DEATH OF WELL KNOWN MAN. Local relatives and friends of W. H. Bradbury yesterday received notice of his death in Kansas City Wednesday morning.

He was a son of Capt. W. H. Bradbury, who for thirty years was warden of the state's prison at Jefferson City. Mr. Bradbury was one of the best known men in the state. Prior to his removal to Kansas City, he conducted the Madison house in Jefferson City, which for many years has been utilized during the sessions of the legislature as Democratic headquarters.

He was a brother of Thomas M. Bradbury, formerly secretary of the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. Death resulted from heart trouble. He was employed previous to his death in the office of the county clerk of Jackson county.

SUES FOR CROP. The case of John A. Cramer against Richard H. Nelson is on trial in division No. 2 of circuit court. Cramer claims that he leased a farm to the French brothers to Nelson on condition that he should be paid as rent one-half of the grain raised on the farm. The land was occupied a year longer than the lease called for, he says, and but a part of the farm's products paid him. He is suing for 1,500 bushels of corn, valued at $750.

CHARGED BY MAD BULL. J. M. Fairbanks, 2003 Holman street, the proprietor of a dairy, was attacked by a mad bull Wednesday evening, resulting in receiving a slight cut about nine inches long, across his breast. Seeing the animal preparing for a charge, Mr. Fairbanks dodged behind a post as the infuriated beast made a lunge, escaping death from the bull's horns by a fraction of an inch.

NOTHING DOING. "Looks as though it would take a riot or epidemic of crime or something of that sort to rouse the powers that dictate police doings," to the fact that the Stock Yards district is short on blue-coated, helmeted, star-spangled authority. This observation was from a south side citizen on learning that there is to be nothing doing in that line when the police commissioners meet tonight.

AVAUNT, OLD CATERPILLAR!

Citizens and Officials to Start War of Extermination.

War is to be declared on the fuzzy caterpillar that insects the trees of St. Joseph. It is to be a war of extermination and the caterpillar with any regard for the safety of his fuzzi will at once hike for taller timber than grows in this particular vicinity. The council will be asked to get into the game and if Mr. Caterpillar ain't gone before snow flies there is liable to be terrible and death-dealing doings in these parts.

A committee will be appointed to investigate minutely the conditions and determine what action can be taken. Several methods were suggested at yesterday's meeting to prevent the spread of the worm.

Similar conditions were experienced last season and considerable controversy resulted as to the means to be employed in remedying the trouble. At that time it was suggested that the city council be asked to frame an ordinance prohibiting the planting of trees within the city limits upon which the caterpillar feeds.

Throughout the city many property owners have already taken precautions to prevent the spread of the worm over shade trees surrounding their property. In the majority of cases strips of cotton have been bound about tree trunks and saturated with oil. This is said to prevent worms from gaining access to the leaves. Another meeting of the league will probably be called within a few days to determine upon definite methods.

GRASPS LIVE WIRE.

St. Joseph Lady Severely Shocked and Burned Last Night.

A live electric wire hanging from a trolley pole at Thirty-second and Lafayette streets last night came near resulting in the death of a St. Joseph lady. Mrs. Emma F. Hart with her husband, a clerk for the J. S. Brittain Dry Goods company, had alighted from a Wyatt park car about 9 o'clock last night, and started across the street. The wire hung from one of the street railway's poles, and could not be seen in the darkness.

It first came in contact with the woman's body, and in her struggles she grasped it, endeavoring to throw it from her.

Mrs. Hart was dashed to the ground in an insensible condition. Her hands were badly burned.

Attracted by her screams, a crowd of neighbors watched the husband as he tried to save her, and endangered his own life.

After the woman had been rendered unconscious she lost her hold upon the wire. She was taken to a neighboring house and Dr. Bell was called. Later she was removed to her home, 3304 Seneca street.

BODY OF BOY FOUND.

Noel Wise Drowned off Francis Street—Body is Recovered.

The body of Noel Wise, the sixteen year old son of Virgil Wise, assistant treasurer of the Lyceum theater, who was drowned while bathing in the river at the foot of Francis street last Sunday afternoon, was recovered yesterday. The body was taken from the water four miles above Atchison, on the Kansas side of the river.

The Meierhofer Undertaking company received a telephone message yesterday that the nude body of a boy had been taken from the river at Atchison. From the description given the identity of the body was soon determined. Virgil Wise, father of the lad, was notified and left late yesterday afternoon for Atchison. He returned early this morning with the body, which was removed to Meierhofer's.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from Meierhofer's.

RETRIBUTION FOR BOYS.

The Missouri-King Hill Avenue Bunch Getting a Taste of Law.

The young hoodlums who have been making themselves notoriously obnoxious for months in the vicinity of Missouri and King Hill avenues are getting a taste of the retribution that is in store for them. Some dozen or more of them have been under arrest, awaiting trial, since last week.

Yesterday the first of the cases, that of John Secord, was tried in Justice Walker's court and resulted in a fine of $5 and costs amounting to $8 being charged up against young Secord. Another case, that of Will McKee, on a similar charge is being tried today. In all there are some fifteen boys awaiting trial on the same charge and Justice Walker's court will be grinding on this grist for at least a week.

BURGLARY REPORTED.

Need of More Ample Police Protection Apparent.

Within the last few days a number of small burglaries and depredations in the night season have been reported in South St. Joseph territory. The frequency of these raids has been such that it should attract attention to the necessity of more adequate police protection.

Among recent attempts at burglary reported in the residence of A. H. Penfield, president of the Bank of Commerce. Yesterday afternoon during the absence of the family from the residence, the house was entered and money and valuables to the amount of about $100 were taken.

Other inroads by thieves have been reported during the week and citizens begin to think it is high time that more ample police protection were accorded this end of the city.

ANOTHER WEAVER VICTORY.

Committee of Philadelphia Council Refers Back the Repealing Bill Introduced by the Mayor.

Philadelphia June 16.—Another blow was dealt at the Republican organization Thursday when the street railway committee of council referred back to that body and bills repealing the ordinances granting to the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company franchises for 110 miles of streets without payment to the city. The ordinances granting the franchises were passed over Mayor Weaver's veto and at his investigation the repealers were introduced. The outcome of the attempt to repeal the franchises is regarded as a victory for Mayor Weaver whose wishes in the matter were opposed by the organization leaders.

Could Not Stand Misfortune.

BENEFITS FARMERS.

Ponder, Neb., June 16.—There is a lot of war raging at the little town of Hagar over the price of ordium. The Omaha Cold Storage company, which does business at that point, in an attempt to get a share of the business of the farmers, raised the price one cent per pound over that of the representative of a grocery firm from Beckridge. The latter company

HORSE MARKET

No new features have developed lately in the horse trade. Receipts are about down to a par with local demand and quietness prevails on the cinders in front of the barns.

Eastern markets report about the same conditions that are noted here, small and very particular demand prevails and this condition will perhaps continue for some weeks.

One week from today there will be another auction, which will perhaps be the last until towards fall.

The following quotations are those current and obtainable for horses and mules at private sale.
