Trading in Cows and Heifers Had Brisker Tone-Calves Weak -Stockers and Feeders Are Active.

There was slight reduction in the number of cattle in sight today compared with arrivals last Tuesday. Five leading markets reported 27,700 head as compared with 30,300 a week ago and 22,400 a year ago. The supply here was first estimated at 1,600 but later at 2,200 head, as against a run of 2,905 a week ago and 2,387 a year ago. The showing of steers was moderate in proportion to the general run. Warmed-up light and short-fed medium weight cattle continue to predium selections and there in the offering and there ders. Country trade is not showing dium weight cattle continue to predominate in the offering and there was little at hand this morning that had much to commend it in the way of quality and fat. There was no material change in the general situation as reflected in early telegraphic news from outside points and business in the steer line moved along at a generally steady range of prices. Trading was not particularly active but the movement was sufficiently brisk to clear the pens of bulk of offerings before the noon hour. The early top was $7.65, with bulk of sales ranging from $7.00@7.50.

Demand for female killing stock today showed a trifle brisker tone than yesterday and the general mar-ket was fully steady. The supply was fairly good in proportion to the cattle receipts but by no means excessive as sellers experienced less difficulty in cashing in their holdings at steady prices than in moving offerings the opening session of the week. The tendency to neglect the choicer classes in favor of the medium and low priced stuff was not quite so much in evt-dence; in fact, fair action was ob-tainable on practically all grades where seliers were willing to accept steady rates. Canners were in the usual light supply and found ready

Bulls were in rather light quota and prices were held on an even level without much trouble on salesmen's A weak tone featured the calf Some of the buyers were hard interest and talked lower prices. A fair business was done at the opening on a steady basis but the close was weak and sales 25c lower were not infrequent in the later dealings.

The Clever Ground Hog Knows

ADDY said, "I wonder if the groundhog will see his shadow this year?" "Oh, yes! It's on the 2d of February be comes out of his hole, isn't it?" Evelyn said.

"We've never seen him come out," Jack said doubtingly. "That doesn't prove he never comes," daddy replied. "There are plenty of little groundhogs; The groundhog's other name is Mr. Woodchuck. By that name you know him very well.

"Last fall when there were plenty of nice plants to cat Mr. Woodchuck In asking change of address, please state ate until he became very fat. He is a vegetable lover and eats roots and things of that sort.

"Mr. Woodchuck fives in a hole in the ground. He makes tunnels, and when the weather is not nice he crawls into the tunnel and stays there until the weather is nice again.

"When he feels the cold winter weather coming on the woodchuck grows warm fur blanket on his back, and after he has eaten till he is so fat he can ardly waddle about he crawls into the coziest corner of his burrow and curls

"All winter while the wind is howling outside be snoozes comfortably. Mr. Woodchuck is very particular about the weather. 'He won't go out of doors when it is bad. He seems not to get hungry. Perhaps the fut in his body keeps him alive all winter just as it does Mr. Bear, who also eats a heap and gets very fat in the fall.

"After awhile, toward spring, you know, Mr. Woodchuck begins to be more wakeful. He worries about the weather perhaps, for he and Mrs. Woodchuck like to have their housekeeping started by April. At last he stirs and ooks about. Maybe he comes up and peeps out of his hole. If the weather isn't good you may be sure he won't come out of his hole, but will go back to

"Like many wild creatures, Mr. Woodchuck does seem to know just what kind of weather to expect, and if the 2d of February should not be a nice day he wouldn't think of stirring abroad.

"If the weather is fine he may take a run around to see just how the country looks. But the sap has not yet begun to stir in the roots of trees and shrubs, and they are hardly nice enough to tempt the woodchuck, who depends on them for life spring food

"It wouldn't be any use for you to try to keep him from going back to his note if you met him abroad on a fine day, for the chance is he has more than one door to his home and could get back in spite of you.

"And so a merry groundhog day for all, and may the groundhog not see his shadow this year."

> Lad Was Merchant, Not Beggar. An American lady in Rome bought some matches from a little match vender. They were wax matches in little decorated boxes. She handed the boy a five-soldi piece and expected to have two soldi in change, but the little fellow shrugged his shoulders and held the change tightly in his hand, with a begging expression on his face, signifying that he wished to have it given to him, whereupon a second American lady who was accompanying the first straightened herself, looked intently at the boy, and said: "Merchante, non mendicante!" ("You are a merchant, not a beggar.") That was an appeal to the boy's self-respect, and it so inspired him that he actually laughed and pressed the change upon his customer.-The Christian Herald.

LOOK ON THE CHEERFUL SIDE

After All, What Is the Use of Letting Worry Get the Upper Hand In the Journey Through Life?

Did you ever cross a room while you were busy and worried and catch a sight of your face in the glass or win

Nine times out of ten your laws are set, your eyes are hard, and the ex pression of your face would discour age the most enthusiastic optimist in he world

The next time you catch yoursel looking like that, stop and ask your self what under the shining sun are you sulking about.

Everybody has a sense of humor, or if they have not they should have; s call it into play at once and talk to yourself, and keep on talking until you begin to laugh at yourself and the great big trouble that made you look like a scowling dog. What will you talk to yourself about?

Oh, any merry little thing that once occurred in your life-some pleasant surprise, some happy day-anything

This is no foolish advice I am giving ou, for, seriously, there is more in his looking cheerful than you can dream of. It is not half as feeble minded as it sounds. Try it for a few weeks and prove it for yourself.

Don't overdo it, of course, but let your face express good will and cheer and comfort, and the first thing you know you will feel it.

You cannot entirely forget your cares: nor would it be right to do so. Every one has cares; they are good for us. The real God sent cares that test the strength of our souls-all of us have those, too; but let us meet them like real women.-Chicago Tribune.

UMBRELLA ALWAYS AT HAND

For Small Sum, Subscriber is Guaranteed Protection From the Sudden Shower.

The Belgians have just founded a ompany whose originality will be hard to beat. This is the Umbrella

Lending society. The company has a capital of several million francs, and balf as many umbrellas and its object is to save people from the trouble of buying and carrying these occasionally useful but cumbersome articles about when ot in actual employ. Subscribers pay $1 a year, and are given an aluminum counter with a number. It is much easier evidently to carry a counter than an umbrella. If the subscriber is caught in the rain all that he has to do is to go into the nearest restaurant, tobacco shop, or big store, and in return for his ticket he is immediately furnished with a respectable umbrella.

When the sun comes out again he enters the first similar establishment and deposits his umbrella in exchange for another counter.-Stray Stories.

Concerning Apple Pice. If you ask a man what sort of ple he will take, and he hesitates a moment, he is pretty sure to blurt out apple. That is always a sure thing. Custard, lemon, peach, blackberry, mince, all depend; there is always some doubt as to their manufacture and the quality of the concomitants; but with apple pie it is not so. Apple ple is itself; it reigns in its own right; it suggests no doubts; it is always safe. Therefore it will be gratifying news that the apple crop this year is a bumper. There will be a yield of 105,000,000 bushels. That will make about sixty pies to every man, woman and child in the country; and this will give an ordinary piece of pie to every inhabitant every day in the year. Was there ever a nation so highly favored that it could have apple pie for every person every day? Thus nature and enterprise kindly and bountifully minister to the taste of all the people.-Ohio State Journal.

The Going of Ulysses.

A Kansas City man said he always preferred red-headed office boys to any other kind, as he had found them to be unusually sagacious and alert; but he discovered recently that some of them are too much so. One day, returning from a short out of town trip, he went to his office and mentioned interrogatively that Ulysses, his promising as-Visit our display at Merchants Ex-hibit Building at the Stock Yards. sistant, was nowhere in sight, and the stenographer replied that he had not

> > Dickens in Australia.

It is said that when a Scotsman leaves old Scotia to make his home in some other land he solaces his exile with the book of Robert Burns' poems, and that the Scot abroad comes to be even better versed in the rhymes of the peasant poet than the Scot who has remained at home. It has been remarked that the same is true as regards the Englishman and Charles Dickens. W. M. Hughes, acting prime minister of Australia, goes further than this and asserts that Dickens had an important influence on Australian democracy, and through men who read him and loved him, men imbibed his hatred of shams and humbugs, who
