FORTY-SIXTH YEAR.

SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 17, 1933

NUMBER 110

Local NRA Groups Map Full Campaign

TWO MEETINGS POINT TOWARD FULL SUPPORT

Executive Committee Chosen At Gathering of Business Men Monday Afternoon.

Two important meetings have featured NRA developments in Snyder during the past week. Sixty business men gathered in the Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon to choose an executive committee for consideration of code problems.

Several hundred citizens were in the city tabernacle Tuesday evening to hear T. N. Carwell of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce discuss the blanket code particularly as it applies to the consumer.

At the first meeting, a nominating committee, appointed by Harrie Winston, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who presided, suggested 14 names from which a permanent executive committee of seven was chosen.

Committee Elected. W. J. Ely, Harrie Winston, H. G. Towle, Robert H. Curran, Lee T. Stinson, Rev. Philip C. McGahey and A. C. Preuit were named on the executive committee by secret ballot.

This committee has authority to choose a general and colonels to be chairman of the NRA advisory and educational functions, in keeping with a plan outlined by the government for each community.

At an executive meeting held last night, J. C. Smith was named as chairman of a combined educational and publicity committee. Members of the committee are Frank Farmer, C. Wedgeworth, Mmes. Robert H. Curran and Roland Bell. A joint meeting of this committee with the executive group has been called for 3:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Stinson-Winston Named. The Wednesday meeting resulted in selection of Lee T. Stinson as chairman and Harrie Winston as vice chairman of the steering group. J. W. Scott was made secretary. R. H. Odum was named as a committeeman to succeed Rev. Philip C. McGahey, who resigned because he will be out of town in revival meetings for several weeks.

The general mass meeting Tuesday evening, advertised by distribution of circulars in all parts of the county early in the day, was attended by a crowd that almost filled the large tabernacle. At least 25 per cent of the group were women. A number came from communities in other parts of the county.

A clarion call for each man, woman and child in Scurry County to stand behind the Blue Eagle of recovery was sounded by Mr. Carwell. He recited the tragic facts leading up to President Roosevelt's declaration of a nation-wide emergency—a declaration never known in the history of our country.

Heads With Hearers. The speaker used the word "pledge" as the president had used it, in appealing to every citizen to rally in support of the great recovery movement.

It was explained that the executive committee for this county had been appointed, and that its chief duties would be to see that the people were kept informed of NRA developments through personal contact, through speeches and through the press.

"You will be as much of a slacker if you fail to join in this battle against the depression as you were if you failed the first time during the World War," Mr. Carwell declared.

Resume of Action. In a running resume of the president's policies of action, as opposed to the inertia of his predecessor, the visitor made it clear that such a leader, who has arisen as other leaders have arisen in this nation's supreme crises, deserved the unqualified support of a united citizenship.

The Abilene man was introduced by Robert H. Curran, county judge. J. W. Scott was chairman at the meeting's close.

Proceeding his principal talk on the NRA, Mr. Carwell spoke briefly in support of the proposed authorization of $30,000,000 in relief bonds. He emphasized the statement that Texas has no other way of caring for its thousands of destitute people.

CAMP HONORS

This 11-year-old Snyder girl has a right to smile. The two cups she is holding and the medal she is wearing were won this summer in competition with other girls at Waldemar Camp for Girls, near Kerrville. She is Wynona Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keller. One of the cups was the highest given in the camp for western horseback riding, while the other recognizes her as the most progressive swimmer on the campus. The medal was won in dancing.

Wynona was also awarded a "W" star and two bars for her all-round camping efficiency. The two bars are awarded only to outstanding campers in the summer camp. In addition to these honors, the young lady locked only one point of winning the highest score on the campus, the cup winner receiving 675 points to Wynona's 674.

Funeral Services For W. H. Brown Held Saturday

Rites for William Howard Brown, 31 years old, were held from the First Christian Church Saturday afternoon, with A. J. Cody officiating, assisted by Rev. E. C. Lambert. Odum Funeral Home was in charge, and interment was in the Snyder cemetery.

Bellflowers were John Etheredge, Frank Hobbs, Harry S. Leo, Warren Dodson, J. E. LeMond and M. M. Gideon. Mrs. Mattie Trimble, Mrs. Mabel German and Misses Dessie and Essie McFarland were in charge of the flowers.

Mr. Brown was born in the state of Mississippi in 1902. In early childhood he moved with his parents to Birmingham, Alabama, and lived there until 1925. At the age of 16 he joined the army and served during the World War on the Mexican border. He moved to Snyder in 1925, and in 1928 was married to Miss Inez Baze of this city, who survives. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Brown, of Los Angeles, California.

Mrs. Vernon Dunn Buried Here After Passing At Merkel

Funeral rites for Mrs. Vernon Dunn, 30 years old, were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist Church, with Rev. S. H. Young officiating. Mrs. Dunn, the former Miss Kindred Elkins of Scurry and Kent Counties, died Monday at her home in Merkel.

She is survived by her husband; her mother, Mrs. Jack Elkins; and two sisters, Mrs. Alexander Dunn and Mrs. Francis Lee, of Slaton.

OFFICIALS ARE KEEPING BUSY

These are busy times for the sheriff's department, but most of the business is coming from afar. A young man known as Alvin Crouch was arrested near Dunn a few days ago, and returned to Madisonville for alleged jumping of bond in an assault and attempt to murder charge.

Albert Faulk, said to be operator of a wrecking yard in East Snyder, was arrested on suspicion Saturday, when his name was connected with discovery at Silvertown of license plates allegedly taken from a stolen car. He was released on a $750 bond.

COUNTY HOME LOAN LEADERS ARE SELECTED

Ben F. Smith Named Appraiser; J. M. Harris Is Attorney; Plan Explained.

Ben F. Smith has been designated as appraiser, and J. M. Harris as resident attorney for the Home Loan Corporation for Scurry County. Announcement of their appointment, which was made in Washington and released from Dallas, was received here late last week.

Mr. Smith, who has been visiting with his son, Dr. L. P. Smith, in Oklahoma, returned to Snyder Sunday to take up the work here for the corporation. He will have offices in the Boren-Grayum Insurance Agency building.

The object of the corporation is to relieve distressed home owners. It is authorized to acquire in exchange for bonds issued by it, home mortgages and other obligations and liens secured by real estate; to make loans in cash on such mortgage and liens, not to exceed 50 per cent of the value of the property.

The corporation is further authorized in any case in which the holder of a home mortgage or other obligation or lien eligible for exchange does not accept the bonds of the corporation, and in which the corporation finds that the home owner can not obtain a loan from ordinary lending agencies, to make cash advances to such home owner in an amount not to exceed 40 per cent of the value of the property.

Each such loan shall be secured by a duly recorded home mortgage and shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

The loans referred to in the last paragraph are to be made in cash. James Shaw, state manager of the Home Owners Loan Corporation, advises that it will be difficult to secure loans of this type, principally because lending agencies should be willing to renew or extend loans which do not aggregate more than 40 per cent of the present appraised value, and because the interest rate is high.

"Loans made in exchange for bonds are most favored by the corporation. It was the purpose of the president and directors, as manifest by the law, that the bulk of the loans to be made by this corporation should be made in exchange for its four per cent interest bearing bonds."

Mr. Harris will pass on all titles, where loans have been authorized, and will assist in other ways with legal advice to prospective applicants.

County Trio Makes Merry At Sheriffs' Meeting In Midland

Sheriff Henry Newman, Deputy Sid Bruton and P. I. Townsend, county Democratic chairman, pooled their resources Wednesday night and Thursday of last week, and journeyed west to the semi-annual convention of West Texas sheriffs, held at Midland.

From the stirring address of Congressman R. J. Thomson, El Paso, to the heavy barbecue prepared through the courtesy of Audie Francis, host sheriff, the convention is declared by the locals to have been an informative and entertaining success. Hundreds of 100 full-fledged delegates were registered, while more than 400 persons attended the barbecue program.

Jess Slaughter of Howard County, president of the area group, was master of ceremonies. The February meeting goes to El Paso.

MEN FOILED IN THEFT OF GAS

When Jack Bowling heard gas thieves tampering with one of the pumps at his filling station in North Snyder Friday night, he took a .16 gauge shotgun in hand.

The two meddlers, afoot, were peppered with birdshot, fairly close range. They dropped their five-gallon can of gas, took to their heels, and have not been seen since, although officers searched until after daylight.

A 1929 Chevrolet coupe in which the pair were believed to have been riding was found a mile northwest of the station. Notice that it had been stolen from Sweetwater the same night was received by officers Saturday. Nolan County officers came for it that day.

Engineer Favorable to Proposed Dam

To the Voters and Citizens of Scurry County:

We, the undersigned citizens of this county, knowing the dire necessity for relief during the next year for the many people of this county who are unable to secure work or funds for their sustenance, and realizing the inability to raise local funds by either private or public means, are convinced that the emergency demands that Texas vote authorization of the twenty million dollars in bonds for the relief of the needy and unemployed.

We believe that it is the most economical method of securing such funds, and urge upon everyone a careful consideration of this question when you go to cast your ballot on this issue August 26.

FIRST COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN FOR NEW TERM

Hermleigh and German Started Monday—Turner, Plainview and Bethel Next Week.

Golden rule days are here again. Doors of two county schools were opened last Monday morning, and the new term will join the parade next Monday.

Hermleigh and German initiated the movement, with Turner, Plainview and Bethel following suit next week.

A. A. Bullock, former teacher in the school and former Scurry County superintendent, was principal speaker when Hermleigh opened this week. He spoke on the state's new deal in education. Guy Stark, superintendent of Dunn schools, also spoke.

E. E. Kerr heads the Hermleigh schools again. Mrs. Garland Gannaway, Miss Lucister Roberson and Mr. Gilliam, formerly of Guinn, complete the high school faculty; while Misses Blanche Patterson and Minnie Duncan, and Misses Myrtle Woodfin, Faye Joyce and Clarice Harkins compose the grade school faculty.

A new bus transfers students of the newly consolidated Guinn district into the Bell district, which was consolidated last year.

At German, Principal Rufus Miss opened his fourteenth year as "head master." He is assisted again by Miss Mary Ann Nachlinger. No formal program was held and opening enrollment has been small due to lack of knowledge by some patrons concerning the opening.

T. B. Hicks will again serve as Turner principal, with Misses Clara Shoemaker and Ethel Lynn Hays as assistants.

Roy Irvin continues as Plainview principal. Misses Clarice Irvin and Edrice Gilmore assist. The brand new brick building will be used for the first time.

J. W. Leftwich is serving as Bethel principal again, with Mrs. Leftwich and Mrs. Della McPherson assisting.

A number of schools plan to open Monday, August 28.

NEW BUSINESS HOUSE OPENING ON NORTH SIDE

Popular Variety Store, With Chalk Brown As Manager, Reflects Spirit of "New Deal."

Saturday has been set as opening day for the Popular Variety Store, located in the east half of the Caton-Dodson building, north side of the square.

W. C. Shull, owner of the new place of business, announces that he has a full stock of notions, tools, toys, candies, jewelry and other goods especially clerks, will be present for the opening day.

The spirit of the "New Deal" is reflected in opening of the Popular Variety Store. Mr. Shull is of the firm opinion that the "New Deal" is gradually bringing new prosperity to the homes of the people. "I stand ready to help replenish the many homes that have been bereft of the necessities and comforts of life during this period of stress," he said yesterday.

Several carpenters and painters have been busy for two weeks to get the store in readiness for its Saturday opening. Several other workers, especially clerks, will be given employment with opening of the establishment.

Pullet Lays Initial Egg At Nine Weeks

A White Leghorn pullet belonging to C. M. Ely, Snyder, started her egg laying campaign early in life, despite NRA's campaign against child labor.

The early layer was just four months and seven days old—just over nine weeks—when she cracked in victory.

Mr. Ely, who has 80 of the beauties, from Payne stock, says he feeds Purina Growers.

ELY PRESIDES OVER GINNERS

W. J. Ely of Snyder, president of the West Texas Ginnners Association, will preside over sessions of the area group at Abilene today, during the annual session. He will deliver the president's annual address this morning.

The convention opened at 10:00 o'clock, with a welcome address by Mayor C. L. Johnson, following invocation by James F. Cox, D. D., of Abilene Christian College. W. W. Porter of Colorado, a past president of the association, responded to the mayor's greeting.

John C. Thompson, Dallas, will speak at 11:00 o'clock. He is secretary of the Texas Ginnners Association.

LOCAL RELIEF FUNDS SLICED BY NEW ORDER

County Is Reduced To "Absolute Minimum To Conserve Funds For Extreme Emergencies."

An order from Lawrence Westbrook, head of the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission, stated late last week that Scurry County should immediately reduce her relief rolls to the lowest minimum possible, in order "to conserve funds for extreme emergencies in case the bond issue fails."

Joe Monroe, county administrator, after conferring Monday with the county relief board, Mayor H. G. Towle and County Judge Robert H. Curranite, immediately cut county relief to the bone. He also wired the commission, as suggested in Mr. Westbrook's telegram, to the effect that local agencies were unable to cope with the distress and unemployment situation.

The Westbrook telegram reads: "This commission requests you to assemble your board Monday, together with county judge and mayor, and consider the following: 1.—Desirability of reducing relief immediately to absolute minimum to conserve funds for extreme emergencies in event the bond issue fails. 2.—Making estimate of local public and private funds available and to be made available to meet local needs at present and this winter, bearing in mind that no federal or state funds can be had after September 1 if the bond issue fails. Please give conclusions by night letter Tuesday."

Dr. Towle Leads Optometrists Of Area At Lubbock

Dr. H. G. Towle of Snyder, vice president of the Texas State Board of Examiners in Optometry, was in Lubbock Monday evening to take a leading part in the area gathering of optometrists.

The extension program of the American Optometric Association, of which Dr. Towle is an active member, was the chief subject under discussion at the meeting on the Plains. Plans were outlined and presented for effecting a more efficient national-wide organization of the specialists. The Texas body sponsored the program.

The local man also expected to be in Coleman Tuesday evening and in Amarillo Tuesday evening of this week, for similar meetings, but he was unable to attend.

Dr. E. B. Alexander of Duncan, Oklahoma, first vice president of the national association, in charge of the department of organization, was principal organizer at the three meetings. Dr. Mollie Armstrong of Brownwood, state chairman, was associated in the work with Drs. Alexander and Towle.

ELY PRESIDES OVER GINNERS

W. J. Ely of Snyder, president of the West Texas Ginnners Association, will preside over sessions of the area group at Abilene today, during the annual session. He will deliver the president's annual address this morning.

The convention opened at 10:00 o'clock, with a welcome address by Mayor C. L. Johnson, following invocation by James F. Cox, D. D., of Abilene Christian College. W. W. Porter of Colorado, a past president of the association, responded to the mayor's greeting.

John C. Thompson, Dallas, will speak at 11:00 o'clock. He is secretary of the Texas Ginnners Association.

Area School Confab Attended By Locals

The district gathering of school officials at Colorado last Thursday was attended by four Scurry County leaders.

C. Wedgeworth, superintendent of local schools, E. E. Kerr, Hermleigh superintendent, J. L. Carrell, president of the county board, and T. J. Gilmore, Bethel board member, were county delegates.

Miss Mann of Abilene, district supervisor under the "new deal" in state education, was the principal speaker. She stresses instead of G. D. Holbrook, as announced last week. She spoke primarily of the changes in school legislation and procedure.

Definite Plans To Hear Sheppard Not Announced by Pros

Every effort is being made by local prohibitionists to see that Senator Morris Sheppard, "father of the Eighteenth Amendment," stops here Monday.

Although definite plans have not yet been completed, possibility of the pro campaigner giving an address here near the noon hour is believed to be good. The senator is making a statewide campaign in behalf of the amendment's retention in the Constitution, but few smaller towns of the state are included on his itinerary. He speaks in Sweetwater Sunday night and in Lubbock Monday night.

FINAL STEP IN PLOW UP PLAN THOUGHT NEAR

Final Papers on 800 Contracts Out Of 1,258 Are Completed By Workers In County.

With the final cotton plow-up step—receipt of checks by county farmers—believed to be just around another corner or two, the local office is getting into the short rows of its tremendous task.

Acceptances from Washington of 1,148 contracts out of 1,258, and completion of final papers on 800 contracts were announced by the county agent, W. R. Luce, late yesterday.

In Eastern Borden County, 90 out of 98 acceptances have been received by the local committees.

After a slow start, the final inspection by local committees moved forward rapidly last week and early this week. Considering the fact that each group of papers contained at least nine signatures, in addition to close inspection and duplicate filing, the work of the community committees and the county committee, along with that of the office force, is generally conceded to have been excellent.

The local office has no word regarding receipt of checks, but judging from the length of time required for completion of other plow-up details at Washington, a few checks should be forthcoming before next week has passed.

Willing Workers To Hold Rally At Dunn Tuesday Evening

The Willing Workers Union, Epworth League organization of this town, will convene in a young people's rally at Dunn Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock, according to Clarence Walton of Snyder, acting president. The annual election of officers will be held.

Following is the complete program: 7:45 p. m.—Registration. (Fee, 10 cents). 8:00 p. m.—Devotional Program: Song, "Higher Ground." Song, "Tell Me the Story of Jesus." Prayer—Rev. S. H. Young of Snyder.

Scripture and Inspirational Talk—Dr. B. E. Young of Post. Song, "Take My Life and Let It Be." 8:40 p. m.—"Looking Forward." Mrs. Nelda Garrett of Colorado. 8:50 p. m.—Business meeting. Annual election of officers. 9:20 p. m.—Welcome, Myri Gary of Dunn. 9:25 p. m.—Response, Miss Mary Belle Carroll of Union Chapel. 9:30 p. m.—Social hour, directed by Dunn young people.

COWHANDFETE SET SATURDAY

All hands are set for the cowboy reunion that is to be staged a few miles east of Gall, on Highway No. 83, all day Saturday.

The principal feature of the day's program will be a rodeo with all the trimmings, and a few smaller events, ranging from $5 to $40. Cow roping, cow milking and goat roping are the principal events. Some of the best cowhands in this section are planning to compete for the various prizes.

The world's funniest cowboy comedian and clown, who entertains the world-famous reunion at Stamford each year, will be on hand all day to teach the young boys, who are sponsoring the event, expect to make the reunion an annual affair. They are ably assisted by some of Scurry's and Borden's dyed-in-the-wool punchers.

SOIL EXPERTS CHECKING SITE FOR PROJECT

Austin Man Pleased With Irrigation And Flood Control Outlook Of Proposal Near Snyder.

Preliminary survey of the dam site proposed as a local public works project resulted yesterday in a favorable oral report from A. H. Dunlap, member of the State Board of Water Engineers.

The Austin man, who has been on the board a dozen years, expressed the opinion to several public works committeemen and other interested citizens that the project might be developed into an outstanding irrigation, flood control and recreation center.

A personal inspection of the site, about eight miles north of Snyder, near the E. Wright Moore ranch, was made yesterday by Mr. Dunlap, a surveyor who accompanied him, and several local men.

Soil Inspection Today. Further inspection is being made today by R. E. Dickson of Spur, superintendent of the Texas Experiment Station. He is accompanied by a soil expert. The two, with a local committee, are making soil tests to determine the most profitable products that might be grown on land irrigated from the lake formed by the proposed dam.

The dam would impound water covering about 1,000 acres, in the opinion of the Austin engineer. Since it would be a dirt embankment, practically all money for its erection would be spent for labor. It is estimated that the project would require $150,000 to $175,000 for completion.

Intensive Irrigation. Water from the lake would probably irrigate upwards of 1,000 acres intensively. The soil survey, which will be supplemented by the county-wide survey made two years ago, is expected to show that many kinds of vegetables, fruits and intensively cultivated field crops could be grown in abundance.

Mr. Dunlap's frank comments concerning the project, and his reputation for conservative judgments based on fact, are considered by local committeemen as background for final acceptance of the project.

Apostolic Church To Hold 10-Day Revival

Beginning Friday, August 18, a 10-day series of services will be conducted at the city tabernacle, and will continue through Sunday, August 27. Rev. R. L. Homes and wife of Chaworth, California, will be assisted by Rev. W. B. Stearns and wife of Weston, Ohio, in the services, according to Albert Buchanan, pastor of the local Apostolic Faith Church, who has charge of arrangements for the meeting.

The public cordially invited to attend these services at 8:15 o'clock each evening. Mr. Buchanan states.

Girls' Quartet Will Perform At Church

The official girls' quartet from Simmons University, Abilene, which has won nation-wide reputation because of its remarkable harmony and beautiful voices, will sing at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening, at 11:00 and 8:30 o'clock.

Their recent appearance in the local church, the young ladies rendered a few selections, but were forced to cancel the full program when one of their number became ill.

Dunn Schools To Be Opened Late August

Dunn schools will open for the 1933-34 term on the morning of Monday, August 28, according to Guy Stark, superintendent for the second year. Prospects for an outstanding year are bright, the leader believes.

The schools will have a total faculty of eight members, five of whom will be at Dunn for the first time.

Only NRA Backers Get Relief Orders

Notice came to the local relief office early this week that no purchases of any kind can be made from firms that refuse to adopt the NRA blanket code or the code formulated for their industry.

The WOMAN'S Page

Mrs. Cunningham Gives Breakfast.

The pretty home of Mrs. Dora Cunningham, 2403 Avenue N. was the setting for a delightful social occasion Wednesday morning when a score and a half friends of Mrs. Cunningham were entertained at a formal three-course breakfast at 8:00 o'clock.

Beautiful flowers decorated the rooms of the home, and dainty bowls of blooms centered the tables at serving time.

Silver and linen appointments were beautiful, adding charm and grace to the delectable menu.

Places were set for Misses E. J. Anderson, Fred Grayson, J. C. Dorward, W. W. Hamilton, H. G. Towle, W. W. Smith, Joe Strayhorn, R. H. Odum, Philip C. McGahey, H. L. Davis, A. J. Towle, W. J. Ely, H. P. Brown, J. C. Smyth, J. M. Harris, O. P. Thrane, C. Wedgeworth, J. C. Stinson, H. E. Houser, Lee Stinson, H. J. Brice, Hilton Lambert, Nelson Dunn, D. P. Yoder, B. M. West, R. L. Williams and A. D. Erwin. Out-of-town guests were Misses Pearl Shannon of Colorado and Sam Dorfman of San Antonio.

The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Mattie Ross Cunningham, and Mrs. Dan Gibson.

Sears Entertain Evening Bridge Club.

Members of the Thursday Night Bridge Club and guests were entertained last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Sears.

At the conclusion of the games, in which Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Hicks, members, and Miss Hattie Herma, guest, were winners of high scores, refreshments were passed to Messrs. and Misses J. M. Harris, Wraymond Sims, Albert Norred, Ivan Dodson, Herbert Bannister, Melvin Blackard, G. B. Clark Jr. and J. G. Hicks, members; and to Miss Nell Swan of Merkel, Burgess Dean of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Squires and Misses Gertrude and Hattie Herma, guests.

Birthday Dinner For Mrs. C. P. Chandler.

A surprise birthday dinner was enjoyed by the children and friends of Mrs. C. P. Chandler Thursday at her home on Twenty-fifth Street in honor of her twenty-fourth birthday.

Those enjoying the occasion were Messrs. and Misses Lee Holladay and son of Ira, Ather Chandler and children of Ira, Jackson Ellis and children of Dunn, C. P. Chandler and daughter, Miss Blanche; Mrs. Lloyd Boyd and son of Colorado, Miss Willie Pearl Glen.

Junior Banks Pupils Meet Wednesday.

The Junior pupils of Mrs. Mary E. Banks had their class meeting on Wednesday, August 9. Plans for the coming term were made, the major project to be music scrapbooks. A review of theory and drill in rhythm was given.

A class meeting of pupils from 13 years up will be held Wednesday, August 23, at 9:00 a. m.

Those present at the Junior meeting were Jettie Mae and Yvonne Werner, Patty Joyce Hicks, Wynona Keller, Kathryn King, Frances Neely, Joanna Strayhorn, Bobby Vann, Marilyn Roberts. Several pupils were out-of-town, Mrs. Banks announced.

Friendly Fellows Meet In Bell Home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bell were entertained Tuesday evening of the Friendly Fellows 42 Club.

The large group of players to which refreshments were served after enjoyable games, was as follows:

Messrs. and Misses J. J. Taylor, W. C. Hamilton, Joe Monroe, Hugh Taylor, W. B. Stanfield, J. S. Bradbury, and the host and hostess, members; Messrs. and Misses R. D. English, Porter King, Phillip C. McGahey, Errol J. Taylor, R. H. Odum, J. E. LeMond and Charles Owens, local guests; Miss Vera Bell of San Marcos and Miss Burtie Boles of Lubbock, out-of-town guests.

DELICIOUS WAYS TO PREPARE FRESH GREEN VEGETABLES

Now the markets are filled with dewy-fresh garden products — so tempting and plentiful that it would seem that very little care was needed in their preparation for the table. But this is not true. Even the largest and most tender asparagus may be ruined by over-cooking, the sweetest of peas spoiled by the careless cook. Here are some suggestions and recipes for utilizing these foods to best advantage.

In the first place, remember that all leafy vegetables should be cooked quickly in boiling salted water, and nearly all of them should be cooked in uncovered pans. Remove them from the fire as soon as they are tender in order that they may retain their color and food value.

Asparagus Puffs.

Combine highly seasoned mashed potatoes with one-half the amount of asparagus tips. Place in mounds on a greased baking sheet. Make a hollow in the center of each mound and break an egg into it. Dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in a moderate oven until the eggs set.

Baked Asparagus and Tomato.

Lay cooked asparagus on thick slices of tomato and sprinkle generously with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven until the cheese is melted. Serve on a platter and garnish with toast strips and crisp bacon.

Spinach Timbales.

Ingredients—One cup cooked spinach, one tablespoon fat, one egg, slightly beaten, one-half cup milk, one-third teaspoon salt, few grains of pepper, few drops of lemon juice, one teaspoon vinegar, four round slices of bread, fried, four slices of tomato or one-half cup of tomato sauce.

Combine first eight ingredients. Fill well-greased timbale molds. Bake in a pan of hot water in a slow oven for about 45 minutes or until firm. Cover bread with slice of tomato or tomato sauce and turn a spinach mold on each. Serve with hollandaise sauce.

Brussels Sprouts and Celery.

Ingredients—One quart Brussels sprouts, boiled, one and one-fourth cups celery, diced very fine, one and one-half cups scalded milk, three tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour.

Melt butter, add celery and cook two or three minutes, then add flour. Blend well, and gradually add sprouts and season. This may be turned into a hot baked dish, covered with bread crumbs and baked in a hot oven until the crumbs are golden brown.

Lima Beans on Casserole.

Ingredients—Two cups cooked lima beans, two cups milk, two tablespoons flour, one pimiento, chopped fine, six thin slices bacon cooked until crisp.

Cut cooked bacon into small pieces. Place a layer of lima in a buttered casserole, sprinkle with salt, flour, bacon and pimiento. Cover and bake in a moderate oven about 30 minutes or until all the milk is absorbed. Serve from the casserole, garnishing top with strips of crisp fried bacon and strips of pimiento.

Broiled Tomatoes.

Place thick slices of tomatoes on a buttered tin, dot with butter and sprinkle with grated cheese. Broil.

KEEPING ALL READY FOR THE UNEXPECTED GUEST

With the "call of the open road" being what it is in summer, the unexpected guest becomes more of a routine happening than an unusual event. So the thoughtful hostess wisely plans to have appetizing and quickly prepared foods in readiness. A supply of canned goods fills the emergency most often but there are, as well, certain delicacies that may be kept on hand for a hastily assembled but nevertheless adequate meal.

For the Emergency Meal.

With the aid of the following canned goods it is possible to concoct delicious dishes at short notice.

Vegetables—Canned corn, hominy, beans, mixed vegetables, okra with tomatoes, ripe and green olives, peas, green beans, spinach, tomatoes, tomato juice, lima beans.

Fruits—Applesauce, cherries, fruit salad, grapefruit, peaches, pineapple, pears, strawberries, grapefruit juice.

Fish—Anchovy paste, sardines, codfish balls, salmon, shrimp, tuna.

Specialties—Catsup, cheese, chowchow, jam, jellies, milk (condensed) and salad dressing.

Meats—Sliced bacon, corned beef, dried beef, sausage, canned chicken.

Ready-Made Entrees—Chicken a la king, chop suey.

Foods Quickly Prepared—Noodles, rice, eggs, lettuce.

With the help of canned corn beef, potatoes and onions a delicious hash may be quickly prepared. With this serve a salad of lettuce with French dressing, bread or rolls and canned or fresh peaches for dessert.

Canned corn (the dry variety) is very good fried in butter. With this scrambled eggs and bacon may be served. A fruit salad will do nicely as dessert. Use hominy, fried, in place of potatoes, with frankfurters and a crisp salad of lettuce and tomato. If you keep pie crust on hand (it will keep for a long time in the ice box if rolled in waxed paper) you may have a deep dish cherry pie in no time.

A cold supper of salmon salad with hard boiled eggs and toast may offer as dessert slices of chilled pineapple.

Delicious sandwiches may be prepared quickly by creaming sardines with lemon juice to spread between rye bread. With this serve iced tea or coffee.

Anchovy paste spread on rye bread is very good for an evening snack, with drink.

A slice of bread spread with nip-pye cheese and topped with bacon

National Crew Trophy

Among other things that inspired the University of Washington crew to put on steam and win the National Inter-Collegiate was the R. J. Schewepe Trophy, presented by pretty Gwen Seager, as shown above.

Out-of-Town Guests Are Party Honorees.

Miss Mary Margaret Towle entertained Monday afternoon with a bridge party at her home, 2911 Avenue U, commencing her house guests, Misses Florence McLeod, Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon and Frances Jones of Colorado.

Daintily wrapped prizes for each of the guests were displayed at the beginning of the games, but those winning high scores at the conclusion of each of the games were given the privilege of selecting her prize. At the close of the games some of the guests had received fun-makers and others won lovely gifts, all of which afforded lots of fun.

An ice course was served to the honorees, Miss Ruth Williams of Madill, Oklahoma, and Misses Estline Dorward, Frances Stinson, Martha Jo Jenkins, Margaret Miller, LaFrances Hamilton, Juanita Sennell, Netha Lynn Rogers, Roberta Ely, Evelyn Erwin, Irene Wolcott, Louise Wilsford, Florentine Winston, Irene Spears, Mary Frances McCarty and Elizabeth Blakey.

Miss Towle was assisted with hostess duties by her mother, Mrs. H. G. Towle, and her aunt, Mrs. Pearl Shannon, of Colorado.

Faught-Burroughs.

Will Burroughs and Miss Hattie Faught of Fort Worth were married in Marietta, Oklahoma, on July 22. Mr. Burroughs is a former resident of Snyder, and her many friends here wish them much success and happiness in their life together.

Rosenbergs Hosts At Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rosenberg entertained Friday evening at the Manhattan Hotel with a joyous dinner party in celebration of their first wedding anniversary.

The long dining table was centered with crystal bowls of giant zinnias, flanked by crystal candelabra with green tapers. Clever placards marked places for Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Josephson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Curmudge, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Cloud, Mr. and Mrs. Max Brownfield, Miss Ella Pearl Ferguson, James McKinnon Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg.

During the four-course dinner Mrs. Rosenberg was presented with a linen luncheon cloth by her guests. Dancing followed the dinner hour.

Laf-a-Lot Club Meets At Hotel.

The Laf-a-Lot Bridge Club met Thursday afternoon at the Manhattan Hotel, with Miss Margaret Deakin as hostess.

After presenting Miss Mildred Stokes with high score prize for bridge play, the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. M. Deakin, served a dainty salad plate to Misses Dixie Lee Davis, Eva Neche Arnold, Janice Erwin, Charles Ella Hamlett, Mildred Stokes, Elverne McFarland, Ruby Lee, Johnnie Mathison, Gwendolyn Gray, Dorothy Darby, Jeanette Lollar and Alta Bowers.

S. S. Bake Sale.

A bake sale will be conducted at the J. J. Taylor grocery beginning at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, with the Esrudoma Class of the First Baptist Church as sponsors. Mrs. Phillip C. McGahey is teacher of the class and Mrs. A. A. Bailey is the sale chairman. Cakes, pastries and baked meats will be available at reasonable prices.

Build Up Health and Pains Go Away

WOMEN who suffer from weakness often have many aches and pains which a stronger state of health would prevent.

Women in this condition should take Cardui, a purely vegetable tonic that has been in use for over 50 years.

Take Cardui to improve the general tone of the system in cases of run-down health and "tired nerves." Women have found, in such cases, that Cardui helps them to overcome pains and make the monthly periods easier. CARDUI is safe and wholesome for women of all ages. Try it!

W. W. Nelson And Miss Snider Marry.

W. W. (Uncle Billy) Nelson and Miss Ella Snider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Snider, were married Saturday, August 5, in Clovis, New Mexico.

Rev. J. P. Nix, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Clovis, officiating, the ring ceremony being used. Miss Sun Snider, sister of the bride, was the only attendant.

The bride wore a modish gray crepe frock with accessories of black. She traveled in a white linen ensemble.

The couple is making their home in Snyder, where Mr. Nelson is tax collector for Scurry County. They reside at 2701 Avenue U.

Mrs. Verne McMullan Hostess To Club.

Mrs. Verne McMullan entertained the Sina Cura Club and guests at the Manhattan Hotel Tuesday afternoon.

A dainty salad course was served following the games of bridge, in which Mrs. J. G. Hicks, guest, and Mrs. T. L. Lollar, member, won high score.

Members present were Misses Garrett Harrell, W. R. Johnson, O. P. Thrane, T. L. Lollar, Ernest Taylor, A. D. Erwin, R. H. Curmudge, G. A. Hagan, Hugh Boren and A. J. Towle. Misses W. H. McMullan, Roy Stokes, Charles Cooper, J. G. Hicks and Ivan Dodson were guests.

Miss Dollie Trice Entertains Friends.

Miss Dollie Trice entertained several of her friends with a dinner Sunday.

Those who enjoyed the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Crowder and daughter, Marian, of Dunn, Tom Reeves and wife of China Grove, Misses Quinta Mitchell of Ira, Mary Alice Simpson of Camp Springs, Messrs. Victor Drinkard, J. T. Trice, Woodrow Allen, Hardy Mitchell of Ira and Malcolm James of Colorado.

Husband Pleased After Wife Lost BULKY FAT

"I've lost exactly 21 pounds with three jars of Kruschen and am so happy to get rid of that bulky fat. My husband is very pleased with me. My skin is clearer and I feel so much better since I'm not so heavy on my feet. Friends say I look much better." Mrs. Norma Spiekler, Maugansville, Maryland.

To get rid of double chins, bulging hips, ugly rolls of fat on waist and upper arms safely and without discomfort—at the same time build up glorious health and acquire a clear skin, bright eyes, energy and vivaciousness—to look younger and feel it—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

One jar lasts four weeks and costs but a trifle at any drug store the world over. Make sure you get Kruschen because it's safe. You get back if not satisfied. 3G-5

FAIR DEAL FOR SMALL STORES ASKED BY RECOVERY OFFICIALS

Washington, Aug. 15.—Reports that many small employers, particularly owners of shops, are being subjected to pressure because they have not found it possible to comply overnight with the provisions of the blanket code, despite their desire to do so, have reached the National Recovery Administration. As a result, the administration has requested newspapers to aid in obtaining fair play for this class of employers.

Explanation was made that readjustment of working conditions so as to comply with the reemployment program is very difficult, in many cases, particularly for the employer of only two or three persons. Employers have signed the agreement and complied, so far as possible, with its provisions, but they have not been able to adjust their machinery to all of its provisions immediately. Pending complete compliance with the terms of the reemployment plan, of course, these employers do not have the Blue Eagle. Hence, pressure has been brought against them.

The hope of the administration is that consumers will deal fairly with the employer who is willing to adopt the reemployment plan but who requires time to make adjustments. The fact that an employer has signed the agreement and does not have the Blue Eagle through no fault of his own, should entitle him, it is felt, to the same consideration as those who have obtained the insignia.

Press Crew Will Take Sweetwater By Storm Friday

Members and guests of the West Texas Press Association will gather in Sweetwater Friday and Saturday for the organization's annual convention.

The Times crew will probably attend the gathering "time and time about." President Ralph Shuffler of Odessa predicts that the convention will be the best held in at least four years. Among outstanding features will be the president's own first-hand talk on the prospective permanent NRA code for newspapermen and printers.

Walter D. Cline, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the banquet to be held in the Macie Hotel, convention headquarters, Friday at noon. Peter Molyneux, editor of The Texas Weekly, Dallas, will be principal speaker at that time.

"Selling Advertising" will be discussed in the afternoon by Henry W. Stanley of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. Joe Galbraith of Big Spring will conduct a round table discussion on "Back Shop Talk." Max Bentley of Abilene, official creator of West Texas journalism, will speak on "Our Greatest Sin—Sloppiness." Jake Smyth of Snyder will give a talk on "New Schemes for Creating Business."

A swimming party and chuck wagon dinner will be presented by the host city at Santa Fe park in the evening. The annual ball will follow at the Sweetwater Country Club.

The Saturday morning session will open with "Tips on Taxes" by Ray H. Nichols of Vernon, conductor of the Austin bureau of the Texas Press Association. "A Message from Rufus Higgs of Stephenville, president of the Texas Press Association."

Following the late-morning business session, the annual golf tournament will be held at the Sweetwater Country Club for the Bill Parker trophy.

Low Upkeep of New Refrigerators Shown

When the modern housewife discovered that she could have electric refrigeration at an operating cost as low as that of an ordinary electric light bulb, the electric refrigerator industry showed a marked stimulus. Frigidaire sales reports show, according to Earl Brown, who represents that division of General Motors here.

Development of this electric refrigerator was the result of a growing demand for a refrigerator with a low operating cost, according to Mr. Brown. Salesmen all over the country reported that the modern housewife wanted an electric refrigerator that would not boost the electric light bill too much. As a result the research laboratories of Frigidaire were put to work to solve the problem and the new refrigerator resulted.

The saving was accomplished through use of a newly designed refrigerating unit with only three moving parts, including the motor.

No Property Tax for Relief Bonds.

No ad valorem or property tax of any kind shall ever be levied against any farm, home or other real or personal property for the funding of interest or principal of such bonds as may be issued under the proposed relief bond amendment.

This is a stipulation in the copy of the proposed amendment which would authorize the state Legislature to issue $20,000,000 in state bonds to match federal aid for relief work during the next several months.

The amendment, to be voted on by Texas citizens August 26, is reproduced in full on another page of The Times this week.

Snyder To Be Next Choice of Baptists

Snyder was named at Ira Tuesday as September host to the annual business meeting of the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association, to be held September 5-6.

The pastors and laymen's conference will convene during the day of the fifth, and the convention proper will open that evening. An outstanding speaker has been invited.

Ira church was host to the August gathering all day Tuesday. Several from Snyder who attended reported an inspirational meeting, largely attended.

Druggists Consider New Angles of Code

Druggists of three states gathered in Dallas Tuesday to hear explanation of new code angles pertaining to their business. Joe Stinson and Herbert Bannister were representatives from Snyder.

Speakers from New York, Iowa and other points cleared many moot points in the prospective code, and, as Mr. Stinson puts it, "made it clear in my mind that the little merchant will be the one most benefited, in the long run, by the NRA."

Company "G" Expected to Return on Sunday Morning with Many Honors

By Private Erton F. Tate.

Company "G" has successfully passed the first week of their annual warfare, which most of the men will tell you is the hardest of camp.

They have survived the regimental problem, which included a 16-mile hike and a sham battle. They passed through the gas cloud experiment without any casualties, going through the gas mask drill and getting their masks on with loss of only a few tears. They took their turn at formal guarding, walking post alternately for 24 hours without arresting a single prisoner. They pitched their pup tents and spread their field equipment for inspection Saturday morning, which is an old army custom. All in all they have had a busy week.

But to really round out a full week, many of the men have gone to Houston and Galveston on sight-seeing bus trips today, while others have gone on boat trips out on the bay and out into the Gulf of Mexico, fishing and sea gazing. Some stayed in camp to get some bunk fatigue and others, less fortunate, have to attend to camp details as k. p.'s, etc.

Company "G" men have distinguished themselves in almost every phase of camp activities. Captain John E. Sennell is regimental instructor of the fifth, and the convention proper will open that evening. An outstanding speaker has been invited.

Officers and Andy Jones are members of the celebrated M. P. force, Jones being sergeant of the provost guard.

Kenneth Pitner has battled his way through the battalion, regimental and brigade light-weight boxers and now holds the championship of the 71st Brigade. He will meet the winner of the 72nd Brigade for the division championship some time this week.

James Reeves and Weldon Bird were eliminated in the regimental bouts. Albert Carlton met with a similar fate in wrestling.

In the division track meet this week Company "G" will be represented in the dashes by Bedford McClinton, Clint Fesmire will compete in the middle distance runs and Erton Tate and Sergeant Roy Irvin will carry the company colors in the jumping events.

The men of the company are looking for another well-filled week before they leave for Snyder.

In the morning (Monday) they defend their title as rifle combat champions of the 36th Division. Tomorrow afternoon, with the entire division, they pass in review before the governor of Texas and her staff.

The rest of the week will be filled with drilling, rifle team competition and the regular camp routine. But the goal is next Friday afternoon when they sign the pay-roll, strike tents and load out.

Lieutenant Tim Cook, accompanied by Mrs. Cook, who has been vacationing in Palacios while the lieutenant soldiered, will leave by automobile Friday morning, as will the men of the company who came in their cars. The rest of the company will entrain early Saturday morning and will likely get into Snyder very early Sunday morning.

It is needless to say the men of the company appreciated the papers sent by The Times. The sergeants couldn't get a detail out of the entire company until the men read the Home County Paper.

Here is the way the company will rank and file into Snyder:

Captain John E. Sennell; Tim O. Cook, first lieutenant; Tommie J. Black, second lieutenant.

Roy O. Irvin, first sergeant; sergeants: L. Galyean, Jack E. Isaacs, Felix W. Jarratt, Travis L. Larue, Clarence E. Moore, Clifford T. Scarborough.

RANCHERS OF COUNTRY SEEK MARKET PLAN

D. H. Snyder of Colorado Acts For This Section in Nation-Wide Gathering at Denver.

Uncle Sam's agricultural department is the place the livestock industry must go to solve its problems, in the opinion of most of the cattle kings at the livestock conference in progress at Denver, Colorado, early this week.

D. H. Snyder of Colorado, Texas, was named head of a committee to offer a report on Texas drought conditions. He represented the area of which Scurry County is a part at the Denver meeting.

A Tuesday Associated Press report gave the following highlights of the nation-wide gathering:

"I don't believe many Texas cattlemen, until they came to this meeting, favored attempting to work out a marketing agreement with the meat producers," said J. M. Reynolds of Fort Worth.

"However," he said, "those I have talked to here believe the cattlemen will have to strive for such an agreement if they are to reap any of the 'new deals' rewards."

Suggestions that the livestock men send a committee to Washington for a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, who called the conference here, and a committee representing meat packers, was made today by Victory Christgau, representing Secretary Wallace at the parley.

The reaction of the delegates to the proposal was almost unanimously favorable. Some definite action on it was expected by the conference before it adjourns tomorrow.

A resolution proposing lower freight rates in drought-stricken territories was drafted by a conference committee headed by J. T. Sneed Jr. of Amarillo, for presentation to the delegation. The resolution recommends the regular freight rate apply on cattle shipped out of a drought area to other territory where feed is good, and free transportation of cattle back to the point of origin. A half rate is proposed on feed that is shipped into drought regions.

McGahay Goes to Tahoka. Rev. Phillip C. McGahay, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will go to Tahoka this week-end, where he is scheduled to conduct a revival meeting, beginning Sunday, and continuing two weeks. He formerly held a pastorate at Wilson, near Tahoka, and has many friends in Lynn County who will hear him.

WHITE HYACINTHS . . . to feed the soul

A GREAT department store, one of the largest in the country, published a most unusual advertisement. "Buy something you don't need," it read. And there is a sound and worthy philosophy beneath that seemingly cold and calloused plea . . . a philosophy that has endured for centuries.

"If I had two loaves," wrote the Persian poet, Sadi of Shiraz, "I would sell one, and buy white hyacinths, to feed my soul." And throughout all history, men have sold their loaves to buy white hyacinths.

We would modify the exhortation of the department store. Buy something you could do without, but something you very much want. . . The antique chair you've been promising yourself. The new carpeting for the dining-room. . . The electric grandfather's clock, or the sterling silver.

Values were never so great, for the amount expended, as now. You have only to turn to the advertisements in this newspaper to be convinced. Here is written a story too important for you to miss. And very often you will find you may keep both loaves . . . and have your hyacinths as well.

Shall Texas Go Hungry?

"I know the people of Texas. They are not selfish. They are not heartless. They will not let women and children go hungry. When the newspapers of the state have shown them that hunger will sweep the state if this amendment is defeated they will vote it overwhelmingly."

That straightforward language comes from an outstanding Texas. He refers, of course, to the proposed relief bond issue amendment to be voted on next week.

The Times is thoroughly convinced that the amendment should be passed. About three years ago it determined to be editorially opposed to bond issues of all degrees and characters. But the issue now at stake is the holding together of body and soul for thousands of Texans. We feel justified in changing our arbitrary attitude toward a proposed bond issue that will snatch many of our fellow Texans from the very brink of physical and mental graves.

Scurry County has received thousands of dollars from Uncle Sam in relief funds. This money has come during a time of need. It has been the salvation of many local families.

No matter how successful the NRA may prove to be in routing the depression, it will be many months before its full effects are felt. In the meantime, suffering and privation will continue to invade many homes.

Let us give our Legislature authority to vote relief bonds if relief bonds are needed. It is the human thing to do. It is the patriotic thing to do. It is the Scurry County thing to do.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

THE RACE IS ON.

Food and other commodities are going up. Wages are going up. The upward race is on. Oh, yes, there is a third person in this race for a goal that has not yet been designated, but it is to end at a station called Prosperity. The third racer—and he has proven himself to be a mighty slow starter—is Employment.

All were supposed to start together and remain abreast. But Commodities got the jump, and he is showing a clear pair of heels. Wages took in after him, but has had an army of unemployed swarming over the track and impeding his progress. These unemployed believe that they would make good in this race and want to take his place.

Employed, this laggard third, may pick up speed later on. He will if the old fan, Buying Power, comes down to cheer him on. Buying Power is a breezy sort of roofer. He carries everything with him, having that kind of captivating personality that takes the stage and holds it, unless he should become ill, as he did four years ago.

Usually, we hope to see one or another win in a race, but this is a different kind. The success of the event depends largely on the racers running very nearly abreast. Something must be done to speed up the laggard or to hold back the leader.

This Olympic event is being sponsored directly by President Roosevelt, and we may rest assured that he is deeply interested in the outcome. It is just possible that he will have to tie lines to the racers and operate them much in the same fashion as puppets are operated in an inanimate show. The rest of us are spectators to this race, but more than spectators. Our interest is one that involves the structure of industry and business and society. Should the racers get out of control something is likely to happen, but no one knows just what, and all of us shudder a bit in contemplation.—Ponca City, Oklahoma, News.

- Hail to the Brain Trust!
 You might be interested to know that Tugwell, a member of President Roosevelt's brain trust, lives up to his name. He tugs well as far as violation of pure food and patent medicine advertising is concerned. And Moley—accent on the last syllable, if you please—is certainly laying the racketeers out mo' and mo'.
- "Thirty Years Too Soon."
 That delightful cartoon strip, "Born Thirty Years Too Soon," depicts a mother in ankle-length bathing suit afraid to appear in public for fear of a scandal. We suggest that the cartoonist choose the dashing young swain who plunged along the city's main street—in rubber-tired buggy—at 15 miles an hour, as another fit subject.
- We Are Born Selfish.
 Those who call continuously for municipal ownership of utilities might play a different tune if the government were considering taking over their own businesses. For instance, some people think restaurants charge profiteering prices. Why not permit the government to own and operate all restaurants in the Union? When the shoe begins to pinch our own feet, we are not so anxious that it be worn by anyone.
- An Era of Rumor.
 We have not lived in another age, but we can not conceive of any race of people more afflicted with rumors than the homo sapiens of 1933. In Abilene, rumors of a typhoid fever outbreak ended with discovery that only three cases existed. In Greenland, Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were reported killed unto death, but they were really safe and sociable in the consul's home. In Snyder, death often rides on the wings of rumor long before it is known to the undertaker.
- Slaves of Cotton.
 The Texas Weekly, that many-faceted mirror of events and forecasts, has this to say of child labor on the cotton farms of Texas: "For our own part we think that to the extent that it is true that the growing of cotton requires the labor of children of both sexes of 15 years and under to that extent the growing of cotton is to be condemned." Mr. Molyneux, the editor, presents the calculated opinion that President Roosevelt can not destroy child labor on cotton farms with a mere flourish of the pen.
- A bellhop in an Amarillo hotel was trying to convince a New Yorker that Marvin Jones was the Texas "big shot" in Washington.
 "You say that he is an agriculture committee-man?" inquired the N. Y. elite.
 "Yassah," replied the bellhop. "He am de most supreme subordinate from Texas."

WASHINGTON CIRCUS
 BY DAVID WRIGHT

Washington.—The silent Sage of Palo Alto must have chuckled the other day as he stretched himself under his fig tree and observed that, despite all the damning he received from the Democrats last November, he is now three up on the Squire of Krum Elbow.

Mr. Hoover was in office seven months when the October crash of 1929 came; Mr. Roosevelt had been at the helm less than three months when Wall Street again began skyrocketing prices, and the first crash under the new administration came in July, exactly four months after we had been advised that the money changers had fled from the temple. It appears now that they must have been hiding behind some of the pillars.

The same old racketeers are at work roping in the suckers, who apparently have learned nothing during the last four years. The middle of July saw the bull syndicates rigging the market as they rigged it for the October, 1929, killings, and the turnover of some 30,000,000 shares in a single week was greater than any 1929 week before the big crash.

There is a feeling here well-wishers of some of the president's well-wishers that unless something is done to curb the Wall Street gold-brick artists who operate in the name of business, Roosevelt and the Democratic recovery program will be wrecked. The latest market orgy, which many pious persons would have us believe was an act of God, caused a return of the old "jumpy" feeling. One or two more like it may destroy Roosevelt's progress in restoring public confidence, said a Democratic leader who believes that Wall Street should be padlocked.

J. P. Morgan & Company has caused to be printed and mailed to "key" people in the United States 200,000 copies of a pamphlet containing reprints of statements submitted by Morgan and two of his partners to the Senate banking committee in May and June during the time Ferdinand Pecora was probing into the company's private affairs. This is the first time in the history of the firm that it has bothered to communicate with the public on such an extensive scale to present its views. All the newspaper men here received a copy, and they are wondering how their names happened to get on this list and not on the earlier Morgan preferred lists. Anyhow, they were "thinking of us" this time, and that's something.

As I predicted in this column two or three weeks ago, the Smith supporters in the Democratic presidential primary and convention contests are not slated for any awards from Jim Farley, administration plum distributor. Take Massachusetts, for example. Roosevelt was beaten there three to one in the primary when Senators Walsh and Coolidge, Governor Ely and the entire Democratic state machine lined up solidly behind the Tammany sachem.

All that crowd was given a bitter pill the other day when former Governor Alvan T. Fuller, a Republican, was named as a state adviser under the recovery act program. One-time Progressive, who has been constantly on the "outs" with the Bay State G. O. P. machine, Fuller got himself elected to the governorship three times despite everything the Old Guard tried to do to stop him. I don't myself see how this gentleman merits anything at the hands of Mr. Roosevelt.

The next blow came when a little known bank president from Gardner, Joseph P. Carney, was named collector internal revenue in opposition to the plans of the Democratic state machine and even against the wishes of Mayor James M. Curley, "lone wolf" Roosevelt-before-Chicago bandwagonite.

It is reported here that neither senator was consulted, and James Roosevelt is said to have influenced the appointment. Farley, it appears, is building up an entirely new machine, and in doing so is giving the grand snub to all AI's friends.

Diplomatic and radio delegates from the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba and Central American republic attending at Mexico City the first wave length conference held on the North American continent are having a hard time reaching an agreement to divide wave lengths on a basis equitable to all countries.

Armstrong Perry, representing the National Committee on Education by Radio, was barred from the sessions in the Mexican capital. He went there for the purpose of speaking in behalf of the few stations connected with universities and colleges. He was not a delegate, but thought that citizens of any country who are interested in education by radio had a right at least to sit in the galleries to observe what was being done in the disposition of radio channels. He was mistaken.

Up to 1932, 1,568,000 boys had graduated from the Boy Scouts of America, and not one of them has ever been convicted in a criminal court.

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

THE RACE IS ON.

Food and other commodities are going up. Wages are going up. The upward race is on. Oh, yes, there is a third person in this race for a goal that has not yet been designated, but it is to end at a station called Prosperity. The third racer—and he has proven himself to be a mighty slow starter—is Employment.

All were supposed to start together and remain abreast. But Commodities got the jump, and he is showing a clear pair of heels. Wages took in after him, but has had an army of unemployed swarming over the track and impeding his progress. These unemployed believe that they would make good in this race and want to take his place.

Employed, this laggard third, may pick up speed later on. He will if the old fan, Buying Power, comes down to cheer him on. Buying Power is a breezy sort of roofer. He carries everything with him, having that kind of captivating personality that takes the stage and holds it, unless he should become ill, as he did four years ago.

Usually, we hope to see one or another win in a race, but this is a different kind. The success of the event depends largely on the racers running very nearly abreast. Something must be done to speed up the laggard or to hold back the leader.

This Olympic event is being sponsored directly by President Roosevelt, and we may rest assured that he is deeply interested in the outcome. It is just possible that he will have to tie lines to the racers and operate them much in the same fashion as puppets are operated in an inanimate show. The rest of us are spectators to this race, but more than spectators. Our interest is one that involves the structure of industry and business and society. Should the racers get out of control something is likely to happen, but no one knows just what, and all of us shudder a bit in contemplation.—Ponca City, Oklahoma, News.

CURRENT COMMENT
 BY LEON GUINN

For the benefit of the consumer Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace will have AGAD field agents (AGAD, Agricultural Administration) gather retail prices of food in 50 cities from 1,000 stores. . . . Since the newspapers and radio will relay this survey to the consumer it is assured all will share in the New Deal. . . . Says Mr. Howe: "We are going to see that consumers are protected at a time when the administration is trying to pull the farmers and workers out of what President Roosevelt calls the 'economic hell' they have been living in for four years." . . . News-Week adds that "prices will be carefully checked with the money the farmer gets for his products and the cost of the things that he buys, to be sure he is sharing in recovery. . . . Wage increases will also be watched, to be sure that workers are getting their part of the New Deal."

Thirteen years ago Miss Marguerite Le Hand went to Hyde Park to act as Franklin D. Roosevelt's secretary for a "few weeks." . . . Last week Miss Le Hand was still F. D. R.'s "super-confidential" secretary. . . . The Roosevelts call her Missy, especially like her vivacity. . . . Missy is the Roosevelt career guardian, and next to Mrs. Roosevelt knows F. D. R.'s moods better than anyone else at the White House. . . . Few know Missy is of French descent, but many know she is very charming. . . . Last spring Canadian Prime Minister Richard Bennett went rather goofy (he didn't want it known, however) over charming Marguerite Le Hand, but the idea of ringing the White House for a theatre date with Mr. Roosevelt's secretary cools and chills the ardent admirers very promptly. . . . Missy carefully weighs the immense correspondence, reads crank letters to Roosevelt that prove amusing. . . . She is the president's boss in office matters, and is making a hit in her busy job.

Bruce Barton has been writing of "The Master Executive" in some very helpful articles. . . . Some years back the husband of Mrs. Frances W. King sued Advertising Man Bruce Barton for alienating his wife's affections. . . . Mr. Barton settled for $25,000—he did not need the publicity. . . . Recently Mrs. King wrote a book, "Roo's Martin—And End to Seduction," mailed Mr. Barton galley proofs, would need a check for $50,000 to withhold publication. . . . It was promptly termed "a scurrilous and vicious libel." . . . Bruce Barton prosecuted Mrs. King for blackmail, and a New York jury sent her up for from five to 10 years. . . . Barton had the courage of few extortion victims—to retaliate legally. . . . You remember, of course, his best book, "The Man Nobody Knows." . . . This column privately predicts passage of the Texas $20,000,000 bond issue without dissent.

LET'S VISIT A FEW MORE PARTS OF THE WORLD TODAY. FOLKS, WE'VE STRANGE BELIEFS EXIST CONCERNING WIND & RAIN—CLIMB INTO THE ROCKET PLANE AND AWAY WE'LL GO.

IN OLDEN TIMES OF COURSE IT WAS MOSTLY IN TROPICAL COUNTRIES WHERE RAIN-MAKING WAS PRACTICED. IN OTHER PARTS OF THE WORLD RAIN WAS NOT DESIRED & STORMS WERE FEARED.

IN JAVA, WHERE THEY HAVE DRAINFALLS IN ABUNDANCE, THERE ARE MANY CEREMONIES FOR THE PREVENTION OF RAIN.

TO MAKE WIND STOP THE HOTTENTOT TOOK HIS HEAVIEST SKIN AND HUNG IT ON A POLE BELIEVING THAT THE WIND WOULD TIRE ITSELF OUT TRYING TO BLOW THE SKIN OFF THE POLE.

EVEN TODAY IN CERTAIN PARTS OF GREECE, ROMANIA & BULGARIA THERE ARE PICTURESQUE CEREMONIES FOR THE PURPOSE OF INVITING RAIN—AND MAGIC RAIN HYMNS.

A News Maker.
 Let us look at Jesus' 24 hours' schedule; see how it bristles with front page news.

The activity begins at sunrise. Jesus was an early riser. We discover a little boat pushing out from the shore of the lake. It deposits Jesus and his disciples in Capernaum, his favorite city. He proceeds at once to the house of a friend. The report spreads instantly that he is in town and a crowd collects outside the gate—a poor palsied chap among them. At hand. Having slept in the open air, Jesus meets the task before him with quiet nerves. He stoops down toward the sufferer.

"Be of good cheer, my son," he cries. "Your sins are all forgiven."

Sins forgiven! Indeed! The respectable members of the audience draw back with sharp disapproval. "What a blasphemous phrase," they exclaim. "Who authorized him to exercise the functions of God? What right has he to decide whose sins shall be forgiven?"

Jesus sensed rather than heard their protest. He never courted controversy but he never dodged it; much of his fame arose out of the reports of his verbal victories.

"What's the objection?" he exclaimed, turning on the dissenters. "Why do you stand there and criticize! Is it easier to say, 'Thy sins be forgiven thee,' or to say, 'Arise, take up thy bed and walk?' The results are the same." Bending over the sick man again he said: "Arise, take up thy bed and go unto thine house."

The man stirred and was amazed to find that his muscles responded. Slowly, doubtfully he struggled to his feet, and with one great shout of happiness started off, surrounded by his jubilant friends. The critics had received their answer, but they refused to give up. For an hour or more they persisted in angry argument, until the meeting ended in a tumult.

Can you imagine that day's issue of the Capernaum News, if there had been one?

Palsied Man Healed! . . . Jesus of Nazareth claims right to forgive sins. . . . Prominent scribes object

NEVER STOP TO THINK?
 BY EDSON R. WAITE

James T. Jackson, publisher of the Seminole, Oklahoma, Producer: "The old-fashioned merchant who didn't believe in advertising is as extinct as the dodo bird. Advertising has come to be considered as important a part of the expense budget of every business as rent, clerk hire and lighting.

"And businesses advertise in many different ways. The window displays in the modern mercantile establishment are mute advertisements. Their attractiveness or lack thereof may spell the success or failure of the firm. Signs are nothing more nor less than advertising. Even the margin of difference between indifferent service to customers and speedy courteous service might well be labeled advertising.

"Newspaper advertising is considered the backbone of every important advertising effort, almost without exception. Windows, direct-by-mail, personal solicitation, radio, billboards and every other medium center around and are directly related to newspaper advertising in every well directed campaign.

"The most thoroughly read, and consequently the most effective, newspaper group is that great class known as 'home town' papers. Individually small, as a rule, they are collectively powerful, and wield a tremendous influence over the thoughts and buying habits of half the population of the nation.

"Check the successful firms in any town and you will find their advertising in the home town newspaper, carrying a direct and powerful sales message to the people they know best. Often the only conscientious advertising effort of those firms is in that paper which carries the advertising burden alone—and does it well."

Most for Your Money In a Good Laxative

Theodore's BLACK-DRAUGHT has been highly regarded for a long, long time, but it is better appreciated now than ever before. People are buying everything more carefully today. In buying Black-Draught, they get the most for their money. In a good, effective laxative, dependable for the relief of ordinary constipation troubles.

25 or more doses of Theodore's Black-Draught in a 25-cent package. For children, get pleasant tasting SYRUP of Theodore's Black-Draught.

The Open Road

SUPPOSE you came suddenly upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden . . . the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth-paste that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trade-mark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised . . . breakfast food, hammer, hair tonic . . . has proved itself good by advertising.

CAPITAL MASS MEET PLEDGES BOND SUPPORT

Dressing Picture Is Painted by Leading Citizens Who Attend Rally at Austin Friday.

Mayors, county judges and representative citizens from the four corners of Texas gathered in Austin last Friday in response to the governor's proclamation to discuss the relief situation.

A dark picture of the future was painted by Jim Ferguson, speaking for the governor, who predicted that mobs of hungry men and women will take possession of grocery stores, that rioting will run rampant and bloodshed might follow failure of the people to authorize the Legislature to issue bonds for the relief of the hungry.

Colonel Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission, pointed out that less than half the unemployed are on the relief rolls, and that in a national industrial recovery those not on the relief rolls would naturally be the first to be absorbed into work.

General Jacob F. Weiners told the audience that in the event of food riots he would favor confiscation of food for distribution to the hungry and let the owners collect from the state.

More than a score of county judges told the meeting that but for the federal aid already extended their unemployed would have long ago been in desperate straits.

In discussions it was brought out that the federal government has sent $13,000,000 to Texas for relief work already and that if the state votes the proposed bond issue and that should not be enough, the federal government will furnish all other funds needed.

Absentee Voting Possible Before Next Thursday

Absentee voting is in order for the elections of August 26. Ballots are at the office of Mrs. Mattie B. Trimble, county clerk, and Scurry County residents who expect to be away from home on election day may vote prior to that time, up to midnight of next Wednesday, August 23.

The proposed amendments to the state constitution would provide: (1) Authority for the adoption of a home rule charter by the voters in counties having a population of 62,000 or more; (2) issuance of bonds of the state, not to exceed $20,000,000, for unemployment relief; (3) sale of viscous or malt liquors of not more than 32 per cent alcoholic content by weight; (4) exemption of $3,000 of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads from state taxes.

The last of the four is in effect to change a provision of the homestead exemption law adopted in the general election of last November. Under the 1932 measure, the homestead law would not apply to counties and political subdivisions that have received tax remissions, until the expiration of the time fixed by the Legislature. The new provision would allow the homestead exemption to apply whenever the governing body of a county or political subdivision asked to have the tax remission removed.

The constitutional amendment ballot carries names of 62 candidates for delegates and 62 for alternates—for and against ratification of an amendment to repeal the eighteenth amendment. Each voter is entitled to vote for any number of candidates, not to exceed 31 delegates and 31 alternates.

Grumpy Patient—"Doctor, I sent for you because I'm in terrible pain—but I warn you I have no faith in you modern doctors. I believe in the faith cure.

Doctor—"Never mind. Your faith has nothing to do with it in this case. You know, a mule has no faith in a veterinary surgeon, and yet the surgeon cures him just the same."

Florence—"So the Sanders had to sell their beautiful summer place in the country.

Cora—"Yes, so many of their friends came to visit them that they saw they would go bankrupt if they kept the place."

"You look down-hearted, old man; what are you thinking of?"

"My future."

"What makes your future seem so hopeless?"

"My past."

The sportsman strode into a meat store and asked for a couple of nice fresh fish.

The store man explained: "I'm sorry we haven't any fish today. How about a pound of nice hamburger steak?"

"Nothing doing," the customer cried. "I can't take a pound of hamburger steak home and tell my wife I caught it when fishing."

Texas buys annually approximately $17,500,000 worth of furniture and produces little more than one-third of that total. The 1930 census shows that Texas stands seventh among the Southern states in furniture production with a total of $8,740,000. North Carolina, producing $9,737,000 worth, was first and Virginia, $28,221,000, was a distant second.

Of the 100,072,476 pounds of carbon black exported from the United States last year, Texas accounted for 80,000,000 pounds as well as 80 per cent of the domestic production of that important commodity. The bulk of Texas production came from the Panhandle gas fields.

INTERESTING VIEW OF STATE PRO ELECTIONS

(This is the third of a series of articles on state and county prohibition history.)

It was erroneously stated in The Times last week that the state prohibition referendum was held last November. In reality, it was held during the first Democratic primary, in July.

Last week's Stephenville Empire-Tribune furnished some interesting highlights on the state prohibition question. The Erath County paper credits E. T. Chandler, candidate for alternate to the state repeal convention in November, with the facts and figures, which are reproduced as follows:

Texas Constitutionally Dry. Texas is constitutionally dry and will remain so at least until 1935, regardless of the outcome of the August election, since the constitution requires that amendment proposals be made at regular sessions of the Legislature. The Texas Legislature will not convene in regular session until 1935. Therefore, the election August 26 is to decide whether the state will ratify the measure proposed by Congress to repeal the national prohibition law and to vote on whether 32 per cent beer will be made legal in Texas where local option and community laws do not prohibit sale of such beverage.

In Texas prohibition and control of liquor traffic have been problems longer than Texas has been a state, the first liquor laws, according to history, having been passed by the Congress of the Republic the year following Texas' successful fight for freedom from Mexico. The laws were passed in 1837 and was a revenue measure.

First Dry Law in 1840. The first regulation law was passed in 1840. It imposed an occupation tax of $250 on dealers in liquors and placed them under $2,500 bond each. A condition which dealers had to pledge was that an orderly and reputable house be maintained, gambling, quarreling and other misconduct being prohibited. Later the bond was increased to $750 and the tax to $5,000.

Local Option Voted. Under this brief-lived law 34 counties voted against licensing places where less than a quart was dispensed; and after this dram shop law had been declared unconstitutional, prohibitionists resorted to enactment of local laws to govern specified communities. Between 1854 and 1875 a total of 150 communities, including some of the larger cities, passed local prohibition laws.

The first of these laws prohibited sales of liquor within a radius of five miles of the court at Marshall. The last one prohibited sales within four miles of White's Mill, a town of Hill County and Concord school house in Anderson County, records show.

First mention of prohibition in the Texas constitution was in 1875 when Colonel O. L. Doheny of Paris succeeded in having incorporated a provision at the constitutional convention making it mandatory that the Legislature enact local option laws.

State Submission Sought. Following this move, first efforts came to obtain state-wide submission of the liquor question. This was in 1881, and a resolution authorizing submission passed the Senate but died in the House.

In 1877 only three counties were operating under local option. They were Jones, Jasper and Rockwall Counties. After a defeat of prohibition in 1877, liquor law agitation waned for several years.

The first local option election under the 1875 constitution was held in Lamar County. The issue was defeated by a large majority, but five years later the county reversed itself and voted dry. It voted wet again in 1905.

A number of counties made similar changes on local option prohibition. Jasper was the first county to vote dry. The election was in December, 1876, and the dry forces won by a 14 vote margin.

Prohibition Failed in 1887. In the state-wide campaign in 1887 prohibition was defeated by 91,337 votes, only 29 sparsely settled counties giving prohibition a majority.

Again in 1911 there was a state-wide vote on prohibition. The issue was defeated by slightly more than 6,000 votes. In 1919, after the Legislature had ratified the eighteenth amendment, Texas voted state-wide prohibition by a majority slightly in excess of 19,000, and the state has been constitutionally dry since.

This law will be in effect at least until the Legislature meets in 1935, regardless of the outcome of the special election August 26. This is not the case, however, in the beer issue, since voters will decide in the August election whether beer will be allowed in Texas.

Small Cash Puts Up Food. The winter supply of canned food was put up on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wells in Jefferson County this year without one cent of cash outlay except for seasoning. All the meat was home raised on home feed, vegetables came from the garden, berries from the pastures and cans and jars left over from last year supplied the containers. Mrs. Wells is 4-H pantry demonstrator for Cheek Home Demonstration Club.

Total income for Texas for 1933 is now estimated at $2,000,000,000 by Stuart McGregor, industrial editor of the Dallas News, with $1,400,000,000 of it to come during the remaining six months of the year.

TIGER TRAINING CAMP WILL OPEN TUESDAY WITH EIGHT LETTERMEN

Tigers' Football Menu Of Season Shows 10 Games

Ten games—eight conference and two non-conference—are on the Snyder Tigers' completed football menu for the season.

Lamesa will be here for the year's initial tilt, on September 22. The locals will then travel to Stanton for the second and last non-conference affair, on September 29.

The eight conference games that follow represent the schedule made last spring after the east and west ends of District No. 2 were combined. A revision may be necessary, in view of the fact that Colorado recently decided to throw up the Class A sponge, and has announced that she expects to get into the division's line-up. It is the opinion of Snyder officials, however, that Colorado would merely be placed on the date that one of the non-conference affairs is scheduled.

Following are the conference games. It will be noted that a breathing spell is allowed at the halfway mark.

October 6—Hamlin at Snyder.
October 13—Rosen at Rotan.
October 20—Haskell at Snyder.
October 27—Roby at Snyder.
November 11 (Armistice)—Roscoe at Roscoe.
November 17—Anson at Snyder.
November 24—Merkel at Merkel.
November 30—Stamford at Stamford.

Snyder Drops Final Golf Tilt To Lamesa

Snyder Sand Belt Association golfers dropped their last scheduled match to the Lamesa team Sunday afternoon on the Lamesa course. Score was 9 for Snyder and 31 for Lamesa.

Lonan Cotton, a new member of the team, was the only man who won his match, and Lamesa took all foursome honors. It was a bad finish for Snyder and undoubtedly will place them on the bottom of the Sand Belt ladder.

All other teams of the association will play their last matches Sunday, August 20. Snyder's off day is due to Odessa's resignation from the association at the end of the first half of the season.

Advertising Always Pays Dividends!

Have you ever stood at a busy street corner at the close of day, when the cross-sections of life flow past you in splashy pigments of dress and manners? Some are happy, some are not. Some shuffle along on protesting arches, etching the fact on facial features that life, to their way of living, is drab. Others walk at a fast clip, with the air of a conqueror thinking of things that would be inside scandal if brought to light. Others think dark thoughts about deeds, at home amid night surroundings only. And the ordinary citizen comes along, courteously polite, with the true mark of success stamped in his or her conversation in their manners.

What media of words will best sell the cross-sections of life? Surely sales are not hawked on the street corners, like popcorn, or movie true stories. For people are not interested in someone straining the human voice, after a drum pounding at the office, in the store. The farmer, oil field employee or highway worker wouldn't give you a dime a dozen for customers men, although the stock market until lately has used customers men.

Then advertising is the only course left to set the sales compass in, for it is the one course left wherein the winds of contempt do not blow. When a fact is fairly swimming in printing ink, the customer is glad to pull the sales price to the beach of consideration. Advertising always pays dividends. Alert merchants and utilities go quietly about preparing ad copy, for success always breeds soberness for the sane.

Rubber and gasoline dividends are mailed as ordinary routine, for routine becomes reason, makes sense, when ads display conservative marketing. Depend on advertised bargains, whether it be for a permanent, milk, dry goods, groceries or insurance. It doesn't matter. But it was advertised. It was safe to apply all the human heart could stand. And a life was saved. Advertising always pays dividends for it doesn't concern morals but ethics. The tungstens flood the busy street corner. A few stars give a preview of the unlimited universe. The work day crowd has put on evening's glad rags. The bundles they carried only three hours ago have lost the cellophane, now rest on pantry shelves. And it's a safe bet 95 per cent of the items in those bundles were sold via advertisements.—Leon Guinn.

Plenty of Youngsters Expected to Report For Workouts.

Those Terrible Tigers tackle training Tuesday.

Ottis M. Moore, the redhead who has led the local football championships and one district hunting, says he will be ready to suit out all eligible comers on the morning of next Tuesday, August 22, at 10:00 o'clock.

Shortly thereafter, the parcel of youngsters, probably numbering around 50, will traipse out to Tiger Field and receive their first dose of 1933 fundamentals.

From then until September 22, when the first game is to be played, there will be such a barrage of pigskin principles and practices as the greensward southeast of town has seldom, if ever, witnessed.

Yep, Bedford McClinton and Buck Howell, the mighty mixers are gone. And several bulwarks in one of the most dreaded Class B lines in Texas are gone.

Plenty of Youngsters.

But, as in days past, it appears that "Red" will reach into that year bag and pull out a bunch of youngsters. Some of them know more football than you would guess, for eight lettermen are returning. Last year's second stringers, and the green material that is planning to learn what it is all about, also has some prize wall-papers in store for those who are snuffing because the old championship's rabbit's foot is apparently gone by-bye.

Autrey Wiese and Sonley Huestis will undoubtedly be the lads around whom the backfield will be fashioned. Huestis, who has returned to Snyder after a brief residence in Big Spring, will probably call most of the signals, while Wiese will gallop far and wide as he galloped last season.

Lettermen on Line.

Lettermen on the line are Eiland at center, Lee and Neal at guard, Green at tackle, and Fesmire and Joyce at end.

Just offhand you'd think that those eight places are pretty well assured for the letter boys. But some of the second stringers and the greenhorns will fool you, and you may bet on that.

Take Pat Johnston and Jack Martin, who completed the backfield most of the time in spring training, and take Marshall "Bud" Jones, that genial 260-pounder, who may have the makings of a mighty tackle. Then there is John Blakey at center or end, Edward Hollingsworth at guard or tackle, and two or three others who were rather promising in spring practice.

Out-of-Town Talent.

Out-of-town talent that is expected to strengthen the team to a remarkable degree reads like this: O. A. Temple, Fluvanna; Fred Merrill, west of town; Pat Falls, Bobby Mitchell and J. C. Holladay, Ira; Russell Nixon, Knapp.

Another sizeable and threatening group, among whom are some of the "sausage" of last season, are: J. C. Morgan, Murray Gray, Beaver, William Boren, Jeff DeShazo, Fred Day, Weldon Burdwell, Charles Binlon, Richard Davis, William Miller, Corwin Patterson, Deibert Johnston, Jack Witherspoon, Clyde Sturdivant, Cullen Clements, Roland Bell, Fickas Bell and Jack Reynolds.

Coach Moore In Coaching School Held At Lubbock

Coach Otis "Red" Moore of the Snyder Tigers got his ears full of championship dope at the coaching school conducted at Texas Tech College, Lubbock, from July 31 to August 12.

"Red" won't tell you so in those words, but he is enthusiastic over the big coaching school, and he says he received many pointers for use in getting the Bengals in shape for the 1933 season.

Some of the nation's outstanding coaches taught and gave demonstrations at Lubbock, with the assistance of the Tech Matadors and the high school Westerners. More than 250 coaches from all parts of the union attended the school.

Following are the leading instructors, with their school and their special line of work: Kipke, Michigan, punt formation; Eymann, Minnesota, single-wing back; Kerry, Colgate (unscored on in 1932), double-wing back; Kiser, Purdue, Notre Dame system; Sprague, Texas A. & M., treatment of injuries; Littlefield, University of Texas, track and intramural sports; Woodbury, New Mexico, boxing; Gallager, Oklahoma A. & M., wrestling and physical education; Ruby, University of Illinois, basket ball.

Mother of Snyder Woman Dies Friday At Floydada Home

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Murphree returned home Friday from Floydada, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Murphree's mother, Mrs. J. H. Fondy, 65 years old, held Monday, August 7, at the First Baptist Church at Floydada.

Mrs. Fondy died suddenly after having suffered a stroke of paralysis Friday night of the week previous. The Fondy family resided in Scurry County 18 years before going to Floyd County in 1921 to make their home.

Surviving members of the family include the husband; one daughter, Mrs. Murphree, of Snyder; and 10 sons; a brother, C. W. Light, of Snyder; and a sister, Mrs. R. L. Anderson, of Alvarado.

Others from Snyder attending the funeral services were C. W. Light, J. J. Koonsman, J. D. Isaacs, Joe and Steve Murphree, Miss Lillian Huffstutler and Miss Clarice Irvin.

Prelude.

The miracle said "I" and then was still.
Lost in the wing-bright sphere of his own wonder:
As if the river paused to say a river,
Or thunder to self said thunder.

As once the voice had spoken, now the mind
Uttered itself, and gave itself a name,
And in the instant all was changed,
The world
Two separate worlds became—

The indivisible unalterably divided;
The rock forever sundered from the eye;
Henceforth the lonely self, by self
Anointed,
Hostile to earth and sky.

Alas, good angel, loneliest of heroes!
Pity your coward grandsons who become Afraid of loneliness, and long for crowd
As children long for home.

HEALTH NEWS

From Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

Appendicitis Ravages.

During the past year 605 persons have died of appendicitis in Texas, according to the director of vital statistics for the State Department of Health. Many of these deaths were caused by the persons' ignorance of the disease.

There are two forms of appendicitis, acute and chronic. The form that appears suddenly, with great pain and sickness, is acute. Chronic appendicitis may extend over a long period of time and consists of slight attacks at intervals, but, at some time, there will usually occur an attack worse than any before and the disease may then become serious.

The acute attack appears suddenly. The first symptom is pain, sometimes over the entire abdomen, sometimes in a particular portion in the right side of the abdomen. Sometimes this pain extends around to the back or down into the right limb. The pain is cramp-like and is often mistaken for colic. The fever rises to 100 or 101 degrees and the pulse becomes quickened. The chronic appendicitis is the result of repeated attacks of milder forms of appendicitis.

How to prevent appendicitis? Keep the body in perfect health as long as possible. Watch your teeth, your tonsils, any place where an infection may occur. Get plenty of good food, plenty of sleep, plenty of exercise. Have a thorough medical examination at least once a year, and have your teeth examined and cleaned by a dentist at least once every six months. This kind of watchfulness will not only help you to avoid appendicitis; it will help you to avoid many other illnesses as well.

Boned Fowl Standardized.

Boned turkey and ground turkey put up in No. 1 cans of 11 ounces net weight are the first standardized home demonstration products in Bell County to be approved by the county Home Demonstration Council and Extension Service for sale. These products were standardized by Mrs. G. E. Shipp of Temple.

MRS. IRA RILEY PASSES SUNDAY

Funeral services were conducted at the Odom Funeral Home Monday afternoon for Mrs. Ira Riley, 37 years old, who died Sunday at the family residence, eight miles north of Snyder. Rev. Cal C. Wright of Abilene, assisted by Rev. S. H. Young, officiated. Interment was in the Snyder cemetery.

Lee Byrd, S. L. Terry, Walter Wasson, Ray Huckabee, Dwight Monroe and Herman Huckabee were pallbearers, and Mmes. Edgar Wilson, S. L. Terry, Walter Wasson, Henry Ware and Homer Miller were in charge of the flowers.

Deceased is survived by her husbands, three daughters and four sons; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lanham; and a brother, Wilbur Lanham, of Fort Worth.

What we need is a child labor law to keep them from working their parents to death.

SCHOOL BUDGET MEETING 24TH

Thursday, August 24, has been set as date of the annual budget meeting for the Snyder Independent School District, President H. L. Davis of the board announced yesterday.

The meeting is to be held in the county court room at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Every citizen in the district is invited and urged to be present in order that he may have a first-hand voice in setting the definite budget for 1933-34.

Since the first hearing, held at this time last year, resulted in compiling of all figures relating to the school management, it is expected that little difficulty will be found in setting the final figures this year.

Exact Copy of Relief Amendment

Following is reproduced an exact copy of the principal section of Senate Resolution submitting the proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to issue relief bonds.

"Section 51a.—The Legislature shall have power to authorize by law the issuance and sale of bonds of the State of Texas, not to exceed the sum of Twenty Million ($20,000,000) Dollars, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed four and one-half (4½) per centum per annum; and payable serially or otherwise not than ten (10) years from their date, and said bonds shall be sold for not less than par and accrued interest, and no form of commission shall be allowed in any transaction involving said bonds. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds to be used in furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardships resulting from unemployment, but to be fairly distributed over the state and upon such terms and conditions as may be provided by law, and the Legislature shall make appropriations as are necessary to pay the interest and principal of such bonds as the same becomes due.

"The power hereby granted to the Legislature to issue bonds hereunder is expressly limited to the amount stated and to two years from and after the adoption of this grant of power by the people. Provided that the Legislature shall provide for the payment of the interest and redemption of any bonds issued under the terms hereof from some source other than a tax on real property, and the indebtedness as evidenced by such bonds shall never become a charge against or lien upon any property, real or personal, within this state."
