Midland County To Furnish Four First Call Men

Selective Headquarters Announce Draft Boards' Quotas For Nov. 19-26

AUSTIN, Nov. 7 (AP)—The first call on Texas' 351 local draft boards for the actual number of Class 1-A selectees each will be required to furnish to complete the state's quota of 1,573 men during the period Nov. 19 to 26 was issued by the state selective service headquarters today.

General J. Watt Page, state director of selective service, explained that all calls would be made by period and staggered in order that five area induction stations would not receive more than the maximum number of men who would be accommodated conveniently.

To Post Lists
Local boards were instructed to post lists of selected men in public places or near offices of the boards and to notify each man called for induction individually.

When a local board has selected registrants to fill its quota call, it will appoint a leader of the group and one or more assistant leaders, chosen on the basis of experience, character and personality, and they will have the authority to deliver the groups to induction stations.

Tells Welcoming Throng Capital Best Metropolis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt, first man in history to be selected for 12 years in the White House, told a welcoming throng of thousands today that he and the First Lady liked farm life, but that of all the cities in the country they would rather live in Washington, D. C.

He made the statement with a laugh in a talk to a crowd which thronged the plaza outside Union Station upon his arrival from Hyde Park, N. Y.

The Chief Executive, fresh from his third term election triumph, thanked "my old friends of Washington" for their reception and added: "It isn't as if we (himself and Mrs. Roosevelt) were new people. Your turning out to see us means that we are getting on pretty well."

Both Are Happy.
"And you're very happy, both of us, to be back here for a little bit longer."

"You all know how very much we like farm life, but of all the cities we would rather live in Washington, D. C., than any place else."

Henry A. Wallace, vice president-elect, and Mrs. Roosevelt rode with the President in his open car through throngs that lined the way to the White House.

Captain E. A. Sweeney of the district fire department estimated that 50,000 to 60,000 persons were gathered on the station plaza alone.

Crush of Business.
With the last tardy returns still dribbling in, Mr. Roosevelt had a multitude of affairs awaiting his attention. Problems of foreign policy, plans for greater assistance to Britain, and defense program details all promised to shove quickly into the background the election, its interests and controversies.

On these major questions the Chief Executive was receiving an increasing number of assurances of cooperation and support from the ranks of his erstwhile political foes.

To implement these assurances, a post-election keynote of national unity sounded in every section of the country.

Morgenthau Will Ask Congress For Debt Limit Hike

Wants Ceiling Raised To Sixty Billions For Arms Deficits To 1942

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today that he would ask Congress to increase the national debt limit to 60 or 65 billion dollars to care for possible deficits up to June 30, 1942.

Announcing this at a press conference, Morgenthau told reporters: "We've just begun to rearm."

The treasury chief said also that Congress might be asked at the present session to make available for general financing the $4,000,000,000 which it authorized for special defense borrowing. That sum would be included in the 15 to 20 billions which Morgenthau said might be needed during the next fiscal year. The present debt limit, with this $4,000,000,000 included, is $49,000,000,000.

No Cash Payments.
Asked whether it was conceivable that government expenditures could be put on a "pay as you go" basis, Morgenthau replied "I don't think it's possible."

The secretary said that with the old $45,000,000,000 debt limit "practically reached" the treasury found itself "in a rather difficult position."

He added that it would be "very helpful" if Congress lifted immediately the restrictions which it put on the $4,000,000,000 additional debt authorization before January 1.

Light Rains In Area Of Midland

Rain that fell in a light drizzle early this morning had increased at 2 p. m. to a heavier fall and totaled .06, the Reporter-Telegram gauge showed.

Moisture as far east as Sweetwater was reported by the Texas Pacific railroad with rain moving eastward, station dispatchers said.

Reports reached here from outlying sections, indicating that drizzling rainfall was falling over a wide area, although it had not amounted to downpours.

Rain West Of Here
The Kyle ranch north of Pecos had a slow precipitation, and it was reported that much of the territory west of Midland was getting soaked.

Sam Hurt, ranching north of Odessa, said the drizzle began at his headquarters early and increased during the morning.

Sam Preston reported slow precipitation at his ranch southeast of Midland.

The Texas & Pacific Railway Co. said the moisture did not extend beyond Abilene on the east but was more general to the west.

South America Sets Forth On Extensive Pan-American Plans

By The Associated Press.
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 7.—South America set to work today on a widespread program of Inter-American cooperation which many sources believed would result in a strong common front linking the Americas defensively and economically.

With the possible exception of Brazil, the South American nations have been "marking time" on vital Pan American problems of economics and defense pending the presidential election in the United States, but they regarded President Roosevelt's re-election as a "go-ahead" signal.

Argentina Hesitant
Hesitation to make any commitments earlier was particularly noticeable in Argentina, a key nation in whatever cooperation scheme may be worked out to offset economic hardships resulting from war and the threat of a totalitarian spread to the new world.

This country is known to be facing a severe shortage of foreign exchange due to the war and is anxious to obtain major credits from the United States and find increased export markets.

More GOP Senators Than In Six Years
WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP).—A resurgent tide of middlewestern votes which ran counter to the national Democratic trend carried Republicans today toward a six-year high point of 28 seats in the new Senate.

That meant four more places than they now hold but was far below the Democratic total of 66.

Yes, 'Twas a Warm Election

With the temperature hovering in the middle 70's, bathing beauties and life guards at Miami Beach, Fla., took time off from surf splashing to cast votes in the presidential election. Here they are having names checked before going inside to vote.

Perkins Is Speaker At High School's Program

"We, in America, have come to appreciate a free country, with free speech, free press, and religious tolerance, and we must ever be ready to preserve and defend it," Col. John Perkins, representing the American Legion, told Midland high school students in an Armistice assembly program this morning.

"America is one of two great democracies still existent today; we must forget political differences, we must strive for success in our free country. Ours is a disciplined democracy with respect for the rights of individuals," Perkins said.

"I have great respect and confidence in America, when she knows her job to do, when a thing must be done, when patriotism is aroused. So whether your job is in the shop, on the farm, or on the battlefield, do it well, to preserve this peace, liberty, and justice, which we so proudly enjoy."

The program at the high school included a skit, directed by J. C. Moore in which six students interpreted the preamble to the Constitution of the United States. Students were: Ken Williams, Tad Crane, Cletas Hines, Foster Hedrick, Ernest Allen, and Carolyn Oates.

Ex-Service Men Attend
Ex-service men attended the assembly in a body, were seated on a platform, and introduced, County Judge E. H. Barron spoke briefly.

Other program numbers included songs, "Star Spangled Banner" and "God Bless America," by the assembly. Invocation was recitation of the 100th Psalm, and Lord's Prayer by the assembly. Mrs. De Lo Douglas sang, "I Am An American." Mrs. Nancy Richey Ranson of Dallas read a poem. The student body recited "Love of Country," as a choral reading.

School programs at other buildings this week include: John M. Cowden junior high school, 8:30 a. m. tomorrow; Address of welcome, by Bill Shaw;

Ickes Resignation Submitted To FDR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Secretary Ickes submitted his resignation to President Roosevelt today offering to step out of his Interior Department post when and if the White House chooses to accept it.

Ickes told his press conference he rejoiced in Mr. Roosevelt's re-election and in offering to resign a free hand should he desire to make a cabinet change.

Ickes acted similarly after the president's re-election in 1936, as is customary, but not all his colleagues in the cabinet followed suit.

He said he believed that all presidential appointive officials should do as he had.

Urges Red Army To Be Vigilant

MOSCOW, Nov. 7 (AP)—Defense Commissar Semeon Timoshenko urged the Red army to display "maximum vigilance in an exceptionally alarming international situation" as Moscow turned over its Red square today to the army for a review marking the 23rd anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Marshal Timoshenko took advantage of the anniversary to show publicly for the first time how Soviet Russia has built up her armed forces under his six-month regime at a time when no other large European nations have been at war.

Continues Neutrality
The Moscow Soviet at a meeting last night issued a statement declaring Russia's policy to be continued neutrality and armed vigilance.

"True to her policy of peace and neutrality," the statement said, "the U. S. S. R. will not participate in war. We must remember the international situation is full of surprises. Therefore, as (Joseph) Stalin has said, we must keep the entire nation in a state of military preparedness."

President Michael Kalinin in a lengthy address at the meeting warned that "the present international situation does not allow us to remain impartial onlookers. x x x"

Governor Races May Favor Republicans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP).—Vote totals pointed today to a possible net Republican gain of one governorship as late tabulations of Tuesday's record balloting showed a shift in party control of ten state administrations, with only two of 33 gubernatorial races still in doubt.

Republicans marked up five victories in previous Democratic territory—Delaware, Illinois, Missouri, Montana, and Nebraska—in electing 14 governors Tuesday. They also won in Maine in September to bring this year's total to 15.

Democrats took four governorships—Connecticut, Idaho, Michigan and Rhode Island—away from the opposing party in electing 17 state executives.

Mud And Water Defer Gauging Of Simpson Discovery Producer

Official gauging of Taubert, McKee & Siemoneit No. 1 Mrs. V. W. Crockett, Ordovician pool opener in Northern Pecos County, was delayed this morning when the well flowed drilling mud and circulating water into separator. ### Fascist Troops Progress Beyond Kalamas River On Battlefield In Eleven-Day War With Greek State

Siege Of Koritzza Reaches Critical Phases Where 30,000 Soldiers Reportedly Trapped, Military Experts Discount Wednesday Rumor

By The Associated Press.
Italy's long-expected "big push" in the 11-day-old war with Greece was reported under way today as the Italian high command said Fascist divisions had advanced beyond the Kalamas river on the northwest battlefield.

The Italian invaders had reached the river eight days ago in their thrust from Albania.

Dispatches from the northeast front said the siege of Koritzza, key Italian supply base 10 miles inside Albania, where 30,000 Fascist troops have been reported "trapped," appeared to be reaching a critical phase.

Report Of Capture.
Unconfirmed frontier advices reaching Salonika yesterday said Greek mountain forces, swarming down from heights around the city, had entered Koritzza and captured thousands of Italian prisoners.

(Military experts discounted the reports, however, pointing out that the Greeks would be in a more favorable position by clinging to the mountains—beyond reach of Italian mechanized forces.)

Both sides were reported rushing reinforcements to the Koritzza sector, with the Greeks still holding the heights above the Albanian town of Bigliste, east of Koritzza, despite strong Italian counter-attacks.

A decisive battle, it was said, appeared imminent.

Bomb Albanian Towns
Greek and British warplanes bombed Koritzza and Argirocastro, another Albanian town, while Italian bombers smashed at the Greek town of Philorina with reported heavy casualties ensuing.

A tactic communique by Premier Mussolini's high command disclosed the start of the "big push."

"The Kalamas river has been left behind by our divisions. Our air force has aided land operations with machine-gunning operations, hitting enemy works along the Ioannina-Kalabaki highway, in the Philorina zone and near Lake Presba."

"The Kalamas river roughly parallels the Albanian border from five to 15 miles inside Greece, in the northwest."

Belgrade dispatches said that Italian troops had made "small advances" along the Greek west coast, and that their columns were bombed by Greek planes.

Greece's high command acknowledged that Greek forces "retreated slightly" yesterday at the extreme lower (western) end of the 100-mile battlefield, in the Epirus sector along the Ionian Sea.

Yugoslavia Firm
Neutral Yugoslavia took a sharper stronger stand in the Balkan conflict with a government warning it would answer with "armed force" any repetition of attacks on Yugoslav territory—such as the bombing of Bitolj by unidentified foreign planes Tuesday.

In the battle of Britain, Nazi warplanes gave London's subway-sleeping millions their longest night attack of the war, and in Southampton rescue squads still dug this morning for the dead and living entombed in the ruins of many buildings.

Students and teachers were buried under the rubble of a Southampton school smashed by three German bombs, and clerks and typists were trapped under a demolished row of office buildings.

From the sound of some of the RAF's motors, British observers said they were sure the Italians were taking an increasingly large part in the assaults upon Britain.

Guns And Butter

Germany's military preparedness was achieved at direct cost to civilian life. The famous "guns-instead-of-butter" phrase well described the situation. With capacity to produce only a limited number of things, civilian life had to be content with less when military preparedness demanded the lion's share.

The United States is in many respects more fortunate. There is good reason to believe that in many instances we shall be able to produce what is needed for military purposes without greatly cutting down normal civilian use. Steel is an example.

Walter S. Tower, president of the Iron and Steel Institute, is authority for the statement that present producing capacity of the iron and steel industry is ample to meet all essential needs now in sight, and that without any great amount of plant expansion.

Naturally, defense orders must have the first call, and so some civilian orders may be delayed. But Tower believes the industry can actually produce all the steel that can be used for defense, and still have plenty for automobiles, construction, and the customary needs of peace.

Tower feels that urgent defense needs would be more quickly and effectively met by giving defense the right of way, and temporarily curtailing civilian supplies, than by rushing into construction of additional plants, which would probably take a year or so to become effective. This problem will have to work out as we go along, but after-war deflation would be less dangerous if undue expansion can be avoided.

The Beam In Our Own Eye

We are appalled at the slaughter of civilians in Europe by indiscriminate bombing. How many men, women and children have been snuffed out in London and Berlin while going about their daily tasks, we do not know, though figures released from both countries show the toll in mounting thousands.

Meanwhile, the death toll of our own streets and roads has also mounted, in the first nine months of this year, to 23,830. That is 1500 more than in the same period last year, the National Safety Council reports.

The man, woman, or child suddenly struck down on the highway without warning is just as dead as the bomb victim; the sorrow of their family and friends is just as great; the loss to the country as telling. And however useless war may be, it is no more useless than the death we permit to stalk our streets.

The season of slippery pavements and rain-dimmed windshields is upon us. Don't let death thumb a ride in your car!

The best way to find your place in the sun is to get out and shine for yourself.

GOAL TO GO

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Buck talks the team out of their strike, sends Bill to practice. Bill tries one of his father's plays and the scrub team clicks. Landis challenges him to teach the scrubs all he wants to. That night Bullethead Peskin brings Dot Skelton to the drug store, bosses Bill around. Dot likes Bill. Drowsy Peters suggests Bill is overlooking a bet. Landis won't last, and if Bill is in solid with the Skeltons...

Chapter IV

BILL MENTOR, in football togs, moved slowly toward the practice field. Deep in thought, he was for once in his life deaf to the seductive pangs of toe against leather. Ten days had passed since Drowsy dropped the hint about Dot Skelton, but it clung to his mind like a burr on a piece of wool. "Wake up, Bill." He started guiltily at the sound of Helen's voice. He felt somehow that even thinking of Dot made him disloyal to Helen. Besides, she had a darn queer habit of guessing what was on his mind. Helen fell into step with him. "Am I poison, Bill?" "Heck no, Helen," Bill said, a little gruffly. "I've been putting in overtime, so Old Man Peskin'll let me off for the dance." "Oh, Bill, I'm so glad!" Helen's eyes glowed. "This will be the first time I've ever gone to dance with someone that I... well, kind of like."

"It makes a difference," Bill agreed. "I never cared much for dancing, but..." "What made you change?" Helen asked shyly. "Why, you did—" Bill broke off, flushing. "That's nice, Bill," she laughed. "I may have a surprise for you the night of the dance." "Oh, swell," Bill said, and changed the subject abruptly to football. "Well, we finally won a game Saturday." "Westerburg?" Helen scoffed. "And just by a field goal. If that's the best we can do against a little weak team, what'll happen when we meet Clayton?" "Slaughter," Bill said gloomily. "I'll bet Landis is fit to be tied."

LANDIS was. They could hear his voice as he stomped along the sidelines bellowing at his boys. Catching sight of Bill, he scowled. "Well, Mentor, still teaching the scrubs to be All-Americans?" "No, sir, but we've got some new plays ready to roll. You said you'd like a chance to have the varsity stop them."

Bill spoke quietly, without challenge, but his words sent a rush of crimson to Landis' face. For the first time he appeared to realize that his taunt had been taken sincerely, and that now it was too late to back out. "I meant what I said, Mentor," he snapped. Then, turning to the varsity squad: "Get in there and smear this play wide open!"

In the huddle Bill said earnestly, "Let's make these good fellows. We know the plays will work, but we've got to prove it to Coach. If we do he may let the varsity use 'em. Let's go!" The play was simple, yet employed a brand of deception suitable to young teams. The ball came to a big scrub back. Bill cut behind him, faked a grab at the ball. Then, running together, the two sliced off tackle. Good work by the other faking back had made it appear that the play was going in another direction. Only the defensive half back stayed on the play. Bill roll-blocked him as he dived for the ball carrier. Landis blew his whistle sharply.

SILENCE hung over the field a minute. The varsity stood in a sheepish group. To a man, the scrubs tried to hide the triumph that lighted their faces. Bill Mentor was surprised. Buck's training told him that the play shouldn't have clicked so easily. He sensed that it wasn't the fault of the varsity boys, but of their defensive training.

Coach Landis strode across the field toward Bill. The tiny network of veins on his nose flamed. "Mentor," he said, "you're too big for your britches." "You wanted me to show the scrubs—" "I don't want them learning circus plays," he raged. "You're— He checked himself, as if realizing that his anger carried him too far. "So long as I'm coach, Mentor, I'll run the show. You're a disrupting influence. I've let you practice with the squad because I felt sorry for you. I'm through being soft. Don't let me catch you around this field again."

"I'm sorry, Coach. You see, I thought you wanted me to—" "Don't talk back!" Landis shouted. Bill dug his cleats into the ground, bit down an angry retort. Buck had told the fellows to behave like soldiers. Now it was his turn to take orders and not whine. He started toward the sidelines, shoulders erect. Passing the varsity squad he said, "I didn't mean to show off, fellows. I'm sorry!" Eleven husky boys grinned at Bill. "Forget it, guy," Don Hart said. "We're not sore." Then, in a whisper, "It was a darn good play; tell Buck we said so."

BILL changed clothes slowly. He wrapped Buck's uniform in a big bundle. Where his heart should have been, there was sick, empty feeling. No more football ever. In another year he'd be through school and looking for a steady job. Bill Mentor realized sharply just how much these sandwiched-in practice sessions meant to him.

That night, Bill tried to get the bundle in without letting Buck see it, but the older man's keen eyes noted the shape of the package. "That looks suspiciously like a football uniform, Bill. Anything wrong?" "Lying to Buck was out of the question," Bill said dully. "Landis booted me off the field today."

The stolen car was recovered by state police near Lubbock. It had been turned over and wrecked.

She waived a preliminary hearing on a murder charge and was admitted to $7,500 bail. Parker formerly worked on Mrs. Holt's 10,000 acre ranch near Gafford.

Hey, Mind Your Manners, Sonny

It's the worst kind of error in protocol for any one except the King to walk in front of the Queen. But this small Londoner was so fascinated by the cameraman, he plumb forgot about etiquette. Queen Elizabeth and her escort understood, and smiled good-naturedly at the mistake.

Pay Tribute To Judge Alexander

WACO, Nov. 7 (AP)—Texas lawyers and judicial leaders today paid tribute to James Patterson Alexander, the new Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, in ceremonies at Baylor University.

Justice Alexander's career began in a modest law office at Moody, Tex., in 1908, and he advanced through county, district and appellate judgeships to the highest judicial post at the disposal of the Texas electorate.

The new Chief Justice was honored in the chapel service of Baylor University, in whose law school he has taught continuously since its establishment in 1920. President Pat M. Neff, former governor, presided.

Justices On Hand

Justices of the Texas Supreme Court were on hand to welcome Alexander to their number. They included Chief Justice W. F. Moore and Associate Justices Richard Critz and John N. Sharp and three from each of the commissions of appeals. Members of the Waco Court of Civil Appeals, the District Judges residing in Waco and scores of Texas lawyers also were counted.

"It is a tribute to Democracy," W. W. Naman, a Waco attorney, said, "for a man to come up from the ranks to the most exalted judicial office in Texas, as Jim Pat Alexander has done. He has achieved through his own efforts, and because of his experiences in the classroom and at the bar his sympathies are deep and wide."

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett

EVERY wife knows—whether she puts the knowledge to use or not—just how to meet a tired husband when he comes home at night.

She should be wearing a clean dress, fresh lipstick, and a nicely brushed hair-do. Also a cheerful smile—even though her day has been an eight-hour nightmare.

And instead of starting in with, "I don't know how I lived through this day," she just keeps quiet and gives her husband a chance to tell how awful his day was.

Yes, women know how they are supposed to greet their returning husbands. But why hasn't anybody every told husbands how to behave when they come home to their families at night?

Maybe the easy way would be to tell them how not to behave. All right. Husbands, take heed.

Don't come home and say "What have you got for dinner?" and when you find out, say with disappointment, "Oh, that's what I had for lunch."

Don't hide behind a newspaper and refuse to talk when you know your wife hasn't had a word all day long with anyone but an eighteen-month-old baby and the butcher.

Don't kick because you have to go out, if you agreed to the plan when your wife asked you about it in the morning.

LEND A HAND WITH DISHES

DON'T act put upon if you are asked to do some small repair job about the house.

Don't eat a good dinner and fail to praise it.

If it isn't so good, restrain your impulse to growl.

And don't if your wife looks tired and you suspect she's had a hard day, sit comfortably in your favorite chair while she does the dishes alone.

Midland Audience Hears Dallas Woman Discuss Trip To Scandinavia On Eve Of Outbreak Of World War II

"It is the most wonderful thing in the world to be an American citizen," Nancy Richey Ranson, foreign correspondent, traveler, and author, told a Midland audience Wednesday night at the Crystal Ballroom in concluding a lecture on her trip to the Scandinavian countries just before the outbreak of the war in 1939.

She emphasized the belief in peace held by some of the countries she visited, even on the eve of the outbreak of hostilities. Although she declared that she is a travel writer and not a political writer, and her lecture last night dealt to a large extent with the countries, the people, and the social customs she encountered on her five months' trip, she gave illuminating sidelights on the political situation in the late summer of 1939. Her article on Danzig was published in the Dallas News the day before that city was bombed. (It had been written several days earlier, of course).

She interviewed the High Commissioner of the League of Nations after he had talked with Hitler. His significant comment was "Negotiation is not in the spirit of Nazism." Danzig she saw Hitler's Youth Companies parading, marching like automatons, and singing in thin voices.

All through the Scandinavian countries, she observed the presence of Germans, a fact whose significance she did not realize at the time but which made the Fifth Column activities understandable in the light of later events.

The Mid-Summer Festival at Dalecarlia, a visit to the home of Hans Christian Andersen (known best in Denmark as Hans Andersen the poet and not as a writer of fairy tales), the privilege of seeing the Midnight Sun not just once but twice—these were some of the many interesting experiences recalled by the tall, quiet-voiced, pleasant Dallas woman who began her career as a newspaper writer and now has to her credit three books of poetry and a book of "Texas Wild Flower Legends," as well as numerous magazine articles.

She displayed a collection of souvenirs from her trip abroad including woodcarving, candlesticks, a sugar-sifting spoon, aprons, dolls, and other articles indicative of the life of the people.

By request, following the lecture, she read several of her poems. Mrs. Hal Peck, program chairman of the City-County Federation which sponsored Mrs. Ranson's visit, opened the meeting and introduced Mrs. James H. Goodman, who presented Mrs. Ranson. She paid tribute to the speaker's ability and success in her work.

Bulldogs Hit Hard With Coach In Line

Midland's Bulldogs took another whirl yesterday at concerted workouts as they shouted a warning to Lamesa's fast-improving Tornados against whom the former's title hopes will be at stake tomorrow.

Coach Taylor took a defensive slot, but his regulars delighted in crossing him up and hustled to do it. Maybe that was the psychology of it.

It was a dummy scrimmage for the Bulldogs all afternoon in a spirited "contact" practice for Friday's nocturnal set-to with the Lamesans.

Primed For White

If West Texans think the Bulldogs are ignorant of a boy named White, who covets around in a Tornado uniform, and is reputedly a terror on end sweeps, they should peep behind the bars of the Bulldogs' practice.

Coach Taylor said his boys would taper off today and a light drill was planned. "We will go to Lamesa Friday morning, and we will be ready," he asserted.

Lamesans Fared

Minus the services of first string center Rehders, plus a couple of other regulars, the purple and golds, despite a runner-up position in the title chase, have utmost respect for the Lamesans' strength.

Cold weather Friday may result in moving the game up to the afternoon. Tickets went on sale yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce office here. Reserved seats are available to Midland fans between the 40-yard lines in the south stands.

Crack Hardin-Simmons And Texas Tech Teams Play Out-State Foes

By The Associated Press

Texas minor conference and independent college football teams start down the stretch this week with two of their members boasting unbeaten records.

These are the two independents—Hardin-Simmons, undefeated and untied, and Texas Tech, unbeaten but once tied.

Hardin-Simmons and Tech head a bristling intersectional schedule this week with the Cowboys playing Loyola at Los Angeles and Tech meeting Centenary at Lubbock.

Comparison For Clubs

The tilts will offer a comparison of strength between Hardin-Simmons and Tech. The latter defeated the Lon Angeles school by three touchdowns early in the season. Hardin-Simmons nosed out Centenary by two points.

Two other intersectional games are scheduled with Texas Mines going to Fresno, Calif., to meet Fresno State and St. Mary's playing Oklahoma City University at San Antonio.

The Texas Conference has an important game carded at Brownwood, with Trinity playing Howard Payne. The latter is leading the race with four victories and no defeats. Trinity is tied for second place with three wins and one loss. The Tigers could climb into a first place tie with victory over Howard Payne.

UNCLE AND NEPHEW MAY OPPOSE EACH OTHER

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP).—The New York University-Franklin and Marshall football game Saturday is likely to bring an uncle and nephew into action against each other.

Joe Consagra, a substitute half-back for the Violets, is the uncle of Charles Consagra, a reserve back for the F. and M. Diplomats. Both spend their summers mining coal in Carbondale, Pa.

"LACH LACKS LITTLE"

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 7 (AP).—Down here at Duke, they are saying that "Lach lacks little."

What the folks mean is that Steve Lach has gained more than seven yards a try from scrimmage in 19 plays, averaged 41 yards with his punts, completed three out of six passes for 29 yards, received 16 tosses himself for gains amounting to 230 yards and on defense hasn't had a first down made against the end of the line he backs up.

Mexican Minister To Retire With Cardenas

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 7 (AP).—General Eduardo Hay, 63-year-old minister of foreign affairs, said today he is "retiring to private life for good" on Dec. 1st, when President Cardenas' term expires.

Main problems General Hay has had to face during his six-year tenure of office, have been the controversies arising from the expropriation of foreign oil companies and American owned land.

Martin Farmers Have Been Paid $136,000

STANTON, Nov. 7 (Special).—Martin county farmers are richer by $136,170.41 from parity checks received this year, Robert Anglin, secretary of the Martin County agricultural conservation association, said.

According to releases from the state office, almost $4,000,000 has been received by Texas farmers and ranchers co-operating in the 1940 program.

KILLED IN COLLISION

BEAUMONT, Nov. 7 (AP).—Andrew A. Singleton, Jr., 21-year-old shipyard welder, was killed last night when his car struck the side of a moving freight train. He was thrown across the rails. The accident happened as Singleton was driving to his home, just north of the city.

Many Backfield Greats To Show In Aggie Battle

By Felix R. McKnight

DALLAS, Nov. 7 (AP)—Not in the memory of Southwesterners, will there be such a congregation of backfield greats on one football field as those starting the classical Texas Aggie-Southern Methodist game here Saturday.

One all-American, several candidates, and all-conference material to waste will start moving with the kickoff.

Jarriin John Kimbrough, the Aggies' rumbunging fullback who stood out as the nation's best last season and is headed in the same direction again, is the headline—but there are others.

1. Marion Pugh, Aggie Quarterback: Overlooked, underrated and taken too much for granted. Leads the Southwest Conference with 4.38 yard average on 48 carries and is top passer with 554 average on 36 completions out of 65 attempts for 487 yards. Brains of the Aggies' robot machine.

2. Preston Johnson, SMU Fullback: One of the greatest punters in the nation. As a ball carrier has averaged 4.29 yards on 62 carries. A fine blocker, deadly defensive player.

3. Jim Thomason, Aggie Blocking Back: Acknowledged to be one of the best blockers and line-backers of all Southwest history. Now bobs up as a runner who has averaged close to eight yards on some 20 runs. Balance of the Aggie team.

4. Johnny Clement, SMU Halfback: Definitely the spark of the Methodist team. Time and again pulled the Mustangs out of the doldrums with bullet passes, high-stepping runs. Completed 20 of 47 passes for 292 yards.

Deaths In Football Continue To Decline

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 7 (AP).—A gridiron vital statistics expert reported today that deaths from football were on the decline for the fourth year in a row.

Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, record keeper for the American Football Coaches' and National Collegiate Athletic Associations, said that only eight deaths could be blamed on the game for the first half of the season.

The figure has shown a downward trend since 1937, said Eastwood, an associate professor of men's physical education at Purdue University.

Oklahoma Player In Scoring Lead

SEATTLE, Nov. 7 (AP).—Sophomore Jimmy Reynolds of Oklahoma A&M, is right back where he was four weeks ago — in first place among the nation's gridiron ground gaining leaders by the American Football Statistical Bureau today show that Reynolds turned full speed ahead to rise again to first in total offense—gains rushing and passing. His season total of 852 yards made him the leading rookie back of the year.

Statistics by, he replaced Michigan's Tom Harmon, leader the previous two weeks, both in total offense and as a "workhorse." Harmon was idle last Saturday but still ranks second with 833 yards.

147 Lugging Plays

Reynolds, tenth among the rushers, has packed the ball 147 times and thrown 56 passes for 293 total yards, comparing with the 1939 high at this point of 177 total offensive plays by Ernie Lain of Rice.

Johnny Knolla of Creighton, whose team lost to the Oklahoma Aggies, 20-14 last week, ranks third at 832—just a yard behind Harmon.

For the first time, one of the Cornell classy backs moves up among the elite when Hal McCullough jumped from 12th to fourth, with 805 yards. McCullough ranks second to Harmon in average yards per game, his 161 comparing with Harmon's 167.

Owen Price of Texas Mines again heads the punters with a 47.15 yard average on 26 punts. Jack Jennings of Oklahoma retains pass-snatching honors with 19 for 252 yards.

The Leaders Include

Total defense—Gil Salcedo, Texas Mines, 739; and Price, Texas Mines, 700.

Pass receiving—Phil Roach, Texas Christian, 16 for 134.

District Title Hinges Upon Game Between Greenville And Dallasans With Important Tilt In Amarillo

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Staff

Greenville's Lions, once Texas schoolboy's mightiest, return for another surge at glory tomorrow afternoon when they play Highland Park's Highlanders at Dallas in a game around which a district title hinges.

Greenville won the state crown in 1933 and went to the finals in 1935, but since then the Lions' fortunes have run low.

Tom Driscoll of Rice became the coach last year. His team didn't win a game but played four ties. This season it's taken four and lost three and at the present time is unbeaten in conference play.

Team On Up Again

Highland Park also is beating back after a lapse of a season from being a top contender.

This tilt is one of a dozen crucial battles over the state with the feature tussle coming on Armistice Day when Amarillo and Plainview, two of the three undefeated, untied teams in the Panhandle-Plains area, scrap it out at Amarillo.

Lubbock, the other club with a perfect record, plays an inter-district game with Austin of El Paso. In District 2, Graham and Quanah, tied with Wichita Falls for the lead, clash at Quanah while Wichita plays at Electra.

Ten Armistice Battles

There are 51 games on the week-end schedule with ten of them falling on the Armistice Day card. Forty-three of the tilts are conference affairs.

The schedule by districts includes:

1—MONDAY: Plainview at Amarillo (conference), Pampa at Borger (conference).

2—FRIDAY: Wichita Falls at Electra (conference), Burkburnett at Childress (conference), Graham at Quanah (conference), Olney at Vernon (conference).

3—FRIDAY: Midland at Lamesa (conference), Plainview at San Angelo at Big Spring (conference), Sweetwater at Odessa (conference).

4—FRIDAY: Bowie (El Paso) vs El Paso high (conference), Ysleta at Las Cruces, N. M.; SATURDAY: Lubbock at Austin (El Paso).

Sports Roundup

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP).—Cornell, at 1-10, will be the year's shortest-priced favorite against Yale Saturday . . . Just the same, the boys from Syracuse (who played both) say Georgetown would beat Cornell. And how's that for leaping on a bandwagon? . . . Only scar Joe Louis carries around was received when his brother crowned him with a nose during an argument in an Alabama cotton patch . . . Dick Harlow says Duke and Penn would be included on the "first ten" teams he named.

Hex Department

Ken Overlin believes not even the devil can jinx him . . . His first fight with Steve Beloise was Ken's 13th start in his 13th year of fighting—and all of you remember what darned near happened . . . Now, the re-match has been scheduled for December 13—which is only Friday the 13th!

People You Know

Chuck Collins, who played end at Notre Dame during the "Four Horsemen" era and later was head coach at North Carolina, is recovering from T. B. in Chicago . . . Give Hank Greenberg a nice hand for winning that most valuable player award . . . The football Giants have sent Gremmy Lansell, who carried Southern California to the Rose Bowl in 1938, back to the farm for seasoning.

Romance Dept.

Attention, Co-Eds: Love plays for Illinois; Speedlove for Utah; Loving for Illinois and Younglove for Washington . . . And Iowa State has a Darling, Centenary, and Angel, Rice, a Poses and Washington and Lee a Trueheart . . . Get going, sisters.

For Crying Out Loud

Those Arkansas Razorbacks take the cake. So far they've won every other game and have failed to score on the "even" Saturdays . . . Guess who's leading the drive to have Fritzie Zivic declared the sports figure who did the most to publicize Pittsburgh this year? That's right—Billy Conn . . . Mike Jacobs will present boxing rings to a half dozen military camps.

Democrats To Have Large House Margin

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Sharply reversing the Republican trend two years ago, late returns showed today that the Democrats would control the new House with an advantage of about 100 seats over the Republicans.

A tabulation of Tuesday's election, which falls two more years to the party's 10 consecutive years of House rule, showed this lineup: 263 Democrats, 162 Republicans, 3 Progressives, 1 Independent Democrat, 1 American Labor, 5 seats in doubt.

The present condition of the House is: 258 Democrats, 167 Republicans, 2 Progressives, 1 Farmer-Labor, 1 American Labor, 6 vacancies.

Democrats, including Chairman Andrew Jackson May of the military committee, were ahead in four of the districts still in dispute.
