By RAY MARTIN

When Bailey County folk line up on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 16, to take polio oral vaccine, heading that line will be Muleshoe's most ardent booster for vaccine—Wayne Holcomb. He'll be there to take a polio booster.

Wayne is the new distributive education teacher in Muleshoe senior high school. He came here August 1 to start his work, lining up pupils and employers for the new school-work program which some 35 pupils will carry on this school year.

A week later he went to Austin to attend the state DE conference. One morning he awoke with his left foot "dead" and part of his left leg, too. He discovered he could walk but that left foot dragged a bit.

Wayne went to a doctor. Polio, said the medico. Now Wayne had had his polio shots, and had taken a booster not long ago.

Said the doctor: "It's a lucky thing for you that you have had the shots; otherwise you might be dead or you might be forced to spend the rest of your life in an iron lung."

That's how close Wayne came to being a polio fatality. The doctor pointed out that Wayne obviously is one of those individuals for whom polio would have been serious if he had not been immunized.

Wayne is learning to live with that partially "dead" left foot. He may regain feeling in that foot within a few months—maybe never. He has a slight limp. "But I shudder to think what might have happened if I hadn't taken my polio shots," he sums up.

That's one thing about the vaccine. It works wonders, prevents polio entirely for most people, but it is not an absolute guarantee that polio will never occur in a person who has had the vaccine, Sabine, or Salk. But, just as in the case of Wayne Holcomb, if polio does occur after the vaccine has been taken, the case usually is very light.

And while we're mentioning schools and school men, I'd like to overheard the other day.

Two boys were standing outside the senior high school after completing enrollment for the 1962-63 school year.

Just as I went by I heard one of the boys say:

"They made me take English again, and I don't see why. I don't need no more English. It ain't gonna do me no good. I've had that stuff all my life and I figure I know how to talk. Besides, I'm going to be a scientist, and English don't make much difference to a scientist."

Well, Buddy, English probably won't do you "no good" if you look at it that way. But this may come as a bit of surprise to you: You won't be "no good" as a scientist either if you can't express yourself any better than that.

In the first place, with English as poor as yours, you'll have difficulty ever getting a degree in science for the simple reason that you won't know what you are (See RAY'S, page 5)

Peery Sees Helene, She Sends Greetings

Rev. J. Frank Peery, Muleshoe minister who has been touring Europe and Asia for the last six weeks, had a visit recently with Helene Bekaert in Gent, Belgium, and Helene sent greetings by him to her "many friends in Muleshoe, Texas."

Helene was last year's foreign exchange student. The letter which she wrote to the Journal—and sent along with

NEW SECRETARY — Here is the new Muleshoe city secretary, Mrs. Jim White, who took over her duties Aug. 21. Mr. and Mrs. White have lived here for nine years, and she formerly worked for the accounting firm of Williams and Merriman. The Whites, who live at 618 W. 5, have three sons, Charles, who graduated from Tech in May and is now working in Fort Worth; Bob, who enters Tech this fall, and Gerald, a senior in Muleshoe High School. (Journal Photo & Engr.)

Mr. Peery's weekly letter to the newspaper read: "I have been so busy since I am home that I have not found the time to write. Today I told myself that I needed to do it first of all."

"Coming home I made a wonderful trip. I left Tulsa, Okla., went to Jefferson City, Mo., Decatur, Ill., Marion, Ohio, Girard, Pa., Bath, N. Y., Damarest, N. J., Landsdown, Pa., and Washington D.C."

We visited so many interesting things as factories, Niagara Falls and big cities. We spent three days in New York and four in Washington. It is a beautiful city—just great—I would have liked to spend more time.

"I have not seen enough, so the only thing left to do is to go back. From Washington we went to

Dillman Urges Busses' Safety

With the reopening of schools next Monday, an appeal was sounded Thursday by school officials for drivers "to use extreme caution" to help prevent accidents of pupils using school busses.

Neal Dillman, superintendent, said 900 boys and girls ride school busses each day a total of 1,014 miles per day. "We want to urge everyone who travels the highways and backroads in areas covered by busses to be extremely cautious," Dillman said. The law requires that any driver must stop every time a school bus stops and must remain stopped until the flicking light on the bus has been turned off.

"With as many children riding the busses as do in this district,

Knotty Tax Issues Heard By Board

County commissioners, meeting as an equalization board here Monday, satisfied all tax payers and organizations which appeared before them with the possible exception of one firm, County Judge Glen Williams said Wednesday.

The commissioners heard a number of individuals and firms whose taxes had been raised by the board after their individual valuations were considered too low by the commissioners. The Santa Fe railroad, Pioneer Gas company and General Telephone company officials all appeared before the board in the day-long session which lasted until 10 p.m.

Under the law a firm or individual may pay taxes "under protest," and then can sue for refund of part of the money.

Firms or individuals whose valuations are raised (with a resulting increase in taxes) make their own valuations. If the board does not think the valuations are high enough, they can give notice of a re-assessment, and the equalization sessions are held to try to reach an agreement.

Stores to Remain Open on Labor Day

Muleshoe stores and shops will be "open as usual" next Monday, Labor Day, but city, county and federal offices will be closed and banks also will take the holiday, and barber shops will not be open.

That's what a check, taken Thursday morning, revealed. But for hundreds of school pupils of commerce especially will be a big day: It marks the opening of the 1962-63 school term and their parents Monday with classes starting in all schools on Tuesday, and several will open Monday or will have been under way for a week. Several schools started last Mon-

Kerr to Head Grand Jury Here, Probing Starts

District Judge E. A. Bills put a grand jury to work this morning with instructions to delve into any matter that needs consideration, and he picked Ernest Kerr, Muleshoe, manager of the Federal Land Bank here, as foreman.

The jury immediately started its probe.

Sixteen men had been called by Judge Bills as prospective members of the jury.

The 12 who were picked, in addition to Kerr, are Bobby Airhart, Muleshoe; Arnold Alcorn, Route 2, Muleshoe; W. O. Harrell, Route 2, Muleshoe; Cecil Cole, Goodland; Ross Goodwin, Muleshoe; Pete Tarlton, Goodland; John F. Blackman, Bula; Dale Nichols, Star Route, Baileyboro; Charles Alsop, Muleshoe; and Truman Lindsey, Muleshoe.

School Insurance Coverage Asked

Patrons served by the Muleshoe Independent School District are petitioning the school board here to "purchase and carry... insurance policies in some reliable insurance company providing... coverage and protection... that may be received or sustained by each child enrolled in the Muleshoe Independent Schools while said child is riding on, entering upon or alighting from any school bus belonging to said district, such insurance coverage to be purchased and paid for out of funds of the Muleshoe school district."

The petition already has a "large number" of signers, according to Mrs. Ray Campbell, one of the backers of the proposal. Mrs. Campbell asked that persons interested in signing the petition call her at 4557, Muleshoe.

Record Enrolment Seen for Schools

Muleshoe schools will open Monday—Labor Day—with what may be a record enrolment.

This was indicated this week after senior high school enrolment had surged 15 ahead of last year's record and with prospects of at least another 35 due to enrol on the opening day.

This would bring the 1962-63 opening senior high enrolment to 450 or 50 ahead of last year's average. Up to Wednesday, 415 had signed up in senior high school.

Junior high and grade school pupils are to enrol Friday. Thus it will be Friday night before officials can check the records to see whether the new year will see an all-time record enrolment.

Neal Dillman, superintendent, said the first grade enrolment is always a big factor in the school's enrolment figure, since first graders determine the extent of transfer residents.

This year's first grade advance surveys showed only a small gain over last year's final figure, but Dillman said, "we never know whether we are going to have a heavy first grade enrolment or not until we have actually checked the enrolment figures."

Meantime, all arrangements for opening of the 1962-63 year have been completed. All buildings are in apple-pie order, and teachers have been attending workshops all week, getting ready for the start of school. The seminars have been held in the various school buildings with principals conducting.

The pre-school schedule for teachers started this week with a breakfast in senior high cafeteria, followed by a general faculty meeting in the senior high auditorium when Dillman was speaker. The seminars followed.

Another pre-school event is the annual luncheon today (Thursday) for teachers, given by Muleshoe of commerce especially shoe service clubs and the chambers who will be introduced today. Earlier in the week, Dillman met with the new teachers for an orientation session.

Wheat Farmers Voting Today

Bailey County wheat farmers are voting today (Thursday) in a national referendum to decide whether marketing quotas shall apply on the 1963 crop.

If the quotas are approved, it will mean that all Texas farmers with more than 15 acres of wheat will be subject to quota penalties on their "excess" wheat. Also growers who comply with their 1963 wheat allotments will be eligible for price support at the full announced level—not less than $182 per bushel, national basis.

If the quotas are not approved, wheat price support rate will be at 50 percent of parity or about $1.21 per bushel, national basis.

The county has been divided into communities "A, B and C" with voting places respectively as follows: Bailey County ASCS office in Muleshoe, the Maple Cop gin and the Claunch gin, Bula, LABOR DAY SAFETY — Safety over the Labor Day weekend (which will mean three full days for many persons) will be the keynote of the highway patrol. Here James L. Freeman, patrolman here, and C. A. Dempsey, district safety patrolman from Lubbock, discuss plans for this area's safety drive.

Plans Complete For Polio Drive

Plans are complete for Bailey County's mass polio immunization program Sunday, Sept. 16, man here, said Thursday.

The project, which is to be carried out as part of a four-county program, will be sponsored here by the Bailey County Medical society.

Dr. Santos listed the various committees and groups who are assisting to make the day one of the biggest in the county's history for such a project.

Cooperating are the service clubs, sororities, drug stores, doctors and dentists, and he has stated the purpose to be "to immunize the entire population of Bailey County, using the new Sabin oral vaccine, which is administered on a cube of sugar orally."

He said no one will be refused the vaccine, but added: "It is hoped the public will donate the minimum of 25 cents per dose to help cover the cost of the program."

Assignments made included Epshen Sigma Alpha Sorority, secretarial; Muleshoe Jaycees, Lions and Rotary Clubs, transportation; Harry Waddle, Dameron Drug and Walter Chamberless, preparation of vaccine; Dr. Bobby Airhart, finance chairman, and Ray Martin and Gil Lamb, publicity.

Three doses are required for immunization, spaced a month apart.

Hayes seeks 'Vigorous' State Policy, End of Bureaucracy in Speech Here

"If you prefer sound business management instead of waste, inefficiency and bureaucracy, then you'll vote for Bill Hayes for Lieutenant-governor."

That was the statement of Hayes who spoke at a young Republicans' meeting here Tuesday night.

He said he favors "vigorous, effective leadership to lethargy, bickering and confusion, and absolute honesty in public office."

The GOP candidate for the second highest state office said he favors:

1. A non-salaried, bi-partisan Texas commission on lower taxation to uncover waste, duplication and irregularities in government.

2. Reduction of the sales tax (See HAYES, page 5)

Visitor From Island of Guam Is Honoree At Afternoon Coke Party

An afternoon coke party was given in the home of Gerri Hardy in honor of her house guest, Miss Mary Ann Vanvoorde, a native of Anuga, Guam.

Eleven young Muleshoe youths were on hand to meet the young lady and welcome her to the town of Muleshoe.

Mary Ann is the thirteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Vanvoorde, who are formerly of Omaha, Nebraska, but have spent the past 17 years on the island of Guam, and the year prior to that in Hawaii. Her father is a Civil Service mechanical inspector for Navy equipment of all types.

How did she happen to be visiting in Muleshoe? Since the schools on Guam are not adequate, she was enrolled in Chapel Hills school for girls, in Boston, Mass. some two years ago. There she met Mrs. Virgie St. Clair, mother of Mrs. Ray Hardy, who had a trip planned to Muleshoe and a visit with her daughter on the itinerary. Mrs. St. Clair is being accompanied on the trip by Miss Vanvoorde.

Attending the coke party given Tuesday afternoon were: Misses; Becky Phelps, Karen Parker, Cindy Smith, Dana Damron, Sheila Harvey, Drucilla Damron, Sharon Harvey, Dana Moore, Susan Camp, the honoree and the hostess, Miss Gerri Hardy.

After bidding farewell to her newly acquired friends, Miss Vanvoorde and Mrs. St. Clair will go first to Carlsbad Caverns, accompanied by Mrs. Hardy and Gerri and after seeing the Caverns, will board a bus for Denver, Colo., Yellowstone National Park, Seattle and the Worlds Fair Canada, then to Niagra Falls, N. Y., before returning to their Boston homes.

The Vanvoorde family live in a 23 room house which formerly was occupied by the governor of the island. While in school there, both public and private, she was taught judo for a main subject for self-protection. In an interview, she stated that the greater part of the island was occupied by types of people usually found in slum section of larger American cities.

Aside from being a judo specialist, she is a Tahitian and Hawaiian dancer and is an advanced member of the Guam Girl Scouts.

She will be enrolled as a junior in Chapel Hill school during the fall term and plans to enter a Boston school of science where she will begin studies for a medical career.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

What the world needs more than anything else is love, not judgment. This was especially brought to the attention of the world when Christ was confronted with the adulterous woman. Those who brought her to Christ had every right, according to the Jewish law, to expect Christ to give his approval of death. Instead of passing judgment he said, "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone." After a few moments he noticed that no one had cast a stone and the entire crowd had disappeared.

Seeing that no one wished to cast the first stone as one without sin, he said, "Neither do I condemn thee; go and sin no more." Christ no doubt felt that the woman had possibilities. He did accept her as she was, but he knew that if she accepted the grace of God she could become a wonderful woman. He knew what she could become.

The love of God embraces all people. No one needs to be told what he is. He knows better than anyone else. What each one needs is to be loved and accepted for what he may become. The grace of God is open for everyone to become what God intends each one to become.

Where do you stand with God today? Possibly you have not made a commitment of faith in Christ. Christ is waiting for you to become one of his disciples. Possibly you have not chosen the church of your choice. Christ is waiting for you to become a part of his body and do his work today. Possibly you are already a member of the church, but you are not using your talents, time and material means to the end that Christ's church may be what it needs to be in an hour such as this. You know where you stand. Whatever your station before the Son of God, you may go on to be the person whom God has intended that you become. Will you do this now?

Prayer: O God, we are restless 'till we rest in thee. Take us as we are where we are and cause us to become what thou wouldst have us to become. Take us now. Amen.

Finis G. Hodges, Pastor
First Presbyterian Church

Sixty 4-H Club members of Parmer County entered their record books in the County Achievement Awards Program. Record books were judged in the county and then five record books of senior 4-H members were sent to be judged at district, there competing with other senior 4-H Club members in District I. If a record book should win in district, it will be sent on to state for judging. State winners will attend the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in December.

The county 4-H Club winner eligible for district judging are: Bruce Billingsley, Beautification of Home Grounds; Reba Lesley, Achievement; and Richard Chitwood, National 4-H Club Conference. Also entered are Katie Blackstone, Home Economics; and Viane Lesly, Clothing. Vaine's record book won first in the county over three other senior girls in the Clothing Awards Program, therefore going on for district competition.

Junior and senior record books were entered in eleven awards programs: Achievement- Peggy Lesly and Reba Lesly; Clothing- Mary Coffey, Karene Milner, Kathryn Gober, Sharon Martensen, Kathy Coker, Shirley Schuler, Viane Lesly, Patcine Broyles, Davis, Judy Koelzer, Sherri Tannahill, Patricia Tannahill, Sheila Vaughan, and Debbie Burch; Home Economics- Katie Blackstone, Janis Bilingsley, Vicky Kaltwasser, Ann Blackstone, and Cheryl Ramage; Foods-Nutrition- Risa Howell, Darla Howell, Janie Watkins, Cheryl Kaltwasser, Tina Rundell, Nedda Foster, Janice Miller, and Debra Garner.

Also, Beef- Joe Bill Jones, Jim Bob Jones, Wayne Schueler, Darrel Schueler, Curtis Drager, Jay Potts, and Danny Schueler; Field Crops- Dale Schueler, Roger Martensen, Dwayne Bauer, Bobby Redwine, Jimmy Broyles, Johnny Broyles, and Danny Miller; Swine- Floyd Schlenker, James Schlenker, Bobby Gleason, and Gary Coker; Grain Sorghum- Raymond Drager, John Gulley, Charles Ramage, James Gulley, Kirby Burch and Larry Davis.

Others include Gardening- Dale Beautification of Blackstone; Home Grounds, Bruce Billingsley; Public Speaking- Jill Mimms, and National 4-H Club Conference- Richard Chitwood. Mike Ward and John Ward entered their record books for judging too.

Bad News for Duck Hunters Here: Fewer Ducks Likely in West Texas

Wild ducks in this area will not be as plentiful this fall as usual, U.S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, predicts.

Melvin Evans, manager of the Muleshoe National Wildlife Game Refuge, says he has been informed ed that "minor areas with increases will not balance decreases in production in major areas." For this reason, "moderate decrease in the fall flight as compared with 1961" is expected. Geese, on the other hand are expected to keep pace with last year's flights.

Dillman--

we are always fearful of accidents," Dillman said. "That's why we urge all drivers to use caution."

Daniel issued his Statewide Labor Day safety campaign.

The Texas Department of Public Safety estimates of 30 deaths during the three-day weekend "shows we must stage one of our most strenuous campaigns to get the co-operation of Texas motorists in driving safely, legally and soberly."

He said the summertime death record "underlines the urgency of the effort. When June set a new all-time death record for that month, when the first days of that month took 54 lives in 35 fatal crashes, when we hear about 20 persons being killed in three crashes in six days in West Texas—then it is tragically plain that we need to set up every effort."

Peery--

Montreal by bus, since the airlines were on strike. At 4 in the morning we went on the ship, and that was goodbye America.

"At home nothing is changed. In town some new buildings, but that is all. I got used to my 'old' life again from the first day. Nobody thinks I have changed."

"Only a week after I got back I received a phone call from Rev. Frank Peery, saying he was in Brussels. What a pleasant surprise! That same evening the whole family went to see him. My parents, too, think he is a wonderful man and we spent a real nice evening together. He seemed impressed by Brussels. He expected it to be a lot smaller. Later on we received a card from Poland."

"The weather here is just awful—better sandstorms than rain. I still get the Muleshoe Journal, so I know what is going on over there. I shall be glad when school starts again in October. I am in vacation since May 18, the longest holiday I ever had and will have. Now I am working on my Spanish because I have to make an entry exam in Spanish."

"I do not have further news. I hope that everything in Muleshoe is fine and that everybody is doing well."

The pictures enclosed were taken July 31."

A picture postcard from Mr. Peery in Helsinki, Finland, a communist country, said "Russia is Godless. There are beautiful churches which are state museums or show places. A few functioning churches yet—for believers—mostly old people."

"Visited the marriage palace yesterday. Never felt so pagan in all my life—40 to 70 couples married a day, just like a factory."

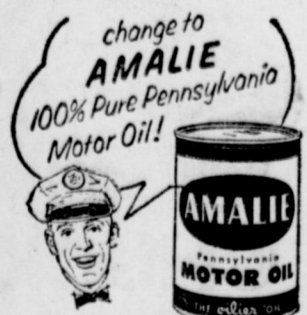

"The celebration of the two space men in Leningrad was superficial, unimpressive. Radio and TV reports on them were very poor and incomplete."

Mr. Peery returns to Muleshoe this week and will be back in his pulpit in the First Methodist Church next Sunday.

up. Adams finished 17 strokes ahead of Axtell and was 12 under par for the 36 holes of medal play. Both men are from Lubbock. Axtell wound up with 149, five-over par, while Bill St. Clair of Muleshoe had 150 and Walter Howell of Clovis finished with 152.

reading, because English is the medium through which we communicate. You won't be able to communicate, even with yourself. And to be a scientist you not only must know English, but other languages as well—at least two others to get a doctorate degree. And a scientist without a doctorate could never go very high.

And then I can just see you going up to a personnel director

Your family will like this: marinate sliced bananas in orange juice and then spoon them into dessert dishes; add vanilla flavored custard pudding (from a mix if you like) and top with a little grated orange rind.

some time after you have finished college (assuming that you CAN finish college) and applying for a job. When the personnel director hears you, he's going to put a simple "no" on your application.

If, for instance, he asks you what you would like most to do and you should answer in your double negative grammar, "it don't make me no difference." —Buddy, that's when the interview will be over. He might put you on the staff to scrub floors.

And your fellow scientists, assuming that you make the grade, are going to be embarrassed for you over that grammar routine of yours.

Of course, as I said earlier, Buddy, you are going to have difficulty even getting through high school unless you brush up on your grammar. You won't even know what the textbooks are saying if your knowledge of your native tongue is as bad as it appears to be.

I've known others who had that same view—that English doesn't matter. Take Jerry, for example, a lad I first knew when he was a small boy. Jerry had trouble with even the simplest arithmetic problems by the time he got to the fifth grade. The reason, so the school discovered much later, was because he: 1. Couldn't read. 2. Didn't know grammar. He spent every summer in remedial classes until he finished high school, yet Jerry's IQ was high.

He wanted to be an auditor but never made the grade for two reasons: 1. He couldn't read, thus couldn't figure out the problems because the mechanics of reading took too much of his attention. 2.

His grammar kept him from getting jobs in the first place.

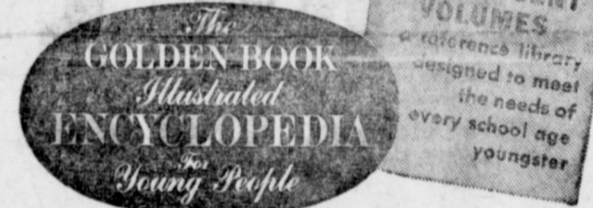

So, Buddy, you—especially you—had better go right back in that high school English class this year. In fact, it wouldn't hurt any if you also studied your fourth, fifth, and sixth grade grammar books every night. And don't say Grandpa did all right with only two years' schooling; grandpa's day is over.

Without language, there is no means of communication.

And, Buddy, there's also the aesthetic side of English, but we won't confuse you by going into that phase. In your present state, the aesthetic side "don't make no difference no how."

Toronto to Los Angeles, These Young Men Are Making it the Hard Way-By Horseback

Two young men who grew up in Germany and decided they wanted to see the Western Hemisphere are doing just that. They are seeing big chunks of it in a two-horse trek from Toronto to Los Angeles.

They stopped off here last weekend to visit some new-found friends, and then headed on westward again aboard Storm and Ginger, two Canadian-born horses that seem to be fairing pretty well on their long trek—better, in fact, than the two blonde young men who are riding them westward. The horses have gained 100 pounds each, the young men each lost about 20 pounds, since they left Toronto last January 29 in minus-10 degree weather.

It's because they wanted "to see a bigger piece of the world" than native West Germany offered that they crossed the Atlantic and landed in Canada. They were born and reared in Badenbadon, Germany, a tourist city.

Peter Stoerchle, 22, started the western movement three years ago when he left Germany and headed for Toronto where his mother, Caroline Stoerchle, and two sisters lived.

A year later, 20-year-old Wolfgang Stoerchle joined him in the Canadian city.

"But we wanted to see the BIG country—the United States," Wolfgang (who did most of the talking for the two) said. Peter had learned to be a hairdresser and Wolfgang was a draftsman. Canada was nice, they say, and they regretted leaving their mother and two sisters, "but we feel that Los Angeles offers more opportunities in our trade than Canada does," Wolfgang summed up.

They've learned their English well—all of it since they have been on the western side of the Atlantic, in fact.

To get the money for the horses they sold their car. They went first to New York (another brother lives there) and then headed into Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri and Oklahoma. In Oklahoma they hit US 66 and turned southward from Amarillo on US 87.

It was in Canyon that they met Pat Thomson, a student at West Texas State, who hails from this area. The boys wanted to go swimming, they told one of Pat's friends, a newspaper gal at Canyon. She introduced them to Pat and that's how they happened to be going through here; they spent the weekend with Pat's family, the J. W. Thomsons. Also here for the weekend was Margaret Williams of Hale Center, another WTSU student.

Ginger and Storm just rested; the boys saw the sights in West Texas. Peter has discarded his razor until he gets to L. A. but he disclaims any desire to be a beatnik.

"How far do they get in a day? "Well, most of the time we travel about 25 to 30 miles a day," Wolfgang says, "depending on how much we stop, but we gotta stop now and then to work and to let the horses rest."

Their last bit of work before they reached here was in Clinton, Okla., where they painted buildings and did dish-washing jobs at a drive-in restaurant.

"But we've done just about everything to make money for our trip," the young Stoerchle says. "We shoveled snow last winter. And we worked on farms and did—well, any kind of work we could get."

How's this kind of life and how do folk treat the two young horsemen? "Well, sometimes folks are friendly, sometimes they are not. Sometimes we met kind folk and sometimes they were not so kind," Wolfgang said with a shrug. "But that's life. We don't mind. We are heading west and we expect to get all kinds of treatments."

Of course they can't tell what lies ahead. They have permanent visas, but after six months the US Army could draft them.

"That's one of the things we didn't have to face in Canada; they don't have the draft up there, but we won't mind serving in the army." Wolfgang hopes to enrol in college in California—he'll be a sophomore—and Peter probably will go to work as a hairdresser in the California city.

The boys figure it will take them three more months to reach L. A. "But we intend to celebrate Christmas with two brothers who already are out there."

The boys admit that their mother, widowed during World War II when her husband was lost in action in the German army, worries a bit about them, "but, then she knows we are able to take care of ourselves," the boys conclude.

Muleshoe Antenna Company is adding micro-wave service here to "give Muleshoe snow-free reception from Amarillo," says manager James Dow.

To step up the service for "big town" television reception, the company had to add two new 8 by 12 foot reflectors, each weighing 350 pounds. That job was done last week by Fort Worth Tower Company, a firm which holds the world's record for speedy tower construction, 100-feet per hour.

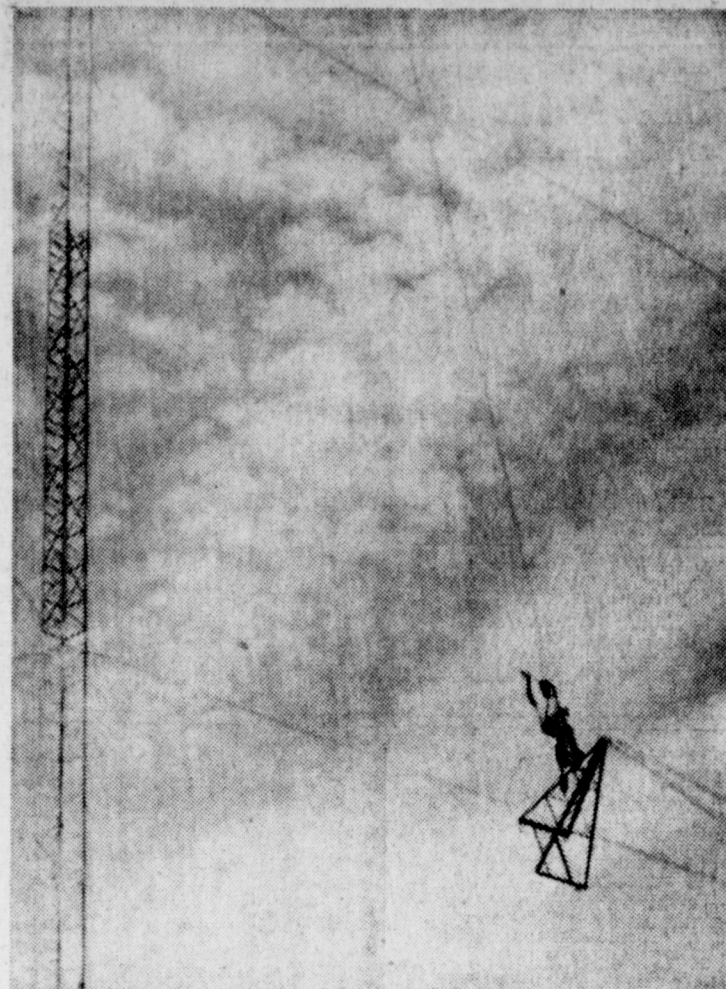

To make the 550-foot tower carry the huge new discs, "star mounts" weighing 250 pounds each, had to be attached near the top of the tower to provide four additional guy wires to the tower.

Dow explained that the special guy system is necessary to make the tower "absolutely rigid" for microwave reception.

One of the reflectors will pick up the signals by microwave from similar discs installed at Friona. The other disc on the tower here will relay the Amarillo TV stations' pictures and sound to Portales, N. M.

It's all a part of a vast micro-wave system being set up by Tex-Mex Communication Co., a top-quality area cable systems. The Muleshoe company is one of the first in west Texas to provide the new—and expensive—service, Dow said. No additional charge will be made for the new service which should make channels 4 and 10 snow-free.

The new system will be in operation soon after the first of September.

HE FLOATS THROUGH THE AIR—This is Monroe Seay, a daring young man who works for the Fort Worth Tower Co., shown riding to the 500-foot top of the Muleshoe TV antenna. At the moment he's waving from 125 feet up, riding a 250-pound "star mount". He and the mount are pushed 125 feet away from the tower by a strong north wind. (Journal Photo & Engraving)

Farm Leaders Discuss Plans

A meeting was held in Lubbock on August 22 at the Parkway Manor Motel for area Farm Bureau leaders to discuss Farm Bureau policy development process.

H. L. (Hub) King, Brownfield, district Farm Bureau director, who presided, explained that the meeting was designed to "discuss procedures for obtaining maximum participation by members in our annual policy development process".

Millard Shivers, Waco, state Farm Bureau organizational director spoke at the meeting. He said that "since our Farm Bureau policies are made at the grass roots, it is essential that we have the thinking of everyone brought into the open at these local discussion meetings."

Shivers pointed out that resolutions developed at county conventions which deal with state and national issues will be forwarded as recommendations to voting delegates at the state meeting, Nov. 11-14 in San Antonio.

State recommendations on national issues, he added, will be submitted to voting delegates at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December in Atlanta, Ga.

About 66 persons attended the all day meeting. Attending from Bailey County were, Mrs. W. B. Kittrell, Mrs. Morris McKillip, Lester Howard, Cecil Davis, El-Von DeVaney and Freddie Maxcey.

If the wood used in the United States in one year were stacked to cover an average city block, the pile would reach into outer space for 463 miles.

Broadway Hit To Highlight Fair

The current Broadway hit show, "Carnival," will be featured as a highlight of the 1962 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 6-21. "Carnival" will have 24 performances in State Fair Music Hall, opening on Friday evening, Oct. 5, the night before the official opening of the fair. Thereafter, there will be performances at 8:30 p.m. each night of the fair except Sunday, October 21. In addition, there will be matinees at 2:30 p.m. each Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday.

"Carnival" is the story of a young French girl who joins a traveling carnival and is fascinated by the puppets who speak to her through the voice of the puppeteer, with whom she eventually falls in love for a very happy ending. In addition to the puppet show, there are acrobats, jugglers, dancing girls, a magician, trained dogs and even a dancing bear.

Based on the famous motion picture, "Lili," the musical has been produced by David Merrick, with music and lyrics by Bob Merrill and book by Michael Stewart, who also wrote "Bye, Bye, Birdie."

Also a top theatrical attraction at the 1962 State Fair will be the always popular "Ice Capades," in its 22nd "New Faces" edition, replete with international skating stars, lavish production numbers and comedy acts. The ice show will also have 24 performances at the fair, nightly Monday through Saturday, with matinees on Saturdays and Sundays.

THE SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

He's Bowled Over by City 'Farm' Expert's Solution to Farm Issue

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has gotten hold of with the following results.

Dear editor:

If I lived in a city surrounded by all those unsolved problems like traffic, lack of tax money, crime, congestion, crowded schools, parking, etc., I'd devote my time too to solving the farm problem, and it was with considerable interest I ran into a newspaper which a puff of August wind turned up out here on this Johnson grass farm the other day with an article in it by a big city columnist discussing the farm problem. He has a brand new explanation for the farm surplus.

Now up to now, I've been contending all along the farm surplus was due to the fact us farmers are just more capable than say for example the space scientists. Everybody from President Kennedy on down admits the Russians are ahead of us in space, just as everybody from Mr. Khrushchev on down admits us American farmers are ahead of the Russians in food production. I don't want to brag, but there are the facts.

But this big city columnist has a different explanation altogether. According to him, "all this productivity in American agriculture is not necessarily the result of progress." He claims that "federal policies have been drawing into agriculture the small-town banker, the small-town doctor and anybody else after a fast buck."

In other words, it's all those small-town bankers and small-town doctors and lawyers who have bought up the farm land produced the surplus in order to make some fast bucks. Wasn't us farmers at all.

Now I don't want to criticize this city columnist, and after all, you've got to remember that one of the most moving things about the farm problem is that anybody can offer a solution to it, safe in the farm problem is that anybody can offer a solution to it, safe in the knowledge that nobody else has found the right answer either, but what I'd like to know is where are all these bankers and doctors and lawyers who are making all those fast bucks by farming?

Now I know some bankers and doctors and lawyers who own some land, but it has been my opinion that all of them together haven't added over two inches to the mile-high surplus, and as for making any money, fast bucks or slow ones, I'm afraid that city columnist hasn't had an opportunity to examine their farm ledgers. And notice very few of them are giving up their jobs in town to really go whole-hog after those fast bucks out in the country.

Another nice thing about the farm problem is that it puts city columnists in the same class with country columnists when it comes to finding a solution, and if I lived in a big city with all those city problems closing in on me, I'd attack the farm problem myself at least twice a week and sometimes on Sunday.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

YOUR HEALTH

Treat It Early, Doctors Warn

Cancer is often spoken of as the "silent" disease. This is because in many cases cancer grows without giving any symptom. And pain, which is most often thought of as accompanying diseases, is not generally present until cancer is far advanced.

Most cancers can be cured when detected and treated in the early stages. The difficulty in cancer control, then, lies with the detection of the disease.

Only a physician can tell if cancer is present. Any suspicious symptom should always be examined by the family physician. But often, by the time any symptoms of cancer show up, it is too late. Treatment of advanced cancer is difficult.

The only insurance against this silent growth is a regular, at least yearly, physical examination.

All physician's offices should be cancer detection centers, so the family doctor is most often the front line against cancer. For a physical check-up whether cancer is suspected or not, the personal physician is the person to see.

If cancer is suspected, the family doctor may refer his patient to one or more specialists to confirm or rule out the possibility of cancer.

A top-toe physical examination will include inspection of the body surface, followed by examination of various organs such as the heart, blood vessel, lungs, mouth, nose, ears, eyes, throat, abdomen, rectum, sex organs and breasts.

The blood, urine, uterine cells, or other body fluids may also be examined or tested. X-Rays of the chest and other parts of the body and a proctoscopic examination (visual inspection of the lining of the rectum and lower bowel with a lighted tube) may also be performed by the physician.

A proctoscopic examination has increased in importance because 70 per cent of cancer of the colon and rectum can be discovered in this way.

If a physician suspects cancer, a biopsy is performed and a sample of the suspected tissue sent for microscopic examination by a pathologist (a specialist in human tissue examination). Only a biopsy can definitely establish the diagnosis of cancer.

The individual is the key to the prompt diagnosis of cancer. For only if a person presents himself to his physician can a diagnosis be made.

Simply through regular physical check-ups can the "silent" disease be heard.

Editor:
My family and I would like to extend our appreciation and thanks to the people of Muleshoe, Texas for the assistance and hospitality we experienced during our unfortunate layover in Muleshoe, July 13 and 14.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service institution of the State Bar of Texas

IDEA FOR A LAW

A bill before Congress is an idea for a law.

Who thinks it up? A congressman, the home folks, the President, almost anybody.

How does it become a law?

1. The congressman calls on the vice to cast the idea into legal language.

2. He drops his bill into a LEGISLATIVE HOPPER. The clerk numbers and passes it to the Speaker of the House of Representatives. He refers it to a committee. There it may "die" unless the sponsor asks for action.

3. If he does, the committee may consider the bill or assign it to a subcommittee to consider the bill. Usually, either the committee or the subcommittee will hold hearings, study the merits of the bill, and prepare a report on it to be submitted to the House.

4. At long last the committee votes on it. If most members support it, it goes "out of committee" to the House.

5. It gets on the calendar and the House Rules Committee says how, when, and for how long the House may review the bill.

6. The Speaker sets a time for debate with equal time to both sides.

7. Afterwards the House votes. If passed, the bill becomes an "act" and goes to the Senate.

8. The Senate President refers the act once again to a committee which may "table" it, or report it out with or without changes.

9. The Majority Policy Committee sets the time for debate on the bill, and a member asks to have the act considered. If this motion is carried, it calls for debate, perhaps amendments, and a vote.

10. Often, if the Senate (or the House) amends the bill, it goes back to the House (or Senate) for a vote. Failing that, the bill goes to another vote. Failing that, the "mittee" of both houses (as a rule, seven members from each) to iron out differences. Result: Of-bill goes to a "conference committee" which may disagree, the bill dies.

11. If it agrees, the Act goes back to both houses for a final vote.

12. If approved, the Act goes to the President. He may (1) sign it and make it a law; (2) veto it (two-thirds of both houses may override his veto); or (3) neither sign nor veto it.

13. If he does not sign it, the Act becomes law in 10 days if Congress is still meeting. If Congress has gone home, the Act dies by "pocket veto".

14. Bills starting in the Senate must go to the House of Representatives and thence to the President.

Welcome You

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CATHOLIC CHURCH

Is there any real conflict between science and the faith today? The impossibility of conflict between science and religion will be more clearly understood if we consider more particularly the dogmas of religion about which question might be raised from our present point of view. First of all those dogmas which are directly concerned with the nature of God are clearly beyond the range of scientific investigation. The personal nature of God His attributes as reason deduces them from the fact of His Infinite Being, as divine revelation make it known none of these truths can be called into question by any scientist who follows consistently the methods which science itself recognizes as valid. Secondly, the dogmas of faith which express the manner in which God comes into relation with the world are also beyond the possibility with science. Science can tell us much about the world but it tells us nothing whatever about God. Yet what we know with certainty about God by the exercise of reason beyond those open to scientific investigation makes it clear that the being of the world is completely dependent on the Being of God. This means at every moment of its existence the world is subject to the wisdom and power of God. Science carries on its operations in the external areas of experience in which our progress towards the possession of truth begins. Science's conclusions are tentative and provisional; it always looks forward to theories and hypotheses which will work out more successfully than those already proposed. Religion, on the other hand is concerned with the supreme truths of man's creation by God, his dependence on God and his destiny for ultimate union with God. The truths are clarified and enriched by divine revelation, which point out ways for our sanctification and eternal salvation.
