Mass German Assault Beaten Off

Italian Troops Take Garrison in Surprise Move

Resistance Crushed Along Entire Way, Officials Declare

By The Associated Press

ROME, Sept. 18.—Italian dispatches said today Libyan soldiers performed the seemingly impossible feat of marching 60 miles in a desert sandstorm to surprise a British garrison at Sidi Barrani, Egypt, and capture that strongly defended second line defense.

The Italian high command declared that the resistance of the army massed from all parts of the British empire to defend the western desert had been "crushed everywhere" and that the Italian force at Sidi Barrani now was organizing for a further push toward Alexandria and the Suez Canal.

(The Italian wireless said four columns of natives and blackshirts were attacking all along the frontier and one of them was carrying forward a wide encircling maneuver from the south.)

The high command reported even the British armored formations were routed.

Wells Are Sealed

The British were reported to have found time, however, to dynamite seal the 12 ancient Roman wells which the Italians had counted upon to supply the huge quantities of water needed by their men and motors in the desert.

(The Italian Radio said new wells had been drilled and waterpipes laid to support the attack.)

(Reports from Cairo said the Italian invaders moved closer toward an impending major battle with British defenders on the vital roadway to Alexandria.)

(Where the British would make a stand remained a military secret. British operations thus far, it was said, have been designed to harass rather than halt the two motorized Italian columns.)

Von Ribbentrop, Duce To Discuss Trade of U. S. With Britain

By Louis P. Lochner

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP).—Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop left for Rome today to confer with Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Ciano and German sources indicated that the exchange of 50 United Destroyers for air and naval bases in British possessions in the Atlantic probably would be among the subjects discussed.

Von Ribbentrop is expected to reach Rome tomorrow.

Spain and Egypt—both of extreme importance in the present conduct of the war—were expected to be the prime subjects of the conversations.

But one German source indicated that the Rome-Berlin axis powers were concerned over the destroyer transaction.

British Victory Is Said Necessary to Preserve Near East

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18 (AP)

—Only a victory for Britain or a stern policy on the part of the United States—or both—could save the Near East from new turmoil and territorial change, in the opinion of eight American newsmen who returned heretoday.

The group left via Pan American Airways for Los Angeles August 10, and visited New Zealand, Australia, Singapore, Manila and Hongkong on a 30,000-mile tour. They came back from Hawaii on the liner Matsushita.

J. K. Walsh, editor of the Kalamazoo (Mich.) Gazette, who represented the Associated Press, said every country was "pathetically anxious" to present its case to this nation, and that "there is plenty of worry about what Japan is going to do. They aren't worrying much about Germany—unless Germany should get the British navy."

Gandhi Will Confer With British Viceroy

BOMBAY, Sept. 18 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi, once again unquestioned leader of the all-India Congress (Nationalist party), went to Wardha today, leaving instructions for all followers to obey the law and await further instructions, pending an interview with the British Viceroy, Lord of Linlithgow.

The Congress pledged itself two days ago not to embarrass Britain, now that she is at war, but at the same time to preach anti-war propaganda in a non-violent manner.

Beauty Queen Stricken

Miss Gordyne Sedgwick, 21-year-old beauty contest winner, was taken from an "iron lung" at New York after a tentative diagnosis of her ailment as an uncommon disease which might paralyze her lungs had been studied by specialists. She had been visiting the World's Fair, where she injured an ankle and unusual symptoms developed.

By The Associated Press

General Antonio Guerrero, commander of the Chihuahua Mexico military zone, said today that an aerial reconnaissance over southwestern Chihuahua had revealed "no sign whatsoever" of an armed uprising by followers of General Juan Andreu Almazan, unsuccessful candidate in the Mexican presidential election.

General Guerrero revealed that airplanes, cavalry and infantry had been sent into the region following receipt of unconfirmed reports that Lieut. Col. Cruz Villalva, Almazan candidate for governor of Chihuahua state, was at the head of a group of about 70 armed men near Santa Rosalia de Las Vuelas.

The town is about 130 miles southeast of Chihuahua City, capital of Chihuahua state.

There have been repeated rumors of impending trouble in the southern republic since Avila Camacho was declared legally elected president in his contest with Almazan.

Armed Uprising in Mexico Discounted As No Evidence Found

Schooner Crew Saved After Drifting West

GALVESTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The schooner William Hays was safe in port here today after more than a week of drifting helplessly in the Gulf of Mexico with its captain and a member of the crew dead from injuries received when the mainsail toppled.

Using a makeshift sail, the eight survivors managed to reach a point within two miles of Galveston harbor north jetties last night and a coast guard boat towed the stricken schooner into port.

Captain William Swim, 59, of Peacock, Fla., and Paul Hern, 31, of Washington were killed Sept. 9 when the mainsail crashed without warning.

Midland Men Hear Speech by Willkie

Curt Inman and C. G. Murray returned last night from Amarillo where they heard Wendell Willkie speak. They reported a large crowd and an interesting speech.

Inman said that he was very impressed with the manner in which Willkie spoke, adding that his personality was such that "to hear him is to admire him." He said that about 30,000 people heard the address at Elwood Park, including school children, notables from all parts of Texas and New Mexico, and Amarillo city officials.

Murray asserted that Willkie's simplicity and sincerity was his chief asset and that his physical appearance was most striking.

Foe of New Deal Beaten in Try at Comeback in N. Y.

Critics of President Carry Majority of Places in Wisconsin

By The Associated Press

The double defeat of former Rep. John J. O'Connor of New York in his Congressional comeback bid and the strength shown by anti-administration Democrats in Wisconsin highspotted Tuesday's primary elections.

O'Connor, whose defeat for the Democratic renomination was successfully advocated by administration forces in 1938, lost out in efforts to win both Republican and Democratic nominations in Manhattan's 16th Congressional district.

In Wisconsin, Democrats who have been critical of President Roosevelt were well out in front of an administration supporter for the party's nomination for U. S. Senator.

The gubernatorial contest was a nip-and-tuck affair. With a sizeable portion of the state unreported, however, the vote was not conclusive.

A Roosevelt supporter took over the lead for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination after trailing a critic of the administration throughout the early count.

New Dealer Wins

Decisive defeats blasted O'Connor's hopes in New York. William F. Pfeiffer defeated him in the Republican primary, and in the Democratic contest, he lost again to his victorious 1938 opponent, pro-New Deal Rep. James H. Fay.

Among Congressional incumbents to win renomination in New York was Rep. Hamilton Fish, New Deal foe, who has again the Republican choice in the 25th district. The president's Hyde Park home is in the district.

Available returns in Wisconsin showed James E. Finnegan, former state attorney general, and William D. Carroll, chairman of the party's state central committee, running neck-and-neck in the Democratic race for Senator. Both supported the bid of Vice-President Garner for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In the party's gubernatorial contest, an administration critic, William R. Callahan, and Francis E. McGovern, former governor and a Roosevelt backer, were running neck and neck.

Court Refuses to Review Decision On Ousting Johnson

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—The supreme court today refused to review a lower court decision permanently enjoining the Board of Control from ousting Dr. W. J. Johnson as superintendent of the San Antonio State Hospital.

Without written opinion, the high tribunal refused to grant an application for writ of error filed in behalf of Harry Knox, chairman of the control board.

Its action upheld the Austin Court of Civil Appeals which declared the board did not have authority to discharge the superintendent or otherwise interfere with his duties.

Dr. Johnson several months ago was accused of making improper advances to a number of women employees at the institution and the Control Board conducted a hearing.

Meanwhile, declaring a conspiracy to oust him, the 56-year-old superintendent obtained an injunction, contending the board could not remove him before his term expires next August and that in any event he was entitled to a court trial which the board was powerless to conduct.

Senate Probe of Election Ordered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) announced today that the Senate campaign committee was sending investigators to New Mexico as a result of complaints by supporters of Rep. John J. Dempsey that "returns were manipulated" in Dempsey's election contest with Senator Dennis Chavez for the Democratic Senatorial nomination.

Gillette said the committee investigation would be independent of any undertaken by Department of Justice agents.

Education vs. Propaganda

It is good to see federal officials and responsible educators like U. S. Commissioner of Education John W. Studebaker intensely alive to the problem of infiltration of foreign points of view into the United States.

Commissioner Studebaker is no advocate of repression and passive defense. He would take the ball away from foreign propagandists and carry it toward the American goal. He has urged these practical measures on school officials of the 48 states:

1. Once and for all eliminate illiteracy.
 2. Vigorously educate the foreign-born and foreign language groups in the history and principles of American democracy.
 3. Enable today's adults to catch up with modern problems and understand them through practical and systematic study and discussion. "Civic illiteracy is an open invitation to a fifth column."
- America wants no robot yelpers for "strong men" or fool-proof systems. It wants intelligent, well-informed, enlightened citizens who know the precious worth of freedom. Given these, it can stand against the world.

SERIAL STORY

This Could Be Your Story

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Sue Mary goes to a political meeting with Nick. It ends in a small riot and Sue Mary has the feeling that everything was staged to get attention and publicity. Nick suggests that Sue Mary get Vera a job in her office. It is easily arranged and Nick is delighted.

NICK ASKS QUESTIONS

Chapter IX

NICK was happy. He sat in the parlor and leaned forward eagerly asking Sue Mary more details about how she had helped Vera get the job.

"It's not only that I'm glad she will have a job for a while," he said, holding Sue Mary's hands between his own. "But it's that you did this because I asked you to do it. That's what puts this warm feeling—this little flame here in my heart."

"You're not like other girls—I mean like the ones I've known. I've had a funny life. Tough; hard. I've had to work and fight my way. And lately I've had a cause. I never meant to be one of the crowd that trails along. I think, I reason, and I know that there is a chance for someone like me."

"Civilization is changing; society is taking on a new form, and I'm going to help. A man needs someone to work along with him, though. Someone whom he can trust, believe in, love."

Nick's love was becoming something to deal with. It frightened Sue Mary. There had been boys back home in high school days. Nice young boys who took her to dances and high school parties. Then there was Joe, whose love she couldn't doubt, but whose love was not like this.

Nick frightened and thrilled her at the same time. His words left her with a sense of embarrassment. In her bewilderment she could only try to steer him back to workaday matters.

"Nick, please—let's talk about Vera's job. You know I'll help her; show her how things work in the office. It won't be hard." "But the work there isn't easy," he reminded her. "You say there is much legal work. What do you mean by that?"

She tried to explain, glad for the interest that took his thoughts away from herself. It was filing and stenographic work, she explained.

"Orders keep coming in; plans have to be checked and they keep changing the machines out there in the plants at the time now, it seems, since the plane factory is working for the government on pursuit and bomber planes."

"At first, you know, I used to get sort of sick thinking that all those papers—those drawings, those figures—would eventually become machines of death. I could close my eyes and picture the sky overhead filled with them carrying guns and bombs. But of course that was silly. We need those planes for defense—and I can't believe we'll ever have to use them. Not here, Nick. Not in America."

HIS arms about her had relaxed and he pressed his face against her hair and laughed softly. "Of course not. Only it's natural to wonder about the things with which you work. But certainly you can't understand all those plans, figures that you speak about."

"No, silly. Of course not. At least not much. And then, anyway, I don't see them often. The really important ones never get out of Miss Grant's hands. She's Mr. Ross' secretary and he has to put the final signature on everything that goes out of the office, so naturally she handles them."

"But they're valuable. Why, I guess they're government property. Anyway, they're guarded in the vault as though they were diamonds."

"Diamonds aren't a good comparison, dearest," he said. "Those plans can't be bought. I should think they'd want to keep them some place safer."

"I don't think they do keep them there very long," Sue Mary confessed. "Men—government men, we girls think—come in often and have conferences. I guess they take the plans away. Anyway I hope so."

"Wouldn't it be terrible if some secret agent stole them? Why, Nick—never thought of it before, but if another country got them—what would happen?"

He laughed and kissed her. "You've been reading G-men stories, seeing too many movies. Don't bother your pretty head about it. After all, you aren't responsible, and no one is going to try such a stunt."

WHILE she was with Nick she was happy. He had brought something into her drab, hum-drum life that it had lacked before. No longer did she face empty days, dragging hours, a sense of nothing ahead. Nick had picked her up and plumped her into a world where things happened. Where there were other young people—a kind that thought and planned for tomorrow.

In a few short weeks Nick had become more than a mere playmate. He kept her supplied with reading material; novels, some of which she couldn't understand, but which she read because he asked her to, and because he discussed them with her later, magazines with articles about government problems affecting the man on the street, editorials in out-of-town papers commenting on world situations.

Constantly she was striving to please him, reach a state where she could talk with him as though she were something more than a child. And yet she couldn't reach a perfect feeling of ease with him. Or with Vera or Natalie.

At the office Vera was no problem. She was quiet, self-effacing, efficient. Vera had style; there was something about her poise, her carriage, her voice that made people look at her twice.

Sue Mary wished secretly that she had some of Vera's assurance.

Jones to Succeed Hopkins Thursday

ABOARD PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP)—Jesse Jones, the Texas banker who joined the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under Herbert Hoover and became its chairman during the Roosevelt administration, will succeed Harry L. Hopkins as Secretary of Commerce tomorrow.

Arrangements to swear in the Texas banker at the White House were disclosed today aboard the train returning President Roosevelt and other high officials to Washington from the funeral of Speaker William B. Bankhead at Jasper, Ala.

Jones will retain his position as Federal Loan Administrator.

She would stare at her own round tanned face in the office mirror; at the sprinkle of golden freckles scattered over her nose; at the blue eyes fringed in the thick lashes; at the dark, brown hair worn in the traditional loose bob beloved by American girls.

"I'm just another," girl she would admit to herself. "Just like thousands in every town and in offices throughout the land. There's nothing about me to make anyone remember me. I'm pretty as girls go, but I'm not the kind that stands out. Not like Vera."

BUT Vera, for all her attractiveness, was also a good worker. "Miss Oliver is doing very well," Miss Grant told Sue Mary a week later. "She's always so willing to learn, and she has a good grasp on things here once they've been explained."

Sue Mary told that to Vera when they left the office and started toward the hall where they would talk and gossip with the others for an hour before going home.

"I'm glad," Vera said, smoothing the dark hair back from her calm, broad forehead. Sue Mary thought she already looked rested. There was a touch of pink in her dark cheeks, and she was wearing a new shade of lipstick that brought out the strength of her full lips.

"I'm going to like it here," she said. "That is, if Kitty doesn't make it tough."

OUR COUNTRY

Ninth of 24 articles on "Our Country," written exclusively for NEA Service and The Reporter-Telegram by the nation's most famous authors.

By Gladys Hasty Carroll
Author of "A Few Foolish Ones" and "As the Earth Turns."

I HAVE been asked to say in a few words what the American way of life means to me, what I think it means to all of us who live it. This is the thing above all others which I wish I could do. I would far rather feel, next year, that I had done this, and done it well, today, than to know that I had written the greatest novel ever published!

But can I do it? I have been writing steadily on this very subject for more than 10 years now—millions of words—and scarcely begun to say what I feel. (Please, God, help me to do it.)

With the first declaration of our independence, our forefathers began making a bowl.

They had never made one before. They had nothing to make it of but the brown earth of America and the blue sky above, nothing to make it of but the fires they had kindled with flint and fagot.

But they were through forever with impractical, unbecoming English china. So they knelt together, mixed, shaped, patted, baked—and produced a bowl of their own. It was not perfect. It may not even have been beautiful, but it seemed so to them. It stood up sturdily on its pale brown base, and when they looked over its blue rim, down into the deepest part, the very heart of it, they saw brave, bright colors, in stripes, and a selfless, deathless shine of stars, which stood not only American scene from her window, for what America was but for what she was going to be. We still have this same bowl. We have altered it constantly in shape and size, sometimes as much as we felt it needed. There are those now quick to tell us that it is still not beautiful. It has never yet held all the good things we should like to find in it.

Sometimes, our fish chowder, baked beans, corn meal mush, the greedy at the table have taken a glutton's share. But gluttons come naturally by their punishment. The important part is that the bowl is ours, that all which has gone into it is ours, that nothing has ever made a change in it except our own hands—your hands and my hands—directed by our own hearts—your hearts and my heart. . . . And not only Americans but the whole world now sees in it, more clearly than ever, that brave, bright, shining symbol of what America is and what she may become.

NOW rises the question—how much does the possession of this bowl mean to us? It is all we have. How much do we stand ready to sacrifice to preserve a heritage for our children? This bowl of ours, it would not be to use for ourselves, even, but to destroy it utterly. The best we should get in its place would be a factory product, one of many dealt around the world like flat, unmarked disks, from a thick and heavy pack. If we should lose our bowl, shaped in freedom, there would be no material and no free hands, anywhere, ever for the making of another. If we should lose this . . .

But we are going to keep it. They asked me to say what the American way of life means to me, what I think it means to all of us. This is what I say (and as I know and love you all, I swear it to be true):

It means everything. If we are ever forced to fight for it, we shall understand fully that death, in its truest sense, will come to every American man, woman, child—unless we win! Set against the loss of all we have, or might ever have, no cost will be too great. They ask whether we are prepared for sacrifice.

I say to them: Call on us! Ask us for sacrifice! We have been ready and waiting a long time. When you ask us—you will see. . . .

Ramblers Take 8-4 Win From Mexicans

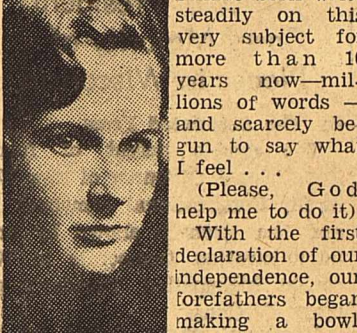

The Midland Ramblers won their ninth game of the season Sunday when they defeated the Mexican team, 8-4, for the second straight time.

Bobby Walker was on the mound for the Ramblers and set the Mexicans down with six hits. He helped account for the win by collecting two doubles. Leading hitter for the winners was catcher Van Ed Watson with a triple, two doubles and a single to drive in five runs. Woodrow Beatty pressed Watson for batting honors with two doubles and a single.

The Ramblers played their best defensive game of the year as they went errorless and made several spectacular catches. A defensive play of the day was a shoestring catch of a liner in centerfield by Noyes.

and writes her impressions in the next article of this series on "Our Country."

More Power, and more miles per Gallon

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU'LL like the size of this trim new Buick SPECIAL for '41—its room, its softer ride, its Permi-firm steering, its fresh smart style and all that.

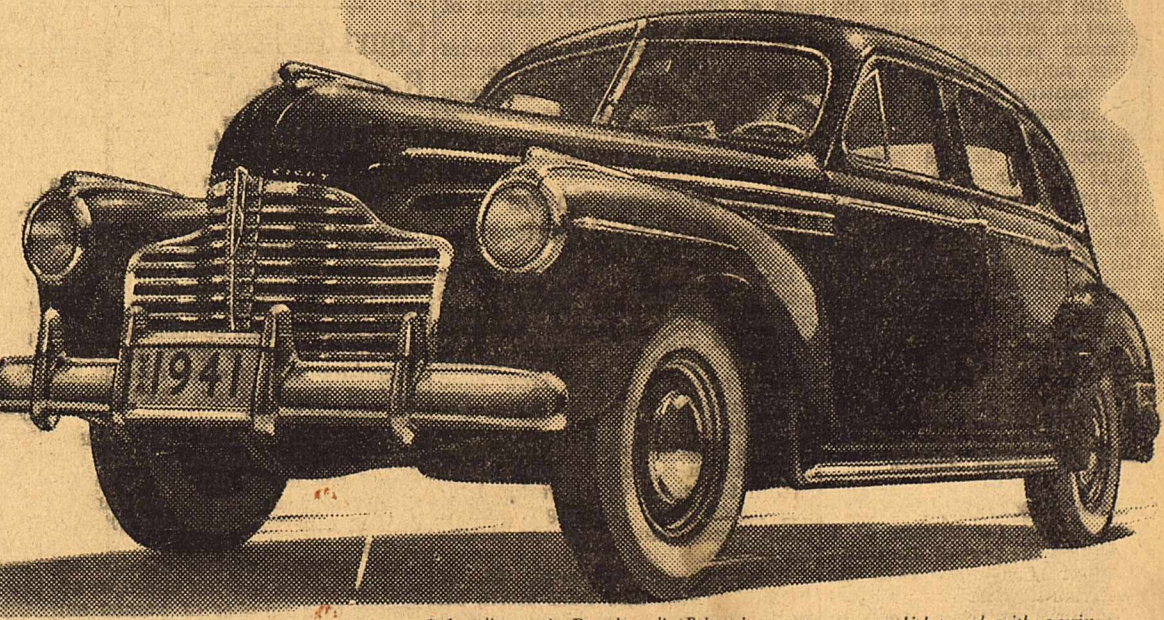

But what you'll go for is what happens under that broad bonnet—the thrill and the thrift you get from that husky, big, 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL* Eight.

For in each flame-packed cylinder of that silk-smooth power plant a flaring ball of fire is set off with each spark-leap.

Packed to higher compression than ever before, fuel gives up more power and more mileage—power when you need it, economy throughout the whole driving range.

Indeed, so great is the power at your command that at 30 you use only one-eighth of the energy at your disposal. All the rest is there waiting for pick-up, hill-climb and sudden getaway.

Even at 50 you use less than one-quarter of your available power, and at 75 still have nearly a half "on call" for emergency use.

*According to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, a super motor which travels with a series of explosions like the shock waves of a great projectile is called a "FIREBALL."

More than that, to this engine you can likewise add Compound Carburetion—and step up both power output and your mileage. At 30 you'll get nearly one and one-half more miles per gallon, at 50 almost two, and at 70 an extra mile and one-fifth.

But that's just one side of the story—the facts side. Only one thing will give you the stirring feel of Buick's thrill-packed behavior on the road.

That's a demonstration—and it's yours for the asking. When will you be in to ask for it?

WINK ONE UP ON MIDLAND IN TEN GAMES

Bulldogs Out to Repeat Victory Scored Last Year

The Midland Bulldogs will have a double objective in sight when they meet with the Wink Wildcats here Friday night—to tie up the all time win and lost score and to make it two wins in a row over the oil field team for the first time.

Since starting play in 1928, the Bulldogs have won four, lost five and tied one. The Wildcats have won five of the ten games played. During that time, the Wildcats have scored 179 points while the Bulldogs have scored 118.

The first game between the two clubs was played back in 1929 and ended in a 6-6 tie, the only one ever played between the two.

In 1930, the Bulldogs, with probably the best team ever up to that time, romped over the Wildcats to a 39-0 win, the largest ever rolled up by the Midlanders in the series.

In 1931 and 1932 the Bulldogs were in Class-A (now AA) and did not meet the Wildcats.

The teams got together again in 1933 and the Wildcats racked up a 32-0 win over Midland, the twenty first consecutive win for the Wink boys.

The score was reversed in 1934 when the Midland team copped a 13-12 decision and broke the Wink winning streak at 33 consecutive games.

In 1935, however, the Wildcats got even by handing the Midland boys a 19-2 setback.

In 1936, the Wildcats were again on a long winning streak, having captured 19 straight when the Bulldogs upset them by a score of 12-7. Two touchdowns in the first period by the Bulldogs gave them a lead the visitors could never overcome.

Revenge in a large way came for the Wildcats when they ran roughshod over a weak Midland team, 46-0, in 1937.

In 1938 the Wink club took a 45-21 decision in one of the best games ever played on Lackey field.

When time for the 1939 game came around the Wildcats had gone through 20 games without a loss, 19 wins and a tie, and were overwhelming favorites to win again. When the smoke of battle had cleared the Bulldogs had scored a stunning 27-12 upset.

What the score will be this year is something that won't be known until about 10 o'clock Friday night, but it is a cinch it will be a game the fans won't soon forget.

Vols Capture 12-4 Win From Crackers

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 18 (AP)—The Nashville Vols will be seeking their 18th victory tonight when they come to grips with Atlanta's Crackers in the second game of the final round of the Southern Association Shaughnessy playoff.

The pennant-winning Vols found the Crackers easy pickings last night in the opener, grabbing a 12-4 decision as Atlanta's defense fell apart.

69 Boats Entered For Marfa Contests
MARFA, Sept. 18.—A total of 69 boats have entered the First Annual Highland Regatta to date, and more are expected. The races will start at 1 o'clock promptly on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 22nd., with Judge W. W. Bogel, President of the Club, firing the starting gun from the Judges' Stand.

The Highland Section has on its very best dress for the Regatta, which some are predicting will see the largest crowd ever assembled in this area.

In addition to eight traces between 36 speed boats and two between 14 stock boats, all from other towns, there will be two stock boat races between business men of the Highlands.

Flashes of Life

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 18 (AP)—It sounds like double talk when the public address system at the Douglas County Hospital sings out a call for "Dr. Docter!" It caused confusion for a while, but now the staff knows that Dr. A. W. Docter, the new resident physician is wanted.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 18 (AP)—A momentary furore was caused in the Minnesota State Federation of Labor convention when a delegate arose to protest that a spectator in the gallery was "waving a red flag."

A sergeant-at-arms found the "red flag" was a piece of knitting brought by a woman spectator who placidly continued to knit one, purrl two during the flurry.

ACC Students Charter Bus For Game Here Saturday

A large group of A. C. C. students are chartering a bus to make the trip to Midland Saturday night to see the Wildcats play the NSTC eleven in Midland. Several scores more students and supporters of the Wildcats will make the trip in cars. As yet it has not been definitely decided whether the widely known "March Kings of West Texas" ACC's band, will make the trip intact.

Coaches Morris and Coleman are daily running their proteges thru hard workouts with the emphasis being placed on smoothing out plays and running back punts during the past two days.

ACC's only triple-threat backfield man will probably not see action in Saturday night's game. W. F. James, 185 pound half back, received a shoulder injury Saturday afternoon and has not been able to work out since.

With the exception of this and barring further injuries during the remaining practice sessions, the purple and white boys should be in fair shape for the game.

According to Coach Morris, this game with North Texas should be the hardest tussle on the schedule. His starting line-up will not be released previous to the game, he also added.

Red Stromquist, little All-American of two years ago, is daily proving himself capable of starring from his new position at the pivot post. His showing in practice sessions at backing up the line has bordered on the sensational and Midland fans can expect to see a brilliant display of football talent from this tall red-headed, Swedish gridiron demon.

Thurman Jones, 190 pound full-back who lead the Texas Conference in scoring during the past season, has returned this year with, if possible, a more vigorous drive than he exhibited during the past season.

With two full sets of veteran backs, ACC's reserve strength is probably second in this section only to North Texas, their opponent of Saturday which is reputed to have the largest array of football material in the Southwest this year.

Frequent changes in the line-up is expected on the ACC side Saturday night as coach Morris strives to find a balanced eleven. Probably before the game is very old two or three freshmen players will be given their chance and if they live up to their early showings in practice they will probably push some of the lettermen for regular berths in following games.

But one thing sure, Midland fans will be afforded an opportunity to witness some of Texas' most talented football players of collegiate rank, on either side of the line of scrimmage.

WHY DON'T YOU TRY FOLGER'S? IT'S MOUNTAIN GROWN FLAVOR ALWAYS APPEALS TO MEN.
SOON AFTER

ANOTHER CUP OF COFFEE, HONEY! IT CERTAINLY TASTES DIFFERENT THESE DAYS.

THAT'S BECAUSE MOUNTAIN GROWN FOLGER'S IS A DIFFERENT KIND OF COFFEE!

THAT DINNER WAS SO GOOD, I'M TOO FULL TO FINISH THE COFFEE.

LEAVING HALF YOUR COFFEE AGAIN, JOHN?
IN THE EVENING

WHY, JOHN, YOU DIDN'T FINISH YOUR COFFEE!
IN THE MORNING

SORRY, I'VE GOT TO RUSH FOR THE TRAIN.

THREE OUT OF FOUR COFFEES ARE LOWLAND GROWN

YES, BUT FOLGER'S IS DIFFERENT

Vigorous Flavor
BECAUSE IT'S MOUNTAIN GROWN!

Folger's comes from tropical mountains of Central America, "the world's coffee growing Paradise," where bright sunshine, air, and rich volcanic soil produce a miracle in coffee flavor. In fact, Folger's is so rich that thousands of women say you can use one-fourth less and actually enjoy full-flavored coffee. Serve Folger's for breakfast tomorrow and enjoy a vigorous flavor no lowland grown coffee can possibly match!

Tigers Regain Top Again When Indians Are Defeated by the A's

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer

The daily bulletins on the American League's feverish pennant fight are about as informative as patients—like "conditions unchanged" or "resting comfortably."

There is nothing anybody can do about it, though, because nobody in the world right now knows which of the American League patients are going to live and which are going to die.

The Detroit Tigers triumphed again yesterday and exchanged places at the top of the league with the Cleveland Indians, who lost. The New York Yankees ended a losing streak to move up 3 1/2 games from first place and the Chicago White Sox were idle.

Out of this jumble anything can happen. Here is the way they stand:

Club	W.	L.	Pct.	GB	TP
Detroit	82	60	.577		12
Cleveland	82	61	.573	1/2	11
New York	78	65	.553	3 1/2	13
Chicago	78	65	.545	4 1/2	11

The victories of the Tigers and Yanks were somewhat marred, because Schoolboy Rowe, while getting credit for his 15th victory, developed shoulder trouble and retired before Detroit finished a 6-3 triumph over the Washington Senators, and Joe DiMaggio of the world champions hurt his leg again as the world champions walloped the St. Louis Browns 9-0.

Rowe said his trouble wasn't serious and he would be able to go again after a few days rest. Others of the Tigers were less certain. Without the Schoolboy, Detroit is due to find a lot of difficulty on the pennant trail.

DiMaggio hoped to be ready to return to duty today, but wasn't sure.

All the American League contenders were booked for doubleheaders today.

Cleveland's only casualty was its 4-3 loss to the last place Philadelphia Athletics. Bill Beckman kept the Tribe checked on nine hits and same of four Indian hurlers.

In the National League the Cincinnati Reds came within a single game of clinching their second straight pennant. With Whitey Moore pitching five-hit ball they edged out the Phillies 2-1 to take an 11-game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were shutout, 5-0 by the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Chicago Cubs put on a six-run uprising in the eighth inning and beat New York 9-8 to extend the Giants' losing streak to nine games.

Boston's Bees copped a free-hitting battle from the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-5.

Exporters Break Losing Streak in Beating Buffs, 8-3

BEAUMONT, Tex., Sept. 18 (AP).—Beaumont's baseball spirit was on the upswing today because the Exporters finally had managed to puncture the tough armor of the Houston Buffs in the Texas League play-off.

Houston had Beaumont two down yesterday when the Buffs rolled into town but the Shippers responded to the pleas of the home folks with an 8-3 decision that put them back in the running.

Beaumont depended on the slants of Les Mueller today for the fourth game. Houston nominated Ted Wilks for mound duty.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks kept ten Houston hits well scattered in yesterday's victory while the Exporters were clubbing out eleven, with homers by Boyd Perry and Murray Franklin bringing in half the runs.

New Treatment of Cancer Outlined

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18. — A new attack on cancer, trying vitamin K as a possible preventive, was announced to the Bicentennial Conference of the University of Pennsylvania here today.

K is the recently discovered vitamin which aids blood to clot. Alfalfa is rich in K. But an inexhaustible new source has been supplied by chemists who synthesized K in five forms.

The cancer prevention experiments are starting at Harvard University and were described by Dr. Lois F. Fisher, professor of chemistry.

The K will be tried on a common form of skin cancer caused by tarry substances.

In animals it is only necessary to rub some of the tarry "hydrocarbon" on the skin and lethal cancers develop. The vitamin will be injected to see whether its presence will prevent the cancers.

The experiment is exactly like a prize fight. K is the "second" at the ringside, and the real cancer the ringside, and the real cancering substance in blood. K stimulates human and animal bodies to make prothrombin.

Experiments have shown also that bile acid and hormones, which humans possess in abundance, are able to break down into some of the tar chemicals which are most potent in causing cancer.

When these cancer chemicals were fed to rabbits, the animals' bodies changed them into harmless compounds. Whether this prothrombin of the rabbits was prothrombin, or something still unknown, the Harvard experiments promise important information.

Officers Named by NFLA for Next Year

Shareholders of the Midland Farm Loan association held their annual meeting in the IOOF hall and unanimously re-elected John M. King and M. W. Whitmore directors. Other directors are Terry Elkin and Ben Carpenter.

Garland Woodward, assistant general counsel of the federal land bank, was present at the meeting and provided an interesting talk on Federal land bank loans and the bank's functions.

Immediately following the shareholders' meeting, the directors elected officers for the following year. They are:

Elkin, president; Whitmore, vice-president; Carpenter, secretary-treasurer; Bizzell, Elkin, Whitmore, loan committee; H. L. McClintic, Floyd Coumiss and R. O. Brooks were named alternate members of the committee.

The association is now servicing 144 federal land bank loans of $560,790 and 76 land bank commissioner loans of $158,350. All loans are now under a 3 1/2 per cent interest rate as provided by congress. The rate extends to all in stallments maturing prior to June 30, 1942.

Criminologist Is Heard at Luncheon

"Write checks carefully, cash them cautiously and handle them safely," was the advice given by L. V. Longway, the speaker in his demonstration of the forgery criminologist of the Bankers Protective Association, to members of the Midland Lions club at their weekly luncheon today noon. The special demonstration was aimed to educate club members in self protection against forgers and check artists. A blackboard was used by the speaker in his demonstration.

Stating that check artists are opportunists, Mr. Longway demonstrated how the "artists" change figures and names of payees. He then listed the rules that should be followed to block opportunity for change, making the checks change proof. Club members were warned to write checks carefully in permanent ink on safety paper check blanks, being sure to fill in every blank space—especially to the left of the paper. He also warned against the using of all abbreviations in writing checks. He stated that check crimes can be reduced by education. Mr. Longway also duplicated the signatures of various club members. He concluded his demonstration with the statement, "Strangers are not all crooks but crooks are almost always strangers."

Marjorie Barron, student of the Gertrude Lowe School of Dance, was presented in two tap dance numbers, being accompanied at the piano by Roy DeWolfe. The program was in charge of A. L. Gilbreth.

A committee composed of Claude O. Crane, Marvin English, W. B. Harkrider, R. C. Harkins, S. E. Mickey, O. L. Wood, Ed Hitchcock, J. B. Crain, Bob Baker, Clint Myrick, Merritt F. Hines and Peccos Wilkenfeld was appointed by President R. C. Conkling to assist in the Boy Scout financial drive next Tuesday.

Club members present voted to cooperate to the fullest extent in the establishment in Midland of extension courses from Texas Technological College.

Highlights From the Week's Oil News

Nebraska—A Falls City well that failed to find production in Viola lime flowed 55 bbl. of oil an hour after plugging back and acidizing Hunton lime. If that rate of flow holds up on completion test it will be the biggest producer in the field.

Michigan—After many months of effort commercial production has been found in Huron County, in Michigan's Thumb.

Texas Gulf Coast—Frio production opened on old Mount Houston prospect, Harris County, while a wildcard in Shepherd area, San Jacinto County, prepared to test Wilcox sand.

Louisiana Gulf Coast—Wildcatting stimulated by discovery of prolific production in the Lake Salvador area, St. Charles Parish, and showing of wildcard in the Bayou Perot area, Jefferson Parish.

West Texas—Crane County's newest Ordovician oil-producing spot, about 3 miles southeast of the deep Tubb (Ordovician) field, was given its second producer during the week to advance that area as a possible important Ellenberger lime field.

North Texas—Initial gauges were reported on the new discovery in Clay County and plug was being drilled out of the new discovery in Montague County. Both wildcats indicated production about 10 days ago but have now definitely opened new fields.

West Central Texas—The Palo Pinto lime Nowles field, located on Jones and Haskell County line, was given a new outpost location and a new south extension producer during the week. Possibility is seen for the area developing into a major Palo Pinto lime field.

Kansas—The Wilkins pool in Ellsworth County was extended three-quarters of a mile northward to within 1 mile of the town of Holywood. The Lansing lime areas of the Hall and Gurney pools, Russell County, were connected.

Oklahoma—A townsite drilling campaign was started at Weleetka, Oklahoma County, after a well just west of the city limits flowed 575 bbl. of oil in 16 hours. The Hewitt field, Carter County, was extended southwestward, and a new productive spot west of the East Seminole field, Seminole County, was uncovered.

California—The discovery wells of the deep Inglewood zone and of the Castaic field in the Newhall district have been completed.

La-Ark-Tex—The Jena district in La Salle Parish has developed into the most active region in the tristate area as additional Wilcox production is developed south of Olla.

France Rations Gasoline To Mosul Oil Millionaire

VICHY (UP).—Europe's richest oil millionaire, S. S. Gulbenkian, known as the "Armenian Rockefeller" because he owns a 4 per cent interest in the Mosul fields which brings him as his share 500,000 tons of crude oil annually, was forced to stand in line with hundreds of refugees to obtain a special coupon according him five gallons of gasoline for his fleet of seven motor cars.

The gasoline famine has halted the motors of 95 per cent of automobiles in France. Gulbenkian took refuge at Vichy when the German army entered Paris, but he left behind him the most valuable private art collection in Europe, chiefly paintings and tapestries, in his Paris town house.

Mail Carrier in 33 Years Travels 500,000 Miles

HILTON, N. J. (UP).—Cleveland M. Nellis, rural mail carrier, should be able to claim some sort of record when he retires.

Since assuming his duties in 1907, Nellis has traveled approximately 500,000 miles, or about 20 times around the world. In 33 years of service he has failed to deliver mail only twice; both times the mail train was snowbound.

A mile and a half south of the South Cowden (Addis) pool of Ector, Forest No. 1-H Paul Moss set 8 5/8 inch surface pipe at 214, 11 feet off bottom, with 125 sacks.

Both wildcats will drill out plug tomorrow evening.

TO CHRISTIAN COLLEGE
Misses Jacqueline Campbell and Elinor Hedrick have gone to Dallas where they will join a special train taking students to Christian College at Columbia, Mo. Miss Lois May Lynch will also join them at Dallas for the journey north. This winter Elinor will continue her study of piano and Jacqueline her study of violin, in addition to their regular college curriculum.

Groundwork Laid For Tech College Courses Here

Groundwork for the starting of at least two extension courses from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, was laid last night when persons interested in extension course work met with representatives of the Lubbock school in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer. Initial classes will meet at the high school on Tuesday evening, October 8, it was tentatively announced following the meeting which was sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

The two courses agreed upon last night will be conducted by the Department of Speech and the Department of Economics and Business Administration. Five persons attending the session enrolled in the speech class and three in the economics class.

Here from the Lubbock school to attend the meeting were Dr. J. F. McDonald, director of the extension division; M. J. Erickson of the Department of Economics and Business Administration, and John N. Watson of the Department of Speech. McDonald outlined the procedure in the establishing of extension courses and told of the benefits to be derived therefrom. Erickson and Watson explained the type of courses available from their departments.

Minimum enrollment in any extension class is 21 persons, cost of the course being $15 per person. Those enrolling last night were requested to serve on enrollment committees, signing up as many persons interested in taking one of the two courses as soon as possible. The fee for the course is payable upon enrollment. Dr. McDonald pointed out to those present last night that practically any course will be brought to Midland providing 21 persons are enrolled. College credits may be secured if desired.

An effort will be made to complete enrollment in the speech and economics classes by Saturday afternoon, all persons desiring to enroll in these or other classes being urged to contact Bill Collins at the chamber of commerce before the end of the week.

The class or classes would start on the first Tuesday evening in October and would continue each Tuesday evening for a period of 15 or 16 weeks. Professors would drive to Midland each week to meet their classes.

Cooperation of the Midland public schools in the conducting of courses here was assured at last night's session by R. C. Conkling, board member, and by Dr. W. W. Lackey, superintendent.

Congress Prepares to Start Work To Put Conscription in Effect

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP).—Action to clear the way for operation of the nationwide conscription program commanded attention today as President Roosevelt returned to the capitol and Congress made ready to resume session.

Before the United States can launch the undertaking which began with registration of 16,500,000 men on Oct. 16, three essential preliminaries required disposition:

1. President Roosevelt must formulate the regulations governing the administration of the draft machinery, enrollment, classification and selection of trainees, their induction into service and kindred matters.
2. The director of the selective service system must be appointed by Mr. Roosevelt and confirmed by the Senate.
3. Congress must act on the $2,000,000,000 special defense appropriation request, which is to defray the expenses of registration and conscription.

President Roosevelt was expected to order into effect, possibly tomorrow, the first two of six volumes of regulations to cover all phases of the draft. These two sections define the nature and administrative procedure of the national and state organizations which will handle the Oct. 16 registration, and also set forth the rules for enrollment.

Mr. Roosevelt, who has been absent attending the funeral of the late Speaker Bankhead in Alabama, was expected to announce his choice in a few days for the position of draft director.

The House of Representatives, in recess for three days because of the death of Speaker Bankhead, has the conscription financing appropriation on committee calendar for consideration tomorrow.

Washington's most-talked-of possibility for the draft director post is Lieut. Col. Lewis B. Hershey. He is the executive officer of the joint army and navy selective service committee, which has been engaged for 14 years on draft plans, preparations and training.

Markets Continue Rising Tendencies

By Victor Eubank
NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP).—Stock prices advanced today for the fourth consecutive market session.

The rise was fractional among most leaders and volume was limited but observers noted that the majority of transactions occurred on the rise and that selling periods drew little action. About 450,000 shares changed hands.

Some marketmen said testing operations during the day had shown the path of least resistance to be upward.

There were two spot reasons for this, they said: the continual stiffening of England's air defenses and a growing belief that the new federal excess profits tax would not be nearly as drastic as originally outlined.

Adding to market strength was the Pittsburgh luncheon speech of Irving S. Olds, chairman of United States Steel Corp., who said the company was able, through the "flexibility" on the steel industry, to complete many of its government contracts far ahead of contract time and that also because of flexibility, there would be an ample supply of steel.

Best performers of the day included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Douglas, United Aircraft, Sperry, Air Reduction, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Eastman, American Telephone, Western Union, Great Northern Preferred.

Jaycees Join Drive For Scouting Funds

Junior Chamber of Commerce members were the first group in Midland to join Finance Chairman George Abel in the 1940 drive for Boy Scout funds. Other groups will be asked during the week to serve as solicitors on what leaders hope will be Midland's most successful finance campaign.

It was pointed out at the recent meeting of the executive board of the Buffalo Trails Council that tremendous growth has taken place in Scouting in this area within the last year and a greater growth is anticipated the coming year. Scouts have increased from 1084 to 1413 during the year, troops from 46 to 76; Cub packs from 8 to 15; Cubs from 276 to 424 and leaders from 270 to 492.

The finance committee of the council felt that an increase of from $12,700 to $14,650 would be necessary to carry on the program at the present rate. Midland's quota of $2250 was not raised from last year.

Scout leaders have announced a preliminary meeting of solicitors to be held in the Scout Hall at 5 p. m., Friday and a "kick-off" breakfast to be held at Hotel Scharbauer on the day of the drive, Tuesday, Sept. 24, at 7 o'clock.
