

Class Entertained In Strayhorn Home.

The Euzelian Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church was entertained Thursday afternoon of last week in the home of Mrs. Bama Strayhorn, with Mrs. Strayhorn and Mrs. Della Wilson as hostesses.

Mrs. E. F. McCarty, teacher, began the meeting with a prayer, and Mrs. Lucy Mae Inman led the devotional. A contest was conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Minnie Sullivan.

These members were served tempting refreshments at the close of the program: Misses E. F. McCarty, Gladys Anglin, Nora Sentell, Lois Sentell, Minnie Boren, Molly LeMond, Lucy Mae Inman, Minnie Sullivan, Eunice Weathersbee, Ina Hollingsworth, Velma Sims, Alice Northcutt, Ola Leath, Irene Newton, Ross Harris, Lora Burt, Irene Ware and Nan Gideon.

LOYALTY Y. W. A. MEETS IN HOME OF SPONSOR NOV. 2

The Loyalty Y. W. A. of the First Baptist Church met Wednesday afternoon of last week in the home of Mrs. J. C. Smyth, one of the new organization's sponsors.

After an interesting program, refreshments were served to the following members: Misses Lola Mae Littlepage, Mavis Shuler, Earlene Martin, Vernelle Bradbury, Hilda Gene Williamson, Nadine Sumruid, and Jeffie D. Isaacs.

Piggly Wiggly Gets Nation-wide Mention

The No. 1 Piggly Wiggly store here received honorable mention in the November 4 issue of "Turnstile," national publication of the Piggly Wiggly Corporation, since it was one of the 125 stores in the group of many thousand that gained in gross sales September of 1932 as opposed to September of 1931.

Sales of Piggly Wiggly No. 2 established during the past year, are not included in the figures from which the records were compiled.

It is interesting to note that Texas has the greatest percentage of growing stores—15 in number—of any state in the union.

Schools To Dismiss For Half of Friday

Schools here will close their doors at noon Friday in celebration of Armistice Day.

In making this announcement superintendent C. Wedgeworth says that it was deemed unwise to dismiss for the entire day of peace, but that Thanksgiving will be observed in two weeks by dismissal all of Thursday and Friday.

The ruling applies to grade and high schools. The students and faculty members are expected to move almost in a body to the football game between Roscoe and Snyder, which begins at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mary Harkey Is Back.

Mary Harkey, Western Union manager here, returned Tuesday after a vacation to her home in Arkansas. She reports plenty of good times, but says they didn't last long enough. She has been relieved at the local office by Mrs. Irene Tompkins.

Rev. C. W. Young Ends His Fortieth Year In Ministry

The fortieth year of the ministry of Rev. C. W. Young of Hermleigh was ended Sunday night in the pulpit of the pioneer preacher's son, Rev. S. H. Young, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Snyder.

It was fitting that this man whose sermons have been ringing in West Texas since early days should bring an anniversary message on "Faithfulness." He based his talk on Jesus' parable of the talents as related in the book of Matthew, and stressed the importance of Christians being loyal to the cause of Christ in all seasons.

The Rev. Mr. Young has been pastor of a number of churches in this section of the state. Only 13 years of his 40 years in the ministry have been spent outside this territory that he has learned to call home.

The pioneer preacher's son is serving his first year as Snyder pastor. He came here from Floydada. Father and son are attending the annual conference at Amarillo this week.

Pollard In Command At Filling Station

T. W. Pollard has become manager of the Gulf service station located one block north of the square, in the Woodrow Hotel building. He invites his friends to look him up in his new business location.

In addition to a full line of Gulf gas, oils and greases, Mr. Pollard has staple parts and accessories, and plans to add tires and tubes in a short time.

Joe Burney announces that he will stage another all-feature rodeo at his place, three miles south of Knapp, Sunday. The first one was held two Sundays ago, and attracted so much attention that Burney expects a hefty crowd for his second show.

All the events that you expect at a full-fledged rodeo will again be on the menu. Roping, riding and racing, with some of the best riders and horses in this area, will be featured.

Colored Child Buried.

The seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Copeland, colored residents of the Sid Johnson ranch, died at his home Sunday night, following a brief illness. He was buried in the Snyder cemetery Monday afternoon. Odom Funeral Home was in charge.

Mrs. Eiland Winner In Selling Contest

Mowing down competitors at Sweetwater, Roscoe, Lorraine and Colorado, Mrs. Eihel Eiland, local Texas Electric Service Company bookkeeper, won first place in a Sweetwater district bulb-selling contest that ended last week.

By selling wattage totaling more than 40,000, Mrs. Eiland led her nearest competitor by more than 1,000 watts. She will receive special credits that will apply on a worthwhile prize.

Several Petty Thefts.

Local officers report that several petty thefts have been booked during the past few days. These include the loss of more than $70 by a filling station operator, attempted hold-up of a group of negroes, and theft of tires from a trailer.

Image of Woman on Unique Snake Head

The most perfect facial features of a woman are distinctly outlined on the top of the head of a snake that is in the possession of Mrs. L. O. Temple of Snyder.

Mrs. Temple received the small reptile, whose family name is unknown, from her son, Rodney Glasscock, who is a student at Randolph College, Cisco. Rodney discovered the visitor under his shoe one morning when he arose. Several more members of the same family were found in the boys' dormitory.

The specimen is only a few inches long, and is apparently harmless.

"So you loved and lost, eh, old chap?"

"On the contrary, I came out a winner."

"How was that?"

"She returned my presents and accidentally put in some of another fellow's."

Golden Rule Week.

Golden Rule Week will be observed in the Snyder schools during the week of December 7 to 14, it was announced yesterday. These days have been set aside by the national organization known as the Golden Rule Foundation as "help somebody" time. The plan fits perfectly into the local program, since Superintendent C. Wedgeworth suggested at the beginning of the school year that the Golden Rule be made the school's 1932-33 motto.

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR

Every thoughtful citizen knows the inestimable value of the American Red Cross.

It is the only agency so organized to effectively relieve distress resulting from floods, tornadoes and other national calamities which cannot be anticipated nor averted.

It is the agency that has made possible the distribution of flour and clothing from government wheat and cotton for the needy of Scurry County.

All will realize that at this time, especially, the Red Cross must be liberally supported in order that it may be prepared to carry on its splendid work.

Membership in the Red Cross should not be regarded as a charitable gift. It is the discharge of a patriotic duty.

I, therefore, as mayor of the City of Snyder, do hereby set aside November 11 to 19 as Red Cross Roll Call Week, and urge all our appreciative citizens to answer "here" with their memberships in this Roll Call.

Dated: November 9, 1932. Signed: H. G. TOWLE, Mayor.

"Central" sends help to a Frantic Mother

Jimmy Ratliff, 12 years old, went fishing with his chum. They took the little .410-gauge shotgun saying, "Gonna kill us a rabbit for bait."

There was a report from the gun at the pond, a quarter of a mile from the house. Jimmy was shot... hurt badly. A frantic mother ran to the telephone...

"Central! A doctor quick!"

Lucy Adams, at the switchboard, called the doctor's office. He wasn't in. She rang the telephone at his home, and he wasn't there. She tried the cafe, and located him. Within five minutes the doctor was speeding toward the Ratliff home.

The little boy was weak when the doctor arrived. He dressed the wound... sent Jimmy to the hospital. The boy is out playing again now.*

Twenty-four hours of each day the telephone is ready for your calls. Whether it be for the doctor, to get the price for eggs or cream, to order a part for a machine, or to visit a neighbor... the telephone pays its way.

You can buy few things which cost so little and are worth so much.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN.

Our Foster Mother
 The cow is the foster mother of the human race. From the day of the ancient Hindoo to this time have the thoughts of men turned to this kindly and beneficent creature as one of the chief sustaining forces of human life.—W. D. Hoard.

Business Is Farming.
 Farmers are conservative. Their business makes them so. Nature moves slowly its wonders to perform. In the city a bold stroke may win wealth overnight, but on the farm, wealth—modest wealth at that—comes only as a result of skill and managerial ability, as a rule.—Extension News.

A Republican Warning.
 At this time of public interest in political matters I wish again to urge all Republicans of the state to consider the plight of their party resulting from the fact that R. B. Cramer of Brownsville dominates its organization. His resignation as national committee-man should be sought by everyone interested in Republican welfare in the state.—John F. Grant, Leading G. O. P. of Houston.

"In the Hearts of the People."
 The American Red Cross has established itself firmly in the hearts of the American people by its significant record covering more than a half century of prompt, efficient and sympathetic service in times of great national emergencies, of danger and distress. The Red Cross is the organized peace army of our nation, equipped and at all times ready to bring relief and succor when sudden disaster overtakes sections of our population.—Dr. Abba Hillel Silver.

How Advertising Pays.
 A concrete instance of the value of advertising in increasing the consumption of agricultural products was clearly shown in a recent survey of the California avocado industry, made by Dr. E. A. Stokdyk of the University of California. During the past season, records were kept on the sales in 34 cities of the United States before and after advertising effort was spent in these cities. The increase in sales after advertising work was from five to 1,000 per cent, according to Dr. Stokdyk.—The Earth.

Combine—Or Else.
 Competition in business and the advantage of consolidated capital and resources are responsible for the re-arrangement and re-alignment in the distribution of manufactured and farm products. You may call them "trusts," but the fact remains that business is being transacted in an entirely different manner than formerly, and it is just as true that the producers of farm commodities must adjust themselves to the new order or become reconciled to accept for their products whatever buyers condescend to offer.—Exchange.

Our Damaging Homes.
 The depression undoubtedly is more damaging to the American home than any other period of hard times in our national existence. The five years following "the crime of '73" was the nearest approach to it. In that earlier period homes were broken up, as they are today, men and women killed themselves out of worry and discouragement; and children and youths were trudging upon the highways lacking bread. But the hard times of the '70s did not experience the furious industrial speed of the '30s in our new country.—West Texas Today.

Don't Cuss Your Government.
 In his speech last Saturday afternoon Judge G. E. Lockhart made one observation that political speakers would do well to repeat over and over again everywhere. Judge Lockhart stated that although bad and incompetent men often are placed in positions of responsibility and leadership, yet he still has the utmost confidence in our government. "We have the greatest government on the face of the globe," he declared. And that is true. Most of us have gotten into such a habit of cursing the government that people generally have come to regard it as a great tyrant or a great fraud, it seems.—Lynn County News.

More About the Depression.
 It should require no expert knowledge to understand that genuine recovery from protracted economic depression is necessarily a slow process. The all important fact is that the basic trust appears to have been made. As always, it is most obvious in the purely financial factors. Money is coming out of hoarding and currency circulation is declining. Member bank reserve balances have reached an exceptionally high level. In short, the overwhelming fear of financial collapse entertained by the markets as recently as last June has vanished. The almost incalculable pressure of sheer panic has lifted. Regardless of partial release it is inconceivable that it will return. This means that the first step toward revival has been

Taking Our Medicine.

This editorial is being written before the general election's results are known. We can, therefore, speak without any qualms of conscience concerning the measure of support we propose to lend to the incoming occupants of the governor's, president's and vice president's chair.

We are great believers in the principle that every man and woman should take an active interest in government, and that everyone should consider himself a part of the government. Therefore, we are speaking advisedly when we assume that the support we lend to the administration will lend or detract from that administration. The influence of every voter—and we speak as voters rather than as a newspaper—should be felt as much after election day as on election day.

We intend to support the men who are elected. No matter what our preferences are now or what they were before and after the two primaries, we believe it is our duty as citizens and voters to support the officials who are placed in office.

Our obligation of support ceases, however, when such officials fail to live up to the ideals of good government which they pledge to uphold when they take their oath of office. If it's Roosevelt or Hoover, Garner or Curtis, Ferguson or Bullington, you will find us praising when praise is due and calling 'em down when they fail to live up to their promises and to their other obligations to the American people.

If our candidates are not elected, we'll take our medicine, and like it—until the incumbents dilute the medicine until it becomes nauseating.

Red Cross Enrollment.

An old English rhyme might, in its quaint form, be used today to urge everyone to enroll in the American Red Cross:

Endeavor we
 Your name to see
 It be enrolled
 Written with gold.

It requires, however, less than any coined piece of gold to write one's name in this perennial list. The contribution of only one dollar is needed to put it there. No citizen who has employment should fail to have it so inscribed. The enrollment is the nation's golden list of mercy. The gift is a self-imposed poll tax in preparation for instant response to any sudden need, due to disaster, that cannot be anticipated or averted.

Through fifty years of human need—not only of America but of the world—it has moved onward with zeal and also with efficiency. What it learned in war has been of great value in meeting emergencies which come from pestilence or fire or flood or earthquake or hurricane. The supreme demonstration was made this last year in meeting the needs of the drought areas. The people by their special contributions have made the Red Cross their distinctive institution. But it must have a substantial renewal of that faith every year. It is a perennial in the sense that it is never failing in its spirit, but it needs continual re-nourishing.

So specifically is the Red Cross identified as a national institution and service that the House of Commons recently paused to cheer the aid given by it in medical supplies to British Honduras after the hurricane, and expressed deep appreciation for the "action of the United States government in this disaster." Its symbol is one that any American should be proud to wear—and to put with the national flag itself.—The New York Times.

"You don't seem to realize on which side your bread is buttered."

"What does it matter? I eat both sides!"

Teacher—"Now, Harry, what is the third letter of the alphabet?"

Small Harry—"Dunno."

Teacher—"Yes, you do. What is it you do with your eyes?"

Small Harry—"Mother says I squint."

A small boy had slapped a little girl. The teacher was quick to rebuke the youngster.

"Jackson," she said, "no gentleman would strike a lady."

The boy was all ready with his reply. It was:

"Well, no lady would tickle a gentleman."

Father—"So the teacher caught you using a bad word and punished you."

Tommy—"Yes, and she asked me where I learned it."

Father—"What did you tell her?"

Tommy—"I didn't want to give you away, Pa, so I blamed it on the parrot."

taken. Courage and patience will be required to complete our adjustments, but with the evidence indicating strongly that bottom has at least been put behind us, there is every reason to carry on in good cheer.—Colorado Record.

The Officials' Mistake.

A taxpayers' strike in Chicago has resulted in an accumulated delinquent tax debt to that city of $200,000,000 and has about bankrupt the city, as well as proving bad for the individual. One of the greatest official mistakes imaginable is that of permitting property to go on the delinquent list from year to year without resorting to every possible means within the law to enforce collections. We are experiencing some of the effects of such official negligence right here in Angelina County, the city of Lufkin and our school district, all of which may tend to a taxpayers' strike and more serious consequences locally.—Lufkin Daily News.

The Three-Cent Flareback.

The three-cent first class postage has been a dismal failure. Even the postal officials in Washington now admit it. Back in the war days when money was plentiful, the addition of one more cent to the cost of mailing a letter was not particularly noticeable and worked no hardship on the public. But these are depression days. Times have changed. That extra cent works a hardship on many firms and individuals. That extra one-third means a great deal to large users of first class mail. It proved so costly that ways and means have been devised to reduce mailings and so the federal government has lost a great deal that it used to get.—Chillicothe Valley News.

Radio Discrimination.

In recent months, and particularly in this presidential election year, the radio appears to have sold itself to politicians and men in public office. This was never more clearly demonstrated than during the two national party conventions held in this city, where the radio received all the courtesies as well as pay for the job, while the newspapers and press associations of the country, without hope of reward, did their stuff freely and generously out of a sense of public duty. It was the rank discrimination by both political parties during these conventions in favor of the radio and against the press that caused me to write the chairman of the Republican and Democratic national committees protesting such treatment.—James G. Stahlman, Publisher, Nashville Banner.

A Career Opens Up.
 Is it not high time for a larger reverence to be given to that quiet, unassuming Joseph, the father of Jesus? To Mary, his wife, the church has assigned a place of eternal glory; and no thoughtful man can fail to be thankful for it. But with the glorification of Mary there has been an almost complete neglect of Joseph. This is partly because Mary lived to be known and remembered by the disciples while nobody remembered Joseph.

Was he just an untutored peasant, married to a superior woman and baffled by the genius of a son whom he could never understand? Or was there, underneath his self-effacement, a vigor and faith that molded the boy's plastic years? Was he a happy companion to the youngsters? Did he carry the youngest, laughing and crowing on his shoulders from the shop? To these questions the narrative gives no answer. And since this is so—we have a right to form our own conception of the character of this vastly significant and wholly unknown man, and to be guided by the one momentous fact which we do know.

It is this. He must have been friendly and patient and fine; he must have seemed to his children to be an almost ideal parent—for when Jesus sought to give mankind a new conception of the character of God he could find no more exalted term for his meaning than the one word "Father."

Thirty years went by. Jesus had discharged his duty; the younger children were big enough for self-support. The strange stirrings that had gone on inside him for years were crystallized by the reports of John's success. The hour of the great decision arrived; he hung up his tools and walked out of town.

What sort of looking man was he that day when he appeared on the bank of the Jordan and applied to John for baptism? Unfortunately the gospel narratives supply no satisfying answer to these questions; and the only passage in ancient literature which purports to be a description of him has been proved a forgery. Nevertheless, it requires

Fluvanna School News

Last week opened the Fluvanna school term for 1932-33. Due to cotton picking the enrollment was a little light; about 75 per cent of the total enrollment, however, is now in attendance. The light enrollment comes mostly in the high school department.

The school teachers and students are starting work this week before the sun gets up. They are doing this in order to let the students out in time to pick cotton in the afternoons. School work begins at 7:45 and closes at 12:30, letting the children get in a full half day's work.

Due to the late start for this year's work, there will be no holiday November 11. There will be a short program in chapel Friday morning in keeping with the occasion. Parents are invited to be out with us.—School Reporter.

Mr. Williams says he wouldn't be surprised if the West erners continue their winning ways through all district competition, as they have improved wonderfully since tackling the local Tigers.

Mrs. Louise Darby, district clerk, returned to Austin Saturday, after being here for a portion of the district court term. She will continue her studies in a business college. Miss Mary Ellen Martin will continue to have charge of her office.

Have you made plans to see "Ghost House," the year's most thrilling mystery drama? High school auditorium, Thursday and Friday nights, under sponsorship of the fire department.

He—I've been taking medicine at college for three years.

New Kind of Real Thrills Promised In Palace Talkie

A real Western drama with all the thrills and frills of the dynamic mellers will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday.

If you love fast action, hard riding, fierce battles, thrills and suspense, coupled with romance and humor, be sure to see "Ride Him, Cowboy." While the picture carries all the intense excitement of the old-time thriller, it has a stronger story and a better knit plot than the average Western. Kenneth Parkin, the author, has painted a real picture of the West with a novel theme and a touching romance that quickens the pulse.

The picture presents the desperate struggle of ranchers with a band of bandits who committed depredation after depredation and sip unpunished through the hands of the vigilantes until a wandering cowboy sets out to catch the leader single-handed. How the cowboy is trapped, and first is left to die on the desert, then saved by the vigilantes for a crime committed by another; then his rescue by a beautiful girl, who believes in his innocence; and his final capture of the bandits is depicted in a way that will keep spectators on the edge of their seats.

There is an unusually strong cast of well known players in the leading roles. John Wayne, who takes the leading masculine part, is a fine hero type, a handsome youth more than six feet tall, and with considerable Western picture experience, having played leading roles in "The Big Trail," "Makers of Men," "Arizona" and "The Challenger."

With the pretty leading lady, for a long time a featured player with Warner Brothers, has played opposite Joe E. Brown in "Local Boy Makes Good," in "Crooner," "Miss Pinkerton" and other pictures.

OWL SHOW FOR SCHOOLS WILL TONIGHT BILLED OPEN MONDAY

Here comes the world's most famous shoe. Just a word of friendly warning:

If you have a weak heart and cannot stand excitement or gruesomeness, we advise you not to see this production. Take our word for it, it will thrill, it will shock, it may horrify you. But if your nerves can stand electrifying drama, you will find it in the picture, "Frankenstein," which will be presented at the "owl show" at 10:45 Thursday night. It will continue through Friday.

You may have seen a production called "Dracula." If you did, take our tip: "Frankenstein" far outclasses "Dracula." If you didn't, it may interest you to know that it was one of the most exciting and popular pictures of last year.

Miss something there that everybody was talking about. But don't miss "Frankenstein." It will be talked about plenty.

James Whale directed it with a cast including Colin Clive, Edward Van Sloan, Mae Clarke, John Boles, Boris Karloff, Dwight Frye and Frederick Kerr. It is the boldest thing he or any other director ever attempted. It is all about a man who made a monster. Bones and bits of human bodies from graveyards and gallow trees went into the making of this eight-foot creature of humanity. But alas, he had the brain of a criminal and the fiendish fury of 20 maniacs.

Don't fail to see what happened when this terrific monster escaped to prey upon terrified men and women.

Chevalier Presents New Hits in Talkie Beginning Sunday

"Poor Anache," "The Song of Peace" and "How Are You?" are titles of three numbers sung by Maurice Chevalier in "Love Me Tonight," a Rouben Mamoulian production, his latest picture, which comes Sunday at the Palace Theatre for two days.

Chevalier is heard in seven of the 10 numbers, written for the production by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart, noted Broadway composing team. Those listed above he sings as solo.

Four others he sings with other members of the cast. Jeanette MacDonald, leading woman in the picture, sings five numbers, one a solo. And she is heard with Chevalier in "Love Me Tonight," the theme song.

Practically every member of the large cast—Charles Ruggles, Charles Butterworth, Myrna Loy, C. Aubrey Smith and others—sings during the action.

Titles of their numbers are: "Mimi," "Lover," "A Woman Needs Something Like That," "The Man for Me," "The Son of a Gun Is Nothing But a Tailor," and "Isn't It Romantic?"

Rodgers and Hart, writers of many a hit song, are best known for their words and music for the musical comedy, "A Connecticut Yankee," which enjoyed a long Broadway run.

Fresh City Slicker—"See that old rube plowing over there? Watch me get a nice rise out of him."

And then to the farmer: "I hear that the farmers of this section are waging a ruthless war on insect pests. I suppose you are one of the active campaigners?"

Farmer—"Yes."

Fresh City Slicker—"My! I'll bet a pest's life is in constant danger as long as he is within 50 miles of you."

Farmer—"That's all right. I won't hurt you if you stay on your side of the fence."

Texas Farm Taxes Increase 196 Per Cent or 15 Cents an Acre Since 1913

Farm taxes per acre in the West South Central states—Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana—were from 98 per cent to 196 per cent higher in 1930 than in 1913, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, reporting the results of a survey.

In Texas the average tax was 8 cents an acre in 1913 and climbed steadily upward to 23 cents an acre by 1930—an increase of 196 per cent as compared with taxes in 1913.

An increase of 181 per cent for the four states combined is the largest regional increase thus far recorded by the bureau in a series of reports covering five geographic divisions.

Actual taxes, in cents per acre, however, were much less in these states in 1930 than in any other region for which reports have been issued.

Mississippi Ahead.

Corresponding figures for Mississippi, also available, show greater increases than those for any of the four West South Central states. Average Mississippi farm real estate taxes were 16 cents an acre in 1913; by 1920 they had risen to 50 cents. There were downward movements between 1920 and 1921, between 1924 and 1926 and between 1929 and 1930, but the general movement for the decade of the twenties was sharply upward. In 1929 the tax per acre stood at 67 cents, and in 1930 was down to 64 cents, at which figure it was 294 per cent more than in 1913.

The record for Louisiana shows an advance from 18 cents an acre in 1913 to 55 cents in 1920, and a fluctuating movement thereafter between 47 cents in 1922 and 58 cents in 1929. The tax was 57 cents an acre in 1930, or 228 per cent more than in 1913.

Oklahoma Fluctuates.

Farm taxes in Oklahoma were 20 cents an acre in 1913; they dropped to 17 cents in 1914, and fluctuated between 21 cents and 25 cents for the next four years. By 1923 they had climbed to 44 cents, and moved irregularly between 39 cents and 47 cents for the remainder of the period. At 47 cents in 1930, taxes were 131 per cent higher than in 1913.

Arkansas experienced a rise from 16 cents an acre in 1913 to 36 cents in 1922, a decrease thereafter to 28 cents in 1926, and a rise to 32 cents in 1929 and 1930, at which figure taxes were 98 per cent more than in 1913.

The bureau previously has reported increases in farm taxes per acre in 1930 as compared with 1913 as follows: Pacific Coast states, 156 per cent; West North Central states, 150 per cent; New England states, 150 per cent; and East North Central states, 140 per cent.

Walters Case Ends As Jurymen Differ

The Walters injury case, which was tried last week-end for the third time, again struck a snag in the form of a hung jury. When the final decision was read late in the week, the jurymen had deadlocked at six to six. More than two days were spent on the case.

Judge A. S. Mauzey and District Attorney George Mahon opened the fall term at Big Spring this week.

With the exception of the prolonged argument in the Walters case and the trial of the burglary case early last week the local court term was colorless and the docket was short, as usual.
