The program chairman announced that 185 newcomers had been welcomed to Snyder at Alpha Study Club's nine annual receptions counting the Tuesday evening affair.

More Than 10,000 Bales Reported By 14 Gins Last Night

More than 10,000 bales of cotton had been turned out at 9:00 o'clock last night by Scurry County gins.

On the basis of accurate figures from Snyder's five gins and estimates from the other nine gins, the total should reach 13,000 bales by Saturday night.

The majority of observers believe that ginnings will slow down considerably after this week, but that the total of 25,000 bales estimated by The Times several weeks ago may yet be reached.

At least six Scurry County gins have passed the 1,000 mark, including Thursday's ginnings.

From the Hobbs Cooperative Gin in Fisher County comes word that the 1,000 mark has been passed, and that last week saw more bales turned out there than at any time in the gin's history for the same period.

State Can Boost Per Capita Tax Load of $49.90

Snyder's tax burden, based on the Texas per capita load of $49.90, is $150,099.20, according to a survey by the National Consumers Tax Commission.

Texas residents, the commission reported from its headquarters in Chicago, contribute an estimated $308,060,375 a year taxes to local, state and national governments.

The survey was made public through Mrs. Kenneth C. Prazier of Dallas, president of the commission.

"The commission's campaign by the women of the nation against taxes that 'raid the family pocketbook' is receiving great impetus by the enthusiastic support of Texas housewives," Mrs. Prazier said.

"Most Texas residents," she added, "feel comparatively tax free because they pay little or nothing in direct levies, such as those on property and income."

A drive is under way in Texas, Mrs. Prazier stated, to establish units in every city and town to join with other states in the crusade.

Santa Fe Shows Most West Texas Crops Are Slow

That the general condition of crops and pastures in West Texas is reflected in Scurry County is shown by the October 1 crop report of the Santa Fe Railway.

"Late cotton and late feed crops in this area are being further damaged by continued dry weather."

Early grain sorghums made a fair yield but the remainder of the crop will be cut short, and the cotton crop, hampered by both drought and insects, promises to be one of the smallest in several years.

"Wheat sowing is delayed on the South Plains account of dry weather, the ground being too dry to germinate the seed."

"Ranches are fair but need rain for both pasture and stock water. Livestock is in good condition."

"Willie, what is an adult?" "An adult is one that has stopped growing except in the middle."

AGRICULTURE. The greatest farm exhibit ever seen on the entire continent is assured.

All Styles're Going Up! Up! In Snyder's ANNUAL PARADE OF NEW FALL FASHIONS

Hats, Necklines, Hemlines Uppish

It's up, up, up, up and up!
Hats sleeves, necklines, hemlines (unless you beat fall fashion to it), shoes, all, are up by way of trying to keep up with midday's curls.

You can blame the new autumn fashion on the hairdresser, but if you are smart you will give her credit for a clever style idea. Pick your curls atop your head, tilt a new floppy hat at the new fallish angle, clasp the throat of your first autumn dress with a big jewel, and step out in high-throated shoes designed to make your feet both small and slender. You're a picture of newness.

And this newness can be accomplished all in Snyder stores.

So fragile... so feminine... the elegance of this season's fashions has an almost haunting beauty-like that of rare portraits in which a fabric's texture, a draping line, the intensity of a color, can create an everlasting impression.

This fall the way you dress, the manners of your children, the atmosphere of your home will prove you a most gracious lady. So gracious, yet so feminine—from your topmost curl to your rather amazing shoe!

Penney Sees New "Ladylike Airs"

This season you will learn to walk more gracefully, to sit with complete poise, to carry your clothes with a ladylike air. That is the spirit of the season—and it is emphasized by the newest fashions, such as we show in our ready-to-wear department," says Mrs. Gus McCintion of her department at the J. C. Penney Company store.

In Mirra Lane frocks, Glen Row frocks and pretty cotton Sally Leas such as found at Penney's are mirrored the very newest trends of fall. These smart dresses topped with an inexpensive Jean Nedra hat or one of the clever Betty Coed models or the better Austelle styled new hats will put you at ease anywhere this fall. Dresses and coats for children in the Sunny Tucker line will make these school girls happy, too.

Ladylike foundations created by Crescent make the well-moulded figure so necessary for proper fitting in newest things. Slips also by Crescent promise smooth lines for the new frock, all at Penney's.

Cave Points to Hair, Skin, Hands

We will see that your new hair-style goes definitely "up", that your skin is smooth and that your hands look well-groomed all in one sitting," says Lill Jo Colwell, owner and operator of the Cave Beauty Shop. Her assistant is Dollie Clements.

A good scalp and hair conditioner by Eugene will give your hair all the luster and beauty it needs all winter. Top this with one of the newest hairdresses, groom your skin with "Beauty by Pitch" which includes every preparation for skin beauty. Mrs. Colwell suggests. Revlon polish in all new fall shades is being used with manicures these days at The Cave.

When the "fresh" diner observed sarcastically to the restaurant waitress that he couldn't find any chicken in the chicken coop, she said: "Well, you won't find any horses in the horse-radish either!"

Bryant-Link Says "Hats" Is Keynote

"Fashion begins with hats this season," chatters Mrs. Joe Canton of Bryant-Link Company's ready-to-wear department. "Hats are high, hats are forward and hats are romantic... there could be a book written on fall hats... and the idea is to show the curve of your head and let the hat push forward... it's new to be old."

Pretty Patricias, handmade hats, are the latest thing as they are shown in tailored or dress-up styles at Bryant-Link. New shipment of Gage hats that comfortably fit large head sizes, has been received there this week.

There's wonderful pleasure in selling the new fall dresses, Mrs. Canton says, as she shows snappy lines of Franklin Frocks, dependable Le-Vines and Nelly Dons in cottons and silks, all definitely 1938.

Complete line of Gossard and Miss Simply foundations insure moulding the figure to a high girlish line for smooth waistlines.

Betty Rose coats combine moderate price and substantial tailoring, and the Redfern people are adding pep and snap to their good line of unusually attractive coats this fall.

Paris designers haven't forgotten teen-age girls and children, and neither has Bryant-Link's ready-to-wear department. Shirley Temple frocks for small girls are as smart and new as can be. Teen-age Deanna Durbin Frocks are this season including tub frocks and a silk line of crisp taffetas and soft droopy crepes.

Dorothy Perkins Proves Popular

Dorothy Perkins beauty preparations led the United States in popular priced lines last year, says Lee Stinson at Stinson Drug No. 1, where the products are featured. These preparations, tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau, are safe, simple and economical, and with their help you can have a "close-up" complexion. These nationally advertised products are being offered at special reduced prices the next few days.

New hose tones to enhance the fall costume in Alrmaid Hosley sound exciting. French toast, Havana tan, vivacity, Praline beige, titebeige and cloudhaze... and you get "More Miles Per Pair," makers of Alrmaids says. These are handled by both Stinson Drug Stores.

The Fair Store Looks to Neckline

"It's way up with the high necklines, way down with the low ones, as most women look to the necklines of their dresses for a flattering framing of the face, although most necklines soar in daytime frocks," according to remarks made on fashions this week by Winnie Garner at The Fair Store.

Your fashion-right mind will choose one of our individually designed and tailored Devine frocks in the better dresses, Miss Garner continues. Costume suits so important in the fall and winter wardrobe are shown this season in better Devine models, also, selected for autumn distinction.

In smart winter coats The Fair shows the Hirschmaur coat, with genuine lambskin leather innerlining for extra warmth and comfort on the coldest of January days. Shoes that denote fashion footlights star your costume when selected at The Fair.

Carole King and Peggy Palmer wash fabrics will make the housewife fashion conscious as she does her daily routine chores smartly and sensibly dressed.

The new teachers for the term 1938-1939 are the following:

Women's Suits Featured at G-M

Leading stylists in the nation say that no woman can face the new fall season without a smart tailored suit for sports wear or for wear at the office these tangy fall days. They're here, made-to-measure ones, along with stylish new topcoats designed and ordered especially for you at Graham & Martin tailoring place.

New two-piece suit with topcoat to match would send midlady to a football game in style and comfort all winter. "Yes," says Joe Graham, "all members of the tweed family are important in these correct made-to-measure tailors." Tweeds, herringbones, camels' hair and w-rumbo weaves are seen this season in suits or topcoats which by the way have a new feeling of looseness and easier fit. Colors run through heather green and browns, grays, blues, mallard green, etc.

Critics are Like That.

"I insured my voice," stated the famous singer, "for $10,000."
"And what," asked the critic, "have you done with the money?"

New "Up" Styles At Every Woman's

Join the autumn parade—swing into tune with the times by trying one of the new high hair styles. That is the injunction of Mrs. Woodie Scarborough, Every Woman's Beauty Shop, to girls and women of Snyder and vicinity.

"Everybody's doing it!" declares Mrs. Scarborough. "The 'up' line is so flattering and utterly feminine that we know you'll love it... and so will your latest admirer. It'll bring out all the old-fashioned chivalry in him!"

"A new permanent wave is essential to the success of the high coiffure, of course, and of equal importance is the correct shaping of the hair. With these two prime requisites, the high line coiffure is easy to keep neatly dressed.

"Too, it is beauty's demand that you prepare your skin for fall and winter with our Contour beauty preparations. Your hair, skin and hands will make or ruin your new fall costume."

"My business is on the rocks."
"My! What is your business?"
"Building lighthouses."

Hays, Watkins and Chapman Peppers

When Snyder High School pep squad held its annual election for pep leaders in gymnasium last week, Geraldine Chapman, Adeli Watkins and Billie Lou Hays were elected after having led a peppy yell.

Plans were made to get new uniforms which will be a black flannel skirt and shirt with a yellow S on the front of the shirt. Black ankle socks, and black oxfords will be worn with the uniform.

The black and gold peppers plan to be wearing their uniforms in two weeks.—Tiger's Tale.

A judge was held court in a remote district. He was listening intently while a prospective juror was questioned by a lawyer in the case.

Lawyer: "Do you know anything about this case?"
Prospective juror: "No."
Lawyer: "Have you heard anything about the case?"
Prospective juror: "What case?"
Lawyer: "Accepted!"

Druggist: This cream will give you the closest shave you ever had."
Customer: "Oh, I thought I told you I was a taxi-cab driver."

Trips Planned for Band During 1938-39

The band plans to take several trips this year. It will go to some of the football games with the players and give them the hearty support of its music. There will be other trips to other towns.

Three flutes, an oboe and a melophone have been added to the instrumentation.—Tiger's Tale.

Thoughtful Thinking

From the County Farm Agent's Office

Big Time Coming.

Scurry County's Products Show time is nearly here—October 14 and 15. The show catalogs are being mailed out to producers who will make exhibits. The show grounds are beginning to look mighty showy. Spaces for exhibits are being assigned daily at the Chamber of Commerce office. The peak of cotton picking will be about passed by then. What a good time we are going to have enjoying our Scurry County Products Show!

Silo Thermometer.

The trench silo thermometer continues to register more and more tons of feed going into rat, sand, fire, storm and flood-proof storage. All this dust and dry weather now reminds us that stored feed may come in handy in not-so-far-away times. Feed in a trench silo is "money in the bank" any old kind of a year, wet or dry.

Wheat Insurance.

Forty-nine wheat crop insurance applications have been completed and forwarded to state headquarters for wheat growers of the county by C. M. Wellborn, county wheat supervisor for the Crop Insurance Corporation. The premiums, if and when the producer accepts his policy, may be paid for in wheat or cash. If paid in cash, the corporation under the law will buy wheat and put it in storage. In this way the ever normal granary plan becomes effective. Meaning that in the good years we store up for the lean years. Sounds like the old familiar "good farm management program." That is the same thing as filling a trench silo with surplus feed. Just another insurance policy paid up in premiums.

Game for Money.

The landowners and operators are cooperating to rebuild our supplies of game and fish. Let's cooperate. We are all good sportsmen for recreation. Are we good producers to provide the requirements? Let's be good neighbors. Sign a game management agreement now and prepare for another money crop that we need and can have.

No. C-5-1, "Brown."

Go through your old papers, Mr. Cotton Producer, and try to find that old cotton pool certificate No. C-5-1 "Brown." It means another dollar bill per bale of cotton from the 1933 cotton plow-up.

What It Is Not.

Remember the Scurry County Products Show is not a fat stock show. It is a livestock, poultry and farm crop breeding type show. A chance to find out just how good we are rather than how good we think we are. We have much to have pride in. Show it October 14 and 15.

Fall Styles.

"What ever has happened?" asked the puzzled husband. "Why have you got that plaster over your left eye?" "Plaster? That is my new hat."

Carrell Praises Community That Gives Show Site

Dear Willard and Jake.

I would like to have space in your valuable paper to express my appreciation for the splendid work done by your chamber of commerce, the city dads of Snyder and the commissioners court in moving the city tabernacle to the present site and in doing such a thorough job of rebuilding the tabernacle and those splendid stalls.

Now I am persuaded that the motivating cause was the hopes of a county fair or products show for Scurry County for this year and the years to come. I want to say that Snyder has eclipsed herself in providing a suitable and well located place for a county fair and is offering some nice premiums to those who help to make the show a success.

And I know that they are hoping for and expecting the farmers and ranchers to help put the show over by bringing our farm and ranch and dairy products to these splendid buildings and putting them on display for folks to see and admire.

I have one of the Scurry County Free Fall Products Show catalogs before me (and it is a splendid piece of printing). I find the names of our farmers, farm women and farm boys and girls as committeemen.

So here is what I think we, as the farmers of Scurry County should do, and I for one shall do my part and Union community will do her part to put the show over in a splendid way. Say, folks, let's go for a sure enough Products Show for Scurry County.

So note it be.

J. L. CARRELL.

P. S.—Say, the old roosters are crowing and pruning himself for the show now. Bring him along.

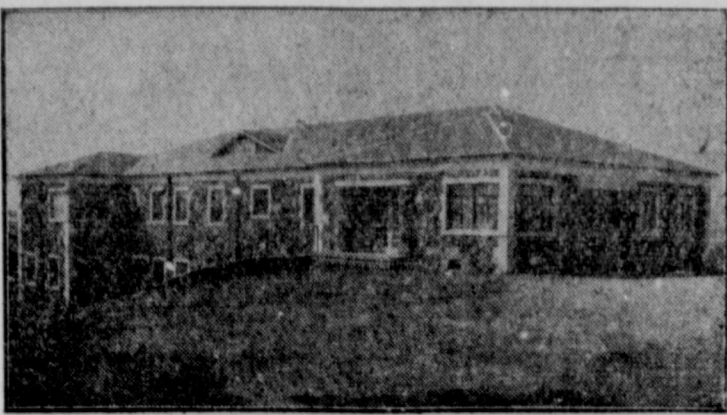

The Nolan County singing convention meets at Highland, eight miles south of Roscoe, at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, October 16. All singers and lovers of good music are invited, according to Homer Long of the association. Snyder Quartet will be among local musicians at the convention.

RECORD GROUP IN HIGH SCHOOL

Snyder High School opened Monday, September 12, with the largest enrollment in its history. The total enrollment of 393 consists of 139 freshmen, 125 sophomores, 81 juniors, and 67 seniors. This is 75 more than were enrolled at the beginning of school last year. The enrollment at the end of school last year was 404.

Principal King Sides said, "If the membership increases at the rate it did last year by the end of this school year there will likely be an average membership of 475."—Tiger's Tale.

Fire Prevention Week Support Is Urged by Texas

Stressing the importance of continued vigilance on the fire prevention front, Marvin Hall, fire insurance commissioner, today urged state-wide observance of the annual Fire Prevention Week scheduled for October 9 to 15.

"Fire uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today," Hall said. "Each year its heavy toll in life and property is a black mark on the proud name of Texas. Only by constant and relentless vigilance on the part of every Texas citizen can we hope to reduce, and finally to eliminate the costly destruction of this economic enemy number one."

"Active participation in Fire Prevention Week by every Texas citizen will go far toward curbing losses and saving lives, and, since fire losses have a direct bearing upon the fire insurance rates, there are other practical benefits accruing from effective fire prevention."

"Fire Prevention Week is designed for every Texan interested in performing a distinct service to his State, to his community, and to himself," Hall said. "If we remember that the fire that never starts will never set out of control, and keep that thought before us each day of every year, then we will rightfully say that the practice of fire prevention pays big dividends in human lives and happiness."

YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT backs up his personal assurance of easy winter starting and oil economy by OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE —more than an oil change!

JUST because this is in print instead of coming direct from Your Mileage Merchant's lips doesn't change the fact that he backs every word personally. How does he go through with that? By giving your engine the only OIL-PLATING. That's not mere words; it's what patented Conoco Germ Processed oil does.

Activated by an added man-made compound—added to oil's best natural qualities—added to the best refining—this exclusive Germ Processed oil adds itself direct to the inner engine surfaces... unites so thoroughly that every working part stays constantly OIL-PLATED.

Does the chrome plating on the bumpers drain down every time your car stops? Neither does OIL-PLATING in your engine. When you want to start up again, after hours of wintry parking—after nights or even weeks in the coldest garage—you've got ready lubrication faster than instantly!—in advance of the fastest oil-circulation. For drain-proof OIL-PLATING has stayed lastingly plated all the way up, to make things slide lightly and swiftly for your starter and battery. That also tells you why you're rid of costly starting wear. And OIL-PLATING stays in as long as you use Germ Processed oil. The gauge-stick backs Your Mileage Merchant!

MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY

It's Pa's Choice of Weapons

Anyway, They Are Raising Good Cotton

The Times article last week concerning cotton seed that is best for planting on the Low Plains of West Texas emphasized the fact that seed bred by Von Roeder Seed Farms, Knapp, has received approval of the Texas advisory cotton planting seed committee.

Two errors in the article made it impossible to determine just what the committee's approval means. Boiled down, it means that the Von Roeder's Western Prolific seed has been picked out, after exhaustive tests, to be the best, and their Improved Acala to be one of the best seeds for a block of counties that includes Scurry, Borden and others in the Low Plains area.

Anyway, West Texas is learning by leaps and bounds that the Von Roeder's are breeding some of the best cotton in Texas right here in Borden and Scurry Counties.

"Daddy," asks a small boy, "what is the difference between Socialism, Communism, and Fascism?"

"It's like this, son: We have four cows in our cowhouse. Socialism will take two away from us, for the community."

Christmas and Thanksgiving Coming

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

Turkey-time approaches, and turkey raisers who think ahead will come out best in the annual competition in supplying festive tables. It takes at least four to five weeks of good full feeding to put a good market finish on turkeys, and longer if they are not already in good condition and health. At this time, therefore, it is time to make plans for the home-stretch with turkeys which are to be sold for Thanksgiving. Three or four weeks later will do for the Christmas crop.

It is the finish, the last few pounds put on the breast and other thick parts of the turkey carcass, that determines the grade and the price per pound. It is false economy, therefore, to stint the feed at this stage. On the other hand every pound of this "finish" weight adds to the value of each pound of the original frame. The best figures available show that it takes from 4 1/2 to 6 pounds of grain (including mash feeds) to make a pound of gain in turkeys, and the average of feed grains over several years has been $5.40 to $7 per hundred pounds of turkey. At the lowest imaginable price turkeys pay well for the grain and mash necessary to put them in first class market condition.

An idea has been broadcast that the demand is now largely for the smaller turkeys, 10 pounds or so. One of the largest turkey shippers in Texas says the 15 to 16 pound turkey is still in best demand. Even if the former were true an unfinished turkey would not be acceptable. The writer knows city dealers who buy thin turkeys at their own price and fatten them for their trade, making a two-way profit. The farmer who sells this kind of turkeys is losing both ways—the sale of the grain to the turkey at a good price, and the city feeder gets paid for the small labor of feeding.

"Turkeys are becoming so plentiful that consuming centers are getting more critical on the quality, and I believe that in the future we will find a greater spread between Southwestern turkeys and Northwestern turkeys unless our quality is improved," says A. W. Jacob, Extension Economist of the Oklahoma A. and M. College. The northwest and the Pacific Coast

SCHOOLS BACK TO WORK SOON

Three of the larger county schools will go back to classwork in a few days, after a lapse for cotton picking.

Dunn and Pluvanna begin classes next Monday, after a two-week vacation, and Ira goes back Monday, October 17. Pyron and Hermleigh, the other large consolidated schools, did not turn out for cotton picking.

some people fail to make a profit from turkeys.

Many of the best turkey producers grade their flocks and full-feed to make a pound of gain on good green range than without it, but if green range is lacking and all the feed were bought and the turkeys given all they could eat for four to six weeks before going to market it would still be profitable.

Nobody can forecast the ruling price, but everybody knows there will be a differential in favor of the prime and No. 1 grades. The grower has spent several months and which has little market value as some money producing a skeleton such. Properly "upholstered" with the few extra pounds of juicy meat which full-feeding produces in a few weeks, the framework has an added value of its own. Failure to pad it with juicy flesh is the reason

Easy to Understand

It is not difficult to understand why the average person wants to go away from his or her home town or home community to buy the necessities and luxuries of life. The call of distance, of away-from-it-ness, of greener pastures, has ever beckoned home builders, explorers, adventurers, and shoppers.

Nor is it difficult to understand why, aside from these normal human impulses, the average person determines in his heart that he must travel a few extra miles to purchase a pair of socks for Mary, a pair of shoes for Ma or a radio for the whole bloomers' family. For he is bombarded from morning till night with catalogs, circulars, radio advertising, daily newspaper advertising and a thousand other media.

Why shouldn't distant pastures look greener—when the greenness is constantly being held before his longing eyes?

The thing that's really puzzling is that the average merchant seems to think that the average buyer, in the face of all these outside attractions and natural human urges, should trade at HIS store in HIS town, regardless of price, quality, service and advertising.

Until time ends, many Hermleigh folks will go to Snyder to trade; Snyder folks will go to Sweetwater; Sweetwater folks will go to Abilene; Abilene folks will go to Port Worth; Ft. Worth folks will go to Dallas; Dallas folks will go to St. Louis; St. Louis folks will go to New York; and New York folks will go to Paris. But the fact remains that, with few exceptions, the towns and merchants that go after the business will hold an equitable share for their stores and their towns.

When a hen lays an egg she cackles. When a football team wins a ball game, it celebrates. When a political party wins an election, it turns the country upside down. When a hound gets on a hot trail, it howls. When Hitler gets a few more miles of territory, he calls out the army, navy and marines. But when many merchants get in a new batch of reasonable, saleable goods, they sit behind their counters and expect the citizens of 1938 to push over one another to find it out.

As The Times has pointed out many times, the trade at home idea works in several directions. It will work in the right direction for the small-city merchant if he will work in the right direction for it.

Optimists on the Wing

FROM NATION'S BUSINESS.

Some economic medicine man recently won attention to an ingenious theory of ten-year rhythms in prosperity. During the past century, he discovered, every year ending with nine has seen the free flow of milk and honey—1909, 1919, 1929, etc. So, cheer up! It won't be long now.

If faith could stimulate business activity as well as move mountains, the national cornucopia would overflow this year. At its very beginning economist Stephen Leacock sang this confident augury:

I am willing to prophesy that 1938 will be the happiest year the world's annals have recorded for a long time.

Well, what with war and alarms of war and continuing depression, there's time yet; perhaps, like the Hollywood dramas, it will have a happy ending.

An investor scanning the headlines for clues to the real state of business meets many puzzling contradictions. Along with "Moral Recovery Brightens" he finds "Bank Debts Hit New Low Levels," and "Retail Volume Of Across Nation." On the same page of the New York Times a cut in steel prices and the determination of furniture manufacturers to maintain prices are hailed separately as favorable omens.

One cheerful commentator sees a good sign in the low point to which whiskey sales have fallen. "People don't drown their sorrows in drink when times are good," he rationalized. Liquor is not moving counter to the general trend, hence business must be pretty good, after all.

"Disregard your charts and statistics . . . federal spending is bound to have a sharply invigorating effect on business," speakers at the National Retail Dry Goods Association convention told delegates.

And so, as always, hope springs eternal while prosperity continues to dodge around innumerable corners.

When War Comes

Talkative Tillie says she'll be glad to knit any man's socks, sing to any mother's son in training camp, or hold any rookie's hand when he gets homesick. But she'll be knock-kneed if she uses cowfeed for cereal during the next war.

To a Landlord

Pessimism Pete opines that the cotton worms haven't done half as much damage to Scurry County's future prosperity as the self-centered landlord who has the cotton-growing fever so bad that he forgets about pigs, chickens and other such sidelines, even for his renters.

In the Same Class

Talkative Tillie sees no reason why the hideous fad of colorful heels on women's hose is not in the same class with bell-bottom street-sweeper pants worn in other days by all jellybeans and a few men.

Down at Abilene

The Abilene Reporter-News issued a pictureful, colorful, newsworthy West Texas Fair edition Sunday.

With deft touches this special edition does much more than advertise the West Texas Fair. It presents an awakened Abilene—an Abilene that for several years seemed to be content to simply and conservatively sing to the West Texas world that it is the educational and wholesale center of this segment of the universe.

There was even talk for awhile that some other West Texas city might one of these days wear the crown of Central West Texas leadership that is Abilene's earned birthright.

The sentiment in alert circles seemed to be that if Abilene wanted to crawl back in her shell and let others pluck the civic plums and bear the civic loads, it was only right and proper that one of the newer cities should invigilate her out of that birthright . . . for a mess of self-sufficient postage.

But the Abilene tune has changed. It shifted two or three years ago from a drab household air to a determined melody of hope. And now, with a set of younger men on the maestro's platform, the melody of hope has become a peon of optimistic fervor . . . or, if you prefer bolder figures of speech, a hallelujah chorus and a jitterbug's aria.

Sunday's West Texas Fair edition ably reflects this new Abilene tune. It proclaims, too, without saying so in printed words, that the Reporter-News, well staffed and well established in the Central West Texas news-mind, has been the most potent factor in putting the new tune into the over-conservative throat of a city whose pitch and timbre have sounded true through the years.

Current Comment

By LEON GUINN

When the outlook for peace Friday at the Munich Four Power huddle seemed almost hopeless, a surprise move by the attendant statesmen—offering to parcel out to Hitler his desired part of Czechoslovakia without resistance—has stilled for the time being the sword rattling of 46,000,000 men that were under arms around the Czech border. But even though peace now reigns over a troubled Europe at the moment, a rising wave of unrest is taking hold of the English, the Czechs, Germans, and French.

Although first minute assumptions would probably lead one to believe Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Britain was the hero of the Munich peow wow, firm opposition has developed this week in the English House of Commons against the peace loving diplomats; most observers agreeing the real hero now emerges as Benito Mussolini of Italy. Although Chamberlain took the lead in peace negotiations, it was Mussolini's blunt words that apparently drove the major conference points home to Hitler.

Even temporary peace, however, has its price, a total of $400,000,000 having been spent by the European powers that in circling the now ravaged Czech homeland with guns and soldiers. War, with its greater price, would doubtless have come very near obliterating the very races of Central Europe had it developed at this time. Hitler's march eastward can doubtless be halted for the year—now that his bloodless conquest has given Germany uncounted deposits of iron ore, coal, and minerals—but the son of an Austrian cobbler will have to be stopped permanently sooner or later—unless he dies of sudden heart attack.

It struck us somewhat as a bolt out of a blue sky, but a recent survey of Scurry County farms reveals the fact that we have boll weevils right here in our home county by the hatful, a thing that many have said couldn't happen in our sub-caprock borderland. It may sound a little bit like East Texas, quinine, and "sorghum lasses," but the fact remains the insidious little idiots are making county cotton fields their stomping grounds, believe it or not.

Many have said for the last 10 years that a certain element of cotton gatherers who flock to West Texas fields from the weevil-ridden districts each fall should be fumigated, as well as the cotton sacks and various items of ducking they bring along with them. Not that ducking is a weevil egg carrier, but the odd locks and bolts, stray harvest remnants, are weevil egg carriers. "Well, granting we have them," some have said recently, "so what?" It will call for several so whats and probably some stronger terms than that if we wake up some morning and discover Mr. Boll Weevil has reduced our county cotton crop more effectively than Mr. Wallace ever dared to.

Although the queer Bagabo tribe in the mist tinted Philippines number only 5,000 people, their method of counting many wives as much wealth has focused a great deal of attention on these polygamous heathens who barter lives and wives as teen age school boys barter barlow knives (let's stop the rhyming right here; it's October's bright blue weather. It will get under the hide). Bagabo chieftains, for instance, have wealth in proportion to their wives. Accustomed to doing nearly all the work, Bagabo wives spin and weave, raise food to eat and sell, and tend to all the livestock. Thus chieftains who have many wives usually are considered wealthy (if the squaws work hard enough). Some Americans seem to be having trouble enough supporting one wife, much less a whole hair pulling harem of Eve's daughters.

Advance Notices Fail to Approach Softball Foolery

Almost everyone laughed or said, "It's just ballyhoo," when advance notices of the donkey softball game declared: "It's funnier than a circus, more fun than a barrel of monkeys."

But after the game on Tiger Field Monday night between the firemen and the Lions, with men faculty members and a few others thrown in for good measure, no one thought of disputing the advance notices.

It was the second annual softball affair played on donkeys between the two teams, but folks came from far and near as if they had never before seen the sport. Cars lined the inside of the stadium and the grandstand and sidelines were well populated.

Total receipts were more than $120. Firemen and Lions received more than $30 each after all expenses were paid. The firemen will use their money for purchase of Christmas baskets; the Lions, for purchase of glasses for underprivileged children.

With M. E. Stanfield, teacher, as referee, the game was underway at 8:00 o'clock. Rev. James E. Spivey, fire department chaplain, started the scoring in the second inning with a home run. That was the margin of victory for the fire boys, the final score being 2-1.

The donkey trainers, who travel from town to town with their four-footed performers, declared local receipts were among the highest they have received in a town of this size.

Thanks Friends

Hr. and Mrs. Dewey Niedecken, who lost their home by fire Saturday, submit this word of thanks:

"We wish to thank our many good friends and neighbors for all they did for us, and members of the fire department and others for their efforts to save our home. The many good things that Snyder and Scurry County friends have done, and the articles and financial support you have given us, are appreciated from the depths of our hearts, and no words in the English language can express our sentiments.

"Without friends life is not worth living. May God's richest blessings be on each of you. Some day an opportunity may come for us to return the many favors."

"Which platform for the Boston train?"

"Don't be impertinent, young man."

Special guest tickets are being offered by some of the local merchants. These tickets are also in the regular Brunks advertisement in this issue of The Times.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mrs. A. M. Curry and daughters, Allene Curry, Mrs. John Booth and Mrs. Homer Snyder, and the Snyder family are in Floydada today (Thursday) attending funeral services for Dave T. Curry, 87, who died early Wednesday, after a lengthy illness. The Floydada man was a brother of the late A. M. Curry. Accompanying the local people were two of Mrs. Curry's sons, H. L. Curry of Miles and A. E. (Bill) Curry of San Angelo, who spent Wednesday night in Snyder.

West Texas' Travel Shark Hits Snyder

If there is a West Texan who has traveled more West Texas and world-wide miles than J. M. (Jim) Wilson of Floydada, he has hidden his light under a bushel. He was in Snyder Monday.

The much-traveled Jim, in Snyder to make arrangements for the District 19 American Legion convention here December 3-4, is district commander. He has been a church, service club, civic, West Texas Chamber of Commerce and practically every other kind of a leader for so long that many of his friends wonder how he finds time to manage the string of lumber yards that bears his name.

The Floydada man has visited in Europe, Central and South America, Oriental countries, Cuba and many other points during several jaunts in recent years.

DALLAS VISITOR. While in Dallas on business last week, D. P. Yoder visited briefly with Joe Taylor, editor, Lynn Landrum, thought-provoking columnist, and Victor Schoffeleers, agricultural editor, all of The Dallas News. The local man was impressed with the solid progressiveness of the three leavers of Texas' oldest newspaper.
