FRANK PARKER SPOCKBRIDGE

PRESIDENTS—Franklin Delano Roosevelt is the third successive U. S. president to have a double 'o' in his name. He is also the third president whose surname is the same as that of one of his predecessors. We have had two Presidents Adams, two Presidents Harrison and now two Presidents Roosevelt.

MASONS—President Franklin D. Roosevelt is the thirteenth member of the Masonic order to be president of the United States. I have often heard some Masonic brethren say that every president has been a Mason, but that is not true.

RELIGIONS—President Roosevelt will be the ninth member of the Protestant Episcopal Church to be president of the United States. It is a curious thing that this small denomination should have had more representatives in the white house than any of the other branches of the Christian church.

PASTORS RETREAT—The Baptist pastors' retreat, held in Sweetwater February 20-24, was one of the greatest spiritual and informational meetings that has ever been held in this section.

GRANDFATHERS—Although one of the youngest presidents, Mr. Roosevelt is one of the few who were grandfathers when they were elected.

BLUE—Thirty years ago a president's daughter gave her name to a new shade of blue.

Deavours Likes Times—Among local citizens who have spoken good words for The Times recently is L. M. Deavours.

STINSON'S—New arrivals of Perfection cook stoves at Snyder Hardware & Implement Company.

It Will PAY YOU—to see Mrs. J. R. G. Burt, secretary, about a membership in the Snyder Local Mutual Association within the next 15 days!

SAFETY—$1,000 Paid on every death claim

Mrs. Roland Bell Named Chairman Of Better Homes

Mrs. Roland Bell of Snyder has received notice from Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Better Homes in America, of appointment as the chairman of the Better Homes in America Committee for Scurry County.

Better Homes committees are being established throughout the nation to arouse interest in the improvement of homes and to organize local civic groups to help each other in information concerning the best ways of taking the next steps in improving their own homes.

In the spring of last year 9,772 committees observed National Better Homes Week. It is expected that even a larger number will have programs of contests, lectures, tours, exhibits and demonstration houses in preparation for the next National Better Homes Week, which is from April 23 to 30, 1933.

Pastors Retreat Enjoyed By Many Baptist Leaders

The Baptist pastors' retreat, held in Sweetwater February 20-24, was one of the greatest spiritual and informational meetings that has ever been held in this section.

Each service we were led in great gospel singing by Professor I. E. Reynolds, head of the gospel music department of the seminary. The Simmons quartet sang one evening, and the Simmons girls' quartet sang one afternoon.

Economy Store Sale—The Economy Store announces its clearance sale of winter merchandise, and special prices on new seasonal goods, beginning Friday morning of this week.

The Other Man!

"... don't expect too much from your husband, as I did! Any woman of experience will tell you that love doesn't last. Romance will wear thin. It's traditional that men get tired of the same woman. When you've been married a few years you'll be lucky if you're still good friends. Don't think I am saying these things to hurt you. I'm saying them because I want you to be happy; and you can only be happy after you're married by not expecting too much. Let him be quite free, too—don't try to chain him to you all the time—that's a sure way to kill love."

Those were the last words that haunted Pauline as she sat up in bed on her wedding day morning, her fair hair rumpled childishly, her blue eyes blinking in the sunshine. The present Barbara had sent was standing on a small table by itself. It was a small carved statuette in ivory and silver, of a small Cupid beating his hand in vain against a barred door, and underneath was the one word, "Denied."

It is a new serial by Ruby M. Ayers. . . . It concerns Pauline, Dennis, Barbara and—The Other Man. It is a story that teems with action. . . . It portrays distinctive personalities struggling for full expression. . . . We're confident you'll enjoy our new serial. . . . "The Other Man."

Veteran Baptist Preacher Killed In Car Collision

Last rites for Rev. J. J. F. Lockhart, veteran Baptist minister who was fatally injured Sunday afternoon in an automobile collision on the Anon-Stamford highway, were said Tuesday morning at the family residence in Abilene. Rev. Jim Hubbard of Hamlin officiated. Burial was in the Masonic cemetery.

The aged preacher, a minister for more than 42 years, had pastored a number of West Texas churches, including the Snyder, Hermleigh and other churches in this county. When death came, at the age of 79 years, he was pastor of Friendship church in Knox County, Lone Wolf in Mitchell County and Wise Chapel in Jones County.

Among the survivors are J. G. (Jim) Lockhart of Snyder, Charley Lockhart of Arlington, the latter two formerly of Snyder. These three were brothers. Other survivors are: His wife, two daughters, and three sons, all of Abilene; John Lockhart of Stephenville and G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock, brothers; and three sisters, Mrs. Bob English of Fort Worth, Mrs. John Cargill of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. George Coffee of Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Card of Fort Worth have been business visitors in Snyder.

PLANE VICTIM WAS EX-CITIZEN

Lehman Nelson, 35, airplane instructor, who was shot and killed in a plane near San Benito Friday afternoon, formerly resided in Snyder, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Nelson, a number of local people recall.

The veteran pilot is believed to have been killed by Erin McCall, 21, to whom he was giving a flying lesson, because he would not heed the latter's demand to turn the plane over for use of a band of robbers.

The district attorney at Brownsville, who is conducting a thorough examination of the tragedy, states that Nelson was an "entirely innocent victim of circumstance," and that he "just pinch-hit for Bill Williams, another pilot, in taking McCall up. It was by accident that Nelson flew the plane."

McCall, who had a prison record, shot and killed himself when he landed the plane following Nelson's death.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Card of Fort Worth have been business visitors in Snyder.

A Good Education.

President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, gives these elements of a good education:

1. Knowledge of and skill in the use of the English language.
  2. A good knowledge of the history of our civilization.
  3. A thorough understanding of our government.
  4. Training in economics and sociology.
  5. Some knowledge of health, hygiene, foods, nutrition, diseases and their prevention.
  6. Some subjects should be taken for their cultural value in the development of individual knowledge and appreciation of art, literature, foreign languages and the esthetic side of life.
  7. Training for a definite life work, in some technical pursuit or professional line which will fit the student to perform service in an organized society.
- How near does our public school system come to these ideals?
- Within a half million miles, perhaps. Check those seven points, one by one, and determine in your own mind if our high school graduates are even started on the road to education according to these standards. Nor do the majority of our colleges send forth young men equipped in any measure as Dr. Knapp suggests.
- It is our firm belief that our economic revolution, just now in its swaddling clothes, will bring forth an educational revolution that will bring us nearer the goal set by this outstanding educator.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK.

A HARD JOLT.

George I. Seitz, in Texas Opinion last week, hit the Texas Press Association a hard jolt when he set up as the premises for an editorial about the power and light interests this preamble, "The Texas Light & Power Association held a mid-winter meeting of the Texas Press Association at Austin last week-end." The intimation in this paragraph is that the press association is controlled by the Texas Light & Power Company. But later in the same editorial Mr. Seitz makes plain what he thinks, for having recited three "outs" the light interests think they have for any adverse legislation that may be passed: First, the opposition of the Texas press; second, a Ferguson veto; and third, a multitude of lawyers eager to attack the constitutionality of adverse measures—having recited these, he opines:

"In these three cases the power interests reckon upon false premises. For instance, the press association is composed of a body of independent thinkers who will not follow blindly the dictates of the power-control Dallas and Austin offices of their association. Second, a new Jim Ferguson is established on Capitol Hill; he is determined to give the people an administration that will remove permanently the shadow of doubt that invariably clouds a Ferguson regime. And, finally, a new legal philosophy threatens to tear loose the grip in which the entrenchment interests heretofore have held the body politic."

Then he winds up by forecasting that the power industry and the press association will suffer for the unholy alliance so brazenly exhibited to Texas people and Texas editors.

The average newspaper publisher is much like the average of other intelligent people in the respect that he is unwilling to take a stand for something or against something until he is shown. Mr. Seitz, along with others, has his mind made up that we need a corporation commission or some such governmental agency similar to the Oklahoma and Kansas commissions—creating a lot more fat jobs for the taxpayers to support out of one pocket or another—and because the Texas newspaper men haven't fallen for the idea like a row of nine pins, there has been an unholy alliance set up. We all know the type—everybody crooked but themselves.

Newspapers all over the state gripe and complain because they and their customers can't get their utilities bills as low as they would like them—as low as their "adjusted" incomes will meet. But newspaper people, as a rule, are not convinced that setting up a lot more regulatory bodies and similar folderol will necessarily get the job done. In fact, we might start something which, like the Interstate Commerce Commission, we can't stop. Holy or unholy, newspaper people have got a little sense left. They would like to have lower bills if they can get them, but the way to get lower bills is not to increase costs. The holy Mr. Seitz will have to show the newspaper men and the people.—Floyd County Hesperian.

When I Survey the Wondrous Cross.
This song is rated by Londonites as one of the greatest Christian hymns existent. It was the best song the author, Isaac Watts, produced. It was composed in 1702 when Watts was 28, and is another tribute in song to the cleansing power of God, to his generosity to mortal man. Deacon Watts one day criticized Young Isaac because of his scorn of the songs in vogue then; this very criticism started Isaac Watts in the song writing profession, led to the composition of that sacred melody "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross."

The "Good Old Days."
From Kemptville, Ontario, comes a story to the effect that the farmers of that community have returned to the time-old custom of barter. "This system between business men, professional men and farmers has become the recognized medium for doing business." Merchants, we read, "are receiving wood, grain, hides, wool, poultry, meat, butter, eggs, vegetables and other necessities. Our own little coterie of defeatists, who have been pining for the "good old days" of the "golden age" will do well to ponder on this temporary return to the conditions of our forefathers.—Halifax, Canada, Herald.

Arson Responsible for Many Fires.
The City Council of Mount Pleasant is considerably perturbed over the increasing fire record of that city, and the resultant high insurance rates. They have complied with every state requirement in regard to fire insurance regulations, but the large number of fires during the year kept their record such as no reduction in rates could be expected. So now the city officials have appointed a secret committee which will make an investigation of the cause of every fire, and where there is any evidence of arson whatever, the case will be investigated to the limit. In this way they hope to prevent many fires in the coming months and give the city a better record in the year to come. Arson has given many cities high fire ratings, and every effort should be made to prevent conflagrations of incendiary origin.—Sunny Grove Signal.

CURRENT COMMENT

BY LEON GUINN

Saturday will be inaugural day at Washington, an item of much importance. Tall Texans, paunchy New Yorkers and socialites will be present when Herbert Hoover turns the affairs of the United States over to Franklin D. Roosevelt. Soon Mr. Citizen will know just what effect the new policies of government will have in relation to his personal fortunes, and whatever he may be the weather for the next four years, the skies are clearing, tender grass is growing, the merchant advertisers—and life goes on!

Sleek crooks parading as promoters interested in the fanciful estate of Sir Francis Drake have heretofore found rich pay dirt in the fantastic assumption that Mr. Blank, for instance, might be an heir to Drake's alleged treasures. Do not fall for this proposition; it couldn't possibly pay. This writer has a mimeographed copy of the sales sheet outlining Drake's few billions, and inasmuch as the literature is penetrating Texas, a timely admonition might be of value.

At Daytona Beach, Florida, Sir Malcolm Campbell streaked across the sandy beach like a meteor in a hurry at 272.108 miles per hour to establish a new world record for automobile racing history. In his scientific quest of speed man has overcome "rolling" and "sliding" friction to the point where the new stock cars will hit 75 or 85 miles per hour, which is too fast for ordinary roads for any ordinary human. Scientific precision has made excessive speed available for everyone, hence the alarming number of car wrecks, wrecked human machines. A car may run perfectly, but the driver is the brains—not the motor.

With the death of James J. Corbett, boxing loses much of its glamor and polish, because James Corbett was every inch a gentleman, truly beloved everywhere, because of his ideals of self defense. A few years back a husky 200-pound smartie collided with "Gentleman Jim" in the lobby of a New York hotel. Corbett apologized to the offender, inasmuch as he had the punch behind his word. That was "Gentleman Jim" to the last, always a square shooter. In the Valhalla of sports James Corbett will no doubt find a niche comparable to his elevating influence in life.

His Method.
Many leaders have dared to lay out ambitious programs, but this is the most daring of all: "Go ye into all the world," Jesus said, "and preach the gospel to the whole creation."

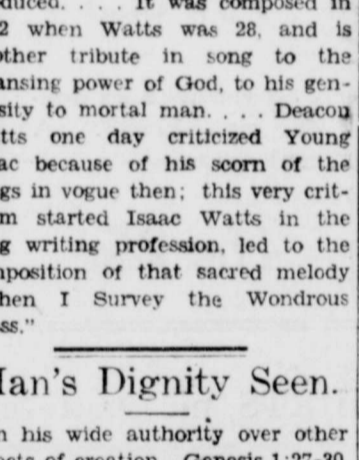

Consider the sublime audacity of that command. To carry Roman civilization across the then known world had cost millions of lives and billions in treasure. To create any sort of reception for a new idea or product today involves a machinery of propaganda and expense. Jesus had no funds and no machinery. His organization was a tiny group of uneducated men, one of whom had already abandoned the cause as hopeless, deserting to the enemy. He had come proclaiming a kingdom and was to end upon a cross; yet he dared to talk of conquering all creation. What was the source of his faith in that handful of followers? By what methods had he trained them? What had they learned from him of the secrets of influencing men?

We speak of the law of "supply and demand," but the words have got turned around. With anything which is not a basic necessity the supply always precedes the demand. Elias Howe invented the sewing machine, but it nearly rusted away before American women could be persuaded to use it. So his biographer paints a tragic picture—the man who had done more than any other in his generation to lighten the labor of women is forced to attend the funeral of the woman he loved in a borrowed suit of clothes!

Nor are men less stubborn than women in opposition to the new idea. The typewriter had been a demonstrated success for years before business men could be persuaded to buy it.
Almost every invention has had a similar battle. Said Robert Fulton of the Clermont:
"As I had occasion daily to pass to and from the shipyard where my boat was in progress, I often loitered near the groups of strangers. The language was uniformly that of scorn, sneer or ridicule. The loud laugh often rose at my expense; and the dull repetition of 'Fulton's Folly.' Never did a single encouraging remark, a bright hope, a warm wish cross my path."

That is the kind of human beings we are—wise in our own conceit, impervious to suggestions. Nineteen hundred years ago we were even more impenetrable.
"To the whole creation." . . . Assuredly there was no demand for a new religion; the world was already over-supplied. And Jesus proposed to send forth 11 men and expect them to substitute his thinking for all existing religious thought!

NEVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE

Everybody admires the progressive spirit of your leading citizens. Now is the time for all to get busy. Why not play a part in the development of the home city?
Every citizen should share the responsibility of community advancement. If you are not doing your share, get busy!
If you have not as yet caught the vision of those energetic citizens who are making your city so much better, you had better wake up before it is too late and you lose out. You should be proud to join in the forward movement of the home city.
In order for a city to prosper it must cultivate a spirit of unity between its citizens, and it must be based on union—not discord.
Cooperation will bring any city to the front.
Tomorrow is built on today's foundation.
You should invest your time and money in your own home city. It helps you and helps your city.

Shrubs and Trees Set Out.
Wholesale yard improvement is being attempted in Childers County, where 300 Home Demonstration Club women have 3,000 cuttings of shrubs set out in cutting beds ready for transplanting into their farm yards this spring. They are also getting Chinese elm shade trees from the Chillicothe Experiment Station with the aid of a local city organization and rebud in quantity from East Texas.

A want advertisement in a metropolitan paper reads: "Lost—Chow, heavy red hair, tall lighter." A dog like that must have been a convenience to any owner who smokes.

WONDER.
Wonder what the idea of some students is for wearing onions around their necks and their hair tied in pig tails? Maybe it’s to bring them good luck or some new fad. What’s this we hear about a certain red headed boy being good at breaking dates that he has made on a bet?
We hear that some dumb burnies in H. E. class wear the front legs of their pajamas together. We hope they’ll learn better some day.
The depression must be over. A certain boy is sporting some new spring shoes. Wonder if they hurt his feet?
Wonder whose football sweater Witt has been wearing lately? Maybe he played football—who knows?
We wonder if Billie misses Sexton very much?
What’s this we hear of a chalk-dropping class after school? It’s something new to us. Wonder what they learn in it? It sounds interesting.

INDEPENDENCE FAVORED TO BE BASKET CHAMP

Scoring Mark Set by “Holler” Girls As Canyon Goes Down By 90 to 0 Count.

You’ve heard tell of the “Holler”—all southeast of town, where the country’s pioneers once built a little empire of friendship and protection. But have you heard tell of the “Holler” girls (it’s Independence now), cream of the county’s rural goal-kicking crew—probably. The young ladies from Independence turned the rural basket ball tournament into a regular spree here Friday, when they swamped Canyon by the astounding score of 90 to 0. In the same tournament, Independence boys turned a similar trick by tromping their Ennis Creek rivals, 33 to 0.

Friday afternoon of this week, 2:00 o’clock, Independence girls will play Bethel girls for the rural crown. Bethelites having disposed of Ennis Creek, 16 to 12. No other girls’ teams were entered in the rural division. Dunn and Ira girls play the same day for the independent school championship, and the winner of this bout will tackle the Independence-Bethel winner for the county title.
After the “Holler” boys took their easy test from Ennis, they found it difficult to eliminate Bethel, 15 to 14. There will be no playoff between the independent boys’ winner, Dunn, and the Independence rural champs.
Loren Cotton, W. E. Cox and Bedford McClintock were officials for the week-end play-off.
All games are being played at Tiger Stadium, Snyder.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

International Sunday School Lesson.
For Sunday, March 5
JESUS SHOWS HIS POWER.
Lesson Text—Mark 4:35, 5:8
Golden Text—1 Timothy 1:12
The first part of our lesson is the dramatic episode of the tired Jesus asleep in a storm. We picture him, spent in body and soul, sound asleep on a cushion in the stern of the little vessel, unaware of the raging elements. We visualize also those panic-stricken disciples, unable to cope with pounding waves, despite their expert seamanship. In vain are the valiant attempts to preserve the boat’s balance. Waters persist in coming in, thereby threatening to swamp the shallop, and all are fast asleep. Suddenly, Jesus, their all-Hastily awakening Jesus, they all in terror for his aid.
“Master,” they cry, “does it make no difference to you that we are sinking?”
Rousing himself, he rebukes the wind. “Silence!” is his command. “Be still!” The wind dies, it is calm.
Then follows the most significant touch in this exciting incident, that striking question, so characteristic of the Master, “Why are you afraid? Have you still no faith?” An eminent New Testament scholar holds that the entire gospel is contained within the words, “Fear not, only believe!” Jesus had an excess of faith in God. He was never afraid, because he was perfectly sure he was safe in the hands of God. How much our groping, confused, fearful, bedevilled generation needs to cast itself upon the merciful care of the Lord!

The second half of the lesson is the touching story of the violent lunatic whom no fetters could bind. Living in a graveyard, wandering about in the hills, he was the terror of the neighborhood. Mark gives us a fuller description of this maniac than Matthew or Luke. His graphic pen vividly portrays the wildness of this miserable, untamed creature who, in his paroxysms, cut himself with stones and smote the air with blood-curdling shrieks, then, identified, by some strange, inner compulsion, the authority of Jesus and ran and worshipped him. At once the Master expelled the foul spirits within the poor wretch, transferring them to a herd of swine. It was a spectacular demonstration of his dynamic power, a power pregnant today in the lives of his heroic followers.

DISTRICT COURT OPENS MONDAY.
District court was away to a slow start Monday morning, and it bids fair to keep up the pace until the grand jury’s first report, expected today, presents unlooked-for incidents.
District Judge A. S. Mauney of Sweetwater and District Attorney George Mahon of Colorado are in their places for the late-winter term. A few non-jury cases have been settled to date.

Income Tax Man Will Visit Here Late Next Week

A deputy collector for the internal revenue department will be in Snyder Friday of next week to assist taxpayers in filing their federal income tax returns. No charge will be made for this service, according to word from George C. Hopkins, Dallas, U. S. collector.

“The matter of filing income tax returns should be given immediate attention of all taxpayers who are due to file returns in order to avoid penalty and interest. Calendar year 1932 returns should be filed not later than March 15, with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer resides or has his principal place of business,” writes the collector.

Scope of Exemptions.
In 1932, single persons had an exemption of $1,500 and married persons $3,500. These have been reduced to $1,000 and $2,500 respectively.
All persons and businesses having a gross income of $5,000 or more, regardless of net income, also are required to file a return.
For the purpose of indicating possible exemptions and deductions, consider for example, a single man receiving a net income of $1,500 and a married man $3,000. Each would take his personal exemption of $1,000 and $2,500 respectively, leaving a taxable net income in each case of $500.

Single Person Exemptions.
A single person may also be the head of a family and be entitled to the same $2,500 exemption which the married person receives. A bachelor supporting his mother in his own home or other dependents is the head of the family. He may further claim $400 additional exemption for such dependents.
The married man may deduct $400 for each of his dependents.
Other exemptions include contributions to churches, amusement taxes and all other federal levies paid by the consumer and not the manufacturer. Cigarette taxes are not deductible. Fire and theft losses not covered by insurance are deductible as are taxes paid directly to a state or its political subdivisions.

Other Deductions Allowed.
Interest paid out, bad debts, stock losses on stock held two years and automobile license fees are other deductible items.
The tax rate is four per cent on the first $4,000 of the finally ascertained taxable income. For amounts beyond this the tax is eight per cent.
In addition, if the net income is over $50,000 there are graduated surtaxes running up to 55 per cent.

Methodist Church
Sam Young, Pastor.
The pastor’s subject next Sunday morning at 11:30 o’clock will be “Who Are Eligible to Partake of the Lord’s Supper.” Communion will follow the sermon. At the evening hour Rev. O. P. Clark will preach and hold quarterly conference after the service.
Monday, March 6, the preachers of the Sweetwater district meet with the Snyder church and have lunch at 12:00 o’clock. Several local people are invited to enjoy the lunch hour from 12:00 to 1:00 o’clock.
The Adult Council, with A. C. Pruitt, chairman, and Herman Doak, secretary, met in its regular monthly meeting last Thursday evening in the pastor’s study. A good attendance was had, and a plan of home-to-home visitation during the month of March was adopted. It is hoped to emphasize the obligation and opportunity of church membership and to be prepared for our revival beginning the second Sunday in June. Misses Odum, Sims and C. J. Yoder were appointed as a central committee for the canvas.
We are especially fortunate to be able to secure Bishop Boer to conduct our revival. Every Methodist should rally for this evangelistic campaign.

Warren Dodson, general superintendent, is emphasizing increased attendance at church and Sunday School. Come next Sunday. Civilizations may fall and pass away; individuals are here for a while—but the church will endure. May we of this generation make it a greater force for righteousness.

Revival Will Begin At Baptist Church On Third Sunday

The spring revival at the First Baptist Church begins on Sunday, March 19. Please remember the date. Dr. W. Y. Pond, head of the evangelistic department of the Baptist convention of Texas, will be our preacher. He was with us last fall in a great revival, and we are expecting this one to be even greater. Dr. Pond is a great preacher. He is a man of God. He is a soul winner. He has been in the evangelistic work for many years. Very few preachers, if any, know the evangelistic work better than he. You can be sure that you will hear a great preacher if you will come. You will not be disappointed if you will only come. As pastor and speaking for every member of our church, we give you one and all a welcome to come and be with us. If you want to see a great revival in Snyder, please begin to pray that the Lord will give it.
Again we say, you are welcome. Don’t fail to come and be with us March 19 through April 2—Rev. Philip C. McGahey, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Sisk had as their week-end guest his sister, Miss Ona Sisk, of Maypearl.

SNOW AND RAIN COVER COUNTY

East Texas weather, mixed with a surge of fast-melting snow Thursday night of last week, has been Scurry County’s lot for several days. The slushy snow, coupled with light rains here and much heavier rains north and west, was of material benefit to crops and planting, but it left many roads in all directions in a bad plight for several days. Sunday was the gushiest of all the days of the year, with heavy mist and rain practically all day. Temperatures have not approached the danger mark, and signs of spring are again beginning to show up on lawns, trees, fields and pastures.
Charles Rosenberg is visiting in Brownwood and Dallas this week.

CHICKENS LIVE AT HOME, BRING CASH TO FARMS

Home Raised and Home Balanced Rations Have Kept Average Feed Cost at Low Level.

Farm chickens are living at home. Low egg prices forced it. Since the spring grain crop was harvested in 1931 hens have managed to live mostly on a farm-raised diet, lay just as many eggs, and live on seven cents per month instead of the 15 cents per month it used to take. This is the first time since Holmgreen, poultry husbandman in the Extension Service at Texas A. & M. College, and he backs it up with figures from 6,335 poultry flock demonstrations reported by farm and home demonstration agents.

Home-raised and home-mixed rations, balanced up in most flocks with generous amounts of skim milk or meat scraps, have kept the average feed cost per hen in demonstration flocks to 33 cents for the year. This is about 60 per cent of the total cost. Mr. Holmgreen says, which means that the total cost was about $1.39 per bird. The total average income was $1.87, and the net profit per hen 48 cents. In 1930 it was 66 cents. The average price of eggs in 1930 was 24 1/2 cents per dozen but in 1932 it had dropped to 12 1/2 cents per dozen. Egg production per flock advanced during this time from 142 eggs per hen per year to 150 eggs per hen in demonstration flocks. The state average is about 80 eggs per hen.

The figure most farmers look at, however, is the income above feed cost which represents the farmer's return for his labor and investment. Mr. Holmgreen points out. This is money that is readily available to apply on living and other expenses. Last year the demonstration flock owners made $1.04 per hen above feed cost, or nearly as much as they made the previous year, largely because of the fall spurt in egg prices. The ration most demonstration flocks received is known as "the big five," made up of 100 pounds of ground corn or grain sorghums, 200 pounds of ground wheat, 100 pounds of ground oats, 100 pounds of meat and bone scrap of 50 per cent protein, and two pounds of salt. Where plenty of milk is available the meat scrap is omitted. For scratch grain a mixture composed of three parts corn or grain sorghums and one part wheat is provided.

Mother Shipton's Famous Prophecy Published Again

The famous prophecy of Mother Shipton, startling in its accuracy, was made 500 years ago. A reproduction of the verses, published recently in the Amarillo Daily News, with the attached comments, comes to our hands from J. R. Huckle of Snyder.

"Here is a prophecy written 500 years ago by a woman. Read and see if you can suggest how she could have improved it even if she had written it this month. And before reading please undertake to transport yourself back five centuries and live when there were no steamships, no steam railways, no sewing machines, no cook stoves, no automobiles, no flying machines, no submarines and none of the many inventions so common today. Mother Shipton, who wrote this most remarkable prophecy, was born in Norfolk, England, and died in Clifton, Yorkshire, in 1449. She died 43 years before Columbus discovered America. Her original prophecy is as follows:

A carriage without a horse shall go; Messengers fill the world with news. In London, Primrose Hill shall be its center hold, a bishop's see. Around the world men's thoughts shall fly Quicker than the twinkling of an eye.

And water shall great wonders do—How strange, and yet it shall come true. Then upside down the world shall be; And gold found at the root of trees; Through towering hill proud men shall ride. Nor horse, nor ass move by his side.

Beneath the water men shall walk; Shall ride, shall sleep and even talk. And in the air men shall be seen. In white, in black, as well as green. A great man then shall come and go, For prophecy declares it so.

In water iren then shall float, As easy as a wooden boat. Gold shall be found in stream or stone. Two loving cups, which have been won three successive years have become permanent property of two county schools and will have to be replaced with new ones this year. Snyder has won the Class A cup for field and track, and Fluvanna has become owner of the Class B trophy.

And now a word in uncouth rhyme—Of what shall be in future time. For in those wondrous, far-off days, The women shall adopt a craze. To dress like men and trousers wear. And cut off their lovely locks of hair.

They shall ride astride with brazen bows, As witches on a broomstick now; Then love shall die and marriage cease. And nations wane as babes decrease. The wives shall fondle cats and dogs And men live much the same as hogs.

In nineteen hundred twenty-six, Build houses light of straw and sticks. For then shall mighty war be planned, And fire and sword sweep the land. But those who live the century through

In fear and trembling, this will do. Flee to the mountains and the dens, To bog and forest and wild fens, For storms shall rage and oceans roar. When Gabriel stands on sea and shore, And as he blows his wondrous horn, Old worlds shall die and new be born.

Rock Garden Wins First Prize In National Contest For Best Planted Home Grounds In United States In 1932

A rock garden, feature of the well planted home grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tucker, Spokane, Washington, won for them first prize in the National Yard and Garden Contest (amateur division) according to official word received here last week. The yard of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Stinson of Snyder was given honorable mention in the national contest, following her winning a place in the local contest conducted by The Times.

The Tucker place won over hundreds of the most beautiful homes in all parts of the country. Each of these had previously carried off the honors in the Yard and Garden Contest held in its own home town. Judgment was based on photographs. So many photographs were entered that several large art galleries were required to display them.

According to these thousands of competing photographs, a rockery is the most popular garden feature in America today. In fact, rock gardening has become the family sport in various parts of the country. Water gardening is running a close second in the race for public favor. A great increase in the number of lily pools on home grounds was observed in the national competition.

Both rock and water gardens are developing from the modern trend toward outdoor living rooms on the average home lot, the National Yard and Garden Contest discloses. Everywhere people are creating beautiful and comfortable nooks out-of-doors with trees and flowers. Here, protected by walls of green, much of the life of the family is carried on during the summer season.

A Well Planted Place.

The Tucker place, however, did not win the national trophy just on its garden features. In every way, as shown by the views above, it is a well planted home. A complete foundation planting of deciduous shrubs and evergreens for accent joins the house harmoniously to the grounds about it. A necessary retaining wall is covered by Boston ivy and topped by a hedge of barberry. Outside the hedge a border of gay perennials adds colorful touches to the beautiful home picture. The inside lot boundary line is marked by a hedge of privet. Bright flowers followed in their season by verbena flank the inviting walk leading to the front door. Evergreens stand guard at the steps. Window boxes presenting a galaxy of color grace the front of the house, painting a beautiful picture for passersby to see. Maples and pines appropriately frame the pleasing prospect.

The Tucker back yard contains a charming little outdoor living room which a few years ago was merely a clearing on a rocky, vine-covered slope. The natural hillside forms a rare setting for the rock garden. In this shaded area are a wealth of interesting rock plants, some of which have been transplanted from altitudes of over 10,000 feet. Well selected perennials add to the attractiveness of the rock garden picture. They include columbines, foxgloves, thalictrums, trololius, Japanese anemones, Michaelmas daisies, primulas and campanula carpatia. Rough stone steps lead through the rock garden to a lower level. To the left of these a sundial is informally placed on a mound of rocks. Semperparvum hedges in the crevices.

Tucked away in a corner behind a mass of rock and under a grove of pines is a wild garden with maidenhair ferns, trilliums, Dutchman's breeches, bloodroot, hepaticas, twin-flower, bunchberry and many other woodland plants. A little patch carpeted with pine needles leads into the wild garden.

The sunny portion of the upper level of the rear grounds is devoted principally to a charming rose garden. Many choice varieties are included in the collection. A lilac hedge affords protection from the north winds. Limes and other shrubs improve the alley line. An adjacent area has been planted to such flowers as valenuldas, covey-bells, anemils victoria and cerastium tomentosum.

Chrus Ranch Home Wins.

Another high honor in the National Yard and Garden Contest went to a Riverside, California, place, the home grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Austin, winner of first prize in the semi-amateur division—Class II, in which manual labor was hired. The Austins took an old citrus ranch and by judicious planting enhanced the charm that clung to the old pepper and eucalyptus, magnolia and palm trees. A sunken roque court, walled in by great masses of climbing roses, was the garden feature. First prize in the estate division, Class III, went to "Chickasaw Gardens," the beautifully landscaped home of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor H. Allen at Memphis, Tennessee. The Austins took a hillside of bare yellow clay in a new residential subdivision and by a well conceived landscaping plan transformed it into a place where the planting seemed to have

Farmer Is Active In Campaign Against Proposed Measure

Frank Farmer of Scurry County, and other county superintendents in rural areas, are making extensive efforts to halt a bill introduced at the present Legislature, which they say would injure rural education as a whole.

The bill would exempt larger independent school districts from payment of a portion of the county superintendent's salary and expense. It would likewise reduce salaries and expense budgets of most county superintendents. Under the bill's terms, for instance, this county's superintendent would receive $1,600 rather than $2,400 yearly, and his expense fund would be reduced from $600 to $300.

The Senate committee on finance was slated to consider the bill early this week. Mr. Farmer started toward Austin Sunday, to appear with other rural school exponents against the legislation, but became unwell and before he reached San Angelo.

$300 Life Insurance Policy in Big Demand

The office of the Life Insurance Department of the Lone Star Health and Accident Company, Fort Worth, is literally swamped with inquiries regarding its new deal ($300.00 ready cash life insurance policy), which requires no medical examination and is available to everyone between the ages of 2 1/2 and 45 1/2 at the low annual rate of only $5.00 a year.

The economy ready cash life policy of the Lone Star Health and Accident Company does exactly what it states—provides for cash in hand at the very moment it is needed. Everybody realizes that they must die, everybody realizes that they must be buried, everybody realizes it costs money for funeral expenses. No living person should willfully put the burden of their funeral expenses on some loved one who is left behind, and that is why there is such a spontaneous demand for the Lone Star ready cash $300.00 Bank Draft Insurance Policy. Many people who have thousands of dollars of other insurance are buying Lone Star's $300.00 insurance policy because they realize that when they have protected themselves with this $300.00 policy it means that they have ready cash on hand at death.

Anyone that is interested in securing full information regarding this policy should see Elmer Louder at Herleigh, agent—adv. tip
