Reports Force Hammering At Gates Of Kiev

Germans Predict Quick Ukrainian Win; Moscow And Leningrad Totter

BERLIN (AP)—DNB, official German news agency, reported Monday that German troops broke through the Stalin line at Opachka, overthrowing "strongly built field positions and breastworks." Opachka is south of Pskov near the Latvian frontier.

By The Associated Press

Kiev is tottering under combined air and land assault, Moscow no longer is protected from German panzer thrusts by the Stalin Line and Leningrad is caught by a German frontal drive and a Finnish flank offensive, Germans asserted Monday.

They declared that Red Armies were falling apart and that the campaign was rushing to a climax on this, the 23rd day of westward push.

Nazi forces were reported hammering at the gates of Kiev, and Berlin waited expectantly to hear that gateway to the Ukraine's richest industrial and farming regions had been forced. German planes rained destruction on Kiev's warehouses, and hangars and even destroyed the city's waterworks, it was said.

The German Fuehrer's headquarters said Finnish troops had opened an attack in Karelia, on both sides of Lake Ladoga, in the sector closest to Leningrad.

States Fighting Minor Dispatches from Ankara, Turkey, reported that Soviet government officials were preparing to move from Moscow, although the Germans are still some 300 miles from the Red capital, and that the British mission had already transferred to Cork, 250 miles east.

By contrast, the Russians, after reporting that the 2,000-mile front was aflame with a series of gigantic new battles over the week-end, declared in Monday morning's communique that no major fighting took place during the night and there had been no significant changes in the struggle in the last several hours.

In London, authoritative quarters said the Nazi drive toward Leningrad was "the most dangerous," but that Berlin claims of huge gains were regarded as "extravagant."

The German-controlled Holland radio said the fall of Kiev, the Ukraine capital, was "to be expected at any moment."

Jubilantly, Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels proclaimed to the German public through press and radio that "there is no salvation for the Soviet armies." The decision in the East has already been attained.

As for a separate peace with Russia, the Germans made it clear that there could be no question of compromise. The Reich, it was said, had a mandate from all Europe to liquidate Bolshevism.

Houston Funeral Held In Midland

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Houston, 85, mother of Mrs. John P. Howe, who died Saturday night following a long illness, were held Sunday at 4 p. m. at the Howe residence, 1311 West Holloway St.

The Rev. J. E. Pickering and the Rev. Thomas Murphy of Odessa officiated services. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Survivors include: One daughter, Mrs. John P. Howe, Midland; one son, Will Houston, Los Angeles, Calif., and five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Falbearers were: Claude Crane, Guy Breneman, R. V. Lawrence, R. D. Scruggs, C. A. Trauber, and R. V. Hyatt.

Mrs. Houston resided in Midland with her daughter since 1917. She had been sick five years.

Officers Investigate Robbery At Residence

Officers reported a "moderately" busy week-end in Midland. City officers investigated a robbery of $11 from a residence. An Odessa man was arrested for violating the law of the road, and four drunks were arrested.

Japanese Boat Ploughs Sea Leaving High Nazis Ashore

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Japanese liner with a polite but determined captain ploughed westward Monday without Fritz Wiedemann and Dr. Hans Borchers, expelled German consuls general who missed the boat on purpose then spent 12 hectic hours trying to catch it.

The two top-ranking Nazis refused to board the liner Yamata Maru with their staffs and families Monday, fearing that without a British guarantee of safe conduct across the Pacific they would be risking seizure at sea.

Two hours or so after the Yamata Maru sailed, word came from the British embassy in Washington that the Nazis would not be molested en route.

Wiedemann then tried frantically to have the ship stopped. He radioed the captain asking that the Yamata Maru about and come back for them at the German government's expense.

But the Japanese master replied he was sorry, in these words: "Please express our greatest regrets we are unable to accept request to return."

Churchill Declares Growing British Air Force Will Punish German Cities And Homelands And Also Strafe Italy

LONDON (AP)—Britain, unshaken by ten months of German air blows, has begun hitting back with fearful might and still is only at the beginning of her growing air power, Prime Minister Churchill told workers Monday.

The Prime Minister delivered virtually the same fighting message twice—first to 6,000 clamoring veterans of the defense of London in a great review in Hyde Park and later to a luncheon of the capital's organized civil defenders.

"It is time the Germans should be made to suffer in their own homeland and cities something of the torments they have twice in our lifetime let loose upon their neighbors and upon the world," the Prime Minister exclaimed.

"We have now intensified for the past month a systematic, scientific and methodical bombing on a large scale of German cities and industries and other military objectives."

"We believe it to be in our power to keep this process going on a steadily rising tide month after month, year after year until the Nazi regime is either extirpated by us, or, better still, torn to pieces by the German people themselves."

"We shall continue a remorseless discharge of high explosive upon Germany."

He declared there can be "no truce or parley with Hitler or the grisly gang who did Hitler's worst" and forecast that Italy, too, would get her share of the RAF's attention.

Fuehrer Races Time For Pre-Winter Win

By Dewitt MacKenzie

The measure of Britain's effort to relieve the pressure of the Nazi attack on Russia, and to take advantage of the temporary lull on the western front, was indicated by British Premier Churchill's statement Monday.

That the Royal Air Force is now pouring bombs into the enemy at a heavier rate than the Hitlerites have in any monthly period, bombed the British Isles.

That is an amazing development, showing the growth of the British air force through the intensification of home production and the all-out aid of the United States. When you consider the hell which the Nazis hurled down upon the half defenseless Britain during long months of horror, you get an idea of the way John Bull's aerial strength has grown.

Governor Gains 216 Ballots On Board's Canvass

AUSTIN (AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel was elected U. S. Senator in the election June 28, the official canvass of votes showed Monday.

O'Daniel received 175,590 votes to 174,279 for New Deal Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson. His lead was 1,311 votes. The canvass was by the state election board.

Secretary of State Lawson opened the official returns from the counties in the presence of the governor and Assistant Attorney General Grover Sellers.

Sellers represented Attorney General Gerald C. Mann a member of the board. Other members were the governor and the secretary of state.

When Lawson whispered the outcome to the governor, who had sat throughout the two-hour proceeding and in the last few moments had leaned forward tensely, O'Daniel smiled and nodded.

Replying to newspaper reporters questions, the governor said: "I am very happy at the results."

He added that he had "no plans to announce at present."

The unofficial tabulation two weeks ago by the Texas Election Bureau, organization of about 90 newspapers had given the governor a lead of 1,095.

The governor's gain on the official county was 216 votes.

To Issue Statement AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The state senate's powerful general investigating committee "probably" will issue a statement bearing on the U. S. senatorial election later Monday, Chairman R. A. Weinert of Seguin announced.

"The committee probably will have a statement later," said Weinert on emerging from an hour-long executive meeting. He would not elaborate on the assertion.

Various kinds of charges, including asserted violations of the Hatch act and statutes limiting candidates' campaign expenditures, had drawn the legislative group to the capital.

Heavy Midland Rains Flood Country Club And Mexican Section

A rain storm Sunday flooded Midland with runoff waters, inundating again sectors in the Mexican part of the city and overflowing curbs in the business district. Rain measured 1.29 inches and fell in about 45 minutes.

Water was two feet deep in the Mexican sections Monday.

The heaviest rains fell in the city district. The Midland Municipal Airport gauge recorded 10 of an inch. The rain was lighter in the rural areas ranchers reported.

Motorists said they encountered heaviest rains from Stanton to Midland.

Issues Emergency Call The city-county health unit issued an emergency announcement that typhoid immunization should be given Mexican citizens immediately. More than 60 have been receiving immunizations since a heavy rain several weeks ago.

For the third time this season the Midland Country Club was flooded. The rains there ran water four to six inches deep on the golf course and stopped final matches of the annual city tournament. Fairways six, eight, and nine were flooded. Pumps were started to control runoff waters immediately following the downpour.

Knox States War Is Better Than Hitler-Directed Peace

By Edward E. Bomar

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Knox, rounding out a year as civilian head of the navy, expressed hope Monday that the policy of aid to Britain would not lead this country into war, but he added that war would be "infinitely preferable" to a peace "accomplished by a surrender to Hitlerism."

As the cabinet's most outspoken champion of all-out assistance to the British, Knox said in an anniversary interview that "I have been realistic enough to pursue that policy wherever the pursuit of such a policy might lead."

"I hope it will not lead us into war," he continued. "But in my eyes a war of defense against Nazism would be infinitely preferable to a peace accomplished by a surrender to Hitlerism and all that would mean to the freedom and independence of the American people."

The Chicago publisher, one of the two Republican members of President Roosevelt's cabinet, chose his words carefully in response to a remark that some persons had come to regard him as leader of a "war party."

"No sane man wants war," he said. "I happen to belong to a school of thinkers who regard as imperative a policy of aiding England at whatever cost to ourselves, to promote both our present security and future national welfare."

Redmond, Greene Test In Pecos In Simpson At 5,370

By Frank Gardner, Oil Editor

Reports Monday from J. E. Redmond of Fort Stockton, J. L. Greene of Midland and others No. 1 Realty Trust, deep test in Northern Pecos County, stated it had gone out of the Permian into a detrital zone at 5,840 feet and topped the Simpson, middle Ordovician, at 5,370 feet. The test is drilling about 5,412 feet in Simpson lime. It is two miles north of Culbertson & Irwin, Inc. of Midland No. 1 Mary Heiner, small producer from the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, which failed to encounter any Simpson.

Two newly completed wells were credited to the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company in the Abell pool of Northern Pecos.

No. 1 Ida Mae Waber gauged daily potential flow through one-half inch tubing choke of 1,325.68 barrels of 43.1-gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 840-1. It is producing from Simpson sand between 5,281 and 5,317 feet, the total depth. Potential was derived from smaller of

San Angeloan Is Victim Of Crash West Of Midland

Two Ector Negroes Also Die; Big Spring Woman Gets Serious Injuries

Three persons were injured fatally and two others hurt seriously in an automobile collision six miles west of Midland on Highway 80 at 12:30 a. m. Monday.

Carl S. Leidecker, 61 San Angelo oil man, died at 1:56 a. m. in a hospital here. He suffered head and internal injuries and shock. Mrs. Glynis Jordan, about 35, employe of Gosden Petroleum Corporation, Big Spring, received serious injuries but her condition is not critical. She suffered a lacerated scalp, and possible fractures of the shoulder and ankle. She is in a Midland hospital.

Andrew (Bogo) Brown, negro, about 30, died enroute to a Midland hospital. He suffered head and internal injuries and cuts on the body. Physicians said Brown was dead when he was brought to the hospital.

Sam Lee, negro, about 35, died at 9 a. m. Monday at a hospital. Physicians said an arm was almost torn from the body and he suffered skull injuries, cut and lacerations.

Another Negro Hurt Both Brown and Lee are employes of a ranch in Ector County.

John Davis, negro about 30, riding in the car with Brown and Lee, was injured, not seriously. He is in a Midland hospital suffering a broken femur of the leg and cuts and bruises.

Highway patrolmen, who investigated the accident, said it occurred almost head-on. The Leidecker machine was traveling east from Odessa and the three negroes were going west. Ambulances and passenger cars brought the injured and dead to Midland.

The crash occurred near where five negroes were killed in a three-car-truck crash July 2, 1939.

Rites Probably Tuesday Brown was driving the sedan in which the negroes were riding. Leidecker was driving his coupe. Both cars were demolished.

Leidecker's body was taken to San Angelo Monday and funeral services are tentatively set for Tuesday morning at Johnson Funeral Chapel, with burial to be at San Angelo.

The San Angelo man is survived by his widow, Mrs. Julia Leidecker, San Angelo; four brothers, J. A. of California, B. U., Fort Stockton, H. M., California, and F. W., Tulsa; one son, Robert Leidecker, San Angelo; and two sisters, Mrs. George Greer Seagraves, and Miss Ruth Leidecker, San Angelo.

Armistice Agreement Strengthens Britain's Middle East Position

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Armistice ending the war in Syria was signed at Acre, in Palestine, at 2 p. m. Monday (6 a. m. CST). General Sir Claude Auchinleck, British commander in the Middle East, announced Monday night.

LONDON (AP)—Britain saw herself in a vastly-strengthened position in the Middle East Monday following the signing of an armistice with Gen. Henri Dentz, French high commissioner in Syria and Lebanon.

By the disclosed terms of the Armistice, signed Saturday night at Acre, Palestine, scene of Napoleonic conflict between Britain and France, British sources said they expected to gain a bulwark for protection of the Suez Canal and perhaps greater cooperation from the wavering Turks.

Now in occupation of territory adjacent to Turkey, the British were in position to send military aid in event their non-belligerent ally becomes involved in war.

Increased Free French activity against other Vichy-held colonies was forecast in some quarters.

Names Doctors To Health Board Posts

AUSTIN (AP)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel Monday appointed Doctors W. P. Harrison of Teague, F. C. Elliott of Houston and John A. Hart of Beaumont to six-year terms on the state board of health.

Dr. Harrison was reappointed. Retiring members of the board were Doctors Hubert Jackson, San Antonio dentist, and R. J. Rowe of Kaufman, board chairman.

Great Achievements

The Axis powers have accomplished a great deal in the past 21 months.

Not the military conquests. They have accomplished a great deal more than that.

They have done other things. Things they had no idea of accomplishing. Things like these:

They have completely uncovered to the whole world the naked audacity, the shameless unscrupulousness, of their plan to force into the Nazi mold as much of the world as pleases them.

They have resurrected the soul of the British people; discredited and driven from power a leadership which was indifferent alike to the Nazi menace and to internal failure to adjust the British economic and social world to modern times.

They have shown the colossal folly of the exaggerated nationalism which caused the tiny nations created in central Europe by the First World War to hate and shun one another; they have shown them that their only safety in future lies in collaboration.

They have destroyed the illusion in the United States that so great a people can remain indifferent to what goes on in the rest of the world; they have breathed life and reality into a Pan Americanism, and suddenly switched it from sentimental idealizing to life-and-death practicality.

They have virtually assured greater degrees of independence to component parts of the British Empire, including India, when the war shall be over. They have shown that old-fashioned conquer-and-colonize colonial policies of the 19th century are not good enough for the 20th.

They have created among Norwegians, Dutch, French, Czechs, Danes, Belgians, Greeks, and among all the peoples of Europe, nay, of the world, myriad masses of people who know now to their cost the priceless worth of liberty, who will not soon again let the jewel slip from careless fingers.

Seeking to destroy liberty, they have restored to it the strength and the dynamic it has not had for a hundred years.

Seeking to turn the clock back to a medieval despotism, they have opened the way to progress and the development of a real 20th century civilization which shall be neither Communist nor Fascist, neither socialist nor yet capitalist in the sense that 1870 was capitalist.

They have opened the way to a free world in which the individual has air to breathe, a chance to live and grow, bending the neck to no man, bowing only before his God.

Waste

Which is the more wasteful? The spilling out of French lives by Vichy to defend something in Syria which was not French, from a power that has for many years been the devoted friend and ally of the French people? Or the solemn beginning of the work of a commission to frame a constitution for France?

Both are a waste, the former of precious lives, the other of time, which is not worthless even in conquered France. The advisory commission which is to put in words the ideas for what Marshal Petain now calls "an authoritarian hierarchical social state," will deliberate solemnly, no doubt, framing a constitution for a people without sovereignty, preparing to ask that people to tailor to its own neck the collar designed by the conquering Nazis. It is a depressing and forbidding picture of what happens to peoples which succumb to Nazi domination.

Building National Muscle

The number of wage-earners in the United States today is higher than ever before in the country's history—51,647,000, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. Until this estimate it has been customary to think of the number of employed workers as roughly 45,000,000. Fewer than 4,000,000 remain unemployed, according to the same source, the lowest number since September, 1930.

Such figures are estimates; no one can say how nearly correct they are. They do suggest, however, that the national muscles are being slowly flexed and that the biceps revealed are bigger and stronger than ever before. It was with man-hours of work that Hitler built his military machine; it is this steadily growing volume of American man-hours of work that gives the best hope of seeing him defeated.

Strangling Culture

What the "new order" in Europe means to the conquered:

In Czechoslovakia, all Czech schools will be closed at the end of this year, the buildings confiscated. The universities, now completely German-dominated, allowed Czech students to return this year if they met certain requirements, but not 1 per cent ever returned. The Prague City Library was temporarily closed, then reopened. But of its 15,000 books, 10,000 had been removed from the shelves by the censors in the interim. The Sokol cultural and athletic societies have been completely dissolved. It is thus that the Germans elect to usher in "the new day"—with darkness.

two consecutive three-hour flow periods.

The firm's No. 2 V. W. Crockett, tested under the same conditions, rated potential of 1,596.16 barrels of 45.5-gravity crude per day with gas in the ratio of 566-1. It topped Simpson pay sand at 5,080 feet and is bottomed at 5,157 feet in lime and shale.

Abell Shallow Wells Stanolind No. 1 Conry-Davis unit, discovery well of a Permian pool several miles east of the Abell Ordovician district, flowed 346.07 barrels of oil on full 24-hour potential gauge through one-quarter inch choke on tubing. The well is bottomed at 3,815 feet, plugged back from a total depth of 5,745 feet in granite. It missed the Simpson and topped the Ellenburger at 4,825 feet, finding it barren. Granite was topped at 5,740 feet.

East offset to the discovery has been struck by Stanolind at No. 2 Conry-Davis unit, 648 feet from the south and 672 feet from the east line of section 31, block 9, H. & G. N. survey.

Stanolind and George T. Abell of Midland No. 1 Meyer-Logan unit, north offset to No. 1 Conry-Davis unit, flowed 10 to 12 barrels of oil hourly after reacidizing with 4,000 gallons in formation from 3,749 to 3,825 feet, total depth. It is shut in. Stanolind No. 1 Simmons, Abell pool well, recovered 360 feet of oil and 180 feet of oil-cut mud and sulphur water, with 1,750,000 cubic feet of gas per day, when 14-minute drillstem test was made of Permian zone from 3,333-65 feet. At last reports it was coring ahead. On the northwest edge of the Abell pool, Stanolind No. 1 Thrapp-Walker unit, recovered 180 feet of oil and 30 feet of oil-cut mud on 30-minute drillstem test from 3,190 to 3,232 feet.

North Basin Sam G. Dunn No. 1 R. L. Moore, Southeastern Yoakum County wildcat one mile west of the Owby area encountered 12 gallons of sulphur water hourly from 5,440-42 feet and is drilling ahead below 5,447 feet. It is also showing a little oil from upper zones.

L. C. Harrison No. 1 Nairn estate, wildcat three and one-half miles northeast of Lubbock in Central Lubbock County, is drilling at 3,525 feet in lime. It topped first time at 2,890 feet and entered solid lime at 3,100 feet.

In Northern Lynn County, Ross Sport et al No. 1 J. E. Rice is drilling below 1,680 feet in red rock.

Anderson-Pritchard and Osage No. 1 Frances Brownfield Christianman, closely watched wildcat southeast of Brownfield in Eastern Terry County, is drilling below 4,110 feet in anhydrite. Yates top was variously picked at 3,060 and at 3,170 feet. The well is running high structurally even if the lower of the Yates markers is employed as basis for correlation.

Texas Pacific and Seaboard No. 1-C Midland Farms Company, Southeastern Andrews County wildcat 13 miles northwest of Midland, is shut down for orders at 4,955 feet in lime.

Fort Bliss Officer Says Cavalry Still Important In Battle

By Rice Yahner FORT BLISS (AP)—His division ready to show its toughness and preparedness on the burning desert in Texas and New Mexico, Major General Innis P. Swift said Monday day critics of the usefulness of horse cavalry forgot that the U. S. Army might be called upon to fight where its motor trucks couldn't carry troops.

In that case, he said, the cavalry would mop up after bombing planes and armored divisions. "A prime function of the horse cavalry, with the necessary mechanized elements in it," the tart, white-haired veteran of the saddle said, "is to go where our heavy trucks can't take our infantry quickly."

"I can show you hundreds of miles of it here," he added during a brief trip over the huge cavalry training center, headquarters of the First Division near El Paso and within sight of Old Mexico.

He demonstrated by driving his own car, a moderate weight sedan, off a little-used trail in the sand and it could pull no farther. Troop carriers are tons heavier, and most of them without caterpillar tracks that enable tanks to traverse such terrain.

Can't Pick Spots "The German army has equipped itself for war in particular spots and in every place their objectives have been reachable by familiar road nets," General Swift said. "If we have to pick our place and we have to be prepared for everything."

Stretching south of the border for hundreds of miles was mesquite-covered, duned desert—with only one main highway and that not in sight. It was not difficult to speculate on the possibility—however remote—of a well-equipped army, having gained control of friendly Mexico, driving toward El Paso. There is similar terrain, he said, in Africa, Syria, Lebanon and Palestine.

Organizes First Anti-Tank Troop

FORT BLISS, Tex. (UP)—The first anti-tank troop in the United States is being organized in this Southwest border post.

Organization will be completed when a select number of selective service draftees have been assigned to the troop to fill out the enlisted personnel of 138 men. First Lieut. Jack Berg, of El Paso, Tex., will command the unit.

Practicing over the desert terrain in this section, the troop will be outfitted with 47 scout cars. Each car will be armed with two 30-caliber and one 50-caliber machine guns.

Principal weapons of the troop will be the 37-millimeter anti-tank guns, towed. There will be 12 of them. The fine power of the unit will be augmented by 30 Thompson sub-machine guns and 26 30-caliber M-1 rifles. Each man will carry an army automatic pistol.

Roosevelt Talks Service Proposal To Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt discussed with democratic and republican leaders Monday the controversial question of extending beyond a year the active service of selectees, reserve officers and national guardsmen and permitting their assignment outside the western hemisphere.

Considerable opposition has developed in Congress to such a proposal recently advanced by General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

In an effort to settle some of the problems involved, the chief executive met Monday morning with seven democratic and two republican members of the senate and house. Marshall also was present.

Defers Property Bill

The congressional members included Senate Majority Leader Barkley, of Kentucky; Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate foreign relations committee, Chairman Reynolds, (D-NC) of the senate military committee; Senator Hill (D-Ala.), senate whip and member of the military committee; Senator Austin (R-Vt.) assistant minority leader and member of the military committee; Speaker Rayburn; House Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts; Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the house military committee; and Representative Wadsworth (R-NY).

The chief executive has suggested that it might be well to extend the service period, particularly of men assigned to outlying posts, such as those in Alaska, Hawaii and in the Atlantic. Administration officials have taken the position that maximum efficiency would not be served if it were necessary continuously to replace portions of troops on duty at distant stations.

Meanwhile, the senate military committee deferred for a week consideration of legislation which would authorize President Roosevelt to requisition private property for defense purposes.

Fred Wemple Will Address Southwest C. Of C. Convention

EL PASO (Special)—Fred Wemple of Midland will be a speaker at the second annual convention of the Associated Southwestern Chambers of Commerce in Silver City, N. M., August 10, 11 and 12.

This organization, which embraces the territory between Midland, Texas, and Tucson, Arizona; Fortales, N. M., and Chihuahua City, Mex., was organized last August at Ruidoso, N. M., to promote tourist travel throughout the entire area.

Communities of the southwest have realized that it is impossible for each town to carry on an extensive advertising program, but by pooling their efforts and resources it is possible to tell of the many places of interest in this section and also to have exhibits at the big travel shows held in the larger cities each year.

Other speakers who will appear on the program include Minor E. Tillotson, regional director National Park Service; Gov. Alfred Chavez, Governor of Chihuahua; J. H. Thielig, manager tourist promotion American Air Lines, New York, and R. M. Birdseye, general advertising manager Santa Fe railroad.

Lloyd F. Bloodworth, formerly executive secretary of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce has been employed by the association as executive secretary and is giving his entire time to the work.

Russian Winter Is Factor

As we watch the Hitlerian forces fling themselves against the Russian front, the paramount question isn't whether this greatest of all war machines will make gains (for it may be expected to do so) but what the cost will be to Nazidom, in men and materials and times—especially time. That's the crux-time.

Hitler can afford much in lives and equipment, for these he has a vast store. But he can't be extravagant with time.

As I pointed out in Saturday's column, he has no more than three months—probably less—before the icy fingers of the fierce Russian winter will be clutching at his men and blotting out his communications. He must win his war decisively against the Bolsheviks before then or find himself saddled with a back-breaking conflict of attrition on two fronts. And Germany lacks the resources to be able to afford the time for such a vast effort.

RAF Scores Hits On Two Vessels; Bags 7 Airplanes

LONDON (AP)—The RAF claimed hits on two 6,000-ton ships in daylight sweeps over Nazi-occupied France Monday and hits on three other ships in an aerial search for German shipping in the North Sea.

LONDON (AP)—The RAF scored bomb hits on two 6,000-ton ships and shot down seven German fighters in two morning raids on the Nazi-held ports of Cherbourg and Le Harve, France, Monday, an authoritative announcement said.

The big bombers were escorted by fighter planes as they swept across the channel for the attacks on France after night raids which extended from the coast to industrial Northwestern Germany.

The British acknowledged loss of two of their bombers and four fighters in the engagement at Cherbourg. They said that one of the 6,000-ton ships was set on fire, and that bombs also hit a railroad station south of the docks, as well as locomotive sheds and a factory.

The other 6,000-ton ship was hit at La Harve and afterward was seen to be half submerged, the announcement said.

Later in the morning another formation of Blenheim bombers attacked the railroad yards at Hazebrouck.

In night raids, docks at Amsterdam and Ostend were reported raided and targets as distant as Bremen and Vegesack hit.

New Laws Detain Twelve In Tijuana

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—At least 12 aliens who had resided in the United States from 15 to 30 years face a two or three-month stay in Tijuana, Mex., because of the restrictions on re-entry to the United States, it was disclosed Monday by Gerald A. Mokma, U. S. Consul at Tijuana.

Among them is Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Murphy, 60, Santa Monica, Calif., clubwoman and a native of Ireland, who crossed the international border with friends on a shopping tour Thursday and cannot obtain re-entry. Names of the others were not available.

Some of those barred from the United States are extremely low on funds and at least one couple demanded that the United States pay their room and board while they are in Mexico, Mokma revealed.

The demand was refused he said. The change in regulations, which rescinded the power of resident consular officers to issue re-entry permits to aliens, is part of the intensive program of alien regulation the United States has undertaken because of the defense emergency.

Under the new provisions, resident aliens who plan to cross the border, whether it be for one hour or for a year, are required to get a passport visa.

HAULS IN BIG STRING; FISHERMAN DISAPPOINTED

CROSS HILLS, S. C. (AP)—There's a disappointed fisherman on Lake Greenwood but it isn't J. B. Pinson. Pinson was boating when he noted what appeared to be a school of fish. He used the paddle to shovel the fish out—15 pounds on a string which some unhappy fisherman had allowed to escape.

MEN WANTED

There's more than one way that advertising brings men to work.

The most important way is when advertising is used to increase sales.

Instead of "men wanted," it says, "customers wanted."

And more customers mean more jobs in the stores and factories that keep busy by using advertising.

Youth Caravan Opens Work At Methodist Church

Project work sponsored by the Youth Caravan here this week under auspices of the First Methodist Church opened Monday morning in the 9 to 11 o'clock session.

All young people of the town who are interested are invited to attend the courses which will be held daily through Friday of this week.

The recreational class, under direction of Miss Rosalee Godbey, will build play equipment for the church recreational room.

Cast of the play, "The Cross Lifted Up," which will be presented ship service, was partly named Monday evening at the 8:45 worship.

The play will be a part of the work of the world friendship course directed by Walter Ewing. It will deal with the special needs and problems of missions.

A community survey, dealing with the racial problem and also with moving pictures, will be made by the citizenship and community service course members directed by Charles McEwen.

Worship programs are being planned by the worship group led by Miss Rebecca Douthit.

The adult class taught by Miss Jewell Posey was scheduled to open Monday night.

In preliminary sessions of the classes Sunday evening, approximately 35 young people were present, and about 15 or 20 in the project meetings Monday morning.

Morning sessions will be devoted to projects.

The evening programs will consist of classes, young people's forums, worship, and recreation periods.

The opening forum tonight will be on boy-and-girl relationships.

Following is the program for evenings until Friday:

7:30—Classes
8:00—Young people's forum; adult class
8:45—Worship.
9:15-10:00—Recreation

Meetings will be held in the Methodist educational building.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

Time was when cotton in the wardrobe was frowned upon by fastidious Miss America for anything other than use in house dresses and kitchen aprons. But times do change.

Now we have whole wardrobes planned solely of cotton.

Glamorous evening gowns to frisky play suits or serviceable meant-for-the-water bathing suits, cotton runs the gamut of the day's activities for the woman who is social-minded as well as for the career woman.

In fact, cotton goes to the head and also to the foot in fashion. Cotton hats of plique or crocheted are the thing, cotton over-the-knee stockings are good for sportswear, and last of all there are cotton shoes. Brilliant-hued cloth tops are combined with vari-colored platform wedge soles for gay, gayer, gayest footwear.

Oh yes, and there's even cotton jewelry.

But it isn't only in the realm of clothes that cotton is garnering added popularity. Nevada is the third state whose highway department has adopted cotton mats to be used in curbing concrete (Texas and Connecticut are the others).

Cotton liners plasticized into flexible sheets of cellulose acetate (try saying that phrase three times rapidly) are also being used as substitute for glass in airplane windows and openings. This material weighs about half as much as glass and is said to be practically unbreakable.

So-o-o—considering all these increased uses for the fluffy, snowy locks, we'd say that efforts to de-throne Old King Cotton in the South are a trifle premature to say the least.

That "Tattooed Lady" Is Your Old Favorite Gloria Swanson, Pepping Up Screen Styles

By Dee Lowrance
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Nineteen years ago Gloria Swanson was "Hollywood's Best-Dressed Woman." Now she's back on the screen—and many think she still rates the title.

After eight years of retirement, Miss Swanson is set to startle a style-wise world with her wardrobe in "Father Takes a Wife." All of her 18 Rene Hubert-designed costumes are outstanding, several of them breath-taking—and style-smarties say they will bring her right back to the fore.

Gloria hasn't changed her rules for dressing. Caught on the set, she expounded them gladly: "I stick to simple lines, becoming colors. Because I'm so short, I shy from the horizontal, adhere to flattering vertical lines. And when I go giddy—I go giddy indeed!"

Bringing Tattooed Lady Back To Life

By "giddy" she means one of the most unusual items in the wardrobe—a blouse that brings the tattooed lady back to life. On a plain white jersey blouse is a collection of brilliant designs, the time-honored favorites of sea-going men, placed there by a real waterfront tattoo-artist, using a paint brush instead of the usual needle. With this she wears gray gabardine culottes, cut to look like a skirt in the back.

The vertical lines Miss Swanson loves so well are to be found in all her costumes, most notably in an intricate jersey evening gown. The gown itself is of ashes of roses, classically draped in the bodice with a panel which draws through a neckline and falls straight to the floor.

Over this she wears a "half cloak" of amethyst jersey with one sleeve—the right—and full drapery to fall over the left shoulder. A similar "half cloak" in vermillion has a left sleeve only and a cape for the right shoulder—very striking.

A Best Dressed Woman's Wardrobe
Vertical lines, too, with a difference, mark her stunning afternoon suit of black and white checked wool. Instead of a conventional jacket, Miss Swanson wears a wrist-length cape, cut narrow, with rounded lines at the front revealing a low-necked black blouse.

Another example of lean lines is the streamlined exercise suit she wears in "Father Takes a Wife."

Pearl gray gabardine trousers are tailored like ski pants, pulled down narrowly to the ankles, where they fasten under the insteps with elastic bands. Elastic makes the high waistline fit snugly, keeps the jersey and gabardine blouse from creeping up.

Two shades of gray kidskin, held with an old-fashioned chain, watch and fob, make the belt, while the clogs are gray pigskin.

Other interesting costumes were a wedding suit of azure wool crepe; a gay wool dress and matching, sleeveless jacket with peacock feathers clipped to the shoulder; black hipless slacks with a white chiffon top; a rose crepe negligee over a daisy printed nightgown; an apron-front garden frock of white pique; a stark white chiffon evening gown with confetti paillette-covered wrist gloves.

COLLEGE GRADUATES 100 CAA AVIATORS
In the last 18 months East Texas State Teachers College has graduated 100 CAA pilots.

ALASKAN NATIVE STOCK WAS 32,000 IN 1939
The "native stock" of Alaska numbered 32,458 in 1939 and comprised 15,876 Eskimos, 11,283 Indians, and 5,599 Aleuts, according to the census.

Miss Ford is now employed in the sales and appliance department of the Frigidaire company at Dayton.

Gloria Swanson's streamlined exercise suit is lean of line and highly practical. The high-waisted gray gabardine pants are tailored like ski pants to narrowed ankles, held under the instep by elastic bands. The two-toned gray kidskin belt is fastened with an old-fashioned gold watch, chain and fob, and the clogs are gray pigskin.

This "Tattooed Lady of 1941" is Gloria Swanson—wearing a white jersey blouse designed by Rene Hubert for her return to the screen. The designs were done by a genuine waterfront tattoo artist, using paint instead of the usual needle and dyes. With it Miss Swanson wears an unusual pair of culottes of gray gabardine.

Mrs. Ford Finds Town "Looks Good"

"Midland honestly looked good," to Mrs. Wallace Ford on her return from a seven-weeks trip to the Central States.

After several weeks' visit in Dayton, Ohio, with her daughters, Edith and Virginia, Mrs. Ford was joined by Mr. Ford for the Fourth of July holiday and the trip home.

They returned via Kentucky and Tennessee, visiting in Kentucky the National Historic Park where the Lincoln Memorial is built around the log cabin birthplace of "Honest Abe."

The marriage of Miss Edith Ford to William H. Hahn on June 18 was one of the important events of her mother's visit. The couple is at home in Dayton. Although Mrs. Hahn had not lived in Midland, she had visited her parents here.

The younger daughter, Miss Virginia Ford, a graduate of Midland High School and well-known among the younger set here, was graduated recently from the Miriam Jacobs Business College at Dayton. Elaborate commencement exercises were held and Linton Wells, New York commentator, was the speaker.

The Midland girl was among those given special mention at the commencement program.

Miss Ford is now employed in the sales and appliance department of the Frigidaire company at Dayton.

Visiting Workers Give Program At League Meetings

Members of the Youth Caravan were featured in the program at the joint meeting of Methodist Leagues Sunday evening.

Miss Rebecca Douthit of Pendleton, South Carolina, made the special talk on a worship topic.

Miss Rosalee Godbey presented a reading.

The devotional was given by Walter Ewing and Chas. McEwen was in charge of the prayer and singing. About 25 were present.

A picnic supper was served in the recreation room preceding the league service.

During the League meeting, registrations were made for the four courses to be offered by the workers: Worship, by Miss Douthit; recreation by Miss Godbey; world friendship by Mr. Ewing; and citizenship and community service by Mr. McEwen.

Miss Jewell Posey, adult counselor of the Caravan, will teach a class for adults.

The courses and services will continue through Friday of this week.

STATES GIVE MORE TO NEEDY PERSONS

CHICAGO (UP)—State legislatures meeting in 1941 are reported by American Public Welfare Association survey to have "made more generous provision for the needy aged, liberalized aid to dependent children and to the blind, and in general took steps to improve the administration of public assistance."

Covering about three-fourths of the 43 state meetings this year—the rest were still in session—the survey found that grants for the various types of public assistance were revised upward in many cases while "strings" formerly tied to grants in the forms of liens against property of the aided were cut. Improvement of personal practices also was noted in the survey.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney America's Card Authority

Banner event of the national championship tournament at Asbury Park, N. J., the week of Aug. 4, will be the Masters Pairs. When this annual contest was inaugurated nearly a decade ago, only a handful of players in the country were eligible to compete.

Today so many players have won their spurs, and so eager are all players to gain the distinction of having entered the Masters

Handwritten bridge scores and card deals. Includes a small table with columns for South, West, North, East and rows for Pass, Double Pass, and Opening.

Pairs, that the event may have to be arbitrarily restricted in size.

The schedule allows for four sessions of the Masters Pairs. The plan has always been to avoid eliminations, each pair playing throughout and meeting every other pair. The natural top limit under this plan is 64 pairs. The prospective entry for the contest in August is well over this figure. It may be necessary to close entry after the first 64 applications have been received.

The hands played in the Masters Pairs are of interest to the whole bridge world. Many of them are discussed years afterward. Today's hand was one of the "heart-breakers" from the 1940 tournament.

At many tables North and South got to five spades, "saving" against the vulnerable heart game. With only one ace and one king in the two hands, they nevertheless were able to make five spades through the trump patterns, plus a lucky break in diamonds.

When West gained the lead with the ace of diamonds, he led his trump, but even this defense could not defeat the contract. North still had four trumps with which to ruff three hearts and one diamond. The one diamond ruff was sufficient to establish the ten.

Tallmadge says the red celluloid lenses have corrected a cannibalistic trait characteristic of even the most aristocratic of hens.

Spots of blood on a hen make other hens "see red," he explains. They attack the injured bird en masse. The rosy lenses, making all objects appear red, have eliminated this cannibalism, Tallmadge claims.

Wool Products To Have Labels

WASHINGTON (AP)—Beginning Monday, all wool products must bear labels setting forth the percentage of wool each contains and whether it is reprocessed or reused wool.

Nine months ago President Roosevelt signed legislation fixing the labeling requirements, and between that time and the effective date, Monday, merchants were expected either to sell all of their unlabeled merchandise or to label it to conform with the law.

The act defines wool as a hair fiber which has not been reclaimed from any woven or felt wool product. Reprocessed wool is that which has been woven or felted into a wool product without previously hav-

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Can I authorize my employer to allot portions of my salary each pay day until enough is accumulated to buy a Defense Savings Bond?

A. Yes. More than a million salaried people have already asked that their money be saved in this way.

Q. Does the Treasury provide systematic savings facilities for individuals not employed by those organizations which have payment-allotment plans?

A. Yes. The Treasury has a regular purchase plan under which especially designed reminder envelopes are mailed at intervals of your choice. Nearly 100,000 people are already using this plan systematically.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER IN CONVOY

BY A. W. O'BRIEN

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: The day before 20,000 soldiers are to leave Canada for England in convoy, naval commanders are called for a conference and told that there will be a Nazi spy among the troops and that utmost caution must be observed. Captains of the freighters that will be among the convoy are then called in and orders are issued for the sailing. The masters are offered the opportunity to withdraw from the dangerous mission, but no one speaks up.

CHAPTER II

A BULL-VOICED foghorn blared through the waterfront haze. From a distance two bells clanged monotonously. With khaki coat collar turned up against the knife-edged wind, an Army lieutenant stood leaning on the deck rail as the blacked-out liner gently rose and fell at the dockside.

The giant troopship had gone to sleep. The only sounds that came to his ears other than the bleak fog signals were the occasional sound of a sentry's boot on the deck or a muffled command from the general direction of the bridge.

He couldn't see more than a baseball throw in any direction, but the lieutenant knew a number of camouflaged ocean greyhounds were hugging other piers. The last trainload of troops had pulled in 24 hours ago and all men were now aboard. Endless thousands of small arm ammunition boxes had been stored in the holds. Shove leave passes had been refused. All was in readiness to sail.

Strange, thought Lieutenant Rollins, he had been terribly impatient about sailing until a few hours previously. The long months of rigorous camp training followed by a hectic embarkation leave in Montreal had climaxed in his unit's allocation to this former Polish luxury liner, now known simply as "A." That was three days ago and the letdown after all the activity and excitement had been terrific. But things were definitely picking up. The reason was a blond, certainly not more than 24, slightly taller than average, but eminently suitable for a six-foot officer.

Lieutenant Rollins found himself grinning in the darkness. The girl was evidently of the serious-minded type, but that dimple in her left cheek held interesting possibilities. He had noticed it when she was only half-way up the gangplank, and he was trying to make out the color of her eyes when she had looked at him squarely.

He had promptly raised a gloved hand to his service cap in an informal salute and added a wide smile for good measure. She gave him a short fleeting smile in return but it was a somewhat disinterested one.

She stepped briskly from the gangplank and onto "B" deck then marched along with the others to the stair-way leading up to "A" deck. Lieutenant Rollins' eyes followed her. She was undoubtedly the prettiest of the 47 nursing sisters bound for a Canadian hospital in England. The amazing thing about it all was he knew he had met that girl somewhere before. It was quite unthinkable, though, that he approach her, how deeply, and say: "Pardon me, Sister, but haven't we met somewhere?"

She would speak to him, of course. Would tell him a few casual facts about herself. He would name a few places he had been. She might suggest a few also. Then, in an awkward sort of way, he'd be forced to shrug, laugh lightly and give up. That would never do. He would bring up the previous meeting only after they were on cozy terms.

"Lieutenant Rollins, sir?" The young officer came out of his reverie with a start. He turned to find a sentry at salute.

"Yes, I'm Mr. Rollins."
 "The O. C. Troops would like you to come to his quarters immediately, sir."

Here Is the First of 11 Photographs Taken by Author En Route to England

LIEUTENANT ROLLINS felt his way through the darkness to the nearest entrance. He found the door handle and tugged it open to meet even inkier darkness. He reached forward and pushed aside the heavy curtain so placed to prevent light from showing when the door was opened. For a moment he blinked into the corridor lights, then quickly strode down to the suite at the far end. Over it hung a sign, "O. C. Troops."

He knocked twice.
 "Come in!"

Colonel L. S. Stephenson, M. C., was seated before a desk. He looked absently at the young officer for a moment.

"Oh yes, Lieutenant, I merely wanted to point out that it is after midnight and unless I am mistaken there are sounds generally associated with singing coming from the direction of the bar. As orderly officer," he paused suggestively, "I must ask you to attend to the matter immediately. You will be held accountable for an infraction of lights-out regulations during your period on duty tonight and, by the way, I also have an underlined order to the effect that orderly officers are to report any unusual incident, no matter how slight, that comes within their notice or the notice of the sentries."

The colonel turned to his paper. Rollins saluted, wheeled smartly and stepped out into the corridor.

The officers' bar was having difficulty getting closed when Rollins pushed open the glass doors. "Break it up, boys," Rollins interrupted, "the O. C.'s orders."

A captain grinned from a stool at the bar.

"Okay, Gregory, and I'll bring along a Scotch in case you're slumped when you come off watch at two."

Rollins winked his thanks. He and Captain Sydney Tees had been friends since the old rugby days at university. In fact, Syd recommended him for his commission with the Royal Westmont Regiment after he had obtained his Officers Training Course Certificate "A."

Back out on deck it seemed increasingly chilly and lonely. Rollins grumbled to himself as he started another long tour of the ship to check on the sentries. All these precautions by the Old Man seemed exaggerated, with the ship still beside a dock that was heavily patrolled by military and Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

It was about 12:30 when he entered the orderly room on the aft deck. He examined the orders for the next day and grinned widely. Lieutenant Harry Milroy was booked as orderly officer and judging from his exuberation when the bar closed, it would be a painful session.

Suddenly, he and the sergeant working at the desk looked up at one another. They had both heard the noise—a low but unmistakable throb running through the ship. The sergeant jumped to his feet.

"It's the engines, sir. We must be on our way!"

The lieutenant sh-h-hed him. "Take it easy, Sergeant. It will take hours before we . . ."

The door opened and a sentry entered.

"Lieutenant Rollins—quick! I was just on my way here a few seconds ago when I spotted two small flashes, followed by a third a moment later on 'A' deck—seemed to be directly above the main lounge on the port side, I . . ."

Rollins was hurrying out. "Don't follow me, I'm going to try surprising whoever is up there!"

He slipped through the door and ran on his toes across an open stretch of deck to the port side.

For a few seconds the whole deck seemed to be immersed in one big, black shadow. Then things took shape. He could make out the deck chairs stacked against the wall a few feet up. Beyond that there was a large emergency raft. In front of the raft . . . Did that shadow move?

The lieutenant felt his eyes burning with the effort. He was concentrating every ounce of vision on that shadow. Yes, it had moved. It was coming in his direction, seemingly hugging the dark portion of the deck close to the wall.

Rollins reached back gingerly and unbuttoned his service holster. Noiselessly he drew the powerful .45.

The shadow was no more than 10 yards away now.

"Halt where you are!" he bit out the command in low even tones, "and lift your hands—high!"

White Sox Games Draw Large Gates

CHICAGO (AP)—The Comiskey family stands an excellent chance of receiving a handsome profit on their Chicago White Sox for the second straight season.

The White Sox, led by Jimmy Dykes, have attracted 386,413 paid spectators, in 40 home games. At this rate the club will exceed last season's home attendance by about 50,000.

A doubleheader with the New York Yankees Sunday drew 50,387—second largest crowd in Chicago's baseball history.

Welshell Pitches Long No-Hit Game

PAMPA (AP)—Charlie Welshell, Big Spring righthander of the West Texas-New Mexico League, Sunday night hurled an 11-inning, no-hit, no-run victory to leave his mark on the baseball book of fame.

Welshell retired 27 batters in a row in the first nine innings of the game Big Spring took, 2 to 0, from Pampa. Big Spring took an afternoon game from Pampa 8 to 4.

Missions Subdue Fort Worth Cats In Overtime Tilt

By The Associated Press
The San Antonio Missions, apparently tiring of their cellar spot in the Texas League, battled for three hours and 44 minutes Sunday night and finally subdued the Fort Worth Cats, 10 to 9, in the seventeenth inning.

It was the third consecutive one-run victory for the Missions, but they still linger on the bottom with the Cats still in seventh place.

The Cats tied the game in the ninth with three runs, and seven scoreless innings followed.

Fort Worth used five pitchers in the marathon, and San Antonio took over in the eighth to decide the contest than any other game of the season.

Martin Seeks Sixteenth
The Houston Buffs increased their lead over the field to 16 and a half games by sweeping a double bill from the Dallas Rebels, 3 to 2 in 11 innings, and 8 to 4. Ted Wilks won his thirteenth game of the season for Houston.

The Buff and Rebels met again Monday night, with Freddy Martin seeking his sixteenth victory of the season for Houston.

J. P. Wood singled with the bases loaded in the ninth to give the Beaumont Exporters a 4 to 3 win over Oklahoma City's Indians in the first game of their doubleheader. Beaumont took the second, 4 to 2. Wood got three singles and a double in the opener.

Tulsa went into second place a half-game ahead of Shreveport, by beating the Sports 2 to 1 in a game called in the fifth because of rain. The second game of the scheduled doubleheader was postponed.

Dean Allows One Hit In Slab Assignment

SIoux FALLS, S. D. (AP)—Jerome (Dizzy) Dean made his first appearance in Class D baseball Sunday night—A surprise three-inning stretch for Sioux Falls Canaries of the Western League.

The Canaries won 7-4 over the Pueblo Rollers before 3,000 fans. Dean allowed but one hit and struck out one, but committed two of four Sioux Falls errors and left the game with the count knotted 3-3. He went hitless in two times at bat.

The once great National League hurler left the Cubs July 6 for a radio announcing job in St. Louis. He was making a barnstorming tour preliminary to his radio appearance.

Ghezzi Rolls In Thirty-Inch Putt To Defeat Nelson

By Loudon Kelly
DENVER (AP)—It was only a 30-inch putt and it wobbled into the cup like any duffer's effort, but to 6-foot-3 inch Vic Ghezzi it was worth $500 and his first Professional Golfers Association title.

The handsome Deal, N. J., veteran won the championship and the $1,100 top prize after nine years' trying in a 38-hole epic with defending Champion Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, against the mountain backdrop at Cherry Hills Sunday.

And the missed shot that cost the Texas-born Nelson the last chance at his second straight crown and the difference between first money and the $600 he won was a putt on the same 2 1/2 foot length.

Picture the scene on the second extra hole of the up-and-down struggle with a tense gallery massed around the green by the lake in the hot late afternoon sun:

Both players, worn from physical and nervous strain, failed to reach the carpet of the 400-yard hole with their seconds. First Ghezzi chipped one, then Nelson—both expertly close.

Unable to determine which was the farther from the cup, they huddled like football captains to flip a coin and Nelson won. He putted and went by at the right. Then Ghezzi, with $500 and the long-sought title riding on his grass-stained blade, went in by the right side.

Ghezzi never before had won a championship of this importance.

Zivic Confident Of Beating Challenger

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fritzie Zivic, Pittsburgh's welterweight champion, confidently waited for his clash with Johnny Barbara, of Chicago, Monday night in a 12-round non-title bout at the Philadelphia Gardens.

Making his first ring appearance since he battered Jimmy Davis to defeat in New York recently, Zivic intends to wipe out the sting of two setbacks at the hands of Barbara.

Looking ahead to a title defense against Red Cochrane in Newark on July 28, Zivic is sure he will stop Barbara in six or seven rounds. Zivic is a 2 to 1 favorite.

Dykes Gets Suspension; Instead Loop Should Give Manager Bonus

Harridge Puts One Best-Liked Figures Out Of Major Show

By Harry Grayson
NEA Service Sports Editor

CHICAGO.—Will Harridge says Jimmy Dykes will remain under suspension until he satisfies the American League office that he will fall in line with the other pilots of the circuit in conducting himself and the White Sox on the field.

Owners ought to set President Harridge right on that score immediately, for outside of Dykes and Joe Cronin of the Red Sox on American League manager contributes in the slightest way to excitement at parks.

The National League could use a little pepper on the part of field leaders, too. Frank Frisch of the Pirates, Casey Stengel of the Braves and Leo Durocher of the Dodgers are the only ones in the elder wheel with enough life to come in out of the rain or to get out of the dugout for anything less than a riot.

Harridge ought to follow the White Sox for a spell. He then would find out how wrong he was when he asserts that Dykes' tactics have become offensive to spectators.

Fans like to see a manager scrap for his club. Scrap And Hustle

Dykes hasn't had too much with which to work at Comiskey Park, yet the Chicago has finished in the first division four of the last year and are still contenders this trip.

Dykes' fight and hustle has had a great deal to do with this. His color and personality is one of the principal reasons why the White Sox outdraw the affluent Cubs by rows of fans and then some. The Pale Hose made $300,000 in 1940, which is precisely what the drab Wrigleys lost.

If Harridge wants to punish Dykes for expressing an honest opinion of his umpires' sight, why doesn't he fine him and let him remain at work?

For what does he think the Comiskey Estate is paying Dykes $20,000 a year? Certainly not for watching the White Sox from a dozen tiers behind the bullpen or scouting the American Association, which Dykes plans to do during the ban.

Chip-On-Shoulder Let
Byron Bancroft Johnson, who organized the American League, backed umpires vigorously years ago to decorum of a tennis court, and put an end to old school baseball rowdiness.

They should be supported and fully today when managers and players get out of bounds, but American League arbiters have come to be a chip-on-the-shoulder lot.

A manager or player can hardly say boo without being given the bum's rush.

Umpires are too ready to take the show away from the actors. They have a pretty soft racket and should be able to stand a little verbal abuse so long as obscene language doesn't reach the ears of spectators. An umpire worthy of a major league job has been around long enough to know that there is seldom anything personal in remarks made in the heat of battle.

If the few live managers and players are silenced, the baseball field shortly will have the

how many people attend tennis matches? Quiet In Stands

Players will wind up congratulating one another on base hits and exceptional fielding stunts. When an athlete suspects an umpire miss one, he'll sulk instead of protesting. Quiet will be demanded in the stands so umpires can concentrate.

The American League should give Dykes a bonus for keeping the loop awake instead of suspending him for showing a little get up and go.

Other big league managers could well use Jimmy Dykes as an example and try to break their habit of polishing the bench in the dark confines of the dugout. . . . Several of them rarely expose themselves to the people who pay their salaries.

First Recruits From Football Loop Get In Formation—With U. S.

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Staff Writer

Uncle Sam may become the leading Southwest Conference football coach. The old gentleman from the top hat has taken his first recruits and indicated he will be back for more before frost.

The University of Texas, the championship choice, thus far has been hardest hit. Three lettermen left for duty as flying cadets over the week-end, including both of Coach D. K. Bibbes centers—Captain J. M. Goodwin and David Thayer. End Jesse Hawthorne was the third.

Texas has a large and experienced squad with several from other positions capable of playing the pivot but prospects are that Uncle Sam won't sign with the three already taken. Bible looks for Fullback R. L. Harkins, End Mike Sweeney and Tackle Dewey Peveto to go next. A number of others appear in line for induction before Sept. 5.

Porkers Lose Passer
Southern Methodist University and Texas A. and M., co-champions last fall, thus far are little affected. S. M. U. is due to lose E. L. Keeton crack wingman, by Aug. 1. But A. and M., 1941 Cotton Bowl champion, is not expected to have any juniors or seniors in the armed forces.

The Aggies either are taking or have applied for the advanced course in military science and tactics which automatically removes them from the draft.

Arkansas lost its passing ace, Harold Hamburg, appointed to the United States Naval Academy, and Fullback Ogden Bolin joined the air corps.

Rice's one-man gang, Fullback Bob Brumley, was ordered to leave Monday for induction but appealed to the district board for deferment.

Baylor likely will soon see Jack Russell, all-conference end and generally referred to as half the Bear line, marching in khaki.

Texas Christian looks for the army to take Woodrow Adams, a fine tackle.

DiMaggio's Big Bat Booms Hitting Record Another Game But Otherwise Major League Wars Are Hurlers' Day

By Sid Feder
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the benefit of those folks who think baseball's second name is DiMaggio—and vice versa—this is as good a time as any to point out that pitchers really still are of some use in the game beside helping to keep up a club's intake average at mealtime.

Of course, none of 'em look any good when Jolting Joe is waving his war club at them these days. Ted Lyons and Lefty Thornton Lee of the Chicago White Sox are the latest to join Joe's personal "serve-it-up-and-duck" department. The big guy connected as safely off each of them Sunday, as the sizzling Yankees swept a twin bill, to run his all-time record for hitting to 53 consecutive contests.

But the boys who deal 'em off the arm in the majors generally showed up the slugging specialists on Sunday's full schedule.

In the 15 tilts of the big-league card, three tossers served shut-outs, three more gave up only one run. Southpaw Ken Heintzelman of the Pirates and old Rufus the Red Ruffing, the Yankee key man who turned in his seventh straight win, paced the parade.

Bucs Extend Streak
It's a toss-up between Ruffing and Heintzelman for the best pitching performance of the day. Rufus the Red went to work in the nightcap for the Yanks, had a no-hitter going into the eighth inning and wound up with a 1-0 three-hit win in 11 innings for his tenth victory of the year. In the opener, Spud Chandler pitched five-hit ball to win his first victory of the campaign 8-1.

Heintzelman hurled two-hit ball, allowing only one man to get as far as second and tossed the Pirates to a 4-0 picnic over the New York Giants. This boosted the Bucs' winning streak to seven straight, but it ended right there as Bill Terry's terriers came back to take the nightcap, 8-2, behind Hal Schumacher's five-hit hurling.

Can't Solve Riddle
Ted Williams was missing from the Boston Red Sox lineup. He hurt his ankle Saturday. With the fireman's bat out, the Red Sox lost to Cleveland, 9-1, in 11 innings after going down 9-6 in nine. Lefty Al Smith gave up 11 hits in the second game but won, although Mickey Harris allowed only eight and fanned 10 men.

As usual, opposing batsmen couldn't solve the Riddle from Cincinnati and unbeaten Elmer posted his tenth straight win by blanking the Boston Braves with five hits for a 4-0 Red victory. Manny Salvo and Tom Earley combined on a nine-hitter to beat Paul Derriinger, 6-5, in the second game.

Even old Jack Knott, who sits down to table with the Philadelphia Athletics these days, was in the parade. Turning in his fourth win in his past five starts, he downed the Detroit Tigers, 5-4, with five hits, despite two homers by Pinky Harris.

Washington walloped St. Louis, 6-3 and 6-5, as a quartet of Nat pitchers allowed only 13 hits through the 18 innings.

Fans Pick South Team On Hitting

DALLAS (AP)—Bill Ruggles, Texas League statistician, believes each team in the all-star game at Beaumont Wednesday will have its strongest backstopping in the history of the six-year classic, but adds that the South might have strengthened its catching staff by electing Benny Huffman of San Antonio as reserve receiver over Al Unser of Beaumont.

"Normally the fans are led astray by the offensive strength of maskmen, the least important phase of their work," Ruggles said Monday, "and there has been no previous season when sports critics thought the catching provided was all-round."

"Indeed this year Unser may owe his selection to his batting average, but Huffman is a consistently good hitter, too, and a more experienced and better rounded catcher."
