STEER MOVEMENT SLOW

RATHER HALTING TONE TO THE TRADE BUT PRICES ARE GENERALLY STEADY.

NOTHING PRIME ON OFFER

Cow and Heifer Market Featured by Weak Undertone—Bulls Steady—Calves Decline—Stockers and Feeders Active.

Cattle receipts were slightly less than a week ago but well up to the supply offered a year ago. The market was a trifle slow in the initiatory stages but prices were generally maintained on a parity with yesterday and the close of last week. Estimates on the local market for Feb. 17, 1913, around 2,700 came in, comparing with arrivals of 3,071 a week ago and 2,445 corresponding day a year ago. The five leading markets received approximately 25,700 cattle today, as compared with 23,200 a week ago and 24,200 a year ago.

There was a good showing of steers embraced in the day's offerings, quantity of which ranged about the same as on the previous day. Nothing prime or strictly choice was available but there was a fairish representation of a good class of three to four months' fed cattle. Trading during the early rounds was rather sluggish and bids in some instances were regarded hardly as favorable as yesterday but later sales were better and got fair action on nearly all classes of beef steers at steady prices. When the market was fully established the better grades of steers sold with a reasonable margin for the same as Monday's price basis. Medium to fair short-feds were a trifle stickier here and there. The best steers offered sold at $5.25 to $5.50 with a good showing of the sales for the session ranging from $7.40 to $8.10.

COWS, BULLS AND MIXED.

The slow tone that featured business in the early stages of the day of the week was still in evidence here this morning. At the opening there was a small volume of trade at firm prices but the market settled down to a slow and listless condition. Proposition on later rounds. Packers claim cost of cow beef is too high in comparison with steers and were inclined to sidestep the higher priced grades of cows and heifers today. Mixed yearling heifers and steers sold to fair advantage but it was a comparatively slow deal in good to choice cows and heifers. Steers were slow. No market weakness was noted in prices, however, but the general tone of the trade was rather slow. Canners and cutters sold without quotable change in prices.

Anyway if the groundhog isn't out enjoying this fine weather he's missing something.

However, one or two balmy days does not constitute spring. Better keep on your heavyies.

"Aviation Industry Dying," says a newspaper headline. We don't know about the industry part of it, but a dying aviator is reported every few days.

And will no word from Wilson amend the makeup of the new cabinet, and Woodrow seems to be the only one that knows. It's exasperating to the point of cursing. Leastwise in certain quarters.

Two thousand dollars was paid recently for a blue coat. Looks extravagant in view of the fact that certain brands of house will make a man see blue cats, pink elephants, green dragons and other rainbow-tinted phantasmic freaks.

With the suffragettes getting on and a brigade of them marching on to Washington, maybe there is a better excuse for Uncle Sam not getting trooped up in the clean frocks than appears on the surface.

Depend on the retailer to get his. A Chicago paper reports fresh eggs selling at 13 cents per dozen, wholesale, on South Water street, while a few blocks distant retailers are realizing 22 cents for the same hen fruit.

This from Walt Mason, the Euphoria poet and writer, is reprinted in Kansas except in legislative circles: "One good snowfall is of more benefit to Kansas than the deliberations of the wisest legislature ever organized."

FAITH IN HUMAN NATURE.

Three Missouri counties show their faith in human nature by asking the parent to mark on the official report card the child's "standing" in manual or industrial work done at home; sweeping, dusting, dishwashing, baking, "setting" the fireless cooker, feeding stock, milking, "dragging the roads," etc. The whole purpose is to vitalize the interest of both parent and child by showing the intimate connection between education and the daily life of the individual.

HOGS WON'T DOWN.

Chicago Live Stock World: Less than two months ago the packing interest was confident of its ability to put the common price of hogs down to or below 7 cents. For a time it made convincing progress, but the cheapest drove of the winter packing season was put up in December at $7.12, when the tide turned and values have been appreciating ever since until the drove cost has been $8.15 to $8.25. The country has outgeneraled the packing interest at every stage of a stubborn contest.

THE AVERAGE COW.

The milk produced by the average cow in a year will sell for about $59 at a creamery, or when made into first class butter. A good cow of the dairy breed will make at least $50 cash income each year. I have a list of about fifty farmers who report a cash income of $30 to $100 a cow every year, and these figures do not include the income from the sale of calves and pigs fed on the skin milk. "But," says one "milking is a tremendous task." As a matter of fact it only takes sixty hours, worth 15 cents an hour, to milk a cow twice a day for ten months.

In a recent year the cash income from a herd of Jersey cattle on the Missouri college farm was $82.50 a

The Old Woman Asked For a Drink.

S AID daddy, "There: the clock has struck 8 and you are not in bed yet!" "But we don't go till you've told us a story, you know," Jack and Evelyn replied. "Well, let me think. Once on a time there was a beautiful little girl with golden hair and blue eyes. She was kind and gentle, and every one loved her," daddy began. "She was an orphan and lived with a horrid relation who put ugly old clothes on her and made her work very hard. "One day as the little girl went to the spring an old woman stopped her and asked her for a drink of water. "The little girl smilingly dipped the water from the spring and held the pail so the old woman could drink. " "Thank you, dear," the old woman said. "For your kindness you shall be rewarded." "When the little girl got home the relation said crossly: "Why didn't you hurry? You've been gone most an hour." "The little girl answered, "Oh, I'm very sorry" and as she spoke two lovely diamonds and two pearls fell from her lips. " "What does this mean?" cried the relation, and she soon had the whole story about the old woman. " "Well, if she did so much for you she will do something really handsome for my daughter," the relation exclaimed. "Then she called her daughter and sent her to the spring with a pail. She was so used to being hateful to people that when the old woman asked for a drink the horrid girl replied: " "Wait on yourself. Here's the pail." "The old woman mumbled, "As you have spoken shall your reward be," and she hobbled away. "When the girl reached home her mother came running out to meet her. " "Well?" the mother asked. "I don't see why you sent me to wait on that dirty old woman!" she cried crossly. As she spoke there fell from her lips snakes, toads and lizards. Her mother shrieked. "She was so angry that she turned the pretty little girl out of doors after giving her a cruel beating. "The king and queen went riding by just about this time, and they stopped to speak to the little girl. When they saw the pearls and diamonds falling from her lips whenever she spoke they were so pleased that they took her home to their palace and adopted her as their daughter, and so the good little girl lived happily ever afterward."

cow for butter and $12.50 a cow for milk, skimmed milk and calves, making a total income from each cow of $95. The following year the average income per cow from the same source was more than $100 for the entire herd of twenty-eight. These results do not come from expensive treatment, but are the results of doing right things at the right time in the proper way.—C. H. Eakles.

WANT OLEO BAN LIFTED.

Many Michigan Institutions Would Use Butter Substitute.

Michigan has a law on the statute books prohibiting the use of oleomargarine in the public institutions of the state. There is an agitation on to have the ban removed and it is claimed that the prohibition of oleo is costing the state almost $30,000,000 annually.

The following item appeared in the Lansing Journal, giving statements of the various state institution heads about the oleo question:

Extracts from some of the letters received by Mr. Murray follow: Mr. Lawson, superintendent industrial school for boys: "I am very much in favor of repealing the law in regard to institutions using butter instead of oleomargarine. I happened to be present at a meeting of the managers last year and was surprised to see that there seemed to be no opposition to the repeal of the law in regard to allowing us to use oleomargarine. I am sure we could give the boys much more for the same amount of money, and it would be better from every point of view in my estimation."

Mrs. Johnson, superintendent industrial home for girls: "Would think it advisable to use a good grade of oleomargarine in this institution. It is almost impossible to obtain good dairy butter and the use of a good oleomargarine would be quite a saving in the item of butter for girls."

Dr. Noble, medical superintendent, Kalamazoo state hospital: "With regard to the use of a good grade of oleomargarine in our institution, I am free to say that personally I should prefer it to dairy butter, and I believe the institutions ought to be authorized to purchase such a grade of oleomargarine whenever the price of creamery butter becomes practically prohibitive."

Dr. Christian, medical superintendent, Pontiac state hospital: "I have always been strongly in favor of a repeal of the law prohibiting the use of oleomargarine in state institutions. After several efforts a bill securing this repeal was passed by both houses of the legislature in 1908. Gov. Wood would be in favor of the repeal of the law which now prohibits its use, believing that the matter would be safely left in the hands of the management of the state institutions, and probably quite a saving could be effected by its use, as a good grade of oleomargarine can be obtained at a less price than butter, which is hard to obtain except at fancy prices, unless a low grade be used."

Warden Fuller, Michigan reformatory: "Regarding the question of oleomargarine I am certain this institution would greatly benefit by a change in the law which would permit us to use a butter substitute if we saw fit. During low prices when we could get first class dairy butter at a reasonable figure we should probably use little oleomargarine, but in times of scarcity and high prices it would be a very welcome change."

PROOF POSITIVE.

"Am I the first girl you ever kissed?" "Supposing I said 'yes'?" "Never mind supposing. AM I?" "Supposing I said 'No'?" "There! I knew I wasn't"

OPERATIC AND DRAMATIC PERFORMANCES IN THE OPEN AIR, UNDER MUNICIPAL CONTROL, ARE ALSO BEING CONSIDERED BY THE MAYOR.

IT WAS THE DOG'S FAULT. A farmer, while loading hay in his field was attacked by his neighbor's bulldog. The man defended himself with the pitchfork and sent the dog yelping home. The neighbor rebuked him and asked why he didn't use the blunt end of the fork first. "I would have," replied the farmer, "if your dog had come at me blunt end first."

COWS GRASS IN PARKS.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—Mayor Fitzgerald intends to attract the children of the city to the parks and open places during the summer, even though the city has to go into the amusement business to gain this end. Boston will own and operate a large municipal merry-go-round on Franklin field, if one of the mayor's plans is accomplished, with three rides at the rate of 5 cents.

The mayor also has taken up with the park department the matter of purchasing a number of cows, which will be kept at the parks, the milk being sold to the children at bargain prices.

The following list of odd things about the earth that the average person does not know was compiled by Professor Whitebeck of the University of Wisconsin: Did you know— That Cuba would reach from New York to Chicago? That Texas is larger than Germany and as large as 212 Rhode Islands? That the entire continent of South America lies further east than Florida? That Venice, Italy, and Montreal, Canada, are in the same latitude? That the Pacific end of the Panama canal is further East than the Atlantic end? That the mouth of the Amazon river is as near to Europe as it is to New York? That when measured in degrees of longitude, San Francisco is about in the middle of the United States, including Alaska? That if an express train had started out from the earth for the planet Neptune at the birth of Christ, and had traveled 60 miles an hour day and night ever since, it would not yet be half way there? PROVE THE WORLD REVOLVES Simple Experiment, Outlined by German Publication, Will Convince the Most Skeptical.

Perhaps a no more accurate proof that the earth is constantly revolving can be given than that recently published in a German paper which gives the following directions for substantiating the same:

Take a good-sized bowl, fill it nearly full of water and place it upon the floor of a room which is not exposed to shaking or jarring from the street. Sprinkle pulverized chalk over the water.

Then upon the surface of this coating make, with powdered charcoal, a straight black line; say an inch or two in length. Having made this little black mark with the charcoal powder on the surface of the contents of the bowl, lay down upon the floor, close to the bowl, a stick or some other straight object so that it will be exactly parallel with the mark. If the line happens to be parallel with a crack in the floor or with any stationary object in the room this will serve as well.

Leave the bowl undisturbed for a few hours and then observe the position of the black mark with reference to the object that it was parallel with. It will be found to have moved about, and to have moved from east to west—that is to say, in the direction opposite to that of the movement of the earth on its axis. The earth, in simply revolving, has carried the water and everything else in the bowl around with it, but the powder has been left behind a little. The line will always be found to have moved from east to west, which proves that everything else has moved the other way.

EASY TO DETECT FORGERIES
 Microscopic Examination Puts an End to "Reproduction" of Works of Art.

Some methods of detecting forged old masters by chemical examination of the pigments were described in a lecture before the Paint and Varnish society by A. P. Laurie, professor of chemistry at the Royal Academy.

The information, based on examination of literary materials, said Professor Laurie, is very imperfect and inaccurate. He then told of special methods which he had devised for examining microscopic portions of known works of art, thus identifying pigments used at various times with absolute certainty. The lecturer described the results obtained with reference to the palettes of the illuminators of ancient manuscripts up to the end of the fifteenth century, and then dealt with the pigments used in later times, tracing them to the dawn of modern chemistry. He showed how, apart from general scientific and historical interest, the inquiries were of great value in enabling forgeries to be detected in works of art.

"There is no doubt," said Professor Laurie, "that a large number of forgeries have been produced, and the history of the pigments, used in earlier and later times, showed that the detection of these forgeries will now be comparatively easy."

Australian Cockatoo.
 Australia and the islands of the Malay archipelago are the home of the cockatoo. About this time of the year the young ones are nearly all on the wing and with the parent birds are beginning to gather into flocks, according to custom. The snow-white birds circling overhead, with almost deafening screams, present a very beautiful sight at least. So elegant and orderly are they in their movements before alighting that even the farmers, whose grain they may be after, cannot help admiring them.

The cockatoo is very intelligent and makes a most admirable pet, but when his temper is aroused or he is displeased he suddenly changes from a dignified bird into a screaming fury.
