Escaped Pair Back In Cells at Snyder

Two prisoners, a white man and a negro, who escaped from the Scurry County jail last Thursday night were back in their cells Sunday in Sheriff Lloyd Merritt's bastile.

The pair, who sawed their way out of a west upstairs window of the jail about 11:00 o'clock Thursday night, were apprehended Saturday night in the Sardis community of Western Fisher County.

Arrest of the men, Willard Moudy, 22, of El Reno, Oklahoma, and Elbert Jenkins, 24, Negro, of Jacksonville, followed a foot race with Sheriff R. L. Wilkins of Fisher County and Rotan along three miles of the Salt last month to give service to

Fork of the Brazos River. Sheriff Wilkins said he and Chief stolen from Joe Dorce Roemisch of Hermleigh on a country road about 10 miles southwest of Rotan. The officers followed foot tracks across a field until they got sight of the escapees and the chase began. The alerted by Sheriff Merritt following Gas Company office reveal that

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, 1948 By the Mayor of Snyder

Whereas, fires claim lives of our crizens each year; and Whereas, many deaths from fires are those of children and the fires causing these deaths could be prevented by eliminating fire hazards; and

Whereas destruction of either industry, business or homes is a vital loss to our city; and

Whereas, most of the states and many of the municipalities of the nation have, during the past year, organized and established

Therefore, I, F. G. Sears, mayor of Snyder, do hereby designate the week beginning October 3, 1948, as Fire Prevention

I direct all the municipal agencies of the city government, and particularly the fire department and schools, to assist in arousing the public to the seriousness of the fire problem. I earnestly request every citizen to do his part in eliminating all possible cause of fire in his home or in his business. I urge that the school children of this community be given appropriate instructions to inspect their own residences, and that the fire department assist them in this effort.

Probably Two Men To Get Call in First Draft from County

At Austin Lieutenant Colonel Morris Schwartz, assistant state director of Selective Service, said Friday night a call has been issued for 670 men in Texas under the Selective Service Act.

Estimate is made by The Times hat probably two will be called from Scurry County in the first

Schwartz said the induction date has not been finally determined, but hat it would be some time in November, Texas Selective Service boards will be called on to give 1,400 men their pre-induction physical examinations some time in Novem-

Schwartz said the State Selective Service office has not yet determined from which board and ir what numbers the men will be asked in the first call under the new Selective Service Act. He said he expected to have this information available within a few days.

Fire Chief Points To Fire Control Steps for Public

Fire Chief N. W. Autry, of Snyder Fire Department declared this week, as the city prepares to observe Fire Frevention Week next week, that "by using simple precautionary methods many fires can be eliminated."

Tre fire chief, in discussing replacement costs of today, said that even in small fires where the firemen are able to confine the flames to one room, it costs property owners two to three times the amount of money to refurnish the burned-out areas as it did six years ago. The chief particularly emphasized

1.—Rubbish fires are causing a great deal of damage in our city. If people would remove the rubbish from their cellars, attics and closets, fire losses would come down and many alarms would be eliminated.

2.—Buildings which are classified as conflagration hazards should be protected by automatic sprinklers. Such installations will pay for them. selves out of savings in insurance premiums and as a result our conflagration areas will be eliminated. 3.- Basement fires are the hardest fires to fight. Firemen have difficulty fighting their way in and often do not know what the conditions will be when they reach the basement. Daylight hours are growing fewer and day by day, every member of the family needs more and better light. Little folks need good light as they look at picture books. Students need good light as they study their homework. Mother needs good light in the kitchen and Dad's evening paper reading requires plenty of good light too.

All this adds up to Better Light for Better Sight for the whole family. Cotton Prices Go Lower Last Week As Sales Increase

Spot cotton prices were steady to a little lower this week, according to the Department of Agriculture's release to The Times. Spot markets were moderately active and reported sales increased sharply.

Mill consumption in August totaled 729,000 bales compared with 627,000 in July. Mill stocks of 1,247,000 bales at the end of August were equal to less than two months' supply at the August consumption rate. Brazilian cotton worth about $8,000,000 was reported to have been purchased recently by Russia.

Weather conditions were generally favorable during the week, and pick_ ing and ginning continued to make good progress in most areas.

Spot cotton prices declined a little during the week and on Thursday, September 23, the 10-market average for middling 15-16 inch was 31.11 cents per pound compared with 31.35 cents a week earlier and 31 cents a year ago. The average spot price for the week ended Wednesday was 31.28 cents per pound compared with 31.24 cents for the previous week.

Spot markets were moderately active this week. Inquiries were more numerous and trading increased in volume. Reported sales in the 10 spot markets rose to 215,800 bales compared with 155,800 bales last week and 226,000 a year ago. Domestic mill buying was moderate in volume with mills showing a little more interest for both prompt and forward delivery

Farmers are not selling freely at prices prevailing in country markets. Loans of 215,000 bales of 1948 crop cotton had been reported to CCC through September 17 agains 114,000 reported a week earlier Trading in textile markets continue: dull particularly in the print cloths and sheetings sections. Some business was reported in tobacco cloths, drills and twills. Prices for textile were unchanged to lower.

Total consumption of cotton total_ ed 729,000 bales in August, according to the Bureau of the Census. This was 16 per cent more than the 627,000 bales consumed in July. During August a year ago consumption totaled 713,000 bales. Consumption per working day in August averaged 33,100 bales. With the exception of July daily average of 29,900 bales the daily rate of consurption during August was smaller toan for any month since August, 1945.

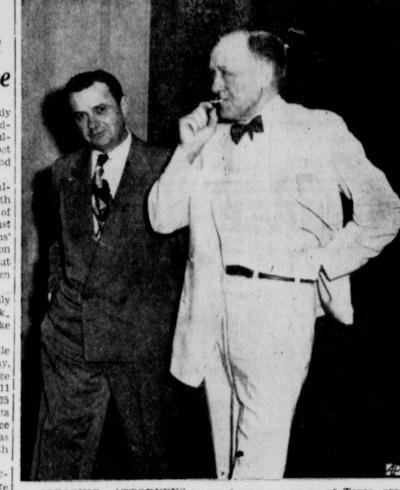

Number of active cotton spindles at the end of August exceeded the number active on the last day of July and the estimated consumption per spindle rose about 21/2 pounds. About 16.7 pounds of cotton per spindle was consumed in August against 14.4 pounds in July and 16.5 markets. of foreign growth cotton during August totaled 16,900 bales. This compares with 14,700 bales in July and 18,900 bales in August last season. Domestic mill consumption of season.

Procurement authorizations under the ECA program through September 15 totaled $1,700,000,000. Of this of Rotan. total $125,600,000 or 7.4 per cent was for raw cotton. About $71,000,000 of this allotment was for cotton going to European countries and $55,- financed such revolutionary transactions under normal conditions would have put England on the rocks financially. To do so when England was already broke-when commodities were non-existent, when such as could be produced must, of ne-cessity, be sold abroad that a secialistic government might have funds with which to buy raw materials and food-was simply impossible undertaking.

A loan of several billions of American dollars helped for a year, but that is long since gone, and England is not as near a solution of her problem as when she started the great experiment.

Her workers are not better paid, better fed or working fewer hours. Socialism has not brought to them greater opportunities than they had under private ownership. They, individually, want the opportunities that are to be found in capitalistic America. Our private enterprise, a capitalistic system, makes ever increasing opportunities possible.

Socialism has failed in Engment will take over in the comparatively near future. A sturdy, industrious people have been fooled by theorists who blithly promised "something for nothing." Those English theorists could not deliver.

The same type of theorists in this country could not for long deliver "something for nothing" a minority is demanding. The political leaders of both major parties are doing the American people an injustice when such leaders vaguely intimate they favor any part of such a socialistic course.

Room for Ability AMERICA IS THE ONE great land of opportunity in all the world today. It is a land where there is a chance for all in proportion to the ability and energy of each; where there is a big white home on the top of the hill for all who have ability and a willingness to work for such home.

No government ever will be able to provide such homes, and all that goes with them, for all of its citizens. Socialism has not and cannot equalize those with ability and energy and the laggards. America, with its economic system, can and does offer to all an opportunity to own the big house on the top of the hill that socialism could not provide.

THE PEOPLE OF ENGLAND have found, to their sorrow, that socialism is a phantasy; that in place of providing more it provides less for the energetic. We Americans who enjoy the opportunities offered by our American way of life want none of it. Our political leaders should realize that and stop making vague and false promisesas a means of attracting the votes of a minority.

WE ARE TOLD a considerable group of Democratic leaders is proposing to ditch the party's candidate for president and to devote its efforts toward electing a Democratic senate. Could be, and it has been tried before. In 1932 a group of Republican senators proposed to ditch Herbert Hoover and save themselves. They succeeded only partially. Hoover was defeated, and also the group of Republican senators who aided in the Hoover defeat. What failed in 1932 could fail in 1948.

Food Price Decline Foreseen Next Year "Lower food prices are on their way as a result of record farm other spot. production," according to a joint statement issued by the National Grange, American Farm Bureau federation and National Council of Farmer Cooperatives. They said the downward trend in many farm commodities will be reflected on grocery and meat counters as this year's bumper crops reach markets in volume. "Consumer prices have not yet reflected the declines averaging The Toughest Job about 10 per cent in farm prices from the high point earlier this year," the statement went on. "Lower prices for meats and other animal products are to be expected as the lower-priced and more plentiful grains are reflected in additional livestock production. "But this will take time. Livestock numbers have been cut sharply in recent years to make more grain available for European aid, and it will take some time to rebuild livestock herds adequately."

THE widest gap between college and pro football this fall will involve the financial side. The colleges should play to the largest crowds they have ever known, all at top prices and reduced expenses, if even part of the Sanity Code works out. The pros, due to the knockdown and drag-out, cut-yourthroat competition between the National and the All-Grantland Rice America conference, can easily lead to a financial debacle. I don't believe more than one, possibly two, of the A. A. C. teams can break even. At least four or five will take a drubbing that runs from land, San Francisco and New York might break even, or make a little. In the National league, the losses will be nothing like those in some A. A. C. cities, but due to much heavier pay-roll expenses, there will be few profits.

The National league grabbed most of the college stars of 1947-Lujack, Conerly, Connor, Layne, Evans, Gilmer, Minisi-on and on. The A. A. C. passed up the stars, although Chappuis must be rated one of them

The Brooklyn Dodgers, opening to 16,000 when they needed 30,000 to break evenbadly beaten in their opener-may take the next dipping at $300,000 or $400,000. The National league is luckier in having such teams as the Giants, Bears, Redskins, Ea-gles, Packers, Steelers, etc., established in cities where they have been planted for years. George Marshall of the Redskins

s sold out in advance each season, although George and many football writers are not exactly on speaking terms. As long as Mr. Marshall doesn't care, why should anybody else bother? He has a monopoly that also won't make much money in this football war. Tim Mara and George Halas have had the two richest franchises. They should have. They built up pro football. They've been on the There is certainly a place for

The College Side

On the playing side, the pros will have a great season. But the colleges will have an even greater playing season plus a far more cheerful financial side.

This should be one of the top years of college football, no matter what section you turn to.

The East faces one of its most interesting campaigns-Penn State, Army, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Columbia, Navy, Rutgers, Holy Cross, Villanova, Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Boston College-on and on. Here Penn State is the team to beat.

Then move to the Midwest-look at what they have to offer: Notre Dame, Michigan, Purdue, Minnesota and Northwestern. Now to the Southwest: S. M. U., T. C. U., Texas and Rice. The South presents such teams as North Carolina, Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt, Mississippi State, Alabama, Georgia.

I can give you over 50 college squads along a high levelwho will draw capacity crowds. For example, Southern California may win no title of any sort. But it will outdraw any pro team at least two to one on the financial side. So will Notre Dame, Michigan, Ohio State and Cali-Under the new Sanity Code, the

Athletes Won't Suffer

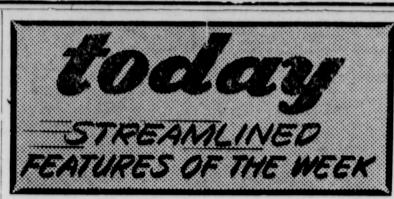

But don't let anyone tell you that any section has gone shy in taking care of its athletes. Not by any university, or by any college, but by certain proud and rather wealthy citizens who might be operating from New York or Chicago or any

The Sanity Code isn't going to work perfectly. But it should help. At least there might be a reduction from the $5,000 and $10,000 paid to certain stars-in many cases more than the pros get.

Virginia's refusal to adopt the N. C. A. A. Sanity Code has somewhat shaken the apple cart. One penalty is refusal to let the offender play an N. C. A. A. team.

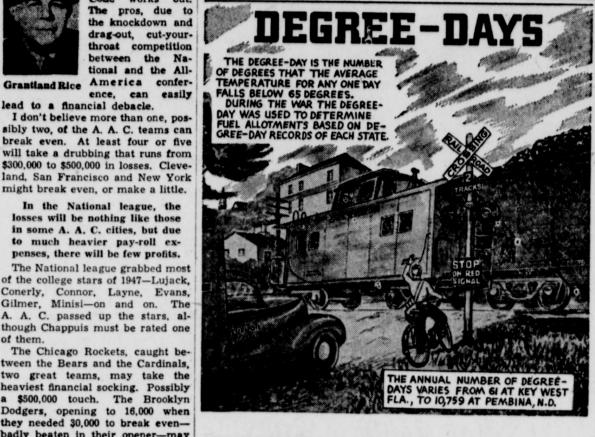

If anyone should happen to ask you the hardest job in sport, you wouldn't go far wrong if you mentioned acting as an official in a football game.

When 22 earnest young men are all in fast motion at once, many things can happen beyond reach of the human eye. It is for this reason we'd like to salute the Southern conference. At least it has done more than any other conference in the country to give football its best

But in the end I decided that, with real fireworks likely to break out in Berlin this winter, I ought to take a look at things beforehand, so I got steamship reservations for Europe and went through the red tape of an American military government permit to visit Germany

When the sailing date rolled around, however, I just didn't get on the ship. I just stayed right at home and enjoyed the Maryland countryside.

Staying right at home proved to be wonderful-that is, until the pigs got loose. Here are some of the things I did:

Filled the silo. My son-in-law, who used to be a diligent silo-filler when he was courting my daughter, was absent this time; and even my radio agent, Jackson Leighter, never known to do a stroke of work during the rest of the year, carefully sprained his ankle just before silo-filling time.

Went to Church. What with getting up at 6 a. m. Sundays to pre- cities and towns. pare a radio broadcast during most of the year, I don't get to church as often as I should. Especially enjoyed the sermon of Bishop John E. at Bethany Beach, Del.

Pigs Get Loose

Most of the above were enjoyed during the first part of my vacation-before the pigs got loose. I might note in passing something obvious to most lady readers-that this stay-at-home vacation didn't go down too well with Mrs. P. After all, when you've kept house, cooked and planned meals for a year, it's only natural to want to let a hotel manager worry over 81st congress, and who is author of the food and the servant problem during your husband's vacation. However, Mrs. P. was a good sport, and, among other things, enjoyed her garden, especially one plot of lawn she had worked hard to keep green and on which we sometimes played deck tennis.

This is the point where the pigs came in. It was, of course, my fault. I had seen them roaming around loose, and I had been warned by the lady who is much righter than I am that they might descend on the lawn. However, they were such nice little pigs, and they so obviously enjoyed their freedom, that I put off catching them for a day. That day turned the tide of my vacation. That evening the pigs decided to play deck tennis. I don't know which of them won, but I > decrease in farm population? The bureau of agricultural economics in answer to that question told this reporter that the basic reason is simply that there are too the farmers can do the job they are doing with many less farmers than there are today.

Actual farm population of the country as of January 1 this year was 27,439,000 which is a decrease of three million since 1940. So in seven years there was a migration of three million persons away from the farms and to the cities.

Even so, there are still more than enough farmers to do the gigantic a part-time or full-time job in the

In 1944 which was one of the peak years of farm production there were only 25,630,000 persons living on farms, the main reason being that From a practical standpoint there the young men had gone to war.

There simply isn't room enough or work enough on the farms to take up the population born on farms. Farm population would double itself in a generation. The birth rate in the rural areas is 19.1 as compered to 17.1 in urban areas to every 1,000.

For three decades, technological development, increased yields per acre despite rapid population increases of the nation as a whole and consequent increased demands for more food, have brought about a trend of migration away from the farms. And were it not for the higher standard of living brought about er conveniences on farms, this migration would be even more rapid than it is today.

Machine and power tools, better housing and schools, the automobile-all have been a deterrant to prevent this out-farm movement, but it hasn't been enough and the simple fact remains that the nation still could do with fewer farmers and still produce sufficient quantities of food to feed the country and part of the world.

Even back in 1930 when there were not many jobs in cities, one out of seven farmers went to the cities to work. In 1940 one out of five farmers worked in cities and towns and as pointed out above, today one out of three adults make their living or part of it working off the farms. While this migration has been mostly from the smaller and less economically prosperous farms, even on large commercial farms and the better family-size farms the ratio of adults working in the cities holds good.

. . . Cabinet Post

Many of the political dopesters here say that the next secretary of agriculture, if Governor Dewey is elected, will be Congressman Clifford Hope of Kansas, chairman of the house agricultural committee.

Probably standing head and shoulders above Congressman Hope as a statesman is Sen. George D. Aiken (Rep., Vt.), who will head the senate agricultural committee in the the new long-range farm bill. But Senator Aiken is too independent and too liberal.

This column predicts the next secretary of agriculture, provided, of course, Dewey is the choice of the people, will be someone like Milton Eisenhower, president of Kansas State college and brother of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Farm Co-ops Grow

Despite fights being made on farm co-cos by some politicians, membership in the past year has increased by 400,000 to 5,436,000 members according to the co-op research and service division of the farm credit administration. Business of the 10,125 co-ops increased 16 per cent to $7,116,000,000 for the year. Sixty per cent of the business was in the 10 states of California, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, New York, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Indiana and Washington.

Civil service employment in the federal government has edged back over the two million mark. Along in 1943 or 1944 at the war's peak it was a little over three million but liquidation of wartime agencies and appropriation slashes have brought it down. Senator Byrd of Virginia protested to the post office department its increase of 43,784 in personnel in the last six months. But postal officials say its a matter of increased business and that its force of 503,834 persons will handle 43 bilyon pieces of mail this year.

Hyderabad Events in India were a far cry from the days when Mohandas Gandhi's philosophy of passive diplomacy prevailed among the affairs of that sub-continent.

Indian troops, strongly supported many farmers. As a matter of fact, by armored units, had invaded the princely state of Hyderabad (see map) whose Moslem ruler-called the Nizam-had refused to join with the other Indian dominions even though Hyderabad's population is predominantly Hindu.

THAT WAS THE whole story. The Nizam and his small compact Moslem court would not agree to follow the other Indian princely states in acceding to the Dominion of India which was established last year.

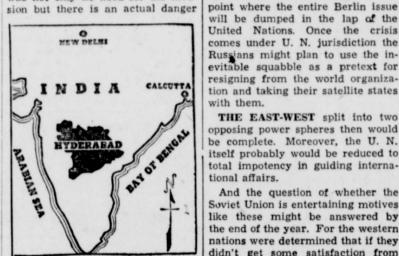

The Nizam, often called the rich job of production which has been est man in the world, and the only my vacation—just enjoyed my home asked of the farmers of the nation, surviving heir of the great Mogul empire, wanted to rule an independ-

2. IT IS A BLOW to the British Commonwealth, to which both India and Pakistan still belong. With the Russians acting the way they are, any disturbance of the delicate balance of power that still prevails in the East could bring still another catastrophe down upon the world.

Rotan Clings to District 6-A West League Top Rung

Rotan still stayed on top in percentages for the football teams of District 6-A (West) following tilts last week-end, despite her loss the previous week to the Monahans aggregation.

Snyder was idle last week, but was safe in her cellar position in the averages.

Anson displayed her prowess again in the football district by drubbing a Colorado City eleven 27 to 7. An. son has easily determined herself the favorite in the western end of District 6-A

Roscoe Plowboys journeyed to Lit. tlefield where the two teams battled to a 6 to 6 tie. Merkel's Class A squad defeated the Class B Loraine Bulldogs by a 38 to 6 count

Rotan's 48 to 7 defeat of Stamford definitely established the Fisher County grid group as strongest in this six-team circuit. Spur downed the Pied Pipers from Hamlin by a 28 to 6 score.

With three weeks of play behind them, the teams of the District 6-A (West) stacked up like this in the percentages for the year:

Teams—	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Rotan	3	2	1	.667
Hamlin	3	1	1	.500
Roscoe	3	1	1	.500

Snyder District Scouters Plan to Go to Park Meet

Snyder District Boy Scout committee will attend a barbecue and note burning ceremony at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains on Thursday evening. October 14, it was announced this week by Lyle Deffebach, district chairman. Several of the committeemen have not visited the Scout ranch since its purchase last year.

The note burning ceremony will be a special feature of the gathering, which will be in lieu of the regular quarterly meeting of the council executive group, which met in July at Snyder, according to H. L. Wren of Snyder, president of the 15-county Buffalo Trail Council.

Wren stated that all donors to the ranch fund and all Scouters of the council will be invited to the ceremony. The occasion will celebrate the paying in full for the ranch property which was accomplished in August this year.

A program of entertainment and inspiration will be provided, and there will be a brief session of the council's executive board.

Most of the Snyder District group plan to take their bedding and will spend Thursday night and most of the day Friday in the Scout park, Deffebach says.

"Yes, something like that." "Go in and write it down before you forget it." She spoke casually. "Pencil and score sheets on top of the piano. Help yourself."

She pushed him away, gently, decidedly. "Hurry, before it goes." Brennan, who was doing the lyrics, put words to the melody the next morning in Mario's hotel room. At noon Hammond heard the song. approved, and took Mario out to lunch.

"Funny how a little urging can get you artistic guys underway,' he grunted. "Frankly, I don't like highbrow musicians. I'd rather work with the Tin Pan Alley variety-people like Edna Sheridan, Tommy Dorlon. But that's a good tune. Sounds like a natural."

It was after five when Mario's taxi took him to Amarillo Canyon. The Great Dane barked ominously when he opened the iron gate, but the dog was chained and Mario went on to the letter-box and key Edna left for him. There was a note saying she'd be back in an hour, on the living room table, an open manuscript on the piano rack. Mario saw its title, "No Song Is Lost," when he switched on the shaded light and sat down to play.

Starve a Fever

The following editorial was written by a farmer, F. B. Curry. He was awarded a first prize for the writing by The Nation's Agriculture, magazine of the National Farm Bureau. We believe it is worthy of Inflation is upon us, whether we like it or not. It is beginning to undermine our physical, mental and social framework. People are beginning to lose their are cheap, and refusing to buy some necessities because they are high. We must recognize this condition and cope with it.

ately. I have a friend in town, a low salaried man with a wife and two growing buys, who does not buy sters need milk for their health's sake!

Checking this greater inflation threatening us must stem from the individual-citizens; the individual producer, processor, middle man and consumer. The government is composed of the people, and the people are merely a collection of individuals. Every individual has an influence of a sort, and the millions of aggregate influences shape the destiny of a democratic nation.

toan he thinks. Especially can farmers exert their individual influences. In fact, the present seems to be a very opportune time for the farmer to secure his future economic stability. He can watch prices of useable goods, and if outrageous, let them alone. He can endeavor to make other means suffice if

Lack of demand will finally bring these costly

There are not a few, but many ways a farmer might help control inflation. He can be thrifty, but he should not rob Peter to pay Paul. For example, one friend of mine would not buy mineral for his cattle because his money was running short; although he knew his pasture was mineral deficient and the extra returns would more than pay the cost. Expenses for greater and better production, expenses which will more than liquidate themselves, are wise Greater production will slow down skyrocketing prices. Thrift is not miserliness. The farmer can budget his time more profitably, emply labor saving devices, spend his profits on capital goods with a lasting or expanding value, insure his more valuable possessions, including his life. Ad infinitum.

But best of all he can buy government bonds Bonds will do more toward fighting inflation than anything else, because they take savings out of the spender's hands. Also, the longer they are held the faster the interest piles up. Yet the more bonds one buys, the more he wants to buy. It is habit forming. And, of course, it builds security.

Inflation is a fever. Don't feed it!

Money Money, Less Value

Our economic structure is enviable by comparison with that of the rest of the world, but the piling on which it rests is being weakened daily by the inflation which is beginning to place some essentials, as well as many luxuries, out of reach of many people. There is plenty of money in circulation, but by a law of economics, the more money, the less it will buy As things stand today, the farmer is better off than ever, but the picture for him can change with terrible swiftness once the wage earner—the man who directly or indirectly buys farm produce—is priced out of the

Whenever a large group of wage earner is granted a blanket increase for the same or less work, the unalterable laws of economics are set in motion. Industry runs up prices to cover the added wage load (with perhaps a little extra margin of profit), and pretty soon the pinch is on everybody. Those who got a "raise" can't see any difference in their standard of living and those who didn't get one find themselves priced out or nearer the edge of the market. Put it this way: Railroad workers get a raise, railroads boost rates, manufacturers hike prices to take care of the increased rates and the workers who got the raise have to pay more for their shirts.

When purchasing power is insufficient to meet supply, you have a depression. We're rolling in that direction now, and a depression in the United States would shatter the world economic structure. We know that the Soviet Union is counting on an American cepression to spread Communism. We must level off enough to rehabilitate Europe economically, politically and the producer-or we are going to undermine the the wrong time to be expressing such conclusions in economy of the world and possibly our own pleasant try of life along with it. It is better to be pinched during the leveling-off than chained after the inevitable collapse.—Atlanta Journal.

Writing in the current issue of Pageant, Ted Shane gives a lengthy article entitled "Women Are Lousy Cooks" that is calculated to ring as a battle call to all women who really take pride in cooking such foods as may be provided for the family table. . . . When women get to such a state in domestic affairs that their cooking may be called below par, Mr. Shane may be interested in the fact that in nearly every case "the "men are lousy providers"-one way or the other, even though canned goods and flour may be in the cupboard, many men seem to think that women immediately after the honeymoon are "furniture fixtures" for life. . . . Quite often the man does not provide the woman with a program of entertainment and enjoyment, and in many instances the man about the house thinks he can bury his "punkin' head" in a paper or magazine after supper and the woman-as many do-is always supposed to sit in silence and just admire the hunk of anatomy she married; thinking such a structure would always be a good lover, an intriguing entertainer and at least gentleman enough to suggest a date with the little woman now and then. .
