The fat cattle market, under the influence of continued light receipts, today showed a tendency to lift itself day showed a tendency to lift itself out of the mire in which it has lately been wallowing. Mid-week supplies were light in proportion to a week and year ago and the local trade displayed better form than recently in evidence, as far as killing stock was concerned. The run estimated for this point was 1,100 head, but later this was raised to 1,300, which was 1,200 short of the number available here a week ago At the five markets the aggregate of 28,000 cattle fell 3,000 short of the curtailed run of last Wednesday and was 8,000 less than the number in sight a year ago. cows, I	UI	LS	AND MI	XEI	D.

The trade in butchers' stock, if anything, showed more improvement than steers today, although it was a case of reduced supply, rather than broader demand that gave the market it's buoyancy. There was a fairly brisk spirit to the trade from the outset and the bulk of the cows and heifers on offer sold around a dime higher with some of the better grades of heifers being quoted 10@15c up. Good to choice cows were easier to move than

Bulls were active with the under-tone of the trade quotably stronger. A load of good fed bulls sold early at $5.60. Aside from this lot most of the offerings consisted of odds and ends. Calf trade continued weak and a further break of 25c was noted in a good many cases. The limit on cking account for choice veals was

Sioux City Trader Operated at One Time on Local Market.

"Joe" Trauerman, a stock cattle dealer at the Sioux City, yards, was a visitor at the local stock yards yes-terday. Mr. Trauerman was on his way from Excelsior Springs, where he went for the benefit of his health, to Chicago, and thence to his home in

Mr. Trauerman was engaged in the stocker and feeder trade at the St. h yards about thirteen years While here he recalled the fact that the first load of cattle he sold upon entering business here was bought by the late David Rankin of Tarkio, for many years known as the cattle king of Missouri and the world's biggest farm operator.

THE FEEDER SITUATION.

Feeder Buyers Sharp Competitors of Packers for Good to Choice Short Fed Steers Suitable to Go Back to the Feed Lots for Finishing.

The hesitancy of President-Elect Wilson in naming his official fam-* ily, which is retarding legislation in many states, the prospective tinker-* ing of the tariff and the probing of the Pujo committee into high finance * * and trusts, is having little or no influence on feeders who are now intent * on replenishing feed lots with cattle. The fact that all the principal markets of the country are showing a material decrease in supplies * * for January as compared with the same period a year ago, is inspiration * * enough for feeders to pay apparently exhorbitant prices for stock and * feeding cattle, but a calm review of the situation evidently justifies them
* in their action. Yesterday on the local market feeder buyers were * sharp competitors with packers for the good to choice warmed-up steers
* at $7.00, $7.25 and up to $7.50 per hundred weight. These steers ordin * arily would go direct to the shambles, but the feeder dealers ciuld see
* good money in them to send them back to the country for finishing

Wedding Party Not Halted by Corpse After Flower Carrier Is Shot Down.

Johnstown, Pa. - George Miluski was a member of a bridal party that went sweeping down the street at Ralphton, Somerset county. He was a flower carrier. Frank Liesba was also a member of the party. He was a pistol shooter, it being his business to make lots of noise, signifying joy. Mary Fleck and Walek Kwashnic were the happy bridal pair. Miluska, the flower carrier, got in the way of Liesba, the pistol shooter. One of the pistol shots that signified out of his hands as he tumbled into manufacturer in the truest sense, bu joy killed him. His flowers dropped the street.

As he was leading the procession it was necessary for the rest of the party to step over his body if they kept right on going. That was what they all did. Mary and Walek were duly married without any further trifling interruptions. In the return from the church the bridal party picked up the dead men. The joyful pistol shooter hunted up a constable and surrendered and some one picked up the carrier's flowers and placed them on the table to adorn loss the wedding breakfast.
