CATTLE.

Moderate Receipts Met Ready Outlet at Steady to Strong Prices.

Continuance of the good, active and stronger tone that characterized the trade of closing days last week, was shown in the market for beef cattle today. Receipts all around the circle were moderate. Local run, estimated at 1,500 head, but less than half as large as for the corresponding day a year ago.

The aggregate showing of steers on the market was small. Buyers estimated 25 loads, including 6 cars on the quarantine side.

Sales included a good fat class of medium to strong weight steers at $4.40 to $5.75 and a few below the $4.00 mark were not conspicuous in number.

HOGS.

Market Rather Sluggish, Prices About Steady.

Saturday's scale of prices was pretty well maintained in the live pork division but it was a more or less sluggish trade.

Reports from outside markets were generally of a bearish tenor and after first rounds, when quite a few hogs sold on a steady level, buyers here began bidding a little lower.

Quality of the offerings was somewhat improved over that of Saturday's since the hogs were not very high, there being a good many light unfinished mixed lots and few of the desirable smooth fat butcher and lard grades.

Prices ranged from $6.15 to $6.60, with the bulk selling at $6.25 to $6.50, a week ago at $6.30 to $6.50.

SHEEP.

Market Featured by Light Supplies, Trade Active With Prices Steady.

Supply of sheep and lambs received at the local yards today was limited to one deck of fresh offerings and a single lot of hollers, which in all made up a mere handful of stuff, and afforded buyers limited buying opportunity.

Side markets reported steady openings, with the result that there was little effort to enforce a revision in the local schedule, both sheep and lambs going to the scales at prices that were well up with the recent elevation in force at the close of last week.

Trade was active from the start and clearance of the day's crop was accomplished within two or three hours of trading.

Best lambs went at $8.75, with several strings of good kinds in a range of $6.25 to $6.50.

BILL IS PASSED

Canadian Reciprocity Act Finally Put Through United States Senate.

ALL AMENDMENTS KILLED. Final Vote on Measure Was 53 for and 27 Against—Republican Vote Split.

THREE DEMOCRATS VOTE NAY. Bill, the Storm Center of Two Sessions of Congress, Now Ready for President's Signature—Taft Pleas With Passage of Measure—Twenty-Three Republican Votes Against Bill; 21 for It—Congress Will Now Tackle Wool Tariff Question.

Washington, July 24.—The reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Canada embodied in the reciprocity bill that proved a storm center in two sessions of congress passed the senate without amendment Saturday afternoon by a vote of 53 to 27.

Majority of Republicans voted against it. Of 33 votes cast, 27 were Democratic and 21 were Republican and 3 Democrats.

This action settled the whole Canadian question and ended the long struggle over the tariff on wool.

The bill provides for the removal of the tariff on wool from the United States and Canada, and for the removal of the tariff on wool from the United States and Canada.

HEAVY RAIN FALLS.

Precipitation Over Wide Scope of St. Joseph Territory.

A heavy rain fell all over this section of the country Saturday night and yesterday morning, breaking records for precipitation at some points in Nebraska and Kansas, doing serious damage to property and benefiting the corn crop to a marked degree.

In St. Joseph, the rainfall amounted to 2.33 inches, the heaviest since last February, when a little more than three inches of rainfall fell. Brown's branch in South St. Joseph broke down its banks and wrought more damage than usual, the water not only flooding "Skeeterville," the lowlands to the south of Alabama avenue, but raced down Lake avenue to the business district of the suburb, covering an area twenty blocks square.

The flood entered the Transit House on Illinois avenue and did damage in some of the stores. Never before has so large a territory been flooded throughout at Hamilton, heavy rains fell and the district between Alabama avenue and Illinois avenue, near Lake avenue, were under two and three feet of water up to 11 o'clock in the morning.

Thousands of chickens were drowned, gardens and foot bridges were washed away.

In the country a number of bridges were damaged and there were numerous washouts in the roads. A bridge on the hill road to the waterworks reservoirs was torn out. None of the railroads suffered seriously near here, although the Grand Island reported washout at Hamilton. Heavy rains fell at Troy, Hiawatha, Sabetha and other Kansas towns near here but the railroad schedules were not seriously affected.

The only trouble the Burlington had to report was caused by the South End flood. The Brown's branch overflowed delayed a passenger train for about an hour.

Eastern Kansas received the heaviest rain recorded in two years, the precipitation at Topeka registering 2.82 inches. Southeast Nebraska was visited by one of the heaviest rainfalls on record. The government gauge at Beatrice, according to a report received by Weather Observer Welden, recorded a fall of eight inches up twenty-six feet, rising at a rate of three feet an hour, submerging the railroad yards and endangering the residence and business districts. Women and children were rescued from the tops of boxcars. No lives were lost, according to report. All the railroads suffered. The Burlington bridge over the Burlington Rock Island and Union Pacific yards at Beatrice was washed out or inundated.

For a distance of twelve miles between Dewitt and Beatrice, Neb., most of the track is gone. No trains were running in and out of Beatrice last night and it may be several days before service can be resumed. The light plant is shut down and the waterworks threatened. Heavy property losses are reported by farmers.

At Tecumseh, Neb., four inches of rain fell in four hours. Six inches fell at Crab Orchard, Neb. Near there two miles of the track of the Nebraska City-Holdrege line of the Burlington is washed out.

SEVENTEEN HUNDRED REPTILES FROM Southwest to East.

San Bernardino.—With the handling of five carloads of snakes out of New Mexico, Arizona, Northern Mexico and the southern part of California, the Southern Pacific probably holds the record for the shipment of the most unique load of freight ever placed in cars. The shipment of live snakes will be delivered to Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati and Boston zoos, and also to New York for shipment to European points.

The snakes numbered 1,700 and represented twenty-four different species. In length they ran from the way from five to twenty-five feet. The majority of the reptiles were classed as deadly and were so marked on the boxes. The shipment represented about ten months' work of the collectors of the reptiles who are said to be famous snake collectors of the valley of the Rio Grande. It cost $300 per car to ship them.

KANSAS STEERS AS $6.75. Two Car Drive of 1408-lb. Averages Made This Figure.

A. E. McGregor, mayor of Washington, Kansas, and a prominent farmer and feeder, brought in two loads of well fattened 1408-lb. steers today that sold at $6.75. This is the top for the season on an cattle of that weight on this market.

There were 36 head in the shipment. The offerings were mixed Shorthorns and "Winnifaces" and were part of a string of feeders purchased in Colorado early this year. They had been on feed since February and made a very good gain on corn and alfalfa.

Geo. Wertz, an extensive feeder and shipper of Alma, Neb., was here today with a two-car consignment of mixed yearling heifers and steers that did the sensational in the way of top figures. There were 49 head in the shipment averaging 845 lbs and sold at $7.00 per cwt. the highest price paid for such cattle on the local market this year. The offerings were mostly Herefords and showed both quality and finish.

"BERT" EMMERT HERE. A "BERT" J. Emmert, of Cranston, S. D., formerly in the commission trade here, was at the yards today shaking hands with his old friends. "BERT" says it has been extremely dry in the south central and western parts of South Dakota this year with more or less damage to crops of all kinds.

MINN. MOORE KILLED BY FALL FROM BIPLANE IN FRANCE. Etampes, France, July 22.—Mme. Denise Moore is the first woman victim of aviation. She was killed at the aerodrome here last night. Mme. Moore had already made several fine ascents and was about to make a high flight. When about 150 feet in the air her biplane was caught by a gust and capsized. It fell straight to the earth and the woman was crushed beneath it.

Mme. Moore was a French woman, although she had an English name. She was about 25 years of age. She had hoped to obtain a pilot's license next week.

SEES TO BOOST MISSOURI. Call Is Issued for Meeting of Commercial Clubs at Sedalia.

Sedalia, Mo., July 24.—A call has been issued to numerous officials of county and city commercial clubs to hold a convention at Sedalia, August 5 and 6, with the object of organizing the Central Missouri Industrial and Commercial Association. The purpose of the organization will be to secure co-operation in exploiting the resources, advantages and opportunities of the state to homeseekers and investors of other states with a view to attracting immigration and new industries.

The territory that it is designed to include within the proposed association comprises the counties of Cass, Johnson, Fayette, Saline, Howard, Boone, Cooper, Gallaway, Osage, Maries, Miller, Montezuma, Morgan, Camden, Hickory, St. Charles, Henry, Benton and Pettis. Those twenty counties of the great state comprise a compact area, all parts of which are accessible to all other parts, all of it possessing attractive opportunities for the thousands of homeseekers and investors now going West and Southwest.

Contracts Let and Work Will Start Within Next Ten Days.

New York, July 24.—Probably ten days hence the construction of the most elaborate system of underground thoroughfares in the world. The entire new system, involving the expenditure of approximately $225,000,000 was today awarded to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

Four of the five construction contracts were signed and bonds approved tonight and the only formally new boring work is the procuring of a permit.

After the meeting adjourned a lawyer announced that he would immediately apply for an injunction, on behalf of a tax payer, to prohibit the letting of a portion of the extension to the Brooklyn Rapid Transit. Members of the board believe, however, that he is too late.

The system will require from three to four years to finish in its entirety, although engineers estimate that portions here and there may be completed within eighteen months to two years.

RECEIVE LESS PAY

Why Doctors' Fee is Gradually Decreasing.

Profession is Greatly Overcrowded in This Country, According to Statistics—Comparison With France.

New York.—American doctors continue to bewail the fact that their incomes are decreasing. From statistics published from time to time in the medical journals, it is plain that this decrease is going on fast. Compared with other countries, it seems that the medical profession is overcrowded in the United States. For instance, there are not many more doctors in the whole of France than there are in the state of New York. Here are the latest figures published in the Medical Record and comments on them:

"It is an easy matter to prove that the medical profession in America is overcrowded. In France, which has a population of 37,000,000 or so, there are only seventeen thousand medical men all told, and in England, with a population of more than forty million, there are about thirty-two thousand medical men, while in this country and Canada, with perhaps ninety million people, have more than 120,000 physicians. This proportion is preposterous, and the natural consequence is that a considerable proportion of American practitioners have hard work to keep the wolf from the door.

"With an increase in the cost of living the physician earns less than he earned some few years ago. There is also another aspect of the case which deserves attention. In all countries the medical man has more difficulty in collecting his just dues than has the member of any other profession or trade.

"This statement may be applied with greater aptness to America than to other countries. It is more customary here for general practitioners to give credit than for those of England or France, for instance. The entire practice of medicine here is based on the credit system.

"When a person is ill no trouble or expense is too great to insure or aid his recovery; the doctor then is his rock of refuge; but when he gets well both his illness and the doctor alike are liable to be forgotten. There are some who even shamelessly evade payment; these are those who in the euphonious and pertinent slang are termed 'dead beats.'

"It might not be an overestimate to assert that of a general practitioner's annual earnings almost 25 per cent will never be collected. The physician is precluded to a great extent by the etiquette of his profession from enforcing payment of his dues in the same manner as members of other professions and trades would enforce payment, and therefore he would seem to be almost hopelessly handicapped. The most bitter feature of the position is that those least able to bear loss are the ones who are usually mulcted."

GRAFT FROM DEAD TO LIVING

Remarkable Experiments of German Surgeons Have Proved Highly Successful—Two Cases.

Berlin.—After American surgeons had begun to graft skin, muscles and bones from animals on human bodies German surgeons undertook to implant parts taken from dead bodies into living men. Doctor Kuttner, professor of the University of Breslau, replaced in a wounded man a ball and socket joint and part of the femur taken from a body with success.

The patient died a few months later of apoplexy and Professor Kuttner was thus able by means of post-mortem examination to show in the surgical congress anatomical pieces proving that the part really taken from the dead body had received new life and attained natural articulation. Another patient operated on in the same way presented himself a year after the operation.

The surprising success of this new method of grafting parts of dead bodies was surpassed by a demonstration by Professor Lexer of the University of Jena, the inventor and propagator of new transplantation methods. He presented a female patient who had attempted suicide by drinking sulphuric acid and seriously injured the oesophagus. Professor Lexer formed out of a piece of the intestine and external skin a new oesophagus, reaching from the stomach to the throat.

The assembly, which was composed of the most famous German surgeons, was able to convince itself that the patient not only eats and drinks, but that the new oesophagus fulfills all the natural functions.

USHER IS GIVEN PENNY TIP

Boy at Kansas City Union Depot Is Handed One Cent in Appreciation of His Services.

Kansas City, Mo.—"Thank you, young man. You have been of great service to me."

Saying this, a woman whom Thomas Jansen, an usher at the Union depot had piloted about the station for 15 minutes, handed him a piece of money and went through the gates to board her train.

Jansen made his most gracious bow in acknowledging the "tip" and then leaned against a pillar with a satisfied grin overspreading his countenance.

"This is the first 'tip' I have received for some time," he remarked to another usher. "I was just thinking that a little smoking tobacco would come in handy tonight, but I didn't have the price."

"Well, you're always lucky," returned the other, disconsolately. "I have decided that this 'tip' business is just about over with."

Jansen smiled. "It's all the way you handle the people," he explained. "You see, I took the trouble to show that woman around and—"

He suddenly dropped the coin. He saw it was a penny.

SEEKING A STINGLESS BEE

Isn't as Industrious as Other Kind, But Scientists Hope to Make It Work as Hard.

Amherst, Mass.—The new beekeeping bureau of the Massachusetts agricultural college here has set itself the task of developing a bee that will not sting and that at the same time will be twice or three times as industrious as the bee of today.

Prof. Burton N. Gates, state inspector of apiaries, who is in charge of the work, thinks that the first step in solving the problem has been accomplished with the importation of specimens of a bee found in the Russian Caucasus.

"This type of bee," he says, "is remarkable for its gentleness. It is not ideal in some other directions, but we hope to get what we want by cross-breeding. Some day, I think, we shall breed bees that will be great honey or wax producers and at the same time gentle and stingless."

WOMEN AND CRABS AS CHARM

America's Best Bet, Declares General Sir Ian Hamilton, Hero of South African War.

New York.—"I have been captivated by your charming American women and your truly wonderful soft-shell crabs. I may say that I dote on both; the women are so generally beautiful and the crabs are poems of succulence."

This from General Sir Ian Hamilton, veteran and hero of the late difficulty in South Africa and inspector general of his majesty's overseas forces, just before sailing for home the other day.

General Hamilton spent a week in New York on his way to London from the inspection of the British forces in the West Indies. He was feted and made much of by society here.

Some one sent him a basket of soft-shell crabs, instead of flowers, to the ship, so he could continue his crab orgy on the way over.

Sells His Body and Soul.

Chicago.—Charles Kitztrick, who sold his "body and soul" to seven nurses at the National Maternity hospital, died the other night at the hospital, where he was being cared for.

Kitztrick was suffering from a peculiar form of locomotor ataxia, and by the terms of the bill of sale his body will be used for clinical study. Kitztrick sold himself for seven dollars, and he used the money to pay the last bill he owed—his room rent. Record of the sale was filed with the county recorder.

EFFECT OF RADIUM ON LIFE

English Scientist Declares Little is Known About Mysterious Element—Tried on Horse.

London.—Sir William Ramsay, the discoverer of the atmospheric gases argon, neon, krypton and xenon and an authority on the transmutation of radium, gave his experiences of the effect of radium on life following the experiment of Prof. Gabriel Pettit at Alfort, near Paris, who found that an old horse injected with radium received a new lease of life.

"The experiment," said Sir William, "has been frequently tried both on animals and human beings, but with no very positive results. It is always of value to hear of an experiment being carried out with any result which may add to the knowledge of the subject. I have tried radium injection on cats, and the effect was that they became emaciated after a short time and eventually died. It produces profound alterations of the tissues.

"Of eight people suffering from cancer who were injected one recovered, but the others did not, so that it is difficult to say what were the effects of the radium, if any. External application for certain kinds of cancer undoubtedly effects a cure; but in other kinds sometimes results are attained and sometimes not.

"The skin undoubtedly shows radioactivity for some time. The effect on many persons may be of a stimulating nature. One of the greatest objections to the use of radium for injection would be its excessive cost."

WILL HUNT FOR $15,000,000

Mariner Fitting Out Ship at Eagle Harbor to Seek Hidden Treasure on Cocos Island.

Tacoma, Wash.—The bark Hesper is being outfitted at Eagle Harbor for a treasure seeking voyage to find hydraulic power sufficient to wash away the entire island, five miles in diameter.

Capt. Fred Hackett, who will command the Hesper, tells the following story of the treasure:

"In 1853 Peruvians and Chileans were at war and the Peruvians, rather than give up their state treasures, deposited them on board the British bark Mary Deir, then in port. Captain Thompson of the bark was really a pirate, who sailed away as soon as he got the treasure on board. Fearing mutiny in his crew, he landed on Cocos island and buried the money, which is supposed to amount to $15,000,000.

Captain Hackett now has the original map showing the location of the treasure on Cocos island. He claims that a landslide prevented him from reaching the money in a former attempt, but now that he is supplied with hydraulic machinery he says he will be able to make the quest complete.

BURRO IS HERO IN DESERT

By Stopping Fast Train Animal is Instrumental in Obtaining Help for Injured Master.

San Bernardino, Cal.—Away out on the Mojave desert a little burro enacted a part which would have called for a medal if it were the custom to make such awards to dumb creatures.

When the engineer of the fast Santa Fe limited decided to sacrifice a moment's running time and save the life of the animal on the track he spared the life of a prospector. The heavy train came to a stop and the passengers, wondering what had stopped it far from signs of civilization, climbed from the sleepers.

They found standing resolutely in the center of the track a sad-eyed little animal, plainly marked with the life of the desert. It refused to clear the path of the train until the engineer discovered tied to one of its front legs a slip of paper.

The curious passengers crowded about the engineer and read an appeal for help from Henry Gooding. Scrawled on the paper was the blunt statement he had broken a leg ten miles south of Siberia and was alone.

At the first station the message of the injured man was placed in the hands of men who brought Gooding to the town.

VAGRANT EATS WHOLE MENU

Virginian Proves That He is Hungry by Devouring $6.75 Meal—Saved From Jail Sentence.

Philadelphia.—Robert Lee of Virginia, arrested for vagrancy, proved that he was hungry and not begging for personal gain by eating a meal which cost $6.75. James McManus, a railroad contractor, saved Lee from the jail sentence.

McManus heard the prisoner give the excuse that he was hungry and offered to take him to restaurant. He did. Lee went through the menu, not missing a single item until it came to wine. At that Mr. McManus re-neged.

When the meal had been finished the table was bare, but Lee declared himself to be perfectly satisfied. McManus declares he will not volunteer to purchase meals for hungry vagrants in the future.

HAREM SKIRT DEAD

Paris Misses New Style of Dress From Streets.

Does Not Go in Occident and Was Merely Intended as House Gown—Latest Fashion Freak is "Hoop Sleeve."

Paris.—What has become of the famous harem skirt? Is it living or is it dead? This question seems to be running through the minds of women throughout the world. The innovation was hooted whenever it appeared publicly in the European capitals, and Paris, which ordinarily becomes accustomed quickly to the most fantastic apparel refused to accept it.

The failure of the garment to appear at the fashionable race courses on Sunday aroused wide comment. A few women, seeking to attract attention, occasionally dare to wear it at a roller rink or in a box at the theater, but the mass of femininity avoid it, with the possible exception of a few of the milder models, which it is impossible to distinguish from the conventional skirt. The harem skirt is not seen on the streets.

With a view to solving the mystery as to what has become of the garment, a newspaper correspondent visited several leading costumers and even firms which tried to launch the skirt on the market. All admitted that things had not gone well.

"The harem skirt," said M. Drecoll, "was intended merely as a house gown. It was killed by enemies who put out hideous models, and it was doubly killed by the department stores, which sold cheap imitations at 30 francs ($6) each. The worst class of women tried to wear it, and consequently the better sort ignored it. Occasionally we sell one for house wear, but I really believe it is dead beyond hope of resurrection."

"My grandfather made and tried to launch the harem skirt forty years ago," said John Worth, "but was unsuccessful. Then, as now, the women did not want it. It may be acceptable to the inmates of Turkish harems, who recline on cushions all day long and do not go out save when veiled and cloaked, but it does not go in the occident. I consider it lifeless for the present, but I believe it to be probable that it will be revived, say in two years, when it may be successful. Certainly it is practical, if nothing else."

"It was not intended for street wear," explained a member of the firm of Bechoff, David & Co. "A few fashionable women are still wearing it indoors and at receptions. My wife recently wore it at a royal reception in St. Petersburg and was much complimented. The mass of women probably will never adopt it, but I believe that really aristocratic women will continue to use it for ball gowns and house gowns."

The latest fashion freak is the "hoop sleeve." The hoop is placed at the middle of the forearm and its diameter is seven inches. The sleeve is drawn in at wrist and elbow.

FRISKY MONKEY ON RAMPAGE

Terrorized Sea Gate Housewives and Haunted Police Reserves Until Captured by Strategy.

New York.—"Johnnie" Robertson's pet monkey, after a lapse of activity for three days, when he tore down a chandelier in the Sea Gate beach hotel, threw off his ennui while "Johnnie" was at school and attempted to push about fifteen Sea Gate bungalows into the ocean. He encountered opposition from several housewives, one of whom enlisted the aid of the reserves of the Coney Island police station. The monkey was finally captured by a policeman wielding a crab net.

When the reserves, under Lieut. Joseph Conroy, reached the sand hills of lower Sea Gate they saw a phalanx of housewives armed with brooms marching against a wary monkey. The policemen allied their forces with the housewives, but the simian dodged the attacking force and tore through the bungalows, throwing kitchen utensils and boudoir paraphernalia at his pursuers.

Policeman Theodore O'Neill, the naturalist of the Coney Island station, got a crab net and soon made the monkey a prisoner.

24,000,000 HENS IN IRELAND

Figures Given Out at Dublin Poultry Conference Show Large Gains—Becoming Second Denmark.

Dublin.—Astounding facts relating to Irish land development have come to light in connection with the poultry conference here. Figures have been compiled showing that the country possesses more than 24,000,000 hens and 250,000 goats. It is exporting near £4,000,000 ($20,000,000) worth of poultry produce, while England imports £7,000,000 ($35,000,000) worth of eggs.

Ireland, according to these figures, is becoming a second Denmark. The increase in poultry is due principally to the establishment of co-operative depots, which have steadily multiplied. The recently started society called the United Irish Women is rapidly becoming a force in the development of agriculture, and it is believed that the efforts of the organization will result in a greatly reduced emigration.

Farming a Business and Business Must Be Advertised.

Several states at the last session of their general assemblies passed laws under which farmers may name their farms and record these names with state officials by paying a small fee for the expense of recording. Iowa and Washington were two of these states, and reports state many farmers are availing themselves of the opportunity of stamping their individuality on their products, says the Drovers Journal.

REFUSE TO MARKET EGGS.

Farmers Near Callaway, Neb., Balk at Culling Order.

Callaway, Neb., July 22.—Farmers of this locality are refusing to bring eggs to the local market and allowing them to be candled. An inspector visited Callaway last week and insisted that all eggs placed upon the market must be candled. As a result the farmers are refusing to market their eggs, and the town is now experiencing an egg famine. One merchant, who has a small flock of chickens, saved the eggs for two days, and upon candling them, found but two out of the eight eggs would pass the inspection.

SEA COW, 2,000 POUNDS, CAUGHT.

Galveston, Tex., July 22.—A manatee, or sea cow, measuring twenty feet and weighing about 2,000 pounds, was captured in Laguna Madre on the Gulf of Mexico, about thirty miles southeast of Brownsville. It required a ten hours' struggle with about twenty men to land the half fish and half cow monster.
