W. A. of churches comprising District 8 Assurance of cooperation was readily received from Midland, Big Spring, Stanton and Colorado. So it is with anticipation of a great success that the coming program is being carefully planned.

A., after which Mrs. Fred Jones of Snyder will give the devotional. Mrs. Clyde Childers of Westbrook will develop the theme, "The Unfinished Task."

The Sunday morning devotional and sing-song will be led by Mrs. W. B. Rodgers.

Following the early morning service, the Y. W. A. of the host church will serve breakfast in the basement of the church. Mrs. J. J. Strickland of Big Spring will address the young ladies of the gathering in the young people's department at the Sunday school hour. A special message by Pastor Lawrence Hays for young people will also feature the morning worship hour, with all the Y. W. A. members occupying reserved seats for this service.

A little girl who was in the habit of saying, "ain't" for "isn't," was reproved by her mother.

A short time afterward, on hearing her cousin use the same remark, she ran to her mother and exclaimed: "Mother, Doris says: 'Is ain't,' but it isn't 'ain't,' is it? It's 'isn't,' ain't it?"

"How are you getting along since your wife went away?"
 "Fine. I've reached the highest point of efficiency. I can put on my socks from either end."

"Oh, mama, look!" cried the little girl on her visit to the country. "There's a duck! And it walks like it had just got out of a rumble seat!"

SIX INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

In an automobile accident one mile south of Hobbs Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, a car driven by Eileen Montgomery of Hobbs was smashed by a car driven by an Abilene man.

Of the six people who were in the Montgomery car, the seriously injured Hobbs folks were: "Grandmother" Mills who is in a Sweetwater hospital with a fractured skull and broken hip; Jimmy Montgomery, two-year-old boy, with three broken ribs; and Mrs. Montgomery, who was badly shaken. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mills were cut and bruised slightly.

Montgomery was crossing the Rotan road when the accident occurred. He said the Abilene car was being driven so fast he couldn't avoid the crash.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers Jr.

Austin.—On the eve of two or more special sessions of the 45th Legislature, called primarily to raise more tax money, there is accumulating evidence throughout Texas that with the passing of the depression emergency, the people of Texas are inclining strongly toward a return to sanity in government. Legislators have been home and talked with the homefolks. They have been reading the home newspapers.

An able senate committee, with Holbrook of Galveston, Collier of Eastland and Stone of Brenham, has been doing a yeoman service in digging into governmental waste and extravagance, and will have some pertinent recommendations to make to the Legislature. Several special groups, including the All-South Development Council, have been urging a taxation "breathing spell" so that business may resume activity, and new industrial enterprises be attracted to Texas.

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, a leading candidate for governor next year, has sounded a bold note by declaring that no new taxes are needed, and claiming that a little encouragement to new industry will develop business, and thus yield more revenue from existing imposts, than the strangling process of hiking existing taxes or thinking up new ones to drive business away.

Committee Is Convinced.

The senate investigating committee has found some surprising things about appropriations for the departments, in a hurried inquiry. Apparently, many members of the Legislature, voting for the biennial appropriation bills during the final rush of the regular session, did not even know what was in the bills. Departmental expenditures were hiked as much as 200 and 300 per cent over previous years. Some departments even got more money than they asked for. Salary adjustments were highly inequitable, ranging from 5 to 60 per cent in some cases. The committee will recommend some revision of these extravagant appropriations, but is not altogether hopeful of getting favorable action.

"I have found out enough to know that I am not going to vote for any new taxes. We can largely wipe out the deficit by cutting expenses and by diligent effort in collecting delinquent taxes," said Sen. Stone. He cited one department whose expense jumped from $5,000 to $70,000 since 1930, without any additional duties imposed on it by statute. The committee found that another department's expense had upped from $250,000 to a million; and that costs of collection of special taxes ranges all the way from 2 per cent to 17 per cent.

"There isn't any doubt that the cost of government can and should be reduced. It may never be possible to reduce the present cost, but we certainly don't want it to grow," remarked Holbrook.

In this connection, there is a strong movement under way to postpone passage of enabling acts to put into effect the constitutional amendments adopted last week for state aid for dependent children and needy blind persons until the next regular session. The intervening time should be used, some legislators say, to study carefully existing laws on these subjects in other states. They point out that with hastily drafted legislation, rushed through a special session, the cost of either project might skyrocket to totals exceeding the old age pension cost, which under a hurriedly enacted law now costs the state about $10,000,000 a year.

What They Say.

There are some typical expressions from influential members of the Legislature:

Sen. Clint Small, Amarillo—"The schools, highways, departments and pensioners are getting plenty, and as to the deficit, why destroy such a valuable checkrein on spending? We have no serious complaints now, but new tax burdens would bring a flock of them."

Rep. Dallas Blankenship, Dallas—"There's no occasion to levy additional taxes before the regular session of 1939. We ought to give John Taxpayer a two-year breathing spell."

Mistress—"But, surely, Miranda, you are not going to marry again when the Lord just took Jim from you?"

Miranda—"Yassun, I sure am. As long as the Lawd take 'em, so will I."

He'll Run

You may lay all your cards on the fact that Karl Crowley of Fort Worth will be a candidate for governor. The Times has just received an anonymous article, with the accompanying picture, to the effect that "increasing discussion is being heard throughout Texas of the possibility that Crowley may enter the race for governor." At the beginning of the Roosevelt administration he was appointed collector of the post office department, and has since held that place as chief law officer for Jim Farley.

Social Security Question Box

Editors' Note: The Times is publishing a series of questions and answers concerning the federal old-age benefits provision of the Social Security Act. Employers who wish to have further questions answered should write to the Social Security Board office, 1530 Allen Building, Dallas.

Question: May an employee use a name in his Social Security account card other than the exact name under which he was born?

Answer: An employee may use a name on his account card other than the name under which he was born. He should, however, show his real name on line 1 of the application, sign his name on the application as he usually signs it, and attach to such application a request that this account card be issued in a name other than that shown on line 1.

It is necessary the employee's real name be shown on line 1 in order that proper identification may be made at the time he applies for benefits, and for verification of his age. His account card will then be given to him under the name by which he is known to his employer.

"Have you ever appeared as a witness before?"
"Yes, your honor."
"In what suit?"
"My blue serge."

American Boy Introduces A New Football Game

In the early fall issues of The American Boy there'll be presented the story of a new game—six-man football—fast as professional football, wide open as basketball, thrilling as hockey!

The game came to life through the need of small schools for some substitute for 11-man football, which was too expensive. Stephen Epler, a Nebraska graduate student in athletics, developed the game of six-man football to meet this need. In six-man football anybody can score, the possibility of injury from mass plays is minimized, and the game is open enough for spectators to follow every exciting development.

The new game is a hit. New schools are taking it up every day. In coming issues The American Boy tells the world about this practical new game. In addition, it presents The American Boy Official Handbook, which can be obtained from the magazine at 20 cents a copy, or 15 cents when bought in bulk.

Note: Subscription prices of The American Boy will be raised in the near future. Send your subscription order at once to take advantage of the bargain rates now in effect: one year at $1 or three years at $2. Foreign subscriptions 50c a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to The American Boy, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. On newstands the price is 15c a copy.

Interest Grows in Prevention of Smut

That there is much interest in treating wheat and other grains for smut prevention is shown by the number of inquiries at the county agent's office.

D. P. Yoder of the Scurry County Grain Company is so greatly interested that he is installing power driven equipment for treating all of the wheat he plants this fall. He also plans to treat wheat and grain sorghums for the public if there is sufficient demand.

Yoder worked out his equipment after consultation with the county agent. This equipment included accurate weighing and automatic dumping devices.

Miss Pauline Jones left this week for Pecos, where she is to teach school this year.

The Cold Germ will

"bite you"

if you don't watch out

Too much praise cannot be given the formula of medical science that "it is better to keep well than to get well." Every effort should be made to prevent illness particularly during the treacherous months of winter.

Soon the common cold germ will wage its relentless attack to pave the way for such serious illnesses as bronchitis, sinus infections, tuberculosis and other health-wrecking diseases. Watch for that first "sniffle" . . . it's a warning that should not be overlooked.

For your health's sake, fight colds this winter with comfortable temperatures and adequate ventilation in every room of your home.

The cold germ is responsible for more than two hundred million illnesses each year. Any sudden change in temperature as you go from a warm room to a cold one makes you susceptible to "catching cold."

Common colds are dangerous. Don't gamble with them. If you should catch cold during the coming winter months, consult your family doctor before it has an opportunity to undermine your health.

Japan's "Soldier" Girl Workers

Japanese working girls make up in the dressing room of their factory dormitory. Nippon's great industrial plants have a "boarding school air" with living quarters, dining halls and recreational facilities for thousands of "farmers' daughters" who earn 18 cents a day. These girls are described as Japan's front-line "soldiers" in the Far East nation's economic war for world markets, which include several Texas products.

These children and members of their families heard their mother and grandmother tell of the days she had spent in Scurry County since 1909, when she settled here with her husband, H. von Roeder, who died several years ago.

Man Raised in Area Recalls Sale of Whip

R. E. (Cap) Cleveland of Scholle, New Mexico, who was raised in Scurry County, a few days ago met the man to whom he sold the longest bull-whip ever to reach the South Plains.

The sale 32 years ago was to Charlie Pierce, Lubbock oil man. The first subsequent meeting of the two men was in a Lubbock hotel lobby late last week.

Cleveland said he made the whip for his father. It was over 18 feet long, and the stock was made from a wagon spoke. "Father would not use the whip, and I took it and brought it up here to sell it," Cleveland explained.

He worked on ranches here in the early nineties, and then went to the Lubbock section. He moved to Scholle, about 200 miles west of Clovis, in 1917, and has ranches there since.

The Turning Point.

This fall and winter of 1937 may be the turning point about which that moot question, "Horse or Tractor?" will be solved.
For the first time since the tractor began to make real inroads into the horse and mule business in Scurry County, good crops and fair prices will be combined.
Will the tractor continue its increasing popularity after the profits from this crop of 1937 are counted?
The question will be given a different slant, perhaps, when transient cotton pickers begin to drift into the county for the harvest of the good crop. Most renters who have been displaced because of the coming of tractors must be replaced at the height of the picking season by outside pickers.
Will the profits derived from transient cotton pickers more than offset the profits derived from the displaced tenants? Will the county actually be in better or in worse condition because of the displacement of many tenant farmers?
This 1937 season may tell the tale.

Editorial of the Week.

KAUFMAN GOT THE FACTS.
Kaufman, a trading center in Kaufman County, reached the decision a few weeks ago to conduct a poll of the people of the territory as to the shortcomings of the merchants of the city. A questionnaire published in the local newspaper asked many and varied questions, one of them being, "What, in your opinion, is the outstanding need of the merchants of Kaufman?"
The answers brought out many salient facts, and these answers opened the eyes of the merchants of that East Texas metropolis. One person wrote in to say that "salespeople are entirely too indifferent when approached by customers." There were other answers, of course, and after a study of them all merchants and salespeople alike have been greatly benefitted. They have started an intelligent study of their needs.
Too many towns, as well as individuals, fail to take stock of the true facts and silently complain about mail order houses destroying them and the evils of trading away from home. There is always room for improvement, but a sharp pencil and facing the true conditions as they exist will many times bring out an answer to the problem.
The merchant that keeps hustling after business, maintains an attitude of friendliness, all the while offering merchandise that is seasonable and properly priced, will come out with a profit at the end of the year. Likewise, towns that adopt aggressive trade expansion programs and forget about the troubles of the competitive city, will go forward.
Kaufman has undoubtedly started something that can well be copied by other towns in Texas.—Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

Arithmetic Lesson.

Talkative Tillie says every husband-auditor has learned that net dresses plus net hats plus net hose equal gross first-of-the-month bills.

Welshed on 'Em.

Pessimism Pete says Tummy Farr certainly Welshed on the sport depositors all right, all right. He begins to figure as how Joe Louis may be knocked into chocolate mush again by Max Schmeling. . . . If Jacobs and the other promoters don't wait until the sportsman-like German is old enough to have grandchildren.

Nothing But Grief.

Talkative Tillie sees nothing but grief ahead for the pigeon-toed or the knock-kneed young thing who persists in aping the dress lengths prescribed by fall stylists.

What, No Action?

Last week's Times editorial concerning putting some brakes on out-of-town peddlers and salesmen received about as much response as Spain's appeal for peace. Maybe this column just has no readers—or maybe local merchants just don't give a darn whether they get this business or not.

Thanks, Uncle Sam.

If the American public had a united voice this week, it would no doubt say this little speech: "Thanks, Uncle Sam, for keeping your head about all these foreign entanglements. After all, the loss of a life or two, the wounding of a few of our citizens, or the destruction of some American property, is not grounds for getting your dander all worked up."

The Tide Returns.

West Texas, formerly one of the world's richest soils for the breeding of fairs, reunions, roundups, rodeos and other such community gatherings, is regaining her place in the sun. Throw a rock from 25 to 100 miles from Snyder in almost any direction, and you're bound to hit one of these enterprises. And why not? West Texas is going to town, and that means that folks will demand a return to normal community publicizing.

Humorist—A traveling salesman recalls that he went down the stairs two at a time after securing his first big order. This must have been a welcome change from going down them all at a time.

S-S-S-S-S-S.

Scurry County Times (Snyder): As though the deluge in the world of books were not enough, the Rev. J. F. Cargile of Macon, Georgia, who is a Baptist missionary, is sending to the printers a 13,000-word novelette (The Gladiator's Choice), which has words that begin only with the letter S.—"for personal reasons." . . . S winging example: "Seagulls swiftly sped, sometimes swooping suddenly (scraping sea surface), stopping several seconds, seeing something stomach satisfying." Seeing S's so sadly swooned setting splurges, sighting setters said: "S screwy stomach satisfaction."

State press in The Dallas News rushes to comment on this quotation from Leon Guinn's Current Comment:

Softly, softly, Snyder snooper—Scurry sentiments seem superficial spread scornfully! "S" seems splendidly, sometimes stubbornly, seen so seasonably, sagaciously spread. Sensible scribbles surmount sorrow, save same, scattering symbols. "S"—singled—scrivened scrupulously—seems stupid. Silly! Sure! Summer senselessness! Scat! Scram! Scoot!

Current Comment.

By LEON GUINN.

With the journeying Thursday night of Andrew W. Mellon to another land, we find another of America's old school financiers missing from the shifting scenes of the business world. . . . A three-time secretary of the United States treasury, Mellon made treasury history under the terms of President Harding, Coolidge and Hoover, by consistently reducing the public debt.

As secretary of the treasury, Mellon's financial touch of genius was revealed in the refunding of long term obligations, which sited the interest of government bonds by the millions. . . . Reputedly one of the "greatest secretaries of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton," Mellon got this rating from friend and foe alike by his debt reducing policies. The shades of Mellon's influence are felt today in the U. S. treasury, because the sound state of affairs Mellon left the nation's money house in has allowed the New Dealers to rocket the public debt to the dizzy heights in America's history (over 36 billion dollars), without wrecking the credit rating of the federal government.

Only the years will reveal how vast were the many philanthropic activities of Andy Mellon. . . . He gave generously to charity, for charity was his special concern; religious and scientific bodies were revived by his million dollar checks; and art lovers found one of their warmest friends in Andy Mellon. . . . Only Mellon, the man, is gone. . . . His influence will live on and on.

One school of critics dislike to give due credit to Andrew W. Mellon as one of our greatest treasury secretaries because he was a stand pater Republican, while another school won't give Mellon a fair rating because he was one of the world's richest men (his oil and aluminum interests circled the globe). . . . But we believe in giving Mellon due credit as a faithful government servant because he was what he was—a kindly, shy, efficient business prince of top ranking when it came to government borrowing or spending.

Last week's treasury figures indicate that December 5 a total of 18,000,000 gallons of four-year-old whiskey will be sealed with green revenue stamps and ready for public consumption. . . . Total whiskey stocks in government warehouses today total 447,983,387 gallons (as of July 31), which is 60 per cent more liquor than was on tap in 1914. . . . Now, this 18,000,000 gallons of firewater that will be of age December 5 is just that much more misery on deposit, that much more "crime in reserve." . . . We talk temperance in America, we preach it from the house tops; and do everything but live temperance. . . . If this 18,000,000 gallons of new liquor went into car tanks it wouldn't be so bad. . . . But it will go into the tank of the nut behind the wheel; who in turn will sally forth in the quest of greater and more ghastly automobile accidents.

Considerable thought is being given by the nation's legal minds to probable legislation in the near future, making it a death penalty for these wife and children deserting husbands. . . . While we know a person who deserts a wife and a bunch of helpless children ought to be "wet roped" and dipped in creosote like any maverick steer, we feel this talk of federal legislation will have its weight with wife and child deserters.

It obligates a woman to a lifetime of service when she starts down the royal road of marriage with a man, if their marriage be founded on firm foundations; and when children enter the home that little mother gives the best years of her life to rearing those boys and girls. . . . And the critter who deserts a woman with children in the home isn't a man; he's just a lowdown varmint. . . . Varmints don't usually last long!

If you don't think this wife and child deserting is serious in America today, then you are not acquainted with our increasing relief roll figures. . . . We are confining our discussion to wife desertion; not that glorified form of adultery known as the divorce racket. . . . And it will be the dawn of a new social order, when wife deserters are corralled one way or another!

Detroit News—The unscrupulous rich who escape through crevices in the tax laws engage an officeholder who crawls through knotholes in election planks.

In His Ear

Carter Glass of Virginia, reputed to be the only man in the Senate who can whisper in his own ear, has criticized the administration sharply for its failure to balance the budget. President Roosevelt has called Glass, who is the national leader's personal friend but sometimes political opponent, "The Unreconstructed Rebel."

Dinner Feature of Fisher County Song Sessions at Sardis

Sardis, located five miles east of Hobbs, was host Sunday to singers from Snyder, Sweetwater, Wingate, Hypoint, Midway, Hobbs, Rotan, Longworth and other places. The church was filled to capacity for the all-day song fest.
At noon a bountiful dinner awaited singers, who declared it was "simply fine." Raymond Hefner, president of the Fisher County fifth Sunday singing convention, says "the visitors reported the dinner was the best part of the convention."
Program highlights included: The Snyder quartet, rendering radio numbers, the Buchanan dueters of Sweetwater, the Ushaw quartet of Hobbs, the Williams quartet of the Rotan girls' quartet, and two bass solos by Eddie Williams of Hobbs.
The Fisher County fifth Sunday convention meets next at Longworth, the fifth Sunday in October. Officials invite "all our Scurry County and adjoining county singers to be with us at Longworth." Singers are also invited to attend the Fisher County singing convention, which meets at Liberty the second Sunday in October.

"Black Eyed Susan" Nets $83.20 for PTA

"Black Eyed Susan," three-act comedy sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association last Friday evening in the Snyder High School auditorium, was dubbed a great success by outsiders and members of the sponsoring organization.
Door receipts amounting to $83.20 went into the P-T-A fund, with the exception of payment to Miss Daugherty of Greenville, Georgia, who directed the play.

Amateur magician—"Will the gentleman in the second row please lend me his hat?"
The gentleman—"Not until you return the lawn mower you borrowed last summer."

The stump orator was attempting to raise the crowd to a pitch of enthusiasm.
"What," he bawled, "do we see on every hand?"
"Four fingers and a thumb," came a voice.

The nice lady entered the restaurant and ordered an omelet. The waiter took the order.
"I'm sorry to have to explain, madam," he said, "that the price of omelets has been raised. It's on account of the war, you know."
"My goodness!" exclaimed the nice lady, "are they throwing eggs at each other now?"

Charles Rosenberg Going to Floydada

Charles Rosenberg, local merchant, has been in Floydada a good portion of the time recently. He is doing preliminary work toward opening a dry goods store there, similar to the Economy Dry Goods Company here.
The store will probably be open the third week in September. Floydada is booming under the impact of the heaviest wheat harvest in the history of Floyd County.

More Committeemen Selected for Rodeo

Scurry County Rodeo Association officials this morning announced appointment of four new general committeemen: Mayor H. G. Towle, H. H. Elland, R. L. Gray and J. C. Dorward.
Dean Cochran has been placed in charge of concessions for the show that will be staged here by the association September 17-18.

The Village Smith

Under a spreading chestnut tree, a brick garage now stands; The owner's not a mighty man, nor sinewy his hands; He bids his workers oil and fill, as on through life he goes; He wears a diamond in his ring, and fast his income grows.

All day, all night and all the time, the autos go and come; Some only need refilling, and some are on the bum. And children coming home from school, go hurrying by the door; They wish to reach the picture show, before the play is o'er.

The choir is minus sister's voice, Joy riding she must go. Aside from that her time is spent at beauty shops, you know. No time to take the boys to church, on Sundays they must toil; With axes, steering rods and brakes, with punctures, gas and oil.

And could our dear Longfellow hear the language we now know; He'd scarcely recognize the speech of forty years ago. The Golden Rule has also changed since eighteen eighty-two; "Do others first and take no chance of them doing it to you."

Locals to Funeral in Clovis, New Mexico

Dr. and Mrs. R. D. English attended the funeral of a sister of Mrs. English, Mrs. Rebecca Hilliard of Clovis, New Mexico, one day last week.
Surviving are the husband and nine children, Mrs. Ed Parker, Mrs. Roy Martin, Mrs. W. H. Raines, Truett, Collins, Brooks, J. K. and Martha Ellen Hilliard, and Mrs. Harry Burke of Portales, New Mexico.

John—"Don't you think that Phebe has something of the Venus of antiquity?"
Michael—"Why, er, yes, the antiquity."

Ruth—"Do you know you are the first man to kiss me?"
Jack—"Then you must have taken a correspondence course, for you certainly don't act like a beginner."

Elsie—"The boss bawled me out this morning about my lipstick."
Tessie—"Gonna quit using it?"
Elsie—"I guess I'll have to quit using the kind that comes off."

Snoop—"I hear that B Jones left everything to the orphan asylum."
Slink—"What did he leave?"
Snoop—"Two boys."
