ELECTRIC RATES REDUCED!

Electric rates in the Dalhart, Dumas, Stratford area are coming down -right now. When Southwestern Public Service assumed responsibility for your electric service, a promise was made that rates would be revised downward as soon as studies could be completed.

We are living up to that promise now. Effective at once, residential and commercial rates in Dalhart, Dumas, Stratford, Chamberlin, Hartley and Conlen are reduced. Your next bill will be figured on these new rates.

Reductions throughout the area average about 18% for residential customers. They are about 8% for commercial customers. Your nearest Public Service office can give you the new rate for your town.

For more than twenty years, Southwestern Public Service Company has followed a policy of reducing rates whenever possible, to bring to customers the increased benefits of electricity as new appliances are available. Now you can use more electricity without increased cost. Electricity is one household item that has not gone up in price.

of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—denot act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizzinees, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty of too frequent urination.

PAUL MAKES A NEW START

LESSON TEXT-Acts 26:9-18; I Corinthi-MEMORY SELECTION—This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—I Timothy 1:15.

All that a man has by nature is not enough. We saw last week the preparation by heredity, education and environment which Paul had for a place of leadership. But it was not enough. The capable, wellborn, well-trained young Jewish aristocrat had to be born again spiritually before he could do God's Careful Bible students regard the conversion of Paul and the resurrection of Christ as the two outstanding events of the New Testament. Without the resurrection of Jesus, the conversion of Saul of Tarsus (whom we know as Paul the apostle) would not have been possible, and at the same time his conversion is one of the strongest proofs of the resurrection. We find him in three relationships.

I. By Nature—Contrary to Christ (Acts 26:9-12).

It is not enough, as some of us suppose, that a man be sincere. Paul was entirely sincere in his conviction that he ought to persecute the Christians. He did it with a good conscience (Acts 23:1), for a man's conscience commends him for doing what he believes to be right, even though he may be wrong in his thinking.

He was sincere, but he was anti-Christian. By nature man is at enmity with God. No good thing dwells in the flesh apart from the redeeming grace of God (Rom. 8:7; James 4:4; Rom. 7:18).

Stirred, probably by the faithful testimony of Stephen, to even greater zeal against the followers of Christ, Paul had to find new worlds to conquer, so he set out "breathing out threatenings and slaughter to destroy the church in Damascus' as he had sought to do in Jerusalem. He was a bold persecutor, doing all he could "contrary to the name of Jesus" (v. 9), until he met the Lord himself on the Damascus road. Ah, that meeting made him a different man and he became

II. By Faith-Converted to Christ (Acts 26:13-18).

Stricken down by a brilliant heavenly light, he found himself talking to the Lord Jesus. He heard from his holy lips the solemn indictment of those who persecute God's people -"Why persecutest thou me?" He who lays unkind hands upon, or brings untrue accusation against, God's children had better beware, for so closely is our Lord identified with his people that when they suffer, it is he who bears the hurt.

In a single sentence the Lord disposed of the persecuting zeal and the sinful skepticism of this proud young Pharisee, and Saul entered into Damascus not as the haughty persecutor, but as a man trembling and astonished. He spent three days shut in with his own soul and God; not seeing, not caring to eat, but entering into communion with God. By God's grace the old life was pulled up by the roots as it was displaced by the new life in Christ Jesus.

God had a great commission awaiting Paul as soon as he was ready for it (vv. 16-18). He was to be the apostle to the Gentiles, and that includes so many of us. The gospel which had come first to the Jews, was now to go out into all the world and to all people.

The change in Paul was a drastic one. He was as one who was alive from the dead. It was not a case of adjusting or refurbishing the old persecutor Saul-here was a new creature in Christ, ordained to good works (Eph. 2:8-10). III. By Grace-Confessing Christ

(I Cor. 15:8-10). Twenty years had passed since Paul's conversion. He had been out serving Christ, in season and out of season. He had known persecution, suffering and opposition. Now he was writing, by inspiration of the Holy Spirit, about the resurrection, telling of those who had seen the risen Christ. He included himself as one born out of his time.

It is a personal vision of the living Saviour which vitalizes the spirit of a witness and makes his testimony ring true. Paul saw Christ. We too may see Him with the eye of faith, and by His grace become witnesses Effort and labor are involved

This matter of witnessing is not something which automatically does itself. "I labored more abundantly," said Paul, and yet he knew that it was the grace of God in him which accomplished the result (see

v. 10 and Phil. 2:13).

That is it! The grace of God working on and in and through a man. And at the same time, that man laboring diligently that the grace bestowed upon him should not be found vain. It is in this manner God's work gets done on earth!

West Texans May Have Another Sugar Stamp

Foy Curry wants to help the unfortunate West Texans who are victims of a printers error. Some of the No. 4 Ration Books issued ping fire losses: in West Texas contain an error in a few fire-fighting tools, such as rently good for five pounds of suthe stamp appears as Spare No. 5 which, of course, is worthless. If tion books will fill out an application for a replacement and send it, together with their old ration book, containing the worthless stamp, to Curry, he will see that a new book is sent to them so that they can obtain their share of the available sugar.
