Defenders Better Crete Positions; Outcome In Doubt

Britons Rush Supplies To Forces Located At Retaken Island Cities

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Egypt, May 24.—Long-range R A F fighters and big bombers once again helping Britain's "fight-to-the-death" army in the bitter battle for strategic Crete smashed and slashed today at the parade of German paratroopers still pouring upon the bloody island battle-ground despite terrific losses.

How the battle would go still could not be determined as the fighting went into the sixth day but unofficial reports hinted at some improvement in the defenders' positions since the RAF re-entered the fray.

The main fighting centered at Malemi airdrome, where the Nazis have been attempting to secure a base to land a stronger force.

But the situation throughout Crete still was serious for the British, Australian, New Zealand and Greek troops—for the German plane ferry service from the mainland continued without a sign of letting up.

The British recapture of Candia and Retimo gave the empire forces an opportunity to rush reinforcements to men trying to sweep the Germans out of Malemi—the one place where they have managed to establish a foothold.

It was at Malemi that the most intense struggle was taking place and the fate of that one engagement might prove the deciding factor of the Crete-wide battle.

Even as the Germans held off the British at Malemi, their fellows in isolated sections of the island were not so fortunate and were being mopped-up by the British.

Some of the aircraft in the battle—including big bombers fitted out as long-range fighters to augment the fighter forces—flew from Egyptian desert airdromes to engage the Germans.

Midland druggists debated yesterday whether or not to go "bone dry" under the new liquor law.

A survey of drug stores revealed that some would stop selling liquor altogether; some would renew permits, and all believed the law practically will stop sales of prescription liquor.

The Texas Liquor Control Board notified druggists a tax which levies 22 cents on each liquor prescription filled by a pharmacist would go into effect midnight, May 31.

The new liquor law will limit drug stores to stocks of ten gallons of liquor at a time. It requires that doctors can issue only 100 prescriptions in 90 days. Prescriptions must be issued to the doctor by the state, and stringent records will be kept.

Druggists and the sheriff's department predicted extensive bootlegging efforts in the city.

Mascho 1 Fisher Draws Interest As High Lime Top Hit

By Frank Gardner Oil Editor

Interest as the week closed was turned to Mascho Oil Company of Midland No. 1 M. M. Fisher, wildcat southeast of Shafter Lake in Northwestern Andrews County, as it showed high structural position on the San Andres or solid lime.

The well topped the San Andres at 4,083 feet, datum of minus 921, placing it, according to some correlations, 102 feet higher than H. C. Wheeler No. 1 Fisher, abandoned well one and one-half miles to the east, and 91 feet higher than Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Fisher, located about two miles to the north. Both of the old wells showed oil. At last reports Mascho No. 1 Fisher, located 1,900 feet from the south and 660 from the east line of section 16, block A-36, public school land, was shut down at 4,118 feet in lime because of high water in the area.

Atlantic Refining Company has staked No. 2-B B. H. Blakney of Midland as a new location for the North Cowden pool in Ector County. It is 440 feet out of the southeast corner of section 28, block 43, township 1 north, T. & P. survey, Standard Oil & Gas Company No. 11-A R. W. Smith, North Cowden well, flowed 418.6 barrels on 24-hour potential gauge after a 770-quart shot at 4,392 feet. In Ector's Foster pool, Cities Service Oil Company No. 8-A Bagley pumped 488.10 barrels daily after shooting with 400 quarts, bottomed at 4,265 feet.

Risks Flows The tenth producer for the active Abell pool in Northern Peecos County was assured yesterday by George T. Abell of Midland et al. No. 1 E. J. Rixke as it flowed 41.25 barrels of oil and 8.25 barrels of water on 12-hour gauge of natural yield. Gas was estimated at 300,000 cubic feet per day. The first five hours of the test was taken through a one-quarter inch choke on 2-inch tubing and the remaining seven hours through a three-sixteenths inch aperture. Flowing pressures were 1,190 pounds on casing and 750 on tubing. The well has been shut in. It is bottomed at 5,000 feet, plugged back from total depth of 5,043 feet. No. 1 Rixke is one and one-eighth miles northeast of the discovery well of the pool and is producing from sand of the Simpson, middle Ordovician series.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 J. F. McKee, east offset to No. 1 Rixke, recovered 80 feet of salt water on 30-minute drillstem test from 5,013-20 feet and is coring ahead. Magnolia No. 2 State-Baldwin took a 12-minute drillstem test from 5,220-71 feet and blew 4,500,000 cubic feet of gas daily but showed 60 feet of salt water and drilling mud when drillpipe was broken down. It is mixing mud preparatory to coring deeper.

Heavy Rain And Hail Falls Over West Texas Area

Flash floods, cloudbursts, thunderstorms, hail, and steady rainfall provided West Texas with assorted weather.

Behind The Headlines

By Kirke L. Simpson

The battle of Crete may not be a significant dress rehearsal for Nazi invasion of England, but it is a crucial and still inconclusive test of sea versus air power.

It will go down that way in military history, whatever the outcome. From its weird and confused pattern, also, both German and British leadership are certain to derive new experience to test plans for invasion or defense of England.

Many factors are lacking at Crete that must be reckoned with in the case of England. One is the narrowness of the 20-odd mile Dover Straits as compared with a 60-mile sea span between Crete and the Greek mainland. Probably hasty Nazi preparation for the Crete invasion to catch British-Greek defenders more or less by surprise is another.

An attempt to invade England would be founded on many months of Nazi planning and experimentation. It also would have available vastly greater facilities for effecting the shorter sea passage than the Nazis could find for the Crete adventure.

Use Long Range Fighters England could throw into the battle, however, air strength that was lacking at Crete. The Germans speculation immediately arose whether the Tirpitz, sister ship of the Bismarck and known to have been completed about the same time this year, also was in the Western Atlantic battle.

It was assumed that probably both these battleships and other German vessels—two more battleships may have been completed recently—slipped past the British blockade along the Norwegian coast on a ranging mission.

Costs Thirty Million. Apparently they went at once to the Greenland-Iceland area, for German authorities claimed today that their submarines had sunk nine British ships near Greenland, and authoritative British quarters hinted yesterday that German raiders were near American shores.

Built at an original cost of more than $100,000, the Hood was heavily reinforced in a two-year overhaul in 1939-40.

She was rated a battle cruiser—one of three in the British navy—because she was of battleship size and armament but was more lightly armored in the interests of speed.

In trials she turned up 32 knots, compared with an estimated 30-knot speed for the Bismarck. The 1930 additions to her armor, however, undoubtedly cut the Hood down a few knots.

In gun-power, Hood and Bismarck were almost equal, each having eight 15-inch rifles and bristling with smaller arms.

The Hood is Britain's second capital ship loss since the war began, the old battleship Royal Oak having been destroyed by a submarine torpedo at Scapa Flow Oct. 14, 1939.

Bismarck Shell Hits Magazine; Fear 1300 Dead

Battle Happens In Area Of Iceland, Greenland; German Battleship Flees

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 24.—The 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood, largest warship in the world, was blown to bits in the waters between Greenland and Iceland today by the new German battleship Bismarck during a battle of grave historic import between the behemoths of the British and German navies.

The admiralty, in announcing this largest single naval loss the British navy has suffered since the war began, attributed it to an unlucky hit in a munitions magazine and expressed fear that more than 1,300 men had been killed.

The 35,000-ton Bismarck received damage and tonight is fleeing, pursued by the remaining British warships, the announcement said.

The German high command, which first disclosed the destruction of the Hood in a special communique, placed the scene off Iceland and said the Bismarck and all other German forces emerged from the battle virtually unscathed and continued their Atlantic operations, a British battleship was forced to withdraw, the Germans said.

Tirpitz Causes Speculation. Greenland, protection of which has been assumed by the United States, and Iceland, now under British occupation, are separated by a 250-mile stretch of water, the Strait of Denmark. It was apparently somewhere near the mouth of this strait, on the edge of the western hemisphere, that the battle occurred.

What he plans to say is, of course, a closely guarded secret, but millions will be at their radios listening intently for any indication of his views on the convoy issue, civilian defense and the question of repealing the neutrality act, a proposal that has had strong support from two members of his cabinet—Secretaries Knox and Stimson.

One of the newest developments of the program is scheduled for Monday however, a national nutrition conference for defense to be held under the direction of Paul V. McNutt, the federal security administrator. Among the questions to be discussed are:

How much responsibility should the government assume and what should be the national economic policy with respect to nutrition? How best can the related problems of undernutrition and farm surpluses be solved? How can America send Britain the food she needs and, at the same time, give American families an adequate diet?

Developments today related to defense and the foreign situation included Senator Gillette (D-Ia) said he had received reports that American companies had supplied war materials to Axis powers in "scores and scores of instances." He urged a congressional investigation.

Uncle Sam Needs Pilots
Be a U.S. Army Flying Cadet

To stimulate interest in the Air Corps specifically and in defense preparations generally, the War Department has introduced a new emblem with the slogan "LET'S GO! U. S. A. KEEP 'EM FLYING!"

You'll see this emblem and design in the newspapers, magazines, and even on letterheads and billheads.

The War Department believes that now is the psychological moment to bring out the slogan to focus and crystallize public action and thought.

In '98 we had "Remember the Maine;" in '18 "Make the World Safe for Democracy," and a number of others like "The Yanks Are Coming." Britain today has "Thumbs Up!"

The new slogan will be popularized by public usage to the extent that youngsters, as well as grown-ups, will use the expression frequently, as for example, "Keep 'Em Flying, Bill!" instead of "So long, Bill!"

"Keep 'Em Flying!" pertains to wheels of industry, as well as airplanes.

Read, And Take Heart!

So everybody is selfish, eh? Everybody is out to get all he can out of the national defense situation? No, not everybody.

Perhaps you haven't read about the instrument-builders of the Long Island Plant of the Sperry Corporation. These are highly skilled men—men whom it would be difficult, perhaps impossible, to replace. The usual means of holding down hours, that is, hiring more men, doesn't work in their case. There just aren't any more men available with the proper skill in their delicate work on precision instruments. So 200 of them have been working 60 hours a week, and 1300 more face an increase from 40 to 60 hours.

Are they sore about it? No. Frank Craig, president of the United Instrument Workers, their C. I. O. union, says the workers are 100 per cent behind the defense effort. He is cooperating in a movement to give up their annual two-week vacation, and thinks 85 per cent of the men will follow his own lead in doing so.

True, these men are being, and will be, well paid for their extra work. But money cannot compensate them entirely. For three months this winter these men worked from 8:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. three days a week and from 8:30 to 5:30 the other three. They arrived home every night in such a state of exhaustion that they had to tumble directly into bed.

It is doubtful whether the highest production is obtained with such hours, except in cases like this one, where no more trained workers are ready to step to the benches. Money can't pay for effort like this. They pay comes in satisfaction in having done what was right; in having contributed very definitely and at some sacrifice to the defense of our country.

Similarly, another story comes to mind. Carl G. Swabilius, a blue-eyed Swede with a fine eye for a gun, bought a New Haven vacant lot. In 90 days he had built a 15-acre factory, equipped it with second-hand machinery he picked up here and there all over the country and rebuilt, gathered up a lot of former employes of World War days, and is now turning out 50-caliber machine guns in thousand lots.

Army officers called it a miracle, but Swabilius did it. He, too, one presumes, will make money out of his venture. But there is a satisfaction in it far beyond that—he has taken his abilities and given them freely to defense.

There is talk of sacrifice. Too many have not yet caught the "all-out" spirit. But when you think of that too often, think of the instrument-makers bending over their benches for 60 hours a week and giving up their vacations; think of Gus Swabilius turning out machine guns on junk lathes in a plant which 90 days before was a cemetery for rusting jalopies.

"Was It For This We Laid Down Our Arms?"

U. S. Statistics Most Accurate

By Peter Edison
The Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—Congress is so much in the habit of spending $100 million here and a few billions there that no one has taken time out to figure what this defense effort might cost if it keeps going.

But the Securities and Exchange Commission boys concocted a little chart the other day which has some interesting implications. This chart, shown herewith, makes the closest possible estimate of the percentage of national income spent for national defense by Germany, Japan, the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States.

The obvious question, after taking one look at this chart is, well, why not convert it into dollars? The equally obvious answer is that it can't be done. German exchange rates vary so much that they can't be translated into dollars. Living standards in Japan are so much lower than in any other countries that dollar comparisons are out of the question. Wages in the United Kingdom as well as Germany are lower than in the United States so, while $100 might buy 100 hours of labor in the U. S., it might buy 150 in the U. K. or 200 in Germany.

U. S. Statistics Most Accurate
The United States is probably the only one of the countries that has anything at all resembling accurate statistics on national income. Canada has just recently begun to compute national income, but three different sources give these different estimates, the middle and apparent most accurate being that of the Bank of Nova Scotia, which was used for this chart. Great Britain three months ago issued a White Paper with its first estimates of national income, putting the figure under eight billion pounds sterling. Japan's figures are so inaccurate they can't be plotted beyond 1939, and for Germany, which hasn't put out beyond 1940, these figures cover only the old Germany, without Austria and the 13 other occupied countries, their tribute and productive capacity.

The figures on which the United States percentage is calculated are interesting. In April, the nation spent about $750 million on defense. For May it will run about $850 million. By July 1 we will be spending about a billion dollars a month. The average for the fiscal year, July 1 1941 to June 30, 1942, will be $1.5 billion a month, or $18 billion for the fiscal year. With U. S. national income at $90 billions for the year, this $18 billion figure is exactly 20 per cent of national income, going for war expenses.

going to war expense, she is now spending $9 billion marks a year (the equivalent of $25 billion) on war, and getting more for her money because of lower labor costs and lower standards of living. On the same basis, if the United States were spending 60 per cent of her income on war, it would be $54 billion a year instead of the $12 or $13 billions we are currently spending out.

From all this you are supposed to gather that the country which spend more dollars will build the most planes and the mostest bombs and therefore be the eventual winner.

One hundred and thirty I.O.O.F. lodge officials and members attended an area meeting here. Degrees were conferred on 10 candidates.

B. A. Carter, past grand master, and Con Metcalf, both of San Angelo, spoke. Carter presented pins to the candidates.

Representatives of lodges in San Angelo, Big Spring, Stanton, Rankin, McCamey, Crane, Odessa, Hobbs, N. M., Wink, and Kermit, attended.

Rain and flood waters prevented the appearance of J. R. Ogle, Wichita Falls, grand master of Texas and Dr. E. T. Kibbe, Elida, N. M., grand master of New Mexico.

The Midland I.O.O.F. lodge added 17 new members during April.

Texas Legislators Near Session's End; May Need Two Weeks

AUSTIN, May 24—(AP)—It's all over but the shouting and there's not much of that in prospect.

Which is to say the 47th Texas Legislature is nearing the end of its general session started last Jan. 14.

At least another week, possibly two, will be required to dispose of last minute clean-up business, members agree.

Still in conference committees are the major appropriation bills and road bond assumption measure and some unfinished business remains on the floor calendar of either branch.

Chambers May Agree
Currently the House and Senate are at cross purposes regarding quitting time. The House has adopted a resolution recessing the session from June 2 to July 15 and the Senate has approved a June 3 sine die adjournment resolution.

Events of next week—progress on the conference reports principally—might bring an understanding between the two chambers.

The first of the big conference reports, that on the eleemosynary appropriation bill, might go to the governor Monday. Others will follow but some members believe they cannot be disposed of in less than 10 days.

Medical School Will Operate Year Around

AUSTIN, May 24—(AP)—Heeding a request of the federal government for more physicians to fit into national defense planning, the board of regents of the University of Texas today authorized year-round operation of the medical school at Galveston.

This means that a medical student will be enabled to complete his training in three years instead of the normal four years of three quarters each and that ultimately the school will graduate more doctors.

The effective date of the new plan remains to be determined.

Flying Student And Rescuer Die

WICHITA, Kas., May 24—(AP)—A suicide-intent flying student and his would be rescuer crashed to their deaths today after a dramatic struggle in the air for control of a training plane.

Dead were William D. Woodward, 20, and John K. Blaupied, 21. Coroner Lang P. Bowman said three notes found in Woodward's automobile indicated the youth intended to crash. One was addressed to a girl friend.

John Knightly, employe of the flying school who witnessed the takeoff and crash, told this story: Woodward arrived at the school early today and taxied out a two-seat, dual-control trainer of a type heavier than he was qualified to fly.

Blamied Cut Switch
Blamied, also a student pilot and employed as a ground mechanic at the school, ran across the field and climbed onto a wing of the advancing craft. He reached into the cockpit and cut the switch, but Woodward threw the ignition on again and managed to get the plane into the air.

Again Blamied cut the switch, and again Woodward caught up the sputtering motor. Then as the rocking plane alternately lost and gain altitude, Blamied climbed into the unoccupied front cockpit, gesturing and shouting.

He reached back, struggled with Woodward, but the latter put the plane in to a dive. The ship crashed in a meadow near the airport, stewing wreckage over an area of 150 yards. It did not burn. Both bodies were mangled.

Phillips Retains Stout Authority

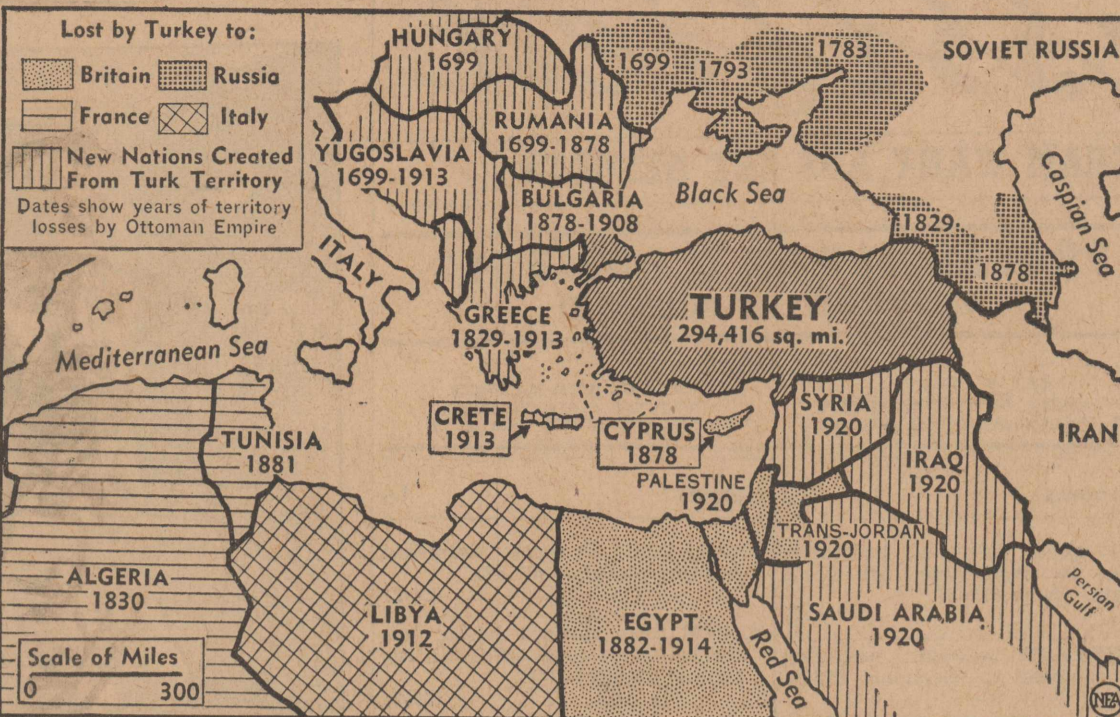

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 24—(AP)—A policy of pay-as-you-go probably will be written down as the major accomplishment of the eighteenth legislature, which closed down in the early morning hours today.

It was, for the most part, a long an arduous session, with few fireworks, and the chief concern through 96 days was the problem of raising the money to balance the budget.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips smashed precedent by retaining control over the legislature throughout his term, breaking the mid-term jinx of revolt that has plagued many of his predecessors.

So stout was his authority, that the legislature, in the face of danger of political death, raised more than $8,000,000 a year in new taxes to pull the state's finances out of the red for the first time in four years.

Turks, Once Empire Rulers, Now Fear Nazi Conquest

Turkey, at one time the dominant state of a world empire ten times its present size, today is menaced by the conquest of a modern land grabber, Germany, who seeks an avenue to the Near East. Map shows Ottoman (Turkish) Empire at height of its power, in 1683, and subsequent territorial losses.

ruled the air over and about Crete at the outset, British fighter planes havinb been forced to withdraw because of the lack of protectable air fields on the island. The British disclosed yesterday, however, that long-range fighter planes had been put into the battle.

As this is written the British fleet seems to have foiled Nazi attempt at sea invasion of Crete. British naval officers said 5,000 German troops died when British naval units shelled and ground under their keels a Nazi convoy.

There were hints detectable in the original reticence observed both in Berlin and Rome over the invasion attempt against Crete that Axis propaganda chiefs stood ready to shout "victory" no matter which way the battle went. They began stressing claims of crippling air blows struck at the British Mediterranean fleet, including no mention of Crete, before anybody in Berlin could have been certain of the invasion outcome.

Obviously, if it fails the Axis strategy will be to dismiss the invasion attempt itself as merely a successful ruse to draw British naval strength into a trap in the narrow seas between Crete and the mainland and within range of Nazi bombers.

Failure of the first attempted major scale air invasion in history would be a heavy blow to German prestige, at home as well as abroad.

Downpour At Monahans

Buses ran late into Midland yesterday and Friday. One driver reported the downpour almost a flood at Monahans. It was heavier there than at any point on the line, he said. Hail fell at Odessa and motorists reported heavy rains and flooded highways at low points on highway 80 between there and Midland.

Lubbock waded in the highest waters of its history. It was the hub of the flood area. San Angelo experienced a flash flood which lasted two hours. Streets were overflowed and water ran into business houses.

A Snyder man was missing for 24 hours after being trapped by flood waters at Polar, 20 miles north of that city. A five inch rain fell at Snyder.

Biggest In History

MONAHANS, May 24—(Special)—Monahans had its biggest rain in history Friday, but no great damage was done by the downpour.

Streets were flooded and water backed into several yards and homes. A section of the roof of the Bankhead Motor Company caved in under the weight of water, but little other damage was reported.

Attorney General Rules On Transfers Of Estates

AUSTIN, May 24—(AP)—Transfers of stock or certificates from a deceased person to the administrator or executor of the estate would not be taxable under the terms of the omnibus tax bill, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann said in an opinion today.

The transfer would be taxable, however, if the administrator or executor was also a beneficiary of the estate, Mann declared in response to a request from state comptroller George H. Sheppard.

SERIAL STORY

THREE TO MAKE READY

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: The story of Tony's injury hits front pages and Cardman's campus, on the eve of commencement is unusually quiet. Dr. Lud warns Paula if she leaves, it may mean Dr. Van Horn's ouster. Chris comes to the society house, tells Paula he is leaving. The town marshal arrives with a warrant for Chris's arrest, sworn by Tony.

LEAGUE MEETS TONIGHT

CHAPTER XII

STUNNED, Paula watched Sands lead Chris away. Aloud, she spoke her resentful thoughts, all the affection she had once felt for Tony turned to loathing. "Oh, Tony, how could you do a thing like this?"

She shook herself. It did no good to stand there hating Tony. She must help Chris. Get him out of jail. If she did that for him he couldn't refuse to graduate, she told herself fiercely.

She could think of only one person to call—Dr. Lud. And even as she rang his number she had a feeling that it was hopeless.

"This is Paula Jeffers, Dr. Lud."

"Yes, Paula?"

She said breathlessly, "Something terrible has happened. Tony's had Chris Wentrich arrested. He's in jail now."

Dr. Lud's voice was sympathetic but calm. "I'm sorry, Paula, but perhaps it will cool Wentrich off a bit."

"But, Dr. Lud, tomorrow's Commencement and—and Chris won't be there!"

He cut in gently, "I'm afraid there's not much I can do, Paula. Chris's fate rests entirely in Tony's hands."

"Oh . . ."

Paula's icy fingers replaced the receiver. She stood for a moment battling tears, then she ran up the stairs to her room. Jerking her money from the drawer she counted it. Her father's gift plus money she had saved up.

Stuffing the bills into her purse, Paula left the house.

THE Cardman Center jail was a tiny pillbox of a building with a musty office in the front. Jake Sands had his feet on the desk when she entered.

"Afternoon, miss. What can I do for you?"

Paula waved the money at him. "I've come to get Chris Wentrich out."

"Heck, I just got him in, miss. 'Tain't often we have a guest in here."

"Stop joking!" Paula begged. "How much will it take?"

"Well, now that's a question I can't rightly answer. The J. P. arranges all them matters, and"

"The known missing are a white woman and her colored maid, who were last seen entering a house before it was carried down river; two children seen floating downstream on wreckage; and one man who refused to leave and was swept away before he could be removed; Safford said.

In the case of the missing, Major Powell asserted that all had sufficient warning from local authorities to escape, and that failure to observe warnings was the cause of any deaths.

REHABILITATION; MANY HOMELESS

CARLSBAD, N. M., May 24—(AP)—This flood-damaged city counted its homeless at more than 1400 tonight, its dead at no fewer than five, and its lost or wrecked homes in excess of 300.

Meanwhile, the job of organizing relief and rehabilitation was taken over by Major E. D. Powell of the New Mexico Home Guard, and Col. E. L. Safford from the State Adjutant-General's office.

An end of flood dangers was seen unless new cloudbursts in the mountains renew the fury of draws and tributaries leading into the Pecos River.

All Received Warning Colonel Safford listed the known missing at five—all believed drowned—while other estimates placed additional persons in an undetermined category.

"The known missing are a white woman and her colored maid, who were last seen entering a house before it was carried down river; two children seen floating downstream on wreckage; and one man who refused to leave and was swept away before he could be removed; Safford said.

In the case of the missing, Major Powell asserted that all had sufficient warning from local authorities to escape, and that failure to observe warnings was the cause of any deaths.

Baer Files Claim On Champ's Title

By Sid Feder.

WASHINGTON, May 24—(AP)—They changed the name of the Joe Louis outing society from the "bum a month" to the "bomb a month" club today as Buddy Baer filed a formal claim on the Brown Bomber's world heavyweight championship.

Certainly, Joe's highly-polished prestige, which had gained no particular gleam through his recent efforts against Abe Simon and Tony Musto, was denied considerably by the huge Californian, in spite of Louis' victory last night through a somewhat belated disqualification of Baer for refusing to come out for the seventh round.

In fact, the 10-to-1 shot Baer did his job so capably, even to knocking Joe through the ropes right in the first round, that Promoter Mike Jacobs immediately promised him a re-match.

Meantime, Buddy and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, were granted a hearing by the District of Columbia boxing commission, on their claim on Joe's crown. This was to have been held today, but the three members of the commission could not get together, so they put it off until Monday.

Shaw Practices For Fourth Win

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. May 24—(UP)—Almost daily at the Indianapolis motor speedway railbirds with stopwatches look on speculatively as a sausage-shaped racer bearing a big No. "2" whistles down the straightaway—the watches click and eyes brighten.

They are trying to find an answer to the biggest question the speedway will have to offer on Memorial Day. Can three-time champion Wilbur Shaw beat it out again to become the first four-time winner and the first three-in-a-row repeater in the history of the "500"?

Shaw has covered several of the fastest laps of his long racing career in test rides, unofficially clocked at an average of 130 miles an hour or more for once around the 2 1/2-mile track. In a typically businesslike way he is preparing to defend his crown in a car which admittedly is one of the fastest ever to hit the oval.

The 1941 classic will be his 13th race but the figure holds no jinx connotations to the veteran speed pilot.

"I'm driving an automobile race, not playing a numbers game," is Shaw's only answer to questions on the various jinxes.

New Jersey Professional Masters Wind And Tough Course To Wrest Lead In Goodall Golf Tournament

By Bill Boni

NEW YORK, May 24—(AP)—For the third time in three days the Goodall round-robin golf tournament turned up a new leader today as tall, stoop-shouldered Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., mastered a tough golf course, an even tougher wind and four rivals of considerable standing and repute.

Ghezzi finished the fifth round with a plus 22 point score.

For the fourth round that started the day's competition, the wind was gusty. In the face of those conditions, Ghezzi shot a 70, only par round of the day, to beat Jimmy Demaret 4 up and Open Champion Lawson Little 3 up.

In the afternoon, with the wind rising, Ghezzi appeared to be losing his touch when he went out in 38, three over par.

But he settled down to an incoming 35, sank putts of 20, 10, 20 and 6 feet for two pars and two birdies in one four-hole stretch. He finished the round 2 up on Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., and 1 up on Jug McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.

Sarazen Is In Form

Gene Sarazen, veteran of the field at 39, turned in a remarkable performance. In spite of a 6 at the long fifth hole he was out in 35, and he came back in 36 for a one-over-par 71. That was good enough to beat Hogan, with a 78, 6 up, and Smith, with a sorry 80, 8 up. It also was good enough to boost Farmer Gene into second place going in tomorrow's last two rounds with a score of plus 16.

Ghezzi, who has won eight of his 10 matches, tied one and lost one, meets Hogan and Jimmy Thomson tomorrow morning and Ruyuan and Smith in the afternoon. Sarazen first tackles Demaret and Willie Goggin, then McSpaden and Dick Metz, while Ruyuan plays Little and McSpaden in the morning.

CLEVELAND, May 24—(AP)—The Indians stretched their American League lead to four and one-half games today by taking the second of their three-game stadium series from the Browns with a four-run first inning, repeating their 4 to 2 victory of last night.

Camilli Clouts Home Run; Dodgers Triumph

BROOKLYN, May 24—(AP)—Dolf Camilli's ninth home run of the season, made with two out and the bases empty in the eighth, ignited a five-run rally which drove Rookie Hughes from the mound and gave the Dodgers a 7 to 3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies today.

The victory snapped a six-game losing streak for the Dodgers.

Thousands Look On As Records Fall At Los Angeles Event

By Robert Myers.

LOS ANGELES, May 24—(AP)—Living up to all expectations, two world's records were set by the boards today as a hand-picked array of the nation's finest track and field athletes displayed their wares in the inaugural Los Angeles Coliseum Relays before a roaring throng of 25,000.

California's mighty four-man two-mile relay team made a hash-been of a five-year-old mark set by a picked team in Berlin, and high-stepping Les Steers from Oregon University continued his record-shattering exploits in the high jump.

The California quartette of John Reese, Grover Klemmer, Dick Peter and Clarence Barnes made a show of the field in the two mile relay, finishing 75 yards in front of Michigan in time of 7 minutes 34 5/10 seconds. It was faster than the American team of Hornbostel, Williamson, Young, and Woodruff hung up in Berlin in 1936. Their mark was 7 minutes, 35 8/10 seconds.

Steers on his first high jump went over the bar officially measured at 6 feet 10 7/8 inches, which was better than his applied-for world's record of 6 feet 10 25/32 inches posted at Seattle a month ago.

A smashing University of Texas team captured the 440 yard relay in 41 seconds, one fifth of a second shy of the world's record.

Smart Graduate Uses Her Head When She Goes Hunting A Job

By Marian Young
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK.—You are a job-hunting June graduate. Your diploma proves that you measure up to the educational requirements of the job you are trying to get. Your letter of application and what you say during the interview prove that you want it. But it's the way you are dressed and the way you are groomed that tell the interviewer across the desk whether you meet certain other important requirements.

After all, you can't very well look the man you hope will hire you

When the prospective employer is a man, the smart job hunter turns up for the all-important first interview in a simply tailored dress with crisp white collar and cuffs and a hat that is smart and fashion-right but not frighteningly chic or too attention-getting. This lovely-off-the-face model of navy straw with a pale yellow bow is ideal.

MEN VS. WOMEN EXECUTIVES

If you are doing summer job-hunting in a big city, a navy blue or black shantung dress or suit with frosty white collar and cuffs, white cotton gloves, a white hat, dark shoes and bag make a perfect outfit. The type of hat depends on whether you are being interviewed by a man or a woman.

be—but it ought to make you look like a bright young thing who can take responsibility from the start rather than an extremely feminine, appealing little somebody who will take great gobs of guidance and training.

A chic hat tells the woman executive that you at least know how to dress, that you have been able to learn your fashion lessons well, anyway. And that's something. On the other hand—unless he is knee-deep in the fashion business—the average masculine executive is likely to think that an ultra-smart hat is silly or, worse yet, just plain screwy. For summer interviews with men, better stick to moderately wide-brimmed hats with conservative trimmings. There's much truth in the old wheeze that a wide-brimmed hat makes a woman seem prettier than she really is.

All of this is not to say that you ought to turn your sex appeal on and off during the job hunting campaign, depending on which sex is doing the interviewing, or to get any mistaken notion that no man will hire you unless you look like a dinner date as well as a good employe. We're just trying to be honest. And the truth is that the smartest job hunter should wear chic hats for women executives and pretty ones for men.

DON'TS FOR JOB-HUNTERS

Whatever you do, don't show up hatless, wearing a sweater and skirt, flat-heeled shoes and a polo coat. That is, unless you are applying for a job in the dean's office of a college.

Don't go to be interviewed in dusty shoes with slightly over-run heels, or in stockings that look worse for wear. They "catch" and pulled threads in the legs of stockings are almost as untidy as holes in the heels.

Don't wear a wilted white collar or white cotton gloves that were worn the day before. Don't choose a dress with ruffles or other distracting trimmings. Stick to simple lines and restrained trimmings. Even in choosing a chic hat, beware of lines or trimmings that will take attention away from your face. You will be selling yourself—not your clothes. Don't wear anything that will be remembered longer and more vividly than your own looks and personality.

League Starts Work On Summer Layettes

Work on summer layettes was begun by the Children's Service League in a meeting at the home of Mrs. Burton Atkinson, 2008 W. Brunson, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Stephen Leach explained the work it is hoped to do with the Girl Scouts this summer.

Mrs. Cooper Hyde appointed a committee to act for the club in emergencies. Members, besides Mrs. Hyde, the president, are Mrs. R. L. Blunden, secretary, Mrs. Robert Dewey, treasurer, and Mrs. Van Welch.

Present were Mrs. Leach, a guest, and the following members: Mmes. Harold Adkison, Blunden, Fred Cassidy, Walter Collins, Dewey, J. E. Dickinson, Ralph Fitting, Jr., John M. Hiles, Hyde, F. E. Lewis, Vaughn Maley, Tom Parker, C. E. Reichardt, Welch, and the hostess.

When she is to be interviewed by a woman executive, the bright young job hunter wears the smartest hat she owns and doesn't worry about whether it makes her look extremely pretty as long as it makes her look very chic. The little white hat, above, with navy veiling, would favorably impress any woman who is looking for an assistant.

straight in the eye and say, "In addition, I'm clean and neat and, more important, a woman of excellent taste." No, you can't say that. So let your clothes say it for you. You go to the interview in an ensemble that is quiet and dignified without being dull and

Hollywood Picks Vacation Togs

Tailored Outfits And Triple-Duty Playclothes Suit Stars' Tastes

Triple-duty slack suit—Helen Parrish shows how this faded blue denim looks when you wear the slacks, matching jacket and red bandana print blouse. Shorts may be substituted.

The bandana blouse in a smart red and white print is right with this separate skirt of faded blue denim as well as with slacks and shorts. The shoes are of washable material, with thick cork soles. Helen Parrish, like most of the Hollywood stars, likes mix-and-match sports outfits. The ideal ensemble of this type includes shorts, a sports skirt, slacks, a matching jacket and a sweater and at least two blouses which may be worn with the other pieces. For cool mountain resorts, the four main pieces may be of soft, washable flannel, the blouses of cotton, of course. For warmer vacation spots, cotton and spun rayon with a cotton-like surface are ideal fabrics.

The suit is a necessity for travelers, and ideal for California. Modeled by Helen Parrish, it is made of crush-resistant material in Laguna blue and features a high, little-boy collar and a slim skirt.

By Dee Lowrance
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD.—Regardless of where you plan to spend your summer vacation and whether you intend to go by car, bus, train, boat or plane, a suit is the perfect travel costume.

For any type of summer travel, Jane Taylor, a dyed-in-the-California-market stylist, recommends the type of suit shown here, worn by Helen Parrish, who left the set where "Six Lessons From Madame LaZonga" is being shot to pose for us in a vacation wardrobe.

It is crush-resistant, with a skirt that is straight, but full enough for walking and a comfortable jacket with little-boy collar. It comes in a soft, deep blue—and with it Helen Parrish wears a wide-brimmed felt hat in vacation blue. The topcoat for this vacation wardrobe is natural camel's hair.

For a California vacation that will include trips hither and yon, you'll need things to wear that are a little dressy. For this, Jane Taylor suggests a favored shirtmaker of red and white seersucker with a crisp white plume trim—perfect for a terrace lunch at Santa Barbara—and a beige rayon crepe with short sleeves, a fared skirt, giddy button trim which would be very much at ease at Lake Arrowhead or Del Monte.

With the exception of a swimsuit in a brown and white Hawaiian print, with an elastic waist, the rest of this vacation wardrobe, modeled by Helen Parrish, is concerned with playclothes. They're all the swap-around kind, too, that make it look as if you had four trunks in your hotel room—not one measly little suitcase.

EVER-USEFUL SLACK SUITS

Two slack suits: first, the strictly tailored type, heavy enough for warmth on cool evenings. Hand-stitching pops up the mannish collar, outlines the huge patch pockets, and you can have it in black, red or sand. Add a couple of slip-trim and an extra blouse or two to change off with your suit blouses, and you've several slack costumes.

The second slack suit in a triple-duty blue denim. The trousers are plain, but the finger-tip jacket is trimmed with the same red floral bandana print of the open-collared blouse. And a skirt comes, too, also in faded blue denim with the tiniest touch of red print edging the pockets. Also add the well-tailored shorts that complete this change-around outfit.

Two other playsuits complete the wardrobe. Meant to catch masculine eyes are the very feminine shirt and shorts with matching overskirt of a delicate all-over flower print in bright blues and pinks on a cream cotton pique ground.

The other suit is more tailored. Made of butter-yellow muslin with deep yellow pockets on the skirt, shorts, and detachable skirt, it's our choice for bicycling or a game of badminton. Button the skirt on, add a casual straw hat, and you can visit the studios in style, and watch Hollywood's star-slaves at work.

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett.
"Don't regard your summer job as 'temporary' and you may find it yours for as long as you want to keep it." That's the advice an important woman executive suggested that I pass on to the young women who will be through with their education this June and whose first jobs are "temporary," according to their employers.

The girl who takes that advice won't overlook the importance of dressing like a business woman instead of like a school girl. She'll give up her cute campus clothes, her flat-heeled shoes, and unstrained hair-do for something that looks less high-schoolish or collegiate.

WILL GET MORE FROM HER JOB

She won't carelessly slide into the habit of being late to work, being all set to leave the office fifteen minutes before closing time, or waiting when she has finished with one job until someone notices and comes around to give her something else to do.

And she won't let any opportunities pass for learning more about the organization for which she works with the thought, "What's the use? This is just a temporary job."

Even if the job should prove to be temporary, in spite of her attitude, she will have learned far more from it and will probably get much better recommendations to use in hunting for a permanent job than the girl who treated her first job as temporary from the very beginning.

Mrs. P. D. Funderburk read an original humorous "sob story" of the trials met by Miss Birt. In the story, each trial met with called for a siege of tears, and each time she found she had no handkerchief.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Mmes. P. D. Funderburk, Barrett, A. E. Bradshaw, Lules, Cornwell, Harris, R. R. Bradshaw and Speer.

By William E. McKenney
 America's Card Authority.
 I've always said that there wasn't much fun kibitzing the experts. On about 19 out of 20 hands they do the correct thing, so that you just don't think there is anything to the hand. But every once in a while they do give you a hand with plenty of action.

Oswald Jacoby held the South hand and Edward Hynes, Jr. held the North hand. The first round of bidding was perfectly normal. When Jacoby bid two diamonds and West passed, Hynes thought his hand was too good to bid three clubs and still not strong enough to bid four clubs. He temporized with a bid of two spades.

Jacoby saw the possibility of a slam and therefore bid his opponents suit. The information about the hearts now allowed Hynes to bid three no trump, which is the spot where most contestants played the hand. Jacoby decided the hand would be safer in spades, not realizing that his partner held only three of the suit.

The opening heart lead was won in dummy with the king. The deuce of spades was covered by the queen and North won the trick with the ace. He led back the seven of spades, played low from dummy, and West won the trick with his king.

If West, at this point, had led a diamond, or the queen of hearts, he could have defeated the contract, but he did not. He cashed the ace of clubs and then led another club. Now Hynes dressed the nine of spades and picked East's last spade, the ten-spot, with dummy's jack, making five-odd for a top score on the board.

ARRESTING OFFICE HELPS DEFENDANT PAY FINE

EL PASO—(UP)—All traffic officers are not the cold-hearted, hard-boiled characters they are often portrayed to be, an El Paso motorist has decided.

John C. Bradshaw drew that conclusion following his arrest for speeding and his subsequent appearance in court.

The judge found him guilty and pronounced a fine of $10.

"I have only $9.95," he told the judge.

He was informed that under the law he would have to pay the entire $10.

"I'll pay the extra nickel," spoke up Officer Bluth, who arrested Bradshaw and who had just testified against the defendant.

Captured Nazi Fliers Reprimand Policemen

LONDON—(UP)—For not "standing" to attention when addressing superior officers' London policemen had their names and numbers taken by two German fliers whom they had captured during a recent blitz.

When they landed by parachute after their plane had been shot down they demanded that officers of rank equal to their own should be summoned to take them in charge.

"The war will be over in three weeks," they stormed when their demand was refused. "We shall have invaded England by then, and the Gestapo will deal with people like you."

University To Start First Heredity Clinic

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(UP)—Married couples who fear transmitting hereditary illnesses soon will be able to seek expert medical advice here in the nation's first human heredity clinic.

Only recently projected by the University of Michigan, the clinic will start operation Oct. 1. Dr. Lee R. Dice, a member of the Michigan medical school faculty, who has been named director, explains that the clinic's chief service will be to married couples who have discovered repeated defects in their family trees, and to couples whose first children were imperfect.

Another function will be advice for young people planning to marry.

Historians Plan Last Ride Over Inter-Urban

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—(UP)—A group of amateur historians from Northern California have planned a "last ride" excursion today over what was once the longest inter-urban electric line in the nation—a 201-mile link between San Francisco and Chico, Cal., via Sacramento.

Members of the California-Nevada Railroad Historical society have made similar excursions in the past over abandoned pioneer rail lines.

"Most young people wanting to get married don't have enough intelligence to ask advice on hereditary problems," Dr. Dice said.

School Students Enjoy Chief's Safety Talk

"Gee, wasn't that swell!" That was the comment of a North Ward School student to Mrs. Alma Thomas, principal, after hearing Police Chief L. P. McCasland's talk on "Safety" at the school Friday.

The children were attentive and there were no squirms or whispers as the chief listed "do's" and "don't's" for safety during summer vacations.

McCasland showed the youngsters his gun, took it apart and explained it to them. He is an expert shot and promised to do some trick-shooting for them at a later date if necessary arrangements can be made.

He also announced plans for a bicycle safety club this summer.

Small House Has Much Space

There is a surprising amount of space in this seemingly small one-bedroom Connecticut cottage. Easy circulation in the floor plan is an outstanding feature. A generous entrance hall and stair greet the visitor, with a coat closet just to the left. On the left is a well-proportioned bedroom, and on the right is a large, bright living room with central fireplace. An exceptional feature is the rear dining room with a bay window looking out over the fields. With the dining room view at the rear, the service parts of the house are cleverly located at the front, with the door of the well-equipped kitchen opening on to a low picket-enclosed-sheltered passageway leading to the garage.

As built in Wethersfield, Conn., this property was valued at $6300 by the Federal Housing Administration.

DRESSER DIVIDERS

Keeping dresser drawers neat is no trick at all if they are divided into convenient compartments. Available readymade are sets of separators just the right size for gloves, handkerchiefs, belts, and other small accessories. They are constructed of fibre-board finished in pale pink or blue. They are designed to partition two small drawers or one large drawer, are not expensive, and undoubtedly are time-saving.

Gene Pipkin And Hal Cave Announce Location Of 5,000-Foot Test Seven Miles West Of Monument Pool In Lea

HOBBS, N. M., May 24. — The Southeast New Mexico oil spotlight was turned to wildcat territory seven miles west of the Monument pool in Lea County as Gene Pipkin and Hal Cave, both of Roswell, announced location of a 5,000-foot test.

It is their No. 1 Joe Cunningham and will be drilled 330 feet out of the southwest corner of section 22-18-35e. Trinity Drilling Company has been awarded contract and will employ rotary. If the wildcat checks favorably on formation markers operators will replace rotary with standard tools at the top of the expected pay horizon. Shell Oil Company, Inc. Magnolia Petroleum Company, Gulf Oil Corporation and seven individuals are contributing money toward drilling of the well.

J. W. Brown, Inc. No. 1 State, Lea wildcat eight miles northeast of production in the Vacuum pool and six miles west of Lovington, drilled soft lime from 5,145-60 feet and is preparing to core. Contract depth is 5,300 feet unless production or sulphur water is encountered at a shallower point. The test is 4,620 feet from the south and 1,980 from the west line of section 4-16s-35e. It topped the San Andres lime favorably at 4,540 feet, subsea datum of 497.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 43 Santa Fe, Vacuum pool well, flowed eight barrels of oil hourly for six hours through open 2-inch tubing set at 4,550 feet, ten feet off bottom. It entered pay lime at 4,380 feet and was acidized with 500, then with 1,000 gallons. Location is in section 26-17s-35e.

In Lea's Corbin area west of the Vacuum pool Helmerich & Payne, Inc. No. 3-A Corbin, section 10-18s-33e, was completed for natural flow through casing of 13,500,000 cubic feet of sweet gas per day. It topped the gas horizon at 4,255 feet and is bottomed at 4,327 feet in lime.

Richmond Drilling Company of Midland, Texas No. 1 State, Western Lea wildcat four and one-half miles west of the Vacuum pool and 2,200 feet in salt and potash. With elevation of 4,256 feet it topped the salt at 1,537 feet. Standard tools supplanted rotary at depth of 1,340 feet in anhydrite. The scheduled 5,300-footer is located 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east line of section 13-16s-33e.

Also in Western Lea, Harry Leonard and Van Welch No. 1 State, wildcat three and three-quarter miles east of the north end of the Halfway pool, is drilling past 870 feet in red rock. It is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 18-20s-33e, on a geophysical high.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc. No. 1 Phillips-State, Northeastern Lea wildcat less than one and one-half miles from the Texas-New Mexico state line, is drilling in anhydrite below 4,420 feet. With elevation of 3,816 feet it logged base of salt at 3,124 feet, top of the Yates sand at 3,250 feet and first frosted quartz grains at 3,270 feet. On the Yates sand marker it is running 147 feet lower than Ventura Oil Company No. 1 Lowe, 6,300-foot duster five miles to the northwest. No. 1 State is 1,980 feet from the south and 660 from the west line of section 3-14s-38e, and it is contracted for 5,300 feet.

In the Lea portion of the Maljamar pool, which extends into Eastern Eddy County, Barney Cockburn No. 2-B Pearsall afforded a short south extension of production by flowing 77 barrels in two hours through open 2-inch tubing set at 3,365 feet following a 400-quart nitro shot from 4,000 to 4,203 feet, the total depth. Pay was topped at 4,012 feet.

Carper Drilling Company No. 7-N Simon, Maljamar well in Western Lea, was shot with 220 quarts from 3,806 to 3,900 feet and gauged

ON POLISHING FURNITURE

Use only clean cloths for dusting and polishing furniture, or furniture surfaces will be foggy and discolored rather than glossy and showing their fine grain. Never apply polish to furniture that is not absolutely clean. Dust thoroughly with a clean, lintless cloth, apply polish, let it stand a little, then rub with a clean, dry cloth until the surface is dry. Polish with a piece of soft flannel until a high luster is obtained.

Midland Police Force Stands Continuous Watch To Make City Safe For Residents

Your Average Officer Is Capable, Athletic And Seriously Polite

By Tanner Laine
Your average Midland policeman is 31 years old, 6 feet and one-half of one inch tall, weighs 187 pounds, is married, and has two children. The city's smartly outfitted force of seven—the first completely uniformed department—is on duty 24 hours a day. Four officers work the night shift and three the day. There is a chief, night desk sergeant, one motorcycle officer and four patrolmen.

L. P. McCasland left the Texas Highway Patrol to become chief of police of Midland. He had been in that position since Oct. 5, 1936. A champion marksman, McCasland ranks 22nd in the nation in pistol marksmanship. The chief formerly was with the fire department of San Angelo and senior captain of the police department there.

Frank Manning was the number one selectee when the police commission of the city council began to hunt for an efficient force to work with McCasland. Manning became a motorcycle officer here in 1938. He has attended the Texas Police Academy, traffic officer's school, and has been active in safety work in Midland.

E. C. (Bill) Moreland is night desk sergeant. He formerly was traffic officer in the city before the new department was established. He began work two years ago.

C. A. Atkins, night patrolman, came to Midland from Big Spring where he was a policeman. He has discharged various peace officers' duties and was one of the first appointees to the new department.

Patrolmen and traffic officers, William C. Durham, J. W. (Jack) Merritt, and Glenn Hudson, complete the force. They are Midland men and served in deputy and special capacities. Durham came from Odessa. Merritt has lived in Midland 12 years, and Hudson has called Midland his home 18 years.

All in all your police protection in Midland is staffed with courteous, trained, and alert men—whose aim is "Midland—Happy and Safe!"

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH FAMOUS FOR THRIFT

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(UP)—Settled in the rich farming lands of southeastern Pennsylvania, the "Pennsylvania Dutch"—a number of whom trace their ancestry to the earliest Colonial days—are famous for many things—thrift, prosperity, good farming, better cooking, religious sects, and a highly developed "superstition" which still influences the daily life of the family.

Wage Campaign On Law Violators

Midland's uniformed police department, equipped with motorcycle and two patrol cars and serving duty night and day, includes (left to right): Frank Manning, motorcycle officer; William Durham, day traffic officer; E. C. (Bill) Moreland, night desk sergeant; L. P. McCasland, chief; Glenn Hudson, night patrolman; J. W. (Jack) Merritt, night officer; and C. A. Atkins, night patrolman.

Sweden Increases Military Strength

STOCKHOLM—(UP)—Sweden's main issue today is the growth of its military strength.

The 10% of small neutral nations in a Europe at war is extremely precarious and about a score of military experts and observers agree that Sweden's decision to the militarily strong was a wise one.

In a speech at Grangesberg recently in connection with a meeting to promote a defense loan, Minister of Defense P. E. Skold, stated that during the first six months of 1940 when the interests of the belligerent great powers cut across Swedish territory, the primary task of Sweden's defenses was to keep the country's military resources available for immediate use.

After that time, the minister added, the direct defense preparedness had been reduced and the growth of the military strength had become the main issue.

Sweden's present efforts are to increase the quantitative strength of the army by 50 per cent of which most is to go to the infantry. A corresponding increase also is planned for the navy and coast artillery. The air force is to be doubled but the qualitative improvement will be far greater.

Plant Produces Rubber In U. S.

SALINAS, Cal.—(UP)—Production of rubber from the Guayule plant grown in Salinas Valley is set at 10,000 pounds daily now.

The experiment is directed by the American Rubber Producers, Inc., and the output is utilized by four major tire manufacturers. Experiments with the guayule plant in California date to 1912.

The scene of the experiment near here consists of 125 acres of land for growing purposes, and a $2,000,000 plant for processing.

The four American tire companies which are interested in the project, have been using the 10,000 pound daily output as a mixer and sealer because of its adhesive qualities but it nevertheless substitutes the only pure commercial rubber being produced in the United States.

The greatest obstacle that stands in the way of its immediate supplanting the Sumatra, Ceylon, Java, Borneo and Malayan sources of rubber is the cost of production.

Fires sometimes are started by glass bottles in store windows. The glass acts as a light-gathering lens under the sun's rays.

Let's Give Midland Youngsters A Chance

Have you ever, on foot, faced a herd of unpredictable animals?

Would you stand squarely in their path armed with nothing more than a red flag at the end of a bamboo cane? You have? Then you know exactly the feelings of a junior patrolman in the 12 o'clock traffic.

A pick-up truck parks at a 45-degree angle—but the wrong 45 degrees—and makes it hard to see around the corner. A car darts obliquely across the street and stops on the wrong side causing a traffic jam in the safety lane farther down. Two mothers park side by side to chat. The patrolman tries to guide his charges safely past this game of three-deep. A car is parked jutting out into the safety lane so that the children have to leave the lane to cross the street.

Did you ever make a U-turn at the safety lane in the middle of the block? Do you ever get partly across the street and decide to back up? Do you ever call to your child to cross the street where he is not supposed to cross? If you do, you're on the patrolman's headache list.

He can report any infraction of traffic rules by bicycles or junior pedestrians, but after two years of training students are exceptionally orderly. He can't do anything about the parents. You should hear what he thinks of some drivers!

READING, Pa.—(UP)—When Charles Weber went to St. Joseph's hospital to see his wife and their new baby, he first walked to the cashier's window and plunked a bag full of change on the counter. "There's $40 there," he told Sister Beatrice Gerard. Then he went upstairs to see his wife.

For a half hour attendants counted the nickels, and found there was one too many. When Weber returned for his receipt, the sister called it to his attention. "You were one nickel over," she said. "Thank you," said Weber, pocketing the coin.

Premier Opposes Conscription In Northern Ireland

DUBLIN, May 24—(AP)—Opposing British military conscription in the six counties of Northern Ireland which remain under the English crown, Prime Minister Eamon de Valera today called the Irish Parliament, the Dail Eireann, into special session Monday to discuss the explosive situation.

The Northern Irish at present serve in Britain's armed forces only on a volunteer basis, but Prime Minister John Miller Andrews of Northern Ireland, who has urged conscription there, was in London today with several of his cabinet ministers to discuss the situation with British Prime Minister Churchill.

Churchill has promised a statement at the next session of the House of Commons.

De Valera has expressed fears that conscription of the Northern Irish would bring the war closer to neutral Eire. Observers expected him to make a statement to the Dail on the economic and defense problems of Eire as well as on the military service question.

Reports from Belfast, capital of Northern Ireland, told of an anti-conscription movement already started there by Nationalists, who favor unification of the six northern counties with the 26 counties of independent Eire.

Ma Settles Down To Life Of No Politics

AUSTIN.—(UP)—Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, first woman to be elected a state governor by the people, now is an observer rather than a participant in politics.

In their comfortable home on a shaded hillside in Austin, Tex., "Ma" and "Pa" Ferguson reminisce. The Ferguson team was elected to the governorship four times.

After her second term ended in 1933, Mrs. Ferguson announced her retirement from active politics, noting that the family had been honored enough.

Last summer she reconsidered; announced for governor, but she ran far behind Texas' new political idol, W. Lee O'Daniel.

Roof Is Safest Place For Raids

By NEA Service
NEW YORK—It's safer to be on the roof of a high building during an air raid than on the lower floors.

This is one of the startling conclusions that came to light as New York, undoubtedly objective of any lightning Nazi attack on the western Hemisphere, prepares to face any emergency.

Few of the plans which Mayor LaGuardia and his administration have worked out have yet been made public. But a myriad of committees has been at work for many months and has blueprinted the skeletons on which will be hung the detailed plans for civilian protection.

As early as 1938, following the hurricane which huffed and puffed northeast coast, Mayor LaGuardia established a permanent Disaster Control Board. Even before the outbreak of war only a year later, the Board had taken stock of the city's vital utilities and made plans for their emergency use.

Disaster Control Force
Subsequently the Police Department established a District Control Force. At present it consists of some 100 men who have been thoroughly trained in everything from control of crowds and first aid to the reconstruction of communications lines.

In addition, the entire police force has been receiving special instruction in civilian protection problems.

On the Mayor's advice, the Fire Department last fall sent representatives to London to study the problem of incendiaries under the hot, flickering light of fires they had started.

In addition to these basic steps, plans are being made by the other city departments—including surveys of evacuation facilities. Representatives of the city are also attending lectures on "Aerial Bombardment Protection" at New York University. It is from this course that the surprising conclusion about the safety of skyscraper roofs is drawn.

Conducts Comprehensive Examination For Drivers

FORT BRAGG, N. C.—(UP)—Phillip Robinson of the Yale University Driver Research Center is conducting a new army driver's test at the field artillery replacement training center here which is described as the most comprehensive operator's examination ever held.

The test not only includes a gruelling road examination which gauges the driver's ability to "turn on a dime," park "in a closet," and change gears "on a cliff," but comes up with new ideas which tell whether a driver will react favorably under combat.

The test reveals a driver's reactions under "divided attention," gauges his susceptibility to "glare," and his speed in "glare recovery," and his freedom from "night blindness" and the acuity of his perception of death.

When you need it, this big eight is practically TWINS
LIFT up the bonnet of this darling Buick and you see only one engine—a big, efficient valve-in-head straight-eight.
Look again—and you note that Carburetion† gives it two carburetors—and what amounts to a dual personality.
One of those carburetors does all the work in casual, about-town, everyday driving, giving you a car that's easygoing on everything, from the way it handles to its consumption of gasoline.
But that other carburetor steps up this nimble sweetheart into a regular giant of power any time you give the word!
It wings you lightly through tough going—because having that second carburetor is almost like having an extra engine to call on when you want it.
The net result? Well, see for yourself what it means in life and lift and unflinching response.
As to what else it compounds—the records show that Compound Carburetion gives this '41 Buick a 10% to 15% edge in gas-economy over its predecessors of the same size!
Important? Sure is—especially when present prices make Buick the Number One all-round bargain of the year.
Just ask your dealer what one will cost delivered!
