Gas Advertisement Tells Twenty-Five Years of Progress

A quarter of a century in developing complete natural gas service is depicted in an advertisement of the Lone Star Gas System and affiliated companies, published in this week's issue of The Times.

Twenty-five years ago natural gas service was virtually unknown in Texas. Wood, coal and kerosene fires did the cooking and heating, except in the larger cities where manufactured gas carried considerable of the cooking load. In those days smoking chimneys were a sign of prosperity, and soot laden cities excepted their murky atmosphere because they didn't know any better.

Today all Texas cities using gas are served with natural gas. Then in 1909 L. B. Denning organized the Lone Star Gas Company and in the fall of the same year started the first long distance pipeline in Texas. This line, running from Petrolia to Fort Worth and Dallas, a distance of 135 miles, was completed in February, 1910, and service was started to Fort Worth in that month, reaching Dallas in April, 1910.

From one pipeline and 15,000 customers, the company has grown into an interconnected system of 4,000 miles of line serving about 300 towns and cities.

The advertisement published in this paper sketches the pipeline system, indicates the towns where the company maintains offices, shows a few of the high spots in the company's history, and pictures modern gas equipment now available to gas patrons.

Study the average woman shopper starting on a buying excursion. Where will she stop? Who will she pass? The answer will generally be found in the efforts of the various merchants to attract her business. Stores who seek her attention in a haphazard, disinterested manner are liable to get similar attention. Stores making a concerted and sincere effort to win her are distinctly more likely to enjoy her trade. —If you want that average shopper to look with favor on your offerings, Mr. Merchant, you must appeal to her through the one channel she has learned to rely upon. —Your ad in The Times is the answer. It will be prepared by our Advertising Man, working with good cuts and copy. It will produce results. —There's more to know about this interesting business-building story—let us tell it to you. ### SHELTERBELT APPLICATIONS OFFERED HERE

Land Owners May Sign Tentative Agreement With Uncle Sam Regarding Tree Planting.

Application blanks for shelterbelt planting in Scurry County may be secured by landowners at the county agent's office.

They were left here late last week by W. P. Trice, shelterbelt assistant, who said that at least 50 miles of shelterbelt trees will probably be planted in this county during the next planting season.

Mr. Trice stated that John D. Jones, state director of the national project, is having the blanks distributed to all the 21 Texas counties in the planting area.

It is proposed that the plantings shall run at intervals of about every section on good farming land, each strip to be 165 feet in width. Any contract signed by the owner will be entirely voluntary. It has been pointed out repeatedly. Terms of the contracts will be entirely mutual between Uncle Sam's Forest Service and the landowner.

After giving the applicant's mailing address, the date, the name and a brief description of the property, the application blanks say:

"I am desirous of having the U. S. Forest Service plant _____ miles of shelterbelt on the above lands, provided that upon examination of said lands they are found to be adaptable to such planting, and that an agreement acceptable to the U. S. Forest Service and myself regarding the terms under which such planting shall be made, can be reached."

A Modern Fable

BY LEON GUINN.

And in the days of hot dogs, celophane cigarettes and Mickey Mouse fans, came the inventors of chance, making slot machines wherein shekels might be lost by the youth of the city, and gambling might don the subterfuge garments of the marble game.

So it came to pass slot machines were abroad in the land; yea, every city that had public places, so machine operators and their consorts of vice could usurp their pound of flesh.

Even the elders waxed angry at this manner of marbles and bridge scores, for was it not gambling? Even they could not beat the machines.

Behold, the high priests of law met in their legal chilled synagogues, and loud was the condemnation of slot machines; yea, unto the third and fourth degrees of Blackstone.

In those days the handmaidens of justice passed many a law against gambling machines, the populace crying out in a loud voice: "Hear ye, hear ye, now game boards; assumeth smartness; say ye gaming must be smuggled in the quiet canyons of city streets?"

Looketh thou after thine own nickels, perforce our youth be slot machined even unto being broke. And a loud protest ariseth from the youth; why gamble honest outside the law ask they? The sons of man maketh merry and rejoiceth in divers ways to even scores with shekel gatherers.

So America's youth neither speaketh nor talketh emily, but debatech the lead billion of commerce, making handfuls of lead slugs and causing nickel usurers to go beep, beep, beep deep in the larynx and slot machines to pay off, in cigarettes and worthless blow gum.

Then the grandiose laws of the land tareth of game machines and raideth taverns and public hot dog places, and wee overcometh the cafes of bright spots, making scrap of game inventions; ye laws bitter inwardly because in gambling honest even ye law loseth soda pop nickels!

Welcome.—Lawrence Hays, pastor.

A young man who had received his diploma had been looking around successfully for a position, for employment, and for a job. Entering an office, he asked to see the manager, and while waiting he said to the office-boy:

"Do you suppose there is any opening here for a college graduate?" "Well, dere will be," was the reply, "if de boss don't raise me salary to t'ree dollars a week by t'ermorter night."

Dean Jarrett Calls on Graduates To Study Today's Government Problems

"Our country is one of the best in the world because the government is the best," Dean R. P. Jarrett of West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, told the local graduating class Friday evening. "It is up to you," he continued, "to meet the problems of government intelligently and sincerely, or our nation is in danger."

Commencement services in the high school auditorium were preceded by dedication of the seniors' parting gift to the school—a triangle of ground in the new school park, planted to flowers and shrubs, and centered with a rustic fountain. Aubrey Wiese, class president, unveiled the fountain after the class circled it and sang the class song. Leslie Kelley made the address of dedication, and Superintendent C. Wedgeworth accepted the gift for the school.

Salutatorian Welcomes

Mrs. Novis Rodgers played the professional as the graduating class marched to the front of the auditorium. Rev. Lawrence Hays gave the invocation. Evelyn Erwin, salutatorian, welcomed the large crowd. The chief speaker was introduced by Superintendent Wedgeworth, formerly a summer school teacher in the Canyon school of which Dr. Jarrett is dean.

Estine Dorward, valedictorian, spoke on "War and Civilization" at the close of Dr. Jarrett's address. R. L. Williams, high school principal, gave the recommendations for diplomas, and the superintendent presented the diplomas. Awards were presented by the principal. Rev. H. C. Gordon pronounced the benediction.

Estine Dorward, highest ranking student among the graduates, made an average of 94.92 during her last two years in high school, and did not make a grade below A during her entire high school career. Evelyn Erwin's two-year average was 92.24. William Miller was highest ranking boy.

Discusses World Problems

Noting that The Times had referred to him as a "veteran educator," Dean Jarrett declared that his gray hair was caused by the burdens he carries and not by his excessive years. The speaker discussed eight phases of his subject, "Some Important Problems of Government Today." Referring to investments, he quoted a member of the Federal Reserve Board as saying that there is no such thing as a safe investment. Turning to the federal government, he noted that a large percentage of the people—about 3,250,000—are in public service today. Such a government, he said, has a tendency to become top-heavy, and its success depends on the intelligent reactions of the rising generations, such as the local graduating class.

U. S. Displays Power

He described fleet maneuvers in the Pacific as actions to impress Japan and China and said that the Japanese are storing food while the United States is destroying it. The bonus bill should be paid, he said. He also discussed inflation briefly.

American education, he said, is centered with the idea that anybody can go to school to study anything, in contrast to Germany's high education in 1918, which said that people could study only certain subjects. Crime and prohibition were the other points discussed by the visitor.

"If you learn to answer vigorously, intelligently and sincerely these problems of government," he concluded, "and to stand up for them, safety will come. If not, the nation is in danger."

Thirty-Seven Get Diplomas

Diplomas were presented by Superintendent Wedgeworth to 26 girls and 11 boys, as follows:

Evelyn Erwin, Hazel Gordon, Roland Bell, Sam Joyce, Bernard Longbottom, Charles Westbrook, Mary Bess Abercrombie, Imogene Brooks, Grace Elizabeth Caskey, Estine Dorward, Edna Mae Dunnam, Roberta Ely, Sibyl Gilmore, Eleanor Hays, La Frances Hamilton, Flora Vida Holley, Maxine Huckabee, Farence Isaacs.

Fort Bliss Seeking Recruits for Army

The war department has ordered army recruiting officers to resume recruiting for the regular army, after a suspension of three months. Two hundred recruits are wanted at once for the garrison at Fort Bliss, El Paso, and over 800 more will be needed when the increase takes effect in July.

Troops at Fort Bliss are mostly cavalry and field artillery, with a sprinkling of quartermaster, medical, signal men and ordnance. Infantry recruits should go to San Antonio. Big Spring and Lubbock have recruiting stations.

Recruiting is open to unmarried men over 18 years of age who can pass character and physical tests.

AGED MOTHER DIES IN BLAZE MONDAY NIGHT

Mrs. T. J. Clay Burned to Death As Zack Taylor Homestead Destroyed by Fire.

A fire that razed the old Zack Taylor homestead early Monday night brought tragic death to Mrs. T. J. (Grandmother) Clay, 76, who was alone in the seven-room house.

W. P. Clay, stepson of the victim, has rented the Taylor place, located 13 1/2 miles southwest of Snyder, for two years. He and three of his sons were in a nearby field, while Mrs. Clay and one son were at the cowshed, a short distance away.

Flames had swept the house before any of the family arrived, and it was impossible to reach Grandmother Clay. The body, burned beyond recognition, was removed from the ruins about an hour after the fire was discovered.

Lamp Exploded.

The aged woman was left at the house alone, after supper, with a lighted oil lamp near her bed. It is believed by members of the family that the wick was turned too high and that the lamp exploded.

Prior to the death of T. J. Clay, on April 23 of this year, he and Mrs. Clay resided in a small house near the old Taylor homestead. Following Mr. Clay's death, she moved to the house that was burned.

The Clays had resided in Scurry County for 19 years.

The large house was built on the Zack Taylor place in 1899, and was a landmark in the Canyon-Ira country. Mrs. Zack Taylor has resided in Snyder for a number of years, but the place yet belongs to the Taylor estate.

Other Near Survivors.

A second stepson, J. T. Clay, resides at Dunn. No other immediate relatives, except for a brother, J. G. Clay, Vealmoor, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren, survive.

Funeral services were held at the Dunn Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon, 4:00 o'clock, with Rev. Grady Anderson, pastor, and Rev. H. C. Gordon, Snyder, officiating. Odum Funeral Home was in charge of burial in the Dunn cemetery.

Pallbearers were grandsons of the deceased, as follows: Heith, Tom, Bob and Earl Malett, Charlie and Houston Clay. These granddaughters were flower girls: Margaret, Lynn Coker, Jewell Malett and Louise Wyatt.

Fluvanna Prepares For Famous Drama This Friday Night

The Fluvanna Baptist Church is to present one of the biggest works of drama that this community has ever had the opportunity to see when it stages "Then Nights in a Bar Room," by William W. Pratt, the night of May 31.

This play was first produced in the National Theatre in New York City in September, 1858, and has since been recognized as one of the greatest plays that has ever been played.

The church is sponsoring this play for the purpose of making a payment on the auditorium chairs of the church. An overflow crowd is expected for the production. E. O. Wedgeworth and Mrs. E. V. Boynton will direct the play, with special vaudeville between the acts arranged by Miss Burline Boynton.

The cast will include these Fluvanna folks:

Sample Swichel—E. L. Ball.
Simon Slade—J. W. Haynes, the bar room keeper.
Joe Morgan—E. O. Wedgeworth, the drunkard.
Frank Slade—Charles Dietz, son of the saloon keeper.

Harvey Green—Burd Boren, the gambler.
Mr. Romaine—E. V. Boynton Sr., the traveler.
Willie Hamond—E. V. Boynton Jr., the Judge's son.
Mrs. Slade—Mrs. E. V. Boynton, Simon's wife.

Mrs. Morgan—Vernay Boynton, the drunkard's wife.
Mary Morgan—Madeline Smith, the drunkard's daughter.
Mehitable Cartwright—Burlene Boynton.

Admission for the play will be 10 and 15 cents.—The Fluvanna Croak.

The original of the Constitution of Texas was lost in Tennessee. Only the newspaper reports were ever ratified, and in the archives of the state today, a copy of the document, as printed in the Texas Telegraph, reposes.

Here's Your 1936 Politics Calendar

A redhot tip from Dallas, the brewing point for much of the state's political elixir, indicates to The Times that the 1936 line-up may look something like this:

For governor—Carl L. Estes, William McCraw, Clint Small, Coke Stevenson, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson.

For U. S. senator—Morris Shepherd, James V. Allred, Joe Eagle, Martin Dies, Joe Bailey.

For attorney general—Walter Woodward again.

Take 'em or leave 'em! The Times is not guaranteeing anything, but it might be interesting to file this article in your political hope chest, and see next year how it will pan out.

JUST A TRUNKFUL!

THREE smiling young stowaways demonstrate the ample space available for luggage, golf clubs or trophies of a shopping expedition, found in the trunk compartment of the new Ford V-8 Touring Sedans, two of the new de luxe types recently announced by the Ford Motor Company. The trunk compartment—with 13 cubic feet of space—is an inherent part of the design of the Tudor and Fordor Touring Sedan body types. All the space is used for luggage, the spare tire being carried conventionally at the rear, while an inner compartment under the floor provides space for tools. The trunk compartments may be locked with the same key that fits the tire lock. The new touring sedans were designed to provide ample luggage carrying facilities for families doing extensive traveling who wish to utilize the car interior for passengers. They have proved thus far to be among the most popular Ford body types.

Mahon Requests Funds for Water Survey of Area

Congressman George Mahon last week called on Secretary Ickes of the Department of Interior for an allotment of $100,000 from the public works appropriation for making a survey of the underground water resources of the high Plains region. These funds would be used by the geological survey in completing the work on this problem, a preliminary survey having been made last year. This preliminary report indicated some doubt as to the presence of sufficient underground water for extensive irrigation over a wide area.

He also conferred with Dr. Mead of the Bureau of Reclamation in an effort to secure funds for making irrigation loans to individual farmers. Mr. Mahon has already secured an interpretation from Federal Housing Administration officials which would allow that agency to insure loans made by local banks for this purpose. Dr. Mead is of the opinion that loans may be made possible through an allocation of funds from the public works appropriation. However, nothing definite may be determined at this time because the president has not announced his plans for administering the new appropriation.

In discussing this problem, Mr. Mahon said: "I believe that the two greatest natural resources of West Texas are its soil and its water supply. With a record of the extent of this water supply that would prevent exploitation, and with a properly directed irrigation program, conservation of the soil resources would be possible and West Texas could look forward to a more stable prosperity."

Johansen-Davis.

J. H. Johansen and Mrs. Nita Davis, both of Wichita Falls, were married here at 7:30 Friday evening. Rev. H. C. Gordon, pastor of the First Methodist Church, performed the ceremony at the Methodist parsonage.

CURRENT COMMENT

By LEON GUINN

One of the many new industries the Southwest is proud to call its very own is the potash industry. Under the mesquite covered plains of southeastern New Mexico near Carlsbad lie hundreds of acres of potassium chloride or sylvite, salts from which are mined potash and its products. Competition is very keen in the sunshine state in the potash industry. The United States Potash Company having offices in Carlsbad, and The Potash Company of America officials located eight miles northwest of Carlsbad. Potash is called the new gift of the earth gods to New Mexico, its commercial production ending a foreign monopoly of 70 years standing, making America now independent of foreign sources, if war and death should ride forth again.

Deep shafts are drilled and several million dollars worth of new equipment is being used to mine alkali salts of raw potash, a chain undercutting machine undercutting a huge boulder of the "salt," being broken up with explosives, brought to the surface, finally loaded in box cars as muriate of potash, selling at Gulf ports for $22 a ton, c. i. f. (cost, insurance, freight). One of the Southwest's many raw materials, the potash industry employs 500 men, adds traffic to 60 American railroads and water carriers, pays annually in terms of thousands of dollars in tax bills. The search for potash in the Southwest is an intriguing chapter it took 20 years to write, its mining a chapter filled with the phraseology and romance that belongs only to geology.

First, the search for potash began in Texas, traces noted in oil well cuttings in 1911 and 1912. Immediately the United States Geological Survey became interested, put observers in Texas oil fields to analyze samples. Later, at Cliffside (7 miles northwest of Amarillo) a rotary well was drilled, and the search for potash became the geologists' consuming dream.

Then, in 1925, V. H. McNutt, San Antonio geologist, located (for Flynn, Welch & Yates) the Artesia discovery well. Soon afterwards, he drilled a test southeast of Artesia, which proved a dry well for oil, but which had sylvite, chloride of potash, and in November, 1925, R. K. Bailey of the geological survey announced a notable trace of sylvite in this discovery well. It now becomes mere history that the climax to this industrial novel became fact when the United States Potash Company was formed, the deep test holes were sunk, and actual mining started the pulse of industry with its musical growing pains.

Gannaway School Is Closed Last Friday

Friday ended the school year at Gannaway located five miles northeast of Hermleigh. Reports indicate students made a high average in grades as compared to grade averages for other years.

The two teachers at Gannaway were Aaron L. Kerby and Miss Nora Mae Kerby. Miss Kerby goes to Wellman next term as home economics teacher. Trustees expressed appreciation at the spirit of cooperation shown between teachers and patrons.

It is undecided yet whether the school will be transferred to Hermleigh or continue at Gannaway.

geological history its highest animal life was represented by reptiles and amphibians, directly following the Devonian Age (age of fishes). The receding saline sea left deposited first calcium sulphate or gypsum, then common salt, which is called sodium chloride (NaCl). Drying up gradually, the inland sea then deposited potash and magnesium salts, tidal waves filling potash reservoirs with concentrated sylvite.

From these preadawn of history we now trek to uses of potash today, including soil fertility, branching out to its use in matches, munitions, medicine, optical glasses, soft soaps for textiles, and motion pictures.

Specialist Will Conduct Tanning School in June

"By learning how to tan their own leather on the farm, Texas farmers and ranchmen are now able to throw away bits of rope and wire that they have been using as substitutes for leather harness and straps," according to M. K. Thornton, Extension Service leather specialist, who will conduct a leather tanning school here June 17-18.

Cattlemen, goatmen and sheepmen who are interested in the school are urged to get in contact with the county agent at once, as it is necessary that a few tanning operations be begun here early next week. In that way hides will be ready for demonstration when Mr. Thornton arrives.

The Extension man discusses the various problems encountered in each stage, demonstrates the cutting of leather and the making of harness and other leather goods.

Since January, Mr. Thornton has conducted schools in a number of counties. A woman writer is exulting over recently released figures showing 11 per cent. more men than women are crazy. Yeah, but who drove them crazy?—Atlantic Journal.

Twenty-five Years on a TRENCHING Expedition to reach Your Doorstep with Natural Gas!

TWENTY-FIVE years ago the Lone Star Gas System (of which your Gas Company is a part) struck out across country with pick and shovel in a four-foot trench, to pipe some North Texas natural gas into Fort Worth and Dallas. They were the pioneers in this part of the country, and many were the problems they had to work out, digging away through black waxy, limestone, rivers and woods. It took years of work and planning, large investments, great engineering skill, and a great deal of courage to thread this network of dependable gas supply to nearly 300 towns in Texas and Oklahoma.

Southwesterners Snap Up New Inventions

People have used more gas than we dreamed of in the beginning, because of the new inventions they have snapped up. Imagine our surprise when even the Refrigerators began running with gas. There have been remarkable inventions in industrial gas equipment, from oil refineries to automobile janting-ovens. There are House-Heating Systems that clean and moisten the air, as well as warm it; there are Clothes Dryers, Radiators, Floor Furnaces, Automatic Ranges, Incinerators, and so forth. For running a cement plant to warming a baby's bath, these Lone Star towns enjoy an automatic heat that has made their skylines famous for their smokeless chimneys.

A quarter of a century of careful planning has made natural gas so low-priced at your meter that 15 cents' worth a day is the average household load the year around, for heating, cooking, hot water and refrigeration.

What Would You Do if a Rattler Bit You? State Health Officer Suggests

Now that rattlesnakes and a few other poisonous reptiles are beginning to sun themselves and wiggle through the weeds and grass of springtime, have you stopped to think just what you would do if you were bitten?
Marion Hamilton, who is one of the county's regular rattlesnake catchers, says he and his friends have already disposed of dozens of the poisonous fellows this year—and none of them have been bitten. But many folks are bitten in Texas during late spring, summer and early fall, and some of them die.
So Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, issues the following warning and suggestions concerning what to do just "in case" . . .
Mr. Rattler Bites.
Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of an unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of the poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse and vomiting.
If one is unfortunate enough to be bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out.
Texas has always been famous as a cotton state; but in recent years this crop has taken second place to another "crop." In 1932 the value of the oil business was $50,000,000 more than cotton.

SUMMER TERM BEGINS JUNE 3

Monday, June 3, is starting date for the Snyder summer school, according to W. W. Hill and W. F. Cox, who will be in charge. Registration begins at 9:00 o'clock in the morning. All those who wish to take courses in high school are urged to be on hand at that hour, since the course of study will be mapped according to enrollments. Grade school students who wish to take work are also asked to be on hand Monday morning, since they will be offered work if the demand is sufficient.

Ten Million for New Shelterbelt Program Sought

With the first year's plantings on the great plains tree shelterbelt nearing completion, officials of the project prepared Saturday to ask a $10,000,000 allotment of work relief funds for another year's work. Scurry County, designated recently as one of the southernmost counties in the belt, would profit by thousands of dollars if the new allotment were made, according to those who conferred here recently with state shelterbelt officials.

Foresters and scientists who have aided them in determining where trees may best be grown and what types in the 100-mile wide zone from Canada to Texas revised figures preparatory to making a formal request for funds but rough estimates indicated $10,000,000 would pay for the stock which can be purchased or grown in nurseries for next year and the acquiring of land for the plantings.

Paul H. Roberts, director of the project which calls for strips of trees to break the winds in the plains area, said the first year's program appeared to have made a successful start.

"We have had some damage to the stock set out this spring from blowing," he said, "but it has been relatively slight. Generally conditions appear favorable.

"If we have 60 to 70 per cent survival of the stock we planted this spring, we will think our work well done. That would not be a bad percentage for such plantings under normal conditions, let alone in an area where some adverse conditions are to be expected."

Graduates at Dallas

Robert Monroe Garner, formerly of Snyder, was graduated Monday evening from the school of dentistry, Baylor University at Dallas. It is reported here that he made an outstanding record at the school. He is a son of Mrs. Janie B. Garner, now of Colorado.

Times Publishes Amendments for August Election

Second of four publications of the seven amendments on which Texas voters will ballot August 24 appears in "The Times" this week. Submission of the amendments was approved in closing days of the Legislature's session.

Following is an outline of the amendments to be submitted.

1. Repealing state-wide prohibition, with open saloons banned and the Legislature otherwise empowered to regulate the liquor traffic. (Submission of the question of a state monopoly over sale of hard liquor was set for the general election in November, 1936.)

2. Authorizing the Legislature to provide for temporary commitment or treatment of mentally ill persons without trial by jury.

3. Authorizing the furnishing of textbooks to all children of scholastic age attending any school in the state.

4. Permitting district judges to suspend sentences and place convicts on parole.

5. Authorizing old age pensions of $15 monthly to persons more than 85 years old.

6. Authorizing submission of constitutional amendments at special sessions of the Legislature.

7. Abolishing of the fee system as a system of remunerating officers in counties of more than 20,000 population.

W. R. Malone, 77-year-old brother of Mrs. Zack Taylor, died at his home in Decatur May 15, after an illness of little more than a week. Mrs. Taylor and son, Hugh Taylor, visited with the aged man during his illness.

Burial was in the Oak Lawn cemetery the day following his death. Surviving are his widow, one son, Andy Malone of Sibley, and one daughter, Mrs. Lucy Eruton, Oak Grove community, near Decatur. Besides Mrs. Taylor, one other sister survives. She is Mrs. Matt Adams, 80, who resides in Decatur.

Ten-Pound Boy Born

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Skelton, 2411 Thirtieth Street, are proud parents of a 10-pound baby boy, born Sunday morning at 5:00 o'clock. The child is a grandson of H. J. Green.

"But I've signed your book before," said the fairly distinguished film-actor.

"Yes, sir, but when I get ten of yours I can swap them for one of Clark Gable."

Current Comment Is Well Received

Current Comment, editorial feature appearing in The Times, has received favorable criticism from several sources in recent days, including out-of-state inquiries and commendations.

Leon Guinn, the author, resides at Camp Springs. He has been contributing to The Times for several years.

Following is a sample of one of the inquiries, in regard to a recent Current Comment on diseases of cattle in West Texas: "Really, the veterinarians of that section of Texas should greatly appreciate your editorial policy, and I am sure that such information is a real service to the farmers and ranchmen of the state. So much misguided and unauthentic information is poured on them that it seems mighty fine to read such information as you give them."

Local Ford Dealers Attend Zone Meet; More Ford Payroll

Earl Louder, local Ford Dealer, with Roy Strayhorn and W. K. Roberts, members of his sales force, were in Abilene Friday night for a zone meeting of dealers and salesmen from 10 counties. They were accompanied by Mrs. Louder and Mrs. Strayhorn.

The 50 dealers and salesmen, gathered at the Hilton Hotel, heard F. A. Slater of the Dallas Ford Motor Company, speak in furtherance of plans and expectations of establishing a banner sales year.

The recent Ford payroll increase throughout the country is considered a sure sign of better times for all industry and the country as a whole, declares Mr. Louder. Ford's 2,000 employees at the Dallas plant will receive an increase of $34,465.20 monthly and $413,582.40 annually. Five-dollar workers will receive $6 daily pay on their next pay day.

New High School Principal Active In Many Affairs

Snyder's new high school principal, Paul F. Lawlis, who is concluding his second year as superintendent of Brownfield schools, has been active in community affairs as well as school affairs, reveals his record in the Plains town.

He was president of the Brownfield Lions Club in 1933. For four years he was a scoutmaster, and he has more recently been serving as a troop committeeman. He has been on the football executive committee of his district, and is now serving as chairman for Terry and Yoakum Counties in the curriculum revision movement.

For four years prior to his superintendency at Brownfield, he was high school principal. During his tenure of his six years in Brownfield, two units of science have been affiliated as well as all work of the commercial department. Affiliation in commercial law was granted this year without the usual submission of material.

Mr. Lawlis received B. A. and B. S. degrees from Southwestern University, and has done graduate work in Texas Tech, Lubbock. He was married in 1933 to Miss Audrey Thomas of Brownfield.

Carrell to Graduate

Harvey Carrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Carrell of Union community, will be among 28 graduates of McMurry College, Abilene, to receive their bachelor degrees tonight (Thursday). He is a ministerial student, and has been active in student affairs. He was a graduate of Snyder High School several years ago.

Photographer Visits

Mrs. Vera Miles, owner of Miles Studio, left Wednesday morning for a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. K. Morgan, in Lufkin. Mrs. Miles will return Wednesday of next week to resume her photography work.

DELEGATES TO SPEAK OF TRIP

All county farmers are invited to meet in the district court room Saturday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, to hear a report from the recent farm conference at Washington by Pat Johnston and Pete Thrane, delegates from Scurry County.

Snyder farm organization will be host to the meeting, with Giles Bowers, chairman, in charge.

The famous King ranch, close to Kingsville, Texas, is larger than the entire state of Delaware. This ranch, covering several counties and operated as a unit since the early fifties, has recently been divided among the King heirs.

A. degree, during the two summer terms. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. W.
