Four Eldorado Residents Are Slain On Ranch Burke-Wadsworth Conscription Measure Passed By The House Mightiest Raids Of War Are Unloosed By Nazis Upon British Cities

60-Day Delay For Volunteers Written in Bill

Age Limit of 21-45 Must Be Okayed by Senate Conferees

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The House passed the Burke-Wadsworth peace-time conscription bill tonight, but with a provision that the actual draft be deferred for 60 days to permit further trial of the volunteer enlistment system.

A vote of 207 to 200 reaffirmed the earlier, tentative decision to defer the actual drafting of men. This provision is not contained in the Senate bill and it, with other changes, raised the possibility of time-consuming delay in getting the two houses to agree on the final form of the measure.

The House measure would require all men between 21 and 44 inclusive to register and make them liable to the draft, while the Senate bill fixed the age limits at 21 to 30 inclusive.

The bill will now go back to the Senate with a request that the House amendments be approved.

The Senate will decline to do so, and each chamber will appoint representative for the task of bringing the two bills into conformity.

Amendment Fought
Since the 60-day postponement provision was defeated in the Senate by only two votes any effort by the conferees to drop it—the war department is opposed to the provision—would encounter intense opposition.

Some were suggesting a compromise formula which would involve retaining the House's sixty-day postponement and the Senate's age limit figures.

Up to the last, the postponement amendment, whose author was Rep. Fish (R-NY) was subject of deep controversy. Its supporters contended that since the war department actually planned to induct no conscripts into the army before the second week of November, the National defense program would in no way be delayed.

Opponents of the Fish amendment, on the other hand, sternly charged that some were backing it in an effort to "scuttle" the bill and others for the purpose of postponing the actual draft until after they have stood for reelection in November.

In any event, the amendment permitted the war department to go ahead with the resignation of those who are liable for service. In the meanwhile, it directs that the President issue an immediate call for volunteers, and if the total of such enlistments in 60 days is less than 400,000 permits a conscription of enough men to bring the total of recruits to that figure.

Thus, if the provision is retained finally and the bill is passed, all men within the age limits which are finally agreed upon will be required to register at a time and place to be designated. They will be classified as to physical condition, special skills, dependents and the like, and later the eligibles will be chosen by lot, for 12 months training or service anywhere within the Western Hemisphere, or in the Philippine Islands.

400,000 Men Expected
Until the Fish amendment bobbed up to complicate the program the war department had planned to draft about 400,000 before Jan. 1. See (CONSCRIPTION) Page 6

Attention of Oilmen Centers On Dawson County Wildcats

BY FRANK GARDNER
Dawson County held oilmen's interest at the week's close as wildcats at opposite ends of the county showed marked thinning of section, with resultant favorable structural position.

In northwestern Dawson, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 A. Sandidge Heirs topped solid lime at 4,470 feet, according to tentative picks, and thereby indicated approximately 300 feet of thinning between the brown and solid lime as compared to producers in the Cedar Lake pool of northeastern Gaines County, three miles west by north.

It had been 347 feet low to Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 J. B. Rayner, Cedar Lake discovery, on brown lime marker topped at 4,210 feet. No. 1 Sandidge yesterday was drilling ahead at 4,595 feet in lime. It is 2,200 feet from the south and west lines of section 110, block M, E. L. & R. R. survey.

Also showing thinning was Sloan & Zeno, Company No. 1 J. L. Spert, extreme southeastern Dawson wildcat in the southeast corner of section 22, block 34, township 4 north, T. & P. survey, which topped frosted quartz grains in the Yates sand zone at 2,180 feet, datum of plus 678. According to some correlations the marker is 20 feet higher than in Ray A. Albaugh No. 1 Dewey Hogg, failure two and one-quarter miles to the northwest. No. 1 Spert had been 30 feet low to No. 1 Hogg on anhydrite topped at 1,950 feet. It now is drilling past 3,045 feet in anhydrite sand.

Wasson 'Mystery Well'
A. G. Carter No. 4-D A. L. Wasson, deep "mystery well" on the Gaines side of the Wasson field of Yoakum-Gaines Counties, will be carried to 6,750 feet, it was learned yesterday. The test last was reported at 6,400 feet. Seven-inch casing was cemented at 5,190 feet, through the regular Wasson pay.

Dunigan Brothers & Frank J. Branney No. 1 C. B. Shipley, in the Yoakum part of the pool, rated daily production of 850.40 barrels of 420-1 after acidizing with 10,000 gallons in pay lime between 5,162 and 5,255 feet, total depth.

Also in the Wasson, Alcoa Oil Company No. 3 W. S. Knight flowed at the rate of 415.44 barrels a day, following 880-quart nitro shot in pay zone from 4,940 to bottom at 5,306 feet. Oil is 32.8-gravity and gas-oil ratio 301-1. Shell Oil Company, Inc. No. 13-D George Baumgart set potential of 1,481 barrels of 33.2-gravity crude and gas ratio of 810-1 after 10,000-gallon treatment of lime from 4,890 to 5,157 feet, total depth.

Waples Flows by Heads
Argo Oil Company No. 7-A J. G. Comer Estate responded to 10,000-gallon acidization of lime from 4,970 to 5,210 feet, total depth, by flowing See (OIL NEWS) page 6

Great Fires in Many Districts Are Admitted

Hitler's Threat Is Borne Out by Latest Raids of Bombers

By The Associated Press
London shook with bomb blasts and roared with fires today in the mightiest effort of the German air force to make good on Adolf Hitler's threat to "erase" the cities of Britain.

The attacks, which Britain admitted and Germany boasted were the worst thus far, began Saturday afternoon and continued through the night.

While they were in progress, the House of Representatives in the defense-conscious United States adopted a conscription bill, but House amendments may delay concurrence by the Senate.

The Germans said they hurled millions of pounds of bombs on London, wreaking destruction in the east end, along the Thames, and on industries and airports.

The British officially acknowledged great fires in many districts, damage to electric utilities service and communications, and wide industrial destruction.

Claims Conflict
The Germans claimed 87 British planes were destroyed and 26 Nazi machines lost. The British said 95 of the raiders were shot down and 18 British planes were lost.

In ferocity and intensity the raids were unparalleled in the city's history.

The first attack came 17 hours after the sirens had sounded the all-clear at 11:30 p. m. Friday night. At 11:45 p. m. the Royal Air Force bombers were ranging over Berlin in the beginning of a destructive night raid in defiance of Hitler's threat to raze English cities unless the nocturnal attacks stopped.

In Rumania, Iron Guardists were reported authoritatively to have attacked a train in which King Carol was bound for Switzerland.

Antonescu Takes Control
Back in Bucharest, which Carol had left hurriedly Friday, the new military dictator Gen. Ion Antonescu took over the four top cabinet posts for himself, adopted the title "chief of state," and called upon the Rumanian people to anathematize the memory of their former leaders.

In Sofia, Bulgaria, thecession of southern Dobruja, long claimed by Bulgaria from Rumania, was announced by Bulgaria.

The Petain government in Vichy, France, announced the "administrative interment" of former Premier Paul Reynaud, from Premier Edouard Daladier and the former French Generalissimo Maurice Gamelin.

FRED WEMPLE WILL ATTEND TEXAS GOOD ROADS MEETING
Fred Wemple, third vice president of the Texas Good Roads Association, will attend a meeting of its executive board in Waco Monday. He is chairman of the association's membership committee.

Nazi Death-Writers Over London

Nazi "sign of death"—what seemed to be a smoke sign, written by a German plane, which hung briefly over metropolitan London as Nazi bombers opened "life-or-death" battle with Royal Air Force.

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Two Nazi air raiders were reported tonight to have machine-gunned an English train just after it had left a station on the southeast coast.

No injuries were reported immediately. The engine crew was said to have shrouded the train under thick black smoke and to have kept it going.

Londoners Remain Calm After Worst Bombing of the War

By DREW MIDDLETON
LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The glow of fire spread over sections of London tonight as German raiders launched a night-time attack after striking hard at the city late in the afternoon.

Taxis were huddled by the curbs and buses careened madly down the street.

The city appeared dead at first but as you walked there was plenty of life. Men and women in evening clothes, forsaking elegant dinners at elegant restaurants, were madly tagging buses.

"The children! oh, the children!" cried one woman. "They'll be frantic. Why don't you do something?" Her husband tried to comfort her.

Mexican Half Breed Ranch Hand Is Charged With Murder of Schleicher County Ranchman

ELDORADO, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—Bullets from a 30-30 rifle wiped out the Henry Calcote household of four near here. Bodies of Henry Calcote, 31, his wife, Dardanella Calcote, 20, his daughter, Patsy Irene, 2, and his mother, Mrs. Emma Calcote, 69, were discovered today after neighbors became alarmed at their absence.

Bodies of Calcote and his mother were found at 1:15 p. m. today in the kitchen of their ranch home 10 miles north of here. His wife and baby were found in a pasture midway between the Calcote home and Eldorado.

Arrest Made of Three Former French Leaders
VICHY, France, Sept. 7 (AP)—The three highest leaders of the old France—Former Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin and former Francis Edouard Daladier and Paul Reynaud—were arrested today in the "war blame" cases.

They were placed in detention at Chateau Chazeron, near Chateau Guyon. The specific accusations against them were not made known, nor was anything directly said as to their trial.

But the present government of Marshal Philippe Petain in its long preparations for a series of prosecutions against those it holds responsible for France's fall has charged that France was not prepared for war, that her then heads knew she was not and that they continued the struggle amid military blunders when it was obvious she could not win.

Daladier was premier when war was declared; Reynaud took over later and was in office until just before the surrender. Gamelin was head of the allied land forces until he was ousted in favor of General Maxime Weygand.

Daladier, it was reported, was taken into custody at his home in Vaulucise and as he was led away he told his son: "Whatever happens, remember it was not I who lost the war."

LYMAN, CANTRELL, RODEN AND TODD REACH TOURNEY SEMI-FINALS

Final Matches To Get Underway This Afternoon

Semi-final matches get underway at the Country Club course this morning in the tournament being played now with eight of West Texas' best golfers remaining in the championship flight.

Cap Lyman of Midland, medalist with a two to two record, meets Bill Stanton of Abilene in the first championship conflict. Harry Todd of Dallas, pre-tournament favorite, marched to the semi-finals through two easy victories and will meet Bill Roden of Glen Rose this morning. Todd, winner of two 4-3 matches Saturday, is expected to get more than a little bit of trouble from Roden. The red-head has been plenty "hot" in recent tournaments and is thoroughly capable of springing an upset.

The championship finals will get underway this afternoon at approximately two o'clock. Championship matches of other divisions will be started immediately after lunch.

Each of the semi-finalists won two matches Saturday to gain their present position. Lyman defeated the medalist Jimmy to dispose of W. P. Thurmond 2-1 in the first round and E. B. Dozier 2-1 in the second round. Todd beat Sid Faircloth of Odessa 4-3 in his first round and Buster Parrish of Ballinger by the same count. Warren Cantrell beat Bob Farmer of Odessa 3-2 in his opening round and finally managed a 1-up win in 20 holes over Bill Stanton of Abilene. Roden beat H. S. Ferguson 3-2 in his first round match and kept in the cup chase by defeating Max Boring of Odessa 3-2 in his second round match.

Midland's Football Pot Is Boiling

"Village Griper" Has His Say on Situation

Jess Rodgers Writes Facts; Team Needs Talent

Editor's Note: Anonymous letters seldom get attention in The Reporter-Telegram or any progressive newspaper. They usually are not worth the paper they are written on. But in Saturday's mail came a letter, entitled "I Want To Know Why," from a Midland football fan who signed an attached memo, "The Village Griper."

Football is the talk of the day in Midland and as all sports eyes now are on the gridiron game. As the letter is published, the writer "The Village Griper" explained his letter was written "in a friendly way and submitted just to be helpful and perhaps correct a situation that may become discouraging." He asked more complete coverage of Midland football and also more photographs. He will get both.

In a spirit of fair play Sports Writer Jess Rodgers was asked to answer the questions of the letter writer.

"I WANT TO KNOW WHY"

Editor:

"In the Midland Reporter-Telegram of September 5, 1940, under the heading of 'Bulldogs look ragged as they go through district tournament,' you writer took some very sarcastic and uncalled for cuts at the Midland high school Bulldogs in general and at some of the individual aspirants for said team at the same time.

"About the main attraction and interest for Midland sports lovers (and there are thousands during the next three months) will be this same group of boys all of whom are lovers of the great game of football and are working hard and long to learn the game and who do not get or do not expect one penny of remuneration for their efforts to represent the citizenship of Midland honestly, courageously and creditably.

"The assertion that the Midland and Stanton coaches had their respective teams 'socking' as though they had been training for two months instead of two days is a distinct reflection upon both of the coaches and if this statement is true the neither coach should be entrusted with the physical education and training of boys of this age.

"The Midland coach laments that he has only 20 boys reporting for the team while the much smaller town of Stanton has 30 boys. Odessa has 45 boys. Is there such a vast difference in the makeup, habits and desire of normal boys in either east or west of Midland? I don't think so. Is the lack of desire to play football just natural with Midland boys? I still don't think so and I further believe that the Midland coach is sticking his neck out every time he mentions that Midland boys have no inclination to make his squad or subject themselves to his tutelage on the gridiron. Something much be wrong.

"You state that 'E. G. Foster and Bill Hall are counted on as guards and though both are tough and willing, neither will weigh as much as 150 pounds.' I don't know either boy, but if they are tough and willing they could play on my ball team if they only weighed 100 pounds. If the nine boys mentioned as substitutes will not be of any material help to the team as your writer suggests, then those nine boys should be so advised in order that they may withdraw and leave Midland's 11 regulars to get the job done themselves.

"Why do the hullo-ballo in the next column about the San Angelo Bobcats with all the individual detail, data and praise? Simply the fact that San Angelo has a sports writer who is capable and is behind the Bobcats and boosting San Angelo and the team to the high heavens, which is as it should be.

"We in Midland are as proud of our Bulldogs as any community in these United States and we are going to back them to the last ditch, win, lose or draw.

"It is suggested that your writer be advised to refrain from his sarcastic, pessimistic, griping remarks and if he can't get behind these boys in a manner befitting a true Midlander, he should wend his way elsewhere and quit living unloyally off of this citizenship.

"The Midland high school Bulldogs are an asset to Midland and represent Midland just as much as the Midland rodeo, Lions, Rotary or any other club or civic group or body. They will also give Midland more publicity in cities in which they play than any of the groups mentioned. Furthermore they won't hurt our merchants and business men with the crowds they draw at home. Finally they provide us lovers of sport with three months of grand entertainment, in an area rather isolated and devoid of such entertainment.

"Midland usually does things up right, so I say 'Let's all get behind those Bulldogs.'

Sincerely,
"A Midland Citizen."

Radcliff Continues To Lead American

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Four steady hitters are poised for a drive to knock Rip Radcliff off of the American League batting leadership, but it won't be the first time the St. Louis veteran has been challenged this season.

Rip has been pacing the field since mid-July, his batting ranging from one to six points, but he has managed to shake off his rivals when they come too close. Rip slid down two points last week to 348, but his first place lead now is nine points as compared to his five-point edge a week ago.

Bracketed at 339 are the four who are given a fair chance of overtaking the consistent Browne outfielder—Joe DiMaggio of New York, Ted Williams of Boston and Luke Appling and Taft Wright of Chicago. While Radcliff was losing two points for the week Williams was losing six, Appling three and DiMaggio one. Wright sputtered to gain six points.

North Texas Favored To Cop Pennant In League This Year

DENTON, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—With the opening of the 1940 football season only two weeks off, pre-season speculations in the Lone Star conference seem to give a slight edge to Coach Jack Sisco's North Texas Eagles, last year's undefeated title-holders.

A three-way fight for runner-up laurels was expected to be waged between East Texas, Sam Houston, and Stephen F. Austin, West Texas seems destined to lounge near the cellar berth for the third straight year.

The NTSC Eagles will meet the Abilene Christian College team in Midland on the night of September 21. Tickets to the game are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Even though it has only nine lettermen back, only about one half the number of each of the other conference schools, North Texas nevertheless boasts of another title-contending team.

Down in the piney woods Coach J. E. (Red) Willis of Stephen F. Austin Teachers expects to have the best Lumberjack eleven since 1935, when the axmen ended in a three-way tie with North Texas and East Texas for the crown.

A disappointing third-place club last year, following two championship seasons, East Texas this fall is figured to be a big question mark in the conference race.

Coach Piny Wilson's Sam Houston Bearkats, surprise package in the LSC the past two seasons with second-place honors, are again figured to be the team to beat in the 1940 conference race.

Golfers Warm Up For Amateur Show

By BILL BONE
MAMARONECK, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The woods were full of trees and the fairways full of golfers as some 150 of the country's best amateurs warmed up today for the 44th National Championship, which begins Monday over the west course of the Winged Foot golf club.

There was a brisk breeze today which helped make the practice shotmaking difficult for some of the lads, but among those who bettered par were Wilford Wehrle of Chicago, rated one of the main threats to defending champion Marvin (Bud) Ward; Harold H. Mandy, Jr., Connecticut open and amateur title holder; Ed Meister of Cleveland, and Skip Alexander of Duke University. All shot one-under-par 71's, the best scores returned so far.

Of the 10 former champions entered, eight have checked in. Besides Ward, they are Chic Evans, Francis Omet, Jess Sweetser, Willie Turnest, Johnny Goodman, Johnny Fischer and George Dunlap. Max Marston and Jesse Guilford haven't shown up yet.

The field starts teeing off in threesomes early Monday. The low 64 will go into match play, with two 18-hole rounds a day Wednesday and Thursday, the 36-hole semi-finals Friday and the 36-hole final next Saturday.

Historic Old Tubac

The Spaniards garrisoned what is now Old Tubac, Santa Cruz county, Ariz., in 1752. Old Tubac became Arizona's first Mormon settlement in 1852, the state's most important settlement in 1858, and virtually was abandoned in 1861 due to Indian depredations.

5 Exporters Will Get Tiger Tryouts
DETROIT, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced the outright purchase of three pitchers, a third baseman and an outfielder from the Beaumont club of the Texas League today. They will report next spring. They are: Leslie Mueller, Beaumont's leading pitcher this season with 18 victories and 11 defeats.

Charles Fuchs, right-hander whom Beaumont bought this year from Oklahoma City. He has won 19 and lost 12.
Virgil (Fire) Trucks, pitcher with Beaumont since the close of the 1939 season.
Murray Franklin, 24-year-old University of Illinois graduate, who has played with Beaumont two seasons.

Robert Patrick, outfielder who has been with Beaumont all season. In 1938 and 1939 he alternated between and Alexandria.

BOSTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The New York Yankees got back on the victory trail today, blasting out a 4-3 decision over the fourth place Boston Red Sox, thanks to Marius Russo and Joe DiMaggio.

Russo, in chalking up his 13th victory of the season limited the Sox to eight hits.
DiMaggio, getting two blows in three appearances at the plate made his second appearance a most timely one, hitting his 29th homer of the season over the left field fence with the injured Hommy Henrich, on base.

Conn Gets Smart, Will Stay Away From the Bomber

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs and Billy Conn's "board of strategy" have seen the light.

They won't "feed" the Pittsburgh pretty boy to Joe Louis this year, in spite of his impressive 13th round knockout of Bob Pastor, in Madison Square Garden last night.

"Uncle Mike" made that plain today after talking with Johnny Ray, Billy's manager, about the immediate future of the white haired boy from the Smoky City, who although weighing only 174 pounds, has skyrocketed himself to the forefront of the heavyweight picture.

While paying Billy and Bob $10,297 each for his shares of last night's fight of $49,412, Jacobs explained, however, that Conn will not be inactive during the fall and winter, although he won't face Louis until late next spring, at the earliest.

As his next start, Conn is slated to tangle with Buddy Knox in Pittsburgh Sept. 30. After that, promoter Mike revealed, he is planning to put Billy back in the Garden here November 15 against another heavyweight, possibly Arturo Godoy or Tommy Farr.

With Conn out of the picture for the time being—and this is probably the wisest decision his handlers have made since they had him climb into a ring for the first time—Louis, too, may find himself idle for the winter. There is no heavyweight around who can make either an artistic or financial success of braving the bomber.

Meantime, Jacobs also announced that Henry Armstrong would put his welterweight championship on the line October 4 in the Garden against Fritz Zivic of Pittsburgh.

Playoff in the Texas League Opens Tuesday

DALLAS, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Texas League Shaugnessy playoff will open Tuesday at Houston and San Antonio.

The leading Houston Buffs entertain Oklahoma City.
San Antonio engages Beaumont. Beaumont lost to Houston 4-1 today to clinch second place in San Antonio in the regular season race.

Prior to today San Antonio had boasted a game and a half lead with two games to play.

The first round of the play-off will be three games out of five. The finals will be four out of seven. The regular schedule ends tomorrow.

Most human beings are born at night, but most twins are born around noon, according to a German authority.

Kermit Runs Over Stanton Buffaloes For 24-6 Victory

KERMIT, Sept. 7.—The 1940 school boy football season got underway Friday night when Stanton High Buffaloes were strung to the tune of 24-6 by the rough and ruddy Kermit Yellow Jackets. Strong offensive attack as well as a mighty forward wall in the line gave Kermit the ball game from the starting whistle. Wide end sweeps and piling up line smashes contributed four trips to paydirt for the Jackets.

Jimmie Myers, 130 pound Kermit back, made his way to score the first touchdown for the Jackets early in the first period. A fumble by the Buffaloes on their own eighth yard line gave the Jackets the ball in their first scoring threat. Giant holes opened by the line admitted Myers to the end zone. Late in the third period Myers crossed the line for the second time to take the scoring honors for the night. Algood and Neely each scored one touchdown for the Jackets.

The Buffs made their lone counter on a fumbled punt that was batted into the end zone and covered by Clinton, captain of the Stanton team. Slightly outweighed and in rather poor condition, the Buffs lacked the punch it took to score again.

Starting lineups:
Stanton ends Spinks
Egger tackles Robinson
R. White guards Thornton
Clinton guards Henson,
H. White Center; Backs: Henson, Turner, Davis, Chandler.

Kermit Vaughan ends Gober
Wade tackles Estep
Kennedy Guards Grigger
Gregg center; Backs: Myers, Algood, Odum, Watson.

Stanton 56 yards gained rushing 234
20 yards lost rushing 22
5 first downs 11
5 for 105 punts 1 for 35
Officials: Freels, Baylor; Martin, Texas Tech; Smith, Schreiner.

The Pony Express service lasted only 16 months, and its founders lost $100,000 in the venture.

Bulldogs Open Second Week of Workouts With Light Drill Booked This Afternoon

Gradually rounding into shape after a week of two-a-day drills, members of the high school football squad will take a light workout this afternoon as they open the second week of labor.

The boys went through only one drill yesterday, devoting most of the time to offensive pass plays. Husky Windell Williams, a regular end throughout the 1939 season, was in the backfield Saturday and hurling the ball accurately and long.

Williams had already been tabbed by the coach for backfield duty in the fullback slot and it now appears that he will do most of the passing to the team. Both White and Kelly are capable passers but not so cool under fire as Williams.

WHITE

Jim White, who missed workouts during the past week, was in uniform for yesterday's drill and showed little evidence of the recent illness that kept him out of uniform.

Little E. G. Foster was not in uniform yesterday, being forced to take it easy for a few days because of a boil on one knee. His guard position in the first string line was taken by Tony Watson, husky but inexperienced youngster. Several of the other boys are nursing bruises and various pains but the team as a whole came through the week in better than fair shape.

Drills each afternoon this week are scheduled for the boys as coaches Taylor, Clark and Johnson ready them for the first game of the season—with the Ysleta Indians here next Friday night.

The coaches have never had an opportunity to scout the Ysleta team and are completely in doubt over what defense to set up for the visitors. However they are working on several defenses and hope to be able to stop the Indians. Reports indicate Ysleta has a veteran team that is due to cause plenty of trouble in the El Paso district.

EIDSON

"Boog" Eidson, eligible for his fifth year of play under the recently enacted 18-year-old rule, was back in the line yesterday afternoon following a week of play in the backfield. As long as White, Williams, Kelly, Bigham and Irvin Hall are available for backfield duty Eidson will probably remain in his old position at guard. He is the most experienced man on the squad and will likely get several chances to act as team captain this year.

On the receiving end of most of the passes thrown by Williams yesterday were end Maurice Bratton and White. Both showed a lot of ability at pulling the high ones down or living for shoestring catches.

WILLIAMS

Lack of weight in the line will probably force the coaches to depend upon passes this year more than ever before. Development of Williams, who has been considered only a fair passer before, comes as a pleasant surprise to the coaches. However, not all his time will be spent in tossing the pigskin. He is rated one of the hardest driving backs of this area, estimates on his ability having been formed two years ago when he played with the second team.

The current year marks the 500th birthday of printing from movable type, the 300th year of American printing, and the 250th anniversary of American papermaking, and also inaugurated the manufacture of newsprint in Texas.

Hunt Ousts Kovacs In "Sitdown" Battle To Reach Finals

By GAYLE TALBOT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP).—A crowd of 12,000 tennis zealots was treated today to the inspiring spectacle of two of the nation's prime young players sitting down on the Forest Hills stadium turf and refusing to continue to play for some time.

One of them, Joe Hunt, the midshipman from Annapolis, was sore while Frank Kovacs, the amiable eccentric from Oakland, Calif., was glad of it. Between the two of them they managed to put on perhaps the most unusual show ever seen in big league tennis and to enliven an otherwise unexciting program of quarter-final matches in the national championships.

Hunt had won the first two sets, 6-4 and 6-1, while Kovacs had clowned all over the joint and had himself a bushel of fun. Hunt, gradually got a neck-full of things as the match proceeded, and when the third set came around he suddenly popped.

The gallery was laughing at Kovacs' silly antics. Hunt, a very annoyed young sailor, demanded of the umpire, Le Van Richards, that the crowd stop giggling at Kovacs. When Richards declined to speak sternly either to Kovacs or the crowd, Hunt sat down on the base line and refused to accept service.

Kovacs seemed to think that was very funny so he sat down, too. There followed a crucial and electric five minutes in the history of old Forest Hills.

They went then and wrangled for a while longer around the umpire. Eventually they got to playing again, and Hunt ran out the final set, 6-4.

"I wouldn't have cared," Hunt said later, "if he had stood on his head if the crowd wouldn't have laughed at him. I pleaded with the umpire to make them stop laughing before I sat down."

Hunt, now that he's past the Kovacs menace, meets Bobby Riggs, the defending champion, tomorrow and will need only to try to defend himself in the clinches.

Bobby, suffering from a cold and running a temperature, was unusually serious today as he swept aside young Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., 6-1, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The other men's semi-finalists, decided yesterday, were Don McNeill of Oklahoma City and Jack Kramer of Belevedere Gardens, Calif.

Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, Calif., four-time former women's champion and Mary Hardwick of England both came back after losing the opening sets of their quarter-final matches today to qualify for tomorrow's play.

Miss Jacobs and Miss Hardwick clash in one semi-final tomorrow, with champion Alice Marble meeting Valerie Scott of England in the other.

Memorial to First Texas Oil Well Is Slated to Be Built

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 7.—A monument to the first oil well in Texas will be erected by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, it was announced today by E. I. Smith, president.

Commemorating the 45th anniversary of the discovery of Texas commercial oil production at Corsicana in October, 1895, the Texas Mid-Continent will give a bronze memorial plaque to Corsicana representatives at the association's annual convention here Oct. 31-Nov. 2, Smith said. The plaque will then be mounted on a miniature derrick or other base and dedicated with appropriate ceremonies at Corsicana.

Many of the pioneers in the discovery and development of the Corsicana field, first commercial pool opened in Texas, are expected to take part in the convention and the dedicatory ceremonies. The association is now trying to locate the drillers and members of the crew on the original well, as well as officials of the early companies there.

Plans for exhibition at the convention of the first rotary rig in Texas, which was used at Corsicana, also are being made. This and other early pieces of equipment used to open some of the many famous Texas oil fields are to be part of an historical display at convention headquarters. Original paintings and etchings of colorful scenes in Texas oil history will be another feature of the display, carrying out the convention's oil anniversary theme.

Since the completion of the first commercial oil well at Corsicana for 2 1/2 barrels daily production, Texas oilmen have drilled nearly 200,000 wells at a cost of around four billion dollars. From a production of 1450 barrels the first year of Corsicana, Texas output has climbed to half a billion barrels a year. Texas alone produces nearly two-fifths of all petroleum produced in the United States and now has over half of all the known oil reserves of the nation.

Swinging Door

Funds obtained from qualified lending institutions under the Modern Housing Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration may be used to replace an old-fashioned door between the kitchen and the dining room with a convenient swinging door that will be in keeping with the general trim of the room. The swinging door may be of a style identical with the other doors of the house and equipped with suitable hardware.

Dixie Walker Takes Nat'l. Batting Lead

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP).—An American League cast-off who has been one of the Brooklyn Dodgers' most consistent hitters, has finally wrenched the National League's batting title away from the younger set.

Young Carvel (Bama) Rowell looked for awhile as though he was going to steal the show, but the pressure always sets in during the dog days and that's when the "old men"—if they've got it—can come through.

Fred (Dixie) Walker, highly popular with the flatbush fans, picked up six points during the week to skyrocket into first place at .326.

Rowell, who started to skid last week but managed to stay up in front, lost seven points this week—and that was fatal. He now rests in a second place tie with Frank McCormick of Cincinnati at .322.

Attractive Home Planned Step by Step by Midkiffs

A rural home which is a beauty in the open range country of Midland County is that of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Midkiff south of Midland, according to Miss Alpa Lynn, county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Midkiff began her yard improvement program as a demonstration in her home demonstration club shortly after constructing a three room home in the community. With much less than ten dollars, saved from sale of home produce and from small change left from other purchases, evergreens were purchased in late winter for planting the entire foundation beds which had previously been planned in a home demonstration club meeting at the Frank Midkiff ranch place. Trees were also purchased and set for framing and shading the house and for screening the out-houses, wind charger, wind-mill and lots.

The lawn was set to Bermuda in the early spring, and in midsummer, an additional room was added with bed room bath and large clothes closet. A waste disposal system was dug for sink drainage in early summer, and running water installed in the kitchen, and at about the same time a cement porch was built onto the front of the house.

"Thus step by step, in one short year, the Frank Midkiffs have planned and constructed a home that is already like an oasis in the open grazing country of the County," says Miss Lynn.

Texas Tech Extension Courses Interest Many Of Midland's Citizens

Midland's well-educated citizens are interested in acquiring even more knowledge.

Interest displayed in a proposal by Texas Technological College, Lubbock, to establish an extension course center here surprised educational, business and professional leaders.

Almost daily the Chamber of Commerce receives inquiries about the extension courses. Two weeks ago, first announcement of the plan was made. Chamber of Commerce officials Saturday expressed the opinion that the courses probably had attracted more attention than any other educational project sponsored by the organization in some time.

Requirements Outlined

Dr. J. F. McDonald, director of the Extension Division of Texas Tech, met with a small group of chamber of commerce and school officials and other interested parties here and outlined requirements and provisions concerning the courses. He came to Midland on invitation of the chamber of commerce.

He pointed out that Texas Tech offered any number of extension courses which could and would be brought to Midland if citizens were interested.

A minimum enrollment of 21 persons is required to obtain a course, he said. The enrollment fee is $15 per person. Persons taking the course must be willing to devote one night a week to serious study under the guidance of a capable instructor and they must be willing to do some outside reading and thinking on the problems of the course selected. Dr. McDonald advised, Dr. McDonald said it will require approximately four months to complete a course.

Suggests Two Courses

After returning to Lubbock, he wrote the chamber of commerce:

"It is my judgement that Texas Tech has a lot of good things for Midland, and that Midland has the citizens who will bring them to the community. After our conference, it is my present conviction that there is an opportunity for two kinds of extension service in Midland: first, certain courses for business men; secondly, courses for teachers."

Among the courses suggested by Dr. McDonald for business men were: "Fundamentals of Speech" followed by a course in "Advanced Public Speaking" or by a course in "Radio Speaking"; "Principles of Economics"; "American Political Ideas" and "English."

Arrangements can be made for college credit for any course.

A second meeting will be called about the middle of September at which time all persons interested in enrolling for one or more of the courses will be invited to attend.

Collyns, Chamber of Commerce manager, said plans for the meeting were being worked out and that a definite date for the meeting will be announced next week. Dr. McDonald and perhaps other Texas Tech officials will attend the meeting and will explain in detail the steps necessary to start one or more extension courses in Midland.

Double-Jointed Oregon Girl Takes Up Weight-Lifting to Become Golf Star

By JERRY BRONFIELD, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

The Pacific Northwest is coming up with another contender for national golfing honors in Dorothy Ann Green of Portland.

And when and if Sissy Green reaches the top ranks of feminine golfdom—as is predicted by a number of critics—she will owe much of her success to sheer accident. Or rather coincidence.

After holding the Oregon junior crown for two years Sissy—not quite 16—lost her title recently and didn't discover the real reason until one night she went to a hospital to visit her mother.

In the room was Dr. Davis W. E. Baird. Dorothy Ann offered her hand in greeting.

"That's an awfully flabby hand-shake for a champion golfer," the doctor chided her. "How can a girl play golf with such flabby wrists?"

POWER WAS COMING FROM HER SHOULDERS.

THEN it was that the discovery was made. Sissy, who weighs 145 pounds, had practically no muscle development in her wrists. Being double-jointed she got all her power from her shoulders. Golfers who hit with their shoulders don't get very far, even though Sissy Green had been shooting in the low 80s.

So Dr. Baird, who is interested in muscular development, recommended weight-lifting as a builder-upper for Dorothy's wrists.

She started out daily with five-pound weights. Then it went up to 10. Now she is pushing up 28 pounds every day and she's developing some real wrist muscles.

"My drives are a little wilder," she admits, "but I'm getting 50 yards more on each one."

Sissy Green started playing golf five years ago when she entered the Oregon junior tournament and shot a 112 medal score, losing out in the first round.

CONSIDERED BEST WOMAN PROSPECT IN NORTHWEST

IN 1933, a few weeks before she was 14, she won the title. Her medal then was 90. She was medalist in 1939 with 84, and won.

A few weeks ago Sissy shot a 79 for medalist honors but lost in the final.

More recently she was a finalist in the Oregon Coast Tournament.

Luncheon Site for Lions Club Changed

Temporary change in meeting place for the regular weekly luncheons of the Midland Lions club was yesterday announced by Russell C. Conkling, president of the local Lions club, who said that next Wednesday's luncheon will be held in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer at twelve noon. The change was necessitated due to the fact that the Methodist annex building on North Main street, meeting place of the Lions for the past year, has been sold and will soon be occupied by the new owners.

President Conkling said that several meeting place locations had been suggested and that the site for a permanent meeting place would be voted upon at the Wednesday luncheon. He urged all club members to attend the luncheon-meeting.

Be Tough But Human, General Tells Soldiers

EL PASO, Tex. (UP).—Military training inspires the golden rule—or at least it does in a good soldier, according to Maj. Gen. Kenyon A. Joyce, 1st Cavalry Division commander at Fort Bliss near El Paso.

In an address to Civilian Military Training Corps trainees at Fort Bliss, Gen. Joyce said that "you should always do as you would have others do unto you."

"As soldiers be tough," he said. "You can never be soft, but always be human, and always think of the other man," the general stated.

The Game Department says pheasants will not do well in Texas except in captivity.

INTERPRETING THE WAR

By EDWARD S. BOMAR, Associated Press Staff Writer

While the Nazi bombing raids go on, Adolf Hitler and Winston Churchill appear in agreement on the point that Great Britain must not rely too confidently on "general winter" for defense against invasion after this month.

The prospects of months of uncertainty for England's shore defenders has been lost sight of in this widespread expectation that autumn's arrival would inevitably clip the wings of Germany's air power.

Fog and rain, for which the British Isles and the North Sea are notorious in winter, promise to hamper bombers, but at the same time they might favor an attempt to land troops under some conditions.

Scouting patrols operate most boldly under a protective blanket of fog, when the attacker enjoys the advantage of the initiative and surprise.

Mr. Churchill might have noted that the Nazis have made effective use of surprise and the initiative in Poland, Norway, the Lowlands and France. They have since given the world to understand that they have a lot of new tricks to use against England.

Churchill contented himself in his latest Parliamentary review with the admonitory reminder that "winter with its storms, its fogs and its darkness may alter the conditions but some of the conditions cut both ways."

Herr Hitler jeered in his Sports-palast speech that Germany's foe had relied successively on general revolution, general hunger and now was turning to general winter, while placing the chief dependence all the while on general bluff. To meet them all the embattled Reich has general action, he boasted.

From the muster he omitted another unreliable commander who was much in the news just a year ago. That was general mud, who failed so fatefully to come to the aid of Poland.

But Britain still has a weapon which was not at Poland's command. Seapower may yet take the leading role of the conflict from its aerial rival.

Just as Herr Hitler was obviously speaking with propaganda at home and abroad in view, the chances are that his foe had something of the same purpose. Assuming that Britain bears up under the hammering of bombs until the arrival of "equinoctial uncertainties two weeks or so hence, the three million men under arms in the British Isles must be kept on the alert for the sake of their morale, as well as for England's safety.

Carol Expected to Get Royal Welcome From Switzerland

By The Associated Press

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 7.—Switzerland, whose sense of hospitality is frequently at odds with its anxiety to avoid political complications, prepared a subdued welcome tonight for the fugitive ex-King Carol II of Rumania.

Federal authorities announced they had granted to the deposed monarch the privilege of a temporary stay in this country. They kept secret the place at which he will stop.

One report, which could not be confirmed officially, was that he would go to St. Moritz, where his brother, Prince Nicholas, has a villa.

A special train bearing Carol and a routine of eight is due tomorrow. The precise hour was not disclosed.

The police took special precautions for the safety of the former King, who left Rumania under such circumstances of extraordinary secrecy as to suggest that he was in great fear of his life.

It was understood Carol had been given permission to enter this country only on condition that he refrain from political activities and make no political utterances.

Cattlemen Ass'n Meeting Is Held

ANDREWS, Sept. 7 (Special).—The Midland-Andrews-Ector County Cattle Protective Association meeting was held in Andrews Saturday.

Midland Considered As Possible Site Of Remount Station

Congressman R. E. Thomason Saturday advised the Reporter-Telegram that if a remount station was located in Texas that Midland would be seriously considered.

Quoting Brigadier General C. L. Corbin, Mr. Thomason said that the facilities of Midland will be given due consideration if a station is established. However, the officer added, the establishment of a remount station in West Texas is not being considered at the present time.

The remount station now located in Fort Worth is being removed to San Angelo in the near future. The transfer involves merely office space for about eight officers and civilians and stable space for approximately 10 animals.

Miss Gertrude Vance and Edwin Phillips United in Matrimony

Couple Repeats Wedding Vows at Home of The Bride's Parents Saturday Afternoon

In a garden wedding witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives, Miss Gertrude Vance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Vance, became the bride of Edwin Leslie Phillips, Jr., of Pampa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Leslie Phillips, Sr., of San Angelo, Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 302 South I Street. The wedding was one of the important social affairs of the season.

During the assembling of the guests, Mrs. Lee Cornelius at the piano and Mrs. W. Lloyd Haseltine at the violin, presented the pre-nuptial music.

Mrs. De Lo Douglas sang "Because." To the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," the bridal party advanced from the house along a pathway roped off with white satin ribbon and spaced with pedestal vases of pink asters to the improvised altar in a corner of the garden where the ceremony took place. Before an arch of greenery, flanked by baskets of pink and white gladiolas and with a white satin kneeling altar, the couple repeated the vows of the double ring service which was read by the Reverend H. D. Bruce, pastor of the First Baptist church.

During the ceremony, the classical version of "Deep Purple," the couple's favorite selection was played softly. The recessional was Mendelssohn's traditional march.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white silk lace, made with a train, and long sleeves full at the shoulder but fitted at the wrist and falling in points over the hand. The sweetheart neckline was caught at either side with a pearl-cluster clip. She wore a picture hat of white maline hairbraided with a spray of lilies of the valley and long streamers. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Fred Vandenberg, as matron of honor, and by Miss Janie Marie Johnson as maid of honor. They wore matching gowns of white marquisette made with sweetheart necklines and with inserts of the same lace as the wedding gown defining a girle effect at the waist and bows on the front of the full skirts. They carried picture hats filled with pink roses.

Egan Dobbins of Austin, a former roommate of the bridegroom, served as his best man. Fred Vandenberg, brother-in-law of the bride, was usher.

A reception was held on the lawn following the ceremony. The three-tiered wedding cake topped by figures of a bride and groom beneath an arch of lilies of the valley was banked with fern and pink asters as was the punch bowl. Both stood on a table spread with a white cloth.

The mother of the bride and of the groom each wore a black evening gown with gardenia corsage.

Other members of the houseparty wore corsages of pink gladiolas. They were: Miss Jessa Lynn Tuttle, Miss Jean Bodkins, Miss Fredda Fae Turner, Mrs. Bob White, Miss Velma Johnson, Miss Anna Beth Bedford, Mrs. Harold Huffman and Mrs. Howard Colston of Duncan, Oklahoma, an aunt of the bride.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips left on a short trip to North Texas after which they will be at home at Pampa. The bride traveled in a suit of soldier blue with red fox fur and black accessories. She wore a gardenia and lily of the valley corsage.

Mrs. Phillips was reared in Midland and is a graduate of Midland high school. After graduation, she attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock for one year and the University of Texas for two years, pledging Alpha Phi sorority at the latter school.

The bridegroom is a graduate of San Angelo high school. He holds a degree in mechanical engineering from John Brown University at Siloam Springs, Arkansas, and a degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Texas. He is a member of Pi Epsilon, honorary fraternity in petroleum engineering, and of Tau Beta Pi, engineering school honor fraternity. He is now associated with the Texas Company at Pampa.

Joseph Mims Is Guest Speaker At AAUW Meeting

Two forces, scarcity and might, are promoting revolution in the world, Joseph H. Mims, Midland attorney, told the Midland branch of the American Association of University Women, in a luncheon meeting which opened the club year in the Blue Room of Hotel Scharbauer, Saturday. Discussing "The United States in the Midst of World Revolution," he said that this revolution has driven the world into four economic empires, those of the Japanese, the Russians, and North and South America. The only way for America to keep out of war, he advised is to consolidate with South America and isolate herself from the rest of the world, cooperating with the southern continent as a unit.

Mrs. J. A. Deffeys was elected secretary. Announcement was made that the International Relations study group of the AAUW will meet on the third Wednesday evening in each month at 7:30 o'clock. The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Sidwell and the problem of the month in International Relations will be discussed. The unit hopes to establish other study groups later.

Announcement was made of the regional conference to be held Sept. 27 at the Settles Hotel, Big Spring, in the form of a luncheon and of another regional conference, Oct. 12, at Nacogdoches. Reservations for these meetings should be made with Mrs. John Redfern.

Attending the meeting yesterday were: Mmes. J. H. Bartley, J. R. Brooks, Sol Bunnell, C. M. Chase, Russell Conking, Deffeys, William Fritz, Redfern, E. E. Reigle, Miss Ruth Carden, Miss Geneva Risinger, Mmes. A. P. Shirey, Sidwell, Roland, Gordon, Miss Maria Spencer, Miss Ruth Woodson, Miss Maxine Sill, and Mr. Mims.

Second Bite of Rattler Seems Not So Serious

KIMBALL, Neb. (UP) — Does a person once bitten by a rattlesnake become immune from future attacks by America's most deadly serpents? That is the question Kimball doctors asked after Ruel Schindler, farmer came to see them several days after he had been bitten by a diamondback. Schindler complained of a stinging sensation in his leg and his hip pained him, but had been able to perform his duties for a long time after being bitten. The physician figured the poison had already spread throughout his body and could offer no remedy. Schindler said he had been bitten by a rattler several years ago, but recovered fully after suction treatment.

Marvin Bryants Return Here After Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bryant have returned here following their marriage at Albany, Texas, on Saturday, August 31, and a honeymoon trip to Austin and San Antonio. Mr. Bryant and his bride, the former Miss Florence West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. West of Albany, were married in a twilight ceremony at the home of her parents with the Reverend Henry M. Weldon, pastor of the Albany Baptist Church, reading the service.

The bride wore a soldier blue silk crepe dress with Indian Earth accessories and carried an arm bouquet of white asters. For something old she wore a gold locket which had belonged to her grandmother. Miss Joyce Hartfield of Breckenridge, maid of honor, wore a black sheer with corsage of cream roses. Charles West, brother of the bride, was best man.

Miss Hollie Vick Easter sang "I Love You Truly." She wore a blue lace with Tailsman rose corsage. An arrangement of flowers and ferns made a background for the wedding. Following the ceremony, a reception was held. Presiding at the lacelaid table was Miss Maxine Clark, who was costumed in black shadow stripe chiffon with a corsage of yellow gladioli.

Tall white candles burned on the table which held the white bridal cake and punch bowl, both surrounded with ferns and flowers. Miss Ruby Mitchell and Miss Frances Leah Harris assisted in the carving. Miss Earnestine Meadow presided at the registry.

The bride is a graduate of Albany high school and Howard Payne College at Brownwood. Mr. Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bryant of the Prairie Lea community, was reared here and is a graduate of the Midland high school. He holds a degree from Daniel Baker College at Brownwood. He has served as principal at Warfield school for several years and will resume his duties there Monday.

Two Are Visitors At Meeting of Belmont Class

Two visitors, Mrs. Verner Melton and Mrs. Sam Timmons, were present at the meeting of the Belmont Bible class with Mrs. C. E. Strawn, 311 North D, Friday afternoon. Mrs. W. L. Sutton taught the lesson from the fifteenth chapter of Leviticus.

The opening prayer was offered by Mrs. W. G. Attaway. Refreshments were served to the visitors and the following members: Mmes. Attaway, Sutton, Bertie Mitchell, Gladys Holster, C. G. Murray, W. P. Collins, and the hostess.

After dismissal, the class visited Mrs. Mary Mitchell, who is ill, and gave her a fruit shower. She is the mother-in-law of Mrs. Bertie Mitchell, class president. Next Friday the class will meet with Mrs. W. T. Beauchamp, 360 N Baird, for study of the sixteenth and seventeenth chapters of Leviticus.

Mrs. Velma Stewart has returned to Midland from California. She had been gone about one month and plans to establish her residence here.

CATTON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

While Bruce Catton vacations, other members of NEA Service's Washington staff pinch-hit for him.

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — In Germany and, more particularly, in Italy, a mighty squawk is being raised over the United States law which compels all aliens to register and to file their fingerprints with the government.

Robert Farinacci, one of the big shots in the Fascist outfit, moans in his paper, "Regime Fascista," published in Cremona, that in America it is a crime to belong to the people who produced Columbus.

The exquisite joke about this particular sentence is that Farinacci is one of the leading anti-Semites in Italy. A great Spanish writer recently wrote about Columbus that all evidence available showed he was descended from Spanish Jewish refugees settled in Italy.

Farinacci goes on to say all Germans and Italians in America are fingerprinted as if they were criminals.

ENGLAND KEEPS CLOSE TAB

THE fact is the United States is one of the last great countries to adopt some measure of control of the aliens within its borders. All over Europe, long before the present war, aliens were the subject of government measures.

In democratic England, for instance, an American or any other alien, if he remained in the country more than 60 days, had to report to the nearest police station with two photographs of himself, one for the files of the police, the other to be pasted in a police book the alien must keep.

On the police record all details about the alien were copied from his passport and kept for future reference. Every time the alien moved from one city to another in the United Kingdom, he had to check out with the police of one town and check in with the police of another.

And even though he continued to live in the same town, he had to report every change of address, even if he moved from 20 Baker street to 21 Baker street.

Well remembered is the case of an American singing comedienne, a great favorite in London, who failed to notify the police she had changed her home address. Her name was shining in blazing lights two feet high over the theater where she acted, but she was haled into court, severely lectured by the judge and fined $25 for her heinous offense.

By its legislation America is simply falling into line. And incidentally, the alien registration law does not apply only to Germans and Italians, but to all aliens alike.

In the England of 1721, buttons covered with cloth were prohibited.

Amarillo Arranges Royal Welcome for Willkie on Sept. 17

AMARILLO, Sept. 7 (AP)—A list of 260 members of various committees to handle local arrangements for the visit of Wendell L. Willkie here the morning of Sept. 17, was announced tonight by the general executive committee.

The citizens reception committee, headed by Ray Pinkney, president of the Tri-State Fair Association, has 206 members.

Democrats and Republicans are included on all committees. The general executive committee is made up of Miles Bivins, district finance chairman of the Texas for Willkie Clubs; L. S. Hobbs, Panhandle member of the State Republican Executive Committee and Joe Snead, Jr., Amarillo and Fort Worth catleman.

The program committee is headed by Charles H. Keffer, chairman of the Amarillo Texas for Willkie Club. Frank Robinson, county Republican Chairman, heads the arrangements committee; C. V. Woolley is chairman of the Finance Committee, and Mrs. M. T. Johnson is head of the Women's Committee.

Indications are that Amarillo will be the mecca for Willkie boosters from all over Texas and the Tri-State Plains area of which Amarillo is the center. Special trains and chartered buses will bring visitors from several cities.

Scout Executives to Meet Here Monday

Six of Texas' most significant cattle brands, described by J. Frank Dobie, University of Texas professor, writer and folklorist, as "the heraldry of the range." 1. "Running W" or "Little Snake"—brand used by Captain Richard King on his million-acre ranch in Southeastern Texas, the largest in the world. 2. "Bow and Arrow" or "Bar D"—owned by Mrs. John Rabb, "Cattle Queen of Texas," whose two-story stone house near Austin is a historical landmark of Texas. 3. "Pitchfork"—used by Oliver Loving, who with Charles Goodnight blazed to New Mexico the cattle trail that bears their names. 4. "LFD"—owned by the Littlefield

Cattle Company, headed by Major George W. Littlefield, banker and philanthropist whose benefactions to the University of Texas totaled more than $1,000,000. 5. The "Lone Star"—created by legislative act, for the Texas Prison System, which holds for the State 73,000 acres of land in Houston, Madison, Walker and Harris counties. 6. The "Four Sixes"—originated by S. S. (Burk) Burnett, who registered it in King, Carson and Wichita counties in 1871. According to tradition he chose this brand, four sixes, because of a lucky poker hand he once held that won him the ranch which became the nucleus of his fortune.

and another increment of the same size on April 1. Its program provides that thereafter there are to be half yearly calls of the same size until upon the expiration of the act in 1945, the nation will have a trained army of 4,000,000 men, the number which Gen. George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff not long ago said was needed for the defense of the Western Hemisphere.

After a year's training, the conscripts are to be allocated to reserve components, liable to a call to duty for ten years thereafter. The final day of debate brought several important decisions, including the adoption of an amendment empowering the President to "conscript industry," as it was frequently put in the discussion. This would apply to instances in which manufacturers hold out for unduly high prices and profits, on defense orders, or refuse to fill such orders before fulfilling private or foreign contracts. Then, the President may take over the plant or plants in question and operate them under lease. The government would be required to pay a "just price" for rental and materials.

This amendment was adopted by a standing vote of 211 to 31, and later reaffirmed by a roll call ballot of 330 to 83. Its backers contended it was needed to keep some recalcitrant contractors from undermining the defense program, and its foes argued that it would lead to Fascism and dictatorship.

War department officials have estimated that 12,000,000 men would be required under the Senate bill, and about 24,000,000 if the House age brackets were retained.

Exclusions would be granted a long list of persons, ranging from army and navy personnel to foreign diplomatic representatives. Training deferments would be accorded members of Congress, most state officials, men with dependents, ministers and divinity students, and conscientious objectors.

Basic pay of the conscripts would be $30 a month, after the first four months. Two youths held in Roswell After Taxi Driver Is Kidnaped ROSWELL, N. M., Sept. 7 (AP).—Two youthful itinerants pleaded guilty today to federal kidnaping charges and were held to federal court under $10,000 bond for sentencing.

The pair, Clifford Stewart, 19, of Columbus, Ga., and James Moreland, 18, who gave his address only as Ohio, were charged with commandeering a taxicab in El Paso, Texas, and ordering Charles J. Gray, the driver, to take them to Roswell at pistol-point after first robbing him of $11.

Gray was permitted to alight unharmed at Tinnie, 45 miles west of Roswell, and the youths continued alone. However, they wrecked the cab near the city limits and were picked up by city police, to whom Gray had telephoned an alarm. The kidnap law bars imposition of a death sentence if the victim is released unharmed, but a maximum penalty of life imprisonment is possible.

Detailed Report On Rodeo Slated

A detailed report on the outcome of the sixth annual Midland Rodeo will be made at a called meeting of the stockholders of Midland Fair, Inc., and other interested parties at the chamber of commerce office in Hotel Scharbauer Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, it was announced late yesterday by Clarence Scharbauer, president of Midland Fair, Inc.

In announcing the highly important meeting, President Scharbauer urged all stockholders and other interested citizens to be present for the session. Especially, he said, do we cordially invite and urge all merchants and other citizens who underwrote recent rodeo to be present Wednesday morning. It was Midland's rodeo and we want many Midland citizens as possible to hear the rodeo report, he said.

It was indicated that if the crowd attending overflowed the chamber of commerce office, the meeting would be moved to the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Few Changes in 1941 AAA Program
Few changes of importance to Texas were made in the 1941 AAA program as approved by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Such changes as were included were based on the recommendations of the national conference of farmer-committeemen and ranchmen held earlier in the summer. Soil conservation and maintenance of adequate food and fiber supplies continue as the basic principles of the program. George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas state committee, declares, and still more latitude has been granted the county committees for adaptation of the program to fit local needs.

The $20 minimum payment for each farm has been continued, the chairman pointed out, and an additional $15 is available for planting trees. Thus, any farm can earn as much as $35 by cooperating with the 1941 program.

In addition, on small farms where the maximum payment is not more than $20, any part of the soil-building allowance may be earned by carrying out locally adapted conservation practices not included in the program when recommended by county committeemen. This provision will be applicable in designated areas only.

Encouraging feed production, the program provides that in areas where feed crops are not generally produced for market, any farmer may grow as much as 30 acres of soil-depleting acreage crops without incurring a deduction for exceeding the total depleting acreage allotment.

In view of the substantial acreage reductions made by established cotton growers, not more than one per cent of the states 1941 cotton allotment may be used for new grower allotments, a reduction from the two per cent allowed in 1940. No payments will be made for cotton produced in 1941 on allotments for new growers, Slaughter said.

Jerry Bohannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bohannon, a north Midland 4-H Club boy, reports his beef calf is coming along very good at this time.

Uniform Classing of Loan Cotton
All cotton used as security for government loans in 1940 will be classed by official boards of cotton examiners of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Used for the first time in 1939, this system of classing cotton will avoid any inequities among producers whose loan cotton formerly was graded by warehousemen and individual licensed classers, and only slightly more time will be required for approval of the loans. Donald L. Coltrane, state AAA committeeman from Paris, points out: "The class placed on cotton by a board will be final, thus avoiding for the producer any expense or inconvenience for reclassing and for making deficiency payments for overclassing. In addition, the cost will be only 15 cents per bale as compared with the usual charge of 25 cents per bale under other procedures."

"The uniform and reliable classing by the boards will give the producer information of value in negotiating with buyers for the eventual sale of his equity or his cotton," the state committeeman said. "The increased value of such classing will more than offset any inconvenience arising from the additional time needed."
On delivery of cotton to the warehouse for the Commodity Credit Corporation loan, samples will be drawn by the warehouseman and shipped to the nearest central classing office. The samples will be classed and each bale listed on a special form signed by the board and returned to the producer. Loan values will be based on the class shown on this form. The Agricultural Marketing Service predicts samples will be classed within 36 hours and at the longest 72 hours.

Billy Ryan, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Ryan, a north Midland 4-H Club boy, is receiving two Jim Waddell calves the 15th of the month. Billy will feed these calves for his 4-H Club demonstration.

Three Factors Affect Light Fixture Choice

Three factors must be considered in the selection of lighting fixtures for a home — design, location, and number.

In the selection and location of lighting fixtures, proper light distribution and the elimination of glare should be sought, Federal Housing Administration experts advise. This can best be accomplished, they say, by considering the use of indirect and diffused lighting.

Along with lighting efficiency, fixtures must be structurally sound and attractive in appearance. FHA officials caution that extreme styles of lighting fixtures decline rapidly in value, due to the whims of fashion, and for this reason, if for no other, simplicity in design should be sought.

Sleeping Porch

In considering the needs of additional space for a growing family, home-owning families might give thought to the possibilities of a sleeping porch. The sleeping porch of today is usable the year round, and its construction may be financed under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Exterminator to Be Placed on Market

Pronounced a success by engineers, the insect exterminator of L. S. Webb, Midland County farmer, soon will be placed on the market. Webb has been experimenting with numerous types of machines for eleven years and hit upon the unusual idea of an exterminator which employs no chemicals.

The insect exterminator, which may be either horse drawn or attached to a tractor, is useful especially in controlling leaf worm, boll worm, boll weevil, cotton flea hopper, grasshopper, and the hessian fly. The machine may be attached to the front of a tractor and used in connection with a cultivator and can be built to fit any type tractor or horse drawn vehicle. It consists of two fans, housed in, blowing into a flue which travels beside the plant. The force of the air moves the insects upward into a trap. Webb estimates his machine, when horse drawn, can cover approximately 40 acres in an eight-hour working day and the area covered when tractor drawn is limited only to the speed of the tractor.

A. R. Nesbitt, engineer from Plainview, said the machine could be manufactured at a reasonable figure, within reach of the average farmer.

Preservation of Brass Luster

To preserve the luster of brass, polish the brass with a good metal polish that is recommended for use on brass and, while the brass is still bright, wipe off the greasy residue with benzine. When this has evaporated apply a coat of clear lacquer.

Wood Preservative

Wood coming in contact with the soil or within 18 inches of the ground should be treated with a preservative meeting Federal specifications, according to the Technical Division of the Federal Housing Administration.

Tree and Shrub Planting Helps Smaller Houses

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the usefulness of planting as an adjunct to the design of the small house, according to the Federal Housing Administration.

Trees and shrubbery may be used to enhance the architectural character, it is said, and are frequently more effective than the decorative use of material in providing the charming essential to a satisfactory home.

Planting may also add directly to the living quality of a property.

Proper Drainage

Proper drainage should be provided under concrete floors and porch slabs and around wall footings and foundation walls, it is suggested by FHA officials. Small homes which have no basements should have the under-floor spaces well drained if a dry condition is to be maintained.

Dark Walls Suggested

Dark-colored paint used on the walls behind built-in bookcases will tend to reduce the contrast between the color of the books and the back wall. It also harmonizes the appearance of rows of uneven books.

The War Behind the War

The war of the bombers, the war of the tanks and troops, now shakes Europe. It is there for all to see.

But there is a way in which this war is different from the World War of 1914-1918. What goes on in Europe today is more like the Napoleonic wars, when the armies of the French revolution swept across Europe, bearing banners with the strange device, "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity."

Today the German, Italian, and Russian armies are also afire with crusading zeal. Believing that democracy is dying, they fling themselves into an effort to propagate a new system, totalitarianism. They, too, gradually see that zeal turn into the merest grasping imperialism. That is the military phase of this war.

The war behind the war, however, is a war for men's minds. Even countries like our own, not directly in the line of fire and resolved to keep out of the military phase of the war, are participants in the war for men's minds. It is a war to determine whether men shall remain free or resign themselves to authority. Many of us are confused. Many say, "What difference does it make?"

The answer is, yes. It is much more. And in an effort to make clear the nature of these two opposing systems, we set down some of the differences:

Democracy: Government is a machinery set up by free men and women to serve their ends as they wish them served, with all equal before laws whose power over people has definite limits. People have the right to think and say and print what they wish; out of free discussion will come from the great reservoir of the people's wisdom the right decisions for the benefit of all. Man, of the immortal soul and the reasoning mind, man the individual, is the highest good, at whose development all measures ought to be directed. Morality, fixed standards of the right and wrong, ought to govern action.

One could go on to show these antitheses at greater length. But the point is clear. All peoples, whether or not they are affected by the actual wars of arms, are engaged in this war of wills, this conflict of ideas. It is bigger than, and it will outlast, the war of arms.

Germans to Be Moved From Lublin District
BERLIN (UP)—Warschauer Zeitung reports that the S. S. Black Guard commission which last winter evacuated 130,000 German peasants from Russia to German occupied Poland now has made all preparations for moving 31,000 Germans from the Lublin district to Reich territory. Lublin is the district to which tens of thousands of Jews have been transported from former Austria, Czechoslovakia, the former Polish corridor and various parts of the Old Reich.

NEWTT GALE TELLS A LONG STORY
CAST OF CHARACTERS
CARRIE LANE—an eastern girl who came into the frontier west to find a home.
MARK DEUEL—a homesteader who keeps his business to himself.
ASHTON OAKS—a land agent, with town lots to sell.

YESTERDAY, Mark finds Carrie and Mrs. Taylor unharmed in a cellar. Rain comes in time to save the homesteads. The next day, riding back to town, Mark meets Oaks. Without warning, Oaks shoots. Mark returns the fire, kills Oaks' horse before he falls. Oaks, believing him dead, takes Mark stirring.

CHAPTER XII
THEY sent for Carrie right after they brought Mark back to town; that is, Ma Parmley sent Newt Gale for her, and Newt drove Carrie in from Rock Creek himself. Newt used the same high buggy in which he had brought her over from the stagerline only a few days before and the same curious crowd was on hand to greet them; only the throng was bigger, quicker, Carrie noticed this time, and obviously nervous, she stepped down from the buggy and swished through the path that opened for her. At the door of Sioux Springs House, Ma was waiting to greet her. With a low little cry, Carrie rushed to Ma's generous arms and a second later was sobbing on her shoulder.

"Well, he can't take in no dance this Saturday night," Ma said at last, "but he can stand visitors." She laughed, released Carrie. "Matter of fact, I think he could see one now—the right one. She winked broadly in her warm, hearty manner, led Carrie, still sniffling, from the room and down the hall. At the first open door, Ma paused, whispered, "Now, you're the doctor," and pushed Carrie gently but firmly inside.

"Mark," Carrie cried, and rushed to the bedside. NEWTT GALE calmed the curious crowd, told everyone the whole story. When Ed Taylor drove into town an hour after Carrie, Newt was still holding forth at the lively stable. Minus Newt's cuss words, and unrepeatable designations of Ashton Oaks, and condensed to mere essentials, the story went something like this: The morning after Mark Deuel had passed Sioux Springs House and saw Ashton Oaks helping a girl in white from a buggy, he received a message. It was mailed from the nearest telegraph point and brought in by stage, so its contents were two days old. But it brought the news Mark had wanted.

"Emory Ashton mah you describe," read the wire, and Government Agent Mark Deuel knew at last he was on the trail of a land swindler sought in seven states. Mark had been ordered to find Ashton, alias Oaks, six months earlier, had picked up the trail, lost it. Now, finally, he had

Texas Today

By The Associated Press
Pigs, primary to Texas' economy since its infancy, "saved" the young republic from French money-lenders 99 years ago, one early-day historian has told posterity.

Fortune's wheel turned, and a century afterward Texas is bursting with material wealth while France is prostrate beneath war's adversities. At the moment it was an unhappy experience for the isolated, debt-ridden country, but destiny sometimes employs extraordinary instruments in realizing the long view. Although the pigs made history they didn't even get honorable mention on its tablets, which was not important to the swine whose mission is to provide seasoning for the beans and knuckles for the kraut.

The brittle and fading files of the short-lived Republic record the story. In the middle years of its independence, M. de Saligny was charge D'affaires of the French government to the Republic of Texas. The elegant diplomat kept a suitable turnout of horses and Eugene Pluyette, a member of the domestic staff, had charge of the stables. Richard Bullock, an innkeeper, owned pigs which, reared in the freedom of the open spaces, had no respect for extra-territorial privileges and invaded the diplomat's stables to eat the grain that fell from the horses' feed boxes. Pluyette had scant patience with his violation of right of a plenipotentiary and one day killed the invading swine.

Indignant Mr. Bullock, a stout individualist, squared accounts by soundly whipping Pluyette on one of the rude streets of the young capital. De Saligny on Feb. 19, 1841, complained sharply to the secretary of state of this "most scandalous and outrageous violation of the laws of the nations." The complaint was succeeded by long and heated correspondence. The Texas government endeavored to save the wounded pride of the enraged Frenchman, who probably placed Texans on the plane of savages, but at the same time was determined the offending innkeeper should be tried according to Texas court procedure. De Saligny taunted the government with inefficiency, charged willful neglect of duty, threatened war and finally demanded his passports.

The sequel tied in with an attempt of the Republic to borrow $5,000,000 in France, which then had money in the bank and no enemy at the door. Prior to the Pluyette-Bullock-pigs episode, Gen. James Hamilton, secretary of the Texas treasury, had been sent to Paris on a borrowing mission and had, as

Mark Deuel. Five minutes after the holdup a posse was organized, spread out, picked up Oaks easily. He was overtaken a quarter mile beyond Mark, and killed when he fired on the posse. THEY were still talking when Ma Parmley tiptoed up to the door, looked in on Mark and Carrie half an hour later. Carrie, beside the bed, was holding Mark's hand. Mark was stroking her hair. "Remember this morning at Taylor's?" Mark was smiling, and looking up at Carrie like a schoolboy in mischief, "when I said I might have some news to surprise you?" "Yes, yes," said Carrie, a bit breathless. "Well," Mark went on, "here it is." He pulled Carrie closer with his one good arm, till her lips neared his and her hair was sweet in his eyes. "Carrie," he whispered, "Carrie, I want you always." He kissed her, kissed her again and Ma Parmley, never intending for a moment to eavesdrop, flicked her eye and tiptoed back down the hall. Carrie buried her head in his arm for a long moment. Mark pulled her closer. "Mark," Carrie said at last, and there was a bit of a sob in her voice, "I want you, too—always, wherever we are." "That won't be very far apart," Mark cut in, boyish again. "Won't be far? What do you mean?" Suddenly Carrie was all curiosity. "I mean," grinned Mark, "that I got that homestead I was looking for that day when I was out to Taylor's. "You—with a homestead?" Carrie was incredulous. "But where?" "Miss Lane," said Mark Deuel, next time you look over that homestead of yours you'll find your land runs smack into mine, just west of Rock Creek." "Joins—joins mine. But when did you get it?" "I got it," Mark said, "about one minute after you signed up for yours, that day in the land office. I guess I was in love with you right then, Carrie, and didn't know it." "Ooh," said Carrie, "and to think I built my soddie with you knowing all the time..." She stopped, breathless. "Well, we'll just build another." Mark grinned. "I've got to build one to prove up on my land and so do you. We—we could build one right one the line—for—for two of us," he stammered. "And that," said Carrie, "would be love on the line, wouldn't it, sweetheart?" (THE END)

Yucca Today Through Tuesday

Henry Fonda, right, plays the role of the famous outlaw in "The Return of Frank James," new 20th Century-Fox Technicolor production coming today to the Yucca theatre. Lovely Gene Tierney is featured in the cast.

he believed, with the sanction of the French government, successfully negotiated a loan from J. Lafitte & Company, Paris bankers.

The treasury head reported to his government that "the contracts have been signed and the specie will be forthcoming in due season." Texas newspapers already were arguing the proper disposition of the money and published Alexander Hamilton's "Report on a National Bank" in order "to aid Texans in coming to a proper conclusion" when the blow fell. There would be no loan! What had happened? Land Commissioner Hamilton didn't know beyond an evasive statement that changed governmental attitude prevented the fulfillment of the banker's contract. But he who reads today may know.

Charge de Saligny was a brother-in-law of the French Minister of finance Humann and through the latter lay the way to revenge upon the Texas government for Mine Host Bullock's indignity upon the diplomat.

Although diplomatic correspondence files of the Republic of Texas suggest this was not the first tilt between the Austin tavernkeeper and the French representatives, the intervention of Bullock's pigs may have rendered Texas no less a service than did the honking geese that warned Romans of danger without the walls. At any rate, William M. Gouge, who possessed a Jacksonian antipathy of a central bank, included this tribute in his "Fiscal History of Texas," published in 1852. "All Texas stood by Mr. Bullock and his pigs... If the loan had been obtained it would have been used to establish a national bank, by which every dollar would have been made to look like ten. The result would have been that the debt of Texas, instead of being twelve millions, would have been twenty five, thirty, perhaps forty millions. The most intelligent Texans agree in opinion that this would have been the result. All honor, then, to Mr. Bullock and his pigs; and this heretofore much despised animal must be regarded hereafter as possessed of classic interest. If his figure carved in marble should be placed over the entrance to the treasury of Texas it should serve as a memento to future ages of his having been the salvation of the Republic."

Trifles, history records, often have detoured the destiny of nations.

In 1514, bullets of stone were in use; iron ones came into existence in 1550.

Baptists To Hold Formal Opening Of New Building

The new three-story Sunday School building of the First Baptist Church will be opened formally at 11 o'clock this morning.

Completion of the building, costing, with its equipment, approximately $42,000, is the realization of a dream of Midland Baptists since plans for the project were first discussed several years ago.

The new building has been a long felt need of the church for the proper care of its rapidly growing organizations," the Rev. H. D. Bruce, pastor, said in discussing the opening service.

Plans for the building began to take definite form in November, 1938, when a building and finance committee were appointed with the idea of launching a move for it. During 1939, a quiet but persistent campaign for funds was pushed. Complete plans and specifications for the building were prepared by Wyatt C. Hedrick's architect firm.

Several substantial gifts were received near the close of 1939 and plans were ready for initiating construction work. On February 1, 1940, the construction contract was awarded to the Ahlens Construction Company.

Ground-breaking exercises were held Sunday, February 26, with Mrs. J. H. Barron, only charter member of the church still living in Midland, turning the first dirt.

On April 21, the corner-stone was laid, with Judge C. M. Caldwell of Ahlens making the principal address.

On July 21, the building was ready for occupancy and used for the first time.

The building committee was composed of: J. O. Nobles, chairman, Fred Middleton, Claude O. Crane, R. L. Denham, Mrs. G. R. Grant, R. V. Hyatt, Joseph H. Mims.

The building finance committee included: P. J. Mims, chairman, J. M. White, T. Paul Barron, Mrs. A. T. Donnelly, Dr. L. W. Leggett, Ray Urban, Dr. W. E. Ryan, Tom Wingo, J. C. Hudman and E. H. Barron, chairman of the board of deacons.

Completion of the new educational building gave the First Baptist Church one of the best church plants in West Texas. Other recent improvements include the construction of a brick veneer six-room parsonage early in 1939 and remodeling of the church auditorium in 1937. The church property is valued at more than $125,000.

At the formal opening this morning, Miss Edith Conyers will sing. R. L. Denham, music director of the church, Wallace Wimberly, organist, and Mrs. Fred H. Wilcox, pianist, will be in charge of music. C. W. Kerr will be chief usher. The pastor will preach.

Dr. Lee R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, who was scheduled to preach at both services today, is unable to be here because of the death of a brother-in-law.

Madame Lupescu Is Blamed for Carol Losing His Throne

King Carol of Rumania has lost his throne through a combination of circumstances, not least of which has been the shadow-rue of his tian-haired sweetheart, Madame Lupescu—but when all is said and done it represents another great victory for Adolf Hitler.

Rumania has entered Nazidom, and that there is but one master—the Führer. He has gained a new and important disciple for his teachings. He has gained access, hitherto disputed, to the agricultural wealth and oil of the country, thus strengthening his arm against Britain. He has erected a strategic barrier against Russia, and furthered his own politico-economic control of the Balkans.

I believe that Carol had the will, and some of the ability, to be a good King. From personal investigation in Rumania it seemed to me that he did in fact serve his country well in many ways.

So far as the records go he was an honest servant of his people. In fact, when I was in Rumania in the fall of 1938, the King was in process of trying to clean up his political house—to eliminate graft which was said to have weakened his regime.

Still, despite his good intentions and many excellent qualities he lacked the political acumen and diplomacy to enable him to deal with the strong forces surrounding him. Rumania was one of the earliest to feel the hand of the Nazi fifth column. There was more than a dozen political parties, which more often than not were pulling against each other.

The situation called for an iron man. Carol had the determination, but he was strong-willed to the point of extreme stubbornness, and his determination thus became a weakness. He tried to use, and indeed did use, a club when subtle methods were called for.

Perhaps his greatest fault was that he was unable to turn away from the whispering advice of the fascinating Magda Lupescu—one of the outstanding personalities of our time. Probably the advice of this hypnotic beauty was at times good. I don't know the answer to that, but we can say that through her he made the great mistake of clashing with his military leaders and army.

Pro-Nazi elements began to surge forward, and they made a burning issue of the fact that Madame Lupescu is a Jewess.

Carol also had crossed Hitler the wrong way in another respect. His Majesty, being pro-British at heart, was clinging as close to the protection of England as he dared. He adopted the often hazardous course of trying to play both ends against middle—keeping on good terms with both sides.

Formally Opened Today

The recently-completed Sunday School building of the First Baptist Church, shown above, will be formally opened today at a special service at 11 o'clock. Costing, with equipment, approximately $42,000, the building was first occupied July 21. Completion of the building gives the First Baptist Church one of the best church plants in West Texas.

Worship Essential To Man's Welfare Teacher Declares

By R. A. WEAVER

Ascribe unto Jehovah the glory due unto his name: Bring an offering, and come into his courts.

Oh worship Jehovah in his holy array: Tremble before him, all the earth. Psalms 96:8-9.

The lesson theme is "worship." Today, the history of the world is changing with remarkable speed; traditions are being discarded; beaten paths are being deserted; and age-old ideologies are being scrapped. Truly there is a world revolution in progress, and no one can tell the extent to which this mad stampede will destroy the cherished hopes and faiths of yesteryears.

Have people deserted the house of worship for other less important baubles of life that only leave a sense of restlessness and discontent? The quest of happiness goes on with the same zest as ever it has, but folks are vainly seeking the will to the wisps that fade away before the eyes.

Always the seeker looks for the golden key of life on the outside, but the secret lies within one's self. Today there is much running to and fro, and life is lived in circles, one person chasing some fleeting phantom of good, and another following behind.

"Impelled by steps unceasing to pursue Some fleeting good that mocks us with a view"

Worship has become the forgotten panacea of life. The daily grind of the week days leaves us flat on the Sabbath, and our minds turn to the open roads, and the leafy bowers to find something that gives change to the deadly routine. But the answer is not found in the bountiful beauties of nature. The answer is not forthcoming from without. Week-end trips do not nourish the soul. Change of scene and moving panoramas only distract the mind from the moment from the problem that lies in the heart, and that will not answer the cry of the soul that seeks communion with the Father.

Worship Essential

Worship is as natural and as essential to our living and our self-expression as food for the body. How sad is the condition of that man who does not recognize the call of the soul, nor experiences the warmth and fervor of deep spiritual worship in the house of God. None has ever really lived unless at some time in his experience he has felt the presence of the Great Reality; and has come face to face with the

Health Believed Cause Of School Failures

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—Dr. J. N. Baker, Alabama state health officer, believes that improper health conditions are a vital factor in causing students to fail in school.

In a special report, he said that such conditions were "one of the important causes" why 40 per cent of all Alabama first-grade pupils are repeaters. Other causes he listed as inadequately trained teachers, lack of textbooks and shortened school terms.

Pointing out that absence from school retards learning, Dr. Baker said that "a very large percentage of total absences charged to the average pupil, would, if investigated, be shown to be due to ill health of one kind or another."

The state health officer recommended physical examinations of pupils before starting school.

There were more than 90 head of horses shown in the recent Horse Show held during the rodeo.

A man with a hoe is the best weed-killing machine.

The Midland County AAA office reports 90 per cent of the farm land has been measured for compliance.

Some folks worry so much about getting ready for that rainy day that they can't enjoy the sunny ones.

Turkeys will not move very far for water during the heat of the day. Water should be placed where the turkeys rest and not across the pasture.

United States farmers have enough grains in 1940, including Ever-Normal Granary reserves, to produce 78 pounds of pork for every one of the 132,000,000 people in the nation or 14 pounds more than each person ate in 1939.

In all the 1940 United States wheat crop plus the supply in the Ever-Normal Granary were used for food, it would provide every man, woman and child in the nation twice as much bread, cereal and other wheat foods as each ate in the entire year of 1939.

Leading hotels in a number of cities are featuring "turkey steaks." The meat of the turkey is removed from the bones with a special boning knife. It is cut into steaks of light and dark meat, as desired, in any size from a half-pound up. The steaks are fried slowly in melted fat in a heavy covered skillet and then steamed.

Contrary to popular opinion, the bite of a black widow spider will not kill healthy human beings. It does cause severe pains and fever, however, and is enough to kill infirm people and guinea pigs.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLETT

THERE is one woman in New York whose secret of happiness I would like to know, so that I could pass it on.

She isn't an actress, a top-notch business woman or the wife of a highly successful man.

Though she is a business woman, if you so label a woman who helps her husband in a small restaurant.

Her name is Angelina—and she has the happiest face I have seen in New York. Perhaps her "secret" is composed of things like this:

She works hard. Her hands show that. But her face doesn't. Other women who work hard seem to show it in their faces first.

She has two well-behaved, happy-looking children. She says she loves them—but two are enough. She is realistic enough to know that any more would make life difficult, for the family lives simply now, and yet has no money to spare.

SHE KNOWS HOW TO HAVE FUN

SHE has fun. Perhaps that is because her mind is as healthy as her body. She knows—without having a very good education—what things are important and what things aren't worth losing any sleep over. And she likes to laugh.

No Joneses make her miserable. She isn't trying to keep up with anybody. She is glad that business is good enough so that there is no worrying over the necessities a family has to have in order to be happy at all.

She doesn't worry a great deal about her children. She keeps them spotlessly clean, sees that they get their lessons, and corrects their manners.

But she doesn't worry for fear they like complexes. She treats them like human beings—not delicate pets. When she talks to them her voice is warm and gay. So many mothers today use a "reasonable" voice when they are talking to their children.

KNOWS MARRIAGE IS A PARTNERSHIP
ANGELINA isn't all knotted up over the career vs. marriage problem. She assumes that marriage is a partnership—and that the two people do whatever they are capable of doing, without any apologies or feelings of inferiority on either side.

It so happens that she meets customers better than her husband. So she meets the customers and he wears the chef's cap, and does a chef's job. And he looks happy, too.

Alabama Archives Get Historic French Painting
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—The state department of archives and history has acquired a painting depicting activity at Demopolis, early French settlement in Alabama—a painting found in a French chateau.

The painting was presented to the state by Thomas Martin, Birmingham, president of the Alabama Philaephia art dealer.

Done in water colors on wall paper, the painting has been suitably framed and placed in the department's "Alabama French History Museum" in its new $550,000 building on capitol hill here.

Pool Rules Order Men To Wear Only Trunks

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—Working on the theory that if a little sunshine is good, more should be even better, Barney B. Matricka, director of Springfield's largest swimming pool, is enforcing a rule prohibiting men from wearing more than trunks while bathing.

"One of the most beneficial phases of swimming for the average person," Matricka said, "is that the sport gets people out in the sun. Therefore I believe that as much of the body as possible should be exposed to the sun's rays so that the greatest benefit may be derived."

Company officials said they planned to move their sawmill and other equipment to a new location. Pine Valley is in mountainous terrain in the southeast part of Oklahoma, and "undoubtedly would make a good health resort," the officials said.

The Big Fish That Didn't Get Away

British naval units operating in the Gulf of Aden had prime luck recently when they bagged this huge Italian submarine. An armed trawler spotted the sub's periscope, so blasted it with depth bombs that it was forced to surface and surrender. Photo shows the captured U-boat being towed to port by a British destroyer.

Germany Still Ranks Second Best in Economic War

BY JOHN T. FLYNN
NEA Service Financial Writer

AT the end of a year of war, Germany's economic resources, despite many favorable factors and her great victories, remain inadequate for carrying on a war as long as England can endure.

On the very evening of the war she enormously mitigated the serious nature of her economic condition by her pact with Russia.

That, she said, broke the British blockade.

How much it brought to her in supplies is still unknown. She did get some ore, grain and oil—badly needed.

And the pact did completely alter the whole situation in the Balkans in favor of Germany.

But it is quite possible that the amount of supplies going from Russia to Germany has not been decisive.

There is friction now because of Germany's inability to deliver up to schedule to Russia the machinery with which the Nazis were to pay for Russia's ore and oil and grain.

PROCESSORS—NOT PRODUCERS

THE conquest of Belgium, Denmark, Norway and northern France has certainly brought Germany many large new iron supplies.

But it has not augmented her food supplies in any important way.

These countries were great food stations for Europe—chiefly England. But they were processors rather than producers.

Holland, for instance, produced butter and cheese.

But she had to get the feed for her cattle from without. And Germany can no more get grain for Holland's cows than for her own people.

Norway imported about 60 per cent of her food. The rest was mainly fish.

Now even fish are scarce because of the lack of gasoline for Norway's fishing boats.

In Denmark there has been an immense slaughter of cattle and chickens because they compete with human beings for food.

What Germany got in these countries and in Poland is a vast population which cannot feed itself and which faces starvation.

John Maloney, American Red Cross representative in eastern Europe, says 35,000,000 must go on a near-starvation ration this winter.

Britain will not permit food to be sent to these people. Germany disclaims all responsibility to feed them.

What will be the effect upon Germany's morale of these great masses grappling under her care with starvation and disease?

Germany herself, according to the British Agricultural Commission, has food enough—reserves and current crops—to last until the fall of 1941.

This, however, is predicted upon good crops this year.

And the crops are not good. All Europe will have a 13,600,000,000-bushel wheat crop compared with 1,700,000,000 last year.

We have no figures available on the other agricultural crops. All important economic data in Germany and Italy ceased to appear after August, 1939.

But reports filtering out of Germany are that lack of manpower has resulted in heavy reductions in the crops as a whole. There is no critical shortage of meat and only a moderate shortage of sugar.

Germany—save for one thing—seems to have enough to be able to pull through into the spring.

ENGLAND STILL HOLDS ECONOMIC EDGE

THE big question mark on the economic front is gasoline.

No one knows how much damage the R. A. F. has done to Germany's oil storage.

Rumors persist that her most important high-test air-engine gasoline synthetic plant has been destroyed.

Her armies have not been consuming material in the last several weeks, but her planes are now tapping her most troublesome material—gas for her planes. That is a completely closed book so far as reliable information is concerned.

The economic situation may be stated thus: In an endurance race between England and Germany, England still can outlast her enemy.

Germany to defeat Britain must win a military victory—that is, a victory in the air or on the sea or on land, sufficient to destroy Britain's power to land the supplies she possesses.

Jane Dillard Irked Because Dictators Halt Olympic Game

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 7 (AP)—Jane Dillard has a personal grudge with Europe's dictators.

She blames them with ruining her chances at top swimming laurels.

For six years this comely Fort Worth miss haunted the swimming pools, racing against anybody or against time, just so she was working at her favorite event—the breaststroke.

Then, when she was ready to make her bid for glory in the Olympic games the dictators messed things up with war.

The games were pushed aside and so went Jane's ambitions.

She doesn't know now whether she'll ever try for the Olympic. She may be "too old."

"I'm 19 now," she said, "and if I have to wait another four years for the Olympics I'd be 'old' as women swimmers go."

She holds laurels that come to few women athletes. She has a case filled with medals and trophies, some of them showing she is a national or world's champion.

Jane, a dark haired, shapely young woman with a voice as soft as silk, started her swimming career because her sisters before her were record-breakers, because her father wanted her to, and because she just naturally likes the sport.

She started swimming at three and broke her first record six years ago.

Now she holds world records for the 100-yard breaststroke both over the short and long courses. Her times were 1:16.6 and 1:17.5, respectively.

She also has three American records. One is the 50-yard breaststroke which she made in 35.1. Her world marks in the 100-yard event over the long and short courses also are American records.

A graduate of Paschal High (Fort Worth), Miss Dillard also attended Austin High where she was coached by Tex Robertson, University of Texas mentor who has produced many champions.

She plans to attend the University of Texas but at the moment is looking for a job. Those 80 medals and six trophies are very pretty and expensive but they don't take care of scholarships.

S. L. (Pop) Dillard has coached his five daughters in the art of swimming for championships. There were Nancy, Maribel, Nane and Lore.

Another Recovery Week for Markets

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—The stock market today finished another recovery week acting a bit tired.

Buying was timid and highly selective throughout the final prices were well mixed.

Offerings never were urgent but those who might have stepped up commitments substantially on the basis of a brightening domestic business picture, apparently did little in view of the coming week-end and the continuously indecisive Anglo-German air battles. Cloudiness of the national tax program and conscription measures, brokers said, also contributed to speculative hesitancy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended off .1 of a point, but on the week held a net advance of 1.3 points at 44.9, its third successive weekly upturn. Today's closing figure represented a climb back from the year's low of 37 established last June 10, the 1940 top of 52.2 was posted Jan. 3.

On the offside were Bethlehem, Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, Anaconda, International Nickel and N. Y. Central.

Emerging with modest advances were U. S. Steel, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, Dow Chemical, American Telephone, Western Union, Santa Fe, Sears Roebuck and Chesapeake and Ohio.

I Want To Tell You

My Story

It's something every American should know. You, too, may be led into a Fifth Columnists' trap. You may be helping the enemies of this country and not know it.

I'm just an ordinary American working girl . . . Before I knew--But read the whole account of my adventures and troubles in Marguerite Gahagan's new serial . . .

TORPEDO BOAT RAMS ENEMY, LIMPS HOME

BY PAUL MANNING
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—Its exhaust roaring, Motor Torpedo Boat 10 sliced its way across the heavy waters of the English Channel at 2 o'clock one morning last week.

On the tiny bridge inside the metal cabin 23-year-old Lieut. James Terry Mannoch peered through the narrow windows into the darkness ahead, proud of his crew of youngsters, his torpedoes, depth charges, Lewis guns and shining boat.

Sitting almost on top of the steeringman, he shouted his orders through a small megaphone. Delicately the helmsman twisted the car-sized wheel to take the waves easier.

Suddenly two German boats loomed out of the darkness, racing abreast toward some coast objective. Too close to release a torpedo, Lieutenant Mannoch shouted an order, his helmsman swerved the small craft into the trough between the two enemy ships, and with Lewis guns blazing, plowed into the side of one of the German boats. But the enemy ship, wrenching away, raced off into the night.

Motor Torpedo Boat 10, its front stove in, limped slowly back to the naval base.

This adventure, multiplied many times during the course of a night by other M. T. boats, shows the dash which these young veterans of the British mosquito fleet are employing in their daily sweep of the mine-dotted channel.

But colorful though the flotillas may be, motor torpedo boats during the past months of war have proved themselves to be a vastly overrated sea weapon.

Prior to the outbreak of war in September, 1939, fabulous claims were made in their behalf. And because a flotilla could be built for the price of one destroyer, many predicted that more torpedo boats and fewer big ships would be built.

Italy, pointing to a sea victory of the last war when an Italian M. T. B. sped into the Adriatic harbor of Pola and sank an Austrian battle cruiser, constructed more than a hundred of the boats.

Britain in 1937 also started to build the flashy little speed-boats. But, unlike Italy, England did not forget that it is the great lumbering dreadnaught which wins the decisive sea battles.

In their role of patrolling the sea lanes of the channel against U-boats and small German E-boats, the motor torpedo boat is excellent. But in the open seas they cannot stand continuous use. Like light whippet tanks, they will not stand up under hard wartime use without constant and skilled attention. They must be frequently hauled up on the shipways for repainting and conditioning if they are to last.

And with the Battle of Britain now under way, that is an operation which is only occasionally possible.

Anglers in California To Catch Marked Trout

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Trout fishermen in California lakes and streams may be surprised when they catch fish with marked fins, but fish and game officials explained that a count is being taken, as an aid in determining the size and type of future trout plantings, as well as the adaptability of certain species.

The count is being undertaken by the U. S. Forest Service, California State Division of Fish and Game, the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries and the Reclamation Service.

Back at home base after their torpedo boat rammed a Nazi ship, Lieut. James Terry Mannoch, right, and his crew examine damage to the bow. Jerseys and other clothing were stuffed into the hole until the craft reached safety.

Oilmen Eye Dawson County as Pair of Wildcats Show Thinning of Section

HOBBS, N. M., Sept. 7—Providing Southeast New Mexico with its most significant development in many months was indication: this week that a new pool will be opened in northwestern Lea County less than a mile east of the Chaves County line.

The prospective discovery well is Great Western Producers, Inc. of Fort Worth No. 1-D State, which filled 1,000 feet with fluid the first two hours and 2,100 feet the first 24 hours after drilling red sand from 3,025 to 3,035 feet, present total depth. Of the fluid, 1,600 feet was oil and 500 feet salty water.

The sand zone in No. 1-D State is said to correspond to the Artesian or Maljamar sand found productive farther southwest. The well now is shut down for orders after swinging 7-inch casing at 2,987 feet. The last time bailer was run it had 2,550 feet of fluid in the hole, of which approximately 800 feet was water and the balance oil. No. 1-D State is located 660 feet from the south, 810 from the east line of section 30-12S-32E.

Root Trio Started

Continuing Eddy County wildcatting activity in the vicinity of Lake McMillan, Knox & Featherstone are moving in material to No. 1 Hatchett. The test is 1,930 feet from the north and east lines of section 14-20S-26E, a mile south of the Lake.

Eddy's Root area kept in the foreground as a trio of new tests were started. F. E. Baker is drilling below 280 feet in anhydrite in No. 1 Root, 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 12-17S-29E. Fulton & Paulkner have staked location for No. 1 Root, 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the east line of the same section. Location also has been staked by Thomas & Flint, Inc. at No. 1 Root, 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 12.

Addison Oil Company No. 3-A Ginsberg, 990 feet from the north, 1,650 from the east line of section 17-18S-31E, in the Ginsberg area of Eddy, gauged natural flow of 104 barrels in 15 hours through 2-inch tubing set on bottom at 3,183 feet. Pay was topped at 3,145 feet.

Maljamar Wells Completed

Barney Cockburn, most active operator in the Maljamar pool of western Lea, this week completed three new oilers and staked location for three more.

His largest completion was No. 20-B Baish, 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 28-17S-32E, which flowed 150 barrels in 24 hours through 1 1/4-inch choke on 2-inch tubing set at 3,100 feet. The well topped pay at 3,785 feet, reached total depth of 3,945 feet in lime, and was shot from 3,775 feet to bottom with 100 quarts of nitro.

Cockburn No. 10-B Baish, 660 feet from the north, 1,980 from the west line of section 28-17S-32E, gauged 24-hour flow of 125 barrels through 2-inch tubing set at 3,466 feet with packer at 3,406 feet. The well had been shot with 120 quarts from 3,740 to 3,800 feet. It logged first oil at 3,599 feet and is bottomed in lime at 3,805 feet.

Deep Lea Failure

Cockburn No. 17-B Baish, 660

feet from the north, 1,980 from the east line of section 28-17S-32E, flowed 125 barrels in 24 hours through 2-inch tubing set at 3,100 feet. Pay zone from 3,730 to 3,834 feet was shot with 100 quarts.

All three of Cockburn's new locations are in section 28-17S-32E. His No. 24-B Baish is 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section; No. 25-B Baish is 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section; and No. 26-B Baish is 1,980 feet from the south, 660 from the east line.

Deep failure for northeastern Lea was seen in Ventura Oil Company No. 1 H. L. Lowe which began plunging to abandon at 6,000 feet, contract depth. High structurally, it found a dense, non-porous lime section too "tight" to produce although several zones showing oil saturation were cored. Location was 660 feet from the south, 1,980 from the east line of section 26-13S-37E.

Vacuum Pair Gauged

A wildcat in southeastern Lea, Stanley Weiner et al No. 1 Saunders, is drilling below 2,580 feet in salt. It is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 20-21S-38E.

In the south portion of Lea's Vacuum pool, The Texas Company No. 3-X State, 1,980 feet from the north, 660 from the east line of section 2-18S-34E, tested natural flow of 273 barrels in eight hours through 1 1/2-inch choke on 2-inch tubing set at 4,650 feet. It topped pay at 4,450 feet and is bottomed in lime at 4,710 feet.

Drilling & Exploration Company

No. 1-L State, Vacuum well in section 30-17S-35E, flowed 110 barrels in 24 hours through 1 1/4-inch choke on tubing after acidizing with 4,000 gallons in pay lime from 4,590 to 4,695 feet, total depth.

At Your Library

What is an American? The following definition is given by Dorothy Thompson in "Let the Record Speak" (This book will be found in the Midland County Library):

"An American is a fellow whose grandfather was a German forty-eight year old who settled in Wisconsin and married a Swede, whose mother's father married an Englishman, whose son met a girl at college whose mother was an Austrian and whose father was a Hungarian Jew, and their son in the twentieth century right now is six feet tall, goes to a state college, plays football, can't speak a word of any language except American, and is doubtful whether he ever had a grandfather."

A vast army of European soldiers pours across the Mexican border into Texas. Another force lands in California, the Panama Canal is damaged. The Pacific coast and most of the Southwest falls into enemy hands. Despite the brilliant work of an officer in the Intelligence Department, long, terrible months pass before America is finally able to rally her sleeping strength to effective resistance. This is the theme of "Attack on America" by General Arred White. (This book will be found in the Midland County Library), not only a thrilling novel but a shocking revelation of how we are open to invasion from overseas. "Written by a man who knows the national defense in all its limitations, the book was checked in manuscript against exaggeration, improbability and inaccuracy by the regular officers of high rank of the regular establishments." (The Publishers' "Timely and terrifying" is the verdict of Virginia Kirkus.

The war in Europe has brought home to the people of the United States the vital importance of our relations with Latin America. But the average responsible citizen of the United States knows little concerning these countries whose friendship, respect, and co-operation is of such importance to them. It was to give them exactly the information they should have that one of the foremost American journalists wrote the book: "Americas to the South" (by John T. Whitaker. Author of "And Fear Came," these books will be found in the Midland County Library). Through his long service as a foreign correspondent, he foresaw the serious situation that our country would face before the European conflict made it clear to all. So from Europe he went to South America to get the facts set forth in this book: "What Vacuum People are the citizens of the various Latin American countries? How do they feel about us? Are their governments democratic or not? What economic and financial difficulties do they face? What problems do North Americans face in dealings with them? What have Germany, Italy and Japan accomplished in these countries? What do all these things mean to the peace and happiness of the people of the United States? Mr. Whitaker answers these questions and many more in Americas to the South.

"Mr. Whitaker's book contains a wealth of facts, pertinently pointed out. He neither exaggerates nor underestimates what Uncle Sam is up against."—The New York Herald Tribune Books.

"An admirable survey of the various Latin-American nations. . .

Doubt Surrounding Chances of Panthers

By JOSEPH H. SNYDER.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7 (AP)—Only four days before Pittsburgh's Simon-pure Panthers begin their 1940 football practice, the campus is agog over what's coming out of the grabber.

Like the little girl with the little curl, the second edition of the P. S. (Post-Sutherland) Panther machine can be good—or else. No one seems to know.

For one thing, Charlie Bowser has lost 15 lettermen who helped him to a better-than-expected season in 1939, winning five of nine. Gone, too, are the stalwart carry-overs from Jock Sutherland's regime—elusive Dick Cassiano and the veteran Ben Kish.

On the other hand, the prospects are for a fair first-string eleven and the usual supply of material. In addition, Pitt (believe it or not) will pull an air attack out of its sleeve this fall—an air attack, mind you, by the machine which, not so long ago, was just one powerhouse after another.

Under Pitt's new after-war blush, the rules forbid practice before Sept. 10, which gives Bowser only two weeks to get ready for a back-breaking eight-game schedule that opens with Ohio State's big Buckeyes.

Yet, if all you hear is true, Pitt's first-string team doesn't look too bad. Despite early towel-waving by Bowser.

For the American who is interested in South American realities rather than in prejudices and old misconceptions, this book will be invaluable."—The Boston Globe.

In "This Is Our China," Madame Chiang Kai-shek, gives the whole absorbing story of China today; its scenic wonders and technical and industrial resources; above all, its people, their spirit, their religious faith, their courage, and their high hope for the future of China. Madame Chiang Kai-shek knows China as few people do. She has shared its suffering, has given of her money, time and devotion to the work of an orphanage for the children of China's soldiers. She has been present in bombardments of Chinese cities by the Japanese, one of which is described in vivid detail. Looking ahead, beyond the discouragements of the present, she sees hope of a greater, more effective nation. "She is a woman of force of character and striking personality in her own right, beyond doubt the most influential woman in China. . . . This volume is a more rounded expression of herself than anything that has yet been published here."—N. Y. Times Book Reviews. "Because of her ability to put her personality on paper in the English tongue, the reader of this book will have an opportunity to get on really intimate terms with the most remarkable woman that modern China has produced and will surely find the experience a pleasant one."—N. Y. Herald-Tribune "Books." (Incidentally the royalties from This Is Our China will be devoted entirely to Chinese war relief.) (This book will be found in the Midland County Library).

"Men Without a Country" Fight On

Although now "men without a country," thousands of Polish troops are aiding Britain's fight against Germany a year after the Nazi blitzkrieg erased Poland from the roster of free nations. The motorcycle squadron above, part of the Allied Near East army until France's downfall, is now attached to British forces in Palestine.

Silver Dollar Payroll Where Money Goes Tip

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (UP)—As an experiment to determine how and where its workers spend their money, a textile manufacturing company paid its 1,300 employees in silver dollars.

The scheme was adopted to support a theory that 70 per cent went to merchants, 15 per cent was banked and only from 10 to 15 per cent left the community.

The firm anticipated it would take some time before the survey would be completed, but reported some of the money turned up in the "most unexpected places." The "cartwheel" payroll was used for only one week.

Mobile Port Takes On Warlike Appearance

MOBILE, Ala. (UP)—This southern seaport city has taken on a warlike appearance almost comparable to America's World War days.

Barbed wire and armed guards are in evidence everywhere. A heavy cyclone fence has been placed around the state docks where ships of belligerent nations tie up. A special pass is needed for admittance.

Much of the imported bauxite ore used in the framework of warplanes is unloaded at the state docks.

Tyson's Waco Club Again Favorite to Cop Championship

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
WACO, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—Paul Tyson and the Brazos river keep rolling along through the heart of this city.

The Brazos will go on forever but Tyson says it will be time for him to quit when he's beaten in a foot-race by one of his Waco high school players.

This is how the dean of Texas coaches put it the other day as he prepared to open his twenty-eighth season and found his team a championship favorite as usual.

Behind him is a fabulous record. In 18 years of sending his squads forth to battle for the state title, Tyson's Tigers have won 161 games, lost 16 and tied 3, going to the finals seven times and winning four championships.

In no season has a Tyson team lost more than two games.

The year before the school entered the Texas Interscholastic League and started playing for keeps, the Tigers hung up the football record ever compiled in this state.

The 1921 eleven was undefeated, untied, unscored on and no opposing team got inside the Waco 20-yard line. The Tigers rolled up 526 points in eight games, an average of over 65 per game against the best high school teams of the state.

Tyson turned down an offer from Connie Mack to pitch for the Philadelphia Athletics to become a coach, starting at Denison high and coming to Waco in 1914. He has been here all but one year—1931, when he got a leave of absence to take work on an advanced degree and do football research at Sanford University with his friend Pop Warner.

To Tyson, football is a means to an end. He's as proud that some of his football players have gained high scholarships as he is of the championships they helped win.

"In football you find out what a boy really is," he said. "You can correct evil tendencies on his part and build him physically and mentally."

In Texas you don't need to say football in speaking of the sport. Just say "Tyson."

SHE GOT A REAL TOY

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 7 (AP)—John Douglas couldn't bring himself to tell his two-year old daughter, Gail, that the August hurricane had swept away her favorite amusement—the merry-go-round at Folley Beach.

So he bought a retired merry-go-round horse from a junk dealer and mounted it on a swinging frame in the back yard.
