

Journal Endorses Courthouse Bonds

The Muleshoe Journal favors the proposed $360,000 bond election to remodel the courthouse and build a new county jail.

We believe:
1. That remodeling is badly needed and that the present jail is a disgrace.
2. That the $360,000 proposed maximum cost is not excessive.

The original figure, a purely tentative one, was for $290,000. This, however, covered ONLY the actual construction costs. It did not include such items as:

Architect's fees; state laws require that an architect be hired for any county structure to cost more than $2,000; thus the fee at 5 percent of the total cost, would amount to $14,500.

Bondsman's fees are $2,500.
Contingency fund, a "safety" item included on all building programs, is $14,500.
Removal of offices and rent for the time the structure is undergoing remodeling, would run to $6,000, a conservative figure.

Equipment would cost $28,000. This includes not just office equipment, but such items as modern counters, etc. The clerk's office also would be made with vault doors.

Thus, altogether, the cost is not out of reason. The Journal feels that the $360,000 figure is not exorbitant.

Tax raises to provide for the bond repayment would be within reason. True taxes would rise slightly since valuation also would have to be increased. A $1,000 valuation would be increased to $1,250, raising the taxes to be paid from $9.50 to $11.87. And taxes would be raised from $190 a year to $237.50 on property originally valued at $20,000. Valuation of such property would be boosted to $25,000.

These figures certainly would not place an un-

JUDGE EXPLAINS PLAN

Here's Step-By-Step Courthouse Picture

Editor's note: County Judge Glen Williams last week explained the proposed courthouse bond election step-by-step in an address before the Muleshoe Rotary Club. Since it covers the entire problem—its history, needs, costs, etc., we are reproducing the address below to give the Journal readers a clear picture of the situation.

I am sure that we are all very much aware of the gravity of the troubled hour in which we now live. In view of the recent developments in the Cuban area I hope that we will each be in constant prayer that our leaders will have the wisdom and vision necessary to guide us safely through the storm.

As was announced I am here to discuss for you, as best I can, the courthouse and jail situation and the bond issue election that is to be held November 6. In connection with this I would like first to state my position, and make it clear, I am not here to try to persuade you to vote either for or against this proposition, but rather it is my purpose to help acquaint you with the facts so as to help you decide how you want to vote.

We live in what is commonly known as a democratic country. When I say democratic I do not speak of a political party, but rather a form of government. The word democracy comes from two Greek words, Demos means "People" and Kratos means "Rule." Therefore democracy means "People Rule." Ours is therefore a government in which the people rule. To be exact however the United States is what is known as a Republic, or Representative Democracy.

This means that the voice of government rest with the people, but is delegated to and exercised by duly elected representatives. But even under this system there are certain decisions that can not be made by the elected representatives, but are reserved to the people collectively. This is as it should be.

PEOPLE'S DECISION

Now one decision that rests with the people is the matter of voting bonds and thereby levying additional taxes on the people. So, as I said, I am here to explain the proposition to help you, the people, make a judgement on it, and render whatever decision that you believe to be in the community interest.

To begin with the State Legislature in 1957 passed a new law re-defining the requirements for jail facilities that counties must provide for those who sometimes have to be locked up. A part of such requirements are the following:

1. Separate compartment for juveniles.
  2. Separate compartments for women prisoners.
  3. A padded cell for mental patients.
  4. Facilities whereby first offenders can be kept separate from habitual criminals.
  5. A specified amount of floor space per prisoner, with proper bath room facilities, lavatories, day rooms, etc.
- As you know, our present jail falls far short and is deficient in everyone of these requirements. We do not have a proper place to keep juveniles, we have no proper place for women prisoners, no place for mental patients and we are lacking in adequate room and we are deficient in almost every respect.

FOUR - YEAR PERIOD

The law gave counties four years in which to comply with these requirements. That four years expired in August of 1961. (See COURTHOUSE, page B1)

Oklahoma Crash Kills Local Man

Funeral services are to be held at Mountain View, Okla., at 2 p.m. Friday for J. C. Newirth, 39, 1315 West Ave. C., who died Tuesday when his automobile turned over eight miles south of Gotebo, Okla.

He was enroute to Mountain View to visit his mother when the accident occurred.

Survivors include his widow and three children, Judy, Jonye and Jerry Dwayne. All of the home address, Judy and Jonye are pupils in Richland Hills school. Mrs. Newirth is employed by Paul's Fine Food.

The family had lived in Muleshoe since 1958. He had been employed by a trailer firm and was due to start work for a gin upon his return from Oklahoma.

$164,000 Fire Hits Elevator

Fire which blazed out of control for a time Thursday morning, destroyed the main building of the Earth Elevator for a loss estimated at $164,000.

The blaze was discovered at 7 a.m. and was brought under control shortly after 10 o'clock. Fire-fighting units from Muleshoe, Earth, Littlefield, Olton and Springlake fought the blaze.

Chief Earl Ladd of the Muleshoe department said firemen were able to save adjoining buildings. He said the portion destroyed was a sheetrock and frame structure, "practically filled" with 1962 grain, worth an estimated $64,000.

The elevator is owned by the Bowers family who have been in the elevator business for 10 years. Carole Blackwell, manager, estimated the total loss at $164,000.

The automatic fire alarm went off at approximately 6:45. Origin was undetermined.

Earth volunteer Fireman, Don Layman suffered minor injuries when he was knocked off the building by a fire hose.

Ray's 'Retin'

By RAY MARTIN

Last week's comparison between growing Muleshoe and declining Podunk (we'll call it that) has set off considerable discussion. Some were able to identify this Podunk, but several have asked if I meant this or that town.

Anyway, the column posed this question: Why are there no vacant business houses in Muleshoe while Podunk has gobs of vacant buildings? Several persons have come up with the answer — as their writers saw the answer.

Here are two such answers: "Your good column in last week's Journal prompts me to the effort of writing to try and fill you in on why some towns grow bigger and others smaller. "The town you mentioned with all the vacant business buildings isn't too hard to identify, and your reasoning as to why it is declining seems accurate enough."

"But as to why Muleshoe grows — that's fairly easy to tell, although the telling may sound corny. True but true, Muleshoe grows because: The people in Muleshoe take pride in the community. They perhaps never openly express this pride, but it is certainly evident when they talk to strangers. They are quick to defend Muleshoe against unwarranted criticism, and quicker to point out Muleshoe's finer points.

"Muleshoe's growth has been relatively slow, but extremely stable. Business failures here, while few in number, have almost without exception been due to lack of foresight before starting in business, lack of planning, and lack of adequate beginning financing.

"Muleshoe business men are solid citizens who use the same good practices in their personal affairs as in their business houses and business dealings. Sound business ethics result in sound businesses.

"Muleshoe's increasing home-building is another good example of this same soundness. Homes here are built to live in — not for speculative reasons.

"There seems little likelihood of a situation existing here similar to that in other overbuilt cities where hundreds of houses stand empty.

"Another good reason for Muleshoe's growth is the 1957 group who are to meet in room 12 at

Sue Willman
... Football Queen

Muleshoe Planning Homecoming Events

This is "Homecoming" week-end for Muleshoe Senior High School, and a full round of events, is scheduled, starting with a downtown parade today (Thursday) and ending with a dance at Recreation center Friday night after the football game.

High spot of the activities will come Friday night, of course, when Muleshoe meets Olton in the Mules' second conference football game. And the highlight of that event will come during half-time ceremonies when the football queen is crowned in an elaborate program. Sue Willman will be this year's queen.

The homecoming events actually started yesterday when senior high pupils wore black "mourning" clothes for Olton whom Muleshoe hopes to trounce.

Then on Thursday the pupils donned the familiar black and white costumes, the school colors.

Tonight the parade is to form at the Santa Fe station and move to the De Shazo school. Floats will highlight the tour with the Mighty Muleshoe Marching Band heading the trek.

Afterward, a bonfire will be held. Friday night's program will include a chili supper at the senior high school cafeteria, served by Girl Scouts, preceding the Olton-Muleshoe game.

Class which is planning a special reunion is the 1957 group who are to meet in room 12 at

4,000 Receive 2nd Folio Vaccination

Four thousand Bailey county folk, ranging from a few weeks up to 80, turned out Sunday for the county's second Sabin Oral Sunday vaccine to bring the number to within 250 of last month's Type I initial vaccine takers.

This was an even better turnout than doctors had hoped for, and the physicians, pharmacists and volunteer helpers had a busy six-hour period handing out the vaccine-saturated sugar cubes. On the first Sunday of the

Chili Supper Set By Girl Scouts

Muleshoe Girl Scouts are sponsoring a chili supper in the senior high school cafeteria tomorrow, Friday, prior to the Olton-Muleshoe football game.

The menu will consist of chili, beans, crackers, ice tea, coffee and pumpkin pie, and will be served between 5:30 and 7:30. Advance tickets may be purchased from the Girl Scouts or at the door for $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

Proceeds will be used for Girl Scout work and to pay Council dues which have been delinquent since last year. Mrs. Dale Fishgraves, neighborhood chairman of the Girl Scouts, urges the public to attend, enjoy the supper and at the same time help the Girl Scouts.

Voters Air Views On Courthouse Issue

Bailey county citizens this week were asked by the Journal to express their views on the upcoming $360,000 courthouse bond issue to be voted on at next Tuesday's election.

Some voters contacted said they had not yet made up their minds, and others said they simply did not care to express an opinion for or against the bonds.

Below are some of the statements of Bailey county folk who expressed views on the issue.

Grid Contest Is On Again

Who's going to win the Olton Muleshoe game Friday night—and by what score? For that matter, who will win, Navy or Notre Dame?

If you are good enough to dope out such matters in advance, then you may win $5 in the Journal's weekly football contest — or $3 if you are not quite that good.

The Journal continues its football contest this week with eight games on the guessing list, plus the Olton - Muleshoe contest.

The grand score counts on the sweepstakes prize, top winner at the end of the season will get two free tickets to the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas, plus $50 expense money.

So turn to the contest page in this issue and start figuring what teams will be in the winning column, come Saturday night. Entries must be in by 5 p.m. Friday.

PAT BOBO — I'm for it 100 percent. I think we have had inadequate facilities there for too many years, particularly in jury rooms and the clerk's office, and of course, the jail.

JACK YOUNG — There's a definite need for it. (See VOTERS, page 7)

Crop No. 3 — Vegetables — Hits New All-Time Record

Bailey county's third money crop—vegetables—is winding up one of the most successful years in its history, Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce reported this week.

The Chamber has just issued its summary of the vegetable situation in Bailey county and it's good—very good. The complete summary follows:

A vegetarian's delight and a soup maker's dilemma. That's a mixed metaphor describing the vegetable situation in Bailey county.

Consider the size a soup kettle would have to be in order to hold the vegetables from 20,000 irrigated Bailey county acres. Especially if each acre produced the following proven yields:

Irish potatoes	225 sacks
Tomatoes	20 tons
Onions	3000 pounds
Blackeye peas	5000 pounds
Sweet corn	1500 dozen ears
Green beans	9000 pounds

Or, if you have a sweet tooth, consider this: 400 bushel per acre of sweet potatoes, 4000 pounds premium cantalope, and four tons of watermelons.

In fact, the climate, soil and water supply in the county make such gargantuan yields possible for almost any vegetable known.

Yet despite the proven production ability of the county for vegetables, there is now no processing plant in existence locally to offer a market for this vast potential.

And this is difficult to understand. For all the other factors necessary for adequate operation of a cannery or processing plant are here in abundance.

It is true there are 20,000 acres available for vegetable production, but in the 1962 season only little more than one-tenth that area was in vegetables. This primarily for lack of market facilities not only for processed but fresh vegetables also.

Let us take a look at another important factor in the consideration of a vegetable processing plant, labor.

The Texas Employment Commission reports the following facts:

Two thousand One hundred-ninety-five native permanent laborers, 195 female, and an additional 1959 migrant laborers for field work in production capacity. Plus the availability of an estimated 950 Mexican Nationals during harvest season.

The going wage scale ranges from 70 cents per hour to $200 per month for field work, and the regular rates as required by law for factory workers. Texas has the Right to Work Law, and there are no unions in Bailey County.

As to unskilled and semi-skilled labor, the TEC reports 133 male and 23 female permanent native. But the TEC estimates that only half the available males are registered with TEC, and only one-fourth of the females are registered.

shoe's growth is that Muleshoe has always been in need of additional services and facilities to keep abreast of the demands of a solid home-owning high income population. The per capita and per family spendable income in Bailey county are, as you know, among the highest in the nation's agricultural areas.

One drunk, one DWI, one vagrancy and one for having no driver's license, held for the city; one disturbance, one forgery and worthless check arrest for the county; and one hit-and-run and one for failure to appear for the Texas highway department.
Deputies Garland Freeman and John Moore took one prisoner to Huntsville and another to Gatesville this week and they returned two from Huntsville for trial - one on a forgery charge and one for two county misdemeanors.
The report also showed a 10 by 20-inch tire and wheel lost at Holt's Fin station, and a 1 1/2 ton hoist on an 'A' frame from Weidebush & Childers.

"The point I am trying to make in my feeble way is this: People and not products make a town. I'll agree it takes both, but what the people do with their natural resources is the factor that determines growth or lack of it."
And he added this punch line just above the signature (which I couldn't make out): "Heel-draggers never built a town."

Off The Runways

By DORIS KINSER

While the Cuban situation smouldered, the United States Government launched a tabulation round - up of all civil pilots and aircrafts through the Federal Aviation Agency.

The move came suddenly and as a surprise to civil base operators who were given only a short time to have the required information ready at a specified time for an FAA agent to pick up.

Morgan Locker, manager of the Muleshoe airport was contacted while visiting friends in Lubbock Saturday afternoon by Robert Wisner, District FAA examiner, Amarillo, and told of the move with the Bailey County deadline tabulation being set for Monday morning.

The name and address of each private and commercial pilot and all civil aircraft within the county, the registration number and the condition of the plane went into the report. Bailey County has a total of 26 planes hangered on the airport and on farms and ranches, 25 private pilots holding current licenses and six with commercial ratings. Many other pilots in the area have licenses which could be current with only a few hours of training.

Federal Aviation representatives who picked up the report here expressed their surprise at the number of planes and pilots that the reports revealed.

They said that the tabulation was a Civil Readiness program.

Locker also was notified that all civil planes flying in the Florida Keys or there-about must operate under a flight plan that has been approved by appropriate military authority acting through FAA air traffic control facility; and that aircrafts have unfunctioning navigation equipment and functioning communications equipment necessary to maintain two-way contact with air traffic control at all times during the operation, and the pilot in command monitor the radio frequencies specified by air traffic control.

The Special Civil Air Regulation was issued by Harold W. Grant, lieutenant General, USAF.

PILOT'S CONVENTION

Delbert Watson, Baileyboro, Conrad Williams, Stegall, and Gene Pool, Lingo, N.M. attended the National Pilot's Convention in Tucson, Ariz. last weekend.

The trio made the flight to Tucson in Watson's Tri-Pacer and Watson had his first experience in mountain flying enroute.

Najeib Halaby, Administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, was guest speaker. Watson said Halaby made most impressive talks on the importance of small airports and what the Agency was attempting to do to help the small operators and pilots.

Bob Cummings was master of ceremony at a banquet held on Friday night, whom the area men said "added quite a bit of zest" to the program.

Aside from Halaby, noted speakers in the fields of aviation industry, and pilots made informative talks. They returned Sunday afternoon.

FLY-IN BREAKFAST

A fly-in breakfast and air show is to be held at the Carlsbad, N.M., Municipal Airport Sunday, November 4.

The spectacular Southwest Sky Divers will make many types of parachute jumps throughout the morning. On display will be Navy aircraft, sailplanes, and other types of aircrafts.

Breakfast at the airport will start at 6 a.m., New Mexico time.

The fly-in event is sponsored annually by the Carlsbad Civil Air Patrol Squadron and the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce.

Eight games are scheduled for the visiting Russians who are due to arrive in New York Nov. 6. Games will be played in New York, Washington, Nashville, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, Lubbock, and Denver.

ASK YOU TO VOTE AGAINST Amendment 14—Trial De Novo

AT THE GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 6

If Constitutional Amendment No. 14 is adopted by a vote of the people and the Legislature exercises the power it is granted, then it would:

1. Transfer control of local government from the people to the courts.
2. Destroy a fundamental principle of government—the balance of power between legislative, judicial and executive branches of government.
3. Subordinate the judicial and executive branches of government to the legislative branch.
4. Force judges to become executives and administrators.
5. Swamp the courts with law suits.
6. Permit appeals to courts for the sole purpose of harassment and delay.

7. Increase the cost of government by as much as one-third.

8. Endanger the basic freedoms of all Texans.

9. Create chaos in established democratic processes.

10. Render ineffective established and essential executive functions of government.

11. Stymie local improvements and invite Federal financial aid and control.

12. Permit a lone disgruntled person to appeal and nullify important decisions relating to education, health, safety and welfare.

13. Make Texas the only state to abandon the American system of checks and balances.

14. Discourage qualified candidates from seeking public office or accepting appointment to administrative posts.

HOW TO VOTE AGAINST AMENDMENT 14—TRIAL DE NOVO

FOR the Constitutional Amendment granting the Legislature power to provide for trials de novo on all appeals from actions, rulings, or decisions of administrative or executive agencies of government.

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment granting the Legislature power to provide for trials de novo on all appeals from actions, rulings, or decisions of administrative or executive agencies of government."

4,500 Enrolled In Farm Bureau

By RAYMOND EULER
FARWELL — Five hundred-forty members have paid dues of $10 to Parmer County Farm Bureau since October 31, 1961. This means that Parmer County has reached its quota in membership for the year 1962, the first time in three years this county has reached its quota. Prior to the last three years the county had never failed to reach or exceed its quota. President Harry Hamilton and vice-president Meissner and the directors and other officers express their appreciation to each member, and welcome any others who wish to become paid up members.

If you need any further information regarding amendment 14, Trial de Novo, we have a few pamphlets giving 14 reasons for opposing the amendment. It seems that nearly every incorporated city, as well as many other groups vigorously oppose this amendment, and Farm Bureau is among the opposition. If you have your work in shape, we suggest that you make plans to attend the Texas Farm Bureau annual convention in San Antonio November 10-14. We believe the banquet on Tuesday evening, at which Paul Harvey will be speaker, will be well worth the trip. The governor-elect will address the convention on Tuesday morning.

CONSIDER THIS: Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you. Proverbs 1:23.

? WHY TAKE A CHANCE ?

IF YOU BELIEVE:

- Good Government begins at home
- That strong and effective local and state government is the best answer for less Federal control.

ANDY has employed every practical means (often at his own expense) to keep his record and that of your legislature open and available to the public for inspection and judgement.

Yet there has never been any large or responsible group or element who could claim that Andy Rogers has not represented, with vigor and integrity, the principles, ideals and interests of our Senate district, State and Nation.

- 37 Years Old—Democrat
- Wife, 2 daughters, 1 son
- Stock Farming & Businessman
- 7 Years College
- 14 Years Seniority (4 Years In House of Representatives, 10 Years as your State Senator)
- WWII Veteran, Baptist, Rotarian, Farm Bureau and several Fraternal Org., etc.

Independent in Thought and Action—
The Courage to Differ with Friend or Foe
Where Principal Is Concerned.

Andy Rogers—Your State Senator—receiving oath of office as President Pro-Tempore of our Texas Senate. Oath administered by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

This is the highest office, honor and recognition that can be bestowed upon a Senator by his colleagues. The duties of the office include presiding over the Senate and acting as Lt. Governor and Governor, when one or both are absent from their office or state.

Andy had the honor of serving in each.

ANDY has ACTED and REPRESENTED YOU

FOR:

- Right to work law.
- Private ownership and control of underground water.
- Bill that outlawed Jimmy Hoffa's operations in Texas.
- Resolution to PREVENT Red China's admission to U.N.
- More Representation for West Texas.
- More competitive free enterprise.

AGAINST:

- 80% of new State taxing and spending of last 14 years.
- More government and monopoly controls.
- Income taxes in Texas.
- Deficit spending.
- Pari-mutual horse race gambling.

In 1951 Andy (then a member of the House of Representatives) and others achieved the impossible . . . a 50% increase for our area in representation in the Senate. The entire South Plains Panhandle Area had only 2 Senate seats. Redistricting occurred. East Texas lost (1) Senate seat. ## Weather Cuts Cotton's Grade

The effect of the adverse weather conditions was seen in the samples received and classed this week, according to W. K. Palmer, Officer-in-charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office. Palmer stated that receipts had decreased since hands had been unable to work in the fields.

For the week ending October 26, the Lubbock Office classed 12,100 samples, Lamesa 2,700 samples, and Brownfield 4,600 samples. A total of 99,400 samples has been classed to date in the three offices. Last year on October 26, 327,000 samples had been classed.

The quality of the grades declined this week. For the week ending October 19, the white qualities accounted for 72 percent of the cotton classed; this past week the percentage of qualities was only 41 percent. The Light Spotted qualities accounted for 57 percent of the cotton classed. Forty-six percent was Middling Light Spotted.

The average staple length improved slightly, increasing from 30.2 to 30.4 thirty-seconds of an inch. Generally, staple length ranged from 29 - 32 to 1 inch in length with 15-16 and 31-32 of an inch accounting for 86 percent of the samples classed.

Micronaire readings were still good with a slight improvement noted. Only 4 percent of the samples read under 3.5. Fifteen percent read in the 3.5 - 3.9 range 15 percent 4.0 - 4.4, 30 percent 4.5 - 4.9 and 5 percent 5.0 - 5.4. Less than .5 percent of the samples classed were wasty.

The Lubbock Cotton Exchange reported 11,000 bales purchased for the week ending October 26. This was 6,700 bales more than the previous week and compare with 21,300 bales reported a year ago.

The price for Middling 1 inch remained unchanged at 32.30. A year ago it was 33.00. The quotations for the Light Spotted qualities are up 10 points. Quotations for some of the most prominent grades and staple are: Middling 15-16 31.30, Middling 31-32 31.80, Strict Low Middling 15-16 30.20, Strict Low Middling 31-32 30.90, Middling Light Spotted 15-16 30.30, Middling Light Spotted 31-32 31.00, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15-16 29.50, and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31-32 29.75.

Local Druggist Attends Market

Muleshoe shoppers can look forward to an exciting variety of outstanding gift ideas this Christmas at the Western Walgreen Agency Drugstore, Muleshoe, thanks to a special "Christmas Shopping trip owner, Harry Waddel, made to Dallas.

Waddel says his trip was highly productive in carrying out his plans to make his drugstore an all-round family gift center this coming shopping season. "Muleshoe shoppers want the best quality merchandise at the most and we promise them both."

reasonable burden on any Bailey county taxpayer.

While we realize that the entire courthouse building is inadequate and must be enlarged and remodeled, we are especially eager to see something done about our "Black Hole of Calcutta."

There is no decent place for any prisoners, much less for women and juveniles. There are no facilities for women mental patients, for instance, before they are transferred to hospitals.

And what about juveniles, lodged in jail on first-offense charges?

We believe if everyone in the county visited the pitiful, obsolete, inadequate, unsanitary fire-trap of a jail atop the courthouse he could not but vote FOR remedying the situation as quickly as possible.

For these reasons, we are supporting the November 6 special bond election, and we urge you to vote FOR the bonds.

ture is the age grouping. Of those native laborers available, 29 percent are in the 22 year age group; 16 percent are over 45; and 55 percent are in the 22-45 year age group. This means the majority of laborers in the county are at their peak years of productivity with many productive years ahead. It is a well known fact that training can be most economically instituted with this age group.

Typical of the vegetable productivity of the Muleshoe area is a story of one farmer's 115 acres of tomatoes during the 1962 season.

The land was formerly in alfalfa. When planted to tomatoes, production averaged 18 tons per acre. Prices started at $80 per ton for the fresh market kind. A hail storm, September 15, damaged the field and brought the price of $22.50 per ton for canning kinds. A nearby field of only 20 acres, untouched by the hail, brought its owner more than $9,000 from tomatoes this summer.

Farmers report that metropolitan markets ask for Muleshoe tomatoes by name, so distinctive is their flavor, in both fresh and canned forms. Markets served this season for less than 200 acres included Dallas, Oklahoma City, Houston, Odessa, San Antonio, as well as several canneries in western Arkansas.

The vegetable canning season in the Muleshoe area is approximately eight months and practically any vegetable desired mineral content soil imparts a distinctive and unique flavor to all vegetables.

The claim of distinctive flavor for Muleshoe vegetables is borne out in statements by both Texas Valley and West coast brokers who say they cannot compete when Bailey county products hit the market against their crop.

Everything exists here for a tremendous vegetable industry except a canning plant. The farmers will grow vegetables, they know how and have the facilities, there is an abundant labor supply, the weather conditions are favorable, and there is a strong desire for such an industry here. Also, the lending institutions here have confidence in financing vegetable growers, if a cannery were located here.

Only a minute percentage of the available land is in vegetables, simply because there is no cannery here to absorb the production. Even so, this past season several shippers were unable to arrange satisfactory contacts with local growers because they could not absorb the tremendous production of the fields.

It is well known that the rate of population growth is the most important factor affecting demand for products of the land. The population of the United States in 1980 is projected at 261 million, representing a 48 percent increase over the 1959 figure. This projection is in accordance with recent trends in population growth.

Demand for the products of the land also will be influenced by the level of economic activity in the nation. Measured in constant dollars so that the increase represents real gains, total disposable personal income in 1980 is expected to be 132 percent paing efforts put out by all candidates from governor down with both major parties spending huge sums in an effort to seat their standard-bearers.

Party campaigns have been carried out this year on a precinct-to-county level as well as on regional and state levels.

Both Democrats and Republicans are claiming Bailey county, a county which until recent years voted Democratic exclusively.

The plea for a two-party system, which has been one of the strong planks of the Republicans seat to break the Democratic one-time strangle-hold on Texas, has been effective in this area, observers believe.

Also 'young' clubs have been putting in some telling blows for their candidates, especially the young Republicans who have met with the regularity of a weekly civic club throughout the entire fall, starting in late summer. They have brought many of the GOP office-seekers to this area for speeches, ranging from the governor aspirant down.

Democrats have not done as much speech-making in this area, although, like the Republicans, all their office-seekers (with one or two exceptions) have visited Bailey county at least once since the summer primaries.

The Democratic effort in this county, however, has not been as frequent and hard-hitting as has the GOP campaign.

One long-time Muleshoe resident put it this way: 'I've been here for 40 years and I can't remember when the Republicans have staged such a hard-fisted campaign in this county especially in a year when we don't elect a President.'

Absentee voting has been only 'Moderate,' but such voting is usually light for the general election; most people are at home anyway during the time the general election rolls around so don't have to vote absentee.

Up to Wednesday 21 general election absentee ballots had been cast while 15 had voted prematurely on the courthouse above that in 1959. This represents an increase of about 57 percent in disposable personal income per capita.

A cannery considering Muleshoe as a site would necessarily need to think in terms of greater-than-average yields, superior quality and grade, and a community that is ready to cooperate completely to make vegetables an important part of their economy.

Farmers and businessmen alike know that all it would take to make Muleshoe a vegetable processing center is a plant to take the bounty from the fields.

inite need for additional space in both jail and office facilities. Any citizen who would take the time to truly investigate the situation would agree.

CARROLL POUNCEY — This seems to be an opportunity for the people of Bailey county to demonstrate their faith in the future, and at the same time to provide adequate space for carrying out the various facets of county government.

REV. RONALD CROSLY — I think it's apparent that the county has a great need for a new courthouse, or at least remodeled facilities. Anyone who has looked into our jail situation would agree that they are far below the requirements for a county of the size of Bailey county.

LEE POOL — We surely need more room in the courthouse and jail facilities are deplorable. We have very inadequate courtroom and facilities. We can't build these things for the present — we have to think of the future. Our population is expanding all the time. I think of very few counties that have 50 inad-bond election. Of these one was a student and one was a man in service. Several were retired persons who may not be able to be out on election day.

The bond election here is stirring its own brand of interest in the election, and a 'heavy' vote on that issue is expected, observers said. A sampling of opinion appears in this issue of the Journal. However, many who were contacted said they had not made up their minds regarding the special issue.

Here in the county, only one candidate faces opposition from the GOP slate. Senn D. Slemmons is seeking the county judge's post held by Democrat Glen Williams. All other county officers are unopposed on the general election ballot.

Voters will have their choice for three candidates on two offices: In the governor's race, Jack Carswell, Constitution Party; Jack Cox, Republican, and John Connolly, Democrat, will appear on the ballot. The Constitution party is also offering a candidate for comptroller of public accounts. He is Joseph M. Rummier who faces Mrs. Hargrove Smith in the Republican column and Robert S. Calvert on the Democrats' slate.

quate facilities, and yet at the same time, we need to be sure of our plans, and surely the first building wasn't properly designed. I am not familiar with the present plan proposals. I know many counties that aren't financially as able as Bailey county that have much superior courthouse facilities. I surely think we need to do something.

D. B. LANCASTER — We are in a growing community, and in order for our county government to grow along with our community and stay in step with it, it's necessary that we provide facilities for our county government, even though it will increase our taxes.

JESSE OSBORNE — I'd be willing to vote a $60,000 or $75,000 bond issue for a jail and sheriff's office added onto the courthouse, but I would not support a $360,000 bond issue at this time.

GIL LAMB — If the people are going to let their state and federal governments spend more than they take in, I think the county governments might as well do that too, as we will go broke anyway. It might be that the county commissioners would want to take the same action that the school board did when they canvassed the school district and found many inequalities in taxes. I thought all along that the county should have gone in with the school district in that survey. Thus the schools got the necessary money by making each person pay his just tax share. Hence they are building a building, and they are going to take care of it out of income.

REV. CLIFTON CORCORAN — I'm in favor of it. With the growth of the county and the many problems that come with growth, then I believe we have a need here at the present time for a new courthouse.

DEAR BAILEY COUNTY NEIGHBORS:

In case Frank Ford's opponent has told you that he is going to carry Herford against Frank, we would like to set the record straight. Frank Ford is going to carry Deaf Smith County because he is respected and capable. His opponent has waited till the last minute to campaign and then resorted to such childish tactics as pasting bumper stickers all over vacant buildings without the owner's consent and making big claims about support which he doesn't have. We think people in these parts are tired of double-talk and Lyndon Johnson control of Texas politics. So let's elect Frank Ford as our State Representative and have a man that we can be proud of in Austin.

DENNIS TAYLOR believes:

- We must remain the strongest nation in the world and cannot afford to disarm.
- Foreign aid to communist countries must stop immediately before they "bury us with our own shovel".
- New legislation is not necessarily required, but we must repeal the existing laws which are bad.
- A council of democratic nations for democratic countries must be organized to promote their common objectives. This would mean immediate withdrawal from the United Nations which is ineffective.
- The farmer must receive a higher net income and freedom from government controls which will provide the added income.
- In total victory over communism with no compromise, no apologies and no aid to the acknowledged enemy.

"In rising to the defense of my family and its freedoms and to the defense of our national liberties, I invoke the wisdom and direction of Almighty God in my every decision, that I may be a worthy citizen of His Kingdom and of our nation.

"I believe that candidates for public office and employees of government at all levels should state their beliefs with respect to capitalism, socialism, and communism.

"I believe that the democratic principles of free enterprise and human freedom upon which our nation was founded are responsible for its greatness.

"I believe in the right of every man to choose his own occupation free from compulsory unionism; to be rewarded in accordance with his productive contribution to society; to save, invest and spend his earnings as he chooses, and to worship as his conscience dictates.

"I believe that further centralization of power and authority in The Federal Government and the apathy of American people to this trend are among the greatest dangers threatening our Republic and the American way of life. "Planned economy" concepts, such as socialism and communism, facism and other forms of totalitarianism must be opposed wherever and in whatever form they may be found.

"In order that I may as an individual make greater contribution to the above stated principles I shall spend and be spent in my efforts to serve God and my country in the conservative movement most profound in the Republican party of Texas.

"I further believe in our constitutional form of government and its divisions of powers. Without the constant conservation of this form of government the following way of life will eventually have eroded away. This must not happen now or ever."

These we must conserve:

1. Freedom of speech, press, and peaceful assembly.
2. Separation of church and state and the right of each individual to worship according to the dictates of his own conscience.
3. The American competitive enterprise system, in which property is privately owned, privately managed, and operated for profit and individual satisfaction.

faction, and in which supply and demand are the ultimate determinants of market prices.

4. Our high standard of living which is brought about primarily by efficiency of production and maximum per capita production.

5. The individual right to own property guaranteed by the constitution.

6. The exercise of free will, rather than force; this is consistent with the maintenance of liberty.

7. The right of every man to choose his own occupation; to be rewarded according to his productive contribution to society; and to save, invest, and spend or convey to his heirs, his earnings, as he chooses.

8. Change the constitution and its interpretation only by constitutional amendments.

I further believe:

1. In government by law impartially administered without special privilege.

2. That government propagandizing of the electorate threatens the maintenance of self-government.

3. That establishment by the government of organizations of citizens, which may in any way remain under its political influence or control threatens the continuation of self-government.

4. That secrecy in government affairs should not be tolerated except as actually essential to national security.

5. In strong and responsible state and local units of government and in the protection of state laws against federal pre-emption.

6. That farm people have the right and the responsibility to speak for themselves through organizations of their choice without coercion or government intervention.

7. That powers not specifically delegated to the federal government by the Constitution are reserved to the states or to the people and that such powers cannot be pre-empted by federal statutes and must not be pre-empted by the courts.

The foregoing statements and beliefs are now and will be my platform in asking to represent you of the 19th Congressional District.

I therefore earnestly solicit your vote and your help to win this political race. These fundamental principles which we hold dear and dear to our hearts are consistent with the Word of God upon which our forefathers founded the Constitution of our land.

Here's Step-By-Step Courthouse Picture

We have as yet done nothing about it. But several months ago a Bailey County grand jury called in each member of the commissioners' court, other officials and civic leaders, and asked that we look through the jail.

They made an investigation of the situation and returned recommendations that positive action be taken to correct these deficiencies and provide legal and proper jail facilities. In addition to this we had similar recommendations from the Chamber of Commerce, the Ministerial Alliance and other civic groups and individuals. So in response the commissioners' court employed an architect to study the situation and prepare plans that would appear to be the most feasible and practical to correct the deficiencies. It was the judgement of the commissioners' court that the jail situation is only a part of the problem, as the courthouse itself is too small and we are lacking in office room and storage places for records. For example neither the Tax Collector's or the County Clerk's office is large enough.

OUTSIDE SPACE RENTED
We do not have room in the courthouse for the county attorney, and are presently paying rent for his office. We do not have room for the highway patrol office. We do not have any place to keep jurors when they are kept overnight, we do not have suitable room for Grand Jurors, or for the drivers license examiner, Social Security representative or personnel of the state department of public welfare.

So it was the judgement of the commissioners' court that if action was to be taken it would be good business and cheaper in the long run, to consider all these the architect drew plans providing completely new jail facilities, adding new office room to the courthouse and remodeling the present building. The present building is now structurally sound and it is the professional judgement of the architect that to add to, preserve and re-model it would be the cheapest and best solution.

The plans called for an addition to the back side and on each end with the present building to be re-finished, so it would all look alike, both inside and out. The construction cost estimate of the first proposal was $265,000. Please bear in mind that this was construction cost only and did not include architect fees, legal fees, equipment or any other expenses. When however we attempted to allocate office space under this proposal it was soon discovered that it was not large enough.

Consequently it was necessary to enlarge it. This raised the estimate to $280,000. Then it was decided that we would probably need more jail room, so when that was added it brought the estimate of the cost of construction and remodeling to $290,000. In addition to this, there will be architect fees in an approximate amount of $14,500.

LEGAL FEES
There will be legal and financial fees in the approximate amount of $2,500. The architect recommended a contingency fund of approximately $14,500 to provide a bit of latitude should it be necessary to make different selections or substitutions of materials, alter plans or to take care of problems that might arise. We had a study made of what might be needed in the way of new office equipment and furnishings with the thought constantly in mind that we would preserve and use all the equipment and furnishings we now have that can be used.

It was estimated that we might need as much as $28,000 to spend for that purpose. In addition to this there would be other expense in re-locating in temporary quarters while the construction is being done. I believe about $6,000 was suggested for this. All this will add up to about $355,000. So the architect recommended that we call an election in the amount of $390,000 in order to be on the safe side. If any amount of this is not needed, it will not be used. All work will be contracted and all purchases made by sealed bids. If the bids should be low enough that the maximum amount of $360,000 is not needed then only the amount needed would be used.

REASONS CITED
The election was called for November 6th, the day of the general election. There are basically two reasons why it was called for that day.

The first is it can be held cheaper at that time because we will already have election judges and clerks at work. This will save the taxpayers some money.

And secondly, we thought that because that is the day of the General Election we would get a more representative expression from the people. So on that day you will determine by your vote whether the project will be approved or dis-approved. And again, I am not trying to persuade you either way. I am only trying to furnish you information that will help you make a decision.

There is presently on the ground floor and second floor of the courthouse, both floors combined, approximately 8500 square feet of floor space. The new construction would add approximately 12,500 additional square feet of new floor space. This would, as I said, provide completely new construction and facilities for the jail, and room enough on the ground floor for all county offices, including room for the extension service offices, the district attorney, the highway patrol, a county courtroom and the county library. There may be some question as to whether or not we need a county courtroom.

LOOKS TO FUTURE
And perhaps at this time we do not, but it is my personal judgement that in the years to come we will need one very badly in order to have a suitable place to try Justice and county court cases. In addition to that it would make nice working quarters for the drivers license examiner, Social Security representative, department of public welfare personnel and others who sometimes need room in the courthouse. The jail would provide potential capacity for about 60 prisoners, providing separate facilities for juveniles, mental patients and women prisoners and meeting all the requirements of law. The present jail equipment would be traded in on the new, and the space where the jail is now located would be converted into storage space for old county records. There would be room to keep a dispatcher on duty day and night if that should be required or desired.

The county clerk, county tax office and county treasurer would all be grouped together in one large vault-room, so that when you walk in you would walk into a large vault in which all these valuable records such as court records, deed records and etc., which actually involve the title to your homes and other real property, would be kept. Space for these three offices would of course have to be allocated according to the most feasible arrangement, and individual safes provided so that each individual office would have a place to keep other valuables.

COURTROOM RETAINED
On the second floor the district courtroom would be left substantially as it is. The balance of the room up there would be re-modeled so as to provide office room for the District Judge and court reporter, and for the district clerk in the event the county and district clerks office should ever be divided, which it probably will be some day. There will be restrooms for both men and women. Also, there is to be a large general purpose room with a sliding partition and storage space. Folding beds would be stored so this room could be used to keep jurors including mixed juries, should it be needed for that purpose.

This room could also be used as a meeting place for the grand jury, a counsel room for lawyers and witnesses, and for other purposes. It has been suggested that the district courtroom should be made larger, but the architect says that because the walls are supporting walls the cost of enlarging it would be almost prohibitive at this time. For that reason we have no plans to enlarge it.

All the new construction would be built strong enough and on a foundation sound enough that another story could be added in the years to come in event another expansion program should be necessary. The entire building both old and new would be internally heated and cooled with modern heating and cooling equipment.

30-YEAR DEAL
This in brief is about what you can expect to get for your money in the event you approve the bond issue on November 6th. The bonds would be retired over money in the event you approve the bond issue on November 6th. The bonds would be retired over a period of time not to exceed 30 years. They will be sold at public bid to the best bidder. And to retire such bonds it will of course be necessary to raise your taxes and there will be some comprehensive information for you on that very shortly.

But if the bonds are voted the county tax will go up because we will have to increase valuations to retire them and to provide funds for additional operating expenses that would be needed. And in most cases the state tax will go up some because the state tax is levied on the county valuation. It is however subject to a $3,000 homestead exemption. So the decision is yours, the plans we have, while they may not be perfect, are the best and most practical that we have been able to devise. It appears to me that they are sufficient to meet the needs for a long time to come and yet they are realistic, and not extravagant.

So far as I am concerned there is nothing personal involved. The office space provided for the County Judge is fairly adequate and I am happy located where I am.

It has been wonderful to be with you and I appreciate your interest, and will be happy to answer any questions you may have. Or if there is any other way that I can help you please feel free to call on me.

THE SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Have Khrushchev's Advisers Seen Too Many Westerns on Television?

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a look at the Cuban situation this week from an odd viewpoint.

Dear editor:
Generally it's against my policy to write you about anything that's happening as fast as the Cuban situation, on the grounds that it's easier and safer to comment on something already settled, but I have been thinking about what the Russians must have been thinking when they concluded they could get by with building guided missile launching sites in Cuba, and I think I have it figured out.
Mr. Khrushchev's advisers have been seeing too many TV westerns.
Not only have they been watching them, they believe them. They believe that the code of the west, TV version, prevails in the United States today and that a good man never shoots a bad man until the bad 'un draws first. Even if the Marshal knows there are outlaws taking positions with rifles and shotguns on the roofs of every wooden building in town, he can't draw his gun on the leader walking toward him in the middle of main street until the leader draws first.

Steeped in this Western lore, Khrushchev apparently thought our hands would be tied while he built launching sites in Cuba, and that our Old West code wouldn't allow us to go for our missiles until he went for his. The fact that this would be too late for us, was a thought that apparently never occurred to him.
The way for world peace to be attained is for the TV producers to come up with some modern westerns, in which boun-

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

PARKING LOT CAR THEFT

Mort Meanswell owned a parking lot. It was enclosed by an eight foot fence and had one entrance and one exit. Mort kept at least one attendant on duty at all times to park and watch after his customers' cars. Patrons were requested to leave their keys in the car to enable the attendants to park the cars as well as move them when necessary.
Hotrod Harry parked his car in Mort's lot and was given a claim check. He promptly put it into his pocket without paying any attention to it. Upon the back of the claim check was written, "The person accepting this ticket assumes all risk of accident, and expressly agrees that the management shall not be liable, under any circumstances, for any injury to person, loss or damage."
A couple of hours later Harry returned. His car had been stolen. Mort Meanswell said that he was sorry, but pointed to the statement on the back of the claim check. Mort refused to pay for the stolen car. Harry sued him.

Must Mort pay for the stolen car?
Mort probably would have to pay. Most courts have held that a statement on the back of a parking claim check is only effective if called to car owners' attention. Mort had not done this. Also, Harry had a right to believe from the fact that Mort maintained an enclosed space for parking, with attendants on duty, that he was paying the parking fee in consideration of care and watchfulness to prevent injury or loss.
Parking lot operators may attempt to escape responsibility by a notice of limitation of liability posted on the lot or printed on the claim check given the owner of the car. But with few exceptions the courts have not upheld such limitations were the loss or injury was due to the negligence of the operator of the lot, and where the stipulations were not specifically called to the attention of the car owner.

ty hunters and the innocent homesteaders fight with guided missiles, and any time the Marshal finds out some outlaw is pouring concrete up in the hills for a launching pad aimed at Dodge City, his code now allows him to start shooting without waiting till the concrete sets and the outlaw goes for the firing pin.
Mr. Khrushchev has been badly advised. Somebody should have told him, everybody watches westerns over here, but nobody believes them. In these days, pouring concrete is the same as going for your gun.
Yours faithfully,

Letters
TO THE EDITOR

DEAR EDITOR:

I know that most of your readers are very concerned about the President's embargo of Cuba Monday and the effect it will have on our nation and the world.

I want to make a few calculated guesses about the consequences of these actions. I do not believe that Russia will declare war or fight over the issue of Cuba. Reason No. 1. Cuba is not that important to Khrushchev; Berlin maybe; Cuba no. Reason No. 2. Why should the Soviet Union fight because of the embargo? Their mission of making an island fortress for Russia of Cuba has already been accomplished. As far as they are concerned there

JFK says:

"If the American people are against my urban affairs, public works, medicare or farm programs, then, of course they'll —

Vote Republican."

is nothing to fight for now. So why fight. Reason No. 3. Kennedy has asked that the UN supervise the dismantling and removing from Cuba of all offensive weapons. Who will determine what weapons are offensive or defensive? Can't you see the endless haggling over that issue? Since the head of the Military Secretariat of the UN is a Communist and has always been a Communist, what chance do we have of profiting from a UN decision?

Reason No. 4. If the UN negotiates for Cuba and the United States, this will establish the precedent of UN troops on Western Hemisphere soil. What will happen if the United States is declared the aggressor in later issues? The precedent will be established and we can expect UN troops on our soil; still under the leadership of a Communist Military Secretariat.

Reason No. 5. The President says that the ships will be turned back from Cuba and that they can go anywhere else they please. Since their mission has already been accomplished in Cuba; these ships will merely go where they wanted to go anyway; to other ports in the Western Hemisphere. To establish more Russian military fortresses.

So we have nothing to fear from Russia over the embargo of Cuba. Last month, yes. Their job was not completed. Today, no. Because their job is done. We do have reason to fear the armed arsenal of Cuba and the Soviet's ability to scare the American people into surrender. But we have nothing to fear about their intention of destroying the United States. The World Communists want our country whole and intact. If the United States should inadvertently be destroyed, then all people of the world that we have been subsidizing through our foreign aid would suffer with us. The Communists have benefited as much as our friends from this aid. They do not wish to lose that aid through the destruction of the United States. They need our factories, our tremendous productive capacity to keep the enslaved peoples of the world under subjection. When we, as a nation, are destroyed; it will not be by bombs. It will be when we are taken over by United Nations troops who are loyal to no nation, but are loyal to a goddess, one World Government ruled by members of the Council on Foreign Relations, World Bankers, and international planners.

I repeat: we do not need to fear the Cuban embargo. We need fear only ourselves and our ability or inability to destroy the blueprints of the One World Government planners who intend to make us slaves. Who very definitely do not plan to destroy our bodies and the productivity of those bodies. But instead plan to "destroy our souls."

If we are concerned about the destroying of our physical bodies; maybe we have nothing to worry about. But if we are concerned about the destruction of our souls and ideals as a God-fearing Christian Nation; then, we must, now or never take up the all-powerful weapon of knowledge and go out and meet this enemy and drive the one-world planners from our midst. Only by knowledge can we remain a free and all-powerful nation.

YOU CAN VOTE FOR ANY CANDIDATE OF ANY PARTY ON THE NOVEMBER 6TH BALLOT

Governor Price Daniel, while Attorney General, wrote an opinion on the question of party loyalty in which he said, "The courts of Texas have answered this question by holding that the pledge taken at the time of voting in the primary election DOES NOT create a legal obligation."

Recently Governor Daniel repeated that opinion by saying that the pledge on the primary ballot does not obligate anyone "legally or morally" to vote for the Democratic ticket in the general election.

ARKANSAS' TIES WITH TEXAS—III

Arkansas Led Fight For Texas Statehood

In the spring of 1840, the boundary line between Arkansas and the Republic of Texas was surveyed from the Louisiana line due north or Red river.

Dr. John R. Conway, brother of Arkansas Governor James S. Conway, was the commissioner making the survey for Arkansas. He was appointed by President Van Buren. As a result of the survey, most of what was then Miller County, Arkansas was placed in Texas.

Where Arkansas judges held court, and Arkansas sheriffs had served processes, made arrests, and collected taxes, were found to be within the boundary of Texas. The line, as established ed by the commissioners, was about 10 miles farther east than was previously understood to be the boundary.

The line, which has stood the test of time, divides the progressive city of Texarkana, down the middle.

The annexation of Texas to the United States was of nearly as much interest in Arkansas as it was in Texas. With the help of other pioneers, including many Arkansians, Texas had established her independence as a republic. The United States and many foreign nations had recognized her government.

Being a separate and independent republic, Texas had a clear right to voluntarily attach herself to any power by which she might be received. In the exercise of this right, she twice made overtures to the United States to enter the Union. The first was under the administration of President Andrew Jackson, who had given his strong moral support to her fight for independence, but his Congress refused.

The second attempt was under the administration of President Van Buren. In 1843, a treaty was made at the instance of the United States, but this, too, was rejected by the U. S. Senate. Efforts of Texas for statehood continued 9 years.

Slavery was the main issue. The South wanted her as a slaveholding state. The north rejected her for this reason. There was also the specter of Texas being divided into four states, giving the area at least 8 electoral votes.

Arkansas people were deeply aroused by these rejections. It became the issue on which James K. Polk was elected to the presidency in November, 1844. How the annexation came about is related in a speech delivered by Arkansas Senator A.H. Sevier, who was one of the leaders in the fight for annexation.

"The treaty with Texas was rejected, but the issue was made up and presented to the country for its decision at the ballot box", Senator Sevier explained. "That issue was decided in November, 1844, and in favor of the Texas candidate. Mr. Tyler had yet one session of Congress left under which to administer the affairs of the country. In this short fragment of his term, a joint resolution for the annexation of Texas was introduced in the House of Representatives by a prominent Whig of Tennessee."

It was finally adopted by nearly a party vote. The vote was taken at a night session. The House had adjourned and most of its members were in the Senate galleries to see the results. Every door and window to the Senate chambers were filled with eager and anxious spectators. "Every resident representative of any foreign power or state was also here", the senator said in his description, "and among the rest, the minister from Mexico. In this moment of hope and fear, involving such interest to the United States and the future fate of the Republic of Texas, the vote was taken and the resolution carried by a vote of 27 to 25."

"On the first day of March, the resolution was approved by President Tyler, and on the third of that month, a messenger was sent to Texas with the resolution, and on the night succeeding that day, the term of President Tyler, and of the session of Congress that passed these resolutions, expired together."

On March 6, two days after President Polk took office, the Mexican minister filed his protest on the annexation and demanded his passports. Within a few weeks, our minister to Mexico returned home, severing diplomatic relations with Mexico.

As soon as the Texas Congress could act, Texas accepted the proposition of the United States and became enrolled as a full-fledged state. It was a particular cause of rejoicing in Arkansas, because the initial movement for Texas Colonization had come out of her borders, when Stephen F. Austin left Washington, Arkansas, to plant his colony on the Brazos river.

The union has been advocated in a report of a select committee of the Arkansas Legislature in 1844, which had been studying a joint resolution introduced by W.W. Floyd, of Johnson county. The resolution proposed to instruct the Arkansas delegation in Congress to secure the annexation of Texas.

"It will be incomprehensible to those of future ages that the United States government, founded as it was after a successful revolution by which the people gained their independence, should be so slow and tardy in aiding our own people in Texas in their struggle for freedom.

"It will scarcely be believed that when we have in our power to incorporate them into this Union, and are warranted to do so by the law of nations, we were blind enough to wait on a mere punctilio and run the risk of either not acquiring Texas at all, or doing it after an infinite degree of trouble and cost".

Andrew Jackson, from his retirement in the "The Hermitage", wrote an almost frantic letter urging the annexation before it was too late. He explained that Texas might become discouraged by repeated rejections and ally herself with England.

The old hero lived long enough to see his advice accepted by the United States, but he did not live long enough to witness the official entry into the Union.

CONGRESS IN REVIEW

The Congress, in its wisdom, deleted more than $4 billion in spending proposals from the Kennedy Administration proposals, that would have totaled $96 billion plus, as submitted, according to an Associated Press tabulation. The total would have been more than $5 billion in savings, had Congress not increased Kennedy - McNamara proposals for the military by about $50 million to strengthen our defense position in several key areas. This vast spending budget of $92 billion plus, assures us of another big Kennedy deficit for the fiscal year, with various Senate Committee analysts already predicting the deficit figure will be at least $8 billion. This spending total is exclusive of the $9.421 billion we must spend this year for interest on the national debt which is a permanent appropriation, and is not voted on each year.

In review, Congress defeated the President's proposition that there be created a Department of Urban Affairs. I am glad that this measure was defeated because I am convinced that it would mean the further intrusion into the affairs of the state and city governments.

Congress defeated the medical care proposal of the President which would have created a federally sponsored medical care program, under Social Security. This was defeated by a very narrow margin and has been generally viewed, throughout the country, as a bill that should have been defeated.

Congress voted large appropriations for foreign aid, but reduced JFK requests by about $1 billion.

The Farm Bill, as passed, is a bill which satisfies no one. Advocates of outright regimentation of the farmer feel that it does not go far enough. There are many of us who feel that it goes too far. I look forward to the day when we can return farming to a market-regulated economy.

The UN bond provision was passed, which I opposed. The President will have discretionary power to purchase UN bonds. We defeated outright a number of the Kennedy Administration bills, and it should be noted that most of those which were passed, were not approved in the form which the President originally requested.

There are notable failures of the President in the foreign policy field, as dramatized by the Cuban situation, and the failure of this Administration to save any money, and to show any fiscal responsibility, is tragic.

Administration advocates, who try to "point with pride" to the enactment of any considerable part of the President's New Frontier proposals, are hard pressed. Aside from the usual money bills, or Departmental appropriations, and the foreign trade bill, the measures that came through the legislative hopper are really only bits and pieces of what the President sought to obtain. And most of the trimming saved the taxpayers money.

FOREIGN TRADE BILL

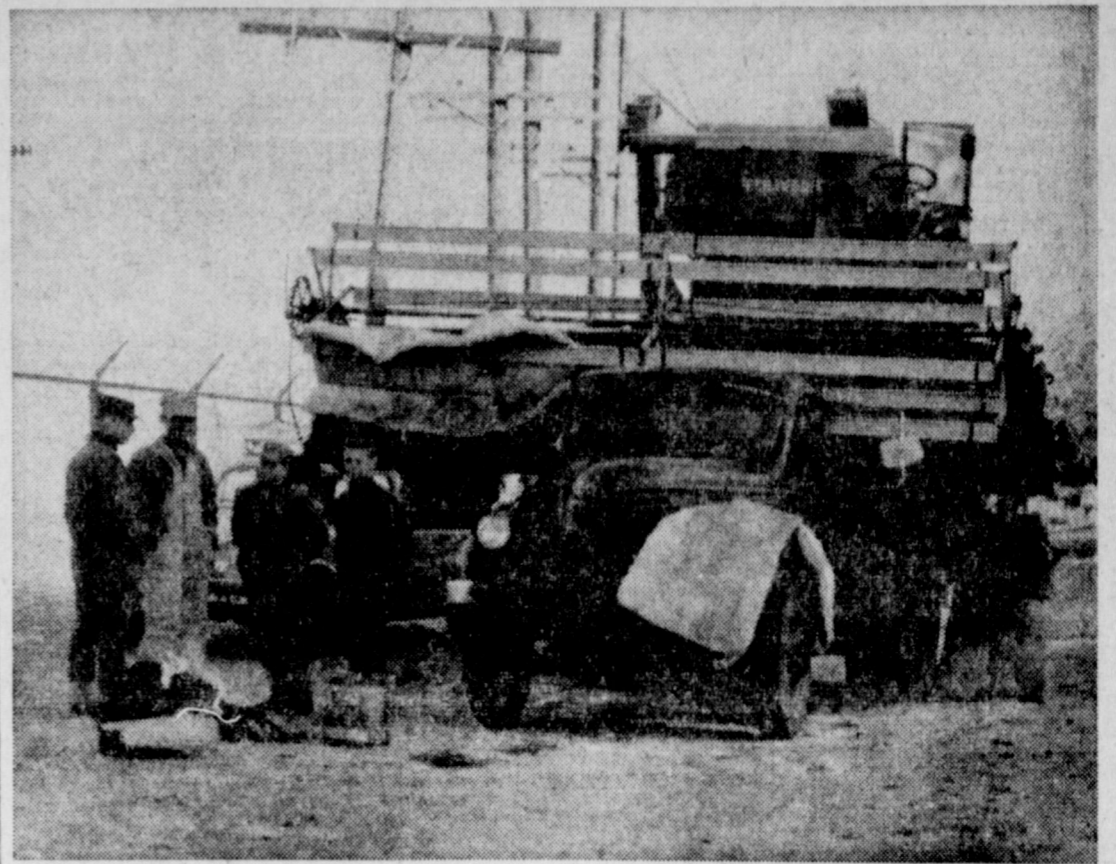

I regret that the Foreign Trade Bill, as passed by Congress and signed by the President, and now the law of the land, was pretty much what the Administration wanted. I testified before the Senate Finance Committee, during hearings on the bill, and urged that Congress retain more authority, and go slow in enactment. My resolution, introduced in the spring, provides for establishment of a Joint Congressional Committee on Foreign Trade to exercise Congressional oversight in the field, and I shall do my best to get a hearing on this measure during the next session.

Trash Problem
Plagues Cities,
Health Groups

Thousands of years ago, the cave dwellers had a simple solution to the sanitation problem—when conditions became unbearable they simply moved to another cave. But, this present-day problems. There were only a few caves to go around.

As urban complexes developed the citizens realized that dumping trash in the streets and hoping that it would rain and wash away soon turned the city into a huge dump.

Today the problem is still with us. Cities pay out a major part of their annual budgets to pick up trash and dispose of it in a sanitary manner.

To better cope with this problem the Texas State Department of Health conducts a series of demonstration short-courses on the proper disposal of refuse.

This year nine such one-day demonstrations are being conducted—one within easy traveling distance of every community in Texas.

Sponsored with the cooperation of refuse equipment manufacturers and the host cities, engineers from the State Health Department's Sanitary Engineering Division organize and conduct the demonstrations as well as notify everyone in the area who should be interested in refuse disposal procedure.

The list includes nearly everyone associated with municipal sanitation—mayors, city commissioners, city managers, health officers, sanitarians, sanitation superintendents, public works directors, city engineers, county officials, members of civic organizations and citizens interested in community sanitation and public health.

Highlight of the meetings is a demonstration of collection trucks and sanitary land-fill equipment and the correct method for using the equipment.

Sanitary landfill as opposed to other refuse disposal methods in Texas is one method which has considerable potentials in making sanitary refuse-disposal practice economically feasible for many communities.

Basically the method employs three steps—the refuse is dumped in an excavated trench, it is compacted by heavy tractor equipment, and finally covered with compacted earth.

Garbage, rubbish, and ashes are disposed without nuisance, fire or public health hazards.

Sites of this fall's courses are: Plainview, Sweetwater, Weatherford, Mount Pleasant, Lufkin, Rosenberg, Temple, Kerrville, and Harlingen. (A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Farm Tractor
No 'Runabout',
DPS Points Out

Using the farm tractor for an all-purpose runabout is a dangerous practice. Do not use a tractor for trips not directly related to field work, Department of Public Safety urged Thursday.

Slow-moving vehicles are one of the major problems of rural highway travel. Many of them are inadequately lighted or lack proper identification with which to warn motorists, DPS said.

"It is up to the operators of slow-moving farm vehicles to practice courtesy whenever they can. When it is possible the farm operator should pull his equipment onto the shoulder and allow faster-moving traffic to pass. Although the farm operator has a privilege to move his farm vehicles and equipment upon the roadway, he should be willing to pull off the roadway for his own protection. This may prevent himself, his farm vehicles and farm equipment from being involved in an accident," DPS pointed out.

"It has been observed that many farm tractors, vehicles, and motorized equipment while upon the roadway are so designed or pulling other vehicles and equipment that the operator is unable to ascertain the approach of traffic from the rear. Under such conditions these vehicles and equipment should have a rear view mirror like on a truck and bus enabling the operator to see the approach of traffic from the rear.

"However, in many instances where there were no such obstructions in rear of the operator it has been observed the operator has been negligent in failing to turn his head around to check for the approach of traffic from the rear. This type of operator becomes a "road hog," creating traffic congestion, and endangering the lives of others as well as himself. Farm vehicles should be operated only by mature, responsible persons upon the highways," DPS concluded.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

WAGE EARNER'S PLAN

There is an alternative to bankruptcy. Relief from constant harassment by creditors and threats of suits and garnishment of bank accounts can be found by the filing of a Wage Earner's Plan in the federal district court under Chapter XII of the Bankruptcy Act.

A debtor can request the court to stop all suits and garnishments during a three-year period while he pays into the court to satisfy all of his debts over this extended period of time.

A Wage Earner's Plan has certain advantages over bankruptcy:

There is no stigma of having avoided one's debts. Every creditor is paid in full.

A debtor is taught, under court supervision, to reserve a certain amount each pay day to go to his creditors; and he is not allowed to purchase anything on credit during the time the plan is in effect.

A debtor is allowed to keep his mortgaged property unless the court decides it is too expensive for his income.

A person who has filed bankruptcy within six years and is again being pressed by his creditors, may file a Wage Earner's Plan. The law does not permit him to go into bankruptcy within this six-year period.

It is also possible to pay less than the full amount of one's debts. If a debtor simply does not have enough money to live on and still pay his obligations in full, it is possible to pay 50 per cent or 60 per cent of the amount he owes to each creditor and then receive a discharge of the balance by the court after the Wage Earner's Plan is completed.

The debtor pays enough to the court trustee over a three-year period to cover all his debts, court costs and attorney's fees. Most plans provide that interest be cut off as of the date the petition is filed in court; and a debtor may save enough on interest to cover the costs.

In Kansas City, Kansas, there are 2,000 active Wage Earner's Plans. In Birmingham, Alabama, there are over 7,000 plans in relatively unknown Texas, and few persons are presently taking advantage of Wage Earner's Plans.

(This column prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

REPORT FROM ITALY - III

Johnsons Find Florence, Italy City of History, Art, Beauty

Dear Folks, Epistle number three on "The Trip" begins with Thursday, Sept. 6. Here we are in Florence: land of the Etruscans, home of the Medici, birth place of Dante and Michelangelo, refuge for Galileo, center of the Renaissance. Boy, were we eager to dig into this historic, beautiful city!

First stop today was the Pitti Palace. This houses one of the world's most famous art galleries. This magnificent collector of masterpieces was gathered by the various Medici princes. In these long rows of rooms hang some of the greatest paintings of all times by Raphael (several of his Madonnas), Titan, Rubens, and other great painters that I'm not familiar with (unfortunately). If you're better versed in art, perhaps you'll recognize the names of Andrea del Sarto, Valasquez, Murillo (I thought he was a heavy-weight contender in the 18's), Bartolomeo, and Perugino. The two most impressive pictures for me, were Reubens "Consequences of War" (as gruesome as he title implies) and "The Four Philosophers" (a copy of which we saw in the basement of the S. AE national chapel at Northwestern. Really, in many of the room we were as impressed with the pictures and frescos on the ceiling as we were with the paintings on the walls. We got only a short glimpse of the gardens behind the Pitti Palace. They are beautifully kept, and are graced with numerous fountains and rows of statues along the walkways.

Our next visit wasto the Medici Chapel. This place is actually composed of two separate structures. The first of these structures is the "Mausoleum" which is as lavish as were the Medici princes whose bodies it now inscribes. It is a vaulted structure covered with marble, semi-precious stones, mosaics, and Florentine agate, all blended together in extravagant luxury.

The masterpiece of beauty, however, is the second structure—the "New Sacristy". This building was designed by Michelangelo, and the simplicity of lines and adornment look almost austere in comparison with the other buildings. It is said that in this building Michelangelo strove to glorify the divine inspiration in man with purity and beauty rather than the temporal power reflected in the elaborate Mausoleum. Here, we saw our first works of Michelangelo: his interpretations of Dawn and Dusk on one side of the room facing Night and Day on the other side of the room also an unfinished Madonna and Child. There are two empty niches in the room which were to have been occupied by figures representing Heaven, Earth, and other forces of the universe. These in 1534 Michelangelo fled the tyranny of Alessandro de Medici and took refuge in Rome. We have all read of Michelangelo's genius, but it's really impossible to comprehend the emotion, philosophy, beauty, dreams, and reality that he could put into stone without witnessing and feeling his work. I don't want to sound like a pseudo-something-or-other (I must frankly admit that many of the supposed masterpieces of painting left me cold—probably because of my ignorance) but Michaelangelo's sculpturing really did things to me. I think I felt his works as much as I looked at them—and I don't mean with my hands.

This brings up another, and somewhat unpleasant sidelight on the trip. I'll swear the German tourists (and there were hordes of them) were little better than the wild tribes that came down & defeated the Romans. So many of them felt compelled to wipe their grubby paws on the priceless paintings and Marble statues—it's a wonder there's anything left to see. I've heard plenty about "Ugly Americans", but I can honestly say that the Americans we saw on tour conducted themselves with more respect for these treasures than many of the Europeans.

Our next stop was the Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore or Il Duomo. This beautiful, marble church was started in 1296 and the dome was not completed until 1434. It is the second largest church in the world (St. Peter's in Rome is larger) and is certainly one of the most beautiful in Italy; the whole facade is finished in pink, white and green marble from various parts of Tuscany. The stained glass windows were designed by some of Florence's most famous artists—Donatello, Ghiberti, and a couple of others. Inside, we viewed one of Michelangelo's best and most famous groups, Descent From the Cross. This magnificent work shows the dead Christ in the arms of Mary Mary Magdalene, and Joseph of Aramathea.

Just across the street from Il Duomo is Baptistery. This was originally the Cathedral of Florence until the larger structure was made. The Baptismal font was left here though. The doors to this building are perhaps the most famous and beautiful in the world—especially the set facing East, which Michelangelo named the "Gate of Paradise" for its extreme beauty. The south door is the work of the gothic sculptor Andrea Pisano and is made of 28 bronze panels showing scenes from the life of John the Baptist. The North door contains 28 bronze panels in bas-relief, showing scene from New Testament. This door was done by Ghiberti; he was awarded this job as a commission after winning a contest. It took him 21 years to complete the door. After finishing it, he was commissioned to do the East door. This door, the "Gate of Paradise", was finished in gold leaf. It took Ghiberti 36 years to complete. He spent a total of 57 years making 2 doors for this one building—but their beauty is infinite and their accomplishment made Ghiberti immortal.

This concluded our morning's sight seeing. We returned to the Pensione for lunch and a short siesta. The Italians, like our Latin American friends, subscribe to the afternoon nap as an institution. All stores are closed from 12 until 3:30.

We spent a short while at the Ponte Vecchio, the only original bridge still spanning the Arno—all others were blown up by the Germans during their retreat in World War I. This old bridge is covered with shops which have been kept in the same families for centuries.

We also spent a short while at the Piazza della Signoria and Loggia die Lanzi. It was getting too late to take any pictures by then, so we determined to return for a better look and for picture taking the next day. I'll try to describe it in the next letter. Suffice it to say that this one plaza has the greatest array of statues per square foot of any place in

Mahon Praises Kennedy Stand

Congressman George Mahon was in Muleshoe last week when the President announced establishment of a quarantine around Cuba.

He issued this statement: "The President is our spokesman in foreign affairs, and I shall support him to the limit."

"I am pleased with the decisive action which he has taken. It was made mandatory by the recent assessments of developments in Cuba. It is fraught with grave risks, but is safer than a policy of weakness."

"I repeat what I have said many times: That the U. S. cannot and will not permit the construction of a dangerous military base in Cuba."

"The President has been very patient. In my opinion he will have the support of Congress and the American people in carrying out the strong and unequivocal program of action which he announced in his statement."

Little Change in Farm Products' Prices Seen for Balance of 1962

Prices of farm products and livestock generally will continue high for the balance of 1962, specialists for the extension division, Texas A&M, said today in their monthly commodity outlook. The report was compiled by John G. McHaney, extension economist, and released here by J. K. Adams, county agent.

Predictions follow:
Hogs: For the rest of 1962, it appears that prices will very likely continue slightly above last year's price for the same period.

Lambs: There does not seem to be much cause for weakness in the lamb market for the rest of 1962.

Cattle: "Some increased availability of fed beef in the last quarter of 1962, particularly near the end of the year, along with a seasonally larger supplies of pork and turkeys, are expected to result in a moderate decline in fed cattle prices. Briefly feeder cattle and calf prices may ease downward . . . but a sharp break is not expected."

Broilers: "Larger hatchery outputs will begin to enlarge broiler marketings in November when turkey consumption is near its seasonal peak. If increases of prices will begin to drop in late 1962."

Turkeys: ". . . Because of the supply situation it appears that prices received by producers during the rest of 1962 will be better than those received during the same period of 1961."

Eggs: "Egg prices for the remainder of 1962 are expected to hold close to year earlier levels."

Wheat: "Prices received by farmers will likely remain above the year's earlier levels for the rest of 1962."

Cotton: "The 1962 cotton crop is expected to be nearly three percent greater than last year, due to increased yields per acre. The 1962 average yield in the United States is estimated at 449 pounds per harvested acre, up from the 1961 yield of 438 pounds . . . Stock of cotton held by CCC on Aug. 1 was about 4.7 million bales. This is a sharp increase from a year earlier. . . Spot market prices for cotton in U. S. have declined steadily in recent months. . ."

Grain sorghum: ". . . Feed grain prices for the rest of 1962 may average fairly close to the levels for the same period in 1961."

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Human history shows that the majority of the kings of the earth have been no bargain. In our age, whenever men have been free to choose, they have been slow to keep the office of kingship. People seem to think that their better interests are not always served by the judgements of any one man. Most of us would want the will of the majority to protect their rights and interests. Yet the City of God has, by Divine Will, a king. But since that King is the son of God, the members of that City have no regrets about His ability to rule with perfection. The political accusation brought against Christ at His trial before Pontius Pilate was His claim to kingship.

The Roman emperor never granted a title of kingship to this Man, so Pilate would have to look into these charges. Pilate was of minor Roman nobility and proud of his family. He had no particular liking for Christ. "Art Thou the King of the Jews?" Pilate asked. The Saviour replied, "Are you asking as a Roman, or have My people prejudiced thee? Pilate replied, "am I a Jew? What have you done? Art Thou a King?" Jesus answered "Yes I am a King. I have been born into this world to bear witness to the truth which will make men members of that kingdom. Everyone who responds to My teaching is of that kingdom. A kingdom of truth." Pilate said, "I find no guilt in Him." The enemies of Christ had a secret weapon left. "If you release this Man, you are no friend of Caesar." Their tricky threat was clear enough to Pilate. They meant to report him to Rome for treason. Pilate was not going to take a chance on his own security. So Pilate uttered these words, "Take Him, crucify Him!" For centuries the kingdom of truth has been ruling the minds and wills of thousands with Christ as King and everyone who responds to the teaching is of that kingdom.

One of the most unique football teams in Muleshoe high school's history will write 'finis' to its season here Friday afternoon against the Hale Center eleven.

Opening the season under the handicaps of inexperience and a lack of weight, the Yellow Jackets progressed through six games in an admirable fashion. They were all light—much lighter than the average high school player. But, despite these handicaps, they have won two, tied two, and lost two—a good record considering!

A Halloween carnival will be held at Fairview school Saturday night, October 31.

The public is invited to attend bring their pennies and dimes and enjoy a few hours of fun.

A get-together party at Fellowship Hall on Wednesday evening of last week honored 'Uncle Whit' West on his eighty-second birthday. It was something of a surprise to Uncle Whit and all arrangements for the party were completed and the crowd assembled when he was escorted to the hall.

A vocal duet by Mrs. A. J. Gardner and Mrs. Pat Bobo 'Where We'll Never Grow Old' was dedicated to Uncle Whit. He was presented with a table lamp and best wishes were showered upon him.

About eight years ago, he ended his active work in the Methodist church as Sunday School superintendent. He had served in that capacity for six years.

-1942-
Bob Jennings entertained a number of his small friends with a party on his third birthday Monday afternoon.

Adults entertained the group by telling stories and directing games. Refreshments were served to Scotty Lancaster, Ann Woodley, Gaylord Tate, Doris Jean and Pat Childers, Barbara Douglas, Gay Francis Sparkman, Stanley Fox, and Janice Jordan.

Parmer County 4-H Council made plans for the annual 4-H Achievement Program to be held Saturday, November 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the Hub Community Center. This year the 4-H Council planned for a covered dish supper to be served for all 4-H club members in the county.

These plans were made during the meeting of the 4-H Council that was held Saturday, October 20 at 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. in the District Courtroom of the of the Courthouse in Farwell. Gary Foster, chairman, presided and Katie Blackstone served as acting secretary.

by Vern Sanford
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Attorney General Will Wilson issued an opinion that the Constitution Party of Texas cannot nominate members for district offices at its state convention.

But the opinion came a bit late. Election ballots already have been printed, and the tardy nominations are listed.

Secretary of State P. Frank Lake made the request for an opinion on Constitutional Party nomination procedure in September. The "third party" didn't release its list of nominations until early summer, whereas Republicans and Democrats had to comply with a law that says candidates must announce by the second Monday of February.

According to Wilson, the same law applies to the Constitutional Party.

HIGH COST OF LEARNING
 Tuition for Texas' 2 state universities and colleges may be doubled by the time members of the 1964 high school graduating classes are ready to enroll.

Texas Commission on Higher Education decided to ask the Legislature to double tuition—from $50 to $100 a semester—and increase appropriations by 55 per cent during 1964-65.

Commission approved a $4,000,000; agreed to raise college presidents' salaries; and ordered its staff to look into the elimination of remedial writing and reading and tours from college curriculums.

Request for more money came after it was noted that this fall's enrollment of 110,000 students in 19 colleges was an increase of 9 per cent over last year, and the "war babies" will soon be knocking at the doors.

DEFICIT RISES
 Deficit in the State's General Revenue Fund increased by almost $13,000,000 during mid-October, according to a report from State Treasurer Jesse James.

On October 9, the State was in the red to the tune of $41,250, in the red to the tune of $41,250, in the red to the tune of $41,250.

By October 24, the deficit was $54,074,283.

MAP PROJECT PUSHED
 Absence of topographic maps of the entire state may be holding us back in the nationwide race for new industries.

At a meeting of the Texas Mapping Advisory Committee, Harry Clark, director of the Texas Industrial Commission, said that topographic maps are very necessary to industries considering sites here. Chairman John J. Vandertulip said the maps are essential to industrial and agricultural planning.

Topographic maps are those that show the physical features of a region in minute detail.

When a mapping program of 73 counties is completed, Texas will be half-mapped.

ATRACTIVE NUISANCES
 State Health Department officials issued a warning against the use of arsenious acid containers for water bottles.

Field engineers recently found about 40 of the one-gallon size containers along the highway in Collin County. One had about talk about the state government being in the red, it really never has been.

On August 31, when the fiscal year ended, the State Treasury had a cash balance of more than $219,000,000.

Deficits have been recurring in one of the state's 380 or so funds — the General Revenue Fund. But the others always have cash balances.

Deficits have been recurring gave Texans some charts. They show where $1,300,000,000 went last year. Education took 41.01 cents of each dollar, highways took 28.50 cents, public welfare cost 16.29 cents, state hospitals and prisons cost 5.16 cents, and all the rest — Legislature, courts, everything else — cost 9.04 cents of every dollar.

LOST PARK
 Back in 1933, Joe Espy of Fort Davis gave the state 169 acres in the Davis Mountains, with a provision that if it were not developed for public recreation he would get it back.

The state failed to develop the land, so Espy sued to get it back.

Trial court held that he was entitled to the land, and ordered it returned. The State Parks Board is appealing.

Espy said he would give it to the Parks Board again... if the Board will develop it as a park.

Counties and schools in the forest areas get 25 per cent of the forest service's income from the forests, to help maintain road and school programs.

BOOK DEFENDERS
 The men and women who run the public schools came out in strong support of the present method of selecting textbooks in Texas.

Plan has been under attack by some witnesses at recent legislative hearings.

The State Association of School Boards, meeting in Austin, found no fault in the system by which a textbook committee selects as many as five books for each course, and then local textbook committees decide which of the five they will use.

School board members also took no action on an Ector County proposal that central state purchasing of school buses be ended.

COLLEGE TAX ILLEGAL?
 Texas Supreme Court action is expected soon on a case which could upset the junior college set-up in Texas.

Taxpayers' suit from Harris County contends that the Legislature had no constitutional authority to allow the levying of taxes by junior college districts.

Supreme Court has been studying the case since April. Should it agree with the taxpayers, it would take a constitutional amendment to legalize the college districts. Meanwhile, state money might be held to keep the 32 junior colleges going until the voters have a say on the subject.

STUDY COMMITTEE
 A citizens' advisory committee has been named to help the Texas Legislative Council study the problems of emotionally disturbed children. Rep. C. W. Peary Jr. of Temple is chairman.

The study committee was set up after experts advised that Texas has few facilities for curing such disorders.

A few years ago, the air pressure accompanying an Austrian snowslide blew eight freight cars off their rails.

ADVERSE EFFECTS
 One and one-half ounces of arsenic left in it — enough to kill more than 100 people.

Death of three members of a Josephine farm family was attributed to accidental poisoning caused by drinking water out of a container which had been used for cotton defoliation.

"These plastic bottles are attractive nuisances... and deadly," an official said.

RADIATION DETECTION PLAN
 An officer of the Texas Department of Public Safety soon should be able to help out at the scene of a radiation accident or incident anywhere in the State in about 30 minutes, Col. Homer Garrison Jr. announced.

A stepped-up training program in radiation which began on October 29 is expected to provide enough trained men to handle any emergency.

Officers who have completed the course already are driving vehicles equipped with a Geiger Counter to measure very low amounts of radiation, a mid-range survey meter, and a high-range meter.

Men also carry personal "dosimeters" on their persons so they periodically can determine the amount of radiation they have been subjected to during the survey of an area in which radioactive spillage has occurred.

Department's also helping to train members of city police departments, and sheriffs' departments, rescue squads and other groups.

PADRE AND MADRE
 Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler continues his battle against creation of the Padre Island National Seashore.

He has charged that oilmen bidding on state school leases in Laguna Madre did not make big cash bonus offers to the state because of passage of the Padre Island bill.

Sadler intends to oppose legislation to authorize sales of state land in Laguna Madre to the U. S. for the recreation area.

He has hired Captain William C. Russell of Fort Worth, recently retired as director of the Southwest Division of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, to survey the area along the Gulf.

Although the so-called "tidalands" law was passed in 1953, there has not been a settlement between Texas and the U. A. as to where the exact boundary lies. Russell, whose life work has been in coastal surveying, will undertake that chore.

It is made doubly hard because the line is supposed to be three marine leagues off the shore, as it was in 1848 when Texas entered the union. The shoreline has changed considerably in the intervening years.

BUSINESS PERKS UP
 Texas business activity rose seven per cent in August over July. And eight per cent above that of August, 1961.

Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas found this rosier picture in August, after two bad months of decline. While there has been lots of WATER is a commodity so precious that no tyrant has ever dared deny it to his people.

The earliest records of our civilization are linked to the spring and the waterhole, the river and the well.

The Children of Israel faltered in the wasteland and were ready to revolt until Moses struck the rock and brought forth a spring.

Wars have been fought over water rights and mighty nations have vanished because their water resources failed.

In view of these facts, can you afford the luxury of irrigation "TAILWATER??"
