

Engine Man Blamed for Fatal Wreck

43 Persons Killed When Two Trains in Akron Meet Head-On

AKRON, O., Aug. 1.—Railroad investigations today blamed an engine-man's failure to follow operating orders for the fiery death of 43 persons in 1940's second major train wreck.

They said failure to sidetrack a gasoline-electric coach led it to crash head-on with a 73-car freight train near here last night.

The steel coach instantly became a virtual furnace. Three railroad workers leaped to safety. All the others aboard burned to death. Five children were among the victims.

The coach's single engine man, Thomas L. Murtough, 49, was blamed by L. M. Wolcott, Cleveland trainmaster for the Pennsylvania railroad, on whose single-track Hudson-Akron line the crash occurred. Murtough, seriously injured, was unable to tell his story.

Wolcott, watching crews clear away the wreckage, declared:

"The crew of the 'doodlebug' (the gasoline coach) and the crews of the freight train had orders to meet at Silver Lake, one mile north of the scene, and wait for the freight to pass. Murtough should have taken his train onto the siding there. For some reason he did not go onto the siding."

J. F. Allenspaugh, Akron yardmaster, said his investigation also showed the 'doodlebug's' crew was at fault.

After a preliminary investigation, E. W. Smith, vice-president of the railroad, expressed a similar view and said the coach's crew also disregarded a "right" rule in failing to obtain permission from the block operator at Hudson before continuing on the main track.

In a statement at Pittsburgh he added:

"With engine man Murtough and conductor (Harry) Shafer of the motor car badly injured in Akron hospitals, and with baggagemaster (Charles) Bilderback dead, it is impossible to determine now why these orders were disobeyed."

The freight train, northbound from Columbus, telescoped the fore end of the 122,000-pound coach, and shoved it back in its wake for 200 yards. Flames spurted from the windows as its 250-gallon gasoline tanks exploded. Firemen poured water into the coach. Then they and volunteers went about the sickening two-hour task of removing bodies, many so burned that identification was difficult.

Coroner R. E. Amos, seeking to clear up the identifications, said the passengers "didn't have a chance in the world" to escape.

Spectators related that flames enveloped the coach so fast that none of the passengers could escape. One man standing nearby said he heard no screams.

Officials estimated eight of the dead were railroad employes "dead-heading" home after concluding their runs. Most of the passengers' victims were residents of the Akron district.

Two firemen on the freight train, which had two locomotives, were burned slightly as they fled the flames after breaking to a stop.

Engineer O. M. Lodge, of Columbus, O., on the lead locomotive, said:

"I had the signal to go ahead at Akron station. I was going straight through when I saw the doodlebug coming around the bend. I blew my whistle and tried to slow down. It was no use.

"When the crash came, burning gasoline was thrown up into my cab. It burned by face. I jumped back and went over the coal car to escape the flames."

It was the second big American railroad tragedy in four months. Thirty-one persons died in the wreck of the New York Central's Lake Shore limited at Little Falls, N. Y., April 19.

Training Act Restrictions Are Demanded

Vote on Measure Is Delayed to Monday By Senate Sponsors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Beset by demands that the Burke-Wadsworth military training bill be further restricted, the senate military committee agreed today to delay a vote on the measure until Monday and the senate put over until that day consideration of a bill for calling out the national guard.

The latest proposed restriction was advocated by Senator Lee (D-Okla.) with the support of Senator Bridges (R-Nh). It would limit to 1,000,000 the number of men between 21 and 30, inclusive, who could be conscripted for training.

Sharp curtailment of military registration plans failed to win over leading senate opponents of conscription.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) declared the action of the senate military committee in voting to limit registration of men between 21 and 30, inclusive, did not alter his objections to the compulsory training program.

The original Burke-Wadsworth bill called for registration of all men between 18 and 64, with only those between 21 and 30 likely to come under an immediate selective draft.

Wheeler announced, however, he would not oppose legislation authorizing the president to call out the national guard and officers' reserve corps for a year's intensive training.

Democratic leader Barkley decided to take up that bill in the senate this afternoon.

While senators were deep in the debate over manpower, they received from the house a quickly approved bill adding $4,963,151,957 to the vast preparedness fund. The money, asked by President Roosevelt, would begin work on the proposed "two-ocean navy," provide 14,334 more army and navy planes, and purchase equipment for 2,000,000 soldiers.

Opponents of the conscription bill have been advocating greater efforts to obtain voluntary army enlistments.

The senate military committee made a concession on that point by voting to reduce the enlistment period from three years to one year and to make voluntary service available to all men 18 to 34, inclusive.

There were indications the house military committee would follow the lead of the senate group in requiring registration only for men from 21 to 30, inclusive.

AIR RAIDS BY GERMANS CONTINUE

As Camden Blazed

At least 10 persons were missing, 650 were homeless and uncounted other persons were injured in the spreading blaze which swept through the industrial and residential section of Camden, N. J., following a series of blasts in a grease and paint plant. Firemen are shown as they fought to check the flames in the shadow of a falling wall of the gutted plant.

Ports Bombed As Warfare Speeded Up

Damage Minimized In Reports Given By British Chiefs

Nazi bombers, favored by improved weather, spread the war of aerial attrition up and down the English coast today, hammering away with high explosives at the ports which link a world empire.

The British ministry of home security, however, minimized the damage inflicted by the raiders.

At the same time, sources close to the German high command gave point to a statement of Virginia Gayda, authoritative fascist editor, that Britain would be brought low by bombing and blockade by declaring that Germany had again attacked the vital channel port of Dover yesterday—the second time in three days. Other English harbors also were attacked, these sources said.

Military observers in Germany also emphasized the point of making the ports useless.

Britain's own counter strategy of extending her blockade from the Arctic to North Africa brought word from Tokyo today, through Domei, Japanese news agency, that the Japanese ambassador at London would protest, declaring Japan's trade with Spain, Portugal and other neutrals would suffer.

And while western Europe waited for a possible outbreak of blitzkrieg methods against Britain—for many were skeptical of Gayda's statement and apparent German agreement with the notion—there was excitement and gaiety in Russia.

The supreme soviet, Russia's parliament, convened to welcome formally the states of Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania into the union. All three voted the union last month.

Germans intimated that invasion is not the immediate picture—but said the battle of Britain already is on.

That battle went into its new phase last Monday when dive bombers concentrated in a harbor-wrecking attack on Dover, German military observers declared. Now, they said, the stukas can smash the rest of England's harbor and shipping facilities port by port.

The British, who have conceded some damage to southeastern ports, broadened their own blockade effective at midnight last night from the Arctic to Africa.

In the South Atlantic east of Brazil warships were believed to have taken up the chase of a German raider which sought to draw with the British merchant ship Alcantara.

At least one direct hit killed two and wounded seven aboard the 22,000-ton Alcantara and 500 out of the merchant cruiser's speed that she had to give up the chase and limp to Rio de Janeiro, 660 miles east of the Brazilian island of Trinidad, where the fight took place. The raider with disappearing guns fled behind a smoke screen.

Elsewhere in the war at sea, British announced the sinking of the 1,375-ton Delight, 29th British destroyer lost in the war, after a bombing attack.

The Italian high command said Italian fliers had sunk a British destroyer in the eastern Mediterranean July 28, but did not identify it, and also claimed the air force destroyed two British planes in a fight over Malta.

An RAF communique issued at Cairo, Egypt, said two Italian submarines had been sunk in the Mediterranean last night, and an Italian fighter plane had been shot out of a formation yesterday in an attempted raid on Malta.

A Madrid radio broadcast said a battle squadron of three British battleships, an aircraft carrier, four destroyers and five submarines headed into the Mediterranean from Gibraltar on an undisclosed mission.

Ills of Oil Industry Outlined By Sinclair In Austin Meeting

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Aug. 1.—Harry F. Sinclair asserted at a statewide program hearing before the railroad commission here today that the real trouble with the oil industry was that those who determine prices of petroleum products do not choose to sell at a fair price.

Sinclair, chairman of the board of Consolidated Oil Corporation, outlined for the commission and scores of Texas oil operators what he termed ills of the industry.

These included:

Too much oil and virtually the lowest prices in history for oil products.

Immense increased costs and capital required to produce a barrel of oil.

A pegged price for crude that bears no proper relation to increased production costs.

The proposal that refiners make less gasoline, Sinclair asserted, is "just another of those false pretenses by which we are surrounded and provides no path out of the wilderness."

"My main reason for this opinion," Sinclair said, "is that most of us know that the amount of distress gasoline, that is, gasoline for which there is no market at a fair price, is so small as to be an unimportant factor."

He added that the big gasoline stocks of which so much is heard are in the hands of people who don't have to sell unless they want to.

"The little fellows, the so-called chiselers, the bad boys who get a cargo now and then that they sell below market price, have no storage space for the contributors to the heavy burden of stocks," he continued.

"They have always been with us, and in my opinion will always be with us, and it is time to stop using them as an excuse or an alibi for the doing of the so-called major units of the industry."

"The real reason why the industry is not making any money out of its domestic business, and why it cannot pay as much for crude as it is paying now, is that those who determine the price for petroleum products do not, for their own reasons, choose to sell their goods at a fair price.

"I do not pretend to be in their confidence and certainly they do not tell me their secrets, so I can only draw inferences from their acts."

One of Sinclair's companies recently reduced the posted price of crude in north and central Texas fields.

As to regulatory agencies, Sinclair had this to say:

"I know that our highest courts have upheld in some cases the acts of regulatory commissions. I still believe that a clear-cut case involving arbitrary and capricious shut-downs for the prevention of waste, but actually having no real relation to such a purpose, will be upheld. If necessary, it is my intention to test this belief in the courts."

Sinclair said he shared with most Texas a strong aversion to further extension of government control of the oil industry but a continuation of a system "half free and half slave" or under a compact which holds some states rigidly in check and permits others to do as they please would result in federal control.

"This would be a bitter pill, but we may be forced to take it if the states and the industry do not soon prove that they can cure their own ills," he said.

"So far as I am concerned, as between the present situation—under dominance of those who now determine the prices at which products shall be sold—and government control, fairly and intelligently exercised, I am ready to advocate government control."

SEATTLE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Union employes of the Boeing Aircraft Corporation's three Seattle plants, acting on appeals that they do nothing to retard national defense production, voted last night to threaten a strike for at least ten days a day.

The workers, who are opposing a proposed reduction in wages in lower brackets, authorized their negotiations committee to continue their efforts to reach a settlement with the company.

Their decision came at a mass meeting, just an hour and a half before the midnight deadline they had set for the walkout. The workers voted to remain at their post shortly before a telegram was received from Secretary of Labor Perkins urging them to postpone the strike action.

The vote after a similar telegram was read from J. R. Steelman, labor department commissioner of conciliation in Washington, D. C.

C of C Program to Be Broadcast Today

Inaugurating its series of regular weekly broadcasts, the Midland Chamber of Commerce will present a radio program over station KRLH, Midland, Friday afternoon from 6 to 6:15 o'clock, future programs to be presented at the same time each Friday afternoon. The programs, to be known as "Your Midland Chamber of Commerce Program," are sponsored by the chamber's publicity committee.

Guest speakers on the initial program tomorrow afternoon will be Mayor M. C. Ulmer who will inaugurate a series of talks on "Making America Stronger," Roy DeVolfe, Midland musical instructor, will be the guest artist on the program.

Purpose of the broadcasts will be to inform citizens of the community of chamber of commerce activities and other matters of interest to the community as a whole and to invite closer interest and cooperation of the citizens in affairs of the chamber of commerce. Programs each week will feature prominent speakers of the community along with one or more entertainment numbers by local talent.

Worst Heat Wave of Year Smashed When East Gets Rainfall

Rains followed by cooling winds today partly smashed the summer's worst heat wave.

Some of the parched areas continued warm but generally relief reached most of the territory that had sweltered under blazing sun and high humidity for two weeks. The death toll stood at 102, of which 492 were caused by heat prostration and 520 by drowning. Lightning killed scores of others.

Rain arrived late yesterday in Washington, D. C., to break the worst heat wave there since 1930. Moderate temperatures were forecast for today and tomorrow. The 13-day siege in the Maryland collapsed under showers and cooling breezes.

In New York state, the mercury fell to 57 in Albany and 62 in Buffalo last night and today began with moderate temperatures which were expected to continue through tomorrow.

Pennsylvania temperatures were in the middle 80's today with cool weather in prospect tomorrow. Forecasts said heat might return over the week end. In Michigan, the mercury fell to 55 this morning and 65 was the highest predicted for today.

Despite widespread thunderstorms, temperatures continued high in Nebraska. Grand Island had 102 yesterday and Hastings suffered serious damage from a windstorm. Morning temperatures in that state were about par with yesterday's.

Temperatures in Chicago remained in the comfortable 70's overnight. Similar conditions were forecast for today with possibly a rise to 90 tomorrow.

Tubing Pulled, New Oil Prospect Ready To Test Formation

BY FRANK GARDNER

An unconfirmed late report stated that tubing had been pulled this morning from Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company and Seaboard Oil Corporation No. 1-A Midland Farms Company, southeastern Andrews county prospect northwest of Midland, preparatory to running Halliburton "Jeep." Before pulling the 2 1/2-inch tubing, which was set on bottom at 4,873 1/2 feet, with wal-packer at 4,800, the well had been swabbing an undetermined amount of free oil together with drilling water which penetrated porous formation from 4,850 to total depth. Plans of operators after running formation tester have not been announced.

New semi-wildcat for the west side of the Wasson field in southern Yoakum, a mile south of the Robberts area, has been started by Shell Oil Company, Inc. at No. 1-B Hudson, 440 feet out of the northwest corner of section 88, block D, J. H. Gibson survey. Seven and five-eighths inch surface pipe was cemented at 302 feet with 100 sacks, and the test is drilling below 1,580 feet in red rock.

Dunigan Brothers and Frank J. Brahaney No. 1 Pharr, in the Wasson field, established daily potential of 945.52 barrels of 36.2-gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 665-1 after acidizing with 10,000 gallons in pay lime from 5,149 to 5,250 feet, total depth.

The Sloan & Zook Company and Tom W. Sloan No. 1 Waples-Platter Company, southeastern Yoakum wildcat three-quarters of a mile northwest of Shell No. 1 Waples-Platter discovery well, topped brown lime at 4,850 feet, according to sample analysis. The point occurred 797 feet below sea level, which is correlated by some as 24 feet below the Shell well. The new test is drilling ahead past 4,570 feet in anhydrite and sand.

Gasoline Export Ban Scored by Japanese As Move Against Axis

TOKYO, Aug. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt's ban on the export of aviation gasoline to points outside the western hemisphere was interpreted by the admiralty spokesman today as a move against Japan, Germany and Italy which might lead to "repercussions."

The spokesman also interentially warned foreign powers against interference in current round-up of persons—apparently mostly Britons—suspected of espionage. He said this was entirely an internal affair, and in this connection he warned newspaper correspondents against "illegitimate activities."

The America aviation gasoline embargo, he said, was "an attempt to kill two birds with one stone," namely the Rome-Berlin axis and Japan.

"Under whatever pretext the order on aviation gasoline was issued," he said, "it undoubtedly is designed to exert economic pressure on Japan."

"If America continues on the same lines it is bound to cause repercussions."

(President Roosevelt signed the order yesterday in "the interest of national defense," a White House announcement said. Japan, although formerly a good customer for American aviation gasoline, has received practically none since a "moral embargo" was imposed by the U. S. last year for the bombing of Chinese civilians. During the first six months of 1940 Germany and Italy likewise bought no American aviation gasoline, practically all of the export going to Britain and France.)

The admiralty spokesman declined to discuss the round-up of espionage suspects on the ground it was still under way.

The chief of The Associated Press, Bureau in Tokyo, Reiman Morin, was questioned by Japanese gendarmes for several hours last night concerning his dispatches on the death of Melville James Cox, British newspaperman who died while under arrest in the alleged espionage round-up.

Morin was taken from his office to the gendarmerie headquarters for the questioning, during which time no communication with him was permitted.

The Japanese said that Cox jumped to his death from a window while being questioned.

Molotov Declares Russia Not Taking Any Part in War

MOSCOW, Aug. 1 (AP)—Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov told the Russian parliament today that Soviet Russia "is not taking part in the war" and predicted its early intensification with "England, assisted by the United States," on the one hand fighting Germany and Italy on the other.

Recent events, including collapse of France, had only served to improve Russia's relations with Germany, Molotov declared in a four-month review of foreign relations, while saying better understanding with England could hardly be expected in view of past anti-soviet manifestation on the part of the British government.

"Of our relations with the United States," Molotov said, "I can be said that the United States do not like our success, especially in the Baltics; but we are not interested. We can get along without the help of these misers."

"We support the protest of the governments of Baltics at freezing their gold in the United States. We warn the United States and England they will be held responsible."

Warning that the status of Finland in the soviet's good graces is entirely "up to Finland," Molotov said certain circles there must discontinue their anti-soviet tendencies or there would be a deterioration of relations.

Britain, he said, is trying to "scare" Russia with the prospect of a clash with Germany, but he declared this was "impossible."

Damaged Cruiser in Rio De Janeiro Port

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 1 (AP)—The heavily gunned British merchant ship, Alcantara, was damaged in a running battle with a German raider in the south Atlantic, steamed slowly into the harbor here at mid-morning.

It was reported that the 22,000-ton Alcantara would dock at shipyards on the island of Vianna for repairs.

British warcraft presumably were continuing pursuit of the raider, as indicated in an admiralty statement in London yesterday.

An embassy statement said the sea battle occurred near the Brazilian island of Trinidad—well within the American neutrality zone—and that both ships were hit, the Alcantara suffering "slight damage."

Midland poll tax payers are getting their money's worth this year, in spite of the fact that many didn't get much heated up over the first primary. Hardly have we put the first round out of the war, with a couple of sheriff candidates, state representatives, railroad commissioners and a few high court judges left for the runoff, when we are to get a chance to vote again on the question of whether or not the sale of beer will be continued in Midland county and precinct one.

And it won't be long until the city will have a proposition up for enlarging the water system, to take care of this growth of population. Details of this proposal will be announced as soon as engineers and bond men are ready with the needed information.

When the general election rolls around in November, it will be a matter of FDR or Wilkie, with the added event locally of deciding on a new charter for the city of Midland. So any man who paid his dollar six bits for a poll tax will have to admit he got action on it.

However, one voter said he had expected to get two chances to vote for O'Daniel, but the opposition couldn't combine enough votes to get anybody in the runoff.

Then will come the Aug. 24 runoff.

Inland Built Schooner Still Recalled as "Ark"

WATERBORO, Me. (U.P.) — Neighbors nick-named Josiah Sweet "Noah" when he and his son William built a schooner on the side of Mt. Ossipee, 35 miles from the ocean.

It happened in 1818 but natives still recall the "ark" which took two years to build and was hauled to the sea by 50 yoke of oxen.

Josiah had moved from the seacoast town of Wells in 1800 to a farm here. He talked often of the sea with his first son William and together they decided to construct "The Waterborough."

In 1820 the vessel was ready to launch. The neighbors were still skeptical but they volunteered their services and oxen. The launching party camped out two

GUANTANAMO BUZZES AS U. S. BOLSTERS BASE GUARDING PANAMACANAL APPROACH

This is another story from Thomas J. B. Wenner, Cleveland College professor who is touring the Caribbean area vital to American defense—for NEA Service and The Reporter-Telegram.

BY THOMAS J. B. WENNER
NEA Special Correspondent

GUANTANAMO, Cuba.—The naval and marine station commanding the best approach from the North Atlantic to the Panama Canal, is being strengthened daily. A tightening atmosphere of tension cuts the station off increasingly from normal contacts with Cuba surroundings.

Life at the base, a hum-drum affair in normal times, moves at a quickened pace as preparations are made to receive substantial reinforcements.

New and larger quarters are building, and the permanent defenses strengthened daily. A whole hill was recently shoveled away because it interfered with the best approaches to the aid landing field.

MANY NEW RESTRICTIONS

GUANTANAMO naval base came under United States control under long-term lease after Cuba won its independence with U. S. aid in the war with Spain. It has been well-known to navy and marine corps men ever since.

But Caribbean and Panama Canal defense have brought the old base into the foreground again. On the far southeastern coast of Cuba, Guantanamo is hard to approach by land.

The bay itself is surrounded by undulating hills, heavy spiny undergrowth and extensive salt marshes.

It dominates the Windward Passage, that narrow channel between Cuba and Haiti which has been the best approach to the Caribbean area since Columbus.

Since early this year special permits have been required for visits to the station.

Cuban workers recruited from Guantanamo, Boqueron, and Caminera villages have been warned not to discuss improvements being made at the station.

Vendors who used to frequent the waters of the bay freely to sell small articles to the personnel have been closely restricted.

Photographs of the station are no longer freely sold as before, and taking of pictures is taboo.

Naval officers on leave say rumors of fifth column and spy activities brought direct orders from Washington to clamp down.

The naval stations is a small city in itself, with recreation buildings, baseball field repair shops, hospital, radio station, fleet canteen and movie, beside all the regular barracks and administration buildings.

The basic normal-time personnel of about 500 is being increased. No one will indicate by how many, but the station is getting ready to accommodate at least 1000 more men.

The improvements now under way will make the station less dependent on the Fleet Marine Station at Quantico Va.

Guantanamo Bay would in an emergency accommodate most of the U. S. Fleet. Early last year 120 units were concentrated there.

EYES ON ISLE OF PINES
THE United States, after the Spanish War, gradually relinquished rights to all Cuban bases except Guantanamo.

The new Cuban constitution, just adopted, prohibits Cuba from granting further naval, air, or army bases to any foreign power. But the question of a U. S. air

At a time when the conquering nazis are poised on the shore of the English channel, eager for the death-thrust at Britain, and our own country is rushing to strengthen its defenses, it is worth while pausing to consider why the world's greatest empire was unprepared for war and is now fighting for its life with back to wall.

Young John F. Kennedy, son of our heavily lime-lighted Ambassador to the court of St. James, today publishes a book (Wilfred Funk, New York) in which he expresses an engaging view of "Why England Slept." For reasons which will appear later I want to emphasize that serious-minded John Kennedy, who is the eldest of Mr. "Joe" Kennedy's nine children, has produced this important study at the age of twenty-three.

Among the causes assigned for England's unpreparedness are bad leadership; "a great lack of young progressive and able leaders"; the opportunity to the conservative party, which was in power, was the labor party "and labor naturally did not wish to lose its identity by joining wholeheartedly with the government on an armaments program."

There was a strong league of nations sentiment in England. "Then there was the closeness of the government to the English aristocracy which was opposed so strongly to war." Further there was the impossibility of matching Hitler's huge armaments expenditure without resorting "to rigid state control to prevent inflation and that would have been the end of capitalism and democracy."

I had the privilege of studying this situation myself at first hand, and finally was at Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and Munich to report the fateful conferences between Hitler and British Premier Chamberlain, exponent of "appeasement." With this background I find John Kennedy's book a thoughtful work which contains much common sense and keen analysis.

Still, I'm not so much concerned with his conclusions as with the fact that he is only twenty-three. Next time I meet his father I'm going to ask him whether—with all his great success and those nine base on the Isle of Pines is raised by the new constitutional provision.

Washington is known to have been interested for some time in a possible air base on this ancient island off the south coast of Cuba.

It is so situated as to make an excellent refueling point for planes operating out of Tampa, Fla.

There never has been any serious question that the U. S.—if it became absolutely necessary for the safety of the nation—would step in and make use of any of the facilities required by the situation.

Cubans understand this, and do not resent it overmuch because the United States has given ample proof of good-will in its support of Cuban independence and its abandonment of the Platt Amendment with its rights to intervene in Cuba.

But the inclusion in the Cuban constitution of the clause prohibiting any further bases, gives that country a fine bargaining point in case more are required.

Waiving of such a restriction might well be exchanged for economic concessions, especially favorable sugar quotas, on which the prosperity of the island depends.

Elderly Couple Scrambles Relationship by Marriage

WEED PATCH, Cal. (U.P.) — Here is one to bring up at puzzle parties:

When Dille Ann Darden, 61, and Thomas E. Dunn, 77, exchanged "I do's" at the altar, the bride's daughter found herself married to her brother—by marriage.

For the new Mrs. Dunn's daughter previously had married Dunn's son — which made Mrs. Dunn's son-in-law her stepson as well, and Mrs. Dunn's daughter's husband a stepbrother of his own wife.

I was invited to go to one of the fraternity houses and answer questions by students.

Some thirty fine young fellows established me in a big, throne-like chair in a corner of the living room, and then gathered about me in a semicircle on the floor. One of them came and sat beside me to act as spokesman.

"What have you to offer us?" he asked.

"Do you mean as to the prospect of having to go to war?"

"Not, especially," he replied. "But where do we fit in this changing world?"

There spoke the new American youth.

Self-Kicking Machine More Popular Than Ever As Inventor Opens It for Fourth Year

CROATAN, N. C., Aug. 1 (AP)—It's been three years since Craven county commissioner Tom Haywood built his self-kicking machine.

And this fourth summer it's being used more than ever before, although some skeptics had predicted at first its novelty would soon wear off.

Perhaps you don't know what a self-kicking machine is and have never heard of Tom Haywoods. Well, when you have done something that you feel you shouldn't have, and want to kick yourself for it, Haywood's machine will do it for you.

Thousands of persons have used the machine and it still is going strong, although Haywood has had to install a new belt, and a third set of new shoes will have to be added in a few weeks.

To use the machine you just stand before it and work a gadget and the shoes revolve on the belt and kick you in the favorite place for all kicks.

Haywood says one reason for his machine's increasing popularity is expert mechanical and body work Southern Body Works.

Fort Worth Jinx City To Pro Football Star
FORT WORTH, Texas (U.P.) — Kl Aldrich, center on the Chicago Cardinals football team and former all-American at Texas Christian University, thinks this town must be a jinx for his automobile.

When Aldrich was married here last spring, his new coupe was wrecked by a driver. Aldrich returned after the professional football season ended, rented a house and parked his car in front. A fire broke out in the car and caused $100 damage.

CATTON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY BRUCE CATTON
Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Nation-wide registration of aliens beginning Aug. 27 will be neither a glorified red-hunt nor a means of compiling a blacklist by which super patriots can chase foreign-born workers out of their jobs, if the man who is running the show has anything to say about it.

This man is Earl G. Harrison, a youthful-looking Republican lawyer from Philadelphia, who is working until midnight, five or six nights a week preparing the machinery which will make the names, finger prints and personal histories of from three to six million people part of the official records of the U. S. government.

Big idea is to find out exactly how many aliens there are in the country, where they came from, what they're doing and who they are. A good many liberals have been worried about the uses to which all of this data may be put. Here is Harrison's answer.

"The full extent of the government's policy hasn't been worked out yet," he says. "But two things are perfectly clear:

"First, Congress made it emphatic that these records are to be secret and confidential.

"Second, the lists will be available only to such persons or agencies as are approved by the attorney general.

"It's rather funny, maybe, but already we've had quite a reaction indicating that the foreign-born themselves aren't going to be nearly as concerned about this registration as some of our own citizens are. Most of these foreign-born people are used to this sort of thing, back home."

WONT HAVE TO CARRY CARDS

THE whole job is going to be handled by the Postoffice Department. Veteran postal employees in all first and second class postoffices, and in all postoffices in county seat towns, will have questionnaires which each alien must answer.

Wording of these hasn't been finally determined. They'll ask the alien's name, the date and place of his entry, his nicknames or aliases, if any, his criminal record if he has one, his occupation, how long he intends to stay and what he intends to do, what societies or organizations he belongs to, and so on.

The finger-printing part of the job is rather a headache. FBI agents are preparing a set of instructions so that the postal men will know how to do it.

Registration will last four months. The 1930 census showed something over 6,000,000 aliens in the United States. Best guess is that naturalization, deaths and emigrations have cut this to about 3,500,000.

Each alien's registration card and prints will be sent to Harrison's office in Washington. A receipt will be mailed to the alien and he'll be asked to keep it; but he won't be required to carry it around with him like a European card of identity.

PICKED BY BIDDLE

HARRISON was picked for this job by an old friend, Solicitor General Francis Biddle. He has never held public office before, although he has had a good deal of experience with the foreign-born; while working his way through the University of Pennsylvania, 20-odd years ago, he taught night school classes in English, and more recently he was president of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania legislation involving discrimination against aliens.

Savings Concern Opens Central Offices Here

The Investors Syndicate announced today the opening of its new agency office at 205 Petroleum building.

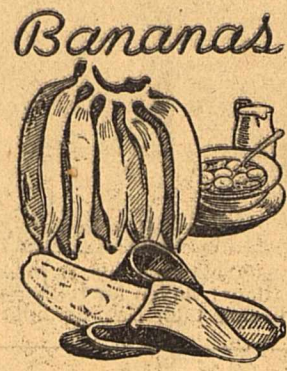

E. E. Murray of Dallas is here taking charge of opening the office and announces that the syndicate realizes the possibilities of this trade area, of which Midland is the center. They are consolidating the El Paso office, part of the Lubbock office and part of the Fort Worth office into one large centrally located office in Midland.

The new Investors Syndicate agency will serve clients as far east as Sweetwater, south including San Angelo to the Mexican border, west to the New Mexico line and approximately eighty miles to the north. C. M. Clisbee of Midland will act as district manager for the local and eastern territory, W. P. Coleman of El Paso for the western end and B. H. Meskimen for the northern territory. Each of these men will have openings for two qualified salesmen to be secured in the near future.

At present the Investors Syndicate has over a thousand large size accounts, representing several million in maturities for this community.

COWBOYS DROP OPENER TO GOLD SOX; MEET AGAIN TONIGHT HERE

Walks, Errors Give Visitors 10-2 Decision

The Midland Cowboys, after having broken a 15-game losing streak Monday night, dropped the initial game of the series with the Amarillo Gold Sox by a 10-2 score.

The Sox could get only eight hits off "Lefty" Kanagy but they bunched them with seven walks to win going away. The Cowboys, on their part, could get only six hits off "Lefty" Surratt, a younger brother of the "Tony" Surratt that played with the Midland semi-pro team several years ago.

Five Midland errors, two of them by Kanagy, helped with his undoing. However, the walks issued by Kanagy hurt more than the errors, five of the seven men that he put on first base scoring.

Two hits and three bases on balls in the first inning gave the visitors four runs. Three of the runs came when, with three on base and two out, Naranjo misjudged Sanders' liner in left field and let it fall for a double. The other run was driven across on Duarte's single.

There was no more scoring until the fourth when the Cowboys got two runs on doubles by Naranjo and Williams and a single by Rudes. Two unearned runs were made by the Sox in the sixth on two singles and an error by Rudes.

Kanagy retired the visitors in order in the seventh and eighth but lost control again in the ninth and three walks, a wild pitch and error by Kanagy let in another four runs. Meanwhile, Surratt was retiring the last nine men to face him and quell any chances of the Cowboys tying up the score or winning.

Cleveland, Detroit Remain Tied For American League Leadership

BY JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers still are deadlocked for the American League lead today, proving that miracles happen.

They won two of the strangest struggles yesterday that ever went into the records in their desperate efforts to elbow each other off the top rung.

The Indians squeezed past the Boston Red Sox 12-11. The Tribe was trailing 7-0 when it came to bat in the fourth and even after Ken Keltner hit a home run with the bases loaded Cleveland continued to lag behind until the eighth inning.

Finally rookie Russ Peters delivered a pinch single with the sacks filled to score the Indian's tying and winning runs.

Detroit had to come from behind four times to beat the New York Yankees 7-6 in 11 innings. The situation didn't get critical until the eighth inning when the Tigers came to bat trailing 4-2. Pinky Higgins tripled with the bases loaded to put the Tigers in front, but George Selkirk clouted a pinch home run with one on in New York's half of the ninth.

Detroit, undaunted, tied up the score with three singles and finally, in the eleventh with Lefty Gomez doing a relief chore for the champs, scored the winning run on two walks and Hank Greenberg's single.

Nothing, however, could have been wackier than the doubleheader at the St. Louis Cardinals swept from the pitiful Boston Bees, 3-1 and 17-8. The first game went 11 innings with Clyde Shoun and Dick Erickson wrapped in a pitching duel. Then Boston blew up and let hits in the batting practice that passed for the second game. Johnny Mize hit a homer in each contest to make his total 30 for the year.

Boston's losing streak was extended to nine games. And, mentioning streaks, Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees went hitless for the first time in 24 encounters in that side-show at Detroit.

The New York Giants put on one of the season's most dramatic finishes to beat the Cincinnati Reds. Bucky Walters was on the threshold of his 16th victory when Burgess Whitehead and Hank Danning each hit homers with a man on base in the ninth inning to beat him 5-4.

The Chicago Cubs were whipped 7-3 by the Phillies; the Philadelphia Athletics edged out the Chicago White Sox 4-3, beating the A's out of the cellar as St. Louis dropped a 13-5 decision to the Washington Senators.

San Antonio Hurler Holds Tulsa Hitless As Missions Take 2

By The Associated Press

The accent still was on pitching last night as the race for fourth place in the Texas League continued.

Head man was Loy Hanning of San Antonio who twirled a no hit, no run game against Tulsa in the nightcap of a doubleheader. The score was 4-0.

San Antonio had been shut out 8-0 in the opener on Clare Bertram's four hit exhibition.

Beaumont beat Fort Worth twice, 7-2 and 4-0, with a three-hitter by Charley Fuchs in the nightcap. Hal Manders held the Cats to eight blows in the first game.

Horace Lisenbee outpitched three hurlers as Shreveport edged out Oklahoma City 3-2. His was a seven-hit job.

Houston's leading Buffs downed Dallas twice, taking the first game 8-7 on Nick Cullop's homer and the second 4-3 on Ted Wilks' six hit pitching.

ODESSA WOMAN LEADS QUALIFIERS IN GOLF TOURNEY

Mrs. Francis Awtrye of Odessa, with a score of 98, was low scorer at noon today in the Women's Invitation golf tournament now under way at the Country Club course here.

Only 18 of the 40 ladies entered in the tournament had turned in qualifying scores at noon, the others to tour the course during the afternoon. Mrs. Awtrye's score was only one stroke better than the 99 turned in by Mrs. Harry Stalcup of Big Spring, one of the pre-tournament favorites.

In the mixed foursomes that officially opened the tourney yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Big Spring and Mrs. William Tate Neal of Odessa, paired with Morgan

Midland, took first place prize with low score.

Following Mrs. Awtrye and Mrs. Harry Stalcup with low scores were Mrs. W. B. Harkrider and Mrs. Woody Sewell of Odessa with scores of 103. Other scores were: Mrs. Reed of San Angelo 102, Mrs. Jno. Rush 106, Mrs. Bill Fritz 112, Mrs. H. S. Ellis of Odessa 113, Mrs. Chas. Miz 117, Mrs. E. B. Dozier 116, Mrs. J. W. McMillan 121, Mrs. Fred Hogan 122, Mrs. Bob Dickey 130, Mrs. Jimmy Brooks 127, Mrs. L. F. Shiplet 123, Mrs. H. S. Forgeron 144, Mrs. C. C. Dillon 129, Mrs. Bob Henderson 145.

The remainder of the day will be taken up with qualifying the entries and the long driving contest that was scheduled at five o'clock.

At 7:30 this evening, a barbecue supper will be held at the clubhouse and pairings for first round matches, to get underway in the morning at 7:30, will be announced.

At five o'clock tomorrow afternoon a cocktail hour will be held at the clubhouse, following completion of first round matches.

Plans for New Japanese State Totalitarianism Is Announced

TOKYO, Aug. 1 (AP)—The government of Premier Fumimaro Konoye announced today a plan for a brand new Japanese state, based on a sweeping totalitarianism at home and dedicated to an independent foreign policy which would extend Japan's domination southward over French Indo-China and the Dutch East Indies.

In a statement of policy the government outlined a strongly centralized and unified state designed for creation of "a new order for greater East Asia," with the Yen Bloc—Japan and her continental satellites whose currencies are based on the yen—as the foundation.

The statement failed to take Japan any closer to the Rome-Berlin axis despite the totalitarianism at home. It pulled Japan away from the other western powers, however, and called for an extensive rearmament program.

Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka said in an interview that Japan had discarded the policy of trying to win the friendship of "recalcitrant nations." As for the European war, he said Japan for the present would maintain a policy of non-involvement.

"We strive to make whatever friends we can under the prevailing environment," he said, "but henceforth he will not make a vain effort to grasp the hands of those countries which cannot be turned into friends."

The government's statement coincided with the phrase "greater East Asia" in naming the sphere Japan aims to dominate—previously it had been simply "East Asia," meaning Japan, Manchoukuo and the occupied sections of China.

Of this Matsuoka said: "Needless to say, the term 'greater East Asia' includes the south seas. The final aim is establishment of a stabilizing force for a self-sufficiency embracing not only Japan, Manchoukuo and China, but also Indo-China and the East Indies."

"The government," said the statement, "will strive for repletion of armaments adequate for execution of the national policies by taking into consideration the new developments both at home and abroad."

Paralleling this will be construction of a national structure under which all citizens will be expected to serve the state and all resources under a planned economy will be directed toward strengthening of the national defense.

Lava streams seldom move down a mountainside faster than two miles an hour.

Snow may melt and fall as rain, but raindrops do not change to snow, which condenses from water vapor.

Sports Roundup

BY BILL WHITE

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—Autumnal madness: In listing sophisticated sensations to watch this fall, head your list with Clemson's Booty Payne. . . Both Auburn's halfbacks, Carl Happer and Bud Wendling are reserve second lieutenants in the U. S. army reserves. . . Davey O'Brien and Phil Phibbs, plunger, has recovered from that appendicitis operation and is as good as new. . . Louis Sharpe, Oklahoma's rangy end, boasts a straight "A" scholastic average.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Dan Desmond, Sioux City (Ia.) Journal: "On their fighting record to date it looks like the Dodgers have given up on the world series assignment. . . Mike Jacobs must have told them to punch out decisions over the Phillies and the Bees next and they can have a shot at Joe Louis in the fall."

Howard Poeltl, 19-year-old southpaw of the Houston Buffs recently turned in his second straight four hitter for his 17th win of the season. . . Don't be surprised if Barney Walls, snappy second sacker of the Milwaukee Brewers climbs into a White Sox uniform. . . The Montreal Daily Herald says the Detroit Tigers paid 25,000 bucks for George Stinback, the hard-hitting Montreal outfielder.

From The Mailbag. "The Denver Post's 25th annual baseball tournament, copied by many but equalled by none, starts Thursday with 18 entries from nine states. Since 1922 the teams have split $38,684 in prize money in what we modestly call the 'daddy of all baseball tournaments.' Anyone of ten clubs can win this year's meet—and probably will. As a former Post wage slave doesn't that make you homesick? The line for reserved seats forms on the right."—C. L. (Poss) Parsons, Post Sports Editor. What, no passes?

Golf Goings-On. Jack Keele, young Washington, D. C. par buster comes up with the season's best golf score. Playing the 6,028 yard Capon Springs (W. Va.) par 70 golf course he checked in with a fancy 69. He had a 22 going out, but came back in 27 strokes, during which he posted four birdies and an eagle in succession. His score card was signed by E. H. Horton, an att'y. with the dept. of justice and by Lt. Col. C. B. Spruit, M.C., U.S.A.

France Clamps Down on Her Most-Hated Man--Mandel

BY MILTON BRONNER
 NEA Service Staff Correspondent

MANY a French politician who formerly trembled at mention of Georges Mandel probably threw his hat in the air when the Hitlerized Petain government of France announced a "judicial investigation" into roles played by former Premier Daladier and some of his ministers in the military catastrophe which brought France low.

For Georges Mandel, one of those ministers, is probably the most-feared and best-hated man in all France because he knows too much. He has—or had—a most complete file on the public and private lives of every French politician.

When Clemenceau in the last years of the World War became Georges Mandel... most hated and best-feared man of France.

Premier, Mandel went along as his private secretary. Clemenceau not only pushed the war-making of his country, but he squelched the traitors and almost-traitors. Mandel was his right hand man in this.

It was then, with Clemenceau's almost totalitarian power in back of him, that Mandel gathered his dossiers on all the Frenchmen in public life. These dossiers not only had the life stories of the men, but little side chapters about how and where they made their money, their peccadilloes, their "sweeties," all the things they wished most secret.

Mandel never had to use these dossiers. He never threatened. He never bullied. People just fought shy of attacking him and his boss, because they wanted sleeping dogs to keep on sleeping.

Mandel got his first cabinet post when Premier Flandin made him minister of communications in November, 1934.

In 1938 Daladier made Mandel minister of colonies and he held the same post in the Reynaud cabinet.

Right now the most-hated and best-feared man of France is in a pretty tough spot.

we wonder why, as a friend of ours told us yesterday, the honeymoon ended when Wifey gave him canned pork and beans for dinner and gave the pork chops to the dog? We wonder how many people realize that a used car is not any old car that someone has discarded; many trade in their car every year for the latest model, and the old car is just nicely broken in.

Selected Stocks Show Slight Gains

BY VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Aug 1 (AP)—Selected stocks displayed moderately progressive tendencies in today's market but many leaders jogged over a slightly irregular trail.

Price changes, on the whole, were without particular meaning in

Wool Market

BOSTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Demand for wool was dull and quotations on domestic wools were inclined to weaken in the Boston market today. Mill buyers apparently have covered their immediate needs and seem hesitant to make any sizable purchases in anticipation of future requirements.

Sales of spot wools consisted mostly of small lots of fine territory wools, in original bags, at around 78-83 cents, scoured basis.

May Be Secretary Of Agriculture

Considered naving the inside track for Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's portfolio, "if, as and when," it is available, is Rep. Marvin Jones, above, of Amarillo, Tex. As Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee he has steered most New Deal farm bills through the House.

view of the lightness of dealings transfers were around 300,000 shares. Outstanding speculative inspiration, brokers said, was lacking in the general run of news, either from foreign or home sources. While business prospects remained a sustaining influence, many traders inclined to keep commitments small pending fresh Anglo-German developments.

Stocks favored most of the day—some eventually wavered—were Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, International Paper Common and Preferred, Union Bag & Paper, Westinghouse, General Electric, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Glenn Martin, Sperry, United Aircraft, Kennecott and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Texas Corp. slipped a notch or so in the wake of the president's ban on export of aviation gasoline. Other oils were listless. Backward were International Har-

Tarzan-Like Antics Are Costly—$100 Fine

OKANOGAN, Wash. (U.P.)—Ray Keech, itinerant woodcutter, emulated Tarzan in a forest near Okanogan, leaping on the back of a doe deer and killing it with his jackknife.

But later he learned that such a trick was all right for Tarzan but not for him. Haled into court on a charge of illegal possession of venison, Judge Howard Vieh fined him $100.
