By RAY MARTIN

This is the do-it-yourself age, and lack of experience or training in a certain field doesn't seem to stop most of the very young (and sometimes the oldsters, too) from tackling any job, big or little.

Of course the professional probably do a better job, but they've come out with so many of those do-it-yourself kits nowadays that, if you can read directions, you can practically work out even the most complicated projects.

Of course there was the time the missus and I decided to paper one wall in the living room, and afterwards were told by an expert that we had put the paper upside down. And there was the do-it-yourself house we once lived in that a fellow had built. The light switches were behind the doors, and all the closet doors bumped into other doors. But at least he saved a job of money that way — maybe as much as $50 or $60 by building the house himself.

And maybe because this is a do-it-yourself era folks feel no hesitation to offer advice on how to do any job. It's always been pretty much that way. Only the people with children hesitate to tell other parents how to raise their kids; the unwed or the childless couples usually know all the answers.

There was the time when our own daughter was in kindergarten and the unwed (very unwed) spinster lady was her teacher. One morning at Sunday school she asked them whether they drank coffee. Ours stuck up her hand. After Sunday School, this well-meaning woman pitty-patted straight up to ask with an indignant explosion: "What do you mean by letting that innocent child drink coffee?" We explained that it was a means of getting her to drink milk; we put two spoonfuls of coffee in a glass of milk — just enough to color it — and the daughter liked it.

She poo-phooed the idea: "Did you know it's the simplest thing in the world to get children to drink milk?" she came back; "All you have to do is put it in front of them and say, 'drink this' and they will."

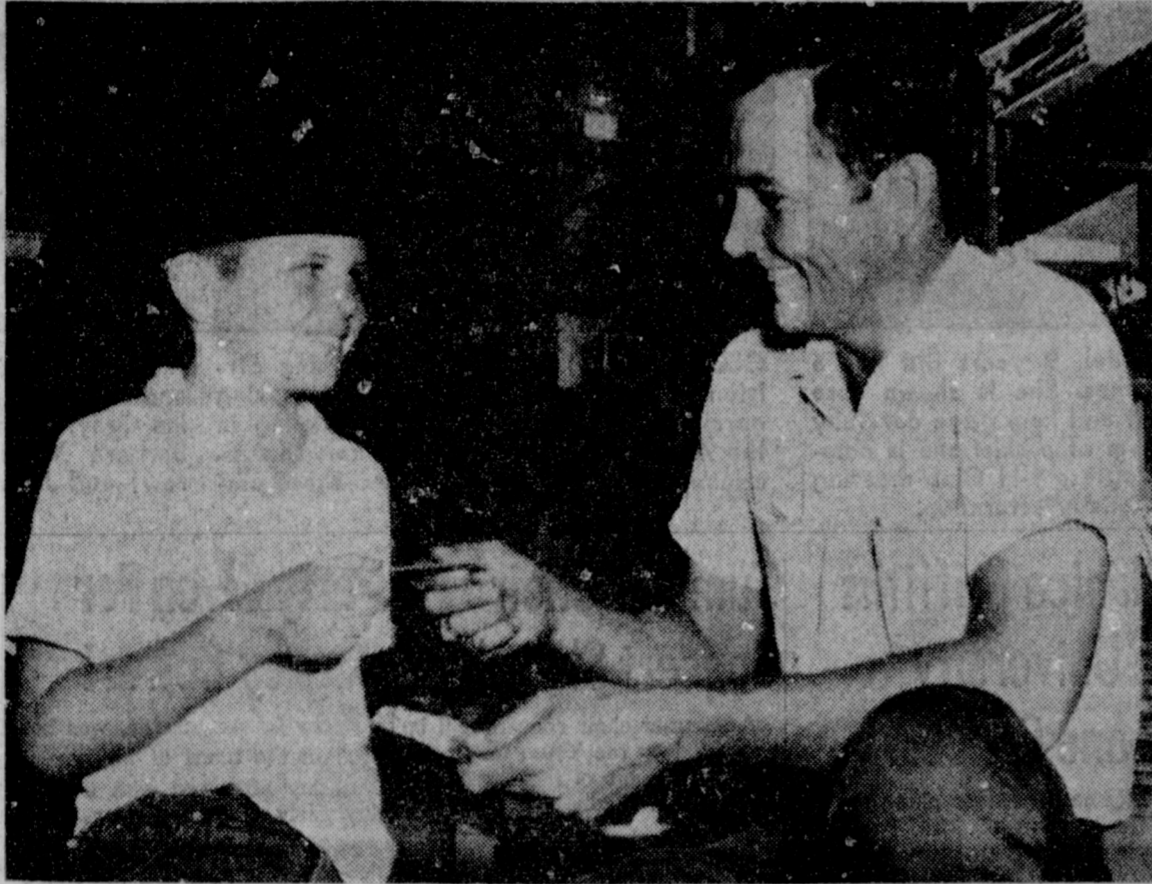

Or take committees. Nearly always the club's jobs are filled by men who have never bothered to clutter up their minds with what the committee is all about. Like publicity, for instance. Did you ever know a newsman on the publicity committee? Usually that job is headed by the club's banker, and the financial committee, in turn, is headed by the newsman.

Maybe it saves a lot of time that way. Since the committee chairmen don't know split beans from coffee about the subject, they don't worry about it and thus don't do anything about it.

The same thing is true of speakers. A farmer is seldom called on to speak on the care and control of grasshoppers. That subject is handed to the minister.

And the farm expert, instead, speaks on the subject of how to

BARGAIN RIDES — Glen Herndon, whose 11th birthday is coming up soon, gets his bargain book of rides — $2.50 worth for $1.50 — for the Muleshoe Fun Fiesta to be held next week. ## Fun Fiesta Ride Books Going Fast; Booths Still Available

Muleshoe Fun Fiesta is shaping up fast, and advance ticket sales are off to a whizzing start, Jaycee officials said Thursday.

Just six days before the big show opens at Boy Scout grounds on south Main. The event is sponsored by the Muleshoe Jaycees as a fund-raising project for the Bailey County Library.

Advance ticket sales of "Bargain" ride books are going good, Delbert Barry, chairman of that division, said Wednesday. One 14-year-old lad, for example, bought three of the bargain ride books, giving his own check in payment. The books offer 10 rides for $1.50 as compared with $2.50 for regular gate prices. Thus the buyer gets the rides for 15 cents each instead of the regular 25 cents.

Meantime, booth reservations were going at a lively clip; thirty are available to clubs and organizations as money-making projects. The booths themselves are supplied by the Sutton Imperian Shows, and professional help is given in operating the booths. However, the booths themselves must be operated by local folk.

Jay Spain, president of Jaycees and booth chairman of the Fiesta, said several good booths which would like to have a booth or two as a money-making project for their clubs, were asked to contact him at 7470 as soon as possible.

Judge Boone may be in Muleshoe the last of the week to hear civil cases, Young said, but no jury cases are slated. It will be necessary to draw new jury lists for the August term, it was explained.

Fourteen cases, five of them criminal cases had been slated for trial.

Criminal cases included: Burt B. Vernon, Jr., charged with giving a worthless check; John Edward Cusher, charged with murder and malice; Ira Chester charged in two cases with forgery and passing; and Gilbert Anguina and Leopoldo Anguina, Jr., charged with assault with intent to kill.

All these cases probably will be reset for trial next month when a new term of court is scheduled by Judge Boone.

Downtown Shooting, One Dead, Four Are Wounded

One man was killed and four others were wounded, two critically, in a Sunday afternoon downtown shooting here, the outgrowth of a feud that has been brewing for several months, between two Spanish-American families, officers said.

Dead is Pedro Mendoza, 32, struck once in the head and once in the back by the bullets from a "brand new" .38 calibre service revolver.

Ambrosio Rojas, 52, was being held in county jail here, charged with murder with malice, after being denied a bond at a preliminary hearing Monday before Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn.

He will await grand jury action, and if indicted will be tried at the August term of district court, it was indicated Wednesday.

Brigidia Salinas, 13, was critically wounded when she was struck in the neck by a bullet from Rojas' gun after he had fired on Mendoza. She was paralyzed from the neck down, and was taken to the Methodist Hospital Monday after first being taken to West Plains Hospital here.

Doctors here were informed Tuesday afternoon, however, that she had shown remarkable progress after undergoing surgery Tuesday morning to relieve pressure on the spinal cord. Dr. T. M. Slemmons said he was told that she had regained use of both her arms and legs.

Another one of Rojas' bullets tore its way into the hip and intestines of Laverio Aguirre, another bystander. Although listed by West Plains Hospital as still serious, he had shown "remarkable progress" Tuesday, doctors said. He underwent emergency surgery Sunday night.

Two other persons, Marcus Huerta and 2-year-old Harvey Salinas, were also wounded by Rojas, but were released after treatment.

All four of the wounded were bystanders.

Police Chief Carl Neely, who was among the first to reach the scene of the Sunday shooting, said Rojas surrendered to him in front of the Spanish-American store on Avenue B where the shooting had taken place.

He said Rojas was calmly "standing there waiting for me to arrest him."

He said Rojas told Neely "the gun is inside my belt." While Neely removed the gun, Patrolman James Freeman pinned Rojas' arms behind him.

"He offered no resistance at all," the chief said. Rojas had reloaded the gun, the chief said.

The Salinas girl was holding her 2-year-old brother, and was waiting for her sister to get off work in the store where the shooting occurred. Officers said that after Rojas had fired two bullets into Mendoza's body, he then turned the gun on bystanders, wounding four.

The chief said there had "been lots of hard feeling" between the two principals in the shooting; a knife and an attempted shoot-out earlier in the year had been

No Midge Yet, But Farm Alert Urged

While much of the broad West Texas expanse where grain sorghum is grown was fretting over the possibility of a major invasion of midge, here in Bailey County, the little insects were conspicuous by their absence.

Many organizations have joined in a move to "beat the midge to the draw" with informational meetings and warning releases. Grain Sorghum Producers Association is among the leading organizations urging farmers to be on the alert for the insect which can devastate an area quickly once midge moves in.

GSPA says: "The fact that research reports indicate that

'Cool' Muleshoe Still Coolest in Area

The story below was written a few hours too early; it says that 100-degree temperatures haven't been recorded so far this year. That was up to Tuesday noon. But Tuesday afternoon, the record fell. The official mercury reading pushed up to the century mark.

Even so, it's still the "coolest" town in this area. While the temperature climbed to 100 here, most area towns went beyond that mark. Even Clovis, only 30 miles away, reached 101. Nevertheless:

While much of West Texas sweltered in century-plus marks with some towns recording as high as 106 degrees, Muleshoe continued to be the "cool" spot of the Plains; the temperature up to Tuesday still was under the 100-degree mark, according to records of R. J. Klump, official U. S. weather observer.

"Of course we have missed it by only one degree," Klump said, midge is here earlier, building up faster and in larger numbers than ever before, has set farm information machinery in full swing.

The GSPA release continues: Educational institutions, farm organizations and agricultural service firms have all rallied to "getting out information on the midge". The Grain Sorghum Producers Association itself has this week distributed over 2000 posters on identifying and controlling the midge; to elevators, banks, coffee houses and other public places where farmers meet.

Former Muleshoe Resident Tells Something of Life in Anchorage

Mrs. John Herring and children, Eileen, Kevin, Neil Leslie and Danny, Anchorage, Alaska, are in Muleshoe visiting with friends and relatives. They are guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. "Red" Glasscock.

Mrs. Herring the former Jackie Lawler and her family have made their home in Anchorage for the past 12 years and this is their first trip back to Texas in six years.

Leaving there May 28 they first went to Dallas where they visited relatives then went to Louisville, Ky., as guests of her brother Ted Lawler also a former Muleshoe resident. Returning they visited in Austin and San Antonio and arrived here in time for the July 4 celebration.

Mrs. Herring said "I was so glad to see Muleshoe looking so prosperous. It still looks natural although it has grown quite a bit." She said "One would be surprised at the things they miss when living so far from their native home. I even miss the sand blowing and tumble weeds moving across the country and sometime I have thought should I ever go back to Texas I would get a tumble weed and take it to Alaska and tie it outside so I could again see it blowing about."

"We love Alaska and enjoy living there very much. One gets accustomed to the long period of light and darkness and to the cold although the winters are not as severe as they sound or as one who has never spent a winter there might think. "We spent much time skating and skiing during the winter and have swimming as a chief summer sport when temperatures climb to around 80 degrees.

"Our school system is simply marvelous some of the best are there and the city has just about all the conveniences of Texas cities other than a drive-in theater and I have never know of one being in Alaska."

Ask if she had noticed much difference in Alaska since it became a state Mrs. Herring said "Not a lot, however, it is my personal opinion that Alaska was not ready for Statehood." Her reason for her opinion was that: "the state was still to underdeveloped, their resources are not ample and that the money, since becoming a state was a problem. Movements were underway for Federal controlled airports, highways and other improvements proposed to help develop the country were being located in remote places instead of taking first things first and being applied to populated places first, then moved out with progress. Thus, she feels the political angle in such matters is a hazard to the progress."

"A movement," she said, "had been underway for sometime to relocate the capitol of Alaska, now in Juneau, but voting popular in Juneau and Fairbanks carry the majority and the move has, thus far, been defeated. Most people feel that the capitol should be more centrally located to better serve the state. This feeling has been brought about by weather forbidding flight into the capitol city for many days at a time. Flights are often delayed due to dense fog over Juneau. By boat or air is the only way northern Alaskans can reach the city, these means are both inadequate during winter months. Residents hope to eventually build a capitol city somewhere north of Anchorage."

Herring is associated with a surveying firm, Tryck and Nyman and Associates, and survey plots of land for large concerns or projects. Most of the time since they have been there, work was shut down during the winter, however, the past two have been mild and they continued with outdoor work as usual. Unemployment reaches a high figure each winter and is one of the chief economic problems.

Anchorage is becoming more and more a popular tourist attraction and has become so by the many types of people who settle there from many nations. Some are brought there by the Air Force and Army bases, while others locate there after landing there on international flights. Five major airlines have scheduled stop there. These people have such a wide variety of talents, that almost every type of attraction can be seen and are featured as tourist attractions by the city promoters.

Their trip to Texas by car required 8 days of travel. They will leave this week enroute to Los Angeles where they will visit relatives before going on to Washington and Oregon.

At Van Couver, they will board a ferry for a 36 hour ride to Haines, Alaska, then drive the remaining 600 miles to Anchorage. They plan to get home just in time for school to start in September.

While in this area, the family visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Glasscock, Farwell, and the Johnny Glasscocks, Portales, N.M.

Monica Griffiths In University Piano Concert

Monica Griffiths, nine-year old piano student of Mrs. Sam McKinstry was the youngest participant in concert given Thursday evening in Recital Hall at Eastern New Mexico University in conjunction with the piano workshop conducted on the campus.

Mrs. McKinstry attended the workshop and was one of four teachers selected to feature their piano students in this concert highlight.

Monica played "Ramany Rhapsody" by Wermel and her performance on the "concert grand" piano was termed as "very good." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Griffiths. She was accompanied to Portales by Mrs. Sam Dameron and Mrs. Pat Bobo as her parents were out of town. Mrs. Dameron has been assisting Monica with her music while Mrs. McKinstry has been vacationing since June 7.

Guest clinician for the workshop was Miss Hazel Griggs, concert pianist from Scarsdale, N. Y.

ficult language barrier. The teacher is patient Mrs. Robert Sanders who admits that her task is not an easy one - although "very interesting." She confesses: "For the first two or three weeks, it just seemed that I wasn't getting anywhere, but now it's beginning to pay off and I can see a great change in the children's response - and in their attitude toward the school."

They are not learning to read or write; that can come later. Instead it's a conversational class. And a lot of it is done with games. Most of the "equipment" for the school was made by Mrs. Sanders. Like the Mexican burro that stands at the front of the classroom at DeShazo school.

The donkey's pack is empty and is equipped with little slots. Into these slots the pupils fit bananas, apples, oranges, grapes and the like. But to have the privilege of putting fruit into the little burro's pack, they must first pronounce the fruit and give its color - in English, of course.

And in order to do coloring work, they must ask for the crayons by colors - also in English.

There's a little "apple tree" at one side of the room, and that little tree figures into another one of their games.

"It is so very interesting to see these little children at work," Mrs. Sanders says. "They are, for the most part, eager to learn, and they are all little dolls."

The school, a part of the Muleshoe school system, will continue through August 23 - but by that time, these 18 children should be well enough acquainted with the rudiments of the English language that they will be able to do first-grade work.

Below are pictures of the pupils who are trekking to DeShazo for a 9-to-12 school each morning, Monday through Friday to get them ready for first grade, come September - at least as far as the English language is concerned.

In 1935 the back of the dollar bill was redesigned with the engraving of both sides of the Great Seal of the United States.

Monday's high humidity made the day appear to be much hotter than it was. The high mark Monday recorded on Klump's thermometer was only 95.

Rainfall so far this year has been skimpy, although by now means a record low. The official measurement through Tuesday has been 14.52 inches. March was the low spot for the year to date. Moisture that month, which came in smattering snows and wind-shield-spotting showers, was not sufficient to measure. Thus Klump's records show a big zero for the entire month.

January's moisture was an even one inch, and February's fall, including snowfall, was .75 inch. April was another rather dry month with only 1.24 inches measured. May climbed to 2.94, but June was the BIG moisture month for the first half of the year - 7.43 inches. To date, 1.16 inches has been measured for July.

control the juvenile problem. Maybe it's all a part of the do-it-yourself era in which we live.

But the real do-it-yourself project comes in the field of medicine. Now there are more self-made experts in that field than any other. Like the other day when I came on with a headache, and except for gallons of black coffee, nobody I know of has found anything that shakes a migraine once it has fastened its iron-like fingers around the dome.

But I got all sorts of advice - all of it from people who had never had migraines. "Have you tried tightening a tight band around your head? That will cure a migraine every time."

Or, "I never had a headache, but I would know what to do for it if I did. I'd take four aspirins

Swimming Meet Set for Scouts

Swimmers from within the George White District, Boy Scouts of America, will converge on Muleshoe, Monday, July 29, for a district swim meet.

The event will be staged from 7 to 9 p.m., and is open to the general public, with no admission to be charged.

Scouts and Explorers from over the District, including Levelland, Littlefield, Morton, Whiteface, Bula, Earth, and Muleshoe, will be present for competition.

There will be three age divisions: 11 and 12 year olds; 13 and 14 year olds; and 15, 16 and 17 year olds, it was announced.

Ribbons will be awarded to the first three places in each division. Competition will include freestyle, back stroke, breast stroke, free-style relay, medley relay and swim the required distance, then a "dress shirt" relay, in which participants wear white dress shirts in which the individuals take the shirt off and give it to another member of the team who must don the shirt before continuing.

For non-swimmers there will also be a ping pong relay

GRANDSONS VISITING

Jerry Don and Clay Barnett, ages 10 and 12, are here visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barnett.

The boys are the sons of Donald Barnett, Neosho, Mo. They were accompanied by their father to Fort Worth and on a trip through Six Flags Over Texas, then boarded an airliner for Lubbock where they were met by an aunt, Mrs. Richard Pugett, with whom they are also visiting.

Barnett went on to Houston from Fort Worth where he will visit his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnett.

ELLINGTON GUESTS

Guests in the Carl Ellington home recently were his mother, Mrs. J. E. Ellington and two aunts, Miss Bashan and Mrs. Mill-sap.

The group spent the past weekend in Red River.

Carla and Eddie Ellington accompanied the women back to their home in Killeen and will visit there for some time.

to Melrose, N.M., where they visited another sister, Mrs. Eugenia McCoy, then to near Portales when they were overnight guests in the home of Mrs. Hill's sister, Mrs. Monty Baldrige.

in a row, drink two cups of coffee and that would cure it." (Or kill the patient one).

And did you ever notice how many people have a sure cure for colds? The medicos have been working on that project for a century or longer, yet have done very little in solving the problem. But almost anybody knows how to cure a cold, and they have lots of remedies, most of which were handed down from Aunt Minnie who had a cold every time the moon changed.

It's kind of like the doctor I knew once. He told me this: "If you doctor a cold, you can cure it up in 21 days, but if you don't doctor it, it takes three weeks for it to run its course."

Yep, this is the age of experts - self-made, do-it-yourself experts. I'll still take the kind who learned it in school and then practices their trade for years before becoming experts, even though this is the do-it-yourself era.

I could write on this quite a lot longer, but I've got a vacation coming up, and I need to overhaul Green Gertie. Of course I'm not a mechanic, but what matter? This is the do-it-yourself age.

Midge--

President of the Association pointed out that dissemination of the information is as much to prevent panic by those who do not recognize the midge as it is to provide correct control information. He said that reports that everything from mosquitos to bumblebees were being brought to overworked agriculturists for identifying as a possible midge, prompted the Association to duplicate State and Federal information on posters.

The Association urges all farmers to be on the lookout for the midge and to take appropriate, locally recommended control measures but cautions against applying control measures just because there is a midge scare. Certainly, fields should not be sprayed unless midge are identified as being present in earlier, adjoining fields or in heads of host plants such as Johnsongrass in the field.

The Association in its headquarters at 322 Petroleum Building, Amarillo, has an adequate supply of posters available to any group or individual who may request them for assistance in identifying and controlling the midge.

Insecticide dealers also are urging farmers to be on the lookout for the midge, and to start spraying as soon as deemed advisable.

The USDA reports that in sections where the sorghum midge is especially abundant, as much as one-fifth of the crop may be lost, and in years particularly favorable to the midge, these sections produce practically no sorghum grain. An infestation of one midge per spikelet (seed husk) is enough to cause the loss of the grain.

The sorghum midge is easy to find. Examine the heads of sorghum or other host plants while they are in bloom. Many of the small, orange-colored adult midges may be crawling over the seed husks, laying their eggs. Pinch the husks a few days later and the small, newly-hatched maggots will be crushed. In a week or two after plants have bloomed, infested seed turn dark and shriveled from feeding of the maggots. They feed on the juices of developing seed and cause them to dry up and become discolored.

appearing blighted or "blasted." Sorghum midge infests all varieties of grain sorghum, sorghos, broomcorn, Johnsongrass and Sudangrass. Successive life cycles occur throughout the season from first emergence in the spring until the fall frost. USDA reports as many as 13 generations of sorghum midge occurring during the growing season near San Antonio. Among the recommended sprays is Sevin 80 percent insecticide applied at the rate of one and a quarter to two and a half pounds per acre.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER FROM SENATOR JOHN TOWER

CIVIL RIGHTS
In this issue of the newsletter, I would like to discuss, perhaps at some length because of the urgency and complexity of the subject, the matter of "Civil Rights." My comments shall relate particularly to the present turmoil in our beloved land.

If the present trend continues it is quite likely that our nation will ultimately face a constitutional crisis. Shortly we shall be called upon to determine once again, just as our forefathers determined at an early date in our history, whether a citizen is entitled to own, control, and dispose of private property in this nation. This is a subject that is completely entwined with our history, our culture, and our future.

The right of a citizen to own property, his ability to produce capital for investment and expansion, the right to be secure in his own property... these are things that place a citizen on par with governments and provide him a means for withstanding the natural trend of central government to grow larger and larger at his own expense. If ownership, or control, of a nation's property is lodged in government, it is again quite obvious that the citizen will be utterly dependent upon government for his every need and want. Unfortunately, there are some in this country, too many in fact, who believe that a completely regimented economy, a completely controlled cultural atmosphere, a completely ordered society, is the preferable way. It is only natural that they should lock horns, eventually, with those of us who do not.

In the formation of our Constitution the citizens, acting through their states, apportioned the powers of government in a most unique and providential manner. Instead of delineating certain areas of activity to the citizens, they set aside certain powers for the central government. All other powers, as most school children but not all U. S. Attorneys General know, was reserved to the States and to the people. This reservation was not made contingent upon the states or the citizens performing certain acts. The reservations were made, period. Certain areas of government were reserved for the States, to act in, or not act in, as they saw fit. The wisdom of this should be obvious. In addition to preventing the central government from becoming all-powerful this simple provision assured the citizen that in matters directly affecting the local community local opinion and feeling would have a preponderance of weight. The problems of the States, aside from the broad and generalized problems of national defense, sound currency, and trade, would be solved by the people most directly affected.

We are witnessing a drive for complete and immediate "equality" on the part of some of our citizens. The Administration, in playing to the crowds, is sponsoring legislation that would, in my opinion, be a dangerous infringement on the rights of the citizen to own and control property. This should be of particular concern to all citizens of whatever color or national origin. For in this country the brown man, the black man, has the right to own property the same as the white man. If this is lost, if all is submerged in the drive for "equality" and if government is to end up as the dictator of "rights" and "morality" it should not be too difficult to see what the end result will be. The minorities will be in far worse shape than they are now for now they may stand in court as the equal of any man.

I would point out here that some of the Administration's strongest supporters are now having misgivings about the effect of the Civil Rights proposals. Senator Mike Monroney of Oklahoma had this to say: "The delicate balance of power between Federal and all local governments could be forever destroyed if, to accomplish even a laudable purpose, we do violence to the clear intent of the Constitution that limits Federal activity to matters commerce."

With that background and predicate I want to inform Texans, as I have already done in the press, that I shall oppose the President's Civil Rights package, as presently constituted. In doing so I am not passing upon the wisdom of a businessman in turning business away from his door. He might be very foolish in doing so. But in my opinion, he has the right to be foolish, or wise, as he himself determines.

AGRICULTURE: Another unfortunate aspect of the current Civil Rights controversy is that the Administration has apparently pushed aside all other problems. The cotton industry is in terrible trouble. Livestock raisers are being subjected to increasing foreign imports. Poultry raisers face a virtual blackout in European markets. New and thoughtful wheat legislation needs to be enacted to assist farmers in returning to more normal and freer economy.

And where is the Secretary of Agriculture?

He is packing his bags for a trip to the Soviet Union to study Agriculture! I will quote from a story in the Washington Post, a paper that is an ardent backer of the New Frontier. The article, of June 27, notes that the Secretary "hopes to see what recent changes in the organization of Soviet agriculture have accomplished and what scientific advances the Russians have made in farming."

The article continues... "he also wants to compare farming techniques in Poland, Yugoslavia, and other European countries with those of the Soviet Union."

Perhaps after being so thoroughly repudiated at the polls by American farmers the Secretary needs a vacation. But Communist Russia hardly seems the appropriate place to observe agriculture after his recent experience in attempting to regiment American wheat farmers.

"The Secretary told reporters, "We find in farm programs that the shortest distance between two points is not necessarily a straight line. We have to zig and zag a little." This should be fair warning to American farmers on what to expect in the future. When he returns from Russia we shall no doubt see more "zigging" and "zagging."

If a 40-ton freight car and a 40-ton truck trailer were given identical 60 m.p.h. shoves on level track and adjoining highway, the freight car would coast five times as far as the truck because of the lower friction of steel wheels on steel rails.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. John Connally says Texas is making a lot of progress on civil rights without demonstrations and disturbances. He urged Texans to avoid the trouble which is plaguing other states.

Roy Evans, secretary of Texas State AFL-CIO, indicated mass demonstrations are needed in Lower Rio Grande Valley to improve working conditions of Mexican workers. Connally commented such statements are irresponsible and inflammatory.

Governor also rejected labor's appeal for a special session of the Legislature to abolish right-to-work law and enact state minimum wage, saying he saw "no need, emergency or desirability" for such a session.

Evans said labor's traditional role is to try to inflame people against injustice, and he intends to keep on trying to do that.

QUICK CHANGE — From one of the unpaid boss jobs to a $16,500-a-year assistantship is the story of Dr. J. B. Copeland of San Antonio.

When the Legislature created the new job of deputy commissioner of the Health Department, Dr. Copeland resigned as chairman of the State Board of Health to accept the job of deputy commissioner. He had been Board Chairman for the past ten years.

Governor Connally named Dr. N. L. Barker of Paris to replace Dr. Copeland. He reappointed Dr. Elmer Baum of Austin and named Dr. John M. Smith of San Antonio and I. D. Flores of Floresville, a pharmacist, to the Board of Health.

Of all the ideas I've heard for getting rid of the surplus, none can equal the brilliant work of the clerk who lost the 24 million bushels. I say leave him alone, turn him loose, give him a map of all the warehouses throughout the nation and open up a hot line between him and whoever it was in Austria he sent the stuff to, and let the Senate recess till the farm problem is solved.

After all, there's a new crop of grain coming in this year and if we don't get those warehouses empty, where're we going to store it?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

APPOINTMENTS — Connally made other appointments. Among them:

S. A. Kerr of Huntsville and Dr. Joe A. Nelson of Weatherford, reappointments, and David A. Kimbell, Wichita Falls, to the board of regents of North Texas State University.

Ed Minor of Austin and W. R. Whitten, Fort Worth, to State Board of Pharmacy.

Sister Mary Brian Sherry of San Antonio and Mrs. Martha McClellan Davis, Beaumont, to Board of Nurse Examiners.

Dr. Richard T. Weber of Austin and Dr. James E. Makins, Lubbock, to Board of Dental Examiners.

Judge Otis Dunagan of Tyler, former Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs and Judge James H. Moore, Nacogdoches, to the new 12th Court of Civil Appeals at Tyler.

Judge Stephen F. Preslar, McCamey, to the 8th Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, replacing Justice Jim Langdon whom he had named to the Railroad Commission.

Charles Sherrill, Fort Stockton, to replace Preslar as district judge.

Judge Howard P. Green of Cuero, Paul Nye of Corpus Christi and T. Gilbert Sharpe, Brownsville, to the new 13th Court of Civil Appeals in Corpus Christi.

Mayer Joe E. Kelly, Victoria, to replace Green as district judge.

Eugene R. Hoty of Orange, Jack Pierce of Nacogdoches, Warren P. Cunningham Jr., of Houston, Arthur C. Leshar Jr., Houston, as district judges.

Ward R. Burke of Lufkin, Dr. George Andrew Constant of Victoria and C. E. (Sonny) Bentley, Abilene, to Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools.

George Christian of Austin, who was administrative assistant to former Gov. Price Daniel, as Governor's press secretary, replacing Wilbur Evans, who went back to sports press relations.

Clay Cotten, longtime attorney for the State Insurance Department, as State Liquidator to succeed C. H. Langdeau, who is retiring due to ill health.

LOANS — Frank Miskell of Austin, who headed up the Texas Legislature's studies on the loan shark problem, will be the administrator of the new law which regulates licensed lenders.

Miskell was chosen by the State Finance Commission to be the first Regulatory Loan Commissioner. He will assume his new duties on August 23.

DRY AND WFT — Texas is spotted with drought and flood points.

Texas Water Commission found that reservoirs declined a little in June. They wound up the month 76 per cent full, so there's room to store more floods when and if they come.

they care. In general, Northeast Texas reservoirs are full, while those in South Texas are shrinking.

ROADS — Highway construction is one thing dry weather helps.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer reported that contractors on state-federal projects completed $24,073,319 worth of work during June.

But there's plenty yet to do. They hold contracts which total $82,852,803 and another $25,000,000 worth of contracts will be issued this week.

DO FENCE THEM IN — Texas Highway Department has endorsed the idea of building "median miles" on busy urban expressways.

Rails — heavy-duty fences which keep traffic from careening into opposite lanes — have been or will be installed on expressways around Houston, Fort Worth and Austin.

Also under development by highway engineers is a woven-wire mesh fence — similar to backyard chain-link jobs — to reduce headlight glare and to prevent pedestrians from crossing the freeways.

OIL HOLDS UP — Despite recommendations by several major oil buying firms that Texas production be cut in August, the Railroad Commission held the line.

Production will continue at the July rate of 28.5 percent of capability of the wells. Independents praised the action.

HIGHER EDUCATION — Texas Committee on Education Beyond the High School has selected one of its members as paid executive director.

He is Dr. A. B. Martin, president of Amarillo Junior College. He will coordinate all staff work for the big study.

Committee has two year to finish its study and report to the Governor and Legislature.

SADLER ACTIVE — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler continues to be much in the news.

Sadler disagreed with Governor Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr on seriousness of a state-federal dispute on a reclaimed land in the tidelands; swapped hot wires with ex-Sen. Bob Baker after Baker accused him of impeding Padre Island Seashore project; and insisted that Carr get Supreme Court concurrence on Carr's ruling that a new law reorganizing the School Land Board is valid.

POLLUTION QUESTION — Texas Water Pollution Control Board granted a permit to discharge thousands of gallons of "treated effluent" into the waters of Copano and Aransas Bays in connection with plans for a big new resort motel and marina at Lamar Townsite, Aransas County.

Objections voiced at public hearings led to the Commission's action in instructing backers of the project — American Liberty Oil Company — to extend the point of discharge 500 feet farther out into the bay area.

STATE SCHOOL — Dr. James Turman, Director of the Texas Youth Council, defended his council's action in either firing — or retiring — Superintendent O. F. Perry of Gatesville State School.

Perry and supporters claim too much interference from Austin, too little discipline of boys. Youth Council denies this, contends po-

IT'S FOR THE ... BIRDS!

By MEL EVANS.

The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, in cooperation with state and private organizations, has recently completed its annual survey of waterfowl nesting conditions.

The completion of this survey was delayed by inclement weather conditions, but it indicated that surface and subsurface moisture was available.

More potholes were recorded this year than last, however, a large percentage of these water areas was of low quality, and continued rains will be needed for a successful hatch.

The survey indicated that the breeding population was slightly higher than last year.

The grassland areas of southern Alberta and southern Saskatchewan are still suffering from a drought that has plagued the prairie pothole country several seasons.

The nesting conditions of the tri-state area of North Dakota, South Dakota, and western Minnesota, are better for successful duck production than they have been in many years.

The survey found that the statistical indexes for both the breeding duck population and total water areas were substantially above averages for the last five years that comparable surveys have been conducted in this tri-state area.

The Fish and Wildlife Service's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife will conduct a second survey in July to determine the success of the nesting season.

It is evident from the first survey that total production will depend on continued rainfall on the northern prairies and favorable weather in the Arctic portions of the breeding grounds.

The hunting regulations for this fall's waterfowl season will be based on the results of these two surveys.

Monarch butterflies descend on Pacific Grove, Calif., in late October.

Policy differences caused the dismissal.

M. B. Kendrick was named to replace Perry.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas Games and Fish Commission, Department of Public Welfare, Board of Plumbing Examiners, Board of Professional Engineers, Board of Pardons and Paroles, Department of Banking and Building Commission are moving into the new John H. Reagan State Office Building.

Dr. Dorman Winfrey, Director of the Texas State Library, announced that the Val Verde County Library, recognized in December as one of the "Ten best Small Libraries in the U. S.," also has been cited for its "top-flight public relations program."

Rep. Robert H. Hughes of Dallas will resign from the Legislature on September 1 to accept appointment as domestic relations court judge in Dallas.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has an answer to the farm problem this week, however odd.

Dear editor:

The trouble with some people in Washington is that they don't know a good thing when they see it. They're so bogged down in solving problems they don't recognize a solution when it comes along.

As I understand it, this country recently lost 24 million bushels of surplus grain. We shipped it to Austria and it never did get there, or if it did nobody over there remembers receiving it. It just disappeared.

All right. Now what happens? Why a bunch of Senators are trying to appropriate $100,000 to investigate the matter.

Here we've found the perfect system of getting rid of an embarrassing tax-eating surplus, just it in ships and let it disappear, eliminating all the storage charges etc., and somebody wants to spend $100,000 to get it back.

I don't understand this. What those Senators ought to be doing is erecting a monument to the Unknown Clerk who lost the 24 million bushels of surplus grain. The last thing they want to do is investigate and find out who did it.

When you get a situation like that, leave it alone and hope more and more grain will disappear until the warehouses are empty and demand gets within arm's length of supply.

Of all the ideas I've heard for getting rid of the surplus, none can equal the brilliant work of the clerk who lost the 24 million bushels. I say leave him alone, turn him loose, give him a map of all the warehouses throughout the nation and open up a hot line between him and whoever it was in Austria he sent the stuff to, and let the Senate recess till the farm problem is solved.

After all, there's a new crop of grain coming in this year and if we don't get those warehouses empty, where're we going to store it?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

3 Bedroom farmhouse

PLAN NO. 7152

Roomy Farmhouse? Then This USDA Plan Could Be What You Are Seeking

Looking for lots of room to live in? This three-bedroom house may have the answer to your problems.

Plan No. 7152 from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Co-operative Farm Building Plan Exchange incorporates the Beltsville "Energy-Saving Kitchen" Design No. 2.

The family room with dining space is a continuation of the fireplace and built-in office. Sliding glass doors open onto a terrace located within sight of both the kitchen and family room. Nearness to the kitchen makes the terrace an ideal outdoor dining area.

The living-dining room can be used as one large room or divided into by an accordion-type partition. The front hallway connects the family room, living room and back hallway. A rear entrance from the yard and carport opens to a bath, work clothes closet, and heater room as well as to the front entrance hall.

The workroom, between the kitchen and the family bathroom, has space for laundry equipment, a freezer and storage of canned goods. A door leads directly to the drying yard and garden area. House design No. 7152 features plenty of storage space including one or two large closets in each bedroom, a linen closet at the end of the hall near the bedrooms, and a towel closet accessible from both the family bathroom and the workroom.

Copies of Plan No. 7152 are available at no charge from J. K. Adams at the County Extension Service Office.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

AUSTIN — People who suffer with hypertension, or high blood pressure, nowadays have more reason for optimism than they would have had a generation ago.

In itself hypertension is not a disease. It's a sign that something is wrong, like the stuffy feeling that comes with a cold. The danger accrues because of the possibility of stroke or serious heart or kidney damage when blood pressure is consistently high.

But even mild elevations in the blood pressure considered normal for the person involved — if the increase persists — may cause the walls of blood vessels to toughen, exactly as callouses are formed on hands by regular use of an axe or hoe. Research has shown that temporary increases in pressure do not really make much difference.

In the most common type of high blood pressure, called "essential hypertension," the tiny branches of arteries which carry blood to all body tissues (called arterioles) begin to tighten up. Blood passageways become smaller and smaller, and the heart has to work harder to push the blood through. After a time the blood vessels lose their elasticity and the heart muscles thicken with the extra work load. Result: high blood pressure, and ultimately heart damage.

What causes the arterioles to tighten and constrict? No one knows.

High blood pressure sometimes goes up for a period of days or weeks — or even longer — and then drops back to normal. Sometimes it may jump from pure nervousness while your physician is examining you. Perhaps there is a connection between hypertension and the strain of modern life. People who work under constant stress, who worry too much are often susceptible. Heredity is a probable factor, and the condition occurs most often in persons between 30 and 50.

The thing which will count most in adding years to the life of hypertension sufferers is the willingness to change their living habits, following the rules of moderation in everything. By securing a doctor's care and following a few simple rules for moderate living, they can probably work and enjoy life as long or longer than their next-door neighbors without high blood pressure. There is nothing to gain from Low blood pressure, on the other hand, seldom causes trouble. Affecting relatively few people to a serious extent, the condition is usually a symptom of a specific disease which can frequently be treated successfully.

Today's Meditation

SUCCESS
(Matthew 6:19-21)

I picked up a newspaper one day and read an account of a "successful" business man, and the thought ran through my mind, "Just what is a successful business man?"

How, after all, do we judge success or determine when a person has achieved success?

Has our age come to the point of deciding success on the basis of the things which we have accumulated, or the social position we have achieved, or the influence upon the business world, or our political power?

As one reads the scriptures, one discovers that Jesus Christ saw in none of these things the necessary characteristics of success, nor, of course did he hold them to lead to failure.

Jesus rather pointed to the important fact that it is what a person is, rather than what he does, that decides his success or failure. The person who has gained a great fortune, yet is not aware of God in a real, positive sense, is not rich at all. Jesus spoke of the farmer who had a great harvest, so built more barns to store the crop, and who then set back to enjoy his wealth. "Eat, drink, and be merry," was his motto. And Jesus called him a fool, because he tried to live for himself alone, because he was not "rich toward

God."

A young man came to Jesus seeking eternal life. He lost out, not because he was rich, but because he was not able to use his wealth, his learning, his experience, for others. The World would have called him a success, yet he was a sad, unhappy man. Jesus reminds us, with regard to success, that "Where our treasure is, there will our hearts be also."

How "successful" are you? David M. Branson, First Christian Church

SIGNAL DEVICE

Do you have an allergy to some form of medicine? Do you have diabetes, epilepsy, or Glaucoma? If you have an allergy to any medicine or some disease which has symptoms that are hard to distinguish by the lay person you should wear a medical I. D. tag telling of this.

Many diabetics die in jail each year because police or ambulance drivers think a diabetic is drunk, when actually he is in insulin shock. If he wore a medical I. D. tag stating that he was a diabetic he could be rushed to a hospital instead of being put in jail.

There are over 200 conditions which require a person to carry emergency medical identification to ensure correct first aid. Even an aspirin tablet, given to a victim of a severe allergy, can do more harm than good.

Where will Americans prefer to wear their signal device? Some will want to wear it on an ankle, others on a bracelet, still others on a medallion suspended around the neck.

No signal device should be itself a hazard. Most industries prohibit a worker from wearing bracelets or anklets around machinery because it is highly dangerous. A metal tag on a chain worn beneath the shirt or undershirt is best, but women not in industry will probably want a medallion on more stylish necklace.

A police officer can quickly

Chance At Bat For All Players

All Babe Ruth League players who have not played much during the past season will be participating in games during the next two weeks. W. A. Davis, president, said today.

Boys are to be at Babe Ruth League park at 8 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights for the games.

Those contributing to the support of this League since the last report are: Muleshoe Coop Gin, Frank Ellis, Gene English, Orville Wallace, Hi-Way Tire Service, Dennis Williams, Ben Foster, Junior Matthews, Weidubush and Childers, West Plains Hospital, Southwestern Public Service, Murl Stevenson, Pete Freeman, Harold Freeman, J. check three or four places on an accident victim for a signal device. The main thing is that he wear some kind of identification if he needs special attention.

A person who does not speak English should wear a signal device so that it can speak for him in case of trouble. The deaf and mute need the protection of a signal device. So do people who wear contact lenses, because if they are left on an unconscious accident victim for 24 hours or more they may "chew up" the cornea of the eye and impair vision or cause blindness. Alcoholics who take Antabuse need protection because they will become violently ill if they are given even a small swallow of liquor or drugs dissolved in alcohol. Throat-breathers and others who have undergone radical surgery should be tagged. There are over 200 such conditions which require that a person carry emergency medical identification to ensure correct first-aid — more than 200 reasons why a universal identifying symbol will save lives.

Dr. Herrell DeGraff, Professor of Food Economics at Cornell University, notes that on a worldwide basis the typical family spends about 60% of its income for food (devotes about 60% of its productive effort to securing food).

"In this country, by contrast," he said in an address to the Super Market Institute, "the typical family acquires a far superior diet for barely one-quarter of its disposable income."

"Moreover," says Dr. DeGraff, "ours is a food supply without limitations of geography or seasonality, and with a large part of the work of preparation done by the food industries instead of burdening the homemaker."

"We eat as well and as cheaply as we do only because of the enormous contributions which science has made to food production, processing, and distribution."

Dr. DeGraff observes that we are feeding 70% more people than in 1920, although there has been no increase in cropland.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

TRIBAL LAW
American Indians are the only 100 per cent native Americans. Indian matters come under Federal law and the terms of some 3,900 Indian treaties which are also the law of the land.

DO YOU HAVE CHINCH BUGS IN YOUR LAWN?

Here's a good way to find out! Take a large metal can, such as a coffee can, and cut away both ends to produce a metal tube. Insert the tube several inches into the ground in a suspected area. If the brown to gray ground inside the tube is hard, you may find that stepping on the edges helps.

Four water into the portion of the tube remaining above ground. Within five minutes chinch bugs should float to the top if they're present.

Why is it important to know? Chinch bugs can wipe out a lawn in a few days if unchecked. Last year that's just what happened to thousands of homeowners in the Gulf and Atlantic states — from Texas to Massachusetts.

Identification of chinch bugs is not difficult once you find one to examine. Adults are black in color, about one-quarter inch long, and have whitish wings which are folded over. They hover at ground level where they suck juices from stems. Discolored patches of turf are a sign that they're present. Grass first turns yellow, then brown.

Formulations containing ethion, a basic pesticide chemical, have proven highly effective in eradicating chinch bugs. Marketed under many different brand names, ethion-containing compounds are available both in spray and granular forms.

Begin applications promptly once you know chinch bugs are present — they spread rapidly. Even if you don't spot any in your own yard, but you know they're in the neighborhood, it's wise to take action. And whatever chemical formulation you use, follow label instructions to the letter for safest and best results.

eral law and the terms of some 3,900 Indian treaties which are also the law of the land.

Thus long ago Rev. Samuel Worcester, preaching to the Cherokee, refused to take out a license, and to swear allegiance to the State of Georgia. When Georgia jailed him for not taking a loyalty oath, the U. S. Supreme Court freed him: The Court would allow no state to interfere in United States Indian affairs which our treaties governed.

In 1834 Congress set up the Bureau of Indian Affairs to make and carry out rules made under these treaties.

Until the Civil War, the Federal government regarded Indians as wards and dependent nations — foreign nations, yet under U. S. control. In 1871, however, Congress declared the Indian nations were no longer independent. Indians still ran their own affairs for the most part, as illustrated in a case titled "In Re Crow Dog."

In 1883 Crow Dog killed another Sioux for stealing a friend's wife. Crow Dog made amends under tribal law, and the tribe closed his case. Soon afterwards federal officers sought to try him for murder, but the Supreme Court said no: Such cases did come under tribal law and this one had been settled.

Shortly afterward Congress gave Federal courts jurisdiction over most criminal cases on Indian territories. Accordingly, just the other day, the U. S. Supreme Court invalidated the conviction of a California Indian for murder. He must face trial in a Federal court instead.

Indian tribal courts still try some criminal cases; and within the tribes, tribal law still holds. For example, they can tax and license traders on reservations.

Recently, a tribal adoption ceremony was confirmed even though it took place off the reservation. In another case the Federal courts recognized a tribal divorce by mere voluntary separation.

At the end of 1962, the total number of Piggly Wiggly stores had increased to 58. With the acquisition of fourteen Parker Stores in the Wichita Falls Area the company was operating a total of 72 stores. This week marked the formal opening of the beautiful new Piggly Wiggly Continental in Lubbock, Texas—a fitting climax to our 10th Anniversary Celebration.
