A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Runaways don't get far

Two Muleshoe youths didn't get far Friday after they decided to steal a car and run away.

Alerted by a concerned parent, Muleshoe police stopped the car they were driving shortly after 5 p.m. about three miles west of the city limits on U.S. 84. Inside the Chevrolet Lumina were two boys, reportedly ages 12 and 13, and the family dog.

The boys pulled over as soon as they spotted the patrol car behind them and surrendered without incident, according to Muleshoe police. The car belonged to the parent of one of the youths.

Police charged the youths with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Stock show time

Area youths are busy preparing for three junior livestock shows on tap for January.

Area students are each hosting stock shows in the next two weeks.

Lazbuddie will kick off the season with their show scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 20 at the County Barn in Friona.

Weigh-in and classification will begin at 10:30 a.m. The show will begin at about 2 p.m. with the judging of an estimated six steers, one heifer, three goats, 12-13 lambs and finishing with 45 hogs.

Judging the show will be John Massey, an agriculture teacher from Hereford.

Lazbuddie students will also take part in the Parmer County show Jan. 21-23.

The second show in the area is the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show, which will run Jan. 21-23.

All animals must arrive between 1-6 p.m. on Thursday. Livestock shows are scheduled for Friday beginning at 8 a.m. with an estimated 28 goats, immediately followed by the sheep show with 25 expected animals, and finishing at 1 p.m. with the judging of an estimated 190 pigs.

Saturday's festivities include the cattle show at 7:30 a.m., and a product auction at 2:30 p.m.

USDA seeking nominations for state boll weevil board

AUSTIN — Cotton producers and crop-sharing landowners will decide in a March 12 referendum whether or not to establish a boll weevil eradication program in the five-county Northwest Plains Weevil Eradication Zone.

Voters will also establish a maximum assessment rate and elect a board member from the zone to serve on the statewide Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Inc.

Cotton producers who farm in the zone and who have grown cotton for at least seven years have until Feb. 10 to submit their names for the board member position. Those wishing to be placed on the ballot must fill out a nomination form and biographical information sheet. The nomination must be supported by the signatures of at least 10 other eligible cotton growers in the zone.

Forms must be completed and received in Austin before Feb. 10. Forms can be mailed to the Texas Department of Agriculture at P.O. Box 12847, Austin, TX 78711 or faxed to (512) 463-1104.

Nomination forms are available at local county extension service offices and the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin at (800) 835-5832 or (512) 463-7593.

The Northwest Plains Boll Weevil Eradication Zone consists of approximately 500,000 acres in five counties: Bailey, Castro, Deaf Smith, Lamb and Parmer.

Lazbuddie splits district doubleheader

Longhorns survive late charge 71-67; Josh Morris nets 28

LAZBUDDIE — Lazbuddie proved better at building a lead than holding on to one.

After leading by as many as 13 points in the fourth quarter, the Longhorns needed Cade Morris' putback off a missed free throw with eight seconds left to hold off Happy 71-67 Friday in the District 11-1A opener for both teams.

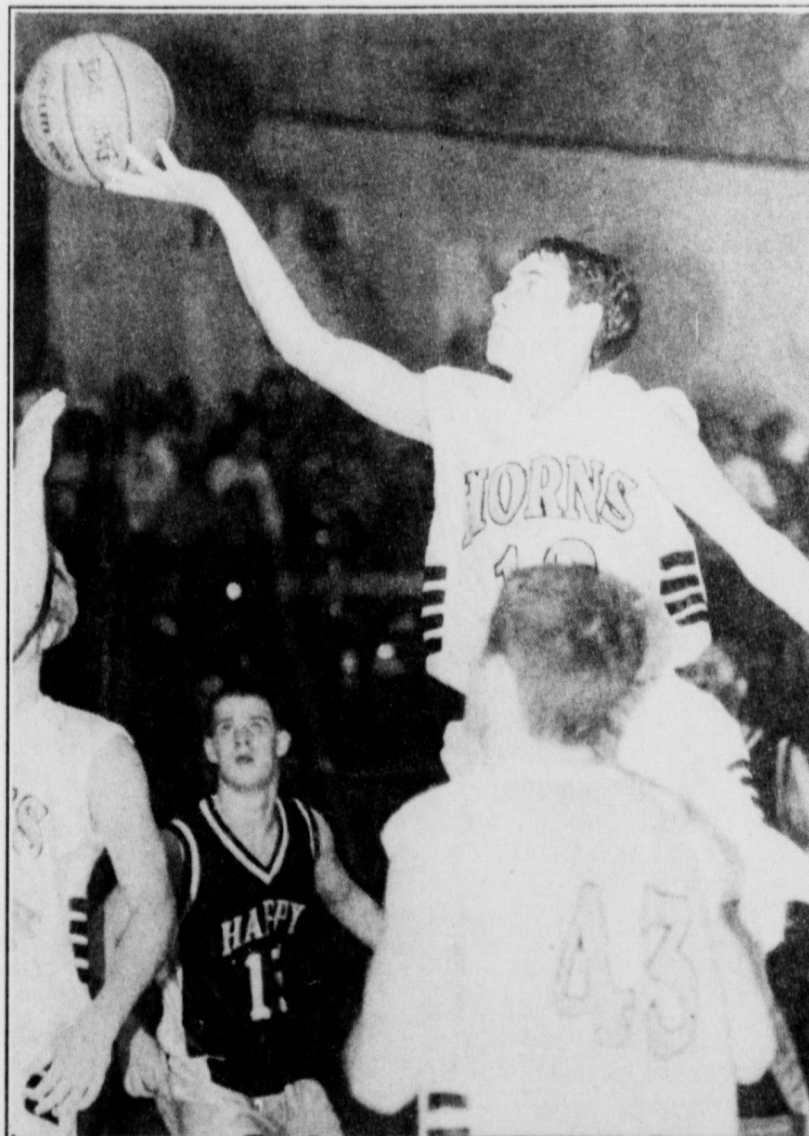

"I was a little anxious at the end," admitted first-year coach Rich Powers. "We didn't do a good job of protecting the ball. We missed some easy shots and made some bad decisions."

Still, Powers called it his team's best overall effort of the season.

"We boxed out well and really went to the offensive glass," Powers said. "That was the biggest difference in the game, we rebounded the ball well and they didn't."

Lazbuddie and Happy are the top contenders for the district title and played like it most of the game.

Happy shuts down Lady Longhorns in 2nd half of 49-39 win

LAZBUDDIE — Lazbuddie came into the contest with the better record. But records can be deceiving.

Playing championship-caliber defense in the second half, Happy muscled past Lazbuddie 49-39 and gained the early edge in what figures to be a two-team race for the District 11-1A title.

The Cowgirls (5-15 overall, 1-0 in district) broke open a tight game in the third quarter, holding the Lady Longhorns to just a pair of free throws while building a 41-26 lead.

Lazbuddie scrambled to get back in the game, but never got closer than 10 points the rest of the way in the district opener for both teams.

"They made us work for everything we got," Lazbuddie coach Carey Sudduth said after this team was held to a season-low point total. "That was definitely the best defense we faced all year."

The Lady Longhorns (15-4, 0-1) were averaging 61 points per game.

Child abuse, neglect deaths increases dramatically

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services last week released a study showing the number of Texas children who died because of child abuse or neglect increased 71 percent last fiscal year.

The department oversees Texas Child Protective Services, the agency that investigates reports of child abuse and neglect and places children in foster care and adoptive homes.

According to the study, first obtained by The Dallas Morning News, a total of 176 children died in the care of their parents or others in 1998, while 103 died in fiscal 1997.

The study proposes the hiring of more children's caseworkers and more training so caseworkers can do a better job of identifying at-risk children.

Sen. Mike Moncrief, D-Fort Worth, a member of the Senate Committee on Health and Human Services, told The News, "Our children deserve to be protected and they deserve to enjoy being children, rather than having to try and fight a daily battle for existence. We owe them more than that."

Public clemency hearings

Lawyers for death row inmates last week asked state District Judge Scott McCown to rule that the Board of Pardons and Paroles should conduct clemency hearings in public.

Presently, board members individually review clemency applications and cast their votes by mail, phone, or electronic facsimile.

McCown did not say when he would rule on the issue.

Two state district judges have found the clemency process unconstitutional. However, the procedure was upheld on appeal to state courts.

gestions but believes the current system meets the constitutional requirements.

Meanwhile, state Rep. Elliott Naishtat, D-Austin, has filed legislation that would require the board to hold public testimony meetings but would allow the board to vote secretly.

Bill seeks to end preference

Public colleges in Texas would be barred from giving preferential admission to children of alumni or donors under a bill proposed by state Rep. Lon Burnam, D-Fort Worth.

The Associated Press reported that Burnam said he wants to challenge a portion of the Hopwood ruling that struck down affirmative action at Texas colleges.

In the Hopwood case, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals forbade consideration of race in admissions but said other factors, including the applicant's "relationship to school alumni," could be used.

The alumni provision helps white students gain admission, especially at schools that didn't admit many minorities a generation ago, critics of the Hopwood decision say.

Land office chief cuts jobs

On his first workday in office, Republican land Commissioner David Dewhurst announced the firing of 110 people — 16 percent of the agency's 690 staffers, the Austin American-Statesman reported.

"My decisions were based solely on the optimum number of employees needed to fulfill most efficiently the duties and services of the General Land Office and the people of Texas," Dewhurst said.

Dewhurst succeeds longtime Democratic Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who resigned after 16 years at the post to run for governor in the last election.

Bush names insurance chief
Gov. George Bush last week appointed Jose Montemayor, subject to Senate confirmation, as Texas insurance commissioner.

Montemayor, 47, was an associate commissioner under Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer.

Bomer leaves office after four years to join Gov. Bush's staff.

Montemayor's priorities:

- Improve ability and affordability of auto and homeowners insurance

- Make sure insurance companies are prepared for potential losses related to year 2000 computer glitches

- Help shore up the financial ailing HMO industry in Texas.

Portales author honored by science fiction magazine

PORTALES, N.M. — The science fiction magazine Amazing Stories is honoring the 70th anniversary of Jack Williamson's first publication in the pages of its new winter edition.

The magazine features a new story by Williamson, a professor emeritus of English at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, had his first science fiction short story, "The Metal Man," published in Amazing Stories in 1928.

The new edition of Amazing Stories also contains a profile of Williamson by Pamela Mohan and a tribute to him by noted science fiction writer and long-time friend Frederik Pohl.

In the Mohan article, Williamson says, "Science is shattering old traditions, challenging old ideas, and offending those who hold them...At ninety, I feel no personal dread of any coming global doom and it's a great age for science fiction."

Williamson has had an asteroid named after him.

"The Metal Man" was about a crystalline radioactive life force that turns everything within its reach into metal.

Williamson's new story is called "Miss Million". It is set in Portales, with much of the action taking place at the Portales Inn. It is about a beautiful extraterrestrial woman who seduces a preacher for the purpose of cloning herself.

Haffner Press also has a full-page ad in the magazine saluting Williamson's 70 years in science fiction and promoting a book they are publishing of his short stories. The inaugural title, "The Metal Man & Others: The Collected Stories of Jack Williamson," is the beginning of a publishing program to bring into print all of Williamson's shorter works.

The magazine is available at the ENMU Bookstore.

County considering purchasing ambulance

By LESLI RADFORD
Journal staff writer

A grant proposal for purchasing a new ambulance was discussed during Monday's Bailey County Commissioners Court meeting.

Bailey County EMS director Jackie Wayne Burris presented the proposal to the court, explaining that the grant would pay up to $35,000 for a new $80,000 ambulance. The new emergency vehicle would replace an eight-year-old ambulance currently in use. The proposal will be presented to the state.

The ambulance that is being replaced has cost the county thousands of dollars in repairs, according to County Judge Marilyn Cox. She said that the old ambulance has been trouble from the start, and most of the repairs were not covered under warranty.

"We will be giving this ambulance to the Three Way area and getting rid of their old ambulance," Cox said. The demand for an ambulance in Three Way is not as heavy, Cox said.

In other court action Monday:

Robert Lepard, Jim Ella Clemons and Curtis Lynn Carpenter were selected to serve on the Salary Grievance Committee.

Jurors pay was also discussed. It was decided that the payment will be the same as 1998. Jurors serving in either criminal or civil cases will be paid $12 per day if they serve on jury, and $6 per day if they do not serve. Jury commissioners and/or grand jurors will be paid $10 per day.

The Court also considered authorizing the county judge to advertise for proposals on erecting and putting in place 911 road number signs. The motion carried unanimously. More information on the road signs will be presented at the next scheduled meeting in February.

An amendment to the personnel policy regarding retirement was passed. Employees will contribute seven percent of their paycheck toward their retirement fund with the County contributing 8.99% on top of the interest that is accumulated over the years. To be eligible for retirement benefits, county employees must be 60 years old and have worked with the county for at least 10 years.

The Court also considered purchasing ballot boxes from Parmer County. The boxes come in sets of four that nest inside each other for easier storage and are a lighter weight than the current boxes. A set would cost $100.

Terms were also set for Justice Court and County Court. Each term will begin on the first calendar day of January, February, March and April.

Other items on the agenda discussed were the approval of payroll, approval of the County Treasurer's Report for the month of November, the soil conservation worksheets were collected and the commissioners were appointed as road overseers.

Longtime employee honored

A retirement reception for Mary Moore was held Friday at the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room. Moore retired in December after 40 years at Muleshoe State Bank. She was a teller and assistant cashier.

Laney elected to another term as Speaker of House

AUSTIN — State Rep. James E. "Pete" Laney Tuesday was unanimously re-elected as Speaker of Texas House of Representatives by the members of the House.

Laney, 55, has served as Speaker of the House since 1993. He represents Texas House District 85, which includes Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Motley, Parmer, and Swisher counties.

In his address to the House, Laney (D-Hale Center) said the Legislature should continue the kind of responsible budget management that has produced a record budget surplus for the state government.

"There is no question that our remarkable economic growth in recent years has increased state revenues. But that does not tell the entire story of our state's progress from budget shortfalls to budget surplus," Laney said. "We have managed wisely. Above all, we have exercised fiscal restraint."

He noted that the budget surplus should be used to set the course for a secure and prosperous future by investing in public education.

"We must investigate in education in ways that will help develop the tremendous potential of every child in Texas," he said.

The House Speaker said his other priorities for the session include making further progress on health care for children, addressing the dramatic increase in child abuse in Texas, assisting the economically depressed agriculture and oil production industries, and reforming campaign finance laws.

Laney is a fourth-generation cotton farmer. His wife is the former Nelda McQuien.

Mules drop shootout at Dimmitt

DIMMITT — Expect a shootout when Muleshoe and Dimmitt meet.

For the second time this season, the teams faced off at 19 feet, nine inches — the distance to the 3-point circle — with Dimmitt pulling out 74-70 win and completing a two-game sweep of the Mules.

The game featured 19 3-pointers, including six by Dimmitt's Derek Buckley, who finished with a season-high 29 points.

Mason Sinclair (three 3s) and Dustin Cleavinger (two 3s) had 17 points each for Muleshoe.

The teams combined for 21 3s in Dimmitt's 70-62 win in December.

"I thought it was a heck of a game — especially for the fans," Muleshoe coach Ralph Mason said. "When the game is that close it comes down to a lot of little things — a turnover here, a missed shot there. The bottom line is they shot the ball better than us."

No. 11 Dimmitt (14-8) raced to an 18-point lead before settling for a 29-20 edge in a

Lady Mules open district with win

ACUFF — Muleshoe had a simple goal heading into Friday's District 2-3A opener at Lubbock Cooper.

After getting roughed up during a rugged pre-district schedule, the Lady Mules needed to start the district season on the right foot.

"We needed to be 1-0, that's it," Muleshoe coach Jim Gruhlkey said after Muleshoe held off the Lady Pirates 34-27 behind 20 points from Lindsey Field.

"We played really well early," Gruhlkey said about a 21-11 halftime lead.

As has been the case several times this season, Muleshoe stumbled in the third quarter and let Lubbock Cooper back in the game.

The Lady Pirates (5-16 overall, 0-1 in district) cut Muleshoe's lead to one point twice in the fourth quarter. But Field scored off an offensive rebound and Erin Wilhite (10 points) converted a pair of free throws to help the Lady Mules pull away.

Post Holly Beard led Cooper with nine points and Amy Wuensche added seven.

"We took our lumps," the former Muleshoe High School assistant coach said. "But I think it really helped prepare us for district, and it showed tonight. We really stepped up and played well."

Lair closed out the quarter with a 3-pointer and a pair of free throws, bumping the Cowgirls' lead to 15 heading into the fourth quarter.

Lazbuddie was just 3 of 19 from the field in the second half after connecting on 50 percent (8 of 16) of its shots in the first 16 minutes. The Lady Longhorns also committed seven turnovers in the pivotal third-quarter.

pointers and 28 points, including 19 points in a see-saw first half that featured seven ties and three lead changes. Adam St. Clair had a monster second half for the Longhorns, scoring 10 of his 12 points after halftime and helping Lazbuddie dominate the offensive boards.

Happy (10-6) countered with the one-two punch of Patrick McCaig and John Mark Moudy, who finished with 22 and 12 points respectively.

McCaig and Moudy, both 6-3 junior guards, gave Lazbuddie matchup fits out of Happy's motion offense.

Leading by one at halftime, Lazbuddie used a 7-0 run in the last 1:19 of the third quarter to take a 58-48 lead.

The Longhorns (14-7) stretched their lead to 64-51 two minutes into the fourth quarter when senior guard Brandon Foster hit a floater in the lane and assisted Bryce Ronek underneath on consecutive trips.

Sonny Calhoun's conventional three-point play started Happy's comeback midway through the fourth quarter. McCaig and Calhoun (13 points) scored off steals as the Cowboys shaved Lazbuddie's lead to 66-62 with 2:30 left.

After Lazbuddie missed the front end of two one-and-ones in the final minute, Moudy's 3-pointer made it 68-67 with 15 seconds left.

Josh Morris was fouled and went to the line for a one-and-one situation with 10 seconds left.

Morris swished the first free throw. He missed the second, but cousin Cade Morris grabbed the rebound and scored on a seven-footer to put the game out of reach.

"I'm real proud of the way the kids responded," Mason said. "We kept our heads in the game and whittled away at the lead."

McClanahan invited to play baseball in Mexico

Muleshoe senior Matt McClanahan was invited to play on a Texas high school all-star baseball team that will travel to Mexico this summer.

Two Texas all-star teams that will travel to Vera Cruz, Mexico on June 7-15 for a series of games against Mexico all-star teams.

McClanahan needs to raise $1,500 for the trip, which includes air fare, hotels, meals, and equipment. The teams will be in Mexico for nine days and eight nights and also do some sight-seeing.

A power-hitting outfielder,

McClanahan was an All-South Plains selection last year. He hit .485 with nine home runs and 38 runs batted in.

McClanahan is already receiving interest from several Texas colleges.

Muleshoe coach Brad Hill and former Littlefield coach Herb Rios will coach one of the teams.

Community members interested in making a donation can contact Hill at the school (272-7308) or at home (272-3401). Checks should be made payable to Team USA International.

Shaker collection passed on to granddaughter

By LESLI RADFORD
Journal staff writer

Jill Gladden enjoys collecting things.

When she was small, the Muleshoe High School senior collected pencils from the school vending machines and her mother would bring back pencils as a gift when she went on trips. Gladden also collects baseball cards.

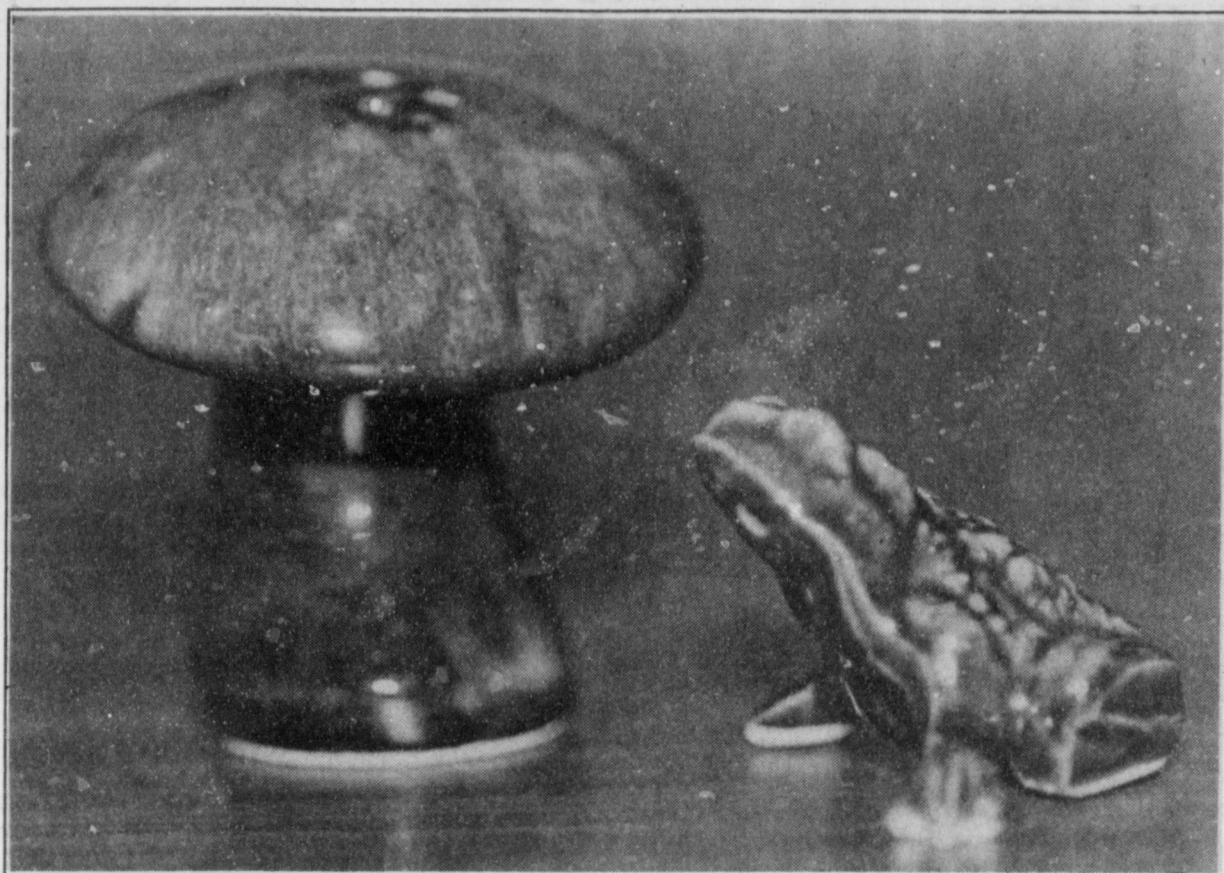

But her most valuable collection is the salt and pepper shakers she recently received from her grandmother.

Nona O'Neal started collecting salt and pepper shakers when she was in high school in the 1930s.

"I don't know why I started collecting them," the Plains resident said. "People started giving them to me as gifts, I guess that's where it started."

The collection, which is on display at the Muleshoe Area Public Library, includes shakers in the shape of chickens and roosters, frogs and mushrooms — even a small mixer where one beater holds salt and the other pepper.

Gladden's favorite shakers are the pair of pheasants.

Odd couple

A mushroom and frog are part of a collection of salt and pepper shakers on display at the Muleshoe Area Public Library. Muleshoe teen-ager Jill Gladden recently inherited the collection from her grandmother.

"They're my favorite animal," she said.

Mrs. O'Neal said that her dad fixed her a cabinet at his house where she stored the shakers. When she got married, she had no where to store them.

"I threatened to throw them away," she said. "But Jill said that she wanted them, so I gave them to her. She was the only one in the family that showed interest in them."

Jill remembers playing with some of the shakers when she was a little girl.

"I've just always liked them," Gladden. "I told my grandmother that I wanted them, but I didn't expect to get them this soon."

Gladden said she plans to store the collector's items until she has a place of her own to display them.

BUSINESS NEWS

United Supermarkets building distribution center in Lubbock

LUBBOCK — United Supermarkets, Inc. Monday announced plans to establish its own distribution operations and begin self-distributing by June 2000.

United has secured a site on the northwest corner of East 19th Street and Loop 289 in Lubbock to build a 485,000 square foot distribution center. The new facility will employ approximately 225 people.

"We are tremendously excited about the benefits of self-distribution," said Kent Moore, Senior Vice President and Chief Executive Officer for United. "Through the use of state-of-the art technology and a more direct partnership with our vendors, we will be able to offer an even higher quality product at a lower cost to our valued customers."

United Supermarkets operates 38 stores in 20 west and north Texas markets and is currently constructing new stores in Amarillo, Muleshoe and Snyder.

Llano Logistics, Inc., a member company of the Tibbett & Britten Group, has been contracted by United to build, set up and operated the distribution center. Tibbett & Britten Group is an international logistics specialist operating in 22 countries. Its member companies provide dedicated distribution operations to many leading grocery retailers in the United States, Canada and Europe.

"Our new partner, Tibbett & Britten Group, has developed a reputation for being the premier logistics services provider worldwide. We are pleased to be able to bring their distribution expertise to our market area, while allowing United to focus our efforts on performance at the retail level," added Moore.

Politics in the barnyard

Politics in the barnyard. A tale of incontinence and intrigue. The year the barnyard elected the billy goat president, Miss Piggy accused him of piddling on her porch. The chickens, who were the voting majority asked for an explanation. President Goat said, "You trust me. I never piddled on her porch."

"Come smell my porch, if you don't believe me!" Insisted Miss Piggy, but the chicken refused because they had always been jealous of the pigs due to their first billing in "Bacon and Eggs".

It wasn't long until similar accusations were uttered by others in the barnyard. Miss Bunny complained he had piddled on her hutch. "Come smell my hutch if you don't believe me. It smells strongly of goat."

President Goat again spoke to the chickens, "You must trust me. I never piddled on her hutch"

His support group known as the "Rooster Boosters" accused Miss

Bunny of lying and called her 'hutch trash', but they would not smell her hutch either.

Miss Eve accused President Goat on piddling in her paddock. "You must trust me," Billy Goat intoned, "I never piddled in her paddock." The Rooster Boosters surrounded President Goat and snorted loudly to the chickens, "Don't believe the ewe. She's just like the bunny and pig. And, whatever you do, don't smell her paddock!"

Then a cute heifer was caught in President Goat's pen. She smelled strongly of goat. "You must trust me," said President Billy wagging his finger at the chickens. "I never piddled on the heifer."

Miss Heifer said, "Yes he did. Smell my hooves." But no one would.

The chickens nodded as solemnly as a chicken could nod and believed him. The Rooster Boosters put up a raucous defense accusing the heifer of entrapment and calling her a liar.

Many domesticated witnesses were called who saw President Goat with Miss Heifer. They were called naive by the Rooster Booster. The chickens soon tired of the hoorah and went back to pecking the dirt. Eventually the barnyard pushed the presidential piddling to the back of their collective minds. Then one day a migrating Snow Goose landed in the barnyard. It was welcomed by all the four legged citizens and most of the chickens.

"Gosh," said the Snow Goose wrinkling his nose, "Why does everyone smell like goat piddle?" "What are you talking about?" They asked in unison, sniffing the air, "We don't smell anything."

Kansas winter wheat survives cold weather

Cold weather that engulfed Kansas in recent weeks appears to have not affected the state's winter wheat crop.

Farmers feared the cold could hurt the wheat which had made a growth spurt because of warm weather this fall. Plants more than 6 inches tall don't have the same capacity as smaller plants to harden and tolerate very cold conditions, said Rollie Sears, a Kansas State University wheat breeder.

High Plains personnel testing ground water levels

High Plains Underground Water Conservation District personnel are now making annual depth-to-water level measurements to determine the effect of 1998 pumpage on ground water levels of the Ogallala Aquifer within the District's 15 county service area.

These water level measurements are taken in a network of more than 1,200 privately-owned wells. These water-level observation wells are spaced throughout the Water District at a density of about one well per nine square miles.

Water District personnel make the water-level measurement by lowering a steel tape to a pre-determined depth in the well. The last several feet of the tape are coated with carpenter's chalk, which turns a darker shade of blue when it comes in contact with the water. The distance from land surface to the static water level is determined by subtracting the amount to tape with darker blue chalk from the total feet of tape extended into the well.

After the measurement is made, a vinyl sticker with the observation well number, the depth-to-water measurement, and the date is then affixed to the well or well site.

Water District personnel measure the same observation wells each year, and the current measurements are compared to that of previous years to determine the average annual change in water levels of the Ogallala Aquifer.

The data are used to construct maps showing water level changes and the saturated thickness of the aquifer.

Maps showing the location and well number of the observation wells in each county or portion of a county served by the Water District are published each year in the District's newsletter, The Cross Section.

Coyote calling championship draws 72 hunters

ST. FRANCIS, Kan. — Hunters from five states fanned out from northwest Kansas this weekend to hunt coyotes during the second annual Midwest Coyote Calling Championships.

The contest attracted 72 hunters from six states. Contestants were allowed to hunt only during daylight and could go anywhere — even out of state — as long as they got the landowner's permission. Use of dogs was prohibited, as was shooting from vehicles. Hunters were allowed to call coyotes using only hand or mechanized calls.

"The coyote's considered a varmint in every state. It's not a game animal," said hunt organizer Brent Rueb.

The winners were Dennis Howell and Dave Gwyn, who killed 13 coyotes and won $3,000 in prizes. Altogether, 127 coyotes were hunted down. Proceeds from the event, which charges each team a $200 registration fee, go to the St. Francis Chamber of Commerce.

"Whatever happened to bake sales?" asked Sheri Canfield, executive director of the Kansas Humane Society in Wichita.
