Ray's--

(Continued from Page 1) cases here in Muleshoe. Mr. Smithers was so eager to get his business opened that he neglected to put a number in front of the joint, so he has to describe it as either near another and better-known business or else he has to say how far it is from some other central location.

Took a little drive out American Blvd. (which is American Blvd. and not U. S. 84 or Clovis Road) and just got to checking on the scarcity of numbers on business buildings. I think I saw only two or three, and one of those was literally falling down. So, as I said at the outset, the Jaycees might sponsor a house numbering campaign. There are also many homes that lack numbers. Strictly speaking, Uncle Sam can refuse to deliver mail to a house that is not numbered.

Of course one of the best systems would be to put the number on the curb, although this system requires frequent re-lettering. The Jaycees, for instance, might charge for this service; not only would the houseowner be helped, but the Jaycees could make a small sum as well for their several worthwhile projects. And I'd suggest, too, that they buy a supply of those luminous metal or plastic signs that are put out near the curb. One town in which we lived had such markers, sold by a Boy Scout troop. Think they cost around $1.50 per each, but they were well worth the money.

All these suggestions are made with the hope that something can be done to aid downtown parking and the house-numbering program. Muleshoe is growing. It's a good town, and it's going to continue to grow. As it grows, it must adopt bigger-town programs. Hope the Jaycees do something about the two programs mentioned here.

Documents--

The obligations of American citizenship grow with each succeeding generation. This responsibility calls for constant re-education. When we find our capacity for patriotism becoming dulled we need a shot in the moral fiber to withstand the artful propaganda which the enemies of democracy set out to trap the unwary.

The vital force of our national inheritance is ingrained in every word of the Declaration of Independence. It should be reread thoughtfully to the strains of martial music, for in this spirit it was written. To feel the full impact of the words we must stand side by side in memory with the great Americans who breathed the life into it.

The spirit is ours when we sit by candlelight in a quiet nook and look over the immortal Abraham Lincoln's shoulder as he pens... "It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work." The spirit is ours and gushes from the very wellsprings of our being when we recreate the eventful 24 hours in the life of Francis Scott Key preceding the birth of the Star Spangled Banner.

Opener-- (Continued from Page 1) session last Friday night. Taylor and his assistants have not announced the starting lineup, but backfield probably will be made up of veteran Kenny Heathington as quarterback, Clifford Gray as fullback and Scotty Oliver and Ronnie Johnson in the quarterback slots.

WHAT IS AN INDEPENDENT AGENT? HELPING MAKE THE CLAIM

There are company agents and independent agents. A company agent sells insurance policies for the one company he represents. Ordinarily he does not concern himself with claims. Your local independent agent represents more than one company. He recommends policies according to your individual needs, based on the greatest protection at the most reasonable cost--regardless of company. Should a claim arise your independent agent helps you with the details. He represents you -- not the company.

(Continued from Page 1) market. Farmers Union opposes this proposal, Naman said, "since we feel this not only would fail to help our carry-over problem but would actually encourage still further overproduction."

Still another pending amendment, Naman said, is also opposed by National Farmers Union. That amendment would make the farmers pay the cost of the program, based on a sliding scale of payment for cotton produced by each farmer in excess of 15 bales. "We do not feel this system would work and it would place too much of a penalty on the farmers themselves," he said.

Other cotton bills pending are the Ellender bill, similar to the Cooley bill, and the Humphrey-Talmdage bill. The latter uses a sliding scale system of payment to the farmer. Farmers Union, Naman said, is not basically opposed to these bills, although it favors the original Cooley bill of mill incentive payments.

He assailed the Farm Bureau's land retirement program which he said would retire 78 million acres of land. "This is nothing more than a mammoth-sized land bank system and would be tremendously costly to our nation," he said.

He said Farmers Union is opposed to a proposal to end the feed grain program. He said Farmers Union favors a wheat program on a voluntary certification plan.

The Hub meeting was followed by an old-fashioned ice cream supper. The group named a committee to nominate new officers for the Farmer county Farmers Union. On the committee are J. C. Red-

No Increase in Wheat Planting Likely in 1963, Poll Reveals

DES MOINES (AP) With the defeat of marketing quotas for wheat in last May's referendum, do wheat farmers plan large increases in their fall planting? They do not, a poll by "Successful Farming" magazine indicates. A survey of 308 farmers in 14 major wheat producing states conducted during July showed that 75 per cent of those interviewed planned to stay within their 1964 acreage allotment. Of those interviewed, 14 per cent planned to exceed their allotment and 11 per cent were undecided. Citing reasons of farmers planning to stay within their allotment, the survey said 43 per cent feared overplanting might result in reduced wheat allotments in the future. Another 11 per cent expressed the hope their action would bring better prices or fear that overplanting might help depress prices. One Texas radio farm director told interviewers: "Farmers aren't just going to plant wheat everywhere. They're still cautious and still feel they can't afford to go all out. They're thinking in terms of price drops and possibility of getting a lower allotment if there's a surplus of wheat." Of those planning to stay within their allotments, 22 per cent said such planting fit in best with their operation, 5 per cent said the allotment was sufficient for their farm and 5 per cent said they felt the wheat supply should be controlled. "We didn't vote against the referendum in order to grow more wheat, but against the principles it represented," said one Illinois farmer. The 14 per cent who said they plan to overplant their allotments cited the need to seed more at expected cheaper wheat prices, the lack of a program and the idea of gambling that prices won't be allowed to fall too far.

Mrs. Olds Rites Held at Sudan

Funeral services for Clara Maurine Olds, 57, Sudan, who died here Sunday, were held at the First Baptist Church at Sudan Monday, conducted by the Rev. Willie Hazel and the Rev. O. L. Olds; three daughters, Mrs. Jerry Smallin, Denver; Mrs. Byron Lynn, Sudan, and Mrs. Pat Christal, Amarillo; and two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Shaner, Gilliam, La., and Mrs. Mattie Watson, Shreveport, La., and by six grandchildren. ## Yarborough in Washington

Dear Fellow Texan:

The Rural Electric Administration was created by an act of Congress in 1935 while FDR was President and while Sam Rayburn, the beloved speaker, was leader of this legislation in Congress. This Rural Electric Administration has played a leading role in developing the full resources of rural America to the high level that we know them today.

It brought to the farm home the first light, the first power for farm machinery, water pumps, washing machines, electric milking machines and all of the other things that have helped develop agriculture prosperity and helped ease the work burden in rural areas. Now after this wonderful record of service, the REA is under heavy, vicious attack. Six bills have been introduced into this Congress aimed at undermining, undercutting, weakening or destroying the REA. The purpose of these bills is to raise the interest rates on loan to electric coop.

I am opposed to these bills. If the REA interest rates are raised it will set off a chain reaction causing interest rates to rise on everything else across the country, and hearing in Congress have shown that high interest rates are now one of the main drags on our economy.

Fellow Texan, I am a native of Chandler, over in Henderson County which now has a population of 715. I understand the small town role, the country role, the importance of rural electric service. I know the need for lights in the farm house and in the small town. When I was a boy, I studied by the light of a coal oil lamp; then as a man, I taught in the rural schools of Henderson County, six miles from the railroad and studied and read and graded papers by the light of a coal oil lamp. I know the need for light for the students of Texas, light to match the vision of the people of Texas.

In recent magazine articles, money appropriated by Congress to lend to the REA is referred to as Pork Barrel and Pork Casserole and people are led to believe that money loaned to the rural electric coops is being given away. When we talk about money to the rural electric co-ops, we are talking about money loaned to them to be repaid to the United States government, money used to enrich the lives of millions of Americans outside the metropolitan areas.

Never in the history of the REA has a Texas rural electric coop failed on its debt. In the 28 years the REA has been in existence, the government of the U. S. has loaned over $5 Billion to the rural electric coops of America and those coops have paid back over $1.8 Billion, including interest. But this money was not voted and given to the REA—it was loaned. This year the REA will loan on its programs about $250 Billion at 2 percent interest, but due to the high rate of interest the government is paying, the money will cost the government about 3 3-10 percent interest, a net cost on the difference of about $4 Million, not the $250 Million magazine articles have said. This is a low cost indeed for the millions of people that it serves; it's a good program. It's paying back those billions to the taxpayers of America.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Austin Texas, — number two killer — cancer — continues deep in second place behind the nation's front runner—heart disease.

Statistics made dull reading. However, some interesting facts concerning Texas' cancer picture come to light with a close look at the final 1962 figures compiled on cancer-death sites and ages.

A grand total of 12,252 Texans suffered death from cancer last year—or as the statisticians call it—malignant neoplasms.

Age 55 to 79 are the dangerous ages for cancer, claiming well over half of all victims—7,404.

Sad fact of the matter is that many of the cancer deaths which occur during these years may have really had their beginnings as young as 40 years of age.

For this reason public health authorities have been urging people to start a program of definite physical examinations each year once they have passed their 40th birthday. Somehow, the admonitions still go unheeded by too many persons.

Deaths from cancer continue to mount. Each year the statistic is a little bit higher and a little bit sadder.

Cancer involving the digestive system, for instance, reaps the largest toll among cancer causes, claiming 3,686 lives last year.

Early diagnoses, before the malignancy has a chance to spread followed with modern treatment could cut this figure in half.

Breast cancer took 947 lives last year—often women in the prime of their lives. For a long while now regular medical examinations, supplemented with self-examination, have saved hundreds of lives each year. More could still be saved—if they were found early enough.

Perhaps the most tragic statistic points out the hundreds of Texas women who die each year from the effects of uterine cancer.

specialists of a smear sample, which is obtained quickly, easily and painlessly by a physician, can determine the presence of malignant organisms long before the disease reaches the deadly stage in its victims.

Follow up medical procedure are nearly always successful—provided the diagnosis is made early enough.

Texas cancer statistics could be a lot lower, but meanwhile, the yearly compilations of the latest death figures continues to rise. This is due to improved di-with better methods of case finding.

RELAXATION IN SPAIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospect of new law granting increased liberty in Spain "may bring in a new day for Baptists and other evangelicals" there, says the Rev. Dr. Josef Nordenhaug, general secretary of the Baptist World Alliance, adding:

"Though the new law will still not permit full evangelistic activity by non-Catholics, it will bring about an easing of previous restrictions on the rights of non-Catholic citizens of Spain."

WHOLL UNFASTEN THE TRAP?

NOGALZES, Ariz. (AP)—Police were called to help a Nogales resident who set out a trap for rodents.

His trap had caught a skunk.

Tips From AMA For Your Health

Many millions of Americans will take to the fields and forests this fall to hunt everything from cottontail rabbits to Canadian moose.

At least 200 of these hunters will be brought back dead. They will be killed in accidents involving guns.

And back of almost every hunting accident is one cause, carelessness. Today's Health, the Medical Association, offers some six pointers that will help you both to return unharmed from your hunting trip and to avoid bagging a fellow hunter.

Know what you're firing at before you pull the trigger. Be certain that the rustle in the brush actually is a deer and not another hunter.

Never climb through or over a fence with a loaded gun. Unload the gun, then reload after you've cleared.

Don't shoot at a flat, hard surface. Ricocheting bullets can kill or wound at long distances.

Never look down the barrel of a gun to see whether it's loaded. You can't tell by looking down the barrel anyway, and there's always the chance of an accident.

Always carry a gun so that you control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you're ready to shoot.

Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without first unloading it. Store guns and ammunition safely out of the reach of children.

Unload guns carried into camp or home. Keep guns cased until reaching the hunting area. Always be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions, such as mud or snow.

Alcohol and gun definitely do not mix. Avoid drinking while you're carrying a loaded gun.

Above all, treat a gun with respect. Never point it at a human. It might go off.

PREPARE FOR TOMORROW

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Scientists claim that they are on the verge of creating life out of inanimate matter, the Rev. Robert C. Dodds, planning director of the National Council of Churches, told a Christian education meeting here.

He asked how Christians should respond to the possible development of feeling and thinking beings within a laboratory, "perhaps not beings with any resemblance to men, but thinking and feeling beings just the same." He said churches "should prepare for all kinds of tomorrows."

TIPS...

FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENTS

SUMMER LANDSCAPING

Home gardening is often at a low ebb during August, because of heat and dry conditions but there are some jobs that need to be done at this time.

Annuals begin to look poor by mid-summer, and should be watered thoroughly during a dry period, says the horticulturist.

Moisten the soil to a depth of about four or five inches and mulch the plants to conserve this moisture.

Cut faded annual flowers to prevent seed production since plants allowed to grow seed will soon stop producing flowers. Cutting annuals back drastically will help rejuvenate them, and encourage new growth which will flower and produce a new display of color, says the horticulturist.

Mildew, troublesome in late summer, can be prevented by covering the plants with a fungicide. These materials should be applied at the first sign of the disease.

Some shrubs need pruning at this time of year. The greatest error in pruning is to delay too long in controlling the form and size of young plants, he adds.

Light pruning of evergreens and broadleaf evergreens can be done during the summer to shape and control their size. The ultimate size of each tree should be known so that the owner can begin pruning soon enough to prevent plants from getting too large for the space in which they are planted.

CHILDREN AND GOD
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Christian education programs tend to tell children about God's love without showing them they can experience it even while still a child, the Rev. Dr. David R. Hunter, an Episcopal Church leader, told a meeting here.

Aside from a "few fleeting visits with God through teaching the child to pray — God's presence in the child's life . . . does not find a place in the program," he said that just as a child can respond to parental love without fully understanding, so a child can respond to God's love without putting it off into the future.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas' new Parks-Wildlife Commission has reclassified its personnel in keeping with the $3,500,000 budget set by the Legislature. Reclassification will result in an additional $10,000 in salary expenses.

Commissioners voted to keep all personnel from the old Parks Board and the Game and Fish Commission on the payroll.

Howard Dodson, former executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, will be retained as a Consultant to the Board until January.

Commission also approved Executive Director Weldon Watson's recommendation that the state parks system be managed through the five regional offices used by game officials. Regional headquarters are located in La Porte, Rockport, San Angelo, Tyler and Waco.

NEW TREND?—There seems to be a new trend toward refusing federal aid: The Irving School Board spurned an offer of an $11,000 grant because "of the growing danger of federal control of the school curriculum."

But most school systems still accept educational assistance from the U. S. government. Texas Education Agency, looking at preliminary figures for the 1962-1963 school year, found $33,700,000 was paid to Texas schools by federal programs.

In some cases, however, acceptance is selective: Both Houston and Dallas, which have local programs geared to prevent student drop-outs, refused cash grants for a similar federal program.

Houston and Dallas also are among the Texas towns which reject federal funds for school lunch programs. Others include Odessa, Goose Creek, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Henderson, Longview, Borger and Alvin.

U. S. AID—Abilene turned down a $46,730 offer of aid for a $3,600,000 sewer treatment plant from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Federal grants for $3,000,000 worth of sewer treatment improvements in Texas are recommended and administered by State Health Department officials.

Funds refused by Abilene were distributed among the following towns: Fritch, Gonzales, Graford, Hidalgo, Markum, Mineral Wells, Richland Hills, Smiley, West Columbia and Windom.

TEXAS' TAX TAKE—Although the Lone Star State accepted less federal money than many other states during the fiscal year that ended on June 30, it received slightly more than it paid out, according to a survey by Congressional Quarterly.

Texans paid about 4.26 per cent of all taxes received by the federal government. It reaped 4.81 per cent of the $10,000,000-plus federal grant total, or $500,295,000.

National average of federal aid received was $56 per capita. In Texas, the assistance averaged $49 per citizen. Alaskans were high with a per capita average of $226. Low was New Jersey with $34 per capita.

Schools and sewage systems were just a few targets of federal aid. In fiscal 1962, this state received $128,734,600 for highway construction; $31,120,182 for unemployment insurance; $62,832,857 for agricultural conservation; $139,252,153 for welfare assistance; and $13,350,583 for the national guard, as well as aid in other fields.

VENISON POPULAR—State Parks and Wildlife Department has a booklet available for free distribution, which should be of interest to ranchers, hunters and just about everyone.

It's title is "Texas Deer Herd Management — Problems and Principles." Booklet was written by James G. Teer, wildlife biologist formerly employed by the state. In his research, Teer found that deer herds of Texas provided more than 6,000 tons of meat for family consumption last year.

Another bulletin, newly revised, also can be secured without Snakes of Texas and the First Aid Treatment of Their Bites."

SALES TAX RECEIPTS—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert announced that sales tax revenues for the fiscal year which ended on August 31 will exceed his expectations.

Earlier, Calvert predicted sales tax income for the state would total $177,975,013. Now he says it will be $2,141,429 more, or a total of $180,116,442.

Construction Increase—Residential construction accounted for $81,600,000 of the $142,000,000 worth of construction authorized in the state in July.

It was the highest July and the third highest monthly level in 17 years.

So reports the UT Bureau of Business Research.

GAS BILLS VARY—A study of records, which the Texas Railroad Commission keeps on municipal gas rate structures, reveals a wide variance in gas rates across the state.

Lowest average year's bill paid by individual consumers in 1962, among the 22 cities on the commission list was $41.50. It was paid by citizens of a Corpus Christi suburb.

Highest average bills was that paid by Amarillo residents. This average bill for the year was $53.42.

RETIREMENT PAY—Members of the House of Representatives who have served four two-year terms and state senators who have served two four-year terms, now are eligible for retirement pay under a new law, effective September 1.

When a legislator has completed eight years of service, he receives a $100 a month retirement check. It increases $10 a year as long as he remains in the Legislature.

COMMISSIONER—Gov. John Connally has appointed Virgil Versaggi of Brownsville to the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission. He succeeds Weldon Caban-ero of Rockport.

Versaggi has been in the Shrimp business in Brownsville since 1949. He also operates shrimping fleets out of Tampa, Fla., and British Guiana, in partnership with his four brothers.

He was first president of the Texas Shrimp Association. Also first president of the Shrimp Association of the Americas.

RETURNS MONEY—Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has turned back to the State's General Revenue Fund $221,275 left over by the General Land Office from its fiscal 1962 appropriation.

"Reasonable economy of operation," Sadler said, "made this refund possible."

IN EUROPE—Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo, Dr. Tyrus Timm of Texas A&M and Dr. Wayland Bennett of Texas Tech are in Brussels, Belgium, to attend a conference on agriculture.

Sen. Krueger is vice-chairman of the State Senate's agriculture committee.

In the field of development of higher education in Texas will meet in Austin on September 9.

Calling the group together is the Committee of the Governing Boards of State Colleges and Universities. Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales is executive secretary of the privately financed Committee.

On the program will be Gov-
