Mass Meeting Called To Discuss Highway

Bond Issue For Farm-to-Market Roads Suggested

Movement destined to provide Scurry County people with farm-to-market and other road projects that have been "cussed and discussed" for several years is getting underway this week with plans for a county-wide highway mass meeting scheduled for November 5 in the district court room of the Snyder courthouse.

Since no funds have been available for purchase of right-of-way and building of fences, this problem is now being faced by the Commissioners Court as the county business group ponders way to secure right-of-way for the Snyder-Ira stretch on Highway 350. Deeds for the 12-mile stretch southwest from Snyder are now in the hands of the commissioners, and the project is earmarked for letting as soon as the right-of-way can be secured, according to State Highway Department officials.

Scurry County has secured only five and one-half miles of farm-to-market highways during the past six years—a feeder from Highway 84 north of Dermott west to Fluvanna.

Sponsoring the county-wide gathering will be the Scurry County Chamber of Commerce.

Discussions of a proposed bond issue in the county for probably $150,000 to handle the Snyder-Ira route, as well as expenses of future road projects in the area, will be the principal topic at the November 5 meeting.

Scurry County, far behind practically all counties of Texas in the building of farm-to-market roads, was tentatively mapped for about 75 miles of lateral roads in a post-war survey made by an independent traffic checking concern several years ago. Proponents of the November 5

Mullins has been in Boy Scout work for several years. He was a field executive out of Houston for some time. During the war he served for 42 months in the U. S. Navy.

Mullins is not a stranger to old-timers of the county. He was principal of Dunn Schools in 1935 and principal of Hermleigh High School in 1936-37.

Because of several entertainment conflicts in Snyder Monday evening, the crowd was smaller than anticipated by the two Lions Club organizations.

Legion to Organize Drug and Bugle Unit

Organization of a drum and bugle corps is a major project of the Will Layne Post No. 181 of the American Legion for the next few weeks, according to J. V. Robinson, commander of the post.

Need for such an organization has been felt for some time in Scurry County. Legion officials believe, and urge men interested in the formation of the corps to contact Hilton Lambert, R. E. Patterson or Bud Boren, who have been designated as an organization committee.

Hope of finding 32 men—whether members of the Legion or not—who will participate in parades, military rites and other public functions, is held by Legion officials. Especially do the leaders urge men with some brass instrument or drum experience to contact the committee.

Mercury-Vapor Lights to Be Put Up Near School

Seventeen more mercury vapor street lights were turned on by the city during last week to make Snyder a still brighter little city. Eight were illuminated on West 25th Street from the square to the western city limits toward Gail. Nine more lights on East 25th Street to near Cash Food Market were energized on the week-end.

Workmen were busy this week putting up the light standards on North Avenue S toward Lubbock. The project is scheduled to be completed this week-end, according to Mayor Forrest G. Sears.

Several of the new type lights will be installed from the square to the school grounds and around the school buildings. These lights were not included in the original contract for the new type lights, but city officials feel that the additional lighting facilities are needed around the city's school system.

Conventional lights formerly used in the business sections and on the highways leading from the square will probably be installed in other residential sections.

Jack Porter Will Poll Good Vote in Tuesday Count

Determined not to be outdone by folks in the rest of Texas and the nation, Scurry County voters will enter the thick of political bickering, charges and counter-charges next Tuesday to vote in the general election.

Not worried too much about the outcome of the Truman-Dewey duel, Scurry Countians and thousands of other Texans are giving more than passing interest to the United States Senate race in which Jack Porter of Houston, Republican nominee, is making a strong bid for the place now held by W. Lee O'Daniel, and being sought by the Democratic nominee, Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson's name was finally certified by the state Democratic executive committee as the party's man, and his name appears on the ticket, in spite of efforts of Coke R. Stevenson, former governor, and others to keep Johnson's name off the ticket.

Stevenson has declared that he will support Porter in the Tuesday voting. He has been joined by numerous other prominent Texans who contend that Johnson is not the legal winner of the August run-off primary election in Texas because of voting discrepancies in several South Texas counties.

Ballot for this year's election is a 19x24-inch sheet that bears eight columns of nominees and places for writing in names. Presidential and most state offices have candidates from the Democratic, Republican, States' Rights, Prohibition, Progressive and Socialist parties.

At the bottom of the newspaper size ballot are eight constitutional amendments to be voted on.

First amendment would provide workman's compensation insurance for county employees. No. 2 would provide for a board to redistrict the state for senatorial and representative districts in the event the Legislature fails to make the apportionment. No. 3 would provide that husband and wife partition between themselves community property without prejudice to the rights of pre-existing creditors. No. 4 provides for succession to the governorship in case of death of the governor.

Amendment No. 5 would exempt $3,000 of assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads from state taxes. No. 6 would put sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables and other law enforcement officers on a salary basis instead of on fees. No. 7 would provide that no state aid or revenue tax shall be levied for general revenue purposes after January 1, 1951. No. 8 would authorize the state Legislature to retire and compensate appellate and criminal district courts.

men, promoting community betterment under aegis, raising the standards of businesses and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

FORMER DRIVER OF BUS ADMITS TOSSING DYNAMITE INTO OFFICE

A former New Mexico policeman has admitted tossing a half stick of dynamite into the principal offices of the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma bus lines in Lubbock on June 14, according to District Attorney Lloyd Croslin of Lubbock.

The explosion occurred during a strike of bus drivers for the concern that paralyzed bus service through Snyder for several days.

Clyde Lomax, 24-year-old Hobbs, New Mexico, man, was one of three charged Friday with the dynamiting the bus lines offices. The other men were Drew Storey, 42, also of Hobbs, and Houston Miller, about 35, Lubbock draftsman and former driver for the bus company.

Croslin said Friday that Lomax, an ex-policeman, had made a signed statement, saying he was paid a sum of money to throw the lighted stick of dynamite into the T. N. M. & O. office of Hurley Carpenter, vice president of the bus lines.

Croslin said Miller and Storey declined to make statements.

Striking bus drivers were members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Officials denied that the union was connected with the dynamiting.

Miller was a member of the union, but had no official position, Croslin said.

The drivers' strike ended several weeks after it began with the union in defeat. The drivers won no wage raise and the bus company consented to take them back only on a seniority basis as openings occurred.

Croslin said Miller was among those who had not been taken back. Bus service was gradually restored after the first strike as the company hired non-union drivers to operate the busses. Twenty-four busses per day are operated by T. N. M. & O. through Snyder.

Quarterly Reports For Social Security Due by October 31

Regular quarterly social security tax returns and wage reports for the calendar quarter ending September 30 are due in the office of the collector of internal revenue, Dallas, Texas, by the end of October. John B. Dunlap, collector of internal revenue, and Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene social security office, announced this week.

For the sake of economy in government and to simplify reporting by employers, the two agencies use the same reports to secure needed information. Both officials strongly recommend to employers that the name and account number of each new worker be copied from his social security card when he starts to work.

The state concluded that "a great majority of employers have done an excellent job of reporting; the few who have not done so are now expected to comply fully with the requirements."

Chevrolet... Leader in Value

Your choice for QUALITY on all these counts

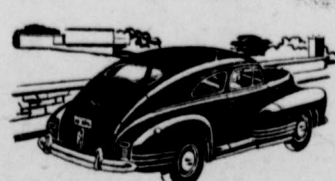

...at prices that are lower than those of any other car in its field!

Your No. 1 Choice for RIDING SMOOTHNESS

There's a very good reason why people agree that Chevrolet gives a much smoother, steadier, safer ride than other cars in its field. That reason is that Chevrolet alone has the original Unitized Knee-Action Ride, backed by more than 14 years' experience in building Knee-Action units. This feature is found nowhere only in higher-priced cars.

Your No. 1 Choice for PERFORMANCE with ECONOMY

You will enjoy much finer performance with economy in Chevrolet. Its world's champion Valve-in-Head Thrift-Master engine holds all records for miles served, owners satisfied, and years tested and proved. And Valve-in-Head engine-design, like so many other Big-Car quality features, is an advantage that is found only in Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

Your No. 1 Choice for ALL-ROUND SAFETY

You and your family will ride in safety, thanks to extra-strong Fisher Unitel Body-Construction—safety plate glass in windshield and windows—the unmatched road-steadiness of the Unitized Knee-Action Ride—and the greater stopping-power of Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes—fourfold safety-protection exclusive to Chevrolet and more expensive cars!

Your No. 1 Choice for TASTEFUL BEAUTY

You know—and your friends know—that the emblem, Body by Fisher, is the hallmark of bodies that are better by far. Chevrolet's Bodies by Fisher reveal this finer quality inside and out—in every detail—including the hardware, the upholstery and all appointments. Naturally, these finer bodies are exclusive to Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

Rotan Leading Teams of District In All Standings

Rotan High School's Yellowhammers continued to monopolize the football picture in this district as percentage columns were started this week for both conference and all-season standings. Only one other District 6-A (West) team maintained an average of 500 of the six teams in the loop. Snyder was on the bottom in both tables.

Last week's games found four of the district teams in conference tilt, Snyder playing a non-conference affair and Colorado City remaining idle.

Merkel trounced the Pied Pipers from Hamlin on the Badger home grid to the tune of 19 to 6. The game was an upset of the dope bucket. First downs were 14 for Merkel to Hamlin's eight.

Rotan did the expected thing by easily beating the Roscoe Plowboys on a muddy Roscoe field. The count was 31 to 0.

Snyder lost a heart-breaker to a strong and experienced eleven at Post Friday night by a 32 to 0 score.

All-season standings of the six teams in District 6-A (West) follow:

Team—	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Rotan.....	7	6	1	.855
Colorado City.....	7	3	3	.500
Roscoe.....	7	2	3	.428
Merkel.....	7	2	5	.285
Hamlin.....	6	1	4	.249

Von Roeder Goes To Cotton Meet on Mechanical Step

C. N. von Roeder, Scurry County cotton breeder, who with his brother, Nolan, is perfecting a storm-proof cotton for the South Plains of West Texas, was in Lubbock last week attending the National Cotton Council's second annual belt-wide cotton mechanization conference.

The conference heard reports on progress of the mechanical picker, but from one speaker the point was emphasized that a cheaper machine of some description was needed.

"The pre-eminent fact about harvesting cotton is that a great advancement took place when a new machine was tried and proven in the hands of farmers," said George B. Nutt, head of the agricultural engineering department of Clemson Agricultural College.

"The next step," he said, "is to move forward with the development of additional machines—the job of designing a satisfactory picker for sale at low cost may seem impossible, but it should be remembered that most harvesting machines in the initial stages of development were cumbersome, expensive and very often unsatisfactory."

R. C. Archer, vice president of the International Harvester Company, discussed progress in the mechanical picking of cotton. He said his firm had a production schedule this year of approximately 1,200 machines, but will fall short of that figure because of materials shortages, "but the cotton picker may now be definitely regarded as a machine which is in full production."

Archer said his company was carrying on an extensive program to reduce the cost of the present model.

Hermleigh Wins from Lueders Crew 32 to 0

It was another victory for the fast, shifty Hermleigh High School Cardinals last Friday night when they tangled with the Lueders High eleven on the Pirates' home field. Count at the end of the melee was 32 to 0. This was the seventh straight victory for the Southeast Scurry County team coached by Howard Swann.

Dale Stuard, Dub Wright, Jimmy Writz and Bobby Roemisch scored the touchdowns.

Lueders penetrated the 20-yard zone once in the first quarter. First downs were 10 for Hermleigh and four for Lueders.

REPUBLICAN candidate for Congress from the 19th District who was in Snyder Monday is Mohler D. Temple (above) of Lubbock. He seeks the seat of George Mahon of Colorado City, Democrat incumbent who is now seeking reelection in the general election November 2. Mohler ran four years ago for the place.

Drilled to about 230 feet, the well had been cased off Tuesday, and pump was being installed late Wednesday on the well to test production possibilities.

The Schattel project may touch off the drilling of several irrigation wells in Scurry County, which have been talked for some time in the area.

Interment was in the Snyder Cemetery under direction of Odum Funeral Home. Military rites were conducted at the graveside by members of the Snyder Veterans of Foreign Wars post.

Robert Henderson Trains at Cheyenne School in Air Force

Private First Class Robert Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Henderson of Route 3, Snyder, has begun training at the U. S. Air Force Technical School at Fort Francis H. Warren at Cheyenne, Wyoming. It has been announced by Colonel J. C. B. Elliott, commanding officer, in a release to The Times.

Besides aviation engineer skills, such as construction equipment operation and repair, plumbing, carpentry, drafting, surveying, electricity and other building, and construction skills used in building air bases, there is also an administrative course at this historic old former cavalry post, now a part of the Air Force Training Command.

Upon completion of his training at Fort Warren, young Henderson will be ready to assume his place at air force bases throughout the country and the world as a welder, bulldozer operator, mechanic, clerk typist or any other of the more than 30 skills taught at the Wyoming base.

Some of the aviation engineer students will be assigned to aviation engineer battalions which are trained as units here prior to being assigned air base construction and maintenance duties anywhere in the world.

Coach Tommy Boone announces that all his regular squadmen will be back in the line-up Friday night, although several of the boys are nursing injuries.

Band and Pep Squad Perform at Post Tilt

The Tiger Band and Pep Squad of Snyder High School performed on the Post football field last Friday during the intermission of the Post-Snyder game.

The letters P-O-S-T were formed, and then a large T was formed by the Tigers and the band played the "Alma Mater" and a fight song. The yell leaders and twirlers were lined up in front of the formation.

An old man heard about some pills that would restore his youth. He bought a box, but instead of taking one every day, he swallowed the whole boxful one night before going to bed.

Next morning the family had great difficulty in rolling the old man. At last he rolled over and rubbed his eyes.

"All right, all right," he grumbled. "I'll get up. But I won't go to school!"

Seeding of Grass In Area Reveals Success for Year

Spring seeding during 1948 of abandoned fields to pasture grasses has been successful, according to a recent survey, reports Bob Dupree, conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service office in Snyder.

Clyde South, new member of the board of supervisors of the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District, has an excellent stand of sand love, weeping love and blue panic grasses on about 25 acres. Clyde seeded this area because it was too steep for profitable cultivation.

John Floyd, Lawrence Jones, Olin Johnson and Robert Smith are other district cooperators who have a fair stand of native or introduced grasses. Very little results have been seen from a 60-acre seeding on the 9-R Ranch, probably because rains came so late there.

A special drill built and furnished by the Soil Conservation Service was used on most of these jobs, reports Dupree. This drill will probably double the chances for a stand as it places the seed uniformly and not more than half an inch deep.

Martin and Hoyt Murphy recently harvested blue grama grass seed from a plot they planted in 1944. These seed will be used to plant other areas next spring.

Fields can be seeded more successfully soon after they are abandoned and a good cover of grasses can be expected in about five years. Thirty years or longer are required to do the job under natural conditions.

Still better, a good combination of conservation practices applied now may maintain most of our land in a condition that will make cultivation profitable, Dupree declares.

Early Response Good To FB Member Drive

Early response to the drive for securing 1,000 memberships in the Scurry County Farm Bureau is good, according to Ross Williams, president of the county unit. Renewal of memberships for the 740 past members, and addition of 260 more, is slated during the campaign that began last Thursday.

A meeting outlining plans for the drive was held last Thursday evening in the county court room, when instructions were given to community leaders. A broadcast by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas State Farm Bureau, was heard during the session.

BABSON SAYS STALIN HOPES TO TAKE EUROPE AFTER U. S. GOES

Washington, D. C.—I have had so many inquiries from my recent column which discussed in part Mr. Babson's opinion that I will now answer the main question "What are Uncle Joe's plans?"

We may get into way next year by some accident or some unauthorized shooting by Russian, American or Allied troops. I, however, am sure that war is not a part of the present Russian program for the three reasons which I gave a couple of weeks ago. Russia's program is to worry and scare us to build up such a great Army, Air Force and Navy that the expense will upset our domestic economy. Remember that it costs the United States 10 times as much a month to maintain a soldier as it costs Russia.

This perpetual mobilization could so increase our taxes and cost-of-living that it could bring about a business recession here notwithstanding our shipments to Europe. Business failures and real estate foreclosures would greatly increase. These could intensify a moderate deflation like pouring kerosene onto a fire.

I have just been told about a government order for 26,000 big trucks with 100,000 big extra tires to be shipped abroad. I mentioned this to a Russian and he said, "We will get them free ourselves some day when we take over Western Europe." Stalin is not only encouraging us to bust ourselves by terrific armament expenditures, but he is also tempting us to send tremendous supplies to Europe. These he expects to some day take over together with factories and railroads which we are building there.

Stalin believes that time is in his favor and that the longer he can keep us from attacking Russia the better off he will be in three ways: That is, first, by causing us to have such a huge military program that it will upset our domestic economy; second, to get us to send all these good things to Western Europe which he can later take over; and third, he will have time to stock up atomic bombs.

Stalin probably feels that some day the American people will get tired of supporting England and Western Europe; also that when we do quit he can take it over. Many military men admit he may be able to do this. If so, certainly this country would be in a desperate position. Let us hope there will be an internal revolution in Russia before that time comes.

We hear of individuals moving out of big cities, getting a little farm in the country and decentralizing their industries. This is all to the good. There is another thing which every business should recognize—namely, that continued high prices and high wages are causing a constantly increasing demand for more working capital. It is very possible that the next depression may not hurt the common man so-called, but rather his employer.

Many employers are destined to be short of cash, and will either have to give up their business or sell it out. Today with large sales, high profits and everything going fine, it is difficult for most business men to realize this possibility. Remember, however, that it is usually the unexpected that happens. Never forget that Newton's law of action and reaction applies to economics as well as to mechanics.

Every reader of this column should lay up sufficient cash reserves for trouble ahead. By all means, keep out of debt. Corporations, if necessary, should pay a withholding tax to the government rather than declare too much of their earnings for dividends. It is certain that the present prosperous conditions will not always continue.

It is possible that the employers will have to take the brunt of the blow during the next depression. They may be the ones laid off instead of their workmen. Many businesses will avoid closing only by coming under the control of new owners who have the cash to carry on the businesses.

As the government stores up munitions, and as your employees are storing up refrigerators, washing machines and other purchases, make sure that you are getting out of debt, storing up cash and increasing your working capital. Otherwise you may go "just" if Uncle Joe's "waiting game" should succeed.

Couldn't be the Same. Haughty Housewife—"Aren't you the same man I gave a piece of mince pie to last month?" Tramp (bitterly)—"No, mum, I'm not, and won't be, more the doctor says I never will be."

SNYDER LIONS AND LADIES STILL UNDER SPELL OF GAY MEETING

Snyder Lions Club members and their ladies were still in mild hysterics Wednesday, following the unusually successful ladies' night party Tuesday evening in what has been termed "the best and funniest social gathering" in its history.

A jolly innovation was "Cheerio," a lively mixer that started when the first guest arrived and continued with increasing enthusiasm until the dinner chairman said "Come and get it." Early arrivals did not "just sit around and wait" but were absorbed by the entertainment at once. Novelties and fun-makers accentuated the gala dinner, held at Sallie's Cafe, and audience participation was high.

Longest and loudest shrieks of the evening were heard during the baby contest, "Babes in Blunderland." Three "babies," newest members of the club, W. D. Haral, Myron Fenton and Fred Davis, were brought to the front and asked to select three "mamas" from the audience other than their wives. Mrs. Doyle Bynum, Mrs. Porter King and Mrs. Nolan von Roeder were duly selected and ordered to dress their infant offspring in baby dresses, bonnets and bibs, and to stand by as guides and leaders. Mrs. Bynum and "Baby" Myron Fenton won the prizes.

Guest of honor for the evening was Prince Nur-Al-Din, great oriental mystic, and diviner of the future, who received questions from the guests and read the answers in the shifting sands of his Arabian desert. Later it was learned that Doyle Bynum had been pinch hitting for the Baghdad prince, who had missed his plane or magic carpet.

"The Battle of the Sexes in Song," arrayed Mr. vs. Mrs. It was a battle indeed and General Myron Roe and Generalissima Verna Lee Roe led their vocal armies into comic bombshells of invectives and wisecracks.

The gala party was under the chairmanship of Bill Schiebel, who acted as master of ceremonies. Other club members who assisted in the merry-making included Cal Callo-way, Paul A. Keaton, H. O. Beard, D. R. Scott and J. M. Newton.

Hermleigh Holds To District Lead With Seventh Win

Those footballers down at Hermleigh continue to dominate the District 9-B circuit by their sustained scoring power. In the seven games played this year the Cardinal crew has been scored on only one time, and that for six points when the Seagraves trailed in the first game of the season.

Coach Howard Swann told The Times this week that his Hermleigh High School squad had made 136 points to their opponents' six, and had made 1,620 yards to 580 for the foes in the seven games.

Hermleigh last Friday night drubbed the Lueders Pirates 32 to 0 when the Scurry Countians went to Jones County for the tilt. It was a non-conference affair.

Robert Lee gridders overpowered the Lorraine eleven Friday night to the tune of 35 to 0. First downs were 12 to four in favor of Robert Lee.

Bront and Roby played to a deadlock Friday night at Bronte. The score was 7 to 7.

Full season standings for the six teams in District 9-B follows:

Team	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Hermleigh	7	7	0	1.000
Coahoma	6	5	1	.832
Robert Lee	5	3	1	.700
Roby	5	1	2	.400

FARM CASH INCOME SHOWS RISE FOR AUGUST OVER A YEAR AGO

Texas farm cash income rose 13 per cent from July to August, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported to The Times from Austin this week.

Increased sales of cotton and livestock pushed August income 36 per cent above a year earlier to total $185,787,000.

Cotton sales, in which Scurry County farmers are sharing now, were the greatest source of farm income in August, 1948. Income from cattle totaled $27,634,000 for second place.

Southern Texas Prairies' income totaled $44,286,000, the highest farm income in August, as marketings of cotton, grain sorghum and cattle stepped up from a month earlier. Farm income in Coastal Prairies, totaling $31,984,000, was second, reflecting higher sales from cotton, cattle and rice.

Farm income more than doubled from July to August in Coastal Prairies, Black and Grand Prairies.

Permits for Three Wells Issued for Tests in County

Three Scurry County permits for oil wells were among those listed by the Texas Railroad Commission for last week, according to a report to The Times.

Locations for nine wildcats and 50 tests in fields were tabulated last week in 17 West Texas counties. This represented an increase in wildcats of two but a drop in proven area starters of 17.

Totals for the first 41 weeks in 1948 became 308 locations for wildcats and 2,471 in fields, a grand total of 2,779. This is a weekly average of 67.78, down from 68 through the preceding week.

Five of the wildcats staked last week were in Pecos County and one each in Crockett, Hale, Scurry and Upton Counties.

Andrews County led in field starters with 10. Hale County gained six, Ector five, Winkler four, Cochran, Cranes, Gaines, Mitchell and Ward Counties three each, Pecos, Reeves and Scurry Counties two each, and Coke, Crockett, Floyd and Runtels Counties one each.

The four Scurry County permits were for:

Roy D. Golston No. 1 T. J. Sterling, 330 feet from the north and east lines of the northwest quarter of Section 123, Block 97, Houston & Texas Central Railway Company Survey. Permitted for 2,500 feet, the well in the Sharon Ridge 2,400 field, five miles southwest of Ira, "will be drilled with cable tools."

Robert W. McKissick No. 4 R. W. Eubank, 330 feet from the north, 660 feet from the east lines of the lease in Section 120, Block 97, H. & T. C. Survey. Cable tools will be used on the wildcat in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field, one mile south of Ira.

Robertson, Knode & Prier No. 3 Moene estate, 330 feet from the south and west lines of the north-west quarter of Section 116, Block 97, H. & T. C. Survey. Rotary tools will be used on the 2,000-foot test in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field.

Refrigeration Lack Contributes to Food Poisoning in Texas

From statistics compiled by the State Health Department, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, has disclosed in a release to The Times that a lack of proper refrigeration contributes materially to the total disease outbreaks for one year, caused from foods other than milk and milk products.

During the year there were 299 outbreaks of diseases from contaminated foods, incapacitating 12,526 persons, 17 of whom died. "The food poisoning was usually caused from contamination through insanitary conditions, infections of food handlers or, of even more significance, lack of early and adequate refrigeration," Dr. Cox said. "Even when contaminated foods will seldom develop toxins sufficient to cause poisons if properly refrigerated promptly after preparation. Outbreaks caused from foods have totaled nearly six times the number caused from water or milk."

The state health officer pointed out that the consuming public is, in many areas, protected by proper enforcement of sanitation standards for eating establishments such as are set up in the United States public health service milk ordinance and code. The public is entitled to a good, clean, safe and wholesome food supply, including milk which has been produced under strict sanitary conditions and properly refrigerated. This is a great protection against disease outbreaks caused by contaminated foods of various kinds, and Dr. Cox said this was especially obvious in view of the fact that no disease outbreak has as yet been traced to pasteurized grade A milk, which had been adequately refrigerated.

It won't be long before the old narrow roads, where two cars can barely pass without colliding, will be replaced by splendid highways on which six or eight cars can collide at the same time.

Employers Required To Deduct on First $3,000 on Wage Paid

Employers are required to deduct social security taxes on only the first $3,000 of wages per year, manager of the social security office at Abilene, said this week in a release to The Times. "Even at this late date," he said, "the Social Security Administration is still getting inquiries from employers and employees about these excess taxes."

The employer's quarterly tax returns should show the name, social security number and the amount of wages paid each employee. The release points out, however, that after an employee has been paid $3,000 in the course of a calendar year, the employer should no longer include his name on his report.

Request for refund of excess taxes paid on more than $3,000 should be made with the collector of internal revenue and not to the social security field office, and must be made within a period of two calendar years after the year in which the wages were paid.

MASS MEETING

meeting declare a bond issue would provide right-of-way and fencing funds for immediate action on any road project that can be promoted for the county.

Charles W. Smith of Dallas, representative of a bond buying firm, will be present at the mass meeting to answer questions in connection with county bonds for highway purposes.

S. J. Treadaway of Abilene, district highway engineer, will attend the meeting to give information pertaining to highways and farm-to-market roads in the county.

Other citizens slated to talk at the conference are J. E. Sentell, Dr. O. A. Keith and Edgar Taylor, county judge-elect.

It is pointed out by county citizens that with the recent retirement of $200,000 in road bond issues by the county, $11,000 of which will be paid off this year, no new taxes would be required for a $150,000 farm-to-market road bond issue.

All citizens of the county interested in the building of more roads in the area are urged to attend the mass meeting.

Cotton Prices Go Up $1.50 Bale as Markets Active

Spot cotton prices strengthened somewhat and gained about $1.50 a bale this week, according to the Department of Agriculture's weekly release to The Times. Spot markets were active and reported sales increased sharply. Loan entries reported to CCC during the second week of October totaled 230,000 bales bringing the season's total through mid-October to 993,100 bales.

Mill consumption of cotton totaled 739,000 bales in September against 729,000 in August. The BSA announced that about $178,000,000 had been allocated for cotton purchases through September 30. Reports indicated that picking and ginning made generally good progress this week in most sections of the belt.

Spot cotton prices advanced steadily during most of the week, and on Thursday, October 21, the 10-market average for middling 15-16 inch was 31.39 cents per pound. This compares with 31.14 cents week earlier and 33.19 cents a year ago. The average price for the week ended Wednesday, October 21, was 31.28 cents against 31.25 cents in the preceding week.

Spot market activity increased considerably this week. Inquiries were numerous, and the volume of offerings was relatively large. Reported sales in the 10 spot markets totaled 493,200 bales this week compared with 325,600 last week and 584,800 a year ago.

Mill buying was more active with demand for both prompt and forward delivery. In the Southwest demand for the lower grades increased, but the supply was reported to be scarce in most sections. Loan entries reported to CCC for the season through October 14 totaled 993,100 bales against 763,100 a week earlier. Trading in the cotton gray goods market was fairly active. Print cloths and sheetings sales were in good volume, but prices for several gray goods constructions eased further during the week.

Domestic consumption of cotton totaled 739,000 bales in September, according to the Bureau of the Census. This compares with 729,000 bales consumed in both August this year and in September a year ago. The daily rate of consumption during September averaged 34,400 bales against 33,100 in August and 33,900 in September, 1947. During the first two months of the current season about 1,468,000 bales were consumed compared with 1,441,000 in the like period a year ago. On a daily rate basis, however, consumption this season is running slightly below that of a year ago. About 33,700 bales were consumed per working day in the August-September period; this season compared with a daily rate of 33,900 in the same two-month period last season.

Cotton purchases authorized under the European Cooperation Administration through September 30, 1948, totaled about $177,900,000. Of this $123,200,000 was for European countries and $54,700,000 for China. This will purchase about 685,000 bales for European countries and 367,300 bales for China or a total of 1,052,300 bales. The cotton for European countries was distributed as follows:

COUNTY CLUB WOMEN GETTING READY FOR SHOW ON SATURDAY

Scurry County Home Demonstration Club women were reported to be "strutting their stuff" this week as they prepared their entries for the Better Bake Show, scheduled Saturday in the building on the southeast corner of the square, according to Mary Louise Pehl, home demonstration agent.

The show, sponsored by the Scurry County Home Demonstration Council, will offer prizes for winners in three divisions—cookies, biscuits and quick breads.

In the cookie division will be three classes: Whole wheat butterscotch cookies, whole wheat drop cookies and oatmeal cookies. Six cookies will constitute an entry. In the biscuit division, basic, orange and peanut butter biscuits are given spots.

Six biscuits are required for each entry. Prune bread, nut bread and banana bread are the classes in the quick breads class.

First prize in each division will be a Foley sifter; second prize will be an aluminum pie pan; and third prize will be a Pyrex measuring cup. A grand prize will be given to the woman scoring the highest points in all events.

Ribbons will be given to first, second and third places in each class. A set of measuring spoons will be given every woman who places an entry in the show.

Prizes are being provided by the Bewley Mills of Fort Worth. Judges for the show, which opens at 10:00 o'clock, will be Mrs. Joel Hodges, former home demonstration agent of Nolan County, and Mrs. Dan Gibson, home economics teacher in Snyder High School.

In an effort to familiarize every person in Scurry County and those of the rest of the Texas with the services offered by the Crippled Children's Division of the State Health Department, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, has released the following statement:

Every crippled child in Texas under 21 years of age, and of normal mentality whose parents are unable to pay for needed care, is entitled to assistance from this division. Crippling conditions which may be treated are infantile paralysis, cecomyelitis, club feet, harelip and cleft palate, burns, curvature of the spine, arthritis, bow legs, rickets, tuberculosis of the bone, flat feet, congenitally dislocated hip, muscular dystrophy, supernumerary fingers and toes, wry neck, elephantiasis, spina bifida, brachial palsy, Pott's disease, congenital anomalies, spondylolisthesis, amputation, web fingers, epiphisis and sarcoma.

Assistance may be obtained by applying to the Crippled Children's Division, State Department of Health, Austin, or by placing an application through an established city or county health unit. Full information about local groups and organizations throughout the state who are anxious to assist crippled children to establish their eligibility and receive proper care, may be had by writing for a pamphlet, "Handbook on Agencies," Address Crippled Children's Division, State Department of Health, Austin 2, Texas.

To select well among old things is almost equal to inventing new ones. Italy, 262,300; France, 241,200; Germany, 95,500; Poland, 36,200; Austria, 21,800; Denmark, 19,500; Greece, 4,800; and Norway, 3,700 bales.

Farmers Urged to Prepare for Drop In Cotton Prices

Scurry County cotton farmers are eyeing the world cotton situation with concern as the possibility of over-production may tend to lower prices of the commodity.

World production of cotton this year will equal if not exceed consumption, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas professor of cotton marketing, reported this week in a release to The Times.

This should be a signal to cotton growers to readjust their farming operations to a relatively lower price level for cotton. Fortunately for the United States, most of the increase in supply is a result of a record yield per acre which has generally served to lower cost of production.

World demand for cotton is very large provided the people of the world have the means to buy. There are two sources of buying power for cotton at the present time: The exchange of goods and services, and the policy of the federal government to help finance the recovery of the war-torn countries, especially in Europe. The aggressive use of the opportunities offered by these two sources of demand could result in the export this cotton year of raw cotton and cotton goods equivalent to 4,000,000 bales of cotton.

The cotton balance sheet shows an increase in balance September 1 this year over last year of 3,800,000 bales. During the past 15 years the cotton balance September 1 has exceeded the present balance of 17,400,000 bales 11 times.

The present supply of American cotton is not burdensome provided proper merchandising policies are followed.

Post Crew Beats Tigers 32 to 0 in Non-Conference

That Post youngster, Maley, was the center of the show Friday night when the Snyder Tigers lost a non-conference football game to the Post Antelopes. The score was 32 to 0.

Putting the best team in their history, according to old-timers, on the gridiron, the Antelopes had a wealth of material to draw from. There were 38 men in uniforms, 25 of whom are scheduled to graduate, it is said.

Post scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter to start the scoring spree. Maley passed to Patrick for the first marker. Patrick ran 68 yards to score the second tally. Maley received two passes that were good for touchdown runs, and raced 60 yards through the line for the final six-pointer.

Max Coffee sustained a badly injured arm during the Post game, but finished the game before complaining much. He will be seen in the next two or three games wearing a cast on his left arm.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Wanted: A Mother

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"IT RIDES me night and day, I can't forget it. I've everything in the world—except Robin. Robin is my boy, nine years old. When Bob, his father, and I were divorced, four years ago, the arrangement was that Bob should have Robin when he wanted him.

"I was foolishly, madly in love with Bob, and was lucky in getting small parts in the movies. Bob and I were married, and a year later were joined by my ex-wife Sheila and then, two years later, by baby Vicky. Bob is just that—a brick, and my girls fill my cup of home happiness to overflowing.

"But the constant agony is the thought of my Robin, who loves us, loves his life here in California, and is in an apartment in Chicago, with Bob and his new wife, both employees of a big department store. Phyllis, Bob's wife, makes as much money as he does; when they have vacations they go off together, and Robin is shoved into a boy's camp.

"... my letters go unanswered."

The letters he writes me tear my heart out, and yet when I appeal to his father and ask for him, my letters go unanswered."

There's Sally Hunter's problem. It is one thousands of women have to face today. They don't foresee it, when they first begin the dizzy breathless plans that free them from humdrum husbands and open the door to new exciting romantic experiences. Everyone is going to be so kind to little Robin then; Mother's new husband and Daddy's new wife are both devoted to him. Daddy's wife says that she always wanted a son; Mother's husband says he and Robin are going to be pals and go fishing together.

But that's about the beginning and the end of what Robin gets out of it. He is presently a forgotten little pawn in the game of grown-up affairs, and it is only when it is too late—as in Sally Hunter's case—that Mother awakens to the full realization of the irreversibility of the step she has taken.

Sally's course must be a waiting one. She must get every bit of joy she can out of life as it is now—that's the fundamental rule for all of us, by the way. She must keep Bob from suspecting how she misses her boy and wants him. And eventually, I am very sure, Bob and Phyllis will find that they don't want a growing lad in their lives, and will send him west to his mother.

That's life, Sally. And if you ask me if you would have had a higher average of happiness, had you stayed with Robin's father and said "no" to Bob and the dazzling possibilities of the new life, I could not truthfully answer yes. Because to be happy you have to find something deep inside you, the very core of being, and once you find that nothing ever can disturb your inner peace any more.

Worthwhile Adventure. How do I know that if you had stayed with Bob you would have developed into a woman fine and strong enough to make a success of romance? It can be done. It is the most worthwhile adventure in life. But not every woman can achieve it.

If we make mistakes, Sally, we can only go on and try not to make more. If we have a headache today, and an absent child, we can pray that when that child is restored to us we may be wiser. No life is free from regrets and hard lessons. Don't try to blame yours on anyone else. Face them.

Our transgressions against others are of long, slow growth. We can't undo their effects in a few minutes. But despite all that the pessimists say, it is my belief that we do get second chances, we do have opportunities to show that on this hard road called life we can learn and we can change.

Hollow Stump Serves as Home For Man in Washington

SEDRO WOOLLEY, WASH.—A hollowed-out cedar stump helped Peter Bilecki beat the housing shortage. Bilecki at first intended the stump to be a tool shed, but when he found it was 10 feet high and 7 feet 2 inches at the base he said he knew he had found a home.

In five months of spare-time labor he hewed out the interior, capped a roof on it, cut out two windows and attached a door.

Woman's World

Study Your Figure Problem If You Are Short and Slight

By Ertla Haley

MODELS are usually taller by far than the average woman so they can show clothes off to an advantage. If we see clothes they wear, we frequently want some like they have, but often we do not stop to think that the lines chosen for tall women will not do a thing for the woman with a short, slight figure.

Just because you're five feet three inches or less, however, does not mean that you can't look as smart as the girl who is taller. The main thing to do is to scale your clothing to the exact proportions of your figure. Keep clothes in proportion to your size and remember, above all things, that simplicity should be your guiding point not only in clothing but in accessories.

Generally speaking, the shorter jackets, the smaller hats, which by the way are very popular right now, fewer and smaller accessories, are the main pointers for short, slight women to choose.

To be delightfully chic, don't let horizontal lines cut what height you have. Use softly curved clothes, but have nothing to do with fussiness. You may wear gathers, shirring, short boleros and full skirts. Don't use too much detail in clothing as it will only detract from your delicate face and figure.

Choose soft fabrics as well as soft colors. Wild plaids and bulky fabrics are only for those with the taller figures who do not look swamped in them.

Keep things trim and ship-shape. Give a unity of impression in everything you wear, and you'll be dressing in good taste for your size.

Check Your Waist Before Buying

No matter how small and slight the figure, there may still be special problems in connection with choosing clothes since we all have some figure faults.

For instance, if you are small but long waisted don't bring the attention downward by wearing a long torso line and low placed skirt interest. It is far better to raise the waistline and achieve the long look.

There's Sally Hunter's problem. It is one thousands of women have to face today. They don't foresee it, when they first begin the dizzy breathless plans that free them from humdrum husbands and open the door to new exciting romantic experiences. Everyone is going to be so kind to little Robin then; Mother's new husband and Daddy's new wife are both devoted to him. ## Back Fullness coats scaled to the figure do more for the petite person.

Reminiscent of the quaint prettiness of the nineties is this date dress in taffeta, by Quilla Darby of St. Louis, for those who wear junior sizes. Interesting detail is seen in the overskirt draped to cascading fullness in the back.

Choose Fur Coats For Proportion

The choice of a fur coat for the small and slight person usually offers more of a problem than for one of taller stature. The tall figure can show furs off naturally to more advantage and the choice of fur is not so limited, but short women can look chic also.

Overpowering furs are to be avoided completely unless you want to look like an overgrown bear cub. Choose the small fur with slightly accented shoulders, careful length, and little fullness. The slim, princess silhouette in a flat fur is perfect for petite figures.

The demi-coat, about 32 inches in length, in a flat fur such as Persian lamb, mouton lamb or muskrat are good choices for the smaller figure currently. Be sure the shoulders are slight, and do not have too much fullness in the coat generally.

If you're choosing a fur jacket, don't choose a longer cape or wrist-length type. The above-the-waist cape or capelet are much better.

Large plaids made of heavy fabrics are not for small people since they take large frames to carry them around. Your suit may be softly tailored or even man-tailored.

There should never be too much fur on your coat if you're short. Long-haired furs are out of the question; stick to those that are short and flat.

Don't let yourself swim in a voluminous coat even though it may be the prevailing fashion. Fitted but it should be in good proportion to your figure.

Soft monotone woolsens or small patterned light-weight tweeds may be worn by small people.

Boxy, double breasted jackets will cut the small figure too much so it's wise to choose those suits which give long lines.

Select a suit that is best kept closed so that it will give a unity of impression and thus add height. You may have a small, frilly collar on the blouse, but it's really better not to show more than that, as contrasted blouses and suits destroy unity.

If you're petite, another thing to do is to avoid equal length in the skirt and jacket. Emphasize the girliness of the figure by having a short jacket.

When you do have a color break in your suit, keep it high, rather than bringing it down even as far as the waist. Match hat and shoes so they can make you look taller.

High heels and high hats do not make the short woman look taller. They give just the opposite impression because they are in such contrast to the figure itself. You may wear a high but not a towering hat, and medium heels.

Speaking of headwear, if you're one of these women who has to be out a lot on club duties or on business, the best investment to make in a hat is one of those side swept berets with a good velvet pin. They look neat, attractive and stay on.

Scatter pins are nice to use in groups of three on basic dresses or suits, and cameos and jet jewelry are very much in the vogue.

JOAN BENNETT, settling down in New York for six weeks with her family, found her apartment lacking pots and pans. With a baby and two small girls, meals had to be prepared at home. The cook gave her a list and she and the little girls headed for a department store. They were fascinated by the escalator, so she told them to ride it while she shopped. They rode happily to the top floor, then were afraid to come down, and screams for mama echoed through the building to a lower floor till she heard and went to their rescue. Had other mothers recognized that pretty mother, fans would have mobbed her!

David Butler put on make-up to direct himself in a scene for "Two Guys and a Gal" at Warner's. The plump director played himself as a director—said his last appearance in films was 21 years and 80 pounds ago.

Robert Fellows, who became a paramount director with "Wild Harvest" and recently did "Sealed Verdict," has come up the hard way. Starting with bit roles for De Mille, he has been everything from office boy to junior writer to assistant director. In 1941 he did two pictures simultaneously—"Pittsburgh" for Universal and "Bombardier" for RKO.

Signs of the times: Governor Dewey, speaking on September 21 in the time spot held by "My Friend Irma," got a Hooper rating of only 12.7—several points lower than that usually won by the CBS Monday night program. Winchell, Lux Theater, Godfrey's Talent Scouts, Stop the Music, Bob Hope and Mr. District Attorney topped him in the latest poll.

Brian Roper, English child actor, came all the way from London to play one of the principal roles in "The Secret Garden" for MGM. Margaret O'Brien and Dean Stockwell lead the very fine cast.

The annual party launching a new year for Irene Beasley's "Grand Slam," was the best one yet. It was really a family party, not a big affair for the press. "We just asked the people we liked best," somebody explained. Irene, one of radio's finest, proudly showed everyone the beautiful diamond and garnet pin her sponsor had given her.

"Night Nurse," a hit when it was released in the early '30s with Barbara Stanwyck, Ben Lyon, Joan Blondell and Clark Gable, is to be remade, with a new script, new cast and Alex Gottlieb as producer.

With his difficulties with Columbia Pictures settled, Larry Parks is set as the star of "John Sings Again." He will also make pictures for his own producing organization. He and his wife, Betty Garrett, plan to form a company to produce plays in which they will star, later adapting them for motion pictures.

Children who like to pick out tunes on the piano with one finger should not be discouraged; they may grow up to be famous one-fingered jazz pianists, like Lionel Hampton, the drummer. He displays this talent in "A Song Is Born."

Sam Hearn, famed as "Schlepperman" on the Jack Benny air show, and his brother Lew, have been signed for featured comedy roles in "Happy Times," with Danny Kaye. Both were headliners in vaudeville in the old lush days. They'll be made up to look like twins, though there is really a difference of six years in their ages.

ODDS AND ENDS—Even when he's off the air Raymond Scott is on it. He's a radio ham, operating station W2MEZ, on the 40 meters code band. Joe Doh, actor and featured singer on "Your Hit Parade," has signed a long-term acting contract with Warner Bros. Gary Cooper has Hollywood's largest collection of records of Hawaiian music; the "Good Sam" star has been collecting them for years. "Our Miss Brooks," that very amusing comedy series starring Eve Arden, now has a sponsor. "The banger deck of the U. S. S. Philippine Sea became a movie theater for a press preview of MGM's "The Secret Land."

The rest of the "Duffy's Tavern" cast stayed away from microphones this summer, but Florence Halop kept in trim for her "Miss Duffy" role by playing a young girl on "Meet Corliss Archer" and an older part on "Steve Allen."

The tame cougar that in Eagle-Lion's "The Big Cat," which costars Lon McCallister, Peggy Ann Garner and Preston Foster, attracted so many unwelcome guests while on location that armed guards were posted.

Portlight

BY GRANTLAND RICE

DID you ever try looking back 34 years? We tried it. We rolled back the years.

The game we were thinking of took place on October 9, 1914. Dick Rudolph was facing Chief Bender, one of the great pitchers of all time. Rudolph was good—but he was no Chief Bender. But the under-drafted Boston began hammering Bender. And the smart, cool Rudolph tied up the hard-hitting Athletics. Rudolph beat Bender 7 to 1 in that opening game. This was a hard jolt to Athletic fans.

Not only that, but Hank Gowdy suddenly broke loose and began hitting like a combination of Dickey, Cochrane and Hartnett. As I recall it Gowdy hit .545 in that series. He took Connie Mack's crack pitchers in turn and flayed them.

The Braves looked to be the best ball club you ever saw. I still recall the fine play of Johnny Evers and Rabbit Maranville at second and short. The over-looked Brave infield made the great Athletic infield look second-rate.

That was a long spell back—1914. The Germans had been stopped the Marne—but they were still close to Paris. The First World War was just getting up steam. I doubt that many of those playing in the 1914 series were even born at that far off date.

We had a great bunch of baseball writers—Ring Lardner, Hughie Fullerton, Damon Runyon, Boz Buller, Charley Dryden, one of the greatest, Bunk MacBeth, and on and on.

Rudolph was at his peak in this first game. He was the Johnny Sain of his time. He won 27 games that 1914 year, so you can compare him with Sain. He pitched and won two games in that 1914 series.

I saw Dick only a short while ago. He was a little bald, but he still looked in condition to pitch a few innings. I've known few brainier pitchers than Rudolph, few who had cooler nerves or control.

What has become of control? Doesn't the plate mean anything any more to 95 per cent of all pitchers?

Important Events of 1914

What else happened in 1914? Babe Ruth was just breaking in. The Babe was a rookie. Bobby Jones was only 12 years old. Ty Cobb was in his prime. Jack Dempsey was five years away from Willard and Toledo. Jack was a stringy kid of 18, weighing 165 pounds.

It was five years away from the start of sport's golden age. Man o' War hadn't been born. No one had ever heard of Red Grange, or Tilden, or Sande.

That year will be remembered as the start of World War I. But in baseball it is remembered as the year the miracle Braves accomplished the greatest feat baseball has ever known—the feat of beating the Mackmen four straight, and forcing Connie Mack to disband, by sale, the greatest ball club he has ever managed.

The Braves of 1914 were only a far ball club. They were 90 per cent pitching and spirit. Johnny Evers and Rabbit Maranville had greater fighting spirit on a ball field than any two men I've ever known—barring one—a fellow known as Ty Cobb. And I'll put Pepper Martin up with Cobb.

The only difference is that Cobb and Martin were physically equipped to handle the job while Evers and Maranville had to bank on spirit—head and heart.

Best Rookie of 1918

Richie Ashburn of the Phillies has been voted the best rookie of the year. There have been several complaints over this decision from other centers, including the Red Sox, who like their own Billy Goodman.

Whether or not he is the best rookie, I can tell you who is the most useful. His name is Alvan Dark of the Braves. Dark has done more for the Braves than any two rookies have done for other clubs. Shortstop weakness hurt them badly a year ago.

This spring in Florida, Billy Southworth told a bunch of writers that Dark was the key man in his club. "I feel pretty sure he will make good. I know Eddie Stanky will help him a lot," Billy said. "Dark's an amazing all-around athlete."

I ran into Bernie Moore, Dark's old coach at L. S. U. He is now the southeastern football commissioner.

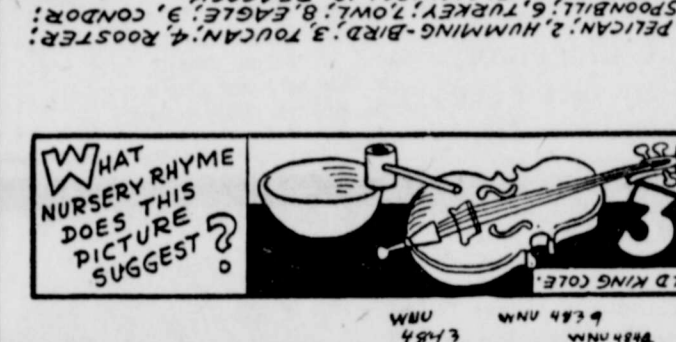

"I don't think I have ever seen as fine an all-around star as Alvan Dark," Bernie said. "He was one of the best football players that ever came to L. S. U., and we've had our share, including Tittle of the Baltimore Colts."

"He was both a fine offensive and defensive back, and had unusual speed. He was a star baseball player. I could have used him on my track team. When he had the chance, he'd step around a golf course in 69, 70 or 71."

"In addition to all this natural physical ability and winning coordination, Dark was always a great competitor at L. S. U. He was at his best under pressure. He loved football, but he loved baseball better. Before he is through, Dark can be one of the best of all time."

Ford-Made Cars From England Go On Sale in City

Creating considerable interest this week in Snyder was the arrival at Bickerstaff Motor Company of two Ford-made cars from England. They were a Prefect four-door sedan and an Anglia two-door sedan.

The cars, made to the usual small size used almost universally in foreign countries, retail at $1,280 and $1,465 in Snyder.

Carrying a four-cylinder motor that develops 10 horsepower (about 30 horsepower in United States ratings) the cars will make up to 65 miles per hour and give mileage of 35 miles per gallon of gasoline. Upholstered in leather, they are declared to be dust and rain-proof. Conventional right-hand steering column of England has been transferred to the left-hand side for use in America.

The automobiles are four feet nine inches wide, 12½ feet long and 63½ inches high.

Husband—"Go right ahead. I've got a peach of a strike-breaker in mind."

Plans for Special Week Being Made By Homemakers

Plans for the Future Homemakers of America Week, November 1-7, were made Tuesday, October 19, in a meet of the Homemaking Club at Snyder High School.

Thursday each girl is to bring gifts to send to overseas children for Christmas.

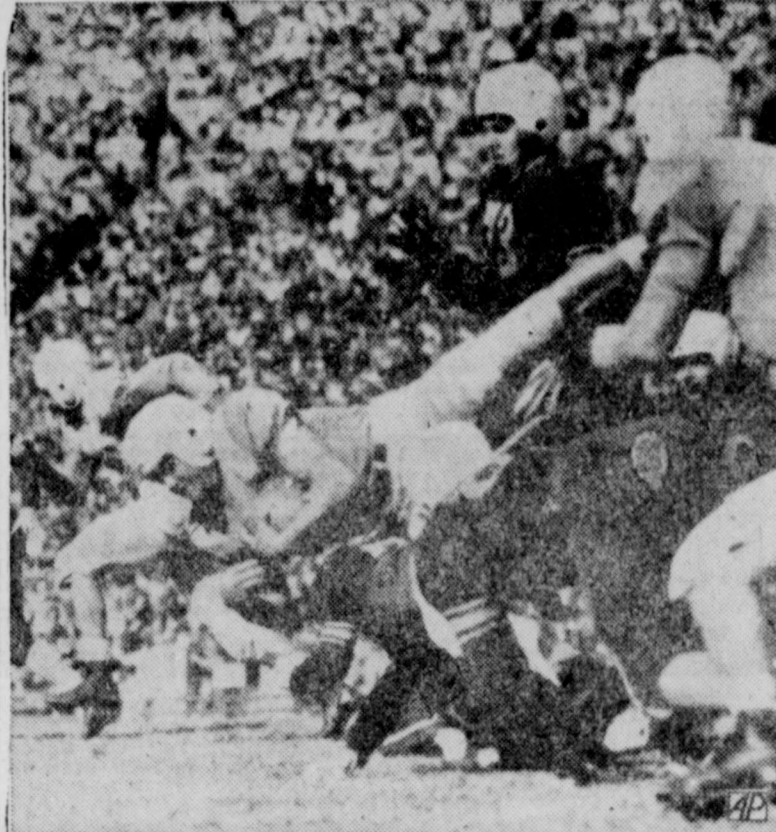

Friday the club will present two skits, "An Invitation to Dine" and "To the Rescue" in their assembly program.

Saturday the girls will attend an area meeting at Graham. Peggy Lynch will be their voting delegate and Anne Richardson is area treasurer, and Wanda Jean Rainwater is going to be on the program.

Norma Ruth DeLoach and Frances Billingsley will also attend as delegates.

VETERAN'S QUESTIONS

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to former service connected personnel by The Times. Material for the column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Q—I am a disabled veteran. Am I entitled to increased compensation because of my dependents?

A—If your disability rating is 60 per cent or more you should submit to Veterans Administration documentary evidence of the existence of a wife or child or evidence of dependency of your parents so that you may qualify for increased compensation payments under Public Law 877 of the 80th Congress.

Q—My father is supporting a large family. May I claim him as a dependent while I am in training under the GI Bill?

A—Dependency will be held to exist if your father does not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for himself and members of his family under legal age, or members of his family otherwise dependent by reason of mental or physical incapacity.

Q—I am going to college under the GI Bill and would like to know whether I will have to refund the tuition if I leave school before the end of the school year?

A—If you drop out of college before the end of the period for which

Don't you tempt fate...

Don't try to palm off a worn-out summer oil on your engine this winter. It just doesn't pay. Because, first of all, it's bound to be dirty. And that means excessive wear on metal surfaces. But more important, old summer oil just can't measure up.

So don't you tempt fate! Make a date today to OIL-PLATE your engine with winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil! Get Nth oil's quicker starts... plus the extra protection of Conoco Nth OIL-PLATING.

Because Nth contains a special added ingredient that fastens an extra film of lubricant to your engine's working parts... cylinder walls are actually OIL-PLATED, extra-protected from "dry" friction starts, from power-clogging sludge and carbon due to wear.

Save 3% on Your State & County Taxes

BY PAYING THEM BEFORE SATURDAY NIGHT

Provision has been made by law to permit discounts from your state and county taxes when they are paid during the month of October, when 3% discount may be deducted from your statement rendered several days ago. That discount period will expire Saturday night.

Other discounts are permitted as follows: 2% discount on taxes if paid during the month of November; 1% discount if paid in December. Taxes for 1948 will become delinquent after January 1, and penalties will be added after that time. We urge you not to allow your taxes to accumulate.

POLL TAXES NOT ON YOUR STATEMENT

Poll taxes are not included on your state and county tax statement, as has been done in previous years. We try to remind citizens of this fact when they come to the office to pay taxes. If you pay your taxes by mail, be sure to include $1.75 for each poll tax you require in order to be permitted to vote next year. Remember, special elections may be called at any time.

THE FICTION CORNER

WEATHER AHEAD

By JOHN H. ROSE

The counter man reminded Harv of someone he knew—a brilliant man whose life had been destroyed by a selfish, beautiful woman.

THE plane settled down on the bumpy field, and jolted to a halt. The explanation for the unscheduled stopover was simply the cryptic statement, "Weather ahead!" The stewardess had no information about the length of the "weather," so we walked across the field toward the town. Harvey Allen and I were bound for the coast on a brief business trip, seeking a new contract for one of our major network productions.

We walked along the main—and only—street of the little town until we came to a small restaurant. It was dark and cool inside after the heat and glare of the mid-afternoon New Mexico sun. Settling in one of the tiny booths which lined the wall, we ordered some lunch. Except for the counter man and a tired looking waitress, the place was empty. I noticed Harv staring intently at the man behind the counter. I glanced up, but the fellow was a stranger to me.

"Know him?" I asked. Harv had a genius for knowing people everywhere. . . and remembering them. "He reminds me of someone," he answered. The girl came with our lunch, and we ate quietly for a few moments. Harvey continued, then, asking,

"Did you ever know Mark Stevens?"

I sipped at my iced tea before replying.

"Nope; he was before my time. But, of course, I've heard about him. Who hasn't? Isn't he the chap

As we strolled back to the airport, I asked the question that had been in my mind ever since Harvey started that story.

some Hollywood glamour gal took over the bundles?"

Mark nodded. "Elsa Armstrong. The face and figure that launched a thousand hopes! Elsa the beautiful. Elsa the magnificent." He lifted his tea glass in toast.

"Hail, Elsa! Destroyer of men—of Mark Stevens in particular. Would you like to hear what really happened, Stu?"

I lighted a cigar as I replied in the affirmative. Harvey settled back in the booth as he recounted the story of Mark Stevens.

"Twenty years ago, this business of ours was just a puppy. And the master of that puppy was Mark Stevens. His was the brain that built the advertising business. You really owe that $150 suit you're wearing to him, Stu. Mark Stevens lifted us out of the mire and into the moon. We all owe him plenty."

"Mark built his organization by buying talent where he found it, and he had a genius for finding it. I remember I was doing advance work for Williams' Brothers Carnival when I met him. We got together in San Antonio one night, and the next day I was working for him. Just like that."

"I started small—writing copy on some accounts that weren't too important. And all the time I was watching the master, learning all the little nuances and twists, getting set for the day he saw fit to move me up a notch. It wasn't long in coming either. The firm was marching, and I was right in step."

"After about a year, Mark opened a branch office in Chicago. I went there as copy chief. From that move, both the business and I mushroomed. Dallas, Seattle, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco. Five years after that meeting in San Antonio, I was head of the San Francisco office. We had branched out all over the country, but this San Francisco outfit was second in importance only to the home office in New York."

"When radio and advertising had happy marriage, the Mark Stevens Associates really hit the top. We opened a Hollywood office and began handling only the largest accounts. I came down from San Francisco to head the new office, and Mark made almost monthly trips to the coast to give his personal attention to some of the really important clients.

"It was on one of those trips that he met Elsa Armstrong. Did you ever see a bougainvillea in bloom, Stu? Or a hibiscus? That's what she was like. A lovely, fragile beauty, and that's an inadequate description. But she was smart, too. Smart. . . and tough when it came to getting places." Harvey twirled the iced tea glass, clicking the ice cubes against its hard surface as he reminisced. Then he continued,

"She wasn't an actress; even in those days talent was an important item, but Elsa's only talent consisted in looking so beautiful it hurt. Strangely enough, she didn't want to be a star. Elsa was hunting something entirely different. She wanted money and position. Mark had both, and Elsa took him like Grant took Richmond. The first thing I knew, I was back in New York and Mark had taken charge on the coast. Or rather, Mark was on the coast and Elsa had taken charge."

"I lost track of events then, until one day the auditor came to me with the remark that Mr. Stevens' personal account was in terrible shape. Together we went over it. I decided that the auditor's original evaluation was strictly an understatement. The bills Mark had okayed seemed to indicate that he alone was trying to support half of California's furriers and jewelers. A few days later I began to hear complaints from different accounts that their affairs on the coast were not being handled properly. I decided to fly out and see what went on."

"Mark met me at the airport. He was . . . uh, well . . . definitely not in the best of condition. He was unshaven and mused. The meeting was most embarrassing for me, and I piled Mark into a cab and directed the driver to Mark's home in Beverly Hills. He passed out on the way, and when we got there, I had one rugged time getting him upstairs and into bed, even with the sympathetic and capable help of the cabbie. This done, I returned to Hollywood and the office."

"There, I began to ask questions. The answers weren't pretty. Mark hadn't been in the place in weeks. But his bills had. His and Elsa's, that is. Oh, she had a personal account too. It figured on the books as his, which explained why we in the East didn't know about it. I decided to see Elsa."

"She wasn't available at home, so I started to make the rounds in pursuit, finally catching up with her at 'The Players.' She wasn't alone. I sent word to her table that I would like to see her, and in a few minutes she joined me."

"I told you she was beautiful, Stu. When she sat down beside me, I almost forgot what I had wanted to talk to her about. She was loaded with diamond doo-dads, and in each one I could see Mark's money reflected. That snapped me out of the trance and into the purpose of our tete-a-tete."

"I told you she was tough, too. Brother! She was hard as nails. No, she'd not seen Mark in a month. Why? After all, a girl has to look out for her future. And Mark had been troublesome. Stuff about her friends. I asked if the guy she was with belonged in that category. She merely shrugged. I got the idea. I rather pointedly asked her how come, if she and Mark were through, her bills continued to come

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Plan to Bake Once a Week (See Recipes Below)

Simplify Baking

WHILE OUR MOTHERS and grandmothers had more to do than those of us who are homemakers, they somehow managed to find an afternoon a week in which to fill the house with fragrant and delicious odors from the oven with weekly baking.

To me, this was one of the most delightful times in the whole week because then I, too, could get my hands into pie crust or sweet roll dough. It was great sport!

But, naturally, this was not the only blessing that came from weekly baking.

We usually had delicious homemade bread as well as rolls or coffee cake for breakfast. To save time, the dinner for that evening was usually a baked one, a fragrant meat loaf or taste-tempting casserole with a delicious baked pudding for dessert. Then, too, the cookie jar was filled for the best part of the week, and that meant cookies for the lunch boxes and more delicious tidbits when we came home from school!

Are your families missing these treats? Then organize the household schedule at once so that you can bake once a week, and fill the larder with such delicious things as can only come from home baking.

But how can you make all these things in one day? Here's how: mix cookie dough and store in refrigerator; make ice box dough for sweet rolls, and store this, too. Bread dough can be mixed in the morning; or, if you are making quick breads, these can be mixed in a few minutes right after lunch.

You can plan the baking for any day of the week. We usually do it Friday or Saturday afternoon, so there will be a cake or pie in the house for Sunday, and, of course, bread, rolls and cookies for the whole week.

IT MAY SOUND ambitious to attempt all this in one day, but it really isn't once you get into the swing of it. Do all you can the evening before, and keep on hand such things as piecrust and biscuit mix. Refrigerator cookies, too, take no time at all to bake, and they're easily mixed ahead of time.

Refrigerator Rolls. (Makes 12-16)

1 cup milk
3 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 yeast cake
1 egg
2½ to 3 cups flour

Scald milk and in it dissolve shortening, sugar and salt. When mixture is warm add yeast cake, crumbled, and the egg. Add flour gradually and mix thoroughly by beating. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Place a piece of waxed paper over the bowl and hold securely with a rubber band. Store in refrigerator until ready to use.

This refrigerator dough may be used for cloverleaf rolls, cinnamon braid, fruit filled rings or pecan rolls.

Interesting Tips Make Your Work Easier

Coal oil or kerosene will remove stains and dirt from enameled bathroom fixtures without scratching the surface or lessening the gloss of the surface.

You can keep your silverware bright and tarnish-proof if you keep the pieces wrapped in a specially treated flannel cloth which is actually impregnated with particles of silver that absorb the tarnishing elements in the air.

Soiled bathroom and kitchen curtains as well as others are more easily washed if you first soak them in cold water to loosen grit and thus eliminate hard scrubbing.

Avoid tears when peeling onions by holding a piece of dry bread between your teeth.

Let neither kitchen nor bathroom towels become too soiled; it will become too difficult to remove the dirt and the hard scrubbing will make them wear less well.

Keep a pastry brush handy for greasing pans for baking and thus avoid keeping your hands soiled.

Leather pieces around the home like furniture, bookends, albums and waste baskets can be cleaned with a mild soap and luke-warm water shampoo.

Soak pastry cloths in cold water before washing. Brush away flour mixtures with a brush before washing in hot water or the matter will cake and stick.

Keep your pot holders immaculate if you want to avoid sticky fingers by working in the kitchen. Wash and rinse the holders out after using with a small brush or let them dry by themselves on a sink. They can be put away by the meal.

Put pans and other cooking utensils will take less washing time if you keep them rinsed. Or, better still, whisk them clean immediately after using with a small brush or let them dry by themselves on a sink. They can be put away by the meal.

Home Grown Fish for Food

Numerous ground tanks that have been constructed in the Snyder area by farmers and ranchers during the past few months offer great possibilities as stock watering places that should relieve much of the anxiety that comes with droughty years. They are worth their cost for that reason alone.

But another advantage of the earth tanks that is fast making itself valuable to the owners is the provision of fish for food. Surveys recently conducted by interested agencies prove that many pounds of fish are being taken from the tanks of Texas to supplement other foods and to provide valuable vitamins not obtainable in other foods.

Of course the sporting angle of catching the fish provides many hours of recreation for the anglers. Fishing friendships are generally pleasant ones.

Starts of all varieties of fish adaptable to this portion of the country are available through the Texas state fish hatcheries. County Agent Oscar Fowler will be glad to assist any Scurry County farmer or rancher in getting fish for tanks.

More Than Meets the Eye

Surprising how ignorant some of us are on the subject of taxes. We pay them, count the cost, grumble, but don't fully understand them. The Department of Commerce reports the total tax paid to federal, state and local government for the fiscal year amounts to $362 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

A Scurry County man checks his last tax bill, finds he paid less than the $362 for each member of his family, and figures the difference was met by somebody else, perhaps big business, perhaps real estate.

There are hidden taxes, we overlook. When we buy clothing, pay rent, purchase groceries, we pay indirect taxes. The income, sales, gasoline and cigarette tax we recognize, but forget the tax we pay for bus ride, telephone calls, electricity and freight. The more one buys the more tax is paid. When prices rise, taxes increase. So, if you add your tangible tax, plus the indirect tax, you may find you come closer to the $362 a person than you realized.

More Schools Are Needed

Maneuvers of Snyder School officials and members of the school board have been nothing short of phenomenal recently in caring for several hundred more boys and girls of the Snyder area by handling their school problems. They have done a fine job so far in arranging for housing and teachers and other facilities.

Consolidation of 13 smaller schools of the Snyder area with the local system is a move for progress. Better facilities, broader courses of study, segregation of age groups into separate classes, individual instructions for students, improved playground facilities and other advantages have been provided for many of our new students.

But permanent handling of the housing problem for Snyder school students has not been solved. Two temporary frame buildings are being utilized for regular classes, and a church building is being used to house the exceptional children of the Snyder area.

People of the consolidated district realize that more building must be built—and soon. These additional structures can be provided for easily by voting new bonds for the district, which will not raise the tax renditions nor the rate one iota, school leaders say. Let's get started on the plan now so that new buildings can be built by next school term.

Editorial of the Week

NO PLACE FOR EDDIE

The Evening Banner of Greenville recently told, in an editorial, the sad story of Eddie, an inefficient and discourteous clerk in a store. One day a customer noticed that Eddie wasn't present and asked about him. "He's just not working here any more," the proprietor said. "Got anybody in mind for the vacancy?" the customer responded. "Nope," said the proprietor. "Eddie didn't leave a vacancy."

As the Banner added, "There's no place for the Eddies because the days of competition have returned and customers want to be waited upon... they want to be served... they want to see clerks take an interest in their requests, give them courteous attentive service and try to make them feel at home. That's just human nature."

The members of our governing bodies might well carry this idea much farther, and thin out some of our over-crowded public offices and bureaucracies. It would be of much relief to the taxpayers and producing populace, and like "Eddie" they probably would leave "no vacancy" and the taxpayers would also get prompt and courteous treatment from the ones that remained. This statement is by no means an indictment of all those loyal men and women who are in governmental employment, for some of the most courteous folks we have ever met hold some of these jobs, but one ink spot like the aforementioned "Eddie" can bring a large organization a bad name.

By LEON GUINN.

Progress in cancer therapy is making rapid gains in scientific circles. . . . Men of research have heretofore been wading through a mass of experiments and facts, but in recent weeks a concerted move has started to evaluate cancer treatments in the light of new methods of approach. . . . For instance, a number of experiments with terofterin, a vitamin derived from folic acid, indicated researchers needed to go in an entirely different direction (terofterin was tried on the late Babe Ruth), and from the laboratory mists we have nitrogen mustard and a-methopterin as very promising in treating cancer and allied diseases. . . . Nitrogen mustard is definitely not a cancer cure, but it shows encouraging action on cancerous cells. . . . A-methopterin is not a cure-all either, but it promises more encouragement than several other drugs that made hospital rounds. . . . The millennium in cancer treatment is yet in the distance, but organized medicine greets the above two drugs as "most likely to secure results."

The Democrats, waking up at long last, are beginning to roll with the objective view of controlling the next U. S. Senate. . . . If the Demos gain four more seats they can take the Senate out of the GOP fold and at least make it tough (in case Dewey were "accidentally" elected) for a Republican president to remake the entire country. . . . President Truman's speeches during the past few days have reduced Dewey's chance considerably for the White House, and if Democratic funds go to rolling in, they will of a certainty be poured into those states where promise is the richest. . . . Larger appropriations for research will be asked of the next Congress by the U. S. Air Force, and it is a safe bet now that civilian scientists will push their bill for setting up a national science foundation to coordinate all research in the public interest. . . . Another boom year is in prospect, if economists are correct, and with one more year of financial grace John Q. Public should be in excellent financial condition.

Now that we have reached the point in production of oil where above-ground stocks are sufficient to meet almost any demand, observers freely predict a drastic cut in production for November and December so underground reserves will not be uselessly depleted. . . . Texas has reached the place where we now produce 44 per cent of the nation's crude. . . . Naturally, any hike or cut in production of crude oil is of vital interest to all Texas land owners. . . . Gasoline stocks at the present are a little over 91,000,000 barrels, and gas oil and distillate stocks stand at 78,647,000 barrels—high enough to insure plenty of fuel during the coming weeks. . . . At mid-week it looked as though the Texas Railroad Commission would start a real crack-down on operators and, in fact, is stressing the practical use of flare gas in our oil fields.

We are, it is alleged, wasting 250,000,000 cubic feet of oil well gas daily; flare gas that is going up in flames rather than being utilized to repressure producing horizons or at least be turned into lines where customers could realize something from such gigantic production. . . . Unless we take immediate steps to halt the waste of oil field gas we will before long see the day roll around where operators and consumers are hollering for this same commodity. . . .

If we can corral operators from wasting this type of production we can look forward to extending the life of producing wells from five to 15 years. . . . We have seen production hiked to the level where figures are a little wearying. For the week ending October 16 daily production stood at 5,568,350 barrels. Now we need to take out insurance on the future by practicing conservation of crude, flare gas and even look into the matter of crude recovery from slush pits.

Joining the Farm Bureau is one of the most important things a farmer can do—if he wants security against lowered agricultural prices and some measure of representation against the pressure groups that always think farmers can be handled any way the political tides turn. . . . In 1920 each farm worker produced only enough food for four people, whereas in 1948 the average farm laborer and worker produced enough foodstuff to care for 14 people. . . .

With mechanization and other lowered production costs, the farmer today has to have some organization constantly "at bat" for him if he is to realize a just return from "services rendered." . . . Not only farmers, but their wives should line up with units of the Texas Farm Bureau and stop, once and for all, the battle cry of industrialists that "farmers will never organize and concentrate on quality foods and fibers." . . . In business and industry we have unions galore to "bat" for laboring groups, but outside the U. S. Department of Agriculture the farmer has only a few scattered cooperatives to see he gets an even break.

LIVESTOCK REGAINS SOME OF LOSSES AS MARKETS RUN LLOW

Curtailed marketings of livestock reversed price trends at Southwest markets during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports in its weekly release to The Times.

Hogs recovered some of their recent losses in gains of mainly $1 at Kansas City, Wichita, Oklahoma City and Denver. Texas markets advanced even more, and remained strong Monday. Most good and medium weight butchers ranged from $26 to $26.75 at most of the markets, but Denver paid as high as $27.50.

Meat cattle sold 50 cents to $1.50 higher for the week, and Monday's markets continued steady to strong. Stockers and feeders shared in the strength. Most good and choice stocker steer calves changed hands at $22 to $25 at Fort Worth, while choice light lots reached $26 to $27 at Oklahoma City. Wichita sent light stocker steers and yearlings back to the country at $19 to $24. Kansas stocker steer calves made $30 at Kansas City. Denver held choice stocker steer calves above $30.

Lambs sold about unchanged at most terminals, though Denver paid a little more. Ewes sold mainly 25 to 50 cents for the week. Good and choice lambs ranged largely from $23 to $25. Medium and good ewes sold at $9 at Fort Worth, and common and medium at $8 at Denver. Goats sold steady to weak at San Antonio.

Wool trade reflected a better feeling. Texas growers asked 75 cents a grease pound for fine 12-months staple wool. Mohair sold at 38 cents for adult and 58 cents for kid.

With fall frosts occurring in many areas, more liberal shipments of winter fruits and vegetables began to replace dwindling supplies of summer types during the past week. Prices trended higher on most summer products, but eased downward on most of the newcomers to the market. Texas oranges and grapefruit began to arrive at many terminal markets. Local beans, squash and cucumbers came to New Orleans. Potatoes, onions and sweet potatoes sold firm to stronger.

Prices of young chickens fell three to six cents a pound last week. Prices to Arkansas growers dropped to mostly 30 cents for three-pound birds. Fort Worth and Dallas paid 30 to 35 cents, and New Orleans around 36 cents. A few turkeys went to market at 35 to 40 cents for toms and 40 to 45 cents for turkey hens in North Texas. Chicken hens and eggs continued to bring firm to strong prices in the Southwest.

Feed markets showed some recovery from recent losses. Hay strengthened, as the haying season neared a close. Peanuts sold mainly at government support prices.

Wheat showed the only strength in the grain markets, with gains of around 3½ cents a bushel for the week. No. 1 wheat sold around $2.41. White corn cost five cents to sell at $1.90 to $1.95 for No. 2, at Texas common points Monday. Yellow corn dropped eight to 10 cents to bring $1.67 to $1.70. Sorghums fell three cents per 100 pounds. No. 2 yellow milo closed at $2.46 to $2.51. Oats and barley remained about unchanged.

8,149,278 Bales Total Ginned in 1948 to Date

The Census Bureau reported from Washington Monday that 8,149,278 running bales of cotton from this year's crop were ginned prior to October 18.

This total number compared with 6,714,545 ginned to the same date last year and 4,315,818 two years ago. Increased ginnings this year reflect a sharp increase in the size of the crop.

The ginnings included 859 bales of American-Egyptian cotton. Ginnings of this type to the same date last year were 57 and 660 two years ago.
