Knox Declares U. S. To Acquire More Bases In Pacific

Present Events Will Determine Scope Of Plans

Defenses In Atlantic Are Nearly Sufficient, Navy Head Tells Forum

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said today the United States would obtain additional naval bases in the Pacific and asserted that "events now in the making" would determine "how far flung these bases must be."

"He did not detail what negotiations or plans the navy might be pursuing for the additional bases, saying, 'we have Pacific bases—the greatest and most invulnerable of them all in Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands; but we need more—and we will have them.'"

Defenses fortified "progress of American rearmament" in an address prepared for the annual New York Herald Tribune forum, preceded his statement with the declaration that "the acquisition of eight new bases (by leases from Great Britain in return for 50 destroyers) added tremendously to our naval strength in the Atlantic—the equivalent of many ships—and these, with those already held, make our Atlantic defense well-nigh impregnable."

Forest 1-H Moss Flows 527 Barrels 17 Hours To Prove Ector Spread

By Frank Gardner

Proving a major south extension of the South Cowden pool in Ector County, Forest Development Corporation No. 1-H Paul Moss flowed 527 barrels of oil through 2-inch tubing the first 17 hours of a scheduled, 24-hour potential gauge. Tubing became plugged at the end of the 17th hour, terminating the test.

However, operators will file the 17-hour flow with the Railroad Commission in order to establish a potential, then later will take a full 24-hour gauge. No. 1 Moss made 339 barrels the first 13 hours. It is located 1,980 feet from the north, 660 feet from the west line of section 48, block 43, township 2 south, T&P, survey, a mile and a half south of the previous limits of the pool. It had been shot with 1,600 quarts from 4,070 to 4,300 feet, the total depth.

Pool Wells Ganged
The same firm's No. 1 W. L. Bradley et al, central Ector wildcat indicating opening of a new pool, still is standing while cement hardens after plugging back to 4,380 from total depth of 4,410 feet to shut off bottom-hole sulphur water.

In Ector's North Cowden pool Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 2-A TXL flowed 1,481.73 barrels a day upon completion at 4,190 feet following a 385-quart shot. Schermerhorn Oil Company No. 4-C Johnson, in the Foster pool of Ector, pumped 319.41 barrels a day after shooting with 220 quarts at total depth of 4,327 feet.

Terry Wildcat Staked
Gulf Oil Corporation today announced that it will drill to 5,100 feet with rotary in its No. 4 Mallet Land & Cattle Company new Terry County wildcat 440 feet from the south, 1,831 feet from the east line of section 5, block X, public school land. It is 12,590 feet west of the nearest producer, George P. Livermore No. 2 R. D. Glimp, in the Terry south extension of the Slaughter field of southwestern Hockley County.

Showing nearly 100 feet of thinning between the anhydrite and brown lime, Cascade Petroleum Co., No. 1 J. M. Walker, Hockley wildcat nine miles east of the Slaughter field, topped brown lime at 3,900 feet, according to sample analysis. On the marker it is about 70 feet higher than the old Bates et al No. 1 P. S. Lockett et al, dry hole three and a half miles to the southwest. No. 1 Walker is drilling anhydrite below 4,140 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum Company today completed two producers in the Duggan pool of southeastern Cochran. No. 2-A Mallett raised daily potential of 831.60 barrels after acidizing with a total of 10,500 gallons at 4,989 feet, while the No. 1-H Mallett made 477.40 barrels after

Stimson To Draw Service Numbers Week From Today

Procedure Is Expected To Take Twelve Hours, Patriotic Plans Made

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—One week from today at noon Uncle Sam will start drawing the selective service numbers which will put the first 800,000 young Americans in uniform by next June, and millions more during the ensuing four years.

The historic drawing in the Nation's first peacetime conscription program is expected to take a dozen hours or more. Then each of the 16,654,000 men who registered last Wednesday will know the order in which he is subject to call for a year's service in the army.

Stimson To Draw
The big glass jar from which World War draft numbers were drawn will be used once again and, following the precedent of 1917, Secretary of War Stimson, blindfolded, will pull out the first number.

Plans for the drawing, which will be surrounded by patriotic ceremony, were completed yesterday at a conference between President Roosevelt and Selective Service Director Dykstra. At first Dr. Dykstra announced the Chief Executive would pick the first number, but later said Mr. Roosevelt wished the secretary of war to have this honor.

The President, however, will be present and will deliver an address before the actual lottery drawing begins.

Between now and next Tuesday each of the men who registered will be assigned a number by his local draft board. The numbers so assigned are serial numbers, and are not expected to run higher than 7,500 for any one local board area. The sequence in which these serial numbers are drawn in the Oct. 29 lottery will determine the order numbers—that is, the numbers designating the numerical order in which registrants are subject to call.

Once the drawing has been completed, officials will compile a master list of order numbers here and transmit copies through the governors of each state to all local boards for public posting. Copies likewise will be supplied for publication by newspapers, radio and other media of public communication.

After the luncheon the lawmakers will visit friends and business and professional men and go on a tour of the city.

Rayburn Homecoming Breaks Out Into FDR Campaign For Demos

BONHAM, Texas, Oct. 22 (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn's fellow townsmen hung up the bunting for his homecoming celebration today, but for Democratic leaders it meant breaking out the colors in a militant campaign for Roosevelt votes.

Rayburn, who started public life as a country school teacher in northeast Texas, came home to grasp the horny hands of hundreds of farmers and scores of old cronies who knew him years before anyone entertained the thought he would ever be Speaker of the House.

He held open hours for a small group of those old friends, and told them confidently he thought the general election would result in a "Roosevelt sweep."

It was a big day for the home-folks. Barbecue and hot dog stands munched overnight. Mayor Joe B. Hrdlicka helped carpenters build the reviewing stand, and drug stores were doing a rush business with Rayburn sundae. The sundae was a toothsome concoction of ice cream and syrup.

Tended by national committee-man Myron Blalock, Texas Democratic leaders said Rayburn's speech tonight at the conclusion of day-long festivities would be the take-off for a whirlwind finish of their campaign in the southwest.

Rayburn is director of the presidential campaign in the southwest, where the Republicans have worked through numerous regular and recently-conceived organizations in their effort to land Texas especially for Wendell Willkie.

Rayburn's speech will be broadcast (Texas State Network) from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m. (CST)

Hitler May Win France Over To Axis Allegiance

Berlin Rumors If As Von Ribbentrop Is Said Leaving For Southwest

By Louis P. Lochner

BERLIN, Oct. 22 (AP)—The possibility that France may re-enter the war on the side of the Axis powers was foreseen here today amid indications that Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop either is on his way, or is about to embark upon a journey to the South West, presumably to Vichy.

Secrecy surrounded Von Ribbentrop's movements. (Dispatches from Les Verrieres, Switzerland, on the French border, quoted informed travelers as saying the Axis powers were attempting to persuade France to declare war on Britain by offering her comparatively easy peace terms. Vice Premier Pierre Laval was reported to be in Paris discussing the situation with Nazi officials.)

Weeks Of Rumors
There have been rumors here for weeks of a pending amicable arrangement with France. For a fortnight, the German press has refrained from saying anything derogatory about the vanquished nation.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's appeal last night to France to refrain from doing anything that might hurt the British cause, finally gives substance, however, to recurring intimations that German negotiations with France advanced to the stage where a visit of Von Ribbentrop may clinch them.

Whether Von Ribbentrop is really bound for Vichy, will continue to be a question for speculation.

Moscow Visit
Inquiries of informed sources as to whether a visit to Moscow is also on the Foreign Minister's schedule were met only with shrugs of the shoulders and the reply: "That comes later."

In a chain of circumstantial evidence, however, the following points may be mentioned:

1—Rumors concerning negotiations with France have been recurring here with frequency in the past weeks.

2—Hints by authorized sources that the Balkans are a matter of secondary importance to other events in the offing.

3—Unusual secrecy with which Von Ribbentrop's present movements are shrouded.

4—The fact that his press chief, Dr. Paul Schmidt, has also been out of town for several days.

5—Churchill's unusual appeal to France at this particular time.

There are practical considerations which make the rumors of a French-German rapprochement seem plausible.

Vichy Unsettled
For one thing, it is believed here, the French are finding Vichy highly unsuitable as a seat of government and Chief of State Philippe Petain might seize the opportunity of concluding a definite peace with Germany rather than continuing armistice conditions which make return of the government to Paris unfeasible.

Moreover, by supporting the Axis in a military way in Africa, it is pointed out, France may hope to fall heir to some British colonies as compensation for the loss of Alsace-Lorraine and possibly Burundi.

The Axis, for its part, might obtain aid at sea if the French navy were to join the war against Britain.

Since France holds African territory closest to South America—Dakar and its surroundings—Axis plans for weaning South American nations away ideologically from the United States might be rendered easier.

Warriors Of Air Dump Explosives And Fire Bombs On Nazi Warships, Blast Convoy In English Channel

Lord Croft Asserts Britain Will Begin Land Offensive And Obtain Control Above By 1941, Plane Squadrons Would Be Placed Under Army

By The Associated Press.

British RAF warplanes struck two crippling blows at German shipping, the London air ministry reported today, dumping tons of high explosives and at least 1,000 fire bombs on Hamburg dockyards—where German warships were under construction—and blasting a Nazi convoy in the channel.

The air ministry said bombs exploding around the convoy almost lifted some of the ships out of the water. In an hour-long assault on Hamburg, numerous fires were started in the shipyard and surrounding docks, the ministry said, adding:

"A chain of fires became engulfed in one great flaming mass."
Two more British spokesmen meanwhile amplified Prime Minister Winston Churchill's assertion that Britain would launch an offensive and gain control of the air in 1941.

Mexico Cancels Japanese Iron And Oil Orders

By The Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22.—Mexico is turning down Japanese bids for her oil and scrap iron as a contribution to Western Hemisphere solidarity, high government officials declared today.

President Cardenas has decided to cancel a large oil concession granted last week to Japanese interests in Mexico, and a $400,000 offer by Japanese agents for Mexican scrap iron has been rejected, these officials said, because of Japanese-American tension in the Pacific.

Wants To Cooperate
They described the decisions as a concrete demonstration that Mexico is prepared to collaborate with the United States and other American republics to safeguard the Western Hemisphere against any danger from abroad.

These sources gave no indication when cancellation of the oil concession to the Tokyo-controlled Veracruzana Company for exploiting 247,000 acres in Vera Cruz state would become official.

The deal will be voided as unconstitutional, a government spokesman said, because a constitutional amendment prohibiting such concessions, sponsored by President Cardenas after expropriation of foreign-owned oil properties in 1938, was ratified recently by a majority of the state legislatures, although it has not yet been promulgated.

Error Of Judgment
"To demonstrate Mexico's adherence to the hemisphere policy of solidarity before the world crisis threatening the continent across both oceans, the president desires that what was actually not only an error of judgment, but an illegal act, be rectified immediately," the spokesman said.

Of the bid for scrap iron, the spokesman said: "We did not want it to appear that Mexico would sell scrap iron that Japan might conceivably use against the United States should the present crisis in the Orient end in open hostilities."

Talk On Issues
President Cardenas has been conferring with his ambassador to the United States, Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, on "all outstanding issues between the United States and Mexico."

A responsible source said he believed a formula for settling several matters had been approved, but

WHOZIT?

Mr. Whozit undoubtedly has been more places and done more things than most people ever dream about. He came to Midland in 1922 and settled down to run his service station and auto supply store, but prior to that time he really had traveled.

He was just finishing school when the United States entered the first World War. Naturally since he was taking a law degree in Georgetown University at Washington, D. C., there was a great deal of emphasis on service with the country. During the war years, "Fred" was a radio operator, and on land was a radio operator. As a result of that and of his subsequent work as telegraph operator, he has been in every state in the Union except Vermont, and in six foreign countries.

Many years ago he played professional baseball, an outgrowth of his school days. He was third baseman, and played in the Three I, Texas-Oklahoma, and the Cotton States Leagues.

He is a member of the highway committee of the chamber of commerce, belongs to the Texas Good Roads Association, is past district governor of Rotary, is a Mason and a legionnaire.

See him and members of his organization in The Reporter-Telegram Get-Acquainted page later.

Mr. Whozit is a very quiet young man for someone who likes to play with dynamite. His particular specialty with the retail store he manages is the sale of explosives. To accomplish this, he travels all over West Texas and finds the job to his liking.

He came to Midland to stay in 1929 from Stanton, the city of his birth. His first regular job was at a wholesale grocery company—driving a truck. After five years of working hard and claiming the various rewards of advancement his employer had to offer, he went with a dry goods company and remained with them two and a half years. After that, he spent 4 years with a food market until he received his present outstanding furniture and hardware businesses in this part of the country.

While going to school he played right halfback on the football team. A member of the Lions Club and chamber of commerce, he is an active young man in the business and civic affairs of Midland.

Skinning the Wolf For Soup

A little story was often told a few years back when America was trying in bewilderment to understand the tough times that had fallen so unaccountably upon her. It was about a man who found the wolf at the door. But instead of giving up, he coaxed the wolf closer, whanged him over the head, skinned him, and made soup of him. The point, of course, being that there are some people who have the knack and the courage to gain advantage even from what seem desperate misfortunes.

Selective service is going to work out a little like that. Americans generally don't hanker after military service. They are as good soldiers as the best when they have to be. But everything else equal, they don't itch for it.

Very well. Times are what they are. The American people, through long and careful debate by their elected government, have decided on widespread military training as a necessity. Millions of our youth now await the call. Thousands have already volunteered.

Out of the millions who now face military training for a year or more, very many indeed will convert this interruption of their lives into a real opportunity. It is not pleasant to have plans interrupted by this kind of a necessity. But there is little grumbling, and the prevailing tone of youth is, "This seems necessary. I will do it."

In short, the fact is here and accepted, that young men will have to learn to fight, and give a period of life to their country. All right. Shall it be merely a regretted break in normal life? Or shall the selected men beckon this wolf closer and skin him for all the soup that's in his bones?

Clarence A. Dykstra, director of the selective service plan, is a man with wide experience in public administration and education. He sees the plan not as merely a sacrifice, but as "opening up great opportunities for national unity and for individual growth as well."

These are high ideals, good to hear from the administrator. They do not imply that the selective service machinery is to be turned into a schoolroom. Primarily, the purpose is to create defensive power. But invaluable by-products of health, civic consciousness, technical skill and esprit de corps may also be obtained.

They will be of double value to the individual who approaches his call in manly fashion, and says not, "It's terrible that I have to go," but "Well, here we are, and I'm going to get every scrap of benefit out of it that I can."

Men like that may well come out of their period of service saying, as Dykstra hopes they will, "I would not have missed that year of my life for anything."

Science says white lightning is deadlier than other kinds, but so far there are no volunteers for blindfold tests.

NEW YORK JUNGLE
BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

YESTERDAY: Braitwood tries to figure out the puzzling crime, reaches no decision. Summoned by Nella, he goes to Adam's room, overhears Pat and Gundrum. Nella believes Adam feared his wife, offers no other explanation. As he returns to his room, Sidney hears a step on the third floor, and the whimpering of a dog.

DOWN THE SECRET PASSAGE
EVIDENTLY Marta too, had heard the dog whimper, for she stood at the door of her room looking up and down the hall. Clad in a lounging suit of soft yellow silk, she had a compelling loveliness which, for an instant, drew Braitwood's mind from his weird search.

THE only unoccupied room on the third floor was a billiard room at the end of the hall. There had been no dog there earlier in the evening when Sidney and Hugh had searched the house for fire; there had been no dog in the house at all. But the billiard room seemed the most likely place for one to be hidden, had it been brought in later.

Someone went through that open window," Sidney whispered. "It was closed when Hugh and I were here a few hours ago, and there was no odor of chloroform."

"There is a fire escape outside the window," Marta reminded him. "Anyone could leave this room and re-enter the house on the floor below, through the window of the vacant room at the end of the hall."

We, the Women

IT IS easy for a young married couple to start pulling against each other from the very beginning. When that happens their marriage, though it may hold together hasn't a chance of being really successful.

You can tell easily enough when a wife is pulling against her husband. She complains about him, a great deal; that he spends too little time with her; that his job doesn't have a future; or that he doesn't understand how hard she works.

And it is just as simple to figure out when a husband is pulling against his wife. He kicks about household bills as though he hadn't known before he was married that two can't live as cheaply as one.

Children Don't Bring Couple Closer
HE doesn't speak of his wife as an individual—but just as a woman, and one, he is sure, who got the best of the bargain when she landed him. He is likely to brag that his word is law in their family. And he always uses "I" and "My" instead of "We" and "Our."

Even children don't bring such a couple closer together in their thinking. The mother is determined the children shall be brought up in one way, and the father in another. So they fight over the children.

Couples who get off on the wrong foot don't realize that the only foundation for a successful marriage is mutual cooperation and respect, and the determination to find a way of life that will be satisfactory to both partners.

A Team, Not Opponents
AS LONG as they stay married, a couple should work out problems together for the good of the marriage and of the couple, instead of each trying to get his or her own way.

Then they will appear as allies, showing the world that they are a team, not opponents.

THE Southern Appalachian Tournament held at Asheville, N. C., in August is to be advanced in rating to a sectional championship of the American Contract Bridge League. The tournament this year was one of the largest ever held in the south and was truly representative of the South Atlantic States. I had the pleasure of being a member of the winning team-of-four with Waldemar von Zedwitz, A. M. Barnes and Mrs. Humphrey Wagar.

Here is one of the hands von Zedwitz played that helped us win the championship. Von Zedwitz (South) won the opening lead with the ace of clubs in dummy and finessed the queen of hearts. When the ten-spot dropped, he immediately placed the balance of the hearts in the East hand.

He next cashed the queen of spades and the king and queen of clubs, discarding the deuce and three of diamonds from his hand. The club eight was ruffed and the diamond jack played to dummy's ace. The nine of diamonds was ruffed, the king of spades played and overtaken with the ace, and dummy's last diamond ruffed.

Von Zedwitz now held the ace-jack-seven of hearts and East the king-nine-eight. Declarer led his low heart, East won with the eight-spot, but had to lead from his king-nine to von Zedwitz, ace-jack.

First Ten Teams To Meet On Grid Field

By Hugh S. Fulleton, Jr

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—The nation's football experts, who seem to have qualms about ranking the top ten teams this week, shouldn't have much trouble agreeing upon Pennsylvania vs Michigan as the week's most important game.

It's the only contest bringing together two teams in the first ten of the second weekly Associated Press poll. Michigan retained third place with 1,040 points and 18 of the 162 first place votes. Penn, while not picked first by a ballot, collected 539 points to take eighth.

Cornell, holding the top spot for the second week, polled 83 votes for first place and at total of 1,473 points on the usual basis of ten points for first, nine for second, etc. Still the Big Red powerhouse didn't finish far in front of Notre Dame. On the strength of their 6-0 triumph over Carnegie Tech, the Irish moved from sixth place to second with 30 first-place votes and 1,152 points. The Texas Aggies, runners-up last week, slipped to fourth place with 1,037. They were picked for first by 15 voters.

Gophers Advance

Others in the first ten were Tennessee, six firsts and 880 points; Minnesota, 8 firsts and 817 points; Northwestern, 592 points; Stanford, 350, and Boston College, 334 points. Minnesota and Stanford advanced in the rankings last week; Northwestern and Boston College dropped back.

The second ten is composed of Fordham, 304; Texas, 107; Clemson (1 first); 86; Mississippi (1 first); 80; Georgetown, 38; Washington, 28; Southern California, 13; Nebraska, 12; Southern Methodist, 11; and Columbia, 8. Scattered points were drawn by Penn State, Ohio State, Detroit, Baylor, Duke, Navy, California, Mississippi State, Georgia Tech, Wake Forest, Missouri and Colorado.

Tests For Leaders

This week's schedule figure to provide severe tests for all the leaders and perhaps produce some major changes in the rankings. Cornell plays Ohio State, which looks a lot stronger than its five points in the poll and its two defeats indicate. Illinois may give Notre Dame trouble. Texas Aggies tackle dangerous Baylor; Tennessee plays Florida; Minnesota encounters Iowa; Northwestern plays Indiana, and Stanford meets 17th-place Southern California. Only Boston College has a "berater," against St. Anselm.

The second-ten teams meet rivals of equal importance in these games: Fordham-St. Mary's, Texas-Rice, Clemson-South Carolina, Mississippi-Arkansas, Georgetown-New York University, Washington-California, Nebraska-Missouri and Columbia-Syracuse. Southern Methodist is idle.

Promoter Jacobs Gets Busy Again

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Joe Louis' howls for action and the clamor of the rest of the heavyweight brigade for recognition finally have "surrounded" Mike Jacobs.

"Uncle Mike" is settling down to the winter business of ironing out the mix-up among the big boys, looking to the possibility of uncoupling a target for the Bomber about mid-January. In matching Billy Conn and Lee Savold for Madison Square Garden November 29, Promoter Mike took the first step in this campaign.

No Holds Barred

From the way Jacobs outlined the set-up in announcing that 15-round shindig yesterday, it's going to be "every man for himself, and no holds barred." Mike also is planning on giving Lou Nika and Red Burman a chance to show during the winter how they would stand with Louis, and is looking for a match for Buddy Bae.

Out of all this, with one or two more punch-parties tossed in, Mike hopes to line up a foe for Louis. The chances are it won't be Conn, win or lose, because Mike still is convinced Billy and the champ will make the turnstiles hum as an outdoor attraction next summer.

RALLIES PLANNED OVER STATE TO BE CLIMAXED BY NATIONAL HOOKUP FOR WILLKIE SPEECH

Wednesday, October 23, is No-Third-Term Day throughout the United States. Aside from Christmas and one or two national holidays No-Third-Term Day will be the most widely celebrated day in the history of the nation. On that day Wendell L. Willkie will speak to the country in a nation-wide radio program. On the same program will be other speakers of national note who will oppose the third term for any President of any party.

Backers of the movement contend, and rightfully so, that "no issue transcends in importance the issue of NO-THIRD-TERM." Rolling up like a great tide out of the sea, resentment against this step toward dictatorship in fact, if not in name, will burst forth in all its fury on that day. These celebrations are pointed to bring home to the millions of independent voters who have not yet made up their minds, the seriousness of the issue.

Hold Listening Parties.

No-Third-Term Clubs in Texas are planning celebrations and listening groups. It is planned that listening parties be held in the different homes of the crusaders and supporters of the candidacy of Wendell L. Willkie, the American candidate for the Presidency.

It is further planned that street corner meetings be held throughout the day and at night merging

Demand Is Heavy For Friday Game, Lester Treated

Midland school officials, expecting the largest crowd of the season at the Midland-Big Spring football game here Friday night, today advised fans to procure tickets immediately before choice seats are sold.

The tickets went on sale yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce office and throughout the day there was a steady demand. Practically all seats between the 30-yard markers were sold. Six hundred choice seats on the east side of the field were reserved for Big Spring fans who will arrive here on a special train late Friday afternoon.

Lester Treated

Meanwhile boys on the Bulldog football squad continued work for the game—expected to be one of the toughest of the year. One member of the team, End Willford Lester, was not out for yesterday's practice. Bothered by a shoulder injury he received in the Sweetwater game, Lester devoted yesterday's training time to receiving heat treatment.

Other members of the squad were at the field, although several are not in top condition. Quarterback Windell Williams was in uniform for the first time in more than a week. However, the ankle injury he received last week kept him out of scrimmage. Williams will definitely be ready for the game Friday night if his ankle continues to improve.

Coaches Warn

The Bulldogs were warned by the coaches in yesterday's drill to be prepared for the hardest charging line and two of the best ball carriers in the district.

In fullback Pete Presley, the Big Spring team has a player rated by many observers as the best back in the district. A shifty runner, Presley is a scoring threat every time he has the ball. Odessa and Lamesa clubs slowed him up by refusing to kick to him. Halfback Brummett of the Steers is generally rated one of the hardest-driving backs in the district.

The Longhorn line also is one of the best in the district. Paced by Clifton Patton, 215-pound tackle, it has consistently outplayed opposition.

Barney Welch Tops High School Backs In Scoring Points

STEPHENVILLE, Oct. 22 (AP)—They call little Barney Welch half a football team and here's why.

In five games he's played 200 minutes and scored 108 points. In one game he ran up 42 points.

Other members of the Stephenville high school team have a combined total of 91.

Welch, who runs like a sage hen and is slippery as an eel, is the leading scorer among 20,000 Texas schoolboy gridlers. He may also be topping the nation's point-makers.

Welch, five feet 10 and weighing 163 pounds, runs 100 yards in 10.2 seconds in a football uniform. He raced through broken fields for two-thirds of his 18 touchdowns. The others came on forward passes.

Teammates Help

He says his teammates make him look good.

"I wouldn't get to first base without all that blocking,"

But Coach Jimmie Marshall says proudly:

"Barney is playing his fourth year. He's an 18-year-old says he's headed for Texas A&M."

That ought to be good news to Homer Norton, headman of the Aggie footballers.

He needs somebody who can run like a jack rabbit to offset all that publicity the University of Texas gets over Jack Carr.

Crude Oil Production Rises 32,000 Barrels

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 22 (AP)—Daily crude oil production in the United States increased 32,000 barrels to 3,688,230 for the week ended October 19, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Texas production was up 27,350 to 1,375,650; Oklahoma 12,975 to 398,750; Louisiana 165, to 284,610; Eastern states, 290 to 106,400, and the Rocky Mountain area 30 to 102,700.

East Texas declined 50 to 374,900; California, 3,000 to 622,250; Illinois 1,902 to 349,751; Kansas 2,000 to 195,100; and Michigan 567 to 47,214.

Bill deCorrevont May Be Spark Impelling Wildcats To Heights

By Jerry Bronfield, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

EVANSTON—Somebody in one of his more sagacious moments at the start of the current football season predicted the publicity Bill deCorrevont isn't getting this year might do Northwestern more good than a yardful of tackles and guards.

And no one ever needed guards, tackles as desperately as Lynn Waldorf was purported to require them.

May Be Surprise

At any rate, the statement appears to have a large measure of truth because the Wildcats, with a share of the breaks, might be voted the surprise team of 1940. Waldorf may receive a lot of backing as coach of the year, and blond Bill deCorrevont may be pointed out as the back who came bac. All the way back, and then some.

At the start of the 1939 season, Northwestern appeared to have enough material for three teams and the national championship was wrapped, packed and delivered to Evanston before the first whistle had blown. The Wildcats blew sky-high dropped four games and tied one.

Most Publicized Prep

ONE of the reasons why Northwestern was tabbed so highly a year ago was Sophomore deCorrevont, who had enrolled as the greatest high school product since shinguards and flying the wedge.

No boy in Big Ten history had ever received so much pre-college publicity as the Chicago youth.

deCorrevont wasn't a bust as a sophomore, but he failed to live up to advance promises. That might not have been Bill's fault. Northwestern a year ago was stacked with seniors, and seniors have a way of letting down.

No one is suggesting any one cause for deCorrevont's failure. It might have been Bill's failure to make the adjustment from prep to college play. The avalanche of publicity might have been too big a load to carry.

Had Appendix Out

SIX weeks before school began this year deCorrevont underwent an appendectomy. There were those who said he wouldn't play this fall. Ohio State still thinks he should have "stood in bed" because Blond Bill, starting for the first time this season, quick-kicked and ran the Buckeyes into a startling 6-3 defeat.

Moreover, he did it with All-

Bill deCorrevont

American brilliance, and behind a line that had only one semi-regular from last year's forward wall. The rest of the Wildcat line was made up of reserves and sophomores, and the way they deployed was a compliment to Burt Ingwersen's ability.

deCorrevont not only has terrific speed, but is demonstrating an uncanny knack of making a tackler commit himself and then stepping around him. He is one of the best punters and passers in the Western Conference.

There hasn't been the slightest suggestion that he isn't okay defensively.

One good back has lifted teams from mediocrity to great heights before, and it can easily happen to Northwestern.

Injury Problem Is Serious With Mustang Eleven

By The Associated Press

Injuries plagued three of the Southwest Conference football squads today and to one of them the situation had become quite serious.

Southern Methodist University was hardest hit, the Mustangs losing four players, one for the remainder of the season and three others for from three to four weeks.

First, Scat Back Thomas went out with a broken leg. Now it is found that End Roland Gessary has broken bones in a foot and ankle, that End Bob Bacucus and Center Stanley Duvall have injuries severe enough to keep them out probably a month.

Porkers Lose Center

Arkansas lost the services of Zeylon Holley, a center, and Red Hickey has a shoulder injury but may be able to play this week against Mississippi.

The University of Texas had three on the injured list but all of them—Jack Crain, Jesse Hawthorne and Spec Sanders—were expected to be ready to go against Rice.

Texas A&M, which plays Baylor at Waco, Texas, Christian which goes to Tulsa, Rice and Baylor were expected to be at top strength.

All came out of last week's games without serious injury.

Southern Methodist rests this week and it will be a welcome breathing spell for Matty Bell's squad.

Home Work Pays Off For Scorer Reagan

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (AP)—

Maybe this helps to explain why Penn's Frank Reagan is the east's leading football scorer. After practice he continues to carry a football around in his hands, putting it down only long enough to take a shower and dress.

"Just a little homework to prevent fumbling," he explains.

Pro Scoring Honors Divided Among Four

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Four National League football players—two ends and two backs—are tied for the individual scoring lead after the latest flood of touchdowns and placekicks.

Dick Todd, Washington; Carl Muleneaux, Green Bay, and Don Looney, Philadelphia, have five touchdowns apiece, tying Ward Cliff, New York, who collected his 30 points the hard way.

COURTNEY TO PLAY GAINER CLUB FRIDAY

COURTNEY, Oct. 22 (Special)—The Courtney Eagle six-man football team will meet the strong Garner club here Friday afternoon in a conference game.

The Eagles last week dropped a 31-32 decision to Westbrook to lose top position in the league standings. The Eagles are now in second place with Westbrook the leader.

Surgeon Tells Group Hundreds Of Cases Uselessly Operated

By Howard W. Blakeslee, Associated Press Science Editor

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—A charge that hundreds of unnecessary surgical operations are performed daily in this country was made to the American College of Surgeons hospital standardization conference today by Dr. Harold L. Foss, surgeon-in-chief, of the Geisinger Memorial hospital, Danville, Penn.

He said the public is becoming aware of the condition but added that the trouble applies mostly to small, unregulated hospitals.

He charged that for every well trained surgeon there are probably 20 who do the incompetent work.

"If it (the situation) is not, in due course, solved by those in whose hands the matter should chiefly rest, the surgeons themselves, then it may become the problem of the public or possibly of the state or federal governments," Dr. Foss asserted.

INTERPRETING THE WAR

By DeWitt MacKenzie
Associated Press Staff Writer

A cogent explanation of British Premier Churchill's remarkable fireside appeal to France last night appears in the report from Berlin today that the possibility of France reentering the war on the side of the Axis powers is foreseen in the German capital.

Coincidentally this comes a report from Switzerland that Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini are trying to induce the French government with favorable peace terms to declare war on her former ally, Premier Marshal Petain is said to oppose any such move, while Vice-Premier Laval is recorded as discussing it with the Germans.

Churchill's speech represents to my mind one of the most remarkable utterances ever delivered by any statesman—indeed, the circumstances surrounding this call in the face of a shattered friendship would appear to be well-nigh unique.

It seemed to me to be in its essence an effort to mend the bonds of a comradeship which had been attempted in blood, and install in the French the spirit of resistance—or revolt, if you will—against their German masters. Certainly it was a plea, "that if you cannot help us, at least you will not hinder us."

Churchill Thinking
There can be no doubt that Churchill not only had in mind the attempt of the Germans to persuade the French to throw their weight against England, but the fact that many French people are utterly disillusioned as regards the prospect of favorable peace terms and ripe to resist the invaders as best they can.

But Churchill's broadcast was more than an appeal. It radiated a confidence which high far surpassed anything he has said before.

When the Premier went to the extreme of calling the Germans "Boche," as he did twice, he registered a note of victory such as he could have done in no other way.

Boche Is Contempt
This word is meant to express the utmost contempt.
To call a man a "boche" is like spitting in his face and then turning your back without waiting to see if he resents the insult.

A man who knew he was about to die in battle might utter a cry of defiance, but this would not be likely to run along lines of contempt. Scorn is the reaction of a man who feels he has mastery over an unworthy enemy.

One of the most striking passages in this hymn of confidence was: "In 1941 we shall have the command of the air. Remember what that means."
If England can hold her own until she establishes superiority in the air, she may justify Churchill's confidence.

Feminine Employes For Draft Drawing Should Check Shoes

By Eddy Gilmore

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP).—Any young lady whose shoes look too big for her is apt to find herself persona non grata next Tuesday if she gets too close to the big glass jar from which the capsule-encased draft numbers are drawn.

A not-too trim pair of milady's slippers all but caused a mixup in the last draft.

Not much has been said about it, but it happened this way:
All day long and far into the night little and big numbers representing men were drawn from the jar.

One of those whose duties required her presence was a young government employe whose name might as well go unmentioned because, for one thing, her shoes were too big for her.

She was very tired when she got home to her room that night.

Capsule In Shoe
She kicked off a shoe and what rolled out?

Horror! One of the draft capsules. Inside was a piece of paper bearing one of the tell-tale numbers.

Badly frightened, she got to a telephone and bared her predicament to a general.

"Get a cab," he ordered, "and come back down."

Believing she might have upset the whole draft, she handed over the capsule.

The authorities decided there was only one thing to do. They palmed the capsule and slipped it back into the bowl, and no one at that time was any the wiser.

Historians fail to record what they had to say privately on the subject of that young lady's shoes.

Grand Jury Adjourns After 5 Indictments

The Midland county grand jury adjourned yesterday for the present court term, unless called back this week by District Judge Cecil Collins, after returning five indictments against four persons. Two of the indictments charged embezzlement. The other three bills were not announced.

Trials of those indicted will be heard during the February term of district court.

"strongly escorted by cruisers and destroyers" in the southern breaches of the Red Sea, near the Gulf of Aden.
"Despite violent fire from the enemy cruisers and destroyers," the Italian communique asserted, the smaller Fascist craft darted in to the attack until dawn, when the British cruiser "entering within range of action of naval coast defense batteries was quickly caught in effective fire."

Forced To Retreat
The communique said the cruiser, badly hit, was "forced to retreat slowly" and was later seen stopped off the coast in serious difficulties while other English warships hastened to her aid.

Low-lying fog over London and "ceiling zero" mist over German bomber bases across the channel hampered overnight raiding forays, but Nazi warplanes resumed the attack on London shortly after noon today.

From the high chalk cliffs of Dover and German emplacements in France, long-range guns thundered in a duel, hurling shell after shell across the narrow strait.

Another RAF raider attacked a German convoy off the French coast, the air ministry said, disabling at least one vessel. Other squadrons bombed wharves, warehouses and a ship at German-held Boulogne.

Still other objective hit included a synthetic oil plant at Reisholz, a railroad yard at Dusseldorf, and an airfield at Stade "and various industrial objectives."

Has Quiet Night
London had one of its quietest nights in six weeks, although the Germans reported their night raiders had bombed the empire capital again, attacking Birmingham and Coventry, and started "exceptionally large fires" at Liverpool.

Berlin's 4,000,000 slept through a night without alarm, but Nazi officials sped preparations to remove children from the German capital, German railways planned to run 75 special trains between now and Oct. 31 to take children from Berlin to safer areas, especially western Germany.

Today's "invasion weather": Seas calm in Strait of Dover; week-long mist began to lift under bright sun.

Tokyo diplomatic circles gave credence to a report that negotiations soon to be conducted between Japan and Soviet Russia to supplement the Japan-Germany-Italy alliance would be based upon a plan to partition the northwest territories of China to create buffer states between them.

Defense Prices Will Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP).—A broad investigation of alleged "price chisling" on materials for the defense construction program, was announced today.

Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont) disclosed that a Senate interstate commerce subcommittee, with the cooperation of the national defense commission and the department of justice, would scrutinize the price field carefully and also inquire into the reasons for any "bottle-necks" that might develop to hamper the defense program.

Broad Inquiry
"This investigation will be broad enough to go into any phase of the defense program, but particular attention will be paid to reports that extortionate prices have been charged to the government in some instances," the Montana Senator told reporters.

"We don't want the same thing to take place that happened during the last war, when there were charges and counter charges that some people were taking advantage of the war to build up great fortunes."

Watts Says Permian Basin Association Has Good Program

Allen Watts, prominent Midland oil man, in an interview today added his endorsement to the program of the Permian Basin Association.

"We who have actively watched the formation and the steady building of the Permian Basin Association have great hopes for its success," Watts said. "I know of no other organization anywhere having a more complete and sensible program for the benefit of the oil producer, the land owner and the general business man."

"Certainly everyone who makes his living in West Texas should be a member of this organization. Its broad and active program on taxation, legislation and proration deserves support. In the Midland campaign for members which begins next Tuesday, I urge everyone to give their best consideration to affiliation."

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

It has come at last—one more intricacy to be mastered on the road to beauty that is made-by-woman. That is making up to harmonize with the jewels which high-light madame's costume. And fie upon the lazy creature who is willing to wear her ruby lipstick, rouge, nail polish and other cosmetics with her collection of emeralds! It must not be done—not when there's stop red lipstick, nail polish, rouge, emerald eye shade, rose beige powder and other cosmetics keyed to the brilliance of her emeralds!

A famous beauty specialist is specializing in makeup to accent and harmonize with the jewels which are so popular this season. Matched to real stones, she has worked out a complete list of make up necessities to wear with the various ensembles. She has half a dozen of these ensembles including one each for rubies, sapphires, topazes, emeralds, aquamarines, and amethysts.

For the woman who wants to experiment but does not care to use the complete ensembles, packages of the jewel nail polish and a tiny lipstick to match are available at a modest price.

A frock which combines a plaid skirt in green and navy with a long-sleeved navy blouse repeats the plaid in a three-cornered plaid shawl slung carelessly—and effectively about the throat line.

Eye-catching items: Heart motifs as seen in pockets on blouses and aprons; added quilted satin in soft rose-pinks and greens make luxurious-looking handkerchief and glove cases for the dainty bedroom; clusters of five packets hold foamy bath powders—enough for five delightful baths. Very inexpensive little luxuries.

Wool
BOSTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—U. S. Dept. Agr.—Trading in domestic wools was slower today than last week. Scattered sales were being closed and prices realized on these sales were very firm. Around $1.05, scoured basis, could be readily obtained for good French combing length, graded fine territory wools, but holders were mostly inclined to adhere to asking prices above this level. Around 45 cents, in the grease, has been obtained for grade five Delaine, bright fleece wool.

Steels, Specialties Boost Stock Market
NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP).—Buyers liked steels and selected industrial specialties among today's tocks and the result was a much better looking market.

The metals came out after a hesitant start and gains for favorites ranged from fractions to a point or so in fairly active trading in the forenoon. There was a subsequent let-down in volume and prices with further return in the final hour.

Transfers for the full session approximated 500,000 shares.

A little more political optimism in financial quarters, brokers said, was responsible for some short covering and reinstatement of modest investment positions.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22 (AP)—The National Prison Congress was given an "old-fashioned" recipe today for keeping the girls out of penal institutions.

Taubert Swab-Line Breaks
Swabbing through 2-inch tubing was slated to be resumed at 9:30 a.m. today in Taubert, McKee & Siemoneit No. 1 Mrs. V. W. Crockett, northern Pecos County Ordovician prospect. Yesterday operators displaced rotary mud with clear water by circulating for two hours.

They then swabbed 3,000 feet of water out of the hole, but swabline pulled out of socket at 10:30 p.m., necessitating pulling of tubing to recover swab.

Circulating water was said to be showing a slight rainbow of oil. It was thought probably in most circles, however, that heavy rotary mud had not been thoroughly washed out of porous, oily sand logged from 5,270-80 feet in the Simpson, middle Ordovician, horizon. Total depth of the well is 5,293 feet in Simpson shaley lime.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 W. T. Shearer et al, showing for one-quarter mile northwest extension of Ellenburger, lower Ellenburger, production in the Apco plug from 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 4,699 feet with 190 sacks. It topped the Ellenburger at 4,696 feet, cored pay from that point to 4,716, and is bottomed in dolomite at 4,719 feet.

Whisnant Heads For Contract
Forest announced it will drill to contract depth of 5,500 feet in its No. 1 A. C. Whisnant, southeastern Yoakum County wildcat a mile and a half north of the discovery pump in the Waples Patter area. Cores from 5,310-69 feet were fully recovered and showed some oil staining but only scant porosity. Bottom four feet of last core, from 5,354-69, were believed to have carried sulphur water. No test will be made of the oil stained zones. The well, this morning was drilling ahead below 5,369 feet.

Osage Drilling Company, Inc. No. 4 University, in the Emma plug of southern Andrews County, established daily potential of 1,297.20 barrels after acidizing with 1,500 gallons of lime from 4,230 to 4,304 feet. Oil is 34.2-gravity and gas-oil ratio 737-1.

allowables," he added.

Should a statewide hearing to consider inequities among fields be called, as the company advocated, the Humble would be prepared to name "new firm nominations for all fields," Baker stated.

Increased allowables for Anahuac, Hastings, Webster and Thompson fields were justified, not only because of inequities, but because of increased bottomhole pressures, he continued.

Asked by Commissioner Jerry Sadler if, on the basis of reserves, Texas should have a larger share of the nation's market, Baker replied affirmatively, but stuck to his declaration the state production should be reduced.

He said the estimate of market demand by the Federal Bureau of Mines had been "high," as indicated by increasing stocks.
