Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN

Never had thought of it before until I read it in somebody else's column, but a man serves twice at his daughter's ceremonies — he holds her at the altar just before she is christened, and he's the fellow who stands at the altar with her for a few — very few — minutes until the preacher gets down to the part where he asks who gives this woman in marriage. Then papa, usually in a very weak voice, says "I do". After that he goes back to his seat and is only another spectator at a wedding.

I've served in both those capacities, and I wouldn't take a lot of money for the experiences, even though both were rather frightening at the time. In fact, I feel sorry for a man who has never had a daughter to give in marriage. (Only I know one or two fathers who have had to give the same daughter away at least a couple of times before she stayed given away.)

Can't forget that christening experience — not that I WANT to forget it. It was a little more than 23 years ago — one Palm Sunday — that I went through that experience.

Mama said I needed to look pretty good for the occasion, so I got out the blue serge a day or so ahead of time and had it cleaned and pressed. Then I got my best black tie (I had two of them) and my best shirt (I had three) and my best (and only) black shoes and I was ready for the occasion. Not that it really mattered what I looked like at the christening ceremony; the baby is the real attraction.

For her part of the ceremony, Fran was rigged out in a very elaborate christening dress, a coat that a friend had sent her from California, a bonnet that was handmade and shoes that were the very best. In fact, it was 20 years before she was ever rigged out in so much finery again.

Mama said for me to get dressed while she got herself rigged out. Then we slid the daughter into her finery at the last minute.

But we overlooked one detail — the daughter's bottle. So, hastily I filled the bottle, tested the milk's warmth on my bonny arm, and found all was well. She took her bottle, and I gathered her up for her burp. That was a mistake. Or, rather, my trying to do the burping job while I was wearing my best blue serge suit.

To make a long story short, I miss I was the only father in the ceremony that Palm Sunday morning wearing a dirty, wrinkled five-year-old suit which had been abandoned when the blue serge was bought.

But as I said, nobody ever looks at the father — only the baby. Afterward we went back and took pictures of the ceremony's re-enactment. Now these are pictures which you couldn't buy from me at any price. If we had had a lot of friends we probably would have sent pictures to all of them. Only friends is something we have practically none of — if you will pardon the pronunciation I have ended that sentence with.

There are a lot of things that a

Rains Rout Crops, Re-Planting Starts

Many Bailey county farmers are right back where they started at the beginning of the spring season — crops must be replanted.

But for ranchers, things look pretty rosy.

Those were the crop facts as County Agent J. K. Adams saw them at mid-week for Bailey county.

Hail, hard rains, more hail and hard blows all have had a part in the crop picture. Actually the crop condition is little changed from the same time last year, yet the county in 1962 turned out some of the biggest crops in history.

Wednesday afternoon's rains, with a generous sprinkling of hail, further beat down new crops northeast of Muleshoe and in the immediate Muleshoe area proper. Here the rainfall totaled 1.22 officially, R. J. Klump, weatherman, reported.

This brought the total rainfall since last Saturday here to 2.42 at the official weather station. Dryland farmers around Bula, Adams said, are particularly hard-hit by the heavy, gully-washing rains which have fallen there during the past two weeks. The cotton and grain sorghum both had been recently planted when the heavy rains came along. The seed were buried by the erosion-type rain.

In the West Camp area, much of the 1963 planting must be done over, due to hail. That section of the county, the far west and north-western part of the county, is similar to Parmer county which has been hard-hit by violent weather in late May and early June.

Those farmers, said the county agent, "had failed to get their crops established when the rains came."

Anniversary Edition News Is Rolling In

Material for Muleshoe Journal's June 30 anniversary edition is beginning to roll in, but a call was sounded at mid-week for additional stories dealing with early days in West Texas.

While many organizations are compiling their own stories to fit into the big special anniversary edition, others have not yet sent in their stories. If your organization — club or what have you — hasn't yet started compiling data for the big issue, you were urged today to start doing so as soon as possible.

Already a number of the old-

Seven Muleshoe Graduates Get Scholarships

Seven Muleshoe high school graduates for 1963 will have their college incomes boosted by scholarships which they were awarded here, a check of awards revealed Wednesday.

Among those who have won scholarships are Jerry Gilbreath, who received the $200 Rotary club scholarship. He plans to attend the University of Texas.

Keith Stephens and David Douglas each received $400 scholarships from the Bailey County Electric Co-op. Both plan to attend Texas Tech.

Gail Kitchens received a $500 scholarship from the Clark Foundation and the Muleshoe State Bank. She also was given a radio by Bailey County Electric Co-op. She plans to attend West Texas State University, Canyon.

Mike Connell, who also will attend West Texas State, was given a $500 scholarship by the Clark Foundation and the Muleshoe State Bank, and the same award was presented to Jim Thomson, who will attend Texas Tech.

Karen Jones received a $2,000

DeLuxe Homes' Project Starts

Pool & Lee, builders, are starting the first of a series of new deluxe homes on Avenue J in Muleshoe, it was announced Wednesday. Grading of grounds for the new housing project, covering a half block just south of the senior high school, has been completed, and construction of the first home is to get under way soon, Lee Pool, one of the developers, said Wednesday.

Altogether, space is being provided for 14 new homes, although actual building will be done only as need develops, he said. The homes will all have two or more baths and will be of all-brick construction.

Pool said the floor space will range from 1,600 to 2,200 square feet, and that costs will run from $16,000 to $22,000.

All lots will be 75 by 140 feet except the two corner lots which will be 80 by 140 feet.

Pool said the houses are to be "deluxe throughout" and will be among the finest in Muleshoe. The same builders have erected several elaborate homes in that same vicinity during recent years, two being completed just recently. Pool said three to four houses per year probably will be built on the new lots.

Beardless Men Given Dunking By Busy Jaycees

Beardless Muleshoe business men — some of them at least — were given a downtown dunking in a stock tank Saturday as the busy Jaycees continued their promotion of a beard-growing contest as part of the July 4th celebration.

Besides promoting the whisker business, the Jaycees are:

1. Planning a talent jubilee
2. Selling Anniversary promoting string ties.

The first of a series of monthly Jaycee talent jubilees will be staged next Thursday night, June 13, at the senior high school auditorium.

Full Effect of Wheat Vote May Not be Felt for Years

By OVID A. MARTIN

Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON — Full effects of the defeat of the Kennedy administration's tight wheat control plan of the May referendum may be months, and possibly several years, in becoming known.

Naturally, farmers and their leaders will be watching during the weeks ahead for indications of what influence the referendum results will have on President Kennedy and Congress.

In March, the President said in a statement to the National Farmers Union that the wheat vote would be a test of his administration's farm policy advocating more government in agriculture. However, as the date for the referendum approached, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and farm groups backing the wheat plan sought to discount the referendum as a farm policy test. They contended it was nothing more than an economic issue — the price farmers were to get for their wheat.

The Kennedy plan offered $2 a bushel on the bulk of the crop and $1.30 on the remainder. The alternate plan accepted by wheat growers provides no controls and limits price supports to around $1.25 a bushel, and the supports will be available to only those farmers who cut back acreages.

Kennedy administration thinking on future farm policies may come out when and if Congress moves to provide still another wheat plan for 1964. At present, administration leaders indicate they prefer that there be no new legislative action and let farmers have a go next year at the no-control approach. A year from now, they would submit the tight control plan to another referendum for the 1965 crop.

The Administration may be influenced more by the reaction in Congress than by anything else. There is a possibility that congressmen — particularly those

Parents Seek to Halt Teen-Age Marriages

Anxious parents, eager to keep their teen-age sons and daughters from running off from home and getting married, are adopting a new system to try to check such hasty marriages, County-District court Clerk Hazel Gilbreath said Wednesday.

"They now get out letters to the marriage license bureaus warning the clerks to be on the lookout for such persons," Mrs. Gilbreath said.

Every now and then, one of these anxious parents goes to the expense of having such letters mimeographed and sent to all the court clerks in the state, Mrs. Gilbreath says.

The letters are not limited to possible run-away girls, she says. Some of the letters are from parents who are afraid Junior is going to jump into matrimony ahead of the legal age level.

In the marriage register at the courthouse, Mrs. Gilbreath keeps such letters in a prominent place where clerks may be reminded of the name should some suspiciously young-looking boy or girl appear to ask for a license.

"That's just to remind us to be on the lookout for these kids,"

Mrs. Gilbreath said.

An Odessa mother sent a mimeographed letter to all the court clerks in the state, but she went to the trouble to write in the name of each particular county as the letters were sent out.

Her letter read:

"I have reason to believe my daughter is planning to be married secretly. I know that you are doing everything possible to prevent these things happening but on some occasions you have no way of knowing they are misrepresenting their age. — could easily pass for 20. I would appreciate it if you would keep her name and age on your records in case she should apply for license from you. She doesn't have our consent. She is 16."

Then another letter came from an Abilene father. It read:

"As the father of — who was born July 15, 1945, I hereby request that you not issue a marriage license to this boy in your county from now until such time as he becomes of legal age. It is possible that — will be accompanied by — (and he named a girl)."

Vegetable Farmers to Fight Law To End Bracero Labor Program

Despite a last-minute law in the closing hours of congress to end the Bracero program at the close of 1963, local vegetable growers were urged to "do everything in their power" to get the program extended.

This was revealed Wednesday, when Elvan DeVaney, manager of Western Texas Farm Labor Association, Inc., said the board has adopted a plan to attempt to get a House reversal of Public Law 78 (the Bracero Law).

DeVaney said that the program "is not a dead issue, although users, as well as other affected people, must let it be known."

DeVaney said "it is agreed by labor. The prediction was wrong; farmers went almost 100 percent to mechanical operation and did not plant crops that required hand labor. Therefore, there was no less job opportunity. This could be he added, "and very likely will

County 4-H Team Judging in State

Bailey county's 4-H land-judging team is taking on its toughest assignment — judging in the state contest.

The quartet, with their coach, County Agent J. K. Adams left Muleshoe early Tuesday to compete in the land-judging events at Texas A&M College, College Station.

On the team are Bill Harbin, Bruce Little, Joe Adams and Verlyon Scoggins. They won the right to participate in the state event when they placed second in district trials at Lubbock May 4. At the A&M event, they will judge four locations determining soil quality at both surface and below surface levels.

16 Couples Seek Licenses

May was a busy month for cupid in Bailey county, and June, from all indications, will be an even better month for marrying.

Records of Hazel Gilbreath, county District court clerk show 16 licenses were issued during May which is considerably above the monthly average.

The following couples applied for marriage licenses during May:

John Michael Pollard, 2311 25th Street, Lubbock, and Paula Elaine Kenley, Goodland.

Carl Gardner Sanderson, Dimmitt, and Evelyn Mae Elam, Ralls.

Jose Mendoza, Muleshoe, and Margarita Novejah, Muleshoe.

Darrell Wayne Burch, Levelland, and Letha Annetto Owens, Clovis, N. M.

Virgil LaFayette Dawson, Odessa, and Pearl Frances Williams, Lubbock.

Granville Lee Oden, Earth, and Belinda Laynette Hendon, Muleshoe.

Robert Wayne Gilliland, Muleshoe, and Jessie Norene Thomas, Muleshoe.

Marvin Jean Rudd, Needmore, and Patricia Jean Herrington, Farwell.

Larry Ray Dupler, Maple, and Shirley Lawaun Fine, Maple.

Joe Yruessa, Route 1, Friona.

Crime Lags; Only Four Cases Filed

Only four cases were filed in Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn's court during the weekend, a check of the blotter Wednesday revealed. No traffic violations were filed, and Judge Vaughn said "This indeed is a rare situation."

One person was arrested, however, for an unusual charge — littering the highways.

Two persons were charged with giving worthless checks and one person was arrested for drunkenness.

FIRST 1963 WHEAT — Muleshoe got its first load of wheat Wednesday but two other individuals were only a few minutes later with their first '63 harvesting. Here's No. 1 — grown by Louis Henderson, Stegall (center) with Pete Tarleton (left) who brought in the second load, owned by Cliff Phillips. With them is Ben Yeager, assistant manager of Muleshoe Elevator Co., which bought the first loads.

Grand Opening Set for Store

The Fair Department will stage its grand opening with a mammoth sale Friday morning, Charles Isaac, owner, announced this week. The store, located at 120 Main Street, is in a brand new building but is in the same location as previously.

The store moved to the building formerly occupied by the Hamilton store during the time the present building was being completely rebuilt.

Isaac, who has been in business here for two years, is offering a number of bargain items for the grand opening, and a drawing will be held Friday, June 14, for a GE, two-band 8 transistor radio.

Paula Kenley and Mike Pollard Wed In Three Way Baptist Church

Three Way Baptist Church was the scene of a wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Paula Elaine Kenley and John Michael (Mike) Pollard. The Rev. Glen Williams read the double rites at 8 p.m. before an archway of white feathered carnations flanked on either side with large baskets of blue iris and stock before candelabras.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kenley are parents of the bride and Pollard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pollard, Goodland.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a slender, floor-length bell skirt. The sweetheart neckline was hand embroidered with seed pearls. Long sleeves tapered to petal points.

Her headpiece was a cabbage rose fashioned of silk organza amid leaves studded with seed pearls from which a veil of silk illusion depended.

Traditional wedding selection were played by Mrs. Jerry Haley who also accompanied Byron Hardgrove, soloist.

Maid of honor, Miss Sandra Kenley, is the bride's sister. Mrs. Gayle Latimer, Causey, N. M. Mrs. Kathy Anthonaise, Lubbock; and Mrs. Dorothy Carlisle, Floydada, served as bridesmaids and Miss Sandra Lemons, Baileyboro, bridesmaid. They wore brocaded taffeta street-length dresses with bell shaped skirts with brown accessories. Their headpieces were cabbage roses with brief veils of tulle fashioned after that of the bride's. They each carried a nosegay of pink roses with white ribbon streamers.

Candlelighters were Ronnie Kenley, brother of the bride and Terry Pollard, brother of the groom.

Howard Pollard, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jerry Simpson, Causey, N. M.; Bert Holt, Baileyboro, Bert Anthonaise, Lubbock; and Bailey Griffith, Lubbock.

Ushers were Leslie Fine, Goodland and Thomas Coffman, Baileyboro.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose a two-piece suit of beige, shantung with brown accessories. Her corsage was of pink rose buds.

The couple are both graduates of Three Way High School. The bride is a sophomore at Tech and the groom is a Junior there.

They will make their home at 2108-21st Street, Lubbock where Pollard is employed by Wayne Kirk Plumbing Co.

FIVE GOLFERS

Five women golfers from Muleshoe will be participating in the West Texas Women's Golf Association Tournament next week.

They are: Mary Sweatman, Mary Frances Holt, Wanda Hardy, Marie White and Ruby Hart.

They will leave Sunday, and will play qualifying rounds that day with the tournament starting Monday. It will be concluded Friday.

Engagement of Sondra Broyles Revealed At Announcement Tea

The approaching marriage of Miss Sondra Broyles, daughter of Milburn, Okla.; to Clifford Hugg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tice Hugg, Lakeview, was announced at a tea given in the home of Mrs. Morris McKillip on Friday afternoon, May 31, between the hours of 3 and 6 p.m.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Hugg, and Mrs. McKillip. Guests were registered in the bride's book by Patcine and Maxine Broyles, nieces of the honoree.

The serving table was laid with a white cutwork linen cloth over coral satin. The centerpiece was a small bride figurine in a garden bower of white and coral carnations and baby's breath. Coffee, cookies, sandwiches, and mints were served from the crystal and silver appointed table. Mrs. Clarence Mason, and Mrs. Gerald Prater alternated at the silver coffee service and Mrs. Ralph Broyles and Mrs. Jerry Smith alternated at the punch bowl.

The hostesses for the occasion were the sisters of the bride, Mrs. Morris McKillip, Mrs. Gerald Prater, Mrs. Phil White, and Mrs. D. L. Morrison, Jr.

Miss Broyles is a 1961 graduate of Muleshoe High School. Clifford Hugg is a 1959 graduate of Lubbock High School. Both will be juniors next semester at Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, N. M.

The wedding will be solemnized August 11, at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe.

Shower Courtesy Fetes Miss Brown

A bridal shower for Sandy Brown, bride-elect of Hayne Peterson, was held recently at the Oklahoma Lane Community Center.

Hosting the affair were: Mrs. E. T. Ford, Mrs. L. M. Hambricht, Mrs. Ramond Huston, Mrs. Wayne Hardage, Mrs. Vernon Symcox, Mrs. Harold Carpenter, Mrs. John Littlefield, Mrs. Lee Mason, Mrs. John Agee, Mrs. E. A. Parham, Mrs. A. E. Redwine, Mrs. Lucy Hardage, Mrs. J. C. Redwine, and Mrs. Frank Edwards.

The serving table was laid with a blue and white cutwork cloth, centered with crystal punch service and a flower arrangement of white snowballs and greenery. Individual white cake squares with blue decorations were served with blue punch and nuts by Miss Brenda Mason and Miss Mary Faye Rigney.

Guests were registered at a table laid with a white cloth centered with blue and white iris. Registering the guest were Miss Jo Brown and Pat Peterson.

Corsages of kitchen utensils tied with white ribbon bows were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Jackie Brown, and mother of the prospective groom, Mrs. Earl Peterson.

The gift table was laid with a blue lace cloth centered with a flower arrangement of white snowballs, flanked by curved candle holders, holding blue and assisted Miss Brown with opening the gifts.

Approximately sixty guests registered and attended the shower. Many who were unable to attend sent gifts.

The future bride and groom are both 1963 graduates of Springlake High School. The couple will make their home in Earth where the groom is engaged in farming and ranching.

Dairy Products On Plentiful List

June scores high on all yardsticks of enjoyable livability. It's the beginning of the vacation season. Weather and natural beauties are at their apex. Special occasions like weddings and graduation brighten our schedules.

High on the list of June joys is the abundance of good food. Take the U. S. Department of Agriculture's June list of plentiful, for example, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Milk and all dairy products head the list, naturally. June is Dairy Month, when milk production is at its seasonal peak. The plentiful tag applies to all dairy foods—whole, skim, dried, condensed and chocolate milk; ice cream; cream; half- and half-creams of all kinds; butter and even buttermilk. Use them generously, to heighten June enjoyment.

Eggs also will be plentiful all June. Use them in salads, in baking, as gems of breakfast nutrition, or in egg noggs in combination with the abundance of milk.

Think of vegetables to complete your menus. Early-summer gardens are doing their best to provide a bit of everything for your June needs and pleasures. Lettuce should be particularly plentiful, says USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service that compiles the list of plentiful foods each month, in cooperation with growers and the food trade.

FROM VENEZUELA

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitecotton went to Dallas last Saturday where they met their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wall, Donnette, Debbie and Dean na.

Double Ring Ceremony Read For Linda McKee and Bailey Griffith

In a beautiful double ring ceremony read at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Smith, O'Donnell, Miss Linda Lee McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van McKee, O'Donnell; became the bride of Bailey Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith, Baileyboro. Jack Hackworth, minister of the O'Donnell Church of Christ, was the officiating minister.

The newly-wed couple were married in the same room that the bride's parents were married thirty-eight years before.

The bride wore a turquoise dacron gown fashioned with a full skirt, short sleeves, and a high neck line, accented with a cameo brooch belonging to Mrs. Smith for something old and borrowed. For something blue, the bride wore the traditional blue garter. The bridal bouquet was a cluster of white feathered carnations.

Mrs. Peggy Middleton, O'Donnell, served her sister as matron of honor. Jimmy Bateas, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. McKee chose a silk floral print dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. She wore a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Griffith, mother of the groom wore a beige linen suit with black and red accessories. She wore a red carnation corsage.

A reception followed the wedding in the Smith home. The serving table was covered with a white linen Mexican cutwork cloth centered with an arrangement of pink tea roses and snap dragons. The wedding cake was white with a touch of pink. Pink mints and punch were also served from silver and crystal dinner service. Presiding at the serving table were Mrs. Dick Harris and Mrs. Jimmy Bateas, sister of the groom.

The bride attended O'Donnell High School and was a student at Isabell's Beauty Culture College, Lubbock. Griffith is a graduate of Three Way High School and attended Texas A&M and West Texas State College, Canyon.

The couple will be at home in Farwell where the groom is engaged in farming.

JENNY SLIPPER POINTS—

PARDON OUR FRENCH, but From Jenny Slipper to readers: "Pardon my French" for being so outspoken... but we take this column today to draw a picture, several pictures really. Please, do read on:

RECIPES?

We're so busy of late reading some of these original, interesting stories of Muleshoe's early days which some of our more cooperative citizens are writing on pioneer days in connection with Muleshoe's 50th anniversary, that we just haven't gotten a recipe in for this week.

(We wish the cooks in this area would be as helpful to bring or mail in their recipes as are some of our pioneer citizens!)

FACT IS, unless someone brings in to The Journal a recipe or two every now and then, Jenny Slipper will be prone to let the recipe file in this column "rest" for awhile.

MORE CULTURAL THAN CULINARY?

Perhaps Muleshoe-area women are just more culturally inclined than they are culinary-minded about cooking "those three meals a day, regardless." We have several very talented writers who are generous in their contributions for publication (which we enjoy very much) and many who are talented in the artistic line of painting and music.

PERSONALLY, we are thrilled by the literary works and would like to promote the local talent. After all, there are millions of good cook books full of recipes.

Perchance we are considering exchanging our "Cook-Of-The-Week" to a more general head to include the talented people's achievements? Whether it's cooking, gardening, writing, interior-decorating, sewing, hobbies, painting, poetry, politics, humor, business or promotions—unprofessional or professional — it could be suitable for Jenny Slipper's column.

Jenny Slipper would appreciate hearing from readers IF they are interested and WILL contribute their original ideas and talents to this column under such a heading: of "Discovering Talent" or "The Talented" or whatever... (PS. Your work is publishable anonymously, as long as the writer is identified to the newspaper. This is called "Name Withheld by Request" and is perfectly permissible. OK?)

WHO KNOWS WHAT FURTHER TALENT WILL BE DISCOVERED?

PIONEER STORIES
Already some pioneer settlers, ranchers, businessmen, et al, have written, or are writing especially for this newspaper's special Anniversary Edition to be released June 30, some of the most fabulous stories (Some do not

APOSTOLIC SUCCESSION — Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese, center, with the laying of both hands onto the head of Msgr. consider themselves "professional writers" but this writer and the newspaper readers, as well as the Bailey County Historical Survey committee, will find their stories of early days in this area to be of much interest. We thank you very much)

Each Pioneer (or his descendants) has a story or two that would be of interest. You have been invited to write these through the newspaper notices and are urged to do so NOW!

THIS IS A PERSONAL INVITATION. Your newspaper subscription is our form. YOU are invited NOW to participate in compiling Muleshoe and Bailey county historical (humorous and personal too) events.

(You see? No excuses for you to say "...but no one asked me to write MY story" because we have invited you!)

CLUBS, CHURCHES, ORGANIZATIONS:

And where are Your Histories? It is up to you! We want to recognize your group in the historical record of Muleshoe, and we must have your story NOW.

The principle is like your current meetings reports: If you let us know what you are doing, then Your Story appears in print. It is a newspaper's job "to keep the public informed" which we can do with your practicing public relations in keeping us informed. Fair enuff?

Like we said in the beginning "Pardon our French" ... for this is "to the point."

Let's swap off to the humorous side for a conclusion today:

"ART"
Here's a clever little funny which might be of particular interest to our local artists and their "critics."
"Do you call this art?" a woman said while viewing an art exhibit.

(At least, so we read.)
"No, madam," the attendant told her, "That is a mirror."
(PS. Exhibits of local artists' paintings are on display continuously at Higginbotham-Bartlett company, Paul's restaurant, and the Journal's office.)

Now here is a humorous ditty with a point that applies universally: to us all:

ISN'T IT FUNNY

When the other fellow takes a long time to do something, he's slow; but, when we take a long time to do something, we're thorough.

When the other fellow doesn't do it, he's too lazy; but, when we don't do it, we're too busy.

When the other fellow overlooks a few of the rules of etiquette, he's rude; but, when we skip a few of the rules, we're original.

When the other fellow states his side of a question strongly, he's bullheaded; but, when we state a side of a question strongly, we're being firm.

When the other fellow does something that pleases the boss, he's polishing the brass; but, when we do something that pleases the boss, that's cooperation.

When the other fellow gets ahead, he's sure got the lucky breaks; but, when we manage to get ahead, Man! Hard work did that.

Off The Runways

By DORIS KINSER

REAL FLYING

In the past, when weather was cloudy and ceiling low, planes around Muleshoe stayed in hangars for the most part and seldom did anyone see one flying or hear one obscured by cloud cover and cast searching eyes toward the sky going to spot the craft they thought was surely lost.

With the cloudy weather and low ceiling recently, things have changed and planes have been taking to the sky like ducks to water. This has been brought about by the Air Traffic Control granting instructor Morgan Lester permission to give students instrument training in actual weather.

Talking with Sam Dameron, one who has spent several hours among the clouds, seems it's quite an experience. Dameron said although he had been trained for instrument weather by the simulated method, under a hood, the actual weather flying made a pilot realize once and for all that he must depend solely on instruments as there was no hood to remove, should you become disoriented. Dameron likes the weather flying much better than the simulated type. "Sometimes, when in the clouds, you feel that you are going one way, when actually you are going another. You cannot depend on how you feel, but what the instruments tell you," Dameron said. For instance, flying outbound to Muleshoe from Texon Omni station a pilot knows his degree of flight from approach planes and that flying time is 10 minutes. At that time he knows altitude and there is Muleshoe Airport, he said.

Others taking instrument training were Ed Little, Herb Griffiths, Jack Little, Kenneth Powell, E. C. Elliott, Don Bryant, and Virgil Robbins.

SEARCH PLANES

Muleshoe pilots were called to assist in the search of the 180 Cessna which went down with four people aboard on a flight from Albuquerque to Lubbock last week.

Kenneth George piloted his 172 Cessna in the search over an area south of Muleshoe assigned to him by the Civil Air Patrol. Lubbock, with Charles Wagoner accompanying him as observer.

Bill Jim St. Clair was assigned to a section to the west and south of Merton and was accompanied

The craft was found Sunday near Cline's Corner, N. W.

Captain Stanford Kibbe and Captain George Erwin flew to Muleshoe from Afton, Okla., recently to fly gliders. Kibbe trained here last year and established a soaring club in Afton, which was active until recently when they had to disperse of the crafts due to lack of hangar space.

Both pilots flew the single-place 1-26 Gliner.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jim St. Clair and Ray Harris left Muleshoe Airport Sunday afternoon flying to Dallas where they will play in qualifying rounds for the National PGA Tournament.

Irvin St. Clair left earlier and Bill Jim joined him in Dallas where they both are participating in the Texas State Amateur Tournament played at Brook Haven Country Club there.

They are to return the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Beavers, Clovis, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Aern flew to Baton Rouge, La. recently in Beaver's Comanche.

While there they transacted business and visited the Beavers' daughter, Sharon, a student at Louisiana State University.

They flew down on Thursday and returned the following Saturday.

The Beavers are owners of Holiday Inn, Clovis.

Ray Daniel and Sam Dameron made a flight recently to Old Mexico. They flew from Monterrey to Muralis on a pleasure flight crossing mountains and navigating on course by tracking in on strong Mexico radio stations.

They reported a pleasant flight and trip.

SOLO FLIGHT

Jimmy Williams made his solo flight this week at Muleshoe Flying Service.

Williams is employed at REA and is flying the Super Cub for training.

Diel is Speaker At Brotherhood

By GAIL KITCHENS

LONGVIEW—The Brotherhood of the Longview Baptist Church met Monday night at the church. The entire community was invited to attend as the guest speaker was Jake Diel, Muleshoe. He spoke on his recent trip to Japan. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were enjoyed by all after the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dawson who have been attending school at Wayland Baptist College have moved to the Longview community for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lackey and Randy visited in Portales Sunday with their son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lackey.

Mary Sowder left Sunday afternoon for Amarillo where she will spend several days with her sisters, Bettye and Evelyn.

Commencement for Vacation Bible School at the Longview Baptist Church will be held Friday night at 8:30.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Hal and Ronnie Heathington are spending the week with their grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Kitchens.

Stacy Lackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lackey, is home for the summer. Stacy has been attending school at A&M College.

Labor--

be the case in West Texas.

DeWaney said Braceros are used in virtually all vegetable production here except onions and potatoes.

DeWaney's organization urged that persons with suggestions contact Western Labor.

Meantime, from Washington, came word that Representative George Mahon said he was "disappointed over the refusal of the House to extend the program, and pledged his best efforts to ward renewed attempts to meet the threatened crisis in farm labor." Mahon had urged continuation of the program.

Mahon said it is too early to predict future developments. An attempt to pass a one-year extension rather than a two-year extension is being considered. Another alternative being considered is the possibility of securing emergency farm labor under the provisions of existing immigration laws which permit the recruiting of foreign farm labor under certain conditions. In previous years Mexico has expressed opposition to this procedure.

Mahon pointed out that he and other supporters of the bracero legislation feel that domestic workers should be given preference and that braceros should not displace domestic workers. The regulations prohibit the use of braceros unless they are urgently needed.

At the peak of the program in former years as many as 46,000 braceros have been used. By last year the program had dropped to less than 20,000 workers. Despite rapid developments in mechanized farming a limited number of braceros are required, according to Mahon, in order to prevent severe hardship and crop losses in certain areas.

Braceros are used principally in Texas and California and other areas of the Southwest. They are also used in vegetable crops in California, Minnesota and Michigan.

Mahon has advised West Texas bracers issues that he will continue to be of all possible service in connection with efforts which must be made to avoid a crisis in farm labor in bracer-using areas next year.

torium. With eight top acts booked, a first-class show is promised by the Jaycees President, J. C. Spain. Tickets are $1 for adults, 75 cents for students.

Money raised from these programs is used in the State Jaycees' Gonzales Warm Springs hospital for crippling diseases and injuries. The organization supports Camp Sweeney, a youth camp.

The sting tie sale is going briskly. Two types of ties are available from Jaycee members, promoting the Anniversary and the July 4th celebration. The ties sell for $1 each and are available from Jaycee members.

The Jaycees' "grow a beard" contest is going over "bigger than expected," Spain says. Nearly every man in Muleshoe is either growing a beard or has paid $1.50 for the privilege of using his razor. The beard-growing contest will be judged July 3 and the winners announced at the July 4th talent show at Benny Douglas field.

Just to boost the beard program, the members moved a big stock tank onto Main street last Saturday for a bit of horsplay which turned into a general dunking party before the day was over. When Truman Lindsey, Frank Ellis, Red Simmons and Hennie Long emptied the tank, the Jaycees caught them and handcuffed the four together for about an hour.

After they were freed and had refilled the tank, a free-for-all dunking party took place with the Jaycee president himself landing in the tank. All four of the tank-empters were themselves given a soaking.

from the dominating urban areas — may take a position that it is about time to quit passing farm legislation. Certainly, the idea of less government in agriculture appeals to many of them. They figure the fewer the farm programs, the lower will be the cost to taxpayers and urban consumers.

The defeat of the wheat plan could have significant influence on pending cotton legislation. Something must be done about cotton this session, or the American crop will face further serious setbacks in its competition with synthetic fibers and foreign cotton. The present cotton program holds the price too high in relation to its competition.

Those favoring the Kennedy farm supply management approach would like to meet, the cotton problem through use of government subsidies, either to domestic mills or to growers. They want to maintain present strong elements in the cotton industry, including many producers from Mississippi west to California, favor lower supports to regain markets.

There is a possibility Congress may enact a cotton program of this nature.

Thus, should Congress pass new wheat and cotton programs not meeting the pattern of the approach, the President might find it advisable to shift his farm policies in the direction of more freedom to produce and at somewhat lower price supports.

Certainly, there is much speculation as to the possible effect the wheat referendum will have on Freeman's tenure. There are no present indications that it will have any effect.

The wheat referendum has virtually killed off any prospects of controls on livestock, milk, poultry, and other crops. As things stand now, tight controls are in effect only for cotton, tobacco, peanuts and rice.

time stories are in type, ready to be slipped into the page forms for the big edition. "We believe this will be one of the most interesting editions ever turned out in Muleshoe," Publisher L. S. Hall said Wednesday.

"We attempting to make the historical sections as complete and as accurate as possible," he continued, "with many first-person accounts by old-timers who were here during the formative days of Muleshoe and Bailey county."

Old-time pictures especially are sought. They will be carefully preserved and returned to their owners as soon as engravings are made. If you have a picture which you think would be of interest in the anniversary edition, please bring it to the journal as soon as possible.

Meantime, advance orders for the journal's anniversary edition were being taken. You can send the issue to anyone in the United States for only 50 cents per copy. We will do the addressing and mailing.

So, send in your orders for this anniversary edition. And you may want an extra copy or two for yourself.

Leagues Starting Second Series

Muleshoe's two youthful baseball leagues, the Little League and the Minors, will launch their second half of play with games today, it was announced Wednesday, and the Babe Ruth League will stage its sixth game of the season Thursday.

Minor league games are played at U-Bar field, starting at 5:30 p.m. and Little League at their own park. (Schedules on this page) and hail fall, thus causing damage however, that is a relatively small part of the county's total crop land."

In the Muleshoe Babe Ruth League, scores so far are as follows: Dusters 3, Colts 0; Colts 4, Eagles 3; Dusters 11 and Cats 13.

He said the most serious problem facing farmers is the cool, wet weather which has brought on seedling diseases. This has caused a loss of stand in some critical parts, he summed up.

This presence of seedling disease is causing some farmers to consider the use of fungicides in their covering soil next season. In fact, considerable attention is being given to such treatment looking toward the 1968 season.

The general crop situation is not yet serious since there is still time for re-planting, and if the season is right from now on, good production can be expected. It's possible to wait until as late as June 15, most experts say, to get the planting job done, and dry-land farmers probably will stay with cotton until as late as June 25 before substituting grain sorghum. In the unusual 1962 season, cotton was planted in some areas as late as July. An exceptionally fine autumn, however, is credited with the successful outcome of such late-planted cotton.

Late-planted grain sorghum, however, causes much concern for fear of sorghum midge. This insect has invaded late-planted sorghums for the last two years.

Adams says that the experts are suggesting a faster-maturing hybrid grain sorghum from now on — grain sorghum that blooms before August 1 and thus escapes the midge. At least that was the situation in 1962.

The rancher should produce more grass per acre than at any time since the droughts of the mid '50's, Adams says. The grassland was practically wiped out at that time, but has gradually been coming back every year since more rains fell with the result that this year's heavy rains have put pastures in excellent shape.

The cool damp weather has caused some verticillium wilt to cotton plants. Thus, for cotton, the need at the moment is for more sunshine.

JOHN S. McMURRY'S

RETURN FROM FLORIDA --

Mr. and Mrs. John S. McMurry, of east of Muleshoe, returned last week from a trip to Florida, where they visited with Mrs. McMurry's son and family, the Warren Givins. They also found a trip to the Florida Keys most interesting and noted a seven mile bridge as one of the longest in the Keys. The flamingo birds at Biltow were lovely. Mrs. McMurry added:

The couple crossed the water from Florida for a visit in Bimini in the Bahamas, also. On their return to Muleshoe they found an 8-foot tree has been blown into another tree and must be pulled out. This occurred during the strong winds last Monday evening. The tree is located near the Home Ranch headquarters on the Jones ranch.

Ray's--

man thinks about when he's sitting in the front pew watching his daughter getting married. Seemed it had been only a couple of days before that this christening experience had taken place. And then there was the time she started in kindergarten (it was part of the public school system where we lived). And then she was in her first little play at P.T.A. and we went proudly. From sat on the front row again. From that distance you could hear every word, especially parents could. P.T.A. dues seem small at such a time.

And the report cards. Mama still has every one of them. The grades were good. And then there was the first slumber party for a group of third graders. Let's see, that must have been a couple of weeks ago, or maybe it was a month ago, but it couldn't have been any longer. They giggled all night and were sound asleep at 9 the next morning. I tipped off to work.

And there were the fourth grade and the fifth grade, and then we were going down to the elementary school to see her "graduation," a little ceremony which they had when the pupils finished the elementary school — the sixth grade.

And then a couple of months ago (or so it seemed as I sat on that front row) she was going to junior high for the first time. It was a big, imposing building that contained 2,100 seventh, eighth and ninth graders, none of them neither child nor adult. But when I would go for her in the afternoon, my daughter was the only one I saw out of those 2,100 kids.

Her first high heels for graduation from junior high. They had quite a ceremony. "So now you've finished the ninth grade. It seems only yesterday that you brought home your first kindergarten work." And she chimed back, "Oh, Daddy, that was centuries ago!"

And there was that — what's his name? He finally got up the nerve to ask for a date and they sat in the parlor and looked at each other and giggled. That was only a couple of nights ago, wasn't it?

A then a couple of days later, you were marching down to get your senior high diploma. There had been a lot times during those three senior high years when we had gone to school to various events she was in — like the Little Theatre plays, and the DE programs and the home society and the like. And the time we went to parents' night and went through your schedule. Only the building was so big we couldn't get around fast enough, so missed some of your teachers.

And then there was college... but what's the use to go on. These two ceremonies — the christening and the marriage ceremony — came awfully close together, especially to a father and mother. I know, I speak from experience. Tryful experience.

Euler Looks at Recent Legislature, Puzzled Over Some of its Acts

By RAYMOND EULER

All in all, we suppose the Texas Legislators did a pretty good job this session. However, it seems a little strange that our legislators would table a bill requiring retail stores to label goods from a Communist country and fail to override the governor's veto of a bill to "require that a person be actively seeking work as a requirement for unemployment benefits". Why should a loafer be paid for loafing when that is his preferred vocation?

Walter Rogers, Congressman, has said that those wheat farmers who think there may be a new wheat bill after defeat of the wheat referendum have "misread the mood of Congress". It could be possible that some congressmen will have "misread the mood of some of their constituents" around election time if they attempt to use this as a whipping subject as an excuse for ignoring requests for reasonable legislation.

The Farm Bureau Weed Committee met last week and made plans for the continuation of the war on bindweed. The highway department and Santa Fe Railroad are cooperating, and with the help of farmers with bindweed on their property, this battle will continue to be won against weeds. Herman Gerdes is Chairman of the committee, Roy Crawford, of Bovina, who has been very faithful in working with the committee for many years, is leaving the county, and the committee expressed its appreciation to him for his faithfulness.

Bills and joint resolutions affecting Farm Bureau policy in the Texas Legislature this session, came out as follows: FB supported and passed 17. FB supported and failed to pass 26. FB opposed, but were passed over opposition, 2. FB amended so as not to be contrary to FB policy, 2. FB supported, passed, but vetoed, 1. Farm Bureau opposed and defeated 26. We think this is a good record for your organization, once again, particularly when there were so many bills affecting farmers considered.

CONSIDER THIS: He that answereth a matter before he hearth it, it is folly and shame unto him. Proverbs 18:13.

Boys Really Need Something to Do, Jobs With Newspapers Provide It

By J. EDGAR HOOVER
Director, Federal Bureau
Of Investigation

Have you ever noticed the vacant and often sullen stares of teen-agers littering on street corners for want of something better to do? Or watched them slouching aimlessly along with obviously too much time on their hands? Or read accounts of vandalism and other malicious acts by boys who "cooked up the idea" just to occupy themselves?

I am sure you have. And I am sure that your reaction, like mine, is one of grave concern over this utter waste of youthful energy, talent and enthusiasm. The unhappy consequences of "nothing to do" — both to the young person himself and to his community as a whole — are deeply disturbing to many responsible citizens.

Today our Nation is witnessing an ever-upward spiral in youthful crime. The latest statistics reflect that in 1962 arrests of young people under the age of eighteen increased an alarming nine per cent over the previous year. Many of these offenses are those of senseless violence and damage to property committed by young people with "nothing else to do."

I do not mean to imply that simply offering young people constructive activities to occupy their time is a cure-all for juvenile delinquency. All of us are aware that this problem is a highly complex one with many contributing causes, and we could spend much time analyzing them. I think we must admit, however, that idleness does play a significant role in encouraging activities detrimental to society — that empty hours are often conducive to mischief and irresponsible pastimes on the part of restless youth.

For some young persons, hobbies and athletics adequately fill leisure time. But for many — particularly during school vacations — there is a need for some other type of activity or work to occupy idle hours. Household chores which in days gone by provided such tasks for youths are now practically nonexistent in many homes. Modern appliances and power-driven equipment have taken the place of strong young muscles. In such cases, part-time jobs can help immensely in directing youthful energies into worthwhile pursuits. Boys who are occupied with purposeful tasks — "something that needs doing" — are usually not among those who find themselves in trouble with the law and at odds with their community. Such tasks, too, can help encourage wholesome habits and qualities of character which will physically, morally and mentally equip the youth for his role as an adult.

The part-time work for the young person. The newspaperboy's job is one which comes immediately to mind. Many of the lads who handle paper routes may be doing so to have their own spending money, or to save for a much wanted bicycle, a transistor radio or perhaps a new baseball glove. At the same time, however, they are gaining experience and learning lessons which will stand them in good stead in coping with problems certain to confront them in life. I have listed below what I feel are some of the important lessons to be gained from such work experience:

Sense of responsibility: Knowing that people depend on him helps to instill in the newspaperboy a definite sense of duty. If he fails to perform his tasks, someone is deprived of a vital service. The trustworthy newspaperboy is one who is always aware of his accountability to his customer and the newspaper as well.

Self-respect: Because he is engaged in a worthwhile and purposeful pursuit, he feels the obligation to conduct himself with dignity and honor in his daily actions. He is less likely to display bad manners, dress sloppily or show disrespect to others — traits which degrade his sense of decency and self-esteem.

Self-confidence: The youth who builds his newspaper route into a profitable enterprise through determination and industriousness develops self-assurance. He knows that his ability really counts. Certainly in a highly competitive society such as ours it is vital that young people gain confidence in themselves — confidence which will enable them to seek out new ventures and strive for greater accomplishments in their adult career.

Persistence: The newspaperboy soon learns that bitter cold, lashing winds or rainstorms can make his route most difficult at times. He knows, however, that despite uncooperative weather, his customers are awaiting their daily papers.

Self-discipline: Who knows better than the young newspaperboy what it means to have to rise early to get his morning papers delivered on time. Or perhaps to have to forego a favorite television program in order that he will have the evening paper on the customer's doorstep at the proper time. In training himself to be punctual and to be able to give up pleasures in the face of duty, the newspaperboy learns a most valuable lesson in self-discipline.

Courtesy: In dealing with the public — whether it be in business, government or a profession — courtesy is an indispensable attribute. The newspaperboy soon learns that politeness to customers earns their friendliness and appreciation. He also realizes that a courteous manner is important when he encounters the few who are inconsiderate of his services and make unreasonable demands of him. Rudeness and loss of temper simply do not pay for the young merchant interested in maintaining the good will of his customers.

Each year many Texans, and others too, like to visit the Big Bend National Park in West Texas.

An even greater number will go there this year because more facilities now are available and there are new roads.

One road goes into the mysterious Santa Elena Canyon of the Rio Grande. Another Basis road ties the canyon into the little town of Presidio... another gateway into Mexico.

Big Bend National Park is a mighty expanse, covering more than 700,000 acres of mountains and desert. Altitude ranges from 2,000 to nearly 8,000 feet on rugged peaks.

It is touched for more than 100 miles by the Rio Grande River. Just across the river in Mexico... the land of manana.

Although there is considerable snow in the Big Bend Park in the winter, it is even more glamorous in the spring. Then the whole desert explodes with beautiful blooming cacti.

May is the month when wild flowers are in greatest profusion. Then too the weather is not too steaming for comfortable travel or for exploration among the wilds of the vast area.

You approach Big Bend National al Park across a desert, with rugged mountains in the background.

Nature hasn't been too kind to this country. In fact it frequently is referred to as Creation's scrap pile because of the deep arroyos, exposed colored layers of clay and rock and the mountains pushing skyward.

The Rio Grande River makes three tremendous cuts or gorges as it meanders between the two countries. These canyon walls, some of them more than 1,000 feet straight up, represent the erosion of centuries.

Big Bend National Park is reached over U. S. Highway 90, which links San Antonio and El Paso. It is 410 miles from San Antonio, 323 miles from El Paso.

Alpine is the nearest town of any size, and it is 81 miles away. Marathon is the southern entrance to the park, a distance of 39 miles from the highway to the park entrance near Persimmon Gap, and 70 miles from the park headquarters.

There are many trails, foot and horseback, within the park. Most of them start at Panther Junction, park headquarters.

Panther Junction provides a wonderful view of the basin area from an altitude of 5,800 feet. Here also will be found cottages for rent, a store, restaurant and campground.

Also to Panther Junction is a trailer park. However, trailers cannot make the drive into the Basin area, because of the elevation of the roads.

One of the most interesting side trips is the Lost Mule trail along Lost Mine Ridge. This 14-mile round trip affords a magnificent panorama of the vastness of this great country.

There are picnic sites and campsites available in other places in the park, offering facilities for those who want to spend the night out in the open.

Near Boquillas Canyon, 35 miles from the Basin and close to the eastern boundary of the Park, is Rio Grande Village. Here there is an irrigated desert area and campsites, with boats and horses for rent to those who want to explore farther.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Members of Gov. John Connally's "Committee of 25" — to study education beyond the high school — have only one thing in common . . . they're all Texans.

Twenty-three, however, have something else in common — they are college graduates. Ten hold master's degrees and five have doctorates.

Eight have something else in common — they attended Connally's alma mater, The University of Texas.

Other than that, their backgrounds vary.

Included are lawyers, bankers, contractors, telephone company executives, oil men, engineers, a district judge, a hospital administrator and educators.

The committee is composed of: George R. Brown, Martin Burns, Morgan J. Davis, and Mrs. Ray L. Dudley of Houston.

Also, James H. Dunn and Mrs. Albert B. Martin of Amarillo; John Erik Jonsson, Willis M. Tate and Gifford K. Johnson of Dallas.

Austinites are Vernon McDaniel, J. M. Odom and Dr. Harry H. Ransom.

Others include Sister Mary Vincent O'Donnell and H. B. Zachry of San Antonio; Elmer H. Danner, San Angelo; Jenkins Garrett, Fort Worth; and Judge Reynaldo G. Garza, Brownsville.

Also, John E. Gray, Beaumont; H. H. Imray, Longview; Ben W. Jones, Corsicana; Dr. Abner

McCall, Waco; Dr. Earl Rudder, College Station; Tom Sealy, Midland; M. Harvey Weil, Corpus Christi; and Dr. Dossie M. Wiggins, Lubbock.

ODESSA OUT — The expected bumper crop of college students in 1965 will have two more state colleges to choose from. Angelo State College in San Angelo and Pan American College in Edinburg join the state-supported system in the fall of 1965.

But Odessa Junior College still will be a junior college, despite strong efforts by Rep. George Cook of Odessa and Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso.

STATE STUDIES PROJECTED — When the 58th legislative session ended, lawmakers immediately began to study possible legislation for the 59th Legislature.

Interim committees of legislators will look into guidance training testing in public schools; boat safety; reservoir planning; Texas bays; care and discovery of tuberculosis cases; poverty and indigency in the state; State and Local Tax Policy; and a thorough survey of the oil and gas industry.

WOMEN WIN SMALL VICTORY — The army of women's clubs, led by Mrs. Hermine Tabolowsky of Dallas, lost their session-long battle to get the Legislature to approve a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan to provide "equal rights" for women.

Moore's amendment was lodged in a reluctant House Insurance committee at the session's end.

But they did gain something in the way of equal property rights under bills passed by Rep. George Cowden of Waco to:

1. Give married women the right to manage and sell their separate property without their husband's consent.
  2. Take away the "examination apart" required of notaries public.
- NEW AG SETS RECORD — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr reports that his Bond Division set an all-time record for bonds examined and approved during the first four months of his administration.
- He stated that the record of 274 bond issues approved — $189,000,000 worth — exceeded the first third of any calendar year since the Attorney General's office was first given these duties in 1905.
- Also since January 1, Carr's office has handled a total of 1,311 cases: 986 won, 61 lost and 264 disposed of in other ways.
- COTTON DEADLINE EXTENDED — Agriculture Commissioner, John C. White announced a 10-day extension of the cotton planting deadline in 17 coastal counties. Extension to June 1 was due to extremely dry weather in the coastal bend area.
- Planting of the state's 1963 cotton crop is three-fourths complete, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, as high as $20,000 a year. Rural competition to pass bills this session to authorize county supplements.
- Lawmakers from districts where judges get only $12,000 or a slight supplement have battled every bill that called for increased pay. Some increases would have run as high as $20,000 a year. Rural members argue that judicial salaries like that cause too much competition.
- Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville noted that creation of a new Court of Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi and the opening of three justice jobs at $15,000 caused a flood of applications.
- GOLD IN THEM HILLS? — People who think a hidden fortune may lie somewhere north of the Big Bend may get a chance to test their theory under a new law. It allows prospector permits for 640 acres, at 25 cents an acre annual rental for a maximum of five years.
- Rep. Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler, author of the bill, noted that present law limits a hard-metal prospector to 40 acres.
- WATERSHEDS — Speed-up in planning watershed flood protection projects won approval from the Senate House conference committee on appropriations.
- It allocated $109,000 a year to the State Soil Conservation Board to be used to plan small-watershed programs.
- U. S. Soil Conservation Service funds for planning are limited. So some watershed districts have

Trading Stamps

The battle between advocates of trading stamps and opponents of the practice will probably go on forever. The purpose of this editorial is not to condemn the custom or praise it. But it is an interesting marketing phenomenon and there are some aspects buyers will be interested in.

One of the most fascinating developments in this marketing practice came last year when the nation's largest supermarket chain decided, after resisting the practice for years, to give away trading stamps. The first month that chain gave stamps sales jumped twenty per cent.

But critics point out—or claim—that after four months this chain's business was back to the pre-stamp level and that prices, in the meantime, had gone up by almost two per cent. The critics, of course, charged that the price increases were due to the cost of the stamps.

It is a truism that one cannot get something for nothing, at least on a permanent basis. No chain of stores, no single store, will offer the customer something that costs a sizeable amount of money for no return.

It is just not human nature, or common sense business, to cut one's profit margin. So when trading stamps are offered the buying public, it is with the hope that they will attract new business. They will have to pay for themselves in new business or be paid for by the customer. There is no two ways about that.

The Turbine Car

A flurry of automobile interest and excitement has been caused by the plans and progress of one member of the Big Three U.S. automobile companies involving a gas turbine car.

The company recently announced it would build fifty of these cars and turn them over to various private owners for periods of three months. This will test the public's reaction to the gas turbine car.

There seems little doubt the car has possibilities. It requires only about a fifth as many moving parts as a gasoline engine. It requires no elaborate cooling system and has only one spark plug. It will also burn a lower grade fuel.

Its exhaust gases will be greater in volume but less toxic, whatever that will finally turn out to mean, if the car comes into wide use in smog-plagued cities and areas.

One idea about the car — that it is new and radical—is not wholly accurate. A British automobile company has built and sent turbine cars all over Europe for twelve years, testing the public's reaction. Obviously this company is not so sure about the car's public acceptance.

The most appealing thing about the car, to the producers, is that it can probably be built cheaply. If savings are passed along to the public, and if the car's performance is acceptable, chances are the public will take to it.

In England this has not been the case, but it may be in the United States. The project is certainly a progressive one and an interesting one, and potential advantages of the turbine design are unquestionably real.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may have his tongue in his cheek this week. Maybe it beats a foot.

Dear editor:

As you know, this is the time of year when graduating classes get to hear a lot of advice and I've been reading some of it from around the country and so far I haven't heard something mentioned which I'd like to bring out myself.

I don't mean to say the advice isn't sound, it is, regardless of how little it will be taken. In the world's entire history there never has been a shortage of advice, and like everything else we've got a surplus of, the price has never been high.

Most commencement speakers, especially at colleges, exhort the graduates to work hard and achieve and amount to as much as the speakers, but they've got to do better than that if the world's going to hold together. Right now we're at the point where a disarmament conference feels safer if it's meeting close to a bomb shelter.

Now the point I'd like to bring out is that in nearly every graduating class, except of course the one in Muleshoe, there's always a certain number about whom some folks predict, with about the accuracy of a weather forecast, "Well, they won't set the world on fire."

I tell you, that's exactly the kind of young people I'm looking for. If this world needs anything, it's somebody who won't set it on fire.

Go to the moon, orbit the earth, invent a tail pipe that won't rust out, perfect a drip-dry car fender that straightens out its own dents, eliminate racial strife, abolish slums, lower taxes, bring television to Africa, shave Castro, control the weather, grow food in a test tube, de-salt the ocean, eliminate flies and mosquitoes, write more books, find a funny comedian on TV, eliminate crime, make honesty convenient, outwit the Russians, bring peace on earth, but don't set it on fire.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Vacations go smoother in a Chevrolet Corvaire

Bring on those mountains! They're not so high and mighty when you've got Corvaire's gummy six and rear-engine traction working on them.

You scurry up the meanest grades. You move with sure-footed agility on wet pavement, muddy lanes, gravel and other would-be miseries.

And with most of Corvaire's weight on the rear wheels, you have easy steering, too. Fact is, the handling's so light and responsive we don't even offer power steering for the car.

And there's more to feel good about. No problems with your radiator boiling over or going dry, because there's no radiator. Corvaire's engine is air cooled. No concern about brake adjustments, either, because the brakes adjust themselves. Nothing much to think about at all except the good time you're having.

Like to do that in a sporty bucket-seated Monza Club Coupe or Convertible? Like to spring into summer with a 4-speed stick shift* and Spyder package* with its 150-hp Turbocharged engine? Your dealer's got just the Corvaire and the Trade 'N' Travel deal on it to put you in a holiday mood.

A STRIKING CLOCK: Not very accurate, but certainly one of the most beautiful clocks in the world, this huge time-piece was an entry in Bermuda's Floral Pageant parade. A dozen different native flowers were used to decorate the colorful float. The parade, an annual springtime event in the island of Bermuda, has been seen in the last 11 years by more than 200,000 persons. The clock was a prize winner in the 1962 parade.

Highlights--

(Continued from Page 2) quick tabulation of the results of five months of labor by the 181 members of the 58th Legislature reveals that only about 31 per cent of the bills passed both House and Senate, to become laws.

A total of 1,723 bills were introduced. Of these, 543 were passed to law. Most of the weeding-out was done by committees. They reported as favorable only 786 bills as compared with 906 in 1961.

COMMISSION — State Supreme Court upheld the Railroad Commission's right to authorize an operator in a particular oil field to conduct a survey of another operator's well to determine if it were illegally slanted.

Case at bar was L & G Oil Company (headed by H. G. Lewis Jr. of Kilgore) versus the Railroad Commission et al.

L & G charged that a Railroad Commission order permitting Tidewater Oil Company to authorize Sperry-Sun surveying Company to run a slant-hole survey on an L & G well in the East Texas field was illegal.

The 126th District Court in Austin had supported the Railroad Commission's order.

But while the Supreme Court affirmed the right to give the order, it said it was improperly worded and sent the case back to the trial court.

Two members of the high court, however — Associate Justices Meade F. Griffin and Joe Greenhill — disagreed with their colleagues.

"To allow a citizen or corporation — a potential foe in litigation — to go upon and take notice of another's property without even so much as an opportunity to be heard, is a clear violation of the due process clause of the Texas and Federal constitutions," they stated.

DATE MIX-UP — On or about August 1, Secretary of State Crawford Martin has to start publishing proposed amendments to the constitution that will be up for a vote in a special election on Saturday, November 9.

Martin checked out the first three amendments scheduled for the ballot: One to decide whether to abolish the poll tax; one asking whether to extend the Veterans' Land Program and increase bonds; and one asking voters whether the state should increase from $54,000,000 to $60,000,000 state funds that can be spent each year on federal-state assistance for old folks, children, the blind and disabled.

Then he came to a fourth — a proposed amendment to authorize a retirement and benefit program for Jefferson County drainage district employees. One clause referred to a November 9, 1963, election. Another set the election for November, 1964.

Martin couldn't decide which date was right, so he referred the matter to Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

FORMER SPEAKER LANDS JOB — James A. Turman of Gober, former speaker of the House who ran for lieutenant-governor in 1962 and was defeated by Preston Smith of Lubbock, was around Austin for a long time after his term as speaker ended on January 7.

Many political potentates predicted he would be named Secretary of State — he wasn't. Then they said he would head Governor Connally's proposed Commission on Excellence in Higher Education, but that bill didn't pass.

Turman came out fine in the long run. Last week, he joined the U. S. Office of Education in Washington, D. C., as a Special Consultant Expert to the Commission of Education.

Turman once was assistant to the president of Texas Woman's University in Denton.

STOCKS SALES GRANTED — State Securities Commissioner William M. King announced a sharp rise in the number of companies registering stocks with his board in April.

Sixty-three companies — 21 Texas firms included — were granted permits to issue $22,634,384 worth of securities in the state.

HIGHWAY CONTRACTS RECORD SET — A $5,200,000 contract for construction of a 12-mile stretch of Interstate Highway 20 in Kaufman County broke all records for the State Highway Department.

Contract was one of 64, representing $33,000,000 worth of road improvements, let by the State Highway Commission on May 27.

UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN — Economic pictures drawn by state agencies this week began to look like "Texas Brags."

Texas Employment Commission also had a glowing report. It announced that the number of job-seekers dropped from 191,000 in March to 171,500 in April. Number of employed was 3,543,100—56,100 more than the March figure.

Farm Facts

When explorers came to the New World they found the Indians using tobacco in much the same way it is used today. Since that time, tobacco production has spread to many countries.

The United States, however, has long been the leader in tobacco production. Total output in 1960 amounted to more than 8.8 billion pounds, with the U.S. accounting for more than 1.9 billion and China for about 1.8 billion.

India, Russia, Brazil, Turkey, and Japan are among other countries growing large tobacco crops.

North Carolina is by far the largest tobacco producing state. The 1961 crop in the Tarheel State totaled almost 844 million pounds, compared with 391.3 million for Kentucky, 153.4 million for Virginia, 151.2 million for South Carolina, and 137.6 million for Georgia.

Cigarettes took 1,212 million of the 3,487 million pounds of leaf tobacco used in the U.S. in 1960. Consumption amounted to 484.4 billion cigarettes, or 3,908 per person (15 years of age and over).

SOUP SPARKS CHILDREN'S LUNCH

Shouts, laughs, the screen door banging—sounds like the youngsters are home for lunch. As the end of the school year approaches, you may be finding it more difficult to prepare attractive, nourishing, yet, interesting lunches.

Canned condensed soups come in handier than ever, now. There are so many kinds and the children love them! Good tasting and satisfying, they give the youngsters a head start for the afternoon's activities. In just a short time, a well balanced meal can be put on the table. Our choice today is a large bowl of canned condensed vegetable soup with the added protein of ground beef. Melted cheese on crackers is always popular... carrot and celery sticks fun to munch on. For dessert — fresh fruit, cupcakes, and a large glass of milk. You'll find the children will really go for this lunch. Gives them lots of energy, too!

ENERGY PACKED SOUP
3/4 pound ground beef
2 1/2 teaspoon leaf oregano, crushed
1 can (19 3/4 ounces) condensed vegetable soup
1 soup can water
Salt and pepper

In saucepan, brown meat with oregano, stirring to separate meat particles. Add soup and water. Heat, stirring now and then. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

AUSTIN — A pesky little bit of life, capable of going for months without food, is a sour note in the otherwise symphony of a Texas spring.

It's a soft-shelled tick, known scientifically as Ornithodoros turicata, transmitter of relapsing fever. This time of year they'll be out in force over most of Texas — at the very season when the natural human inclination is toward picnics and exploratory sojourns into the Great Outdoors.

FRANCIS IMPLEMENT CO.
FORD TRACTOR
Muleshoe, Texas
Adv.

State Health Department entomologists say the pernicious, fever-laden parasites can bite, feed, release their hold and drop to the ground without their human victims every knowing they have provided them with a blood meal.

Many cases of relapsing fever undoubtedly occur in Texas without ever coming to official attention. Ticks pick up the germ while feeding on infected wild rodents, become infected themselves and then pass it on to humans during the feeding process.

Soft-shelled ticks are close relatives of the hard-shelled ticks which spread spotted fever, typhus, a type of encephalitis and other miseries.

Public health workers handle ticks with great caution to avoid being bitten and exposed to the fever they might be carrying. Specimens are kept in a specially constructed tick-torium where, if one escapes, it will fall into an oil bath and be killed.

State Health Department laboratory technicians over the years have added many refinements to diagnostic techniques relating to relapsing fever. The strange disease occurs all over the world, despite the fact that it is sometimes called a tropical disease. The onset of relapsing fever is characterized by chills and fever lasting from 24 to 36 hours. Recurring attacks of fever might persist for weeks, each one leaving the victim weak and wrung out.

Once successfully diagnosed, relapsing fever readily responds to modern treatment by a private physician. The disease is rarely fatal.

Soft-shelled ticks usually inhabit caves and old buildings, while their hard-shelled counterparts stick to woods and fields. Both types are actually occupational hazards for ranchers and foresters and people in similar lines of work.

Soft-shelled ticks can survive a year or more without food, so long vacancy of a vacation cottage does not mean there are no ticks in residence.

So go ahead — have fun outdoors this spring. But be sure to use plenty of insect repellent on exposed skin and on clothing if you are in infested areas.

It all started with Sir Walter Raleigh and a Y-shaped pipe. The pipe was a gift to Raleigh from Sir Francis Drake — a souvenir from the West Indies, where natives put the pipe prongs in their nostrils and inhaled the smoke of a smouldering substance they called "tobacco."

Raleigh apparently set the style of his day, for when he took up smoking the practice soon became fashionable.

All this happened nearly 400 years ago — in 1586. Since then smoking has become perhaps the most deeply ingrained habit of humanity.

Today in the United States alone, more than half the men and a fourth of the women smoke cigarettes daily, and additional millions smoke pipes and cigars. And the habit is winning more and more young recruits each day.

Teen-aged youngsters in increasing numbers are succumbing to the blandishments of national advertisers who depict smokers as virile men or beautiful girls, or to the pull of "belonging" to a sophisticated group of non-smokers.

Studies by the U. S. National Institutes of Health, the British Ministry of Health, and other scientific organizations of equal strength show a statistical relationship between smoking and higher death rates from heart diseases, lung cancer and other pulmonary diseases.

The position is attracting support from many organizations — among them the Texas Medical Association, the American Cancer and Heart Association, the American Public Health Association, the U. S. Public Health Service and departments of health in most states.

Some researchers are so firmly convinced of the connection between cigarette smoking and higher death rates that they say they would support a ban on cigarettes for public sale if introduced as a new product on today's market.

A few number of capable researchers are unimpressed by the statistical studies, claim they are inconclusive and actually contradictory. But they are finding it increasingly difficult to defend their stand in the face of ominous facts and evidence which continues to build up.

The late Dr. William Mayo used to say cigarettes, cigars and pipes were mere "adult pacifiers" something for idle hands to play with. If true, breaking the smoking habit probably isn't as hard as it has been represented.

Should you, personally, make the effort? That's your decision.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Both dates are passed now, but it would be well to remember them for next year, because April 1 and May 1 are important deadlines for various taxing agencies. State laws require all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between January 1 and April 1 each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemptions must be claimed by the same time.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved — the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water, irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadlines for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is the constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries its requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render all merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment.

If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

Remember these facts: You may need to render your property at three or more different tax offices. Ask each tax assessor if in doubt concerning the deadline or the rendering of specific personal items.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Farm Facts

The word "corn" is used to describe the cereal that may happen to be the major crop in an area. In England, for example, it refers to wheat. In other countries it may mean barley or oats.
 Corn, as we know it in this country, originated in the Americas and was unknown elsewhere until Columbus reported its discovery in Cuba. New scientists, through the use of radioactive carbon to measure the age of vegetation, have established that corn was being grown in South America as far back as 1000 B.C. and in North America in 2000 B.C.
 The Mayas, Aztecs, and Incas of Latin America cultivated corn and it was a staple item in their diet. It was grown by the mound dwellers in the Mississippi Valley and the cliff dwellers of the Southwest.
 Popularity of the grain spread rapidly after it became known in Europe, and today corn is found all over the world. In acreage planted it ranks second only to wheat.

It grows equally well in Canada, Russia, and in the tropical climates of South America. Corn is being harvested somewhere every month in the year. The U.S., however, produces more than half the world's crop.

—1933—
Plans maturing for Barter day to be held in Muleshoe next Monday indicated a full program of arousing, amusing, and interesting events from early morning until late at night.
"Texas Slim" will be here all day Monday with his numerous rodeo features. He has a fine string of wild broncos, trick ponies, Brahma steers and untamed cows to be used in the show, and there will be bronc riding, bulldogging, wild cow milking and other stunts pulled off such as are common in rodeo events.

—1933—
All lads recently sent from Bailey county to the reforestation army have passed their physical examinations and have been received according to a letter received the latter part of last week by Chairman R. L. Brown from Arthur W. Holt, one of the reconstruction soldiers.

—1933—
Considering the blustery weather there was a fair crowd of people who attended the Memorial services held Sunday afternoon at the local cemetery under auspices of the American Legion post.

Rev. E. C. Raney delivered the principal address for the occasion. Betty McAdams recited the poem, "To An Unknown Soldier," and Mrs. Holland and Ty Young sang "Buddy." A rifle salute to the dead was fired over the cemetery, after which several of the graves were appropriately decorated.

Post Commander, Gilbert Wollard, had charge of the program.

—1933—
Work of preparing the grade on the street running east and west passing R. L. Brown's office and the old Muleshoe hotel was begun Tuesday afternoon.

The street will be spread with caliche, expense of labor being handled with RFC funds.

—1933—
G. R. Board is this week opening a produce house in Muleshoe, buying and selling chickens, eggs and cream. The new concern will be called The Farmers Produce.

Both turnips and rutabagas may be treated just as you would potatoes. Cook the pared cut-up vegetable in a small amount of boiling water and drain; mash with hot milk, butter and white pepper.

George Washington signed the first tariff act on July 4, 1789.
