TEXAS AND TEXANS

Public Health Campaigns

FULLY 150 Texas cities and towns conducted "health campaigns" of some kind during the first week in April, which was designated as "Health Week." In some of these, the campaign was in the nature of a general clean-up of the unsightly and unhealthful accumulations of the past year—a sort of tidying up for spring after the fashion of the old-time annual house-cleaning—a united effort to make the place a bit more attractive, looking for the forty towns started movements for mosquito control. Others joined in the movement throughout the surrounding country for the extermination of rats and mice. In a large number of places the campaign was educational in character, making the form of health plays, playground activities, better baby contests, lectures, health sermons, poster contests and newspaper articles.

Perhaps we have yet to learn in Texas that intermittent health campaigns, while accomplishing some good, are far from what they should be in getting results. Every city, every community, needs a permanent public health committee composed of people willing to work, and having official authority to carry on health activities and to make and enforce health regulations—not for a week, but every week in the year.

More Cheese Factories

ROUND ROCK has become the Mecca for Texas towns considering the building of cheese factories. When the factory was organized there last year cheese factories were almost unknown in Texas, and many people wagged their heads and predicted a failure for the enterprise. It came slowly, and that caused more head-wagging. In less than three months it demonstrated that such an enterprise could be as successfully conducted in Texas as anywhere else. Now, other towns are looking for the same success almost every day there is a pilgrimage from some Texas town to Round Rock to learn just how cheese-making is done there. Rockdale and Bartlett are among the latest towns to study such an enterprise.

Junction Waterworks

JUNCTION has long been famous for its good water, but has been rather behind in its facilities for distributing the water to its citizens. That is to be overcome by the building of a water system as a result of a bond issue recently voted. Junction has for a long time been a natural health resort for Texans, but since completing a splendid hotel, putting in waterworks, building tourist camps and doing other things for the convenience of tourists, it will become even more popular with travelers.

Frog Shipping Picks Up

THE Eastland frog story, so extensively circulated throughout the country, has been revived by the frog business. Frogs are frogs now, or rather, horned frogs are horned frogs. Northern and eastern folks want to know what they look like. Boys are searching woods and fields for them and sending them for shipment. The Lockhart post office handled a shipment of six in one day recently, the frogs being consigned to Boston, Mass.

Carrizo Springs Water

AT a depth of only 320 feet, Carrizo Springs has "brought in" a body of water well that produces 650 gallons of water a minute and affords an abundance of pure, cool water to supply the city water works and sewage system now being installed. Carrizo Springs is right in the heart of the low level irrigation district southwest of San Antonio, the famous winter garden area of Texas.

Winter Garden Organization

THE sectional Chamber of Commerce in the Winter Garden District of Texas is so pleased with the results of its organized efforts that it has decided to continue its operations along the same lines another year. The headquarters will be moved to Asherton, with J. G. Sullivan as president and J. C. Frazer as secretary. Texas truck and fruit growers have learned that the closest and most efficient organization is essential to their success. Some day the farmers, and especially the cotton growers, will learn this lesson from the experience gained by those in allied lines.

Small City Paving

THE small cities of Texas, in proportion to their population, keep fully up with the larger cities in the matter of street paving and other improvements. For instance, Uvalde with a little more than 5,000 population, has 14 miles of paved streets, and will soon vote a $100,000 bond issue to be used for paving, sidewalks and other improvements. McGregor is soon to asphalt some 24 blocks of streets in the residence districts of the town. These items were noticed in the papers of one day and are but instances of what is going on all over Texas. A town or village is never too small to keep itself in the first class in matters of civic improvement.

20,720 BALES SHIPPED

Official report from the R. S. & P. offices and Agent Preuitt says that Snyder alone has shipped 20,720 bales of cotton this year. Representing 10,350,000 pounds at an average price of 18 cents means that $1,864,800 has been returned to our cotton raisers. It is estimated there are still 1,500 bales to be shipped.

Fluvanna, Hermleigh and Inadale will bring Scurry County's total to more than 95,500 bales.

Warning Given by Gas Company On Installations

Definite Information Should Be Secured From Local Gas Office

Joe Drake, appliance manager for the Community Natural Gas Company, informs the Times-Signal that the word of warning should be sounded to local folks as regards the proper installation of appliances. Mr. Drake states that a great number of Snyder people are planning on installing burners on other means of using gas in stoves that were not made for gas. In fact, Mr. Drake continued, some plumbers now in Snyder have been suggested the placing of gas burners in coal or wood stoves now in use, promising more efficient heat at a lower expense. Such is not the true facts in the case, for in no instance can it be brought to mind where a gas burner has been added to a common coal or wood stove and give the same efficient service as a stove already equipped to handle gas. This thought does not apply to furnaces.

Mr. Drake informs the Times-Signal that the company wants to impress local residents with the idea that whenever any gas installation is desired concerning gas and gas appliances that they should call the Community Natural Gas Company offices. It is better to get the official data right from the main office rather than take the word or advice from someone who you do not know.

Mr. Drake tells this paper to broadcast the true status of matters as they now stand. The advice is a courtesy that the gas company appreciates extending.

Before coming to Snyder the Senior Editor and his family had used gas for cooking and heating. As a fuel our experience has taught us that nothing can compete with natural gas as regards efficiency, final results and low cost of operation.

Inadale Farmer Slain Sunday

Ernest Hardin Found Under Bridge at Colorado By Boys

Ernest Hardin, 42, a farmer living near Inadale, was found dead Sunday hidden under a bridge at the southeast edge of Colorado. The body was discovered by some small boys who were fishing. His skull was crushed, showing that it had been dragged from the road to the edge of the embankment and thrown over.

Hardin, who lived on the H. Obendush farm, rode to Inadale Saturday afternoon with neighbors, leaving them there and with the announced purpose of going to Roscoe, catching a ride on the highway.

The body was identified at Colorado Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. D. Land, filling station owners of Loraine, as one of four men that were in their station at Loraine at 9:30 Saturday night. Land says that the men were on foot. No clue as to the identity of the other three has been discovered, although Land says their faces were familiar, and he thought they lived near Loraine. A brother, John Hardin, said the slain man had from $15 to $30 on his person, none of which was found.

Hardin is survived by his wife and six children.

LATER—A 24-year-old negro youth of Colorado confessed Monday to the crime.

HERNY ROSENBERG SERVES BIRTHDAY CAKE SATURDAY

Henry Rosenberg was beaming with smiles Saturday as he served birthday cake to the many friends and patrons, the occasion being the fourth birthday anniversary of this bustling Snyder store.

We hope Henry serves cake every year, for it surely hit the spot Saturday.

SNYDER LIONS VISIT WITH COLORADO CLUB

Thirty-two Snyder Lions were the guests of the Colorado Lions Club Thursday in a district meeting that was held there. An interesting program was given which was highly enjoyed by more than 170 men.

WOODMAN CIRCLE OFFICER TO BE HERE

MRS. MARY E. LA ROCCA, National Secretary

Who is to appear on program at Wolf Park Sunday

When the Woodman Circle gathers in Abilene Friday, April 20, to greet the national president, Mary E. LaRocca, the national secretary, Dora Alexander Talley, of Omaha, Neb., Snyder will be well represented. The following members will attend: Mrs. Brownfield, Mrs. Doak, Mrs. Hendry, Mrs. Gassaway and Mrs. Jewel Garner.

Mrs. Janie B. Garner of Snyder, district manager, says that the work of the society in Texas has been greatly recognized in the awarding of the home for aged members and orphans to this state. It will be erected at Sherman on a site of 200 acres donated by the town. The cost will be approximately $12,500. The following members will be accommodated on the cottage plan: Mrs. Barran is highly elated over the progressive attitude shown in the rural schools of the county, and not only is praising the students, teachers and parents, but gives great credit to the trustees, as well as to Pat Bullock, county superintendent.

Some one of these days let us all pray and hope that the rural schools will have the same advantages that our town pupils have. As things stand, from a rural standpoint, it is a disgrace to the state of Texas that our rural children have not the proper educational advantages. Ere long Texas will awake to the folly of trying to educate her children during a five or six months term, and someone will arise and relieve the situation.

After giving the school problem much thought, the editor of the Athens Review says the following which the Scurry County Times-Signal absolutely endorses: "The state of Texas that our rural children have not the proper educational advantages. Ere long Texas will awake to the folly of trying to educate her children during a five or six months term, and someone will arise and relieve the situation."

After giving the school problem much thought, the editor of the Athens Review says the following which the Scurry County Times-Signal absolutely endorses: "The state of Texas that our rural children have not the proper educational advantages. Ere long Texas will awake to the folly of trying to educate her children during a five or six months term, and someone will arise and relieve the situation."

Mr. Patton represents the Mergenthaler Linotype Company and was here to install the new electric pot on our typesetting machine. MANY USES FOR BARLEY MALT SYRUP

Barley-malt syrup or malt extract, as it is sometimes called, is not a new product. It has been used in various ways for more than 50 years. As new uses have been found from time to time, the consumption has been increased and large factories have been built for the manufacture of malt syrup exclusively.

As a food, barley-malt syrup was not appreciated for a long time. Its valuable properties, however, were taken advantage of by certain now famous breakfast food manufacturers. Its addition to their products enabled them to make an improved food, both as to flavor and palatability. The success of these malt syrup products was so phenomenal that today the majority of the popular breakfast foods have barley malt syrup as one of their main constituents.

Experiments were made with other food commodities in order to utilize its valuable qualities. The baking industry, for instance, found it especially suitable for their business. Its uses in the bread formula resulted in a quicker fermentation, larger loaves with velvety texture, rich brown crust and improved appearance of the finished loaf.

The candy industry, too, found malt syrup useful in improving the food value and digestibility of its products.

Malted milk preparations served at the soda fountains owe their popularity to barley-malt syrup, because of the pleasant reaction of taste and flavor and also the additional food value.

LINOTYPE BALKED

Last week the Times-Signal ordered a new electric pot for our Linotype. The machine must have sensed the new improvement with the result that it was out of action practically all day Monday owing to a defective gasoline burner. AND THEY EAT

Behold! The lodge holds together and they eat. The club dines together and they eat. The business men take counsel together and they eat. The church has a social and they eat. And even when the missionary society meeteth together in good cause because they "eat in remembrance" of the poor heathen who have not much to eat.

Behold! Hath man's brains gone to his stomach and doth he no longer regard intellectual dainties that thou canst no longer call an assembly or get together a quorum or even a baker's dozen without thou holdest up the baker's dainties as a bait? Be it true that the day cometh that to get a crowd at prayer meeting, the preacher must hold up a biscuit? Yea, verily, thou hast heard of the child races of the world. But behold it nigh thee, even at the door. For as one who called upon the child and saith, "Come hither, little one, and I will give thee a stick of candy," even so must thou say to his grown-up papa and mama, "Assemble ye together and we will serve refreshments." And lo, they come like sheep into a pen. Ain't it the truth?

HELLUP!

Our good friend, Editor Norman of the Hermleigh Herald, editorially asked the Times-Signal editor the meaning of the word "guts." In the same issue he spoke of having taken pills and enemas from Doctor Ward of Hermleigh two weeks previous to the election that kept Hermleigh among the live towns of the county. Now Norman, we just wonder whether or not you might have got some of Doctor Ward's pills and the other extremity tied up with your good mind in working out for yourself the meaning of the word we so aptly said that you had.

Our composing room is somewhat congested today, so the eternal question of what is "guts," Norman, must die a-borning. If you can't realize what it is, we could say nothing more than that you had plenty of it (or them) in your fight to keep Hermleigh on the horizon with a live group of officials.

WHOLL WORK WITH HIS HANDS?

The schools are turning out an unlimited number of bosses, managers, directors, superintendents, foremen, go-getters, also salesmen, bookkeepers, clerks, etc. Meanwhile there is a shortage of people who will take hold with their hands and do work calling for muscle.

This disparity will probably increase, judging by figures given out by the National Industrial Conference Board, which finds that the number of unskilled workers who returned from Europe since 1924 is three times as many as those who came thence to the United States. Perhaps many of these people were disappointed when they found they could not pick up gold in our streets.

The man with the hoe and pick is needed. There is an equal demand for the one who can swing a carpenter's hammer, a bricklayer's trowel, or a house painter's brush. Many who practice these trades are driving shiny automobiles, while clerks and bookkeepers are walking. Anyone should be glad to shake hands cordially with the man in overalls and be glad to walk down town with him. The fellow who can mix paint so it will stick or who can fix the chimney so it won't smoke, has practical views of life. We can all learn from him. We should pay high respect to the farmer. An owner of land, he has a portion of substantial dignity. When we give due social honors to such people, more boys will see that these callings are desirable.

GETTING THE TRASH WRITER

Harry Turner, editor of a St. Louis sensational paper, has been sentenced to two years in Leavenworth prison for re-printing an article on Almie McPherson that appeared in a San Diego journal. Miss Alice Martin, owner of the paper, was let off with a thousand dollar fine after having declined to say to Judge Davis she regretted the incident. After which a long train of writers and newspapermen have laid severe strictures upon the courts, upon society and everything else which would allow such a thing. Which is bunk. The St. Louis paper simply reprinted a lot of obscene rot, and the editor and the owner deserved to go to the pen. It doesn't make any difference where the sewage came from.

THE CHOIR'S EXAMPLE

It may be argued that a choir, in order to be efficient has to be faithful in attendance at rehearsals and church services, but on the other hand, can a church be fully efficient without the regular and faithful attendance of the members at the church services? It is worth thinking over in connection with all religious denominations in this and other towns. What a difference it would make to religious meetings if the rank and file of membership should attend all the services regularly?

DOUG FAIRBANKS GOT IDEA FOR NEW FILM AT LOURDES

Douglas Fairbanks' inspiration for his new Gauche picture, reaching the Palace next Wednesday, in which he appears as a bandit chief, comes directly from his little one, and I will give thee a stick of candy," even so must thou say to his grown-up papa and mama, "Assemble ye together and we will serve refreshments." And lo, they come like sheep into a pen. Ain't it the truth?

The star last year was affected by the sight of many stricken and maimed pilgrims, as well as by the faith cures. The mighty urge and influence of the shrine suggested a fundamental theme for his next production, and Doug visualized the conflict of the sinister forces of greed and those of faith.

The result is a gripping story against the background of the Andes and the pampas countries of South America. An imaginary city has grown about a place of healing. Its wealth is coveted by a power-hungry dictator and a bandit outlaw. Fairbanks appears in the latter role, the title role of "The Gauche." He has chosen the picturesque plainsman, now becoming extinct, as a character little known to film audiences and therefore of novel interest.

The conflict between the gaucho bandits and the army of the dictator, between the love of a wild village girl and a fair pilgrim to the shrine; the deeds of daring, treachery, sacrifice and rescue combine in a picture calculated to thrill as well as charm. The majestic Andean scenery and the especially built shrine city from the designs of Carl Oscar Borg are embellished by a wealth of detail, comprising a step forward in cinema art. The story has been handled by Lotta Woods and the film directed by F. Richard Jones.

BROADWAY OF AMERICA MOTORCADE ARRIVES SWEETWATER

The Broadway of America motorcade with 275 people in 75 cars, which included mayors, prominent citizens and civic leaders from every point between San Diego, Cal., and Sweetwater, arrived there Monday morning.

The party are en route to Memphis, Tenn. to hold a national convention and to sell the idea to this famous highway as an all year round route from Broadway in New York City to Broadway of San Diego, Cal. More power to their efforts and may the Dallas Cavern Highway boosters emulate the efforts of these brethren who are showing how to put an idea across in a big way.

The program committee of the West Texas Press Association will meet at Sweetwater Sunday to complete its program for the annual meeting to be held at Big Spring July 13 and 14.

Fluvanna News Notes

Mr. Jas. H. Tate (V. P.) is the authorized correspondent for Fluvanna, and as such is authorized to receive renewal and new subscriptions. cooperate with him in building a fine weekly news column for this thriving town.

NOTE—This column was conspicuous for its absence last week due to the fact that its author was away from home several days. We thought we had arrangements made by which at least a few paragraphs might be supplied, but that plan failed to come to fruition hence, "we were not in it." We hope that the editors and all readers of F. N. will be good enough to pardon this failure.

Railroad Outlook

Two weeks ago we made mention of the fact that Fluvanna stood a fair chance to get a new east and west railroad. Since that time our prospects have not diminished but have rather brightened. On Wednesday of last week three of the railroad promoters, Messrs. Kennedy, Ward and Roach spent practically half of the day here in conference with our citizens and considering the feasibility of the route from this place westward via O'Donnell, Brownfield, Plains and on to Roswell, New Mexico. If connection should be made with Rotan, anyone can readily see by reference to a map that the points mentioned are in almost straight line. Another advantage lies in the fact that Fluvanna has what seems to be an inexhaustible supply of good water, and the route being considered follows the most practical ascent to the plains to be found anywhere within many miles either north or south. Still another advantage may be mentioned in addition to the splendid farming area surrounding our village; the fact that Fluvanna evidently stands in the midst, or is hard by, a great undeveloped oil field. (Further mention of oil prospects in next paragraph.) It goes without saying that railroad men will take all these matters into careful consideration. At present we are not able to show as large tonnage, or put up as large bonus as some other points might be able to do, but we will do what we can—we will do our best, and we believe that good fortune is on our side.

Business Affairs

Those familiar with the Fluvanna column readily understand that statements made here can be taken with the "grain of salt" sometimes recommended in other cases. We write the truth as near as we can get it. Mention was made in the above paragraph of oil prospects in this community. The statement that there is evidently a great oil field in the Fluvanna trade territory is not a piece of booster's dope. While no thorough test has yet been made, there are perfectly good reasons for believing that the oil is here. Here are a few reasons for saying this: Several geologists have looked over this field, and every one of them has pronounced it a good prospect. This evidence is further supported by the fact that several of the big oil companies are paying lease rental on lands lying on all sides of Fluvanna. Surely these great business concerns would not be paying out so much money on territory where there is no real prospect. We understand that a couple of gentlemen are now making a survey a few miles west of town for the purpose of locating a site for a test well. Furthermore, it is a well known fact that oil has actually been found in the Justiceburg field a few miles to the north of us. Developments may seem slow to us, but when we remember that gasoline is about as cheap as it can be produced and handled, we are made to realize that developments are being made fast enough.

We are glad to be able to report that our long needed caprock road is nearing completion. Although the driveway is soft because of fresh dirt and gravel, we are not had rain to settle and cement it, cars are now able to make the grade. Several well loaded cars accomplished this feat last Sunday evening.

Mr. Spender is having a water works system put in by means of which several farm homes will be supplied with water from one well located at the southwestern edge of Fluvanna. Thus improvements are going forward. The Pylant residence in East Fluvanna is nearing completion. Jack Frost got his work in in good shape last Saturday night, the mercury being driven down to 28. This is rather late for a freeze in this section, but the weather is no respecter of persons. Old boreas is struggling for the mastery, but is fighting a losing battle. Miss Spring will win.

The basement is being excavated preparatory to the erection of the new Christian Church. The Fluvanna Baptist Church has been engaged in a revival campaign during the past week including two Sundays. The pastor was assisted by Rev. Sam Malone, editor of the West Texas Baptist of Abilene. Although weather conditions interrupted the services to some extent, it is said that the congregation was considerably revived. Four persons made profession of faith and three united with the church. There being no other services in town, there were probably 350 people in attendance at the closing service Sunday night. At the Sunday afternoon service the congregation decided to move up to half time and hold regular services on the first and third Sundays in each month. Rev. Massey Simmons continuing as the pastor in charge.

Pastor W. H. Harris held his regular service at the Methodist Church Sunday morning but called off the night service in deference to the revival in progress. The congregation of the First Baptist Church will entertain the fifth Sunday meeting on April 27-29.

Mention is made in another place of the new Christian Church building.

Regular services will be held at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. Let all who can attend the services.

Sickness

Several people are still having it out with the flu, but so far as we know none of these cases are serious.

Albert Browning went to the Alexander Sanitarium, Abilene, where he had a pair of troublesome tonsils removed Tuesday, returning home Wednesday.

Mr. H. Tate accompanied by V. P. and C. D. Cribbs and wife, visited the new sanitarium at Snyder Wednesday where Drs. Griffin and Johnson remove bad tonsils, of long standing, for Mrs. Tate. The operation was very successful, and it is expected that the lady's general health will soon be much improved.

The little daughter of Cyrus and Mrs. Landrum has been right sick the last few days. She was taken to Snyder last Sunday for treatment.

Visits and Trips

John A. Stavelly of the Fluvanna Mercantile spent a few days in Houston last week where he with three others of Snyder attended the Knights Templars convention. Before returning, the party went down to Galveston and got a "bird's eye" view of the strange sights in that locality and of that interesting city. No doubt those fellows will have something fresh to talk about for the next several moons.

Tolbert Koonce hied away the latter part of last week to Freestone County for a visit and, as we suspect, to bring the wife and little girls back home.

D. A. Jones and J. J. Belev made a business trip the first of the week to Wichita Falls and other points.

On Monday of last week Rev. J. Wood Parker, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Post, came over and spent the night with V. P. The two got up a great while before day and journeyed together to Cross Plains where they attended the regular spring meeting of the Presbytery of Abilene, returning home Friday.

Mrs. J. F. Dowdy is making an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Benson, at Olney.

Mrs. Cummings, accompanied by a sister, Miss Dixie Duke, both of Corpus Christi, are here visiting their parents, A. and Mrs. Duke.

Boss Cribbs and his father of Dallas County were here last week visiting C. D. Cribbs and family. Tom Squires of Slaton visited the home folks here Monday.

Earl Browning, who has been in a business college at Dallas for several months, returned home last Saturday.

Mrs. Belle Sewalt of Post was visiting home folks here last Monday.

R. J. Cox and family, accompanied by R. J.'s mother, Mrs. H. Cox, all of Colorado, visited the Roddy family of this place last week. Mrs. R. J. Cox is a sister of Mrs. J. L. Roddy.

The Fluvanna ball team played the East Snyder team at Dermott last Sunday afternoon, winning the game by a score of six to five.

Strange Things Wills was said to be at work last Monday. Something is liable to happen.

COW FEED OR WEEVIL FEED

From the study of the yearly records of 100,000 individual cows, Mr. Wintermeyer reports the relation between production of butterfat and income over cost of feed per cow annually as follows:

Group No.	Butterfat Amt. in Lbs.	Feed Cost In Dollars	Average Income Over Feed
1	100	45	14
2	150	50	34
3	200	55	54
4	250	61	76
5	300	68	96
6	350	75	116
7	400	82	138
8	450	90	158
9	500	99	178

The above figures are averages for the United States both as to income and at the Snyder prices the net income over feed cost would be higher if skim milk were properly utilized.

Another interesting fact recorded by Mr. Wintermeyer is that with registered dairy sires of right quality, the daughters of poor producing cows are good producers. The daughter of a 100 pound butterfat cow becomes a 235 pound producer, the daughter of a 200 pound cow becomes a 300 pound producer, and the daughter of the 300 pound cow becomes a 360 pound producer.

by the southern states amounted to more than 20 per cent of the country's total.

Over $76,000,000 is expended annually by the South on new public school buildings, or within $4,000,000 of the aggregate amount spent for all educational work in the South in 1910 and five times its new building expenditures in 1914. The South's public school building program in 1924 was within $15,000,000 of the total public school expenditure of the country in 1914, although at that time the country's population was approximately 100,000,000, as compared with 38,000,000 for the South in 1924.

The establishment of consolidated public schools in the rural districts has given the advantages of better housing, better equipment and instruction, and is an illustration of how the modern school facilities are expanding in the southern states.

Furthermore, in the decade ending in 1924 the number of public school pupils in the South increased from 7,649,000 to 9,515,000, or 23 per cent, while in that section during this period public school expenditures increased nearly 250 per cent. In 1924 the South had nearly one-third of the country's population, yet it had 39 per cent of the aggregate number of pupils in all the public elementary and secondary schools of the country.

Not only does the South show to better advantage in the public school enrollment than the country as a whole, but a larger percentage of its school children are to be found in its secondary schools than in the country as a whole, and what is more striking is the fact that about one-half of the South's high school graduates enter college. Public normal school enrollment in the South made an even better showing, with an enrollment gain since 1914 of 44 per cent, compared with 31.5 per cent for the United States.

In 1924 the South had over 16 per cent of the country's primary and secondary school enrollment, more than 27 per cent of the country's private school and academy students and more than 43 per cent of the country's private normal school attendance. It had nearly 27 per cent of all the university, college and professional students in the United States; in view of the fact that great numbers of southern young men and women enter northern universities and colleges, the South's actual percentage in higher institutions of learning is much larger than that figure would indicate.

The Manufacturers Record does not minimize the fact that there is room for improvement in the field of education in the southern states, but let no one disparage what it has been doing in this line and what it has accomplished in the last decade or so. The record as here presented cannot be refuted.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO GEO. S. CONRO

The subject of this sketch was born at Plattsburg, N. Y., April 9 1851 and died March 4, 1928. He came to Texas in 1874, was married to Miss Sallie Lewis in 1874, to which union were four children, one boy and three girls, only one of whom survive, Mrs. J. N. Brumley. His wife died in 1894. He then was married to Miss Mollie Lewis in 1895. Two children were born to this union, only one surviving him, Mrs. Geo. Brumley. He came to Scurry in an early day. He was a just and honorable man. He professed faith in Christ in early life, but never united with the Church until 1920. He was a member of Moore's Creek Missionary Baptist Church at his death. He was a member of Scurry Lodge No. 706 A. F. & A. M. His Royal Arch membership was here also. He was a true Mason and a Christian gentleman, just to his fellow being, thus we do well to practice the noble virtue he left us.

PROGRESS OF EDUCATION IN THE SOUTH IS RAPID

With nearly one-half of the graduates of the South entering colleges, and with more illiteracy in New York City than can be found in the mountain sections of the south, with public education in the South growing more rapidly than throughout the United States as a whole, the Manufacturers Record is at a loss to understand the grounds some critics have for declaring that the South is making no educational progress. In the past few years the South has made tremendous strides in the expansion of its educational facilities, in increasing the length of the public school term and raising to higher planes the methods of instruction, from the primary schools to the higher institutions of learning.

In recent years in the South there has been also a decided development of technical training schools with the establishment and expansion of engineering, textile, ceramics and other courses of study. One engineering school established only three years ago in Texas now has 1500 students.

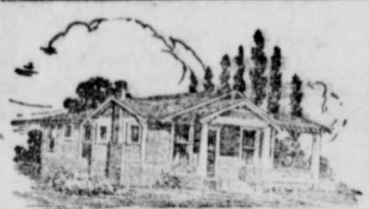

The percentage of graduates of accredited high schools of the southern states entering colleges is 48.2, according to a recent report of the Bureau of Education. More than two-thirds of the graduates of accredited high schools of South Carolina continue their studies in higher institutions and even in Louisiana, where the proportion is lower than in any other southern state, and with its larger colored population, with the corresponding percentage is 99.1 per cent. More girls than boys attend the high school in the South, but the boys who go to college outnumber the girls. Only about one in forty of those who take more than four studies fail in any one of their courses.

A recent editorial in the Charlotte News took to task Dr. Edward W. Knight of the North Carolina University for his utterances that "The South is in a rut educationally and is making no effort to pull itself out." Using his own state as an example, the News calls Dr. Knight's attention to the fact that the counties of North Carolina are now establishing the eight-month school term, with the indication that the state as a whole is ready to adopt the longer term in every community. The superintendent of education of that state said: "We see much finer and better equipped higher institutions of learning almost, if not entirely, on a par with those of the East, turning out better, finer teachers each year. In other southern states progress in education has been made both in physical equipment and in instruction methods.

Considering what the South and the country was spending on education only a decade ago, the South has made remarkable progress in educational advancement. It is now spending on public education more than $350,000,000 annually, three and one-half times as much as it did at the beginning of the World War in 1914, and $150,000,000, or 71 per cent more than the whole country thus spent on education in 1900. In 1900 the public school expenditures of the South were but 16 per cent of the country's total, while in 1924, the latest year for which figures are available, similar expenditures

Short Weight: Gas Stations Give Short Measure

A communication has been received by the Times-Signal from V. A. Stovall, chief of the weights and measures of the State Department of Agriculture, explaining how many sellers of gasoline in this country cheat their customers out of a part of the number of gallons paid for. This is the way he relates the discoveries of the group who set out to investigate and inspect numerous gasoline stations:

"Without introducing themselves, the inspectors quietly visited 112 filling stations, made a purchase of five gallons of gasoline at each station, secured a receipt from the salesman on each purchase to the effect that five gallons were bought and paid for, and out of the 112 purchases, 85 were found to be short measure. In some instances the shortage amounted to as much as a gallon and a half to the purchaser. The trick is performed by diverting the flow of the gasoline to the underground storage tank as the automobile is being served. This can be done on nine different types of gasoline pumps now in use in Texas. "It is not definitely known the amount lost each year in the sale of gasoline due to short measure, but a fair estimate may be had by taking the results of the purchase tests on 112 pumps. The total shortage from the 112 pumps was 3599 cubic inches, or 2.71 per cent. "This percentage might be considered exceedingly small by some people, but, view in connection with the total annual sale of a few of the largest companies engaged in selling gasoline, it is not small. "For example, the records of the state comptroller's department show that six of the largest oil companies in Texas during the year 1927 sold 457,639,975 gallons of gasoline. Two and 71 per cent of this amount is 12,491,799 gallons. Taking as an average price, 15 cents per gallon, the annual loss amounts to $1,860,269.85."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

THAT aggressive salesmanship pays a city as well as it pays any private business. THAT if a city is alive, it should convince others of its aliveness.

THAT a city that gets the right kind of publicity gets the business. THAT it takes better business to build any city.

THAT when the outside world knows a city is awake, that city always gets a lot of business that some other city is now getting.

THAT if they are not awake, some neighboring cities are getting the business they should get. THAT many cities need a rude awakening.

THAT in most of them can be found a great number of citizens who know nothing about their home city or the industries which are of such potential strength to their city.

This class of people should know their home city. To know it would surprise them; it should be such a pleasant surprise that it would jar them out of their present indifferent state of mind into such a frame of mind that would make them real aggressive home city salesmen.

Swans Mate for Life One life and one love is the rule with swans. These beautiful wild birds are sometimes bred and reared in captivity, and the experts of the Department of Agriculture tell of their monogamous habits in advice to prospective breeders. "Swans are slow to mate," they say, "and remain mated permanently. The only satisfactory way to buy them, therefore, is in guaranteed mated pairs. Under normal circumstances never separate the birds of a pair."

MAIL ORDER CREAM SEPARATOR BLOWS UP AT LAMESA

Another damage suit was avoided at Lamesa last week when two men from Montgomery Ward & Co. came to Lamesa and agreed to pay all expenses of operation and hospital fees of Morris Medlin, age 11, who is in a Lamesa hospital as a result of a separator explosion on last Friday night, says Secretary Wm. A. Wilson of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce. The separator had been ordered from Montgomery Ward & Co. of Fort Worth, and they had just set it up and begun turning it when it exploded, throwing pieces all over the room, one piece of which hit Morris Medlin on the head and crushed his skull. He was rushed immediately to a hospital where he underwent an operation. Several pieces of skull were removed, and it will be necessary to put a silver plate in his head. THANKS TO GRAHAM LEADER

Editor J. E. Kelly of the Graham Leader believes in passing flowers around while folks are living, as exemplified in his last week's issue, when he said: "The Scurry County Times-Signal, Snyder, is rejoicing over the fact that it will not be long now until the city will have natural gas. Pipe line crew has arrived and work has begun laying pipe in the city. Editor Smith gets very enthusiastic over the future of his town and says 'with an unlimited water supply, one of the largest, in fact, in the state of Texas, with another well that will be coming in within the week; with a low electric rate, and gas coming, Snyder is right in line to not only be a truly important agricultural point, but the best industrial city in West Texas.' That's the spirit of publicity that has made West Texas' growth the envy of not only the state of Texas, but other states." The Times-Signal surely thanks you, Brother Kelly, and we do want to tell you that the Leader is an appreciated visitor to our desk, and we hope the good will shown in your editorial is something that we can always live up to. Editor Kelly, if you'll bring George Spears and run into Snyder, we'll throw the finest feast ever put out in West Texas.

EXAMINATIONS TO BE GIVEN SOON

ATTENTION, TEACHERS! Do not forget to prepare your children for the seventh grade examination that will be held either the latter part of April or the first of May, the exact date to be announced later. This means more to your 7th grade boys and girls than you can estimate. It will not only give them clear entrance to high school, but also mean a great deal to them in the inspiration they will receive from such an exercise that will be had on graduation day. Work on them from now until the time comes and have all your seventh grade take this examination.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

"No student shall read the Atlantic Monthly, Shakespeare, Robinson Crusoe Scott, or any other immortal works.

"No lady shall become a member of this institution unless she can kindle a fire, wash potatoes, repeat the multiplication table, and at least two-thirds of the catechism."

"Young ladies shall not associate with young gentlemen unless they are returned missionaries or agents of benevolent societies."

However, these are not rules that are to be enforced in the Snyder high school this term. They are rules that were enforced in some schools in the long ago, known or thought to be known to many as "the good old days."

NAMES OF FLOWERS

Science is just plain common sense with its sleeves rolled up its hair tousled.

It costs a lot less to treat infected water than it does to treat infected consumer.

Water—Our Savior walked on it, but we can't even stay on the wagon that hauls it.

"Autointoxication" implies imprudent eating at the table—not imprudent drinking at the wheel. Liver and bacon makes a good dinner meal, especially prepared, with the merit of being very valuable in the diet. Any kind of liver supplies vitamins, iron, and furnishes the body with protein and calories.

"Why The Laundry Should Do My Washing"

MORE than a million enthusiastic patrons of the laundry submitted letters in the $50,000 cash competition conducted by the laundryowners of the United States and Canada and of which the prize winners have been announced. The subject of the contest was, "Why The Laundry Should Do My Washing." The number of letters entered in this contest from almost every civilized country was 1,044,372.

Winner of the first prize $10,000, Mrs. A. W. Thomas, 522 64th Ave., West Allis, Milwaukee, Wisc. The letter follows:

"I am a happy wife. I am a happy mother. I send my washing to the laundry.

"Gone are the hours of stooping over a steaming wash tub. Gone is the aching back and the rough, chapped hands and brittle nails caused by plunging the hands into hot and cold water and by hanging the family wash out in the wind. Gone are the evenings of morose silence in our family sitting room because it was wash day and mother is too tired to speak a pleasant word.

"The laundry gives me more hours for mothering. I have two children of preschool age, the most impressionable time in their lives, who need every spare moment for supervision and organized play that a mother can possibly give. I have more hours for pleasant social activities and community work. I let the laundry be the drudge.

"The laundry washes my clothes scientifically. The water used is chemically softened and rigidly treated so that no housewife need fear that even her finest articles will be faded. I trust the laundry with my babies' dainty clothes, most of which I have embroidered in delicate colors and never once have they come back faded. The clothes are whirled dry so that the fabrics will not be injured.

"The laundry also safeguards health. By sterilization, lurking germs are destroyed and the housewife assured of absolute cleanliness.

"Laundry service is cheaper. Counting the labor of the wife at even twenty-five cents an hour, or the wage per hour of the laundress plus the inconvenience and expense incurred by her, plus materials and depreciation of equipment, there can be no doubt of it.

"The laundry saves time, saves health, saves money, saves clothes. Those reasons should be sufficient to convince the housewife that her laundry is a community blessing."

The laundry can do the same for you as it did for Mrs. Thomas. Just call and we will give our best services.

CONGRATULATIONS

The little Bell school, under the supervision of Miss Zula Tolson and Miss Bernice Paynolds, is to be congratulated upon their wonderful showing at the interscholastic League Meet. This little school with only thirty children enrolled, came over to Snyder and carried away the beautiful Victory trophy offered by Stinson Drug Co. to the rural school scoring the highest number of points in the meet. This only goes to show what children can do if they become interested and try. Keep the good work up!

TO THE VOTERS OF SCURRY COUNTY

After the solicitation of a number of my friends, I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the office of County School Superintendent. I have had four years experience in this work, serving Scurry County as Superintendent from Dec. 1, 1920, to January 1, 1925.

I am standing on my office record. I have no official act to hide or shield from the public. I would not have you believe that I pleased everybody during the time I served as County Superintendent, neither would I have you believe that I tried to please everybody, but I did try to give every body the very best service, and to serve the school to the very best of my ability, did it honestly, fairly and to every one alike.

I have had several years of very successful teaching experience, in the schools of this and adjoining counties, and I feel that I understand the needs of the rural school of the County.

I feel that I am thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office and school work, and my past experience will enable me to serve you better in the future than was possible in the past.

I expect to see the people before the July Primary, but should I fail to see you I will appreciate your vote and influence, and if elected to the office to which I am seeking I shall do my best to serve the people and schools of Scurry County to the very best of my ability.

Yours for better schools, (MISS) NEALY SQUIRES, (Political Advertisement)

FIRST BRICK RURAL SCHOOL IN MITCHELL COUNTY IS FINISHED

The first brick rural school house in Mitchell County was completed last week when the new Spade school house was finished, says the Colorado Record. It is modern in every respect, and, according to Miss Georgie Walker, state rural school supervisor, who was in Mitchell County last week, is worthy evidence of the progressive spirit in its district. Formal dedication of the building will be held some time in the near future.

The cost of the building was $12,645. It is of brick and tile and is one-story high. There are four class rooms besides the boys' manual training room and the girls' home economics room. Besides these there are the superintendent's office, the book room, and the library. The auditorium has a seating capacity of about 300. The building is equipped with indoor toilets, bubble drinking fountains, and a Delco lighting system. The building is across the road north and about 100 yards east of the old wooden structure with four rooms which has been serving as the school house. It is on land formerly owned by J. J. Northcutt.

The school at present has an enrollment of about ninety pupils, has four teachers employed. It teaches through the tenth grade, and had over 1,000 points to its credit at its final scoring this year, making it one of the Standard Class A schools. W. E. Cox year, making it one of the Standard Class A schools, and the other teachers are: Mrs. Edna Welch, Mary Howell and Mrs. W. E. Cox.

ROTAN FOLKS HAPPY OVER WATER PROJECT

The Rotan Advance gleefully stated last week: "The Camp Springs water is coming! There is no chance for the proposition to fail, according to city council members. In fact, the work is starting and material is on the way.

All arrangements for building the pipe line to Camp Springs and bringing that water to Rotan have been completed. The surveyors are here surveying the line. Five miles of pipe has been shipped, and the other pipe will be coming as needed.

At last the dream of the years is about to be realized. Rotan is to have plenty of good water. As good water as any place in the country, and better than most towns in this section. No better news could be given, as it means more to us than a railroad or any other improvement or industry.

Unless something unforeseen occurs, the Camp Springs water should be turned into the city mains by early summer.

Dead Robbers Show Bankers on Right Track

As this issue goes to press those 1250 member banks, who are supporting President Massie's dead bandit reward, have been asked to pay for Dead Robbers Nos. 4 and 5, killed at Rankin January 12. It might be interesting to review the campaign thus far, says The Texas Bankers Record.

From September 10 to November 10, 1927, the date the reward was announced—a period of eight weeks—there were 21 daylight holdups and 6 night attacks on banks in Texas—more than 3 a week. Loss to banks $75,000; bandits captured none; arrests afterward, none.

During the last six weeks of 1927 there were 4 daylight holdups with loss of $1,600. Three robbers were killed; three captured following robbery; $32,000 in stolen money recovered; and a nest of 14 alleged bandits put in jail. During the first 10 weeks of 1928—the very heart of bandit season—there have been two daylight holdups; $1,900 money lost; two robbers killed; four desperate bandits captured.

Besides this, during the last 16 weeks, since the reward was offered, the law enforcement machinery of our state has certainly accelerated its speed against bank bandits for some reason. Study these court records: Two bandits given the death penalty for bank robbery (first in our state); four bandits given 99-year sentences; three given 47-year sentences; total arrests of alleged bandits since Nov. 10 is 26—which is a greater number than for the four years previous.

The above facts should effectively silence the ordinary criticism against the plan. It should deter those who contemplate robbing Texas banks.

MISS VONCEIL VIKING LOVED BY HER NEW MEXICO FRIENDS

Times-Signal readers will recall several months ago that Vonceil Viking passed through Snyder on horseback riding from New York to Los Angeles.

A New Mexico item in The Earth in connection with this lady champion said: "Vonceil Viking, who spent the first fifteen years of her life as a cowgirl on a ranch near the city of Roswell in the famous Pecos valley—where apples, alfalfa and oil are lusty rivals—some short time ago won a wager that every American girl should be proud of because it was won in defense of them as a whole.

"According to the story related by Miss Viking at Roswell, at a dinner she was attending in London, England, the Marquis of Donegal asserted that American girls were jazz crazy and now were unable to stand the hardships that were every day necessary to their grandmothers. The argument waxed hot. Finally the Marquis stated, Miss Viking said, that if she could make the trip on horseback from New York City to Los Angeles in 120 days, a bonus of $25,000 would be awaiting her when she arrived at that city. All the world knows Miss Viking arrived on time—riding her faithful steed "Broadway"
