Carter Wins In Coke; Reagan Carries Nation

The vote for president and vice president and congressman were the only races that were even close, as 1540 persons marked their ballots.

One write-in candidate, Bob Fields, won his bid for constable in Precinct 1. He was the only write-in candidate in Coke County to file and become an eligible candidate.

The Robert Lee Steers hosted the Sterling City Eagles last Friday night for their last home game. The Steers came up a little short though, 6-2. The Steers held the Eagles and received the punt at the 50. The Steers punted to the Eagle 11 after being stopped. The Eagles fumbled the punt and recovered it in the end zone. They got the ball back and it looked as if they might win but the Eagles intercepted at the 4 yard line. The final score was 6-2.

Flours — Try Something Different

By Kathy Jobe

See different flours, but don't know for sure if they'll work in your homebaked breads?

Read this, and then try something different!

Understanding flours is easy with just a few basic facts about each in mind:

ALL-PURPOSE WHEAT FLOUR -- is uniquely suited to bread-making because it contains enough gluten to form the delicate elastic framework of the finished product. It's a mixture of hard and soft wheat flours usually.

However, it can be milled entirely from soft wheat -- and, if so, it would not be suitable for bread making.

GENERAL GUIDELINES ABOUT FLOUR -- Most of the flours and bakery products are enriched with thiamin, niacin, riboflavin and iron -- to restore nutrients lost when the brans and germ were removed from the kernel during milling.

Whole-wheat flour is the exception here -- enrichment of it isn't needed because whole-grain flours contain all nutrients naturally present in the grain.

Whole-grain flours and cereal grains provide fiber in the diet, so they're good for you.

Eating foods high in fiber tends to reduce symptoms of chronic constipation, diverticulosis and some types of "irritable bowel."

IMPORTANT NOTE -- Also, remember you can use some flours alone for bread-making, and you can use others only if you combine them with all-purpose flour. How to do this appears below in the section on "Combining Flours."

SELF-RISING FLOUR -- is all-purpose flour with added leavening and salt. It is NOT suitable for yeast breads, but it is convenient for quick breads.

UNBLEACHED FLOUR -- is all-purpose flour which has its natural whiteness. It's fine for bread-making, and its nutritional value and gluten content are similar to all-purpose flour.

In unbleached flour, simply, no bleaching agent was used to increase the degree of whiteness, and the difference between it and all-purpose flour in terms of whiteness is only slight.

CAKE FLOUR -- is milled from soft wheat into a very fine and uniform flour especially suited to the tender, delicate character of cakes.

Cake flour is NOT suited to bread-making due to the high percentage of soft wheat used in it, and it is lower in protein than all-purpose flour.

WHOLE-WHEAT -- is ground from the entire wheat kernel and includes all the natural nutrients, as we mentioned above. You can use it alone or in combination with all-purpose flour for bread-making. Alone, it will produce a firmer loaf.

GRAHAM FLOUR -- is coarsely ground whole-wheat flour. It works alone or in combination with all-purpose flour. Alone, it will make a firmer loaf.

RYE FLOUR -- is ground from the endosperm, inner part of the rye kernel. Do not use it alone for bread-making.

PUMPERNICKEL RYE GRAHAM FLOUR -- is a coarse-texture flour ground from the entire rye kernel. Do not use it alone for bread-making.

MASA FLOUR (tortilla flour) -- is made from corn treated with lime water. Then it's ground and dehydrated. Do not use it for making yeast breads.

It's exciting to combine different flours for different bread creations, but you must know how.

Here are some brief guidelines: Whole-wheat and graham flours can be used interchangeably in recipes -- substituting up to 60 percent of these flours in the place of all-purpose flour in the recipe. Or you can use them alone, as we said above.

On the other hand, you must use some all-purpose flour in recipes that also call for other flours, cereal grains or meals -- such as soy, rolled oats, cornmeal. To know exactly how these combinations work, use recipes that call SPECIFICALLY for the ingredients you want to use.

Now -- try something different!

ELIGIBILITY RULES CHANGE FOR DISASTER LOANS

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has amended Disaster Declaration #1900 for the State of Texas to include "extreme hot weather" as being cause for disaster loan eligibility.

The SBA makes available disaster recovery loans to farmers, ranchers and agriculture-related businesses who suffered hardship due to adverse weather in counties declared a disaster area, as well as in all bordering counties within the state. The loans are low-interest and terms of the loans are based on the borrower's repayment ability. Texas producers who lost crops because of the drought or extreme hot weather may receive program and eligibility information by calling (806) 762 7481.

Physical disaster loan applications filed under declaration #1900 must be received by February 12, 1981. The deadline for economic injury disaster loan applications is May 12, 1981.

How to spend without worry.

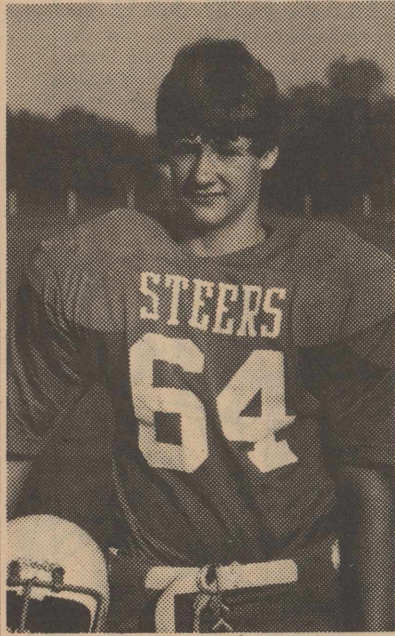

Buying the things you want makes you feel good. But spending that "little extra" you should be saving makes you feel guilty. And you worry. One answer is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. They'll take out that "little extra" from each paycheck for Bonds.

You're automatically saving the amount you want to save, without ever seeing it. So you can't spend it. You won't even miss it. But you can spend what's left of your pay (after bills) without feeling guilty. Without worry.

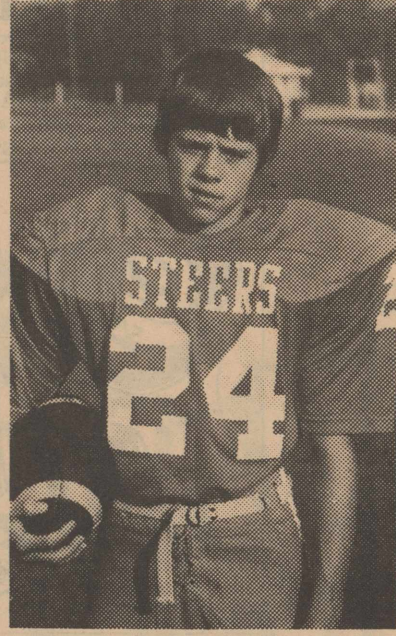

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.

Is the Drought Really Over?

Several of Coke County livestock producers feel the drought is not really over. They have good grounds for feeling so.

Recent rains have led many people to believe the effects of the drought have vanished. In some cases this may be true but to the livestock producer it is not.

The recent rains have green-up most pastures but are not providing many tons of quality forage. This is mainly because the rains fell so late in the growing season. Most of the forage we depend on are warm season varieties. On the average, about 70 percent of the grass growth in any given year is made by July 1. Even though we have moisture in the ground the shorter days and cooler nights have reduced forage production.

One of the Directors of the Coke County Soil and Water Conservation District commented that as soon as frost hits we'll be back in a drought. He continued to say that he'll be feeding earlier than usual to supplement his drought stricken rangeland.

One thing that can help producers in times of a drought is the use of a drought plan. An important part of the plan at this time would be determining whether or not to replace stock that has been removed because of the drought. In most cases this is not the time to do so. We just don't have the forage we normally would at this time. Replacement should take time so as to allow rangeland to recover.

Determining when a drought plan will be initiated and defining exactly what will be done are the two components of a drought plan. Assistance is available from the Soil Conservation Service through the Coke County Soil and Water Conservation District in helping local land users develop individual drought plans.

Exchange Student Sponsors Needed

Rev. and Mrs. Don Jeffreys, pastor and wife of First Baptist Church, Roby, have been authorized by the Youth Exchange Service (YES) board of directors to serve as representatives in this area to handle all related business of the YES organization, based on the incorporation records, bylaws, and philosophy of YES. This exchange service, with international headquarters in San Clemente, CA, has been designated by the United States Government to increase international understanding through the exchange student program.

The exchange service is currently in need of families all over America to provide a temporary home for students wanting to come to the United States on short cultural VISA'S. Host families receive a high school exchange student for three to nine months starting in mid December. They are to be enrolled in local high schools. Likes, dis-likes, hobbies, and personalities of the students will be fit as nearly as possible to the same qualities of the host families. The students bring their own spending money and are fully covered with medical insurance. "We do not want them to be guests in your home," the Jeffreys said, "but want them to become a part of your family. We want them to learn about middle income American family life."

"If you would consider becoming good-will ambassadors of the United States and missionaries of your faith, please call (915) 776-2159 for more details and benefits. There are students waiting for placement now and unless we have a home by mid July, they must be told they'll have to wait. For some of them, this will be their last opportunity to be an exchange student in the U.S.A.," the couple said.

Farm Bureau Has Annual Meeting

Directors of the Coke-Sterling County Farm Bureau were elected at the annual convention held Oct. 25 at the Robert Lee New Recreation Hall.

A barbecue plate was served at 6 p.m. and the speaker for the evening was Warren Newberry, executive director of the Texas Farm Bureau.

A report of the student citizenship seminar was given by Jana Ragsdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ragsdale of Bronte who represented the local Farm Bureau at the seminar.

During a business session, presided over by President James B. Pentecost, the group approved the adoption of 12 national resolutions and three state resolutions.

New directors elected for 1980-81 were: James Ash, Bronte; Arthur Runnion and John Stephens, Robert Lee; Bobby Roberts, Sanco-Silver; Allen Bloodworth, Sterling City; James Pentecost, Edith; Alonzo Robbins, Fort Chadbourne-Hayrick; and Don Edmiaston, Divide-Valley View.

Delegates to the state convention, which will be held in San Antonio Nov. 30-Dec. 4, were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cervenka of Bronte; Mr. and Mrs. Finis Harmon of Robert Lee; and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Johnston of Water Valley. The president is automatically a delegate.

The local Farm bureau will have a board meeting soon to elect new officers for the 1980-81 year.

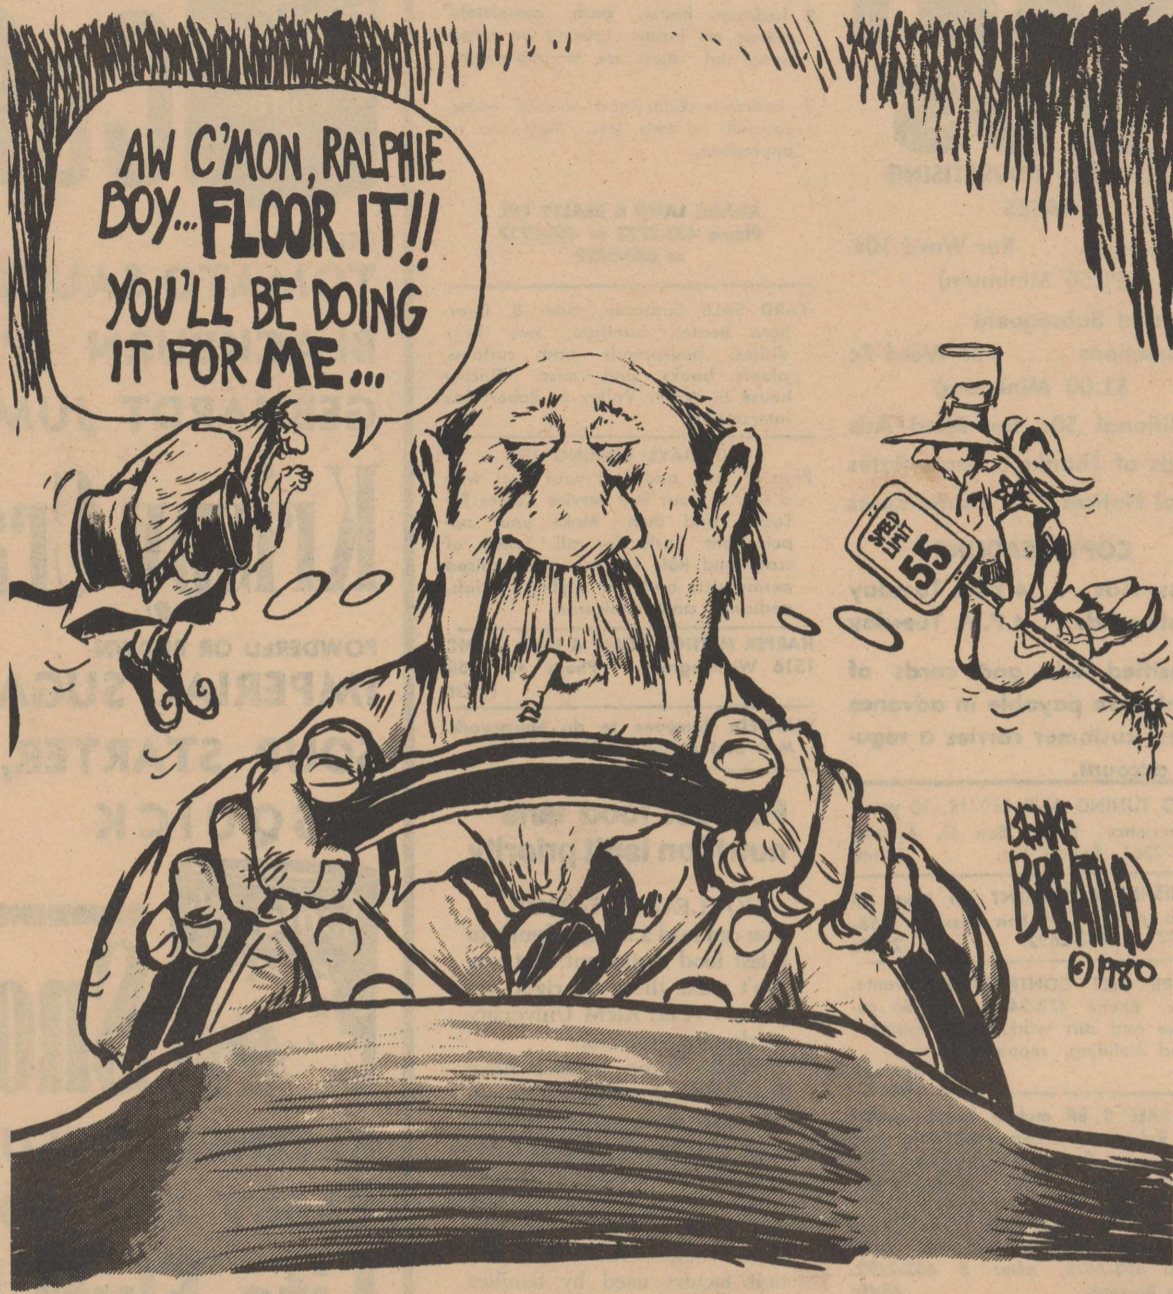

FANCY THAT!

THE FIRST RADIO IMPULSE TRANSMISSION IN THE U.S. WAS ACHIEVED BY JOSEPH HENRY IN PRINCETON, N.J., IN 1840. USING CURRENT PASSED THROUGH A MAGNETIZED NEEDLE, HE PRODUCED VIBRATIONS ON A WIRE ABOUT 100 FEET AWAY!

TODAY, SOLDIERS IN THE U.S. ARMY CAN TALK WITH OTHER SOLDIERS AS FAR AWAY AS 10,000 MILES, USING A SMALL SATELLITE COMMUNICATIONS RADIO!

For fast food fans nutrition isn't priority

COLLEGE STATION — You can lead a hungry family to a fast food restaurant, but you can't make them eat right, reports a Texas A&M University marketing professor.

While some studies have shown that Americans are eating out more often, others show that we are getting fatter and more of us are malnourished. One explanation, says Dr. James McNeal, is that nutrition is one of the least important factors used by families when selecting a place to eat.

"Price, family preference, convenience and cleanliness all rank above nutrition," McNeal said. "This suggests that people are giving very little thought to food value when choosing a fast food meal."

The findings are from a consumer study conducted by McNeal of 60 women from upper and lower income levels, many of whom said taste was the most important criterion for selecting a fast food meal.

Women enrolled in higher education increased in the '70s

COLLEGE STATION — The number of women in higher education has increased dramatically, according to a Texas A&M University demographer.

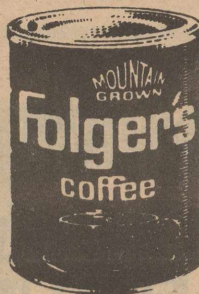

Dr. R. L. Skrabanek noted that in 1970 there were only 68 women enrolled in college for every 100 men; but by 1978 the ratio had increased to 92 per 100 men. Nearly one-half of all college degrees granted in 1977 went to women. The number of females receiving doctorates more than doubled between 1970 and 1977.

Skrabanek gathered his information from a new Bureau of Census report, "A Statistical Portrait in the United States: 1978." The report in itself can be viewed as an example of women's progress. It is only the second such volume exclusively about women ever to have been published by the Census Bureau in its almost 200-year history — and the first was in 1976.
