Shall Our Band Go To Brownwood

The time is here when we must make a decision as to whether we are going to send our band to Brownwood to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting. The band, while a young organization, has made sufficient progress that it would be a shame not to have them at Brownwood at the big contest that takes place there during the convention. It will cost a few hundred dollars to give the boys this trip, but they certainly deserve same, and it would encourage them in future work.
At the concert given on the square Tuesday night this question of sending the boys to Brownwood was put up to the crowd of several hundred citizens assembled, by Rev. Jameson, and hearty applause which greeted him in suggesting the Brownwood trip was proof that the Snyder people are in favor of sending the boys on this trip.
Uniforms have been ordered for the boys and they will be here in time for the Brownwood trip. There ought to be several hundred citizens to accompany the band and lend them encouragement. Mr. Faifer, the band instructor, has done some wonderful work with this band the past few months, and he has gotten them up in fine shape where they render creditable music.

AN OLD BACHELOR

School Auditorium, Snyder.
"An Old Bachelor" is a successful New York play in four acts, interesting and brimful of delightful comedy. Evan Harries gives an artistic finished portrayal of David Holmes, the old bachelor. David Holmes leaves his rich father's home to work and live among the poor. His father inherits him. David meets a Mr. Summers. They form a great friendship. They work together to help the poor. Mr. Summers is taken sick and dies, and he leaves his little daughter Sylvia in David's care. David places her with an old maid in the country. She remains with Miss Clementina until she is 18 years old, when she decides to visit her guardian, David Holmes. Things move along quickly with many comical situations and now and then a tear. David Holmes, Evan Harries; Gerald Holmes, A. W. Waterman; Mertin, J. A. Sallings; Harold Reynolds, Herbert Bannister; Mr. Mulberry, W. R. Bell; Lewis Savage, Morris Brownfield; Helen Lagrande, Mrs. H. W. Waterman; Miss Clementina, Miss Merle Hord; Harriett Lester, Miss Maxine Whitmore; Sylvia, Miss Ruby Sparks. Principal J. P. Wagner,
Arcadia High School,
Arcadia, La.

Dear Mr. Wagner:
This letter will introduce to you Mr. Evan Harries. Mr. Harries is a high-toned gentleman and an actor of unusual talent. He came to us highly recommended by Principal Denman of Minden. We have found Mr. Harries to be all that Mr. Denman recommended him to be.
Mr. Harries has been in Homer for nearly a month. His mission here was to put on "The Old Bachelor" for the benefit of our school piano, that is to help us pay for it. We gave two performances. The play made a decided hit, and the school auditorium was packed to the point of overflowing. All seem delighted with the play.
Mr. Harries has made many friends here. He is popular with both the children and the citizens of the town.

I am sure that you will find Mr. Harries to be a splendid gentleman, and a very fine actor.

OUR RESURRECTION

"He is not here; for He is risen as He said. Come see the place where the Lord lay."

One beautiful Easter morn when the sun began to unbar the portals lights, sending its rays through the rifted morning clouds, then a beam cast athwart the deep ether blue and into our eastern window kissed our eyes ope to a new born day, brought us from a sweet unconscious slumber to a consciousness that the night was past and the day had come. I looked toward the morning land of America and saw radiant clouds of crimson and purple and gray, and yellow with long stretches of gold with a background of deep blue sky.
The roseate morn advanced with all its beauty and radiance and glory and grandeur and sublimity deigning to challenge the feeble art of feeble minded man by tongue or pen or brush to compete with such elysian realms of translucent beauty. Then I thought of the lilly of the valley and the rose of sharon the fairest among ten thousand and altogether lovely: Christ the Risen Lord. I thought of the winter season, the long dead night of the year, which was past, and the dead and inanimate seed in the ground and slumbering rose, and the leafless tree. The winter was past. The refreshing showers had moistened the earth and the sun had given warmth to slumbering nature and kissed to life the budding flower and the green leaf and the blade of grass. The resurrected spring time had burst into life and was robed in her bridal ornament of green. Oh! How emblematic of the resurrected Lord, and how it prefigures the future resurrection of His followers. I am now thinking of the resurrection morn which is coming to every Christian. I hope how soon, "Blessed are they who love His appearance."

I don't know when the resurrection day will come but it will come when Jesus comes to claim His own. When He comes the dead in Christ shall rise first and the Christians who are alive at that time shall be caught up to meet Him in the air.

That day is coming and, oh, what an eventful day it will be. He will come as He went away, in a cloud. In my mind I can see Him accompanied with teeming millions of angels, and redeemed spirits to be reunited with that body which had been sown in corruption, but now what a difference. It is raised an incorruptible body fashioned after perfection.

Dear reader, bear with me while in ecstasy I write of the host of angels on the Judea hills proclaimed the glad tidings to the shepherds that a babe was born in Bethlehem of Judea and His name shall be called Jesus for He shall save His people. In like manner as the angels proclaimed His first coming so one day, I know not when, but this earth will be circled with a band of angels proclaiming the glad tidings of the second coming of the Lord and of the resurrection of the dead in Christ. Then I see all at once, as He appears in the cloud, with His teeming millions of the redeemed of every age and nation and clime from new born time to that wonderful and eventful resurrection day. Now I hear the voice of the Son of God like as he said to Lazarus, "Come forth," and the dead in their graves hear that voice and the gates of hell no longer hold their dead but are burst asunder and the long, long night is past, and the new born age is here. The Bridegroom has come His bride to claim. Then I see his bride, the Church, clothed in garments white, mount up to meet Him in the air, and as angels witness the scene the Bridegroom and the bride are made one and one. Then I hear the glad shout of victory over death, hell and the grave. Now leaving the saints in rapture, the paradise of God, I close for this time, and with the permission of the editor for space and with the will of my Father, I will write on the importance and proof of the resurrection for the next issue.

Snyder Community Observes Easter Sunday

Last Sunday was a big day locally for Snyder. The Commandery observed the occasion of Easter with services at the B. church, where an appropriate dress was delivered and special prepared music was rendered. Knight J. B. Fick of Abilene delivered the Easter address. The address was a master effort on the theme of the resurrection of Lord and Master. He also extolled the virtues of Knight Commandery and traced the course of this wonderful organization from its inception. The music was specially pleasing, which consisted of numbers rendered by the best singers of the town.

Following the services at the church Sir Knights and their families repaired to the Masonic Hall where luncheon was served. Plates were laid for more than 150 Knights and their ladies. The repast was sumptuous and befitting the occasion of the hour and appetites.

In the line of march to the church there were 83 Sir Knights in uniform, which represented attendance from Abilene, Sweetwater, Colorado, Rotan and other points. The line of march presented a brilliant display of Uniform Knights where their white plumes waving in the gentle western breezes. IT'S SEX APPEAL

We picked up one of our exchanges on the back page of there was an illustration of a woman with her back to the camera and her legs naked clear up to her waist. The legs were a model shape and set the stockings off to advantage, but the most commanding feature was the naked legs—female legs. And then we wonder, "what makes the wild cat wild," or in other words, why so much loose living. It can be answered in a few words—"Sex Appeal." This is just an illustration of where America has drifted—appeal of corrupt minds and morals. The dress of women, the picture models and every item suggest an appeal to the passion of men and women. There will be no turning back to public morals until there is a turning away from this sex appeal business. There ought to be a Federal law to regulate the indecent display of women's limbs and bodies in cuts used in advertising. There is no use preaching morals to the people when they are fed up on this class of passion-appealing stuff. Added to the picture business we find sex appeal in song and literature, in fact it's dished up to us on every occasion, in every conceivable manner and place.

There is no way to escape the conclusion—this sex appeal is damning the morals of the American people. Men are just human beings, created with passion, and if the custom of sex appeal is to continue we may not expect to see much improvement in our morals. If women are to continue to dress and expose their bodies, if a vulgar display of sex appealing pictures, song and literature are to continue men and women will continue to live immoral lives. God save the Anglo-Saxon race from its mad folly.

Governor Pat M. Neff is touring Texas in a speaking tour. He is urging that the Texas delegation to the National Democratic convention be sent uninstructed. He says that he is to judge from the tenor of the people that they are opposed to an instructed delegation. Governor Neff is also opposing William McAdoo. He says there are twenty in the party of Presidential timber. We are with Neff on his stand, for an uninstructed delegation and also in his opposition to William McAdoo. The Governor says that William McAdoo has made himself unavailable as a presidential candidate by accepting a fee from the chief of the bribe givers and corrupters. He does not question McAdoo's right to accept a fee as a lawyer, but as a presidential candidate never. The Times would gladly accept Mr. Neff himself rather than support McAdoo. Neff would not be a bad choice, if it was not for the fact that he hales too far south of the Mason-Dixon line. We could hardly expect to elect a Texas man President of the United States.

ant that we study all four of these points, and by intelligent application of same we will see agriculture take its rightful place in our industrial organization, and keep pace for the ever-increasing demand for products of the farm.

Lamesa has as many peddlers as any town in the west if she has nothing else. All kinds of grafters float in. Well this goes with a live town. The failures of other places think they can come out west and work a sucker crop but they have failed to find a very large crop out this way. Most of us have been vaccinated and it took.—Lamesa Reporter.

The peddler, the grafter and the get-rich-quick expert selects communities that are prosperous. The best index of a section's prosperity is the number of peddlers, tent shows, and what not that visits a community. A man that has something to sell never goes to a dead community. He selects live, wide-awake towns to peddle his wares. Good cotton crops are always followed by the peddler, more cotton more peddlers visit you. We are having our share and they usually find the picking good.

Lamesa, has a newspaper called the Reporter, which is edited by a man named Smith. This Smith seems to be a chip off the editorial block. When Smith of the Lamesa Reporter speaks he calls things by their true name. He speaks in a straight line and lets the chips fall where they may. In mentioning social conditions of his section here is a sample of the Lamesa Smith's editorial expressions: "We are sorry to have to say it but did you know that men are all nearly human being? Do you know that the Almighty made the man to desire the woman and the woman to desire the man? Yes, you know that. Now what do you think the effect is on a man when you see a woman undressed half way down to her waist? What do you think the effect of flesh colored stockings and short skirts are on a man? Do you think a live man can see a woman with pretty lower limbs and flesh colored stockings and not notice them? Don't the women know this? Here is a serious matter. The manner of a ladies dress has much to do with the street talk. If some of our good women could stand quietly on a street corner and hear the remarks that these styles produce they would change the style. We know they would."

A call has been issued for the organization of a Historical Society for West Texas. The call was made by J. M. Radford and others. The move embraces a splendid idea. West Texas is rich in historical data that only needs to be compiled and preserved for future generations. In a few more years all our old timers shall have passed away and if a history of the West is to be written it should be undertaken while they are living.

WE CELEBRATED A RISEN LORD

Last Sunday was Easter—an occasion in which the Christian nations of the world celebrated the risen Lord. Easter has become more important than Christmas. The fact of the Lord's resurrection is more fundamental to the world of mankind than his birth. Had he not risen his birth and advent into the world would have been in vain. Had he not burst asunder the bars of death and brought life and immorality to light through the Gospel would of all men be most miserable today. The greatest event in the world's history is the resurrection of Christ into the lard—when He went down into the valley and shadow of death and returned to teach man of a certainty that there was life beyond the grave.

For centuries the human race had groped its way in darkness, and the question of the resurrection was a mystery. Away back yonder Job asked the question: "If a man die shall he live again." To Job the question of the resurrection was a modest one. No man knew as an absolute certainty what lay beyond the milky way, until the Lord—King of Kings and Host of Hosts—pried back the mystic curtains of Eternity and gave man a glimpse into the unknown. Throughout countless ages men lived and died without the Christian's hope of Eternity. For ages they came and went, lay down in death's silent sleep without the knowledge of the resurrection. But when Christ came all doubt was cleared up. All the mystery of the immortality of the soul was removed, and man was given a perfect assurance of what lies beyond the grave. Thus to us Easter is an important occasion, and worthy of celebration. The foundation of inspiration as recorded in the Bible hinges around the resurrection. Without it the Bible would prove of no avail to man. With our faith being rooted and grounded in the resurrection Christianity and civilization would long ago have perished from the face of the earth.

The Sweetwater Reporter says that Grandma has gone and bobbed her hair, and that Grandpa will put on rompers. It is real amusing to see people are endeavoring to camouflage their age and cheat Father Time out of his just deserts. The human race seems to be bent on the proposition of being young again. Men have hunted for the fountain of youth ever since the days of Adam, and now giving up their search in failure they have resorted to kidding themselves into the notion that they are young again. No matter how many mamas and grandmas bob their hair, old age is here to stay. We can't cheat Father Time—he is on the job with his crow-foot mark.

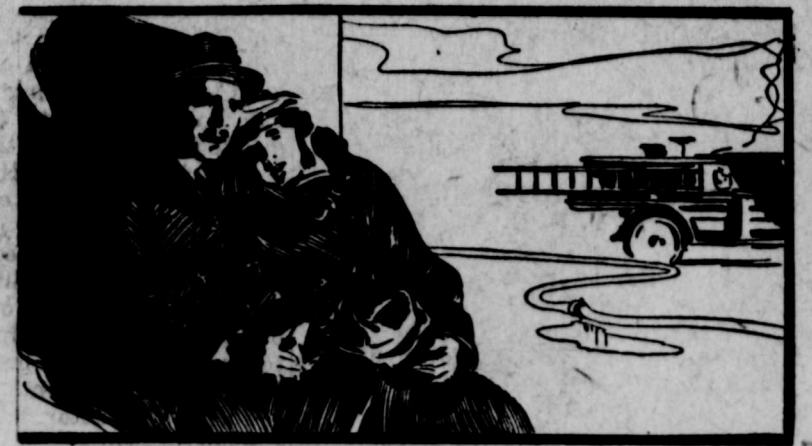

ings. Then we wonder what's the matter with our young people, and why they are going a reckless game. Grandpa and Grandma are getting the examples along with our mamas and papas. No wonder we are raising a race of flappers when our mummies bob their hair, rouge their lips until pa has the colic from puffing absorption. Let the race move on, and after the bobbed hair craze has spent itself, let the women turn to shaving their heads and faces. We are going some.

Governor Al Smith is actively in the race for the Democratic nomination for presidency. He is what is termed a wet candidate. He wants light wine and beer. New York is instructed for him and also Wisconsin. The solid South and the prohibition influence throughout the United States will oppose Governor Smith in his aspirations.

A woman in New York is suing for divorce on grounds that seem to justify her course. She alleges in her petition that her husband for four years took her to the picture show one time, and only allowed her to say "yes and no" in the home. When a woman's speech has been curtailed divorce ought to follow. In this age of free speech a woman ought not to have her vocabulary limited to three words. Women as a rule talk a great deal more than three words at a time, and to place restrictions upon her, and to place nature would be worse than banishment from the face of men. Let this New York woman have her divorce and allow her to use her tongue as becoming her sex.

KANSAS BANKER TELLS HOW HE WON FIGHT

Prominent Man Gives Tanlac Credit For Helping Him Win Battle With Stomach Trouble.

"That I am so strong, active and full of energy at seventy-six I can attribute only to the help I have received from Tanlac. It has won my stamp of approval, I give it my unqualified endorsement."

The above statement was made, recently, by M. Nightser, a retired banker and farmer, of Sedgwick, Kans. Mr. Nightser was the first president of the Farmers State Bank of this place, and is still a director. He has lived in this section for a half century and enjoys the respect and esteem of all who know him. Speaking further of his experience with Tanlac, Mr. Nightser said:

"Before taking Tanlac I had been trying everything for three years in my efforts to get rid of stomach trouble, but just kept on getting worse and worse. My digestion seemed wrecked and I would suffer pain and misery for two or three hours after a meal. This indigestion also made breathing difficult, and I had no appetite. Again, a spell of Flu a few years ago, left me with such a weakness in my legs that I could hardly get about.

"I began taking Tanlac in October, 1922, and in a few weeks time my friends were stopping me on the streets to tell me how well I was looking. Tanlac had done what my wife and myself both thought impossible, uprooted all my troubles and built me up to all round good health. I consider that each bottle of Tanlac I took did me all of a thousand dollars worth of good.

"I still take Tanlac now and then as a tonic and I couldn't ask for better health and strength than I now enjoy. My appetite and digestion never fail me, I sleep fine and haven't an ailment to complain of. Tanlac will certainly stop a lot of needless suffering if it only has a chance."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

COMMISSIONERS BUILDING GOOD ROADS

The Commissioners Court is building more good roads in this commissioners precinct, or No. 1. One grading outfit is now at work on the Snyder-Clairemont road north, which will be continued to the county line. The Ennis Creek road will be put up in shape also. In two or three weeks the grading will start on the Camp Springs-Snyder road running east. The new road just opened up running east from the cemetery four and a half miles will be graded at the same time also.

By the latter part of this week or the first of next two road outfits will be in this commissioners precinct to assist in road work. This will be the additional outfit from Precinct 4.

When these roads have been put up we are going to have some jam-up good highways in a section of the county badly needed. We already have many miles of good highways in this as well as other commissioners precincts. Our Commissioners court is strong on good roads and are building a class of roads that are first-class in every way and that will stand up. The greatest asset to any county is good roads and highways. This is an age of good roads made necessary in the main by automobile travel. Various counties have various ways to build their roads. Some build them by bond issue and some build them by direct and special tax. The Times prefers the direct, pay as you go tax plan as far as possible. Bond issues become necessary at times in building permanent hard surfaced highways, but if the people would be patient after all the direct tax plan would be the best, especially in sections where roads are easy to build and maintain. It is more necessary to build roads by bond issues in certain sections than others, owing to the extreme heavy cost of building. At any rate the Times is very glad to see carried on in Scurry county such a healthy program of road building of a temporary nature.

Mr. Jean is running for re-election, and as public weigher he has served the people of his precinct faithfully and with entire satisfaction. He has resided at Pyron some 17 years and is quite well and favorably known in his section. He is very capable and if chosen to succeed himself the farmers can rest assured that he will render them further impartial and fair service.

The Times-Signal takes pleasure in presenting his name and trust that it will be given a very careful consideration at the polls in the coming July primary contest.

ARE WE GOING TO PAVE THE SQUARE?

The above is an inquiry that is important to Snyder and all her people. The necessity of paving the square and main streets is apparent, and to delay longer is to set our town back farther in the onward march of progress. Snyder is amply able to undertake this paving program, and the benefits derived from same in convenience of travel and the riddance of the dust nuisance is undisputed.

We understand that the city council which has proven itself to be progressive and wide-awake in every particular have the paving program under advisement, and are desirous of putting it over, provided the people want same. In our mind there is no question but what the people want the paving done, and will back the council in any plan it might adopt. There are two ways to pave—one by bond issue and one by issuing warrants on the city. The warrant route is being adopted generally over the country as the quickest and best method of municipal improvement. The warrants are the cheapest in the long run. They are non-interest bearing, and do not have the red tape connected with them as do the bond issues.

Whatever route might be adopted to do the paving would meet, we are quite sure, with the endorsement of the people. After towns people once see the advantage of paving they would not do without same. After paving starts it continues to grow in popularity and number of blocks laid.

Snyder as a city will never become important and take its place alongside of the thoroughly going cities of West Texas until it paves its square and main streets. The immediate program in Snyder in nature of paving should be the public square, then to the Santa Fe north, thence east to the R. S. & P. station, thence two blocks each way from the square. This amount of paving would give us the most attractive town in all West Texas. Building activity would increase and it would not be but a short time until you would see a good hotel built in Snyder, more and better brick business houses, etc. Paving adds to permanency and confidence in the life of a town. It adds 75 per cent to the improved looks of the town.

Then why not get this paving under way at once and have something doing this summer in way of public improvement. We must do this paving sooner or later and the sooner the better. The paving will get rid of the dust around the square and will save the merchants each year its cost in damaged merchandise and expense of street sprinkling. Yes, by all means, let's begin the paving at once, or take immediate steps toward that end.

NURSES AND SCHOOL GIRLS TO BE GIVEN PRACTICAL COURSES

Another step in the advancement of Lubbock's public educational system will be taken in the near future when students of the local high school will receive training in practical nursing and health work in exchange for the teaching of the apprentice nurses of city hospitals being schooled in food and chemistry studies, it was given out here this week by Superintendent M. M. Dupre.

A graduate nurse, a member of the staff of one of the hospitals here, will give the girl students the rudiments of health and nursing in exchange for scientific training in chemistry and food preparation in the laboratories of the high school here. The plan is in working in several other cities over the state, Lubbock being the seventh city to take up the scheme which is mutually beneficial to all parties.

Just when the system will be installed has not yet been decided but hospital and school authorities alike believe that it is a good step and will be continued in the future if found to be practical.—Plains Journal.

NATIONAL TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION IN ATLANTA

AUSTIN, Texas, April 21.—Unusual interest in the Twentieth Annual Meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association to be held in Atlanta, Ga., May 6 to 10, is excited by the announcement of the National Tuberculosis Association that the death rate from tuberculosis in Georgia is below 90 per 100,000. Georgia is the first southern state to achieve this distinction.

According to United States census figures for 1922, the tuberculosis death rate from Georgia is 88 per 100,000. This compares favorably with the rates of such states as Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Maine, New Hampshire, New York and Massachusetts. Among the states that have lower rates are Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon.

Most of the southern states have a rate of over 100. That of Virginia is 130, North Carolina 103, Kentucky 133, Tennessee 148, South Carolina 110, Mississippi 107, Florida 101, Louisiana 110. Figures for West Virginia, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma are not available since these states are not in the registration area.

The health authorities of Georgia are planning to use the occasion of the Twentieth Annual Meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association in Atlanta as an opportunity to get information and inspiration for a further reduction in the death rate both among white and colored. Speakers of prominence in every phase of tuberculosis work will address the gathering and offer suggestions along these lines.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Some time in the early summer there will be a call sent out for a meeting of newspaper men of Central West Texas for the purpose of organizing a Central West Texas Press Association. The call will be signed by the writer and W. S. Cooper of the Colorado Record and perhaps Editor Shutt of the Sweetwater Reporter, Frank Grimes of the Abilene Reporter and perhaps other prominent newspaper men of this section. We contemplate a territory including the Pecos country, down the T. & P. to Ranger, from Post to Sweetwater, Roby, Rotan, Anson, Stamford, Albany and such other towns within a radius of 150 miles of Sweetwater. Angelo is invited, and all the territory in that section. The Times editor has had this in mind for some time and we are anxious to see an organization of this kind promoted. We can organize a big association of newspaper men and women who are not affiliated or close to any organization of this kind. We want to hear from the newspapers of this section on the matter. What do you think of a Press Association for this section under the caprock along territory lines suggested? Let's get together two days this summer for a business and social meeting.—Scurry County Times-Signal (Snyder).

The suggestion of the Times-Signal editor seems to be a good one. How-

CALIFORNIA COMPANY LOCATES 2 NEW TESTS

COLORADO, April 19.—The California Company made locations for two additional tests on its A. L. Miller lease this week. Cellars are being dug and rig materials moved to locations from the company's supply yard at Westbrook.

The Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation is making good progress on construction of its refining plant at Colorado. The pump house is complete and concrete foundations for boilers and stills are in place. Nineteen cars of equipment for the plant, pumping station and storage farms, and pipe line connecting refinery with oil field arrived this week.

Morrison 1-A of the California Company, the deep test is drilling at 4,509 feet in grey lime. Morrison No. 7 and Morrison No. 5 were connected up with pump during the week and are making 80 barrels each. Morrison No. 4 is swabbing at 3,050 feet. Butler No. 1 is standing cemented at 2,821 feet. Abrams No. 1 is drilling by bailer at 2,528 feet. Abrams No. 4 is cleaning out at 3,111 feet. Abrams No. 5 is swabbing at 3,105 feet. LeSure No. 2 is swabbing at 3,090 feet.

WHERE BAD BOYS?

Bad boys are thin, Cat-in-the-hat grounds are fewest, Cincinnati is the case in Cincinnati. A survey of every war shows the juvenile delinquency is highest where public parks lack.

Court records show the case, covering a period of years, delinquency was more than 67 per cent after the playground in that neighborhood.

Such evidence as this prove that money expended on grounds will make many the original investment, so helps not only to prevent wrong, but also to create a better of citizens.—Health Round-Up ever, how the other brethren are going to take to it, remains to be seen. There is need of a Central West Texas Press Association if for no other reason, than the getting together of the brethren and discussion of the many and varied problems of the "game." There ought to be especially an organization of the daily papers of this section, although, of course, there is no reason to bar the weeklies.—Abilene Reporter.

Of course, there is no reason to bar the weeklies from the proposed press association. In fact, the weekly newspapers are starting the campaign to perfect organization of newspaper men in Central West Texas. Then, again, there are not enough dailies published in the territory as to adequately support an organization alone. The newspaper men of Central West Texas, whether he be on the daily or weekly, has a mutual task at heart—that of doing their part well in the development of this section, and there certainly should be no lines drawn when the membership roster of the Central West Texas Press Association is compiled.—Colorado Record.

INFORMALITY REASON FOR SUCCESS RADIO PROGRAM

Upon being asked to state why the regular Night Hawks' program of the Kansas City Star is regarded as the most successful of its kind in America, the "Merry Old Chief" of the Night Hawks answered, "Because of the absolute informality of this program, and because there is something doing every second from the time we tune in until we sign off."

The Night Hawks "take the air" at 11:45 every evening. Their program lasts until one o'clock in the morning. At this time no other programs are broadcast in the vicinity of Kansas City and the air is clear.

From the time of tuning in until the very last moment, the "Merry Old Chief" keeps up a rapid fire of comment, which it is impossible to describe. Those of you who have heard him know of the artistry of his work. This accounts in great measure for his popularity.

There is no question but that every person in America who has heard the Night Hawk program and the "Merry Old Chief" will be mighty anxious to see the picture.

occasion when a man must be mighty good to his wife and make as few requests of her time and attention as possible. It is a time when temper of wives and religion of husbands are sorely tried. If a man wants quiet around home during sandstorms and after and during cleaning up periods following same he wants to be real good.

But seriously speaking, West Texas is all right if the soil does drift occasionally. Some of us who have been living in West Texas for a hundred years or more have never gotten used to sand storms. We have learned thoroughly long ago that "What can't be cured must be endured." Nature has given us sand storms along with other advantages and disadvantages of this wonderful section. Sandstorms come and sandstorms go, and people go right along being happy and prospering out here where the sun touches the rim of the West. SERIES MEETINGS CHRISTIAN CHURCH COME TO CLOSE

The series of meetings at the First Christian Church conducted by Pastor I. J. Sparks came to a close last Sunday night. The meeting was very successful in many ways, both as a spiritual up-lift to the church and number added by confession and baptism, reclamation and by letter. Six were baptized Sunday afternoon, two reclaimed and one united by letter.

FLUVANNA METHODIST

We are taking on new life, on every side may be seen the returning life. As nature brings new life to the leaf and flower and the renewal of their strength, just so spring has brought new life to our church.

Sickness and weather conditions have been anything but favorable, but with opening of spring we expect to see every line of the church work taking on new life.

Easter Sunday was a great day with us. Sunday School was well attended, after which Bro. Moore brought us a great message on "Resurrection." It was great in that it was simple and practical. Bro. Moore caught the folk's attention from the beginning and their interest increased to the close. Services that night were well attended and the subject "How can these things be," was well handled.

Bro. and Sister Moore are a splendid help to the church. They work with and for the people. As the years go by we are brought to a higher appreciation of our pastor and his wife.

BANKING PUBLICITY

This paper has long maintained that advertising for banks is as important to them as it is to any other business. The correctness of this view seems to be established in the advertising campaign now being formulated by Texas bankers in an effort to bring about a better relationship between our farmers and our banking institutions.

We know of no movement inaugurated by the bankers of Texas, within their history, that will have such far-reaching effect as this campaign.

There is no disposition among banks not to advertise, but it seems that their efforts have not been concerted.

The messages to be run in this campaign will surely give a better understanding of the banks' functions, their true relations to the community, and will give a clearer idea of their usefulness in the promotion of better agricultural conditions, as well as a more orderly marketing of crops.

Finally this method of advertising will coordinate and strengthen all local advertising done by the banks.

Mrs. J. Q. Boren and family of Camp Springs were in town Tuesday doing some shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Rea of Fluvanna were in town Tuesday doing some trading with our merchants.

SANS SOUCI CLUB

The last two meetings of the Sans Souci Club have been both entertaining and profitable.

Misses Cecil Strayhorn, Zedie Runkles, and Merle Hord were hostesses at Miss Strayhorn's home. After a merry evening of progressive games a delicious plate luncheon was served. The club was very glad to have Miss Mertie Akers with them again, after a severe illness. Miss Akers thanked the girls for the flowers and the visits she had received from the club during her illness.

Mrs. J. E. Sentell entertained delightfully in her new home, assisted by Mrs. Leonard L. Petty and Miss Lucille Strayhorn. The evening was spent in playing Mah Jong and other games, after which dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Petty thanked the club for wedding gift presented to her recently. The secretary was authorized to prepare a report to be sent to the District Meeting of Federated Clubs at Lubbock. This will include a report of the civic work the Sans Souci Club has done during the year. Election of officers will be held at the next meeting. —Reporter.

his production up with the others, or higher. If he did not modernize his plant, his competitors would undersell him and force him into bankruptcy.

The farmer should think in exactly such terms regarding his food-factory and his equipment. He should check over his farming investment and drop every old method and every old machine as soon as he has evidence that he could save or make more money with a newer method or an improved machine. He should learn, as every successful manufacturer has learned, that the value of a piece of equipment should never be measured by its price but by what it will do for him—by what it will earn and save and make. If he has reason to believe that new equipment costing $100 would save or make him an extra $100 or more in a season or two, he cannot afford to do without that equipment.

Help the Farms to Earn More.

Greater profit on the farms can be made possible through careful planning and management, diversification, seed testing, fertilization, saving of labor and time, and increased yield. Farm equipment is the big factor concerned in each of these details. It made agriculture great, it will make agriculture still greater.

The man who must still be weaned from the primitive methods of fifty years ago is hopelessly out of the running in the march of progressive farming. His case is considered here only incidentally. The examples we cite deal more with newer, better machine methods over older machine methods. They emphasize 1924 over 1910 or 1900. They deal with equipment which, through long service and the passing of time, may have gone gradually out of date or grown inefficient.—National Association Farm Equipment Manufacturers.

It will be the big gala occasion of the college year, lasting two days and will include a two-ring circus, rodeo, and side-shows, and one evening given over to the annual festival of the crowning of the college queen. This year's queen, Miss Evelyn Andrews of Abilene, will reign over the college carnival, which will feature in all events students of the school.

G. E. Jordan Jr., of Greenville, with his two assistants, Theron Funk, of Bridgeport, and Baker Cummings of Delphos, New Mexico, were named recently by the students assembly to manage the event, and these managers are making extensive plans for an unusual celebration. A down-town parade in which prizes will be offered for the best cars and floats will be staged in connection with the "sirkus" which will be held in carnival style on Parramore Field, the college athletic grounds.

The first "kollege sirkus" was put over by Simmons students in 1917; movies were made of the event. These old films were brought to light recently and exhibited at the college with much interest around the former students and customs. An attempt will be made to have this "sirkus" filmed also. The second of the college events was held in 1921.

EVERY FARM NEEDS SOME

The continued use of worn-out and out-of-date equipment is costing the farmers of the United States millions of dollars annually. Carefully prepared statistics show that many farmers are paying, over and over again, for improved equipment they do not own. The United States Department of Agriculture says that over-repaired, inefficient machines and implements are losing their value faster than the cost of new equipment. The time in preparing seed, cultivating, and harvesting is being lost. Mark what efficient equipment you are using and scrap the old.

in the industrial world! American industry has advanced much faster than agriculture in the past seventeen years. Our manufacturers compete successfully in world markets because they have kept production expenses down by an amazing development of labor-saving factory machinery. Europe, even with its low wage scale, cannot compete with us because American high-priced labor, working with modern factory equipment, produces the quantity of goods that American manufacturers can produce with less labor. American manufacturers must keep their cost of production as low as possible, or they will be out of the market.

COTTON MILLS INDUSTRIAL SALVATION OF THE SOUTH

"The industrial salvation of the Southwest lies in the development of cotton goods mills in Texas"—such is the conclusion reached by the Industrial Relations Committee of the Dallas Manufacturers Association after a careful survey of textile fabrication possibilities in the State. Furthermore, Texas can become the foremost cotton goods manufacturing center in the world, the committee believes, if her citizens will take advantage of present opportunity. A report submitted to the Association discloses that there are now twenty-three mills in the State operating approximately 200,000 spindles and consuming 120,000 bales of cotton annually. These factories furnish employment to 4,500 operatives and, at present machinery cost, represent a capital investment of $15,000,000. An accurate estimate of the value in dollars and cents of the cotton piece goods produced is impossible, the report continues, but it may be said that the cloth is worth approximately double the worth of the staple cotton, when cotton sells at from 25 to 30c per pound. One interesting feature of the price analysis is that fully 65 per cent of the increase goes for labor, and, therefore, a mill is a factor in strengthening the buying power of any community.

Outside capital has built only one cotton mill in Texas and all the plants now operating, with this exception, have been made possible by the faith of Texans. There is hardly a community in the Southwest that could not profitably organize a cotton mill. Texas towns, however, should look with disfavor upon any plan of organization where 100 cents out of every dollar does not go into machinery, buildings or material. An interesting comparison of production is that existing between Texas and North Carolina, the South's leading cotton goods State. North Carolina has 425 mills with 5,281,000 spindles and consumes at least 200,000 more bales of cotton annually than the entire State produces. Texas on the other hand, fabricates only 3 per cent of her staple. Textile fabrication began in Texas in a very small way more than a quarter of a century ago. Growth has been slow but substantial. At the beginning of 1924 plants were in operation in the following Texas cities: Belton, making hosiery yarn; Bonham, sheetings; Brenham, duck; Corsicana, duck; Cuero, duck; Dallas, duck and osnaburgs; Denison, duck; Gonzales, yarns; Hillsboro, duck; Houston, camel-hair cloth; Itasca, ratings; Kingsville, yarns; McKinney, cottonades; New Braunfels, ginghams; Post, sheetings; San Antonio, osnaburgs and wide duck; Sherman, duck; Waco, denims and twine; Waxahachie, duck; West, duck. In addition to these, El Paso is now building a mill of 5,000 spindles. Dallas has a new $1,000,000 plant that has just begun operation with 10,000 spindles. Mexia is organizing a mill with 5,000 spindles. Houston reports a large blanket mill under way. The Dallas Manufacturing Association is ready to cooperate with every city and town in the State in a campaign for more mills. Dallas plants are now operating 26,000 spindles. Houston has the largest single plant in the State. The cotton mill, however, is not necessarily a city institution. In the Southeastern States scores of towns of from 1,500 to 2,000 people owe their very existence to a cotton mill. How much more favorable, then, is the situation in the Southwest where we grow nearly one-half of the American supply of cotton? Every village, town and city in this State will do well to investigate its local possibilities. In the train of the cotton mill are perhaps fifty smaller allied industries. These manufacturing plants will spring up of their own accord when the textile mill has arrived. One of the crying needs of Texas today, according to mill operators, is a dyeing and finishing plant. Virtually all Southwestern mills make only the coarser grades of cloth. With a well appointed finishing plant in operation their field of activity can be quadrupled at small cost. If Texans will put their shoulder to the wheel the next decade will see this State supplying all grades of cotton cloth to the entire world. The Dallas Manufacturers Association maintains a service bureau for the benefit of the people of Texas. Information as to where any article made in the Southwest can be purchased will be supplied on request.

ity at the lowest margin of profit, and that nothing is so cheap as adequate transportation. The Katy official in his conclusion pointed out that regulation of railroads by States and by communities was necessary and proper, but that it was necessary not to lose sight of the fact that, in this regulation, unless private capital be permitted to earn a reasonable return on its legitimate investment, there would ship and private operation of railroads, or any other public utility. Operation and control of the roads would then be taken over by the Government and any deficit would be met by increasing taxes. "This is the real railroad problem: today, and is well worth your earnest and serious thought and study," said Mr. Whittenton. A number of Sherman business men, in addition to the students, heard the lecture today, which was one of a series being delivered before business administration students of Austin College.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM DISCUSSED AT SHERMAN

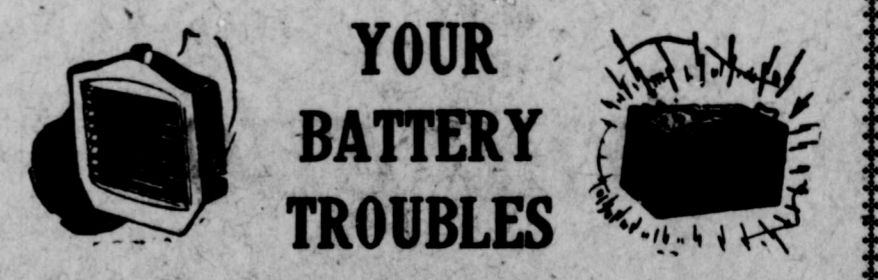

SHERMAN, Texas, April 16.—The railroad is a tie that binds the country together socially, economically and politically, and the real operating problem of the railroad today is to be sure that the public understands its problems correctly and that the charge for this transportation is adequate to allow the railroad investor sufficient profit so that the property can go on rendering the service, according to W. M. Whittenton of Dallas, Vice-President in charge of operation of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Lines, who lectured before business administration students of Austin College this morning. Taking as his subject, "Organization and Typical Operating Problems of a Railroad," the speaker discussed the organization of a railroad, illustrating with a diagrammatic chart, and touching upon financing of a road, election of Board of Directors, co-ordination staff, and the functions of the Freight Traffic, Passenger Traffic, Accounting and Operating Departments. Mr. Whittenton showed that to construct and equip with proper rolling stock and union facilities the average mile of railroad in the United States requires approximately $65,000. He pointed out that it is to the welfare of the country, and of each individual state and community, to permit the railroad, the main artery of transportation, to prosper, and to expand alike with the producer and consumer; he emphasized the fact that the railroads are rendering the greatest service of any util-

You are hereby commanded, that by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Scurry if there be a newspaper in said County, but if not, in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof you summons Bob Shoemaker whose residence is unknown to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, in and for the County of Scurry at the next regular term thereof, to be held in the County of Scurry at the Court House thereof in Snyder, Texas, on the Fourth Monday in May, 1924, same being the 26th day of May, 1924. The number of said cause being then and there to answer the petition of Jennie Shoemaker, filed in said court on the 12th day of April, A. D. 1924, against the said Bob Shoemaker and alleging in substance as follows: Plaintiff alleges that she is and has been for a period of at least twelve months prior to the filing of said suit, an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas and County of Scurry; that she and defendant were lawfully married on July 15th, 1921, in Bexar County, Texas; that they continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about March 1st, 1923, since which time they have continued to live separate and apart. That during the time she and defendant lived together, she was kind and affectionate and always mindful of her duties and obligations as a wife; that shortly after their marriage the defendant began a course of unkind treatment toward this plaintiff which

Plaintiff further alleges that a few days before their separation the defendant became enraged and cursed and abused her, calling her all kind of vile names and struck her several blows about the face and body with his fist, which caused plaintiff much pain; that on the day of separation the defendant again became enraged, grabbed this plaintiff and choked her until she fell on the bed, and then struck her several times with his fists and then abandoned her, leaving her absolutely destitute, ill and suffering from the wounds inflicted upon her by the defendant. Plaintiff further alleges that defendant's action and conduct toward her generally are of such a nature as to render their further living together insupportable.

Plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition, that she have judgment dissolving said marriage relations, for costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that she may be justly entitled to.

Old Folks' Ailments

"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it stretches over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. Blake, more, a Civil War veteran and former Virginian, who is now a prominent citizen of Floyd, Texas. "It is the best laxative I know of for old people. . . A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then—a man will get bilious anywhere, you know—and I find that a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again." Thedford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, assisting digestion and relieving constipation. Sold everywhere.

SHALL SNYDER PLAY BALL THIS SEASON

This is a question that is being asked by baseball fans of Snyder generally as the season approaches for same. Last year Snyder had a winning team and the town derived a great deal of pleasure and advertising from same. It is the desire of those who love the national game to make immediate efforts to assemble this same team again this year. In order to do this we must get busy quick.

Now, it takes money to support baseball, and we hear expressions around the square among business men to the effect that they are willing to put up for same. It is estimated that it will take $2,000 or $3,000 to finance the team in addition to the gate receipts. We have heard a number of business men say they will give a hundred dollars toward financing the team. All that is needed is to get busy and raise the money. Action is needed quickly.

We want to ask this question: "What would Snyder be without a baseball team this summer? What will our people do for outside amusement without baseball?" We just must have a team, and we want to get busy on same. Let a mass meeting be held at once with those who are interested and put the proposition over. Appoint some one as manager and let the town stand back of him. We suggest some good man be selected who can organize and put over a winning team, provided he can arrange to take care of the work in this regard. Put the cost of the team up in cash and back of him to start with. Who will be first to take the initiative?

Play ball.

The Relation of the Ballot to Citizenship

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN REALM OF TEXAS

When we come to consider the relation of the ballot to citizenship we are dealing with the fundamental of American civilization. The right of the sovereign will of the governed to determine governmental policies and control its activities is the essence of American Independence.

The seed of spiritual and intellectual revolt against the "divine right of kings" to rule and prescribe government, irrespective of the wishes and desires of the governed, was planted by our forefathers with the first garden seed which they deposited in the soil of the new world. A practical application of this "new democracy" was made on board the "Mayflower," when by popular vote of the men the "compact" was drafted and signed. Its application was extended by Governor Carver and Governor Bradford, and with each succeeding experiment its merit became more and more apparent. This "germ" of political heresy found a suitable environment or medium for culture in America, for it found itself in unison and consonance with the freedom of the virgin plains and primal forests of the Western Hemisphere. It spread like a wave of infection and ultimately came to dominate the life and thinking of the thirteen Original Colonies. This principle, so rooted and grounded in the history and operation of our great Republic, may be briefly stated in the following language:

Government is the prescribing and enforcement of regulations of conduct by and through and in accordance with the intelligent will of those to be bound thereby. It was concretely expressed in the Declaration of Independence as follows:

"All government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed."

This brings to a discussion of how this consent of the governed may be justly obtained, and how this popular will may be intelligently expressed, or, in other words, what relation the ballot bears to American civilization.

First—Universal in its application. In the first place, in order to be a just expression of popular will, it must apply to all classes who have obtained membership in the society to be governed so far as their capabilities of self-government will permit. Thus the ballot is extended to all classes of citizens, regardless of race, color or previous condition of servitude, or of religious belief, social standing or financial worth. This is the practical application of "equality" so characteristic of American governmental activities. All members of the government are put on the same footing, in theory at least, with respect to what regulations shall be prescribed, and who shall be chosen to administer and enforce those regulations.

Second—Safeguarding limitations. But this whole scheme or system of government is based upon an intelligent expression of the popular will. An enlightened public opinion alone will sustain such a system. George Washington, the Father of our Country, said, that a general diffusion of knowledge is essential to the perpetuity of a free people. The reason for that declaration is that unless the person registering with his ballot the public will is intelligent, his ballot ceases to be the expression of a freeman, but becomes the vehicle for political "bossism," and corruption to thwart the intelligent public will. Hence safeguarding limitations are thrown around the ballot by law. Only adults are allowed to vote. Citizenship, of course, is required, though long deferred in Texas, for certainly the government of any society should be limited to its own membership. Certain educational qualifications are required, such as to be able to read and write, and speak the English language. The requirements in this respect, however, in Texas, have been grievously low in the past, and Texas has suffered accordingly, for without some knowledge of our constitution and form of government, and the method of operation of our public and governmental institutions, a person cannot register intelligent will regarding our public welfare. Yet, under our loose regulations in this respect in the past, persons have voted, who, under the law were entitled to cast their ballots, but who were as ignorant of the theory and operation of our government as the Hotentots of Africa. Corrupt politicians have dealt in this ignorant and purchasable vote, and, no doubt, many times the intelligent public will has thus been defeated. In recent years additional safeguards have been thrown around our public welfare in this respect, and patriotic concern for the perpetuation of our constitutional liberties demands that more stringent regulations along this line be yet enacted.

Furthermore, for reasons obvious to all who read these lines, the registration of this public will must be confined to those who are entitled to participate therein, hence laws designed to prevent fraud have been enacted, such as the poll tax receipt laws, the registration laws in cities, and the laws governing the manner of conducting elections, provisions for supervisors, etc. These laws, when properly enforced, are sufficient to limit the application of the ballot to those legally entitled thereto.

As already indicated, the intelligent public will has many times suffered defeat at the hands of designing politicians. Unfortunately this condition cannot be entirely charged to the manipulation of the ignorant vote. Many persons, with intelligence, social standing and wealth, have not given to the exercise of their right of suffrage that patriotic consideration the exigencies of the occasion demanded. Government implies obedience to law. If laws are not to be obeyed then why should they be enacted? And if they are not enforced, then we have no government. If our government fails, then anarchy will prevail, and all our boasted liberties will be lost or destroyed.

Notwithstanding this fundamental doctrine of safety, we have allowed to spring up in our nation a disregard for legal restraint that today looms on our political horizon as a great black and menacing cloud, presaging a tempest of bolshevism that our ship of state may not be able to withstand. The propaganda that is going on everywhere in opposition to law, the notorious violation of law, the entering of graft and corruption into the administration of our laws and governmental agencies, are alarming evidences of governmental decay. All of this is largely the result of the intelligent public either being asleep on their job, or else having been dominated in the exercise of their right of suffrage by some motive other than a patriotic consideration of the best interests of our commonwealth. The point seems to have been reached where it has ceased to be a question with the public as to whether it is in favor of this law or that law, but it seems to be a question now as to whether it favors any law. The impending peril of such a situation is appalling, and only the re-incarnation of the patriotism of our forefathers will save us from destruction.

The ballot is the only way a free people can give expression to its will, and when slimy hands are put into the ballot box, and fraud and corruption are made to dominate our elections, and men who have no regard for law are elevated to public office, we are no longer a free people, but are degraded to the level of a galley slave, dominated and controlled by corrupt politicians and their political henchmen, and when our courts uphold such elections, and allow such results to obtain in the face of reeking fraud, public confidence is shaken in the due administration of law, and new fuel is thus added to the consuming flame of discontent, unrest, and disrespect for law now threatening our civilization. Patriotic ballot defined.

There is but one way to remedy this serious condition in our governmental affairs. That is for every American, every lover of liberty, to cast a patriotic ballot. The only way to make the ballot patriotic is to use it to elevate to office only those who respect and obey, and will enforce the law, and to strike down there-with every person who raises his head political preference whose heart is not aflame and aglow with reverence, respect and obedience to the Constitution and laws of our state and nation. When every person entitled under the law is brought to cast this kind of a ballot, then real patriotism will characterize our elections, and the ballot will then assume its proper relation to our civilization.

LITTLE INFANT OF MR. AND MRS. J. J. DAVIS TAKEN

The little six weeks old baby of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davis died last Friday evening. The funeral services were held last Saturday at the cemetery, Rev. McGaha speaking comforting words to the grief stricken parents and relatives.

The Times-Signal sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs. Davis in the loss of their little one, however their comfort is in the scriptures that teach us that these bright jewels, here in our presence for a moment, as fleeting shadows across our life, will in yonder world remain in our presence forever and ever. Oh, the justice and righteousness of our God who teaches us to be of good cheer, that our children are taken care of in His great scheme of world redemption—that Heaven is made up of earth's bright jewels in child form. Children dying in infancy or before they reach the age of accountability have a place prepared for them in the land where sorrows come not and where all is peace and joy in the Lord.

LITTLE MARY FRANCIS GOES TO JOIN THE ANGEL BAND

The eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hart, little Mary Francis, who live in the Ennis Creek community, went away last Sunday night to join the angel band. Funeral services took place at the cemetery Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the cemetery, conducted by Rev. W. T. Rouse, pastor of the Baptist church.

Mary Francis had been sick two weeks with pneumonia, and although a heroic battle was waged against the malady it claimed her, and her little tired spirit, released from its earthly tabernacle, ascended to the God Eternal Who gave it. Tenderly her wasted body was laid to rest to slumber sweetly until that time when the voice of the Lord shall be heard and it will come forth a glorious body. The Savior bade little children come unto Him and stated that of such is the Kingdom of Heaven. Heaven is made up of such
