Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN
 Salespeople in Muleshoe this week are learning how to wrap up a sale for Customer Eliza Smith even if Customer Smith isn't particularly interested in buying said merchandise. That's good selling, it seems.
 An expert, Francis A. Flynn, is in town conducting a selling school. He says that "because salespeople are not selling as well as they can, they seem indifferent to the customers."
 Now there is a sagacious remark. I don't like to be "oversold," but certainly I don't like to have a salesman look as if he had much rather be fishing or knitting a sweater (depending on whether it's a man or a woman) than showing me some merchandise.

On the other hand, I don't like an eager beaver. Back in the depression days when customers were scarce and salesfolk more plentiful than free-loaders at a political barbecue, I used to avoid a certain salesman because he always managed to sell me something I didn't want. Finally got wise; I would look in the store first to see if old Eager Beaver was in sight, and if he was, I'd wait until later to do my shopping. Saved a lot of money that way and besides I bought what I wanted instead of what he wanted to sell me.

But I've always had a much greater respect for salesfolk in stores since I took a hitch at it myself one time. Was just before Easter and the manager asked if I would be willing, while I was waiting for a deal to come through, to step into his emporium and sell suits and other items which men wear.
 It was a big store, part of a chain system which was operated, I'm quite certain, for the convenience of the New York auditors who hadn't waited on a customer in so long they didn't even know what customers looked like. This outfit had so many rules laid down by these NY auditors, that you had to take a six-months course in rules alone on order to keep from violating one. An you needed a refresher course every other Saturday.

I got in bad right off. I had the front register in this store, and the store was smack downtown in the middle of the meter parking section. A woman customer on whom I was waiting the first day suddenly remembered that she hadn't "sweetened" the meter for some time. She pulled out a dime and asked me to give her change.

Now one of the things that irritated these NY auditors (for whose convenience this particular chain is operated) was opening the cash register for any other purpose than ringing up money. Never, never, never must that register be opened for human relations purposes, like giving a lady customer change so the metermaid would pass by her car.
 Anyway, eager to be of service and having been a public relations man myself for several years before, I obliged the lady by giving her two nickels for her measly little dime. Immediately I brought down the wrath of the assistant manager, a young man who was striving hard to become a stuffed shirt and—I might add—was making considerable progress in that direction.

Hardly had the woman gathered the two five-cent pieces in her pudgy hands than this stuffed-shirt-in-the-making descended. I had just violated a rule. He said it as if my crime had been nothing less than a felony, punishable by at least six years in the nearest penitentiary. It seems that should a customer ask for change I was supposed to tell her (or him) to wait while I hunted up the manager, assistant manager or assistant assistant manager and asked his permission to get my hot hands inside the sacred confines of that cash drawer. Then if the customer was still standing hitched by that time, the manager et al was to accompany me to my register and together we would see to it that the change was handed out in accordance with Auditors' rule No. 434.348—paragraph A. In the meantime, while all this red tane was being unfurled, the meter maid had come by, tagged the customer's car which made her so angry she took her business in the future to some other emporium. Great for public relations, as you can see.

But, having violated this sacred (See RAY'S, page 6)

Merchants to Slash Prices for Special Feb. 22 Sales Event

Muleshoe merchants will slash prices to fantastic lows Friday for a special Washington's Birthday sales event that will include such items as a man's suit for 22 cents and ladies' blouses for 22 cents.
 It's to be a one-day, whirlwind event, and merchants are ignoring cost marks completely to make the day one of the biggest bargain days in Muleshoe's history.
 The Journal is out a day early this week only in order to give readers a chance to check the advertisements for sensational bargains.

Mules to Launch '63 Track Season At Fort Stockton

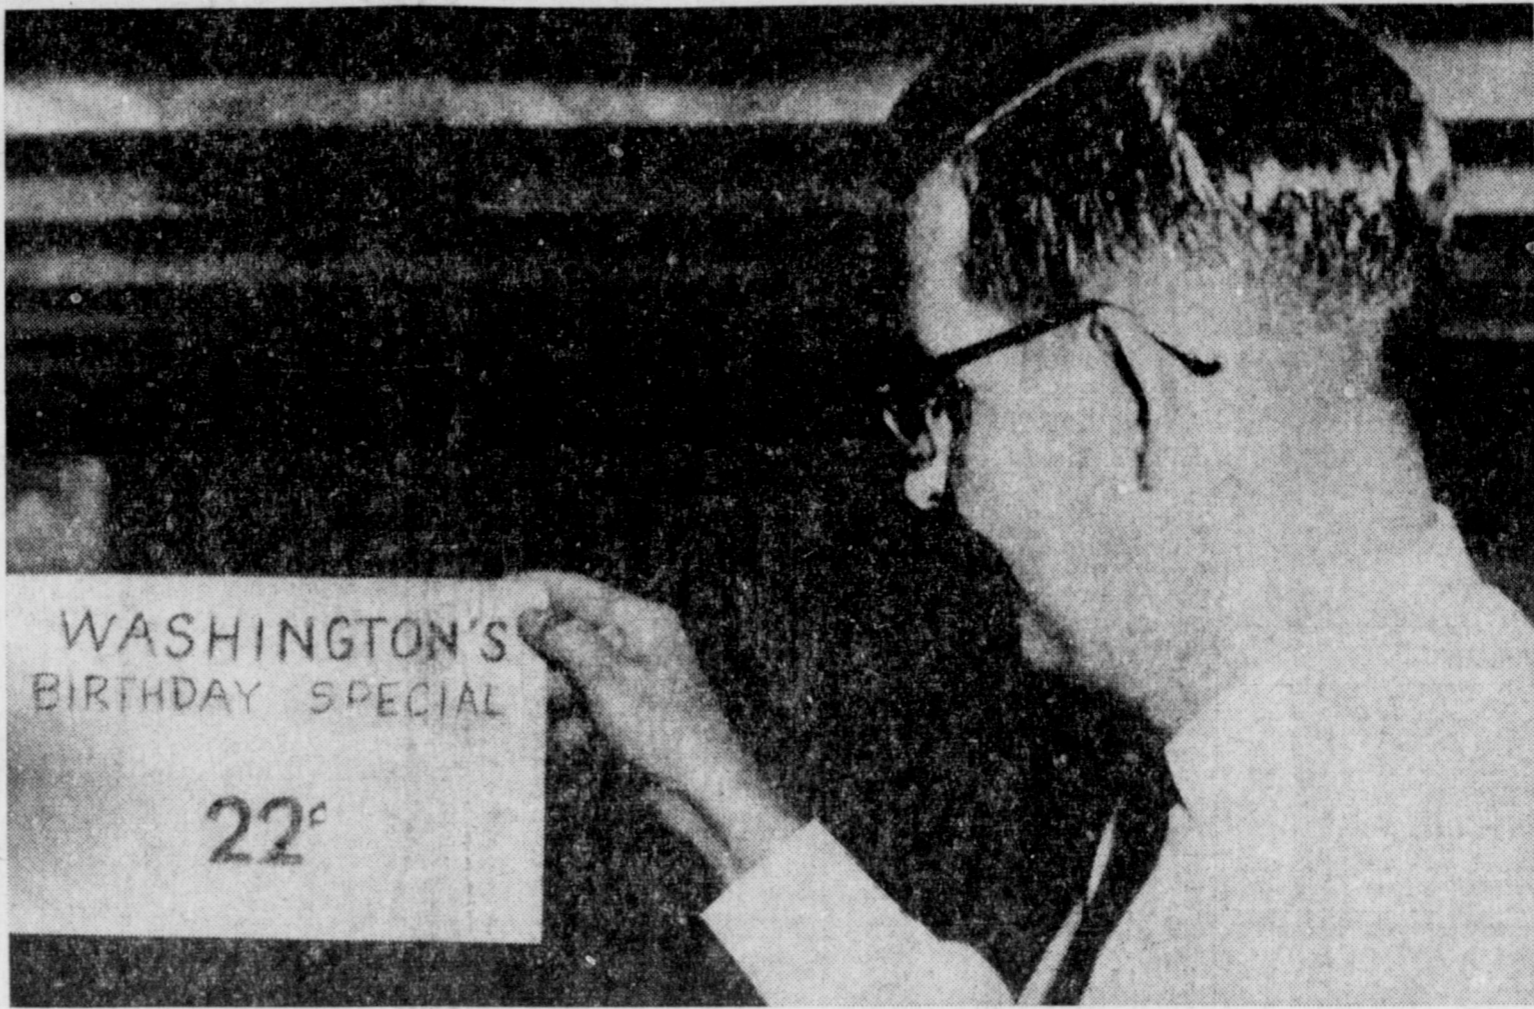

With eleven events slated for the season, Muleshoe high school track team will start its season Friday by taking part in the Fort Stockton Relays, Bill Taylor, Muleshoe athletic director announced Wednesday. The relays are slated for Friday and Saturday.
 Second event will be March 2, when Muleshoe sprinters take part in the Brownfield relays, followed on March 15 and 16 by the Odessa Relays.
 Hale Center plays host to field and track men on March 23, and Muleshoe speeders will take part in that event, Taylor said.
 One of the expected big events of the season will be the Sandie Relays at Amarillo, slated for March 29 and 30. Muleshoe has entered that event.
 District meet is to be held at Levelland and at Springlake, on April 5.
 The Muleshoe outdoorsmen will take part in the Andrews Relays April 12 and 13, and in the regional meet at Lubbock April 19 and 20. They will return to Lubbock April 26 and 27 for Red Raider Relays, and will conclude their 1963 season at the state meet to be held in Austin May 1, 2, 3 and 4.

30 Taking Sales Course

With some 30 persons enrolled, Muleshoe's "Dynamics of Selling" four-night sales shortcourse is off to a good start, according to Carroll Pouncey, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce. The chamber is sponsoring the shortcourse.
 Francis Flynn of the Distributive Education program for the University of Texas, is conducting the school which is held in four two-and-a-half hour sessions, starting last Monday night and ending Thursday night.
 Sessions are being held at 7:30 each evening at the Bailey County Electric Co-op building.

Native-Born Sandy Warner is Named Chamber of Commerce Secretary

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce has named native-born Sandy Warner as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced this week by Bobby Airhart, president.
 Miss Warner succeeds Mrs. Carroll Pouncey, who, with her husband and family, will move to Amarillo March 1. He is to join the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Staff and will have charge of membership in that organization.
 Although Miss Warner was born here while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Warner lived on a farm near Muleshoe, she left this area in 1955 when her parents moved to Adrian, Mo. She has been living there since, and is a graduate of the Adrian High School. She also has attended Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg, Mo.
 Her parents formerly operated farms at Baileyboro and northwest of Muleshoe. She attended grade school in Muleshoe.
 Miss Warner returned to Muleshoe two months ago and had been employed by Williams & Merriman, an auditing firm.
 Her grandmother, Mrs. John Ingram, and a sister, Mrs. Dick Ellis, also live in this area. She is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis who live on the Friona highway.

FEBRUARY 22 SPECIALS — Throughout Muleshoe, merchants were marking down prices Wednesday in preparation for Friday's special sales event on George Washington's birthday. The sign held above by Roger Albertson is typical of many display cards which will appear throughout stores participating in the event. Stores will make a special effort to tie the event to Washington's birthday, the 22-cent item reminding shoppers that it's the 22nd day of the month, the Founding Father's birthday. Hopes for Sugar Beet Allotments Revived

Congressman George Mahon has advised the Journal that Holly Sugar Corporation has promised to send a representative of the company to Bailey County for the purpose of considering the possibility of contracting for the purchase of sugar beets from Bailey County farmers. Mahon said that Vice-president Charles Nicholson of the corporation, with whom he had discussed the matter, had declined to make a commitment as to just what his company would do in regard to contracting to buy beets. Nicholson said that the whole area would be carefully studied before any decision was made.
 Mahon said that he had advised officials of the Bailey County Sugar Beet Growers Association that they should continue to press their request for an opportunity to supply a fair amount of the beets for the Holly mill, and that he would continue his active support.

'Quiet' Weekend Reported Here

Bailey County folk apparently have been "good" during the first half of February with no charges filed in county or district court; dockets in the county-district clerk's office show their last entry on January 24.
 A 1962 case has been disposed of — a felony theft charge against George M. Ergenbright, formerly of Muleshoe but a resident of Albuquerque when arrested.
 He pleaded guilty in district court here and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. He was due to be taken to Huntsville this week by Dee Clements, sheriff.
 The sheriff's office here was to bring a man from Hurst, Texas, wanted in Muleshoe on a felony theft charge. He was arrested in Hurst during the weekend.
 Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn also reported a "blank" for the weekend. No arrests were (See QUIET, page 6)

C of C Membership Hits All-Time Peak

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce membership has climbed to a new all-time high with 10 new members signed up in the last few days, Roger Albertson, membership chairman, announced Wednesday.
 The new figure is 181 which is the highest mark reached in the last 12 years, Carroll Pouncey, C-C manager, said.
 Recent new members signed up are:
 Elbert Hamilton, James Warren, James Wallace, M. E. Little, Jack Schuster, James Green, Opal Boothe, C. C. Barnert, W. E. Meyers and Buddy Ray.
 The new high mark was reached in the final 15 days' service by Pouncey who is leaving Muleshoe to join the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. He will have charge of membership for that organization, assuming his new duties March 1.
 Mrs. Pouncey, who served as C-C secretary, has been replaced by Sandy Warner, a former Muleshoe resident who returned from Missouri recently. She has been making her home in Adrian, Mo. with her parents. Miss Warner assumed her new duties Monday.
 No successor has been named for Pouncey, Bobby Airhart, president, said Wednesday, although several applications have been received.
 Airhart said a selection committee is studying the applications, and a successor for Pouncey should be picked within a few days.
 The committee in addition to Airhart, is composed of Vice-President Bill Wimberly, Treasurer Harmon Elliott, Dr. Charles Lewis and Frank Ellis. Lewis and Ellis are members of the Chamber's board of directors.
 A reception for the Pounceys and their three daughters was held at the Muleshoe Country Club Sunday, attended by several hundred persons. The affair was given by the directors, their wives and other friends of the Pounceys.

Muleshoe Council Filing Lags

Three men have filed as candidates for Muleshoe school board, a check of the school's business office, revealed Wednesday, but so far no candidates have yet tossed their hats into the ring for city councilmen.
 Both the city council and school board elections are set for April. A. R. McGuire, 1532 Avenue E, a farmer, and W. E. (Jinks) Meyers, also a farmer, were the first to toss their hats in the school board election, Meyers lives on Route 2.
 Then on Monday, Claude V. Riley, 922 West American, a drilling firm operator, entered the school campaign.

Three positions are open on the school board. One of the incumbents has moved outside the county. The other two members whose terms are to expire this year, had not re-filed up to Wednesday noon. Deadline for filing for school positions is midnight March 6. The school board election is slated for Saturday April 6. Incumbents whose terms expire this year are E. V. Bartlett, Murl Stevens and W. F. Bartley. Hold-over members are Ralph Douglas, John Smith, Dr. B. R. Putman and Jim Green.
 No one had filed up to Wednesday noon for the two vacancies which will occur on the city council, Albert Field said. That election is set for Tuesday, April 2. Fermal election call is to be sounded by the city council in a meeting Thursday night. The next regular session the council will name an official election judge and set up the machinery for the April 2 election, Field said.
 Members whose terms expire this year are W. M. Pool II and Irvin St. Clair. Hold-over councilmen are Farris Heathington and T. L. Timmons, together with Mayor Arthur Crow.
 Deadline for filing for the council jobs will be March 2, Field said.
 Councilmen do not receive pay. The 1963 budget also is to be adopted by the council at its meeting this week, Field said.

 Some 1,000 students will enter competition for approximately $5,000 in scholarships, twenty trophies and over one hundred medals. Three group and six individual (See FOUR, page 6)

Dry January Cut Country's Accident Total

Dry weather in January helped hold highway accidents to one of the lowest marks in years for Bailey County when only 3 accidents were investigated and only one person was injured.
 Sgt. D. S. Lawson, patrol supervisor of this area, Lubbock, announced the figures this week. Property damage in these four accidents, however, was fairly high—$3,325 for the month, Lawson said.
 Only .01 inch of moisture was recorded here during January which was a major factor in keeping down accidents, especially on combination 84-70 northwest of Muleshoe. That road when wet, is considerably more hazardous.

In charge of decorations were Carla Ellington, Penny Langer, Rene Dyer, and Vicky Henexson.

A contest was staged by the girls in each den and judged on the basis of "prettiest cupcake." Rene Dyer's creation took first place and Drucilla Dameron was selected for second place.

FUND DRIVE

The Muleshoe Girl Scout fund drive officially opened Monday, February 18 and will continue until March 4.

Dues this year are $1,766. "Your help will be greatly appreciated," Mrs. Fischgrabe said. Many women give their time and talent each week to help with Scouting which leads to a better, more influential life for the next generation of "Women of America."

Muleshoe Study Club Entertained With Valentine Tea In White Home

Muleshoe Study Club entertained with a Valentine Tea in the home of Mrs. Thurman White last week with members of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority as their guests.

ver Ridenour.

Mrs. Lamb presented Mrs. Morris McKillip, chairman of the Farm Bureau Women's Committee of Bailey County, who talked on her work with this committee and the progress that has been made in this field. Mrs. McKillip told of the hopes of getting the plan of teaching Americanism put into the schools here, as has been done in some of the other places in the state.

The Tea table was attractively decorated with Valentine appointments. Large red candelabra, red and white carnations, and a white cake with red paper cupids completed the table arrangements. Banquet Given For Trinity Youths

A sweetheart banquet was held at the Trinity Baptist Church Saturday night at the church for the Intermediate and Young People's departments of the Sunday School.

Theme of the banquet was "Love Grows" and was based on religious thinking. The tables were decorated with pink, red and white streamers, hearts and cupids over a white cloth. The head table was centered with an arrangement of pink and white carnations. Draped from the ceiling at the table were the streamers of pink and white, alternating, dangling hearts and cupids attached to them in the opposite color. The combination programs and placards were frilled hearts in pink and white.

Speaker for the evening was Richard Cheatham, freshman at Wayland College, Plainview. Seated at the head table were the Rev. and Mrs. Troy Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Speck and Cheatham.

Approximately 50 members and their guests attended.

Off The Runways Micronaire Readings for Cotton Available On Fee Basis in 1963

By DORIS KINSER
WACO TRIP

Flying the Muleshoe Flying Service's Comanche, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Williams, manager of State Line Farms, left the runway at 1:25 p.m. Friday on a flight to Waco where they were joined by Iowa businessmen and wives, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brockway and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sweeney.

The Brockways and their friends, the Sweeneys, were enroute, via auto, to New Orleans, La. from their Des Moines, Iowa home.

Brockway is an associate of Bookley Packing Co., a firm that eventually gets the beef cattle raised by State Line Farms, of which Williams is chief manager, located a few miles distance from Muleshoe. "The Farm" has many head of cattle pastured on range near Waco, and the Williams met the Bookley executive there to show the cattle, live, that this man sees in the packing plant.

Williams tells an interesting story of their air traverse. "Leaving runway number one, we were airborne at 1:25 p.m. on Friday. Immediately thereafter, I made contact with Lubbock weather bureau and with a 115 magnetic course was 23 minutes reaching Lubbock at an altitude of 7,500 feet with the bureau reporting 11,000 broken cloud base. Upon passing Lubbock at that altitude, we saw that the cloud base was lowering drastically. We advised the weather tower of the fact, lowered altitude, and passing through two snow showers, one 12 miles out of Lubbock and the other some 18 miles, our altitude was 5,500 feet on passing the front. From there on, until our landing at Waco Municipal Airport, we had smooth sailing, the ceiling lifted and we were free as birds.

Anticipating our return trip, weather again was the first factor. The first check with Waco weather tower looked like we might have an extended vacation in the city of Waco, which we originally planned to leave on Sunday.

Being advised by the officials that the ceiling was 500 and scattered at Lubbock, we hid our time, rented a car, and started a sightseeing tour of Waco.

Later in the day, we visited the airport in person, upon arrival at the weather tower, saw the reading holding at Lubbock; visibility unlimited. We called the home port and they reported a beautiful day so we rushed back to the motel where we were staying, packed and headed back to the airport and the Comanche.

Micronaire readings on samples of cotton submitted for classification under the Smith Dosey Program will be available on a fee basis during the 1963-64 season, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This service provides a measurement of fiber fineness of cotton as determined by air flow instruments. Fiber fineness is a quality factor important in spinning. Testing for micronaire readings is authorized under the Cotton Testing Service Act. The micronaire reading service was introduced November 1, of the 1962-63 season, and was used extensively by farmers in West Texas and Oklahoma. A fee of eight cents per sample was charged for this service. The fee for the coming season will be determined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and will be announced about May 1. Applications for the testing service must be submitted by a grower to the Agricultural Marketing Service, Cotton Classing Office serving the territory in which the gin is located. All samples submitted for classification from a gin that files an application for the micronaire service will be tested. Applications should be submitted as soon as possible but no later than July 1. Several weeks are required to install equipment and train personnel to provide the testing service. Classing Offices may not be able to provide testing service to gin submitting applications after July 1, if a shortage of equipment and trained personnel occurs.

Leaving there at about 3 p.m., we climbed to an altitude of 5,500 and arrived home some 2 hours, 15 minutes later. Weather was light and variable on the return. Log of flight shows that the trip down required an approximate 45 minutes longer due to head winds. The flight down was made on VOR magnetic course, 115 degrees inbound to Lubbock; outbound from Lubbock to Guthrie on 75 radial, or Victor 102 to the Guthrie port where we flew on outbound 120 degrees radial until radio contact faded out, then flew pilotage to radio range from the Stephenville station. Upon interception of this beam, the flight was continued on radio signal to Waco.

With the air miles distance being 397 miles, average ground speed on the trip averaged 140 miles down and 170 on the return flight.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Williams are pilots. Mrs. Williams served Williams as co-pilot and navigator on the trip.

rule, and having been properly reprimanded for it, I decided that henceforth I would keep change in my own pocket for these meter-conscious customers. Accordingly the next morning I armed myself with a dollar's worth of nickels, dimes and pennies.
I felt real pleased with myself for thinking up this idea. Along about 10 o'clock I had my first request for meter change. I filled the bill out of my own pocket. Again the assistant manager descended on me. That, it seems, was a violation of Auditor's rule No. 434.348—paragraph B. It seems that being of any possible service to the customers was an unthinkable crime. I never found out exactly why giving the change out of my own pocket was also a felony offense, but after that I looked around to see if any of the three managers was in earshot before I gave the customer change out of my pocket. I felt like a black market operator.

The crowning blow came one night when the manager called his entire staff back for a night meeting, paying everyone for his time. The store had a little makeshift coffee room which was operated on the honor basis. The stock consisted of some $2 worth of five-cent candy.

Seems this candy fund, sold on the merit system, was short—maybe as much as 50 cents. I never did learn just how much, but for 32 minutes of paid-for time, the manager let go with one of the worst tongue lashings that any group of employees ever sat through. "I had just as soon," he stormed, "that you would steal $100 from the register as to take a nickel candy bar without paying for it!"

And here's the clincher: Once having divested himself of all the venom he could think up over the candy bar situation, he had the audacity to make a pro-rallying speech, ending with, "And now let's all get behind dear old (the store's name) and put it on top! We love this company and its policies. Now let's get in there and do or die for dear old . . ." Recently, I understand, that particular store even cut out coffee breaks.
As I said, since that two-months' experience I have always had a very great respect for all salesmen, although, fortunately, not many of them I'm sure ever had managers who talked to them like considerate, and the managers likewise.

son reported 216 accidents during January with eight persons killed. One hundred thirty-seven persons were injured. Counties reporting one death each in January accidents were Hale, Haskell, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn and Parker Counties. Hockley County reported two deaths for the month.
Lubbock county has the greatest number of accidents—35, and 26 persons were injured in that county.
The highway patrol supervisor pointed out that rural motor vehicle traffic accidents in the 29 county North Texas district have declined slightly during January, 1963, as compared with the same month last year. Seven deaths were chalked up last month as compared to nine that were recorded in January, 1962, 137 injuries compared to 147 for Jan. 1962. A total of 216 rural traffic accidents were investigated as compared to 217 for January, 1962. "This slight over-all decrease of deaths, injuries and accidents is encouraging, but these figures must be greatly reduced for each of the following months of 1963 if we are to have a safe year in motor vehicle travel," the Sergeant stated.
The veteran patrol supervisor reminded motorists that the law requires all Texas registered motor vehicles to have valid inspection stickers displayed by midnight April 15. The best way to avoid the long line expected in the last minute rush is to have your vehicle inspected now.

Schools' New Dressing Rooms Put into Use
Muleshoe schools this week formally accepted the new addition to the senior high school gymnasium which provides dressing rooms for physical education classes and athletic squads. Superintendent Neal Dillman said Wednesday.
Pupils began using the new dressing rooms Tuesday for the first time. The structure cost $43,000.

Co-Op--
The highlight of the program will be an address by Jerry L. Anderson, assistant to the manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association in Washington, D. C.
Anderson was born and reared on an electrified farm in Tennessee. He received B. A. degree in English and economics from Tusculum College, Greenville, Tenn., in 1948.
He has worked for, or with, electric cooperatives in the capacity of right-of-way cutter and mapper, electrification advisor, staking and line construction, and newsletter and annual report publications.
He has edited the statewide "The Carolina Farmer" working with all electric coops in the state on programs ranging from power use to management training. He also served as manager of the Minuteman Program and as editor of the "Minuteman", the National Association's publication, for three years.
D. B. Lancaster, manager of the Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association, says "considering Anderson's past experience and his present position, he should be well qualified to discuss some of the problems to be overcome in the future advancement of rural electrification in this area."

A special feature, of interest to all members, will be a one-chance drawing for $100 credit to be applied on electric billing. The selection will be made from a container with every member's name in it. If that person (or a member of that household) is not present, the credit will increase to $200 to be drawn for at the annual meeting. There will be only ONE name drawn. You do have to be present to win. Also, over $700 in door prizes will be given to those members holding the lucky tickets.
Everyone is urged to attend this meeting and to take part in the business session, associate with friends and neighbors, and go with drawing for door prizes. Refreshments will be served by the Muleshoe high school home economics department.

That store also is offering ice buckets, while they last Friday, for only 22 cents, and a name-brand electric skillet that regularly for $24.95, at $22.22.
At another Muleshoe business you can get 60 or 100-watt lamp bulbs for only 22 cents, or girls sweaters for $2.22. They are also offering three hi-fi or stereo records for $2.22.
The bargain day is not limited to stores. A beauty shop is offering Washington's Birthday bargains galore, among them spray nets at 22 cents a can, or hand lotion at $1.22 and head scarfs at $2.22 and jewelry at the same low price.
Sleeveless Shirtmaker dresses are being offered Friday only by one store at $2.22, and that store will sell a dozen Birdseye diapers for $1.42. All fall and winter merchandise has been reduced by that store to sell at one-third to one-half off.

the Texas Beet Growers Association and that Bailey County was entitled to favorable consideration from the company in its beet purchase program.
He said that Holly is not restricted to the four-county area and has full authority to buy beets from a wide area and has been encouraged to do so by the Department of Agriculture.
Holly officials have expressed a preference for the four-county area, indicating that the area can provide twice as many beets as the mill will require and claiming that the purchase of beets near the mill is more economical.
Mahon takes the position that farmers from a very wide area of West Texas worked for a mill or mills in Texas and that the Holly Corporation, in fairness, should buy beets from a reasonably wide section so many counties and areas may participate. Mahon has urged the Holly Corporation to give consideration not only to Bailey but also to other counties which worked for a sugar beet mill in Texas. This does not mean that all economic factors should be disregarded.
Mahon points out that the root of the problem lies in the law itself, which allots to new beet growers a total of only 65,000 tons of sugar annually. The U. S. government canceled the Cuban quota of about 3,000,000 tons per year, but allocated to new domestic beet growers only 65,000 tons.
Mahon voted against the bill, alleging that it was an effort to the farmers who were entitled to several times the amount set aside for new growers in the bill. Lobbying by representatives of foreign countries who were active when the bill was under consideration is now being investigated by a Senate Committee.
The present law expires in 1966, and Mahon said that he and others who are interested in a more satisfactory allocation of beets to giving consideration to a new law which would give a fair deal to U. S. producers.

Private enterprise, not the government, determines the location of sugar mills. The Holly Corporation applied for a mill at Hereford. No application was made by any company to locate a mill at any other place in Texas; hence, Hereford was the only area that could be considered for a new mill.

contests will be held, all directly related to improving the students' skills and knowledge of the field of distribution. The evening's program includes a banquet at which scholarship and contest awards will be made, climaxed by coronation of the newly elected Student Sweetheart.
During the conference delegates will be chosen to attend the National Youth Leadership Conference which will be held in Chicago in May.

day grab bags at 22 cents. The store guarantees that every bag is worth at least $1 with values up to $4.50. Boys' sport socks and stretch socks are offered at 22 cents, and felt caps and hats at the same price. Jewelry is to be on sale at 3 pieces for $1.22.
The entire Washington's birthday event is one of several sales promotions being sponsored in 1963 by the Retail Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

'63 Grain Signup At Half-Way Mark

COLLEGE STATION — Texas farmers are now nearing the midway point in the February 1 — March 22 sign-up dates for the 1963 Feed Grain Program. Though it is very similar to the 1962 program, Tom Aaron, extension grain marketing specialist, says changes have been made which could affect a farmer's decision on whether or not to participate.
He lists these significant changes. A direct price support payment of 18 cents per bushel on corn, 14 cents on barley and 29 cents per hundredweight on grain sorghum has been added. This amount to be paid participating farmers on the normal yield of their seeded acreage. For the first time, a farmer receives this payment even if he feeds his grain. Secondly, rates of payment on diverted acres have been reduced to 20 percent of the value of a normal crop on the first 20 percent diverted and to 50 percent of the value on all or any part of the second 20 percent diverted.
Thirdly, price support loans will be available to participating farmers on total yield this year instead of only normal yield as in the past. Fourthly, the grazing period for diverted acres has been set in advance. Diverted acres may be grazed until May 1 and again after November 1. Fifthly, after the sign-up period has ended on March 22, there can be no reduction in diversion without losing all price support benefits, Aaron said.

The change in compliance regulations makes it all the more important for a feed grain producer to make his decision before March 22 since he can change his intentions until that date.
As an aid to farmers in determining the financial returns from participating or not in the program, Aaron said county agents have budget forms available for doing the necessary figuring. Several alternatives are available and growers will find the budgeting forms very useful in determining the best arrangement for their particular operation whether as a participant or non-participant.

Bailey County Farmers Eligible Now For Federal Crop Insurance for '63

Bailey County farmers who haven't already done so are eligible now to apply for insurance on their 1963 crops of either cotton or grain sorghums or both, according to Joe L. Matthews, district director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., an agency of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Matthews said FCIC representatives are visiting farms in this county now and will continue for a few weeks, and that information also may be obtained from the Lubbock district FCIC office at 1219 13th St. He urged farmers not to delay because time is limited.

Nearly 9,000 Texas farmers carry FCIC protection on either their wheat, cotton or grain sorghums, Matthews reported, and they are being paid a total of nearly $1-250,000 in loss-payments on 1962 crop-damage.

"Cotton coverages are high, and the program generally is improved over any before," Matthews said. "Federal Crop Insurance returns a farmer's approximate production cost if the crop doesn't."

"With today's normal profits down to about 20 percent, a farmer's high investment (the other 80 percent) is vitally important, and it now takes about five years for a farmer to recover from a crop-failure. More and more farmers are turning to Crop Insurance to protect this big investment dollar, and FCIC is adding about 100 new counties to the program each year.

"Federal Crop Insurance helps farmers protect their approximate production investment against all such natural hazards as wind, hail, insects, excessive moisture, heat, freeze and many others. It protects all during the growing period. No such protection is available elsewhere. It offers a farmer peace of mind—the assurance it will return his approximate cost of production if the crop doesn't."

It's For The ... BIRDS!

By MELVIN R. EVANS
Refuge Manager, Muleshoe
National Wildlife Refuge

Spring is about sprung, the grass is about risen, and the birds are beginning to migrate. The migration of birds is sometimes defined as a regular movement between summer and winter homes. Practically all birds migrate, some travel great distances while others move only a short way.

The regular movement of birds has always been a mystery to man. One of the first to write about the migration of birds was the naturalist and philosopher of ancient Greece, Aristotle. He noticed that such birds as the cranes, geese, swans, doves, and many other species of birds moved to warmer places to spend the winter. Some of Aristotle's strange thoughts included the idea that some birds, such as the swallows, spent the winter hibernating or sleeping in hollow trees, caves, or even underneath the mud in marshes. Modern day scientists have found many of these legends to be untrue.

Daylight is the force that starts some birds on their migratory journey. This theory is backed by the fact that the length of day on a given date is the same from year to year, thus helping to regulate the migration of birds. There are other ideas on this subject, but this one seems to be the most commonly accepted.

Migrating birds can be seen during almost every month of the year in North America. Some birds migrate during both day and night, some migrate only at night, while still others migrate only during the daylight hours. These birds are safer from their enemies during night flights, and they also have the daylight hours to feed. Day migrants are strong winged birds and include among other birds some of the ducks and geese, cranes, and hawks. The speed of flight varies great-

NEW C-C SECRETARY — This is Sandy Warner, new secretary of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce who succeeds Mrs. Carroll Pouncay. ly. Herons probably travel at about 18 to 29 miles per hour, while the duck hawk travels at speed estimated at 165 to 180 miles per hour.

It is known that birds generally travel at elevations below 3,000 feet. It was once thought that migrating birds traveled at heights above 15,000 feet. Flights at this high altitude are handicapped by the lack of oxygen and the lack of buoyancy in the rarified air. Birds such as the vulture, pelican, crane, and some of the hawks feel this lack of buoyancy the least, since their wing surface is very great in comparison with body weight.

Strange as it may seem, birds stay on course by the use of solar bodies. It has been proven in laboratories that these animals can even make allowances for hourly changes in position of the heavenly bodies, as well as changes in position from day to day during the season.

Such birds as the bobwhite quail and the cardinal may never get more than ten miles from the nest where they were hatched, while the arctic tern, the globe trotter of the bird world, travels about 11,000 miles between its summer and winter home. These birds nest in Greenland and northern North America and spend the winter in the antarctic.

In Hochbaum's "Travels and Traditions of Waterfowl" the following thought was published:

"It is logical that a man, his eyes five and one-half feet above the ground, who walks 20 miles at four miles per hour has done more travelling than a duck which has flown 200 miles, at 2,000 feet altitude, at 60 miles per hour. The man has travelled five hours in a corridor of visible space

Use Caution, Warns Safety Manager; There's A Lot of Winter Yet to Come

Whether the perennial prognosticator has forecast good or bad weather in your area for the next six weeks, now is no time to let up on safe driving habits, the Texas Safety Association advises.

"Even if the ground hog has predicted that 'spring is just around the corner,' Texas drivers shouldn't forget that the hazards of winter driving may be with us for some time," J. O. Music, TSA General Manager, said.

He explained the three great hazards of winter driving are poor visibility, inadequate traction and temperature change.

"What you can't see can get you killed," he warned. "Seeing danger soon enough, and being seen by other drivers in plenty of time to avoid a crash is basic to survival on the roadways in any weather, but especially during bad weather."

He urged drivers to keep windshields, back windows, outside-rear-view mirrors and all lights clear of dirt, frost, mud, sleet and snow.

"Even up to 'bluebonnet time' in Texas, there's a chance of sleet and snow," he said. So, be prepared to pull off the roadway and use a snow brush and scraper if conditions are bad enough to block the view ahead."

Music added that good windshield wipers can handle most conditions, but the rubber in the blades must be "alive," not "dead."

"The arm pressure on the blades against the glass should be strong enough to clear without smear and without riding over snow. One ounce of arm pressure for each inch of blade most safety engineers."

To prevent fogging of windows, he advised motorists to keep air circulating through the car and to carry a clean cloth for cleaning the windshield and side windows.

"The smartest thing a driver can do on rain-slick or snow and ice covered roadways is to slow down and adjust driving to existing conditions," he said.

"No matter how good your tires or snow tires you don't have the same control as on dry pavement."

He warned drivers to avoid sudden starts and stops and to make stops by properly "pumping" the brakes to maintain steering control.

Music also urged motorists to pay close attention to temperature because it has a lot to do with accidents.

"Ice near the melting stage is much more slippery than when kept 'dry' at lower temperatures," the safety director noted.

He reminded motorists that one of the first places a wet roadway freezes is on a bridge. Ice should be expected on sheltered portions of the roadway, under viaducts, at the foot of some hills because of thawing and on the inside of some curves.

"Motorists throughout the state also should be prepared for driving under foggy conditions for some weeks to come," he concluded.

less than 12 miles wide. The duck spent less than three and one-half hours travelling a corridor over 180 miles wide. The man observed more objects, needed more land marks, saw more and had more time to see it than the duck."

Today's Meditation

DISCIPLES
From the New Testament we read these words: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (St. John 3:16)

St. Matthew closes his gospel with these words: "And Jesus came and said to them, 'All authority in Heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, to the close of the age.'" (Matt. 28:18)

According to St. John's gospel, Christ was the first foreign missionary cited in the New Testament. He came a long way to tell the gospel story. Our Lord's coming into this world confirmed the fact that heaven is a real place. His coming also magnifies the value of every individual on earth. It teaches that mankind is in need of redeeming grace which He alone supplies.

When Jesus was about to leave this world, He made his disciples missionaries to continue and perpetuate the teaching and preaching of the gospel to all the world, cited in these words, "Go ye into all the world and make disciples of all nations". Discipleship carries a responsibility of witnessing to all mankind. When we see the glory of salvation and the assurance of eternal life we will walk with a quickening pace and be glad to tell others about the Christ.

Immune globulin may be used to lessen the severity of the attack or for prevention or modification of the disease, but this may be done only by a physician. It is effective as a preventive only when given within a preventive known exposure to measles. Measles vaccines of various types have been undergoing tests and are likely to be available soon, possibly in 1963.

The measles patient should be under a physician's care. Good convalescent care is important. Parents should follow carefully the physician's advice during the recovery period. When measles is first suspected, the child should be put to bed at once and the physician called.

Measles is highly contagious and thus isolation precautions to protect other children in the family and in the neighborhood are important.

Fortunately, a case of measles generally provides immunity and the child is usually safe from further attack thereafter.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association
 AUSTIN — According to a description given the House Appropriations Committee relative to the governor's mansion, it's in bad shape. Howard Rose, executive assistant to Gov. John Connally, says:

"On the north side, the mansion is settling so much, there is a gap of several inches between the floor and the bottom of the front door." He added, "There are cracks in the wall and ceiling; a good deal of furniture needs re-stuffing; and the stove won't work right four days in a row."

"Also," says Rose, "we have only one coffee table in the house. If you don't want to hold your coffee cup, you either put it on the floor or balance it on your knee. In the Green Room, there are no pictures. And we don't have eight complete sets of silver."

This promoted Appropriations Committee Chairman Bill Healy of Paducah to comment: "I know we've spent between $100,000 and $125,000 on the mansion in the last six years."

Governor Connally has not requested any money for major repairs. He is asking for $32,872 for each of the next two years to operate the mansion, including $5,000 for utilities; $1,500 for telephone expenses; and $2,200 for "other supplies."

DELEGATIONS ORGANIZE
 Texas' two largest delegations in the 58th Legislature have organized for the purpose of working closely together "for better representation" of their regions.

An 80-member East Texas delegation elected Rep. John Allen of Longview as chairman.

About 30 West Texas legislators chose Rep. Richard C. Slack of Pecos as their leader.

COURT SHUFFLE PROPOSED
 Rep. Henry Stollenwerck, young attorney from Dallas, appears to be the most active of the seven republican members of the House. He is an aggressive participant in the five committees he's assigned to, and has co-sponsored several bills by democrats. Stollenwerck feels he's been able to take an active part without defecting from the republican political philosophy to which he adheres.

After Governor Connally chided republican legislators for "obstructionism," Stollenwerck said, what the governor said, and I just joke back and say I would be awfully disappointed if I thought he was talking about me."

He is author of a bill to move 12 district courts from places where filings and case loads are meager, to more-populated locations with heavy case loads.

District courts in this state have not been reappointed since 1907. Several bills have been introduced by big-city legislators who claim their towns need additional courts.

Stollenwerck said some East and Central Texas courts he proposes to move had only 150 filings in 1961, compared to 1,500 filings in many other district courts.

Game and Fish Merger Hot Topic
 Rep. James Cotten's bill to merge the Game and Fish Commission with the State Parks Board — originally proposed by Governor Connally and the Legislative Budget Board — hasn't come out of committee yet. It's a most controversial subject.

Legislators are beginning to feel pressure from all directions. The South Texas Chamber of Commerce sent them copies of a resolution opposing the merger. Then the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas issued a statement in favor of the plan.

If the Weatherford representative's bill passes, some of the six members of the Parks Board and nine members of the Game and Fish Commission will lose their posts, since the composite commission would be limited to three members. So some legislators are torn between loyalty to local appointees and a desire to "streamline" state government.

BUDGET TRIMMED
 Meanwhile, the current Game and Fish Commission ran into trouble with the Legislative Budget Board. Commission's executive secretary, Howard Dodgen, requested that during 1963 it be allowed to spend the $9,199,000 it will have available.

But the budget board recommended a biennial appropriation of $3,662,000 less than the agency requested.

POISON'S DANGERS CITED
 Dr. Irvin L. Sawyer Jr. of San Antonio, director of the State Veterinary Medicine Association, appeared before the House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence in favor of a bill by Rep. Howard Green, Fort Worth, to banish thallium pesticides from the market.

Dr. Sawyer described thallium as a heavy metal, which is colorless, odorless and tasteless in sulfate form.

"When mixed, thallium merely waits for a rat, a man, a child or a pet," he stated.

One reason it's so dangerous is that reaction to its poison may be delayed as long as 48 hours.

Then it's too late for an antidote. "It's even hard to detect in post-mortem examination," said Sawyer.

FARMER LIABILITY LAW

Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney ran into some sharp questioning when he brought his bill before the House Judiciary Committee. Proposed bill would exempt farmers and ranchers from liability damage suits filed by injured sportsmen.

"The hunter pays the farmer to go on his land," Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston remarked. "That puts the farmer in business. Why not exempt the theater owner from damage suits filed by patrons who slip on popcorn sacks?"

After several other similar remarks, Dungan allowed that the wording of the bill might be improved. But he insisted that such a law would encourage more farmers and ranchers to open their lands to sportsmen.

DEFICIT DOWN
 Deficit in the State General Revenue Fund was reduced in some two weeks from more than $60,000,000 to $35,401,125, according to a report by State Treasurer Jesse James.

Sharp drop was due to quarterly payments on the state's two per cent sales tax.

CRIME SPIRALS UPWARD
 Texas' increase in major crimes during 1962 outstripped the population increase, according to Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety.

Colonel Garrison said an offense was committed on the average of one every two and one-half minutes last year. Crime jumped 6.6 per cent over the 1961 total.

Largest increase by population groups was 14.7 per cent in cities between 50,000 and 100,000. Largest decrease was 15.5 per cent in counties with less than five people per square rural mile.

APPOINTMENTS
 Will Bond of Hillsboro was reappointed by Governor Connally to a six-year term on the board of the State Department of Public Welfare. Bond's term was thus extended to January 20, 1969.

Hunter McLean of Fort Worth, newly-appointed member of the State Board of Insurance, was sworn in by Associate Justice Frank P. Culver Jr. of the State Supreme Court in State chamber ceremonies. McLean succeeds Dr. Joseph F. Trosper of Dallas whose term ended on January 31.

A bill to provide retirement pensions ranging from $100 to $300 a month for elected state officials has been introduced in the House.

Reps. George T. Hinson of Mineola and Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs are the authors.

Hinson said their bill would pension the governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, state comptroller, land commissioner, agriculture commissioner, attorney general and members of the Railroad Commission.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Sage Worried Again; Losses Finally Must Become Profits, He Finds

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on Johnson grass farm may be misinterpreting a law, but we aren't prepared to say.

Dear editor:
 Up to now, I haven't paid too much attention to Congress' struggle to change the tax laws this year, figuring it would take its time and anyway what it has done is not as bad as what it could do.

But I read an article last night that has bowled me over and I'm coming out for some immediate changes. According to it, a Texas millionaire who owns a professional football team at Dallas has been satisfied to let the team lose an enormous amount of money for past three years, just taking it off his income tax. But under an Internal Revenue Service law, he has only one more year to go, and if the team doesn't show a profit, he has to call it a hobby and go back and pay the taxes written off as losses the last three years.

This is a serious matter. You mean to say if I lose money four years in a row on this Johnson grass farm the government will call my farming a hobby and make me go back and pay income taxes on something I didn't make? Say I lost money for years in a row raising cotton, you mean to say the government could claim I was raising cotton as a hobby?

This is the first time I ever knew there was law requiring a man to make a profit. If enforcement of this thing spreads, it'll throw agriculture into a tailspin, not to say the penitentiary.

Up to now, farming was one of the few occupations where a man could lose money every year and still stay in business, and have enough revenue insight to "meet a reasonable request" of state institutions and agencies.

Sen. George Moffet of Chillocoche, chairman of the subcommittee hearing budget requests, told the Senate, "We can't add a lot more items without having a new tax bill."

WRATH OF LADIES
 Sen. Martin Dies of Lufkin says he is misunderstood by the ladies. He voted against the "equal rights" amendment passed by the Senate.

"I knew I was going to catch it from the women," Dies said. "I wish they could see that I'm not against women's rights."

Dies' quarrel is with the constitutional revision route taken by a Senate majority. He believes statutes operating against women in the management and control of property and other matters should be repealed selectively, without disturbing laws that give women needed protection.

Conference Set For Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION — Plans for the 1963 Town and Country Church Conference are underway with the selection of a theme for the eighteenth annual meeting, according to Larry Burleson, program chairman for the event, and organization specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The conference which will be held at Texas A&M College in October, will have for its theme "The Town and Country Church Meeting Human Needs," Burleson says. Outstanding leaders will speak on man's spiritual, mental, social, physical and material needs, he adds.

Rev. A. J. Mohr of Prairie Hill, Chairman of the Advisory Group, expressed satisfaction with the framework of the program. "Man's problems continue to challenge our best planning and programming. We must meet the challenge with dedicated leadership again this year," he said.

Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics owns a rubber plantation in Liberia.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sports car, Corvette — now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already? The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

Sticker Sales Lagging Here

"With the deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 25 percent of the vehicles in Bailey County have been inspected," Captain Alan Johnson

Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said this week.

Unless the number of inspections is increased appreciably soon, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations when the April 15 deadline approaches. "The authorized inspection stations are ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles without delay if owners will now wait until just a few days before the deadline," Johnson said.

"Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 will be operating in violation of the law," he said.

Captain Johnson called attention to the fact that since the beginning of the inspection program, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13 percent to 4 percent. "The purpose of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident and, by removing the link, prevent the accident."

Service Gives PH Suggestions

People who are deliberately indifferent to their personal hygiene are as scarce as purple cows.

Nature has endowed most of us with an acute sense of pride about such things as daily bathing, brushing teeth, clean fingernails, good grooming. We would go to practically any length to avoid being offensive to anyone — customers, co-workers, or whoever.

And most of us resent even the slightest suggestion that there are times when our PH (personal hygiene) quotient slips a little.

Think about it for a moment: what in this competitive life is as important to the average man or woman as personal cleanliness? What contributes more to their being accepted and welcomed by others?

Fortunately a high PH quotient is easy to come by. Actually it is a habit, a way of life, and a very pleasant one. Here are its main ingredients:

Bathing: Daily bathing is as refreshing as it is healthful. Besides making you more agreeable to be around, you are less vulnerable to disease when you wash off the 24-hour accumulation of perspiration and soil. Most people find it practical to wash their hair at least once a week. One brand of soap isn't necessarily superior to others. The important thing is to use plenty of it.

Dental health: This is absolutely essential to a high level of personal hygiene, so see your dentist regularly. Don't be confused by television commercials about the therapeutic and cosmetic effects of certain tooth pastes or powders. The brushing is what counts.

Fingernails: Nothing is more fatal to attractiveness than dirty fingernails. By all means check yours every morning as part of your getting-ready-for-the-day ritual.

Handwashing: Frequent handwashing, particularly after rest room visits, is another part of a high PH quotient. It is a must habit for cooks, waitresses, barbers, beauty operators, etc.

Texas' 62' Crime Record Spirals

AUSTIN — Major crime in Texas continued its upward spiral in 1962, outstripping the population increase as an average of one offense was committed every two and one-half minutes.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, reported that crime jumped 6.6 per cent in 1962 over 1961, with the crime of auto theft showing the largest increase of 10.5 per cent.

Garrison said the 1962 figures represent an overall increase in crime in Texas of about 71 per cent since 1955.

"The crime rate per 100,000 population increased from 2,122.0 in 1961 to 2,261.5 in 1962, confirming once again the alarming trend that set in after World War II," he said.

The official 1962 crime report shows that murder was down 8.5 per cent, rape decreased 8.2 per cent, robbery dropped 2.1 per cent, while burglary increased 4.9 per cent, aggravated assault 6.4 per cent, theft 7.4 per cent, and auto theft 10.5 per cent.

In urban areas, there was an increase in major crime of 8.4 per cent, offset by a 3.9 per cent decline in rural areas.

Ideas of what the country needs were expressed by citizens at random. Lud Taylor says we do not need more taxes from the people, but for the people to get more from taxes they pay.

R. L. Brown — It isn't so much a job for every man we need, but a real man for every job.

K. K. Smith — says what the country needs is not more miles of territory, but more miles per gallon.

Rev. E. C. Raney — says what the country needs isn't more liberty, but fewer people to take liberties with our liberty.

Neal Rockey says we need more tractors and less detractors.

E. R. Hart — says we need more common sense so as to be able to acquire more copper cents.

Dr. A. R. Matthews says the country needs more paint around the old places and less paint on the young face.

—1933—
 A Scotchman of this community, who shall remain nameless, deposited $2,500 in the Muleshoe State Bank a month ago. The first of the week he went to the bank and demanded his money.

The smiling lady cashier asked if he couldn't like to leave a small amount to keep his account open. "No," he persisted, "I want my money." So she counted out $2,500 worth of greenbacks and handed them to him.

The scotch depositor stood at the window and recounted the pile slowly and very carefully handed it back to her. "That's Ok," he said, "I only wanted to see if it was all still there."

Midway, a vital naval air station despite its 1.9 square-mile size, is the home of some 280,000 albatrosses.

Gordy Soltau still holds the scoring record for the San Francisco 49ers. He tallied 114 points in 1953.
