he loses his head and attempts to strike his employer and loses his position, he goes back to beg for his reinstatement and offers an apology to the vinegar-hearted, pig-headed employer—all because his mother had asked him to.

Dave is in love with Ruth Goodwin, daughter of Howard Goodwin, owner of the Goodwin Iron Works, the factory in which he is working. Warren Flint his superintendent and employer, is in love with her also, but his love is not reciprocated. Dave and Flint get into an argument over Ruth the night Dave goes to ask for the return of his position. Flint draws a revolver—there in a tussle, and Flint falls to the floor. Dave believes he is the guilty man. He flees—far away from home—and his Mother. A wonderful story! See the struggles of the mother-heart, and the return of her boy, a sadder and wiser man, on Thursday at the Cozy Theatre.

Senator Morris of Nebraska is very much wrought up because the peace treaty gives Shantung to the Japs. Morris is a recent arguer on the Arena until very recently he admitted he didn't know wher to look on the map for Shantung and doesn't claim now to know anything about it strategic or commercial value. All he seems to know is that President Wilson consented for the Japs to have Shantung, hence it becomes his duty to oppose it.

The Joy of Living.

To enjoy life we must have good health. No one can reasonably hope to get much real pleasure out of life when his bowels are clogged a good share of the time and the poisons that should be expelled are absorbed into the system, producing headache and indigestion. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets will move the bowels, strengthen the digestion and give you a chance to realize the real joy of living. Try it.

The Carranza government has replied to the American demand for satisfaction for the brutal murder of Correll and promises to do every thing possible to bring the murderers to justice. That sounds all right, but no better than did some of Germany's unkept promises of reparation.

Surgeons agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the first treatment is most important.

Any man who favors or opposes a proposition merely because some other person avors or opposes it is not competent to judge matters of public interest. Whether moved by ignorance, prejudice, malice or what not, his opinion is not worthy of consideration. Those Senators who oppose the peace treaty because President Wilson favored it are not fit to sit in judgement on the question.

1200 BARRELL LUBRICATING PLANT EQUIVALENT TO 3000 BARREL

Skimming Plant and costs much less to build and operate. We have gone into the development and construction of this refinery from the ground floor up, have considered it from every angle. It costs more money, in proportion, to install a small plant, than one the size we propose. The overhead and operating expenses of a large plant, like we propose is not much greater than a small plant and the profits many times larger in proportion.

If these Prices Seem Big, Read the Record of the Following Refinery Companies.

The Dixie Oil and Refinery Company at San Antonio, Texas, in June, 1916, paid a 5 per cent dividend on $65,000; August, 1916, a 45 per cent dividend, and in October, a 5 per cent dividend on $115,000, and in February, 1917, a 5 per cent cash and 50 per cent stock dividend.

The Wichita Refining Company has averaged 125 per cent since 1910. This company started in a very modest way, and today has one of the largest skimming plants in the Mid-Continent field.

The Bliss Oil and Refining Corporation Refinery at Augusta, Kansas, had net earnings in August, 1917, of $20,286.76; September, 1917, $21,144.71.

The Ohio Oil Co., in 1913, earned over 152 per cent on its $15,000,000 capital.

Mid-Co. Petroleum and Mid-Co. Gasoline, combined capital $500,000 with only $205,000 stock issued earned during the year 1917, $1,333,303. 33 or 650 per cent on its stock issued.

SNYDER MAN WINS AUSTIN BRIDE

The Signal is in receipt of a newspaper clipping from an Austin paper giving report of a marriage that will be interesting news in Snyder. The notice says:

"The marriage of Miss Eleanor Robinson, and Grayum Baker was quietly solemnized on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Swearingen, in the presence of relatives only.

The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. Casper Wright, and immediately following the simple ceremony the young people went on a bridal journey in the east.

The bride wore for the ceremony a becoming going-away suit of dark blue taffeta, very becoming to her fair beauty. She is the lovely young daughter of E. B. Robinson. The bridegroom is division accountant for the Southern Pacific. They will make their home in Austin upon their return."

Mr. Baker is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Baker, formerly of Snyder. Grayum has always been a good boy and has many friends here. The Signal sends congratulations.

Negro insolence can't be subdued now by the old ghost story methods. We have done so much toward educating the race that they are not so generally superstitious as in other years, but they are negroes just the same and are no more fit socially and morally than of old, and recent rioting show that they must be held to their place. If reason and spooks can't control them, harsher means must be used.

Mexico promises to clean up outlawry in that country and open the way to more substantial and safer business relations between this country and that. Mexico's attitude would reasonably lead one to suspect that this promise is made merely to remove the crisis of intervention a little further away.

Trouble Brewing With Mexico

The murder of Correll and the maltreatment of his wife by Mexicans is about to prove the breaking point of American patience. Dozens of outrages there have been charged to outlaws, but since the so-called government makes no effort to capture the perpetrators, the United States will demand an apology and that these outrages be stopped. This Government will call on Carranza to protect Americans or give us permission to go in and bring out a state of order. If he refuses, there is now a scheme on foot to withdraw American recognition. That would be to put Villa and Carranza on equal footing and would open the way for American armies to invade the country and take control of the situation. In event that should have to be done, it would have to be done quickly. So that a reliable Mexican government could be established to save the country from further ruin by a malignant anarchy. The United States will have no thought of acquisition of territory, but instead will be ready to aid and advise the Mexican people in forming a stable government among themselves. In our opinion, there is probability that if any great length of time should be wasted in diplomacy the Carranza Government would probably seek aid from Japan in which case Germany is apt to be a secret agitator and render all the aid she can under cover. Carranza himself is not shrewd enough to handle the project, but Germany is a scheming people and the Japanese are good fighters.

Hand grenades, just like those hurled into the Hun lines by American soldiers, can be secured as war souvenirs by the boys and girls, men and women of Snyder.

These grenades have been made into saving banks and are being distributed locally by the First National Bank and Snyder National Bank.

When the Germans gave up, the United States had a large quantity of these grenades ready to send across. The War Department has no further need of these "weapons of war" so turned them over to the Savings Division of the Treasury Department and they have been transformed into "weapons of peace."

It is a simple matter to obtain one of these grenade banks. The boy or girl obtains one from the local bank so that he or she can save. When enough money has been earned and saved to buy a $5 War Saving Stamp, and it is purchased, the grenade becomes the property of the boy or girl. Adults may also obtain these grenade banks by saving and investing in at least three $5 War Saving Stamps of the 1919 issue.

Only a limited number of these grenades could be obtained for Snyder. This will be the only opportunity to earn a real weapon of the war as a souvenir. When these grenades are gone it will be impossible to get any more. Those interested should arrange today to get their grenades which can be obtained in Snyder from the First National and Snyder National Banks.

Should America Enter the League?

Progressive Farmer.
A great tide is also setting in the hearts of men toward some effective prevention of war. Now the League of Nations may not be perfect,—is indeed certainly not perfect. But it is the only thing in sight which even promises a start toward the effective settlement of international disputes by peaceful means rather than by war. And for this reason the people of all parties in America are likely to follow Wilson and Taft in demanding its ratification by the United States Senate.

"If you can't get the best thing, get the best thing possible." Roosevelt's wise motto. A lot of impracticable profit-idealists are trying to defeat the League because it does not give them all they want, forgetting that if they beat it, they will get nothing that they want.

One gentleman, for example, recently sent us a questionnaire in which he propounded eight critical interrogatories, such as the following:

"Do you think the Constitution of the League of Nations should be adopted unless definite provision is made for reduction of armaments and armies?"

The answer we fired back at him was something like this: "My dear sir, if you beat the League of Nations what sort of provision, 'definite' or indefinite have you got for the reduction of armaments or armies or anything else?"—and we haven't heard from him yet.

Destroy the League, and the world has never seen such feverish and uneasy preparations for war as every nation will feel compelled to make. With the League, we at least have machinery for the peaceful settlement of disputes and a will toward peace which should soon evolve more "definite" plans for world disarmament.

Describes the Next Governor

Some of the South Texas newspapers are prognosticating over the next gubernatorial election and discussing possible candidates. It is a little early for that, but it is an interesting game just the same. The next State primary is a full year off, but we have a hunch that we can make a pretty good guess as to the man that will be our next Governor. Here's something to paste in your scrapbook. The next governor will be a soldier who saw service in France and distinguished himself in action. But he will not be merely a soldier. He will be a man who was known to be unselfishly devoted to public before the war. He will be a man of outstanding and tried ability. He will be a man who was not known prominently as either a prohibitionist or anti-prohibitionist before the war, but who was known as an aggressive advocate of woman suffrage before it was popular. He will be a progressive Democrat in the very best sense of that phrase—not a demagogue, but a genuine student of government. He will stand for the development of Texas along all lines. He will come from the western part of the State and will be thoroughly familiar with the problem of West Texas. These are very high and very precious specifications. But just file this away and then next July see if we have missed it very far.—Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Those are winning qualifications though some of them are apt to be ignored. It has already been intimated that Tom Love, B. F. Looney, Earl Mayfield and Congressman Rayburn are practically out already for the race and word was passed around in Austin last week that Annie Webb Blanton had pitched her hat in the ring. None of this bunb was in the war to hurt, all claim to be prohibitionists. They will all claim to be progressive Democrats and for developing Texas along all lines. They will deny any sort of demagogue tendency but not one of the bunch so far mentioned is credited to West Texas.

Never More the Same

Germany has signed the peace treaty. The boys have come home, or are fast coming. The war, in one sense, is over.

Yet the world has not dropped back to where it was in 1914. In fact the world will never be what it was in 1914—just as the South after Appomattox was never what it was in 1860-61.

Humanity is in a ferment. Many mistakes will doubtless be made before we again settle down to a steady and serene existence, but the final outcome will doubtless be a larger freedom and a larger life for the masses of mankind.

In monarchies where kings have ruled, they are going, and the people are coming into power. In republics where men alone have had the ballot, women are no longer to be excluded, but are to have an equal voice with men in governmental affairs. In industry where capital has ruled with almost undisputed power, labor is to have a voice and a larger share of the profits of industry. In nations where subject races have been oppressed, they too, will almost surely win a larger measure of liberty than ever before.

"A great tide is setting in the hearts of men" toward all these things and no man or set of men can stay in progress.

There is probability that the United States may not sign a peace treaty with Bulgaria. What would be the good of it. Bulgaria would pay no attention to it if signed.

Northern people have thought for fifty years that the folks in the south were cruelly hard on negroes because once in a while a coon was waited on by a mob and lynched for criminal assault. Now, the negroes are giving the north a chance to see what effect that unspeakable crime has on the feeling of northern people.

That the Shantung agreement is not the price paid for the League of Nations is proved by the fact that it was effected more than a year before the proposal to organize a League was brought under definite consideration. Republican Senators are not likely to succeed to any considerable degree in making the repugnance which is properly felt for that transaction a force of opposition to the League. It would be much easier to make the Shantung agreement argue for the necessity of organizing the League. Certainly it is the purpose of the League to render such transaction impossible, and it is fairly well designed to accomplish that purpose. Germany could not have done what it did in 1898 if there had been a League of Nations to which China could have appealed the demands of Germany. The League of Nations would not have assented to Germany's acquisition of Shantung Province as a reparation for the murder of a German missionary, but would have insisted on Germany's being content with a final indemnity. Both Germany's seizure of the Province and Japan's acquisition of it not only antedate the organization of the League, but get their sanction from the practice of an old order which the organization of the League is intended to end.—Dallas News.
