Coke County Board Of Equalization To Meet

Vandals Take Joy Ride on Maintainer

Vandals were on the loose Saturday night when they took a county road maintainer and generally tore things up over a stretch of about three miles. The machine belongs to Precinct 3, the area under jurisdiction of Commissioner Finis Millican.

Sheriff Marshall Millican reported the maintainer was parked on the old Johnny Ruth place, now operated by Ralph Ruth. The place is located on the divide southwest of Robert Lee. The culprits drove the maintainer through a chain which was stretched across a cattle guard.

In covering the three miles, the machine was driven through the fence three times. Numerous places on the road were gouged by the blade, causing considerable damage.

The maintainer wound up on the S. E. Adams place where the vandals ran over and killed a cow. The sheriff said he had no estimate on the amount of damage done to the road, fences, the cow, etc.

Millican also reported that 15 cabins near Oak Creek Lake have been burglarized during the past week. Strangely, he said, very little property was stolen in the break-ins.

Taxpayers of Coke County will have an opportunity to ask questions, register complaints and talk with a board of equalization when it meets Friday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. The meeting will be in the Coke County Tax Appraisal Office at 710 Austin St. in Robert Lee.

Members of the board are Louise Johnson, Frank Percifull and Alonzo Robbins.

Much discussion about taxes has been going on the past several days since notices were sent out showing new valuations which are being placed on property in the county.

STUDENTS RETURN TO CLASS

Students of Robert Lee Schools were scheduled to return to their classrooms yesterday (Thursday). A full day of classroom work was on the docket for the students, teachers and school employees.

The teachers have been in training and work sessions the first three days of this week, and everything was expected to be in good order for the beginning of the 1981-82 term.

Lisa Lee Chosen As Farm Bureau Sweetheart For District 6

Coke County's beautiful entrant in the Farm Bureau Sweetheart Contest was declared the winner for District 6 and will represent the district in the state Farm Bureau contest which will be held in Fort Worth in December.

Lisa Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lee of Bronte, was the winner of the district contest held Thursday, Aug. 13, at Big Spring. The district extends from this area to El Paso, and Miss Lee will compete against winners in the 13 FB districts of Texas.

Representative
Larry Don Shaw
Reports from Austin

When the congressional redistricting fight started, many of us had hopes that Democratic and Republican partisanship could be kept out of it. That turned out to be unrealistic--the stakes were too high for that, not only for individual politicians but for our entire state.

I reported to you earlier that I'm satisfied that, out of fairness, the Republicans deserve to be given at least one and possibly two additional congressional districts in Texas. At the same time, I'm equally convinced that giving the Republicans more than one or two additional seats would not be good for Texas. Here's why:

In the 1980 elections, the Republicans across the nation won 33 previously-Democratic seats in the U. S. Congress, leaving the Democrats with a thin 26-member majority in the House. There's a very real possibility that the Republicans could continue their gains in the 1982 elections and end up making the Democrats the minority party in the U. S. House of Representatives for the first time since 1954. If that happens, in my opinion, Texas loses.

Congressman Jim Wright (D-Fort Worth) is currently the House Majority Leader and is considered the heir apparent to Speaker Tip O'Neill when O'Neill retires. If the Republicans win a majority of the seats in the U. S. House, Texan Jim Wright will not become Speaker.

But that's not all that Texas will lose. Democratic congressmen from Texas currently chair 11 House committees and subcommittees. If the Republicans become the majority party in the House, we'll lose every single one of those chairmanships and Texas will lose an enormous amount of clout in Washington.

That's why I decided to fight to give the Republicans only one or two more congressional seats from Texas. And that's why I find it difficult to understand why the Democratic leadership in the State Senate and the State House of Representatives knuckled under to pressure from the Governor and steamrolled a bill through that will probably give the Republicans four additional congressional seats from Texas.

Even harder to understand, however, was the heavy-handed method that Speaker Billy Clayton used to run over the loyal Democrats in order to ensure victory for his pro-Republican plan. On a major vote to reconsider a vote the loyal Democrats had won 73-72, Clayton blatantly refused to bang the gavel to end the voting until his lieutenants had twisted enough arms to reverse the previous vote. Following another vote he lost, Clayton claimed the electronic voting machine had malfunctioned and he switched two votes to give his side the margin they needed, even though House rules clearly prohibit members from switching their votes after the fact when it would change the overall outcome of the vote. It was an indefensible abuse of power.

There were other things going on, too. Members were being openly threatened with lobbyist-financed election opposition if they didn't vote for the Republican plan, and one member was even offered a high-paying state government job in exchange for his vote.

In response to these tactics, 50 other Democrats and I decided to resort to the only parliamentary maneuver left open to us. We decided to prevent the necessary 100-member quorum by refusing to report back to the Capitol at two o'clock in the morning to vote on final passage of the bill. A call was put on the House, and the Sergeant-at-Arms and several D.P.S. officers were ordered to find and bring in enough of us to complete a quorum so the vote could be taken. It took them about two-and-a-half hours to come up with the 100-member quorum, and at 4:30 in the morning on Sunday, the Republican plan was passed out of the House.

We can only hope that the cost to Texas won't be too great.

Make It Yourself With Wool Contest Plans Are Announced

It is designed to focus attention on the beauty and versatility of wool and mohair; to encourage use of these incomparable fabrics and yarns in sewing, knitting/crocheting fashionable garments; and to offer home sewers the opportunity to compete for valuable prizes and win recognition for their sewing skills.

The contest is open to all American citizens, regardless of race, creed or sex, who meet the age and other requirements and abide by the general rules set forth for the competition.

 QUESTION - Which of these factors appear to help protect against coronary heart disease?

- a) Weight loss and exercise
- b) Smoking cessation
- c) Moderate drinking
- d) All of the above

ANSWER - A recent study funded by the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute has shown that weight loss, more exercise, smoking cessation, and moderate drinking (one or two drinks a day) are linked to an increased level of high density lipoproteins which may clear away cholesterol deposits from walls in the coronary arteries, thus lowering the risk of a heart attack.

However, NHLBI Director Robert I. Levy, M.D., cautioned against increasing alcohol consumption since, he said, alcohol created other health risks. He noted that even moderate drinking has been linked to higher blood pressure and pointed out that higher alcohol intake has been associated with a variety of health hazards and an increase in the death rate.

Correct answer - d.

Pre-registration Starts At TSTI

Pre-registration for fall quarter classes at the Sweetwater Campus of Texas State Technical Institute is now underway and will continue until formal registration Sept. 8-9.

Pre-registration allows the prospective student to enroll at a much more relaxed pace and usually assures the best choice of class times.

All of TSTI's technical and skill development programs will be accepting new students this fall. They include: Aircraft Pilot Training; Electronics Servicing Technology; Welding Technology and Combination Welding; Machine Shop Operations; Drafting; Building Construction Craftsman; Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Technology; Solar Energy Mechanics; Vocational Nursing; Dental Assistant; Diesel Mechanics; Automotive Mechanics; Autobody Repair; Technical Office Training; Livestock and Ranch Operations; and a new program for this year, Paramedics.

Additionally, most of TSTI's programs will offer credit evening courses. These courses will meet two evenings weekly and will be offered at very low costs. Welding, Electronics, Cabinetmaking, Auto Mechanics, Residential House Wiring and more will be offered. Enrollment dates and times are the same for night programs as for regular day programs.

TSTI is expecting another record year in terms of enrollment. Last year the school grew at an unprecedented 62 per cent rate. Although the growth rate is not expected to be that high this year, indications are that the rate of growth will be significant, especially at a time when most college enrollments are declining.

Reasons for the growth are many, but the most significant ones include the fact that a TSTI education costs only a fraction of what a four year college education costs and that TSTI graduates are getting job offers which often pay more than their college-educated counterparts.

Admission requirements for students are relatively straightforward: a prospective student must either be a high school graduate or have a GED certificate; an immunization record and a transcript from the high school attended. Although TSTI does not require the ACT or SAT all incoming students are administered a short vocational aptitude test. The test is administered on Monday and Friday mornings at the TSTI Office of Student Services.

Further information on registration at TSTI may be obtained by contacting either the Office of Campus Information or the Office of Admissions and Records at 235-8441, or by writing TSTI-Sweetwater Route 3, Box 18, Sweetwater, TX.

TSTI-Sweetwater is an equal educational opportunity institution.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank all of you for the love you have shown to me and my family since I got sick. Your cards, gifts, flowers, phone calls and prayers have made our trip and time in the hospital so much easier. Because of the danger of infection, I won't be able to have any company for awhile, but I'll be thinking of all of you. Hopefully, it won't be too long before I can be out and about again. I'm looking forward to the time when I can see you all.

Love,
 Cody Bill Bessent

P.S. My parents, Randy and Cindy, and my grandparents, Joe, Donna, Ben and Mary, said to tell all of you "thanks, too."

ST. LOUIS: THE VACATION PLACE

What lures a growing number of family vacationers to St. Louis? The 630-foot Gateway Arch, the world-famous St. Louis Zoo, Grant's Farm and the newly remodeled National Museum of Transport are "musts" on most families' sightseeing list.

Other top attractions include Mississippi River rides on sternwheelers, the Missouri Botanical Garden and Six Flags, an amusement park that drew 1.5 million visitors last year.

Most visitors to St. Louis are eager to see the "Father of Waters"—the Mississippi River—and many enjoy a ride on a sternwheeler riverboat. Nearby, a showboat presents evening entertainment of ragtime, melodrama, vaudeville and minstrel shows.

At the riverfront is a ride to the top of the 630-foot stainless steel Gateway Arch, a monument rivaling the Eiffel Tower in Paris as one of the most popular man-made attractions in the world.

The baseball Cardinals play home games in beautiful Busch Memorial Stadium.

The newest tourist attraction is Magic House, a participatory museum with everything from computerized puzzles and optical illusions to an electrostatic generator among its prized displays.

Unusual sights in St. Louis include the Gateway Arch, McDonnell Douglas Corporation Prologue Room and National Museum of Transport.

Grant's Farm has a wild-life preserve, petting zoo and animal show, plus the Anheuser-Busch Clydesdale Horses.

Another stop for animal lovers is the St. Louis Zoo, which attracts more than two million tourists each year. The zoo is particularly well-known for its realistic "Big Cat Country" exhibit of lions, tigers and exotic felines.

Step into history at the National Museum of Transport, where they have nearly every method of transportation ranging from a section of a Roman aqueduct to steam-powered trucks and trains to modern aircraft.

Want to see achievements in aerospace and technology? Then visit the display at the world headquarters of McDonnell Douglas Corporation.

Travelers have a wide variety of lodgings available ranging from glass high-rises and Country French manors to purely contemporary functional motels. Weekend packages for families are offered by many hotels, and restaurants in all price ranges rival any city's.

For free leaflets about St. Louis attractions and accommodations, write "St. Louis: The Fun Place," 7900 Forsyth Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63105.

In making calls on ranchmen in the Southwest Texas area for Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, I have noted the presence of a sudden drought. Perhaps it has been creeping up on us for a time and I'm late in seeing the burnt grass and dry draws since I don't drive across pastures much anymore.

Usually, when West Texas range survives the typically hot July days with enough cow grass to make it until a possible September shower and cooler days...all equals out! Some of the ranges I've seen will not support livestock until fall rains.

And if that is your case, Mr. or Mrs. Rancher, boy have I got a deal for you!

This month we are kicking-off the 22nd annual drive of Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children. With the cattle market down and foreseeing a feedbill before winter, maybe donating your livestock to be sold and turned into cash to treat crippled children is your answer. Besides, when you go this route it's tax deductible. If you think President Reagan's tax cut will help, and I grant you it will, just try this CRCC thing too and see what Shelley Smith can do for you.

Again this year there will be five special sales across the country to benefit the children at West Texas Rehabilitation Center campuses in Abilene, San Angelo and Snyder. The cattle sale will debut the round-up Sept. 28 at the Abilene Auction. A special horse sale will be in Abilene Oct. 3. The third annual sheep & goat sale will be Oct. 5 at the Junction Stockyards. A livestock sale will start at 1 p.m. Oct. 7 in Coleman, and another in Brownwood Nov. 4.

All donations of $250 or more will be honored by the ranch brand being placed in the new $2 million building being constructed in San Angelo. Like the Abilene Rehab Center, brands will be placed in tile on hallway walls.

Last year CRCC sales totaled out over a quarter million from livestock sales and cash donations. When stock are sold the money is converted to treatment to aid the handicapped.

WRTC is a private, non-profit diagnostic and treatment facility for the handicapped in the Southwest. Total budget for operating the centers has gone beyond $3 million annually. There are no bills sent to patients. Gifts are the bulk of WRTC income.

Since the ranching industry helped establish my background as an ag journalist and also was responsible for the growth of the Rehab Centers (and keeping the doors open), I am always pleased about asking my readers for help in this worthy cause. If you would like to donate livestock or a cash donation, give me a call: 915/655-0001 or mailing address P. O. Box 1542, San Angelo, Texas 76902. Make check payable to Cattlemen's Round-Up.

Crop Insurance Deadline Set For Aug. 31st

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has announced a sign up deadline of Aug. 31, 1981, on wheat and barley in Coke County.

To participate in the USDA sponsored program, a farmer must make application by that date. Anyone with a share in the crop is eligible.

Applications and information about the program can be obtained from many local insurance agents.

The purpose of FCIC is to protect a farmer's annual crop production expenses from unavoidable natural hazards like drought, hail, frost, insects, and disease.

"Guaranteed income offered by all-risk crop insurance gives many farmers the stability they need to improve and expand their operations. Also, many lenders consider policyholders as better credit risks," said Kocich, FCIC District Director. "In many cases, it has made the difference in operating at a profit or a loss."

Pre-History Era Topic For History Group

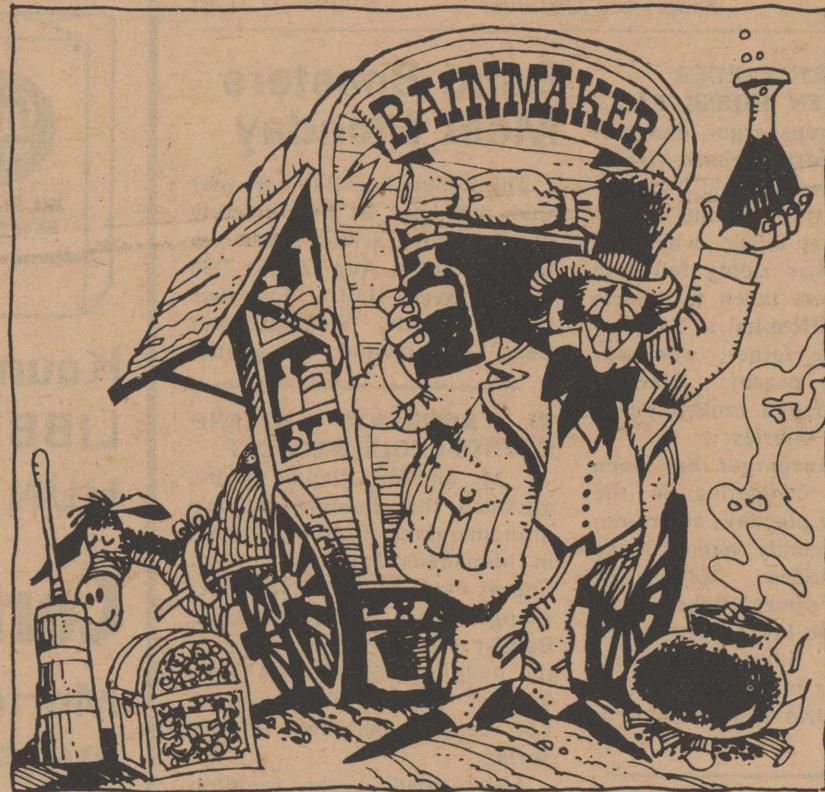

"Coke County, B.C." will be the theme of a round-table study to introduce the regular monthly meeting of the Coke County Historical Commission Tuesday afternoon of next week, Aug. 25.

From a photograph of ancient writings published in Mrs. Jessie Yarbrough's History of Coke County, alongside of "America B.C.", a book by Barry Fell, Ulmer Bird, the chairman, reaches the positive conclusion that white people, the Celts, were in what is now Coke County at the time of King Solomon and Hiram, King of Tyre.

There will be a question and answer period at Tuesday's meeting. Such discussions, if continued, could bring the story of the Colorado-Clear Fork, Concho Country on down through 300 years of Indians here, to Coke County's Centennial decade, the 1980's, as time goes on.

The matter of a budget for the commission will be discussed, along with possible ways of financing further development of heritage activities in the Coke recreational future.

By law, the meetings of the Coke County Historical Commission are open to the public, and all of those interested in the story of this land through the centuries are cordially invited.

NOTICE

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as a safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

AIMEE LIVENSARGER HURT WHEN HORSE FALLS

Aimee Livensparger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Livensparger of San Angelo, was injured last Friday on the Anderson Ranch at Silver, when the horse she was riding fell with her. She was taken to Angelo Community Hospital in San Angelo by her father, who was hauling hay nearby. Her injuries included a broken pelvis and internal injuries.

Miss Livensparger has been riding and competing in the Coke County playdays at Bronte. She was recently named Coke County Rodeo Association Queen. Former Robert Lee residents, the Livenspargers are ranching at Silver, and Mrs. Livensparger is teaching at San Angelo Central High School in San Angelo.

Rains Bring Relief from August Heat

Robert Lee residents received some relief from the August heat this week. Thunderstorms Saturday and Sunday cooled things off and a cloud cover continued to keep things cool up through press time Wednesday.

A total of .92 inch of rain was reported in Robert Lee during the Saturday and Sunday showers. Brilliant lightning and rumbling thunder accompanied the rain. Sanco also reported a little less than an inch of moisture.

A measurement of .75 inch was reported on the McCabe Ranch on the divide, toward Water Valley. The rain was heavier to the south, with a 2.10 inches measurement in the Valley View community.

Bronte received 1.75 inches in the two rains, with most of it falling Sunday. Across the river southeast of Bronte, 2.9 inches was recorded.

The Wednesday forecast called for continued cloudiness through Thursday, with temperatures reaching the mid-80s during the afternoon.

VACATION IN COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. Foy Askins and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Tomlinson, Tracie and Kelly have returned from a 10 day vacation trip to Colorado. They drove to Durango first and there rode the famous train ride to Silverton. One of the few scenic locomotive rail lines left in the United States, it passes by scenery that is breathtaking.

The families traveled to Estes Park, which at 14,000 feet elevation, is above the timberline. They reported foggy, wet cool weather, which required sweaters much of the time.

In Wellington, Colo. the group visited the hotel and store that was once owned by Foy Askins' parents years ago. They saw little change in the hotel itself but added the store had transformed over the years.

Band Boosters Meet Monday

The Robert Lee Band Booster Club will have its first meeting of the new school year on Monday night, Aug. 24, at 7:30 in the Band Hall. Everyone interested in the "Stompin' Steer Band" is invited to attend.

RL RESIDENTS ATTEND COUNTS-CAGLE WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Counts attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Suzanne Counts, in Monahans Saturday. Miss Counts and Jerry Cagle exchanged vows in the Southside Baptist Church there. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Counts of Monahans. The couple will live in Big Spring.

Also attending the wedding from Robert Lee were Mrs. Fred McCabe Jr., Mindy McCabe, who was a bridesmaid, and Mr. and Mrs. James Counts and Kevin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Counts, former residents of Monahans, enjoyed seeing old friends during the backyard reception and barbecue given by the bride's parents at their home. On their return trip home, they visited with their daughter and husband, Karen and Larry Sproles of Odessa.
