Great Britain Warns Germany Of RAF

Hitler Plans To Wipe Out France, Churchill Says

Broadcast Made While Report Heard Germany Dicking With Ally

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill warned the French people tonight that Adolf Hitler "is resolved on nothing less than the complete wiping out of the French nation" and urged the Frenchmen to "rearm your spirits before it is too late."

In a fireside pep talk to the people of Britain's fallen ally, broadcast in both English and French, he declared that Britain is fighting for victory which "we will share with you" and said all Britain asked of Frenchmen "is that, if you can not help us, at least you will not hinder us."

Flynn Suggests.

An apparent reference to American aid for Britain came in this passage of Churchill's fighting speech:

"The crimes of Herr Hitler are bringing upon him and upon all who belong to his system a retribution which many of us will live to see."

"The story is not yet finished, but it will not be so long. We are on his track and so are our friends across the Atlantic ocean."

Churchill's broadcast came at a time when the Germans were rumored attempting to maneuver the French into joining forces with the Axis powers against the British.

"Do not imagine, as the German-controlled wireless told you, that we English seek to take your ships and colonies," the prime minister remonstrated.

To Beat Hitler

"The British seek only to beat the life and soul out of Hitler," he continued.

Churchill reminded Frenchmen that Britons have not forgotten the "ties that unite us to the French."

"The British, he continued, 'now as ever,' have command of the seas and 'in 1941 we shall have command of the air.'"

Remember what this means, he urged Frenchmen.

Churchill made a bid for the good will of the people of Britain's former ally, declaring that "when good people get into trouble because they are attacked and heavily smitten by the vile and wicked they must be careful not to get at loggerheads."

The speech was broadcast in English to the United States.

FROM FORT STOCKTON

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dale who recently moved to Fort Stockton from Midland visited relatives here during the week end.

RETURNS TO MIDLAND

Miss Marguerite Laney, who underwent a tonsilectomy in a Big Spring hospital Saturday, returned to Midland Sunday. She is reported doing well.

WHOZIT?

Since 1906 when he first came to Midland, Mr. Whozit has been one of the leading figures of the city. He began his career in a bank where he is now an officer and director.

He was born in Dublin, Texas, about 90 miles southwest of Fort Worth, and attended Polytechnic College in the city "where the west begins." While going to school he played infield on the baseball team.

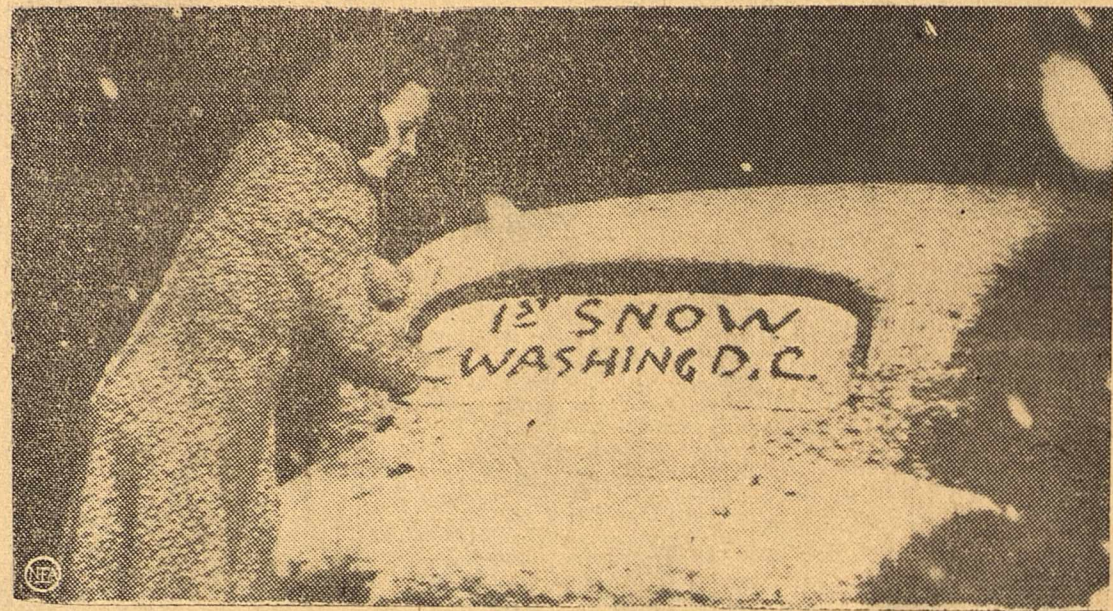

He is chairman of the Methodist Church board of trustees, a member of the chamber of commerce, and a director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He belongs to the Lions Club and the Masonic Lodge.

If anything is ensuring that will bring good will and business to Midland, you will find Mr. Whozit in the middle of the work. He is a first citizen of the city, not only in his official position, but by the interest he takes in everything that means betterment for town and people.

Always interested in city administration, he has been on the board of aldermen many years. To be told of the present mayor would be the same as giving away his name.

See Mr. Whozit and his personnel of co-workers in The Midland Reporter-Telegram Get-Acquainted page later.

Oil Developer Fatally Injured

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21 (AP)—

Col. Harry Byrens, 56, pioneer Texas oil developer, died in a hospital yesterday of injuries suffered last Thursday in an automobile collision.

Byrens, who helped develop the Burk Burnett oil field near Wichita Falls, Texas, was on an inspection tour of his properties in nearby Torrance when the accident occurred. The driver of the other car was not cited, police said.

An inquest will be held, but the coroner said today the time has not been set.

Byrens' chauffeur, who was driving the car at the time of the accident, is still in a critical condition.

To U. S. At 20

Byrens was 20 when he came to this country from his London birthplace as a member of the British diplomatic service. Five years later he became an American citizen and moved to Ft. Worth founding a salvage house which later became one of Texas' first chain stores.

Within a few years he had branched into oil. In addition to the Burk Burnett field, he developed others near Ranger and Binger, Texas, and formed the Standard Petroleum Trust, one of the state's major pipeline companies.

He came to California in 1925 and became interested in the Signal Hill and Huntington Beach oil developments. A year ago, revived interest in the old Rosecrans field, developing the rich Byrens sands.

His title of colonel was conferred by President Wilson during the World War for service in the American diplomatic corps. Survivors include his nephew, Sarah, three daughters, Mrs. Arnold Smeler, Mrs. M. B. Sapin and Florence Byrens, and a son, all of Los Angeles.

Turkish Troops To Gateway As Nations Confer

Budapest Newspaper Reports Discussion, Blackout In Rumania

By The Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 21.—Reports that Soviet Russian-Turkish military talks had been instituted and that Turkish military preparation was increasing along the strategic Dardanelles—gateway to the Near East—were heard today in the Balkans.

At the same time, Rumania inaugurated a blackout for Bucharest and the nearby oil fields.

Travelers from Turkey said in Athens that railway lines to Adria-nople, a Turkish city in territory wedged between the Bulgarian and Greek borders, was jammed with troop trains, while half a million Turkish troops were said to be already in the region of the Dardanelles.

Turks Fortifying.

A rumor that Soviet-Turkish military talks were under way in Adrianople was carried by the Budapest newspaper, Magyar Nemzet, while other unconfirmed reports said the Turks were building new fortifications and communications.

The Turkish press, predicting that the axis would attempt its next push in the Near East, played up British maneuvers to counter such a drive.

Despite warlike talk, however, most Balkan observers felt it unlikely that an active campaign was in the offing but that only strong diplomatic action could be expected for the time being.

Taubert Well In Pecos Near Verdict As First Test Due To Be Made

By Frank Gardner

The Permian Basin's most closely watched well, Taubert, McCoy & Siemonek No. 1, Mrs. Virginia W. Crockett in northern Pecos County, was near verdict today as operators ran 2-inch tubing to 5,292 feet, one foot off bottom, and prepared to wash hole with clear water to displace heavy rotary mud.

When hole has been cleaned up, they will start swabbing through tubing. No. 1 Crockett last week indicated that it might open a pool producing from the Simpson, middle Ordovician, sand when it logged oily, porous formation from 5,270-80 feet. It is in section 4 1/2, block 3, H&T.C. survey.

Promising one-quarter mile north-west spread of Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, in the Apco pool of northern Pecos, Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1, W. T. Shearer et ux will drill plug tomorrow morning from 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 4,699 feet with 190 sacks. It topped the Ellenburger at 4,696 feet and is bottomed at 4,719 in crystalline dolomite. Pay was found in cores from 4,696 to 4,716 feet, but a core from 4,716-19 returned two feet of non-porous, dry formation.

Patillo Wildcat Drill

S. D. Patillo, brother of "Tex," has drilled to 1,080 feet in anhydrite and lime in his No. 1 E. G. Hoffman, shallow wildcat on the Fort Stockton High of western Pecos.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-F University, scheduled 9,000-foot test in eastern Crane County, is drilling below 7,276 feet.

Whisenant Cores Bleed Oil

Forest Development Corporation No. 1 A. C. Whisenant, north and northwest outcrop to production in the two-well Waples Platter area of southeastern Yoakum County, this morning was coring at 5,354 feet in lime. Full recovery of hard, brown lime bleeding oil and showing very slight porosity was obtained by coring from 5,310-23, 5,323-38 and from 5,338-54 feet. Formation had softened at 5,302 feet, resulting in operators' decision to core.

Driller called top of brown lime at 3,992 feet in Cascade Petroleum Company No. 1 J. M. Walker, wildcat nine miles east of the Slaughter field in southwestern Hockley County. It had topped Yates frosted quartz grains at 2,936-40 feet. The test now is drilling past 4,038 feet in lime and anhydrite.

Atlantic Refining Company and Ray R. Rhodes No. 1 Carrie Slaughter Dean, three miles west of the Duggan pool in southeastern Cochran County, is drilling below 4,065 feet in anhydrite and red rock. Yates sand top at 3,010 feet, and grains at 3,030 were said to be normal for the region.

Water In Ector Prospect

Forest Development No. 1 W. L. Bradley, indicating opening of a new pool in central Ector County, had bailed rotary mud to within 100 feet of bottom when baller struck brine at 845 feet. Brine was broken through, and baller was run to bottom three times, each run showing presence of sulphur water.

Officials Tell Enemy RAF To Take Air Offensive Over Reich Fields, Berlin, Italy Furiously Attacked

Tommy's Hammer German-Held Invasion Ports As Beaverbrook Declares Skies Will Swarm With Warplanes While Conflict Progresses

By The Associated Press.

Great Britain served notice on Adolf Hitler today that the RAF is girding to transfer the air battle into "German skies over German fields" and that "the day we can take the offensive steadily approaches."

This double-barreled warning, voiced by First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander and Colonial Secretary Lord Lloyd, was further emphasized by a London air ministry statement declaring:

"Both ends of the Rome-Berlin axis had a foretaste of the gathering strength of the Royal Air Force last night, when the capital of the German Reich and two of Italy's great industrial centers were simultaneously bombed by aircraft of the bomber command."

The air ministry also reported that RAF raiders slashed at German naval docks at Hamburg and Wilhelmshaven and a large warship "is believed to have been hit."

Attacks Capital

Other RAF bombers attacked Berlin, the great Krupp Armament Works at Essen, oil refineries and other military objectives.

Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, disclosed that England now has more planes than ever before, but he said he would not be satisfied until "the sky is swarming" with them.

Late today, heavy explosions across the channel indicated that the RAF was hammering anew at German-held invasion bases, which last night underwent a 100-bomb-minute assault by British airmen.

Britain's intensified aerial counter-offensive stung Nazis to complain bitterly of "outright terror" methods.

Many Berliners Slain

The Germans reported many civilians killed and wounded as British warplanes, striking in several waves, destroyed an apartment building in West Berlin and showered incendiaries and high-explosive bombs on the German capital.

It was Berlin's first air-raid in five nights.

The Germans asserted that their bombing squadrons had dropped 500 tons of bombs on Britain in one 24-hour period over the weekend.

Rome reported eight killed, 15 wounded by British raiders attacking cities in north Italy for the first time since early September.

By daylight, Nazi raiders swarmed across the channel to attack London, Liverpool and other sections of the Island Kingdom after the 44th consecutive overnight attack which Londoners characterized as "comparatively light."

An air ministry communique acknowledged "some killed and injured" in metropolitan London, where "damage was done to buildings including many dwellings."

A London hospital suffered a direct bomb hit, inflicting heavy damage on a children's ward. The British reported no serious casualties, however.

Today's "invasion weather." Heavy rains fell in Strait of Dover this morning; seas calm, thick mist.

The intensified air duel which extended over the week end from Tromsø, Norway, to the Persian Gulf came as Premier Benito Mussolini inspected his Fascist troops near the Yugoslav border.

Turkey was reported in the Balkans to have mobilized a half million troops to guard the strategic Dardanelles from any Axis thrust to the Near East.

Rumanian Blackout

Rumania had its first stringent blackout precautions last midnight. The Italian high command yesterday said its warplanes flew 2,800 miles to bomb the important British oil center on Bahrain Island in the Persian Gulf for the first time. A British communique said only slight damage resulted.

The Germans claimed week-end gains in their submarine warfare, fixing British ship losses at 43 or a total of 327,000 tons in two days.

"Here, Sir!"

The sergeants' voices rattled down the roll like a marble bouncing down a flight of wooden steps. Name followed name, and a ringing "Here!" from the ranks followed each. New York's "Old Sixty-Ninth" was being inducted into federal service.

As the Company D roll progressed, a name suddenly rang like a bell.

"Kilmer!"

Clear and strong came the response: "Here, sir!"

A tall, dark, grave-eyed youth of 23 was answering. He was Christopher Kilmer. He was a babe in arms when his father sailed away with the same company and regiment in 1918—Sergeant Joyce Kilmer.

Twenty-two years! And Joyce Kilmer's son picks up the rifle that dropped from his father's hands in France 22 years ago.

"Let your rifles rest on the muddy floor,
"You will not need them any more."

So wrote Joyce Kilmer of some of his comrades of Company D, dead in the Rouge Bouquet, shortly before he joined them in death.

True, most of the men of Company D, a rifle company almost wiped out in the Rouge Bouquet, had no need for rifles any more. But Kilmer and millions of other young Americans of his generation had a higher version. They hoped, they dreamed, that nobody would need them any more.

It was not to be. The world was not ready for that. It turned in less than 20 years back to the rifle. And while today's emergency is not that of 1917, while there is no Rouge Bouquet immediately facing the young men who are picking up rifles today, the world is such that still another generation must learn to march and shoot.

Kilmer's son, and the sons of thousands of other World War soldiers now find it is their turn to become trained defenders of their country. Just as the fathers of Kilmer's generation had gone to Cuba and the Philippines, and their fathers in turn had met at Gettysburg and Antietam.

Never have Americans hesitated, when need came, to answer "Here, sir!" They do not hesitate today. The young men registering for service are worthy heirs to a tradition, a continuity, that is greater than any of us.

Their willingness makes all the more sacred the obligation that it shall not be abused. We arm and train these men with malice toward none, but only with the resolute determination to defend what is our own—our land, our institutions, and our rights. To allow the willingness of today's generation of fine young Americans to be squandered on any lesser objective would be a betrayal too black to contemplate.

Agricultural chemists are doing so many things with the soy bean that folks are prompted to inquire how it's doing in its native state—as a soy bean.

SERIAL STORY NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

YESTERDAY: Although Gundry suggests the missing map and intruder theory in his questioning, Maria gives only the facts in her account of touching Adam, then fainting. Barkes repeats his story, but adds that, earlier in the evening, he saw a shadow in the window of Miss Hemphill's room.

THE DOG COMES BACK Chapter XII

IT was after 3 o'clock when the medical examiner departed with his grim burden. Two more troopers had arrived from the state barracks and Plowman had concluded a preliminary investigation. The frightened members of the house party had retired behind locked doors.

Braitwood found sleep impossible. He changed into a dressing gown, but his revolver on the table beside him, and tried to think.

Outside the storm had subsided. Only quiet sounds of the countryside, the drip, drip from still-wet eaves, the low murmur of weary trees, the weird hoot of an owl were audible.

Sidney's thoughts slowly clarified. He could now arrange evidence in an orderly fashion as a lawyer should, despite the fact that all of this concerned the murder of an old friend.

MUCH appeared significant. The broken window in the jungle; the Lilliput gun in the paw of the grant ape; the hidden key; the short circuit in one part of the jungle while the lights had been turned off in the other.

Sidney groped for an answer. There was that fact that one could have drawn a straight line from the broken window to the new linoess, and from there to the coffee table where a tiny flame had pricked the darkness beneath Pat Langdon's piquant face.

Could Pat have been the desired target? Had Adam, by chance, been in the direct line of fire? But Adam had been facing in the wrong direction.

What about the ransacked desk and the open windows in Langdon's bedroom and in the drawing room below?

The footprints of the mysterious dog stood by themselves. It was impossible to fit them into any theory.

And who had made a shadow against Maria's window? Silently, carefully, Braitwood reviewed events of the past 12 hours, searching in vain for some careless word, some hidden action, that might give him the answer to this baffling puzzle.

He considered various theories, argued them out, rejected them as impossible. Somewhere, in this house, there was a clue that would solve everything. Could he discover it?

Why had Adam been shot? Was it murder, or accident? An outsider, or an enemy in the room? Gundry's story of a valuable map and its points, Sidney mentally agreed, but had the professor actually solved the crime with a hit-and-miss story? Who would wish Adam dead?

Craig Gundry had an age-old motive for the murder. So, for that matter, had Maria. Gundry could have slipped back into the jungle if he had made quick work of his search of the store-room, and aided by a flash of lightning, he might have killed Adam.

could not have seen anyone enter except in a flash of lightning. Why had he remained there, instead of joining the ladies at the table where he could have reassured them?

ABRUPTLY, Braitwood started. Had he heard steps outside? He slipped his revolver into his pocket and peered into the hall. At Pat's orders the entire house had been left lighted, but he could see no one.

Yet the conviction that some person had passed remained.

Nella's room was opposite. Pat's and Adam's divided the front of the house. Then he noticed that Adam's door was slightly ajar. If the thief had returned for whatever it was he had failed to find earlier in the evening, he certainly had courage.

The door opened a little more and Nella peered out. In a long, clinging white gown and with dark eyes brilliant as stars, she looked unreal. Had anyone told Sidney that she had sufficient courage to enter the murdered man's room alone, at that hour, he would not have believed it.

She saw him then and beckoned. Still without speaking, she motioned him within the room and to a door which connected Adam's room with that occupied by Pat. Then she indicated that he must kneel at the keyhole and listen.

Kneeling, Sidney could see only the back of a divan that blocked the door. He heard two guarded voices.

"YOU should not have come here. It's suicidal, under the circumstances," Pat Langdon was saying.

"Langdon's friends and relatives are all against you, Pat." Craig Gundry's low, firm tones could not be mistaken. "I had to see you. No one saw me."

"Hush, Craig. . . . Plowman believes we did the murder. I could read it in his eyes."

"Don't talk so loudly." The talk became inaudible then, and in a few moments Pat's door closed softly. Silence followed.

NELLA drew Sidney back to the center of the room.

"I couldn't sleep," she whispered. "I decided to go to you. I had hardly opened my door when I heard someone coming softly downstairs. I closed the door, but I saw Mr. Gundry. Then I heard Pat's door open. I hear so well."

"In my eagerness to know what they had to say to each other, I forgot to be afraid. I came here to listen." She was trembling, but she added, "Suddenly I became afraid again, and I wanted you."

"They have not really condemned themselves, Nella," Sidney reasoned. "Both realize that they are under suspicion; that is all we heard them admit."

"She is after Uncle Adam's money," Nella half sobbed. "But for me, she would have it all. Oh, Sidney, I'm terribly afraid. They may try to put me away, too. That's what made Uncle Adam so queer. He feared her."

"Why should Adam have feared her, Nella? He has faced many dangers without fear."

"I don't know why, but I'm convinced that he did," Nella insisted. "Many women marry for money, Nella. Let us not make Pat a monster until we have proof that she is one."

He led the girl back to her room and turned toward his own door when he heard a soft tread in the hall above, and the whimpering of a dog.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie.

Fuehrer Hitler has been moving mightily fast in swinging the Balkans into line with the idea of attacking Britain by means of a drive through the Near East, but it strikes me there's no certainty that he has moved fast enough to permit a full offensive before next spring.

The Nazi Chief's week-end politico-economic accord with Yugoslavia further consolidates the position which the Berlin-Rome Axis is creating for the big smash. With Rumania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia now apparently safely in the sack, the potential battle-line of the dictators is right up against the frontiers of Greece and Turkey.

Balkan Bad Lads
Mitt there comes the hitch. These pro-British, Turko-Greek Allies are the hold-outs—the bad lads of the Balkans—who, possibly with the encouragement of Russia, stand between the Axis and its Near Eastern ambition. Unless they change their defiant attitude it will be necessary to manhandle them—and plenty before it will be possible to force the Dardanelles Strait which forms a barrier between Europe and the Near East.

That's a job which can't be done overnight, especially since Britain is bound to fling into the battle every ounce of naval strength which she can spare. The fall rains will be coming and time now—fore-runners of a fierce winter—and these will turn the roads and countryside into a well-nigh hopeless mess of gumbo—and I mean deep, greasy mud.

Storms May Deter
I've motored in all these countries after the autumn storms had begun, and have no doubt that it would be making a heavy gamble to inaugurate big military operations in this season of mud. The Balkan roads as a whole are bad, and many of them become downright dangerous after they are waterlogged.

The Axis partners would appear still to have important political work to do before unleashing the blitzkrieg. They first want to insure the neutrality of Russia if possible, and indications are they engaged in this man's-size task now. They also have worked on Turkey and Greece, but likely wouldn't hesitate to use force on them, provided the Russian menace were removed.

May Await Spring
All in all it wouldn't be surprising if the Axis awaited spring before trying to force the Dardanelles, although preliminary operations, especially against Greece, might be undertaken. Should this happen, the battle of the Mediterranean as a whole would bog down for a considerable period, since the rains also have begun in Egypt and will impede military operations for some four months.

Such a delay would theoretically at least benefit England, if she can maintain her control of the sea in face of the increased German submarine activity; and withstand the bombing of London, she should be able to arrive at the spring with a vastly strengthened airforce, which

Willkie Requests FDR To Fill Date

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN ENROUTE TO MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie began the final two weeks of his presidential campaign today by urging that President Roosevelt debate with him in Baltimore Oct. 30.

The Republican nominee, who two months ago challenged the Chief Executive to a series of debates on national issues, said last night he had been told that his backers obtained the only sizeable hall for that date.

"As a result," added a statement issued from Willkie's train, "it is understood Mr. Roosevelt was compelled to cancel his proposed Baltimore speaking engagements for that date."

"Mr. Willkie informed the committee he would be delighted to have the President on the same platform with him in Baltimore."

The Baltimore talk will be one of the last campaign addresses given by Willkie, who was traveling through Wisconsin today preparatory to a speech in Milwaukee this evening. The latter is expected to be addressed primarily to young voters.

El Paso Editor Dies Of Attack

EL PASO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Hubert S. Hunter, editor of the El Paso Times, a newspaperman whose career was identified with the south west since his graduation from Stanford in 1908, died suddenly of a heart attack last night.

Stricken as he walked to the Times building, he asked employees to call doctors and sat in his office waiting. He died before he could be taken to a hospital.

Hunter was born near Decatur, Ill., and reared in Phoenix, Ariz. His career began in Arizona as a reporter included service from 1919 to 1921 as chief of the Associated Press Bureau for Arizona and New Mexico.

From 1913 to 1919 he was, respectively, assistant news editor and news editor of the El Paso Herald.

In 1921 he resigned his Associated Press post to return to the Herald.

In 1927 he wandered through the southwest writing a daily column called "around here," a feature of the Times at his death. He became editor of the Times in 1928.

Survivors were his widow and four children, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter of Phoenix.

Methodist District Absorbed At Meeting

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Southwest Texas Methodist Conference which closed an annual meeting here yesterday decreed the absorption of the Yoakum District into the San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and Austin districts.

The action left seven districts. Rev. Stanley Haver, Yoakum District Superintendent, was assigned to Alice Methodist Church. San Antonio was allocated four of the 30 churches, Corpus Christi 14, and Austin 12.

Murray Fasken And Miss Morrison Are Wed In Late-Afternoon Ceremony In San Antonio; Will Make Home Here

Miss Celeste Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burwell Morrison of San Antonio and Robert Murray Fasken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fasken of Midland, were married at the Madison Square Presbyterian Church in San Antonio, Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Ray Nobles, organist, played a program of preliminary music, and also the traditional wedding marches. He accompanied Archie Heap, who sang "At Dawning" and "Because."

The church was illuminated only by candles, and the late afternoon sun, shining through the stained glass windows. At the front of the church was an arch of white tapers, twisted with fern, and backed with arrangements of palms.

Ushers were Jon Holland of Alpine, Charles Gibbs of San Angelo, J. B. Thomas, Jr., of Midland, and F. H. Lanham of Midland. The best man was Alfred McCutcheon, of Wichita Falls.

The bride's maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Tess Charlton. Her frock was of sheer kitten's ear wool, in bronze green.

The square-necked bodice was adorned with bands of vertical tucks, and had elbow-length sleeves, with cuffs. The skirt was fashioned with two unpressed pleats in front.

Ushers With Father The bride entered with her father. She wore a frock of Brazil taupe, of soft woolen with flared skirt, and round high neckline.

Intermediate League Presents Playlet At Sunday Meeting

Program for the Intermediate League meeting at the old annex of the Baptist Church, Sunday evening, was in the form of a playlet entitled "The Cure of Diabetes."

Ann Vannaman was leader and roles in the play were taken by her and Colleen Oates, Alberta Smith, and Marie Barber.

A 10-minute opening song service was held with Alberta Smith at the piano.

Roll call was answered with repetition of favorite Bible verses.

Announcement was made of a union meeting of Methodist young people at Ackerly tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Present were: Jimmie Watson, J. B. Terry, Alex Oates, Lois Terry, Colleen Oates, Elaine Hedrick, Alberta Smith, Matilda Abbott, Audie Merrell, Norene Barber, Dorothy Lynch, Doris Lynch, Joyce Vaughan, Marie Barber, Ailyn Kelly, Ann Vannaman, and Mrs. N. G. Oates, sponsor.

The Methodist Senior League program was in charge of Mary Ruth Roy as leader. Parts were taken by Jesse Lee Barber, Beth Prothro, Foster Hedrick, Louise Terry, and Keith Taylor, with prayer being offered by Marshall Hinds.

A short song service opened the meeting. About 25 young people were present.

ONE of the most interesting contests in the summer national tournaments is the Monmouth County Champion, for which Victor H. Bradford donates a special trophy.

Each afternoon and evening there is an open duplicate game. A player may enter as many of these games as he wishes and his five best scores are selected, the player with the highest percentage winning the championship.

John F. Eck of Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., won the Lindlar trophy this year. Here is an interesting hand he played.

As soon as the dummy went down, Eck felt he could count South for a six-card spade suit—otherwise, without the ace and king, he would not be justified in making the three-spade bid.

When South played the queen Eck knew there were no trumps in the South hand. He cashed the king, ten ace, nine of clubs and ruffed the five of spades with the heart four.

Then he led dummy's last diamond and ruffed with the king of hearts. North could win only two more trump tricks.

We, the Women

JIM and Mary have been engaged for four years. Not that they approve of long engagements. It has taken them that long to get fairly secure jobs in the same city so that, together, they can finance their marriage.

Last summer they decided that they could marry this fall. They worked out a budget, started buying furniture, and planned a small but entirely satisfactory wedding. That is, satisfactory to Mary. Jim would have been pleased with much less fuss and bother.

"The Fun" Begins But no sooner had they invited their friends to their wedding, and Mary had started looking for her trousseau, than a blight fell on the event they had expected to be perfect.

The people who worked in Mary's office started kidding her: "So you're marrying a draft dodger."

And when she shopped, clerks weren't above getting chummy enough to say the same thing.

Of course, it was worse for Jim. The wise guys in his office even nicknamed him Dodger.

Spills Their Happiness NONE of these people knew that they were being cruel—as, of course, they were. They were giving in to the mean streak in human nature that hates to see other people completely happy and pleased with life.

Their determination to spoil things a little was so well cloaked in humor they didn't even know they were being cruel.

But they managed to take the bright edge of the happiness of Mary and Jim. They managed to dull a little the day the young couple had looked forward to and worked toward for four years.

There has been too much of this kind of damage done already. What do you want young people to do? To quit getting married?

Of course not. We know life can't mark time; that it has to go on as usual. So let's put a stop to wisecracks about draft dodgers.

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time-tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Yomaco Club Entertains With First Anniversary Dinner And Dance On Saturday Evening; Elects Officers

The Yomaco Club of Midland entertained Saturday evening at the Ace of Clubs in Odessa, with an anniversary dinner and dance the club having been organized a year this month.

The reserved table was decorated with autumn flowers and Halloween place cards. A large yellow mum corsage was presented to each girl and yellow boutonnieres for the boys. During the evening, the orchestra played and dedicated a "Happy Birthday" to the club.

Before the dinner, the new president, Merwin Haag, toasted the future of the club.

Prior to the dinner that evening, all members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Estes, 401 Holmesley St. at 7:30 to elect officers of the club for the coming year.

The following officers were elected: President, Merwin Haag; parliamentarian, Mrs. M. D. Johnson, Jr.; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Woodrow Beatty; sergeant-at-arms, Jimmy Walker.

Retiring officers of the club are: President, Bob White; parliamentarian, Merwin Haag; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jimmy Walker.

All members of the club were present as follows: Mmes. and Messrs. Merwin Haag, M. D. Johnson, Jr., Jimmy Walker, Allen Dorsey, A. B. Cole, Jr., Archie Estes, Woodrow Beatty, Bob White, of Royalty, Tex., and Bill Hogsett of Crane, Texas.

Welfare Committee Renews Appeal For Help To Indigents

Renewed requests for help were voiced today by members of the welfare committee of the chamber of commerce, who declared many indigents of the city were seriously in need of clothes for the winter.

Many children remain out of school because of lack of clothes, it was said, and some adults seriously need wearing apparel.

The milk fund drive remains far from completion, and money is requested for needy children and sick persons.

Mrs. N. A. Lancaster, member of the welfare committee, today cited the following cases as needing attention.

A tubercular man in last stages, lives with wife who is to work in the sewing room, 1 quart.

Tubercular man in last stages: One-time contractor, but has been unable to work for some years, 1 quart.

Mexican girl: Lung has collapsed and she is improving, she is 14, 6 in family, father is day laborer, one other member of family works, 1 quart.

Negro man: Arrested tubercular, has six children all with tuberculosis, works on W.P.A., 2 quarts.

Midland Advances With Steers Next

The Midland Bulldogs are one week nearer their first district football championship, but the remainder of the schedule will be the most difficult.

The top game of the league this week pits the Bulldogs against the Big Spring Longhorns on Lackey Field Friday night. The Midland team has two wins in as many conference games, while the Steers have a victory and a tie—good for one and a half wins and a half game less. A triumph for the Steers would put them a half game ahead of the Bulldogs. A loss practically would eliminate them.

Eagles vs Mustangs
The Abilene Eagles, also boasting a 100 per cent record after a victory over Odessa and no losses, get a tougher test this week when they meet the Sweetwater Mustangs. The Sweetwater team looked exceedingly good in dropping a decision to Midland recently and perhaps will be favored to hand the Eagles their first conference defeat.

The other conference ally will find the cellar Lamesa Lobos pitted against the San Angelo Bobcats. The in-and-out San Angelo team is capable of taking this in stride if they play as they did in beating the hitherto undefeated Cisco Lobos last week.

Odessa Has Best
The cripple Odessa Broncs, who have been unable to score during the past two weeks while trying one and losing one conference game, will get a much-needed week of rest. Reports from Big Spring today said that a special train will bring 500 Big Spring fans to the game on Friday.

This morning at the Chamber of Commerce office and an early demand for them made it appear that a record crowd will be on hand. The first order for tickets came from Big Spring high school officials, who asked 500 to accommodate demands for Steer fans.

Coaches and others who have seen both the Midland and Big Spring teams in action rate the teams even. Windell Williams, quarterback of Midland, who was out of action last week with an ankle injury, will get to play at least part of the game this week, barring further injury.

Swelling has gone out of his ankle and he is able to walk without crutches. His presence probably will be necessary if the Bulldogs are to continue undefeated.

Redskins And Bears Pace Pro Grid Clubs

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Washington Redskins and Chicago Bears, employing widely divergent offensive methods, are headed in the same general direction—a split in the playoff for the National Professional Football championship.

The Redskins, only undefeated and untied team in the national league, utilized a game air attack again Sunday to chalk up their fifth triumph while the Bears, a ponderous and devastating rushing eleven, won their fourth decision in five starts to take over first place in the western division.

Shimmy Baugh passed the Philadelphia Eagles, sily tossing three touchdown heaves, Washington won, 34 to 17. Baugh connected for 18 of 24 aerials for 258 yards.

The Bears, thwarted repeatedly in the first half of their battle with Brooklyn, broke loose in the final periods to carve out a 16 to 7 victory.

22 Grid Teams Still Unbeaten At Midway Mark

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—The 1940 college football season is half over, roughly speaking, and for the first time it is possible to approach with some confidence the task of naming those sectional leaders who still are in line for national honors.

The more important teams have followed "form" quite closely for the past week or two in everything but the size of the scores, so there are few, if any, cases of title contenders being upset by low ranking teams or of beaten outfits coming back into the races.

The list of undefeated and untied major teams still is an imposing one, but barring form reversals, this week's program of major games it should take in all the candidates for the mythical national championship.

22 Undefeated.
In this category are Boston College, Georgetown, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Fordham in the east, with such teams as Navy, Penn State, Columbia, Rutgers, Lafayette and Franklin and Marshall still boasting clean slates. In the South are Tennessee, Mississippi and Clemson; Northwestern, Michigan and Minnesota, the "Big Three" of the Big Ten, and Notre Dame and Detroit in the Middle West; Texas Aggies and Texas in the Southwest and Stanford on the Pacific Coast.

Since the week's games may have important bearings on the outcome of the national race as well as consolation shapes up in various sections: EAST—Cornell and Pennsylvania, a pair of fine teams that looked better than ever in their conquests of Syracuse by 33-6 and Princeton by 46-28, respectively, invade the national field for the first time when they meet two of the Big Ten's biggest teams.

Cornell To Big Ten.
Cornell plays Ohio State. The Bucks beaten twice, most recently 13-7 by Minnesota, don't look quite as strong this season as they did last year. Penn tackles Michigan's high scoring team which swept up Illinois 28-0 for its fourth straight win.

Boston College, after a 60-0 walk-over against Idaho, faces little St. Anselm; Georgetown, 46-4 winner over Virginia Tech, meets New York University, 13-7 victim of Holy Cross and Fordham, 24-12 conqueror of Pitt, meets its favorite Pacific Coast enemy, St. Mary's, which beat Loyola of Los Angeles, 18-7.

MID-WEST—Minnesota's triumph over highly rated Ohio State put the Gophers on a par with Michigan and Northwestern, which will play Wisconsin, 21-7, in the Big Ten race. Indiana, triumphant 10-6 over Iowa in its first conference game, likely will go out of the running Saturday when it meets Northwestern. Wisconsin plays Iowa and Purdue faces Wisconsin this week.

St. Paul, which just couldn't stop rolling against Carnegie Tech, winning 61-0, plays Illinois. Huskies vs Tigers.
In the Big Six Nebraska continued to look like the No. 1 team as it overwhelmed Kansas 53-2 but Missouri's Tigers also showed in a 30-0 triumph over Iowa State. They meet in a decisive game Saturday while Oklahoma, 14-0 winner over Kansas State, plays Iowa State.

Leading "independents" play inter-sectional games as unbeaten Detroit faces Villanova at Philadelphia and Vanderbilt plays Texas Tech and Michigan State encounters Santa Clara.

SOUTH—Some of Tennessee's supporters already looking for a Rose Bowl invitation now that the Vols have beaten Alabama by a decisive 47-12 but Tennessee meets Auburn in the Southeastern Conference crown yet. Florida, 19-0 winner over weak Maryland, is next in line. Mississippi still tops the standing. The Rebels, 14-6 winners over Duquesne, play Arkansas in another intra-circuit clash. Georgia Tech, 19-0 winner over Vanderbilt, meets Auburn, which yielded to Southern Methodist 20-13, and Louisiana State, 20-0 winner over little Mercer, faces Vanderbilt, and Kentucky, 24-0 victor over George Washington, plays Georgia in other conference games.

AGGIES AND BAYLOR.
SOUTHWEST—The conference race at present is a two-club affair between the 1939 champion Texas Aggies, who trimmed Texas Christian 21-7 last Saturday, and Texas, 21-0 winner over Arkansas. The Aggies may find a tough customer in Baylor, 7-0 winner over Villanova, but the Longhorns shouldn't have much trouble with the Rice Owls, who lost 15-7 to Tulane.

BIG SEVEN—Utah State's 7-0 upset triumph over Utah left Colorado's Buffaloes and Denver at the top of the standing. The Buffs whipped Colorado State 33-14 while Denver swamped Wyoming 41-9. Colorado gets a crack at Wyoming this week while Denver plays the Utes, who may be very dangerous on the rebound.

PACIFIC COAST—Stanford's Indians again proved they have what it takes to go to the Rose Bowl when they trimmed Washington State 26-

Southwest Race Takes Form As Aggies Roll On

By Felix R. McKnight

DALLAS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Injuries and breaks, a shocking batch of them, are just about to shape up the Southwest Conference football sprint.

Only four weeks ago the knowledge was general that Texas A&M, unbeaten last season, Sugar Bowl kings and crowded with veterans, would be favored to repeat. But there were challenges, stout challenges in Southern Methodist, Texas and Baylor.

Now, four games rolled off, the Aggies are out there in front and shaking off all pursuers—except Texas. And Why? Aggies Are Lucky
Over the great 15 game winning streak that started with the opener of 1939, the Aggies have not suffered a major injury. Big John Kimbrough, Jim Thompson, Wild Bill Conatser, Marshall Robinson, Ernie Pannell, Tommy Vaughan, Charlie Henke, Jim Sterling, Derace Moser and Maion Fugh, the veteran starters, just don't get hurt.

Kimbrough has been bothered at intervals. Minor hurts are induced by the very nature of his play—the rock 'em, sock 'em plowing into mountainous lines. But he has been able to start—and play—every game.

The big Aggie line, the one that has permitted only 17 yards as the average net gain rushing against it in four games to date, comes out solid and intact each Saturday. The reserves, peppered with lettermen, are rugged boys, too. That's something that doesn't come under the heading of "skill."

That, and you can't disguise it, is the "luck" made easier by fine conditioning. Mustangs Lose Elder
But what has happened to Southern Methodist Quarterback Foster Elder, brains of the team, went out for the season with a fractured pelvis bone received in an automobile wreck.

Sophomore Bill Thomas, the fleet little man who sparked the Methodists, now goes out with a broken leg. End Roland Goss, the best sophomore prospect in the league last year, may be lost with a serious ankle hurt. Guard Eddie Bianchi is ailing. Second String Center McKaffey, a very good boy, left school. So goes Southern Methodist's football team.

And Baylor? Its greatest player, big Jack Wilson, took a full season count on a ruptured kidney in the Denver game. The Bruin offense collapsed; its grand threat gone. Others Crippled
Texas lost a fine guard in V. D. Basey, victim of an unfortunate stabbing in Dallas after the Oklahoma game; Texas Christian is lost without its Kyle Gillespie, magnificent triple-threat, and took another lick when its only able reserve center, Billy Blackstone, went out with a broken leg.

Key men are falling out right and left. The Aggies go along undisturbed, unhurt. Next Saturday at Waco the Aggies, easy 21-7 winner over TCU, tackle Baylor, mildly surprising in a 7-0 comeback over Villanova at San Antonio, Texas, smooth in a 21-0 licking of Arkansas, meets Rice at Houston, the Owls feel before Tulane 6-15.

Southern Methodist is idle—and needs the rest—while Texas Christian plays Tulsa and Arkansas plays its annual game against Mississippi at Memphis.

Rayburn Inspects Farm On Campaign

BONHAM, Tex., Oct. 21 (AP)—Texas' speaker of the national House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn, here briefly before the whirlwind last lap of the national presidential campaign, has had to snatch time to look over his farm and visit his ranch.

To his home just west of Bonham since the Democratic stalwart returned from Washington Saturday have come not only neighbors congratulating him on elevation to the speakership, but Texas party leaders eager to discuss campaign prospects.

His homefolk, with Mayor Joe B. Hrdlicka supervising arrangements, planned to entertain thousands of visitors from Texas and Oklahoma tomorrow in a great homecoming celebration for the speaker which will climax in his night address to a Democratic rally.

Rayburn is chairman of the Roosevelt campaign in the Southwest. He will go to Dallas Wednesday to confer with Texas leaders on the campaign, possibly mapping plans for the last ten days of the race.

The party's state campaign headquarters in Austin announced that Myron G. Blalock, Texas national committeeman, would give the speaker a full report on the campaign in Texas.

Harmon To Spend Rest Of Season Competing With Rivaling Stars

Frank Reagan of Pennsylvania, conveyed by Gene Davis, sets course downfield. At right is Tom Harmon as opponents, still on their pins, frequently see the Michigan flyer.

By Harry Grayson
ANN ARBOR.—Tom Harmon, Michigan's remarkable back, will spend the second half of the season dueling with four of the brightest stars of the game.

Frank Reagan and a high-rolling Pennsylvania varsity visits Ann Arbor, Oct. 26. Harmon and his one-man gang, Forest Evashevski, go to Minneapolis to tackle speedster George Franck and the mighty men of Minnesota, Nov. 9.

Bill deCorrevont and the Northwestern Dark Horses invade Michigan Stadium, Nov. 16. Harmon & Co. shoot for a three-year sweep over Ohio State and its 215-pound octagonal threat, Don Scott, in Columbus, No. 23.

Reagan and the sons of Penn, and Franck and his brother Gophers are not awed by the presence in the Wolverine lineup of Harmon, leading ground-gainer of the current campaign.

While Pennsylvania was edged, 19-17, on Franklin Field a year ago, Tailback Reagan outgained Harmon when everything is considered, yards from scrimmage, yards gained on passes, yards gained on punt and kickoff returns. The figures were 356 yards to 294.

Michigan's Harmon is a star in the Big Ten, and he is expected to lead the Wolverines to a national championship. He is a powerful back who can run and pass.

MANGRUM WINS.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21 (AP)—For the second successive season the $1,000 Santa Anita open golf championship has gone to Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago. Mangrum shot 69 and 72 yesterday for a 72-hole score of 278.

RECORD FOR DERRINGER.

CINCINNATI—The six walks Paul Derringer issued to the Detroit Tigers in the fourth game of the world series were the most the Red's pitcher ever gave in one game.

Six To Minnesota

MINNESOTA has taken six in a row from Michigan. Five of the engagements have been lopsided. Only in the sophomore year of Harmon and Evashevski did the Wolves make it close, 7-6. On that occasion, they outgained the Golden Gophers tremendously.

But last autumn with Blocker Evashevski on the sidelines with an injury, Harmon had a bad afternoon, and Minnesota prevailed, 20-7. Franck, the fastest man in football, feinted Harmon out of position and sped by him on a long touchdown run.

Minnesota will detain at Ann Arbor with high hopes. Only one sophomore, Bernard Kuczyński, is a starter. Outstanding as a freshman, he plays plenty of left end.

Clearing the way for the versatile Reagan is Gene Davis, the counterpart of Michigan's Evashevski, and numerous Evashevskis from 'way back.

The fact that Pennsylvania crushed Maryland, 51-0, and Yale, 50-7, may not be an indication that the Quakers are of lofty national ranking quality. Yale's hardly a Rhaphody in Blue with them, was without its two most formidable backs, Hovey Seymour and Ray Anderson.

Best Team Since 1936
BUT Pennsylvania's blocking has been particularly good. Once a ball carrier is free, the entire club springs into blocking action. George Munger's team has better cohesion than it had last autumn. It is a determined, alert outfit with a thorough knowledge of fundamentals.

With Princeton, always a tough nut for Pennsylvania, and Michigan out of the way, the Philadelphians will still have a tough road. Navy, on the upsurge, follows Michigan, after which the Quakers engage Harvard and Army before the finale with Cornell's juggernaut.

Perhaps the opposition Pennsylvania has met thus far has not been strong but, the Quakers have capable reservists backing up able athletes, and their spirit and morale is excellent.

Regardless of what happens in the future, everyone close to the Pennsylvania picture is positive that the school has its best team since 1936, when the Red and Blue lost only one game.

Michigan realizes it will have its hand full, Oct. 26, when it deploys against Pennsylvania, and Tom Harmon, runner, passer and kicker worthy of his mettle.

District School Races Into Full Swing This Week

By Harold V. Ratliff

The main show starts this week in the far-flung Texas Interscholastic League football race.

Each district has important conference games, six of them matching unbeaten teams.

In sixteen nutshells the district campaigns shape up like this: District 1—Play its first conference games with Plainview at Pampa and Borger at Lubbock. Amarillo, the favorite, has an inter-district tilt with North Side (Fort Worth).

District 2—All teams play championship games with Childress at Wichita Falls as the feature. Graham last week removed Childress from the ranks of the unbeaten and untied. The Wichita Falls-Chilress game will furnish a comparison necessary to choose between Graham and Wichita Falls.

District 3—Midland, the favorite, meets a tough Big Spring team. Conference play was topped unexpectedly last week by down-trodden Abilene.

District 4—El Paso high, the last team to swing into conference play, meets Ysleta. Austin (El Paso) is the favorite.

District 5—Sherman's powerhouse goes against Denison, also unbeaten in conference play.

District 6—Sulphur Springs, with high hopes of repeating with the title, plays up-and-coming Highland Park (Dallas) favored Greenville plays impotent McKinney.

District 7—Leading Masonic Home and Arlington Heights do not have conference games. Runner-up Poly plays Pecos.

District 8—Woodrow Wilson tackles Adamson in a game likely to determine the Dallas title.

District 9—Stephenville and Cisco, two of the teams undefeated in conference play, tangle, with the other leader, Brownwood, meeting one-beaten Mineral Wells.

District 10—The State's feature game is scheduled in this district with Bryan and Waxahachie, the only unbeaten teams, swapping touchdowns at Waxahachie.

District 11—Longview and Kilgore, two of the state's undefeated teams, meet at Kilgore. Kilgore has one tie against its record.

District 12—Nacogdoches, one of three undefeated eleven, meets Jacksonville but the other two, Lufkin and Mexia, do not have conference games.

District 13—Austin and Lamar, who are tied with Jeff Davis for the Houston district leadership, settle their rivalry.

District 14—Beaumont, Port Arthur and South Park (Beaumont) are undefeated. South Park rests but Port Arthur plays Orange and Beaumont tackles Goose Creek.

District 15—Neither Austin nor Kerrville, the leaders, have conference games. Brackenridge (San Antonio), beaten by Kerrville last week, tries to get back into the running against Laredo.

District 16—in the North Zone Beville plays Kingsville but the top hands at Corpus Christi have an inter-district tilt with Fort Worth Tech. In the South Zone Harlingen and McAllen, two of the favorites, have it out. Unbeaten Brownsville plays Gladewater in an inter-district affair.

Last week's play trimmed the list of undefeated and untied in the state to 21 teams with Childress and Brackenridge being shovled out.

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz
BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—Monday A. M. Quarterback: I'll be a long time before the football form sheet runs as true as it did Saturday. If there was ever a mild upset among the major eleven, Temple's win over Michigan State was something to write home about. The doghouse is empty. Hero, Zero department closed for the week—except we'd like to give a hand to Dave Alderdice of Princeton. He pitched 31 of the Tigers' 40 aerials and completed 23 for almost all of the 350 yards Princeton gained in the air.

Today's Guest Star
Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "The tip was out early that George Munger had a well-knit organization at Penn, but who could have guessed that the stitching was done with haywire?"

Lattest is Jim Farley has until November 15 to go through with his $4,000,000 deal for the Yankees. If Penn can get past Michigan, won't that Penn-Cornell scrap be a honey? Your agent shuffled off to Buffalo today to attend the Buffalo A. C.'s big sports blow-out tonight. Telephone bills for persons wanting tickets to Alabama-Tennessee ran more than three grand. MIND Your MANNERS

T. M. Rea, U. S. Pat. Off.

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. What is the general rule to follow in selecting the piece of silver to be used for each course?
2. If you discover you have eaten half of a course with the wrong piece of silver, should you go ahead with the wrong piece, or lay that on your plate and hastily pick up the right one before continuing?
3. If you are in doubt about the right piece of silver to use and you are sitting near your hostess, may you look to see what piece she picks up before picking up your own?
4. If the person next to you at dinner upsets a glass of water and some of it spills on you should you be quiet and make as little fuss about it as possible?
5. When potatoes, cooked whole, are served by a maid at dinner, what serving pieces should she have in the dish?

What would you do if—
 You are a hostess who finds on the day of her dinner party she must find a man to take the place of a guest who is ill—
 (a) Ask the husband of a good friend, knowing she won't mind?
 (b) Ask an unmarried man or one whose wife is out of town?

- Answers
1. Use the piece farthest from the plate first, and then work in.
 2. Go on with the wrong one. You'll seem more poised.
 3. Yes, if you can do so unobtrusively.
 4. Yes.
 5. A serving fork and serving spoon.
- Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b) is best, though (a) might be all right in some cases.

Former Iowa Football Player Loses Zest

IOWA CITY, Ia. (UP).—Football—that is, the playing of it—has lost its luster for Nile Kinnick, former University of Iowa halfback and America's outstanding player in 1939.

So instead of playing for pay with the professionals this fall he is studying law and serving as an assistant coach at Iowa.

"My decision to give up football and the money it would have brought me wasn't as much of a sacrifice as some people might think," Kinnick explained.

"The money would have come in handy but I can say honestly that pro football—any football, for that matter—has lost its lure for me.

"I don't know why, but I've just lost the old zest for it.

"I didn't realize what it would mean to go through another season of football until this year's all-star game in Chicago. It was the hardest kind of work for me to get interested in the game.

"I first noticed it in practice when I'd kick a ball and someone would come along and outkick me by 10 yards. A year ago I would have said to myself, 'Till outkick that by 10 yards.' Instead, I found myself leaning back admiring the other fellow's kick.

"When you get that attitude you are sick of carrying on as a competitor.

"I have no regrets about ending my playing career."

Fatal Plane Crash To Be Investigated

MARIANNA, Ark., Oct. 21 (AP)—The civil aeronautics authority planned today to investigate a mid-air accident in which six persons were killed after a sight-seeing plane became entangled in a stunt man's parachute at an air show and plunged 500 feet to earth.

Eye witnesses said the plane was circling slowly around the descending parachutist yesterday to give four passengers a close up view. The craft became entangled in the parachute's shrouds and plunged downward, carrying the parachutist with it.

The dead: Paul Nalejawa, 30, Browerville, Minn., the parachutist; George Zorn, 30, Greenville, Miss., the pilot; Lawrence DeMarke, 30, Marianna laundry owner; Paul Bowie, 35, former marshal at Brick-cys, a nearby town; J. M. Cook, 55, a plantation owner who lived near Marianna; and Joe Campbell, 34, Forrest City.

Wool

BOSTON, Oct. 21 (AP) (U. S. Department Agr.)—Business was slow in the Boston wool market today, but there had been a good demand for fine and half blood territory wools up to the close of last week. Graded French combing length, fine territorial wools, were bringing mostly $1.02-$1.07, scoured basis, while original bag lines were bringing mostly $1.02-$1.07, scoured basis. Medium grade, territorial wools were quiet with quotations on combing wools ranging up to 90 cents, scoured basis, for three-eighths blood, and 83 cents for quarter blood. Mixed three-eighths a quarter blood, bright fleeces were sold recently at 45-46 cents in the grease, but demands were slow on lots held at 47 cents and above.

Day's Stocks Sluggish With Prices Narrow

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Stocks generally held to a do-nothing groove in today's markets.

It was a sluggish session, with transfers running to around 350,000 shares, and prices for the most part were too narrow to give any real meaning to ticker tape variations.

A few assortment of industrial favorites never did get ahead and, after a hesitant start, mild irregularities prevailed to the close. While fractional declines were liberally sprinkled over the list, a handful of specialties managed to make a relatively good showing.

Oil News . . .

Owners have cemented hole back to 4,300 feet from total depth of 4,410 in an attempt to exclude water, and the well is standing while cement hardens.

Large producer for the Crane side of the Jordan pool of Crane-Ector counties was assured in Gulf No. 4-N State as it topped pay at 3,529 feet and flowed 1,429 barrels of oil in eight hours while drilling to total depth of 3,576. Back pressure was 200 pounds. The well now is shut in for storage.

Receives Victoria Cross

Sgt. John Hannah is shown above in London after receiving the Victoria Cross Sept. 27 for "most conspicuous bravery." Sergeant Hannah, a radio operator on a bomber attacking barges at Antwerp, was badly burned about the face by white hot metal when the plane was fired by incendiary bullets. With the rear gunner bailed out, he fought the rear fire and then crawled forward to find the navigator had also left the plane. Hannah then undertook the navigator's duties and assisted the pilot in bringing the badly damaged plane successfully to base.

Reported Raid Victim

The London Daily Mail reported that Movita (above), Mexican actress wife of Jack Doyle, the Irish boxer, was believed killed in an air raid. Doyle said his wife had gone to visit a friend Monday night and had not been seen since. The street where the friend lived was struck by a bomb.

Douglass Trial At Monahans Started

MONAHANS, Tex., Oct. 21 (AP)—A jury was being selected in the second trial of Paul Douglass, charged with the knife slaying of Walter Jordan, in Judge J. A. Drane's court today.

Judge Drane said he expected the jury would not be completed until tomorrow.

Douglass is charged with murder in connection with an affray near Fayette the night of Oct. 10, 1939, in which Jordan was fatally stabbed. A jury which heard the case in February could not agree.

Civic Theatre Wants Black Cotton Umbrellas

Wanted—Black Cotton Umbrellas. When the weatherman charted his rain areas, he failed to take into consideration the fact that the Midland Civic Theatre might some day want to put on Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer-prize winning play, "Our Town."

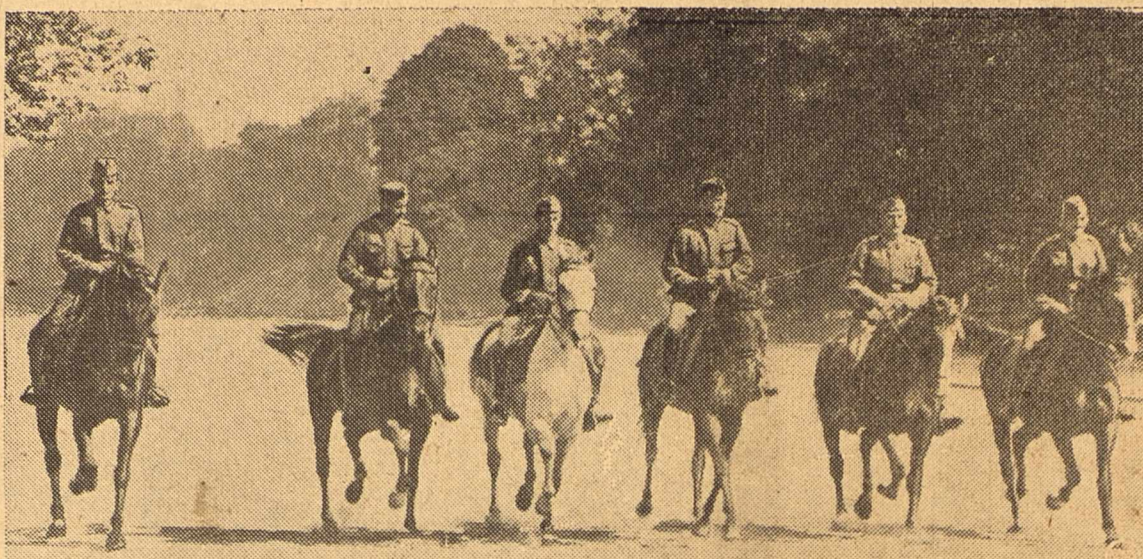

Here it is Monday before the presentation Wednesday and the properties committee still hasn't been able to roundup enough black umbrellas to provide the right effect to the third act.

Few Midland citizens own umbrellas and Mrs. J. M. Kenderdine is worried.

She urges anyone who has a black cotton umbrella to loan it to the theater and to get in touch with any member of the theater group.

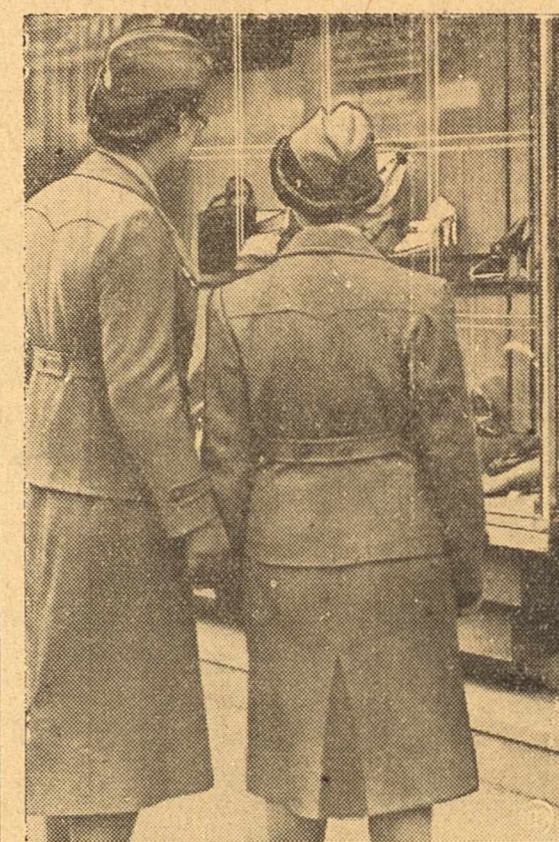

The Germans In Paris

They Canter Gaily Through the Famous Bois

Gone are the smart equestrians who once cantered along the bridle paths of the Bois de Boulogne in Paris. Their places have been taken by German soldiers, like those above, pictured during a morning gallop in the famous park.

They Window-Shop

Beneath the sombre uniforms of these German girls bear hearts holding the eternal feminine love of clothes. Attached to the Nazi army of occupation, the girls seem entranced by the finery displayed in a Paris shop-window.

They Tour Montmartre

Like soldiers the world over, German troops in Paris head for the livelier parts of town in their free time. Those above are wandering through famed Montmartre, once a gay magnet for American tourists.

They Rub Elbows With French In Sidewalk Cafe

The shock of seeing German soldiers in Paris has worn off. Above, Nazi officers sit at ease in one of the city's famed sidewalk cafes as civilians stream by with scarcely a glance at their conquerors.

Strange Deer Herder Doesn't Guard Game, Frightens It Away

CANON CITY, Colo. (UP)—Tonight, as on every other night in the year, Ed W. Coryell, equipped with flashlight, pistol and shotgun, will go on patrol to frighten deer away from the gardens of Canon City.

For the lack of a better title, the State Game and Fish Department has listed Coryell as a "deer herder." There are other deer herders in the state but their duties are to feed and protect the herds in the winter. Coryell protects the city's vegetables from the deer.

How many thousand deer he has driven out of Canon City gardens in the last eight years Coryell doesn't know. Once he saw more than 100 deer in one hour. One herd numbered 67 deer before he drove them away.

APPROVE TRUCK LINE

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 21 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission today approved an application for freight truck lines from Denison, Tex., and Colbert, Okla., to the Red River dam site.

Approval of the temporary routings was given at an I.C.C. hearing.

"BEAVERS AT WORK"

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—New signs on roadways through Bear Mountain interstate park say: "Beavers at Work."

They're there to warn motorists of fallen timber. The little animals are busy felling their winter's supply of building material.

Play At Mt. Rose Church

Mt. Rose Baptist Church (colored) is sponsoring a play, "Old Black Joe," to be presented at the church Thursday evening. A special invitation is given to white people to attend. Proceeds will go toward the fund for a new church. Admission will be 15 cents.

Officers To Treat Conscripts Easily At Start Of Work

ALEXANDRIA, La., Oct. 21 (AP)—America's new army of civilian guardsmen and conscripts will be treated like tenderfeet — even to heated tents with electric lights — until they become as hard as regular enlisted troops.

Officers, preparing to train as many as 100,000 soldiers here in Louisiana's pine forests made it clear that they would give every John Doe coming from an office swivel chair full consideration and all the comforts of home, almost.

For Instance

The first contingent of guardsmen from the 32nd division of Michigan and Wisconsin, arriving by special train at dawn today, found their tents already pitched and a hot breakfast waiting for them.

"They go to camp every year and pitching tents is easy for them," one officer explained. "But we want them to take it easy at first until they get their muscles relaxed and used to outdoor work."

The 20th engineers from Fort Benning, Ga., in four weeks have thrown up temporary soldiers' quarters here fit for any city chap until he becomes a hard-muscled part of the national defense.

There will be six guardsmen to a tent, pitched on a clean new pine board flooring. Each will have a stove, placed in a wooden box filled with earth. Each tent will be equipped with electric lights. Each soldier will have a comfortable cotton mattress and three warm blankets.

O'Brien As Rockne

Pat O'Brien (above), who is starred in "Knute Rockne" now showing at the Yucca theatre, was given an award at Los Angeles for his work in the film as a contribution to sportsmanship. The picture concludes here tomorrow.

6 Presiding Officers For Senate Recently

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Veteran attendants said today the Senate had broken some kind of a record by having six different presiding officers recently.

Absence of both Vice President Garner, first presiding officer, and Senator Pittman (D-Nev.), president pro tempore, caused the unique situation.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky) who also is majority leader; Sheppard (D-Tex), dean of Congress; McKeller (D-Tenn); and King (D-Utah) have served successively as acting president pro tempore.

Army Reserve Officers Sought After Flight

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP)—Ground and aerial searchers were mobilized today to push the hunt for two army reserve officers who vanished mysteriously in an army plane Saturday on a short flight along a well-traveled airway.

Military and civilian pilots, sheriff's officers from Santa Cruz County and soldiers joined in the search for Second Lieutenant Volney R. Stiles, a veteran pilot, and Lieutenant Nathan H. Samuels of the infantry reserve.

The men left here Saturday in a training plane for Monterey.

Santa Fe Train Off Track Near Clovis

CLOVIS, N. M., Oct. 21 (AP)—Thirty-one cars of a southbound Santa Fe freight train were derailed early today near Muleshoe, Texas, about thirty miles southeast of Clovis. All members of the crew escaped injury in the pileup.

The 85-car train was carrying a cargo of potash, wheat and cotton bales. Santa Fe authorities did not advance any official explanation for the cause of the wreck.

CORRECTION

The name of Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., was misspelled as it appeared in the line-ups of the Midland-Santa Angelo Junior high school football game here Saturday. The name incorrectly appeared as Scarborough.

Roosevelt Returns To Arrange Plans For Next 2 Weeks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt came back to the capital today from his Hyde Park home to complete arrangements for cramming the bulk of his personal campaign for a third term into the next two weeks.

He had itineraries for train and automobile trips to plan and an address to draft before his appearance Wednesday night in Philadelphia's convention hall.

There, in the auditorium where the Democratic National Convention approved his second nomination in 1936 he will deliver the first of five speeches in which he said he would tell the American people about a systematic and deliberate program of falsification of fact by the opposition.

To Speak At 8:15

His address will climax a national Roosevelt youth day during which rallies will be held in 3,740 counties in the United States. The youth organizations will tune in on the President's speech over the NBC Red Network from 8:15 p. m. to 9 a. m. (CST).

Tentative plans call for Mr. Roosevelt to dip into four or five states in which approximately a quarter of the electoral votes are concentrated, either to speak, to inspect additional national defense projects, or both.

The states are Pennsylvania, with 36 electoral votes, New York with 47, Ohio with 25, New Jersey with 16, and possibly Maryland with 8.

Registration For Persons Left Out Continuing Today

Registration of persons missed last week when men between 21 and 36 were scheduled to sign for army service continued at draft headquarters here today. Several Mexicans who had registered previously as aliens, through confusion, thought they would not have to register for service.

Meanwhile, more names are being received of Midland County residents who registered in some other county. Names of all will be published in The Reporter-Telegram. Those of several college students from Midland were received today and parents are requested to copy the numbers and notify the students as soon as possible for them to know when their order number is issued at Washington.

Members of the draft board announced that boys between the ages of 18 and 21 may register for service in the army along with those of 21 and 36. Consent of parents or guardian is necessary. Youths will be listed as volunteers and will be subject to call whenever their order number is issued. In that manner, boys may enroll for one year instead of three.

Only three-year enlistments are being received now. Anyone desiring to enroll now may either enlist in the regular army or the national guard.

Draft board members said today an immediate announcement of the successor of C. E. Pritchard, resigned as a member of the draft board was expected from President Roosevelt. Governor O'Daniel has recommended a Midland man for the position.

Draft headquarters remain open in the basement of the postoffice with chief clerk Mrs. Eddie Flannery in charge.

Absentee Ballots Number Twenty-Two

Only 22 absentee votes have been cast for the general election in Midland County, it was announced today at the office of the county clerk.

None has been cast at the city hall for the city charter election slated for general election day—November 5. City officials urge persons casting absentee ballots for the general election to go to the city hall and vote on the charter election.

PARISH PARTY THURSDAY

The party to be sponsored by St. Anne's Altar Society at the Catholic parish hall, previously scheduled for Wednesday evening, will be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The change was made because of conflict with social activities Wednesday.

CLERK RESIGNS

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today received the resignation of Scott Hart, statistical clerk of Kilgore, who advised he had enlisted in the Canadian air force.

VISIT IN MINERAL WELLS

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker spent the weekend in Mineral Wells as guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Baker Sr.

British Not Offering Appeasement To Japan

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Authoritative British sources declared today that the British "certainly are not taking an appeasement attitude" toward Japan in the issue of the Dutch East Indies rich oil resources and intimated strongly that British-American consultations had been held on Japan's oil problem.

These sources reiterated that the British government had contracted for all the Dutch East Indies output of high octane gasoline, used for aviation fuel, and said they had no new information concerning Japanese-Dutch negotiations over this production.

New English Purchase Taxes Now In Effect

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—A new purchase tax went into effect today, causing the already high cost of living in wartime Britain to take a sharp jump.

The tax, one of the measures enacted by the government to help pay for the war, levies up to 33 1/3 per cent on the wholesale price of goods.

Retailers pay the tax on the wholesale value to the wholesalers, then collect it from their customers. Estimates on how high the tax will reach in comparison with retail prices vary, but most experts expect it to go to 25 per cent.

J. W. Hunt, scout for The Texas Company, has been transferred to Midland from Hobbs, N. M.

HAS SPALDECTOMY

Neil Applewood underwent an appendectomy Saturday in a Midland hospital.

HUNTSVILLE CONVICT KILLED IN ESCAPE

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 21 (AP)—Captain D. R. Vaughan of Ramsey State Prison Farm said yesterday Richard Benson, Williamson County convict serving a three-year-term for assault to murder, was shot fatally when he tried to escape.

Vaughan said Benson was in a group of 16 convicts gathering corn on the southwest part of the farm Saturday under charge of Guard B. L. White, formerly of Austin. Vaughan said Benson ran and the guard had to shoot to stop him.

RITES NOT SET

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Funeral arrangements for Lawrence Toepferwein, 36, former San Antonio newspaperman, magazine writer and an artist, were held in abeyance today pending arrival of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ad Toepferwein, expert rifle, shotgun and pistol shots, from St. Louis. He died yesterday.
