

The Snyder Signal

THIRTY-FOURTH YEAR

SNYDER, SCURRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1921.

NUMBER FORTY-FIVE.

ALL THE WAY TO WASTELLA

Through the courtesy of A. M. Curry, we were shared a seat with him and family down to Wastella, Sunday evening last. The occasion was a big singing led by Prof. R. H. Cornelius. Most everybody knows Cornelius. He is a song writer, author and publisher of sacred song books. We went to school to Prof. Cornelius in Ellis county a good many years ago and of course we were anxious to see him and hear him sing. We sincerely hope that we can secure him for a seven-day day school for Snyder. If not now some time in the future.

When we arrived at the city we found the house full and running over. They were standing up, sitting in the window and in cars just out side. We also found some other Snyder folks there. Joe Merrett was there. Joe says he has quit singing but you couldn't hold him from such an occasion and if you could have heard him sing you would readily decide that he hadn't entirely quit.

Homer Walton was there. Homer is some singer himself. He announced the Scurry county singing convention which meets at Mt. Zion church Saturday and Sunday April 23 and 24. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Walton and two daughters were there.

The Highway is finished the entire distance and opened with the exception of about two miles, this side of Wastella and Judge Holley informs us that this will be opened in a few days. Scurry county has a good highway and it seems to us that it is economy to have a good road like this. Distance doesn't amount to much when traveling over a road like the Scurry county highway.

We saw some good wheat fields down in the Pyron community and they have quite a good acreage to wheat in that locality. They have a fine country in there, deep black land and very productive, especially adapted to wheat. And they probably made more cotton per acre or as much as any part of the county. Some cotton in the fields yet.

Hermleigh's course is on the highway. Everything seemed quiet as we passed through. We noticed a new filling station being built on the side of the highway, also a new dwelling or two being built. Hermleigh will always be a good town, good country surrounding it and good trade territory.

This article should have been named "Everything and nothing in particular," but what we did start out to tell was about R. H. Cornelius and his singing and having said that, we could not resist the temptation to tell of other good things encountered along the way.

If a person would develop his vocal powers and lift his voice in harmony to his surroundings, drive over the Scurry county highway and become a citizen of this commonwealth—if not already—indeed happiness should be his portion.

Snyder's Contestants Victorious.
We are gratified to note that in the Literacholastic meet held at Lubbock Friday and Saturday, Snyder carried away some of the spoils.

The honors in both the senior and junior declamation contests were won by our home girls. Sarah Wright winning over the seniors and Pauline Brumley defeating the juniors.

It is interesting to observe that the district made up of many good schools, and is wholly gratifying to the people of Snyder to obtain honorable rank among them.

We are due Mrs. Hutcheson much appreciation for her able and untiring efforts with our young people in her most cultured art of good reading.

As a just valuation of her merit, Mrs. Hutcheson has been proffered an excellent place on a Chataqua, but Snyder would do well to make it advantageous to her to continue with us.

We wish to congratulate our girls on their high attainment and to thank Mrs. Hutcheson heartily for her efficient work in preparing them for the acquisition, which renders them eligible to the State meet in May.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSN. ACTIVITIES

The Parent-Teachers' Association met Thursday afternoon at the Baptist Church with Mrs. Fred Grayum president, presiding.

This being the time for the annual election of officers the business of electing the officers were gone into and the following were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. E. J. Anderson, president; Mrs. J. A. Stallings, Vice President; Mrs. Rob Strayhorn, Secretary and Mrs. Mary Shell, Treasurer.

It was voted that Mrs. E. J. Anderson, the new president be a delegate to the district meeting of the Mothers Congress, which convenes at Clarendon, May 4 and 5.

The program followed the business meeting. Piano solo was given by Miss Willie Fern Carry. Reading by Miss Sarah Wright.

Splendid reports were made from the West and North Ward schools. Mrs. Ashberry from the West Ward reported that they had markets during the year which had netted them $99.50. Miss Palmer from the North Ward reported that they had realized $119.15 off their markets. This was expended for books and other things for the benefit of the pupil.

Supt. Hall was present and made a talk on the proposed new school building and suggested some possible ways out of the difficulty encountered recently in disposing of the bonds.

Pat Johnston, president of the school board was there and responded to a request to speak to the association. So was also Rev. Jeff Davis, pastor Baptist church. Rev. J. H. Hicks, pastor of Methodist church, Hon. M. E. Rosser, and A. C. Wilmoth, all addressing the association.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Snyder is doing a great work. They are well organized and go heartily into the work. Mothers and teachers are the leading spirit and shapers of destiny in molding the lives of the young.

Boling-Weems.

Jack Boling and Mrs. Nellie Weems were married Wednesday night in front of the church of Christ by Rev. E. Christian.

Mr. Boling has been connected with the Western Compress and Storage Co. of Snyder for the past few years and is a very fine young business man.

Mrs. Weems is district clerk of Scurry county and has held this position for several years. Mrs. Weems is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bley of Fluvanna, and is admired and held in high esteem by all her friends and associates.

Many friends of these young people join the Signal in extending congratulations and wishing them many happy and pleasant days.

Married.

BUSINESS MEN BACK S. S. MOVE

A committee composed of one business man from each church in Snyder met at the Court House Tuesday afternoon and laid plans for the launching of an all Church Go-To-Sunday-School-And-Church Campaign. The plan is to either get the business firms of the town to donate their advertising space in the local paper for at least one issue per month, or to run a half or whole page advertisement by the business men. The advertisements will set forth the purpose of the campaign and serve as a medium to keep the public informed as to how the campaign is succeeding. There is a feeling that the many who do not attend Sunday school do not go because they have never felt the importance of it, and that if they are once brought to understand its great benefits they can be enlisted.

Snyder is already one of the best Church Towns in the state, and with the present campaign being launched by the leading business men indicates they are unwilling to have anything less than the best. The committee is composed of W. M. Morrow, O. P. Thrane, A. J. Cody, Gay McLaughlin, J. T. Higginbotham. This move will doubtless be watched with a good deal of interest by other towns over the state. It is certainly a worthy patriotic and merits the support of every patriotic citizen. The cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce will be sought and it is practically certain that that organization will get into the drive. Let every local citizen get in and boost and put the town of Snyder on the map in a brand new way. It is a new move and our success will mean much in every way. Count on the Signal to do her part.

With the Altrurian Club.

Mrs. Frank Erwin entertained the Altrurian Club Wednesday afternoon at her home.

Miss Dora Garrote of Merkel, who formerly lived here and who was a charter member of the Club, talked briefly and interestingly to the club. Mrs. Hamilton very ably conducted the program for the afternoon. Papers by Mrs. King and Mrs. Strayhorn dealt broadly with the lesson study from Browning's Ring and the Book.

The hostess served choice refreshments to the club members and guests. The guests were: Miss Garrote, Mrs. Shannon of Colorado City and Mesdames Watterman, Banks, Austin Erwin, McMillan and McClanahan. Press Reporter.

TORNADOES DO DAMAGE.

The tornado that hit the town of Melissa, Collin county on the 13th, practically wiped out that little place. More than one hundred houses were blown away, and ten people were killed and fifty wounded. The property loss while very heavy was only protected by a small amount of tornado insurance—perhaps not more than 10 per cent. This cyclone was followed a few days later by an equally destructive one that covered a much larger area, visiting portions of Northeast Texas and southwest Arkansas; very large property damage being done in the Texas counties of Gregg, Cass, and Bowie. More than a hundred lives were lost and several hundred people injured.

Later press reports indicate that this cyclone invaded practically five states, viz: Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama. It is safe to say the property loss from these recent destructive windstorms will run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, with several hundred lives lost and more than a thousand people seriously injured.

You never know when or where the storm will strike—no section is immune. A. J. Towle, as well as fire and hail insurance, as well as fire.

C. OF C. HAS BUSINESS SESSION

The Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday morning at their regular meeting hour in the county court room. The regular routine of business was attended and several important questions were brought up for discussion. The attendance at this meeting was considerably larger than previous ones and no doubt will continue to grow.

Among other things a discussion of the Snyder schools was gone into. Mr. Thrane said that as the bonds failed to sell because of the States financial inability to handle same, and as the time now was limited, and if the Ward buildings were perfectly adequate for the next school term, he was in favor of waiting another year to build the school. His reasons were that by next winter we could build for 25 per cent less because of reduction in material that would be sure to come. Mr. Clark was of the same opinion. Mr. Johnston president of the board was of the same opinion and outlined a plan by which the school could be handled. By having the Ward schools inspected, maintain the one in the best condition, using that one for the high school, and placing the primary and the balance of the school at central. When the bonds are sold, which the above plans would give ample time to do at par, and building ready to start up the vacant ward building could be wrecked and new building put in operation before the school closes and without interfering in the least with the school term. This plan however is still to be worked out and passed on by the school board. This plan received the unanimous support of the Chamber of Commerce as did also the voting of an additional $25,000 bond and raising the tax rate from fifty cents to one dollar.

The chairman appointed a committee composed of O. P. Thrane, E. J. Anderson and W. M. Morrow to look into the marketing problems of this locality.

ROSSER VISITS ABILENE C. OF C.

Hon. M. E. Rosser, president Scurry County Chamber of Commerce visited the Abilene Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night. Mr. Rosser said that Abilene had always been noted for its ability to do things and while there he made a close study of the situation to determine if possible how Abilene was always able to put things over.

At this meeting there were something more than two hundred, just an ordinary Chamber of Commerce meeting but on investigation it was found that practically all business men were represented and all were eager and did participate in the deliberations of the body. The secret of Abilene's success, he said, is the fact that all business men are members of the Chamber of Commerce and are not only members, but they attend the meetings, and are one harmonious unit when something is to be put over.

Continuing, Mr. Rosser said, that Scurry County Chamber of Commerce was handicapped because of the indifference of the business men in not taking hold of the situation and becoming actively engaged with the few who meet from time to time. He stressed the importance of the united front in order to accomplish things worth while for the town and county, and this can only be done by the cooperation of the business men around the square.

The good work the Scurry county Chamber of Commerce is now doing is very commendable and is making fast headway and the opportunity was never better it seems to us than now for effective and permanent development, but the burden should not rest with a few. All should be equally interested, and if that could be realized the seemingly impossible difficulties would speedily be overcome.

OIL AT DUNN IT IS SAID

J. K. Blackard of the Blackard Hdw. Co., went down to Dunn Wednesday to look over the oil situation at the Dunn Oil Company, No. 1 Well. They have been having considerable water trouble in the well and are preparing to case off the water in order to get a better showing of the amount of oil they have. Mr. Blackard stated that while there they drew up a good many buckets and each time quite a bit of oil appeared in the bucket. It is said that the sand encountered is about eight foot sand. Although unable to determine just the production until the water is cut off it is variously estimated at from five to ten barrels, he said.

It is the intention of the Dunn Oil Company to begin drilling deeper soon in order to get the next sand which is expected at about seven hundred feet. They are now about four hundred feet.

J. W. Templeton accompanied Mr. Blackard to the well and stated that they were probably bailing thirty-five or forty minutes and that considerable oil was in each bailing and that the last bucket had more oil in it than the first. Mr. Templeton said they had oil but how much he did not know, but was estimated at five to ten barrels.

A sample of the oil was brought back by Mr. Blackard and is at the Signal office.

Missionary Meeting.

Mrs. W. W. Gross assisted by Mesdames C. T. Glen and H. E. Rosser, were hostesses to the Baptist ladies April 18, at the home of Mrs. Gross on Colonial Hill.

The lesson on Stewardship was ably discussed and some fine papers read.

Mrs. Davis favored us with a vocal solo, much to the pleasure of all present.

Little Miss Marian Rosser closed the program with a reading "Submission," which she gave nicely. All business dispensed with, the ladies enjoyed a pleasant social hour.

The hostesses served dainty sandwiches and ice tea.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE CONVENES TODAY

The district conference of the Sweetwater district at the M. E. Church convenes today at the Methodist church and will continue over until Sunday night. Rev. G. S. Hardy is presiding elder of the district and arrived in the city last night. This conference comprises a large territory and a good many pastors will be in attendance as well as a representative body of laymen. Rev. B. W. Dodson of Moran arrived last night so did Rev. J. R. Plant of Big Spring.

A more detailed announcement of the conference proceedings will be given next week.

FLUVANNA GIRL WINNER IN SPELLING

Miss Mildred Ely of Fluvanna has been notified from the State department that she is the winner in the Junior Spelling contest at the Scurry county track meet, receiving first place.

Miss Ely has received her award which is a Gold Pen-Shary pencil. She was a visitor at this office Wednesday. It is a very handsome pencil and we penned this notification with the prize.

Bryant Link Company has entered the local cotton market. Mr. J. A. Middleton of Stamford, Texas, is with them in this capacity. Mr. Middleton is here only temporarily. This coming season they plan to place a resident buyer here. We believe the farmers will appreciate this move as this will encourage a better market for their cotton.

There is none better than Cake Flour, and the price is $2.65 per sack, Ware & Ware.

Mark Johnson was carried to Lubbock the first of the week and was operated on for appendicitis. It is reported that he is doing all right since the operation.

ARE YOU IN NEED OF ACTUAL MONEY?

If So! See us At Once. At present about $40,000 CASH to loan to you each month on your farms and ranches.

We do not take your application and promise to get the money, but we actually get the cold cash and deliver it at once free from the usual Red Tape, and don't forget, we charge you no commission or inspection fees. Our advise is, come in at once and make your application if you are in actual need of the cash and especially if you have notes past due or coming due soon. Now is the time for you to act. You may think by waiting a while longer that you will be able to get your loan at a lower rate of interest, but if you will come in we can show you a carefully compiled report of the financial conditions of the county which will convince you of your mistake. Remember that you can pay our loan in full after 12 months and that if the interest rate goes lower you can change. You owe it to your creditors to take advantage of our offer.

We have a lot of farms also city property in central Texas and elsewhere to trade for Scurry county farms.

Ex-President Woodrow Wilson seems to be having some trouble in getting his permit to practice law in the state of New York. An attack in the senate was made on him by Senator Frank Wiswall, who insisted that "he can make no distinction between the ex-president and the country boy who by the sweat of his brow makes his own way and wins admission to the bar."

It is said that President Campers of the American Federation of Labor has formed a new union. The union was the marriage of the labor president to Mrs. Gertrude Anstee Glenn Nerschele. It is yet to be seen whether he will be "boss" of it or not.

The development of a great Pan-American League with all nations on the western hemisphere, bound together by mutual ties of trade, was urged by President Harding in a speech at New York Tuesday. There has never been the trade relationship between the nations of the western hemisphere that there should be, and President Harding is hitting the keynote for the development of a closer relationship between the nations of the western hemisphere.

WHY KEEP ADVERTISING?

Advertising is more than a business tonic; it is a business necessity. That is why it is needed all the time. Of all advertising, that which carries with it the greatest wage is what is known as the once in a while kind. Successful advertisers are the kind that keep it up persistently. They are judged successful because of the resulting success of their business.

Up until four years ago there was a certain soap that was known around the world. It had been the most persistently advertised article ever offered in the markets of the world during the previous hundred years. From the day this soap was put on the market in 1812 it was advertised in a small way, but persistently and continuously. For the last 50 years it has been one of the best advertised products in the world. Then the directors decided that because the factory was selling to capacity, advertising could be discontinued as a useless expense. In less than one year from the time the business of the firm dropped 35 per cent on volume. That soap is again being advertised and we understand it was necessary to spend $5,000,000 in extra publicity over previous appropriations to get back to normal. This firm was not a "flier" in advertising. Its product had been used for generations and was known in the homes of the world, but it cost its makers $5,000,000 to learn that advertising was as necessary to it as the raw products that enter into its making. The history of merchandising is filled with stories like this, but only a few have found it possible to win back foolishly thrown away—Editor and Publisher.

SOWS PAYING FOR BOY'S EDUCATION

Glenwood Heizer, who attends the Edgewood school, signed up for the Boys' Pig Club a year ago last April, studied farming in books, listened carefully to farm lectures, arranged by A. & M. College and the Department of Agriculture, and bought a young sow, by borrowing money. December 1 found him $969.85 "to the good."

A year and a half ago Glen was a school boy interested in marbles and baseball and whatnot. He became interested in the work of the Boys' Clubs which the Department of Agriculture fosters through A. & M. College. A pig club was formed in his school district and Glen signed a note which gave him money for a pure bred sow.

The possession of that animal gave him something concrete to do. He had to feed her and care for her and the litter of pigs she farrowed last New Year's. He read the bulletins the Department of Agriculture sent out of the care of hogs and proper feeding for best results. The extension department of the college formed stock judging classes and Glenn religiously attended every one. With the money his first little pigs brought, he invested $20 in books recommended by the agricultural experts. His success in the first year's work won for him the 5000 mile trip awarded the prize winning in Texas and he joined the farmer boys from other states in the tour of this country.

"I learned a lot on that trip," Glen confided. "For one thing, I'm going to specialize on stock judging when I go to college. Then I will know the points I want to breed to."

The young stock raiser is now saving his earnings to go to A. & M. College, and he hopes to be out, a full-fledged farmer, by the time he can vote.

His record on his Poland-China hogs will illustrate his expenses and profits.

His year began January 2, by his books. His sow farrowed eight pigs March 28 and seven October 10. He keeps them in a shed enclosed on the east, west and north sides and for 60 days they had ordinary pasture during the summer. Every sack of bran or of shorts is noted, the amount bought and the sum paid. In April he began getting swill from the restaurants and the sum of 25 cents an hour is recorded for this, as he had to use a horse and wagon in getting it to the farm. His expense in caring for the sow and her litters amounted to $71.60. He spent 178 hours in caring for them and his time is figured at 20 cents an hour, with 35 cents an hour for the time he used in getting the restaurant swill, as he had to figure in the cost of the horse. His sow cost him $105.25.

This totaled $232.40 as his summary of all expenses. He has sold $410 worth of meat from his growing animals and he has on hand breeding animals valued at current market prices $400. From other sources, the same sow or other pigs have netted him $7.50, making his total receipts $817.50, less the expense, or $518.10 to the credit side of his ledger—with the females still breeding.

His Duroc-Jersey, he first bought yielded him this year $384.75, but with his growing knowledge of the best feed for each and his greater experience, he expects both sows and their progeny to bring even greater sums next year than they have this, for from $250, which he borrowed a year ago last April, December 1 he was able to credit himself with $969.85, part of it banked and part of it growing still more money, out in the pig pens. With his pigs and his experience as capital, he expects to realize even more next year.

Glenn's story is the story of the Boys' Farm and Pig Clubs which the Department of Agriculture and A. & M. College is striving to make come true all over Texas, as the surest means of "keeping 'em on the farm."

Republican leaders of the house say that the army must be reduced to 150,000 men during the next fiscal year because of the great need for economy in governmental expenditure.

GOOD ROAD MEETING.

The good roads meeting at the court house Saturday afternoon was fairly well attended and we had with us, Mr. E. J. Anderson, secretary of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, who made a splendid explanatory talk to our citizens, explaining Scurry county's experience in the road bond proposition. The highway through Scurry county is almost complete now and it is a real pleasure to travel over it and will convince you that we need, more than anything else, here in Garza county, a system of good roads.—Post City Post.

Here's wishing for you abundant success in your road bond election, you ought to send some of your non-good readers down on the highway in Scurry county and we think after that you would have no trouble in putting it over in Garza county.

A Princess of Mars

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Author of

Tarzan of the Apes

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

(Copyright, 1920, A. C. McClurg & Co.)

SYNOPSIS

FOREWORD.—The author tells of his acquaintance with the hero of one of the most remarkable adventures ever recorded. From a manuscript left by his friend he has vividly set out the strange happenings which brought together a brave Virginia gentleman and a Princess of Mars.

CHAPTER II.—Awaking, Carter realizes that he has, in some incomprehensible manner, been transported to Mars. He is surprised by a party of armed Martian warriors, who seek his life. He conquers their leader, Mars Tarzan, of his harmlessness and is conveyed a prisoner, to the Martian city.

CHAPTER III.—In the Arizona hills, John Carter, mining prospector and ex-Confederate soldier, fleeing from a war party of Apaches, takes refuge in a cave the atmosphere of which has a remarkable effect on him. Yielding to its influence, he sinks into unconsciousness. His last thoughts centered on the glow from the planet Mars.

CHAPTER IV.—A creature holding much the position of a dog on earth is set to guard him.

CHAPTER V.—Three days later a fleet of warships from the neighboring state of Helium, passing over the city, is attacked by Carter's captors, the green Martians. The fleet is scattered and one of the airships captured. Among the prisoners is a young woman of a race different from the green Martians and more closely resembling the women of the earth.

CHAPTER VI.—Carter ascertains that the fair prisoner's name is Dejah Thoris, granddaughter of the Jeddak, or ruler, of Helium. He also ascertains that according to custom she is deemed to die by torture. In the council chamber he talks with her and assures her of his sympathy.

CHAPTER VII.—The prisoner is confined to the guardhouse of Carter's friend, Sola, and the two prisoners plan to escape before Dejah Thoris is taken before the supreme ruler of the green Martians, Tal Hajus.

CHAPTER VIII.—With a large force of green Martians, Carter and Dejah Thoris set out for the capital.

CHAPTER IX.—Sola confides to Carter that she is in a way different from the rest of the green Martian women, having unlike them, a knowledge of her father and mother. The reason of Sokoja's enmity is also revealed.

Scarcely had I gained my post than the tapestry at the opposite end of the chamber separated and four soldiers of the Guard entered, surrounding a female figure. As they approached Than Kosis the soldiers fell to either side and there standing before the jeddak and not ten feet from me, her beautiful face radiant with smiles, was Dejah Thoris.

Sab Than, prince of Zodanga, advanced to meet her, and hand in hand they approached close to the jeddak. Than Kosis looked up in surprise, and, rising, saluted her.

"To what strange freak do I owe this visit from the princess of Helium, who, two days ago, with rare consideration for my pride, assured me that she would prefer Tal Hajus, the green Thark, to my son?"

Dejah Thoris only smiled the more and with the roguish dimples playing at the corners of her mouth she made answer:
"From the beginning of time upon Barsoom it has been the prerogative of woman to change her mind as she listed and to dissemble in matters concerning her heart. That you will forgive, Than Kosis, as has your son. Two days ago I was not sure of his love for me, but now I am, and I have come to beg of you to forget my rash words and to accept the assurance of the princess of Helium that when the time comes she will wed Sab Than, prince of Zodanga."

"I am glad that you have so decided," replied Than Kosis. "It is far from my desire to push war further against the people of Helium, and your promise shall be recorded and a proclamation to my people issued forthwith. We shall see how the people of Helium take to peace. I shall at least offer it to them."

Dejah Thoris, after a few words turned and left the apartment, still followed by her guards.

This was the ending of my brief dream of happiness dashed, broken, to the ground of reality. The woman for whom I had offered my life and from whose lips I had so recently heard a declaration of love for me, had lightly forgotten my very existence and smilingly given herself to the son of her people's most hated enemy.

Although I had heard it with my own ears I could not believe it. I must search out her apartments and force her to repeat the cruel truth to me alone before I would be convinced, and so I deserted my post and hastened through the passage behind the tapestries toward the door by which she had left the chamber. Slipping quietly through this opening I discovered a maze of winding corridors, branching and turning in every direction.

Running rapidly down first one and then another of them I soon became hopelessly lost and was standing panting against a side wall when I heard voices near me. Apparently they were coming from the opposite side of the partition against which I leaned and presently I made out the tone of Dejah Thoris. I could not hear the words but I knew that I could not possibly be mistaken in the voice.

Walking boldly forward I pushed into the room only to find myself in a small antechamber in which were the four guards who had accompanied her. One of them instantly arose and accosted me, asking the nature of my business.

"I am from Than Kosis," I replied, "and wish to speak privately with Dejah Thoris, princess of Helium."

"No one comes from Than Kosis without carrying an order or the password. You must give me one or the other before you may pass."

"The only order I require, my friend, to enter where I will, hangs at my side," I answered, tapping my long sword; "will you let me pass in peace or no?"

"You are not here by the order of Than Kosis," cried the one who had first addressed me, "and not only shall you not enter the apartments of the princess of Helium, but you shall go back to Than Kosis under guard to explain this unwarranted temerity. Throw down your sword; you cannot hope to overcome four of us," he added with a grim smile.

My reply was a quick thrust which left me but three antagonists and I can assure you that they were worthy of my metal. They had me backed against the wall in no time, fighting for my life. Slowly I worked my way to a corner of the room where I could force them to come at me only one at a time, and thus we fought upward of twenty minutes; the clanging of steel on steel producing a veritable bedlam in the little room.

The noise had brought Dejah Thoris to the door of her apartment, and there she stood throughout the conflict with Sola at her back peering over her shoulder. Her face was set and emotionless and I knew that she did not recognize me, nor did Sola.

Finally a lucky cut brought down a second guard and then, with only two opposing me, I changed my tactics and rushed them down after the fashion of my fighting that had won me many a victory. The third fell within ten seconds after the second, and the last lay dead upon the bloody floor a few moments later. They were brave men and noble fighters, and it grieved me that I had been forced to kill them, but I would have willingly depopulated all Barsoom could I have reached the side of my Dejah Thoris in no other way.

Sheathing my bloody blade I advanced toward my Martian princess, who still stood mutely gazing at me without sign of recognition.

"Who are you, Zodangan?" she whispered. "Another enemy to harass me in my misery?"

"I am a friend," I answered, "a once cherished friend."

"No friend of Helium's princess wears that metal," she replied, "and yet the voice I have heard before; it is not—it cannot be—no, for he is dead."

"It is, though, my princess, none other than John Carter," I said. "Do you not recognize, even through pain and strange metal, the heart of your chieftain?"

As I came close to her she swayed toward me with outstretched hands, but as I reached to take her in my arms she drew back with a shudder and a little moan of misery.

"Too late, too late," she grieved. "Oh, my chieftain that was, and whom I thought dead, had you but returned one little hour before—but now it is too late, too late."

"What do you mean, Dejah Thoris?" I cried. "That you would not have promised yourself to the Zodangan prince had you known that I lived?"

"Think you, John Carter, that I would give my heart to you yesterday and today to another? I thought that it lay buried with your ashes in the pits of Warhoon, and so today I have promised my body to another to save my people from the curse of a victorious Zodangan army. I am as good as married, John Carter. No longer may you call me your princess. No longer are you my chieftain."

man shall ever claim you as his bride. You meant them then, my princess, and you mean them still! Say that it is true."

"I meant them, John Carter," she whispered. "I cannot repeat them now, for I have given myself to another. Ah, if you had only known our ways, my friend," she continued, half to herself, "the promise would have been yours long months ago, and you could have claimed me before all others."

Then aloud she said: "Do you remember the night when you offended me? You called me your princess without having asked my hand of me, and then you boasted that you had fought for me. You did not know, and I should not have been offended; I see that now. But there was no one to tell you, what I could not, that upon Barsoom there are two kinds of women in the cities of the red men. The one they fight for that they may ask them in marriage; the other kind they fight for also, but never ask their hands. When a man has won a woman he may address her as his princess, or in any of the several terms which signify possession. You had fought for me, but had never asked me in marriage, and so when you called me your princess, you see," she faltered, "I was hurt, but even then, John Carter, I did not refuse you, as I should have done, until you made it doubly worse by taunting me with having won me through combat."

"I do not need ask your forgiveness now, Dejah Thoris," I cried. "You must know that my fault was of ignorance of your Barsoonian customs. What I failed to do, through implicit belief that my petition would be presumptions and unwelcome, I do now, Dejah Thoris; I ask you to be my wife, and by all the Virginian fighting blood that flows in my veins you shall be."

"No, John Carter, it is useless," she cried, hopelessly. "It is useless, my friend. You must bear the sorrow with me. That at least we may share in common. That, and the memory of the brief days among the Tharks, you must go now, nor ever see me again. Good-by, my chieftain that was."

Disheartened and dejected, I withdrew from the room, but I was not entirely discouraged, nor would I admit that Dejah Thoris was lost to me until the ceremony had actually been performed.

As I wandered along the corridors, I was as absolutely lost in the mazes of winding passageways as I had been, before I discovered Dejah Thoris' apartments.

Presently I came upon a spiral run, way leading to a lower floor, and this I followed downward for several stories until I reached the doorway of a large apartment in which were a number of guardsmen. The walls of this room were hung with transparent tapestries behind which I secreted myself without being apprehended.

The conversation of the guardsman, was general and awakened no interest in me until an officer entered the room and ordered four of the men to relieve the detail who were guarding the princess of Helium. Now, I knew, my troubles would commence in earnest and indeed they were upon me all too soon, for it seemed that the squad had scarcely left the guardroom before one of their number burst in again breathlessly, crying that they had found their four comrades butchered in the antechamber.

In a moment the entire palace was alive with people. Guardsmen, officers, courtiers, servants and slaves ran helter-skelter through the corridors and apartments carrying messages and orders, and searching for signs of the assassin.

This was my opportunity and slim as it appeared I grasped it, for as a number of soldiers came hurrying past my hiding place I fell in behind them and followed through the mazes of the palace until, in passing through a great hall, I saw the blessed light of day coming in through a series of larger windows.

Here I left my guides, and slipping to the nearest window, sought for an avenue of escape. The windows opened upon a great balcony which overlooked one of the broad avenues of Zodanga. The ground was about thirty feet below, and at a like distance from the building was a wall fully twenty feet high, constructed of polished glass and a foot in thickness. To a red Martian escape by this path would have appeared impossible, but to me, with my earthly strength and agility, it seemed already accomplished. My only fear was in being detected before darkness fell, for I could not make the leap in broad daylight while the court below and the avenue beyond were crowded with Zodangans.

Accordingly I searched for a hiding place and finally found one by accident, inside a huge hanging ornament which hung from the ceiling of the hall, and about ten feet from the floor. Into the enigmatic howl-like vase I sprang with ease and secretly had I settled down within it than I heard a number of people enter the apartment. The group stopped beneath my hiding place and I could plainly overhear their every word.

"It is the work of Heliumites," said one of the men.

"Yes, or Jeddak, but how had they access to the palace? We shall soon know, however, for here comes the royal psychologist."

Another man now joined the group, and, after making his formal greetings to his ruler, said:

"Oh mighty Jeddak, it is a strange tale I read in the dead minds of your faithful guardsmen. They were felled not by a number of fighting men, but by a single opponent."

"Where is my erstwhile savior?" spoke another of the party, and I recognized the voice of the cousin of Than Kosis, whom I had rescued from the green warriors. "By the metal of my first ancestor," he went on, "but the description fits him to perfection, especially as to his fighting ability."

"Where is this man?" cried Than Kosis. "Have him brought to me at once."

Word was soon brought that I was nowhere to be found, either in the palace or at my former quarters in the barracks of the air-scout squadron. Kantos Kan they had found and questioned, but he knew nothing of my whereabouts, and as to my past, he had told them he knew as little, since he had but recently met me during our captivity among the Warhoons.

"Keep your eyes on this other one," commanded Than Kosis. "He also is a stranger and likely as not they both hail from Helium, and where one is we shall sooner or later find the other."

Another messenger now entered with word that I was still within the palace walls.

"The likeness of every person who has entered or left the palace grounds today has been carefully examined," concluded the fellow, "and not one approaches the likeness of this new pad-warrior of the Guards, other than that which was recorded of him at the time he entered."

"Then he will have him shortly," commented Than Kosis contentedly, "and in the meanwhile we will repair to the apartments of the princess of Helium and question her in regard to the affair. She may know more than she cared to divulge to you, Notan, Come."

They left the hall, and, as darkness had fallen without, I slipped lightly from my hiding place and hastened to the balcony. Few were in sight, and choosing a moment when none seemed near I sprang quickly to the top of the glass wall and from there to the avenue beyond the palace grounds.

CHAPTER XV.

Lost in the Sky.

Without effort at concealment I hastened to the vicinity of our quarters, where I felt sure I should find Kantos Kan. He was alone and showed no surprise at my coming, saying he had expected me much earlier, as my tour of duty must have ended some time since.

I saw that he knew nothing of the events of the day at the palace, and when I had enlightened him he was all excitement. The news that Dejah Thoris had promised her hand to Sab Than filled him with dismay.

"It cannot be," he exclaimed. "It is impossible! Why, no man in all Helium but would prefer death to the selling of our loved princess to the ruling house of Zodanga. She must have lost her mind to have assented to such an atrocious bargain. What can be done, John Carter? You are a resourceful man. Can you not think of some way to save Helium from this disgrace?"

"If I can come within sword's reach of Sab Than," I answered, "I can solve the difficulty in so far as Helium is concerned, but for personal reasons I would prefer that another struck the blow that frees Dejah Thoris."

Kantos Kan eyed me narrowly before he spoke.

"You love her?" he said. "Does she know it?"

"She knows it, Kantos Kan, and repulses me only because she is promised to Sab Than."

The splendid fellow sprang to his feet and, grasping me by the shoulder, raised his sword on high, exclaiming:

"And had the choice been left to me I could not have chosen a more fitting mate for the first princess of Barsoom. Here is my hand upon your shoulder, John Carter, and my word that Sab Than shall go out at the point of my sword for the sake of my love for Helium, for Dejah Thoris, and for you. This very night I shall try to reach his quarters in the palace."

"I only need to pass these guards and I can do it. I know a secret entrance to the palace through the pinnacle of the highest tower. I fell upon it by chance one day as I was passing above the palace on patrol duty. If I can reach the roof of the barracks and get my machine I can be in Sab Than's quarters in five minutes; but how am I to escape from this building, guarded as you say it is?"

"Go to the roof of this building, Kantos Kan, and wait me there."

Without stopping to explain my plans I retraced my way to the street and hastened to the barracks. I did not dare to enter the building, filled as it was with members of the air-scout squadron, who, in company with all Zodangans, were on the lookout for me.

The building was an enormous one rearing its lofty head fully a thousand feet into the air. It was a long oblong up the face of the building, but there was no other way, and so I essayed the task. The fact that Barsoonian architecture is extremely ornate made the feat much stupider than I had anticipated, since I found ornamental ledges and projections which fairly formed a perfect ladder for me all the way to the eaves of the building. Here I met my first real obstacle. The eaves projected nearly twenty feet from the wall to which I clung, and though I endeavored the great building I could find no opening through them.

There was one slight, desperate chance, and that I decided I must take—that was for Dejah Thoris, and no man has lived who would not risk a thousand deaths for such as she.

long leather straps of my trappings at the end of which dangled a great hook by which air sailors are hung to the sides and bottoms of their craft for various purposes of repair, and by means of which landing parties are lowered to the ground from the battleships.

I swung this hook cautiously to the roof several times before it finally found lodgment; gently I pulled on it to strengthen its hold, but whether it would bear the weight of my body I did not know. It might be barely caught upon the very outer verge of the roof, so that as my body swung out at the end of the strap it would slip off and launch me to the pavement a thousand feet below.

An instant I hesitated, and then, releasing my grasp upon the supporting ornament, I swung out into space at the end of the strap. Far below me lay the brilliantly lighted streets, the hard pavements, and death. There was a little jerk at the top of the supporting eaves, and a nasty slipping, grating sound which turned me cold with apprehension; then the hook caught and I was safe.

Clambering quickly aloft I grasped the edge of the eaves and drew myself to the surface of the room above. As I gained my feet I was confronted by the sentry on duty, into the muzzle of whose revolver I found myself locking.

"Who are you and whence came you?" he cried.

"I am an air scout, friend, and very near a dead one, for just by the merest chance I escaped falling to the avenue below," I replied.

"But how came you upon the roof, man? Quick, explain yourself, or I call the guard."

"Look you here, sentry, and you shall see how I came and how close a shave I had to not coming at all," I answered, turning toward the edge of the roof, where twenty feet below, at the end of my strap, flung all my weapons.

The fellow, acting on impulse of curiosity, stepped to my side and to his undoing, for as he leaned to see over the eaves I grasped him by his throat and his pistol arm and threw him heavily to the roof. The weapon dropped from his grasp, and my fingers choked off his attempted cry for assistance. I gazed and bound him and then hung him over the edge of the roof as I myself had hung a few minutes before. I knew it would be morning before he would be discovered, and I needed all the time that I could gain.

Donning my trappings and weapons I hastened to the sheds, and soon had out both my machine and Kantos Kan's. Making his fast behind mine I started my engine, and skimming over the edge of the roof I dove down into the streets of the city far below the plane usually occupied by the air patrol. In less than a minute I was settling safely upon the roof of our apartment beside the astonished Kantos Kan.

It was decided that I was to try to make Helium, while Kantos Kan was to enter the palace and dispatch Sab Than. If successful he was then to follow me. Bidding each other farewell we rose together and sped in the direction of the palace, which lay in the route which I must take to reach Helium.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 30
Relating to the amending of Article 17, Section 58, of the Constitution of the State of Texas; abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners; providing for the supervision and management of the Prison System, under such laws as may be provided for by the Legislature.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
SECTION 1. That Article 17,

Section 58, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 58. The Legislature shall have full power and authority to provide by law for the management and control of the Prison System of Texas; and to this end shall have power and authority to place the prison system under the supervision, management and control of such officer or officers as the Legislature may from time to time provide for by law.

Sec. 2. The above constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a general election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1921, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the words: "For the amendment of Article 17, Section 58, of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners." And all those opposing said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the words: "Against the Amendment of Article 17, Section 58, of the Constitution, abolishing the Board of Prison Commissioners."

Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by law.

Sec. 4. The sum of $5,000.00, or so much hereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 1.

Proposing an amendment to Section 2, Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas by providing that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this State, and permitting either the husband or the wife to pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor, and permitting the Legislature to authorize absentee voting.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as hereafter to read as follows:

Section 2. Every person subject to none of the foregoing disqualifications, who shall have attained the age of twenty-one years and who shall be a citizen of the United States and who shall have resided in this State one year next preceding an election and the last six months within the district or county in which such person offers to vote, shall be deemed a qualified elector; provided, that electors living in any unorganized county may vote at any election precinct in the county to which such county is attached for judicial purposes; and provided further, that any voter who is subject to pay a poll tax under the laws of the State of Texas shall have paid said tax before offering to vote at any election in this State and hold a receipt showing that said poll tax was paid before the first day of February next preceding such election. Or if said voter shall have lost or misplaced said tax receipt, he or she, as the case may be, shall be entitled to vote upon making affidavit before any officer authorized to administer oaths that such tax receipt has been lost. Such affidavit shall be made in writing and left with the judge of the election. The husband may pay the poll tax of his wife and receive the receipt therefor. In like manner the wife may pay the poll tax of her husband and receive the receipt therefor. The Legislature may authorize absentee voting. And this provision of the Constitution shall be self-enacting without the necessity of further legislation.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in July, 1921, at which all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words: For the amendment to Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this State, and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor, and permitting the Legislature to authorize absentee voting." And all those opposed to said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, "Against the amendment to Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States shall be qualified electors in this State, and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefor, and permitting the Legislature to authorize absentee voting."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution, and existing laws of the State.

Sec. 4. That the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
 County of Scurry.

Whereas, on the 12th day of April 1921, a petition was presented to me for an election in Common School district No. 1, of this county on the question of issuing bonds to be expended in payment of accounts legally contracted in building and equipping a modern wooden school building and purchasing a site therefor and authorizing a tax upon all taxable property within said district sufficient to pay the current interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal at maturity; and

It appearing that said petition bears the requisite number of signatures of qualified property-taxpaying voters of said district and is in every respect in conformity with the law; and

It further appearing that Scurry County contains a population of 9,663 according to the last United States census; and

It further appearing that said Common School District No. 1 has been heretofore on the 17th day of July, 1919, properly established in accordance with Article 2817, Revised Statutes of Texas, 1911, as amended by Chapter 36, Regular Session 34th Legislature, 1915; and

It further appearing that said district as so established contains an area of 21 square miles and that no other district has been reduced in area below 9 square miles by reason of the creation of this district; and It further appearing that said district does not embrace any territory that was taken from any other school district (either common or independent) that had an outstanding issue of bonds at the date of such inclusion in this district;

Now, therefore I, Horace Holley, in my capacity as county judge of Scurry county, Texas, do hereby order that an election be held on the 7th day of May, 1921, at Favor school house in said Common school district No. 1, of this county as established by order of the Scurry County Board of Trustees, which is recorded in book 1, pages 22 of school minutes, to determine whether majority of the legally qualified property-taxpaying voters of that district desire the issuance of bonds on the faith and credit of said common school district in the amount of $2,000.00, the bonds to be of the denomination of $100.00 each, numbered consecutively from 1 to 20, both inclusive, payable 20 years from their date, with option of redemption at any time after 5 years from their date and bearing 5 percent interest per annum, payable annually on April 19th of each year, to provide funds to be expended in a modern wooden school building and purchasing a site therefor, and to determine whether the commissioners' court of this county shall be authorized to levy, assess and collect annually while said bonds or any of them are outstanding a tax upon all taxable property within said district sufficient to pay the current interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal at maturity.

J. W. Squyres is hereby appointed presiding officer for said election and he shall select two judges and two clerks to assist him in holding the same and he shall within five days after said election has been held make due return thereof to the commissioners' court of this county as is required by law for holding a general election.

All persons who are legally qualified voters of this state and of this county and who are resident property-tax-payers in said district shall be entitled to vote at said election, and all voters desiring to support the proposition to issue bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "For the Bonds." And those opposed shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "Against the bonds."

The sheriff of this county shall give notice of said election by posting three notices in three public places in said district, for three weeks before the election, and is further directed to have said notice of election published for three weeks prior to said election in some newspaper of general circulation that has been continuously and regularly published for more than one year previous to the date of this order in Scurry county, Texas, the date of the first publication being not less than twenty-one full days prior to the date of election.

Dated 12th day of April, 1921.
 HORACE HOLLEY,
 County Judge Scurry County, Texas.

FREE PUBLICITY FOR FAIRS MEETS WITH CRITICISM

AMARILLO, April 17.—"I have a contempt for all sorts of 'drives,'" declared Jess M. Adams, editor of the Plainview Herald, before the fourteenth annual convention of the Panhandle Press association, when he spoke on "Free publicity."

"During the war there grew up a gentry of publicity agents who seem to have survived in some numbers since the catastrophe because a number of country editors continue to encourage them by using their stuff," said Adams. "In the matter of drives we newspaper men during the war contributed our space because of our loyalty and desire to hasten extermination of the conflict, but these 'drives' have continued. Even the churches have resorted to the practice, I have cut them out on my paper. If the free publicity men can pay Uncle Sam postage to carry their stuff, the stationers money for paper, then they can afford us space rates for the publishing."

Adams criticized a fair association that would impose on the country press of the Panhandle, remunerating it with a ticket of admission but enrolling it with free publicity and a few paid advertisements.

"As for me, I had rather pay my way into this exposition and get advertising from the fair association," he said.

Adams said that the Northwest State Fair at Plainview paid for all its advertising and did not beg the press to push the cause without aiding it in a financial way. He said that plate and free advertising matter sent to his payer were dumped quickly into the yawning waste basket which he keeps in his office for that purpose.

M. L. Moody told how he printed resolutions on the death of a certain citizen, for which he received no pay. "The resolutions kept coming from various sources, until I got sad myself and was sorry that he had died," he said, as the audience laughed.

W. W. Nelson, Jr. of Snyder, came in Wednesday to look after ranch interests in this county. He was accompanied by F. D. Mock, of Celeste, Texas. The latter owns four sections of land in the southwest part of the county.—Seminole Sentinel.

China Grove Items.

I didn't get to send the items off last week so will send them all this week.

Friday evening the 8th, the Literary Society met, and they had a few speeches and debates, a collection was taken for the purpose of getting the secretary a book, a sum of 28 cents was received.

Mr. Leonard Allen and wife, and Mr. Bob Bryant and wife, went fishing Monday, they reported a good catch and a nice time.

There was a good crowd at the Sunday school both Sundays, and everybody seemed to know the lesson.

Mr. Frank White took a picture of the school but they were not good so he is going to take them over. They had a rabbit drive around China Thursday in Mrs. Wilson's pas-pre, a sum of 166 rabbits was killed. The party at Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ream's Saturday night was enjoyed by all, there was a large crowd.

We had a spelling at China Friday night, but the sandstorm was bad until about dark so there wasn't a very big crowd as there would have been if it had been better, but those who were there enjoyed the spelling.

Mr. J. W. Seale went to Colorado Saturday.

We are having some sandstorms now that make it seem more like West Texas, and the feedstuff that was up looks mighty bad now, also the gardens and there are lots of peaches blown off the trees.

Mr. L. L. Seale went to Mr. Hugh Sales and spent Sunday evening.

The China Grove school will be out May 13, if nothing happens.

"THE SON OF TARZAN".

The "Tarzan" stories by the famous author, Edgar Rice Burroughs, have become history to the lovers of the motion picture art. Tonight "The Son of Tarzan," the greatest of these marvelous jungle romances, will begin its run at this theatre in serial form.

The son of "Tarzan of the Apes," through inherited instinct and circumstances is lured to the jungle. With his companion, Akut, a bull ape, he conquers the wild beasts, blacks and Arabs of the African wilderness and thereby gains the name of Korak, the Killer.

The youth thrives on the life of the outdoors; the companionship of the ever-faithful anthropoid and a child of the Wilds, Meriem, to whom he is devoted, gives him fourfold courage. With his giant strength he keeps at bay the savages of the forest. Alone he conquers tribes of Arabs and blacks. They are beset by enemies who covet Meriem, but love for his girl-treasure gives Korak superhuman strength to defend her.

The Killer is attacked by ferocious baboons, enormous hairy creatures, and after a terrific struggle he subjugates them by placing Akut as their leader. With his tribe of Apes, the Ape man rescues Meriem from the savage blacks, after a murderous slaughter on both sides.

The girl is again taken prisoner by two villainous Swedes, who hold her for ransom. One of them seeks to possess her, but his attempt is frustrated by "Tarzan of the Apes," who has come to the jungle in search of his wife.

Korak is tortured at the loss of his jungle mates, and, seeking her, with his mighty strength he overcomes prowling hungry lions, fierce tigers, cannibals, venomous Arabs, and the many other horrors and perils that abound in the heart of the of the Apes by the Swede. Tarzan, vowing vengeance, returns to his old jungle life in search of her.

Meriem, after a fierce struggle with the Swede, escapes only to fall into the hands of the Arab Sheik, Korak, who had been tracking her with Tantor, his elephant companion, routs the Arabs and blacks and disappears into the heart of the forces with Meriem.

Tarzan, after days of weary search, finds the two. He recognizes his boy. Korak's reunion with his mother and marriage to Meriem are the final scenes in this jungle romance.

The hike to the Justiceburg lake with the Boy Scouts was a decided success. Though the wind blew hard and cold, all had a fine time and the round trip was made in safety and without delay.

I want to thank the daddys and big brothers who went with us and hope that the next trip will see more of them along. Next Hike April 29th.

We want to have another hike soon and hope that instead of the 47 boys who went that there will be a much larger number enlisted by that time.

On Sunday, we were glad to see so many new people out to church and trust they will all be back next Sunday.

Next Sunday morning at 9:45 is the Sunday school. The eleven o'clock sermon is "Three Witnesses" and the night sermon is "God's Commands and His Promises."

On Sunday morning, June 6th our revival will open in the Tabernacle, continuing through the month of June. Give God a chance at your heart and life and make no conflicting arrangements. More extended notice later.

Did You Know

There are 1800 people in Snyder who do not attend Sunday School? To these this message is addressed.

Did You Know

If this nation is to remain a Christian nation, it must get back to the study of God's Word?

Did You Know

The Sunday School is not only for children, but should interest the strong, red blood of the country?

Did You Know

Snyder is not keeping pace with the Sunday School movement? A great wave of Sunday School and Church going is spreading over the land. Dr. Norris' Sunday School in Fort Worth has already 3,000 members. A Sunday School in Paris, Texas, has 2,000. Many others in the state have over a thousand enrolled. Thus, the Sunday Schools elsewhere are growing by leaps and bounds.

Did You Know

The world needs most of all an awakened conscience. In our Sunday schools we are now studying the social problems of the day, or practical Christianity. Join the Sunday School of your choice next Sunday morning.

ROADS ANNOUNCE NO REDUCTION NOW

We are reproducing a letter from the various western railroads to the Colorado and New Mexico Coal Operators' association, in which they state there will be no serious reduction in coal rates to any points in our territory. A great many people have hesitated about placing their order for summer storage coal from the fact that from different sources information has been given out that the freight rate would be reduced and that there would be a substantial reduction in the mine price. This letter from the railroads will do away with that impression as far as they are concerned. The mine prices as given out on the first of April only show 50 cents per ton out in the mine price for May coal under the existing price. May will be the cheapest month in which to buy your coal as the announced price from the mines increases each month during the summer.

No doubt you have noticed in the news dispatches in the past few weeks where coal has declined in some instances at the mine as much as $2.00 per ton, but if you noticed particularly this reduction was from northern and eastern states, which fact makes the freight rate prohibitive into our locality. The letter follows: The Colorado and New Mexico Coal Operators' Ass'n., Denver, Colorado.

Gentlemen: It has come to our attention that various coal operators have, during the past few days, been receiving numerous cancellations of orders from dealers and consumers in eastern Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, etc., on account of a report which seems to be current that there is to be a substantial reduction in coal rates from the west to the territory in question.

We desire to make it a matter of record that while the carriers recognize the necessity of making some realignment of the coal rates in the direction of restoring previously existing relationships as between groups of origin, and an earnest effort is being made to bring this about, no general reduction in the rate level is contemplated.

It is the intention to push this work of revision as rapidly as possible, but at the best, several months will be required before a new set of rates can be worked out, published and made effective. Yours truly,

We are now accepting storage orders for coal to be delivered during any summer month. Our advice, based on an earnest study of the market, is that coal WILL NOT decline in price over the announced reduction, and that you buy your coal now. See any member of the firm or phone 262 your order. We handle only the best grades of coal from both Colorado and New Mexico mines.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 11.

Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas since prior to January 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of seven ($.07) cents on the $100.00 valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pension, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purpose, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment, and making an appropriation to pay the expenses thereof.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever, provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows, in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the states served in organization for the protection of the frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the states and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this Section shall not apply to women born since the year 1861, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all other taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($.07) cents on the $100 valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for service in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate herein levied, and provided further that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1921, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "For amendment of Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been a resident of this State since January 1, 1910," and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3, of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State, and the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder.

SNYDER WINS IN TRACK MEET AT LUBBOCK.

Snyder has the honor of four winners at the district track meet held at Lubbock April 15 and 16. Following is the result:

First place, high jump, Clifton Brooks.

First place, pole vault, Wade Green.

First place in declamation, senior girls, Sarah Wright.

First place in declamation, junior girls, Lucile Brunley.

These winners will go to the state meet in Austin to be held on May 5, 6 and 7. A reduction in railroad rates has been secured for delegates, putting in force a round trip rate of a fare and a half for all authorized delegates, and one faculty representative from each school participating in the state meet.

The executive committee has announced that this year the number of track contestants will be limited to the winners of the district meets, i. e., the winning team and the individual winners of first, second and third places. Hitherto, all schools desiring to do so might enter a track team of eight men, but on account of the increasing numbers of schools in the League, it has become necessary to limit entries.

Even with this limitation, it is stated, there will be a total of 864 official recognized delegates eligible for this state meet, as a result of the district elimination contests being held. Included in this number will be 128 debaters and 250 contestants in the various divisions of declamation. There will be, also, 128 boys' and girls' tennis teams and 352 entrants in track. With the addition of about 250 teachers, representing as many schools, who are also included in the lists of official delegates, there will be more than eleven hundred delegates. Including parents, relatives and other unofficial delegates more than 2,000 people from outside of Austin are expected for the meet.

Lodging will be provided by the committee for all delegates, beginning on Thursday, May 5. Preliminaries in tennis will be held on Thursday afternoon, but no other preliminaries until Friday morning, so that no provision has been made for registration or lodging earlier than Thursday. This will be the eleventh annual interscholastic State Meet at the University, and promises to be the largest and most hotly contested ever held.

Schools holding full membership in the League now number 4,300, representing a fifteen per cent increase over last year.

MEETING OF MANAGERS BRYANT-LINK CO. STORES

The managers and directors of the Bryant-Link company chain of ten general merchandise stores located at Stamford, Spur, Post, Aspermont, Leuders, Albany, Jayton, Ralls, Knox City and Snyder, met in their regular quarterly meeting at Spur on April 13 and 14. Reports on general conditions indicated a feeling of conservative optimism from every one, and prospective conditions were as good as could be expected.

Grain crop prospects were reported favorable at present, but rain would be needed soon in some sections. Store employes of the Spur store served an oyster supper to the twenty in attendance at the meeting. (Messrs. T. L. Higginbotham and Raymond Reed attended the meeting from Snyder.

Miss Dorcas Porter who is clerk in the Dry Goods department of Matthews-Davis Co., is housed in this week on account of sickness.

THE "OLD RELIABLE" THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

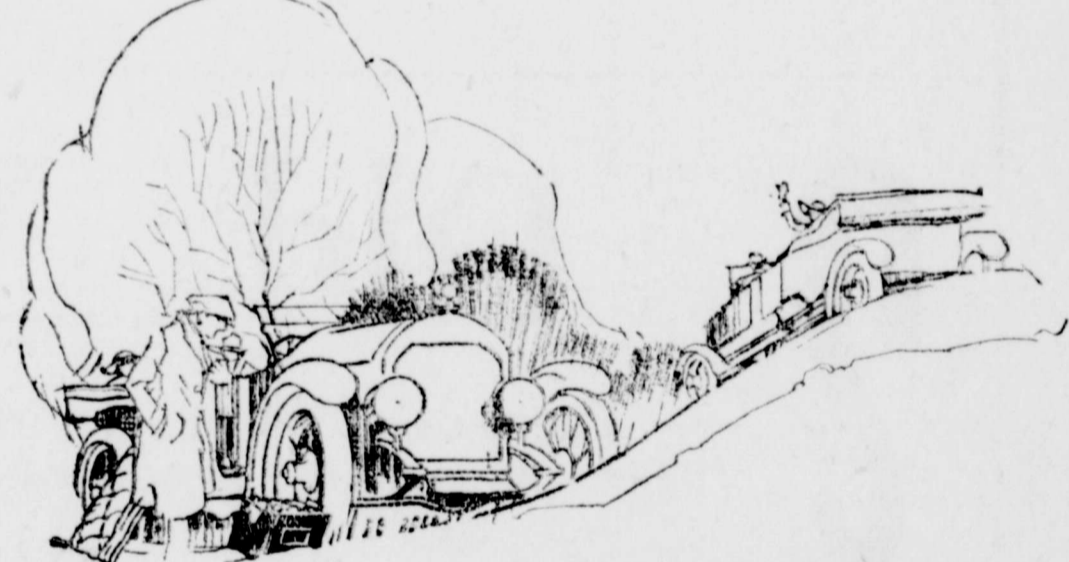

Duffton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach and sick headache can be relieved by taking Black-Draught. It aids digestion, also assists the liver in throwing off impurities. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a standard household remedy with a record of over seventy years of successful use. Every one occasionally needs something to help cleanse the system of impurities. Try Black-Draught. Insist upon Thedford's, the genuine.

Your Battery Should Never Fail You

Dependability is more necessary in your battery than in almost any other unit of your motor car. If you break a spring you can get to a service station. You can hobble along with half the cylinders misfiring—but if your battery goes dead you are powerless to make even a temporary repair to get home.

A Dependable Battery

The RAY is a dependable battery. Its dependability is based on a special process of battery manufacture, made possible by the famous "Lavier Formula." The plates in the RAY BATTERY, made by this formula, will keep on taking in electricity from the generator and delivering it for starting, lighting and ignition under conditions far more severe than are encountered by the most constant driving. They will not suddenly buckle to short circuit the battery. They will not wash down (harmfully sulphate), another cause of short-circuiting. If the water evaporates to lower the level of the electrolyte in the battery, there will be no harm done, and you can't overheat or overcharge the RAY in your car.

No other battery will stand the tests of the RAY. These are not claims; they are assurances, because every purchaser of a RAY BATTERY is given a written, unconditional guarantee for two years from date of sale from our service station to you. This really revolutionary guarantee would not be possible if the RAY BATTERY was not a more dependable battery, a more efficient battery. Come in and see the RAY. Free water and tests on any make of battery.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4
A Joint Resolution of the Legislature of the State of Texas amending Sections of the Constitution of the State of Texas as follows: Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4, relating to the compensation of executive officers; and Section 24, Article 3, relating to mileage and per diem of Members of the Legislature; of said State. Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4, and Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 5. He shall, at stated times, receive as compensation for his services an annual salary not to exceed Eight Thousand ($8,000.00) Dollars and no more, and shall have the use and occupation of the Governor's Mansion, fixtures and furniture.

Section 21. There shall be a Secretary of State, who shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and who shall continue in office during the term of service of the Governor. He shall authenticate the publication of the laws and keep a fair register of all official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required, by the same, and all papers, minutes and vouchers relative thereto, before the Legislature, or either House thereof, and shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by law. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, and no more.

Section 22. The Attorney General shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is duly qualified. He shall represent the State in all suits and pleas in the Supreme Court of the State in which the State may be a party, and shall especially inquire into the charter rights of all private corporations, and, from time to time, in the name of the State, take such action in the courts as may be proper and necessary to prevent any private corporation from exercising any power, or demanding or collecting any species of taxes, toll, freight or wharfage, not authorized by law. He shall, whenever sufficient cause exists, seek a judicial forfeiture of all such charters, unless otherwise expressly directed by law, and give legal advice in writing to the Governor or other executive officers, when requested by them, and perform such other duties as may be required by law. He shall receive for his services an annual salary not to exceed Seven Thousand Five Hundred ($7,500.00) Dollars, and no more.

Section 23. The Comptroller of Public Accounts, the Treasurer, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall each hold office for the term of two years, and until his successor is qualified; receive an annual salary not to exceed Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, and no more; reside at the Capital of the State during his continuance in office; and perform such other duties as are or may be required of him by law. They and the Secretary of State shall not receive to their own use, any fees, costs or prerequisites of office. All fees that may be payable by law for any service performed by any officer specified in this Section, or in his office, shall be paid, when received, into the State Treasury.

Section 24. Mileage and per diem; the Members of the Legislature shall receive from the public treasury such compensation for their services as may, from time to time, be provided by law, not exceeding Ten ($10.00) Dollars per day for each regular session of one hundred and twenty days; and not exceeding Five ($5.00) Dollars per day for the remainder of such session; and provided, further, that Members of the Legislature shall receive not to exceed Ten ($10.00) Dollars per day for each special session of the Legislature that may be called from time to time by the Governor. In addition to the compensation above provided for, the Members of each House shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of Government which mileage shall be ten cents per mile, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct travel by land regardless of railways and water routes; and the Comptroller of the State shall prepare and preserve a table of distances to each county seat, now or hereafter to be established, and by such table the mileage of each Member shall be paid; but no Member shall be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after the adjournment of a regular or called session.

Sec. 2. The Governor is hereby directed to cause to be issued his necessary proclamation for an election to be held on the fourth Saturday in July, 1921, at which election these amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this State for adoption or rejection and shall make the publication required by the Constitution and laws of the State. Said election shall be held under and in accordance with the general election laws of the State, and the ballots for said election shall have printed or written thereon in plain letters the following words:

"Official Ballot: "For the amendment to Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas providing for compensation of executive officers."

"Official Ballot: "For the amendment of Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to mileage and per diem of Members of the Legislature of the State of Texas."

"Against the amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to mileage and per diem of Members of the Legislature of the State of Texas."

Those voters who favor such amendments shall erase by marking a line through the words "against the amendment to Sections 5 and 21 and 22 and 23 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for compensation of executive officers." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast in such election; and Those voters who favor such amendment relating to mileage and per diem of members of the Legislature shall erase by marking through the words "for the amendment to Section 24 of Article 3 of the Constitution relating to mileage and per diem of the members of the Legislature of the State of Texas." And the result of the election shall be published and declared according to the majority of the votes cast at such election.

Sec. 3. If a majority of the votes cast in the election herein provided for should be in favor of the amendments proposed, the maximum sum named herein shall become effective and be the compensation thereafter to be received by the officials named therein on and after the first day of January, 1923, and so remain until otherwise provided by law, and the compensations so allowed shall be paid out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the purpose of paying the necessary expenses of the proclamation and publication of these amendments and the election to be held hereunder.

Removing Ink Stains.
To remove ink stains from either brass or copper a very simple remedy is required, but it is well worth knowing. If otherwise ink spilled on brass or copper fastenings and left to dry is a trouble to remove. Simply pour a few drops of fresh lard on the ink spots, and rub with a piece of rag, when the old stain will disappear quite easily. Polish in the usual way.

Killed Value of Old Coins.
Old-fashioned copper cents of the years 1817, 1818, 1819 and 1820 were formerly very rare and correspondingly valuable; but bags full of them were found in an old bank and the market was flooded.

"IS WONDERFUL" SAYS DISPATCHER

Since Taking Tanlac He Eats, Sleeps and Feels Better Than In Two Years.

"I eat better, sleep better and feel better than I have in two years and Tanlac gets the credit for building me up," said R. H. Budd, well-known train dispatcher for the M. K. & T. railroad, residing at 524 1-2 West Okmulgee St., Muskogee, Okla., recently.

"About two years ago I commenced going down hill, and then a year ago I was in such a low state of health that I had an operation. After this it seemed that I just couldn't get my normal weight and strength back. What little I ate bloated me all up with gas, keeping me uncomfortable for hours and did me very little, if any, good. The bloating caused my heart to flutter frightfully, and my nerves were shattered so I couldn't get the sleep I needed. I felt weak, sluggish and tired all the time.

"But when I started on Tanlac I began to straighten right up. I'm not troubled with indigestion any more, have gained several pounds in weight and am built up in strength and vitality until I hardly feel like the same man. Tanlac has done fine work for me and I'm glad to tell others about it. My friends, who noticed how pale and weak I looked before taking Tanlac, can look at me now and see the way it has put color in my face and built me up."

Gold Plume Toasted Coffee

Sooner or later this franchise brings to every Gold Plume merchant the leadership in the coffee business, because the excellence of this blend which is toasted—not roasted—is such that its fame spreads throughout the community and folks WILL have it, once they taste it—even if necessary to change grocers to get it. Please congratulate the above store on securing the franchise of "Gold Plume" Coffee and try a pound can today---Real Coffee---Different---Better.

Showing Exclusively Many Nationally Advertised Lines of Rare Merit

Serving our patrons well is accomplished in a large measure by selling merchandise of unquestionable quality in all of our many departments. Again we repeat, we will not permit our sales to be boosted temporarily at the expense of quality. To that end we have secured the exclusive sale of many standard Nationally Advertised Lines of time-tried worth. When you buy such goods from us YOU feel assured in advance of their unquestioned value.

It must be a source of much satisfaction to you to feel that you can always get what you want and at right prices at Higginbotham's.
—We shall strive always to prove ourselves worthy of your confidence.

New Voiles

We are showing a beautiful line of Dress Goods, including some lovely patterns in Voiles—a sheer dress material of rare distinction in the season's best shades.

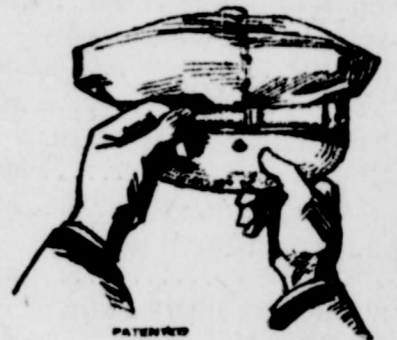

Iron Clad Hosiery for all

Iron Clad Hosiery are becoming more popular each season. These splendid hose are made for every member of the family and are guaranteed to give better service and look nicer than any other hose on the market.
—Our "Specialty Hose" are good all silk ones to sell at $1.00 the pair—in black, white and brown.

No business too large for us and no little detail too small for us to give it our most careful attention.
—Satisfaction must prevail at the House of Higginbotham. Won't you join our host of satisfied customers?

SURE FIT
Faultless caps always feel comfortable. Blow-off Proof.

Hear the Call of the House of Higginbotham to the Trading Public of Scurry County:

The house of real service, the house of quality and quantity, the house that believes in and practices true co-operation between farmers and merchants—yes, hear their earnest invitation for your patronage in all their large departments where every need may be supplied at lowest living prices—where quality prevails first, last and all the time. They most earnestly solicit your patronage. COME!
