County Farm Bureau Policy Group Meets More Than 30 Resolutions Are Passed By Committee

After sometimes heated and often times humorous debate the Resolutions Committee of the Bailey County Farm Bureau passed 31 resolutions on city, county, state and national questions at its annual meeting Monday.

Lead by Jack Schuster, policy development chairman, the representatives of some 670 local bureau members passed the following:

Public Relations Man

We recommend that a committee be appointed to study the employing of a full time or part time public relations man, and that the report of this study be made at annual meeting.

Jail Conditions

We recommend that the city furnish their own jail or pay use fee or some fair compensation for use of county jail.

County Roads

We recommend the Board of Directors appoint a roads and highway committee to make a continuing study of the roads and highway systems of Bailey County and make recommendations and reports.

County Roads

Whereas we, the voters of I-A Road District have voted bonds to repair all of the County owned paved roads. Be it Resolved that the Commissioners Court use some of the gas refund monies to maintain these paved roads.

Back Door Spending

We disapprove of "back-door spending" of future tax monies by purchases through warrants to be refunded into long term bonds.

Hi-Plains Water District

We recommend that the policies of the Hi-Plains Water District be more effectively enforced before the State takes over the authority to do this for us. We commend the Hi-Plains Water District board for locating a

Bailey-Lamb Road Construction Work Is Scheduled Soon

Improvements have been scheduled for two highways in Bailey and Lamb Counties, according to Texas State Highway officials.

One project involves several miles in Bailey County. It is the four-lane construction work starting at Muleshoe and extending into Lamb County. However, only the old lane will be rebuilt in Bailey County, while a new lane of approximately two miles will extend into Lamb County.

State officials explained that that distance gets the highway through the sandhills area. Contracts are expected to be let on the work in December.

The second project is already underway in Lamb County and an engineer from Lubbock is handling primary work. This project calls for the widening and strengthening of FM108. The road extends from Olton to Anton in Lamb County.

Area Education Executives Are Attending Confab

Three Muleshoe school principals are currently attending educational conferences in Corpus Christi and Houston along with an estimated 6,000 educators from across the state.

Elizabeth Watson Is Named To Represent Area Teachers

Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, Muleshoe High School Language Arts teacher, will act as a voting delegate at the 85th annual convention of the Texas State Teachers Association scheduled to conclude Oct. 24. More than 8,000 teachers will attend the policy making conference, according to Neal Dillman, superintendent of schools.

The House of Delegates will act on resolutions setting TSTA POLICY. They will also consider committee reports on such things as professional standards and improving educational services.

Elections and proposed legislation also will attract considerable interest. Delegates will act on a proposal calling for a $45 per month increase in the minimum teacher salary schedule. If approved, it will be presented to the 59th Texas Legislature meeting in 1965. Delegates will hear a report on results of the annual election for state TSTA officers. The secret balloting was conducted locally earlier this month.

Mrs. Elizabeth Little of Corpus Christi, current TSTA vice-president, was the only announcer. (See Watson Page 5)

County Court Collects Fines

Bailey County Clerk's Office has reported that a total of $1,236.15 in court fines was collected during the month of September.

The figure includes income derived only from criminal fines such as D. W. L. bootlegging, bad checks, etc. Totals collected by the Muleshoe Justice of the Peace are not included, and are not yet available for publication.

Grain Sorghum Harvest Approaching Peak

Yields Averaging 4,000 to 6,000 Pounds; Some Acreage As High As 7,000 at $1.75

Grain sorghum to the elevators in Bailey County in an even quickening stream with a yield averaging 4,000 to 6,000 pounds to the acre and bringing an average price of $1.75 per cwt.

Elevator men here estimate that from 60 to 70 percent of the crop has been harvested from irrigated farms, but the real peak won't be reached until next week or possibly the last week in October.

Dry land farming south of Muleshoe is probably less than 40-45 percent harvested. Elevator operators here believe crops from this area may continue to come in as late as Christmas.

Grain being received at the elevators is averaging a 13 to 14 percent moisture content with few exceptions. The exceptions, in the opinion of one elevator operator, are some farmers who have harvested their more mature grain earlier and are now eager to get the job over with so are cutting crops just a bit green.

Yield seems to be a bit better than average throughout the area. Most elevator managers feel sorghum situation is "excellent", and it is possible that it will come close to setting a record when the final figures are in.

While many farmers have just about completed their harvest, there are still many fields that have not yet seen the combine. One elevator man explained that some farmers prefer to delay cutting until after the first frost. Average frost date for this area is about October 20th.

One farming official said "I believe the situation in Bailey County is even brighter than people think, since I doubt seriously that much over half the grain in the area has been gathered. This will mean a higher overall turnout than many grainmen realize. We are probably right on or just over the halfway mark. Some elevators are approaching the filled point, and we'll soon see grain piled outside.

deer donated by Truman Lindsey, Lindsey Jewelers; John Smith, Corner Drug; and Elvon, West Texas Farm Labor Association manager. Trimmings were supplied by the Jaycees.

The team showed their appreciation of the feast by giving the Jaycees three cheers. Members of the bar-b-que committee were Jim Beilen and Delbert Barry.

Manhunt Ends With Capture

A three state manhunt that included tracking dogs and an airplane was called off yesterday when James Lee Stokes was placed in Muleshoe County Jail.

The manhunt began Monday when Stokes, 1116 Avenue "C", smashed a stolen car into a telephone pole at Avenue I and Second St. and fled the accident scene.

Moments later Bailey County Sheriff's Deputies arrived on the accident scene and discovered the 1958 Chevy, had been reported stolen the night before in Lubbock.

Immediate investigation led county officers to believe the fugitive had fled into and was hiding in large Johnson grass fields opening directly behind Avenue I.

Officers combing the field were unable to locate the fugitive and requested that dogs be sent from Hereford, Dimmitt and Friona. A plane, piloted by Morgan Locker, assisted in the hunt. Although the group combed the fields until dark the wanted man avoided capture until late Tuesday night.

He somehow made his way to Littlefield where he was captured by county officers and returned to Muleshoe yesterday.

Stokes, who has a past record was found in possession of tools which are often used in breaking and entering. Presently he is being held on a charge of parole violation, pending further investigation.

At the time of the accident Stokes was driving and Harold Wellborn, a Muleshoe High School student, was a passenger. Wellborn had been on his way to school when he was offered a ride by Stokes. He was injured in the accident and found in a state of shock when deputies arrived on the scene.

Officers carried him to (See Manhunt Page 5)

The group will show its animals in the Junior Livestock Show during the Dallas located fair. The eight are: Morris Lewis, Glenn Head, Steven Bass, Glen Clark, Kearney Scoggin, Verlon Scoggin, Bruce Little and Joe Fowler.

Lewis will show a Hereford steer in the Market Steer Show today. Fowler will also show his entries, two southdown lambs, today. Head, Bass, Clark, Little and Kearney and Verlon Scoggin showed their barrows yesterday.

Arch Fowler, Lewis Scoggin and Bill Bickle, Muleshoe V. A. Teacher have accompanied the group to Dallas.

New School Gym Lighting Planned

School Superintendent Neal Dillman is currently investigating the possibilities of rewiring the Muleshoe High School gym.

It is expected that fluorescent lighting of the same type installed in several classrooms last year will be used in the gym. Costs have been approximated at $700.

Over 200 Attend Jaycee's Venison Bar-B-Que Monday

More than 200 persons attended the bar-b-que held for the Muleshoe Mules by the Jaycees at Hoseshoe Bend Monday.

The fate was scheduled by the Jaycees to show the team support as they enter district play at Morton this Friday, according to Pat Glover, committee chairman.

The team, their dads and football fan visitors consumed five

Gasoline Tax Disbursement Received Here

Bailey County will soon receive a check for $22,897.02 from the state capitol.

The money is Bailey County's share of the $7,300,000 1963 disbursement from the Lateral Road Fund made on September 1st.

The total disbursement is the same as last year, and since Bailey County has no road bonds outstanding with the State Board of County Bond Indebtedness it can use the entire amount for road construction.

Lamb County received $49,536.24, but can use only 43,546.24 because $5,990.00 must be applied to outstanding bond debts.

The state received a total of $197,891,533 through the one-cent gasoline tax during the 1963 fiscal year, according to the state comptroller's office.

A total of $12,406,072 was paid out in refunds throughout the year, the report stated.

Youth Center Will Receive U.F. Budget

Muleshoe Area Youth Center is slated to receive $750 of the $13,000 United Fund appeal now going into full swing in Bailey County.

The Youth Center budget will be divided between the sub-teen and teenager divisions of the center. The monies are primarily used to pay expenses of renting the American Legion Hall for dances, obtaining bands, purchasing foods and other general expenses.

1963 Youth Officers and Board Members are: Charles King, chairman; Jan McVicker, Secretary; Judy Elliott, Sherry Smith, Lynn Barrett, Jane Bruns, Beckye Mason, Mike Bryant, Dusty Thomas, Stanley Black, Randy Beatty, Tommy Gunstream, Jack Herndon, Jeannie Wagon.

The sub-teen program is under the direction of Mrs. David Weyer, Mrs. Frank Ellis and Mrs. Horace Edwards.

Unrecognized Miniature Building Boom Has Hit Muleshoe

A Sunday drive around Muleshoe shows home building going on at a pace that is probably unequaled in any other area town or city our size.

The exact number of new homes constructed in the Muleshoe area is impossible to arrive at because the city is not presently requiring building permits. However, the number of new gas and electric meters connected gives us an estimate.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company officials state the company has installed about 25 or 30 new meters in the last 90 days. Southwestern Public Service spokesmen report about 26 new meter connections.

A Journal survey indicates there are presently 10 to 12 new homes under construction, at stages varying from having the footings poured to finishing work in the interiors. This does not include homes only recently occupied or finished and presently awaiting occupancy.

There are some speculative homes available on the Muleshoe market; not too many, but four or five over the town. Most of the homes underway presently are being custom-built to owners specifications.

Builders, always good barometers of business, report a brisk market in custom-built and speculative homes in the $10,000 to $35,000 market bracket.

Purchasers and occupants of the newly built homes are of several types. Most of them are Muleshoe and Bailey County families who are moving from their present older homes into new ones. Some are farm families moving into town and a smaller number are new residents.

The older vacant homes fill up immediately in most cases as soon as the present families vacate. Presently, rental homes are all but impossible to locate and thus are bringing top rentals.

Roof is on and crew working as fast as possible. They have two other jobs scheduled after this one.

American Women On The Go

Long, long ago, someone made the observation that "Man must work and woman must weep." Recently, a somewhat more enlightened philosopher said: "The hand that rocks the cradle holds the nation's purse strings."

Pauline Chappel has been the receptionist at West Plains Hospital for four years. She's working because she "enjoys the freedom of her job and meeting people."

But, despite all the quips... and the quails people might have had about the "place of women," the ladies have gone their merry way, asserting themselves where they saw fit and demanding certain rights and equalities. Today we are in the middle of American Businesswomen Week and here are a few vital statistics on hard headed beautiful and impossible to second-guess creature—the American woman.

In 1870, only fourteen percent of America's women dared call themselves employed. These brave pioneers, despite criticism, worked in various "accepted" professions such as nursemaid, housekeeper, cook, teacher and other refined occupations befitting their fragile make-up and sensitivity.

Today, America boasts some twenty-two million working women... or one third of the total number of employed! And, from the so-called "refined" occupations, they have branched out into every single area, including the fields of business, medicine, science, politics and the arts. Women are now represented in every single job category... they are executives, engineers, cab drivers and even furnace tenders!

Yet, the American woman is capable of many strange and wonderful feats... one of the strangest phenomena being her role in the growing labor force. For even though she is marrying younger... even though household help has declined until it is almost non-existent... fifty percent more women are working now than fifteen years ago. Not only this, but working wives now outnumber working bachelor girls... the most dramatic increase being in the married 45 to 54 year old group. Of course, at this point a lot of you men are going to ask why? Well, we have part of the answer. There are several logical reasons. First, modern household facilities such as dishwashers, deep freeze units and ready cooked meals are giving her much more free time. Second, education has given her a vocational urge that her ancestors did not have and which home-making alone cannot satisfy. Third... and perhaps most obvious is the incentive provided by the abundance of inexpensive modern day consumer goods. Whereas a hundred years ago, women were content with one or two dresses a year, today's mass production of clothes, beauty aids, household items, and entertainment point up the advantages of a multiple income.

There are a lot of words which might be applied to the American woman... tenacity is one... locomotion is another. For she's on the go from morning until night... in business, in the home and in the sports and social fields. We mentioned earlier that third of the United States working population. Are you wondering what they do? Well, teaching is still the most popular professional career for women, with almost a million of them in the U. S. school systems. Then there are over four hundred thousand active nurses and one hundred million women work in the nation's factories... over six hundred thousand of them in the garment industry alone. One hundred and eighty six thousand women are employed in the food products industry.

Clerical work is still the largest occupational field for women, with the last United States census showing a white collar female army totaling five million. Along with these groups, you will also find women employed as everything from bullfighters to bassoonists... from waterfall jumpers to carpenters and prize fighters. Yes, the ladies are everywhere. And they do not have to dream of becoming a parachute jumper or engine driver. Today, they just go right out and do it!

Incidentally, you may be interested to learn that many of the old theories about what women can do and what they cannot do have been broken down. Recently one large corporation actually put women to work operating big twenty ton cranes and found that they have better depth perception and are quicker to differentiate color than the men! In many jobs, because women have shorter thumbs than men, they have better finger dexterity. Because their legs are shorter and their bodies longer, jobs requiring much bending are easier for them than the men. Today, many companies are designing their operations to take a differences between men and women. But, although the women have proven themselves in so many areas of mechanical and scientific ability, you'll find some men who're "agin' it all. In fact, they care those who proclaim darkly that "There Oughta Be A Law."

When women won the right to vote thirty-two years ago, few people believed that they would have the stamina or interest to go into politics. Today, although women have neither reformed nor ruined politics, they have shown themselves to be tireless workers. Among those who have risen to the top in this field you will find Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Florence Dwyer of New Jersey, Mildred McAfee, World War Two Director of Wavs... Eugenie Anderson, first U. S. ambassador to Denmark... Clare Boothe Luce, playwright, congresswoman, publisher, and ambassador... and of course, Eleanor Roosevelt.

But despite all of the evidence proving women to have earned their place in business, and in politics the eternal battle goes on... fortunately with a more affectionate touch than the cruelty of yesteryear.

Since we have established that American women make up some 27 percent of the working population, it might be interesting to find out how she spends this quarter of the nation's payroll. Of course, if she is married and working, much of the income is going into the family coffers to provide extra luxuries, or even toward educating the children. But her here some interesting statistics on how American women generally will spend their money.

Her beauty budget will amount to one billion dollars broken up as follows. Six hundred and sixty-six million on beauty treatments. Four hundred million dollars on soap and electrical devices. Sixty-five million dollars on reducing treatments.

This amount, by the way, adds up to just about double the defense budget of Italy! But, out of all this care and grooming, comes the "Average American woman who stands five feet four inches, weighs one hundred and twenty-two pounds, has brown hair, blue eyes, and a neat 34, 25, 36 figure. Most of all, this average American working woman is alert, well-informed and always endeavoring to remain young at heart.

Yes, young at heart is the keynote of today's American woman. Gone are the days when mothers and grandmothers looked upon the age of fifty as the beginning of the declining years. Instead, with their children married, grandmothers now plan to further their education... to take on new jobs and hobbies... to undertake leadership in their favorite charities or clubs. Gone are the drab blacks and grays in elderly women's clothes. Instead, grandma and great-grandma are as stylishly attired as the teenage granddaughter.

To wind up our salute to America's army of working women, we'd like to refer to a recent poll which asked women the rath-you satisfied with being a woman in today's world? Tabulated results showed that over sixty eight percent of the women questioned were completely satisfied with being women in today's world.

The rest claimed to be almost satisfied. Like the sixteen percent who wished that they were married... and the small percent who wished that they had not married... or not had children.

Only one point six percent wished that they were men. A few evolved included those women who wished they had taken a course in plumbing... wished they understood parliamentary procedure... or knew more about child psychology! But summing it all up, one strong-minded woman said: "Any woman who is not satisfied with being a woman belongs on another planet!" And sometimes harried husbands wish they were.

So there they are... America's "WOMEN ON THE GO"... twenty two million wage earners representing one third of the working population.

So there they are... America's "WOMEN ON THE GO"... twenty two million wage earners representing one third of the working population.

So there they are... America's "WOMEN ON THE GO"... twenty two million wage earners representing one third of the working population.

Have A Pre-Game Picnic Soon

By VIVIAN BROWN

Fall and winter are ideal times to have an old-fashioned party after skating or a football game. are also popular.

One fun picnic is the football parking lot party on campus. Everyone arrives in cars early with baskets, blankets, boxes and jugs of drinks and the party is held on the ground behind the jalopies with the open trunk rack serving as silent butler.

At Yale University cars in the party are parked side by side. Everyone brings great warm blankets to spread over the ground. The picnic routine hasn't changed much through the years except that hibachis and grids have replaced the old camping stoves for cooking, transistors are easier to carry than large radios.

These picnics can be straight from the delicatessen or more elaborately prepared at home, groups chip in and cook a big juicy steak. But one can have just as much fun feasting on hero sandwiches, those giant-sized concoctions that are popular with the men folk. The heroes are made by dividing a loaf of French bread for two people and filling it with an assortment of tasty morsels. A popular one includes cheese, salami, sliced egg, anchovies. But a crowd usually decides on the combinations they want.

The advantage of choosing sandwiches or fried chicken is that you can't be stymied by the weather. The crowd can move into the largest car and feast, even if it pours outside.

Most picnics are overrated. After a time everyone gets restless. Bugs get into drinks and crawl on stockings. It is too chilly, too windy, too hot or too damp after a while. But the advantage of the football parking lot party at campus is that just about the time everyone has HAD the picnic, you have something to do — the game is in the offing.

It's possible to have dead-ends on a party of this sort, so if your best beau is lazy, encourage the eat-with-your fingers routine. That way there will be no arguments about the fire. By the time coins are flipped to decide who is going to build the fire, if ever, it will be game time.

Here are menu suggestions that have something to do — the game have been tried:

Cold Day:
Oyster stew, beef stew, onion soup, put up in a vacuum jug. Big sandwiches, fried chicken, cake or cookies.

Warm Day:
Hard boiled or deviled eggs, whole small tomatoes, pickles, cold cuts, hamburgers, steak, sandwiches, cold drinks.

Senator Yarborough Supports New Civil Rights Measures

Senator Ralph Yarborough went on record in favor of the controversial public accommodations section of the proposed civil rights bill.

The Texas Democrat voted with the majority of the Senate commerce committee, which sent the hotly debated measure to the Senate floor by a vote of 14 to 3.

It marked the first time Yarborough has taken a public stand on any portion of the civil rights program and especially on the public accommodations section.

Yarborough's vote was taken in a closed session of the committee and he said afterward he had "no immediate comment." He indicated a full statement would be forthcoming.

The senator's stand on the measure has been a topic of curiosity since the public accommodations measure was lifted from the hostile judiciary committee headed by Mississippi Senator James Eastland and put in the hands of the commerce committee.

The commerce committee, of which Yarborough is a member, gained jurisdiction over the measure on the grounds it is based on the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution.

Two Republicans and one Democrat on the panel — Senators Norris Cotton (Republican of New Hampshire), Thruston Morton (Republican of Kentucky), and Strom Thurmond (Democrat of South Carolina) — opposed the measure.

Yarborough's vote puts him squarely in the camp of the Senate's liberals, who are seeking to gain passage of all President Kennedy's civil rights proposals in the face of a certain Southern filibuster.

Committee approval of the public accommodations section could provide a vehicle to get the entire civil rights package to the Senate floor without waiting for action in the House or in the Senate judiciary committee.

Tower Favors Government Aid To Schools

Senator John Tower has said today he favors legislation granting federal aid to local school districts in the so-called "impacted areas."

The Senator is an opponent of general federal aid to education, but he said he favors legislation in this field "where an undue and unusual load has been placed on the local school system by virtue of some sort of federal installment in the area."

Senator Tower criticized what he called "The Administration's tactics of tacking needed education items on to some sort of massive spending bill which would perhaps generate a controversy" and doom worthwhile measures to defeat.

Tower opposed the entire education package as being too costly. He said the bill now contains authorization of "many, many times what the President requested. It was $1,435,000,000, which I felt was much too much."

Committee approval of the public accommodations section could provide a vehicle to get the entire civil rights package to the Senate floor without waiting for action in the House or in the Senate judiciary committee.

Home Buyers Are Becoming More Knowledgeable Today

Is it structurally sound? Is it easy to keep clean? Which is my room?

In order, these are the questions, a husband, a wife and a teen-ager ask themselves when the family is looking over a new house as a possible purchase.

They aren't by any means the only questions prospective buyers ask. But they probably are the most common, even if some times they aren't voiced aloud. The husband cherishes the widely accepted idea that, due to his superior knowledge of things material, he must decide whether the house will stand up under the wear and tear of the years. The wife, having read and heard about the many new surfaces which are easy to maintain, expects to see at least some of them in the new house.

And the teen-ager considers nothing more important than having a section of the home, no matter how small, where he can shut himself off from the adult world. (Girls feel the same way about this.)

If the man of the house is the least bit do-it-yourself-minded, he keeps an eye out for an area where he can locate his workshop. The wife spends considerable time looking over the kitchen, where she knows she'll be doing much of her work. The teen-ager, one satisfied that he has been allotted a room of his own, takes mental note of the house layout to see how it will affect his chores. The size of the lawn, for example, has a definite meaning to him.

One thing apparent to builders, architects and real estate men is that people are a lot more knowledgeable these days than they used to be about what goes into a house. In the past, most home buyers approved or disapproved on the basis of what they could see. Today, they are interested in things which are not visible, yet are important, such as the amount and kind of insulation. The questions they ask about these things indicate they already have a pretty fair idea of the subject and won't be satisfied with a generalized reply with little actual meaning.

All of this is to the good. Builders who spend the money to install quality materials and products will be encouraged to keep doing so if they are aware that the public knows the difference. And builders who specialize in things that can't be seen, may be forced to change their tactics when they realize that buyers are putting up sales resistance to inferior construction.

Bobby Airhart and Norman Thomas flew to Denver, Colo. on a weekend business trip. They made the flight in a Comanche piloted by J. M. Stacy, Friona.

SEARCH FLIGHT:

In compliance with a request from Bailey County law officers, Morgan Locker flew a Super Cub on an observation mission in search of a youth who left the scene of an automobile accident here Monday.

All city, county and state patrolmen surrounded a field just west of Muleshoe high school where the young man was believed to be hiding.

Tommy Taylor and Locker flew over the field, from every angle then moved out and flew over the pasture land, covering a 10 mile area. Locker said they could see rabbits running about and the view of the ground below was perfect, however the youth was not in the area. They had a clear view and watched police dogs and the local force at work covering the maize field and tall grass on foot.

Parmer County Farm News

"It is indeed appalling that some members of our society continue to deplore and criticize those who stress the Communist danger. What these misguided 'authorities' fail to realize is that the Communist Party, U.S.A., is an integral part of International Communism... public indifference to this threat is tantamount to national suicide. Lethargy leads only to disaster." (Quoted from officers by J. Edgar Hoover, Director Federal Bureau of Investigation.)

The American Farm Bureau, in the policy book of 1963, and several years previously, makes the following statement concerning Communism: "International communism is both an internal and external threat to the private competitive enterprise system. Communism is foreign to all the ideals of the free world. It would deny man's faith in God, his heritage of freedom, and his belief in justice and mercy. Farm Bureau is dedicated to the defeat of communist ideology." (This is only the first paragraph on this subject.) Now we come to the Walter Reuther Memo (actually written by Victor R., his full brother) for Attorney General Robert Kennedy. One of the most has already been implemented in some areas of the United States, was that the Federal Communications Commission be instructed to force radio and TV stations that carried anti-communist and religious programs, to give equal time to any organization that requested it, in order that they might present "their side of the story." (We are very happy to be able to report that our Rep. Walter Rogers and Sen. John Tower have voiced their opposition to this movement, and we hope you will write them your appreciation to this movement, and we hope you will write them your appreciation and request even stronger opposition.)

We would like for people of this area to know more about the above movement. We feel that this subject is important enough to merit your deep study, because it must be corrected before we concern ourselves with more trivial matters that may not even be publicly discussed if the directives of the Reuther Memo are carried out.

CONSIDER THIS: A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom to pervert the ways of judgement. Proverbs 17:23.

Now there fore be it resolved that Bailey County Farm Bureau take this occasion to commend Dillman, the school board and the teachers for making the American Heritage Program possible in the Muleshoe schools.

We recommend that the other two schools in Bailey county study that Muleshoe program with the goal of establishing a similar program for their schools. Noxious Weeds We recommend a committee to study and encourage controls and understanding the noxious weed problem in Bailey County. Research Foundation We commend the Half-Way Research Foundation for major contributions to High Plains Agriculture. We commend those who contributed finance and time to this worthwhile endeavor.

ASC Committee We commend the county ASC committee for the method used during 1963 for re-apportionment of cotton acres released from the state. We recommend that the county ASC committee continue this method of re-apportionment.

Commodity Organizations Whereas it is the desire of the Bailey County Farm Bureau to cooperate and assist in the Plains Cotton Growers, the Grain Sorghum Growers Ass'n., the National Cotton Council, and the Cotton Producers Institute so long as these organizations do not conflict with the principals of Farm Bureau.

Community Organizations We recommend encouragement organizations.

DISTRICT District II Organization County Farm Bureau recommend consideration of a District II organization of county Farm Bureau for the purpose of coordinating the activities regarding District II problems and opportunities.

STATE Taxes We request that since we now have a sales tax and contemplate that it will more than adequately take care of the state finances and that with some economy in State Government that the State Ad Valorem Tax can and should be abolished.

We recommend that the State

Sales Tax Law be changed to a straight 1 per cent on all items except items of production. ASC We question the policy of a state appointed man having the authority to fire a county elected official of ASC. We further oppose that a county elected official of ASC be required to take an oath supporting the rulings of the Secretary of Agriculture. We further oppose the signing of ASC contracts agreeing to abide by rules not yet formulated.

Cotton Allotments Whereas there is a natural trend of cotton to move from the East to the West where it can be raised more efficiently. We recommend that both the state and national Farm Bureau recognize this trend and work to see that no acreage is lost in any part of the state or national because of non-planting of cotton allotments. The acreage should be moved where it will be used.

LAZBUDDIE NEWS

By MRS. C. A. WATSON Congratulations — Lazbuddie Longhorns on winning Our Home Coming Game Friday night. We thought we were tied with New Home 6-6 but the big moment came when Kenneth McGehee threw a long pass to Gary Brown, then wait just seconds! It was 6-12 as the game ended. Then the huge Lazbuddie crowd stood and roared as Gary made the touch down.

The half time exercise was very unique as we do not have a band, but several girls marched and twirled to music coming from the press box by a record player. Then the twirling with fire by the majorettes was very entertaining as the girls; Linda Gleason, Marsella Mayfield and Pat Chitwood were in perfect step with the music as they performed.

The sweetheart, Linda Gleason was crowned at halftime. The hero was Kenneth McGehee. Runners up were Charlotte Seaton and her attendant, Lloyd Bradshaw, Marianna Gammon and her attendant Lewis Seaton.

Many out of the area persons attended the Lazbuddie game Friday night. Among some of the faces seen were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ward and boys from Karmay, Mary Maxwell from Roswell, the Lesleys from Spearman and many ex-students that are now going to college and living hundreds of miles from Lazbuddie.

Terry Darling and Glendale King from Jr. College, Levelland, were home over the weekend. The boys report that the College was dismissed two days last week due to an epidemic there.

Annie Vaughn and Myrtle Steinbock are in Cloudfraft this week visiting the H. D. Hutchinson family.

Scotty Windham and five Ag. boys left Sunday for the Dallas Fair. Boys going with Windham were Darrell Mason, Richard Gordon, Gary Eubanks, Bud die Embry and Bobby Gleason.

(Continued from page 1) over 7,000 pounds to the acre. He pointed out that his turnout has been exceptionally good and moisture content was low for his particular grain. He had planted early and was one of the first in the area to complete harvest.

Cotton and cotton farmers in the area are beginning to take on a more healthy glow since the old weather man decided to play it hot and dry for several weeks.

For more than 20 days now temperatures have mounted toward the eighty mark, making for ideal cotton maturing weather. A smattering of farmers whose cotton is open have put laborers to harvesting and most gins have reported their first bales. Ginner report that the earlier cotton is opening up 'real well. The last weeks have been ideal." If the weather remains good it won't be much longer until the cotton harvest will pick up speed. Most farmers state that their cotton looks good now, despite its being green and hand pulled.

There has not been much comment from cotton growers concerning yields because the weather still has to be reckoned with. It is not expected that picking will begin to peak until after the first frost.

Most of the farmers bringing in cotton now are catching seed. One ginner warned, however, that the crop is still uncertain because if wet weather comes and the sap freezes in the bolls the farmers can be hurt.

Yarborough in White House Ceremony

Senator Ralph Yarborough, left, accepts pen from President Kennedy used in signing the medical education bill, which provides for federal building funds on a sharing basis with the states and includes a loan program to help keep medical and dental students in school. The bill includes $170 million for construction of medical and dental school facilities and $30 million a year for loans to students in these schools. It costs $20,000 to $30,000 to send a student to medical or dental school and there is a growing shortage of medical personnel. This bill had strong support in the medical and related professions. Senator Yarborough was invited to the White House signing ceremony as one of the principal Congressional backers of the bill. As a member of the Senate Education Subcommittee, he was a co-sponsor of the bill.

They returned by way of Boise City, Okla., located in the Oklahoma Panhandle, where they were guests of former Muleshoe residents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walliser.

TAKING COURSE—Mr. and Mrs. Jim McPherson have returned from Lubbock where they spent two weeks. While there, McPherson completed an MAI course.

FATHER DIES—Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Weaver were called to Lubbock Monday due to the death of her father, Woody Patrick.

Governor To Make First Official Amarillo Visit

An appreciation dinner for Governor John Connally will be given in Amarillo at 7 p.m., Wednesday, October 23, at the Tri-State Fair Grounds, Commercial Exhibits Building.

Governor Connally will be making his first official trip to the High Plains area since taking office when he arrives Wednesday. He will place a plaque on the oldest tree in the area—a bois d'arc which stands just outside Panhandle in Carson County. He is also planning a short visit to Cal Farley's Boy's Ranch sometime that day.

Shortly after the tree dedication he will arrive in Amarillo to visit with friends from the 28 counties in the 18th Congressional District.

Mayor F. V. Wallace has proclaimed October 23rd as "Governor John Connally Day" for Amarillo.

Wales H. Madden of Amarillo, one of the trustees of the University of Texas, will be master of ceremonies for the Bar-B-Q Dinner. Members of the Texas Legislature in the High Plains area will be present.

Miss Claudia Brummett of the Santa Fe Railway, Amarillo, is General Arrangements Chairman of the affair. Dick Brown, Hartley, is Area Chairman.

Tickets may be obtained in Bailey County from Glenn Phillips, Box 445, Farwell.

PORT ISBEL—Mr. and Mrs. Walter White were guests of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Seaton at Port Isbel during the past week.

The Whites report a wonderful vacation on their first coastal trip including a day on a yacht. However, Mrs. White said, we aren't much fishermen so we just enjoyed looking and relaxing and didn't bother the fish. They returned Monday.

Farm Facts

Hogs are responsible for almost 10% of the income of the nation's farmers. And in the large grain-producing areas of the Corn Belt, as much as 33% of the farm dollar comes from hog marketings.

"Farmers have a high regard for the hog because of the many advantages of swine raising," the American Meat Institute explains.

"Unsurpassed as a meat-making machine, a sow will produce two litters a year of seven or more pigs each under favorable conditions.

"Quick returns and flexibility are other desirable factors of swine production. Hogs may be sold six months or less after birth or ten months or less after the sows are bred.

"This relatively short pre-market interval enables hog raisers to reduce or expand their herds as market and feed prices change. "More flexibility is possible because hogs can be mar-

Representative Removes Name From Payroll

A State Representative has had himself removed from the state payroll to accept another position.

Representative H. G. Wells of Tullia has made the move to join the High Plains Water Conservation District No. 1, as legal counsel.

Wells will retain his seat in the House of Representatives, and will take a leave of absence from the district work during legislative sessions.

Legality of Wells' acceptance of the job with the authority was based on early attorney general's opinions upheld by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's recent opinion that membership in the Legislature is not incompatible with employment with districts of this type.

Precedent was set for Wells' action by Sam Collins of Newton who this summer took similar steps in order to go to work for the Sabine River Authority.

Suit May Change Representation In State Capitol

The future of rural Texas and the future success of Texas Farm Bureau could be in serious jeopardy if the law suit in Federal Court in Houston is fulfilled in its requests.

The suit asks the Federal Court to redistrict the State Legislature for representation of the people on a 100 percent population basis. This change would cost rural areas 23 seats: 7 in the Texas Senate and 16 seats in the Texas House of Representatives, adding to a loss of 12 seats rural areas gave up to cities in redistricting by the Legislature in 1961.

Would Change Constitution

The suit, in effect, asks the federal courts to throw out the Texas Constitutional provisions that limit large populated counties to 7 Representatives for the first 700,000 population and 1 additional House member for each 100,000 population thereafter and the Constitutional provision that limits heavily populated counties to 1 Senator per county. Probably the most serious effect of granting this federal redistricting of the State Legislature, would be the difficulty of passage of agricultural legislation and the protection of laws and programs now in existence, Senator Lewis Crump of San Saba, a rural legislator who supports agricultural legislation, expressed deep concern about the law suit. Crump said, "Many valuable programs, such as the Farm-to-Market Road program, stand in serious jeopardy if farm-orientated lawmakers are lost." Representative Grainger McIlhenny of Wheeler, author of many pieces of Farm Bureau legislation, expresses his feelings this way: "To redistrict on a complete population basis will further remove the people from their elected Representative or spokesmen in Austin. Members of the House of Representatives should be close geographically to the people who elect them and the people have a right to be geographically close to their elected official."

There are 415,000 children under the age of 14 among the nation's migratory farmworkers posing special educational and health problems.

Expect Fighting Play To Beat Morton Fri.

Aggressive play is highlighting the Muleshoe Mules intersquad scrimmages in preparation for this Friday's Morton game.

At yesterday's practice, the team divided into two elements, the red and the black, with the red winning 14 to 6.

Outstanding in the scrimmage were Quarterback Kenny Heathington, fullback Dan Smith, halfback, Scotty Oliver, tackle, Mike Miller and Larry Allison.

The play was the aggressive hustling type the Mule's have shown these past two weeks in preparation for Friday night's game with Morton and opening defense of their District 3-AA championship.

Workouts have mainly centered on reaction drills, offensive blocking and defense. The coaching staff has been pleased by the show of desire and hustle. "The boys' look ready to face Morton and defend their District Championship," says assistant coach Willie McAlpin.

The mules will be in top shape for Morton with Clifford Gray and Ronnie Johnson back in the lineup this week after missing last week because of minor injuries.

Head coach Bill Taylor feels the boys are ready for Morton and the District opponents. He is constantly reminding the Mules to respect Morton's powerful offense and their strong defense. The Mules have the attitude that Morton is a strong team and they will be ready for us.

Fire Chief Cites Death Statistics

Don't ever leave your children home alone! This was the plea made by Fire Chief Earl Ladd at the losing of the fire department's campaign to check the increasing number of child fire deaths.

Chief Ladd cited just a few of the tragic cases in the past year when children left alone at home have been killed by fire. Parents have even been known to leave the children locked in the house. "That was logical," agreed the Chief, "if they thought only of keeping someone out of the house. But what about the thief that was already inside — the fire thief that stole the lives of 3 or 4 children that they couldn't get the locked door open?"

In 1956 there were approximately 4,000 child fire deaths, and one-third of these were children who had been left alone and helpless.

"Children are just not capable of meeting or understanding emergencies such as this," the chief said, "and we all know this, yet parents continue to rely on lady luck as a baby sitter while they make a quick trip to the store or in worse instances, while they step out for a night of partying.

"When we take on the responsibility of raising children, we have to realize that it is a full-time job," the chief said. "There is no substitute for the care and guidance of parents unless it is a good, well-trained baby sitter."

Parents in Bailey County were urged by Chief Ladd to join in the fire department's campaign to bring an end to the number of children's lives lost in fire when left alone and helpless.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Dear editor:

Sometimes you'll find that an expert is somebody who has what a lot of people have known for years.

For example, I was reading a magazine last night which a salesman had left out here during the afternoon, well he didn't actually leave it, he dropped it while he was trying to beat my dog to his car, and in it I discovered a long article on the changing trends in agriculture. In case you're wondering, the salesman won.

At any rate, according to this article, some experts have discovered that the modern trend in agriculture is toward part-time farming.

This is what I'm talking about. What other kind is there? The trend toward part-time farming set in on this grass farm the minute I started farming it, and I expect it to stay that way. I could name you some more who share the same view.

Part-time farming's not something new; what's new is that some farmers are now working in town too.

Understand, farming is a full-time job, there's always something to do. But that's not to say all us farmers are always doing it. Why right now I've got jobs starting in the face which should have been done 10 years ago, but they've never started so hard I felt like I ought to take a job in town to dodge them.

Of course, there are some young farmers who work in town and still seem to get more done on their farms than I do on mine, but this is a trend which I don't care to call attention to.

The fact remains though that part-time farming set in thousands of years ago, or whenever it was man discovered you couldn't plow when it was wet or hoe when the fish were biting, and as far as I can tell the trend is still underway.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Warning Here On Spreading Of Armyworms

Fall armyworms, which develop best during cool, wet weather, are being reported in many areas of the state, according to J. K. Adams, Bailey County Farm Agent.

The worms which feed primarily on pastures, lawns and native grasses during this part of the year, may later become a problem on small grains, say the specialists. They probably cause more economic damage to fall planted small grain, grain sorghum, and Bermuda grass in Texas than to any other crops, they add.

The worms eat the forage and tender stems of the plants they attack and cause whitish patches in fields of grain or pastures which are the first signs that the worms are present.

The adult moths are active in the late evening and at night and females usually lay eggs in masses of 150 on blades of grass or on the eaves of houses, since they are attracted to light.

The young larvae hatch in 2 to 4 days but the young larvae are usually not noticed until they are 1 to 1 1/2 inches long. Larvae feed for about 2 to 3 weeks and pupate in the ground, completing a life cycle in about one month.

For the best control of the fall armyworm, insecticides should be applied at the first sign of an outbreak and when the worms are small. For information on their control, the entomologists suggest a visit with the local county agent. Copies of MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops" are available from the county agricultural agent.

Wayland OKs Plan To Raise First Million

Trustees of Wayland Baptist College in semi-annual session at Van Hoveling Memorial Library approved plans to prepare for an enrollment of 1,460 students by 1970 and to raise by the spring of 1965 "Wayland's First Million" to provide the first buildings necessary for a doubled enrollment. This was done on recommendation of Dr. Roy C. McClung, who was meeting with the trustees for the first time as president of Wayland.

Trustees heard reports that included the announcement that Wayland this fall has a 29 per cent increase in enrollment over that of 1962.

Regrettably the group accepted the surprise resignation of J. S. McPhaul, Lubbock, as chairman of the board. E. M. Osborne, Plainview, vice-chairman, was requested to serve as chairman until the regular election in March, 1964.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

A brand new State agency dedicated to bringing more free-spending tourists to Texas now is in operation.

Texas Tourist Development Agency held its first meeting, discussed policy guidelines and set a timetable for selection of an agency to handle its $200,000 advertising account. Advisory board members will meet on January 16-17 to pick the firm which will prepare and place its tourist-luring ads.

Sworn in as advisory board members were James M. Gaines, radio-television executive of San Antonio, chairman; Bill Berger, publisher of the Hondo Anvil-Herald; John McCarty, advertising executive of Frito-Lay, Inc., Dallas; G. A. (Pop) Mabry, public relations executive for Humble Oil and Refining Company, Houston; John Powell, hotel executive of Austin; and Chris Fox, El Paso banker.

Said Gov. John Connally: "I hope this is the beginning of a tremendous program. . . Your work is important to the economic future of Texas."

He commented that the 1964-65 advertising budget is so small that the state will have to "ride piggy-back" on privately financed national advertising for a few years.

He noted that Texas is sixth in the nation in population — and some statisticians believe it soon will be third. But it's below the top 10 in tourist attraction.

In 1957, 10,400,000 tourists came to this state and spent $531,000,000. In 1962, only 9,600,000 tourists visited Texas. They spend an estimated $471,000,000.

A "See Texas First" campaign to get Texans to spend their vacations in Texas is being planned. The Agency is stepping up its administrative activity, and will add Walt Warner, Capitol correspondent, to its staff.

POLITICS BOOMING — First formal affair of the coming political campaign season will be an "appreciation dinner" to be held on October 19 in Austin for Sen. Ralph Yarborough. Texas' senior Senator, certain to run for another six-year term in 1964, will gather a political war chest through the dinner.

Bringing more campaign fodder to Texas will be Pres. John F. Kennedy. He will make a two-stop trip to the Lone Star State in November.

Texas Republican Chairman Peter O'Donnell, head of the Draft-Goldwater movement nationally, hopes to set up a dinner in January at which the Arizona Senator will announce his candidacy for president.

Both party's headquarters in Austin are increasing their staffs, as they get ready for what now appears to be a humdrum of a political year in 1964. Both democrats and republicans expect the GOP to muster more strength in 1964 than they did in 1962. Republicans are so hopeful about their chances that there is real competition for the party nomination for some of the major statewide offices.

Democrats, with first-term men in the State's three top offices, may have strong competition in at least two of them. Don Yarborough of Houston says he will decide by December 1 whether or not he'll run against Governor Connally in next May's primary.

Close friends of Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth predict he will be a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

State Rep. Horace Houston of Dallas announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor at a GOP leadership conference here.

State Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio is visiting newspapers and otherwise sounding out his chances in a race for the same office — as a Democrat.

Some 300 San Antonio attorneys have signed a petition urging Associate Justice Jack Pope of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals to run for the State Supreme Court.

Smith County District Attorney Bill Coats says that reports indicating House Speaker Byron Tunnell will have trouble getting re-elected in his home district (Smith and Gregg counties) are incorrect. Says the D. A.: "The only time I hear that . . . is when I come to Austin. . . Tunnell is in good shape at home."

Four candidates for congress are thundering along 10th District campaign trails. A special election is set for November 9. Candidates from Austin are Jake Pickle and Jack Ritter Jr., Democrats, and Jim Dobbs, Republican.

The fourth, Frank B. McGehee, came all the way from Dallas to enter the Central Texas race. McGehee claims no party connections.

MOHAIR MARKET SOUGHT — Angora goat raisers brought their problem to the Texas Industrial Commission. They have asked Director Harry W. Clark for all the help his state agency can offer.

Goat raisers want to lure to Texas some mohair scouring, spinning, grading and combing industries. This so their product can be turned out in finished form. But they don't know how to go about it. As far back as they can recall, they have sold raw, ungraded, sacked mohair to buyers from four eastern firms who ship it east for finishing.

D. W. (Speedy) Hicks of Bandera said the goat raisers don't know manufacturers' requirements.

Clark said the commission is ready to lend a helping hand, through research and promotion. But he added, "I foresee real obstacles in trying to sell manufacturers before style centers are established here."

James L. Powell of Fort McKuett, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association; L. M. Stephens of Lometa; Howard G. Hay of Bandera; Houston Smith of Texas A&M and Armer Earwood of Sonora will work as a committee with the Industrial Commission's staff.

APPOINTMENTS MADE — Governor Connally, whose October calendar is so crowded with out-of-town speaking engagements that he told an aide he would be home only two nights this month, managed to squeeze in time to pick five appointees to the Good Neighbor Commission.

Jack Drake of Westaco, Robert J. Galvan of El Paso and Charles L. Nunn of Sweetwater were appointed to six-year terms. Mrs. Bob Long of Austin and Ramiro

Democrats To Hear Yarborough

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski will deliver the principal address Saturday night when more than 6000 Democrats gathered in Austin to honor United States Senator Ralph Yarborough with an appreciation dinner.

Gronouski is the first member of President Kennedy's Cabinet to accept an invitation to the dinner. Possibly one or two other with a group of Yarborough's fellow US senators and several members of the Texas House delegation.

The list of Senators who will attend the dinner will be announced later. However, Walter G. Hall, Galveston County banker who is chairman for the dinner, has been assured that at least one senator from the Old South and at least one from outside the continental United States will attend.

Hall and Mrs. R. D. Randolph of Houston, former Democratic National Committeewoman who is co-chairman, predict that Saturday night's salute to the senior Texas senator will attract a record crowd for a Texas political dinner. "The response from every section of Texas has been amazing," Hall said.

The largest delegation will come from Houston. Mrs. Randolph said nearly 1000 Houstonians will make the trip by chartered bus or private automobile. Other cities from which the response has been large include San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Brownsville and other Valley communities, and most of the cities of Central Texas.

Motorcades are planned from Lubbock and from the Port Lavaca-Victoria area. Mrs. Lois DeShazor, Port Lavaca, and H. A. Wischkaemper, Victoria, are handling arrangements for the South Texas motorcade, while the one from Lubbock is under the direction of Mrs. Bill Magness and J. B. Airhart.

A feature of the dinner will be acts to be announced. Charcoal-broiled sirloin steaks with all the trimmings will be served by the caterer, Walter Jetton of Fort Worth, Hall said.

Mayor Lester E. Palmer of Austin has designated Oct. 19 as Ralph Yarborough Day in the State's capital. Mayor Palmer will welcome the distinguished Washington guests and the thousands of Texans at the dinner.

B. Martinez of McAllen were chosen to fill vacancies on the commission.

Drake is executive vice president of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce, Galvan, Nunn and Martinez are attorneys.

Buckner of San Marcos as industrial representative on the Employer Accident Board. Buckner is co-owner of the San Marcos Record.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ELECT — Texas County Judges and Commissioners meeting here elected Elmer Zahn of Fallsburg president. Sam Brazier of Emory was named secretary-treasurer of Water Valley, vice president. In a resolution, the county leaders said the State should get out of the property tax field and turn over the property tax to hard-pressed local governments.

Rocky On Goldy

Governor Nelson Rockefeller, in a recent Meet The Press television appearance, finally cleared away some of the confusion on his opinion of Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Asked point-blank whether he would prefer to see Goldwater or President John Kennedy in the White House, Rocky hesitated and then said he would prefer to see Goldwater there. Some Republicans must have swallowed hard when the New York Governor wrestled with this question.

For Rockefeller has been making very strong statements about the lunatic fringe, the radical right and young groups which are so enthusiastically boosting the Senator. He has implied he could not support

Goldwater unless the Senator repudiates these radical right groups.

Goldwater has repudiated no one and is not likely to, though he has spoken out to explain that he is not a segregationist, that one of his first acts in public office was to integrate the Phoenix airport, that he does not agree with some of the John Birch Society teaching, etc.

It is hard to reconcile some of Rockefeller's strong statements of a month or two ago with the answer that he preferred Goldwater to Kennedy, for—as most of his questioners on Meet The Press suggested — Rockefeller's philosophy seems much closed to Kennedy's than Goldwater's.

Adenauer On Macmillan

Retiring Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who is 87, got in a few licks at his British counterpart recently which revealed much about the state of European diplomatic and political affairs.

Asked by reporters what he thought about the Profumo scandal in Great Britain, the Chancellor said Prime Minister Harold Macmillan should have resigned some time ago. Had French President Charles de Gaulle uttered such a shot it would have caused far less surprise than Adenauer's farewell.

For this remark reveals Adenauer's bitter feeling, bitter personal antipathy, for the British Prime Minister. It unveils the truth about what Adenauer has been doing in these last two years concerning Britain's proposed entrance into the European Common Market.

It will be remembered that the world knew De Gaulle was keeping Britain out, and that the "other five" nations depended upon Adenauer to persuade De Gaulle to be less obstructionist. The majority of the German people, the majority of the German parliament, favored Britain's entry. Adenauer supposedly carried the ball in this cause. But there have always been reports that he secretly backed De Gaulle's obstructionist policy. Now he comes out and expresses his true views on Macmillan and more light is shed on his recent role as Chancellor of Germany.

The bitter truth for the United States, Great Britain and the Atlantic Alliance school of thought, is that De Gaulle and Adenauer were quietly building up a sort of holy league, a Paris-Bonn axis looking to a closed Europe for economic life and to the Vatican for Christian blessing, perhaps some political support.

Ironically, this trend developed faster when Adenauer realized he was to be forced to step down. Without doubt, he will go down in German history as a great man. From 1949 until 1963 his accomplishments were many. He always remained an absolute foe of a deal with Russia and would never put any faith in Russians or their pronouncements.

It is a pity his record ends with his fascination for strong-man De Gaulle, and the 18th century brand of nationalism he espouses, and it is good that Ludwig Erhard arrives on the scene at this critical moment in world affairs.

TWO FOR ONE

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Prof. William Stivers of Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, is trying to persuade educational authorities to approved his plan for simultaneously teaching two college subjects that will give a student credit for two years' work in one. His idea: teach algebra

(one credit) in the French language (second credit). Stivers disclosed his program while serving as a visiting professor at the University of Wichita.

Pineapples are called annanas in Europe. The word is of Guaraní Indian origin, since pineapples are believed to have been first cultivated by the Guaraní in Paraguay and southern Brazil.

NEWS for truck owners who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leafsprings. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel

Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, 4 V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

High Grade Beef Is Not Always Highest Seller

High grades of beef do not necessarily sell for more than lower grades, says a new publication of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cattlemen know that in most cases the price for "Choice" cattle is higher than the price for "Standard" grade cattle, though the price ranges of each grade overlap the others. L-697, "Effects of Grades, Weights, Buyers on Beef Carcass Prices," explains that this means that some lower grade cattle bring better prices than the next higher grade.

Reasons for this difference, according to the publication, include the fact that if one grade of beef is desired more than another, the price bidding for that grade increases. This desire depends on how much each type of buyer wants that particular quality carcass. The method of carcass distribution also has a tremendous effect on the final wholesale price. Beef sold through restaurants, chain store and small butchers normally sell for different prices and though the final destination of some beef is not known, the type of buyer purchasing it gives a clue. The weight of the carcass has an effect on the price as well. Buyers will pay more for top Good carcasses than for average or low Goods, and will pay more for the heavier ones. Also, different buyers with different needs will demand different weights and grades of beef.

BONN BACKS TALKS

Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder of West Germany has advised the United States to go ahead and see if an inspection system can be arranged with Russia for preventing a surprise attack.

Bonn feels that the Russian suggestion for an East-West nonaggression agreement should be held up until other problems—such as Berlin and German reunification—are settled.

Houseflies Producing Attractant

Science has moved a step closer to biological control of houseflies with the discovery that female flies produce a chemical substance that attracts male flies, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Entomologists have found that the substance is highly specific in its attraction, not attracting female houseflies or flies of other species. The department says that though more work is needed before the attractant is practical, it could be a preliminary step in developing new ways to control this insect pest.

The substance may be used to lure male flies into traps, to poison baits, or to a chemical sterilant. A prime advantage of attractants is that any chemicals combined with them do not come in contact with people, crops, livestock, fish or wildlife.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

LAW GROWS

You want the law to grow to meet new challenges, but you do not want it to change completely. The law is like a boy; it must grow up to meet the changing world, but you do not want it to change overnight.

When you buy or sell a house, you want the law to stand firm. You do not want your deed upset by some new law overnight. When you make a will you would like its terms carried out long after you are gone. In short, you do not want your law to upset your plans. So you want a stable law.

Yet the law cannot foresee all the changes that are to come, and it must be able to grow and meet new circumstances. Sometimes old rules, in terms of modern life, are too harsh and should be changed. It is a good thing that our laws can change — by court decision, legislation or by constitutional amendment.

Take an interesting case: until recently a farmer believed he owned his property rights straight up as high as he wanted to claim them — to the sky even. But, meantime, the airplane flew these skies. If your ownership went to the sky you could stop anybody's flying over your property. Or you could charge him a toll. But if landowners got a toll on airplane fare, travel would soon become too costly.

How do we change a system of laws to preserve the essential use of our property and yet let people enjoy airplane travel? You could not tell briefly how this was done. But, within the past few years, we have carved out a whole new body of law by court decision and by law making. We have met the new problem without impairing unduly the older property rights of holders.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Quail Hunting Scheduled At State Preserve

Interested in hunting quail on the one of the three wildlife management areas of the Parks and Commission at a special September 16 meeting and instructions explaining how to get on one of the hunts. On Matador Management Area Area in Cottle County, 10 one-day hunts are scheduled: November 2 and 3; November 16 and 17; November 30 and December 1; December 28 and 29; and January 27 and 28. One thousand permits will be issued for these hunts.

It was pointed out by Watson that originally two of the 10 days were set for October 5 and 6. However he stated that with the time being so short these two dates would not permit a public drawing. Therefore, after re-evaluation of available dates, it was decided that the dates November 16 and 17 would replace October 5 and 6 in order to permit a public drawing making these hunts available to all the people throughout the State of Texas should they desire to make application for the hunt. Biologists of the Department have advised Mr. Watson that information obtained from the hunt to be held on November 16 and 17 will be of comparable value to that which would have been obtained on October 5 and 6.

Persons interested in hunting during one of these dates should write now for applications to the Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin. For the ten one-day hunts, a public drawing will be held in Austin. Deadline for applications is 8:00 a.m., October 21. Eight hundred permits will be issued for the eight hunts. Forty-eight (48) permits will be issued for quail hunting on the Gene Howe Area in the Panhandle. The one-day hunts are scheduled for December 7 and 21 and January 4. Permits will be issued on a public drawing basis and the deadline for applications to be in the Austin office is 8:00 a.m., October 21. A scaled quail hunt is scheduled this year for the picturesque Elaci Gap Area in Brewster County near the Big Bend National Park. This is a beautiful area with enough room for plenty of hunters. The dates for the twoday hunts on this area are November 16 through 21, with three two-day hunts: 16-17, 18-19, and 20-21. All you need to do to get on a hunt is to pick one of the two days, drive to the area check in at the headquarters and pick up your permit.

Chief Says Give Sitters Instructions

Do you give any specific instructions to your baby sitter before you go out? You should says Fire Chief Earl Ladd, Sr. "Too many folks are apt to forget that they are turning over a tremendous responsibility to someone when they hire a baby sitter," he said. Actually you depend on a baby sitter to take your own place as a guardian of your children's lives and well-being, also the entire security of your home, Chief Ladd said, and he recommends giving these basic instruction to every baby sitter:

- 1) Point out two or more ways of escaping from any part of the house with the children.
- 2) Get the children out of the house the instant smoke or gas is smelled.
- 3) How to call the fire department by the nearest fire alarm box and or neighbor's telephone.
- 4) How and where to reach the parents, doctor, police, for any possible emergency.

TIPS...

FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT
 BY JEAN MARTIN
GOOD WORKMANSHIP
 Get more for your clothing dollar through good workmanship. "You'll be a better judge of quality in ready-to-wear if you know the characteristics of good workmanship. The way a garment is cut and put together affects its appearance, fit and wear. The following workmanship characteristics apply to all clothing."

1. Garment parts cut on the grain of material are likely to hold their shape.
 2. Careful matching of pattern of fabric. Check at sleeves, waistline, collars, pockets and center seams.
 3. Hand or machine stitches that are even in length, straight and securely fastened.
 4. Thread that matches fabric of garment.
 5. Seams that are flat and even in width, with raw edges finished.
 6. Reinforcements at points where there will be strain. This may be done by extra rows of stitching, metal rivets, patches and bar tacks.
 7. Hems which are flat and even in width, and stitching inconspicuous on right side of garment.
 8. Lining, padding, interfacing and trim should be as durable and require the same method of cleaning as the garment.
 9. Closures should be flat, inconspicuous and long enough for ease in dressing and undressing.
 10. Hooks and eyes, snaps and buttons should be securely attached. Unless fabric is woven and of moderate thickness, reinforcement is needed to prevent strain on the fabric.
 11. Buttonholes should fit easily over buttons and ends should be well reinforced.

A garment may lack some of the above details of workmanship and still be a good but if style and fit are good.

BILATERAL PEACE CORPS

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria and Guinea have agreed to exchange teachers in a sort of bilateral peace corps between the two West African countries. Salifou Tuare, permanent secretary to the president of Guinea, said during a visit here that teachers come to Nigeria during school vacations to assist in rural development projects. Nigeria would reciprocate "in the spirit of Ad-dis Ababa," he said.

Dear Fellow Texans: I report this week on a bill passed in the U. S. Senate that will strengthen, improve and expand the quality of vocational education opportunities in the nation. It will do more. It will extend the National Defense Education Act for three additional years. It will increase the amount of money we lend to students under National Defense Education Act from $90 million a year at this time to $150 million after three years.

This $90 Million is enough to keep 180,000 above-average students of limited means in college every year. Money is loaned to them under the National Defense Education Act. There are 77 colleges and universities in Texas participating in this program. Education loans are available without interest until the student graduates and are repayable at 3 percent interest.

If the graduate teaches school, 10 percent of the loan is forgiven for each of five years. This is to encourage people to become school teachers and to help alleviate the great shortage in the teaching profession.

The vocational education provisions are broadened under this law as they have never been before to include school dropouts. In the past if a person dropped out of school, his formal education ended, and his vocational education ended. Many school dropouts, given the opportunity, would pursue and expand their vocational education.

This law broadens vocational education beyond conventional vocational agriculture and home economics into the fields of mechanics and technology, where expansion is badly needed. People with vocational training will find jobs awaiting them.

Directors of vocational education schools in Texas tell me that they cannot graduate people because industry and businesses want trained help so badly they are hiring partially-trained students before graduation. There are great job opportunities waiting if we train our young people to fill the more specialized jobs.

Another provision of this education act extends the impacted areas provisions of the law to grant aid to those school districts where large numbers of children suddenly come into the schools by virtue of military camps or posts or federal installations nearby. Texas is third

To Get Better Prices Avoid Direct Selling

Cattlemen would fare better in the last half of 1963 than they did in the first half if they "carefully avoided all market outlets that restrict competition," Gerald Leighton, president of the Chicago Live Stock exchange, predicted.

"Owners of feedlots themselves actually weakened the markets during the devastating price collapse that began last November by allowing buyers to gain control of huge numbers of cattle without competition when they sold many directly to packers instead of in the open markets," he said.

"This method of selling takes buying orders out of the big terminal markets where 'base' prices are determined by competitive bidding, and where experienced salesmen represent the owners. Prices established in these markets, directly as well as indirectly, set the nation's price level, including prices involved in direct sales. Weakened competition in these markets lowers the whole price basis."

Leighton urged that cattlemen could eliminate this particular advantage on the buying side by moving a much greater portion through the big terminal markets. A six-month fullfledged program of this sort and a later comparison of results would provide a revealing picture of the consequences of lost competition, he asserted.

"A campaign to move more cattle back into the terminal markets is long overdue," he said. "Such a drive should be led by owners of cattle herds who allowed the advantages of weakened competition to shift to the buyers' camps. The success of such a program would at least to some extent, offset some of the other bearish factors behind the big 1963 price break."
