BIG SPRING SPORTS EDITOR "AIRS" PERSONAL VIEWS

Bobby Campbell is sports editor of the Big Spring Herald, and covered the Tiger-Stanton game in the latter town, Friday. Under his heading in Sunday's paper appeared the following:

This department had the pleasure of seeing Bedford McClinton and Marcus Johnson in action Friday. For the benefit of Big Spring residents who do not know these two gentlemen, they happen to be quarterback and fullback, respectively, of the champion Snyder Tigers. McClinton, the young rascal, could slash the Big Spring Steers, the Brownwood Lions, and the Sweetwater Mustangs to pieces single-handed. If he didn't succeed, this behemoth Johnson could stumble along and fall over for enough yardage. Look at the line play figures as compiled by this scribe:

McClinton—carried ball 13 times for 101 yards.
Johnson carried agate 24 times for 106 1-2 yards.
Erwin toted pigskin one time for two and one-half yards.
Clark centered along 14 times for 80 yards.
Howell stuck his best foot forward 6 times for 33 yards.
Jones, once for five yards.
Ferguson the same for two yards.
Grand total, 330 yards on line plays only. Figure that out and you've well acquainted with Mr. McClinton and Mr. Johnson of the Snyder McClintons and Johnsons.

ATTEND FUNERAL OF MOTHER AT TEMPLE

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blakey were called to Temple, Saturday, where Mrs. Charles Riemann, mother of Mrs. Blakey had died. Mrs. Riemann was serving her evening meal when she was unexpectedly stricken. She was immediately removed to one of the local hospitals where every aid known to medical science was used. Mrs. Riemann was secretary of one of the Woodman Circles, was one of the workers in the founding of the Kings Daughters Hospital, and was one of the first Red Cross workers in the Temple chapter. In addition to eight daughters she adopted two sons, both of the latter having preceded her in death. Her husband survives with the eight daughters, with 15 grand-children and one great grand child. Funeral, five son-in-laws and seven daughters were the pall bearers, with J. E. Blakey officiating.

COMMITTEE LISTS LOW COST FOODS TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE DIET

The widespread drought of 1930 has affected in two ways the food problem of many of those living in the Southern States the National Drought Relief Committee has recognized. Farms have been unproductive and livestock depleted with a consequent decline in the income usually received from the sale of farm products. Also as the result of drought less food of all descriptions has been stored for home consumption. How, an adequate diet containing the proper "protective" foods could be provided, with resources in home-grown food and ready cash unusually limited is one of the important problems facing the committee.

In the course of any winter, even a normal supply of stored or canned fruits, vegetables, and meats in most farm homes shrinks. Over large areas some farm families come to depend on an extremely one-sided diet, resulting in improper nutrition. Many persons affected do not know that their diet is inadequate and do not know to spend their limited cash to obtain maximum health protection.

Pellegra, a disease prevalent in the South results from the lack of certain factors in the food habitually eaten. It has been estimated that in the United States at least 200,000 individuals suffered from pellegra in 1929. Nutritionists believe that there will also be many pellegra cases in 1931 unless educational and relief measures are made effective promptly.

The people concerned need authoritative information which will help them to get at low cost the foods necessary for an adequate diet. The aim should be not only to prevent pellegra, but to improve health in every respect. To meet the situation, a sub-committee of the National Drought Relief Committee is planning to supply through home demonstration agents, nutritionists, home economics teachers and other professional workers food facts needed by the affected sections.

The sub-committee consists of Dr. Hazel K. Stiebeling, Senior Food Economist, Bureau of Home Economics, Chairman; Dr. Hazel E. Munsell, Senior Nutrition Chemist, also of the Bureau of Home Economics; Miriam Birdssey, Extension Nutritionist, Office of Cooperative Extension Work, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dr. W. H. Sebrell, Passed Assistant Surgeon, Public Health Service; and Clyde B. Schuman, Director of the Nutrition Service, American Red Cross.

This committee proposes first to assemble in usable form the scientific information needed by nutrition workers in the drought areas, who are called upon to advise families on diet. It has prepared tables showing adequate low-cost diets for families of different composition. These are for the use of professional nutritionists in the drought-stricken regions. Some of these tables are interpreted for the homemaker in terms of the weekly market basket. Another market list has been worked out for tenants on plantations where all food supplies are obtained from central distributing stations or commissaries. These families expect and want certain customary foods, and the supplementary foods needed for adequate nutrition differ somewhat from those included in lists of foods that conform to ordinary dietary habits. During the late winter and early spring the diet of some of these tenants farmers over long periods has consisted largely of white flour and corn meal, salt pork, sugar, and sirup, with very small amounts of vegetables, milk or lean meat. The addition of milk-fresh, canned, or dried—to such diets is strongly urged as the first protective measure, particularly where there are children. A pound of tomatoes per person per week is suggested as a second additional purchase if the family resources are very limited and cannot be supplemented enough to procure all the food materials recommended in other market lists. Where pellegra actually exists nutritionists recommend an ounce of pure dried yeast per person per day until recovery.

In sections where a one-sided food supply is the rule, the appetites of the tenants are satisfied by the customary diet. It is not easy to induce them to make changes or to add unaccustomed foods to their diet. For this reason, the sub-committee is preparing educational material in simple form to distribute through schools, stores, and other cooperating agencies. These leaflets will show why people should eat the foods recommended, and which foods give protection at least cost. Among the foods mentioned as good or excellent sources of the pellegra-preventative factor, are milk, lean muscle meat, liver, canned salmon, wheat germ, and pure dried yeast. Dried and canned milk are recommended when fresh milk can not be obtained. The market lists include also the cereals and dried legumes—on which low cost diets largely depend—vegetables and fruits to the greatest amount possible, fats, sweets, and some lean meats, fish and eggs. Food for children should differ in kind as well as in quantity from that of adults, and the needs of other children differ somewhat from those of younger. Consequently particular attention has been given to tables showing how to provide for these needs.

Further information about the tables and other materials prepared for the use of nutrition workers in the drought regions can be obtained by writing to the Cooperative Extension Service or the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, or to the representatives of the other cooperating organizations. This material will be in the hands of extension workers in the States affected as soon as possible, and can also be obtained from them.

HELPING TO BUILD TEXAS

Throughout Texas farmers are planning for renewed efforts along new production lines for the coming year. Milam county has organized a tomato growers association with pledges for 100 acres in that crop next season. Denton county has a cantaloupe association pledged to plant 100 acres around Aryle in 1931. Hall county has organized a credit corporation seeking rediscout privileges that would provide $400,000 in loans to farmers. Wise county held a meeting to discuss trucking plans for 1931 with pledges for definite acreages. Fisher county cattlemen have formed a $3,000,000 corporation in which will be pooled the resources of the incorporators, including cattle, horses and lands, the purpose of the merger being to handle the business more economically. Increasing interest in truck crops, dairying, pecan-growing, orchards and the like is shown by the newspapers from all sections of the state.

A Willbarger high school student is pioneering in a new industry in Texas—making furniture out of mesquite wood, which is one of the toughest varieties known. Texas Rock Asphalt Co., at Cline, has completed the substitution of electricity for steam in its mines in Uvalde County, connection being made with the Central Power & Light Co. Goose Creek conducted a questionnaire among business and industrial leaders over the country as to changing its name to Southport and found a great majority of the replies favored the latter. Waxahachie cotton mills, heretofore manufacturing only ducking, will increase its payroll and its outlet by changing over to the making of colored fabrics, including denims, cotton checks and cottonades. Much of Texas' supply of these materials have been imported from mills in the east, costing in freight from 2

How to play Bridge AUCTION or CONTRACT

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 6
In the preceding article, reference was made to "spooft bridge", as bluff bids are termed by our English cousins. Here is a hand where the bluff bidder was out-manuevered:
Hearts—A, Q, 3, 2
Clubs—10, 4
Diamonds—Q, J, 10
Spades—A, Q, 9, 8

AUCTION BIDDING:
No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one trump. A bid two spades and Y bid two no trumps. If B passed, what should Z bid? How should he analyze the bids of A and Y? How could A bid two spades and Y bid two no trumps, if both were bidding soundly? His own holding in spades really made Z's problem fairly easy. It was a certainty that A could not have a spade bid for, if he did, Y could not possibly bid two no trumps. Such a bid should indicate at least one stopper in spades and that stopper could only be three or four spades to the king. A's two spade bid, therefore, must be a bluff bid, made to induce Y Z to bid two no trumps and thus give A a chance to make a set-up club suit. Z correctly figured this out and decided that his best chance for game lay in the spade bid, particularly if his partner should hold four spades to the king. Z, therefore, bid three spades and A bid four clubs, thus verifying Z's deductions. Y and B passed and Z bid four spades and all passed. A's hand was as follows:

The Rivers Glass Company has increased its capital stock from $250,000 to $600,000. Its annual output includes 30 million glass bottles. Construction of a $3,000,000 underground cable from Dallas to Oklahoma City is under way by the Southwestern Bell, part of a total of $50 million program in the Southwest over the next five years. Texas is producing this year 99,576,000 bushels of corn, in spite of the shortage resultant from the summer drought. Crosbyton, according to the Review, is pleased at another substantial reduction in light and power rates, the fifth voluntary cut made since the Texas Utilities took over the electrical business there. Protest against the import of stone from another state for building a monument to be erected on the state capitol grounds was made by the Austin Rotary Club, which wants Texas stone used.

Showing the depth of the interest in Texas in soil conservation, 868,000 acres of land in the state have been terraced or contoured in the year ending June 1 last. In 1916 only 50,000 acres of Texas lands had been terraced. The total now is well past 4 million acres. Pecan crop of Texas for 1930 is estimated at 9,500,000 pounds as compared with 17,496,000 pounds last year. The 1930 figures represent more than one-fourth of the total U. THE PUNISHMENT They Get in the First Few Minutes Decides How Long They Will Last

And so it is with your motor... 40% to 60% of all motor wear occurs in the first few minutes after starting, because ordinary oils drain away in idle periods. But CONOCO Germ-Processed oil is always on guard duty, never drains away, penetrates metal surfaces, reduces starting wear.
A step on the starter always takes ordinary oils unaware, and it is then that most damage occurs in your motor. By draining away during idle periods, ordinary oils "let down their guard" and let your motor in for severe punishment at a time when protection is vitally needed.

On the other hand, Germ-Processed oil always has its guard up. Its film penetrates and clings to every working part while the motor is idle.
The first motor revolution finds ready lubrication guarding every clearance. The 40% to 60% of wear which might have taken place before you ever shift a gear is substantially reduced.
Thousands of motorists have found that this improved motor oil prolongs motor life and gives better all-round performance. You can find CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil wherever you see the CONOCO Red Triangle.

EMPLOYMENT: Many Texas cities have found that beautification is an agreeable antidote for unemployment.

The clearing of underbrush and weeds from the banks of streams, and the cleaning of rank growth from gutters and open ditches, now serves a three-fold purpose.

It is a measure which, by reason of its simple practicability, should be adopted by all of Texas.

Chopped weeds, clear underbrush. Clean, beautify and employ. It is a battle-cry in which every man should raise his voice.

ANTI-TRUCK SENTIMENT: No recent movement has so conclusively demonstrated the influence of Texas newspapers as crystallization of public sentiment against the unfair competition waged against railroads by unregulated and, frequently, irresponsible motor-transport lines.

This was essentially a newspaper achievement. The facts were unearthed by newspaper men and by them presented, through the medium of the editorial column, to the public.

Every lighting Texas realizes what the movement of cotton, from interior to coast, has meant for Texas railroads. Especially significant, therefore, are late statistics which reveal the fact that motor trucks have transported 28.1 percent of this year's cotton crop from producing area to export concentration points.

In terms of dollars, trucks this season have earned $1,326,302.73 hauling their share of the crop to deep-water ports.

While the railroads were losing this revenue they were paying an annual tax-bill to Texas which had mounted to more than $10,000,000.

Because it is imperative that railroads maintain their properties in condition to meet the requirements of any emergency, these mounting tax bills and diminishing revenues constitute an unhealthy condition.

KIDDIES LETTERS TO DEAR SANTA CLAUS

Snyder, Texas, December 6, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
Please note the change in my address, from 2042 Merchant, Abilene, to Snyder, Texas.
You remember I am five years old and like larger toys.
So will you please bring me a red wagon and a collar for my bull dog? So the cops won't get him. Sorry I do not have anything for your poor lame reindeer.
Hope you will remember all the little boys and girls, and also our nice Editor of the Times-Signal. I think it kind of him to write you for us. I won't ask for any nuts and candy, because mama will buy some for me and you can give mine to some other little boy.
Thank you,
BIRDWELL BURNEY.

Snyder, Texas, December 4, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a pop gun, some ice skates, sled and little train and some story books. I hope you have a nice Christmas and remember all the good little boys and girls in Snyder.
Thanks Santa,
CARL LARUE.

Snyder, Texas, December 6, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
How are you? I am fine. I was sorry to hear that your reindeer was lame, but I don't know anything to do for it.
Please bring me and my brother a coaster wagon and one air gun for my little brother. I have a gun myself.
Yours truly,
WESLEY and LOYD DUCK.

Snyder, Texas, December 6, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a pair of roller skates, a harp and some little wire whlers. Glenn wants a rocking chair, a harp and an airplane. Bring Don a rubber rat. Bring all of us some candy, fruit and nuts.
Don't forget the other little children.
RAY POWELL

Snyder, Texas, December 6, 1930.
Dear Santa:
Please bring me a little air plane and a Jews Harp and a little car. And lots of nuts candy and fruits.
Yours truly,
MELVIN WARD
R. F. D. 3, Snyder, Texas.
P. S.—And please Santa don't forget my little niece and nephew at Lamesa.
Snyder, Texas, December 8, 1930.
Dear Santa:
I am a little girl six years old. I live eight miles south of Snyder and go to Dunn school. I ride to school on the school truck.
I want you to bring me a big doll, a book, a ball, some candy and a set of dishes. I don't want very much because I want you to have something left for the other little boys and girls. I have a little brother and sister I would like for you to remember and be sure and don't forget my Mama and Daddy.
Your little friend,
MARY DRUCILLA CASEY.

Another woman stole my husband

—do I deserve pity or blame?

SO...it had happened to her, too. Deserted by her husband, for another woman. She, the woman who had struggled and sacrificed. Cast aside. An object of pity and scorn... Stephen had been a good husband. What sudden madness had made him desert his wife and his two adoring children?
"I'm through," he had cried. "I hope I never see you again." And he had left her—trembling, abandoned...
"He had no right to leave me," she sobbed. But perhaps she had made the one fatal mistake that has driven countless husbands into other women's arms. Can any woman ever regain the love she lost?

Floydada, Texas, December 8, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
I am at Floydada, now, but I will be at Snyder Christmas, so I am writing to you at Snyder. I have several cousins and little friends at Snyder that I do not want you to forget to give plenty of toys, because they are all good children and deserve something good. I am also sending you a list of things that I want you to bring me. A drum, a horn, some little carpenter's tools and blocks, gloves and lots of good things to eat. I have a little baby brother that I want you to remember too. His name is Hershel Wayne. I think he would enjoy a rattler, a little bird, a celluloid fish and maybe a little doll.
I hope you have enough toys to give to all good little children.
Your little friend,
JAMES BIGGS, JR.

Knapp, Texas, December 8, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
Will you please bring me Doll, Cooking Set, and a pair of Gloves, Apples, Candy, Nuts. I think Mc-Ness Pain Oil will be good for your lame reindeer. Hoping to see you soon.
Your friend,
RUDENE BERRYHILL.

Knapp, Texas, December 8, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring us some doll dishes, knives and forks, a little broom, apples, oranges and candy and nuts.
Your little friends,
La Von and La Nell Berryhill.

Snyder, Texas, December 6, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
Will you please come to see me Christmas and bring me a paper doll book, some crayolas, a pencil box, nuts, fruits and candy, and please bring my little sister a paper doll book and eight crayolas, or anything you can spare.
Your little friend,
ELSIE MURPHREE.

Dear Santa Claus:
Will you please come to see me and bring me a pop gun, a story book, a box of crayolas, a note book and a pencil. I will not ask for much for there are lots of little children that will not get much. And don't forget to bring me some fruits, nuts and candies, and my little sister would like to have something.
Yours truly,
W. T. MURPHREE, Jr.

Snyder, Texas, December 8, 1930.
Dear Santa Claus:
We are Doris and Billy Rae Hart. I, Doris, want a doll with blond colored hair, and a little toy piano. Billy Rae wants a coaster wagon and a little train. We both want candy, nuts and oranges. I hope we have not asked for too much, as Santa Claus has so many little children to visit. I, Doris, am six years old, and go to school. I love my teacher and hope you will remember her too.
We are being good children.
our little friends,

Not much news this week and good news too. Everybody will weather fine so every thing going along fine. Boll pulling seems to be the order of the day, but that will soon be a thing of the past at least for the year 1930.
Christmas is approaching and we trust when it arrives it will find everyone well and happy and dear old St. Nick will be able to visit every home making each heart glad.
D. A. Jones and Joe Belew rounded up Saturday and branded quite a few cattle.
After spending several days with their parents, J. J. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gurels from Guyan returned to their home on Tuesday.
Mrs. I. R. Smith is in Millings Sanitarium at Mineral Wells this week.

Grandmother Griggs, mother of Mrs. J. W. Squires of this place died after a lingering spell of sickness at her home near Dermott, Saturday, and was buried in the Bokout Cemetery Sunday afternoon. Rev. T. L. Nipp conducted the services. She leaves several grown children, a faithful and loving husband, several grand children and great-grand children. Grandmother was 81 years old at the time of her death. She was a member of the Baptist church and had lived a faithful member for better than sixty years. We extend sympathy to the bereaved.

Rev. T. L. Nipp and wife have gone to DeLeon to take Mrs. Nipp's sister home, Miss Mildred Gardner.
G. M. Hanback is moving his family to Lovington, N. M., this week.
W. P. Sims and wife was among those who attended the funeral at Dermott of Grandmother Griggs.
Dr. A. W. Brown and wife made a trip to New Mexico last week.

SIDE LIGHTS

By Marvin Jones
Member of Congress

Congress convened December 1st for what promises to be an interesting short session.
Conditions are unusual. A nation-wide depression has brought new problems—of course many of these difficulties cannot be cured by legislative remedies.
Some steps, however, may be taken that would be of material assistance.
One of the most important of these would be to suspend all immigration to America for a definite period.
The Act of 1924 reduced foreign immigration very much. During the last fiscal year, 271,790 aliens of all classes were legally admitted. This does not include temporary visitors, some of whom remain. This Act reduced immigration more than one-half, but further reductions are now necessary.

No one can justify further foreign immigration with our own unemployed walking the streets. This is a question in which every American citizen is interested for everyone is affected. The immigrant unfamiliar with our institutions turns to crime much more quickly than our own people, especially when conditions are adverse.
I have long felt that we should suspend all immigration for a definite period. Should the time come again when we wish to allow a limited number of outsiders to enter, the selective method should be used.
I am glad to note that Secretary Davis who has been in charge of the immigration department has indicated that he will recommend a two-years suspension.
It should be for a longer period, but two years would show vast beneficial results, and thereafter such program could be laid out as conditions demand.

HERE'S HANDSOME ROSE, RED-HEAD

Snyder folks have been wondering all season at the uncanny way that our Snyder Tigers solved the offense of visiting teams. One gentleman's name spells it all, Red Hill. This chap Hill, all season, has been scouting their plays, their tricks, and their offensive and defensive ability and bringing them back to Snyder. He has done yeoman's service, and Red, old boy, here's the finest bouquet of roses that we know how to present, and they are yours. May you continue your wonderful work next season. You have filled a distinct Snyder need and your bouquet comes to you right now. Furthermore, we think your old alma mater, McMurry College, for giving you the football knowledge that has remained right with you.

EUZELIAN CLASS MEET

The Euzelean Class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Wraymond Sims, with Mrs. Ivan Teter, and Mrs. Ina Hollingsworth, hostesses. The meeting was opened with the class song, "Let others see Jesus in you." During the business session it was agreed to donate $10.00 to the Goodfellows movement, which is being sponsored by the class, and for each member to buy a Christmas stocking with nuts, to be given to this movement. After the business was disposed of an auction, with Mrs. McGahey, serving as auctioneer, was held, and articles were sold to raise money for Christmas activities. Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames OlaLeath, Nellie Raybon, Irene Ware, Lora Hart, Willie Jo Henry, Velma Bruton, Eunice Westershee, Mollie Le Mand, Nora Sentell, Lois Sentell, Emily Noble, Winnie Boren, Thelma Sims, Winnie Miller, Alice Northcutt and Vera Miller, guests; Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Swindell, Mrs. McGahey, and Miss May.

CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MISS MARTHA GRAY

Miss Martha Gray was hostess to the Altruria Daughters Club Monday evening at her home, 2600 Ave. After the business session, a very interesting program on "The Republic of Texas—Home Affairs," was directed by Miss Nona Carr. Roll Call was original Texas verses. Miss Ina Mae Caswell gave an introductory talk on Sam Houston, the Man and Maker of Texas History. A reading, "Verse from Mirabeau Bonaparte Lamar," was given by Miss Eloise Scott. "Education in Texas Today—What Does it Owe to Lamar?" was discussed by Mrs. J. D. Scott.

Dainty refreshments with pretty calendars as plate favors were passed to Misses Brentz Anderson, Lucile Brown, Inez Caskey, Ina Mae Caswell, Ola Lee Cauble, Nona Carr, Margaret Dell Prim and Eloise Scott; Mesdames Elinor Irwin, Mary Tenn Scott, Vera Nell Bannister, and Joe Cation.

MRS. W. M. SCOTT HOSTESS TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

A lovely party for members and guests of the Twentieth Century Club was held Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. W. M. Scott entertained at her ranch home. Chrysanthemums and other autumn flowers, were used in profusion throughout the home. The following program was given, under the direction of Mrs. I. A. Griffin: Roll Call—A saying of our Master, Song, Onward Christian Soldiers—Club. The Child Has a Right to a Faith—Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn. Current News—Mrs. W. T. Raybon Vocal Solo—Mrs. Earl Fish. Paper and Discussion, "Shall the Bible Be Read in the Public Schools?"—Mrs. W. J. Ely. Important Events of the Day—Mrs. W. C. Hamilton. Refreshments were passed to the Mesdames, H. M. Blackard, I. W. Boren, Ollie Bruton, J. C. Dorward, J. Nelson Dunn, W. J. Ely, Earl Fish, I. A. Griffin, W. C. Hamilton, W. T. Raybon, Joe Strayhorn, J. J. Taylor, Allen Warren, and O. S. Williamson, members; and Mesdames, Joe Stinson, Fred Grayum, and J. D. Scott, guests.

MES. TAYLOR AND SMITH ENTERTAIN SINE CURA

Husbands of the Sine Cura Bridge Club members were guests of honor at a party given Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Ernest Taylor and Mrs. Geo. Jimmy Smith were hostesses for the Club, at the home of Mrs. Taylor. Chrysanthemums, roses and carnations were neatly arranged about the entertaining rooms, and the Christmas motif was shown in wallies, score pads, and table appointments. At the conclusion of the bridge games, Mrs. W. T. Raybon held high score for ladies, while A. R. Norred won high award for men.

A salad course was served to the
