

School district awards roofing contracts

Muleshoe schools will be undergoing more than $700,000 of roofing repairs this summer, one year after the hail storm reaked havoc throughout the district.

The Muleshoe Independent School District's Board awarded bids Tuesday for the individual roofing projects at each of the local schools during a regular bi-monthly meeting.

MISD architect Bill Adling, of Adling & Associates from Lubbock, met with the board Tuesday to discuss the roofing project and proposed bids.

Adling said that right now there are two main goals, "First, that all of the projects are completed during the summer break so no contractors are on campus when school starts in the fall. Second, we want to get as much funding from the insurance settlement, hopefully 100 percent, to fund the project."

Each school was advertised as a separate project to try and ensure that the roofing repairs would be

After reviewing the bids and listening to the architect's advice, the trustees awarded the projects to the lowest bidders.

The job at Dillman Elementary was awarded to Lydick-Hooks Roofing Co. of Lubbock for $187,463.

The job at DeShazo was awarded to Hartman Roofing Co. of San Angelo for $155,265.

The job for Watson Junior High was awarded to Advantage Contracting at a cost of $238,000.

Advantage Contracting was also awarded the job at the high school for $157,400, pending approval by the insurance company.

The school district has to check with the insurance company because one contractor did turn in a lower bid for the high school job, but just minutes before Tuesday's meeting the contractor notified the

A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Muleshoe tops Tulia, 6-5

Matt McClanahan homered and doubled and Muleshoe rallied for two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to beat Tulia 6-5 in a District 1-3A baseball game at the city park field.

The comeback win moves the Mules to 8-5 overall and 2-1 in district.

Layne Kemp (5-2) pitched a scoreless seventh inning to pick up the win in relief of Rodney Alanis. The Muleshoe hurlers combined to limit Tulia (2-5, 0-3) to seven hits.

Alanis added a double for Muleshoe, which raked Tulia pitcher Ces Tucker for 12 hits.

Weevil meeting April 9

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Northwest Boll Weevil Eradication Zone are co-sponsoring an educational meeting April 9 in Muleshoe.

The meeting will be held at the Bailey County Coliseum in Muleshoe at 10 a.m.

Dr. Jim Leser, Extension Service entomologist, will present a program on boll weevil management, and Steve Jones, a Lubbock county producer, will make a presentation on the effect the boll weevil has had on his farming operation.

CEU's will be offered and a noon lunch will be provided.

Pepsi prank fizzles

A Georgia high school student paid a big price for taking the Pepsi challenge.

Mike Cameron, a senior at Greenbrier High School in Evans, Ga., was suspended from school for wearing a Pepsi shirt on Coke Day.

School officials said the shirt was an insult to visiting Coca-Cola executives and ruined a school picture in which students spelled out "Coke."

The Coke in Education Day was part of Greenbrier's effort to win a $500 local contest run by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Augusta and a national contest with a prize of $10,000.

Cameron wore a blue-and-white striped shirt with a Pepsi logo underneath another shirt. He waited until just before the picture was taken to remove his outer shirt, according to school officials.

The Coke executives did not even see Cameron's shirt and were not offended by the prank, said company spokeswoman Diana Garza.

MHS sweeps Rams

It took Muleshoe coach Brad Hill three years to record his first win against his alma mater. It took him just two hours to get his second one.

Muleshoe swept Portales 15-14, 7-5 in a doubleheader Friday at the city park field, with senior Rodney Alanis pitching a three-hitter in the second game.

"It's always nice to win against your old school," said Hill, a 1987 Portales grad. "But we're just trying to get better." Muleshoe (7-5) needed a two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning to win the opener after squandering a five-run lead.

Matt McClanahan tripled in the tying run and scored the game winner on a throwing error.

"We have to be more consistent," Hill said. "We showed some character again by coming back and winning the game. But we're not going to be able to do that against the good teams."

McClanahan and Ismael Nunez homered for the Mules, who banged out 18 hits against three Ram pitchers. It was McClanahan's fifth home run of the season and the first for Nunez.

Nunez, Alanis and Layne Kemp all had three hits for the Mules.

Kemp (4-2) picked up the win despite allowing 15 hits, seven for extra bases.

In the nightcap, Alanis held Portales hitless after the third inning. Alanis (2-2) walked five and hit four batters, but was able to wiggle out of trouble all night.

Trailing 3-0, Muleshoe scored five times in the fourth.

McClanahan drilled a bases-loaded triple to center and B.J. Gonzales added a sacrifice fly.

The Rams tied the game with two unearned runs in the fifth inning.

Muleshoe took a 7-5 lead in the bottom of the fifth on singles by Aaron Purdy and Matt Mason and another sacrifice fly by Gonzales.

Purdy and James Barrett had two hits each for MHS.

district that they wanted to revoke their bid due to a calculation error. The error put the proposed bid $27,000 under the actual cost.

Adling explained that the school could deny the contractor's request to pull the bid and still grant the job to them at their originally proposed cost. The company would then have 10 days to turn down the contract and be forced to pay a fine if they did so.

Adling said that forcing the company to do the job at the proposed bid may cause problems and more work for the district in the long run.

Therefore, he recommended pulling the bid and granting the project to the next lowest bidder, which was Advantage Contracting. If the insurance company does not accept Advantage's bid, the school district will be forced to rebid the high school roofing project and start the selection process over.

In other business, the board approved the goals and objectives for the 1998-1999 school year.

Trustee Nick Bamert expressed concern that the performance on the TAAS test was the only measure of success currently in the policy. Bamert did not want to base a student's failure or passing to the next grade level based solely on one test. Moore reassured Bamert that other types of evaluation are used, but have not been built into the official objectives.

Bamert was joined by Moore and the other trustees in agreeing that they may want to consider revising the policy for future school years to include the other forms of assessment used by teachers in the district.

Modern times reach China

A new kind of cold front has hit the shores of China. No it has nothing to do with El Nino but everything to do with a basic kitchen appliance.

In 1985, only 7 percent of the total Chinese urban population owned a refrigerator. At the beginning of this decade, that number had jumped to 70 percent.

This simply addition to the kitchen is having a dramatic impact on the eating habits and buying trends in that country. In looking for items to stock the fridge, Chinese consumers are turning more and more to American items.

That has huge implications to Texas farmers and ranchers looking for new markets for their products.

Fine Arts Night is April 6

The annual Fine Arts Night to Shine is being held at 7 p.m. Monday, April 6 at Muleshoe High School.

Desserts will be served in the cafeteria between the choir performance and the play. The Art department students will display their latest works.

There will be a silent auction at the same time with items donated by local merchants. Auction items will be announced after the play.

Also awarded at this time will be the $250 Spring makeover drawing given by the junior and senior class parents for the prom fund.

All parents of fine arts students (both junior and senior high) are asked to bring a dessert to the cafeteria Monday between 4-6 p.m.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for students and can be purchased at the door.

The event serves as a major fund-raiser for the Fine Arts Departments and is the only time a fee is charged.

Motorcycle rally draws large crowd

Motorcyclists from five states invaded Muleshoe Saturday for the 16th annual Muleshoe Roadriders Motorcycle Rally.

The increasing popularity of motorcycles combined with good weather helped draw a larger crowd than in past years, rally organizer Danny Dickerson said.

"Ours is the first rally of the year," Dickerson said. "Everybody is ready to get out and ride."

Dickerson says the rally was evidence of the wide variety of people currently riding motorcycles.

"We have a lot of elderly people, a lot of Christian motorcycle association members and hardcore bikers," Dickerson said. "We have doctors, lawyers, police officers — all different walks of life, young and old."

Motorcycle enthusiasts came from Wyoming, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and throughout Texas to participate in the rally.

Robert Green traveled 250 miles from Elk City, Okla. This is his 34th year riding motorcycles and his ninth year at the Muleshoe rally.

For riders like Green, motorcycles are a family tradition.

"My dad was riding before I was born, so when I got old enough, I picked up on it and have been with it ever since," Green said.

Norma Navarre came from Sealy, near Houston, to display her motorcycles. She has attended rallies as far away as Gunnison, Colo., more than 1,200 miles from Sealy.

Navarre says she attends as many rallies as possible.

"I try to make at least two a month," she said.

One of the main attractions of motorcycle rallies is the opportunity to talk with other motorcycle enthusiasts.

"The fellowship is the best part. Getting to see people I haven't seen in a while," Navarre said.

"I like to just get together with other bikers and see all the latest stuff," Green said. "The hospitality here has been real good."

The rally can also be fun for people unfamiliar with motorcycles, Dickerson said.

Several races are held to test riders' skills. Among these is a flow race, in which the rider who takes the longest amount of time to finish the race course without stopping wins.

Another race challenges participants ability to hit a hockey puck while on the back of a motorcycle.

If the excitement of these competitions and the camaraderie of being with fellow bikers is not enough to attract people to the rally, Dickerson uses a secret weapon — flower power.

"We mail out flowers to people who have registered over the years," Dickerson said.

LITTLE DRIBBLERS REGIONAL TOURNAMENT

Muleshoe eliminated in semifinals BOX SCORES

Local teams fall short of reaching nationals

A late Dalhart rally eliminated the Muleshoe Juniors in the consolation semifinals of the Little Dribblers regional tournament held in Muleshoe this weekend.

The Muleshoe Majors suffered a similar fate, losing to Olton in the consolation semifinals.

Down by three with a minute to go, Dalhart #1 edged Muleshoe 35-34 Saturday at Muleshoe High School gym.

Brady Black led Muleshoe with 14 points and Jarad Flores added 12.

Muleshoe rebounded from a first round loss earlier Saturday by hammering Dalhart #2 37-18.

Cody Clark led Muleshoe with seven points. Myles James and Black added five points each.

Muleshoe suffered a 32-26 first-round loss Friday to tournament champion Shallowater.

Shallowater beat Olton 36-24 in the championship game Saturday and earned a berth in the national tournament later this month.

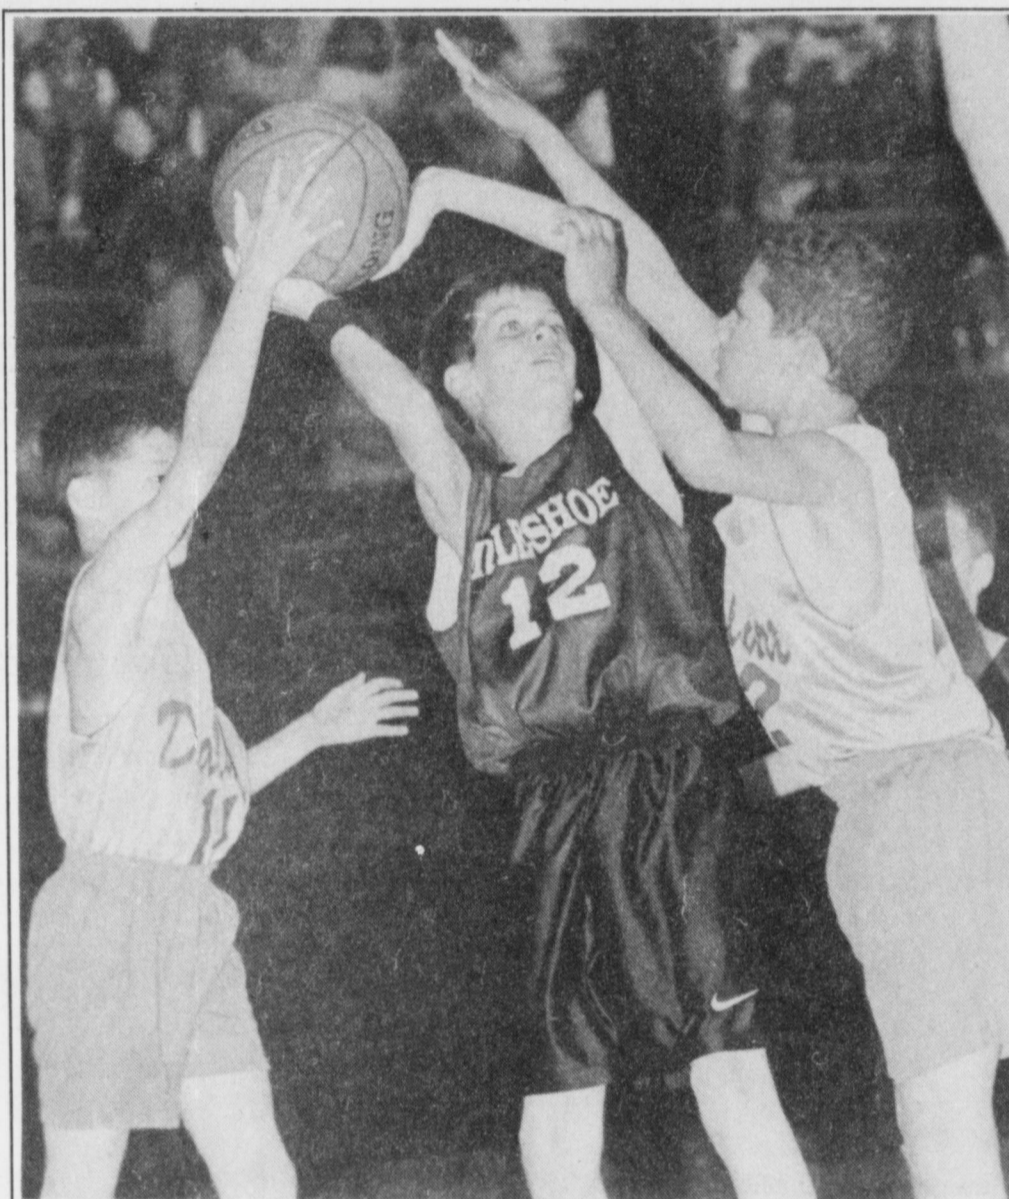

Dalhart #1 went on to win the consolation title in the five-team tournament and also advanced to the national tournament.

In the Major Division, Muleshoe rebounded from an opening-round loss to beat Dalhart #2 34-26 in the consolation round.

Brantley Employee of Year; Art Loft named top business

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce honored a local employee and business that have made longtime commitments to their job and the community.

Mary Janis Brantley was named Employee of the Year and The Art Loft was named Business of the Year Saturday during the Chamber's annual banquet.

Both Brantley and the owners of the Art Loft, Inez Bobo, Arline Phelps, and Dale Hughes, were honored for their many years of service to Muleshoe.

Brantley, secretary at DeShazo Elementary, began working at the school almost 30 years ago. She was selected by the Chamber of Commerce for her dedication not only to Muleshoe, but to its future leaders — the children.

DeShazo Principal Barbara Finney praised Brantley's constant dedication to students, parents and staff members.

The Art Loft opened its doors in Muleshoe in 1965.

Presenter Michael Precure outlined the history of the store, which has evolved from a place where artists gathered to paint, display and sell their artwork to the diverse speciality store of today. The Art Loft offers antiques, gifts, interior design and custom framing while still carrying on the tradition of displaying original artwork.

Farm family

Whitts named Farm Family of Year

Hundreds of Muleshoe residents had tear filled eyes as Rusty Whitt accepted his award for Farm Family of the Year.

Whitt made a brief but heartfelt acceptance speech, ending by saying that he wished his father, who passed away in April 1993, could have been here to share in the honor.

Whitt's sentimentality surprised no one at Saturday's Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Friends present described him as an extremely devoted family man from an extremely devoted farm family.

During the presentation, the Whitts, who have been farming in the area since 1973, were described as a hard working family that works together not only at home and on the farm but also within the community.

Rusty Whitt's commitment to farming and friends was apparent this past harvest when he helped harvest crops for fellow farmer, Derrel Embry, who was recovering from heart surgery.

The Whitts donated their machinery, and joined other community activists to make sure the Embry's didn't lose their crops.

Rusty and his wife Christie have two teenage daughters, Keisha and Brandy.

BANQUET

shoe.

After the award presentation, featured entertainer Ken Whitener, a professional hypnotist and comedian, took center stage and with help from numerous brave volunteers amused the audience.

A dozen of not-so shy and imaginative volunteers, turned out to be the true stars of the evening, making the audience laugh as they fell under Whitener's spell.

The women energetically performed the hula, and danced like Egyptians, while the men strutted around to songs like "Macho Man."

While under Whitener's influence, the group also pretended to ride horses, drive race cars, find unsuspecting aliens in the audience, talk Chinese, and do numerous other suggested acts.

Although all of the eager volunteers were definitely entertaining, a group of young teenage boys stole the show as they attempted to impersonate Elvis and Michael Jackson.

COMBS

Services in Muleshoe, Combs was honored for heading programs, such as Meals on Wheels, with never-ending compassion and sincere concern.

Combs was nominated because her good deeds go beyond her job. On the nomination form, she was described as a person of quiet kindness, someone who does many things for many people, yet doesn't want or expect any recognition.

At the banquet, Combs graciously accepted the award stating that it seemed almost wrong to be honored for something that she enjoys and loves doing so much.

Employee of the Year

Longtime DeShazo secretary Mary Janis Brantley was honored Saturday as the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce's Employee of the Year. School principal Barbara Finney presented her the award.

GILLELAND

year, taking it upon himself to make repairs and improvements after the cemetery had been vandalized in 1996.

The father of three has spent numerous hours on his mission to improve and maintain the community cemetery. He has been instrumental in heading up projects that have included drilling a new well and construction of a new fence.

According to the nomination letter sent to the Chamber's selection committee, Gilleland's sincerity and commitment is even more impressive when one realizes that he has no family buried at the cemetery. He didn't take on the project for personal reasons, but for his love of the community and out of the goodness of his heart.

Besides being dedicated to improving the community, Gilleland was described as a kind and caring man with strong devotions to family, friends, and church.

Theola Hulcy was born August 16, 1911 in Knox City, TX, which is near Graham. She soon moved to Kenna, NM, where she spent most of her school years. Kenna was located near Elida, but has since become nothing but a ghost town. Mrs. Hulcy recalls the town having only a post office and a three room school house. She fondly recalls playing basketball with the other girls in her school. She enjoyed the exercise even though there were barely enough girls to make a team. Theola attended school ten years, then chose to wed.

Theola married William Daniel Hulcy. Mr. Hulcy passed away on January 5, 1965. He was a farmer. The Hulcy's farmed in Estancia, NM and Amherst, TX.

Mrs. Hulcy was a housewife for most of her married life. However, when her husband expired, she started working outside the home at "everything hard to do." She worked several years at a Dallas dry cleaners. She moved to Earth in 1978.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulcy had two children: William Hershell of Earth, and Virginia Pearl of Wills Point, TX. Theola has six grandchildren, twelve great grandchildren, and four great, great grandchildren.

Mrs. Hulcy enjoys crocheting, knitting and working in her flower garden. She used to quilt, but has given up the hobby due to illness. She is a member of the Church of Christ.

About M.A.H.H.A., Theola says with great enthusiasm that they have been great! "I love every one of them," says Theola.

FROM JESUS TO CHRIST
THE FIRST CHRISTIANS

In the Roman province of Judea, around the fourth year of the rule of Pontius Pilate, a man was led outside the walls of the city of Jerusalem to his execution. To the authorities, he may have been a politically dangerous social reformer, a radical, an apocalyptic firebrand whose message about the coming of the "Kingdom of God" was a threat to the peace of Rome. It was met with swift force.

Born in a suburban village and exposed to the cosmopolitan life of Roman cities, Jesus of Nazareth grew up in a hotbed of radicalism and political activism, eventually becoming a preacher. His message was characterized by simple metaphor, targeted to the agrarian populace. It was there, among the ordinary people, that he built a devoted following.

"From Jesus to Christ: The First Christians," a four-hour Frontline special, explores the life of Jesus and the movement he started, challenging familiar assumptions and conventional notions about the origins of Christianity. Drawing upon new and sometimes controversial historical evidence and interviews with the nation's leading New Testament scholars, the series transports the viewer back two thousand years to the time and place where Jesus once lived and preached. The film traces Jesus' life, focusing on the events that occurred after he died and on his first followers, the men and women whose belief, conviction, and martyrdom created a major movement that transformed the Roman Empire in the space of only three hundred years.

The series is divided into four one-hour segments:

"Pax Romana" traces the life of Jesus, exploring the message that helped his ministry grow and the events that led to his crucifixion. This first hour looks at how scholars and archaeologists have pieced together a new portrait of where Jesus was born, how he lived, and who he was.

The second hour, "A Light to the Nations," turns from the life of Jesus to the period that followed his death, examining the rise of Christianity and concluding with the First Revolt — the bloody and violent siege of Jerusalem and the beginning of a rift between Christianity and Judaism.

"Let the Reader Understand," part three, examines the period after the First Revolt, tracing the development and impact of the Gospels, and looking at the increasingly hostile relationship between the Christians and the Jews.

The final hour, "Kingdoms in Conflict," examines the extraordinary events of the second and third centuries in which Christianity grew from a small Jewish sect to an official religion of the Roman Empire.

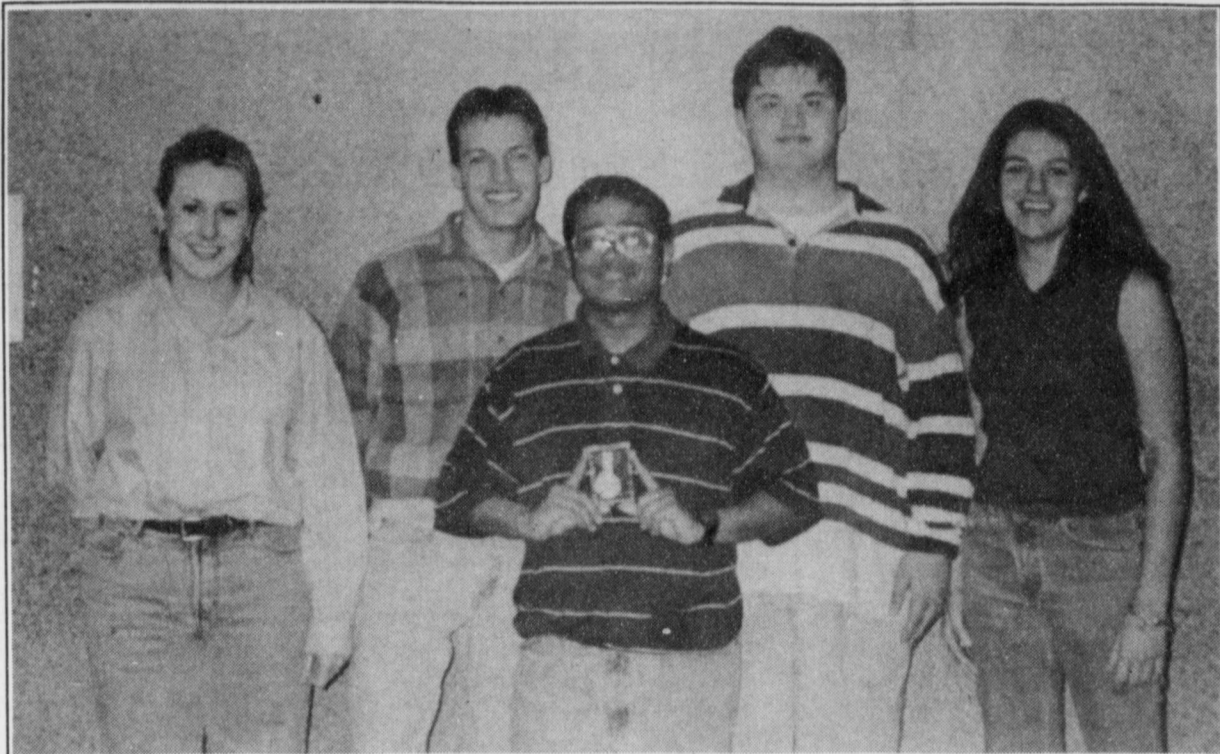

"From Jesus to Christ: The First Christians" on Frontline will be broadcast in two 2-hour blocks on consecutive evenings, Monday and Tuesday, April 6th — 7th at 9:00 p.m. Individual hour-long episodes of the series will be broadcast Saturdays at 11:00 p.m. beginning April 11th on KENW-TV.

Students win honors at academic contest

Students from Muleshoe High School competed in the District 1-3A literary tournament last weekend in Canyon.

The following students were recognized at the tournament and will be competing in the regional UIL Literary contest April 25 at Odessa College.

In the calculator event, students had 30 minutes to solve 80 problems in advanced mathematics, geometry and word problems. Kamal Bhakta earned first place and Amber Bruns placed second. For the team calculator event, Bhakta and Bruns were joined by Megan Tipps to qualify for the regional tournament.

In the Physic competition, Larkin Price placed first. She won the event by correctly answering the most questions on a test dealing with concepts and applications of physics.

In the science competition, Kamal Bhakta placed first. Bhakta had to answer 60 questions in a maximum of two hours dealing with biology, chemistry and physics.

In the Lincoln Douglas debate, Steven Madrid placed first and Marisa Buenrostro placed second. The students had to argue over the resolution, "that influence of the media undermines justice in American criminal proceedings." The debaters had to prove the truth or falsehood of the resolution on the basis of values, morals, philosophy, evidence, and persuasion. This is a one-on-one event where the debaters have to argue both sides of the resolution.

In persuasive extemporaneous speaking, Scotty Mills placed first, Westin Price placed second, Chris Gatewood placed third. To compete in this event students have to be knowledgeable on world news. During the competition, the speaker is given a choice between five topics. Topics are, for example "has the British monarchy outlived it's usefulness." The speaker must then present a definite stance and support that stance with three different points. Each speaker is given 30 minutes to write and memorize the speech. Then each speaker is given two minutes for the delivery.

Kensie Brown earned first place in poetry for her interpretation of selected poems using voice, gestures, and facial expressions.

Other students placing include Phillip Hardt, third in informative speaking, and Julie Slayden third in ready writing.
