Japan Signs Alliance With Germany

Hitler Steps Up His Fury Against Britain On Both Diplomatic And Fighting Fronts With New Pact

Hundreds of Nazi Warplanes Storm England In One of Greatest Aerial Offenses of War; United States Warned Not To Aid Britain, China

Adolf Hitler stepped up the fury of his assault against Britain on both the diplomatic and fighting fronts today. While hundreds of Nazi warplanes stormed England in one of the greatest aerial offenses of the war, Hitler and his axis partner, Italy, enrolled Japan in a "world front" military alliance.

With formal pen strokes, the new Berlin-Rome-Tokyo bloc divided Europe and the Orient into spheres of influence—and sounded a thinly veiled warning to the United States not to come to the aid of beleaguered Britain or China.

Above the diplomatic fanfare, German and British long-range guns shelled each other in a prolonged cross-channel artillery duel that rocked both coasts, and in the skies Nazi warplanes clashed with RAF defense craft in a series of blazing battles.

Hull Says Japanese Pact With Germany Had Been Expected

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP).—Secretary Hull said today that Japan's alliance with the German-Italian axis merely made clear "a relationship which has long existed in effect" and which the United States had taken into account in determining its own policies.

Hull made this comment in a brief formal statement to a press conference. Previously President Roosevelt had told reporters he could not say anything about the pact signed today in Berlin because he had received nothing official on it.

Hull refused to elaborate, asserting he did not desire to be cross-examined.

Mr. Roosevelt, when asked at the White House whether the 10-year treaty was unexpected, replied yes and no, but did not elaborate.

Asked whether an embargo on oil shipments to the Far East, was contemplated, the president referred questioners to the state department.

To other questions about the possibility of any additional export restrictions, Mr. Roosevelt said the subject was being studied all the time but there was no news on it.

State Officials Must Quit Jobs if Called To Military Service

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP).—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann ruled today that an officer in the active military service of the United States may not also hold a state government office.

Mann held that under the state constitution any public office occupied by an officer of the National Guard was automatically vacated when he accepted such active military service.

The opinion had been requested by Adjutant General J. Watt Page and, while it was advisory only, was regarded as of great importance because of the possible effect of several state officers.

Among officers of the Texas National Guard are Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Railroad Commission, Senators A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris and J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, Orville S. Carpenter, director of the unemployment compensation organization, Rep. James A. Taylor of Kerens and Page himself.

Arrest Odessa Negro For Wounding Filling Station Operator

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP).—An 18-year-old Odessa, Tex., negro was arrested at Garland today in connection with the wounding of Hugh M. Wallace, 50, Alvarado filling station operator.

Sheriff Smoot Schmidt, who returned the negro to the county jail, said the suspect admitted critically wounding Wallace when the latter resisted an attempt to rob the station.

Deputy Sheriff Bob Gray and his 18-year-old son, Bill, caught the negro in the railroad yards at Garland. The negro was unarmed, having left his pistol in a stolen automobile he had wrecked several hours earlier.

Wallace was in a Fort Worth hospital. Officers said the negro gave his name as Roger L. King.

Last night the negro was spotted driving his car in East Dallas, but when officers sought to halt the machine, he sped away.

The officers opened fire, which the negro returned.

The suspect escaped in heavy traffic.

Governor Asks County Officers To Handle Draft

Suggests They Call Volunteer Workers To Aid Registration

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP).—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today asked county commissioners courts and county clerks to man and equip every polling place in the state on Oct. 16 for registration under peacetime conscription.

Noting the task will be a "tremendous one," the governor asked that county officials call for volunteer workers, either male or female. He added that registration cards and other supplies soon will be available.

Complete instructions for registering men from 21 through 35 years of age will be issued from the Adjutant General's Department, state selective service headquarters, before registration day.

Preliminary instructions from selective service headquarters reveal that the number of registrants in a given precinct will be approximately 80 per cent of the vote in the July Democratic primary election.

In determining the number of registrars needed for a precinct, county clerks should allow 20 to 30 minutes for each registration.

Name Boards Soon

With the completion of registration county officials' part in selective service ends. Registration cards will be turned over to local draft boards, soon to be named by the President, on Oct. 17.

There will be one local draft board for each 30,000 population, or at least one for each county.

The principal fact for eligible males to remember is to register where they normally vote because every precinct must contain a registration office. Operating hours are from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. Persons away from their home county on registration day may register at the nearest polling place and their cards will be forwarded to the home precinct.

The United States flag must be displayed at every registration place. Registration places and equipment must be furnished without expense to the government. There will be no paid workers for registration.

Texas Economist Sees Better Business For Lone Star State Soon

AUSTIN, Sept. 27 (AP).—Texas business factors, already stimulated by the national defense program, point to further gains, a University of Texas economist predicted today.

Citing growing payrolls in industrial areas of the nation, Dr. F. A. Buechel, saw spreading markets for Texas agricultural and ranch products, with the exception of cotton.

A three-point rise in the composite index of Texas business, covering six key trades and industries, over August, 1939, disclosed a continuing upward trend, the director of the bureau of business research said.

The only decline, 21 points, occurred in runs of crude oil to refineries. Dr. Buechel believed, however, the demand for oil and petroleum products would soon increase.

Department stores sales accounted for most of the gain although indices, employment, payrolls, freight car loadings and electric power consumption, were up two to four points.

Predicts Pacific Area To Be Center Of World Power

Prediction that the center of the world, so far as power and economics go, will shift to the Pacific area, dominance of which will be divided between the British Empire and the United States, was made by Hawthorne Daniel, author and editor, in an address before Town Hall at the high school auditorium, Thursday evening. This vast area will include three-fourths of the world area and over 90 per cent of the world's raw materials, he said.

He believes that the British-American dominance would hold until about such time as Siberia or China (which he ranks with the United States and Canada as the earth's four greatest areas of wealth in material resources) might rise to power. In this Pacific area would be only one of the world's two troublemakers, Japan, (Germany being the other he named) and when she was defeated, peace would prevail in the region.

The speaker pointed out Canada as the probable seat of the British Empire in the future, with practically all the great firms of Britain already having branch plants or offices there.

Even if the island of Britain fell, Daniel believes the British Empire would go on, its five component parts of Australia, Canada, South Africa, and India still holding together.

P. D. Moore, president of Town Hall, opened the meeting which was the organization's initial session for the 1940-41 season.

Bill German, young Midland attorney, introduced the speaker for the evening.

Attendance for the evening was estimated at about 225 people. Memberships for this year already total 235 with others expected before next lecture.

Expanded Markets Are Recommended By Wendell Willkie

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN ENROUTE TO MADISON, WIS., Sept. 27 (AP).—Wendell L. Willkie traveled today across Iowa's broad corn fields from Omaha, where he recommended a farm program calling for expanded markets and improvement of present federal agricultural projects.

The Republican presidential nominee also promised that if elected, he would write representatives of farm, factory, labor and consumer to the White House to "tackle the job, at long last, of ending economic stagnation and of preventing a common disaster."

He offered these suggestions:

1. Develop new industries to increase both farm and national income.
2. Expansion of federal studies of marketing and distribution of farm products.
3. Reduce the cost of transporting farm products to market, including federal aid to build farm-to-market roads.
4. Encourage cooperative marketing.
5. Continue the marketing agreement program now in use for dairy products and fresh vegetables.
6. Continue distribution of surplus.
6. Continue distribution of surplus as a relief problem exists.

"We should give thanks that we have a President who understands our dangers—the dangers of our combination of dictators.

Wallace said he was confident "no American blood will be shed if we pursue our present course."

He stressed the government's wheat loans and derided the Republican farm platform.

Col. Slaughter Found Shot To Death in Home

Widely-Known West Texas Ranchman in Poor Health Recently

POST, Tex., Sept. 27 (AP).—Col. Jay B. Slaughter, about 45, was found dead in the bathroom of his large residence here today. He had been shot in the head.

Mrs. Slaughter and a negro yard boy rushed into the bathroom and found the widely-known ranchman dead. A gun lay on the floor.

An unsigned note was found addressed to the yard boy, directing that Doug Morrel, a business associate, be informed and said, in part, "God bless Skeeter (Slaughter's wife) and everybody and God forgive me."

Friends and associates said the ranch owner, who comes of a family as traditional in rangland as probably any other ever to live in far West Texas, had been intensely nervous and in decidedly poor health in recent months.

Reduced His Weight.

A year ago he was told in a Temple hospital to reduce his weight—and he did so, from 230 to barely more than 150 pounds. But his condition did not improve satisfactorily, and doctors told him to leave next week for a Rochester, Minn., clinic. This he dreaded, he told friends yesterday.

Slaughter told friends he felt constrained to give up his presidency of the school board in Post and a chamber of commerce post.

His worry had been accentuated by drouth, which had caused him to move about 1,900 head of cattle from his 80,000 acre ranch to the region around San Angelo and Paint Rock. In the last few days he had been forced to move some of them again, to the Andrews section.

Slaughter began management of the U-Lazy S Ranch after his father's death, which left the father's estate equally divided between his widow, who still lives here, Jay and a daughter, now Mrs. Frank E. Lot of 1st Beach, Fla. The ranch, acquired in 1901, formerly was of 156,000 acres and even now, after being cut up for agricultural purposes, lies in parts of three counties—Garza, Lynn and Borden.

Strange Things Are Done

A striking thing about this war—perhaps it is a necessary attribute of any war—is the way in which all must shape our courses in semi-darkness.

If to know the facts is the first requisite of forming a judgment, then the world today is a sorry place for forming judgments. And so it is.

The recent official statements on war casualties are a good example. The Germans announced their casualties for the first year of the war, including the conquest of Poland, Belgium, Holland, Norway, and France.

Is this accurate? No one can say with certainty. It may be, for the German blitz type of attack appears to have been less costly than old-fashioned sausage-mill tactics. On the other hand, the sheer extent of the operations, the severity of much of the fighting, seems to suggest far greater losses.

When it comes to planes, somebody is definitely wrong. The Germans claim to have destroyed 6950 enemy planes in all the conquered countries. They claim to have lost only 1050.

The British claim that 3945 German planes have been destroyed (the Germans admitting to only 1050). The British meanwhile admit losing 1012, which leaves a large number of the German claim of 6950 to be charged up to Poland and France.

What damage is being done in either country by air bombing? We cannot know. All we know is the official reports, the censor-passed pictures showing destruction, but seldom showing destruction of anything of military value.

American press associations and newspapers spend millions of dollars; their reporters and cameramen risk their lives, to find the truth. But they can at best illuminate only patches of it here and there, like a man blundering about a dark room with a flashlight.

All of humanity is a little like that today. It owes a debt to those who are desperately striving to cast their patches of light on the dark scene.

SERIAL STORY THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

YESTERDAY: Joe calms Sue Mary's fears about a strike at Smithson, urges her to marry him, to break with the new crowd. Sue Mary asks for a little time, promises to set the wedding date in a week. She wonders what she can do in a week.

RIOTS AT SMITHSON

Chapter XVII "SHE did have it. I tell you I saw her looking it over. I saw her with my own eyes."

Kitty's whisper was furious and her green eyes shot fire as she confronted Babs. "Don't stand there and try to tell me to be quiet. That one—she's wrong. She's up to something."

Sue Mary stood quietly behind the file and listened to the whispered argument. It seemed to her that all she was doing lately was listening to other people's conversations. First at the apartment, whenever Vera and Natalie were together; then at the hall, when Nick issued confidential orders to some of the workers; and here at the office, whenever she believed she could benefit by learning something more about Vera's aims.

"Well, so what?" Babs said mildly. "Just because Miss Grant was hunting for another paper and Vera happened to have it on her desk doesn't create an international incident. You're one of those hysterical people who sees a spy under every wastebasket and behind every door."

Kitty turned away sulkily. On her desk was the morning paper and she turned the pages over to the society sheet's gossip column. Sue Mary knew what she was reading. She herself had seen it while coming down on the bus that morning, and she had marked it and given it to Vera.

It was one of those inconsequential bits of froth used as filler when society news was slack. "Who," it questioned, "was the stunning madonna type taking Ross Clark Junior's mind off the airport worries last night at the Golden Calif?"

Vera had shrugged her shoulders and smiled when she read it. "Well, one sees all phases of life that way," she said. "Beer and salami in the hall one night; champagne and a would-be politician the next."

"Do you think he has political ambitions?" Sue Mary asked, surprised.

"Yes. He's conceited enough to picture himself in the limelight. He was born in society, so that offers no goal. He's stupid enough to believe a political career would add to his charm. All he needs is money, and from what he says he need plenty. He must be in debt right up to his ears. He certainly hasn't the sense his father has."

"You sound as though you knew him pretty well, Vera," Sue Mary watched the other girl's face intently.

"I've had a few dates with him and when you're with a guy who drinks as much as he does, you can learn a lot—if you're smart."

SUE MARY turned to traditional feminine outlet for her worries that noon hour. Working with the Youth Progress group had changed her none of the girls there thought much about clothes. Vera was the exception, at least as far as dressing for the office, but on the whole, the girls considered clothes unimportant. One concentrated on ideals.

A girl who planned to get married had a right to think about a trousseau. Perhaps it wasn't exactly practical to buy gossamer-thin chiffon hose, or fragile lace-trimmed lingerie, but she did, squandering her money with a recklessness that lifted her spirits higher than they had been in days. She tried on dresses—early fall frocks—and marched out with two that were much too expensive for her budget. Joe had suggested she buy for their home. But if he knew anything of feminine psychology, he would know just how much buying these clothes meant now. A new lipstick, gay nail polish, a fragrant, cool toilet water, and a silly, useless bracelet that jingled on her wrist at the slightest provocation. She felt she could handle any situation.

And then she saw the paper. She was on her way back to the office with her arms filled with bundles when the noon edition's front pages stared up at her from a pile on the street corner.

Trouble at the Smithson factory. Rioting at the south gate as the morning shift went out.

She bought a paper and backed up against a building, away out of the crush of the hurrying, noon-hour crowd, to read the story.

Both labor and plant officials agreed that the trouble came as a shock to them. Negotiations were under way and satisfactory progress had been made so far. No one could put the blame for the riot on any particular group of men. Statements that pay was to be cut were absolutely false. Yet trouble there had been, and two workers and one plant policeman had needed medical attention.

Leaflets had been found at the gate urging the men to demand their rights; warning them that they were being "sold down the river" by labor representatives who had gone over to the management. The company officials announced they were putting extra guards around the plant to prevent sabotage, and that work would go on as usual so that the materials they manufactured would be delivered on time to the plane factory.

SUE MARY called Joe that evening. Each minute had dragged back at the office. She kept watching the clock for the time when he would be out of work and she could talk to him. The hands dragged maddeningly and Babs had finally smiled and winked.

"Must have an important date," she grinned.

Sue Mary tried to make her frozen lips smile back. She couldn't even feel until she knew from Joe that he was all right. She stopped at a drug store on her way home when she thought he might be at his room.

"Of course, I'm all right," he said.

She was incoherent in her anxiety. "But those headlines. That story about some men hurt," she kept repeating.

"It's nothing to get excited about," Joe told her. "I'm glad you worried, though. You do love me, don't you?"

"You know that. And you know I'll worry about you—always, Joe. Will there be any more trouble, dear? You will be careful, won't you? Anything can happen when a riot starts."

"You're borrowing trouble again, sweetheart." The laughter left his voice then. "I thought you were borrowing it the last time we were together. Remember? You asked me then if there was a possibility of labor trouble at the factory."

"Maybe you had second-sight, Sue Mary. Or would you say a—pipe-line? A pipeline through the Youth Progress crowd?"

repeating. "It's nothing to get excited about," Joe told her. "I'm glad you worried, though. You do love me, don't you?"

OUR COUNTRY

For nearly 50 years I have been an American, yet it has taken me almost half a century to become one. Citizenship is an accident of birth, or a deliberate choice. I had no choice. I was born in the United States, as were my people before me. I have taken my country for granted.

I can even recall traveling in certain countries in which I was made to feel mildly apologetic because I was an American. These citizens of an 'old' world had traditions and culture. Mine was a new and deplorably progressive, amusing, grasping, raw or so they said.

It was very young then, I rose to the jilt and defend—the United States with all the eloquence at my command—still with faint apology. Many of us are apologetic today. It is time we ceased to be.

Europe, as my generation knows it, is dying. It is being consumed by flame and whirlwind. What shape will arise from the smoking ashes, we do not know.

It has taken me the better part of a lifetime to comprehend the privileges which I enjoy as an American, under a democratic government. I have accepted these as a man accepts the air he breathes. Until he is deprived of air he does not think about it, he does not evaluate it. When his supply is threatened, he fights for breath, for life itself. My generation has seen change and disaster, prosperity and hunger. It has seen the greatest discoveries of all time.

Yet it seems to me that, having accepted marvels as our due, having taken bad time and good in our stride, we have been indifferent to the basic importance of our citizenship. We have lived on the surface and dismissed with the usual clichés the growing unrest and disunion which imperils the democratic ideal, the American way of life.

The American way is the heritage of all those born to it, of all those adopting it by conviction. It can continue only if we will its survival, work for it, pray for it, adhere to it with grim determination and, above all, believe in it.

RELIEF is essential... not mere lip service, but belief as rooted as the belief in Almighty God. A nation which has faith in itself, and in its chosen way of life cannot be corrupted.

"It's nothing to get excited about," Joe told her. "I'm glad you worried, though. You do love me, don't you?"

"You know that. And you know I'll worry about you—always, Joe. Will there be any more trouble, dear? You will be careful, won't you? Anything can happen when a riot starts."

"You're borrowing trouble again, sweetheart." The laughter left his voice then. "I thought you were borrowing it the last time we were together. Remember? You asked me then if there was a possibility of labor trouble at the factory."

"Maybe you had second-sight, Sue Mary. Or would you say a—pipe-line? A pipeline through the Youth Progress crowd?"

A "FOUR-ALARM" FOR THE BLUE-GRAY TRUCKS. A KANSAS CITY bridge burst into flames one morning last spring. It twisted and writhed under the terrific heat... then stout steel spans splashed into the Kansas river. "Voice bridges" went out of service, too. For attached to the bridge were two large telephone cables, containing wires to 1,700 telephones. It was a four-alarm for the telephone repair crews—the men in the blue-gray trucks. While flames still soared near by, the reconstruction work began. In a fire department rowboat they got a line across the river. Emergency telephones were rigged up at strategic locations. Betty Jameson Still In Golf Title Chase

DEL MONTE, Calif., Sept. 27 (AP).—Defending Champion Betty Jameson of Texas is still the girl to beat in the National Women's Golf tournament, but a pair of comely California lasses shape up as powerful threats to Blonde Betty's reign.

The battle for the women's crown went into the semi-finals today over the tough pebble beach course.

The San Antonio champ met Clara Callender of Long Beach, Calif., while Mrs. James Ferrie, of Pasadena, Calif., met Jane Cothran of Greenville, S. C.

Marjorie Ferrie, the California state champion, demonstrated a sound game of golf yesterday in walloping attractive Mary Morse of Pebble Beach; Clara Callender scored an impressive victory over Mrs. Willard Shepherd of Los Angeles, and Miss Cothran eliminated the "little giant killer" from Fargo, N. D., Georgia Tainter.

Miss Jameson, meanwhile, was busy registering a six and five triumph over Mrs. Gregg Lufur of Los Angeles, veteran of major tournament competition and always a threat in match play competition.

Protection Against Bombings Studied By War Department

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Air raid precaution suggestions—four pages of them—went out from the war department today to firms expanding their plants for defense orders.

The suggestions dealt with the proper locations of factories, their protection and concealment against bombing attacks, and included an offer of plans for air raid shelters.

At the same time, the department disclosed that it was contemplating proposals for underground airplane hangars and storage dumps for ammunition and vital supplies, such as aviation gasoline.

Taking account of the wholesale destruction of industry in Spain, Poland, Finland, Holland and now England, the department sent American manufacturers a memorandum outlining "minimum passive defense protection."

Complete protection against direct bomb hits was not judged to be "economically or militarily justifiable at this time," but measures for "reasonable protection" were outlined.

Manufacturers building plants with the aid of government orders, loans or grants will not be required to make protective installations, but Secretary Stimson told his press conference yesterday, "we are making every effort beforehand by warning them of what the dangers may be."

BULLDOGS IN EL PASO FOR GAME TONIGHT WITH AUSTIN HIGH TEAM

Panthers Rate As Favorites Over Midland

EL PASO, Sept. 27 (Special)—The Midland Bulldogs, 22 strong, and coaches arrived here late Thursday in a special bus, primed and ready for their game tonight against the Austin High Panthers. The game starts at 9 o'clock (CST) and will not be broadcast.

The Bulldogs worked out in the Austin stadium last night and showed a scattering of real birds a lot of action. Jim White was kicking the ball high and far and Wendell Williams was hitting the mark with his passes.

The Panthers remain a bare favorite to win, mainly because the team is playing in its own back yard. The two teams stack up about even on weight and experience.

A comparison between the two teams was made possible last night when Ysleta defeated Cathedral, 28-0. The Panthers defeated Cathedral 36-0. If the figures are to be believed, Austin is one touchdown better than Ysleta. Midland defeated the Ysleta team 19-0 in the season opener. However, comparative figures are notoriously off when comparing two teams.

It is a certainty that both teams will be "shooting the works" in their game tonight. Each has won two games this year and will be out to keep its record clean. Coach Taylor of the Bulldogs and Coach Miller of the Panthers have made no efforts to "key" their boys up for the battle but both teams are grimly determined to win. The Bulldogs are expected to counter the fine Panther passing game with action on the ground, most of it by big Williams. The Bulldog quarterback is the leading District 3-AA scorer and Milner has been pointing his defense toward stopping him.

Probable starting lineups:

Midland	Pos.	El Paso
Coke	LT	Crowell
Hall	LG	Navarette
Rehders	C	Brasher
Eldson	RG	Hall
Buffington	RT	Breadon
Bratton	RE	Ferguson
Bigham	LB	Ferguson
Die	EB	Stogner
Williams	QB	Stogner
Kelly	FB	Campbell

Patrons are invited to visit assembly programs.

RECORD ENROLLMENT

At the beginning of school last year Junior High had an enrollment of 489 pupils. The opening enrollment this year has reached 573. Our teaching staff totals sixteen, including the principal.

Thirty-eight new students are from different schools in Texas, and ten from other states, two from old Wyoming.

JUNIOR PATROL ORGANIZED

The Junior Patrol is on the job again. It didn't "let any moss grow under its feet" after school started, before the members organized and got to work. Charles Barron is the patrol captain and Wilbur Yeager his assistant. From the sixth and seventh grades, a crew of boys work to remind everyone that it is better to be safe than sorry.

Officer Manning has been to see Mr. Gilbreth presented the new flags which the school and the city bought. Mrs. Gilbreth hemmed them, and Manning nailed them on sticks. Some attention given these flags, huh?

Faculty Checkup (So They Say)

Mr. Gilbreth: "For three weeks I was a 'tenderfoot' walking with surveying parties of the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company. Graduated to inside work then. Bought a bungalow and began trying to raise a few weeds and some grass."

Mrs. Tolbert: "It's always my job to hold down the fort while the others are gone." (But we know that she saw that the rodeo was put on successfully.)

Mrs. Phillipus: "Went a galavanting over the Southeastern States and Cuba. And by the way, any body can have Florida. I don't want it."

Miss Lowry: "Went to school 12 weeks—not so much fun."

Mr. Freels: "Stayed in Midland. Miss Famham: Spent eight weeks in Colorado trying to study. No use trying! Who wants to, anyhow?"

Miss Price: "Was just lazy all summer."

Miss Franklin: "Stayed home—washed dishes, cooked, and went fishing and swimming."

Miss Norman: "A quiet summer at home."

Miss Laughlin: "Worked for Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company in Midland for two months; made a trip through the northwest during August."

Miss Stout: "Went to see where 'papa' of waters meets the Ohio at Cairo. It also visited the Blue Grass region."

Miss Smith: "Visited relatives in North Carolina and South Carolina. Went to Washington, D. C. and spent several days."

Miss Latham: "I held down a job of great responsibility. Chaperoned Mrs. Phillipus to Havana and back."

Pennant Deciding Series Opens Today With Rowe, Feller Hurling

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Connie Mack, a well-known baseball manager and little-known prophet when he predicted last spring the four-time world champion Yankees would crumble this year, has his last chance to make good on that prediction today.

With an almost imaginary chance to retain the American League flag, the New Yorkers have won their last eight games in a whirlwind finish that looms like a sword of Damocles over the heads of the Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers.

Detroit can eliminate Cleveland with one victory any time it can get it today, tomorrow or Sunday. But unless the Yankees get whipped, the Tigers will have to win twice at Cleveland to evade a tie with the champion.

That's why Old Connie's forecast is back in his lap today, for his Philadelphia Athletics will meet the Yanks for the last time this season, and the A's can make certain that New York doesn't get any farther by winning this one game.

The A's couldn't do it yesterday in spite of two good pitching performances. The Yanks swept a doubleheader, 5-4 and 2-0, to put the standings in this shape for the payoff:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Games To
Detroit	89	62	.589	2
Cleveland	87	64	.576	3
New York	86	64	.573	2 1/2

New York winds up the season at Washington with a doubleheader tomorrow and a single game Sunday.

The Tigers and Indians rested yesterday in preparation for today's crucial contest in which Schoolboy Rowe faces Bobby Feller. Cleveland has to win all three games in the series to get past Detroit.

In the only other American League game yesterday, the Senators squeaked past the Boston Red Sox, 6-5.

The National League champions, Cincinnati's Reds, divided a doubleheader at St. Louis. Johnny Vander Meer pitched six-hit ball to take the first game, 4-3, and Rookie Newt Kimball came back with a seven-hit job in the nightcap for a 5-1 triumph.

The Boston Bees bottled the Brooklyn Dodgers twice, 5-2 and 5-4.

The New York Giants took two from the tall-end Phillies, 3-1 and 2-1, and Pittsburgh squeezed past the Chicago Cubs, 7-6.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz
NEW YORK Sept. 27 (AP)—Mr. Terry now refers to his Giants as "humpy-dumplings" and promises sweeping changes next season.

Uncle Bill Alexander, wise old head down at Georgia Tech has hopped aboard the Duke-to-beat-Tennessee bandwagon . . . Anyway, Dick Chapman is a conscientious guy. The day after he won the amateur title, he was down at the Merion Club at Philly taking a golf lesson from Sam Byrd.

Coaching Worries:
On the Long Island U. squad as a 256-pound linesman named Leo Laloff . . . He's a whale of a griddier, but he just doesn't seem to be good enough to out any of the regulars . . . Also, he is too good to sit on the bench . . . Coach Clair Bee is asking you like a friend, what you are going to do with a guy like that?

Today's Guest Star
Dan Desmond, Sioux City (Ia) Journal: "One of the vagabonds in Bob Feller's new home at Van Meter will touch off a series of aerial bombs and turn on a storm warning, if Hank Greenberg happens in the vicinity . . . Greenberg has batted .471 against Feller this season."

Everyone feels this plan will give more students a chance to have a hand in our school publication. And too we use it as a class project.

ASSEMBLIES

Because of our large enrollment we are compelled to divide assembly time between the downstairs and the upstairs groups. The downstairs group has the assembly period Mondays and Thursdays. The upstairs group meets on Tuesdays and Fridays. On Wednesday the time is used for music and practice.

Our yell leaders are Joe Nell Binyon, Camilla Crawford, and Frances Hill.

CLASS NEWS

Ann Ulmer has the best topic of conversation now. It is, "Let me tell you about my operation!" Ann had her appendix removed.

Recommendations of a joint army-navy survey board of experts for the development of the two northern most points on the new outer line of defense already are in President Roosevelt's hands and reports on the rest are expected to be complete within a month.

In the meantime the Chief Executive is in a position to save time by using his $200,000,000 discretionary defense fund to start work on the Bermuda and Newfoundland bases, without awaiting detailed plans for the other sites yet to be surveyed.

A NEWCOMER'S VIEWPOINT
By Joe S. Ramfield, Jr.

Having been transferred a number of times during my school life, it is no longer a novelty to be a new student. It is just the manner in which a fellow does his work as to how he will be received by the class and by other people. To make a long story short, I think Midland Junior High is a first class school. I've been here only a short time, and I do not find that anyone should have any difficulty in adjusting himself to the surroundings.

SPORTS

We are back to school and back to sports. The first day of football practice brought many boys to the gridiron to be suited up for training. There were about seventy out for Junior High football. We have good material for a winning team. We have a good schedule, which includes eight games. To first is Saturday, October 5, 1940, with Odessa, on his field.

You people of Midland, don't forget that we Pups appreciate your support and presence the same as do our big brothers.

PERSONALS

Mr. Armstrong has been in our building several times this week, giving us some music tests.

We're all chummy about our three new teachers: Miss Marjorie Beringer, who came from Albany, Texas; Julius Johnson, from White Deer, and Neville Hargrave, from Beaville. We'll tell you more about them next week.

Among our visitors the past week were three members of the school board: C. D. Vertrees, P. P. Bridgewater, and W. A. Yeager.

A number of school patrons have dropped in too. Our guest register lists Mrs. Tyson Midiff, Mr. J. L. Green, Mrs. V. E. Chapman, E. R. Osburn, Mrs. Rea Sindorf, and Mrs. R. B. Cowden.

Letterman Grigger Hurt Acting in School Play

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—Darrel Tippett was a letterman on the Thomas Jefferson Mustang squad and a regular starter. He was playing his third season of high school football without any serious injury.

Thursday, he was rehearsing for a high school dramatic presentation, became too zealous in his acting, slipped against a stage prop and broke three ribs.

He is out of action indefinitely.

INJURIES FATAL TO CADET

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 27 (AP)—Cadet Edward B. Turner, 21, army air corps advanced flying school student at Brooks Field, died at Station hospital last night of injuries suffered in a plane crash near Bergs Mill Thursday.

Let's start the year right by putting a fellow where he belongs. So we list Garrett Sindorf as a good fellow. Garrett's nickname is Gede. He has the old dynamic personality and is a good sport. Gede takes part

Duke Will Again Boast Strong Team For Grid Season

DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 27 (AP)—Wallace Wade has the stuff at Duke University again this year to make a great football team, and if he can mix in enough play with the power offense there may be no stopping the Blue Devils.

Graduation took eight men from the 1939 varsity. But Duke can show 14 returning letter men, including three regulars, Wes McAfee, a dandy tailback, and two handsome tacklers, Captain Alex Winterson and Tony Ruffa, a talented placekicker.

A great crop of reserves and tailor-made sophomores likely will provide Duke with as good a team as it's had in several years. The Duke's lost only to Pitt last year, 13-14 and the year before lost not a single game in its regular season.

"Dinky Darnell, 198, and Alex Piatecky, 184, lettermen, look like the starting ends. Tackles are good and numerous, headed by Winterson, 205, and Ruffa, 204.

John Nania, a 215-pound letterman, Charlie Jett, 183, a junior, and Jimmy Lipscomb, 198, also a junior, will do the principal work at guards. Robert Barnett, 196-pound center, is working as first string junior.

Wes McAfee, a capable performer despite his 165 pounds, will be anchor man of the backfield. Tommy Prothro, 210-pound signal caller, is back. The classy crop of halfbacks includes Frank Kilian, 192, Steve Lach, 190, Frank Ewiger, 183, Mofrat Storer, 178, and Bill Wartman, 166-pound speed merchant.

Jap Davis, 208-pound senior who was out with minor injuries several times last year, is back in tip-top form at fullback.

Work Scheduled to Be Started Soon On Naval Bases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—The army and navy are shielding their intentions with wartime secrecy, but dirt may fly shortly on the first of eight new naval and air bases in the Atlantic acquired from Great Britain.

Recommendations of a joint army-navy survey board of experts for the development of the two northern most points on the new outer line of defense already are in President Roosevelt's hands and reports on the rest are expected to be complete within a month.

In the meantime the Chief Executive is in a position to save time by using his $200,000,000 discretionary defense fund to start work on the Bermuda and Newfoundland bases, without awaiting detailed plans for the other sites yet to be surveyed.

Even before any actual improvements are undertaken, however, naval authorities said that planes and ships of the neutrally patrolled could miss some use of the North Atlantic, Caribbean and South Atlantic bases as soon as the exact limits were fixed.

Just what air fields, channels, docks and fortifications are contemplated will remain secret indefinitely, by present indications.

However, high defense authorities have hinted guardedly that the intention is to anchor the long outpost line securely by strong fortifications at either end, with the aim of assuring that the Caribbean will become and remain an "American Lake."

Texas Aggies May Find Trouble in Opening Game

By Felix McKnight
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Texas Aggies are going to work tomorrow on the storied sod of their Kyle Field.

Down a long row starts the nation's No. 1 team of 1939 in its inaugural against a reputed giant killer at College Station—Texas Arts and Industries.

Bulls-eye target of every team on its schedule and weighted with fines and schedule troubles that made the majority of experts shy off them in defense of their title and swing over to Southern Methodist, the Aggies court trouble on the kickoff.

But Southern Methodist, the people's choice, also runs smack into grief in tonight's opener at Los Angeles against UCLA. In the other Saturday games, Texas gets a visit from Colorado at Austin; Baylor opens under the lights at Waco against North Texas State; Texas Christian tries Centenary at Fort Worth and Arkansas, at Fayetteville, meets Central Oklahoma Teachers, Rice is idle.

The Aggies, intact for the shove-off against A. and I., go against a resolute bunch that has been building up to this game for months. It isn't too unreasonable to believe that maybe this is the spot for a near upset.

Jaylins went out to California last weekend and damaged the premises. They beat San Jose State 10-0. San Jose State, he it known, was the nation's highest scoring team last year under Pop Warner. Furthermore, they had not been held scoreless since 1937.

Sherman Takes 7-0 Win Over Sunset

By The Associated Press.

Sherman's Bearcats roll on toward the top rank in Texas school-boy football.

Last night they defeated the fine blocking Sunset (Dallas) team, 7-0, to edge further toward the front.

Speed is the secret of the Bearcat offensive with Pete Odom, a star sprinter on the track team, the vital cog. Odom got loose for 82 yards and a touchdown on a punt return to beat Sunset, the team that gained prominence by defeating the highly-rated Corsican eleven.

Four other games were played last night with Arlington Heights, the favorite in the Fort Worth district, getting off to a fine start with a 25-0 conference victory over Fort Worth Tech.

Ysleta of District 4 defeated Cathedral (El Paso) 26-0; San Jacinto (Houston), starting the season in District 13, downed St. Thomas (Houston) 7-0 and Orange of District 14 won over Vinton, La., 26-0.

Fifty games are scheduled tonight and six are on the card tomorrow night.

Houston Evens Up Series With Vols

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 27 (AP)—The count in the Dixie Series was Houston 1, Nashville 1, today as the Texas League and Southern Association champions headed westward to resume their diamond warfare Saturday night at Houston.

The sensational relief pitching of 24-year-old Teddy Wilks put the skids under Nashville last night, enabling the Buffaloes to win, 6-4, and even the series.

Neither of the starting hurlers finished, although youthful Howard Pollet got credit for the victory after being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth frame. George Jeffcoat, Southern League strike-out king, yielded seven hits for all Houston's runs before he gave way to Tom Drake in the sixth.

Under inflation of automobile tires is more dangerous than over-inflation.

Nell Loses Batting Crown But Leads in Other Departments

(First of a series on averages compiled in the West Texas-New Mexico League during the past season).

Manager Gordon Nell of the Borger Gassers came close to equaling his 1939 season in the West Texas-New Mexico League this year when he led in practically every department of slugging. He lost his league batting crown but led in homers, doubles, was second in triples, led in runs batted in and total bases.

Outfielder Schweda of the Lubbock Hubbers finished the 1940 season as the batting leader of the West Texas-New Mexico League with a mark of .420, probably the highest mark registered in organized baseball during the season.

Nell wound up with a mark of .391 to finish in the runner-up position. The next eight regulars, in order, were: Prather of Pampa, .384; Niedziela of Lubbock .368; Scopetone of Borger .362; Wagner of Clovis .358; Hale of Midland .357; Sletiz of Pampa .356; Summers of Pampa .354; Naranjo of Midland .349.

Nell led in runs batted in with a total of 175, closely followed by Prather with 167. Emmett Fullenwider of Amarillo was third in the race with 149. Nell batted in 175 runs and made his hits good for 434 total bases. Schweda batted in 118 runs, his hits totaling 301 bases.

Nell led in his with 206, the only hitter to pass the two-century mark. Schweda and Niedziela trailed with 198 each. Seitz was the scoring leader with 163, one more than Niedziela could tally. Malvica of Pampa was third with 154 tallies.

Nell and Scopetone each had 48 doubles, one more than Prather manufactured. In three base hits, Scopetone led with 19, followed by Schweda and Nell with 15 each.

Nell led in the home run production, blasting 40 baseballs out of the assorted fences during the season. One four-ply blow behind was Emmett Fullenwider. The Amarillo outfielder led most of the season but was passed by Nell at the end of the race. Beeler of Lamesa was a poor third with 21 homers.

Steiner of Clovis led in stolen bases with 46 to his credit. Malvica of Pampa had 37 stolen bases and Seitz of Pampa 32.

Prather of Pampa received the most passes, 118, to first base. Close behind was Duarte of Amarillo, Gold Sox lead off man who received 110 free tickets. Eddie Guynes with 107 was third.

Outfielder Short of Borger was hit nine times during the season by opposing pitchers, one time more than Guynes and Grover Seitz.

Drake of Lubbock was the leading sacrifice hitter during the year with 14 to his credit. D'Antonio of Amarillo was second with ten. A half dozen players were credited with eight.

Fullenwider set one league mark that others are willing for him to keep—strikeout leadership. He whiffed 138 times while rolling up an average of 1.38.

In team batting, the Pampa Oilers finished first with a mark of .312. Others, in order, were: Borger .305; Amarillo .305; Lubbock .301; Clovis .301; Lamesa .293; Midland .291; Odessa .269.

Players on the Midland team at the end of the season batted as follows: Hale .357; Naranjo .349; Greer .305; Bolton .284; Williams .274; Congour .260; Johnson .233; Jennings .235; Rudes .225; Barnhill .217; Engles .203; Kanagy .169; Lucas .144.

Comiskey Requests Return Fight After Knockout By Baer

By Whitney Martin.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 27 (AP)—Bids were in order today for a rebuilding job on heavyweight title aspirations of Patrick Edward Comiskey as the fight world speculated anew on the merit of the game's most unpredictable figure—Max Baer.

The 31-year-old Max, transferring to explosive fists the energy often reserved for clowning, knocked out the youthful Paterson (N. J.) fighter, who was rated the most likely challenger for Joe Louis' crown, in 2 minutes and 39 seconds of the first round of their scheduled 15-round bout at Roosevelt Stadium last night.

When Referee Jack Dempsey stopped the fight, Comiskey was draped over the top strands of the ropes. He had been down for an eight count a few seconds earlier.

A wicked short right caught green Pat solidly on the button to mark the beginning of the end.

"I sucked him in and found out I could nail him," Max said.

"Nail him he did, Pat sitting down abruptly. He came up fighting, but Max, the killer when he senses a weakness in an opponent, was on him with a tremendous barrage of lefts and rights. There was nothing for Dempsey to do but step in and stop it.

"Disappointed, but not discouraged, Comiskey today was asking rather weakly for a return match.

"I was a wild swinging fool," he said bitterly.

As for Madcap Maxie:
"Who else is there for Louis to fight but me?" he asked bravely.

Stock Market Dips

Lower on War News

By Victor Eubank.
 NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).--Further complications in foreign affairs served as the main excuse for another sell-off in today's stock market.

In the final hour declines ranged from fractions to around 3 points. Closing quotations were a shade above bottom in some cases. Transfers approximated 500,000 shares.

Touching off the early relapse, brokers said, was the announcement of the military and economic agreement between Japan and the Rome-Berlin axis which was generally believed aimed at the United States.

Occasional stabs at recovery were attributed to the feeling of many that business betterment was continuing without abatement and that stocks had yet to really respond to this influence.

Prominent shares on the offside were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, St. Joseph Lead, International Nickel, American Telephone, U. S. Rubber, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Westinghouse, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Standard Oil of N. J., Great Northern and N. Y. Central.
