"The fellow who tries to attract business without advertising is like the fellow who throws his sweetheart a silent kiss in the dark. He knows what he is doing, but nobody else does."—William Jennings Bryan.

What has become of the old fashioned man who used to drive to town in a two-horse wagon and return about 9 or 10 o'clock at night?

Ingratitude is a human ailment that is calculated to undermine the affections of the home and the friendship of the community. Silence unthoughtfully indulged in while gratitude should be expressed, is very common among us mortals here below. Gratitude is a gem. It is a heart balm. It would cure the world of many ills if only expressed.

We believe, after a fair investigation, that the condition of the county at this time of the year is an average. Some say they have a better prospect now than at this time last year. Some say their's is not as good, so we think the crop conditions can be easily made an average. It would probably be above an average were it not for the fact that the crop is from ten days to two weeks late.

Have you tried the new 10c package? Dealers now carry both; 10 for 10c, 20 for 20c. It's toasted.

We talk about the greatness of genius, but the greatest thing we know anything about is a man that will boost his country, that will stand by his state, his country and his community; that is willing to go all the way for the community's interest. Truly, he is a genius.

The individual who is out of tune with his surroundings is indeed most miserable. Those so unfortunate to be thus afflicted are to be pitied rather than criticised. It is a disease that takes careful treatment with considerable will power to overcome.

The most pitiful and destructive thing in the world is a knocker. He is down on his country, down on his county and community and is always on the negative side of everything that comes up for the development of the community in which he lives. There ought to be another Ellis Island so that all knockers could be segregated.

Congress has failed to reduce the public payroll as promised. Before the war there were 27,000 employees and now there are 80,000. If they had Governor Pat Neff up there we are inclined to believe it would be reduced.—Snyder Signal.

No doubt Governor Neff would be of some help if he were in Washington, but when men like Congressman Blanton fail it is a hard proposition. Blanton has been fighting these useless offices and has to some degree succeeded, but there is worlds of reforming to do yet. And so long as men imagine that it is patronage that is keeping them in office so long will they want to maintain these offices. These appointments do not amount to as much as the politicians imagine, but they rather like to dish out the pie and feeling that they are keeping up their political fences. You know that it is much easier to hold office when you have little friction. The official who is willing to go up against the opposition will find that if he is right that the people will see that he gets a fair deal, but if he supports a proposition in a half-hearted way, then it is better for him to keep mum and keep handing out the pie. Governor Neff would stand for the right, but he would have a man's job if he were in Washington and tried to discontinue these employees.—Taylor County Times.

Homer Walton says he has a good crop; better prospects than he has ever had.

EVER SEE CAKE WITH 100 CANDLES?

Uncle John Chrisman Had Two Such and One Frosted in Name "Father"

You who failed to attend the century marking birthday of Honorable John H. Chrisman missed a wonderful experience, for it was a rare opportunity not often given to felicitate a man on the day that he reaches such a hale old age possessing the love and respect of so many people as he does.

Uncle John H. Chrisman celebrated his 100th birthday yesterday with an all-day birthday party at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Logan, 117 Harmon Street. A large number of friends called during the day to wish him many happy returns and many relatives and friends enjoyed the sumptuous birthday feast with Cleburne's only septenarian. Five of Mr. Chrisman's sons and their families were present, altogether thirty-six Chrisman relatives. There were three birthday cakes one with 100 pink candles and one with 100 white, and still another with "Father, 100 years," frosted on the top, all made by his daughters. Everything good imaginable, including fried chicken, salads, ice cream, and fruit, made up the dinner, which was served on a long table erected on the lawn for the occasion. Mr. Chrisman met his guests in the yard near the tent in which he lives and which is one of the factors responsible for his years. He was in good spirits and did not appear at all excited over the occasion.

The guests and relatives all signed their names in the guest book and Mr. Chrisman signed his name on the first page, writing with his left hand. Among the guests calling were Uncle Charlie Warren, who is an old friend of Mr. Chrisman and will be 95 years of age on May 31st. Also there was a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and the Confederates composed of H. A. Oliver, Brown Douglas, Rev. G. N. Thomas, and Dr. Osborn, who called on Mr. Chrisman to offer congratulations and present flowers.

The following signed their names in the "guest book": Jno. O. Chrisman, Rush Springs, Okla.; B. F. Chrisman, Snyder; J. C. Chrisman, Gatesville; R. A. Chrisman, Snyder; Clyde Morine Chrisman, Rush Springs, Okla.; Mildred Chrisman, Snyder; Edward and Edwin Chrisman, Snyder; Mrs. Nannie Broaddus, Cleburne; Mrs. R. J. Logan, Cleburne; Mrs. J. O. Chrisman, Rush Springs, Okla.; Mrs. Jennie B. Chrisman, Cleburne; Ben F. Harper, Waco; Catherine Chambers, Waco; Hallie Mae Nichols, Waco; Bessie Earle Gilder, Gatesville; J. C. Chrisman, Jr., Gatesville; Margaret Gilder, Gatesville; Rosella Chrisman, Gatesville; Mrs. J. G. Jones, Ft. Worth; Mrs. J. G. Criner, Cleburne; Mrs. J. E. Lloyd, Cleburne; Mrs. M. Moore, Cleburne; Mrs. Tex Logan, Cleburne; Mrs. J. F. Allen, Cleburne; Mrs. Ida Fleming, Cleburne; Mrs. Ella Taylor, Keene; Bonnie Bess Chrisman, Snyder; Mildred Chrisman, Snyder; Ruby Chrisman, Snyder; Mrs. Winn W. Nichols, Waco; G. B. Logan, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Butler, Corsicana; Judge O. O. Chrisman, Cleburne; W. A. Wells, Cleburne; Anna Chrisman Wells, Cleburne; Elisha Taylor, Keene; A. S. Chrisman, Cleburne; Mrs. Chenault, Cleburne; Mary Evelyn Chenault, Cleburne; Mrs. J. C. Mallet, Cleburne; Mrs. M. F. Duncan, Cleburne; A. Y. Logan, Cleburne; Rev. Geo. N. Thomas, Cleburne; H. A. Oliver, Cleburne; Dr. J. D. Osborn, Cleburne; Brown Douglass, Cleburne; Paul Andrew Allen, Cleburne; Mrs. W. A. Wells, Cleburne; Mrs. J. C. Fisher, Cleburne; Mr. and Mrs. Neal McDonald, Cleburne; John James, Cleburne; Mrs. W. C. Brandon, Cleburne; Mrs. Austin Corbin, Cleburne; Mrs. A. L. House, Cleburne; Mrs. Will Lockett, Cleburne; Chas. R. Warren, Cleburne (aged 94); Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Campbell, Cleburne; Miss Olive Campbell, Cleburne.

Seeing this dear old man, whose hair has been touched with the frost of years, still cheerful and considerate, is a regular benediction and is a lesson to those who are hurrying thru this busy workaday world missing so many of the beauties within touch and the happiness of close communion with family and friends.—Cleburne Enterprise.

B. F. Chrisman of Camp Springs is a son of Uncle John Chrisman, in whose honor the above was given, honoring his 100th birthday. Mr. Chrisman and family attended this reunion.

Miss Rhoda Martin has closed her school at Knapp and will go to Canyon to attend the state normal this summer.

PUTTING YOUR TOWN FIRST

The patriotic citizen is the one who puts his home town ahead of all others.

He trades with his neighbors in spite of the inducements offered by the mail order houses.

He takes pride in the schools and churches.

He tells every prospector that he lives among the best people God ever made.

He boosts each new enterprise that is opened up and always declares that there is room for more.

No man ought to live in a place unless he thought that place was the best location beneath the sun. He reflects on his intelligence when he kicks, because he has full freedom to go where he pleases. Men who are worth something to a community, to society, to civilization, are the ones who have faith in those around them and who find that which is commendable in their town, rather than that to fall out with.

When we visit a city the individual who wins our respect and friendship is the one who begins to tell us about all the good things in that city. The more enthusiastic he becomes the better we like him. But when a fellow begins to knock and talk hard times and to question the honesty of all those around him, we never go back to have another conversation with that fellow.

Hard times come to every community; there are seasons when it takes a stout and hopeful heart to see the sunshine. But there is something so likeable about the citizen who talks of the silver lining to the clouds that he can always have a crowd gathered about him.

Someone has said something similar to this, but we are going to say it, anyway: The man who is an optimist might make his home in the poorest town on earth, but people will make a beaten path to his door to hear him boost it.—Waco News-Tribune.

Pains Were Terrific

Read how Mrs. Albert Gregory, of R. F. D. No. 1, Blufford, Ill., got rid of her ills. "During . . . I was awfully weak . . . My pains were terrific. I thought I would die. The bearing-down pains were actually so severe I could not stand the pressure of my hands on the lower part of my stomach . . . I simply felt as if life was for but a short time. My husband was worried . . . One evening, while reading the Birthday Almanac, he came across a case similar to mine, and went straight for some Cardui for me to try.

TAKE CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

"I took it faithfully and the results were immediate," adds Mrs. Gregory. "I continued to get better, all my ills left me, and I went through . . . with no further trouble. My baby was fat and strong, and myself—thank God—am once more hale and hearty, can walk miles, do my work, though 44 years old, feel like a new person. All I owe to Cardui." For many years Cardui has been found helpful in building up the system when run down by disorders peculiar to women.

Turner School Closes.
 In company with O. L. Morrow on the 5th instant, we headed for the Turner School, 11 miles west of Snyder. We arrived promptly at 11 o'clock and found quite a good crowd had gathered already, however, they continued to arrive in wagons, buggies and automobiles, until some one suggested that there must be at least 150 people besides the men, women and children, be that as it may, there were more than could get into the house, and so many were deprived of the pleasure of witnessing the well arranged program.

After dinner was served, and right here I want to say "That was some dinner too." There was every thing that could tempt the appetite of any body and my, my! There was such an abundance of it. Well after we were all full Miss Mell Thompson, the principal rang the bell and soon the house was crowded to its limit.

Now, to the great surprise and consternation of the trustees, Sam Head was called and the subject given him to speak at once on the golden opportunity of getting an education but Sam had managed to get on the outside of one of those well cooked mutton legs and many other things, in proportion. Sam looked Miss Mell right straight in the face and said "Heh." She repeated the subject. You are to address us right now on the golden opportunity of getting an education. Sam shook his head, and said, "Nothin' doin'; y'ain't talkin' to me," and took his seat, as soon as the cherring was over, Horace Patterson, trustee No. 2, was the next victim. Mr. Patterson will now address us on the "Mysteries of the Milky Way." Now during the dinner exercises Horace had let the belt that girls his equator out the fifth time; he began to try at the little end of that belt, and twist his face and try to tighten that belt, but tug and twist ever so much he could not tighten that belt one little bit. Miss Thompson taking in the embarrassing situation remarked that Mr. Patterson had been to his dinner. Amid laughter and cheers he took his seat, remarking that he knew how to milk but couldn't tell the other fellow the way.

S. W. Light trustee No. 3, knew he was coming next. He began to rub his stomach to stimulate his thinker. The sweat burst forth and rolled down his face. S. W. did not want all the trustees to back down and not make a speech. He looked at me, and rubbed his stomach some more, and when Miss Mell announced his subject that he was to give a baccalaureate oration, it was like a thunder bolt out of a blue sky. The subject astounded him, but he arose equal to the occasion and said he was so blum-full-icated that he didn't know he was on the program. Miss Mell came to his relief by saying, "He had been to his dinner, again amid cheers and laughter he took his seat.

I thought sure my time would be next. You see there were many chickens cooked and on that particular occasion about two of them had taken up lodging in my stomach and each of them was disputing the right of the other to stay there, so they were just going flipity-flop, flipity-flop. If Miss Mell had called on me just then I don't believe I could have given even a decent grunt.

Now to my great relief, the program changed and the children were called on for their readings.

They responded readily and reflected credit, both upon themselves and their teachers. They spoke every word distinctly. While they were reciting you could have heard a pin fall. I tell you it was fine.

Now by this time, the chickens had settled their dispute and as Miss Mell did not give me any subject, but allowed me to select any subject that I knew any thing about, so I selected the subject that I had been practicing all my life, to-wit: that of "Making Mistakes." Now I had to make a speech for Ollie Morrow had indicated that if I did not pay for that silo of grub that he had stored away I would have to foot it back to town so I did the best I could.

Now in conclusion I want to say a word for that thrifty well to do, intelligent community.

They are first, last and all the time for everything that is the best. They are progressive and up to date farmers. They are ever ready to lend a helping hand to anyone, who is in trouble. As to their school, nothing short of the very best teachers will satisfy them. This last school which was taught by Miss Mell Thompson assisted by Miss Elva Lemons, has been a decided success, which was evidenced by the many word boquets that have been thrown at them. The people are a unit in wanting them back to teach another term. The trustees have elected them to teach the ensuing term.

E. C. DODSON.

P. S. Since writing the above a hail storm has just literally wipped out their crops, but watch in a few short weeks, they will be up and have another crop up and growing. Prosperity will not make them bigoted, neither will adversity hold them down.

EVERYBODY SEES A CHANGE IN FATHER

Grateful Son Says His Father Looks Like Different Man Since Taking Tanlac.

"My father has suffered from chronic stomach trouble for over twenty years and has paid out thousands of dollars for medicines and doctors," said G. W. Slayton, a well-known Cobb county farmer, living a short distance out of Atlanta Ga.

"We tried nearly everything trying to cure him and he went off to the Springs, thinking maybe the water might help him but it just looked like nothing would reach his trouble. Then he tried dieting and lived on liquid food until he was almost starved, but even that failed to do him any good and he just kept on going from bad to worse.

"I don't guess there ever was a case as stubborn as his and if there ever was a confirmed dyspeptic, he was one of them and I guess he would have been one yet if it hadn't been for this Tanlac.

"The first we heard of this medicine was when my father saw an advertisement in the papers from parties he knew in Tennessee, who were friends of his and he knew what they said about it was the truth so he got it right away and began taking it. Well, sir, it acted just like magic—everybody notices the change in father—why he is just like a different man and sits down to the table and eats like a farm hand. Only yesterday he ate pork and turnips for his dinner and ate so much we were actually afraid he was going to over-do the thing but he laughed and said nothing hurt him now and that he was hungry and expected to eat and make up for lost time.

"Now, when a medicine will do things like that I think people ought to know about it and I want to say right now that I would not give one bottle of Tanlac for all the other medicines and health resorts in the country put together." 52

Lightning Strikes A. M. Goode Home.

Monday night during the storm lightning played some peculiar pranks at the home of A. M. Goode. Mr. Goode said he was awakened and felt considerably stunned. He remarked to his wife that he saw a ball of fire in the other room. Mrs. Goode had a quilt hung in the next room adjoining the bed room and on entering they found the quilt had practically burned up. Water was carried in buckets and the fire soon extinguished. The wall paper and ceiling were considerably scorched. Mr. Goode says this is the second time his place has been struck by lightning. The other time he was knocked down and lay unconscious for quite a bit.

ECONOMIC IMPROVEMENT IN EUROPE EXPECTED TO AID SITUATION IN UNITED STATES

Washington, June 6.—Evidence of economic improvement in Europe, which has received corroboration in a statement by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, is expected to help the relief of agricultural and industrial depression in the United States.

European countries, according to Hoover, have made progress lately. The repeal of Governmental restrictions on the consumption of food and other articles indicate that Europe is getting back to work and stimulating production. All plans for selling Europe this country's surplus agricultural and industrial products have been predicted on the necessity of extending long credits. With Europe already owing large sums to the United States and continuing in a state of economic and political uncertainty, it was difficult to arrange for further credits.

"The food situation throughout Europe," Hoover said in a statement Monday, "has shown steady progress with each succeeding harvest. At the time of the armistice the civil population of every country was under rigid rationing systems. At present the countries where partial rationing is still carried on are Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Hungary.

"Therefore rationing has been abandoned as to approximately 66 per cent of the total population and in States where it still exists, the rationing has been blamed on certain commodities."

Hoover predicted that with the harvest Europe's economic recovery would have proceeded so far that rationing could be practically abandoned in all countries except possibly Austria. This would mean, he said, that Europe had accomplished her first great fundamental step in recuperation.

Hoover expected Bolshevik Russia from the territory, where, improvement had been registered.

YOU MUST TRAIN TO APPEAR IN MY PLAYS SAYS MIX

"A man must keep fit as a fiddle to do Western pictures," said Tom Mix, William Fox star in the course of a lull in the filming of "The Road Demon", to be shown tomorrow at the Cozy Theatre. The scene was the Ridge Road near Saugus, Calif. The road runs along the very crest of the mountains, affording magnificent views of crags and valleys. The location was used for the staging of the automobile races in which Tom as Hap Higgins, does sensational auto driving.

"If an actor of western character is not in the best of health", continued Tom who was on his favorite subject, "he simply can't stand the 'gaff.' Setting up exercises morning and night, and as much time as possible outdoors in the saddle, canoeing or swimming, are absolutely necessary to keep a man in condition for the stunts required of him in motion pictures.

"Another essential is a daily cold shower. I don't know anything more stimulating after a day of hard work than a shower and rubdown. It gives you renewed energy and ambition.

"A man must be careful about his food too. Our besetting sin is overeating. Most men could reduce their daily amount by one-half and be better for it. I learned, in campaigning in the army, that a man could live on a great deal less food than he ever believed he could.

"Overeating makes a man torpid and slow moving. In this picture, 'The Road Demon,' where I have to pilot a racing car through some ticklish situations, I simply must have a clear head. If I ate too much, particularly meat, I would not be as keen-witted as I should be and my muscles would not act as quickly as they should. Therefore I am very careful about my diet and my daily exercises.

"We waste a lot of time during the day which, if devoted to healthy exercise, would make us much happier and wealthier, because we would be keener. I am not preaching, but I believe we should take care of our bodies even as a farmer takes care of his crops. The more care, the better they are."

The Flip Flapper Could Chatter Like a Chipmunk, Fight Like a Tiger and Dance Like the Devil

A new star has arisen in the film firmament.

She is Gladys Walton, a fair-haired miss discovered by Universal. She is playing in her first star picture this week at the Cozy Theatre, where "Risky Business" is showing.

Stories such as "Risky Business" and "Pink Tights," in which she was recently featured by Universal will set her in a foremost rank of film femininity. She is full of pep, fun and deviltry.

"Risky Business," a story by Douglas Doty and John Colton, shows this young lady as one of those products of the American boarding school and college, the flapper. A distinct type, the particular one who is the heroine of this story is even more distinct than usual. For composite impression of the concentrated fashionable boarding-school girlhood of America see Gladys, a flip flapper, a flip flopper, and a few more things.

In the story she aids a slick society crook to steal her mother's priceless pearl necklace during a lull in a masque ball, of course knowing nothing about it. She admires the crook as an adventuresome chap right after her own heart. As a matter of fact he isn't after her heart at all—he's perfectly satisfied with the pearls and willing to make his getaway with them. Here Gladys steps in, again unwittingly, and makes him take her home after she has jumped off a yacht to keep a polished South American villain from kissing her. Then she finds out the crook's true penchant, and makes him give back the pearls right then and there. It is an amusing story, cleverly played and worth seeing. Tuesday and Wednesday.

Wesley Barry becomes "King of the Newsboys' Trust" in "Dinty" the First National picture produced by Marshall Neilan and which will be shown at the Cozy Theatre tonight. As his able lieutenants, Master Barry is supported in this photoplay by a young Chinaman and a pickaninny.

HOTEL GUESTS IN UPROAR WHEN PAT BATHES PET PIG

Keeping a pig in the parlor may be a common practice in certain parts of the world, but making a guest of live porker in an up-to-date American hotel is admittedly somewhat out of the ordinary.

Pat O'Malley, leading man in "Dinty", Marshal Neilan's new First National release, which will be screened at the Cozy Theatre again tonight, caused a furor recently while stopping at one of San Francisco's leading hostleries when he received a live pig from a fair admirer in Gilroy, Cal.

Pat insisted on keeping the pig in his room, and the management insisted that the porker make his home in the cellar. Pat won out—for a short time for he gave the pig a bath in his hotel room bathtub before the squeals attracted hundreds of guests who demanded that Patty and his pig, especially the pig, be given the air.

For a day the pig lived in the basement, and when the scene for "Dinty" were completed, Pat brought him to Hollywood.

And speaking of pigs, anyone who has a pig that can walk on its hind legs will find a handsome reward and friendship for life from Tom Hild, casting director of Marshall Neilan Productions. Thomas has made ducks walk backwards, dogs climb ladders, and fish shut their eyes, as they floated through the water, but nary a pig has he found that will walk on its hind legs. If someone would kindly tell Tom that a pig is not built that way it would save many a sleepless night for him.

We acknowledge receipt of a nice little box of peaches this week coming from W. S. Reed of Camp Springs. Mr. Reed is an enthusiastic fruit man and has a splendid orchard near Camp Springs. He says that it is not a matter of how much he can dispose of but a matter of how much he can raise.

Mrs. George Eppley has returned from South Texas, where she has been since going down last fall. Geo. says she was glad to get back home, but her joy was nothing to compare with his.

MRS. OLIN F. HARDY IS HOSTESS TO LA COSTURA CLUB

Despite the heavy rains and general inclemency of the weather, the social interests of Amarillo have not been greatly affected as the usual whirl of delightful receptions, dances, bridge parties, and teas is being carried on, and the club women of the city are still gathering to study and play.

The members of La Costura Club met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Olin F. Hardy on 1301 Van Buren street, at 3 o'clock and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent in needle work and social conversation. The guest rooms were prettily decorated with garden flowers and ferns and dainty refreshments were later served to the members and the following club guests: Mesdames Ruth Lloyd, J. E. Parks, Spencer Smith of Rochester, S. E. Fish and Patton. —Amarillo Daily News.

Off and On.

Austin, June 7.—Governor Neff said today in an interview concerning his trip to the prison farm that he asked one old negro how long he had been in the penitentiary. "Oh, I has been in here off and on, in and out for the last thirty years," he replied, according to the governor.

GREAT INTEREST IN BIG NATIONAL ESSAY CONTEST

High School Students Everywhere Strive for Firestone University Scholarship

Various government agencies and national organizations are announcing the 1921 Good Roads and Highway Transport Essay Contest which is open to all pupils of high school grade. The national prize is a four year scholarship in the university or college chosen by the successful contestant, the scholarship being offered by Harvey S. Firestone, well known tire manufacturer of Akron, Ohio and is valued at $4,000, which is sufficient to pay tuition and all expenses at the school.

J. C. Dawson, local dealer, gives further details regarding the contest.

He says the essay must contain no more than 500 words. The subject is "Good Roads and Highway Transport," and all essays must be in the hands of the local committee by June 15. School superintendents will be glad to give prospective contestants all information desired.

"Last year Mr. Firestone's scholarship offer was responded to by nearly a quarter of a million students," says Mr. Dawson, "the prize being won by Miss Katherine Butterfield of Weiser, Idaho. In addition to winning the scholarship, Miss Butterfield was recently paid the high honor of being called to Washington to receive her certificate at the hands of President Warren G. Harding.

"The idea of this contest is to bring before the pupils and their parents and everybody the urgent need for immediate improvement in the national highway system."

STOP—LOOK—LISTEN!

Promiscuous soliciting of funds by supposed representatives of the Salvation Army MUST STOP. Advisory Board members are earnestly urged to be on the lookout for these imposters and to promptly call this office upon the long distance phone; also notify your city officials whenever one is located, and have them either arrested or run out of town. Many counties throughout Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana are daily being imposed upon by unscrupulous men and women whose garb is somewhat similar to that of the Salvation Army and who make an appeal for funds, leaving the impression that the money is going to the Salvation Army.

Very recently in West Texas people calling themselves the "American Salvation Army" imposed on our friends and got money under false pretenses. There is no such organization as the "American Salvation Army." Contribute no money to any one unless they present unquestionable credentials and then only after a searching and careful examination and thoroughly satisfying yourself that such soliciting is not a violation of the Salvation Army's pledge to the American people that it would not promiscuously solicit contributions as long as it was supported with one annual appeal each year, as is now being done. Newspapers all over the territory are earnestly requested to give this full publicity.

WILL TOUR EUROPE

President J. D. and Mrs. Sandefer will leave within the next ten days for New York where, on the 14th of June they will board the Aquitania for a visit to England and Europe. They will be accompanied by Charlie Taylor, the evangelist, and his brother, Laurie. They are to spend two weeks in England and then go to Scotland, Ireland, Wales and Paris, where they will spend a few days looking over the battlefields. From there they will go to Italy and spend some time; then to Switzerland and perhaps Germany. President and Mrs. Sandefer will return in time for the opening term at Simmons College in September.—Taylor County Times.

WATCH FOR THIS FELLOW

During the past two weeks, one of the most devastating of the many pests with which the raisers of plants have to contend, has been emerging from its cocoon and industriously laying eggs from which caterpillars will soon begin hatching.

This pest goes by the common name of the "eight spotted forester" and is easily recognized. It is a medium sized moth, black in color with two yellow spots on each of its four wings.

It does a vast amount of damage to vines and shrubs and seems particularly fond of the woodbine, often denuding it of every bit of its foliage.

If everyone would make it a point to kill every adult moth of this species that is seen, the number of these voracious worms could be materially reduced.

During the month of June, thousands of moths, very many of which Herman Wenetschlaeger and his brother, Paul, were in town Monday, from Hermligh. Herman renewed for the Signal while here. He said their chops were good, cotton up six inches high and good stand.

UTAH'S LOFTY MOUNTAINS

Utah has many lofty mountain peaks. Six of them rise more than 13,000 feet above sea level and nearly sixty rise 12,000 feet, according to the United States Geological Survey. The highest mountain in the state is Kings Peak, which has an elevation of 13,498 feet. Mount Emmons and Gilbert Peak, both in Utah, are also high mountains, reaching elevations of 13,428 and 13,422 feet, respectively.
