A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

ALL MUST DRINK THIS CUP, BUT TRIUMPHANT ETERNITY FOLLOWS: Again a second time he went away, and prayed saying, My Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, thy will be done.—Matt. 26:42.

Foreign Trade--Going, Going . . .

The last expectation anybody might have had that the United States would profit through increased foreign trade because of the war will vanish when the figures for 1940 are completed.

There was a time when war in Europe meant that American cotton and wheat went to premium prices, eagerly sought by any means and at any prices. It meant temporary prosperity.

But today's world is a different world. Let's take a look at what has happened to American export trade last year.

The first eight months of the war had little effect. There was some increase in sales of arms to Europe, and in material to South America which countries there found themselves suddenly unable to get from Europe.

About last June, this began to change. Suddenly Continental Europe, either occupied by the Germans or cut off by the British blockade, ceased to be a market at all. And the South American boom began to slow up, simply because those countries, too, were cut off from their usual markets in Europe and as a result had no money with which to buy American goods.

Along came the armament boom. Toward the end of the year, 62 per cent of our exports were going to the British Empire instead of the usual 40, and almost all of these were airplanes, iron, steel, machine tools, machinery, and other war or potentially war materials.

Thus 1940 is going to show a total foreign trade greater than that of any year since 1929, up 25 per cent from last year. But almost all of it is a trade in war materials, with export of surplus farm products actually slumping. And even if this increased 1940 export total exceeds $4,000,000,000, it will still be less than half the 1920 figure.

What does this mean? First, it means that to the extent to which our industrial plant becomes adjusted to arms export, we are breeding trouble for the time when that export ends. Second, the cards are stacked in today's world against foreign trade, the total volume of which, as well as our own share, tends to decline. Third, the South American market we wish so much to cultivate, is there all right, but it can not increase unless and until we increase our imports. Loans, with their subsequent headaches, will stimulate this trade only temporarily.

But the United States will have a "favorable balance of trade" of $2,500,000,000 for 1940. You might think that's good. But we don't want imports for that balance. We don't want gold for it, even if anybody had it to pay, which they haven't. We've got gold. What then?

This: Reconcile ourselves to the idea that foreign trade is declining. Plan for that. In the meantime study every plan that permits greater import of goods from friendly countries without too strongly competing with local industry. In the long run foreign trade must be mutual—we can only continue to export roughly to the same extent that we are willing and able to import.

Forest Development Corporation No. 1-B Will P. Edwards, wildcat extension test a mile and a half south and slightly west of Forest No. 1 Bradley, discovery well and lone producer in the Douro pool of Ector, is plugging to abandon at total depth of 4,400 feet in dolomite.

Hot Pay Test. A core from 4,385 to 4,400 returned seven feet of hard gray, slightly porous dolomite with streaks of anhydrite and carrying sulphur water. With elevation of 3,009 feet, the failure topped anhydrite at 1,710 feet and logged base of the Cowden anhydrite at 2,650. It topped the Yates sand at 2,900 feet and found first frosted quartz grains in that horizon at 2,930. The Grayburg lime was topped at 3,830 feet and the San Andres lime at 4,255. First porosity appeared in cuttings at 4,365 feet.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-B W. F. Cowden Heirs, Northern Ector wildcat, is drilling with rotary at 4,547 feet. It tested only sulphur water with a little oil in the Goldsmith and Emma pool horizons and is being deepened to the Holt pay found near the top of the Clearfork.

West Texas' deepest drilling well, Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-F University, in Eastern Crane County, yesterday had reached 8,969 feet.

Shallow Crockett Wildcat. Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company plans drilling of a Permian lime test about 14 miles southwest of Ozona in West Central Crockett County. It is the No. 1 Roy Henderson and probably will be staked in the northwest corner of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 33, block SPT. T. C. (or T. & L.) survey. The well-site lies immediately south of University Block 32.

Second largest producer for the Todd Deep pool in North Central Crockett has been completed by Continental Oil Company and others in No. 7 J. S. Todd Unit. It tested natural flow through 7-inch casing of 642 barrels of oil in five hours. Gas volume was 1,944,000 cubic feet and flowing pressure on casing 150 pounds.

The well is producing from crinoidal lime of the Strawn, lower Pennsylvanian, topped at 5,570 feet. Total depth is 5,693 feet. Flows 2,306 Barrels.

Wahlenmaier, Currie and Bosworth No. 1 George Bean Permian lime prospect three and one-half miles southeast of the Todd Deep pool, is reported showing some bottom-hole water while bailing and testing at total depth of 1,456 feet in lime. It had struck a gauged 9,987,000 feet of gas from 1,212-27 feet and an estimated one barrel of oil per hour from 1,451-56. Casing has not yet been set through the gas zone. Operators plan to run tubing to bottom and test without setting a packer, it is said.

Gulf Oil No. 45 Crier-McElroy, on the Upton County side of the Gulf-McElroy pool of Crane and Upton, gauged 24-hour potential flow of 2,306.02 barrels of 32.1-gravity crude, was gas-oil ratio of 911-1. It topped pay at 2,643 feet, reached a total depth of 2,858 feet and was shot with 790 quarts.

Army Sergeant Finds Indian Recruits Best

FORT BENNING, Ga., Jan. 11 (AP)—Whipping redskins whose untamed grandparents roamed the western plains seem delighted with the white man's way of making war, taking to the army's tough recruit training with irrepressible good humor.

"They'll fight a circular saw at the drop of a hat," boasted veteran Sergeant John H. Boozer of Columbia, S. C., who said he had been handling recruits for fifteen years and found these twelve Indians from Oklahoma "the best I ever saw."

The Indians are volunteers furnished by the Oklahoma tribesmen in response to a call from the army and there's nothing of the silent, inscrutable red man about them.

Major T. J. Tully, signal officer for the fourth division, recalled that Indians were useful in signal work in the World War and proposed to utilize their "latent talents as woodsmen."

Giles Reports Vacancy Legislation Successful

AUSTIN, Jan. 11 (AP)—Statutes of the last session of the legislature designed to eliminate "vacancy racketeering" were operating successfully, State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles said today.

Giles, reporting to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, asserted the new vacancy statutes had accomplished most of the results desired and had not been tested in court due to lack of protests. He urged no alterations be considered until and if the law was proved inadequate.

Great Britain And U. S. In Agreement On Navy Base Sites

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP).—Secretary Hull tonight announced that agreement had been reached by the United States and Great Britain on sites for eight American air and naval bases to be constructed in the western hemisphere.

Formal 99-year, rent free, leases will be signed, officials added, as soon as an American mission composed of Charles Fahy, assistant solicitor general; Col. Harry J. Malony, U. S. Army; and Commander Harold Biesemeier, U. S. Navy, work out technical details with British officials. They will go to London via Lisbon on the Clipper leaving January 17.

Experts Recommend. The sites agreed upon were those recommended by a board of American experts, headed by Rear Admiral John W. Greenslade, which inspected proposed sites in the autumn.

The principal delay in reaching agreement on the sites resulted from study of several possible bases at Trinidad.

State department officials said that actual construction work already has been started on the Newfoundland base, and that survey and preliminary engineering work has been completed or is in progress at Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, Trinidad, St. Lucia, Antigua, British Guiana.

Life In Sherwood Forest Portrayed In "Robin Hood"

The story of Robin Hood and his merry men, which will be acted out by players of the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre on the stage of the high school auditorium Monday night, is a story of adventure, danger, and romance in the green forests of Old England.

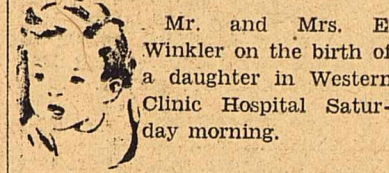

Duels between the stout outlaws and their enemies lend plenty of excitement to the story and there is a pleasing note of romance in the tale of how Robin and his men stopped the marriage of a rich baronet to an unwilling maiden and restored her to her own true love and of how Robin met his own sweetheart dressed in boy's clothes and failed to recognize her.

Wat the Thinker, Scarlet, Little John and the other characters which people the legends of the bold and gentle-hearted outlaw, Robin Hood, will march across the stage in all their swaggering recklessness and Fair Ellen and Maid Marian will bring the proper touch of beauty into the drama of life in Sherwood Forest more than seven hundred years ago.

"Robin Hood" will be presented here as another in the series of the bold and gentle-hearted outlaw, Robin Hood, will march across the stage in all their swaggering recklessness and Fair Ellen and Maid Marian will bring the proper touch of beauty into the drama of life in Sherwood Forest more than seven hundred years ago.

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. E. Winkler on the birth of a daughter in Western Clinic Hospital Saturday morning.

TWO PATIENTS DISMISSED

Two patients were dismissed from Ryan's Hospital Saturday. They were Mrs. J. C. Ellis and A. H. Flaherty.

Robin Hood

Robin Hood (Ralph Clanton), the bold adventurer of Sherwood Forest, whose merry men protected the poor and persecuted those who grew rich by taxation and fraud. A cence from the Clare Tree Major production of "Robin Hood" to be presented at the high school auditorium tomorrow night.

LABOR BUREAU REPORTS FOOD PRICE INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—A 1.4 per cent increase in the retail costs of food between November 12 and December 17 was reported today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

A "sharp rise" in butter prices and increases in prices for fresh vegetables and such staples as milk, flour, cured pork and lard, accounted for the general increase, the report said.

Orders Probe Of Pension's Set-up

By The Associated Press AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—An investigation of certain phases of Old Age Assistance Administration is ordered in a house resolution which Rep. Joe Skiles of Denton circulated today for introduction after the general legislative session begins Jan. 14.

Skiles, who said a dozen members had already signed, declaring his measure was aimed at revealing the causes for public unrest and dissatisfaction over the method in which the public welfare act was handled prior to the administration of J. S. Murchison, welfare director for the past four months.

The resolution directs a committee to complete an investigation not later than Feb. 21 and make recommendations by which the legislature can bring about old age assistance administration in a manner to receive public approval rather than condemnation.

SERIAL STORY

CONSCRIPT'S WIFE

BY BETTY WALLACE

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Suzanne believes that Paul still loves Martha, begs Martha to quit seeing him. The foursome, with Bill and Martha, was just to give Paul a chance to begin with Bill's wife. Martha angrily denies any hint of an affair with Paul and Suzanne agrees Martha is innocent. As she leaves, however, she threatens to tell Bill if Martha goes on seeing Paul.

IF BILL KNEW

Chapter Seven.

For a long moment, after Suzanne's last words left her lips, they didn't quite sink in. The small girl with the red hair, huddled on the sofa, didn't quite understand the enormity of what she had heard until Suzanne was reaching for the doorknob.

"Wait a minute, Suzanne!" She ran to her. "What do you mean, someone might tell Bill? Oh, you couldn't—you wouldn't dare—go to him with a lie like that!"

"Lie? I wouldn't lie. There's no need. It's true that Paul's in love with you, and that you've been seeing him every night, even after I refused to come along and play chaperone."

Martha's mouth was dry, a little pulse hammered in her throat. "But I didn't mean anything—it was innocent and Bill trusts you. You can do this! You can't come into our lives—"

"I didn't say I would," Suzanne told her evenly. "I merely said that it wouldn't be very nice if someone did."

Then, as if Martha's shock and misery had gotten through to her, she leaned impulsively over her. "Look, darling, I know you. And I know Paul. He's held himself in leash, he's suffered but he hasn't made love to you. The only thing I'm asking is that you look the facts in the face. Quit seeing him."

Once more her voice vibrated with passion. "Give me a chance to get him back!"

When the door closed behind Suzanne, she left her behind. The world of simple friendship, of trusting and uncomplicated companionship which had sprung up between Martha and Paul, since that day she told him, "I'm going to marry Bill. But can't we be friends?" was wrecked forever.

Never again could she be so casually cool with him. Never again could she laugh and talk and dance with him and remain blind to the truth she had not seen before—that he loved her. Loved her enough to torture himself endlessly by seeing her with Bill, by visiting the apartment where she lived as Bill's wife.

Unwilling pity shook her. Poor Paul. He had had a raw deal from her, right from the start. But her heart said it wasn't her fault that Bill Marshall's blue eyes had stirred depths in her she herself had never dreamed were there. It wasn't her fault, it was the camaraderie, the serene content she had accepted as love with Paul, had turned out not to be love at all. Not after she tasted the heady wine, the magic ecstasy of the touch of Bill's hand, the sound of his voice, the feel of his lips on hers.

Could it be that for Paul there was magic and wonder only with her? Oh, he shouldn't have gone on clinging to the ghost of something that was dead! He should have turned to Suzanne.

But Martha knew, achingly, that love isn't like that. All the counsels of common sense, all the old teachings she had been taught, had been directed that Paul, with money of his own and a fine position, was the better man to marry. He could have bought her so much that she and Bill had gone without. There would have been no small apartment but a big house. No job to wake up to each morning. No dispirited Peg, but a good car, a new car.

And yet, she hadn't even given those things a single thought. Her whole heart was Bill's—simply, forever and beyond denial.

Once she had heard somewhere that it didn't matter whether or not you were wildly in love with the person you married at the time you married him. "After 10 years," someone had said, "you love him anyway. The things you two have gone through together cement you closer than any fleeting passion."

Perhaps it was true. But she had never thought of standing at an altar with Paul, saying those solemn vows, merely because she had promised.

Was that why Paul couldn't turn to Suzanne? Because the thing called love held him as unrelentlessly in its grip as it had held her?

She didn't sleep that night. She patrolled the bed beside her, when at last she got in, and Butch leaped up. Huddled close to his warm body, she lay thinking and thinking. She mustn't see Paul alone any more. That much was clear.

Suzanne had accomplished what she set out to do!

"Give me a chance to get him back," she had cried.

"Oh, Bill," Martha wept stormily. "Bill, why did they ever draft you? You never should have gone away from me, never."

The next morning in the office, it was as if everything had changed. The sunny room was bleak, the shadows cast by the Venetian blinds seemed like bars. The office was a cage. She ought to leave it. Never see Paul again, not even here. But now she needed her job.

When Paul came in, she couldn't help the little tautness that went over her. She couldn't help looking at him in a way she had never looked at him before.

As always, there was a pipe in his mouth. As always, he bid her a cheerful good morning. She answered almost inaudibly, and bent her head low over the typewriter as he went into the private office.

Through the long morning, she couldn't seem to stop looking at him. With that awful fascination, that suddenly clear and penetrating gaze. As if she had never seen him before, exactly as he was.

He had discarded his coat. In shirtsleeves, he worked at the board in his office, the door open. His shoulders were broad, his tanned, bony face absorbed. Once he picked up his slide rule, drew it out of its worn case, slipped the little transparent panel carefully down an inch or two, and frowned as he made a calculation.

She began to wonder, as he worked on, oblivious, how Paul could have stood these months in the office with her after she married Bill. He had always been just the same—casual, normal, businesslike. How could he have such control of himself that, although Suzanne said his eyes gave him away, when they were together, here in the office they never did?

Or did they? She swung around in her chair, her eyes on the back of the thin file clerk. What was it the girl had said, several weeks ago? Something about Mr. Elliott keeping Mrs. Marshall from getting too lonely.

Yes, there had been suspicions, gossip, here too, just as there had been in the apartment house. She alone had not suspected.

Her head ached dully, by lunch-time. Her fingers had been slow and faltering on the typewriter keys all morning. Lunch did not revive her. There still echoed in her mind the sound of Suzanne's voice. The sickening realization that those awful things she had said were true settled more and more heavily in Martha's heart.

"I'll never again act natural with Paul," she thought. "I won't be able to be gay and offhand and the way I've always been."

There was more to it than that, too. "I'll have to stop seeing him. I can't tell him why straight out. Yet I mustn't let him come to the apartment any more. How can I make him understand that our friendship is over?"

Camp Bowie Officers Won't Harass Recruits

CAMP BOWIE, Brownwood, Tex., Jan. 11 (AP)—None of the 325 draftees absorbed daily into the thirty-sixth division here will be "pushed around" in the process of breaking them into the army, and there is an official order out to make it stick.

Homesick, travel-weary, "perhaps hungry and befuddled," the draftees will require "sympathetic consideration" as they are given their first instructions in military life. Capt. Jesse Moseley told the 23 officers and 250 enlisted men who will function at the reception center when it opens for business Monday.

Midland Cagers Spring Surprise To Beat Mustangs, 33-27

Bulldogs Take Early Lead In Game Here As All Players Score Points; 'B' Team Wins From Juniors, 23-14

Midland High Bulldogs led the Sweetwater Mustangs all the way here Friday night to cop a neat 33-27 District 3-AA basketball victory.

Midland's "B" string rallied to nudge out Midland Junior High, 23-14, in the curtain raiser.

The Bulldogs jumped into an early lead in the varsity game and were never headed. Coach Earle Clark's five iron-men, playing the entire contest without replacements, used a tight zone defense to completely bottle up an expected post-attack.

Smooth-working Maurice Bratton, Midland pivot man, tapped in a one-hander to start the scoring. The spirited Bulldogs ran the count to 8-1 before Sweetwater got started. The score was 9-6 for Midland at the quarter and 18-12 at the half.

All Bulldogs Score. Charles Hyatt, Bulldog forward, tallied 11 points for high scoring honors. He edged out Fitzgerald, Mustang forward, by one point.

Every Bulldog sank two or more goals. Shephard made five points; Brown six; Bratton seven and Kelly four.

The win gave Midland a 500 per cent ranking in 3-AA. San Angelo defeated the Bulldogs there Tuesday. Sweetwater won one over Big Spring and dropped two in league play.

The tight Midland defense didn't allow the Mustangs to penetrate and shoot. Sweetwater used a man-to-man defense and the fast-breaking Midland boys worked in for many "crip" and side shots. Midland, working well under the basket, followed up effectively.

Referee: Jimmie Wilson. Midland "B" had a tough time subduing the scrappy junior high cagers in the curtain raiser. Led by "Copper" Daugherty, Bedford, and Richards, the Juniors knotted the count several times before they lost.

The half-time score was 11-8 favoring "B". The Juniors had it tied at 11-11, 12-12, 14-14.

Leading scorer was John Perkins with five field goals and 10 points. Bedford with six points led the Juniors.

Referee: Don Oliver. Texas Aggies Lose Polo And Fencing Team Heads

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 11 (Special).—Two of the 13 Texas Aggie sport teams lost their coaches when army orders transferred Maj. E. W. Burnett, polo team coach, to Fort Riley, Kas., and Lambert (Duke) Molyneux, fencing team coach, accepted a one-semester fellowship at L.S.U. for research on population trends.

Under Burnett, Aggie polo made rapid strides and the teams were recognized among the best intercollegiate fours in the country.

Until a permanent successor is appointed to take his place, Major J. F. Stevens, Cav. U.S.A., and former West Point star, will carry on.

No successor for Molyneux has been announced.

Courtney Volley Ball Teams Win Three Tilts

COURTNEY, Jan. 11 (Special).—Courtney volleyball teams won three and lost one to Stanton here Thursday night.

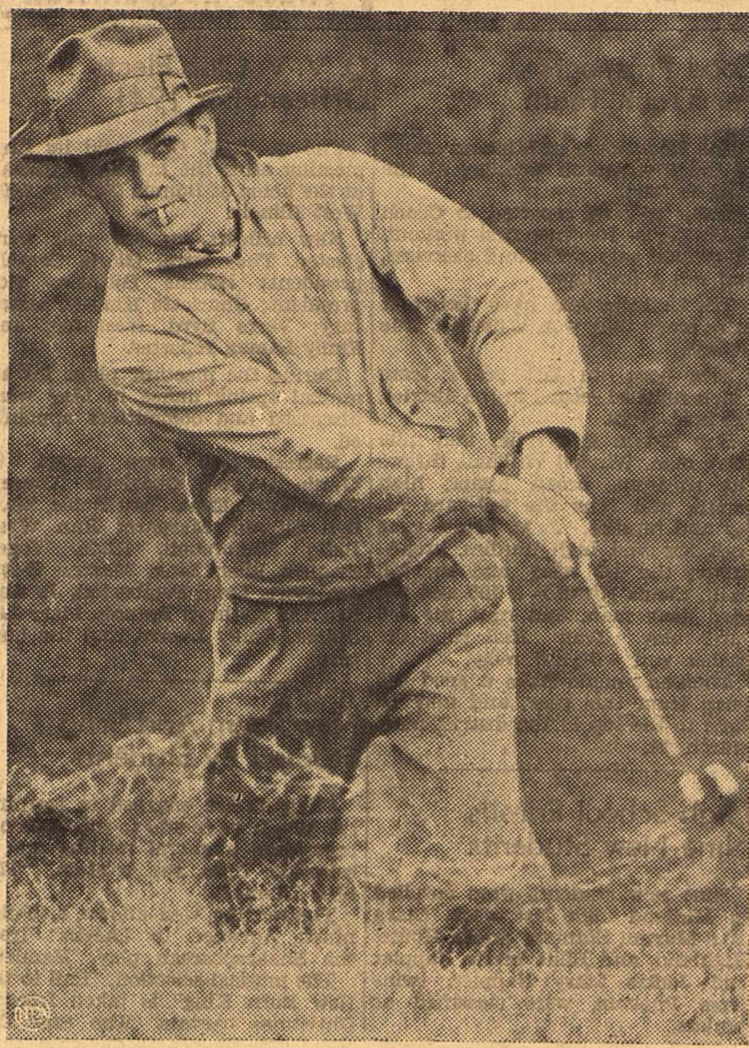

High school senior girl, high school junior girls and "A" elementary school team won. The "B" elementary team lost.

Monahans Boy Earns Numeral At A. & M.

MONAHANS, Jan. 11 (Special).—D. A. Luethy, Monahans, is included among 28 freshmen earning numerals on the Texas Aggie frosh football team, according to an announcement of the A&M athletic council.

Area athletes, who earned varsity letters, included Odell Herman, Abilene and Jackson "Jake" Webster, Sweetwater.

Texan Shoots To P. G. A. Record

Ben Hogan.

Ben Hogan, sensational golfer from Houston, blistered the fairways at Oakland, Calif., yesterday when he set a new record for P. G. A. sanctioned tournaments, breaking par by eight strokes and carding a 62 in the third round of the 72-hole Sequoyah course. E. J. Harrison led shooters.

Hogan Goes Wild In Third Round Of Oakland Open

By Russ Newland.

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 11 (AP).—Lanky E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, from Arkansas, led the parade but half-pint Ben Hogan, a transplanted Texan, was beating the bass drum today in the third round of the 72-hole, $5,000 Oakland Open Golf Tournament.

Hogan, now registered from White Plains, N. Y., banged out a phenomenal 62, eight under par, for the Sequoyah course. It set a new record for P.G.A. sanctioned tournaments and equalled the score made by Ed Dudley, of Philadelphia, in sectional qualifying for the P.G.A. championship last year.

The sensational round of last year's leading money winner among the pros overshadowed the efforts of the balance of the field.

One-Stroke Lead. Hogan, with a third round 69, clung to his lead by one stroke. Posting a 54-hole total of 203, Hogan was on his heels with 204. The wind-up tomorrow, crackups expected, should provide one of the most exciting photo finishes in some time.

Par golf wasn't worth a dime a basket today. Five entries knocked off rounds of 66. There were 13 rounds below par.

Hogan, the little fellow with the long swatting ability turned the first nine in 30 and came home in 32.

He had ten birdies on the trip and made two miscues, mind you. Except for being short of the green on the 11th and three putting the 15th, each for bogey 5's, he would have carded the unbelievable score of 60.

Three shots behind the leader was Leonard Dodson of Kansas City, one of the day's 66 men. He had a three round aggregate of 206.

The 66 shooters were Jim Walkup, of Odessa, Texas, with a total of 212; Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., at 215 and John Bulla, of Greensboro, N. C., with 216.

Shaughnessy Teacher For Coaching School

ATHENS, Tex., Jan. 11 (AP).—Clark Shaughnessy, coach of Stanford's Rose Bowl champions, will show his famed T formation at the ninth annual Texas High School Football Coaches Association Coaching School.

Shaughnessy, who went from down-trodden Chicago to football's pinnacle in one season, was chosen as one of the instructors of the August school by the association executive committee meeting here tonight. He will serve with Jess Neely, coach of Rice Institute, these two being known as co-instructors, with Frank Leahy, coach of Boston College's Sugar Bowl champions, to be the instructor of line play.

Site of the school will not be announced until Monday, President Ted Jefferies of the association said.

Greenberg Is Ripe. "Take the case of Hank Greenberg, our Detroit outfielder and one of the best ball players in modern history. He's only 29 and he's very likely to be drafted. If he goes in June and returns to baseball in June of 1942, he has had not one, but two, seasons taken from his career.

Higgins said he had heard rumors that efforts might be made to form training groups among ball players that would permit them to continue playing baseball, perhaps train an hour or two daily under army supervision.

Tiny Tennis Player Calls Upon Courage To Beat Bobby Riggs

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 11 (AP).—Eddie Alloo, tiny netter from Rollins College at Winter Park, Fla., today upset himself into the finals of the 17th annual Dixie tennis tournament.

For the third straight day the little fellow blasted his way through a high ranking star, and today's victim was Bobby Riggs of Chicago, former national singles champion, and the present No. 2 player in the country.

It was an exhibition of some of the greatest tennis courage ever witnessed in the Dixie tournament and took Alloo five sets to whittle Riggs, tennis' master shot-maker, down to his size for the kill.

The scores were: 3-6, 7-5, 4-6, 10-8, 6-3.

The victory moved the Rollins star into the finals tomorrow afternoon against tall Frankie Kovacs, the country's third-ranking player from Oakland, Calif., who beat Don McNeill, the national singles champion from Oklahoma City 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Finals in the women's singles and men's doubles also are on tomorrow's schedule.

Honors, with a third round 69, clung to his lead by one stroke. Posting a 54-hole total of 203, Hogan was on his heels with 204. The wind-up tomorrow, crackups expected, should provide one of the most exciting photo finishes in some time.

Par golf wasn't worth a dime a basket today. Five entries knocked off rounds of 66. There were 13 rounds below par.

Hogan, the little fellow with the long swatting ability turned the first nine in 30 and came home in 32.

He had ten birdies on the trip and made two miscues, mind you. Except for being short of the green on the 11th and three putting the 15th, each for bogey 5's, he would have carded the unbelievable score of 60.

Zacatine, apparently out to show the racing world what he thought of the $3,000 claiming tag he wore last fall, staged a stretch drive that had the rail birds gasping.

Zacatine was a $680 for two shot in winning his sixth straight and most important victory.

Higgins Says Players Willing To Interrupt Careers For Service

By Felix McKnight. DALLAS, Jan. 11 (AP).—Fully 99 per cent of major league baseball players are "pie" for the nation's draft program—but they are ready and willing to trade a year from brief and hurried careers for "shoulder arms duty."

So says Finky Higgins, husky third baseman of the Detroit Tigers and a 1940 world series hero.

"The draft hadn't become law when the baseball season ended, but it was being discussed and the ball players had it on their minds. They are ready, just as every other citizen."

"Sure, it would hurt many brilliant careers, just as it would in any other profession. But there is a little more than baseball at stake now."

Greenberg Is Ripe. "Take the case of Hank Greenberg, our Detroit outfielder and one of the best ball players in modern history. He's only 29 and he's very likely to be drafted. If he goes in June and returns to baseball in June of 1942, he has had not one, but two, seasons taken from his career."

The game is seen here as a test for Coach Earle Clark's five in fast competition.

Carswell Is Hot As Owls Triumph

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 11 (AP)—Plump Frank Carswell, hotter than a feudist's pistol, missed the Southwest Conference scoring record by one field goal tonight as the Rice Owls chided Texas A&M 68-34.

Although he spent approximately one fifth of the game time on the bench while the Owls' subs picked up a little experience Carswell spun 34 points through the net.

That was one shy of the mark set by Hubert Kirkpatrick of Baylor against Texas Christian several years ago.

Lanky Bill (Hitter) Henderson, forward, appeared to be the only polished performer A&M could place on the court. The Aggies floundered hopelessly in the face of the bewildering assault, allowing Rice to run up a 30-14 halftime lead, and doing no better in the second frame.

FSA Office Will Take Applications For 1941 Credit

Farmers in Midland County who will need operating funds in 1941 and can not get adequate credit elsewhere should make application to the Farm Security Administration immediately, Hugh L. Huff, county FSA supervisor said yesterday.

Loans are available to qualified farmers for the purchase of feed, seed, tools, livestock, and other equipment necessary to carry on farming operations.

"The Farm Security Administration," Huff said, "was created to help needy and low-income farm families and farm operators in Midland county are requested to discuss their problems with us. We may be able to help them." Huff explained the agency has a number of programs to help farm families in addition to that of making rehabilitation loans to individual farmers. Among those mentioned were loans for community services, farm debt adjustment services, and tenure improvements.

"Community service loans," Huff said, "will be made to groups of qualified farmers to buy tractors, combines, pure-bred sires, feed grinders, veterinary services and many other services and facilities a single farmer could not afford alone.

"For farmers overburdened with old debts, the FSA helps in getting the debts adjusted according to their ability to pay. This service is available without cost, whether or not they take part in other phases of the agency's program."

Two Committeemen

Huff said a farm debt adjustment committee meets with the debtor and his creditors.

Committeemen in this county who meet with farmers and creditors are James H. Goodman and Frank C. Dale.

To conserve and build up the soil, and to assist landlords and tenants improve the tenancy system, the Farm Security Administration is encouraging better leasing arrangements, Huff said.

Emphasis is placed on long-term or renewal contracts, and on agreements which will encourage the tenant to protect the soil and improve the property. Lease forms will be furnished at the FSA office, and personnel will assist in drawing them up for landlords and tenants.

Good Prospects For Track Team

The track team of Midland started the 1941 season Tuesday at the athletic field of Bonnie Guthrie, 1405 West Illinois.

About 15 boys reported to Coach L. W. Taylor for their first workout. They took easy drills and exercises, and ran a few laps.

The Bulldogs may have their best team since they won a district title in 1935.

Five boys, on last year's team which finished second in the district, are hold-overs.

Bob Eldson is a miler and mile relay man. Windell Williams throws the shot put, broad jumps, high jumps, and runs the 440-yard relay and hurdles. J. M. White runs both low and high hurdles, broad-jumps, the 440 relay, and the 220 dash. Cletas Hines is a 100 and 220 yard dash man, and runs the 440 yard relay. Ivan Hall runs the dashes and 440-yard relay.

Dreams Come True, Hopes Are Fulfilled At Journey's End

By R. A. Weaver.

"Is not the life more than food, and the body more than raiment?"—Jesus.

In living our lives, consideration must be given to the premise that the human soul is pre-existent, and survives bodily death. To consider human personality as an entity without beginning or without end is the ground of religious concept. The soul of man shall not suffer annihilation when this earthly tabernacle has crumbled into dust. Thus to live is not to spend all upon the needs of the body, or to gratify the five senses. The five senses can afford much to the fund of life, but not all. The psychic or spiritual realm is man's true sphere. The glories and wonders found in reality, where physical sensations and feelings become illusions to the adept.

The Real Life Is Greater.

When I think of all the beauty that God has thrown about us in profusion in the universe in which we live, I am ashamed that any one would seek for imperfections in man or in creation. I have seen the glory of the dying sun as it dipped into the restless waves of the Golden Gate, and spread its fire across the ripples that sparkled like the diadems of a million dynasties. I have seen the snow-capped mountains of the Rockies in their heads above the clouds and enthrall us with the majesty of the Hills of God. I have seen the magnitude of the Grand Canyon that lay like a great wound chiseled by the hands of the gods into the regions of the earth, and as I looked into that great chasm, whose immensity cannot be grasped by the human mind, how insignificant seemed mankind. I have walked through the aisles of the primeval forest that reaches up to heaven, and casts a shadow of darkness on the earth as it reaches for the sun. I have seen the frosts of winter clad every shrub and every tree with an icy coat that made the world a shining castle. And as I look back upon these scenes in memory, I know that this is not all, for my Father says: "Eye hath not seen the things that God hath prepared for them who love Him." Grandeur Is Beyond.

I have heard the patter of little feet, scampering upon the threshold of life, a music that no master can put to notes, or scale the melody that this has meant to one who once heard and later found it stilled by scythe of Father Time. I have heard the happy shouts of childhood's golden dreams, and have thrilled at the cooing of the babe in mother's arms; whose smile lighted up the whole world, and have been lulled to the land of happy dreams by mother's evening lullabies. O melody of the angels, that gives the notes of gladness to the lips of childhood, O symphony of the stars that touch the lips of Mother, may you never take away from the earth these heavenly blessings. I have heard the compositions of the great masters and knew that from heaven comes that which wakes to ecstasy the living lyre, and puts divine music in the artist. But what I have heard is little, for I am assured that "Ear hath not heard the things that God hath prepared for them who love Him." Perfection Is Ahead.

In the quietude where the still waters becalm the soul, I have contemplated the serenity and beauty of that summerland to which we intend to journey some day. And as I woo the muse, my imagination pictures the Land That is Fairer Than Day. I can see that place of harmony and beauty, where every sound is a chord of music; where every form is clothed in symmetry and proportion of beauty; where all lost chords are arranged into anthems and words become alive and sparkle in the light of Truth. I can see all my friends and kin clothed in perfection and the Glory of the Most High fills the ethers. And in my deeper musings, I can see the Son whose countenance lights the vast uncharted aisles of that city not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. But my imagination cannot approach unto the infinitude of all that is good, and true and beautiful, for my Father says: "It hath not entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them who love Him." Hence I cannot see beyond that part of life dependent upon food, raiment and the five senses, beyond the smiling and the weeping, beyond the farewell and the greeting. When the mists have rolled in splendor from the beauty of the hills, we awake to live. "Is not life more than food, and the body more than raiment?"

Judges Uphold Oklahoma Freight Train Statute

OLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 11 (AP).—Constitutionality of an Oklahoma law limiting freight train lengths to 70 cars or less was upheld today by a special three-judge federal tribunal.

Lack of a supreme court ruling on the subject had brought widespread attention to the case. Six similar suits are pending in federal district court here.

The tribunal held in a majority decision that the preponderance of evidence showed that the longer the train, the greater the shock to employes and caretakers when air brakes are applied and that it is impossible to see effectively from caboose to engine on the longer trains.

Mrs. Hogan's Score Low At Golf Course

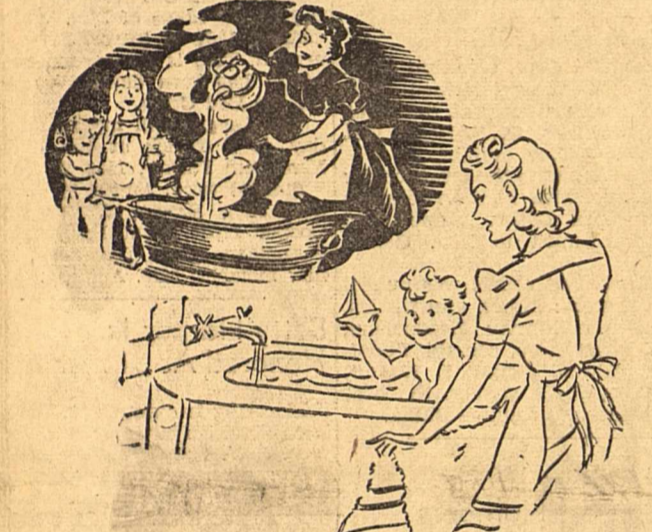

Mrs. Fred Hogan had low score among members of the Midland Women's Golf Association in play over the Country Club course Friday.

Mrs. W. B. Harkrider won a putting contest.

Other contestants were Mrs. R. W. Hamilton and Mrs. F. A. Stacy.

The association holds weekly contests in driving, putting, and approaching.

YOU DON'T

HEAT WATER

On Top of the Stove

What an unsatisfactory method that used to be! Today, you just turn the faucet . . . and there's all the hot water you need, right on top! Don't do old-fashioned laundry drudgery either! We're right on top, too, with excellent, economical laundry service. Be modern—use it!

ALTERATIONS EXTRA AT SALE PRICES!

TO THE MULTITUDE OF FINE CUSTOMERS THROUGHOUT WEST TEXAS the announcement of our semi-annual clearance sale is self-explanatory. Because, anyone who has attended our clearance sales know that they are honest, straightforward reductions on dependable, nationally-known, nationally-advertised brand of merchandise and that they are brought about twice each year for the sole purpose of converting this enormous stock into CASH without a penny's profit.

IT'S NOT A "BAIT" PROPOSITION! Comparison of nationally-known branded lines will prove that we are offering them at less than you will probably find elsewhere in Texas.

THE RULES ARE: ALL SALE PRICES CASH! AND NO SALE FINAL UNTIL THE CUSTOMER IS SATISFIED! IT MUST BE RIGHT OR WE WANT IT BACK! These simple rules, added to the type of merchandise that we sell, are the factors that make Wadley's clearance sales the best known over all of West Texas and New Mexico.

In his victory in the national mixed pair championship with Mrs. R. C. Young of Bywood, Pa., Sidney Silodor of Oakmont, Pa., won his first national trophy. In 1936 he was one of the world championship team-of-our-runners-up. Today's hand, which helped in the winning of the championship, involves a rather interesting little play.

Mrs. Young starred in the bidding through her repeated cue-bids in the opponents' suits. Silodor possesses the happy faculty of being able to mentally join a weak holding of his own to strength disclosed by his partner in the bidding, and thus the slam contract was reached.

The play of the hand was not difficult. After the first trick was won with the spade ace, the ace of clubs was cashed and a low club ruffed in the closed hand.

Now the heart six was led and South was forced to play the ace. There remained no further problem except to score the slam, which was not reached by many other teams.

Russia Rebukes Statesmen After German Aid Deal

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Jan. 11.—The government and party press of the Soviet Union spoke out sharply today in justification of the new economic deal between Germany and Russia and rebuked British and American statesmen who may consider it warlike.

Furthermore, the newspaper announced, Moscow will make additional trade treaties in 1941 as she pleases, with nations both at war and at peace.

"It is time," said an editorial in Izvestia, the government organ, that the world understands the U. S. S. R. follows an "independent policy and will continue to follow it."

Argentine Deal Rumored

Both Izvestia and Pravda carried editorials which cast some new significance on the expanded German Russian trade pact signed here Friday, under which Germany is supposed to receive, principally, increased supplies of Soviet wheat. Buenos Aires sources have indicated that Russia is sending a mission there to buy much Argentine wheat. This might be trans-shipped to Germany.

"There are," said Izvestia, "in Britain and the United States some leading statesmen who believe that the United States, in full conformity

Courageous London Firm Against Raids

LONDON, Jan. 11 (AP) This citadel of Britain stood firm tonight against an onslaught of hundreds of fire and explosive bombs dropped by squadrons of heavy German bombers in as short but intense raid.

The attack threatened but never achieved the destruction done in London's great fire of 1940—the "fire blitz" Dec. 29 on the "city."

with international law and the position of neutrality, may sell to Britain everything—including even warships—whereas the Soviet Union cannot sell to Germany even cereals without violating the policy of peace.

London's crowded, old financial district.

If, as it seemed for a while, the Luftwaffe was trying to repeat that devastation on an ever wider scale, observers said it failed.

Fire fighters rally. Volunteer fire watchers and fighters rallied as incendiaries hurtled down. They extinguished fires which were so bright for a time that you could read a newspaper on the blacked-out city's roofs.

An Associated press reporter saw at least 50 incendiaries swish to the ground at one time and start rows of bright blue lights. One by one they went out as firemen reached them.

The dome of St. Paul's Cathedral once again stood out impressively against the flaming backdrop. But, unlike the earlier raid, the main blazes were speedily put out, even

German Bombers Scar Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Jan. 11 (AU)—This Britain's naval station, one of the Luftwaffe's sorely-tried targets on the short hop across the channel, bore the sea new scars today of the Nazi "one-town-a-night" blitz attack.

Leaving the rest of Britain in relative peace, Nazi planes streamed in over the south coast throughout Friday night and dropped hundreds of fire bombs and high explosives on Portsmouth and its 250,000 inhabitants.

A government announcement admitted "a number of fatalities and considerable damage" to buildings and homes.

Widespread havoc was caused by the massed waves of German bombers. Several large stores and six burned-out movie theaters were among the damaged buildings. Some residential areas were cleared because of unexploded delayed-action bombs.

Martin County Will Send Six Volunteers

STANTON, Jan. 11 (Special) — Martin County's quota for the January draft call was filled by volunteers.

The quota for the county was six men, and seven volunteered. They are Ralph Hedrick, Reuben Cox, Burford Bush, Wesley Ashley, Doy Elwood Wilkerson, Will Reed Mints and Vernon Hightower. Only the first six named will be sent, but Hightower will be in line for the next call. The six will go to Lubbock, Jan. 28, where they will be inducted into the U. S. Army.

In 1937, Ralph Heilman of Hope, Ind., raised 900 bushels of corn on five acres of land.

Builders Forecast Defense Housing Will Swell New Homes This Year To 650,000 As Active 1940 Closes Out

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (Special) — Residential contractors and operative builders have just concluded the best year since 1928, and the prospects for 1941 are extremely good, states American Builder in its Annual Statistical Review of the home building industry, just completed.

Defense housing, added to a large volume of private building, is expected to swell the total of new homes next year to 650,000, which would be a 19 per cent increase over this year's 545,000 home units.

Public interest right now centers on defense housing, in which field many interesting things are being done. It is estimated that government-financed homes for defense workers, Army and Navy civilian personnel, and others, may account for from 40,000 to 60,000 units next year. This is a highly important amount of business, but, as American Builder points out, would be less than 10 per cent of the private residential building handled through normal private building channels.

Defense housing units are limited by law to $3,500 each, including land. Army and Navy officials are studying numerous innovations including demountable and portable types of houses.

Home building in 1940 was extremely active—particularly in the small home field. The total of 545,000 dwelling units built included all kinds of houses, both urban and rural, except farms. Preliminary estimates of the value of all residential building last year, as reported by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, indicate a total of $1,850,000,000. Since approximately half of that amount was spent by contractors and builders in the purchase of home equipment, building materials and products, the year's work gave a far reaching boost to the durable goods industries.

More than 100,000 contractors and home builders operating in 16,000 towns or villages and 3,000 counties were involved in the building program last year, American Builder estimates. In addition, some 20,000 lumber and material dealers and many thousands of subcontracting firms and local producers of mill work, cement and brick products and other building materials are benefited.

Home building last year hit a twelve-year peak, these statistics show, and exceeded the 1929 volume by 35,000 units. The largest increases in home construction took place in cities of 25,000 to 50,000, which showed a 38 per cent jump over 1939. Towns of 10,000 to 25,000 showed a 30 per cent increase. Another large increase—21 per cent—was shown in rural home building exclusive of farms.

Building Starts Dull In Midland

Building in Midland last week was the lightest in several weeks as only one permit was issued.

That was to C. W. Chancellor to alter a frame building at 1710 W. Missouri St. The construction will add a store room over a garage.

The permit for $325, added to one of Jan. 3 for $2400 to construct a residence, brought 1941 permits to $2,725.

Better Homes Better Living by the Housing Editor

Additions to the house are usually coincidental with additions to the family.

An extra room for the growing child saves the rest of the house, as well as the mother, from a lot of wear and tear. During winter days particularly, when the children spend long noisy hours indoors, many parents wish they had another room in the house.

Considerable expense will be saved if a new home is originally planned for the addition of another room, which will not only change the living habits of a family but will also have a direct influence on the future of the children.

The illustrations show a one-bedroom house planned for the addition of a second bedroom.

In its simplest form the one-bedroom house makes use of one room for living, dining, and cooking. On the addition of the second bedroom the hall closet becomes a connecting hall for the new room. The expanded plan also suggests variations obtained through enlargement of the living room, separation of the kitchen from the living room, and addition of a porch. The kitchen is large enough for dining.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tom and Mrs. Elizabeth Graves left Wednesday morning for Temple, where all three planned to go through Scott and White Clinic. Mrs. Graves returned Saturday. Word received from Mrs. Tom Friday evening was that Mr. Tom would undergo surgery Monday morning, there.

Sterling Harding was a visitor in Stanton, Friday afternoon. Harding was formerly a resident of Stanton, where he was employed at the First National Bank. He now lives in Midland, where he is employed by the Midland Motor Co.

Martin Gibson has been a flu victim this week, unable to be at work. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Houston were in Merkel Wednesday, to attend the W. J. Largent & Son sale of pure-bred Hereford stock.

Mrs. J. H. Kelly visited her daughters, Mrs. Eugene Ford, of Kilgore, and Mrs. Roy Birchman of Fort Worth the past week.

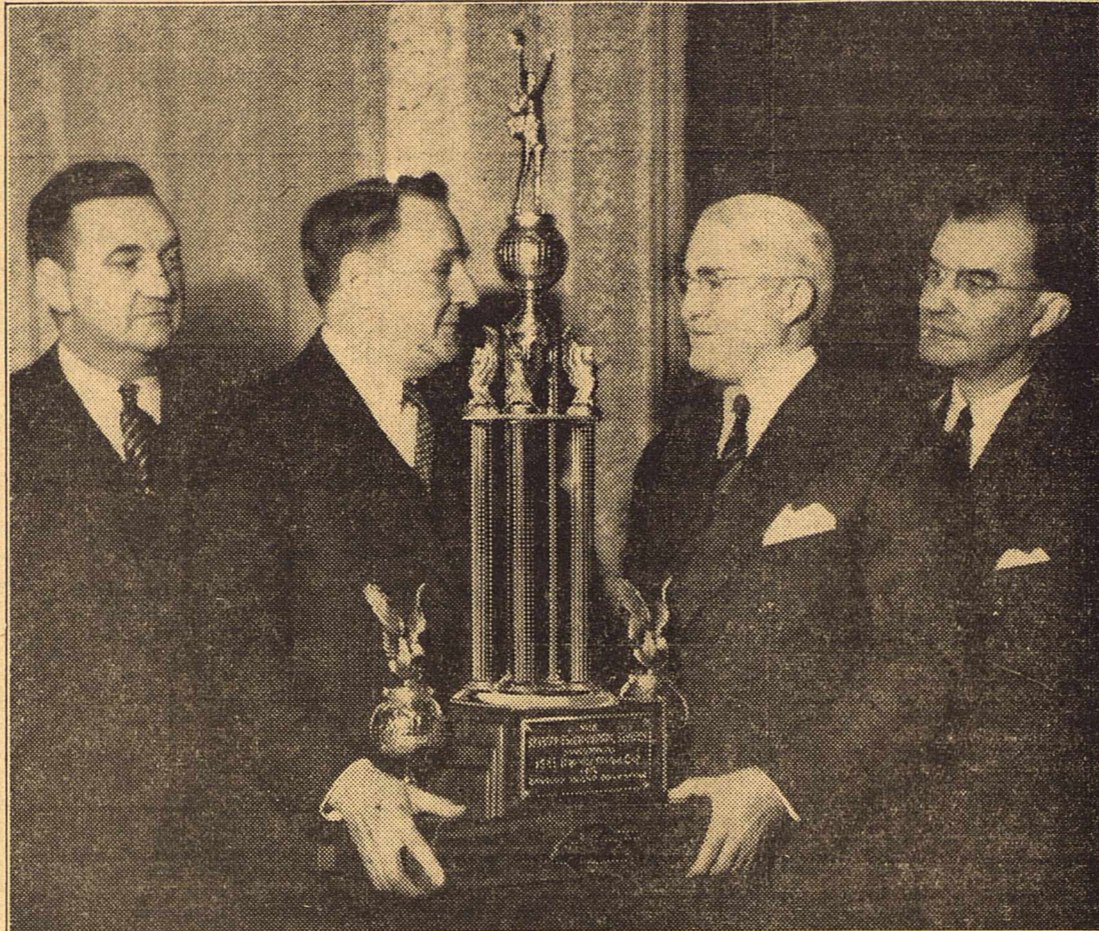

Miss Nadlen Kelly, who has been working in the telephone office at Pecos until recently, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Kelly, of Stanton the past week, before going to Lubbock, to enter business school. She was accompanied by Lubbock by her brother and sister, Ruth and Ohmer Kelly.

Mrs. J. W. Oakley left Wednesday afternoon for Bartlesville and Tulsa, Oklahoma, to visit a daughter and son. From there she plans to go to her old home in Nashville, Tenn., for a visit, before returning to Stanton.

Miss Rosalee Leslie of Eastland, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Fagg, of New York City, were guests at the Earl Powell ranch last week-end. Miss Merle Houston was at home this week, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Houston. Miss Houston is a stewardess for Braniff Airlines, and has a scheduled run from Dallas to Chicago.

Miss Rena Crowder has been a visitor in Stanton this week. She is spending the week in the home of Mrs. Johnny Kenderdine, at Midland.

Goering Says German Bombing Far Superior

By The Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 11.—"No comparison is possible" between the bombs Germans have dropped on Britain and those the British have dropped on Germany, Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering declared tonight.

The German air force, he said, has interfered with 60 to 70 per cent of British production and the British have put out of commission not a single German factory.

The Reichsmarshal, head of the Nazi Luftwaffe and Adolf Hitler's No. 1 lieutenant, spoke at the fliers' club before 574 miners honored with war service crosses. His speech, on the eve of his 48th birthday, was broadcast.

Goering said the German air force "must and will see to it" that Britain's shipping difficulties grow more and more serious. "Iron and coal are necessary to arm," Goering said. "We are rich in iron and coal."

GRDA Spokesman Says U. S. Will Take Over Plant

VINITA, Okla., Jan. 11 (AP).—A Grand River dam authority spokesman declared today he was convinced the federal government would attempt in the near future to "take over" the $22,750,000 power project by instituting a receivership action.

His statement was made after John Carmody, Federal Works Administrator, told the GRDA in a telegram from Washington that he hoped it had not exposed itself "to a charge of contempt of court" by opening spillway over the dam.

The spokesman, who refused to be quoted directly, said he believed the GRDA's action in opening the gates for a week to prevent flooding of road and bridge projects in the valley would be used by the government as grounds for the receivership suit.

Color In Concrete Supplies Diversity

For many years concrete has been thought of as a greyish material largely associated with sidewalks, porch floors, and basement walls. More recently, however, colored concrete has become available to the home owner or prospective home owner. Buff, yellow, red, green, blue, brown, slate, black—all are possible colors for concrete, and more and more they are being used.

On the technical side of the subject, concrete experts suggest that a color pigment suitable for use must fulfill these requirements: it must be durable under exposure to sunlight and weather; and it must be of such composition that it will not react chemically with the cement to the detriment of either cement or color.

Discovery Of New Eddy County Pool Six Miles Southwest Of Old Artesia Field Is Highlight In New Mexico

HOBBS, N. M., Jan. 11.—South-east New Mexico oil interest was led today by the opening of a new pool two miles east of Lake McMillan and six miles southwest of the old Artesia field in Eddy County.

The discovery is E. L. Fulton and associates No. 1 Edith Johnson, 2-310 feet from the south and east lines of section 22-18s-27e. It last was reported undergoing testing through 2-inch tubing set at 1,645 feet.

No. 1 Johnson went originally to total depth of 1,849 feet in lime and was plugged back to 1,647 feet. It then was shot with 230 quarts of nitro from 1,572 to 1,645 feet. After shot-hole was cleaned out, tubing was run, and the well swabbed 27 barrels of 34.6 gravity oil in five hours. It later was shut in and filled 175 feet with oil in 18 hours.

Main pay was logged in lime from 1,572 to 1,593 feet.

S. P. Yates No. 1 Taylor Ross, Eddy wildcat eight miles west of Lake McMillan, is drilling below 935 feet in lime. Location is 1,650 feet from the south, 660 from the west line of section 22-18s-25e.

Dayton Gasser Gauged.

In the Dayton pool of Eddy, Jones & Yates No. 1 Everest is cleaning out after shooting with 250 quarts from 1,900 to 1,984 feet. It has logged broken saturation in sandy lime from 1,485 feet to total depth of 1,984 feet. The well is 2-310 feet from the south, 990 from the east line of section 15-18s-26e.

The Dayton pool registered a gasser with the completion of Brewster Drilling Company No. 1 Kindle for flow of 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas per day. Located 2,310 feet from the north and east lines of section 26-18s-26e, it went to total depth of 1,193 feet in lime and was bridged back to 995 feet preliminary to shooting with 40 quarts from 985 to 995 feet.

Also in the Dayton pool, Jones Yates & Mix No. 1 Crowder, 990 feet from the north, 2,310 from the west line of section 26-18s-26e, is testing at a plugged-back depth of 1,055 feet. It has been making an estimated 50 to 75 barrels of oil daily with about 1,000,000 feet of gas. Shut-in casing pressure is 800 pounds. Original total depth was 1,150 feet in lime, and the well was shot with 500 quarts from 920 to 1,055 feet after plugging back.

Eddy Wildcats.

Truett & Tallmadge No. 1 Rudahl, wildcat in section 8-20s-24e of Eddy, is shut down at 825 feet in lime.

In section 15-21s-27e, Eddy County, A & M Petroleum Company No. 2 State, a wildcat, is drilling past 561 feet in sand and lime.

Ben Peters and J. H. Elder, both of Midland, Tex., have staked location for No. 1 Root in the Root area of Eddy. It is preparing to spud.

A field well at Red Lakes in Eddy has been started by Ploylar and associates at No. 1 State-Spurck. Now drilling below 160 feet in red rock, it is 2,310 feet from the south, 990 from the east line of section 24-17s-27e.

Big Maljamar Well.

The Loco Hills pool of Eddy gained another test in Aston & Fair No. 2-C State, 1,650 feet from the north, 990 from the east line of section 11-18s-29e. The test logged base of salt at 965 feet and now is drilling below 2,100 feet in anhydrite.

On the Lea County side of the Maljamar pool of Eddy and Lea, Barney Cockburn No. 30-B Balish flowed 120 barrels of oil on two-hour test through 5 1/2-inch casing. It topped pay at 3,960 feet and was shot with 330 quarts from that point to total depth of 4,025 feet in sandy lime. Location is 660 feet from the south and 1,980 from the east line of section 28-17s-32e.

Short northwest extension of the West Eunice pool of Lea is being sought by Wilson Oil Company in No. 11 Shell Oil Company-State, 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 7-21s-35e. Company rig will be employed in drilling the test.

Chaves Active.

In Chaves County, A. F. Pierce and others (formerly Roxana Oil Company) No. 1 C. F. Franks was acidized with 1,000 gallons without results at total depth of 896 feet in lime. It had logged showing of oil from 862 to 867 feet. The wildcat now is shut down for repairs at 938 feet in lime. It is 900 feet out of the northwest corner of section 17-9s-25e.

R. I. Willson No. 1 B. L. Brown, Chaves wildcat in section 29-11s-23e, is shut down for repairs at a depth of 235 feet in black lime.

L. E. Elliott No. 1 State, closely watched wildcat in section 16-11s-31e of Chaves, is drilling red rock below 335 feet.

Stock Market Is Quiet At Weekend

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—The stock market took a rest today at slightly lower levels after another week of generally rising prices.

A few rubbers and specialties managed to tack on advances but steels, motors, aircrafts and leaders in other groups finished with a perceptible limp.

A large portion of the relatively negligible volume was accounted for by several low-priced shares, the majority of which ended a shade ahead.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 1.1 of a point at 44.9, the first dip since the creeping recovery got under way Jan. 8. On the week the composite showed a net gain of .7, its third consecutive weekly upturn.

Transfers totaled 361,440 shares, lowest Saturday turnover since Nov. 30.
