Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN

Spring has sprung. The calendar says so. The spring sand blows say so. The clover just popping up says so. And the jonquills say so. And the young man is fancy again.

Missus and I ran the gamut of spring on the last two weekends. We journeyed north to the little village of Logan, N.M., 87 miles north of Clovis, to spend weekend before last. And then this past weekend we went south to Big Spring. Quite a range in spring's advance in that 250-mile spread. Spring was a mere suggestion at Logan which lies some 35 miles north of The Caprock. Spring was everywhere in Big Spring which lies just south of The Caprock.

At Big Spring they've already sharpened and gassed up their lawn mowers. At Logan they haven't even considered putting away the electric blanket.

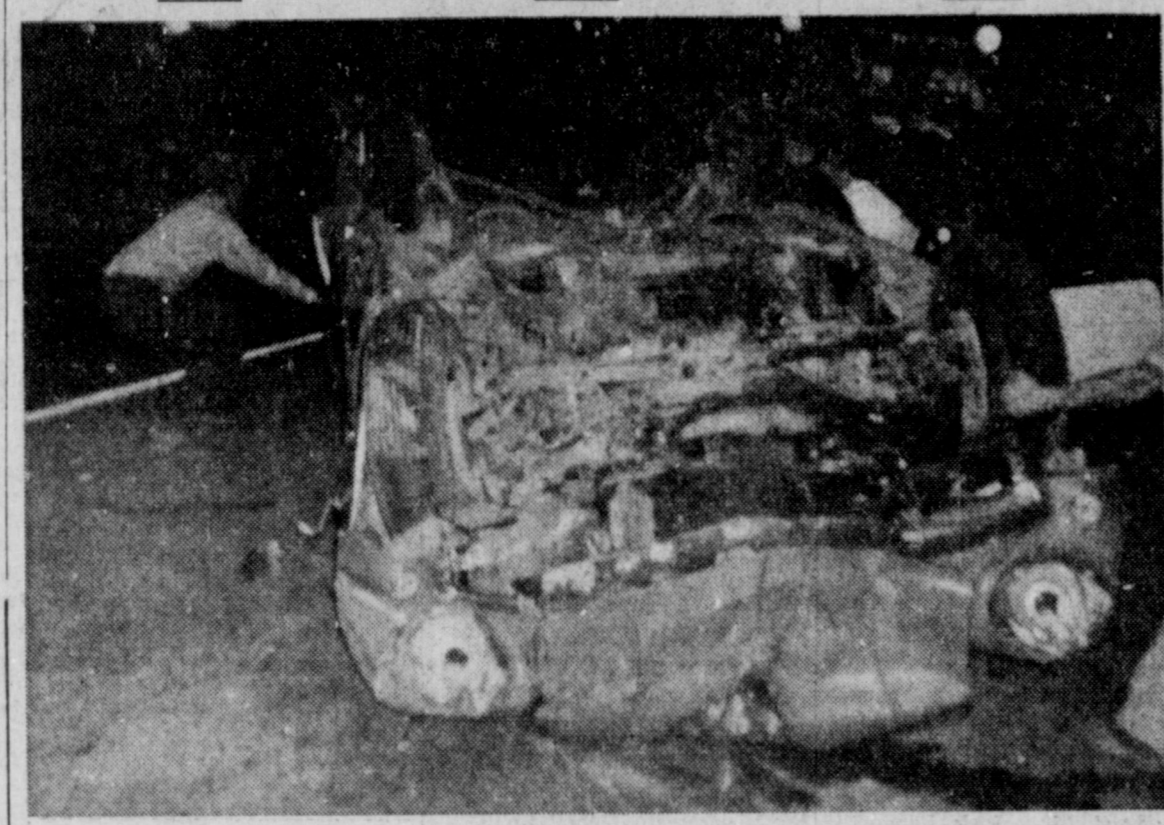

That Logan area is an interesting country. Some 50 or 60 miles north of Clovis, The Caprock ends violently. One minute you're sailing along through fertile pastures and early wheat, and the next minute you come to the spot where nature decided to end this mysterious formation which we call The Caprock. It's a very beautiful country, in case you haven't been up that road. There's a sheer bluff, good mostly for tv relay stations (of which there is a big one) and for cedars that like to live dangerously on the side of a cliff. Beautiful scene. Only thing I wondered was how folk make a living beyond The Caprock.

Logan is getting a huge new dam on the Canadian river, the Ute lake. Already, since it is a state project and not a federal one (and because New Mexico has a way of getting red tape cut much faster than Texas does) the dam is well under way, dirt dam piling up 86 feet already, there's a 15-foot-deep lake snaking back up the usually bone-dry Canadian, the lake formed by the temporary retaining dam. Ute Lake is going to make a resort center of the sleepy little town of New Mexico.

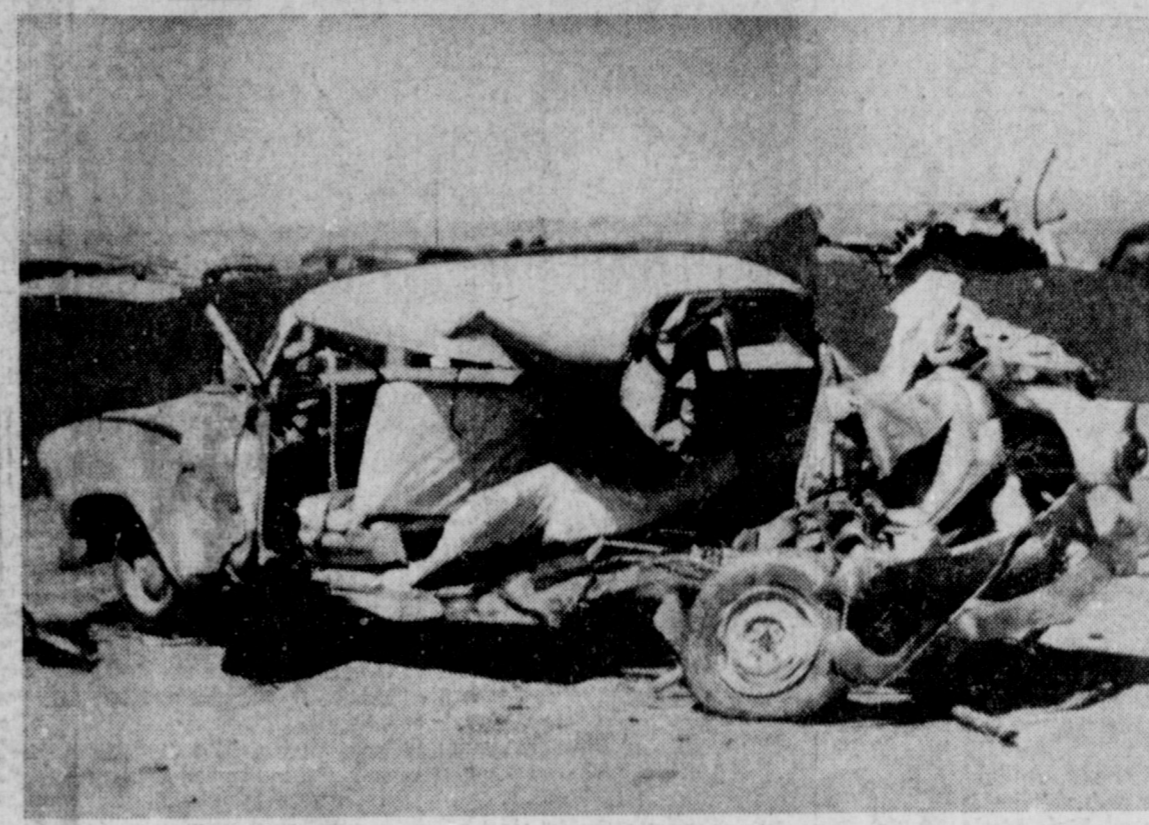

Did I say sleepy? You can't. Highway 54 roars across Kansas, over the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles and straight on west to Albuquerque, crossing U. S. 66 at Tucuman. A huge freight truck went between our bedroom and the living room every 15 minutes all night, as it picked up speed coming up from the Canadian river bottom. Then the Southern Pacific roared through on the other side of our bedroom, engines putting on more diesel as they hit the same grade.

Except that I haven't yet figured out how people make a living there (unless they let the "soil bank" do their farming for them) it's a beautiful country. And, as I said, it's going to be a resort area once the dry old Canadian finds itself suddenly blocked by the Ute dam stretch. (See RAY'S, page 5)

Crash Leaves 2 Dead, 3 Injured

Father, 2 Sons Injured

Two persons are dead and three others were injured in a high-speed crash in the city limits of Muleshoe last Saturday night which reduced two automobiles to rubble. The accident occurred at the corner of West 19th and American Blvd. on busy U. S. 84-70.

Dead are Earl Stigaulde, 47, 1410 Ave. B, and Lowell Bell, 6, 224 W. 11th. Stigaulde, a truck driver, died 30 minutes after the crash, which occurred at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Lowell Bell died shortly after noon the following day.

L. M. Bell, 41, father of the dead boy, was reported at West Plains Hospital Wednesday as "greatly improved." He is suffering from broken ribs on his left side. Another son, Charles Bell, 15, was dismissed Monday, and a third son, Paul, 8, was dismissed Tuesday afternoon. Dr. W. F. Birdsong said both boys were "badly bruised," but were not seriously injured.

Stigaulde was the only occupant of automobile which struck the rear of Bell's car. Sheriff Dee Clements said Stigaulde turned into American Blvd. from 7th street without stopping for a stop sign.

The sheriff said he was coming along American, going west when Stigaulde turned onto the highway street and headed west. "I started after him," the sheriff said, "to give him a ticket for running the stop sign." He said Stigaulde, who was driving a Buick, "picked up speed and obviously was trying to get away." The sheriff said he turned on his red lights "at about the time we reached the Corral drive-in, but Stigaulde just sped up, and by the time we reached 16th, I was traveling 70 miles an hour and Stigaulde was pulling away from me." (See CRASH, page 5)

4 Persons Indicted By Grand Jury Here

A fast-working district court grand jury last Friday returned indictments against four persons, but one person was indicted on four counts, all for theft.

Dickie Pierce, Muleshoe, was indicted four times by the grand jury in separate cases. He is charged with stealing a gun from I. L. Kitchens, hogs from Ira Palmer, guns from Bill Sowder and a saddle from Sonny Shafer.

Several of the items were not missed by their owners for several days, it was reported.

John Edward Cusher, an Indian, was indicted for murder without malice in the automobile death of Bobby Glean Noah, another Indian, following a Sunday evening argument at the home of the latter man's father in January.

The original charge had been for murder with malice. However, the charge was reduced to murder without malice by the grand jury.

Cusher is alleged to have driven his automobile over Noah, fatally injuring him. Cusher is out on a $2,000 bond.

Roberto Sandovol was indicted on a charge of forgery and passing, and B. J. Ashley was indicted for allegedly giving a worthless check.

Interest Lagging

With deadlines practically at hand, interest in both city and school board elections was lagging Wednesday, as indicated by the scarcity of absentee balloting.

Up to Wednesday, only two persons had cast premature ballots in both the city and the school elections, and Hazel Gilbreath, district-county clerk, termed interest "the lowest we have seen in a long time."

Deadline for absentee voting in the April 2 city council election is March 31, and deadline for the school board's April 6 absentee voting is April 2. Since March 31 comes on Sunday, city council absentee voting will end Saturday.

Three candidates seek positions on the Muleshoe city council, and four have filed for three school board places. Filing ended 30 days in advance of each election.

Only one race is scheduled in the city election since the incumbent is unopposed in one precinct. Irvin St. Clair is without opposition in place 3.

Candidates for Place 4 are James Jennings, a Muleshoe insurance man, and Woody Lambert, a cleaning firm operator.

850 County Farmers Sign Up For 1963 Feed Grain Program

Eight hundred fifty farmers, out of a possible 1,212 who were eligible, signed up to participate in the 1963 feed grain program here, Chas. Daniel, ASCS manager for Bailey county, said Wednesday. Deadline for signing up was last Friday.

This means a total of approximately 42,000 acres will be diverted for the feed program, he said early check-up indicated. The county has a base grain sorghum acreage of 200,574 acres.

Last year the county produced 150,000 acres of grain sorghum. The sign-up program had lagged last week when only 567 farmers had signed to participate; however, a last minute rush boosted the total to the 850 mark to give approximately a two-thirds participation in the 1963 program.

In general the 1963 program is similar to the one in effect last year. The grower who signed up to participate, agrees to reduce his feed grain acreage, corn, grain sorghum or barley, by the amount shown by his diversion sign-up and to add the acres taken out of grain production to conservation use.

This acreage, Daniel explains, is in addition to the farmer's base acreage. A change was made this year in the substitute crop provision. A percentage of the minimum diversion acres over the 40,964 allotted to the High Plains in 1962. The increase comes as a result of the state having been re-zoned for 1963 by the State ASCS committee with only two zones as compared with the previous five. Daniel says the 1963 program, as a result of the acreage boost in allowable granted last month, will leave the county's base little changed from (See PROGRAM, page 5)

Walker Gets 2 Years, Flatt Trial Delayed

An all-male jury found Willie Walker, a Negro transient from San Antonio, guilty of forging a check on his traveling mate, James Graves, and handed down a two-year penitentiary sentence Monday.

This was the second time the case was brought to trial. In a previous hearing last month before Judge Pat Boone, Jr., a jury failed to agree after deliberating several hours, and was dismissed.

Walker and his traveling friend hitch-hiked into Muleshoe last fall. Walker is alleged to have forged Graves' name to a check which he cashed at a local business house. He was arrested a short time later and has been in the county jail ever since. Originally he was indicted for both forgery and passing.

2,100 Take Final Polio Immunization

Bailey County folk under 30 years of age—and some over 30—turned out for their final polio immunization sugar cubes here Sunday as the Bailey county medical society wrote all but finish to this year's polio program. Make-up Sunday is planned for next Sunday, a two-hour period between 1 and 3 p.m. As at last week's Type III event, make-up immunizations will be given at junior high school.

The four-county medical society of which the Bailey county unit is a part, is "highly pleased" with results obtained so far in this final polio phase, a spokesman for the Society said Wednesday.

"We believe we will have an exceptionally good report for next Sunday evening after make-up day has been held," the spokesman said. "We believe that we will have a 75-80 percent final figure, and that's considered very good."

He said this should result in a 90 to 100 percent immunization for Bailey county.

He expressed his personal thanks and those of the Society for the help given by physicians, pharmacists and nurses in making the day a success.

"We are grateful for this support in this vital program," he said, "and we realize fully that the program never would have been possible had it not been for this great help."

Many persons over 30 years of age turned out to swallow the vaccine—soaked sugar cubes, despite the fact that there had been some unfavorable reaction earlier in the program. The organization here had urged all persons under 30 to take the vaccine, and added that the vaccine also had been proved to be almost 100 percent favorable for persons over that age.

One person the Society said, balked at the vaccine after coming to the junior high to take the vaccine. "Guess she just changed her mind," the spokesman said.

The type III program had been delayed for several weeks as a result of an unfavorable report (See POLIO, page 5)

It's Now a Semi-Weekly!

With this issue, The Muleshoe Journal becomes a semi-weekly. L. B. Hall, publisher of the 41-year-old newspaper, announced Wednesday.

This is the first issue of the paper to appear on the new time schedule; the paper will reach readers Thursday morning, instead of late Thursday.

Then the first Sunday issue will come off the press at the end of the week.

That first Sunday issue will be of special interest since it will contain advertisements by many merchants for "Dollar Day," slated for next Monday. "Sample" copies of The Journal will be distributed to every home in Muleshoe Sunday as a special promotion of the new twice-a-week publication of The Journal.

MHS Players Gun for State

Muleshoe senior high drama department is aiming its gun at regional and maybe state honors as a result of its clean sweep of district events here recently.

Director Kerry Moore says rehearsals already are under way for the regional event at Lubbock April 20, and the winner of that event sails into Austin for the state tourney the first weekend in May.

"The Bald Soprano" already has won honors for the youthful players. At an invitation meet at Portales, N.M., recently, the local players won top rating—excellent. Then last week the group won first in the district meet here, beating Dimmitt, Olton, Friona and Morton.

In addition, Mike Connell walked off with the "best actor" award, and Sue Wilman took the same honor for actress. In addition to the top award at Portales, Sue Wilman was named to the all-star cast.

Judges at the district event here were William A. Moore, West Texas State; Jerry McDonough, Amarillo College; and Mrs. Jim Bearden, Lubbock Christian College.

Lions to Stage Variety Show

Muleshoe Lions club will present its annual variety show next Monday night at the senior high school auditorium with more than 15 acts lined up for what Gilbert Lamb, director, calls "a well-rounded evening of pleasure."

Members of the club have been selling tickets for several days, and indications are that a big turnout will be on hand for the show which will present all kinds of entertainment from vaudeville-type comedy acts to a midwest church choir, Lamb says.

Admission will be $1 for advance tickets, or $1.25 at the door. All school age pupils are to be admitted for 50 cents. All members of the Lions club have tickets for sale.

Julia Ann Burkett Wins Spelling Bee

An eight-letter word that means "of or pertaining to or like a tree or trees," proved the deciding factor in last Friday's Bailey county spelling bee, sponsored by The Muleshoe Journal. As a result of her ability to spell this tricky word—"arboreal!" Julia Ann Burkett for the second year in a row walked off with the spelling bee here, besting 16 other spellers from six schools to win.

Julia Ann, 14, is an eighth-grader at Three Way School in south part of Bailey county. She was this county's 1962 winner.

Juana Young, 14, who is also an eighth grader, bobbled on the word "arboreal," as the contest went into its final count-down. She's from Bula school. Julia Ann spelled the stumbler and went on to spell the necessary final word, which turned out to be "archaic."

Julia Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Burkett who operates a farm store and service station. Juana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Young, Bula.

Third place went to Joyce Sowder, also of Bula, who was tricked, also of Bula, who was tricked. (See BURKETT, page 5)

Plainview First Methodist Church Woman's Society will host the meeting next spring. They will be assisted by all societies of the district. There were 38 from the Plainview district in attendance.

Registration showed a total of 602 delegates at the meeting. This year is the 75th anniversary of deaconess work in the Methodist Church, and one of the luncheons, held at Wesley Methodist Church, centered around the deaconess theme.

Mrs. Willis L. Perryman, vice-president of the Woman's Division of Christian Service was a featured speaker. Her home is Kansas City, Mo.

April Will Be "Time to Eat"

April will be a good time to eat "high on the hog," both literally and figuratively.

Texas consumers also may well choose the better cuts of beef, because both pork and beef are on the nine-item April list of plentiful foods, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The list features pork and carrots, as April supplies of each promise to run far above usual trade needs.

Beef rates a spot on the list for the first time in 1-1/2 years. Prices on both pork and beef are noticeably lower than last winter.

Also plentiful are milk, eggs, potatoes, peanuts and all peanut products, including peanut butter, canned freestone peaches and canned ripe olives.

The monthly list is prepared by the Agricultural Marketing Service, a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with producers, processors and the food trade. When supplies of any food exceed expected demand, it is eligible for official listing as a plentiful.

Distributors and retail grocers cooperate in the Plentiful Foods promotions, including lower prices on many items.

Extension home economists suggest that consumers will find it to their advantage to serve plentiful often, as foods in abundance usually provide economy, ready availability and wide choice in quality.

Ever wish, at income tax time, that you had a complete record of every cent you spent for drugs and drug products throughout the year — and how much of it was legally deductible?

That kind of a record could save you money. And that kind of a record can now be yours, every year, absolutely free of charge.

This new service is called DrugTax. We are making it available to all of our customers immediately, free of charge, as another way of saying "thank you" for their patronage.

You would be surprised at the number of drug and medical supplies that can be of a deductible nature — items such as antiseptics, aspirin, cough and cold preparations, and hundreds of others.

Indeed, the American taxpayer has been losing millions of dollars annually because he hasn't been aware of how many drug items are legally deductible.

But you must be able to offer proof of purchase in order to claim such items in preparing your federal income tax return. And when you buy from us, you get that proof — in the form of an annual record, mailed in February.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. And from now on, buy all of your drug and medical supplies from the store that gives you the free DrugTax record.

Sketches Sought For Park Project

If you can draw — and quickly — your design may win first in the county design competition for Palo Duro theater at Palo Duro State Park. But entrants of a county design must have their designs in the hands of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., in Amarillo by next Monday, Mrs. A. J. Lenderson of Muleshoe has been informed.

The contest to design a drawing which will depict Bailey county, is open to any student in the Texas Panhandle in junior or senior high school. Contestants must submit a black and white drawing or sketch of a Bailey County event (or events) 18 by 18 inches.

Judging, Mrs. Lenderson says, will be based on three things: 1. Adaptability of drawing to duplication in relief in stone; 2. Artistic value, and 3. Neatness in presentation.

NITROGEN FERTILIZER

TIME The period of greatest utilization of nitrogen by all crops is the 6 to 10 weeks following germination. By the end of that period the die is cast and any deficiency in nitrogen cannot be overcome by later application. The plant and its fruit will reflect that deficiency regardless of how well cared for otherwise. This means that for maximum effect on the quantity and quality of the crop, the nitrogen should be in the soil waiting when the crop is planted, available from the first day the plant can utilize it. There is much to be said for Fall plow-down and side dress applications of nitrogenous fertilizer. But the single most important consideration is that nitrogen be available during the plant's early growth. It means that if you haven't fertilized with a high-nitrogen fertilizer since harvest, it would be wise to do so as soon as possible.

ing between its rock-bound banks.
Now Big Spring was a long way into spring, we discovered this past weekend. Jonquils already had done their do and were giving way to lilac. In fact, millions of lilac blooms were in full regalia, despite the fact that Big Spring has had almost no moisture since way back in 1962.

Grass was green, and tumbleweeds, those strange creatures that travel all winter and settle down all over West Texas in the summer, were knee high already over the caliche hills of Big Spring.

Big Spring is a town that is pretty with greenery, desolate looking without it. Except for the wise old mesquite, that is, by nature, a skeptic where early spring is concerned, everything is green.
That mesquite has always been an interesting plant to me. While all the birds and bees and lilacs and peach blooms are wooed into their spring attire by the first warm days of spring, the wise mesquite calmly waits it out several weeks, apparently remembering the times when there have been no birds, no bees, no lilacs and the birds and the iacs and the peach blooms look pretty silly.

So, as I said, the mesquite is still in its winter retirement, even in 80-degree Big Spring. It's waiting to see if nature sends down an Easter cold snap that might cull its delicate leaves.
For the benefit of those who read The Journal in far-away places (and our out-of-town subscription list is growing) Muleshoe's spring is limited so far to jonquils and a few sprigs of green grass and clover. Those below-freezing nights last week have discouraged plants from putting on their green garb too early.
But throughout all this area, spring is in the air, and once the April 15 deadline has passed, the 1963 auto tags bought and the new inspection stickers are on the windshields in profusion again, we'll be ready to settle down to enjoy spring.
And for my money, there's no place in West Texas that does a nicer job of spring than does this area right here. When it greens up here, it greens up thoroughly!

This year's county spelling bee was the biggest ever held here with 17 pupils taking part. Three Way, Bula and the four schools here — junior high, Richland Hills, DeShazo and Hilltop — all sent their best spellers to the event. Fred Johnson was the pronouncer again this year, and judges were Herbert Griffiths, Bobby Airhart and Harmon Elliott. The meet was directed by Ray Martin, Journal editor and the entire two-hour contest was broadcast live by KMUL. The spell-down was held at the senior high auditorium here.
Julia Ann will represent Bailey county in the 23-county area spelling bee in Lubbock April 6.

Pupils who took part, by schools, were as follows: Lowry Lewis, Sheridan Porter and Elizabeth Seals, Mary DeShazo; Elaine Tiller, Juana Young and Joyce Sowder, Bula; Gloria Jean Wade and Curtis Lee Norman, Hilltop; Gayle Gant, Julia Burkett and Joy Eubanks, Three Way; Carol Haire, Kathy Baker and Mart Long, Muleshoe junior high; Carolyn Wedel, Jeff Chapman and Charlotte Davis, Richland Hills.

The judges were complimentary of the "fine job of spelling" which the pupils did, especially those who were in the lower grades; three contestants, Gloria Jean Wade, Carolyn Wedel and Jeff Chapman, were only fifth-graders.

Morbid 'Chasers' Warned by Chief

Don't chase ambulances and other emergency vehicles.
That warning was sounded Wednesday by Police Chief Carl Neely who said such a practice is dangerous for everyone concerned, including the curiosity seekers themselves.
He cited last Saturday night's two-car crash on west American as an example of this sort of thing when the morbid curious made it difficult for emergency vehicles to reach the victims of the accident.

"Sometimes," he said, "this practice of following an ambulance is so obnoxious that the curious reach the scene before emergency vehicles can get there, and then their cars block the ambulance or the fire trucks in their efforts to bring aid."
He pointed out that severe fines can be meted out to those who follow this practice, and that if the ambulance chasing practice is continued, tickets will be given the offenders.

The case went to trial Monday morning and was concluded shortly after 4 p.m.

In another case originally due for trial at this term of Judge Boone's court, legal movements caused a delay in the trial of E. A. Flatt, a former Muleshoe used car dealer.

Flatt, who was indicted on four counts by a grand jury last fall, was scheduled to have gone on trial on one of those four charges Monday. His attorney, Roger Crampton, Wichita Falls, filed "several" motions for action by the court, court officials said.

Judge Boone dismissed prospective jurors and set a hearing on the motions for April 6. Trial proper was re-set for April 8. Prospective jurors were told they will be re-notified of the trial date.

The zoning, ASCS officials explained, was changed in order to provide for a more equitable distribution of released acreage and a consequent maximum utilization of the state's boosted allotment acres. The High Plains, of which this county is a part, is in "zone 2".

On a 23-county basis, allotments for planting have been raised to 2,202,553 acres or an overall reduction of 194,293 acres from the 2,396,846 total for 1962. This amounts to about 8.1 percent less acreage, while the reduction in the original allotment figured 10 percent flat.

Sub-ground Water Called Area Key To Prosperity

By DALE FISCHGRAB
SCS Work Unit Conservationist

One of the most valuable assets of the South Plains area is our underground water. The use of this underground water for irrigation has been a big factor in our economy. The conservation and sound use of our water will no doubt play a big part in the future economy of this area.

The value of our underground water for irrigation varies widely. The crops being irrigated and the variations of soils all have a bearing on the income from irrigation.

Indirectly we are marketing water. This includes rainfall as well as irrigation. The loss of rainfall has to be replaced by other means. For example, if 30 inches of irrigation water was applied and 10 inches of rainfall was effective and 500 pounds of lint cotton per acre was produced the total application of water would be 40 acre inches or 3 1/3 acre foot.

The amount of irrigation water can be controlled with a Conservation irrigation system. This kind of system not only makes maximum use of rainfall but provides the necessary tools for applying needed amounts of water for soils and crops but also helps control soil erosion in the bargain.

Even though a conservation irrigation system is on the land the battle has begun. The best of tools are not of much value unless they are used properly. This means that the system must be maintained in good working order. For surface systems to function properly the land surface must be kept to uniform grades, streams must be adjusted for surface conditions at the time of irrigation to assure getting on the needed application.

Sprinkler systems require adequate pressure on the nozzles so they will give even distribution of water. Another important point for any irrigation is how to determine when to irrigate. An irrigation applied with the soil profile already at field capacity will decrease the gross income from water and can decrease the yield. Decreases in yield may be the result of applying water after the crop has gone into stress especially late in the growing season. Generally the crop is approximately half the moisture has been removed from the root zone. This allows time to irrigate over the crop before any of the crop has gone into stress. Most of the soils on the high plains can store about 4 inches when the root zone has 50 percent of the available moisture removed. Lighter applications than 4" can be made efficiently with Sprinkler irrigation system.

Water management is sound business. It not only conserves our precious underground water but also means dollars and cents in your pocket. Assistance on irrigation water management is available through your local Soil Conservation District.

RETURNING FROM TRIP

Mrs. Mary Finley returned recently for Albuquerque, N.M., where she visited for some time in the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Spence. While there, they attended the style show and a showing of the latest hair styles sponsored by the Beauty Salons of that city. These shows were held during the noon hour in the fabulous Furr Cafeteria.

Mrs. Finley said the models entered the cafeteria from one side and strolled among the crowd dining there.

New Local Pastor Assumes Duties Here

First Christian Church has a new pastor. He's The Rev. David M. Branson, 32, who comes to Muleshoe from Salem, Ore., where he has served as minister of education at the First Christian Church in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Branson and their two sons have established their home at the new parsonage, 426 E. Dallas. He assumed duties as pastor of the church here March 17.

Mr. Branson, a native of Kansas, was graduated from the Newton, Kans., high school, and graduated from Phillips University at Enid, Okla., with AB degree in 1953. For a year he served as pastor of a church at Sawyer, Kans., and returned to school in 1955 to receive his BD degree from the Christian Seminary at Phillips University. In May, 1959, he accepted the position in Salem, Ore., and had served that church until coming to Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Branson were married in 1951 at Newton, and it was there that he was ordained a minister. His wife is the former Barbara Kline, Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Branson have two sons, David J. L. Branson, 2 1/2 years old, and Eric, ten months. He is the first full-time minister for the First Christian Church here. The church established 13 years ago, has been served by part-time pastors, and has been a mission church of the Texas Board of Christian Churches and the First Christian Church, Lubbock. He says hopes to put the church on a self-supporting basis as soon as possible.

The church will have morning services at 9:50 each Sunday, and evening at 7 p.m. with Sunday School at 10. Mrs. Thurman White is Sunday School superintendent and church treasurer, and Harry Mitchell is chairman of the Church Board.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Our Sage Riled Over Washington's Interference in Local Problems

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems to be championing state's rights this week, but we're not sure.

Dear editor:
People are always denouncing Federal interference with local affairs, except when they're after a special appropriation, and I would like to cite an example of this type of Washington meddling which I read in a newspaper last night.

According to it, a United States Senator was out in the country a long way from Washington making a speech and he suggested that the people not spend all their time pointing a finger of scorn at the Federal government. "The Federal debt has gone up 15 per cent in 15 years," he admitted, but, he added, "state and local governments raised their gross debts a whopping 332 per cent in the same period. Here is where the real tax problem arises."

"This is what I'm talking about. It's not any of Washington's affair how much money we're spending. Don't be trying to change the subject, Senator. What we're talking about is Washington spending, not ours. What we do down here is none of Washington's business. Don't be trying to confuse state's rights with state's debts.

Everybody knows Washington ought to cut its spending, but like everybody else who says it, I'm too busy a man to be telling where.

In fact, I've noticed even the economists are too busy to say where. The mark of a good economist these days is not the ability to tell where government spending ought to be cut, but the ability to estimate the national deficit. The best economist these days is the one that comes closest to guessing how far in the red we'll go in the next 12 months.

Meanwhile, it's everybody's duty to keep hollering about Washington spending. Anything to get the spotlight off of things closer to home. This meddling from Washington has got to stop.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

AUSTIN — A $3,000,000,000 budget bill has been passed by the House of Representatives.

Before it cleared the House and went on to the Senate, the bill elicited several cries of anguish from some who protested agency requests as too small and some who claimed certain allotments were too big.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo claimed appropriations for the State Armory Board and the State Board of Control were too big, since they involved $1,000 salary raises for executive directors of those agencies.

Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady claimed deputy commissioners in the Texas Education Agency draw a total of $14,800 more than the Legislature authorized.

Townsend also tried to cut out a $250,000 appropriation to improve the newly-donated Wheatly Ranch in Blanco County as a state park. He claimed the money was needed for established parks. But this move failed.

HIGH COST OF FLYING
Another attempt to cut a specific recommendation out of the budget bill almost was successful.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford tried to get the House to "ground" the State Land Office airplane. He pointed out that $100,000 is appropriated annually for operation and maintenance of a high-powered Land Office plane.

Cotten showed a photostatic copy of the plane's flight log for the year ended October, 1962. He stated, "In a year's time, only 68 flights were recorded. Sixteen were test flights to familiarize the pilot with the plane before he broke the propeller when he collided with another plane in a hanger and then he had to take eight more test flights to familiarize himself with the new propeller!" Sixteen were test flights to familiarize the pilot with the plane before he broke the propeller when he collided with another plane in a hanger and then he had to take eight more test flights to familiarize himself with the new propeller!"

Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs disagreed. He said that the plane is necessary for aerial surveys and photographs to confirm the 1941 state land survey. Cotten insisted that the Land Office should hire commercial aerial photographers, as the Texas Water Commission does. Cotten's amendment to strike out the plane appropriation failed by a narrow 72-68 vote.

LOW COST OF EDUCATION—Complaints about too-low appropriations came from members who said allotments for higher education in 1964-65 are too small. The last Legislature appropriated $159,600,000 from the State General Revenue Fund for higher education in 1962-63.

State college administrators requested $243,000,000 for the coming two years. Former Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board recommended $226,000,000. Gov. John B. Connally recommends $225,000,000. Paducah Rep. Bill Healy's appropriations bill allows for $187,600,000 to educate the bumper crop of war babies that is expected to begin to flow into state colleges next year.

Rep. Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth claimed the Healy committee had slashed Arlington State College's library budget so drastically, the school might not be accredited next year. So, Parmer and Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth begged for an amendment to raise Arlington's appropriation. It failed by a vote of 94-41.

The $172,000 needed to make the Texas Maritime Academy in Galveston a reality was absent from the appropriations bill. But Governor Connally said, "I have real hope of getting the Legislature to restore the maritime money." He didn't say whether he had any hope of getting the allotment for higher education boosted.

COUNTY BUYING MAY BE EASIER — Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison got a green light from the House Committee on Counties on his bill to raise the amount a county purchasing agent may spend on emergency purchases without advertising for competitive bidding.

Since 1925, the amount that may be spent without competitive bidding has been $150. Beckham said this is unrealistic in the view of rising costs. He proposed it be raised to $500. However, the subcommittee set it at $300.

Reps. Henry Grover and J. C. Whitfield of Houston won approval from the House State Affairs Committee on their bill to require competitive bidding on public school purchases above $1,000.

SALES TAX FREEZE FAILS—An attempt by Rep. John Allen of Longview to pass a constitutional amendment to freeze the state sales tax at two per cent and keep food and drugs exempt failed by a 72-64 vote.

However, food may remain safe from the sales tax if a measure by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas and Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity passes. They have proposed legislation to simplify sales tax bookkeeping for grocers. Since grocers have been the ones fighting for a blanket tax, this bill may satisfy them.

TUITION RAISES PROPOSED—Representative Atwell picked up a recommendation by the Commission on Higher Education to double state college tuition, and filed a bill to raise it from $50 to $100 a semester.

Governor Connally has ignored the commission's suggestion. Rep. Dick Morgan, Republican from Dallas, chose "a good compromise." He introduced a bill to raise tuition to $75 a semester.

Children of members of the Texas National Guard who have been killed in the "cold war crisis" since 1950 will be provided free tuition in state colleges, if a bill by Representative Parmer is passed.

STATES RIGHTS STAND—The House passed a resolution to ask Congress to call a constitutional convention to leave legislative reapportionment to state legislatures. Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock said, "This may be the last time the state can take

Dimmitt Jaycees Solicit Entries For Talent Show

Dimmitt Jaycees announce the 1963 Talent Show will be conducted Saturday, March 30 at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium in Dimmitt.

Entries from Muleshoe are especially solicited, a spokesman said.

The show will be divided into junior, senior and adult divisions. Those wishing to enter should contact Bob Henley or Bill Cullpepper at Dimmitt High School, chairman of the show. There is no entry fee for the contest according to the Jaycees.

Admission to the show is $1 for adults and $.50 students. Trophies will be awarded to the winners and runners up in each division.

Last year's contest attracted 30 entrants and provided one of the most entertaining nights Dimmitt has ever seen according to Jaycees. Everything from the "Twist" to Beethoven was seen at the contest.

Entries have already been taken from Hart and Dimmitt. According to the Jaycees, there appears to be a full slate of talent guaranteed.

A dress rehearsal will be held Friday night, March 29. As in the past, there will be members from the talent show taken to TV Channel 4 in Amarillo to appear on Cotton John's farm show.

a stand on what may be the last of state's rights."

If the proposed amendment is adopted by a sufficient number of states, Texas could insure a rurally-dominated legislature, despite urban growth.

36 days that proved Ford's total performance!

RIVERSIDE, CAL.
January 20

In a total performance test of brakes, suspension and steering on the twisting Riverside sports car course, Dan Gurney drove a Ford hardtop to victory over 43 other stock cars. The 500-mile grind demonstrated Ford's superior stamina and road-holding.

MONTE CARLO
January 23

The '63 1/2 Falcon V-8 Sprints made their debut with a fantastic showing in the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Through Europe's worst winter weather they placed 1st and 2nd in class. Besides this... one Sprint defeated every entrant in the Rallye's six special stages.

PURE OIL TRIALS
January 27

In a competition designed to test all-around performance, Fords were over-all winners in Class I and Class II in the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona. Their total performance design added up to most total points in gas economy, acceleration and braking events.

DAYTONA, FLA.
February 24

Daytona "500" history was made when '63 1/2 Fords blazed into the first five places! Since Daytona is the toughest track in the world, this was eyewitness proof that Ford's total performance design can endure the maximum in automotive punishment.

... and here are the 63 1/2's that gave total proof of Ford's durability and handling!

You may never see a competitive auto event. But at 30 mph on rain-slick blacktop in the close-packed rush of 5 o'clock traffic, on a twisting mountain road, the results are important to you. On every slippery surface you need the kind of roadability that placed five Fords out front in the Daytona "500." On every busy cross street—you want the brakes that won on Riverside's sports car circuit. Your engine will hold up better through years of turnpike use because it's as beautifully balanced as Falcon's Monte Carlo V-8's. The winning competition car is bound to be a great road car—and Ford is the big winner!

If it's Ford-built, it's built for performance... total performance!

TEXAS COTTON GROWERS REPORT:

Entire Season Control of Thrips, Aphids and Mites...

Untreated plant at four weeks

Di-Syston treated plant at four weeks

Di-Syston Treated Plants Are Stronger, Straighter... Produce More Squares Earlier

West Texas and New Mexico cotton growers now have a new way to control thrip damage and early-season stunting... with Di-Syston granular insecticide. Di-Syston is placed in the soil with the seed or side dressed after planting. The chemical is then absorbed by the growing roots and carried to all parts of the plant through the sap stream—as soon as the plant emerges. No part of the plant is unprotected—even tender new growth as it is formed.

The result? With Di-Syston, your early cotton grows faster, has stronger, straighter stems, more vigorous foliage. Squares form earlier and the plant produces more of them. Many growers in the Lubbock area have reported full season control of thrip with just the one application. You get higher yields because of the good Di-Syston start. This year, get your crop off to a good start with Di-Syston. Complete instructions for use are printed on the label on every package. Use Di-Syston.

A great many anglers like to fish whenever and wherever they can.
These fellows are ready to go at the drop of a hint, anytime.
Some keep a rod and reel and a small tackle box in the car, handy at all times. More avid anglers even carry fishing "gear" in their suitcases . . . just in case.
In such instances the "gear" usually includes a three-piece bait-casting rod, protected against breakage by a metal tube. Also a reel encased in a leather or cloth bag, to keep it clean and to protect clothes from oil or gear grease.
A very small aluminum tackle box, that holds the minimum of lures and other essentials for lake or pond fishing, completes the equipment.
Those who like to buy-fish, of course, include the necessary

1 stringer.
That guy was ready to go! All he needed was a boat and motor. He really didn't need them if he was content to pond fish.
Jimmie Yett of the Jensen Fishing Tackle Co., Austin, is featuring a new top-water lure. It's a chugger called the Instant Bass Wiggler! Comes in 27 different colors. Unique feature is its side-whiskers or wiggly rubber legs.
A total of 24 strands of rubber fan out from each side of the lure, a little behind the gill area. These "whiskers" give the bait buoyancy, as well as a granddaddy look and lifelike action in the water.
Like to try one? Jimmie left us 30 samples to mail to the first 300 readers of this column who write for one. Clip this entire "OUTDOORS IN TEXAS" column and enclose it with your letter. Be sure to mention the name of the newspaper from which you obtained the clipping. Mail your request to "OUTDOORS IN TEXAS," c/o Texas Press Association, 1716 San Antonio Street, Austin 1, Texas.

IT'S THE LAW

in Texas

NO WILL?

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will,
or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law.
In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it — but in many cases it is not.
The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit, is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased

YOUR HEALTH

Storm Season Nears, Relief Units Ready

AUSTIN — Texas will meet the 1963 tornado season with one of the world's most complete storm warning systems, and with a well-oiled public health relief organization.

Radar storm warning sets are in operation in 15 of the state's 18 first-order weather bureaus.
have been carefully schooled in the wily ways of the weather and are keeping a sharp eye on the sky as they patrol their sectors.

Texas' "local severe weather warning system," the first of its kind established anywhere in the world, is made up of sets operating around the clock in Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Galveston, Fort Worth, Houston, Port Arthur, San Angelo, San Antonio, Victoria.

The radar sets are owned by the Weather Bureau, having been supplied from U. S. Government surplus stocks, but the cities concerned paid installation costs, cooperating in the southwestern warning network by operating networks of their own. The Texas network is larger, however, by virtue of the area to be covered.

State Health Commissioner Dr.
J. E. Pesvy says the State Department of Health and local health departments stand ready at all times to provide public health know-how to stem health threats occasioned by weather.

Meanwhile, these precautions are still valid if and when a tornado is sighted.
Cut off gas and water before it strikes. Open windows on the north and east side of the house.
If possible, take shelter in a storm cellar or cave. If this is impractical, sit down on the lowest floor of a strongly reinforced building, or against the southwest corner of a house. Stay away from windows.

In open country, move away at right angles to the path of the storm. If there is no time to escape lie flat in a ditch or depression to avoid flying debris.

Of the first-order weather stations which cover all sections of Texas, only El Paso, Laredo and Del Rio do not have radar storm warning sets as part of their regular equipment inventory.

All stations are connected by teletype and radio. Any station is able to instantly appraise all other stations of a tornado traveling in their direction. When such a storm warning is given, the weather bureau in its line of all communities in the area via commercial radio and television station bulletins.

Residents Attend Oklahoma Rites

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Harris and son attended funeral services for Mrs. Ray Black in Lawton, Okla. Friday.

Mrs. Black, Bowers' cousin and a friend of the Harris family died in Lawton Memorial Hospital Wednesday.

Services were conducted in First Baptist Church, Elgin, Okla. with burial in Memorial Cemetery, Lawton.

They returned by way of Altus, Okla. where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Muri Wilson, former Muleshoe residents.

Longview Church Sets Revival

The Longview Baptist Church will hold a revival March 31 through April 7.

The evangelist will be Rev. Wendell Taylor, pastor of the Arnett-Benson Baptist Church, Lubbock. The singer will be Don Thorp, Morton.

Morning services will be held at 8 o'clock Monday through Friday, with evening services scheduled at 8 p.m. each evening. The public is invited.

Alford's Father Critically Ill

Robert Alford and two brothers, Doyle and John Alford, Littlefield, will return this week from a trip to be with their father, Greene B. Alford of Barbourville, Ky. They left Muleshoe last Monday.

The father remains in critical condition at the Tennessee hospital at Johnson City, Tenn.

Yarbrough In Washington

Our country now has 32,000 key government people looking after our interests in foreign countries, not including military personnel. They are from the State Department, Agency for International Development, U. S. Information Agency, Commerce, Agriculture, Labor and other departments. They are diplomats, attaches, technical advisors, teachers and conferees on foreign policy.

They are among the top group of people responsible for our national security. Our cold war against Communism is dependent to a large degree on their capability.

That is why I am co-sponsor with Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri of a bill to set up a National Academy of Foreign Affairs, for the specialized training of our American people on missions overseas.

This academy would be a university-like school to handle up to 1500 trainees for foreign service work with a faculty of about 600 full-time and part-time professors. Besides specialized training for the jobs our key people are doing in 127 foreign countries and states, the academy would provide research on foreign service and foreign policy programs looking into the future.

Foreign language instruction would be a major task for the academy. Training in language and other fields of learning in foreign affairs would be provided not only for the government employee but for his family as well in certain cases. Now while this is a graduate school, it would have specialized classes for the whole family of a government employee who is going to live among the people, so that his entire family would learn the language and learn the way of life, in order that every member of that family would, in a sense, be a diplomat for the American people.

This school would not teach general undergraduate courses as do West Point and Annapolis, but basically — except for the specialized family training — it would be a graduate school. It would not be a competitor with other universities and colleges that are providing foreign service courses and are doing a fine job of turning out people for foreign affairs careers. But the academy would add to this training with graduate work and continuing adult education in foreign affairs. It would add that "something extra" that makes the difference between success and failure in international relations.

I think that everybody who has followed our country's foreign affairs difficulties in recent years realizes that we need improvement. This academy is one way to get that solid improvement.

President Kennedy has now endorsed the bill and its chances of passing this year are greatly improved. Some of us have been working for a foreign affairs ac-demey for more than five years. I ran on this as a plank in my platform in my senate campaigns in 1957 and again in 1958. The United States can go a long way towards winning the Cold War by setting up such a school. We have fine military service academies for the Army at West Point, the Navy at Annapolis, and the Air Force in Colorado. But Will Rogers once said the United States had never lost a war and had never won a conference. Fellow Americans, in the face of nuclear power, we must begin to win conferences. The best way is to train people to win conferences the way we train them to win war. The first step is a foreign service academy. I hope it becomes law in this 88th Congress.
