Ickes To Switch Three Tankers To Gulf Coast Area

Coordinator Announces Plans After Conference With Oil Firm Moguls

WASHINGTON (AP).— In his first positive action to put more oil into the East, threatened by a petroleum famine, Secretary Ickes announced Wednesday a re-arrangement of a ship tanker service to increase the Atlantic coast supply by 210,000,000 gallons annually.

After conferences with officials of the Sun Oil Company and the Standard Oil Company of California, Ickes, who is defense petroleum coordinator, announced he had made recommendations whereby three huge tankers now engaged on routes between California and East Coast ports would be switched to runs from Gulf ports to the East Coast.

The coordinator emphasized, however, that this increase in the East Coast supply did not greatly lessen the dangers of a prospective shortage in the populous area, where he has said restrictions on civilian use of automobiles appeared "inevitable."

"Many additional steps must be taken," Ickes said, "if a serious East Coast shortage is to be averted."

On the intercoastal route, the coordinator said, the tankers involved carried approximately 168,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year, whereas in the Gulf to East Coast trade their annual carrying capacity, due to the shorter haul, would be raised to approximately 378,000,000 gallons annually.

Representatives of the petroleum industry have estimated the equivalent of 40 tankers were needed to erase the anticipated Eastern oil deficiency. The anticipated shortage was caused by transfer of one-fifth of America's coastline tanker fleet to British service.

United States To Tighten Control On Immigration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharper control over immigration into the United States is to be instituted before July 1, authoritative sources said Wednesday, a few hours after the government had barred the departure of "pending further instructions" of any of the 350,000 German nationals now living in this country.

To effect the new strict control over movements of aliens, boards of review will be established to pass on all applications for immigrant visas, after each application has been thoroughly investigated.

The state, justice, war and navy departments will have one representative on each of the five boards of review to be set up, it was learned, with the possibility that the Federal Bureau of Investigation or a special immigration investigation agency will also be represented.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed today the appointment of W. J. Townsend of Lufkin, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's fifth appointee to the state liquor control board, was confirmed Wednesday by the Senate.

The governor first nominated Dr. W. D. Barfield of Dallas, who was rejected. Next appointee was Tom Love of Dallas, who declined to serve.

The Senate rejected two more of the governor's appointees, Jeff Davis of Dallas and Mrs. Claude De Van Watts of Austin.

All of the governor's appointees to the board are ardent driers.

It's a Long, Long Way From Home to the Battlefield

No matter where they live, British empire soldiers fighting in Syria are a long way from home. Map shows distances troops travel from various parts of the world to the war's current battlefields. These are also necessarily supply routes because soldiers' homelands are manufacturing centers. Mediterranean is practically out as a British supply route because of axis air control in western end.

Seeks Northwest Spread Of Strawn Pool In Crockett

By Frank Gardner Amerasia Petroleum Corporation

has staked location for No. 1-B J. S. Todd estate as an extension to nearly two miles northwest of the Todd Deep pool in North Central Crockett, which produces from the Strawn, lower Pennsylvanian.

No. 1-B Todd is 663 feet from the south and 660 from the west line of section 26, block WX, G.C.&S.P. It is about one mile northwest of the firm's No. 1-A Todd, 4,000-foot north outcrop, which now is drilling at 2,902 feet in shale and lime shells.

Amerasia No. 1-RA University, scheduled Ordovician test in Southeastern Reagan County, is drilling in shale and lime at 7,318 feet.

Mascho Oil Company of Midland No. 1 Gulf Oil Corporation-University, Southern Andrews County wildcat about three miles equidistant between the Fuhrman and Emma pools, is shut down for orders at 4,506 feet in lime, six feet past contract depth.

Representatives of contributing companies were to witness the measuring-up Wednesday afternoon, following which it will be plugged and abandoned. It ran low structurally and is said to have shown water in cuttings near total depth.

Mascho No. 1 The Texas Company-University, wildcat in Northwestern Andrews, is drilling unchanged at 4,165 feet in anhydrite. Another Northwestern Andrews test, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-20-38 B. B. Ralph, is drilling at 5,023 feet in hard lime, with no showings reported.

Spudding was slated early Wednesday in Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company and Seaboard Oil Corporation No. 1-C Midland Farms Company, extreme Southeastern Andrews wildcat about 18 miles northwest of the City of Midland.

In southwestern Martin County, Wiggins & Hyde No. 1 Stinson & Burns, five and one-half miles northeast of Midland, is shut down for engine repairs at 2,950 feet in sand and anhydrite.

Texasco No. 1 S. T. Murphy, in Western Terry County, was acidized with 1,000 gallons in initial stage, then was swabbed in pits for 14 hours, recovering an estimated 110 barrels of fluid representing load and acid residue. It now is on a swabbing test in tanks, started at 11 a. m.

Now's the time to stock up on the things you've been wanting.

C. Of C. Seeks More Funds In Big Drive

Final plans have been completed, volunteer workers are ready to go and everything is in perfect readiness for the big whirlwind, streamlined, all-out, one-day Chamber of Commerce membership drive and dues increase campaign Thursday.

D. H. Griffith, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce membership committee and director-general of the drive, this morning said 30 busy business men of Midland have agreed to give a day of their time to the campaign in an effort to adequately finance the organization for the busy days ahead.

He urged citizens to do their part when called upon by the volunteer workers tomorrow.

The drive will get underway following a 7 o'clock breakfast in the Blue Room of Hotel Scharbauer Thursday morning, at which time prospect cards will be distributed and final instructions given.

Voluntary increases in dues continued this morning to be received at the Chamber of Commerce office, and membership workers anticipate little difficulty in substantially increasing the budget of the organization.

Designation of Midland as the site for the $4,500,000 U. S. Army Air Corps Twin-Engine and Bombardier Training Center will increase tremendously the activities of the Chamber of Commerce and the organization must be adequately financed to handle the additional work. For the last year the Chamber of Commerce has labored tirelessly to have Midland designated as the site of the big Air Corps

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Secretary Ickes, defense petroleum coordinator, will meet with hundreds of oil executives in Washington Thursday to discuss problems presented by the nation's civilian and military oil needs.

While the secretary has issued a general invitation to all interested oil men, it also was understood that about 700 personal messages were sent to petroleum executives.

The secretary has expressed hope that the conference will discuss both the problems of the coordinator's office and of the industry.

The supply situation for the Eastern Seaboard also is expected to be reviewed, with the possibility the industry will learn how best to coordinate its efforts to overcome it.

In the field, completions reached a new high for the year. Completions for the week total 661, compared to 594 the previous week and 561 a year ago, the Oil and Gas Journal said.

Germany And Italy Report Smashing Defeat For British Counter-Attack In Three-Day Battle Around Salum

Italian Press Says 1000 Tanks Of Britain Engaged In Fight And 200 Were Put Out Of Action; Britons Acknowledge Withdrawals

By The Associated Press Germany and Italy reported "complete and overwhelming victory" Wednesday in smashing a British counter-offensive after a violent 3-day battle in the desert around Salum, Egypt.

"The enemy, overwhelmed, is retreating," the German high command said.

An Italian war bulletin declared the British had thrown "ponderous masses of tanks supported by the best part of the middle eastern air force" into the conflict—only to be rushed by the "overpowering impetus" of Axis counter-attacks.

Italian press dispatches said approximately 1,000 British tanks in two armored divisions were engaged in the battle. About 200 tanks, it was said, were put out of action.

The Fascist communique asserted Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's counter-offensive had been "broken" with British troops retreating under heavy fire by Axis land and air forces.

Picture Tobruk Rescue The British Middle East command acknowledged that the British advance forces withdrew Tuesday to forward positions on the Libyan front to avoid an encircling movement by German reinforcements because "we had accomplished our objects" of forcing the Germans to disclose their strength.

In Berlin, Hitler's high command said the British attempt to drive back into Libya had been "frustrated" with extremely heavy losses.

The Nazi war bulletin pictured the British offensive as an attempt to rescue the six-bound British garrison at Tobruk, 80 miles inside Libya, where British troops have been encircled for nearly 10 weeks.

The Germans claimed destruction of more than 100 British tanks since the Imperial army of the Nile began its offensive Sunday.

On the Middle East war front, the British reported Allied columns were attacking the town of Mezza, three miles west of Damascus, the capital of Syria, and that Allied patrols had reached a point only 12 miles from Beirut, the Lebanese capital.

Elsewhere, the British acknowledged that counter-attacking Vichy French troops had recaptured the Syrian towns of Merdjany, six miles from the Palestine frontier, and Kuneitra, south of Damascus.

In the war in the air, the London air ministry reported big squadrons of RAF bombers, smashing at Western Germany for the seventh night in a row, set many fires and inflicted widespread destruction in the industrial cities of Cologne and Duesseldorf.

Berlin Claims 23 Planes Reinforced by a stream of American-built planes, the RAF also challenged German air might by sending at least 150 planes flying in "sandwich formation"—with layers of fighters flying above and below the bombers—against the Nazi-led French coast.

RAF overnight attacks centered on the docks at Rotterdam, Ostend, Boulogne and Cherbourg.

Meanwhile, the mystery of German-Russian relations became even more complex as dispatches from Helsinki told of the reported exodus of Russian troops from the military base at Hanko, Finland. The U. S. S. R. had a 30-year lease on the strategic base.

Behind The Headlines

By Fred Vanderschmidt Everything is upside down in this war; it must be a never-ending nightmare to the veteran of 1914-18 who thought he had it all figured out in advance. Horses ride in airplanes where by the book they should be charging across the Terrain (Holland, May, 1940); tanks in thundering fleets wheel and collide in the awful summer heat of the Egyptian desert, where Arab steeds and warriors in bright robes should have the field of battle to themselves (Salum, June 1942).

The new battle of Salum sees massed tanks in action on a basis of equality which should have prevailed, but did not, at Cambrai and at Arras just a year ago.

Carried thousands of miles from home to the blazing sands, these iron monsters of Germany and Britain sweep like men of war in battle line across the vast desert, unhindered and unharassed for many the mile before they find the point of attack. Then the battle explodes. The ensuing torment of the fighters within these massive rollers, fire in the African sun and reeling under the shock of shellfire, challenges the imagination.

In Syria the French fight the melancholy battle of desperation and their resistance is stubborn and hard against an assailant who is not an enemy and has not much heart for his work.

Reinforced by a stream of American-built planes, the RAF also challenged German air might by sending at least 150 planes flying in "sandwich formation"—with layers of fighters flying above and below the bombers—against the Nazi-led French coast.

RAF overnight attacks centered on the docks at Rotterdam, Ostend, Boulogne and Cherbourg.

Meanwhile, the mystery of German-Russian relations became even more complex as dispatches from Helsinki told of the reported exodus of Russian troops from the military base at Hanko, Finland. The U. S. S. R. had a 30-year lease on the strategic base.

Closer, Closer

The war has now come within 700 miles of the coast of Brazil, creeping closer, ever closer. Nothing the United States has done brought it there. The shooting, which everybody has been dreading, is now a fact, and it was not American shooting.

There is a notable lack of excitement in American consideration of the fate of the Robin Moor, American ship torpedoed and shelled to the bottom of the South Atlantic. Today's world is not the world of 1915 when a German surface rider sent the William P. Frye to the same grave. Americans didn't like that at all. The world seems to look at these things differently today, and whether that is to the world's credit or not is another question.

Nineteen days and nineteen nights the American victims of the Robin Moor pulled at their heavy oars, staring death in the face.

More is at stake here than the cost of the Robin Moor. For weeks, probably, there will be exchanges of notes between the U. S. and German government, winnowing out this and that question of fact, this or that point of international law. Yet the main questions at stake are very simple questions:

Has the United States the right to send an unarmed ship, carrying no munitions of war, through shipping lanes far removed from anything generally recognized as a "combat zone" to South Africa, parts of South Africa being at war with Germany? Evidently the United States believes it has that right, or the Robin Moor would not have been where she was, carrying what she carried. Or has the United States no such right? Is it to be subjected to a "shooting war" if it believes it has, and tries to exercise that right?

Has Germany the right to fight its war anywhere in the world, to sink any ship bound for any port of any country allied to the British, whenever some sub-lieutenant in charge of its submarine considers its cargo contraband?

In short, who shall define contraband, who shall define combat zones, who shall lay down the "law" of the sea?

The United States is slow to anger today. There is no hysterical outpouring over the Robin Moor case. It would be a grave mistake for Germany to conclude from that that the United States, which has surrendered much voluntarily in restricting its trade by its own Neutrality Law, will necessarily surrender everything.

The United States in 1812 and 1917, for instance, has shown an active interest in free use of the world's sea highways. It still has that interest, and it has means at its disposal to assert its own ideas of what that freedom must be.

Chamber of Commerce officials are confident that the people of Midland can and will do the job, and that Thursday's drive will be the most successful ever staged here.

Wants Domestic Wool Protected

WASHINGTON (AP)—American wool growers, seeking to meet competition of imported clips, have asked government officials to grant contract differentials to domestic mills filling orders for the army and navy if they used wool shorn in the United States.

Representatives of National and State Wool Growers Associations conferred with Donald M. Nelson, director of purchasers in the office of production management; Major Edmund B. Gregory, quartermaster general; and federal price-control officials.

Fred Marshall of Salt Lake city, Utah, secretary of the National Wool Growers Association, said the domestic producers were apprehensive that unless the government granted differentials, American mills would use foreign wools to save about 10 cents a pound.

The wool growers asked that in the letting of contracts for all government supplies of woollen goods in the fiscal year beginning July 1, federal officials should grant the mills differentials in amounts equal to the margin between the domestic and foreign clips if the former were used.

Midland Couple Wed At Home Of Bride's Mother

Mr. and Mrs. Busby To Make Home Here After Ozark Trip

Of interest both in Oklahoma and Texas was the wedding of Miss Rosellen Morrison and Horace Reed Busby, both of Midland, which was solemnized at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. J. Atkinson, in Ponca City, Oklahoma.

Trailing honeysuckle vines decorated the mantel and Queen's lace banked the fireplace, forming an improvised altar before which the young couple repeated the wedding vows read by the Rev. M. Owen Ellison.

Large baskets of gladiolus and feverfew were other room decorations. Bride Wears White. Preceding the ceremony, a trio composed of Misses Janice and Bessie Belle Morrison, sisters of the bride, and a friend, Miss Betty Buckner, sang "Because." Mrs. Homer Dodge Caine was at the piano for the accompaniment and also played the "Bridal March" from Lohengrin to the strains of which the bride entered on the arm of her stepfather, T. J. Atkinson. She was gown in all-white. Her white pique wedding dress featured lace inserts and her hat was a large picture model. Pink and white sweet-peas formed her corsage.

Her only attendant was her aunt, Mrs. S. M. Warren of Midland, who also wore white. Members of the bride's family and a few friends were present for the service which was followed by a reception.

Furthering the chosen color scheme of pink-and-white the lace-laid dining table was centered with a bouquet of pink and white larkspur with lighted bouquet tapers placed among the flowers.

The three-tiered wedding cake was placed at one end of the table, while at the other was the punch bowl which was presided over by Mrs. Donald Combs. After the bride had cut the cake, it was served by her aunt, Mrs. Ross Anderson.

Honeymoon in Ozarks. Mr. and Mrs. Busby left after the reception for a honeymoon in the Ozark Mountains of Missouri. On June 29 they will be at home in Midland at 1304 W. Ohio.

Mrs. Busby's going away costume was of tan and white jersey with natural straw accessories. The bride is a graduate of Ponca City High School. She has lived in Midland for two years and is employed in the offices of the Honolulu Oil Corporation.

Mr. Busby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Busby of Ardmore, Okla. He graduated from Ardmore High School and attended the Kansas City Art Institute and the Kansas City Theatrical Poster School. Employed with the Griffin Amusement Company for about seven years, he came to Midland from Borger last Fall to be assistant manager of the Midland theatres.

Pink gladiolus and pink roses decorated the house for the wedding which was attended by the bride's parents, her two sisters and two brothers, and the groom's father, and Mrs. Skipper.

A wedding dinner was served, with the bride cutting the white-iced cake.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Essley left on a honeymoon trip to Carlsbad and points in Northern Arizona. They will make their home at Glendale, Arizona, where Mr. Essley is engaged in ranching.

1 FILL LASTED 13,398 MILES—Certified

Then how long is a quart of this great New Motor Oil?

STRAIGHT FROM SIZZLING DEATH VALLEY COMES YOUR ANSWER...

The lock-guarded engines of 6 coupes faced the Death Valley desert with oil exactly up to "Full!" Not a drop could be added. The destination of all 6 identical everyday engines was... Death!

Here were 6 high quality motor oils getting the same strictly fair opportunity to show how long they'd let an engine live on one exact fill and no more.

Down in Death Valley—hotspot of the U. S. A.—every car sped at 57 miles an hour, till its oil gave out and the engine smashed. The brand of oil that used up quickest was outlasted 8,268 miles by a revolutionary new oil in this impartial, certified test. This new oil exceeded the average mileage of the other 5 oils by all of 7,057 miles! Certified. This longest-lasting oil in the test, which your car can have today—at popular price—is new

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL with its Man-made new Economy aid

The record long life that defied Death Valley comes from a new laboratory creation... man-made... called Thialhene inhibitor. Its action in some ways suggests Vaccination—which puts the right protective substance on guard to keep a trouble from even starting on you.

The trouble aiming to start on motor oils lurks in the engine's normal firing. Filth is formed that tends to start the oil "festering." First one drop spoils—then two drops "catch it"—then four—then sixteen—faster, faster, FASTER. Soon oil stamina is sapped; the engine suffers, and cries for quart after quart... but not

IMPARTIAL

Latest available products of 5 leading competitors bought retail by Referee.

New everyday coupes used—identical. Broken-in alike. Engines taken apart for Referee—to assure uniformity.

Carstuned alike. Same Death Valley route for all. Drivers rotated to even up on skill.

One fill per car. None added. Engines under lock—under scrutiny—every mile.

AND CONOCO Nth OIL OIL-PLATES YOUR ENGINE!

Long the keystone of Conoco success, OIL-PLATING comes from another great Conoco synthetic... man-made under the famed Germ Processed oil patent. By magnet-like action, OIL-PLATING is bonded to inner engine parts. Then it can't all drain down—not even overnight—not while you're using Conoco Nth. So OIL-PLATING is on guard against wear in advance... and helps mileage, as it did in Death Valley. An OIL-PLATED engine is one more economy you get from a change to popular-priced new Conoco Nth oil.

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

when the worst of this "festering" attack is nipped in the bud—inhibited—by the life-giving Thialhene inhibitor in new Conoco Nth motor oil.

Now you'll never rashly exceed the proper oil-change period for your car and driving conditions—any more than you ignore traffic rules just to "get away with it!" But Certified Proof from the desert that the new Conoco Nth could outlast the other oils in the test by as much as 161%, gives you more than mere hopes of long Summer mileage between quarts. Change to Conoco Nth—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station... today. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

PBA Is Pleased By Legislative Action On Two Oil Measures

With final passage in the Texas Legislature of two hotly contested conservation measures, many West Texas oil men drew a sigh of relief and turned their attention to Washington, where Federal Oil Administrator, Ickes had not yet disclosed to what degree the federal government would control oil production in Texas.

The passage of a bill providing for indefinite extension of the conservation statutes of Texas, placed the state in a favorable position to receive hoped-for consideration from federal authorities. Legislative tie-ups on this bill in Austin had been the cause of much anxiety to West Texas operators, who worked through the Permian Basin Association for several weeks in an effort to push the measure through before Washington began its hearings and investigations to determine what steps would be necessary from a National Defense standpoint.

The Permian Basin Association did not enter into the much-debated question as to whether the Conservation laws of Texas should be extended for two years or made permanent, but rather it insisted through the West Texas legislators that immediate provision for renewal of the conservation laws be made. A determined drive had been made, also for the passage of the Clark market demand bill, which operators hoped would do much to alleviate the practice of selective buying in Texas—a practice which had long been reflected in low allowable and difficulties in obtaining pipeline connections in West Texas.

Still a source of some worry was the fact that the governor's signature had not yet been affixed to the two measures. There was little doubt that his approval would be given the provision calling for extension of the conservation law, but some fear was held that opponents of the market demand law would bring pressure to bear in an attempt to block the measure from this angle. Wires from the PBA and its members were sent to the governor requesting his prompt and favorable consideration of the two bills.

RETURNS FROM AMARILLO

Mrs. Hal Peck returned Tuesday night from Amarillo. Her mother, Mrs. O. P. Jones of that city, accompanied her home for a visit of several weeks.

House-Universally Opposes Tax Plan

Representative Taylor White telephoned officials of the Permian Basin Association this morning to advise them of the unanimous passage by the House of Representatives of his resolution protesting federal legislation requiring joint income tax returns from Texas citizens. The association asked White to sponsor the action.

Such legislation would have the effect of nullifying Texas community property laws insofar as federal income taxes are concerned and would cost the people of Texas an additional $250,000,000, BPA officials estimated.

Copies of the protest resolution have been mailed to the vice president, the speaker of the house and to each member of congress, White said. Similar resolutions are expected to reach the Texas Senate during the day, he added.

Plans Completed For $15,325 R. E. A. Project

Signed contracts are in Washington for approval by R.E.A. for the 25-mile extension project in Midland County.

O. B. Bryan of Caprock Electric Cooperative, announced the bid of McClure Electric Company of Dallas, had been accepted. It was for $15,325.74.

Materials are expected to arrive in 15 to 30 days and construction is scheduled within three weeks.

Wire shipments cannot be expected before September 1. Copper wire will be used in place of aluminum, which has been surrendered to defense work.

However, plans are to have poles, hardware and transformers in place by the time the wire arrives.

Possibility of an additional extension in northern Midland County will be considered after July 1, when new federal R.E.A. allotments begin.

More Applicants For Pilot Training Course

More applications from Midland citizens for a civilian pilot's training course are being received by the Chamber of Commerce.

Officials reminded citizens that 6 p. m. Wednesday is the deadline for obtaining certificates of eligibility.

An inspection Thursday will determine final plans for the course. It is expected to start Monday.

Lawmakers Move Rapidly Toward Session's Close

AUSTIN (AP)—The 47th legislature, clearing its desks of practically all major matters, Wednesday moved rapidly toward conclusion of the overtime general session.

Mounting sentiment indicated a quitting date was not far off and there were predictions the Senate, for weeks at loggerheads with the House on the issue, would accept the lower chamber's proposal to recess June 20 to July 15 and adjourn finally July 18.

The procedure would enable the lawmakers to override possible vetoes of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel on important appropriations for governmental operation the next two years.

The lawmakers sent O'Daniel a $30,270,754 biennial departmental appropriation bill, $5,000,000 higher than current governmental expenditures.

PARK APPROPRIATIONS Climaxing long wrangling, the legislators also approved bills making permanent the state's oil proration law and altering the statutes to provide allowable production on a statewide instead of a pool basis. The latter, proponents claimed, would eliminate asserted selective buying of crude.

New items included in the department appropriation measure included $1,500,000 for purchase of acreage to establish the Big Bend Park in West Texas, $443,000 for repairs to the half-century old capitol and $923,316 to finance National Guard armories construction.

Ninety-one additional highway patrolmen were provided, O'Daniel two years ago heavily blue-penciled items for the state police and other departments.

Regarding the oil proration legislation, long a stumbling block on financial conclusion of the session, a majority of the railroad commission and Federal Oil Coordinator Harold Ickes favored making the statutes permanent.

Railroad Commissioners Olin Culberson and Jerry Sadler sponsored the bill intended to eliminate selective purchasing and empowering the commission to continue its present proration methods which have suffered under court rulings.

First refusing to adopt a resolution naming a three-member committee for a Washington oil conference, the House later approved one naming Reps. Clayton Bray of Longview and Garland Kennedy of Palestine as Texas delegates.

Ulmer Will Speak On Army Training Center

Wool

BOSTON (AP)—U. S. Dept. Agr.—A very moderate amount of business was transacted Wednesday in medium fleece wools. Most sales of combing three-eighths and one quarter blood bright fleeces were at prices in the range 46-47 cents in the grease delivered to mills, when buyers would take both grades of an accumulation. An occasional buyer that wanted only one of these grades paid 47-48 cents in the grease. Fine territory wools in original bags containing short to good combing lengths were quoted at $1-$1.03 scoured basis but sales were very slow.

NEW YORK (AP).—A sudden downward movement in the last few minutes ruined a strong stock market today, turning many erstwhile gains into losses.

Most leaders ended the day ahead by major fractions or more, although the best prices were not maintained to the close, some issues running into selling resistance at their peaks and, thereafter, slipping. Sales totaled about 600,000 shares.

Billy Conn And Pretty Blonde Ask Marriage License

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Disclosure that Billy Conn and his pretty blonde sweetheart have applied for a marriage license threatened today to break up any plans they might have had to elope.

Register Walter Evans in the little town of Brookville, about 70 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, said Conn and Mary Louise Smith applied for a license there last week. Jimmy Smith, former major league baseball player and husky father of the girl, quickly registered his opposition to the union, declaring:

"Champion or no champion, I'll punch hell out of that fellow and he'd probably be the first one to say I could do it. I hope he wins, but I want him to stay away from my family."

Miss Smith disappeared, Her father said she was with him and "there won't be any marriage because she's only 18."

Stalin Trains Women For War Emergencies

MOSCOW. (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Millions of Russian women are being trained for medical work in case of war in a program that is part and parcel of Premier Joseph Stalin's effort to keep Soviet Russia "in a state of constant military preparedness."

Although a majority of the women are training in so-called courses for sanitary preparedness, more than 30,000 are enrolled in special militarized units preparing to act as nurses on battlefields.

In addition, all women doctors and professional nurses are taking obligatory training every other evening after working hours. Their training is pointed toward action during the air or commercial attacks.

U. S. May Arm Merchant Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt left no doubt Wednesday that the United States was ready, if necessary, to arm her merchantmen to meet the threat of submarine warfare.

Whether such action would be taken, informed sources said, probably would depend to a large degree on the attitude of Germany when Berlin receives the state department's forthcoming protest over the sinking of the American merchantman Robin Moor by a submarine in the South Atlantic.

Germany Is Silent Following Protest

BERLIN (AP)—The dispatch of Germany's protest against President Roosevelt's order closing all German consulates in the United States brought a momentary lull Wednesday in discussion of the tense German-American relations. The Germans are saying nothing further, but apparently are taking the attitude the next step is up to the United States. American reaction to the German protest is awaited.

Highlights From the Week's Oil News

(From The Oil & Gas Journal)
All classes of completions showed an increase during the past week which topped the previous high for the year by 17 wells. Oil wells increased over the week ended June 7 by 17, gas wells by 22 and dry holes by 28, making a total advance for the week of 67 completions. Among the causes of the increase are accumulated reports from the gas-producing areas of eastern Kentucky and Montana, but most of the active areas showed increases due to the recent speedup of drilling.

The trend of Kansas development whereby pools of all sizes are stepped out regularly for distances of 1/2 mile or more continues and is adding much proven territory to the state's reserves. Particularly in the Arbuckle, dry holes have ceased to have much meaning. As development continues, the dry holes are often found to be due mainly to filled sinkholes on the old erosion surface at the top of the Arbuckle. Wells drilled into these sinkholes are naturally low as the top of the lime has dropped off precipitously a matter of 20 to 40 ft., and these readings transferred to maps show structures which do not actually exist. Operators in Kansas might consider a little whipstocking of dry outposts with profit.

Possibly the most important development of the week was the discovery of oil in a test midway between Slaughter and Wasson. This does not, necessarily, link the two fields. In fact present opinion is that it does not but the possibility cannot be ruled out at this time. If the two fields are ultimately joined, the area would be much greater than that of the East Texas field and many did not believe that was a single accumulation just 10 years ago.

The Illinois Devonian play has received a setback through water intrusion, but the last act has not been played. The top of the structure has not yet been tested to the Devonian and the flank wells that have been drilled prove the existence of oil in that formation.

ILLINOIS: The Devonian does not appear likely to produce at Potoka and Loudon's latest Devonian test showed only salt water. The poor record of the Loudon Devonian to date does not condemn the field for deep production as two of the three wells were well down on the west flank of the structure and the third was almost at the west edge.

KANSAS: Continued development in the Greenvale sector of Russell County appears likely to link the main pool to North and Northwest Greenvale and, eventually, to tie the whole area into Hall-Gurney. Chase and Doran are extended and Westgate-Greenland brought in a 3,000-bbl. well which either extends Hall-Gurney 1 1/2 miles south or is the discovery well of a new pool.

OKLAHOMA: Gutrie is limited by two dry holes on the south. A new Wilcox pool is indicated west of Ramsey in Payne County.

NEBRASKA: The discovery well in the deep Hunton pay holds up well. Several new operations are started with that pay as an objective.

MONTANA: Shallow gas development continues with three wells in the Cedar Creek field, just across the North Dakota line and four in Bowdoin.

MICHIGAN: The Reed City discovery in Osceola County has revived the hopes of Michigan operators as a dozen new tests are in prospect in the immediate future. The new field is outside of the main belt of production and will encourage additional prospecting along the trend. A new gas field has been opened up in the same county in the Michigan stray at 2,000 ft. and another gas field has been found in the stray in Isabella County. Gulf's deep test is a new well in the Niagara lime.

WEST TEXAS: Texas Co.'s wildcat in Terry County, about midway between Slaughter and Wasson, is showing oil in dolomite. This well is not believed to form a connection between the two large fields but may represent discovery of a new field of considerable size. Prospecting for the deep pay at Wasson is under way in two tests, one 7 miles north and the other 10 miles northeast of the discovery. Slaughter is extended 3 miles north of the west end in what may be a new pay. In the southern sector, a test 1 mile east of Kermit picked up production in a new sand. Three Abell wells missed the Simpson pay and are testing the Ellenburger.

NORTH TEXAS: A Caddo lime discovery in western Clay County promises additional development for the area as it is surrounded by small fields which have irregular production from the Strawn. Deeper development of these fields may soon result. A second Mississippi lime pool in Young County is indicated. Ellenburger discoveries in Electra, Bin-dell and Washam have been gauged at 27 bbl. in 4 hours, 600 bbl. and 176 bbl., respectively.

WEST CENTRAL TEXAS: A shallower pay has been found in the new Wimberly pool in Jones County.

EASTERN KENTUCKY: The gas play is going strong with 14 completions totaling 5,743,000 cu. ft.

CALIFORNIA: Shell is starting a second test in the Raisin City area. A new deep pay has been found in the Rincon field, Ventura County.

EAST TEXAS: The wildcat play in this area is gaining an impetus as 14 new tests are started. East Long Lake is undergoing rapid development.

NORTH LOUISIANA: Wilcox production has been found between the Olla and Jena fields in La Salle Parish. A Smackover lime test has started in Carroll Parish.

TEXAS GULF COAST: Maubro is extended 3,000 ft. southeast and outside the limits of the original block controlled by Humble. Alta Loma and Garwood also appear to be extended as tests show favorably.

LOUISIANA GULF COAST: Vinton is the latest of the old shallow domes to get flank prospecting as two deep tests are scheduled to start. A new sand has been picked up at 7,620 ft. at Barataria. Amerada's test 1,100 ft. east of the Fort Allen discovery is showing oil above the discovery pay.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS: The new sand at Midway is showing 1 mile to the west and La Rosa also appears to be extended 1 mile to the northwest. Continental's Wilcox test in Live Oak County cores sand with an oil odor.

Wichita Falls Bowlers Bowl Two Perfect Games

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—After 14 years of futile attempts to register perfect scores in organized league competition, the City Bowling Association Wednesday boasted two perfect games.

George Merkle, Wichita Falls undertaker, rolled the first "300" game, sandwiching it in a run of 19 consecutive strikes. A few moments later Louis Riesen, abstractor, duplicated Merkle's "300."

TAXES THEY YIELD BUILD THESE FOR DEFENSE

Deanna Durbin's annual salary of $206,000 yields about $100,000 in taxes, enough to buy two 155 mm. field guns.

W. C. Fields' $154,000 tax bill pays for a plane and tank.

10% tax on $800 fur coat would buy a Garand rifle.

10% tax on a $25 camera would pay for a "tin hat."

Corporations like General Motors pay enough taxes annually (about $70,000,000) to build a battleship.

Outsider Wins English Derby

NEWMARKET, England (AP)—Owen Tudor, an outsider at 25 to 1 won the 261st running of England's Derby Wednesday with Monogro, a favorite, second, and Diroze Din third.

Owen Tudor won cleverly over the mile and a half route by a length and a half. It was the seventh derby win for his trainer, Fred Darling.

The time was 2 minutes, 32 seconds. In spite of the war and the substitution of Newmarket for Epsom Downs, a holiday mood prevailed. It appeared the British took the attitude he had a right to enjoy his derby, regardless of Hitler.

Registration will be conducted between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. The Midland board is authorized to make its own arrangements regarding the registration and obtain what assistance it needs.

Midland Board To Hold Registration

State Director of Selective Service, Gen. Watt Page, notified the Midland County draft board that individual Texas boards and their assistants would handle the second registration July 1.

Plans for the second registration in Midland County have not been completed. Registrants will sign up at either the courthouse or the draft headquarters in the post office.

Registration will be conducted between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. The Midland board is authorized to make its own arrangements regarding the registration and obtain what assistance it needs.

Softball Officials Will Start Contests On Time On Forfeit

R. O. Smith and Mack Webb, managers of the city softball league, declared Wednesday that games would start promptly at 7 p. m. or forfeits would be declared.

League officials also decreed that the first game each night would not last more than one and one-half hours. They will be called at the end of that time and a winner declared.

The officials asked co-operation of players in courtesy and respect to umpires, whose services are volunteered. Arguments and squabbles will be stopped. Abusive language by players will not be tolerated, they said.

Mackey Motors and The Texas Company and Central Pharmacy and Merchant's Girls of Odessa were scheduled Wednesday night.

Mad Russian Turns Out Sad—Delight Of Enemy Pitchers

CHICAGO (AP)—A minor league star, a major league "bust"—this, in brief, is the case history to date of Lou Novikoff, the Mad Russian.

The word has gone around that the 25-year-old terror of the bushes is headed for another trip to the minors.

Some of baseball's keenest judges of talent denied in April that Novikoff's major assets consisted solely of playing the harmonica and singing "Abie's Irish Rose." The insisted he would murder National League pitching.

But they were wrong. Novikoff has been given every opportunity to make the grade by Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs, but he has been a pitcher's delight ever since his debut.

His batting average is an anemic .240.

WPA AUTHORIZES WORK ON TWENTY-FIVE JOBS

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Authorization to begin work on 25 WPA projects, involving expenditures of $560,412 in work projects administration funds and $415,921 supplied by local governmental and other federal agencies, has been given Texas district managers, Stearns S. Tucker, deputy state administrator, announced Wednesday.

Hearing On Liquor Injunction Starts

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—A hearing on an injunction restraining the state liquor board from enforcing provisions of the new liquor law started here Wednesday before a three-judge court.

The statute limits the sale of prescription whiskey.

Attorneys for the plaintiff, F. V. Ellison of Lubbock, and the state liquor control board argued before the hearing started over points of law and admissibility of certain procedure.

Ellison represents 30 drug store owners and a dozen doctors licensed to write prescriptions for liquor.

Sam Snead Seeks Relief From Ailment

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Sam Snead, the Hot Springs, Va., slammer, has decided to give up tournament golf until he can get some relief for that now famous back ailment.

One specialist has advised a major operation, but says Sam "I want to be certain there is no other way out before I let them cut into my back." The operation would keep him off the golf course from three to six months.

There have been several versions of the origin of the trouble—which, specifically, is centered in the lumbar vertebra—but Sam expressed belief today that it came from "turning on the pressure" with his potent driver.

Louis-Conn Fight Produces Unusual Pre-Bout Interest

By Gayle Talbot
 NEW YORK. (AP)—The biggest, richest prizefight crowd since the second Louis-Schmeling battle three summers ago was predicted for the Polo Grounds Wednesday night to watch Joe Louis defend his heavyweight championship against clever Billy Conn of Pittsburgh.

The big negro's eighteenth defense of his title promised to draw more than 40,000, and to gross approximately $400,000, as compared with the $1,000,000 that flowed into Promoter Mike Jacobs' treasury the night Louis crushed Max Schmeling, the man he hated, in less than a round.

The odds against the former light heavyweight king lengthened steadily in the Broadway maris. Wednesday it was possible to get odds of 7 to 2 against his winning, and one commission man estimated he would offer a solid 4-to-1 against Billy.

Five special trains from Pittsburgh and a half-dozen from scattered cities poured fans into town. Boston fans were known to have chartered 20 planes.

Joe and Billy—the big, dead-punching brown man and the slim, handsome young gamecock were scheduled to square off for their 15-rounder at about 8 p. m. (CST). The best information was that the referee would not be Arthur Donovan, who, unfortunately for him, has become known as Louis' "house referee." A good guess was that Billy Cavanagh, West Point boxing instructor, will be the third man.

It was the first heavyweight title fight at the Polo Grounds since the famous rough-house between Jack Dempsey and Louis Angel Firpo back in the "golden age" of boxing. The official weighing was expected to show Louis packing an advantage of about 25 pounds but Billy was in the peak of condition and confident of winning.

The boxer on edge for several days, expected to stop Billy in two or three rounds. Being conservative, favors the latter figure.

Cleveland Widens Margin As Yanks Lose To Chicago

By Judson Bailey
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 This is the only Eastern trip all season in which the Cleveland Indians do not have to tackle the dangerous New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox in succession.

The schedule for this particular jaunt has the Tribe traveling from New York to Philadelphia to Washington to Boston—Manager Roger Peckinpaugh is a mighty happy man about it.

The Indians lost three straight in New York to the Yankees, saw the American League lead shaved to a single game, and were staggering on the edge of a precipice when they left the big town. They probably would have been easy prey for the roaring Red Sox.

Instead they got a breathing spell Tuesday against the Athletics. They came out with a 3-2 victory and gained another full game on the Yankees, whose eight-game winning streak was snapped.

Red Sox Win And Lose
 The Indians wormed their way to victory when Phil Marchildon wild-pitched the winning run across in the eighth.

The defeat of the Yankees was an 8-7 decision handed down by the Chicago White Sox. They started Johnny Rigney on the mound for his farewell pitching appearance before being inducted into the Army Friday. He made three hits himself and held the Yanks to three in the first six innings, but fell apart to give up five runs in the seventh and eighth. Finally he had to be removed with the score tied and Jack Hallett received credit for the victory. Joe DiMaggio extended his hitting streak to 30 games.

The Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers divided a double-header. The Red Sox scored eight runs in the seventh to take the first game, 14-6, and Detroit retaliated with two four-run frames in the nightcap to win, 8-5. Rudy York homered with the bases loaded in the first encounter and with one on in the nightcap.

Washed Hits Homer
 Mort Cooper regained his winning stride with a six-hit performance as the St. Louis Cardinals pummeled the Phillies, 11-3, thus maintaining the Redbirds' firm hold on the National League lead despite a 7-8 10-inning victory by the Brooklyn Dodgers over the Chicago Cubs.

The Dodgers triumph came on a three-run homer by Jim Waddell in the first of the tenth.

Carl Hubbell coasted to a 6-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates when the wildness of Rip Sewell helped the New York Giants pile up a five-run lead in the first three innings.

The Cincinnati Reds hopped on Art Johnson for four runs in the first inning and gave Paul Derringer easy sailing to a 5-3 verdict over the Boston Braves.

Howe's Have Bad Inning And Odessa Team, Aided By 10-Run Frame, Score 20-8 Victory In Women's City Play

John P. Howe's would like to forget the fifth inning of Tuesday night's tilt with Sewell Motors. Starting great Howe's blew up in the fifth and Sewell counted 10 runs. The score was 20-8 Sewell.

The Odessans scored six in the third, two in the fourth, 10 in the fifth, and two in the sixth. Howe's had two big frames, getting four in the third and sixth, respectively.

Howe's executed a triple play in the second inning. Wanda Brown, catcher, started both Howe's rallies with hits. Davis and Musgrove hit well for Howe's Errors hurt the Midland women's club. Proksh, J. White, Hughes, and Richardson sparked the Odessa hitting barrage. Hughes and Proksh hit circuit clubs.

Mackeys Hit Hard To Win 15-12 Tilt

League Leaders Get Ten Runs In Fourth From Independents

Mackey Motors stuffed 10 runs into a fat fourth inning Tuesday night and stood off a threatening Independent last inning rally to win, 15-12, and remain undefeated in city softball play.

The league leaders were challenged by the Independents in the last of the seventh on a series of walk-in runs and hits. Hageman, Mackey twirler injured his arm and was forced to leave the tilt. He was wilder than a March hare and jerked himself. The big pitcher had pitched good until then with eight strikeouts. Also, his hitting included three hits in four trips to the plate, a homer, double, and a single.

The big five, Cox, Brady, Hardin, Willis, and Hageman accounted for 11 of Mackey's 15 bingles. Ben Crites, one of the league's potent hitters, poked a homer for the Independents. He scored two runs for his club. So did Watson and Stoops.

Independents Score Two.
 Mackey started out with three runs in the first. Hageman slammed a long homer with Willis on Cox got on on Stoop's error and scored on Willis' hit. The redshirts were scoreless until the big fourth. A seven-hit attack brought in 10 counters. Included was Hageman's two-bagger and safeties by Addington, Thomas, Cox, Brady, Hardin, and Willis. Hageman scored two runs in the inning on two hits.

Independents got two in the second on three walks and an error. Crites walked and O'Neal duplicated. Watson got on on Cox's error but Crites scored and O'Neal followed on Stoop's hit. Watson was tagged at third. Inman walked. Then Hageman struck out Barber and Webb. The batting ladies added two more in the fourth again on Hageman's wildness. Watson and Stoops got walks and later scored.

Crites Hits Homer.
 Mackey tallied two in the sixth. Cox led off a hit. Brady flew out. Hardin poked a homer. Willis willowed a long fly to Barber and Hageman grounded out.

The Independents rallied sharply in the sixth and seventh, getting four runs in each. Crites' home run, Hart's hit, and walks accounted for the four. Then in the last of the seventh with Hageman ailing the independents got run-thirsty and utilized walks for runs. Watson hit a two-bagger, Stoops walked and stole second. Inman walked. Barber walked and Watson scored gratis. Webb walked in Stoops. Dalberry sacrificed Inman in Kennedy hit. But he and Barber were caught off bases and the rally fell short. Adamson relieved Hageman on the mound for Mackey in this frame.

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Officials of the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens announced the rare birth here of four hyraxes, little, gentle

'Alfalfa Bill' Murray Is Writing Memoirs

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (UP)—William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, colorful ex-governor of Oklahoma and a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1932, is writing the memories of his strife-filled life.

He lives in a small hotel here and spends much of his time in the Capitol senate chamber listening to debate. He rarely returns to his Kiamichi mountain cabin where he once studied and wrote.

Murray likes to get crowds around him. He tells stories of his expedition to Bolivia, his years in Congress, his Presidential boom and his frequent use of the state militia in political disputes.

Murray has mellowed with the years. At 71, much of the fire of his younger days is gone. It flares occasionally but it burns out quickly. He dresses in serge, wears high-top shoes and a battered black hat pulled down over his fading blue eyes.

He still answers to an array of nicknames, including "Cocklebur Bill," the "Sage of Tishomingo," "Alfalfa Bill," "Bolivia Bill," "Wild Bill" and the "Sage of the Kiamichis."

Minority Groups Director Wields Hard OPM Chore

By Peter Edson
The Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—An ex-Missouri Methodist minister, ex-college president, ex-Farm Security administrator who in the last war had the job of trying to instill a little knowledge of reading and writing into illiterate draftees of 30 army camps, has one of the strangest of all the varied assignments in the complex defense efforts today. He is Dr. Will W. Alexander, round-faced, blue-eyed and pleasant, and his title now is director of minority groups section in the Labor Division of the Office of Management.

If that title doesn't mean much to you, consider a few of Dr. Alexander's pet problems:

In northeastern United States are thousands of second and third generation Italians, native-born citizens whose parents are grandparents came from Italy. For some reason, defense industries have been a little skittish on hiring people of Italian descent, though Germans are generally accepted without question.

The Los Angeles area, which carried the heaviest relief load in the country during the depression, is bringing in thousands of youngsters from the plains states, yet it still has 150,000 unemployed negroes.

American-born mechanics of Japanese ancestry, idle because the west coast fishing fleet has been immobilized, can't get jobs in defense industries though bearded Russian ship fitters are considered highly valuable in shipyards.

Four million aliens, including more than 200,000 refugees from territory Hitler has occupied, many of them highly skilled, find it hard to get jobs because they're foreign born.

And so on. Well, you say, what of it? Let the furriners go jobless or go back where they came from!

Prejudice A Bottleneck
But it isn't as easy as that. At least four million new workers have to be fit into defense production in the next 13 months. Most of them must have skill trades. To keep men with special skills idle is just as silly as letting the machines idle. Hence the special assignment given the minority groups section to see that there is no manpower going to waste.

Tied up with this minority labor problem is the problem of defense industry migration of labor, keeping men on the job near home, and this migration problem has almost eclipsed the minorities' issue.

Take the case of a northern contractor building Camp Lee, near Petersburg, Va. He raided the labor markets as far north as New Jersey, even though there were many unemployed negro carpenters in the southern states. Virginia newspapers and the state chamber of commerce got after that one and fixed it quickly.

Only three years ago did the U. S. Golf Association grant a request that collegiate golfing be regulated by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Now the third NCAA tournament will have Ohio State's 36-hole course as its scene and a well-planned tourney to show for the strides taken in collegiate golf.

Between 60 and 70 colleges and universities are expected to send their top-flight golfers to Columbus for the six-day affair.

GIRL, 25, CRICKET BOSS IN BRITAIN FOR DURATION
LONDON. (UP)—Six thousand cricketers throughout England are in charge for the duration of the war of Miss Joan Gamley, 25-year-old, pretty and tactful girl from Wimbledon, London.

As secretary of the Club Cricket Conference, she has 300 clubs under her control and looks after the interests of every one of their players. She is the first woman in cricket history to hold such an office.

Bahamas Pledge Old Guns To Aid Britain
NASSAU, Bahamas, (UP). — War seems very far away from the Bahamas, but it is making itself felt here in this little British colony thousands of miles away from the conflict as the islands marshal their resources to aid the homeland.

The trimmings of one of Nassau's landmarks — the German guns captured in the World War which have decorated Rawson Square for the past 20 years — soon will be shipped back to England, to be melted down and recast.

Last Passengers Of American Freighter Laud Chief Officer

By Robert St. John.
 CAPETOWN, Union of South Africa—(AP.)—The Robin Moor's chief officer was praised Tuesday by the last saved passengers of the torpedoed American freighter as the man who brought them to rescue after 13 days in a wave-tossed lifeboat.

He is Melvin Mundy, of Bethlehem, Pa., who steered a lifeboat-load of passengers—three of them women and one a two-year-old boy—by a sketchy chart he copied from his captain's map, and was at the rudder when a British rescue ship was sighted.

That ship picked up two other boatloads and landed here Monday night with all of the missing from the Robin Moor—35 passengers and crew members feared lost after the Brazilian ship Ozorio picked up the fourth boatload of 11 survivors June 9.

The survivors said that luck of the sea—not any wireless notification of their plight by the submarine—saved them. The officers and crew members who boarded the submarine declared positively it was German.

Sank In 18 Minutes.
 All agreed that the submarine's officers and sailors who spoke used good English, "but with a German accent."

Crew and passengers were given 20 minutes—extended grudgingly to 30 minutes—to get into lifeboats, it was stated. A torpedo was fired into the Robin Moor, and she sank 18 minutes later under shell fire from the submarine's deck gun.

In the 13 days that followed, until rescue June 3, little Robin McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCullough, was the only one who enjoyed himself. He seemed to like the "long boat ride," and cooed contentedly at the "pretty fishes"—sharks which followed the boat—passengers said.

New Secret Tools At Large Factory Dwarf Manufacturing Days Of Cannons Into Hours

By NEA Service
 WATERVLIET, N. Y.—The big news about the booming cannon business is speed.

Miracles of metallurgy are making better guns, of course, but more important right now is the acceleration of manufacture. Almost every item in the artillery line short of huge naval and seacoast rifles is being turned out from four or five to ten times more rapidly than ever before.

But a layman visiting the Watervliet Arsenal has a hard time adjusting his perspective to vital technical details. This entire government factory and laboratory is impressive enough from its ancient trophy cannon under the great elms to the vast building where a score or more of the biggest guns in the modern world are being machined on lathes that are 208 feet long.

It was all begun in 1813, on a site lapped by spring floods of the Hudson river and called "Watervliet" because that's a Dutch word meaning "flowing stream." The 12-acre reservation has grown to 103. The older buildings—where paper cartridges, saddles and harness, percussion caps and curry combs once were made—are warehouses now, filled with millions of dollars worth of cannon and parts. The first cannon shops were built in 1887, but most of them date from the $16,000,000 expansion of the World War.

And now the arsenal makes cannon exclusively. Not the crdle and recoil mechanism nor the carriage—just the shooting unit from breech block to muzzle.

"Development is the first part of our job," explained Col. J. C. Beatty. "From blueprints, we make a 'pilot' gun by hand and send it to the Aberdeen Proving Grounds for testing."

"Every cannon of U. S. design being made by private industry has been put into production here first. In our procurement program, we require factory experts to come and study our operations before they submit bids for contracts, because guns are tricky to build."

Amazing Precision
 "Build" is an accurate term. The 16-inch seacoast and naval cannon (67 feet long, weighing 375,000 pounds) are made of nine separate pieces—heat-expanded sections shrunken on inner sections. A smaller gun may consist of a liner and a tube—a relatively thin, polished, rifled barrel inserted in a forged steel casing.

A new type reamer on a boring machine was pressing forward into a long forging which would be a 90 mm. anti-aircraft cannon. The forging itself was whirling around the reamer at a speed which would have burnt up any previously designed tool.

This job used to take from eight to nine hours. Now it is a finished bore in an hour and a half.

The same amount of time is saved in rifling some of the cannon. Previously—on a 37 mm. gun, for example—a cutting tool would move back and fourth in a bore for about eight hours as it ploughed out metal and left the spiral ridges which give the projectiles their whirling stability in flight.

Today the rifling is done in an hour and a half by pushing through the bore a series of 28 "broaching discs" of an amazingly hard material.

Production figures are not available, except that twice as much material is being made here now, with some 3800 employees, as during the World War, when there were about 5000 at work.

Unusual Bonds
 Link Law Graduates

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—One of these days two June graduates of the University of Minnesota law school will hang out a shingle at Montevideo, Minn.

It will read:
 "John Nelson and Sigvald Oyen—Partners in Law!"

The shingle will tell the story of how Oyen helped Nelson overcome almost complete blindness.

They met in their sophomore year, and it was then that Nelson "borrowed" Oyen's eyes. Before that, it was doubtful if Nelson could have continued his studies because of his falling sight.

But they studied together, and from then on Oyen read the textbooks aloud to his friend.

Nelson was the highest ranking member of the graduating class. He served on the law school council and the university board of election.

A year ago when Oyen married his hometown sweetheart, he invited Nelson to live at their home. "Our partnership worked out pretty well in school, and it's going to work even better when we hang out that shingle," they said.

RODEO PERFORMER ONLY 3

M A N G U M, Okla. (UP)—Fess Reynolds, Jr., of Clancy, Okla., believed to be the world's youngest rodeo performer, will participate in the Mangum rodeo, July 17, 18 and 19. He is only 3 years old.

Complete Program For Odessa Show

ODESSA—The second Little International Oil Show—is set and ready to go. Many oil field exhibits of 132 exhibitors, four dances with big-name bands, a mammoth de luxe barbecue, an "all-out parade of the oil industry," the nation's greatest safety show, industrial first aid contests, a water show and bathing beauty revue, softball games, and outstanding speakers provide the highlights of the oil industry's big show this year.

F. M. Law, Houston banker and chairman of the board of regents of Texas A. & M. College; Gerald Mann, attorney general of Texas; and Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, will address oil show visitors.

Law will appear before a patriotic rally at 2 p. m. Saturday in the oil show auditorium, speaking on "Petroleum and National Defense." The attorney general will deliver an address in the auditorium at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Dr. White will deliver a sermon for oil show visitors at 8:30 p. m. Sunday in the auditorium.

All exhibits will open at 6 p. m. Friday. The oil field equipment parade, under the direction of John Marks, will feature all types of mobile equipment used in the petroleum work. Led by the Odessa Broncho Band, the parade will rumble through downtown Odessa starting at 10 a. m. Saturday.

One of the most complete safety shows of the nation is a free feature of the Little International Oil Show this year.

Weather Takes New War Role

BOSTON. (UP.)—The phrase "military science" has a new and deeper significance in this war, according to Capt. William W. Jones of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The general pace of modern warfare is geared to economic production and advances in scientific knowledge, says Capt. Jones, who reveals that military aviation cannot act independently of meteorology. He quotes a high ranking British authority who says:

"The chief of a bomber command has to be concerned first with meteorology and secondly with strategy."

In view of this new development in modern warfare the army air force turned its energies to the perfection of a complete meteorological department and is training a full complement of expert weather forecasters for duty with the military forces. Men for this work are hand-picked from college alumni, all come highly recommended.

Special training is being carried out at several of the nation's engineering schools and the best in field equipment is provided as they move into their army stations. Nor is the new branch of the service designed as an emergency measure. Their work will go on in peacetime or wartime—because, as Capt. Jones points out, old General Weather is always attacking.

Remember Farina—Well, Farina Doesn't

PRESIDIO OF MONTEREY, Cal. (UP)—Remember Farina, the kinky haired little "girl" in "Our Gang" comedies of the silent movie days? Farina is in the army now.

Farina is Pvt. Allan Hoskins, Company D, 47th Quartermaster Regiment, stationed at the Presidio of Monterey.

When Claudette Colbert, visiting the Presidio, leaned from her automobile and called: "Say, don't I know you?" Hoskins told the actress only his rank and detachment.

"Why didn't you tell her you were Farina?" asked a fellow soldier.

"Well," he replied, "Farina was the name of that other guy she was thinking of—a little guy in a white dress whose contract called for more money in a week than I now make in a year. Farina's grown up."

Soldiers Send Food Consumption On Rise

WASHINGTON. (UP.)—American soldiers are eating so much candy that per capita consumption of sweets may reach an all-time high during the current year.

The Department of Commerce reported that the marked increase in candy consumption was due to addition of chocolate bars to the emergency rations used by soldiers in field maneuvers, and also because of heavy confectionary sales at army post exchanges throughout the country.

Stars Favor a Haircut-Even Garbo

DEAR ALICIA HART:
Hollywood is going cherub. Movie stars' heads are turning to a new tune—a trimmed tune. General acceptance of the short hairdo faces us on all sides.

Imagine a screen lovely without hanks of hair hanging down her back in the famed, lank, overdone Hollywood long bob. Almost impossible, isn't it? That long bob that came in with Garbo and Crawford has stuck ever since. But no longer. The super-pageboy bob is on its way out. And Hollywood can't believe its own eyes—Hollywood is quite shocked!

A very small boy is responsible for this trend of short hair. He is the four-year-old, tousle-haired son of Sydney Guilaroff, hair stylist at Metro. Small Jonny's brief curls that twist every which-way inspired his father to take to the scissors, and so, though Jonny's might not recognize the results on star heads, he's to blame.

The real news of this new trend is precedent—shattering. Guilaroff is cutting Garbo's hair for her next picture! Remember the excitement of "Garbo Talks!" and later, "Garbo Laughs!"? Guess what it will be like when "Garbo's Cropped!" is the word.

To set off the lovely Swede's classic features, Guilaroff has fashioned a soft, swirling halo of brushed curls, none over three inches long. And, more news, he is lightening Garbo's naturally mouse-blond hair with a new rinse that may take the country by storm. It was inspired by the tone of Greer Garson's pale auburn tresses touched by moonlight—a thin, green-gold color. To achieve it, Guilaroff has created a new aqua-marine rinse.

This very short, brushed hairdress, inspired by the curls of Jonny, Sydney Guilaroff's 4-year-old son, is worn by Laraine Day.

And now the tale is that Garbo's hair may be cut even shorter for final scenes in her new picture. If Guilaroff has his way, Garbo may wind up with a close haircut like Napoleon's—a cap-like coiffure with curving wisps of hair framing her face.

Norma Shearer was the real trail-blazer of the short hair trend. Not long ago she allowed Guilaroff to cut her hair until it swirled softly around her ears, left her neck neatly bare. Now Guilaroff has designed several handsome chignons for her to pin on for more formal occasions.

Other top ladies to follow suit are Hedy LaMarr (in private life), Greer Garson (for her next picture), and Jeanette MacDonald. The very short, brushed curls that Laraine Day is wearing stemmed from Guilaroff's styling, too. Incredibly youthful, the style is becoming to faces of all ages.

Another version of the same sort of clipping may be found on young Judy Garland's head. And Margaret Hayes is another short, short hair girl whose brief bob has been causing a sensation in filmdom.

A little longer, and built high on each side of her head, is the Guilaroff-designed hairdress worn by Ruth Hussey. The definite parting line and high sides tend to lengthen her round face—only about an inch remains on her neck, giving it a slender line.

Blonde Anabella is still another convert to the short hair cult. But there is a difference in the way she wears it, due, perhaps, to the fact that it is not of Guilaroff's cutting. For, although Anabella's hair is truly short, it's still long enough for her to brush it upwards for evening into a formal upsweep. For sports and day-time, it is combed back off her forehead to curl softly at the nape of her neck.

More about the "short hair trend" later.

Best wishes,
DEE LOWRANCE.

Baby Elephant Will Be Movie Starlet

FORT WORTH (UP)—Penny is a cut little trick you'll probably be seeing a lot of from now on. She's an "unknown" here in Fort Worth now but she is headed for Hollywood where she intends to occupy plenty of film footage.

She hasn't been told to report for work yet but she has gone Hollywood already. But whether Penny makes good on this chance or not she will remember it all the while. Penny has a good memory like all of her kind.

One thing in Penny's favor is her size. Although just four years old she is 56 inches high, 72 inches long and weighs around 1,500 pounds—just the right size for a starlet.

Penny is worried about the future of the movie business. The fact that the cobras haven't had work since "Gunga Din" makes her think people don't like animal pictures any more and that a movie future for a baby elephant is hazardous.

But baby elephant Penny is willing to take the chance.

Ohio Broadens Law To Assist Idle Men

COLUMBUS, O. (UP).—Ohio's new unemployment compensation law, formulated after many bitter skirmishes between employer and labor groups, will provide increased benefits estimate at $23,500,000 annually.

Approved by Gov. John W. Bricker, the law goes into effect Oct. 1, and is expected to save employers $16,000,000 a year and give employees a $7,500,000 yearly increase in benefits.

The law encountered many difficulties in its passage through the Ohio legislature in May. The law provides for a weekly jobless benefit of $5 to $16, running for a maximum of 18 weeks. In addition, the complicated formula for determining benefits was revised making it more favorable to employees.

Another major provision won by labor interests reduces the waiting period prior to receiving benefits from three to two weeks—for both fully and partly unemployed persons.

Most important provision in the law for employers is the substitution of a "merit rating" basis for payment of the unemployment tax instead of a previous flat 2.7 percent tax on a firm's payroll.

Officers Are Sorry Of Army Assignment

CAMP BEAUREGARD, La. (UP).—Major Val Irion and Col. R. B. Cole are almost sorry they ever accepted the job of supervising sites for army war games in this area.

Ever since they began acquisition of a 23,000-square-mile area for maneuvers they have been flooded with serio-comic letters which have appeared a bit perplexing at times.

Most landowners when returning their signed maneuver agreements included a personal letter to Major Irion or Col. Cole. Most letters were highly patriotic.

One owner, who generously offered his lands "to his country," in certifying the authenticity of his ownership declared: "This land of mine was never sold. I never did sign any papers for it. I just took it over when my father was chased from the place."

Another wrote, "I have bought the land but cannot pay for it. It is on my person but you are got the privilege from me."

Engineer Predicts Water Will Go Over Great Dam In July

DENVER. (UP)—Tons of water from the world's largest reservoir will swirl over the spillways of the world's highest dam sometime early in July as spring floods finish the six-year job of filling Lake Mead behind Boulder Dam.

S. O. Harper, chief engineer for the federal reclamation service at Denver, says the record flood crests roaring down the Black Canyon of the Colorado River have sent Lake Mead to its highest level since Boulder Dam was completed in 1935.

The water was only 15 feet below the top of Boulder Dam spillway in mid-June, Harper said, and Lake Mead—15 miles long—was four-fifths full.

The big man-made lake has a capacity of 30,500,000 acre feet—enough water to bury most of the west a foot deep or to provide every man, woman and child in the nation

Transports, Mail By 50-Year-Ago Method

TUBAC, Ariz. (UP).—Streamlined trains and transcontinental transports speed the mails from coast to coast in the space of a few hours, but in Tubac it is transport today as it was 50 years ago—by pack burro.

Ramon Quintero, a native of Tubac, for 20 years has carried the mails twice a day from the railroad station to the postoffice on his pack burro. Often when the Santa Cruz river is up, Ramon and his burro may have to wait for hours to get across, and he's even held the mailbag over his head and waded the river.

A relic of the olden days, Tubac is surrounded by crumbling adobe walls and memories of the past.

with 87,000 gallons. Harper says they will know a day or two in advance the exact moment when the water finally will pour over the spillways. Newsreel and photo service photographers will be on hand to record the event—final completion of man's greatest attempt to curb the turbulent Colorado River.

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett
There are some things that the ordinary man can't understand, and the woman who tries to educate him in such matters is just wasting her time.

No man can be taught to see how a woman can, at a glance, tell whether or not another woman will be any competition.

No man can be taught to detect for himself the cattiness beneath one woman's honeyed compliments to another.

No man can see why, since black silk stockings are always flattering, woman will go for years without owning a pair, waiting for fashion to say it is all right to wear them.

No man can see why a woman will accept invitation after invitation (and meticulously repay each one) from a woman she loathes and despises.

No man can understand why a woman can live for five years with the same living room draperies and then decide she can't abide them another day.

No man can learn how to judge, within a dollar or two, the price of a woman's hat or dress, the way another woman can, after the most seemingly casual glance.

FEMININE PSYCHOLOGY

No man can understand why it makes a woman who cheats on her own age so upset when another woman tries to cheat on hers.

No man can quite figure out how a woman who would never mistake a $10.98 dress for a $29.50 one can feel so confident that every one will think her own bargain dress came from a swanky shop.

No man can see why a woman reads, item by item, every department store ad in a newspaper even when there isn't the slightest chance of her having any of the things advertised.

And no man can see how any woman with an ounce of discrimination can fail to find him charming.

Final Chapter In Spectacular Case

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—When the Nebraska legislature appropriated $6,500 for the benefit of a slain county sheriff's widow, the state wrote the final chapter in one of the most spectacular murder cases in its criminal history.

George Brock, sheriff of little Loup County in Nebraska's storied sandhills, and three essential sandhills ranchers were the principals in the tragedy.

Brock was the victim of a gun battle with John, Willard and Richard Birkes at a rural draft registration center last Oct. 16. The sheriff came to the draft center to arrest Richard, who had just registered under the act.

Posse Captures Trio
In his car nearby waited John Birkes, watching the attempt to arrest his nephew. Shots were exchanged and the sheriff fell, hit in the head and shoulder.

As the Birkes fled, a county commissioner blasted away at them with a shotgun. John and Richard were hit, but were able to rejoin Willard. Later all three were captured by a posse.

John was sentenced to life imprisonment, Richard received a 25-year sentence and Willard was committed to a state insane hospital. Although a county insanity commission declared Willard insane, first-degree murder charges against him have not been dropped.

Maury Is Resting But Friends Wonder What Next Gesture Will Be

SAN ANTONIO. (UP)—Texas produces a colorful array of politicians, but the most picturesque of all—squat, restive Maury Maverick, the outspoken in-again-out-again "maverick" who rose to national fame in four turbulent years in Congress—is "out again" and resting at his home.

Maverick, one of the few remaining exponents of the Theodore Roosevelt philosophy of "strenuous life" became a private citizen May 31 when he stepped out of his elaborate suite of offices at the city hall and relinquished San Antonio's mayoralty duties to a long-time political foe, C. K. Quin.

The one-time New Deal representative said he was "through with everything for three months" and that he would rest, but Texans who know the fiery Maverick are confident he won't be idle.

San Antonians hesitate to guess whether Maverick still is interested in the mayor's office, just as they do not dare predict anything about the stormy Texan. However, politicians are keeping check on him—just in case. Some are convinced he will not stray far from San Antonio until his political scores are settled. They know the acid-tongued Maverick is a good bookkeeper on political accounts and that the probably intends to balance the book.

Some politically-wise Texans picture the 46-year-old Maverick eyeing Florentino H. La Guardia's Home Defense Commission, attempting to wrangle a federal job. Should he join the defense commission the striking analogy between him and La Guardia would be complete.

U. S. Conserves Natural Rubber

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States is taking a leaf from Germany's "ersatz" book by utilizing increasing amounts of synthetic rubber to conserve natural rubber for the defense program.

Experimenters in the National Bureau of Standards said that while no laboratory has yet produced an artificial rubber which excels natural rubber in all respects, many of the synthetic products are highly superior for certain specialized uses.

As a result, they said, experimentation and production of artificial rubber are increasing rapidly with a two-fold effect on the defense program: first, a conservation of natural rubber for uses where synthetic rubber is not applicable; and second, development of substitutes in rubber supplies in foreign markets already taxed almost to capacity by American and British demands.

NYA May Rehabilitate Rejected Registrants
 WASHINGTON, (UP)—The National Youth Administration is experimenting with a plan to rehabilitate young men who have been rejected for selective military training because of minor physical defects. The plan will be operated on an entirely voluntary basis.

Men turned down by local draft board physicians or by the army because of minor physical defects will be admitted to special NYA camps where their physical strength will be built up by the proper diet, exercise, work and adequate medical care.

STYLES FROM THE ANCIENTS
 BOSTON, (UP)—Modern housewives can take a lesson from the old Egyptians. On exhibit at Boston's Museum of Fine Arts is an accordion-pleated, white linen shirt excavated by museum diggers at Naga-Ed-Der—and the pleats are almost as sharp as when fashioned 4,000 years ago.

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Col. Roscoe Turner, speed flier, has issued a call for all civilian aviators unable to qualify for the military air corps to enlist in a national civilian air force.

The former majordomo of American speed fliers, who still holds several flying records, urged all trained civilians to form an auxiliary to the nation's combat forces and serve as pilots for ambulance and supply planes as well as to pilot planes from factories to depots.

Pointing out that the physical standards for the American Navy and Army air corps are exceptionally high, Turner said that failure to pass the strict military medical tests should not disqualify a man from serving his country in aviation.

"The civilian flier has a definite place as an auxiliary to our combat air forces, and, if properly trained and directed, he can be of great value," Turner declared.

The dapper, dare-devil pilot who was an army flier in the World War, said he intended to devote a large part of his time to forming an air corps which would train men and women to pilot warplanes from factory to airfields and combat supply bases in time of war.

Engineers Of Grand Coulee Perform Big Cooling Achievement

GRAND COULEE, Wash. (UP)—Engineers at Grand Coulee Dam, Wash., have done in five years what might have taken nature a century to do—cool 10,250,000 cubic yards of concrete.

Newly-placed concrete produces heat which, unless dissipated, causes expansion and contraction which can easily result in serious damage to a structure. At Grand Coulee, the danger was obviated by circulating cold river water through steel tubing imbedded in the dam.

The job required two large pump barges, 2,000 miles of pipe, 2 miles of 3 1/2-foot inspection shafts, nearly six miles of other galleries and shafts—all at a cost estimated at $1,400,000.

The pumping system reduced concrete temperatures from as high as 132 degrees to the uniform required temperature of 45 degrees.

It required 60 to 90 days of cold water circulation to cool the concrete in each section as block after block was pyramided until the dam reached its full height of 550 feet.

Turner Asks Fliers To Enlist In U. S.

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Col. Roscoe Turner, speed flier, has issued a call for all civilian aviators unable to qualify for the military air corps to enlist in a national civilian air force.

The former majordomo of American speed fliers, who still holds several flying records, urged all trained civilians to form an auxiliary to the nation's combat forces and serve as pilots for ambulance and supply planes as well as to pilot planes from factories to depots.

Pointing out that the physical standards for the American Navy and Army air corps are exceptionally high, Turner said that failure to pass the strict military medical tests should not disqualify a man from serving his country in aviation.

"The civilian flier has a definite place as an auxiliary to our combat air forces, and, if properly trained and directed, he can be of great value," Turner declared.

The dapper, dare-devil pilot who was an army flier in the World War, said he intended to devote a large part of his time to forming an air corps which would train men and women to pilot warplanes from factory to airfields and combat supply bases in time of war.

WAR AS TOPIC AVOIDED BY RED CROSS WORKERS

FORT WORTH, (UP)—Here is one group of women who just never get around to talking about the war.

They are the 35 women who meet in Fort Worth's Red Cross surgical dressing room every other Tuesday to fold gauze and make bandages for the war wounded. And they pace their work with a steady chatter about new spring clothes, summer vacations, and the measles.

They are the wives of American Airline pilots and most of their husbands are reserve army officers.

"M. P.'s LIVE IN STOCKADE

FORT MCLELLAN, Ala. (UP)—Two companies of "M.P.'s"—military police—have been given quarters where they once were accustomed to quartering their victims. They were placed in the camp stockade after officials saw there was enough room for prisoners in the guard house, and not enough for the police in the regular camp area.

CALIBAN FROM CALEB

BY NORMAN KAHL

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Angus gets away from the highway patrolman, leaves that officer in a better barbed-wire, hurries to New York. There he finds himself surrounded by a crowd of policemen. He's been too busy looking for Adoreen to worry about traffic signals. When an officer starts to arrest him, Angus starts swinging. A well aimed nightstick ends the riot.

ADDIE ADDS HER BIT

CHAPTER IV
 WHEN Angus wakes up, his head feels like a concrete mixer and the knuckles on his fists faintly resemble sirloin steaks. He opens his eyes and looks around. Then he closes them again and remembers a lot of sirens and police cars and more uniforms than he ever saw in one place before in all his life.

Angus is thinking how nice it would be if he were in Caleb, just driving his truck and seeing Adoreen a couple times a week and—

Then he remembers that Adoreen isn't working at Herbie's Curbside Cafe any more and that probably right at this moment, while he is wasting time in a jail cell, she is being pursued by some smooth-talking heel. Doubtless the heel has a mustache.

The vision is too much for Angus. He jumps up and notices for the first time the guard scowling at him through the bars. This guard is not a pleasant-looking guy. He has a neck that would be more becoming on a rhinoceros and he has a club in his hand. The man is not quite as big as Angus, but he is the best the New York police department could dig up on short notice.

"I'm all right now," says Angus cheerfully. "You can let me out here."

"Sure. Remind me in 1980. Meanwhile the inspector wants to see you. He's waitin'. Better come peaceful."

WHEN Angus enters Inspector Callahan's office, the room is full of cops and men with cameras and guys who take one look at Angus and start writing. A flashlight bulb goes off about a foot from his face, and Angus dives for the cameraman who locks himself in the inspector's washroom and refuses to come out.

A dozen officers pile on Angus and hurl him in a chair. After a couple of minutes, Angus figures out that the gray-haired man with the iron jaw and the ruddy face, who is glaring at him from behind the desk is Inspector Callahan.

"So you're Angus MacPhillips?" says the inspector, and he looks Angus up and down.

"Yes, sir," says Angus. "Glad to meet you, sir." He waits and nothing happens, so he says, "Nice day, isn't it?"

"It was," barked the inspector. "Now, Mr. MacPhillips, can you tell me, if I'm not imposing on you, just what in hell you thought you were doing this morning?"

"I was looking for my girl and a couple of policemen stopped me."

Inspector Callahan explodes. "A couple of policemen! Look at this mob in here. Every one of them was mixed up in that riot. They're all here except the two that resigned and the three that ain't out of the hospital yet."

Angus looks around and smiles at the cops, but his smile freezes when he sees that most of them have bandages on their faces and several are wearing dark glasses. "Too bad," he murmurs sympathetically.

"I haven't time to describe all your crimes in one afternoon," says the inspector, "but I can give you a rough idea. You are charged with speeding, driving without an inter-state license, stealing a truck and butter valued at $650, going through more stoplights than I thought we had in New York and resisting an officer—plural. Now maybe you'd like to start from the beginning to explain."

Even Angus can see there is no sense in arguing with this individual. So after he is back in his cell he just lies down on his bunk and thinks how nice it would be if Adoreen had married him and if she weren't so impulsive.

WHEN Angus wakes up, he is in a cold sweat and the morning sun is coming through his little window. The guard, whose name is Joe, is rattling his club along the bars. "For a guy what's got every broken law in the books on his conscience you sure sleep like a bear. Come on, you're wanted in the inspector's office."

For a minute after he steps into Inspector Callahan's office, Angus is sure he is still having his nightmare and then the idea slowly sinks in that the girl sitting next to the inspector's desk—the girl in the soft, silky brown dress with the white, bubbly collar, and the sheer silk stockings and high-heeled shoes—is Adoreen Micklethwait, prettiest girl in Dipple-swink county.

"Addie!" Angus gulps. "Gee, I was worried about you. Are you all right? I was gonna—"

"Maybe you didn't see the papers, Mr. MacPhillips," she says acidly. "Of course not, jailbirds don't read papers—or do they? Anyway, you have made me the laughing stock of New York. You have ruined my career, my whole life, Mr. MacPhillips, that's all. Look at this paper: 'CALIBAN AND ARIEL!' 'LONE WARRIOR BESIEGES GOTHAM TO WIN, FAIR DAMSEL' Nuts!"

"Why, Addie! Gosh, I didn't mean to make you sore. You didn't get fired, did you?"

"Fired from what?"

"Your job—the one you wrote about. Dancin' in a chorus, or something."

Adoreen is scornful. "Oh, that. It was gone when I got there. Anyway, I wouldn't have taken it. It was in a burlesque show."

Angus is shocked, but he says, "Look, Addie, when I get outa here—"

Inspector Callahan motions to the guard. "She can't wait that long, MacPhillips—even if she wanted to—which she doesn't. Now that Miss Micklethwait has told you what she wanted to say, you may as well go back and ponder on your sins until the court can set aside a week or so to handle all the charges against you."

Picture of a Defense Strike Leader

This is Alex Balint, right, and his lawyer, Alex Balint is important today because he has emerged from the anonymity of the lower divisions of the C. I. O. hierarchy to lead an aluminum industry strike threatening to tie-up a major part of defense production. Balint, 29, is regional director of the National Diecasters Association in the Cleveland area. An alien and ex-convict, he says he isn't a Communist, but two former associates have testified before the Dies Committee that he is.
