

SCURRYLY SPEAKING

"One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil, and of good,
Than all the sages can."

BY JAKE

IF ALL of us were to sit down on our respective stumps, instead of trying to cut a few cords of Prosperity wood with which to build up the fires of hope, this county would be in a heck of a mess.

This ax I have is as dull as a Jewish Sabbath, but I mean to keep on trying to cut enough Prosperity wood to at least brighten the Scurryly Speaking fires.

Even Abe Rogers, the titanic tailor, who promulgated at the governor's ball Tuesday night, is big enough to do a little home-made grinning, so that makes the town just about unanimous. Say, Abe, did you and Errol tell the "big fat boy" for me, that he would be welcome to Scurry the capital of our West Texas, if he should get tired of that Austin village?

The Times bunch, by the by, is right proud that it had personal representatives down at Austin to see Friend Sterling take on the hall-billments of office. J. W. Roberts and his chief adviser, with our smiling district clerk, were there. They haven't showed up yet, so I'm thinking that they must have taken longer than expected for that interview with the heavy-fronted gov.

BUSY MEN may come and busier men may go, but A. C. Preullit goes on forever. Or, if he doesn't go on forever, he must eat in his sleep. Besides being R. S. & P. agent, city secretary, American Legion adjutant, lodge propeller of some sort, Methodist church ramrod and the husband of one wife, he is director of the Red Cross in Scurry county. Believe thou me, brethren, that man labors. He has a heart, and he doesn't kick about the cards 1931 has dealt.

If ever I am caught shooting craps or beating my wife, and Sheriff Brownfield isn't in these parts, I'll send for Horace Leath. He is another big-jobbed man, who divides time between ginning, cafe-ing and deputizing. Behind his newly painted cafe, he presents a picture of optimism that makes a fellow grinful.

H. H. Thomas is the busiest man in town, in spirit, at least. He believes in a clock-like schedule, except when it comes to getting his weekly ads ready. After he goes to that Dallas meeting next week, maybe he'll be so full of hope and good cheer that he'll get his "copy ready every Monday. If I could learn to say, 'What is it for you, please, ma'am?' half as neatly as he does the job, I'd retire from the newspaper game and start out selling oil stock to rich widows.

THIS column must be cut short this week. There's so much news happening that the hot air must wait.

But there are a couple more fellows who deserve a few lines.

Nathan Rosenberg and Pat Bullock are the names. The immediate reason for putting them in the same paragraph is that they are about the classiest dressers in town. Too, they are both famous for having smelling organs of distinguishing size. They are able to grin at me most of the time, and they don't complain about weather and depression. They are builders.

RED CROSS CALLS FOR HELP AS MANY SUFFER

Local Chapter Giving Out Clothing, Food and Other Necessities To Those in Want.

"Perhaps you have never had a letter like this one before. I pray to God above to fill your heart with a feeling for our terrible situation. I am the mother of seven small children; the oldest is only twelve years old. We are farmers—renters. We haven't made anything this year. No food on the place—only a few bales of cotton. Couldn't raise any garden on account of the drought. My little ones are ragged. We can't go to church. I wonder when the end will come."

Letters such as that are coming into Red Cross chapters from all parts of West Texas. Distressing conditions are developing in hundreds of homes. Scurry county is not escaping her share of the sufferers. Generous donations of clothing and other necessities have helped, but they are only a beginning, according to A. C. Preullit, county chairman. The vigorous campaign for additional funds in all parts of the county has resulted in more available funds, but much more is needed.

The national Red Cross has donated $500 to Scurry county, but this will be gone in a few days. Only actual necessities are bought with the money, and no orders are issued without thorough investigation by the committee.

Although a vigorous effort to collect funds here has been made, Walt Scott, in charge of the city campaign, believes there are many who wish to donate who have not been seen by the committee. Such persons are asked to leave donations at the Times office or with the Chamber of Commerce secretary.

V. A. Calf Gaining 2.4 Pounds Daily on Regular Feed Diet

The old story of the man who carried a calf up the stairs each morning until it became grown would probably have to be altered in the case of Clark Sturdivan's calf.

For Clark's calf has gained 2.4 pounds per day for sixty-three days, on the regular diet most calf raisers use in this section.

The secret of the 14-year-old boy's success, according to R. P. Tull, vocational agriculture instructor in Snyder high school, is the splendid care given the animal. Clark is a first-year V. A. student.

Claude Holley Praised

One of the finest compliments paid any West Texan of late was shown by Editor Jim Kelly of Stanton, when he told of what fine work Claude Holley had done for their chamber of commerce. Claude has gone to Gonzales, where he will be secretary of the commercial organization. Here's more good wishes for him.

Leonard Greenfield received a manager's sweater, and the coach was presented with his sweater.

LIVE AT HOME IS STERLING'S FARM SLOGAN

Agriculture Said by New Governor To Be Backbone of Our 1931 Civilization.

Ross S. Sterling, who has been a builder and a worker in private life, submitted a live-at-home plan for Texas farmers in his inaugural address Tuesday at Austin. He said the farmer should be encouraged to raise his own feed and food.

This account of the part of his message relating to the farmers is taken from the Abilene Morning News:

Governor Ross S. Sterling in his inaugural address characterized agriculture as the "backbone of civilization," and said that Texans, through development of agriculture and other natural resources, should first start building Texas.

He hammered home a message on farm relief. He said it could best be attained by relieving Texas farmers and stockmen of their terrible tax burdens.

"Live at home" was a keynote in his message on farm relief. Governor Sterling said farm relief by legislation seemed a difficult undertaking.

In this live-at-home plan he said the farmer should be encouraged to raise his own feed and food. His children should be given the best educational advantages. Harmony in the home, on the farm, as he emphasized harmony in state affairs, so that farmers and farmers' families would be content to live on and love the farm, was another high light of his speech.

"Thus can Texas be made a greater agricultural state, and thus will her vast undeveloped lands be settled and cultivated, supplying food and other commodities to the market of the world, and wealth to her own citizenship," he said.

Several Go to Post Farm Relief Session From This Section

A number of Scurry county people attended the gathering in Post Wednesday for discussion of the Federal Farm Aid relief plan for drought-stricken counties. It was an executive session, to discuss ways and means of presenting the government's plan to farmers in every section. Saturday's meeting, to be held in Snyder at 2:30 in the afternoon, will present Scurry county's chance to learn details of the relief plan.

O. P. Thrane of Snyder presided at the session.

In the Snyder party who went to Post were: O. P. Thrane, W. O. Logan, Mrs. J. L. Carrell, J. W. Scott, Joe Caton, Harrie Winston, I. W. Boren, Harvey Shuler and Miss Jessie Lee Davis.

Famous English Traveler Coming to Snyder Feb. 6

Johnny Regan, famous world-wide traveler, roper and whip artist, vaudeville performer, circus clown and war veteran, has been secured by the Snyder High School Band for a one-night engagement in Snyder, on Friday night, February 6, 1931.

Regan returned with the Cowboy Band to the United States last August and is now connected with Simmons University at Abilene. He is a native of England, having been born in London. During the past 15 years, however, he has been a citizen of the world. After engaging in the World War for four years he found home life too tame, and went to Australia, and New Zealand, where he worked on the huge "ranches" of those countries and learned the art of throwing Australian stock whips, with which oxen and horses are driven in those countries. He later returned to England and worked as a clown in a circus for more than a year.

Three years ago Mr. Regan joined a circus troupe to go to South Africa. This organization disbanded while there, and the versatile Johnny went into the heart of Africa with the Hagenbeck circus of Germany, having been hired to rope and catch wild zebras.

Regan is widely known on the European continent and in England as a vaudeville performer. He has

Farmers' Mass Meeting Saturday

Every farmer in Scurry county is urged to be in the district court room Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The mass meeting at that time will be one of the most important and helpful ever held in Snyder.

The chief purpose of the county-wide gathering is to present the Federal Farm Aid relief plan. Scurry county will get her share of the huge appropriation made recently by Congress if she responds liberally to this call.

FARMERS WHO DO NOT ATTEND THE SATURDAY MEETING STAND A BIG CHANCE TO LOSE THEIR SHARE OF THE SCURRY COUNTY APPROPRIATION. BANKERS, BUSINESS MEN AND OTHERS WHO HAVE STUDIED THE GOVERNMENT'S PLAN, SAY THAT RELIEF OF ANY KIND WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE UNLESS THE FARMER DOES HIS PART.

This is the golden opportunity for the farmer of this county to help pull himself out of the mud by his own bootstraps, for no one who refuses to follow the government's plan to the letter can hope for relief. Every detail of that plan will be discussed by able men Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Times publishers believe that no greater opportunity for showing her fighting colors will be presented to Scurry county during this period of uncertainty. As your home-county newspaper, we urge you to tell your neighbors about this meeting at which the farmer may learn to help himself.

Several Go from Snyder to Watch Austin Ceremony

Inauguration Ceremonies Seen by Five Local Representatives At Capital Tuesday.

As Ross Sterling, the Horatio Alger of Texas politics, took the oath of office as governor Tuesday at 12:20 o'clock, five Scurry citizens were seated in the inner circle of legislators and their guests. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts, Mrs. Louise Darby, Abe Rogers and Errol Taylor were the chosen few.

It is rumored about, also, that none of the five missed the governor's ball in the evening.

In addition to the five present Snyder residents, Scurry County was represented by Representative and Mrs. J. M. Claunch, who were host and hostess to the Snyder party; Horace Holley, assistant in the state treasurer's department; and Charley Lockhart, state treasurer, and family.

National Guards Praised By Fort Worth Inspector

Major Salgado, With Regional Headquarters, Says Local Company Ranks High.

Major Peter P. Salgado, from regimental headquarters, Ft. Worth, complimented Scurry county's Company C, 142nd Infantry, after he had visited on a tour of inspection early this week. He said that the local company should rate high, as usual, when federal inspection is made early in April. Fifty-three men, headed by Captain John E. Sentell, were inspected.

Captain Sentell announces that Jesse Jones has been elevated from sergeant to first sergeant due to First Sergeant Tommie Black moving from the county.

Another thing—after Congress puts Uncle Sam in business at Muscle Shoals, will it be niggardly in appropriating for his deficits?

Altrurian Women Place "Hobo Box" At Stinson No. 1

"Hot Room" for Nightly Visitors Provided Through Gifts of Food and Funds.

The Altrurian Club, which has been a leader in the civic activity of Snyder, has started a new and worthy project that will be of interest to the citizenship of Snyder.

Poor families of Snyder, as well as the itinerant, have been handled in the past few weeks with a fund started at Stinson Drug Company No. 1, where a "hobo box" has been located. Local folks have been contributing their nickles and dimes to this fund that enables nightly visitors at the court house basement "hot room" to get their supper and breakfasts. It has been working good.

The ladies of the Altrurian Club have now stepped into the breach and are notifying Snyder families who have food left over at any meal of the day to phone either Mrs. R. D. English or Mrs. E. J. Anderson, and those in need will call at the homes for the food. The Altrurian Club is acting as a central committee to handle both sides of the need—those in need of food are notifying them, and those having food are doing likewise.

Secretary Walt Scott of the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce is also in the picture, offering every cooperation at his command, and everyone is working in harmony to tide over the present depressing situation.

Crowder School to Have New Curtain And Stage Effects

The Crowder school, of which Miss Vernay Boynton is principal, is planning to build a small stage, which will be used for community plays and other entertainments. An advertising curtain, with ads from Snyder merchants, will also be used to increase the attractiveness of the school auditorium.

Teachers and trustees of the school are working hard on the new plan, for they say, they wish "to offer more training for our pupils in the line of public entertainment; we also need a stage for our chapel exercises."

Since the advertising spaces are being sold at nominal prices, local merchants are responding liberally.

The Follies of 1931, presented recently in the Snyder high school auditorium under direction of Homer Springfield, will play in Fluvanna Friday evening. The new high school auditorium is the place.

The full cast, with minor exceptions, will perform. Fluvanna is expected to turn out en masse to see and hear Scurry county's annual musical treat.

"Argotane Was Just What I Needed," She Says

"I Got to Where I Couldn't Eat Anything and Wasn't Able to Rest at Night; But Am Relieved Now," Brownwood Woman Says.

Mrs. L. A. Brandenburg, of 505 Melwood Street, Brownwood, Texas, in her statement regarding the benefits received from Argotane, said: "I have just taken one bottle of Argotane and am greatly pleased with the results in my case. I just haven't felt like myself for several years. I scarcely had no life or energy about me, and my appetite was very poor and suffered terribly from indigestion. I just got to where I couldn't eat anything without suffering and having intense pains in my stomach afterwards. Gas would form on my stomach and I felt depressed and down-hearted and just had to force myself to do my work. I had nervous sick headaches, and at times couldn't get any sleep at night. I felt that my condition was getting worse and needed something to build me up.

"Argotane was just what I needed to bring me out of it. It seemed to go right to the spot and I could tell a change in my condition after the first few doses. I'm not nervous like I was and get plenty of sound, refreshing sleep every night. I eat anything I want now, and am not bothered with severe pains in my abdomen any more. I seldom have a headache, and feel like doing anything, and have more vim and energy. Argotane is a good medicine and I am glad to recommend it because it has given me relief."

Surprise Birthday Party Is Given for D. Clark Saturday.

On Saturday night, January 17, friends and relatives of Drew Clark surprised him with a birthday "pitch" party. Drew knew nothing of what was going to happen. Not that he doesn't count his birthdays any more, because he feels quite young yet. He only thought that Leo Casey, Roy Spencer and Eugene Kruse got hungry for a game. But when so many began coming in, he began to wonder what it all meant.

When at last the cake bearing his age, presented by Leland Autry and wife, was shown him, he knew he would have an enjoyable night of "pitch" playing. We won't mention at what hour the party closed, and Jack Karnes and George Autry won't tell you; but, anyway, they were the last ones leaving and were the winners over all.

Drew received many useful gifts. A wonderful plate lunch was served to the following guests: Ott Martin and wife, George and J. B. Autry and their wives, N. W. and Leland Autry and their families, all of Snyder; Mrs. W. M. Robertson, Lorenzo; Charlie Marr and Jack Karnes, Canyon; Walter Martin, Sharon; Leo Casey, Roy Spencer, Eugene and Aml Kruse, and Sam Smallwood and wife, all of Ira-Reporter.

"THE ARTIST'S MOTHER"

James McNeill Whistler (1834-1903) is classified with American painters simply because of the fact that he happened to be born in this country. He received his early education in this country. At the age of 22 he began his studies in Paris, and has since been a citizen of the world. His individuality has been developed by the influence of many and varied schools. "Rossetti gave him the haunting mystery of his figures. The impressionists of France gave him atmosphere, light and freedom in handling. The Japanese gave him the quaint decorative system, and taught him the value of line and the principle of selection, while Valesquez gave him the harmony of color obtained by slightly contrasting tones."

Whistler possesses perhaps the most exquisitely sensitive appreciation of tone and color of any painter who ever lived. To him painting was to arrange colors and spaces into beautiful harmonies as pleasing as the beautiful harmonies found in music. Many of his works, especially landscapes, are given no titles, but are called, as in musical compositions, "A Nocturne in Black and Gold," "A Symphony in Gray and Green," "Harmony in Green and Rose," "Arrangements in Silver and Black," etc.

Landscape offers the widest field for the application of his individual treatment. "When the sun nears the horizon the face of nature

Ford Prices Drop to New Lowest Levels

Reduction of from $5 to $45 on every machine in the Ford line was announced early this week by the Ford Motor Company, effective Monday morning. These reductions, according to Joe Strayhorn, local dealer, are in line with the company's policy of offering better automobiles at less money.

All models on the local floor are subject to the new prices, and new models, expected soon, will also be sold at reduced prices. A complete price schedule will be found on another page of this paper.

changes more rapidly than during the hours of midday, the color of the approaching sunset seems to be held suspended in the air everywhere, the horizontal light rays show the rising fogs, and shadows grow long and seem like living things creeping out to cover the earth. It is then that Whistler sees the most exquisite instant of the day's most beautiful moment, and remembering, puts it upon canvas so simply, yet so masterly, that no one knows how it is done."

Of all his paintings the portrait of his mother is the one that the world has accepted at large. This most famous painting by an American artist is known as "The Artist's Mother" or "Portrait of Whistler's Mother." Whistler himself called it "An Arrangement in Gray and Black." He painted in the picture not only a portrait of the old-fashioned lady, but all of the love that he felt for her. The picture was placed in the Louvre, Paris, in 1926.

Miss Hattie Faught of Fort Worth has been visiting in Snyder.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN.

Getting Something for Nothing.

This column is hereby dedicated to the portion of our population that tries to get something for nothing.

You will see what we mean, in no uncertain terms, if you read the other eleven of these bitter-sweetisms.

Politicians Get Their Paragraph.

Take a look at the politician who talks loud and long before election time, but who loads his responsibilities onto other shoulders when he goes into office.

Take a look at him, then scratch the name of his brethren when the next election time comes.

Who Knows... Who Knows?

We would prefer to live in our house by the side of the road. We would like to overlook the weaknesses in men.

We would like, indeed, to think that all the world is willing to work for what it gets, but it is not so.

Husbands Who Never Work.

One part of this disguised sermon must dwell on the talkative bozo who always has aches and pains, and whose wife clerks, washes or otherwise earns a few dollars while he is sitting his rotten life away.

If the devil should send his prize emissary to earth, hypocrisy and laziness would probably be his chief stocks-in-trade.

Vacuum Cleaners and Face Powder.

Another fellow who tries to get something for nothing—and generally gets away with it—is the out-of-town fly-by-night salesman who sells everything from vacuum cleaners to face powder for a small down payment.

He is usually so kind-hearted that he never returns for the remaining payment—and for the delivery of the article you thought you purchased.

Free Stuff for Our Uncle Sam.

Every business man, especially if he is unfortunate enough to be a newspaper publisher, knows how many sales of free publicity, get-rich-quick schemes and disguised racketeer propaganda come to his desk each week.

As far as our experience goes, Uncle Sam, that kind old gentleman who furnishes postage stamps, is the only one who profits; and it is reported that even the postal department operates at a loss.

Officials in High Places.

The man who sits on a little throne of public service and public trust, and who misplaces the key to selfishness, has lost, also, the respect of his neighbors.

The official who poses as the big "I grow to grace and prominence over the bodies of his employees or those who serve under him... what shall we say of him? Some day his throne will wobble, like the house built on the sands, and thunder-like will be the fall thereof.

One of the "High-Ups."

One must retain a bit of respect for the beggar who goes from one seam of the world to another. He collects food and clothing, kicks and curses, without work; but he does it openly and without pretense.

We somehow like to put him in the procession ahead of most of the others about whom we are making such intimate disclosures this week. We would give him a crust—or maybe a hunk of meat—before we would open the door to some of his "something for nothing" kinsmen.

Magazines Sold with Pretty Faces.

Did you ever see a tough-bearded, hard-hearted farmer reach down in his jeans and give a dollar to a pretty girl who was selling a seventeen years' subscription to the "Helpful Hints" or the "Rural Roustabout?"

He probably never saw the girl before, will never see her again, knows he probably won't get the magazine for even a year, and hasn't the slightest idea that he'll read it if he does get it; but he subscribes to a pretty face. Yeah—we bit too! Maybe it was just the girl's reward for being born with a pretty face, so we won't put her in the category of folks who try to get something for nothing.

The Loveliest of Them All.

When all has been said and written, when the unscrupulous man, the pretended agnostic, the lazy husband, the perpetual beggar... when these, and many other similar parasites on the oak of life are weighed in the balances of service and found wanting, we will not yet have touched the sap-sucking vine that twists itself into the hearts of many communities.

Christ, if we remember aright, spoke his bitterest words against the hypocrite. The man who steals your purse, the murderer who takes lives for pay, the woman of the streets, the father who drinks his family into poverty, the fellow who warns you that he will knife you when he gets a chance... you watch for him and have an atom of respect for his weakness or for his daring. But for the man who prays rhetorically on Sunday and knives reputations and friendships in the back the other six days in the week, you have no defense. May his neighbors bury him deep and soon, and may his children inherit open-faced sins or move to Arkansas.

Nobody in Particular—Maybe.

Someone is wondering whether we have anyone in particular in mind as we jump from one "something for nothing" figure to another. Who knows? We have so many friends and neighbors whose minds seldom stoop to smallness that the parasite crops up only occasionally. But when it comes he leaves such a trail of distaste in our mouth that we spit bitterness for days. Who knows, we ask again? We must look on the bleary side of our little world at odd times in order to appreciate the silver side when it comes. This week we touch a harsh note; next, a classic played first by a friendly word or a sympathetic touch... Else what's a newspaper for?

The Agnostic Gives a Performance.

Then there is the famous arguer who pretends to believe that there is no God. He usually wants notoriety based on a false premise. He believes, he tries to persuade himself and others, that he came into the world by chance, that he owes nothing to a Creator, and that his bones will be the last remnant of his being. As a rule, such a man gets all he can from his neighbors and puts as little as he can into his community. He leaves a trail of disappointment and contemptible remarks as he leaves a scene of argument. He gets all he can out of life, but he doesn't expect to put anything into it that isn't necessary.

That Mass Meeting.

Word has just come to the Times office, as the editorial page is ready for the press, that a mass meeting of Scurry County farmers is to be held in the district court room Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

It is one of the most important meetings of this year or any other year, for it will give farmers an opportunity to help themselves out of a plight into which general depression and drouth have placed them.

It is seldom that farmers are called on to help themselves without first "putting out." Now Uncle Sam is ready to help them if they will come to town Saturday, learn the new relief plan, and follow instructions.

Every farmer in Scurry County owes it to himself and to his family to attend this meeting, even if he has to steal a ride or walk.

The government is trying to help? Will Mr. Farmer do his share? Of course. Scurry County farmers are built that way.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

THE INAUGURAL.

On Tuesday, January twentieth, nineteen hundred and thirty-one, the reins of our Texas government were transferred to new hands. The record of another four years of Texas history was closed forever.

Politically the past four years has been a stormy period. Economically it has been a depressing period. Industrially it has been one of the busiest and most progressive periods in the history of Texas. More new acres have been put into cultivation. More oil wells have been discovered. More gas fields have been developed. More highways have been built, and more new industries initiated than ever before in the same period of time.

We ought to be the happiest, the most prosperous and the most grateful people in America. And we are. But few of us fully appreciate the fact because all of us want more and more. There is not another state in this nation that is offering greater opportunities to its people today than Texas.

These statements may sound contradictory. But they are not. There is but one thing ails Texas. We know how to work. We know how to produce enough of everything to make us all comfortable and prosperous. But we do not know how to get what we ought to get for what we do and what we produce. Therefore, industrially we have been busy but economically depressed, because every year we do more and more for less and less.

This accounts for various sections of Texas remaining in the white spotlight of the nation's commercial map during all these years. Through all this depression, Texas has advanced. And when the clouds of discontent and injustice have cleared away, the administration of Dan Moody, Texas' youngest governor, will go down through the ages as one of the most progressive administrations in Texas history, for that is just what it has been.

Many of our citizens have found plenty to criticize in the young governor. But in all probability he has met the emergencies of his administration as forcefully and successfully as any other governor has done. Critics seldom ever understand any phase of a problem but their own. And sometimes they don't understand their own.

But, whatever the past, it is past. And a new administration is upon us, and Tuesday Ross Sterling walked into the capitol at Austin and took command of the official affairs of Texas for the next two years. It ought to be four years to begin with and then a man would have some chance to prove his power.

We, the 6,000,000 people of Texas, are again divided into two groups—the governor, and the governed. On one side, Ross Sterling, the lone man; on the other side, the people, 5,999,999 of us. We, the people of Texas, are going to expect, and demand, as far as in us lies that Governor Ross Sterling be a true and loyal governor for us all. We are going to expect him to protect the rights of every one of us whether we have been his friends or his foes. We are going to expect him to give thoughtful and conscientious consideration to all our interests whether we are inmates of the penitentiary or the state house. We are going to expect him to lay aside all his personal feelings and previous prejudices toward us whether we voted for him or not, and treat all our wishes and requests with due consideration. From this day on we are going to expect Ross Sterling as our governor to be true and loyal to every one of us.

But how about us, the 5,999,999 whom he must serve? Are we going to put aside our personal feelings and our previous prejudices and be as true and loyal to our new governor as we expect him to be to us? Are we going to give the same thoughtful and conscientious consideration to his wishes and his program for our state that we will demand of him? Are we going to stand as one united state to protect him in his efforts to protect us? Are we going to be as willing to observe the laws of our state as he is to enforce them? Are we going to study his plans and policies and try to cooperate with him for the greatest good of all Texas?

Or, are we going to expect loyalty for disloyalty? Justice for injustice? Protection for corruption and crime? Are we going to expect all kinds of consideration for our interests in exchange for our utter indifference to the rights of our governor?

Remember, he will have 5,999,999 to please and serve and consider. We will have but one. Ross Sterling, our governor for 1931-1933.—Phebe K. Warner.

Wandering Back by A. J. Dunlap

It was miles from our place to a neighbor; There were days when we saw none at all— For the horses were tired in the evening And no telephone hung on the wall. And the days flowed along like a river With a peace in their quiet and charm That alone could be found in the country. In the days of the pioneer farm.

When I tire of this up-to-date frenzy With its clashing and clamorous blaze; When I'm weary of pushing and rushing, And of life with its windows a-glare; Then I quietly wander in fancy Back again to the farm where I knew The deep peace of the sunrise and sunset, And the cornfields that glittered with dew.

THE OLD MAN SEEMS

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Ok.

That many business men should have a wider vision of modern business—a vision which will lead the way for increased opportunity and increased business?

If you have good business, advertise—and keep it!

If you want greater business, advertise—and get it!

You can make quicker profits by quick turnover of stock.

If you don't have a quick turnover, your stock will depreciate in value.

You can't "play dead" and get anywhere.

The man who hesitates too much is lost.

Hit-and-miss methods in business don't pay.

The public wants good reasonable merchandise at reasonable prices.

If you have the right kind of goods, service and prices, let the people know. Advertise!

Visitor—"I believe your village is very healthy, is it not?"

Inhabitant—"It is the healthiest spot on earth."

Visitor—"And yet your cemetery is pretty full."

Inhabitant—"Yes, but they are the graves of doctors and undertakers who have died with broken hearts."

Jones (buying new overcoat)—"I can't wear this, dear: it's three sizes too big."

Wife—"Yes, you can! Remember it's got to go over the radiator of the car in cold weather. That's what we have to consider first."

Will Rogers Will Be Presented By Women's Clubs

Will Rogers, noted lecturer and philanthropist, has announced engagement dates in 12 representative cities of the state, from January 26 to February 1, inclusive, the full proceeds in each instance to be given for the benefit of the unemployed in the state. Mr. Rogers proposes to donate his time and talents and pay all expenses of the tour so that every dollar received from the sale of tickets and otherwise in connection with his appearance may be used in this benevolent cause. The proceeds on each occasion will be divided equally to be used alike for the rural and the urban unemployed.

The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs is asked to sponsor the movement, and it is sending out this urgent request to loyal citizens to greet him with a full house at each place. The privilege of hearing this incomparable humorist is well worth many miles of travel, and it is hoped that the women's clubs of the seventh district will avail themselves of the opportunity on his appearance at the most accessible place.

A partial schedule is as follows: Abilene, Tuesday, January 27, matinee; San Angelo, night.

Breckenridge, Wednesday, January 27, matinee; Fort Worth, night.

Wichita Falls, Friday, January 30, matinee; Dallas, night.

Amarillo, Sunday, February 1, matinee and night.

Von Roeder Boy Is Laid to Rest at Ira

Oran Clinton von Roeder, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. von Roeder of Deming, New Mexico, died Friday, January 16, near his home. A broken neck, sustained while the boy was playing alone on a stack of baled hay, resulted in instant death. The body was brought here and prepared for burial by the Odom Funeral Home of Snyder.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock, at the First Baptist Church at Ira, conducted by Rev. J. W. McGaha. Interment was in the Ira cemetery. Pallbearers were Henry Richter, Ed Murphy, Herbert von Roeder, Gilbert Richter, Nolan and Edgar von Roeder.

The deceased is survived by his parents; one brother, Roland von Roeder; and three sisters, Edda, Julia and Bonnie von Roeder, all of Deming, New Mexico. He is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. von Roeder of Snyder.

Those attending the funeral from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Struve and daughter, and Mrs. Fritz Struve of Abernathy, and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. von Roeder of Ranger.

February Will Be First Ideal Month For Eleven Years

Folks who like their meals, schedules and calendars well advanced will be glad to learn that February, with its 28 days, will be the only perfect month in 11 years. It begins on Sunday and ends on Saturday. Not until 1942 can the present calendar produce such a month again.

If all our months were perfect—a goal of the calendar reform advocates—there would be 13 months in each year, one extra day every year, and a "Leap Day" during our present "Leap Year."

Scurry County folks who believe that Friday, the thirteenth, is a bad luck day, would probably be glad to see the new calendar plan introduced.

Herb Quinn "30"

In the passing of Herbert Quinn, publisher of the Avallanche-Journal, at Lubbock, West Texas loses one of the finest newspaper gentlemen who have ever come to this section. In company with Editor Charley Guy and Mrs. Guy, Quinn went to see antelope in Cochran county Sunday afternoon. After getting mired into the sand, and unable to move, Quinn decided to start for help, thinking that just ahead of them was a windmill, and since it was coming night, that it would be easy to ascertain from lights in any farm home as to the best direction to start for help. That was the last any living person saw of Herb Quinn—when he left Charley and his wife.

Tuesday afternoon they found his body, stark in death, within easy reach of a homestead and succor, but it was not for Friend Quinn to live longer. He had passed his span of life, he had answered the "30" call that comes to every newspaper man, sooner or later.

Coming from Wisconsin a number of years ago, Herbert Quinn fitted into the wonderful newspaper organization that has been built up by the Hawk-Howe newspaper interests of Amarillo. When Dorrance Roderick left Lubbock to go to El Paso, Herb was put in charge as publisher of the Avallanche-Journal, one of the greatest daily newspapers in West Texas. He filled the position cleanly, honorably and well. Anyone who came under his influence felt better for the genial personality and love of life that he exemplified.

Clean, honorable, and gentleman all the way through, the memory of Herbert Quinn will long endure in West Texas and may his ashes rest in peace with that Maker who knows better than we humans of what is ahead of us in life.

Howard Bros. Give Seven Day Specials

The two Howard Brothers Gasoline Stations are advertising a group of one-week specials, effective Saturday, in this week's Times. Specials are offered in gasoline, oil and accessories, as well as in Fish tires, for which Howard Brothers are local agents.

Wholesale buying and the policy of keeping abreast of the times are given by Henry Howard as reasons for the reductions. He states that a full car of motor oil is on its way to care for the heavy demand.

Ben's Right There

The Times is lucky in having a man located next door who is indeed a "jack at all trades," and mighty expert, too. Ben Wilson, who is in the King & Brown shop, has been called many times during the change over and installation of machinery with the consolidation. He was always on the job right pronto, completing his work with dispatch and accuracy, and we are happy to have this genial gentleman located so close by.

Any Times reader wanting a job well and carefully done, whether it be with his automobile, or whatnot, Ben Wilson is a fine fellow to have do your work. We are happy to recommend him.

Leath & Brumley's Cafe Brightens Up

New paint for counters and two new signs for the front have given the Leath & Brumley cafe new life for 1931. Horace Leath says he believes in preparing for the good times even when the not-so-good times are in our midst.

The name of the eating house was changed recently from Montgomery Cafe to Leath & Brumley's, and the new signs were made accordingly.

Times Are Good.

W. L. HUGHES, College Station.
The signs of the times are good. We believe that the rural schools are entering upon an era of progress. We do not believe the folks of Texas are going to permit permanently the rural children to be cheated out of an opportunity for an education. Texas cannot afford much longer to permit such a claim to go unchecked. The rural progress of Texas to side-step their rights in the matter of education. It will require a fight to wrest some of the good things from those now in power—the independent school districts. We are ready for the fight.

The rural children have built the cities of Texas. They have labored in the cotton fields and have made possible such cities as Dallas, Texarkana, Waco, Austin, and all others. Now these cities do not want to let those children have even the crumbs that fall from their sumptuous tables. The greatest crime ever perpetrated on the rural children of Texas was the forming of the independent school district with the segregation of the taxable rural people to finance adequate schools. The states which have developed modern rural schools have no such things as independent school districts, but use the county as the school unit of administration.

"Well, well! I haven't come across you in years. How you have aged, my dear."
"Is that so? I wouldn't have known you, either, except for that dress you are still wearing."

Instead of hauling wheat eighteen miles to a rail line, several grain growers in Washington state are sending it from their farms to the railroad over a pipe line. The grain slides through the pipe to the railroad station, where it is sacked for shipment.

The BEST Gray Hair Remedy is Home Made

To half pint of water add one ounce bayrum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It will gradually darken streaked, faded or gray hair and make it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

An Educated Man.

Ten marks of an educated man are:
He keeps his mind open on every question until the evidence is all in. He listens to the man who knows. He never laughs at new ideas. He cross-examines his day dreams. He knows his strong point and plays it.
He knows the value of good habits and how to form them.
He knows when not to think and when to call in the expert to think for him.
You can't sell him magic.
He lives the forward-looking, upward-looking life.
He cultivates a love of the beautiful.—American Magazine.

In a Nutshell.

Golf—A two and a half mile hike cross-country with a five-pound load, in the attempt to knock a small ball into eighteen consecutive holes by eighteen faultlessly executed shots. Generally attended by failure.

Tennis—A struggle between two players, each equally intent on making the opponent drop dead through running to retrieve a bouncing ball forty feet to one side of him with no other instrument than a wooden frame enclosing the insides of a cat.

Wrestling—The application of scientific principles of weight, leverage and momentum to human relationships, culminating in the successful effort of one mass of beef to induce another mass of beef to assume an uncomfortable horizontal position on a piece of matting, with the alternative of getting his neck broken.

Baseball—A game of chance.

Reasserting Himself.
"So this baby is a girl?" beamed the rector, as he walked 'round the baby show.
The proud father assented.
"And this other one—is it of the contrary sex?"
His wife's eyes were on him, but with no thought of the wrath to come, he replied, blithely, "Yes, she is a girl, too."

Brightening up the home
By Dorothy Snow

Decorate Your Clothes Closets

ORDINARY closets are blossoming into surprising color and charm. A jaunty background for the feminine wardrobe is now a feature of every up-to-date home. And dressing up her closet is one home-decorating job which any woman may do quite beautifully all by herself. A color scheme must first be chosen. And let it be gay, since closets have so little sunlight. Strong colors such as lacquer red, bright yellow or apple green are lovely for backgrounds, relieved by a contrasting shade. The color scheme of the adjoining bedroom may be followed, and it's a nice plan to reverse those colors (the accenting tone in the room becoming the chief shade in the closet).

Decorate the walls one color and trim the edges of the shelves another. Little valances of fancy paper, chintz, gingham, chambray or taffeta may be fastened along the shelves. Or the shelf edges may be painted in the contrasting color. The walls should be brightly pointed or papered. To waterproof the wallpaper so that it may easily be kept fresh and clean, use a light coat of liquid wax glaze—test a sample of the paper first. The floor should also be colorful, and it may be painted or covered in linoleum, and waxed to make through dusting quick and easy.

There are fascinating closet accessories that may be inexpensively and easily installed. Bind colored ribbon or velvet around ordinary dress hangers, and make dust-proof garment bags of glazed tarlatan cloth in dainty colors or of chintz or gingham. Hat stands may be hand-painted or covered in velvet, and boxes for hats and lingerie may be decorated with colored paper and appliqued prints or wallpaper cut-outs. Closet poles are easily silvered or painted. Dust-curtains of taffeta or chintz—depending on the draperies in the bedroom—should be hung in front of the rows of gowns and coats.

Shoes see enough of the floor during use, and they deserve a cabinet or rack in the closet. Moveable cabinets with compartments for individual pairs are a bit newer than the cloth bags which may hang on the inner door panel. All cabinets, built-in drawers and shelves should be waxed to ward off dust accumulation, which is the most serious menace to closet daintiness.

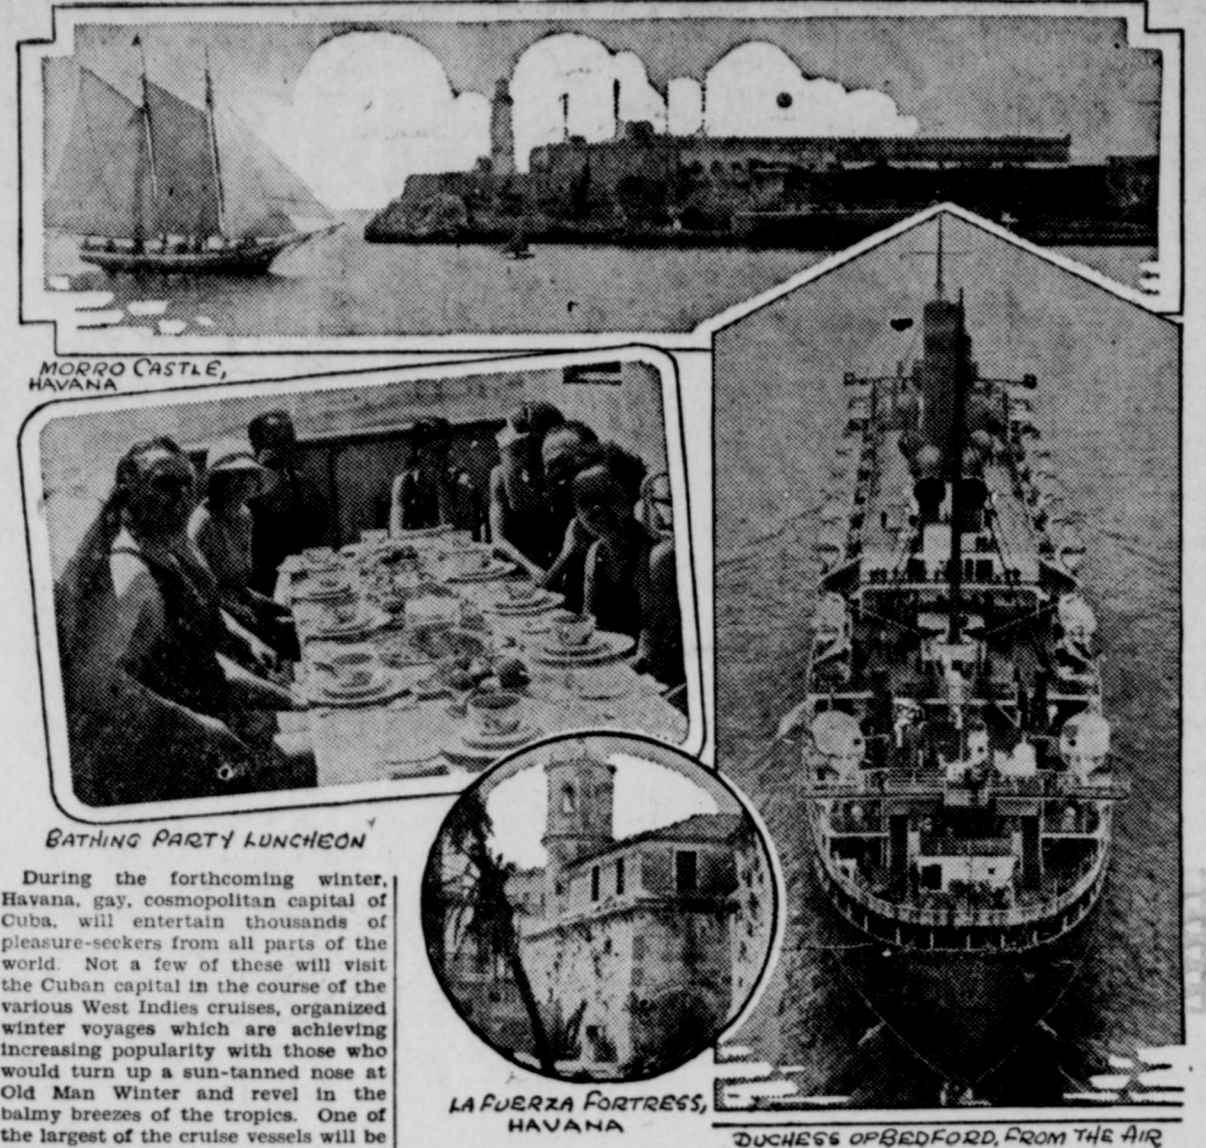

SUPT. SPEAKS IN DEFENSE OF RURAL SCHOOL

Mr. H. W. Stillwell, Texarkana, Texas.
Dear Mr. Stillwell:
Your letter of the 25th is at hand. In reply, I will say that we do not care to take part in any costly suit from which the lawyers will be the sole beneficiaries. Such a suit could not be prosecuted and carried through the courts until after the Legislature will have met and adjourned.
I am in favor of amending the law referred to in your letter so as to provide for the payment of the county superintendent of schools out of the general fund of the county. Being a county official, this is the way the county superintendent should be paid. I shall be glad to do anything I can to help bring about a change in the law to this extent.
Should the above proposal not be feasible, I favor leaving the law as it is. The burden of paying the salary of the county school superintendent will not break the back of any independent school district. Where this entire burden is placed upon the common school districts of many of our counties, it is hard to bear. If you could have gone with me into the rural schools of Texas, every section if you please, and have seen the deplorable conditions under which our white population is working in an effort to bring about an educated democracy, I hardly think you could have the heart to begrudge the children from these districts one penny that you may be paying to aid them in their fight.
While the officials of our city schools are meeting for the sole purpose of taking opportunities from these unfortunate victims of their environment, back in the big city the negroes, Mexicans, and others are enjoying educational opportunities that constitute the desideratum of unfortunate ones of the rural districts. No I'll not join you in the fight. It looks too much like a bunch of big fat boys jumping on the neighborhood runt because their mother happened to give him a piece of their pie.
Education is a state function. We owe the children of the rural communities as good educational opportunities as we enjoy in the cities and towns. Our educational leaders have been preaching this doctrine for years. Now, when we are accidentally thrown into a place where we must contribute something in a financial way to the furtherance of this generally accepted principle of education finance, we howl like a whipped pup. Of course, the county school superintendent doesn't help us much, not any, possibly. But the pitance will not hurt us and it will mean so much to the children of the rural districts for us to contribute, even in this small way, to their educational advancement.
Now you big boys stop this foolishness. You are making yourselves ridiculous quibbling over a few pennies that you are letting the rural children have. Of course, legally it isn't just exactly right, but let's all wait until the Legislature meets and get them to change the law so as to provide for the payment of the county school superintendent out of the general fund of the county. I'll be up there and help you out with this. If we start on this other matter now, we'll make everybody hate us and we can't get the Legislature to act when the time comes. Tell Gotke, Mills, Cobb, Smith and Brother McCallum to call off the hounds before we get into something we'll want to get out of. (Signed)
GEO. P. BARRON,
Supt., Pearsall Schools.

Committee Submits Examination Rules For Seventh Grade

—Seventh grade committee.

English Tests.
The standard achievement tests in English are being given now in the rural schools and the results are very gratifying.
Just as soon as we have finished the entire county, a report will be made through this paper to the county paper as to the results and tabulations.

Cosmopolitan Havana, the Paris of the New World, One of the Highlights of Cruises to West Indies

During the forthcoming winter, Havana, gay, cosmopolitan capital of Cuba, will entertain thousands of pleasure-seekers from all parts of the world. Not a few of these will visit the Cuban capital in the course of the various West Indies cruises, organized winter voyages which are achieving increasing popularity with those who would turn up a sun-tanned nose at Old Man Winter and revel in the balmy breezes of the tropics. One of the largest of the cruise vessels will be the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford, which sails from New York January 9 and February 11 on two 29-day Caribbean cruises.
Havana is a city of contrasts—of narrow, crooked streets and magnificent, palm-edged boulevards, of palaces and huts, of fortresses and botanical gardens. From time to time the tourist sees fragments of the old city wall, built between 1633 and 1753 to keep out the pirates which infested the West Indies in bygone days. These fragments are now preserved by the Cuban government as national monuments. One attraction which never fails to interest the visitor is a quaint little fortress known as "La Punta" (the Point) constructed in 1597 as an outpost of civilization and to protect the early Spanish colonists against marauding buccannars. Another famous old fortification is "La Fuerza," once commanded by Ponce de Leon. Morro Castle, built in 1597 after the city had been sacked by the British privateer, Sir Francis Drake, conqueror of the Spanish Armada, is a grim fortress across the fine harbor where cutlase clashed against cutlase and where pit-marks of the solid shot used by attackers may still be seen in the walls. Havana's sidewalk cafes, reminiscent of the other Paris, and her lavish casinos, reminding one of Monte Carlo, attract throngs of visitors both day and night.

Salvation Army's Slogan Continues To Live in Snyder

The Salvation Army coined a slogan during the World War that lives right on down through the years, "A Man May Be Down, But He's Never Out"—and it comes as a most apt suggestion at this period of the year.
January always has been a bum month, so let's all look ahead with a smile to February, then March and springtime, and leave a genial and good-natured sigh that it's good to be living; good to be living in Snyder and Scurry County—and right happy should we be that God permits us to live in the finest best spot on earth, in West Texas, and folks, that's Snyder. If you don't see it that way, God bless you, automobile roads are out of town; likewise two railroads. That's the way we look at it. You're either "fer" Snyder or "agin" it, so take your pick.

Penney Manager to Attend Dallas Meet

H. H. Thomas, manager of the J. C. Penney Company store in this city, is leaving Sunday to attend the annual spring convention of that organization to be held at Dallas.
Owing to new conditions in the department store field which have been brought about by drastic reductions in commodity prices, the convention, which is usually held in April, has been moved ahead to give all J. C. Penney Company store managers an opportunity to get full advantage of the new merchandising and price policies of the company.
A good man, through obscure aspirations, has still an instinct of the one true way.—Gotho.

Mrs. Watt—"Has Mrs. Bjege forgiven her daughter for eloping with that actor?"
Mrs. Howe—"I don't think so—she's gone to live with them."
"Why do you go out on the front porch whenever I sing? Don't you like to hear me?"
"It isn't that. I want the neighbors to see that I'm not beating my wife."

Funeral Services for Mrs. McClure Held

Mrs. M. L. McClure, 70 years old, died Saturday morning, January 17, at the home of her son, R. O. McClure, in Snyder.
Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the home of her son, with Elder T. J. Ausmus of Lubbock officiating. Odom Funeral Home was in charge of the services.
Pallbearers were Gale Smith, Wesley Evans, Atha Chandler, Louis Vaughn, John Howard and Billy Vaughn.
Deceased is survived by six sons: A. McClure of Abilene, Claude McClure of Paris, Clem McClure, Bonham, R. O. McClure of Snyder, Paul McClure of Bonham and Tom McClure of Farr. The latter two were unable to attend the funeral.
Interment was made in Snyder cemetery.

Got It Warm.
When the thermometer dropped below zero Mrs. Rogers was much disturbed by the thought that Huldah, the new kitchen maid, slept in an unheated room.
"Huldah," she said, remembering the good old custom of her girlhood, "it's going to be pretty cold tonight. I think you had better take a flatiron to bed with you."
"Yes, ma'am," assented Huldah, without enthusiasm.
Mrs. Rogers, happy in the belief that her maid was comfortable, slept soundly. In the morning she visited the kitchen.
"Well, Huldah, how did you get along with the flatiron?"
Huldah breathed a deep sigh of recollection.
"Well, ma'am, I got it most warm before morning."

Bryant-Link Head Visits Snyder Store

R. B. Bryant, president and general manager of the Bryant-Link stores and J. D. Schackelford, credit man, both of Stamford, were Tuesday guests of the local store. Manager McAdoo "set it up" to a real West Texas feed during the noon hour, which is something uncommon for "mac," but he sure put the stuff on, with the visitors enjoying the hospitality.

Miss Jessie Lee Davis met with the Turner 4-H Club girls at 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, January 16, at the school house. All members were present. We discussed poultry.
