"YOUR HOME COUNTY PAPER"

FORTY-SIXTH YEAR.

SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 31, 1933.

NUMBER 12.

County Tax Rate Jumped to $1.20

Lower Renditions Mean Saving In State Payment to More Than Offset County Rate Hike.

Scurry County's tax rate was raised Monday from $1.10 to $1.20. Judge Robert H. Curran, speaking for the rate-fixing Commissioners' Court, points out that the tax levy increase was made necessary in order to keep some of the funds from continuing to dip into the red.

He points out, too, that this nine per cent increase in the rate compares with the recent 10 per cent decrease in valuations. The assessment decrease means that more than $4,000 in state taxes will be saved county property owners.

In the long run, therefore, taxpayers will receive a one per cent decrease in county taxes and a sizeable state tax decrease.

The state levy has been set at 77 cents, bringing the total to $1.97. If the state had assumed all bond indebtedness incurred on construction of roads now designated as state highways, as planned last year, no increase in the county rate would have been necessary.

Following is a tabulated account of 1932 and 1933 tax levies:

1932 1933
Road bonds indebtedness	39.35
Fdg. warrant shg. fund	10.10
Permanent imp. and court-house and jail fdg. warrant shg. fund	06.10
Courthouse shg. fund	05.04
Jail sinking fund	01.01
General fund	15.15
Road and bridge special	15.15
Perm. improvement fund	09.15
Jury fund	10.15
Total	$1.10 $1.20

Says Additional Federal Highway Fund Available

W. R. Ely of Abilene, member of the State Highway Commission, told West Texas highway boosters at Sweetwater Friday that he believed President Roosevelt could be induced to give more highway money to Texas.

Those attending the meeting passed a resolution asking the president a resolution asking the president for $75,000,000 more for development of Texas highways.

The following committee attended the meeting: Austin Erwin, chairman of the public works committee; Robert H. Curran, county judge; H. G. Towle, mayor; Lee Grant, county commissioner; J. W. Scott, Chamber of Commerce secretary; W. J. Ely, G. H. Leath and R. H. Odum, members of the public works committee.

Senator Clint Small of Amarillo said highway grants would do more for the unemployed than any relief fund possible.

Other speakers said adequate relief could not be received except through carrying out a highway program which they believed was needed.

It was said that most public works projects were not eligible on the grounds that they were not self-liquidating, or communities were not willing to vote 70 per cent of the required funds in bonds. Therefore, speakers said, highways were the "last resort."

Speakers expressed the belief that relief funds should be applied to roads instead of being expended as a sole for "weed chopping." It was asked that all relief funds be put into worthwhile projects and expended through commissioners' courts.

NRA SUCCESS UP TO WOMEN SAYS VISITOR

Mrs. R. C. Ledford of Sweetwater Challenges Women of County To Join Recovery Drive.

A trim little woman who taught hundreds of other women how to make socks and bandages during the World War told 250 hearers at the city tabernacle Friday night that American women are now facing their greatest task.

The recovery campaign, which eventually falls back to our women, who do 85 per cent of the purchasing, for its success, demands greater sacrifice and greater support than the patriotic calls incident to the great war, Mrs. R. C. Ledford of Sweetwater said in substance to the group, principally women, who gathered to discuss the consumer's part in the NRA drive.

The good crowd attended the tabernacle gathering despite the showers that came early in the evening.

Sweetwater Speaker. Mrs. Ledford, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs at Sweetwater, was principal speaker at the meeting. Mrs. John Perry, who was scheduled to make the address, could not come because of illness in her family.

The visitor was accompanied by John Hendricks, manager of the Sweetwater Board of City Development, who assisted in answering questions at the close of the formal program. Other Sweetwater visitors were Mrs. Hendricks and Mrs. Ledford's son.

After C. Wedgeworth explained significance of signing the consumer's pledge, following questions from the audience, almost 100 cards were signed by those present, and consumer stickers were distributed to them.

Patriotic Songs. Mrs. A. C. Preult was accompanied for several opening patriotic songs and choruses. J. C. Smyth, chairman of the evening, gave a brief outline of NRA organization in Scurry County.

Mrs. Robert H. Curran, chairman of the women's work, gave a patriotic appeal for women, controllers of the nation's pocketbook, to rally to the NRA banner in no uncertain manner.

Lee T. Stinson, chairman of the county's NRA executive committee, outlined the cause, purpose and effects of the president's gigantic program, pointing out that millions of men and women had already received employment under the eagle's wings.

After Mrs. Ledford's address, W. J. Ely, member of the executive committee, conducted the question period.

The women's rally was called preliminary to the consumer's campaign that is being staged throughout the nation this week.

A Wichita, Kansas, woman called at a local book store the other day, the Eagle says, and asked for a "book of cinnamon," which her daughter required for her school work.

DO NOT SELL IS ADVICE ON PIGS Hog growers in this area are urged not to sell their hogs on the open market unless an extreme emergency exists.

Word has come to the county agent's office that some farmers consider it their duty to sell in order to decrease the surplus, but it is pointed out that Uncle Sam advises selling only where feed is short and the hog crop is low.

SATURDAY ELECTION RETURNS

Below are complete tabulated returns of the special election held Saturday. Five amendments—four state and one national—were voted on. (Cottonwood box did not hold the election).

Consumer's NRA Drive Under Way

Workers are preparing for the final consumer's drive in Scurry County's NRA program.

Women's organizations are being contacted under the leadership of Mrs. Robert H. Curran, county judge, to help in the drive.

Plans are being made to have women at several stores in Snyder Saturday, with consumer's pledge cards and Blue Eagle stickers.

The goal of the consumer's drive is to have every man and woman in the county sign a pledge card and receive a window emblem.

From the executive committee comes word that complaints will be heard of code violators by merchants, and that in cases where action is necessary, the complaints will be turned over to federal authorities.

Merchants or others who wish copies of consumer's cards or emblems may secure them at the Times office.

Von Roeder Seed Farms Forced To Cancel Big Date

The Scurry County Times: We have had many inquiries as to the date of our annual cotton picnic, and we are sorry to say that due to the extreme drought we are compelled to call off the picnic for this year.

Our government rain gauge shows we have had only slightly over three inches of rainfall this year. The rain on May 24 was 1.27 inches, and thereafter we had only one rain that was of any benefit and it was .66 inch; the rest was insignificant sprinkles.

Word has come to the county agent's office that some farmers consider it their duty to sell in order to decrease the surplus, but it is pointed out that Uncle Sam advises selling only where feed is short and the hog crop is low.

Recent rains in this area virtually assure plenty of hog feed for the coming fall and winter. There is normally not enough pork for home consumption in this county, the agent points out, and a special effort should be made to keep what we have.

Those who feel that they must sell their pigs from 25 to 100 pounds and their piglets from 10 to 20 pounds should be advised to obtain full information from the agent's office first floor of the courthouse.

COUNTY VOTES DRY AS STATE GETS SOAKING

Scurry Rolls Up 5 to 3 Majority Against Repeal and Beer—All Amendments Passed.

While the Lone Star State was rolling up a majority of about 5 to 3 for repeal and beer last Saturday, Scurry County was rolling a similar proportion of votes against the two liquor issues.

Provisionally dry, Scurry balloted 694 to 381 against repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and 651 to 430 against legalization of 3.2 beer in Texas.

At the same time, this county and the state gave a rousing reception to the relief bond issue, and also okayed the homestead amendment and the home rule addition to the state constitution. Scurry's majority for the bonds was more than 2 to 1—715 to 330.

Although Texas went into the wet column on the repeal and beer questions, she failed to give local option attempts much encouragement. Three out of five counties that voted on local option remained legally dry.

West Texas Only Damp. Practically all West Texas counties holding local option elections remained legally dry. The nearest exceptions to Snyder are Howard County, of which Big Spring is the county seat, and Shackelford County, of which Albany is the county seat.

Latest returns of the Texas Election Bureau showed 279,567 votes for repeal and 165,082 against, throughout the state; 283,725 for beer, 155,419 against.

In Scurry County the home rule amendment was adopted by a vote of 535 to 325, and the homestead amendment by 845 to 186. Proportionate majorities were rolled up in the entire state.

This county polled one of the lightest votes in her recent history, as predicted by political observers. The official tally as announced by the Commissioners' Court Monday evening was 1,111 votes—exactly 10 more votes than the total of poll taxes paid for the year.

China Grove Is Dry. To China Grove goes the honor of casting a solid wall in the path of legalized liquor. She blackballed repeal 12 to 0, and beer 11 to 0.

Lloyd Mountain, on the other hand, cast all her ballots—four in the home rule election, and three in the beer and repeal, and likewise voted 4 for and 0 against the other three amendments.

Aside from Lloyd Mountain, only four boxes gave one or both of the wet issues a favorable vote. Demott voted for beer and repeal, Bison favored repeal by a one-vote margin, Lone Wolf went wet submarginally on both counts, and County Line favored 3.2 beer.

Hermleigh, with 149 ballots, was one of the heaviest voting boxes, being second to West Snyder, with 182, in the entire county. South-east Snyder was third, with 146 votes.

WORK DONE ON ROUND-UP SITE

Bill Taylor and his helpers have been putting in good time at Wolfe Park, where the fall roundup of cowboys, cowgirls and American Legion boys is to be held September 22-23.

A clean-cut race track, with corral and pens under the trees of Deep Creek, was ready for a good wetting when the fine rains came a few days ago, and Bill says there should be some powerful good races.

Circulars are going to rodeos and round-ups all over West Texas, advising that purses ranging from $100 down will be given for winners in horse racing, goat roping, calf roping, steer riding and bronc riding and cow milking contests. Keen interest is being shown, and the manager expects heavy entries in all events.

The show is to be staged under auspices of the Will Layne Post of the American Legion. Admission prices have been set at 49 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Two performances are planned for each day.

Busy Bee Cafe Open Block North Square

The Busy Bee Cafe opened again Monday. Ollie Morrow, who operated it for some time just north of the square, is at the helm again.

Mr. Morrow has stored his equipment since the Community Natural Gas Company took a long-time lease on his former location last spring. He says he is ready to serve the local and traveling public as he has done in the past, with good food and courteous service.

Turkey Show at Fair Feature

The All-World Turkey Show, which will be one of the features of the 1933 poultry show at the State Fair of Texas, will bring many prize-winning gobblers from the four corners of the world, according to advance information received in Dallas by Judge J. J. Eckford, director in charge of the department.

Snyder Schools to Open Next Week

Registration Begun Wednesday of This Week—All Subjects in High School Affiliated.

When Snyder schools begin the 1933-34 year Monday morning, they will probably play host to more students than at any other opening date on record.

Transfer of the entire Woodard scholastic group of 25 is practically assured. Temporary consolidation plans having been started some time ago. In addition to these, a large number of transfers are expected from other county schools, bringing the total of transfers to 25 or 30 per cent above last year.

Registration of seniors began yesterday, and juniors are being registered today (Thursday). Sophomores are scheduled to enroll Friday morning, and freshmen Friday afternoon.

Faculty Meets Saturday. Every teacher has been requested by Superintendent C. Wedgeworth to be present for the first faculty meeting at 10:00 o'clock Saturday morning.

With these matters off hand, class work will be started Monday, and the first general assembly, to which the public is invited, will be held Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Despite various economies that have been effected in the schools during the past four years by the superintendent and board members, the schools approach the new term with prospect of an outstanding session.

Teacher Force Reduced. The teacher force has been reduced in four years from 35 to 24, yet the school's list of affiliated credits has grown to 33—an exceptional rating in a town of 3,000 population. Affiliation was granted last year in public speaking, occupation and Texas history, making every course in the high school affiliated.

Attention of parents is called to the fact that a state transportation fee is allowed for students who live more than two miles from school, whether they reside in or out of the Snyder district. Two dollars each is allowed for each high school student and $1 each for grade school students.

New H. E. Teacher. Miss Elizabeth Warg of San Angelo is the only new faculty member. She was chosen last week as home economics teacher. Miss Jo Halley, who taught this course last year, returns to junior high school above.

Miss Ward is a graduate of the University of Texas, and has done graduate work at Colorado University and Colorado State University. She has taught home economics, her specialized work, at Sour Lake, Breckenridge, and most recently at Port Arthur for three years.

Mr. Wedgeworth is beginning his seventh year as superintendent. R. L. Williams is high school principal for the second year, and R. S. Sullivan is grade school principal for the second year, a member of the schools' faculty for the sixth year.

Members of Faculty. Following is the high school faculty: C. Wedgeworth, superintendent, commercial work; R. L. Williams, principal, mathematics; W. W. Hill, English; Otis M. Moore, mathematics, athletics; W. F. Cox, science; Mrs. Effie M. Robinson, Latin; Miss Mattie Ross Cunningham, Latin, history; Miss Maurine Cunningham, Spanish; Mrs. J. P. Nelson, history, English; Miss Elizabeth Ward, home economics.

Graduation Requirements. For the benefit of new students, Mr. Wedgeworth calls attention to graduation requirements and other pertinent information. Sixteen full units of literary and regular curricular work, plus one unit of physical education, plus one unit of extra-curricula work, are required for graduation. Four courses in English, three in mathematics, four in history and one in science are required. These must be taken in order except under extraordinary conditions.

General science may be taken by freshmen only. A student may not receive credit on both general science and physical geography, or on both biology and physiology.

Entrance Examinations. Students from unaffiliated schools must take entrance examinations for all work above the ninth grade. Official transcripts are recognized on credits from affiliated rural high schools, as follows: Algebra 2 and 3; English 1 and 2; history 1 and 2; 50 per cent credit on science; advanced arithmetic, one-half credit for each year in which high school text is used; not more than one credit for language; not more than one-half credit in home economics.

Students are classified according to the number of credits they have, as follows: Freshman A, 1 1/2; Sophomore B, 3 1/2; Sophomore A, 5 1/2; Junior B, 7 1/2; Junior A, 9 1/2; Senior B, 11; Senior A, 13 1/2.

Band Director Arrives. Clyde Roe, band director in the local school, arrived with his family early this week. He spent much of his summer in army camps at Mineral Wells and Palacios, with Abilene as his family headquarters.

URGENT NEED OF SCHOOL TAXES

With only 63 per cent of the 1932 tax paid, the Snyder school board, through Tax Collector H. J. Brice, has mailed personal appeals this week to all who are delinquent.

The collector reports that the delinquency totals about $5,500, payment of which would assure the school year a financial success.

"Provisions for our fine school facilities are largely of our own making and responsibility, and are founded on our ability and willingness to pay the tax assessments necessary to sustain this enterprise and carry it on for the good of the community," the letter reads.

Bunt Prevention In Wheat Sought By Disinfection

The farmer's attention is called to the value of seed wheat disinfection for the control of bunt or stinking smut in winter wheat. Experiment stations explain that the heavy losses due to smut and several other wheat diseases are caused by fungus parasites which are spread by spores carried on the seed. He points out that these tiny spores can seldom be seen on the seed, but the diseases produced by them are usually easily recognized on the plants. The symptoms of disease are poor stands, weak, spindly plants, smutty head or kernels—all of which result in low yields.

Contamination of wheat results when "smut kernels" are broken during threshing and the spores are liberated and scattered. A single kernel may contain thousands of spores. These spores lodge in the crease and brush end of the wheat kernel, which may hold hundreds of spores, though invisible to the naked eye.

Infection may also result from wheat being put in contaminated bags and bins. In this way, wheat that was clean when harvested may become diseased while in storage. Beneficial results have been shown from disinfecting seed wheat with an ethyl-mercury-phosphate compound. Differing from the "mercurials" formerly available, this new one can be applied at a decidedly lower cost, owing to the fact that very much less of it is used in treating a bushel of wheat. Ethyl-mercury-phosphate is claimed to be even less expensive to use than copper carbonate, and to show the highest efficiency in preventing bunt or stinking smut.

Mail Volume Shows Desire For Recovery

Washington.—Letter mail, all official, received by NRA during the 17 days of August averaged 5,330 per day, and the volume is increasing at the rate of nearly 1,000 daily since August 10. Letter mail received on Mondays in August have exceeded 12,000 per day. Total first-class mail communications to the organization have far exceeded 1,000,000.

This is in addition to many hundreds of letters daily referred to NRA headquarters by members of Congress and the other departments of the government, including enormous consignments turned over by the White House.

Apart from letter mail, which averaged as low as 1,200 per day from the time the first records were kept, June 14, two days before the president signed the recovery act, exceeds the number of telegrams received in the ratio of four to one.

What a Difference 50 Years Makes!

Fifty years ago women wore hoopskirts, bustles, corsets, petticoats, cotton stockings, ruffled cotton drawers, big buttoned shoes, flannel nightgowns, puffs in their hair—did their own cooking, baking, cleaning, washing, ironing—raised big families—went to church Sunday—were too busy to be sick.

Men wore whiskers, square hats, Ascot ties, red flannel underwear, big watches and chains—chopped wood for stoves—bathed once a week—drank 10-cent whiskey and five-cent beer—rode bicycles, buggies or sleighs—went in for politics—got up at daylight and went to bed before 10:00 o'clock—worked 12 hours a day—lived to a ripe old age.

Stores burned coal-oil lamps—carried everything from a needle to a plow—traded everybody—never took an inventory—placed orders for goods a year in advance—always made money.

Today women wear silk stockings, short skirts, low shoes, no corsets, an ounce of underwear—have bobbed hair—smoke, paint and powder—drink cocktails, play bridge, drive cars, have pet dogs and go in for politics.

Men have high blood pressure, wear no hats, and some no hair, shave their whiskers—shoot golf—bathe twice a day—drink poison—play the stock market—ride in airplanes—never go to bed the same day they get up—are misunderstood at home—work five hours a day, play ten—die young.

Stores have electric lights, cash registers, never have what the customer wants—trust nobody—take inventory daily—never buy in advance—have overhead, mark up and mark down, quota, budget, advertising, stock control, annual and semi-annual end-of-month, dollar day, founder's day, rummage and economy day sales—and never make any money.

Information On How To Get NRA Blue Eagle Given

Washington.—Specific information as to steps that must be taken to receive the Blue Eagle are contained in a statement issued by General Thomas E. Hammond, executive director of the president's reemployment program, as follows:

To all employers not working under codes that have been approved by the president, there are three methods to be pursued:

- 1.—Sign the president's reemployment agreement without change or modification and mail it to the nearest district office of the Department of Commerce, the address of which can be obtained from any post office or Chamber of Commerce; put the provisions of the agreement into operation immediately; sign the certificate of compliance and hand it to your local postmaster, who will post your name on the honor roll and hand you your Blue Eagle.
- 2.—If your line of business has submitted a code and the NRA has temporarily approved hours and wages to be in effect until the code itself is approved by the president, do as above with this endorsement added to the certificate of compliance: "To the extent of NRA consent as announced, we have complied with the president's agreement by conforming with the substituted provisions of the code submitted for the trade or industry." Hand this to your local postmaster, who will post your name on the honor roll and hand you the Blue Eagle.
- 3.—If neither 1 nor 2 applies and you feel you should file a petition for relief, sign the president's reemployment agreement and mail it to the district office of the Department of Commerce. If you find you can not comply with most of its provisions, then prepare a petition to the NRA asking for a stay or postponement of those provisions which would produce an "unavoidable hardship." Submit this petition to a trade association of your industry; or if none, to your local Chamber of Commerce or such other organization as can properly voice the facts. If officially accepted by one of the above, add the following to the face of your certificate before presenting it to the postmaster: "Except for those interim provisions regarding wages and hours which have been approved by the association or organization." Then the postmaster will authorize you to use the Blue Eagle. This last procedure may take some time, and is, of course, subject to reversal when your petition is reviewed by the NRA.

Women Maintain Living Standard On Most Farms

"Farm women have made a valiant effort to maintain a desirable standard of living for their families, in spite of the difficulty of conditions during the last 10 years," says Dr. C. W. Warburton, director of extension work, United States Department of Agriculture. "The small income from the sale of farm woman's garden vegetables, or her eggs or poultry or butter and other dairy products, or even her own baking, has, in many cases, been the only cash coming into a farm home.

"Because single sales were for small amounts, this income was formerly looked on as 'pin money' in comparison with the expected yield from the major farm crops or livestock. At present, by means of the woman on the farm is at times keeping the whole family ship afloat. For example, I know a farm woman's market in Maryland, where 76 of the women have paid farm taxes from their sales. Their gardens and poultry and canned goods have provided the family with good food, too, and many of them bartered what they had or what they could do for what they lacked, either goods or services.

"The viewpoint and outlook of farm women in many counties has been persistently optimistic and constructive. They have not only helped to feed their families, but they have also cared for their households as usual, made and made over much clothing, and revived many home industries to save money. They make cheese and soap, do dry cleaning, help at butchering time, can and cure meats, can and dry vegetables and fruits."

MANY COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN FOR NEW TERM

One of Largest Croups on Record Begins Work Monday Morning With Good Enrollments.

Nine school are known certainly to have opened in this county Monday morning, and two others were scheduled to begin.

The chief reason for this spurt of openings is the new state law requiring eighth-month schools before state aid may be obtained. The county superintendent states that opening of most of the schools the same week will mean that county-wide seventh grade exams may all be given at the same time.

Those known to have opened Monday morning are Ira, Dunn, Fluvanna, Bison, Canyon, Sulphur, Strayhorn, Turner and China Grove. Woodard and Gannaway were also planning to start at that time.

Crowder began work Thursday of last week. Camp Springs will begin next Monday, while Pyron has postponed her opening until some of her competition is out of the fields.

Good attendance of students and trustees has prevailed. Especially did the larger schools play host to large groups of interested fathers and mothers.

A complete list of teachers and trustees for Scurry County schools is being prepared for publication in next week's Times.

NRA Is Getting Rid Of Ancient Practice Of Society Abuses

Washington.—An example of the ease with which NRA secures innovations in industry that contribute notably to betterment of working conditions and at the same time release jobs for heads of families was provided in the short interval devoted to hearings on a code of fair competition submitted by the salt industry.

The salt-rock division of the industry employs miners, many of which it developed are also miners. In agreeing to a specific classification of underground workers, members of the industry not only offered no objection to a suggestion of the deputy administrator that the clause prohibiting employment of persons under 16 years of age be strengthened but also to employ no person underground under 21 years of age. Thus was established an important precedent, second only to the abolition of child labor, which the president called an atrocity that humanitarians and legislators have been working for many years to destroy.

Since that action was taken by the cotton textile industry, it is significant that no industry known to have employed child labor has failed to provide against it in its code. The feature of both precedents was the apparent willingness of the members of the industry to rid themselves of these practices, now that relaxation of anti-trust laws for the first time permits them to take collective action.

Competitive Buying Ups Price.

PERKINS HEADS TEXAS LEGION

The Will Layne Post of Scurry County was represented at the convention by George Brown, Frank Arnett, Ross Tate and B. L. Kent.

United States Senator Tom Connally and Attorney General James V. Alfred addressed the convention briefly at the morning session, urging the legionnaires to stand solidly behind President Roosevelt in the national campaign to "bring the country out of economic chaos." Congressman Wright Patman of Texas spoke at the afternoon session.

The local delegates returned early Wednesday morning. They report that it was one of the best state conventions held in several years, both in point of representation and accomplishments.

An Army Marches On Its Stomach

NAPOLEON made history when he said that. For the fact is that not only armies, but the whole world, marches on its stomach. It's the three meals a man gets every day that keep him on the job and determine his measure of happiness.

... And, consequently, it's the women who plan and prepare these three meals a day who are performing the most fundamentally important work in the world. ... The consistently high quality of Hande-Dande foods, many housewives have learned to take for granted, and the consistently low Hande-Dande prices have saved hundreds of dollars for Scurry County women.

And the good that we can do.

THE WEEKLY DOZEN

Waiting for Election Returns.

Pessimism Pete says waiting for election returns is so much like wondering when the depression will end that he keeps on waiting for election returns.

Hunters Bold and Brave.

Hunters bold will find their lads, beginning Friday. They'll stalk the ferocious dove, the San Angelo Standard suggests, and shoot the varmints down with wild shouts of glee and triumph.

Come Around, Mister.

Jim Reynolds and a few others have promised to introduce us to at least a dozen bootleggers who voted for keeping the Eighteenth Amendment in the Constitution, but so far the pleasure has not been ours.

Trappers' Delight.

Talkative Tillie notices that fairly good fur coats may now be bought on the Dallas market at less than $200. Which probably means that jackrabbit hides and skunk skins should rise to at least 12% and 49% cents each, respectively.

They Can't Understand It.

Those clamoring for repeal and beer in Scurry County say they can't understand why the dry cause carried so completely here. Maybe we just have a higher type of citizenship than most counties in the state—a citizenship that did not swallow propaganda hook, line and sinker.

Relief For Stockmen?

The first organized effort in cattle annals is now being made. Our stockmen are in distressed condition, and no one knows it better than Scurry County. The ranchers struck a note that should lead to success when they expressed confidence that the New Deal, in some way, will help them equalize the wholesale and the retail price on their products.

Maize Gets Uppish.

Maize and other feedstuffs are the most insulting crops in the county after those perfect showers of late last week. Why, you can almost see the fresh young sprouts getting big-headed overnight! If some of the old fogies like Johnson grass and careless weeds will just get out of the way, you'll see the young feed ruling the roost in a few weeks.

NRA Interpretations.

Every man for his own interpretation. The Blue Eagle remains the same commanding bird that he was when he first stretched his wings and pointed his beak a few days ago. Some of the foreign folks have interpreted the new slogan to mean Nationalism Runs America. But they must come to learn that if America prospers the whole world will prosper.

The Business Man's Mistress.

We are having a noble experiment in human psychology. A new mistress has come into the life of practically every Scurry County business man, yet the wives are encouraging betrayal! The newcomer, a lovely young lady with blue blood in her veins and the spark of victory in her eye, is known on Washington's official records as NRA—the girl with a future.

A Bit of a Poem.

Such beautiful cobwebs have been woven about the exploits of Insull, Mitchell and other financial "wizards" that we quote four lines of an old, old poem, with emphasis on the last line:

"In vain we call old notions fudge,
And bend our conscience to our dealing;
The Ten Commandments will not budge,
And stealing will continue stealing."

Jones County Has a History.

The fiftieth anniversary edition of the Anson Western-Enterprise not only gave Old Man Depression a topper last week, but convinced the world that Jones County, and the all of West Texas, has a history that can not be measured by ones and twos. We now measure our history by fives and tens, and even by twenty-fives. It has been a rich history, and the Western-Enterprise has interpreted a section of it with accuracy and ability.

More Than Our Share

Most any time now you may expect other West Texas towns to claim that Snyder is not observing NRA rules in regard to holding down offices in regional organizations—and state organizations, too. West Texas winners have a Snyder man as president for the second consecutive year. The Towles have held one office and another in state and regional optometric circles for several years. Bank circles, druggist circles, club circles, livestock circles, co-op circles... choose most any circle you choose, and there'll be a Snyder man or woman hanging around official headquarters.

Does It Pay?

Every once in a while some fellow who is contemplating doing some newspaper advertising hesitates in order to satisfy himself as to whether advertising really pays.

As a rule, the biggest and oldest concerns are the biggest advertisers—not advertisers because they are big, but big because they are advertisers. If advertising did not pay those big concerns, certainly they would not be paying the tremendous prices merely for the privilege of using the columns of national publications, nor just for the purpose of supporting those publications. Therefore, if advertising did not pay the advertiser, he would not be paying the following prices for advertisements in the following magazines:

Saturday Evening Post, double page, in four colors, one issue, $19,000; Literary Digest, one page, in four colors, one issue, $6,000; Colliers, one page, one issue, in four colors, $5,750; Liberty, one page, one time, four colors, $6,500; Woman's Home Companion, one page, one time, in one color, $3,200; Ladies' Home Journal, double page, one time, in four colors, $25,000; True Story, one page, one time, in one color, $4,500; Pictorial Review, one page, one time, four colors, $12,000; Good Housekeeping, one page, one time, two colors, $2,500; McCall's, one page, one time, two colors, $3,500. The Scurry County Times, one time, in one color, less than $50—and The Times covers its territory better than any of the aforesaid magazines covers theirs!

EDITORIAL OF THE WEEK

SLAUGHTERING A SURPLUS.

Secretary Wallace is as consistent as circumstances will permit. He plowed up the cotton and now he is plowing up the hogs. But the circumstances are somewhat different. The hog surplus is due to the corn, it seems, for there is too high a price on corn. Instead of lowering the price on corn and taking tariff off hog feed, the remedy is destruction. Moreover, the destruction is to be at a profit to the farmer over and above the market value of the hogs. How far down the road we can travel with destruction as an agricultural policy is a question the answer to which we may recognize when we get to it. But Secretary Wallace doesn't claim to know now. Nobody does.

It is interesting that the recovery procedure affecting the farmer is always voluntary on his part and always at a profit paid out of the tax till, whereas recovery procedure for everybody else is not voluntary and American business is urged to forget profits and cooperate until it hurts. This divergence, however, is not wholly illogical. The Hoover administration made government wards out of the farming class and it is probably unable to look after its own affairs—except politically. The idea is that it is not safe economically to let the farmer run his own business, but that it is not safe politically to run it for him without his acquiescence. The farmer has been bamboozled so often by farm relievers, conscientious and otherwise, that he demands cash on the barrel head. So the government comes forward with the cash.

It is now demonstrated that the farmer must cut down on cotton, that it is unprofitable to grow wheat and treason to raise more than a few hogs. Measures to make him shoot part of his cows have not been announced, but it is stated that something must be done about the great quantity of milk now available. Meanwhile what to do with the land which it is forbidden to cultivate in customary crops is left to the farmer to decide—perhaps because none of the experts has thought up the answer to that.—Dallas News.

"You may not remember me, sir, but two years ago I rescued your daughter from drowning, and you made me a present of $1,000."

"Yes, indeed, young man—I recall you perfectly. What can I do for you?"

"I merely dropped in to inquire if your daughter has learned to swim yet?"

CURRENT COMMENT

BY LEON GUINN

In the Corn Belt of the United States they are just now agog over the possibilities of growing gasoline. For example, it is proposed to make surplus corn into alcohol, blend it with straight run gasoline. A 10 per cent blend of alcohol in gasoline would require 1,500,000,000 gallons of alcohol annually, and increase the motorist's gas bill $400,000,000. Ben Hibbs would have us believe Corn Belt farmers are so interested in "Alley-Gas" that fist fights settle arguments, which is probably correct. In Item 1 we might tabulate that alcohol blend of 10 per cent decreases mileage by two to four miles per gallon. Item 2: The petroleum industry is against this proposal 100 per cent because water collects in alcohol, is an old meanie to stall the motor and sputter. Item 3: An increased carbon residue is left on valves in an alcohol-gas infusion, as mechanics will verify. "Alley-Gas" isn't worth much, is really ballyhoo.

The newest wrinkle in medicine is claustrophobia, which involves unreasoning fears we may entertain. The psycho-analyst has it that morbid fear is the result of terrifying experiences in early life, forgotten in later life. Some humans fear to be cooped up in a room, others have a dread of descending elevators, etc. The lion, trapped in jungle pens, roars into a frenzy, had rather not be captured. Claustrophobia is very real, and probably is a superstition surviving the Middle Ages. Charles T. Colner of Philadelphia designed the NRA Blue Eagle to plaster on every store front. Last week a reply to the Blue Eagle was a placard with a Non-Member—We Don't Slogan: A black buzzard standing on a chisel and hammer with money bags displayed. The designer was Adam Cooper Warfel, who didn't think the buzzard would be taken seriously. If you do not happen to be in the NRA fold, rest assured no black buzzard will embarrass you, since you can sue for libel, defamation of character, obscene insinuation or a number of causes.

Physicians' case histories indicate that in some sections of Texas a bottled remedy for weak women called Cardui is used by weaker and ailing men. "Believe It or Not" . . . And the human race goes elite in winter fashions, with the feminine influence holding the lead. Insiders get a kick out of the cooperation shown by a mail order concern—Sears, Roebuck & Company, to be frank—in worrying for the farmer, and anxious to see increased purchasing power return. All very nice! The recent sensational crimes in the Southwest have caused typographical waltzes. In a few months watch for the plots worked out in novels, in movies, for the movie big shots are turning to the printed page for drama ideas. Needless to postscript, the villains will be brought to justice in reel life. The Post Office Department fails to let leak out some of its most sensational incidents. For instance recently—er, aye! aye! Mr. Farley . . . Nice volume of mail we have now. We will be expecting that two-cent stamp back!

WASHINGTON CIRCUS

BY DAVID WRIGHT

Washington—It's no fun to sit here in the sweltering humidity of a Washington summer listening to the incessant arguments as first one and then another representative of the industries thrust out codes which will meet the approval of General Hugh Johnson, administrator of the recovery act.

Something that gave everybody the chuckles was the horse-laugh Johnson gave former Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont, who was appointed president of the Iron & Steel Institute as soon as he resigned from the late Dr. Hoover's cabinet. Lamont droned out a proposed code drawn up by iron and steel boys, Johnson glowered at him, snote his fist on the table, reminded the ex-secretary that the open shop provisions in the code were not what Moses found on the tablets at Sinai. Lamont agreed with him, much to the surprise of everybody present, asked for a brief recess to "consult" the bigwigs of the I. and S., returned with the announcement that they had agreed to drop their open shop demands. The expected battle collapsed like a balloon. That last look from Johnson was too much for Marse Robert.

One of the most painful spectacles I have witnessed in many a day is the utter ineptitude of the gentlemen who are supposed to be organized labor's spokesmen. They have shown themselves to be small fry, incapable of rising to the opportunities of the hour. When you come to think of it, their bungling need occasion no surprise. For that matter, they have never shown any genuine political intelligence. They are a prehensile lot who try to give the impression that they are carrying mysterious sagacity under their hats; but their idea of statesmanship, if they have any, is that it is a kind of trickery by which you sweat the other fellow when he isn't looking.

Only two persons speaking for labor in general—and organized labor incidentally—have said anything worth listening to—Secretary of Labor Perkins and Sidney Hillman of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. Miss Perkins presented a well-thought-out program consonant with her ideas of the rights of labor, which are too well known to need repeating here. The generalissimo of the American Federation of Labor floundered in the puddle of his own incompetence. For all the good they have been doing they might as well have stayed at home. While they were running around in circles, Miss Perkins presented the case for American labor. Which makes me wonder why the rank and file of organized labor in America do not decide to elect as national officers a group of men equal in ability to labor's spokesmen in Great Britain.

A gloomy and melancholy man stepped off a train at El Paso the other day and was greeted by the gentlemen of the press in that city. They asked him what he thought the North and Central American Radio Conference had accomplished, and the Hon. Charlie Curtis of Kansas remarked that the border warfare between the American and Mexican radio stations would continue, as in the past. In other words, the conference was typical of the political science practiced by the radio boys of the good old USA. They held all the cards and stood pat. The Mexicans, Canadians, Cubans, et al, held nothing but deuces and treys—and mighty few of 'em at that!

Heap Big Chief Charlie was as mum as any of his ancestral Kaws when he was asked about "Doc" Brinkley, the goat-gland magician. Charlie went down to Mexico City to look after the interests of his fellow Kansan, who left the up-and-coming town of Milford when he was barred from practicing medicine on the air, and went down below the Rio Grande to blast the ether from Mexican Station XER at Villa Acuna. The goats, too, will continue to be led to slaughter, but Charlie changed the subject when questioned about them. He turned to politics! The next Congress, he predicted, will have a Republican majority. There's a goat-gland for the Democrats!

Service, Not Sermons.

Jesus rose from his seat, drawn by that splendid outburst of faith and without hesitation or questioning he started. He went with the father whose daughter was dead. All his life he seemed to feel that there was no limit at all to what he could do, if only those who beseeched him believed enough. Grasping the father's arm, he led the way up the street, his disciples and the motley crowd of people hurrying along behind.

They had several blocks to go, and before their journey was completed another interruption occurred. A woman who had been sick for 12 years eluded through the crowd, eluded the sharp eyes of the disciples and touched the hem of his garment. "For she said within herself, if I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole" . . . What an idea. . . .

What a personality his must have been to provoke such ideas. . . . "My daughter is dead, but lay your hands on her and she will live." . . . "I've been sick for 12 years; the doctors can do nothing, but if I only touch his coat I'll be all right." . . . How can the artists possibly have imagined that a sad-faced weakling could ever inspire such amazing ideas as these!

The woman won her victory. By that touch, by his smile, by the few words he spoke her faith rose triumphant over disease. She "was made whole from that hour."

Again he moved forward, the crowd pressing hard. The ruler's residence was now in plain sight. The paid mourners, hired by the hour, were busy about the doorway; they increased their activities as their employer came in sight—hid-cious walls and the dull sounding of cymbals—a horrible pretense of grief. Quickening his stride, Jesus was in the midst of them.

"Give place," he cried with a commanding gesture. "The maid is not dead but sleeth."

They laughed him to scorn. Then, brushing them aside, he strode into the house and took the little girl by the hand. The crowd looked on dumbfounded, for at the magic of his touch she opened her eyes, and sat up.

Front page stories five and six. A woman sick 12 years, and healed! A child whom the doctors had abandoned for dead, sits up and smiles! No wonder a thousand tongues were busy that night advertising his name and work. "The fame thereof went abroad into all that land," says the narrative. Nothing could keep it from going abroad. It was irresistible news!

He was advertised by his service, not by his sermons; this is the second noteworthy fact. Nowhere in the gospels do you find it announced that:

Jesus of Nazareth will denounce the Scribes and Pharisees in the central synagogue tonight at eight o'clock. . . . Special music.

Next Week: Picking His Market.

JE'VER STOP TO THINK?

BY EDSON R. WAITE

Newspaper advertising is both wild and spur for trade.

The world is topsy-turvy and so far human-kind has proved incapable of setting it right. Something more original than economies, conferences, memorandums and expensive conversations between representatives of different powers is necessary before the desirable end can be attained.

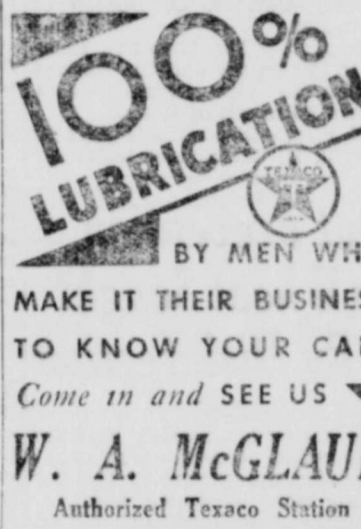

Loyalty to your home city and a willingness to cooperate with your fellow citizens in working for its welfare is the most important factor in city building. The great cities of America have been built by people who lived in them rather than by the natural advantages of their location.

A lot of politicians are still continuing to abuse public utilities and their rates. Seems that they think it will make them exceedingly popular and help them to gain or hold office. Most of the people are fed up on that old political game; they have more important things to think of. The high cost of living is worrying everybody. Most everything that enters into the cost of living is skyrocketing in price except utility rates and newspaper advertising.

Admittedly there is small temptation to spend money in fixing up the home or yard during such times as these, but every dollar spent not only adds to your comfort but helps to keep somebody off the unemployment list and helps to bring the time of prosperity a little nearer.

The old saying that the best way to keep peace is to prepare for war has not as yet been proved false. We have a new law now to protect "suckers" from unscrupulous promoters who issue questionable investments. The investors who gave away good money for bad bonds in the boom years no doubt feel that the legislation comes much too late to do them any good.

UP the Beanstalk

WHEN JACK climbed the beanstalk, he got a new conception of his needs. No longer would just a hen do, but a golden-egg hen. No longer just a harp, but one that stood by itself and played. He didn't know what he wanted till he saw something better than what he had . . . though he labored hand over hand to get hold of that point of view.

Advertisements give you a high point of view without any climbing at all. They spread world products before you—servants to serve you, conveniences to please—prices low because so many thousands are using the same. They give you a new conception of what you'd like to own. No longer will a watch or food chopper do—but the most highly improved watch or food chopper. No longer just a radio—but one of purest transmission. They make you change your mind about what you started to choose, and choose something more pleasing at no higher price. They help you see the whole field of satisfying wares. They lift you to fresh joys.

GINS STARTING FRESH SEASON

Gins in all parts of the county are ready for the brand-new season, and a few of them have already turned out first bales.

Rain has held back picking for almost a week, but the staple crop is bursting open pretty fast now, and a light stream of wagons may be expected when sunshine takes the place of clouds.

The first bale was ginned Tuesday of last week at the new Joyce gin. A. T. Nicks, who lives northeast of town on the Sid Johnson place, raised it. Hugh Taylor bid for it at 16.50 cents per pound.

Legion Train To Cut Century Of Progress Costs

A trip to Chicago and return at an expense of only $5 a day is in prospect for American Legion members and their friends, as a result of arrangements made by Legionnaires who have the project in charge for the Eighteenth District of Texas. New Mexico and Oklahoma Legionnaires are heartily invited to join the excursion and take advantage of the low rates secured.

The plans call for a special train at the time of the national convention, October 1 to 3. The trip will last eight days, seven days and six nights of which will be spent in Chicago. This allows ample time for the Century of Progress Exposition and other sight-seeing, as well as attendance at the convention entertainments. Railroad fare, hotel bill in Chicago, except meals and incidentals; steamer cruise on Lake Michigan and scores of entertainment events are included in the round trip price of $40.85 from Amarillo. Rate from Snyder is $42.85. Passengers boarding the train north of Amarillo will pay slightly less than the Amarillo rate. Those living south and west on the Santa Fe pay but slightly more, ride the regular trains into Amarillo and join the special there.

Advantages of this low price all-expense tour are open to the general public, except for the Legion convention entertainments, which are restricted to paid-up Legionnaires and auxiliary members.

Full information concerning the trip may be obtained by writing the Legion Train Committee, P. O. Box 1472, Amarillo, Texas.

NRA Chairman Cites Responsibility Of Consumer In Recovery Campaign

"Every individual man and woman, who buys anything, owes it to himself and his community and to the nation, to buy only from those employers who have taken the increased burden of increasing pay-rolls to bring back prosperity," declared Lee T. Shinson, county NRA chairman, yesterday.

"This is to the self-interest of the consumer because no citizen can fail to share in this added prosperity. It will reflect itself in increased values for everything he owns. It will make his present position more secure by reversing the process of deflation.

"So every consumer should sign the consumer's pledge, which commits him to do his part in this great national economic experiment.

"The duty of every citizen of Scurry County is, therefore, plain. The president has said:

"On the basis of this simple principle of everybody doing things together, we are starting out on this nation-wide attack on unemployment. It will succeed if our people understand it—in the big industries, in the little shops, in the great cities and in the small villages. There is nothing complicated about it and there is nothing particularly new in the principle. It goes back to the basic idea of society and of the nation itself that people acting in a group can accomplish things which no individual acting alone could even hope to bring about."

"Scurry County must do its part in this great plan. It has never failed when the nation called and it will not fail now."

Cooperative Selling Pays.

The price of wool was more than doubled in Hardin County this season by the newly organized wool growers' association which the county agent says pooled 10,500 pounds that brought 31 cents per pound sold in cooperation with the Southwest Louisiana Wool Growers' Association.

On Johnny's return from a little birthday party his mother expressed the hope that he had behaved politely and had been careful to say "No, thank you" when anything was offered him which he didn't take.

Johnny shook his head seriously and remarked: "I didn't have to say 'No, thank you,' 'cause I ate everything there was."

Shopping with YOURSELF

IN MANY of our larger cities shopping has become a profession. Experienced women who know the stores and shops, who know merchandise and values have gone into business as "Shopping Guides."

To a stranger, a trip with one of these professional shoppers is a great saver of time and trouble. No matter what the visitor wishes, her Shopping Guide knows just where to go—for quality, materials, styles, sizes, prices, specialties.

And where do these professionals get their information? They are probably the world's most conscientious and thorough readers of the daily newspaper advertisements.

Clever? Yes! But any woman can be just as smart. Just turn to the advertisements in this paper and let them be your Shopping Guide. No professional shopper can take you to more reliable or smarter places to shop than the ones that advertise in this paper. No professional shopper can give you such accurate or intimate details about merchandise, about newness, about style, about quality, about bargains.

The merchants and manufacturers who advertise in this paper are dependable. You can believe in their statements. They have spent their money to tell you what their expert buyers know to be the truth about the merchandise they have selected for you. Their salespeople know their goods intimately.
