THIRTY-FOURTH YEAR

SNYDER, SUTTON COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1921.

NUMBER FIFTY.

SNYDER CEMETERY WORKING WILL BE ON NEXT THURSDAY, JUNE 2

CLOSING OF SNYDER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Snyder public schools close this week its session of nine months. The session has been a busy one for both teachers and pupils. The school board and the school superintendent have not been annoyed with any resignations on the part of the teachers, so to speak.

The enrollment this year increased to such an extent that it was necessary to employ one additional teacher to the high school faculty and three to the corps of grade teachers. In the high school department there were 73 enrolled in the eighth grade, 54 in the ninth grade, 53 in the tenth grade, and 34 in the eleventh grade, a total of 214. A goodly number of these were from other school districts.

Instruction was given in four year's work in English, four in mathematics, four in history, four in Latin, one in Spanish, one in general science, one in agriculture, one in physics, one-half in physiology, one-half in biology, one-half in heredity, one-half in civics, one-half in commercial geography, and one-half in sociology. Biology, heredity, commercial geography, and sociology are now subjects this year. These are all very practical subjects, and, besides, they prove interesting to high school students. It is to be very much regretted that domestic economy and manual training can not be installed at present. But when the new high school building becomes a reality, these improvements can be made.

The commencement sermon will be preached Sunday by Rev. B. W. Dodson. All the churches of Snyder will join in the service. This service will be at the Methodist church at 11 a. m.

The following is the program that will be carried out at the Sunday's service:

Voluntary.
Song, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Scripture reading and invocation.
Song, "Mighty Army of the Young" Offertory.

Benediction.

AMERICAN LEGION MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM NEXT MONDAY

On Monday, May 30, at 5 o'clock the American Legion will be dressed in uniform, meet in front of the hall with the Red Cross and Junior Red Cross and band, will march around the square and at the corner at the L. & H. Economy store, take cars for the cemetery where they will decorate the graves. Those having flowers are requested to bring them.

The following is the Governor's proclamation:

"Memorial Day has become one of the fixed days in our country's history. It is set apart by the government as a day in which to do honor to the memory, not only of those who fell amid the clash of arms, but to all those who at any time, on land, on sea, or in the air, made the supreme sacrifice in the defense of their country. The sentiment that prompts the observance of this day is as old as the human race. It has characterized the worthy citizenship of all ages. Well can we afford to pause from the onrush of our busy lives to spend a day in honoring the memory of our illustrious dead, who from our earliest colonization thru the gigantic struggle of the recent

World War, have courageously fought the battles of their country, in order that we might enjoy the blessed heritage that is ours today.

"With gratitude in our hearts, and with appreciation of these noble acts of heroism, we should come together in memory of those who so unselfishly gave their lives for the cause of freedom, and pay another tribute to their valiant patriotism.

"In order that we may not forget these noble heroes whose lives were so freely offered upon the altar of our country, I, Pat M. Neff, Governor of Texas do hereby issue this proclamation to remind the citizenship of our State that Monday, May 30th, is Memorial Day, and to call upon the people in all walks of life to assemble on that day to participate in fitting services and to decorate the graves of our departed soldiers, whose memories we cherish and whose deeds we revere.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto signed my name and caused the seal of the State to be affixed, at the city of Austin, this the 24th day of May, 1921."

FARNUM A FIGHTER WHO HATES TO FIGHT

William Farnum, the noted screen star, who has figured in many recent William Fox successes, is one of the few men in the public eye who can do superlatively well something he does not like to do. And that something is fighting.

The star realizes that, although thousands of people admire him for his dramatic characterizations, other thousands always root him for his screen fights. Farnum as an actor commands all the fine points of the art; and because he is an actor of supreme ability he can put on a fight that is a drama to the eye (of the spectator—not the victim.) Farnum has fought with nearly every sort of weapon that man ever made for the purpose. Dagger, sword, club, rifle, pistols, fists—quite a record for a peace-loving man.

But if you happen to be around the lot where a William Farnum picture is being filmed, it is unwise to drop a remark about his fighting ability. Farnum hates to fight, yet his record shows that he has probably fought more good battles than any other man on stage or screen. Nature favored him with a handsome body and a powerful physique. Something inherent in the human family craves the sight of a physical encounter between two powerful men—probably the outcropping of the old cavewalking days. There you have the reason why Bill Farnum has so many fights in his pictures. People demand them.

Farnum himself says emphatically that he would rather play straight dramatic parts, where the thrills come from good acting. He hopes to put on the screen more classics similar to "Les Miserables" and "A Tale of Two Cities," which demand consummate emotional acting.

Be that as it may, the admirers of Farnum are promised a treat in "Drag Harlan," in which Farnum

DR. O. DAVIS DIES IN BATH; THROAT IS CUT

Galveston, May 25.—Dr. Oscar Davis former State Health Officer, was found dead in a bath tub at a local hospital this morning with his throat cut. He had come to Galveston about a week ago and while he was suffering from occasional pain in the region of the heart, showed no serious symptoms, according to attending physicians.

This morning Dr. Davis went to his bathroom and some time thereafter a nurse knocked on the door. Getting no response, she opened the door and found Dr. Davis in the bathtub with his throat slashed. He had bled to death. His razor was lying nearby.

R. M. Kupsa, justice of the peace, was notified and acting as coroner held an inquest. He has not yet announced his verdict.

Dr. Davis was graduated from the Fort Worth Medical School in the class of '98. He was one of the state's best known public officials, having served in the Thirty-fifth Legislature as chairman of the Public Health Committee, being one of the three members of the committee that investigated the State University and its branches.

Dr. Davis was nominated to the Thirty-Sixth Legislature, but resigned to accept the position of Assistant State Health Officer.

During his connection with the State Department of Health he helped to organize the Bureau of Public Health Education, Communicable Diseases, Public Health Nursing and Child Hygiene, being for a time director of the latter while serving as Assistant State Health Officer. He served during 1919-1920 as director of the Bureau of Venereal Diseases.

During the influenza epidemic of 1918-1919 he assisted the United States Public Health Service in the capacity of assistant surgeon, doing field work under Maj. C. H. Gardner, who had charge of relief work in Texas.

Dr. Davis was a member of the Voluntary Medical Corps authorized by the National Council of Defense.

Pat Horton Resigns.

Sunday morning after church services, Rev. J. Pat Horton surprised his congregation and friends by tendering his resignation as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Post. Everybody in Post will regret to learn that the Hortons are leaving Post. No definite plans as to where they go from here have been made.—Post City Post.

"Arkansas or Bust."

Tomorrow the Editor and "high boss" leave for a two months vacation trip thru Arkansas and other states. During our absence Mr. Kelley White and our young hopeful, Edward Warren, will have charge of the paper and we will appreciate anything you do to assist them in having easy sailing for the next two months. Good-bye and a pleasant summer to all of you.—Post City Post.

A. P. Gannaway and Lee Sturdivant, two prominent farmers of the Hermleigh neighborhood were in town Wednesday and renewed for the Signal.

Marriage license were issued by County Clerk, Mrs. Kate Cotten, on May 25th to W. H. Moore and Sallie Brookshire.

CHAUTAUQUA HAVING UNPARALLELED SUCCESS

This year's Chautauqua is perhaps as good or better so far than any we have ever had before and as this paper goes to press the biggest numbers are yet to come.

Everybody loves music especially of the class we term popular. The Hawaiian number was enjoyed immensely and the continued encores showed the appreciation of our people. Mr. Plattenburg's lecture was a masterpiece in its line and met with the approval of the whole audience.

The second day's program opened with the Musical Grenadiers playing a class of hand music never before heard in Snyder. Each man was an artist with his particular instrument. Notable parts of this program were the piccolo, clarinet and trombone solos.

Dr. Adrian's address of the same evening perhaps reached more people than anyone we have heard in a long time. His was not only a popular subject but was delivered in such a manner that he held his audience spell-bound from the start.

The Kuvochikove company of lady artists gave a program the next afternoon of exceptionally high class music and the evening feature was Dr. Frank Dixon in a lecture on "The Indispensable Tools of Democracy."

Dr. Dixon opened up the eyes of many of our people to the realization that while we believe we are living within the border of a nation freer than any other on the face of the earth, yet there exists in our government one of the most autocratic forms of power in governmental existence. Dr. Dixon's lecture was of an extremely high class and testified to the greatness of the gentleman's ability.

Thursday afternoon a lecture by Dr. J. Q. Robertson met with hearty approval and created much interest in his listeners. The big feature of Thursday night, the New York success "Broadway Jones" crowded the Auditorium and ranked with the best of the best. If the balance of the program is anywhere near as good as what has already been given the Snyder people and surrounding community will undoubtedly feel they have been well repaid for their interest.

It is especially notable this year the great number of visitors from Fluvanna, Dunn, Ira, Camp Springs and other sections of the county.

The local committee are to be congratulated on having put this Chautauqua over with no deficit and we hope to see another the coming year.

MCKEE, FAMOUS SINGER, COMING TO SNYDER FOR TABERNACLE MEETING

Snyder has always had a reputation for bringing to it's hospitable bosom, the best in every line and now she is to be favored with a visit from one of the best and most noted singers engaged in revival work today, Prof. Arthur W. McKee.

Mr. McKee first came to fame as the soloist and choir master for Paul Rader in the Chicago Tabernacle singing 5,000 in which he sang daily for years.

He conducted choirs at the Tabernacle in the World's Fair in San Francisco where his fame became national over night.

In National gatherings and Bible Conferences, his singing attracted wide attention and it was at Winona Assembly where Mr. Fife preached and Mr. McKee sang that the two formed a friendship that has lasted for years.

Mr. McKee is now Music Master and soloist in one of the largest churches and certainly the largest Sunday School in the world, the First Baptist in Fort Worth. Dr. J. Frank Norris' church.

No small amount of Mr. McKee's success is due to the able assistance of Mrs. McKee at the piano. Mrs. McKee has traveled with her husband and played his accompaniments several years.

Singing Convention at Pyron.

On last Friday, Mr. John Y. Bowen wife, and son, W. A. Bowen, were at my house with an auto full of light bread and invited me to come to Pyron Sunday as there would be singing convention at Old Pyron and dinner on the ground so on Sunday morning, I and family went down and found some six or eight hundred people there and during the morning session the people sang in concert.

Bro. E. C. Leslie of Hermleigh delivered the welcome address, which was splendid indeed, but what made this writer smile was the fine dinner which was spread. One thing can be said of the Pyron ladies, that they never fail to have plenty of good things to eat. There was plenty of dinner for the people and enough to serve many more. After dinner, we again met in the house to sing. During the evening Judge Holley of Snyder made a response to the welcome address given by E. C. Leslie and then many duets, quartets and other singing were given.

People from all over the county were present and several from other counties. The day was enjoyed by all.

Pink Wooten of the Wooten Wholesale Co., Abilene, was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

T. J. Weaver of Pyron was in Snyder Wednesday.

There will be a general cemetery working Thursday June 2nd at 2 o'clock p. m. and everybody is invited not only are you invited but you are urged to be present.

It has been quite a while since the people of Snyder has had an opportunity and an invitation to the Snyder Cemetery working and it goes without saying all will take advantage of this opportunity and be on hand.

It is an unsightly sight to see a cemetery grown up in weeds and we are sure the Snyder folks will not stand for any such negligence. Next Thursday is the day. Lay all other engagements down for an hour or two and be on hand.

COMMENCEMENT

By Phebe K. Warner

Another school year has rolled around. All over our State and all over every State the high school boys and girls are winding up their final examinations. And it will be final with most of them for the last time. The old school-rooms with all the memories of childhood and youth will soon close their doors and lock them out forever. It is a great thing for any boy or girl to go to school for eleven whole years in the same building. Every crack and corner of all those years is the richest part of their education. The facts and figures; the stines and co-sines; the rythms and logarithms will soon be forgotten. But the associations, the joys and sorrows; the pleasures and disappointments will linger in their lives forever. It is not what the teachers taught that the high school graduates will remember all their lives, but it is what they were. They will never forget the character of their teachers—not one of them—for the little women who taught them their A B C's and looked after them just like their mothers, to the superintendent who directed that last hard year.

If all teachers only knew that they are of a thousand times more importance to their pupils than the textbook they are teaching, what a revolution there would be in our schools. The textbook has meant just so many recitations, a grade, and a few months mental work. But the character of the teacher has become a part of their standards of life. She has become a part of their character. She has entered into their very being. Her ideas and ideals have been absorbed by your child and when your boy or your girl receives their high school diploma in a few days and steps down from the platform of the old high school and goes out into the world to face life alone for the first time they represent two distinct courses in education. One is the course learned from books. It represents a certain number of credits and may entitle them to a place in some higher school. This is merely the head training. The real thing that steps down from that graduating platform is a young man or a young woman whose outlook on life and whose vision of life is the result of the combined influences of every teacher he has ever had.

If they have inspired him, he will very likely go higher. If they have discouraged him, he will stop where he is. If they have taught him to love the beautiful, he will seek that in life. If they have failed to present the good in a beautiful way, or in a beautiful spirit, he will resent the good and seek the pleasant bad things in life. Yes, when your boy receives a high school diploma he walks off—not himself, nor the duplicate of yourself—but he walks down from that platform and out into life a reproduction of the men and women who have been his teachers for the past eleven years.

Is there any lesson for us all to learn on Commencement Day? Certainly there is, if we still have another child in school. And even if ours are all out and gone, the school will always be full of children. Here is one thing we wish every parent would think about this year while you are enjoying the closing weeks of school. First, look at your graduates. Who are they? What is their outlook? What will they be doing one year from today? What will they probably be doing ten, twenty years from today? Now think of your school. Think what it has cost your district to keep these graduates in school eleven years, and ask yourself if your school has prepared these boys and girls (mostly girls) for the duties of life just before them. If it has not, of what value is their diploma? If it has not, what have they to show for their eleven years of life and work and study? If they have not been prepared for life's duties in these eleven years, where is mother's pay for her sacrifices to keep them in school? Where is father's recompense for his taxes? Of all our American school children only one in every three hundred completes the high school course. Where are these other 299? Why are they not in this year's classes?

MISS DAVIS WINS GOLD MEDAL FOR BEST GRADES

Announcement has been made that Miss Beulah Davis, daughter of W. W. Davis of Sweetwater, has won the Sorosis Medal which is annually given the pupil making the highest grade in the senior class this year, 89 7-10, and Miss Gabriella Eddington made second highest honor, 88 7-10. The race for honors has been very close this year, and it was not until the very last examinations were completed that the result could be announced. Miss Davis will receive the Sorosis Medal Friday evening, which will be presented by Mrs. A. H. Fortner, president of the Sorosis club. It has been the custom of the Sorosis club to offer a gold medal to the honor graduate of the high school for a number of years past as a mark of their appreciation of efforts well directed.—Sweetwater Reporter.

IN HONOR OF OUR TEACHERS.

We certainly have appreciated our teacher's kindness and the good advice which he has given.
 Mr. Jeff Cargile, the last day of school, served ice cream. All enjoyed it very much. The children brought dinner and had dinner on the ground.

Also thank him for the nice program which was given. A large crowd attended; were people from Snyder, Abilene, Merkel, Fluvanna, Goldthwaite, Polar, Justiceburg, and all our home town were there.

Taken several pictures Friday evening. Had several visitors with us Friday.

He is a man of good character. Everybody thought lots of him. He was kind and good to his pupils and done his best to learn them their school work.

Mr. Jeff Cargile is a member of our Sunday school. We will miss him in our Sunday school work. Wish him much success and happiness in life.
 Mary Rhea.

A Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all the good people that showed us kindness in any way during the illness and passing away of our dear father and grandfather.

EDUCATION

is the fundamental basis for progress. It is the stimulus to business, farming and community life.

Public school institutions offer inspirational value to a community; they are a constant source of pride to every citizen, and this bank extends them its full courtesies and services.

We especially invite the young men and women, so soon to step into the business world, to begin their careers with a Bank Account.

"As in the greatest cities so in his own home town—the U. S. Tire user gets fresh, live tires of correct production."

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handiest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

CALF FED TO WEANING TIME

Quite Simple Matter if Mother Has Sufficient Milk to Nourish Youngster Properly.

The feeding of a beef calf from birth until it is weaned is a very simple matter if its mother gives milk enough to nourish it properly. The principal part of the calf's ration therefore, may be cheaply and safely provided by giving its mother the proper feeds for the production of milk. Do not feed the cow too heavily on grain soon after she has dropped the calf. While it is important that the calf have plenty of milk at all times, it should never have too much, especially soon after birth. The following suggestions are designed particularly for select animals chosen especially for breeding purposes, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

A calf dropped in the fall or winter probably will do better if kept separated from its mother and allowed to suck night and morning. In summer it should be provided with a lot for exercise and pasture in the daytime, and during the winter with a well-bedded box stall at night. When the calf is from four to six weeks old it is a good plan to bring it from the lot early in the morning, allow it to suck, then take it to the pen or stall to be fed some grain. It should also be suckled at night before grain is fed, then taken out to the grass lot or to a little hay in the stall. To be kept contented when away from its mother a calf should run with other calves. A bull calf should be separated from the heifers at the age of three or four months. If the calf is dropped late in winter or spring it may be more convenient to allow it to run with its dam for several months on pasture.

Since milk is nature's food for the calf it would be reasonable to suppose that milk alone is sufficient feed for it. In all cases, however, it should be provided with a little grain in addition to milk. If both the cow and the calf have good pasture and the cow is giving milk enough, the calf will grow to weaning age in good condition with less grain than otherwise would be needed. Frequently, however, the amounts of both pasture and milk are somewhat limited. Then the feeding of more grain is absolutely essential for best results.

When from four to six weeks old a calf may be taught to eat grain. This may be done by feeding it in a creep or pen to which the cow does not have access. Wheat bran is an excellent feed for this purpose. A good ration for the first few weeks would be coarsely ground corn, oats and wheat bran, equal parts by weight, with a small quantity of oil meal added every few days. Feed the calf at first one-fourth of a pound of grain a day, or just what it will eat up clean, giving one-half of the amount night and morning. After a few weeks a ration of whole oats four parts, shelled corn two parts, and oil meal one part by weight should be substituted for the ground feeds. The calf should be eating from two to three pounds of grain a day when six months old, or approximately one-half to one pound of grain per 100 pounds live weight.

Unless the cow has been giving sufficient milk previous to this age of the calf, it may be advisable to provide a nurse cow for the calf. To make the most satisfactory growth the calf should have a liberal supply of milk for several months longer. This is especially true if it is to make a maximum growth and show to the best advantage when the fair season arrives. By being fed in the way described, it should make a continuous growth from birth. It weaned properly, so that none of the calf fat or bloom is lost, the chances for it to grow out and make a profitable and useful animal are decidedly in its favor.

The calf is old enough to wean when from eight to twelve months old. Weaning should take from 12 to 15 days, and should be done gradually. When old enough to wean allow it to suck once a day for a week, then every other day for four or five days, and increase the interval until no milk at all is allowed.

NO SECOND PLACE FOR HIM

Corny Husk's Ambition Certainly Was Not Noble, but It Was His Ruling Passion.

Senator Hiram Johnson said in an after-dinner speech: "The radical movements of the day have achieved at least one good thing. They have taught our boys that there are nobler ambitions than the one to become a millionaire."

"When I was a boy the millionaire ambition was drilled into all of us, but today such an ambition seems as wrong-headed as Cornelius Husk."

"A traveler stopped his auto in front of old Corn Husk's place and said: 'How far is it to Quag, stranger?'"

"Corn took his pipe out of his mouth. 'Asked anybody else that there question?' he inquired."

"'Yes; I asked the blacksmith down the road."

"'Huh! Ye asked Jinks Hobson, did ye? Wall, how far did Jinks say it was?'"

"'He said it was two miles.'"

"'Five miles is the correct figger, stranger.'"

"With a disappointed oath the stranger pushed on again. To his astonishment he reached Quag in a few minutes. Instead of being five miles away, it was hardly a mile."

"The next week he happened on Corn Husk a second time."

"'Look here,' he said, 'Why did you tell me it was five miles from your place to Quag? It's only about a mile.'"

"'Jinks Hobson told ye it was two miles, didn't he?' said Corn calmly. 'Wall, Jinks thinks he's the biggest liar round these parts. I told ye it was five miles, stranger, so's to show the gold-durn cuss he's got a hard man to beat, by crimus, when he tries to git the best of Corny Husk.'"

The Collegiate Handicap.

Side by side in a commutator's train sat a horny-handed son of toil and an office man five years out of college. The H. H. S. of T. turned out to be a painter by trade.

"You fellows make pretty good wages now," remarked the office man. "About $7 a day?"

"Ten," replied the painter laconically.

"But it doesn't average that much, does it?" persisted the office man. "Bad weather must hold up outside work."

"No outside work in New York," said the painter. "All brick buildings. We work the year round eight hours a day, five days a week. Some want to work a half day on Saturday to make it a $55 pay envelope. I'm satisfied, though. I'm managing to put my two boys through college. The educated fellows get the real money. How much do you make?"

The office man hesitated in some confusion. "Of course, two years in the service held me back some," he admitted, "but in any case I doubt I would be making as much as you do now."

"Is that so?" exclaimed the painter in great concern. "Maybe I made a mistake at that with my boys. I should have learned 'em the trade,"—Wall Street Journal.

American Cutlery in Demand.

The natives of many foreign countries sit down to tables spread with fine American cutlery. During the past year exports of American table cutlery amounted to $2,360,000. In Europe Norway was the best customer of our cutlery industry with purchases totaling $225,000, while such a comparatively small market as Denmark was able to take table cutlery up to the value of $146,000. But the most important markets for United States table cutlery are now found in the two American continents. The biggest purchaser of table cutlery is Brazil, with a total requirement of $524,000 during the last year. It was followed by Argentina with a purchase totaling $289,000, while Chile and Cuba each took far in excess of $100,000 and Mexico was just touching the $100,000 line. This growth of the foreign demand for American table cutlery shows best the great progress that has been made in the manufacture of high-class cutlery in the United States. The table cutlery business of the world was in the past practically the domain of European producers.

Ingenious Saffron Imitation.

A curious and ingenious imitation of Spanish saffron has been brought to light by chemists of the United States Agricultural department in a recent consignment of dyestuffs. Saffron, obtained chiefly from southern Europe, is a yellow dye consisting of the stigmas of the crocus, and, as more than 4,000 flowers are required for an ounce, the material is somewhat expensive. Samples of the suspected importation proved on analysis to be flowers of a common plant resembling the Scotch thistle. These had been colored with red and blue dyes, weighted with saltpeter, borax and glycerine, flavored with something like saffron oil, and crinkled to give a close resemblance to the dried crocus stigmas.

Czar's Carpets for Sale.

Ten Persian carpets that were presented to Czar Alexander I. by the shah of Persia and subsequently were given to the prince of Oldenburg, the father of the present owner, are being offered for sale in London at $2,500. The carpets are said to have been rescued from the Bolsheviks, but nothing is known of how they were brought to England by the prince. Their age is some 150 years.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that I strongly endorse the candidacy of Judge Joe Burkett, of Eastland, Texas, for the Senatorship of the Twenty-Eighth Senatorial District of Texas.

As County Judge of Eastland County and District Judge of the old Forty Second Judicial District of Texas, Judge Burkett at all times stood in favor of a rigid enforcement of every law on the Statute books, and especially concerning the laws against immorality and desecration of the Christian Sabbath. I want to especially endorse his positive stand, for aid for the Rural schools, for a West Texas A. & M. College, and that portion of his platform in which he favors laws to restrict, if not prevent the Immigrant laborers from flocking to Texas and the United States, to compete in the labor market with the American born, American raised and American educated citizens.

Should the people of the Twenty-Eighth Senatorial District send him to the senate, in my opinion, the District will be ably, honestly and efficiently represented.

Very truly,
CYRUS B. FROST,
Ex-County Attorney and Ex-County Judge, Eastland County, Eastland, Texas, May 21, 1921.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It is with pleasure that I endorse the candidacy of Judge Joe Burkett for State Senator from the 28th district. Judge Burkett has been known to me for many years, and he is a man of known integrity, intellectual attainments, strong personality, and in every way especially qualified for such office.

He has, as district Judge for Eastland and other counties, been for the enforcement of all laws, and has at all times advocated those policies of government which, if carried out, will be to the best interest of every class of people alike, and result in economy in the administration of the affairs of our government.

If elected to that office I feel confident that he will be faithful to the trust imposed and true to his constituents, having uppermost in his mind their best interests, and I cheerfully recommend him as worthy and in every way qualified.

Very respectfully,
EARL CONNER, Attorney, Eastland, Texas, May 23, 1921.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have known Judge Joe Burkett something like two years, and practiced before him while he was district judge of the 42nd judicial district of Texas. I was in a position to learn of his qualifications as a judge, and found him to be one of the very best district judges in the State. He possesses a keen intellect for right principles, fairness and justice between his fellowmen.

In my judgment, he is well qualified and fitted for the position of State Senator from this district, and will ably represent the people of the district if elected.

Respectfully,
JNO. D. McRAE, Attorney, Eastland, Texas, May 23, 1921. (Political Advertisement.)

Matching Up Sable Skins.

In the critical eyes of the furrier there is a great deal of difference in skins of animals of the same species. For instance, it takes hundreds of sable skins to make a long wrap, and because the fur on the under side of the animal is always thinner than on top, the sides of the pelts must be tucked and sewn together in many small seams to give the fur a uniform thickness. A fur cloak costing thousands of dollars is entirely the work of experts.

Kindred Likes.

Five-year-old John heard his mother speaking of her favorite colors, white and green. In October.

October 17 (1835)—Some of the oaks are now a deep brown red; others are changed to a light green, which at a little distance, especially in the sunshine, looks like the green of early spring. In some trees, different masses of the foliage show each of these hues. Some of the walnut trees have a yet more delicate green. Others are of a bright sunny yellow. —Nathaniel Hawthorne, "American Note-Book."

WORKING GIRLS HAVE BEST CHANCE OF WEDDED BLISS

Working girls vs. society butterflys as candidates for wifehood have furnished the material for countless lectures, debates and articles but the fundamental reason why the girl who has earned her own living probably will make the most successful life companion for any man is disclosed in the result of an investigation of a number of students of eugenics. As in the case of many other things which have been regarded as a new development due to our different mode of life, the reason has been known for ages. Philosophers long ago wrote that "true happiness comes through service to others" and the reason why the working girl stands the better chance of becoming a happy wife is because service or "giving" has become a matter of habit with her where, with the other girl who has always been given everything, the habit of "taking" only, without making a return, has become so fixed that it is almost impossible for her to meet the difficulties which matrimony entail.

"It is almost trite," reads the report, "to call attention to the fact that matrimony is sacrifice. The truly happy couple is the couple in which the sacrifice made by each is equal, that is that each one gives as much as they take. This balance may vary. A selfish wife may make a happy marriage, but not if she is utterly selfish, for one party to the contract cannot assume the entire load of service with efficient results.

Man Fortunate in Training.

"No matter how selfish a man may be, he has been taught from childhood some sort of respect for women, that is, service has been instilled in him to some slight degree. The girl, however, can become utterly selfish for the code of chivalry requires service from none but the male. Therefore an utterly selfish man is an exception, where the American habit of indulging girls and women tends to produce the utterly selfish wife."

The report advises as a remedy a slight change in the method of rearing children in that the favoritism shown girl children in the allotment of chores be eliminated. The assignment of children to regular routine tasks from the time they are old enough to understand responsibility is advised, and parents are especially warned against blaming the boy in the case of a children's quarrel merely because the other side is taken by a girl. Such a course of letting a girl escape the consequences of her faults, and permitting her to spend her time as she pleases is the one salient reason pointed out for the bulk of the unhappy marriages which occur in the United States.

Miss Norma Falmadge has well exemplified the difference between the woman prospered by work to do her share of the problems of married life and the one who shirks. In "The Woman Gives" which will be the attraction at the Cozy Theatre, beginning Wednesday, this young screen star, takes the part of a young talented girl to whom "giving" is as natural as breathing. The story relates how this virtue of hers proves the making of one man and the saving of another, whom "a woman who takes" has started on the road to ruin.

The picture is one of the most natural that has ever been screened. The characters are true to life and the general moulding of the entire plot through the actions which would naturally be expected makes this production as splendid entertainment as has ever been shown in the theatre.

ARKANSAS FARMER IS IN FINE SHAPE

Bennett's Health Restored by Tanlac Two Years Ago, and He Continues Well and Strong.

"It was two years ago that Tanlac set me right and put me into shape where I gained thirty pounds in weight to this good day," said Oliver P. Bennett, a well-known farmer of Union Township, R. F. D. No. 4, Little Rock, Ark.

"I have been a farmer all my life," he continued, "but two years ago I got so I wasn't able to work and was beginning to think my farming days might be over. My stomach was all out of order and my appetite was well nigh gone. My nerves broke down and I couldn't half sleep. My shoulders and chest hurt something awful, and I got so weak and all run down I was beginning to wonder where it was all going to end. I had been under treatment for two years, but in spite of it all I was growing worse and gradually losing in weight.

"Finally I took a notion that Tanlac might fit my case. Well sir, I never saw the like. I took six bottles and actually gained thirty pounds, as I said, and felt so well and strong I could go out and work from sun up to sun-down. Ever since then I have been feeling fine and I have this good old Tanlac to thank for it all."

JUDGE J. D. BARKER OF CISCO, TEXAS, ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR SENATOR OF THE 28TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

To the Voters of the 28th Senatorial District:

"I take this method of soliciting your support in the coming election on June 4th, at which time the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator John A. Russell will be filled.

To those who do not know me, I will state that I am a native Texan, born in Collin county, forty-four years ago. In 1899 I made my home in Fisher county. For the last three years I have resided in Cisco, Eastland county.

I know the needs of West Texas; know the people of the West—their hopes and aspirations. The time has come when she should demand justice in the solution of her pressing social, economic and industrial problems; when she should demand less of politics and more of plain business and common sense; when she should demand leaders who know her needs and are capable of giving her adequate representation.

MY OPPONENT.

What can West Texas gain by electing my opponent to the office of senator? He is now representative from this district, and has the same opportunity to serve the people in the house as in the senate. He has refused to resign from his present office. Should one man try to hog the offices in the district at one time?

If he should be elected, he would have to resign from the office of representative. The special session is called for July. After June 4th, it will be almost impossible to elect a man to fill such a vacancy and West Texas will be minus a representative during that important session. And God knows she will need every vote she can get at that critical time, when so many issues will arise that will virtually concern her interests.

SOME PROPOSALS FAVORED.
All measures designed to advance the rural free schools and of the entire public school system.

Immediate re-districting of the representative and senatorial districts of Texas.

A well equipped West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, with all political appendages removed.

An amendment to the suspended sentence law, with the aim of restricting its use and preventing its abuse.

Protection of our citizenship from criminality by more rigorous enforcement of the present law, rather than by multiplying the number of laws.

Economy in state government by the elimination of unnecessary officials and by the consolidation of duplicating departments.

In view of the fact that West Texas practically donated the capitol building to the state and built the asylum for the blind, by contributing its fertile prairies, and that she has given thousands of acres to the railroads of the state, at the same time, she has borne an unequal share of the burden of taxation, I THEREFORE FAVOR A MORE UNIFORM TAX LAW THAT WILL RELIEVE WEST TEXAS FROM THE PRESENT UNEQUAL BURDEN.

Immediate and substantial relief for all soldiers wounded or otherwise incapacitated during the World War.

If elected I will concentrate my untiring efforts to the policy of less politics and more business in the administration of government and strive sincerely to forward the interests of the farmer, laborer, stockman and business man, to the end that all classes may have a part in developing the unlimited resources of the West and of our entire state.

Sincerely yours,
J. D. BARKER.

JUDGE BARKER IS ENDORSED BY BAR.

To the Voters of the 28th Senatorial District of Texas:

We, the undersigned attorneys of the Cisco Bar, take this method of expressing our approval and endorsement of the candidacy of Judge J. D. Barker of Cisco, as the logical man to fill the responsible position of state senator of our district. He is an upright and exemplary citizen, a sound lawyer of broad judicial experience, and is a man qualified in every respect to represent the people of West Texas in the senate. Having resided in this district since 1899, he is thoroughly conversant with the industrial and economic problems of the West, and will be a fearless advocate of her legitimate legislative requirements, yet sane and conservative in procuring and presenting those measures which will subserve the demands of our section and of the entire state.

EX-SERVICE MEN CAN NOW GET MEDAL.

All ex-service men have probably heard of the Victory Medal. Every man who served honorably in the U. S. Army at any time between April 6, 1917, and Nov. 11, 1918, and the nearest of kin of those men who were killed or who died while in the service between those dates, is entitled to the Victory Medal.

This is a bronze medal, pendant from a rainbow ribbon, with a miniature statue copied from the Winged Victory of Samothrace on one side, and on the other the inscription, "The Great War for Civilization," together with the names of the various allied nations. For those men who served in France but who did not participate in any battles, there is a clasp on the ribbon with the word "France." There is also a clasp given for each major operation, such as "Aisne-Marne," "St. Mihiel," "Meuse-Argonne," "Defensive Sector," etc.

All that is necessary for an ex-service man to secure his Victory Medal is to mail his discharge certificate, or a true copy thereof, certified to before a notary public or commander of any American Legion post, to Dallas District Victory Medal office, 1514 Main St., Dallas, Texas. Application will be completed at that office. The Victory Medal will be mailed to the applicant within ten days to two weeks after application is submitted. Relatives of deceased soldiers should merely write the Dallas office, stating the soldier's name and organization at the time of his death, and serial number if known. Men should not hesitate about mailing in their discharge certificates, as these will be returned to them by registered mail on the day following that on which they are received by the Dallas office. Utmost care will be taken in handling them.

All ex-service men and relatives of deceased ex-service men are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain the medal to which they are entitled, with the least possible delay.

BUY COAL SUPPLY EARLY

Will coal be cheaper in the fall? Misled by rumors not based on fact, the consumer is delaying his coal purchases in the hope of buying for less later in the season. These rumors are based on the assumption that coal freight rates will be reduced, that the cost of producing coal will be less, and that the coal mines can run to capacity during the summer and pile up vast stores of coal.

Chairman Clark of the Interstate Commerce Commission has informed J. D. A. Morrow, vice-president of the National Coal association at Washington, that no program of general reduction of coal freight rates is before the commission nor does he know of any such proposal which is to come before the commission. All the information the National Coal association has is to the effect that coal consumers must expect to buy their coal this summer and fall on existing basis of coal freight rates from the mines.

The cost of producing coal will not be less, say the operators. They say the present contract with the miners has yet another year to run. It expires in April, 1922. The present wage scale of miners, in other words, will continue another year. Nor have the mines storage capacity great enough to keep the mines running to capacity, if the consumers of coal delay buying till fall. The normal production of coal, according to the association, is about eleven million tons a week. But the demand has fallen off until the production during the last few months has dropped to about seven and one-half million tons a week. The under-production is already more than 45,000,000 tons because of the lack of demand and storage facilities.

A serious coal shortage is indicated in the fall unless retailers and consumers buy and store coal without delay. It is economy to buy coal now. The railroads are in position to move coal from the mines promptly, equipment being plentiful. In the fall crops will be moving to market and coal will have to take its turn.

The wild scramble for coal in 1919 has evidently been forgotten, but it will be repeated in the fall of 1921 unless dealers and consumers arrange for their coal supply without further delay.

To the people of Snyder and Scurry County.

Snyder, Texas, May 28, 21. We have at the solicitation of a number of citizens of Scurry county, equipped a modern sanitary Ice Cream Factory, for the purpose of supplying the dealers and people of the county with a good Ice Cream, and giving the farmers of the county a market for their cream and eggs. We believe that every man woman and child of Snyder and Scurry county should patronize this factory either directly, or by buying only from dealers who use our products, for the simple reason that by buying our ice cream, they are putting money into the pockets of the farmers on whose prosperity depends the prosperity of every citizen of Snyder and Scurry county. If this venture of ours proves a success, we will not only use a large quantity of cream and eggs, but hope later to equip a dairy and ship butter to other sections. If it proves a failure on account of the people failing to insist that only ice cream made from Scurry county cream shall be used in the county, then the people of the county are simply fighting their own interests by sending the money out of the county to make other sections prosperous, instead of keeping their money at home and enjoying some prosperity themselves. People of Scurry county and Snyder patronize only home industries and those who deal in home made products, and keep your money at home where it belongs. Then you will see this section prosper.

Later we will publish a list of dealers who handle Ice Cream, made out of Scurry county Cream and Eggs, made at HOME!

Fishing tackle and camp supplies at Higginbotham Bros. & Co.

Judge Joe Burkett of Cisco was in Snyder yesterday and addressed a fair size audience at the corner of the First State Bank & Trust Co., in behalf of his candidacy for the Senate from this the 28th District. The election will be held June 4th.

Miss Neeley Squyres, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Squyres, and two step brothers of Mr. Squyres, Messrs Wilcox of Goldthwait, went off on a fishing trip Monday and Tuesday to Hood's tank west of Fluvanna and report a good catch.

Honor Roll West Ward.

There is nothing more important in school work than regular attendance and punctuality. This is clearly shown by the excellent records made by the pupils of West Ward School who have made perfect attendance records.

- Realizing that this is but a small reward for them, we wish to have printed the following list of pupils who entered school in September and have neither been absent nor tardy:
- First Grade—Loree Trigg.
- Second Grade—Audra Jenkins, Bobbie Chambers, Robert Curry.
- Fourth Grade—Ben Jenkins, Dewey More.
- Sixth Grade—Ina Davis, Frances Jenkins, Hubert Curry, Gordon May.
- Seventh Grade—Rerman Moor.

Mesdames L. D. Richards and Gene Harwell were joint hostesses to the members of the "42" club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Richards, in the south part of town. Four tables of players were present, Mesdames Rollins and Wm. Richards and John Cobb making high score. Ice tea, sandwiches and pie were served. —Seminole Sentinel.

Artistic Scottish Coins.
The "Bonnet Piece" was the name given to a beautiful coin of pure gold issued under the reign of James V of Scotland, the name being given because the head of the king on the coin was covered with a Scotch bonnet in place of the provincial crown. James was the first sovereign to place dates on coins issued, and coins he approved were exquisitely designed.

Read This to Husband.
"A new effect is to have trousers shirred or platted immediately above the spot where the center crease terminates. This helps to make one's trousers fit better and wrinkle less. If a handkerchief, a wallet or other trifles be carried in the side pockets, thus tending to cause a strain across the waist, the shirring automatically "cons this out."—Beaunash.

Life Getting More Complex.
An Ohio physician declares that the length of a woman's second toe indicates her disposition, and he warns us against women with long ones. What the dickens! Must the fellow who goes courting carry along an X-ray machine?—Boston Transcript.

What Relation is Bureau?
"The whole Crat family," postcards Ted, "consists of Auto, Aristo, Pluto and Demo—the last being the most truly American and the best mixer."—Boston Transcript.

Device Also Blind to Read.
An instrument which enables a blind man to have his favorite novel transformed into a sort of musical box, giving out a different sound for each letter, and thus enabling him to read with ease, has been invented.
